MAYOR PEGRAM WILL AGAIN ENTER BUSINESS IN PORT ANGELES

CITY WILL NOW HAVE "NEW" MAYOR SAYS MR. PEGRAM

Commenting today on the result of the machinations of his political enemies, Mayor Pegram declared that from now on he will be mayor of this city and will see that he obtains all the rights and privileges which pertain to the office.

It is well known that for several months past Mayor Pegram has had to play the part of a man in a difficult situation while even his right to be in business was questioned. That is all over now and he Mayor is turning his attention to setting right certain affairs of the municipality which have got into improper hands in the past few months while his hands were to some extent tied.

"After the revelations made regarding the light committee and Electrician Hixon," said the mayor today, "the people of the city will realize that when I changed the personnel of the council committees I knew what I was doing. It was the changing of this and one other committee that started all the trouble with certain councilmen. However, under the law, it is the mayor who is responsible for the committee appointments and it stands to reason that he must choose as his judgment dictates.

"From now on there will be a new mayor," continued Mr. Pegram. "I shall take hold of the affairs of the city right and I shall insist upon the proper conduct of public business. I wish to thank all those who have given me their support during the past and I promise a faithful and honest administration of the city's affairs in the future.

"There is one other thing to be said. I am going to stay in Port Angeles and I am going back into business here. In a very short time I shall be in a position to announce my plans."

The thing that weighs heaviest with Mayor Pegram is the fact that through the mischief-making of his enemies he was prevented from being at his father's deathbed.

"MISS WILSON" SOUGHT IN ELWELL CASE

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, June 19.—Solution of the mystery surrounding the murder of Joseph Bowne Elwell, turfman and whist expert, shot in his house here June 11, is "as far off" as a week ago, District Attorney Swann announced last night. The investigation centered today in the examination of Mrs. Marie Larsen, housekeeper for Elwell and Edward Rhodes, his chauffeur. Neither was held, although earlier in the day, Assistant District Attorney Joyce announced that both would be formally detained as material witnesses.

Jealousy was given as the probable motive for the shooting by Rhodes. Rhodes said it was a custom of Elwell to accost girls and women upon the streets and invite them to ride in his automobile. The chauffeur declared he had driven Elwell and various women about frequently and that one of Elwell's companions was the mysterious "Miss Wilson," who Mrs. Larsen had testified was the owner of the feminine wearing apparel found in Elwell's room.

Mrs. Larsen insisted that she had told all she knew about the case and was concealing nothing. She admitted she had removed the feminine clothing from Elwell's room while the police were downstairs on the morning of the shooting but said she concealed the articles "simply because they were women's things"

She declared she saw no weapon and that she never knew of a "gun being kept in the house."

Mrs. Larsen said she had never seen Victor Von Schlegell in the house. Von Schlegell is the divorced husband of Miss Viola Kraus, one of the members of the party with whom Elwell dined at the Ritz the night before he was shot.

There were but three keys to the house so far as she knew, Mrs. Larsen told Mr. Swann and these were kept by Elwell, Rhodes and herself.

SPORTSMEN'S ASSOCIATION GETS BUSY

The June meeting of the newly formed Clallam County Sportsmen Association was held at the Commercial Club rooms last evening and 111 new members added to the role since last meeting. This brings the total number up to 142 and 20 or 25 new members also have been secured whose names were not presented last evening owing to the absence of those securing them.

Those securing new members were: W. J. Ware, 3; Nattinger Bros., 3; De Villo Lewis, 3; W. S. Clarke, 4; J. Coble 5; J. W. Pike, 9; Thos H. Guptill, 84.

An interesting series of discussions took place on the local game situation and methods to be pursued in correcting evils and bettering conditions.

The club will send a delegate to the state convention of Sportsmen this fall and as the State Association will look after needed legislation at Olympia at the next session of the legislature, affecting game animals, birds and fish.

Among the local evils brought up were gaffing steelheads, shooting of grouse out of season, illegal killing of deer and the running of deer with dogs while ostensibly hunting bear and the systematic slaughter of elk, which is known to be going on in certain remote sections every winter. The association proposes to secure a membership of 1,000 men throughout the county this season, each one of whom will be a deputy game warden, getting his authority by virtue of appointment by Game Warden Pike on the county game commission and to commence active war on all poachers. The bag limit of deer will be reduced to one and possibly no does will be allowed to be killed.

A larger state license was advocated with some compensation to counties like Clallam to which hunters from non-game counties come. Such game counties stock the streams and woods and get not a cent of return from those who come from outside and take their game and fish.

It was decided also to work for the reduction of trout to be taken each day, possibly cutting the amount in half. Twenty pounds per day was considered entirely too much.

The bear season will probably be adjusted so that it will not dovetail into the deer season.

The bounty on cougar will be raised to $40.00 or $50.00 probably, thus enabling good hunters to keep dogs for hunting them and thus saving a great number of deer annually.

It was tentatively decided to hold a picnic during July for members and their families and to launch an active membership campaign. In the absence of President Devillo Lewis, Mr. C. D. Stakemiller presided at the meeting.

DEPARTMENT STORE MEN ARRESTED

NEW YORK, June 19.—Frederick Gimbel, first vice president of the Gimbel Brothers Department Store, with branches in many cities, was arrested by the department of justice agents on a charge of profiteering in clothing.

Gimbel is head of the New York store. J. J. Gowdell, general merchandise manager of the store, and C. D. Slawter, clothing buyer, also were arrested on similar charges.

All three are charged with making profits in clothing of from 90 to 275 per cent.

One of the highest profits alleged to have been made was at an advertised sale of men's clothing. It is charged a suit which cost $33.60 was sold for $75.00. A mohair suit costing $5.50, was sold at $20.00. Another suit costing $15.00 was sold for $33.75 and still another suit costing $5.50 was sold at $15.00.

According to agent John J. Mitchell, Mr. Gimbel placed the responsibility for the alleged advances in price on Mr. Slawter and "threatened to discharge him."

Charges of profiteering in the sale of foodstuffs are are pending against the firm of Gimbel Brothers in Philadelphia, department of justice officials said.

ILLEGAL TRADE AGREEMENTS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 19.—Warning that agreements between the manufacturers and dealers wihch prevent dealers from reducing the selling price of goods is unlawful, was sounded today by the department of justice as part of its campaign to lower the cost of living.

JOBLESS REFORMERS NOW AIM AT BACCY

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 19.—Threats by "reformers" to legislate tobacco out of the country were reported to the convention of the Tobacco Association of the United States here, by E. G. Webb, its secretary-treasurer. He said it did not constitute being an alarmist to realize that a serious danger confronts the tobacco trade.

"The professional reformers must have employment and now they have selected to attack tobacco," he said.

RICHARDS DECLARES PROSECUTOR WAS AT WORK "UNDER COVER"

Testifying in the superior court in the case of the City vs. Mayor J. L. Pegram, in which the jury unanimously found for the mayor after an hour's deliberation yesterday, W. H. Richards state inspector of the bureau of inspections and audits, told the court that the information which went into his "supplemental report" on the city affairs, and which was responsible for the action of the attorney general against Pegram, was "picked up on the street corners."

Richards added that some of his "information" had come from J. W. Hooker and Prosecuting Attorney Frank L. Plummer, of this city, who, Richards declared, were conducting a "prosecution of Mayor Pegram under cover."

In other testimony in this case it was also declared that Mr. Plummer had accompanied George Hixon to Seattle in an effort to "get" evidence against the mayor.

Influential citizens of Port Angeles today called upon the Herald to make public inquiry regarding these activities "under cover" of the prosecuting attorney.

These citizens want to know whether Mr. Plummer draws salary as county attorney for the purpose of aiding a ring of politicians to embarrass and, if possible, drive from office, an honest mayor who has incurred the enmity of those opposed to the maintenance of law and order?

That is the question to which an answer will be welcome. It is a question which The Herald proposes to ask from time to time until it is answered.

There is a suspicion that behind the office of county attorney is a certain would-be political boss whose ways are notoriously devious and vain. Is this "gentleman," for example, pulling the strings?

SECESSION OF IRELAND IS BARRED

(By Associated Press)

LONDON, June 19.—Premier Lloyd George declared to the railway delegation, with which he conferred yesterday with regard to the sending of troops and munitions to Ireland, that the government would never agree to an independent Irish republic, unless absolutely beaten to the ground.

This statement appears in the official report of the conference.

The premier, drawing an analogy between Ireland and the United States said that President Lincoln faced a million casualties and five years of war rather than acknowledge the independence of the Southern States and the British government would do the same thing if necessary in regard to Ireland.

RITCHIE DANCE MOST ENJOYABLE

One of the nicest social events of the season took place last night in the Elks Hall on the occasion of the dance given by Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Ritchie to their many friends and acquaintances. Although the three daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Ritchie, in whose honor the affair was given, were present, there were not a great many other young people, those that were on hand enjoying themselves to the limit. Mrs. Startup, to whom Port Angeles is "home", expressed herself as being glad to be back among her many friends. Mrs. Elliot Souer and Mrs Godfrey were equally happy.

Quite a crowd of county people were present. A large contingent arrived from Sequim and several well-known residents from the west end were enjoying the dancing.

Mr. Ritchie acted as master of ceremonies. About the middle of the evening evryone was asked to waltz preparatory to a grand march which was led by Mr. and Mrs. Ritchie. The number of guests was so great that the march hore than lapped the circle of the big room. The variety of colors used in the ladies' dresses made a combination of hues that lent beauty and grace to the marchers backed as it was by the sober attire of the gentlemen.

A very pleasant feature of the evening's entertainment was the introduction of old-time dances. Four sets of quadrilles were danced, some of them faultlessly and all with great enjoyment.

A two-step was also featured and a real old-fashioned schottische carried the memories of the middle-aged persons present to the days of their youth and crowded dancing days.

Everyone had a delightful time and one that will be long remembered. "I don't known when I enjoyed anything so much," one lady was heard to say today.

The decorations consisted mainly of beautiful roses massed in huge bouquets in the ballroom and in the dining room wher lunch was served.

The party broke up about one o'clock this morning, one and all felicitating the host and hostess on the success of their kindly hospitality.

The music for the dancing was provided by Messrs. Lange, Parkes and Smith, piano violin and drums.

Editorial

CERTAIN CITY OFFICIALS SHOULD KISS THEIR JOBS GOODBYE!

The grand showdown came—in the superior court of Clallam county in and for the state of Washington, yesterday evening.

The next step is for the city to rid itself, just as fast as possible of the councilmen and city officials in any way whatever responsible for the filing of that lost suit against Mayor Pegram. Perhaps these gentry will see the handwriting on the wall and get out before they can be kicked out.

As for Hixon, who testified to manipulating orders for supplies with, as he says, the approval of Councilman Hooker, chairman of the light committee, in order to dodge the requirement of the state law and city ordinance which calls for open bids on all orders of $500 or more, he should be fired forthwith. He is holding his position illegally, in any event, and the councilmen who "appointed" him in the absence of the mayor, should be the first to get from under a very damaging position, and curtail, as far as possible, their responsibility for him.

There is no further excuse for the existence of the Hallahan-Filion-Hooker-Henson clique, existing solely for the purpose of thwarting and harrassing the administration. Former City Clerk C. D. Best, who was more or less affiliated with this clique, got out before the debacle. The city has a right to demand of the council now, that this game of "fighting" the mayor cease and that the council stay with the business for which it was elected.

Two cheering circumstances are that twelve good men and true have written the kibosh on the whole dirty cabal and its works, and that the terms of most of the councilmen concerned expire next fall.

BUREAU OF INSPECTION PROVES A MENACE.

Probably Attorney General Thompson will not again in a hurry permit his office to be made use of by a bunch of crooked politicians, even if the latter secure the aid of some clerk of the bureau of inspection, anxious to make a record, and apparently careless about his testimony in support thereof.

There never was the least justification for the suit started against Mayor Pegram through the machinations of men exposed in court as trying to beat the law in order to manipulate the purchase of supplies for the city. But the attorney general "fell for" the game, and sent in one of his young men to "pull it off" A jury composed largely of hard-headed farmers of Clallam county returned the verdict which any body of sensible men would return under the circumstances.

The suit ,ostensibly to recover $31.39 from the mayor, called for the expenditure of several hundred dollars of the taxpayers' money. If these had been any suspicion, or any justification for a suspicion that the mayor was dishonest there would have been some excuse for this action at law, but the attorney general's deputy, when once confronted in court with the man accused and the men who accused him knew perfectly well that his office had been betrayed into a false step.

The usefulness of the bureau of inspection, which is a very expensive institution, has been questioned often. If the bureau is paying out taxpayers' money to men to go "snooping" around for an excuse for making mischief the bureau becomes a menace. We don't want any bureaucracy in this state, and we don't like the looks of these representatives of the bureau sent over here. Port Angeles can get along much better if these gentry will stay away from here in the future.

FORCED LABOR IN RUSSIA.

An interesting nad significant incident of the latest "All Russian Congresses" of the communists, trade unions, metal workers' unions and miners' unions which were held in Moscow and Petrograd between March 20 and April 10 was the exposition and defense of the policy of forced labor adopted nad put into effect by the soviet. All the congresses were addressed by Lenine and in all of them practically the same ground was covered.

Instead of being excused as an emergency device adopted because of the breakdown of productive agencies, forced labor, or the "militarization" of labor, according to reports in Bolshevik newspapers, was described as having been "an essential part of the socialist program as planned from the beginning." These press reports all agree that:

The abolition of 'free labor was hailed by them (the soviet commissars) as a great victory. 'Free labor', like property and free trade, so the Bolshevik speakers contended, was an instrument of exploitation."

The Lenine-Trotzky machine can turn a necessity into a virtue as quickly as any other aggregation of politicians. It is consequently permissible to speculate as to the exact truthfulness of the declaration that militarization of labor was an essential part of its program at the outset. Unquestionably forcer labor became necessary when Russia's productive power was destroyed by the revolutionists. How fruitful it will be even under the iron rule of the soviet commissars remains to be seen.

Daily Editorial Digest.

THE PEACE PACT AT SAN FRANCISCO.

Two political events,—the defeat by the Oregon Democrats of the candidates urged by the President to support the Peace Treaty just as it came fro mVersailles; and the administration's endorsement of the Virginia platform favoring reservations which would not "impair the essential integrity" of the cevonant—have opened anew the debate over the part that pact and the League are to play in the coming elections. The light in which the question now stands before the American press so far appears to be colored entirely by the political vision of the writers who examine it.

The Portland Telegram (Ind. Rep.) believes that the people of Oregon have demonstrated that they are opposed to the acceptance of the unaltered treaty since "Wilson's candidate for United States Senator was beaten two to one by the anti-Wilson candidate on the issue which Wilson injected into the Oregon primary." As a battleground the Telegram declares that Oregon turns out to be "about the worst that could have been selected. It continues:

"Every important newspaper in Oregon—genuine supporters of the League—supported reservations. The real test, supported by Wilson himself, showed that only a negligible minority favored Wilson's treaty. Does not Oregon's vote fairly reflect the sentiment of the country?"

This question the Chattanooga Times (Ind. Dem.) passes over, suggesting that "there are probably not many who regard Oregon as an infallible barometer" and expressing doubt as to whether Wilson's message to Hamaker, urging the Democrats to support the candidate who stood for the treaty in its original form, "very seriously influenced the voting" But the Times believes that "the trend among the Republican is outright opposition to the League of Nations, and among the Democrats toward an endorsement of the League with reservations."

That the Oregon election has shown much more than the Times admits is the opinion of the Arizona Republican (Ind. Prog.) which says:

"The vote of almost two to one by which the Oregon Democrats have endorsed Senator Chamberlain reflects both the weakened influence of the President in that state and what we believe to be the general attitude of Democrats to make the peace treaty an issue in the campaign."

Indeed, in this election the Buffalo News (Rep.) sees "the handwriting on the wall," and believes that through it, "the people and not the politicians spoke." The Omaha Bee (Rep.) calls it "another jolt to the White House and the League of Nations," and the Great Falls (Mont.) Leader (Rep.) and the Knoxville Journal and Tribune (Rep.) look at it in a similar light.

Before the rejoicing of the anti-administration voices had died, however, its supporters were given a chance of jubilation over the President's endorsement of the plank in the Virginia platform which declares: "We advocate ratification of the treaty without reservations which would impair its essential integrity." But opposite views on the value of this development immediately find voice.

The New York Times (Ind. Dem.) is explicit:

"The Republicans who have sought to fix upon the President the responsibility for defeating the Treay know perfectly well that he has always been willing to accept reservations that were not destructive to the purpose of the covenant, reservations that expressed our understanding of what its provisions mean, what they must mean if they are in accord with our traditions and our constitution. There is no excuse for misunderstanding the President's position—none, that is, save the conscious purpose to misinterpret it."

To the Detroit Journal (Ind Rep.) "the President's letter is a definite notice that he expects to force the unqualified endorsement of his peace policies by the San Francisco convention and make his hobby the principal campaign issue," with the result, the Manchester Union (Ind. Rep.) declares, "that the Democratic party mus tbe dragged into a fight for which it has no stomach, over an issue in which it takes no stock, to ends for which it has no sympathy."

THERE IS A RUMOR THAT GAS WILL BE MORE PLENTIFUL SOON.

SWANSON & SHOMAR IN NEW LOCATION

Swanson & Shomar have become nicely located in their new garage building and are now in shape to handle a much larger volume of business than was formely the case. Their new garage located on Lincoln street is a very large and commodious one and well worthy of the very high grade cars they handle here One of the best features of this garage, but not the main one, is the storage facility. They have lots of room for the storage of cars. And in driving in or out there is scarcely any danger of colliding with another car on account of lack of room.

This garage is the Port Angeles home of the Chandler, the Cleveland and the Studebaker. There are three cars that have won a distinctly high standing among connoiseurs of automobiles.

Another exceptionally fine machine being distributed by this firm is the Day-Elder truck. It is a proven success for any and all transportation duty, whether heavy or light.

There is in connection with this garage an up-to-date repair department to care for the repair trade, and the statement has been made that the mechanics here are of a very high order, and are in the habit of mixing plenty of gray matter with their work. A mechanic with a brain and the knowledge of how to use it is indeed an asset to any firm, for there are many mechanical mechanics, men who know how to assemble different parts, but who have no faculty for origination or the successful solution of out-of-the-ordinary problems.

This firm is making a strong bid for business in their line; they are getting it, and are holding what they get, by efficiency and economy.

WILLARD
STORAGE BATTERIES

Have stood the test of time—they have successfully stood every test which a battery may be called upon to meet, and have won out. One of the reasons for this is they are scientifically made with the best of material.

JUST 1 MORE OF MANY CHANDLERS IS DELIVERED

John Anderson, a prosperous rancher of near Dungeness, Wash., was in Port Angeles yesterday. He came here to receive his new Chandler car, The car was purchased through the agency of Swanson & Shomar, and is the eleventh Chandler delivered by this firm of hustler since the first of the year.

The type of car bought by Mr. Anderson is a beautiful olive green, known as the Dispatch. It is logically a four-pasesnger car, but really there is ample room for three people in the rear seat, in fact three people may ride without discomfort in the front seat. The record made by the Chandler in the United States is particularly a nenviable one. The reports are coming from all sides of the dependability of this car, and there is little likelihood that Mr Anderson made a mistake in selecting such a car.

CHANDLER SIX

The Chandler Gives You the Service You Demand

THOUGHTFUL men, in selecting an automobile, find in the history of the Chandler Six a source of real confidence.

The Chandler motor of today is the development of the Chandler motor of seven years ago, embracing refinements and improvements which have been the natural development of these years of service in the hands of thousands of owners, and the constant application of the engineering skill and the sincerity of its builders.

Motors of one type and another have been heralded and retired within these years. But the Chandler motor, its true superiority proven in service on every roadway in America and in many nations abroad, has lived and gone forward into a place of distinction.

Men who have owned and driven many cars, men from coast to coast, will tell you the Chandler is the leader of all sixes. Over the long mountain roads or on the trails of the desert or in crowded city traffic, anywhere, the Chandler will give you the service you demand. Its power, its flexibility, and its sturdy endurance are not surpassed.

ESSEX CAR MAKES BIG REPUTATION IN NORTHWEST

Upon actual test, the Essex car, which, by the way is a four, has successfully met any conditions imposed upon the average six cylinder car. That it has a lot of pep is testified to by many hundreds of satisfied Essex owners in the Northwest.

Mr. A. B. Peterson, the local distributor for the Essex is authority for the statement that in all his experience as an automobile dealer, he has yet to find a car that it better, either in construction, durability, appearance or service. He believes that there is no car that may be more highly recommended. "The Essex," said Mr. Peterson, "is a car that can be depended upon to meet every requirement of the driver. It is easy riding, has a world of power, picks up quick, handles easy and for a large car is most economical in the consumption of gas and oil. I have been driving and selling cars for a long time, and I have yet to see the car that is better."

"I find there is little or no trouble experienced by owners of new cars of this type, as in the case with so many. Very rarely do we have an Essex in the shop for repairs, and so far there have been none in for any repairs made necessary by reason of any defect in the car.

"I am able to get quicker deliveries on the Essex now on account of extended facilities for turning them out at the factory. So one can order with the knowledge that they will have their new car within a very few days.

RE-TREADED TIRES GIVE SATISFACTION

Automobile owners are awakening to the fact that because the rubber tread happens to wear off a tire is no sign it should be trown away. Tires, in a way are like shoes. One wears the sole out and has the shoes half-soled—result: Lots more wear from the shoes at a great deal less cost than a new pair would amount to. It is the same with tires. The tread may wear out, and if the carcass of the tire is not all gone the tire can be repaored and retreaded and, presto, we have a practically new tire and at just about half the price of a really new one.

As evidence of the growing popularity of retreaded tires is the fact that in the Good Service Tire Shop alone there have been 23 tires retreaded since the first of June. The repair jobs in this shop have been many, the total number reaching well over the hundred mark.

Only the best of material is used here when a tire is retreaded. Where it is necessary to introduce new fabric, cushion gum is placed between the layers. In fact, the work is done in much the same manner as it was when the tire was first built. Then on the outside an extra heavy tread of pure new rubber is added and thoroughly vulcanized.

A good slogan for owners is "save your old tires—have them retreaded and you will save money.

REFERENDUM NO. 1 TO BETTER ROADS

SEATTLE, June 19.—Borrowing money on the automobile license fees of thies state will give Washington a comprehensive system of paved highways, -500 miles in extent, within six years, if the residents vote in favor of Referendum No. 1, according to the Automobile Club of Western Washington, which along with many other organizations, has endorsed this measure.

Probably more discussion has been aroused and more misleading information spread on the bonding feature of this measure than on any other part of it, say members of the auto club. Section 8 of the bill says:

"For the purpose of providing means for the payment of the cost of construction of said state system of the trunkline highways there shall be issued and sold bonds of the State of Washington for an amount not exceeding thirty millions dollars, to bear interest at the rate not to exceed five per cent per annum, payable semi-annually.

"The issuance, sale or retirement of said bonds shall be under the general supervision and control of the state highway board. Such board may in its discretion provide for the issuance of coupons or registered bonds, to be dated, issued and sold from time to time as the construction work progresses, in such amounts as may be necessary to provide money to pay for said work and the expenses incidental thereto All the bonds issued hereunder shall mature at the rate of $1,500,000 principal each year commencing in the year 1922 and ending in the year 1941. Such bonds shall be signed by the governor, and the state auditor under the seal of the state,

COMPLETE BATTERY SERVICE AVAILABLE IN PORT ANGELES

A very good feature of the Willard Service Station here in Port Angeles is the facilities for the remagnetization of magnetos. It is a fact that magnetos sometimes lost their magnetism. Then the owner of the car is either up against the expense of a new magneto or the lesser expense of having the magnets enlivened. Many times the latter is impossible because of the lack of facilities for doing this work. However, L. H. Thomas, proprietor of the Willard Service Station here has installed equipment for that purpose and is doing the work successfully as well as satisfactorily.

This battery plant is probably the most completely equipped this side of Seattle. There is a question whether there is a battery station even in Seattle which is more complete. A large stock of repair parts is carried. They have facilities here for recharging at the same time 60 batteries. It matters not whether recharging or repairing is required, the work will be well done and quickly done here.

In addition to the battery and magneto work, Mr. Thomas has the agency for the Lally Light Plant. This little giant with only a few moving parts will furnish plenty of electric lights for any ranch. It will also work successfully on board ships It is really a little wonder. All that is needed is to start it and it will run until the storage batteries are fully charged. Then it will stop. When the batteries run down the plant is equipped to sound the alarm in time to permit the starting of the engine before the batteries are completely exhausted.

Many ranchers in this state, and many sailing vessels have been equipped with the Lally light plants and the testimonials in favor of them are many indeed.

"The Greatest Question"

CHINESE WILL NOT MODERNIZE INDUSTRY.

TOKIO, June 17.—Chinese methods of producing silk are so primitive that it will be a long time before China can offer satisfactory material to the American market, in the opinion of D. E. Douty, one of the American party who visited China to investigate the silk industry. He said:

"The American silk dealers have often called the attention of the Chinese authorities to the importance of improving their silk industry, but much to our regret and surprise the Chinese authorities can never afford to listen to any suggestions on the subject. In consequence all considerations necessary for the development of sericultural industry in China are completely neglected.

"It is a matter of regret that China should remain in such a condition of industrial torpor at this time, when there is a growing international demand for silk as a consequence of the growth of women workers' incomes throughout the world."

An official of the Japan Silk Thread Association says: Improvement of the Chinese silk industry will be beneficial not only to China and America, but to Japan as well, because the limit of production of silk has been reached in Japan, as the crop of mulberry leaves cannot be increased, and Chinese cocoons are needed for the further development of the silk industry here. Close cooperation between China, Japan and America is necessary in order to offer products satisfactory to the silk trade in America.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 19. — Senator Glass of iVrginia, in a statement to the Associated Press, declared he still favors the nomination of William G. McAdoo by the democratic party for president, notwithstanding Mr. McAdoo's decision, not to permit his name to be presented at the party's national convention.

Told that some supporters of Mr. McAdoo now were planning to urge Glass' nomination, Senator Glass said: "I still favor Mr. McAdoo's nomination. Even if I could measure up to the stature of the kind of man whom the convention woud really nominate, I live in a section that is relied upon to furnish the electoral vote, but not to supply the candidates."

SQUARE PENNIES FOR THE AUSTRALIAN PEOPLE.

SYDNEY, Australia, June 17.—Australia is about to mint square pennies and half pennies of nickel. These will go into circulation concurrently with the present copper coinage of which, it is understood no more will be minted.

So far the only peoples to attempt to use square coins are those of British dominions. India has had a square 2 anna piece since 1918, Ceylon, a square 5 cent piece since 1910 and the Straits settlement a square cent since last year. The action of the Melbourne Mint officials is probably dictated by the fact that square coins leave less metal in the sheets from which they are cut and they pack better when boxed.
