CONFERENCE LEADERS ATTEMPT TO REACH UNDERSTANDING ON ITALIAN QUESTION — AUSTRIAN DELEGATES EN ROUTE

INTERNATIONAL SITUATION, May 12. (By Associated Press).—The peace conference leaders have renewed their efforts to reach an understanding on the Italian question in view of the immience of the Austrian peace delegation in France. Consultations were begun today between foreign Minister Sonnino of Italy and Colonel House.

German Delegates

Meanwhile the German delegation at Versailles is attempting to draw the representatives of the allied and associated governments into oral discussions of the peace treaty presented to the Germans.

The German aNtional Assembly will meet at Berlin today and it is expected that Chancellor Scheiderman will give some idea of the German reply to the allies. The Austrian delegation is expected to reach St. Gerbains Wednesday and workmen are preparing the palace of Francis I for their occupancy. Reports from Paris indicate the Hungarian peace mission also is expected to arrive soon. It also will be quartered at St. Germains but will not be permitted to come with the Austrians.

Allied Forces

The allied forces are reported in a dispatch reaching Helsingsfors, Finland, to be preparing for an attack on Petrograd. It is said that fifty thousand men will be engaged and that French cruisers are lying before Helsingfors, presumably ready to take part in the attack.

GERMANS WANT EXCHANGE OF "SCIENTIFIC THOUGHT"

BERLIN, May 12.—German medical men want to resume scientific relations with the nations Germany has fought. The Berlin Medical Society found the French Academy of Science would receive them only after they had publicly disapproved deeds of German military authority. The society voted down a motion to make such a declaration, because it was said French military men had been guilty of equally inhuman acts toward German prisoners. So the allied world will get along for awhile without German science.

KOREANS ASK FOR THE CANCELLING OF 1914 TREATY

Petition From Korean Nation and People Has Been Received By the Peace Conference

PARIS, May 12.—A petition from the Korean people asking for liberation from Japan was submitted to the peace conference today by representatives of Korea. The petition also asked for recognition of Korea as an independent state and the nullification of the treaty of August, 1914.

$35,500,000 PAYS UNITED STATES CLAIM

WASHINGTON, May 12.—"Complete and comprehensive settlement" of all claims between the United States and England growing out of the military operations has been reached by the American liquidation commission. Secretary Baker announced today that under the settlement the British government would pay the United States $35,500,000 as a net final settlement.

DISAPPOINTMENT SCARES BASEBALL FANS HERE SUNDAY

OWING TO BAD WEATHER CONDITIONS AND STRICT CLEARANCE REGULATIONS OF VICTORIA BALL TEAM FAILED TO COME

There was great disappointment yesterday when it was discovered that there would be no ball game. A large crowd had assembled at the park as a result of the advertising of the event. Mr. Singer drove in from the Elwha and was much disgruntled to find there was no game. But weather conditions and the clearance customs of Victoria made it impossible for the team to come. Wire communications were in bad shape and it was late before Jean Lindsay received the following telegrams, the first of which said:

"Will arrive at twelve tonight. Notify hotels if all right.

"JIM BROWN"

and later came this disappointment:

"Can't make trip on account weather and clearing customs. Am going Seattle Tuesday and try and make arrangements for regular Sunday run. Will write you or come back via Port Angeles and see you personally.

"JIM BROWN"

It is vexing to have so many disappointments and it is hoped that the next event will be carried through successfully. But if the team had arrived, it is very doubtful if there would have been any play as the heavy rain had rendered the ground somewhat soft.

ALLIED SOLDIERS HAVE CLEANED UP ARCHANGEL

ARCHANGEL, May 12.—Allied armies will soon be out of northern Russia but they leave permanent evidence of their occupation that is appreciated. Archangel had a population of 37,000 before the war. This has been more than doubled by the establishment of allied headquarters. Sanitation was at the worst before the coming of the troops. Winter furnished a bad time for work, but the sanitary corps has made great improvements.

Clallam County has subscribed her quota for the Victory Loan. The exact figures are not yet available but she is believed to have gone "over the top."

During the progress of the speeches on Saturday night H. A. Falk subscribed $1000 in each building, making an addition of $2000 to the loan.

SEATTLE LEGIONARIES WELCOMED BY MOOSE

The Moose sure had some fine time last Saturday evening. A bunch of legionaries came out from Seattle to put on the work. There were thirty-four initiations and all the members went down to the ten o'clock train to meet the funmakers and escort them to their hall where the ceremonies were held. Among the new candidates for the second degree were Charles Brewer and Frank Swinton. These two men were dragged out of their places of business by a posse of their fellows and taken down to the depot to make part of the welcoming bunch. Dr. W. H. Taylor gained his second degree without having to make the threatened hike to Sequim on the chance of being picked up en route. A fine lunch was served which all enjoyed and judging from the laughter and cheers of the men as they disbanded the whole affairs was a huge success. It was arranged that the state meeting will be held in Vancouver, B. C., next June, which E. E. Fisher will attend, going thence as the Port Angeles representative to the great gathering at Mooseheart. Mrs. E. E. Fisher will accompany him on the visit to Mooseheart. Mrs. E. E. Fisher will accompany him on the visit to Mooseheart. That country is well known to Mr. isher and both he and his wife will much enjoy the trip.

It is understood that the Gun Club had a successful shoot yesterday in spite of the weather. There was quite a crowd out and a good time was enjoyed. Up to the time of going to press, however, no details had reached the Herald office from the secretary of the club.

COUNCIL OF FOUR DECIDES ON REPLY TO GERMAN NOTES

COUNCIL OF FOUR DECIDE ON REPLY TO BE SENT TO THE TWO GERMAN NOTES PRESENTED TO PREMIER CLEMENCEAU

PARIS, May 12.—The Council of Four decided yesterday on the terms of the reply to be made to the two notes sent to Premier Clemenceau Saturday evening by Count von Brockdorff Rantzau. The first of these notes asked that there be a definite policy adopted as to the release of German prisoners and requested that the details of the transfer be placed in the hands of a commission. The second note advances a counter project as to national labor legislation. Newspapers say the basis of the second note is a labor charter inspired by the conferences at Leeds and Berne and they argue that the protest is to create among socialists an opinion favorable to Germany by putting into direct collaboration the working classes of the present governments of those countries.

UNITED STATES THE PRUSSIA OF TOMORROW

RIO JANEIRO, Sunday, May 10.—An attack upon the United States was made by Madeiros de Albuquerque in a published interview today. De Albuquerque has recently arrived from the United States and accuses America of fomenting revolution in Mexico and says that Brazil is considered by the United States as a possible future colony. He belittles the part the United States took in the war, saying that the only American victory was the battle of St. Mihiel which he says was gained by English artillery and French aviation. He attacks the Monroe doctrine and President Wilson, ridiculing the president's activites at the peace congress. He concludes by sayng "the United States is incontestably the Prussia of tomorrow."

TREATY WITH AUSTRIA NEAR COMPLETION

IT IS REPORTED THAT AUSTRIAN TREATY IS NEARING COMPLETION — IT IS UNDERSTOOD THE TUSTRIAN FRONTIER WILL BE DEFINED ACCORDING TO THE SECRET TREATY WITH LONDON

PARIS, May 12.—The peace treaty with Austria is nearing completion and an official summary of it is being prepared.

Although it is not so stated in the treaty the new Austrian frontier is the one designated by the secret treaty of London, giving Italy all the strategic heights and defensive passages.

BELGIAN PEOPLE PETITION THEIR KING

Dissatisfaction of Belgian People Is Voiced In Petition Addressed to King Albert

BRUSSELS, May 12.—A demonstration, organized by a number of patriotic societies has sent addressed to King Albert expressive of the Belgian people's disappointment at the way the country has been "gagged and mutilated and is obtaining neither the guarantees nor the reparations promised by the allies." The addresses complain "that the indemnities provided are inadequate" and ask the king to "save Belgium from the ruin which threatens her."

SIR ERIC GEDDES DIDN'T WANT SALUTES

LONDON, May 12.—Here's a story of Sir Eric Geddes, director general of transportation to the British army, one of Britain's greatest railway figures. Geddes arrived in France in a general's uniform, but little experienced in military mattres. One evening as he walked up and down at his quarters, meditating some problem, a sentry whom he passed presented arms each time. It disturbed Sir Eric's thoughts and he walked up to the sentry and said, "Look here, don't do that business with your rifle. For get my 'brass hat' and keep quiet."

APPEAL TO THE SUPERIOR COURT IS NON-SUITED

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT OF APPEALS UPHOLDS THE SENTENCE PASSED ON EMIL HERMAN FOR ESPIONAGE

SAN FRANCISCO, May 12.—Sentence of Emil Herman of Everett, Washington, secretary-treasurer of the State Socialist organization, to ten years imprisonment at McNeil Island, Washington, for violation of the espionage act, was upheld today by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals. Herman was convicted in July, 1918, of exhibiting a circular urging resistance to enlistment in the United States military forces.

Thomas G. Mortland, who was in Port Angeles today on business connected with the settlement of the May Day festivities at Sequim, reports that Sequim outdid herself this year. Not only was the celebration the finest ever held but it was also a rattling good financial success. "That is the best part of all of it," he says.

PRESIDENT EBERT DUBS PEACE TREATY MEAN DOCUMENT

GERMANY HAS SEIZED AND UNFURLED NEW BANNER ON WHICH IS INSCRIBED WILSON'S FOURTEEN POINTS

BERLIN, May 12. (By Associated Press).—Germany has seized and unfurled a new banner on which are inscribed President Wilson's fourteen points, which the president "aparently has deserted," said Frederich Ebert, the German president in a statement to the Associated Press today.

President Ebert called the peace treaty a "monstrous document." He declared that "history shows no parallel determination to annihilate a completely vanquished people."

JAP PAWNBROKER'S WIDOW LEAVES $12,000,000

TOKIO, May 12.—The cause of education in Japan benefits by the fortune of Mrs. Kiyo Minejima, the Hetty Green of the Flowery Kingdom, who left $12,000,000 when she died at 86. Before her death she gave the city $250,000 for its schools and her will, it is said, will make the gift still greater. Mrs. Minejima's husband was a pawnbroker. When he died 40 years ago she invested in real estate and came to own 570 acres in the Japanese capital. She was at the head of several banks and trust companies.

10,000 DOGS OF WAR TO HAVE GOOD HOMES

BRUSSELS, May 12.—Ten thousand dogs of war are being demobilized. They're the real dogs that aided the allies as dispatch bearers, watch dogs and staff dogs. And every one of these dogs is honored with a military livery bearing service stripes. Some of the dogs will go back to their owners, who loaned them for the duration of the war. A big industrial firm has asked for 300 of them. Others will stay in military service. The society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals will adopt the less fortunate, those recovered from wounds of battle, and will see that they have homes for life.

NANCIES HOPE TO CONTINUE FLIGHT TODAY

AMERICAN NAVY PLANES TO RESUME THEIR FLIGHT ACROSS OCEAN TODAY—EXTRA WEIGHT POSSIBLY TO BE CARRIED

TREPASSEY, Newfoundland, May 12.—The American navy hydroplanes will set out on their transatlantic flight today carrying, if possible, crews of six men instead of five, as originally planned, together with spare parts and an extra supply of petrol. This would bring the weight to 28,000 lbs. which might prove more than 1600 horsepower engines could lift from the water. In that event, Commender Towers said, the craft, after a surface cruise in the harbor, would reduce their weight to 28,000 lbs., the official full load.

The planes have been fitted with belts for the mechanics so that repairs can be made in midair.

WEATHER DETAINS NC-4

CHATHAM, Mass., May 12.—Weather conditions continued unfavorable today for the resumption of the flight by the hydroplane NC-4 to Halifax and Trepassey. Commander Reed hopes to reach Newfoundland before the NC-1 and NC-3 begin their flight to the Azores.

BRITISHER DELAYED BY THE WEATHER

ST. JOHNS, Newfoundland, May 12.—Adverse weather is still delaying the proposed flight of British Aviator Raynham and the Australian pilot, Harry Hawker. Today it rained with a stiff breeze blowing in from the ocean.

SURPLUS MEAT TO RELIEVE EUROPE

WASHINGTON, May 12.—A method of disposing of about one hundred million tons of beef and more than fifty millions of bacon included in the surplus food stocks of the army has been agreed upon between the war department and representatives of the packing industry. The department announced today that it had accepted the recommendations of the packers that these goods be disposed of for export to relieve the food situation in Europe, but that should this be done the director's sales would control the sales in this country, fixing the prices and method of distribution with the packing industry acting as an agent. The surplus produtcs equal a normal production of over a period of two years. It is believed that this quantity of meat thrown on the market at this time would, the announcement said, seriously affect prices on both canned and fresh meats.

ARRANGEMENTS, WITHDRAW YANK TROOPS BEING MADE

ARCHANGEL, aSturday, May 10 (By Associated Press).—Tentative arrangements will be made to begin withdrawal of American troops from North Russia early in June but no definite orders have as yet been received by the American commander. American troops have not been engaged on large scale in the past month's fighting.

And now when doughboys clean up the premises for an inspection by Pershing, they sing "Work for the knight is coming."

THE POWER OF ADVERTISING

The man, or even the city, that does not advertise pays for the other fellow's advertisin. Without broad sweep of vision and broad perspective nothing can grow. Advertising, for example, as we know it today, is merely at the threshold of far more daring and wonderful things.

This infinitely great power that we know as advertising now occupies a position of trust and honor. It is meshed with our nation's progress. It moves the goods of the world from many countries. It cements trade friendships. It is the arbiter of commerce and the interpreter of industrial growth. It represents millions and millions of dollars in actual money. It gives life blood to that giant press whose magazines and newspapers educate and lead our people. It keeps men at machines and the plow in the soil. It is man's able, gener- ·s, always dependable ally.

Du. no longer difficult to SELL It is A of advertising. It has the basic Ide. -the-wisp" stage. assed the "will humanitarian Advertising sold the America." lea of this war to "Our car- dvertising provded the money to y it on. Advertising called the men rom their offices, homes and fire- ides and set them to marching away o the training camps and battle ronts in khaki. Advertising fed them, lothed them and kept up their mor- le. Advertising carried the very spir- t of God into their hearts when they vere so far from their homes and heir loved ones, and the sufferings vere so poignant that it seemed as if here was no Divine Spirit in all the roubled universe.

Advertising used President Wilson's nemorable words as a text and sought onverts not alone here, but in Eu- ope. Advertising sold the principles f God, humanity, justice and demo- racy to all the nations under the ost adverse conditions.

Only through advertising is everybody reached optimistically. The gigantic power of advertising is equal to every social and economic need.

By developing proper wants, advertising advances our civilization.

The mighty service of advertising during the recent war opened the dullest eyes to its power and beneficence.

We shall see cities, states, and nations using this newly appreciated power of advertising in this AGE OF ADVERTISING.

The prosperity and the progress of communities and of states will be measured by the amount of advertising they do! A city is no larger than its advertising.

Floating Hull

Two donkey engines have been brought to help in the task of floating the hull of the auxiliary bark Janet Carruthers which went on the beach at Aberdeen during a storm recently. The engines will be placed aboard a boat and will pull on anchors dropped into deep water. All the machinery of the Carruthers has been salvaged. The task of removing the 500,000 foot lumber cargo is now progressing. J. H. Price, Seattle, has purchased the wreck and is directing the work of salvaging the remains.

Football Practice Begun

Spring football practice started at the University of Washington when twenty-eight men turned out this week for preliminary work in passing and kicking. Several old varsity players were out on the first night. Washington has hopes of placing a first class team in the conference field this year as many of hre old football stars have returned to the college from the war.

The Victory Loan

Four great war loans have been successfully floated.

The first swept our armies through giant training schools.

The second buili armed transports and carried our men overseas.

The third placed them equipped and armed in the trenches.

The fourth sent them over the top to victory.

The fifth will consolidate their achievements, care for the casuals and return the victors to America.

We had much pleasure in handling your subscription to the Fourth Liberty Loan. Might we ask that you make your subscription to the Victory Loan as liberal as you can and pass your subscription again through this bank? We can assure you of our best service which is at all times at your disposal.

JOTTINGS AND JINGLES

(By L. J.)

And here is a jingle not our own but original nevertheless. We hope you'll join with us in liking it:

Some of the Things that "Jack Built

Wouldn't you like to join the ranks
Of the gallant, proud, intrepid Yanks
And fire the guns and man the tanks
In the "A. E. F." that "JACK" built?

Wouldn't you like to have a chance
To sail away to sunny France
And see the scene of the Yank's advance—
On the admirable plan that "JACK" built?

Wouldn't you like to have had a hand
In the war that shattered the savage band
Of hellish Huns and saved our land
By the splendid force that "JACK" built?

If you ever longed for the chance to go
And glut your ire upon the foe,
Now's the time to step up and show
And tell the world, and "make it so"
By joining the army that "JACK" built.

A force full 50,000 strong
Is needed to push the job along
Of relieving the remnant of the throng
That hobbled the Hun and righted the wrong—
With the "Will To Win" that ,'JACK" built.

Thanks to the war we had an opportunity during the past year to spend a few months in the village of New York. It's the greatest place in the world in which to study life. There you have it in all of its phases. In Wall street you find the kings of finance; on the east side you run across poverty and the homes of the lowly poor; on Riverside drive you come in touch with aristocracy with its pomp and power; while under the white lights of Broadway, where night is turned into day, you see something of the miserable make-up of man and the vanity of woman. And there is the famous old Bowery and Little Hungary and Greenwich Village and a lot of other places which have been made famous through advertising. They are all there and all greatly ver-estimated. As a place to live we o. t trade Port Angeles with her wonde. alth of natural scenic unlimited w. under the canopy beauty—no greate. ole of New of heaven—for the w. York City.

ITALY HANGS ON TO JUGO-SLAV PRISONERS

BELGRADE, May 12.—Jugo-Slavs are bitter over the alleged action of Italy in sending home Bohemians, Poles and Rumanians fully armed, while she held Jugo-Slavs who fought in the Austrian army and were captured by Italy.

If you can't understand why nations should desire to make their treaties in secret, here is the explanation: "And men loved darkness rather than light, because their deeds were evil."

IF WE pledge our selves to aid France in case of future attack, we may not have it to do. If we don't pledge ourselves, we may have to repeat our late experience. A bulldog seldom attacks intruders. If the dog is there, they don't intrude.

Tommy and I Hunt Bolsheviki and Find Danger

The tunnel in which I stood was as still as a graveyard vault. I leaned against the door which blocked my path and listened for a hint of a struggle between angry men. It would be an unequal fight. The war had left Tommy partially blind, and with a limp. Once he would have been more than a match for Certeis, but in any encounter which might take place beyond that closed door, Tommy would be handicapped.

And yet—I dared not summon help. And help would be too late. Even as I trembled there, along in the darkness, the fate of one man had been decided, I thought. And which man had survived? If Tommy—then "help" would only mean imprisonment.

I felt around for an electric button which would open the door—but vainly. Sick with foreboding, I had to give up the search. But I resolved—to find out what happened to him. But it wouldn't be wise to wait near that door, nor under the fountain. I decided to hide in the Bolshevik club room.

So I retraced my steps, passed the fountain pipes once more, and entered the short tunnel. My footsteps, echoing softly, seemed to precede me. With my hand on the wall of the passage, I felt for the opening to the subterranean chamber where on my former visit I had found the cigar ashes—and the door under the pergola walk.

Sure of my position, I swung into the room—and I swung myself squarely with force straight into the arms of a man!

Fingers clutched my throat. I beat weakly, futilely upon a face I could not see.

I couldn't speak—I could scarcely breathe.

Was my captor Tony Certeis? Or was it Tommy who, "laying to get" Certeis—had got poor me!

I wanted to know very much before I was strangled to death myself. I stopped struggling and laid my fingers very gently on my assailant's lips.

"Lord! A woman's hand!" came a voice. It was Tommy's!

His clutch relaxed. I pushed the electric button in the door frame close behind him and switched on the dull lights. Then I slumped into a heap on the floor.

Tommy's hot tears on my hand brought me back to consciousness. His voice murmuring his pet name for me, "Rosie! My little Rosie!" made me open my eyes suddenly. His arm held my head from the cold cement floor.

My cap had fallen off. My wig was gone. It was all very ridiculous. I took it for granted that Tommy had not killed anybody yet—and I was so relieved that the situation seemed very funny.

"Let's laugh, Tommy," I said with a hysterical giggle, remembering the gales of boy-and-girl mirth we had shared more than once.

But Tommy's only answer was to pick me up as if I had been some choice statue, and deposit me carefully on one of the boxes which served as desks and chairs in the Bolshevik hall.

Then he started to apologize, holding my hands in his—but I stopped him with:

"Friend Brother! Nobody's dead—so don't let's mind little things. And Tommy, dead, you're going to stay where I can watch you and boss you around. And you are not going to risk going to jail for killing a creature like Hamilton Certeis. Not even on my account. No woman is worth that, Tommy."

"No, ma'am," said my chivalrous Tommy meekly.

I replaced my wig and cap.

"Now turn out that light and come along with me," I said as I held out my hand.

"Yes, ma'am," Tommy replied and side by side we started toward the passage.

Then the sound of quick and confident steps reached us. We drew close together, stood still, then retreated on the tips of our toes.

It may be that the Hun is as cruel as we have been told. Even our own righteous people trim dogs to make them fashionable or to make them sell better.

QUIXOTE COMES AGAIN

Our hero was a modern gent
Who made no claims of long descent,
But took an oath that every week
He would put down bad Bolshevik!

One day he gnashed his teeth and raved
To see a fiery red flag waved
As if to block a public street!
He charged with patriotic heat,
His mouth aflame, his clenched fists tossing!

It was a flagman at a crossing.

Another time, he spied the flag on
The rear end of a moving wagon.
With righteous rage and loyal wrath,
He flung across the driver's path.
"That flag! unloose it! ditch it! fire it!"

He found the ordinances required it.

But now advanced a blatant group,
With uncouth cry and battle whoop,
With red flags and unseemly manners.
Ha! Ha! he charged their crimson banners—
"For God; for home; for flag; for nation!"

It was a Harvard celebration.

But now he spied the flag before
A most suspicious ancient door.
"A nest of Reds" Inside he dashed!
He swung and swatted, smote and smashed!
Alas! they led him off to jail—

Plainly the red flag should be flown
(By law compelled) by Reds alone.

The worst and weakest of men have some virtue. Let us give the crown prince credit for keeping his mouth shut.

Flaunting the Victory Loan in the Face of the Hun

"And they thought we couldn't fight," reads the text on this Fifth Liberty Loan poster hung up by the Yanks in the city of Trier, in Rhenish Prussia. The poster makes more of a hit with the army of occupation than it does with the Germans, but the picture shows that some of the citizens of Trier can smile at the figure with the victory smile, his battle-torn clothes and his fists full of Hun helmets.

WORK BEING DONE DIRECT IN HOSPITAL

WASHINGTON, May 12.—Agents of the Federal Board for Vocational Education are now at work in France, and in all the army and navy hospitals in this country, and the merits of the free vocational education provided by the government for disabled men are placed before the men before they leave the hospital. In this way it is possibl to do a great deal of preliminary work, get the compensation for the man arranged with the Bureau of War Risk Insurance, and have everything in readiness for him to start upon his course of education as soon as he is discharged from the hospital.

There is an additional benefit in that while the men are convalescing it is possible in many instances to put them at certain phases of training in the curative workships attached to the hospital, or the reconstruction hospital, which work leads directly up to and fits in with the training which they will take later at the hands of the Federal Board for Vocational Education. In this way much time is saved and better results are obtained than when the men are brought back from civil life where they have been attempting to "carry on" despite their disabilities.

Some weeks ago the policy of discharging disabled men before the Federal Board could get in touch with them was abandoned. It costs the government something less than $5 each to get in touch with the men in the hospitals, prepare his papers, make out his war risk claims, have him vocationally scrutinized, and the like. It costs the people of the United States something over $100 each to do the same things when the authorities are compelled to search the man out and hunt him up at his home after he has left the service.

FARMERS EXPECTING SHORTAGE OF LABOR

SEATTLE, Wash., May 9.—Farmers of the state of Washington apprehend a shortage in the hay fields of the state within the next 30 days, according to reports received at the office of Lawrence Wood, Federal Director of the United States Employment service, and the service is already taking steps to locate farm labor in anticipation of the demand that will shortly arise. Reports received from the seventy volunteer and regular U. S. employment representatives stationed throughout the agricultural districts of the state indicate that to date labor conditions both as to supply and demand, have been very satisfactory, although there has been some shortage in the more intensely cultivated districts.

The problem of placing the returning soldier and sailor in work, exclusive of those who refuse to leave the cities, is largely one of proper distribution, according to officials of the employment service. There is no large surplus of labor in the state of Washington as a whole, but in the larger industrial centers there are undoubtedly quite a number of ex-service men who are finding difficulty in securing the kind of employment they desire.

The big problem that faces the employment service during the coming months is the equitable distribution of the available labor supply throughout the farming sections of the state, according to Director Wood. The farmer who has struggled through the war short handed is entitled to an ample supply of labor and it is the intention of the service to provide it for him. To meet the task, the service has sixty volunteer labor agents stationed throughout the agricultural districts and ten regular offices. It is also cooperating with chambers of commerce, commercial clubs, county agricultural agents and many other organizations. The ten regular offices are the distributing points in the organization, receiving men from the state office and other offices, and directing them to the volunteer offices and to the farm direct.

With the assistance of the national organization to supply labor between states employment service officials believe that no demand for labor will arise that cannot be immediately relieved.

In addition to the regular offices of the service stationed at Seattle, Spokane, Tacoma, Yakima, Walla Walla, Bellingham, Aberdeen, Wenatchee and Everett, volunteer offices and volunteer labor agents are operating in the following communities.

SENSATIONS of an ARTIST MODEL

Manya Rudina, native of Russia came to Canada with her parents, who settled near Winnipeg. Miss Rudina had always longed to be an artist's model. After sketching her earlier life, she is telling how she came to New York and finally became one of the most-sought models in the studios.

CHAPTER TWELVE

My Presence Annoys a Famous Sculptor's Jealous Wife

A woman's jealousy turns on small things. I was once the innocent cause of the parting of a husband and wife.

An artist should never marry. Few women can understand an artist. He cannot be a so-called "model husband." How does he know when the inspiration may come to work? How can he pay strict attention to dinner hours, and keep punctually engagements with his wife? How does he know when he will disturb the routine of the household by insisting on working all night, or in wandering about all day seeking an inspiration?

And there are few women indeed who can really and truly trust a husband to work alone all day in the studio with another woman—a model. It is said that doctor's wives are the most jealous women, but I think artist's wives are worse.

When I went to pose for the artist whom I had met at Romany Marie's I was filled with gladness. He was a great sculptor. He told me his idea of the work he wanted to do.

"Some artists," he said, "do not realize how important it is that the model should know what it is that she is posing. A model needs a special talent for her work. Such models are very scarce."

We were both intensely interested in the work, and we talked happily about it a great deal. As he was the first sculptor for whom I had ever posed, I was quite curious about how he began to build the figure. So he took a piece of wood and showed me how he made the "armature," as the foundation is called. It is made of wires fixed to the wood; two pieces to be the foundation for the legs, two for the arms and another for the head. On this the clay is mounded. I like the feel of the clay; always when I pose for a sculptor I have a piece of clay in my hand to amuse myself. He showed me the modeling tools, some to take off the surplus clay; some to smooth it, some to engrave lines upon it.

We agreed that he should not tell me when to pose and when to rest, but I should pose and rest of my own accord. This made me happy. And so interested did we become that instead of posing 20 minutes for the first time, a whole hour passed without either of us knowing it.

Then I would rest, throwing my cape around me and sticking my bare toes into slippers, and sitting with him at a little table while he told me stories of his past life and work.

Then we would work again, and so interested did we get that we went on and on without any regard for time.

Suddenly a sharp knock sounded at the door. I was startled; I looked at the clock and saw that it was 7 o'clock.

A woman entered. It was the artist's wife.

Paying no attention to me, she walked up to him, and said:

"Albert, do you know that it is an hour past dinner."

"My dear Martha," he said, "I am terribly sorry, but you see, we were so interested in the new work that—"

"Yes, I know quite well," she broke

PALMER COULDN'T RAISE HAND TO HEAD

Every Muscle In Body Ached With Rheumatism — Like New Man After Taking Tanlac

"I have lived in Portland for thirty years and there are just lots of people here who know that Tanlac has made a new man of me," said J. H. Palmer, the well known transfer and baggage man, residing at 266 Knott St., Portland, Ore., recently.

"I have been a sufferer from rheumatism twenty-five years," continued Mr. Palmer, "and reached the point where I never expected to get well, or even any better. I spent thousands of dollars trying to get relief, but gradually got worse. Every muscle in my body seemed to be drawn up, every joint stiff, and I could not move without suffering agony. When I walked instead of lifting my feet, I would just have to drag them along and if my life had depended on it I could not have raised my handst high enough to touch the back of my head. I was laid up for more than two years at one time. After sitting down for a while I couldn't get up without holding onto something and after I did get on my feet it would take me several minutes to straighten myself up. During the past year or two my condition became very much worse. My whole system seemed to be run down. My kidneys bothered me nearly all the time, my back hurt me, and at times I would almost scream from pain.

"I also suffered from indigestion. My stomach would bloat up after eating and my food would sour and add more to my misery. I would lay awake more than half the night rubbing my arms and legs trying to get easy so I could get a little rest. I would get awfully blue and despondent over my condition, and yet, could see no way out of my suffering.

"The testimonials of people right here in Portland, some of whom I know personally, caused me to try Tanlac. Well, I am now seventy years old and I just wanted to say that I have never seen anything like it. Before I finished my first bottle I was eating twice as much as before and felt no bad effects from it. I am now on my fourth bottle, and the rheumatism has just about all left me. Why, my legs are just as limber as if I had never had a touch of rheumatism. I don't suffer any more from constipation and headache and have gained back all my energy and strength and several pounds in weight, besides. Numbers of my friends, who know what Tanlac has done for me, are now taking it with fine results. Yes sir, Tanlac has done everything for me I could wish, far more than I expected it could do, and I would be willing to go before a notary and make an affidavit as to the truth of this statement."

Tanlac is sold in Port Angeles by Owl Drug Co.; in Dungeness by Wm. A. Monson; in Sequim by F. D. Babcock; in Blyn by W. B. Main; in Mona by W. F. Taylor, and in Forks by Geo. W. Groffman. *****

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes —Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women as well as men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep in the pink of condition. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

IT PAYS TO READ .ADVERTISEMENTS.

You've often heard the saying "It pays to advertise." That is true. And it also pays to read advertisements---pays you. If you read advertisements consistently for any length of time you will agree that this statement is also true.

It Pays You In Money Saved. There are many real bargains offered from time to time in the advertisments appearing in this paper. Watch for them.

It Pays You In Satisfaction. When a merchant asks you to come to his store he obligates himself to sell you quality goods "as advertised."

It Pays You In Time Saved. When you know exactly what you want to buy and where you want to buy it, you don't have to "look around" and waste time finding it.

Don't you want to save money and time? Wouldn't you like to be sure of getting satisfactory service and quality goods every time you go to a store? Then read the advertisements and patronize the stores which can serve you best.

And then she stopped, realizing my presence as I walked quickly to my dressing room.

"Ah, Manya," he said quickly, and a little confused. "Let me introduce my wife."

We bowed, neither speaking.

"I will hurry and dress now," I said. "You need not wait for me," I told him. "I will let myself out."

The artist went up to his wife and said something in a low tone.

"No, I will not," I heard the wife reply. "It is enough that you pay her for her work, without entertaining. And she walked out of the studio.

Health

THE MAN WHO SUSPECTS that he has kidney trouble and neglects to take measures promptly for his relief is taking a dangerously unwise risk. If the kidneys are not properly performing their function of purifying the blood stream, waste products and poisonous acids remain in the system and cause nervousness, rheumatic pains, backache, languidness, sore muscles, swollen joints, stiffness, puffiness under eyes and other weakening symptoms.

Foley Kidney Pills

restore and regulate the healthy and normal action of kidneys and bladder, bringing clean blood, sound nerves, clear head, good digestion, active brain, and all 'round vigorous health.

WEATHER

Probably rain; gentle southwesterly winds.

O. L. Powell has been on the business postal delivery district for the past two weeks and likes the work. He found the walking troublesome at first but it is getting easier every day.

The want of the Laurel street zigzag is making it hard for Mrs. McKone to keep her roomers at the Bungalow Inn. It seems a long way round by Lincoln and Third. She is hoping it will be rebuilt before very long.

T. J. Tracey took his two sons to the ball game yesterday only to find a large disappointed crowd and no players. He reported several others in the same predicament.

"Ripin the Tailor" is well satisfied with his move, thank you! He reports business good and prospects bright for future business. Judging by the appearance of his store he has some real nice-looking displays on his stands.

Mrs. Dellabarre had a few friends to dinner last evening in honor of Mrs. F. C. Farmer of Portland who arrived recently on a visit with her. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Myers, and Mr. Weisel.

Mr. and Mrs. Ripin went down to Seattle yesterday, returning on the 10 o'clock train. They didn't have much time to spend in the city when they got there, but they had a good time and enjoyed the trip thoroughly.

Mrs. Annie Black who has been laid up in the General hospital for two weeks as the result of a bad attack of influenza, returned home last week and her son reports her much better.

Irl V. Maxey, well known in Port Angeles, is helping in the Wolton Grocery at the present time. His wife's health is so much better in Port Angeles than it has been elsewhere that Mr. Maxey thought it his duty to take the opening when it was offered him.

The following are some of the arrivals at the Merchants Hotel for the week end: A. B. Crane of Pullman, Wn.; Miss E. Rex staying at the hotel over night en route for Mora in the morning where she will visit her sister; A. S. Techner from Portland, and several travelling men.

The Holly Candy Kitchen reports selling their divinity candy almost completely out in two days—the quantity which generally lasts much longer than that. They report business good and steadily increasing right along. They now have their window lights which help the appearance of their store mightily.

AN IRRITABLE, fault finding disposition is often due to a disordered stomach. A man with good digestion is nearly always good natured. A great many have been permanently cured of stomach troubles by Chamberlain's Tablets after years of suffering. These tablets strengthen the stomach and enable it to perform its functions naturally Try them. They only cost a quarter.

Our old friends, Mr. and Mrs. James Chenaur are in town on business. Both of them are looking fine. Mr. Chenaur has just concluded negotiations for the taking over of a picture house at Zillah, Wn. Zillah is in the fruit belt and the theaters are well patronized. Two new theaters in the same vicinity are being opened up, on one of which Mr. Chenaur has got an option, the other is not yet built. Mr. Chenaur is looking forward to running a chain of picture houses in that part of the country and is very optimistic over the prospects of success in that section.

Harold McKee of the 311st was mustered out at Camp Lewis and came in yesterday. He hopped on the Barton ranch truck and went off home as fast as he could get there. While his folks had been expecting him they had not looked for him so soon. The unexpected, delightful surprise so took Mrs. McKee aback that the doctor had to be called upon to prescribe for her. Harold has been an ammunition truck driver and has made good "over there." He stood next in line to a "shave-tail."

W. Brumfield, who was hastily called away to Jackson, Michigan, by the serious illness of his mother, das not in time to see her before she passed over. He returned home last Friday. He found business conditions very good in that section of the country which is principally devoted to manufacturing, all the plants humming and everybody was prosperous. Mrs. Brumfield, who accompanied her husband had never visited in Jackson before and very much enjoyed the trip. Both she and her husband, however, are very glad to be back in Port Angeles among their circle of friends.

E. E. Fisher returned from his outing at Lake Sutherland on Saturday in time for the Moose celebration in the evening. He was accompanied by his friends, Drs. Follett, Van Aukim and MacGinn, all of Seattle, Dr. L. G. Grant and Dr. G. H. White, both of Bremerton, and Ralph Wing of Wong's Cafeteria, Seattle Dr. White and E. E. Fisher were the chefs, "And we are some chefs, too," said Mr. Fisher proudly today. He reported all the members of the party had excellent sport, taking home with them a large catch of fish. Incidentally they say the fish are bigger than they have been for the past year or two and put down the improvement to the re-stocking of the lakes which has been done.

E. A. Brooks, J. L. Keller and Thomas G. Mortland are to try their sheep raising experiments in the Olympic mountains this summer. They start with a flock of 350 ewes and lambs.

The rhodendrons at Blyn are just coming out. By next Sunday there will be lots of them. Mayor Pegram and his wife were among the early birds out after this particularly beautiful worm.

It is especially desired that all persons interested in the work of the young people's branch of the West Angeles W. C. T. U., come and see for themselves what is being done. The meetings are held in the Lincoln Heights schoolhouse every other Friday evening about 8 o'clock.

The Womens Christian Temperance Union of this city will give a jubilee banquet at the Elks Hall Wednesday night. Tickets 50c. Mrs. Cornelia Hatcher of Alaska will be the speaker of the evening.

MT. PLEASANT NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Haines and two grandsons visited Saturday at the home of their daughter, Mrs. C. N. McLaughlin.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Keller and two daughters left on Sunday morning for Seattle on a business trip.

Mrs. Neyman of Spokane, who has been visiting with Mrs. E. E. Keller for the past week, returned home Sunday morning.

Miss Lucy Woodcock spent the week end with Mary Draper

The Mt. Pleasant Grange was held Saturday evening and two members were given the first and second degree and two more applications were received. There were several visitors and a very good meeting was held.

As Mason Burgess was coming home on Saturday evening from town with Iola Burr and his son Alva in the car, they met John Dick from Dungeness. The Dick car skidded, striking the Burgess car heavily, denting it and breaking the windshield. Some of the flying glass cut Mr. Burgess' hand and the impact flung both the young people out on the road. Miss Burr's shoulder was badly bruised, but it is reported that no serious injury was inflicted.

ARIZONA

For twenty years or more Arizona as a stage production cramped by three walls, thrilled millions of people. Now it has been picturized with the broad Arizona plains, mountains and desert as it locale, and with Doug Fairbanks himself as its star. The result is a wonderful picture, full of the thrills of cavalry horsemanship and good, clean, Western action. You cannot see a better picture.

Wednesday—Enid Bennett in "FUSS AND FEATHERS"
Thurs. & Fri.—Marguerite Clark in "LITTLE MISS HOOVER"

NOTE—
This is the last Douglas Fairbanks picture we will be able to show for nearly seven months as he is only making three pictures per year now. We advise all Fairbanks admirers to come as early as they can as our seating capacity will be taxed to its utmost to accommodate the crowds that will come from all over the country.
