GERMAN COUNTER PROPOSALS PRESENTED TODAY — ASK FOR AMELIORATION OF TERMS BECAUSE PEACE ON BASIS OF WILSON'S FOURTEEN POINTS

(By Associated Press)

INTERNATIONAL SITUATION, May 28.—It is expected the German peace delegation will present its counter proposals to the terms of peace at Versailles today. The German reply has been completed.

Dispatches from Berlin and Paris indicate that Germany will base the proposals on the claim they have accepted the offer of the allies to conclude peace on the basis of President Wilson's fourteen points and other assertions by allied representatives that the peace would not be one of violence. It is said that the Germans will claim to have ousted the imperial regime and substituted for it a democratic government and for this reason will ask for amelioration of the price they must pay for peace.

There are reports which seem to reflect a disposition on the part of the allies to parley long if the Germans actually refuse to sign the terms. An Amsterdam dispatch says that the Belgian frontier has been crossed and it is further reported that general mobilization of the Belgian army will be ordered as soon as it is definitely known the Germans will not sign the treaty.

Allied commanders along the Rhine are reported to have held conferences relative to action if the Germans do not conclude peace on the allied terms.

It may be that the treaty with Austria will not be presented on Friday as planned.

The Italian delegation is declared to be delaying consideration of the clauses of the treaty dealing with the southern frontier of Austria, insisting that the question of the frontier shall be coupled with that of the Dalmatian coast.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 28.—King Albert of Belgium, is expected to visit the United States for the first meeting of the League of Nations.

CAR PLUNGES 70 FEET BELOW EMBANKMENT

FLOYD HARBECK AND ESTHER HAUGE IN "BORROWED" CAR ESCAPED WITH CUTS—PLUNGES 70 FEET DOWN

An Overland car driven by Floyd Harbeck, of Mukilteo, with Miss Esther Hauge, of Port Angeles as a passenger, plunged 70 feet down an embankment on the Mukilteo road Sunday evening, without injuring its occupants. The car is owned by Rev. Rasmus Bogstad, of the Ebenezer Lutheran church of this city.

Harbeck took the car in sport, it is reported, and being an inexperienced driver, the car got from his control coming back from Mukilteo. The car turned a complete sommersault down the 70-foot bank, landing right side up in the swamp.

The car was taken from its resting place yesterday by the Healy wrecker.—Everett Tribune.

GERMANY TO DEMAND BIG INDEMNITIES

DELEGATION AT VERSAILLES ASKS LARGE INDEMNITY FOR BLOCKADE TO OFFSET ALLIES' DEMAND FOR REPARATION

(By Associated Press)

VERSAILLES, May 28.—The German peace delegation here, it was learned today, will present a counter claim of $12,850,000,00 marks for damages from the allied blockade as an offset to the reparation demands of the allied powers.

SOME POINTS OF GERMAN COUNTER PEACE PROPOSALS

(By Associated Press)

BERLIN, Tuesday, May 27.—Germany's counter proposals to the terms of the peace treaty presented to her delegates at Versailles include the following points, according to an unofficial summary available today:

"Germany offers to disarm all her battleships on condition that a part of her mercantile fleet be restored to her.

She proposes that there be no territorial changes without consultation of the populations affected.

The surrender of upper Silesia and the claims to East Prussia, West Prussia and Memil are emphatically rejected.

It is stipulated that Danzig shall become a free port and the river Vistula naturalized. The occupied territory is to be evacuated within six months.

If the League of aNtions is established with Germany as a member, Germany shall continue to administer her colonies in accordance with the principles of the league as its mandatory.

Germany offers to pay twenty billion marks in gold by the year 1926 as indemnity and to make annual payments from 1927 onwards not to exceed one hundred billion marks in gold.

COMMANDER MERRILL STATES THE PLANS FOR THE MEMORIAL DAY SERVICE AND PARADE—DESIRES SOLDIERS OF GREAT WAR TO PARTICIPATE

In an interview with a representative of this paper today, Commander Merrill of the Grand Army of the Republic stated that all the arrangements for the Memorial Day service and parade were well in hand and everything in excellent shape for holding a real Memorial Day.

In this connection he wanted to again call special attention to the expressed desire of the Port that all soldiers and sailors returned from the Great War should join in the parade which starts at two o'clock sharp. "All soldiers and sailors returned home must join," he declared emphatically.

NEW IMPROVEMENT HOTLY CONTESTED BY BOTH PARTIES

LARGE NUMBER CITIZENS ATTEND LAST NIGHT'S SESSION OF CITY COUNCIL — MAYOR PEGRAM ABSENT

Last night's meeting of the Council was marked by the absence of Mayor Pegram who is in Seattle, Councilman Burns presiding in his place.

The first business disposed of was the broken planking on Lincoln street which was referred to the City Engineer for adjustment.

Electric Light

The electric light committee recommended that the light on First and Race be installed as also the lights on Tumwater asked for, but desired more information with regard to the Pine Hill needs. The motion was carried.

The matter of purchasing lamps was brought up. It transpired that one electric light firm was willing to give a discount of 21 per cent and 2 per cent for cash if the number of lamps bought at one time was a minimum of 350, without requiring any contract. On this basis it was pointed out that a large saving could be made by the city and the motion was duly carried without dissent.

Civic Park

The question of lights in the civic park was brought up and when it was understood that the wiring and fixtures could be utilized elsewhere if it was found inadvisable to keep up the lighting at that point, the electrician was instructed to go ahead with the necessary work.

The request of the water company for a temporary tank to be used during the construction of their permanent reservoir made necessary by the increased demands of the industries on the waterfront was favorably considered and after some persistent discussion by Councilman Filion who wished to safeguard the passage of Eleventh street from being blocked, the request was granted.

The city treasurer was given permission to secure extra help for one week.

Councilman Horstman as chairman of the committee of the whole recommended that the lease to the fishermen be granted for 1500 feet on the Spit commencing twenty-five feet west of the lines as established in the lease first drawn up. The balance of the work entrusted to the committee has not been passed upon, the committee having adjourned until the sixth day of June.

Laurel Street Zig-Zag

The cost of the Laurel street zig-zag was computed by the city engineer as approximating $250. Councilman Van Brunt reported that some of the residents on Laurel street were willing to contribute to the restoration of the zig-zag and asked that they be given an opportunity to do so.

Engineer's Report

The city engineer reported that the portion of the road between Seaview Drive and the Fishermen's right-of-way was cleared and sidewalks placed. Owens Brothers had been employed for the work and their bill filed with the city clerk.

Engineer Young further reported that he desired information as to the distribution of the assessment over I street improvement district and the matter was referred to the city attorney to direct the engineer what legal action was necessary in the premises.

On representation of the city engineer and electrician as to the safety of the request of the Western Union Telegraph Co., to cut in on the Northwestern Power Company's line, the request of the company was granted, it being pointed out that quick action was necessary.

Chief of Police

On recommendation of the chief of police it was decided to ask the telephone company to remove the phones in the jail and at Harrington's corner, it being pointed out that no official use was made of these wires.

AUTOMOBILES MUST PAY HEED TO ALL THE REGULATIONS

SECRETARY OF STATE GAINSFORD SAYS 2500 PEOPLE WERE KILLED LAST TWO YEARS BY NOT OBSERVING AUTO LAWS

Deputy Secretary of State B. W. Gainsford was in the city today checking over auto licenses in the auditor's office and incidentally conferring with the city officials with regard to automobile traffic.

In the course of a conversation with the representative of the Herald Mr. Gainsford gave the following information:

Within the last two years there have been twenty-five hundred people killed and injured in the state of Washington alone from infringement of the following regulations: operating with one headlight, no tail light, no license, improper licenses and one license plate and speeding. Speed law calls for twelve miles an hour through the congrested parts of a city, twenty miles an hour within the city limits and thirty miles on the highway.

The time has come to call a halt. Practically ninety per cent of those that were killed and injured were from smaller towns driving into bigger cities. In the smaller towns the laws have not been enforced with the consequence that disregard of them in larger cities has brought death and disaster.

Effective the fifth of June the city will enforce an ordinance embodying the above regulations.

Hitherto automobile fines have gone into the state road fund. Under the new ruling all fines will go into the city treasury. It is understood that $12 will be the minimum fine inflicted.

The Kansas federal food administrator says there are 3,000,000 rats in Kansas, and each eats $2 worth of food a year.

PRESIDENT WILSON CABLES CONGRATULATIONS TO THE COMMANDER OF NC-FOUR

PARIS, May 28. (By Associated Press).—President Wilson today sent a message of congratulations to Lieut. Commander Read of the NC-4. The message reads:

"Please accept my heartfelt congratulations on the success of your flight and accept the fullest expression of my deep admiration. We are all heartily proud of you. You have won and deserved the distinction of adding still further to the laurels of our country."

NC-4 LEAVES FOR PLYMOUTH TOMORROW MORNING IF WEATHER CONDITIONS ARE FAVORABLE, ON LAST LEG OF FLIGHT

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 28.- No word had reached the navy department as to whether the seaplane NC-4 had left Lisbon on the last leg of the transatlantic flight to Plymouth, England. The last message from Lisbon was received last night and it indicated that Lieutenant Commander Read would start if weather conditions were favorable. Officers say communication with Lisbon was exceedingly slow.

LATER

The navy department was informed late today that the NC-4 would leave Lisbon for Plymouth tomorrow weather permitting.

COPPER MINES IN AUSTRALIA CLOSED

SYDNEY, May 28—All copper mines and smelters in Australia except two have closed. Enormous stocks of the metal are held and the demand is so light since the signing of the armistice that production has suspended.

A ROMANTIC RUNAWAY OF PORT ANGELES FOLK

Well Known Figures in Port Angeles Make a Romantic Get-Away To St. Helens, Oregon

Last Friday Irene McHatton of Sixth street, Tumwater Hill, left her aunt, Mrs. Smith, with the information that she was going to take a little trip up-Sound. Curiously enough, Louis Zuiderduin, who used to run Louie's Restaurant on Front street, had the same idea. It appears that one went by boat and the other by train on the same day with the same objective, St. Helens, Oregon. They arrived there on Saturday, went through the form of marriage and have set up housekeeping together. Mr. Zuiderduin has employment as chef at the St. Helen's Hotel and Port Angeles people who know his cooking will realize that the hotel has secured a good head of the culinary department.

MANY TAKE ADVANTAGE OF HALF-DAY EXCURSION

About one hundred and fifty people—a far less number than was anticipated—went on the Firemen's excursion to Victoria this morning, enjoyed a pleasat trip across the straits, took in the sights of the capital of British Columbia and had a general good time. That is, everything went along fine going over and all enjoyed the visit in Victoria, but returning, it was a different story. About half of the excursionists remained over to see more of the city and about half of the other half became half seasick on the homward trip.

LONDON, May 28.—The crew of the American seaplane NC-4 which made the first transatlantic aerial passage landing at Lisbon last evening from the Azores has been decorated with the Grand Cross of the order of the Tower and Sword, says a message from Lisbon. The decoration was presented by the Portuguese foriegn minister.

FATE OF LEAGUE OF NATIONS MAY DETERMINE WILSON

(By Associated Press)

CHICAGO, May 28.—President Wilson's candidacy for a third term will be determined largely by the fate of the League of Nations in the opinion of Homer S. Cummings, chairman of the Democratic National Committee who came to Chicago today to preside at a two-day session of that body.

"While I have no information regarding President Wilson's intentions about becoming a candidate for a third term, I believe that the question largely rests on the fate of the League of Nations, said Chairman Cummings. If the League of Nations should by any chance be defeated and this to me is unthinkable, the pressure brought to bear on the president to run again would be very great and I feel certain that he would be re-elected. If the League of Nations is successful I do not think the pressure would be nearly as great."

In the absence of definite word from President Wilson on the subject there was little gossip about candidates. The names chiefly mentioned were William McAdoo, late secretary of the treasury, and A. Mitchell Palmer, U. S. attorney general who will address the committees tomorrow night.

HARRY HAWKER AND GRIEVE GET DECORATED BY KING

(By Associated Press)

LONDON, May 28.—Harry Hawker and Lieut. Commander Grieve reached London last night. Today they were received by King George at Buckingham Palace.

The king bestowed on Hawker and Grieve the decoration of the air force cross. They were the first to receive this honor. The cross is a new one which is bestowed for "devotion to duty."

IMPROVEMENT ON CHERRY HILL

At no period in the history of Port Angeles has a City Council faced bigger and more serious problems than are now crying for solution. The difficulty over the Cherry Hill Improvement District is a case in point. It was evident at last night's meeting that the majority of the protestants against the improvement were nonresidents, and it is understood that the local protestants are holding out against it because the scope of the area does not include the blocks from Laurel to Lincoln which the original plan was meant to cover. Bp some typographical error Laurel was written for Lincoln and the resolution was framed that way, but the concensus of opinion is that the improvement district was meant to link up with the improvement on Lincoln which, of course, is the logical conclusion. There would be no sense in leaving a strip of unimproved district between the ment which he considers absolutely necessary to the public health. But the general feeling is that some of the roadwork proposed might be left for a later date.

Here is the groundwork for an amicable adjustment that will benefit all parties—give the city a larger area of essentially improved property at the same time eliminating some of the proposed hard-surfaced roads until a later more propitious date.

improved section from Laurel to Cherry and the good grade of Lincoln. Sanitation is just as vital on Laurel street, where there are many residents, as it is on on any other street and many of the protestants feel that way. The Herald believes that if this difficulty were gotten over, a good deal of the opposition would die a natural death. Another point at issue is the character of the roads contemplated. People are willing to pay for the vital up-to-date plumbing, for they have begun to realize that it is cheaper to meet assessments for betterments than it is to pay doctor's bills and the heavy expenses contingent on illness. The city health officer has put himself on record in favor of the improve-

HUMAN ACCOMPLISHMENT AND ACHIEVEMENT

There are three essential elements in human accomplishment and achievement:

First, VISION to see conditions.

Second, INTELLIGENCE to analyze and interpret vision, and,

Third, COURAGE to act.

All of these elements are important but the most important is COURAGE. It is the element in which most of us are lacking.

Having vision and intelligence without courage is like a complete machine, perfect and ready to run in all its parts, but inactive, for want of power.

Most of us have vision enough.

Most of us have intelligence enough.

But if any of us with any experience will look back upon our careers, we will find most often our vision was right, our interpretation was right, that our failure to grasp opportunities for achievement has been the fear of action.

Vision and intelligence without courage to act are of no avail.

In every field of endeavor we find men of little vision, small intelligence and to a point of actual ignorance, yet they are men of large accomplishments—they have succeeded in doing exactly what they started out to do.

We wonder at these instances—we compare them with men of more intelligence and education who have not succeeded. And, as far as that goes, the world is full of the latter.

But it is no matter for wonder at all.

It simply means that those who have recorded success are those who have had large courage of action—enough to overbalance a lack of vision and a low intelligence.

These men at whose success we wonder may have made many mistakes and endured heavy loss through their lack of vision and intelligence, but their courage of action has given them a power over their deficient elements and for achievement—they have succeeded in spite of their losses and mistakes.

Our strength is at all times in proportion to our courage.

Our vision is only a reflection to our minds—to our intellects.

Our intellects is only the guide, the governor of our wills and is never the power of action.

The intellect without courage is the source of fear.

With every condition nature gives us the power of vision to see it and the intelligence to interpret it—it is as natural as the law of self-preservation.

Courage is also in conformity to this natural law, that there is a place, a purpose, a reward for every honest constructive action.

That there is a natural and instinctive guidance to reward for all acts and accomplishments for true service—a universal intelligence beyond human intelligence.

Yes, there are three elements to achievement—vision, intelligence and courage, but the greatest of these is courage.

Yakima Gun Club

Washington and Northwest trapshots began gathering today for the opening of the three-day shoot Thursday, which is to decide the shooter to represent this state at the Grand American handicap. Under the auspices of the Yakima Gun Club, the meet is expected to brmg out a record attendance of well-known shots. Thursday's program calls for the ladies' championship, club and professional championship contests for the state titles, with 100 sixteen-yard targets. Three-men teams will compete in the club championship contest. Suitable trophies for each contest are awarded. In addition, the Yakima special distance handicap, from 16 to 22 yards and 50 targets, will be shot for on the first day. On May 31 the Washington state championship will be the chief event, lasting over into June 1. Shooting for these two days calls for 150 registered targets and two handicap events. Frank Troeh, of Vancouver, Wash., holds the state title and will compete for honors again. An added feature of the meet will be the appearance of a number of shooters from Yakima Indian reservation, which is said to have the first Indian gun club formed in the United States.

Spanish War Veterans

Spanish war veterans of Washington are expected here in large numbers to attend their sixteenth annual encampment June 12, 13 and 14. Already local hotels have received so many calls for reservations that private families have been asked to take care of some of the visitors. Among the delegates will be Brigadier General Harvey J. Moss, Seattle; Major Cunningham, Spokane; Judge Noah Shakespeare, Everett; W. A. Gaines, Seattle, county treasurer of King county; Judge Walter M. French, Port Orchard; Representative Guy Groff, Spokane and Judge E. E. Hardin, Bellingham.

Announcement has been made at Hoquiam that cities and towns of the Grays Harbor section are soon to be given air plane mail service.

LEGS AMPUTATED AS HE HANGS IN SHAFT

LONDON, May 27.—Doctors amputated both legs of Henry Shiers while he hung head downward, both legs caught between an elevator cage and the flooring. It was impossible to move the man and a staging was built into the shaft from the floor below and platform erected. On this the surgeons stood and while one gave an anaesthetic the other cut off the legs. The victim was removed to a hospital, but died.

Confessions of a Bride

Copyrighted 1919 by the Newspaper Enterprise Association

Conquest of Tommy had never been my thoughts. I had never thrown a luring smile his way. I had only dared to be myself when with him because Tommy had been so frankly my loyal servitor and nothing more. I had been selfishly absorbed in my own affairs. Thus I excused myself for failing to detect the first hint of a change in his attitude toward me.

"So Bob is in town at last?" Tommy's voice sounded tired.

I nodded.

"Then, ma'am, take my advice. Get quit of your job. Go back to the Lorimer house. As I said before, you need a real man to look after you. Go back to Bob at once."

Tommy's profile was splendid against the window and I thought that he must have looked just so the day he took his tank across No-Man's-Land and won his wound stripes.

"Hateful world! Horrid old Mother Nature!" I said to myself. "I don't believe it's better to have loved and lost than never to have loved at all! I don't see what good Tommy can get from bestowing a hopeless love on a silly little goose like me It's to be hoped that his feelings are just average. If so, his hurt won't last."

But Tommy never had and never would confess to the feeling I suspected. I couldn't offer him a word of comfort. With an effort I steered my wandering thoughts into what promised to be a road without so many ruts.

"To love is to serve." Tommy would still want to help us. The least I could do for him would be to accept his service.

"Friend Brother," I said crossing the room and standing by his side. "Lately you asked me to reveal my existence to Daddy Lorimer. Well, you were right, Tommy. I will."

Then Tommy came out of his melancholy and spoke with honest gladness:

That's good, ma'am. You'll never know how good until you see Mr. Lorimer. He's most sick—worrying about you."

"Arrange the meeting, Tommy, as soon as I can get this plaster off. Even if I have been batting around a hard world, I don't want Daddy Lorimer to guess it—as he might—from this evidence." And I laid a finger on my cut temple.

"I'd better get him to come here, ma'am."

"But don't tell him he's to meet his long lost ane!"

"I get you, ma'am. It's to be a complete surprise on him?"

"And you're to bring him and share the fun of it, Tommy!"

"If you say so, ma'am. And how will you be introduced, ma'am? As a stranger?"

"As myself! I'm going to parole myself to Daddy!"

"You couldn't do better," Tommy acknowledged.

And I knew that I couldn't. Daddy would find both sense and humor in my plan to win my husband back in disguise.

When Tommy had left me, I went up to my room and my heart was beating hard under the stress of many emotions.

I wanted to upset Katherine Miller's apple cart; I was starving for Mother Lorimer's tenderness; I was homesick for the nooks and corners of the Lorimer house; I was very weary of excitement and adventure; but most of all I wanted the pressure of Bob's arms around me keeping me safe from the world.

SENSATIONS of an ARTIST'S MODEL

THE LOVER'S REVENGE

In these chapters, Manya Rudina, Russian-born New York artist's model, concludes the story of the Viennese artist's love tragedy, and ends the series "Sensations of an Artist's Model" with inside stories of the life in New York's Bohemian art studios.

BY MANYA RUDINA

MOTHER EVE'S COSTUME WASN'T SO IDEAL

A model never knows in what form she is destined to appear in the finished work of the artist.

I found this out when asked to pose by a Japanese artist; one of those who took my address when I went to the Penguin party.

He wanted to paint "my" portrait, he said, but when he was finished, though I could recognize my features in the painting, instead of myself I saw a pretty Japanese girl! He had slanted my eyes, raised my cheekbones and turned me into a Jap girl unconsciously and quite effectively.

He had made me a Japanese just as the Venetian painters of the Renaissance when they painted Biblical subjects clothed their characters in Venetian costumes of their own period. Even a famous English painter who is alive today, Brangwyn, in his "Crucifixion" has a background of a Roman acqueduct and grouped around the cross are workmen dressed as the ordinary British workmen of today, with leather thongs below the knees.

I posed in succession for men of many nationalities, of the Penguins, but the most interesting experience was a request in the late spring of that year to pose in the open air, for a painter who was interested in painting sunlight effects upon my figure which it is impossible to do in the ordinary studio.

There is not much posing in the open air in this country, though in France, and particularly the small islands along the Brittany coast, the artists all summer long have their models pose in the open air.

My artist wanted to paint the figure against a natural background of trees and stream.

It was an interesting experience to me. He had to work at a very fast pace because all the time the sun was moving and changing the shapes of the shadows and lights. We went to Bear Mountain up the Hudson, and he put up for me a small tent as a dressing room. He had permission to use some fenced in private property so that there was no danger of being disturbed.

In order to finish the picture, I had to pose for a short time only on many successive afternoons in order that the artist might catch the sun in the same relative position.

It was a very interesting experience and apart from some preliminary nervousness that some wandering passerby might disturb us, I liked it—all but one thing. By the end of the second day my back was blistered with sun burn and I had to send for a small drugstore of cold creams and liniments, and missed several nights sleep because of the pain.

And I decided that posing in the open air might be interesting and novel, but it had its disadvantages.

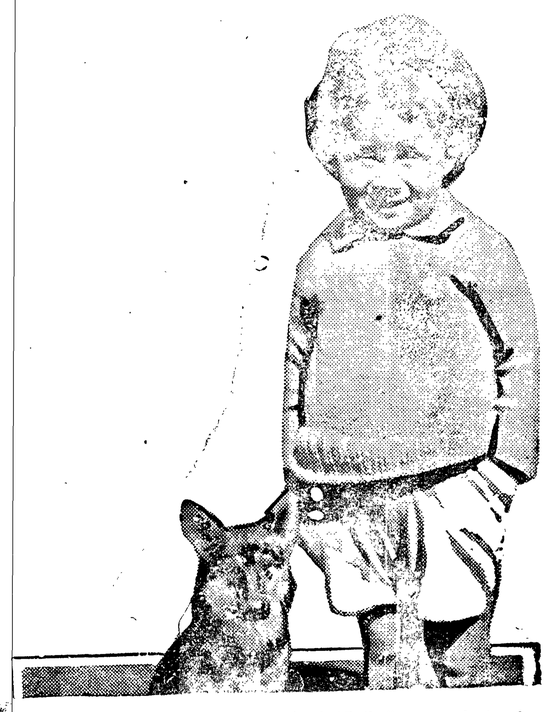
Jean and the Pup Are Happy Far From War-Torn France



Jean Thiebaut and his one best friend, "Poilu," are products of a war-torn land. But Jean and the dog are frolicsome and gay, for Jean isn't old enough to remember his brave 22-year-old father who was killed in battle, nor his 18-year1old mother who was killed by an air bomb in Rheims. Jean is only 3 years old now. And the dog was born in a cave near Chalons during a terrific bombardment. He has served as a Red Cross dog, and the world seems very peaceful and bright to him now that the fighting is over. Jean was 18 months in a model baby hospital with 1500 other war orphans until Dr. Heard, who established the hospital, came back to America, bringing Jean and his nurse and Poilu to her home in Galveston, Texas. Dr. Heard is assisting here in the campaign to extend the work of the American women's hospitals to Serbia and the far east.

Suffered Day and Night For Years—After Taking Tanlac Looks Like Different Child

"My little daughter Jean, has gained ten pounds on Tanlac and now she is the very picture of health," said Jim Snell, well known poultry and truck farmer of Raleigh, Tenn.

"When Jean was only seven years old," continued Mr. Snell, "she was taken with something like nervous stomach trouble, and there wasn't a day or night she didn't suffer, until we got Tanlac for her, and she's now fifteen years old. Her stomach was in such a bad condition she had to live on toast and eggs and milk, and she couldn't eat any kind of meets or vegetables. She complained of pains in her stomach all the time and would spit up half digested food. She was nervous and would toss and roll all night, for she couldn't sleep well at all. She was bilious and her complexion was bad, and she looked pale and sickly all the time. We gave her most every kind of medecine we could think of, but nothing helped her.

"After hearing of some of the good work Tanlac was doing, we got some for Jean, and it has done wonders for her. She actually looks and acts like a different child, and she's taken only two bottles of the medicine. She commenced picking up as soon as she started Tanlac, and she has gained ten pounds. She never has indigestion now, and eats just anything she wants—even such things as beans and other vegetables, and meats of all kinds. Why, she ate corn for dinner yesterday, and it was the first time in eight years she dared taste corn, and she eats boiled bacon that is cooked with vegetables. She's not nervous nor bilious now, and sleeps like a baby, and we never hear anything out of her from the time she goes to bed until she gets up in the mornings. Her skin has cleared up and her cheeks look fresh and rosy. You can just look at her and tell she's enjoying good health."

Tanlac is sold in Port Angeles by Owl Drug Co.; in Dungeness by Wm. A. Monson; in Sequim by F. D. Babcock; in Blyn by W. B. Main; in Mona by W. F. Taylor, and in Forks by Geo. W. Groffma. ****

PRETENDIN'

"Sometime I play my papa's like
A pony-horse, or just a bike,
And when I ride his foot or knee,
He jolts the gizzard out o' me!

"Sometimes I play he's just a bear
And then I grab him my the hair,
And if he'll promise not to bite,
I let the ol' bear hug me tight.

"And we have lots of fun, sometime,
Pretendin' he's a hill to climb,
And play his stomach is a rock,
And jab him with my alpenstock.

"And sometime he's a foreign foe
And I just shoot him good, you know.
And then he falls down, like he's dead.
And I play I cut off his head.

"Sometime he says 'Now that's the end
Of playin'-like and let's-pretend,'
And he won't play no more. And then
I play like he's my pa again!"

LOCAL RANCHERS FINED FOR KILLING DEER

SMOKES SHY IN JAPAN, U. S. TOBACCO EXPENSIVE

TOKIO, May 28.—Japan's government tobacco monopoly is unable to make cigarets as fast as the Japanese smoke them. The government is urging tobacco growers to extend their acreage as much as possible. The average consumption is equal to more than a hundred million pounds, but the production is 16 million pounds short. Chinese tobacco does not appeal to the Japanese taste and American tobacco, which is preferred, has gone to three times its former price.

oline fixtures on the sidewalks, other companies having removed similar advertisements, was brought to the notice of the council. The communication was ordered filed.

Permits to build and remodel were granted to three petitioners while soft drink licenses were issued to Messrs. Sisson & Filion and C. W. Bennett. Taylor and Caven were granted the sewer license asked for as well as Fred Westcott whose application was endorsed by DeWitt Burns and J. W. Hooker.

New Improvement District

The discussion of the evening centered on the improvement on Cherry Hill. Quite a few documents were read and discussed. The council chamber was crowded, many persons standing. Some good talks were made pro and con, the general feeling expressed being that outsiders who held vacant lots for speculative purposes should not be allowed to hold up an important improvement desired by the residents of the district who had invested good money in nice homes. It was finally carried that the city clerk be instructed to check up the signatures attached to protest and petition, to find out the exact number of lots held by each signatory and to ascertain duplications of signatures. For this purpose he was empowered to obtain help, one person from each of the contending parties.

The council then proceeded to some further routine business and upon motion duly seconded, finally adjourned at fifteen minutes before eleven p. m.

MEAT DISHES AT LOW COST

BY BIDDY BYE

How to make a little meat go a long way is the daily problem in the average family.

Here are suggested methods of extending the meat flavor and using the less expensive cuts:

Meat Gems

To 2 cupfuls of ground meat, either cooked or fresh, add 1 cupful of coarse crumbs, 1 medium sized onion, chopped fine, 1 tablespoonful of chopped parsley and 1-2 cupful of grated cheese. Mix well and moisten with 1 beaten egg and a little tomato catsup. Grease gem pans and mold the meat mixture into them. Bake in hot oven until brown. Serve with tomato sauce.

Suring Stew

Cut 2 pounds of lamb into a small chunks and stew gently for 1 hour in a kettle with 2 cupfuls of canned or fresh tomato pulp, 1 cupful of diced carrots, 2 onions sliced, 2 cloves and 1 teaspoonful of mixed and powdered herbs. Season with salt and pepper and add enough water to cover. After stewing the mixture for 1 hour add 1-2 pound rice and cook until tender.

Economy Roast

Buy 2 pounds of good flank steak, pound and roll around a stuffing made of 1 cupful of bread crumbs mixed with 1 cup of cooked rice or oatmeal, 1 cupful of mixed and chopped onion and celery, 1 chopped apple and 1-2 cupful raisins. Season with salt and pepper and sage, roll and tie, and bake slowly for 1 1-2 hours.

Macaroni with Round Steak

Break 1-2 package of macaroni into half-inch lengths and add 1 tablespoonful of melted butter and water to cover. Boil until tender and drain. Put through a food chopper and 1 pound of round steak and 2 large onions. Put the cooked macaroni into a greased baking dish, cover with the meat and onion, add salt, pepper, 1-2 cupful of grated cheese, 2 cupfuls tomatoes, and cover all with 1 cupful of bread crumbs. Dot with bits of butter and bake 1 hour.

Fabrics to Choose For Your Summer Sewing

BY BETTY BROWN

Just as soon as the fever of housecleaning is banished from the feminine mind by the process of "working it off" the aforementioned mind turns promptly to the business and pleasure of assembling the deliciously cool and frilly summer wardrobe.

Now is the time to shop for the delicate fabrics that clothe us with summer charm and comfort—but before sallying forth with purse and shopping list it is well to prepare the mind with foreknowledge of what's what in fashionable fabrics, for bless you, even materials have their seasons of popularity, and who would wish to wear chambray when all other persons appear in organdie?

For instance, ladies, it is well recognized in the smartest shops of the largest cities that the fabrics which are essentially THE choice this season of 1919 are, in their order, organdie, ginghams and challis!

If the purse is full, and the seamstress skillful, choose one of each material and be sure you're right—but if only one may be had buy organdie!

All the familiar pastel shades are in favor—with the addition of some gorgeous new futurist designs and colors.

When the frock is all of organdie it should be ruffled from collar to hem—or if allowed a few inches of straight lines it should at least be much frilled with rows of tiny ruffles about the low cut neck and the hem, or the skirt should be a whole series of ruffled aprons of varied size. Also the sleeve should be short—quite above the elbow—a mere puff, with three frills! And even organdie may have its touch of wool embroidery in tiny dots or flowers. One of the joys of the organdie frock is that it suits itself to either afternoon or evening social affairs—it's always good form.

Combined with chintz, voile, and gingham and even silk, organdie is still the fabric keynote of 1919.

After organdie comes gingham, very very plaid, and very gay, and up in the world as to price. Simply made and combined with handkerchief linen or organdie the ginghams are chic indeed. Some of the best New York offers have round necks, kimona sleeves and the seams, from neck to hem, coarsely whipped in gay colored worsted, with a knitted nosegay in brilliant hues blooming on the girdle!

Then challis Quite wonderfully popular is this quaint fabric of light wool texture, and equally becoming are its odd old-fashioned printed patterns, and soft colors. It combines charmingly with organdie or taffeta. The all-over patterns of challis and the color render much ornamentation a superfluity. Good lines, some distinctive buttons and a sash are all that is required to achieve smartness.

Probably the oldest officer of his rank on the active list in any army is First Lieut. Richard Peters, of Washington, D. C., who is 74 years old and now with the American forces overseas.

LET HUNS GIVE NEW MACHINES FOR OLD!

BRUSSELS, May 28.—Why take back stolen machinery from Germany? Why not let the Germans manufacture new machinery for the Belgian plants that have been raided and let Berlin pay the bill? This is the suggestion of Belgian manufacturers whose factories must be re-equipped. Machines which have been dismantled and removed and must again be dismantled to move back will never be as efficient as before. German industry would be kept alive by the orders which would be placed through the government for this sort of replacement and Belgium would not suffer.
