BORDER STATES OF MEXICO IN REVOLT

AGUA PRIETA, Sonora, April 12.—General Bino, commanding the first divisional army of the state today advised the Associated Press that he had received semi-official information that thirteen additional states of the Republic have voted to follow the example of the stat eof Sonora in seceding.

AGUA PRIETA, Sonora, April 12.—A proclamation has made its appearance on the streets here calling the citizens to arms against the Carranza government. The proclamation was issued by General P. Elias Calles, commander in chief of the forces of the Republic of Sonora.

NOGALES, Sonora, April 12.—Officials of the new "Republic of Sonora" which withdrew from the Mexican government Friday, today awaiting the next move from the Carranza administration. Meantime it is preparing for any military activity against the state.

Carranza has only one channel to bring the state back into the federation of the Mexican states. He must accede to and guarantee Sonora that he recognizes the state's rights and will not send troops into Sonora against the wishes of the state government.

CUSTOMS SEIZED.

NOGALES, Sonora, April 12.—Customs houses and all property of the federal government of Mexico were formally seized in the name of the "republic of Sonora" here Sunday.

Sonora state officials, headed by Adolfe de la Huerta, governor of Sonora, who has been proclaimed "supreme power of the republic of the Sonora" by the state congress, declared that while the state had seceded it would return to the Mexican republic upon guarantees from the national administration that there would be no infringement of the state's rights by the federal government.

The secession, acoording to the officials, was brought about by Carranza ordering federal troops into the state. They said the next move was up to Carranza. Unless he acts, political leaders of Sonora said, the new republic would defy the Mexican federal government and resist with armed forces any attempt of Carranza to take back the state by force.

General P. Elias Calles, former governon of Sonora, and who recently resigned from the Carranza cabinet, has been made supreme military commander of the state's military forces.

Calles has issued a proclamation calling for volunteers and calling on all soldiers in the state to rally against any threatened invasion by Carranza forces.

Spread of the secession movement to other sections unless the government acts quickly was forecast here. The Sinaloa state congress, according to information received here has endorsed the action of the Sonora congress in demanding constitutional rights and Lower California, according to these reports is erpected to do the same. Sinaloa politics are closely interwoven with Sonora's and both the states are largely controlled by General Alvaro Obregon. Governor de la Huerta's seizure of the Southern Pacific de Mexico railroad, occording to reports here, has won supporters in Sinaloa, where vast quantities of agricultural products are awaiting shipment.

In an interview today the governor said the state would hold the road within the state until the railroad arbitrated or otherwise settled the strike. The governor declared neither the strikers nor the officials has the right to tie up the roads and leave perishable crops to ruin. Crops are now moving freely over the road, which is being operated by strikers paid by the state, the governor said.

Officials of the Southern Pacific have appealed to the Mexican federal government for assistance but Sonora state officials said any attempt by Carranza to force return of the property would be met by bloodshed.

GEO. CREEL FACES LEGAL PROCEEDINGS

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 12. — Legal proceedings by the government against George Creel, former chairman of the committee on public information and Roger W. Babson of Wellesley Hills., Mass., and others concerned in the tranfser of the committee's war publication, the Official Bulletin, to Babson, are recommended in a report made public today by Senator Smoot, Republican, Utah, chairman, and Representative Kiess, republican, Pennsylvania, vice chairman of the joint congressional printing committee.

The report charges that Babson obtained the "Bulletin" in March, ..., by secret connivance with Creel and others, "without the government receiving a cent in compensation" and urges that suit be brought to obtain "just compensation" for the government.

Numerous abuses in government publications, including army and navy and other war-service journals, are charged in the report. Many of these publications, it says, were used for propaganda favorable to the league of nations, the liquor interests and officers in charge. Advertisements the report asserted, included "get rich quick" oil speculations and political propaganda improper in government publications.

Another alleged abuse of government funds charged by the report was printing of 30,144,362 speeches of federal officials at an expense of $442,798 to the government. Paper consumed totalled 1,451,000 pounds.

The report says the committee used its power to supervise government printing investigated 266 journals, magazines and periodicals and discontinued 111 at a saving of $1,200,000 annually. Eight army and navy newspapers and magazines were suppressed at a saving of $400,000.

"This has been done," the report says, "without a single protest from any man in the ranks, chiefly in whose interests it has been urged the publications were printed. The objection to discontinuing came entirely from high ranking officers."

TWO ANGLERS NABBED FISHING BELOW THE TRAP

Messrs. McFadden and Thomas were picked up by Deputy Sheriff C. E. Cole on Saturday for illegal fishing below the new trap on Morse Creek. They were brought before Chas. Sult, justice of the peace, and fined twenty dollars and costs.

A great deal of anxiety is being felt by the gam ewardens on account of the new trap on Morse Creek. No fishing is permissible for a mile below the trap, but fishermen seem to be unable to recognize the fact that that particular locality is taboo and the trap is being gradually destroyed by eager sportsmen who find it difficult to give up an erstwhile favorite location.

A strict watch is being kept on the spot and it is hoped that the good sense and fairmindedness of fishermen will lead thim to avoid it in future.

Cole says both McFadden and Thomas are married men and should be wiser. "They are both friends of mine, too," said Cole.

TAX REFORM MOVEMENT WIDESPREAD.

The leaven of tax reform seems to be working with renewed life in other states as well as our own. In California a formidable campaign is being waged to take taxes off of improvements and indeed off of everything but the location value or social value of land. In Canada, also, there is a renewed purpose to go further in that direction, after having tried out moderate applications of the idea.

In Pennsylvania, there has been in force for several years a policy of gradually transferring taxes from improvements to land values. This encountered very determined opposition on the part of the land speculators, of course, but it is reported that when an investigator who was sent to Pittsburgh by an organization of Baltimore business men interviewed the nine councilmen of the city he found seven of them very firmly opposed to any suggestions of repeal of the present law. It is also reported that "as to Scranton, a representative of the Baltimore Sun, who was sent to the city with the obvious intent to get hostile opinions and make an unfavorable report, was forced to admit that it worked well." At the last election in Baltimore the city was about to vote on the proposition of adopting a tax system similar to that of Pittsburg. The proposal had gone on the ballot as a result of a popular petition. The landlords and speculators became hysterical about it, however, and succeeded in inducing the court of appeals to keep the measure off the ballot. It is needless to add that the people of Baltimore are now more than ever determined to vote on the matter and it would be a curious condition of they cannot have what they want when they once know they want it.

The progressive elements in politics and public affairs even in England are pledged to the taking of land values or economic rent for the maintenance of government, while the new German republic declares that "all increase in land values not due to the expenditure of capital and labor must be used for communal benefits.

In Oregon an effort is being made to put a single tax measure on the ballot for the coming election and the indications are that it will be done, and the measure itself may be carried.

Many movements, notably in western states, and some of the newer national movements are comitted to this advanced economic philosophy. People generally seem to be awakening to the fact that the private collection of the socially created ground rent, by one means and another, is locking up resources, handicapping productive enterprises, keeping people out of homes and out of the material with which to construct them.

The truest "fish" story on record is, of course in the Bible. The disciples said: "Lord, we have fished all night and caught nothing."

Some of the most vigorous opponents of the work now in progress in the new improvement district recently have repented and confessed their sins. One of them recently told a city official that he was now convinced that the improvement was desirable. "It is adding to the value of my property far more than the amount of the assessment," he said.

POLITICAL INDICATIONS FROM SOUTH DAKOTA.

"The results of the primary contest in South Dakota are of nation-wide intrest," says the Indianapolis Star (Ind. Rep.), "because they are the first formal measure of sentiment in any state." The Star declares that "the friends of General Wood are very much gratified by the showing he made," the final tabulation giving, in round numbers, Wood 30,000 votes, Lowden 26,00, and Johnson 24,000 with Poindexter completely out of the running.

As the Republican race, at least up to the time of Hoover's entrance, has been "Wood against the field," the principal interest in the South Dakota result center around the question whether it indicates strength or weakness in the Wood camp. General Wood gets the ten South Dakota delegates, and many are satisfied to let this fact speak for itself. Thus the Manchester Union (Ind. Rep.) calls it a "sweeping victory" for Wood, which "has far greater significance than the the mere addition of ten more delegates to his rapidly growing convention following," and the Columbus Dispatch (Ind) reclares that "his strength at the polls naturally gives great encouragement to his followers."

There are two things that should not be overlooked," the Dispatch remarks. "First, it is an agricultural state. Then, the women voted. The result therefore shows that General Wood is strong with the farmers, a thing that his opponents have denied, and also that he is a favorite with the women, another point his opponents have not been willing to concede . . . The first real victory at the polls must be written down to the credit of General Wood."

"The vote received by Gen. Wood, who stands for universal military training," adds the Sioux City Journal (Rep.), "shows that he people prefer the security of the policeman's club to that of the typewriter and polished sentences grouped into roseate promises of impossible hope," and the Anaconda Standard (Dem.) concludes that "it's still Wood against the field."

"A knockout for Lowden," says the Kansas City Star (Ind.), while the Lynchburg News (Dem.) holds that it was Johnson who "fell by the wayside." So thinks the Philadelphia Inquirer (Rep.), which declares that "Wood and Lowden together, standing for ratification, left very little of Johnson and Poindexter, apostles of Treaty rejection," so that now "the race in delegate getting is between Wood and Lowden," a view supported also by the Portland Oregonian (Ind. Rep.)

To the Cincinnati Times-Star (Rep.) the result indicates that "sentiment among the voters of the Northwest is in a state of flux,' and this authority believes that "under such conditions the preferential primary shows at its worst. When public openion is indefinite and uncertain, the results of a primary depend on organization and political work rather than upon the popularity of individual candidates or the strength of the ideas they stand for." The Times-Star thinks that while Wood is now "plainly the leading candidate," still, "there has not yet appeared in his favor that spontaneity and enthusiasm of public support which would assure his nomination and make his election fairly certain."

That's All!

ROY RREAKS WITH MARY.

The next morning Mary's pocketbook was found in her own desk in the English room, divested of everything. That meant the money had been taken, and a still more diligent search was instigated. Prof. Harney announced about it just after devotional exercises, and dwelt again upon the sin of stealing. Again I felt guilty, and Emmy did also, and afterwards I spoke to Will Cummings of my feelings, and he winked and sort of sneered, and said:

"I'll tell you something, Yolande, if I thought you would never breathe it."

I promised and he drew me off into a corner and whispered, mor frightened than I had ever seen him: "Do you know yesterday after school I was down in the city buying a couple of neckties and I saw Mary Bannon as I went past the counter—it was Scullys—you know they have a men's department,"

I admitted I knew, and Will went on: "I was going to say hello to Mary, but it went through my head as if I had been hit with something: 'Why would Mary Bannon be shopping after losing all that money?' So I laid low and watched, and Yolande that girl bought a waist, and she paid $18 for it, and gave a $20 bill to pay for it."

"Heaven!" I gasped.

"And what's more," Will continued, "I followed her still further, and she bought a pair of stunning new shoes, and got another $20 bill changed to pay for them. That's $40, isn't it?"

I nodded.

"Well, isn't that nearly a quarterly tuition installment here?" he interogated.

"You don't mean—?" I began, my eyes wide open.

"Keep it under your bonnet, Yolande, but I mean just what you are thinking about."

"All that stealing rumpus was put over by Mary in order to make her poor father cough up her tuition twice," explained Emmy. "As for me, I am going to cut her dead."

"She's a thief," said I.

About dismissal time, Roy Kimball came to me and said he wanted me to ride home with him, and for us to be sure Mary wasn't on the same car; he said he didn't want Emmy either. I acquiesced, and scarcely were he and I by ourselves until he went into a long harangue that he didn't want me to think that he and Mary were still friends. He said he could stand paint and powder and perfume and airs that would kill a cat, but when it came to deceiving one's old man like she was doing (Will had evidently told him too) he broke off everything, that was all.

"I didn't know there was anything for you to break off. This is news to me," I said icily.

He was miffed horribly at this, but being in a humble mood, didn't argue, but looked quantities of affection—and if it hadn't been that was contrasting him unfavorably with Laurie Custer, I would have been so sorry for Roy that I would have taken him back into my fold, just for pity's sake.

"You are so cold, Yolande—so distant like, don't you ever think of me anymore at all?" asked Roy, as he walked to Yardley street.

"Silly! Of course I do," I answered. "We are the best of friends, and always will be."

"I don't know whether I want to be that or not," he retorted. "I believe you've got another fellow, Yolande!"

I didn't reply, but looked beyond and above, and Roy talked very little more. He wouldn't come in and was turning to go when Mama spied him. And it was sickening the fuss she made over him!

After he had gone, I said: "Why didn't you kill the fatted calf, and be done with it?"

But she only laughed. We hurried to be ready for the Merringtons' for we were to go to their house for dinner. Those friends of Mama's are hideously prompt, and Mama never will allow me not to be in both hat and coat when their car comes. We had a wonderful meal and I know I did it justice, and do you know, I only thought of Laurie two or three times during the whole five courses. This was miraculous considering how he had been occupying my thoughts. And after we were in the theatre, sitting far to the front, the first act was almost over before he came to my mind at all, and then it was a terrible, terrible experience I had.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. For 17 years he used these tablets (a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil) in his private practice with great success.

They do all the good that calomel does but have no bad after effects. No pains, no griping, no injury to the gums or danger from acid foods—yet they stimulate the liver and bowels. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "logy" and "heavy." Note how they clear clouded brain and perk up the spirits. 10c and 25c a box.

Why Measles May Be Dangerous

This is No. 3 of a series of advertisements, prepared by a competent physician, explaining how certain diseases which attack the air passages—such as Pneumonia, Influenza, Whooping Cough, Measles or even a long continued Cold—often leave these organs in an inflamed, congested state, thus affording a favorable foothold for invading germs. And how Vick's VapoRub may be of value in this condition.

Few of us escape measles—it is one of the commonest of childhood diseases. Every mother knows the symptoms, but the mistake that most mothers make is in failing to realize that the child is not fully recovered after the eruption and fever disappear. The air passages are still inflamed and if this inflammation is not cleared up, the air passages may be weakened, thus paving the way for pneumonia or serious disease of the lungs.

Nightly applications of Vick's VapoRub will aid nature in relieving this inflammation. Because Vicks acts locally by stimulation thru the skin to draw out the inflammation, attract the blood away from the congested spots and relieve the cough. In addition, the medicinal ingredients of Vicks are vaporized by the body heat. These vapors are breathed in all night long, bringing the medication to bear directly upon the inflamed areas.

Children's digestions are delicate—easily disturbed by too much "dosing." Vicks, therefore, is particularly recommended since it is externally applied and so can be used often and freely without the slightest harmful effects.

Vicks should be rubbed in over the throat and chest until the skin is red—then spread on thickly and covered with hot flannel cloths. Leave the clothing loose around the neck and the bed clothes arranged in the form of a funnel so the vapors arising may be freely inhaled. If the cough is annoying, swallow a small bit of Vicks the size of a pea.

Samples to new users will be sent free on request to the Vick Chemical Company, 233 Broad Street, Greensboro, N. C.

SHE HAD TO MUFFLE THE TELEPHONE BELL.

"For the benefit of the thousands who are suffering from stomach trouble and a run down condition I want to tell of the wonderful results I have gotten from Tanlac," said Mrs. Lena Swanson, of 1710 North Madison St., Peoria, Ill.

"It was eight years ago that my stomach got out of order and my health began to fail," she continued. "Finally I got to feeling so bad that I lost interest in everything and got not pleasure out of life. My food acted like poison to my system and I would bloat up with gas and suffered agonies. My heart would flutter until I was almost faint and at times I would get so dizzy the house seemed to be whirling round. I had to almost stop eating and became so weak it was all I could do to get about the house. My nerves were so shattered even the ringing of the telephone upset me and I had to muffle it. I slept very little and seldom woke up in the morning without a dull, nagging headache.

"My brother had gotten such fine results from taking Tanlac that he talked me into trying it and I improved remarkably with the very first bottle—got so I could eat and sleep better. Now after taking five bottle my friends tell me I am the picture of health. I can eat anything, even to boiled meats, cabbage and pickles without a bit of trouble with my stomach. My nerves are calm and I sleep like a child every night; I have gained twenty pounds in weight and I never grow tired of praising Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold in Port Angeles by Owl Drug Co.; in Dungeness by Wm. A. Monson; in Sequim by F. D. Babcock; in Blyn by W. B. Main; in Mora by W. F. Taylor, and in Forks by Geo. W. Groffman.

SEATTLE 6-2 — Sacramento 44-3.

SACRAMENTOO, April 11.—Driving a home run over the right field fence in the 14th innning, Roxey Middleton won the afternoon game yesterday for Sacramento, 3 to 2. The clubs split the series, each winning three games.

Seattle took the morning game at Stockton, 6 to 4, before the largest crowd ever assembled for a ball game in that city. The Siwashes landed on Mails' delivery during the seventh and eighth and Rodgers rushed Larkin to the rescue. Siebold pitched a creditable game for the northerners.

In the afternoon game, Seattle, with Brenton in the box, led until the 4th inning when Comton hit out a home-run with McGaffigan on second. Comton also saved the game for the senators in the eighth by throwing Cunningham out at the plate from deep right.

Morning game:

Seattle	6	8	1
Sacramento	4	9	1

Batteries: Siebold and Rohrer; Mails, Larkin and Cook.

Afternoon game:

Seattle	2	12	4
Sacramento	3	7	1

Batteris: Brenton and Rohrer; Penned and Cady.

(Fourteen innings.)

SALT LAKE, April 11.—Portland's Beavers took their fourth straight victory from Salt Lake yesterday, 6 to 5. Portland's hits were fewer than Salt Lake's but they were scored at the opportune time. In the ninth inning Maisel, Beaver centerfielder made a beautiful running catch of Krug's drive, which in missing would have let Thurston home.

Portland	6	6	5
Salt Lake	5	10	0

Batteries: Kallio, Juney and Koehler; Thurston and Byler, Jankins.

VERNON 2-9 — SAN FRANCISCO 6.4.

SAN FRANSICO, April 12.—Vernon and San Francisco divided honors in Sunday's double bill, San Francisco taking the morning game, 6 to 2 and Vernon the afternoon game, 9 to 4. Vernon won the series, 4 to 3.

In the morning game, two singles, in the second, followed by Kamm's walk started the Seals scoring. Two innings later Schick walked and Kamm singled. Both scored on Couch's double.

In the afternoon game the Seals found Dell easy in the first session, but air tight afterward, while their own pitching, when not wild, proved no puzzle to the Tigers, and their fielding was ragged.

Morning game:

Vernon	2	8	2
San Francisco	6	8	2

Batteries: Schneider and Devormer; Couch and Anfinson.

Afternoon Game:

Vernon	9	9	0
San Francisco	4	6	3

OAKLAND 1-5—LOS ANGELES 0-4.

LOS ANGELES, Aphil 12.—Oakland won twice Sunday from Los Angeles, 1 to 0 and 5 to 4, taking the series 6 games to one. Morning game was won in the ninth when Lane doubled to right, went to third on Zeider's sacrifice and scored when Wilie's grounder to O. Crandall arrived too late for a throw to the plate.

A single to center by Ginglardi in the fourth inning of the afternoon game driving home Miller and Knight, gave Oakland a lead of two runs which Los Angeles failed to overcome.

Morning game:

Oakland	1	4	0
Los Angeles	0	4	2

Batteries: Krauz and Spelman; O. Crandall and Lapan.

Afternoon Game:

Oakland	5	11	3

THE STROLLER NOTICES

That the Pine Hill grocery truck got stuck near 12th and Cherry. The S. O. S. was signalled and caught by a skinner on the grade, and help was reshed to the rescue. That was one time "Molly helped Lucy out."

That we heard the latest is that the Fire and Police Departments on Tuesday night will request the Mayor to offer a reward for the Stroller, "More dead than alive!"

That all we desire is you notify the Stroller—and we prefer our fans to admire Sweet Peas as a last tribute to us. Thanks!

That we will be there to hear what the reward will be, so our new friends can assist in the search.

That if the aircraft landing field was only here now we could soar away.

That Seattle is getting very particular who lands there now. No use of us going that way.

That we wish we knew where that Island famous for its female beauties was located.

That a one-way ticket would exchange hands.

That the editor will have an extra edition out soon, the demand for papers is so great.

That if some Stroller fan will kidnap "Yolande," we can have that space.

That Laurie told her "she was the prettiest girl in the city."

The he was secretary of the Ananias Club.

That if he wanted to see pretty girls he should have been to the opera house Friday night, and my how they did resemble their mothers.

That we inspected Valley St. again. Will report on that later.

That if we "procrastinate" will find on our desk, "Your resignation accepted."

That tomorrow's paper will be out on time, and The Stroller, also.

That he tells me space is at a premium these busy days, so I must leave you now.

That you look for me again, oh, yes, I will be at the meeting Tuesday. Provided I get back from B. C. and my cold is better.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel — are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets.

These pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Most headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "loggy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" clouded brain and how they "perk up" the spirits. 10c and 25c a box. All druggists.

Headache

THOUSANDS OF WOMEN suffer miserably from periodic attacks of headache, never dreaming that a permanent cure may be had. Headache nearly always results from some disorder of the stomach, liver or bowels. Take Chamberlain's Tablets. They will correct these disorders and there will be no more headache. Many have been permanently cured by Chamberlain's Tablets.

J.C.Penney Co.
A Nation-wide Institution
297 STORES

Where You Can Outfit the Entire Family Under One Roof For Less Money

Who We Are

It is quite natural to inquire about any newcomers in your midst. So answer the question in advance.

J. C. Penny Company, owning and operating 297 stores, is the outgrowth of a small store started in Kemmerer, Wyoming in 1902. Ever since that first store was opened the principle that has guided this present day nation-wide institution has been the Golden Rule. With fullest consideration for everyone, serving all alike, our reward has been ever increasing friendships that enable us to constantly enlarge our field of service and consequently benefit a greater number as we go forward.

J .C. Penny Company was a pioneer in giving to the men who came into the organization an opportunity to become partners in various stores. We know that when you know us you will have implicit confidence in our intention and determination to render to you a service worth while whenever you require Dry Goods or Wearing Apparel and Shoes for Men, Women and Children.

Our Buying Power

In 1919 we sold, for cash, about thirty millions of dollars worth of merchandise. We know it needs very little explanation to convince people that such a purchasing power is sure to entitle us to lowest cost prices. In addition to quantity purchases we do, by our centralized buying organization, almost entirely eliminate the middlemen's profits that generally constitute part of the cost in the usual one-store-only buying.

What we save in buying is passed along to our customers. That fact in itself is a very good reason why we constantly sell at such low prices.

We Never Have "Sales"

With a J. C. Penney Company store near you—there is no need nor wisdom in waiting for "special sales" to buy at lowest prices.

We never hold "Sales" or "cut price events." "Sales" are either a disposal of undesirable merchandise or else the prices have been marked too high at first so as to stand a "mark down" at the end of the season. Think it over! Who pays the big profits when "sales" methods are used?

You can buy from us at the beginning of the season, when the goods are newest, at prices generally as low as the so-called "after-season-clearance-sales."

Surely then you will welcome this store where you can buy what you want—when you want it—at a price you are very willing to pay.

Our Buying Organization

To make certain that we are constantly able to supply you with the newest and best that the nation's markets produce, we maintain all-year-round buying organizations in our own offices at New York City, St. Louis and St. Paul.

Daily contact with the markets is a big advantage in buying. We have that advantage. Experience has demonstrated that in no other manner of buying can we be sure of serving you as you should be served.

In each of our buying centers we have an adequate staff of thoroughly experienced buyers whose intimate knowledge of merchandise and markets, combined with the accurate information supplied by our local managers as to the needs of every section of the Country, enable them to buy for you the Ready-to-Wear Apparel, Shoes and Dry Goods that you particularly want.

We are confident such a service is sure to please you and therefore we seek your patronage with full assurance of genuine satisfaction to you always.

New Merchandise Always

Our low margin of profit assures rapid selling—that results in constant replenishment of our stocks—you are thus assured that you have new goods to select from at all times in our stores.

Furthermore, we never buy bankrupt stocks or undesirable merchandise of any sort. The pick of the nation's best goods only and always.

One Price To All

and that price bed-rock-low always.

One Price to Everybody that's the real spirit of the J. C. Penney Company.

Every dollar you spend here has the same purchasing power as your neighbor's—isn't that your idea of correct business methods?

We are sure that such a method has the approval of every man and woman because people always approve Fair Dealing and that is our customary way of conducting business.

Why We Came To Port Angeles

First of all — WE ARE HERE TO STAY!

Our investigation of conditions in and about Port Angeles has convinced us that the majority of people will quickly appreciate the advantages offered to them by the service of this store.

With new goods always, lowest prices every day and courteous service at all times—this "different" store will fill a long-felt want in this community.

People who have heretofore "sent away" for merchandise will find it will pay them to travel hundreds of miles, if necessary, to partake of the every-day values we offer.

Attend the opening for proof!

You will be quickly convinced this is in truth "the store for everybody."
