Short Comings...

Some adult steelhead are in the Bogachiel Rearing Pond. During the January high water the river backed up into the pond and the fish came into the ponds at that time. Les Check estimates there may be as many as a dozen in the pond. I saw three of the fish in the 4-5 pound class attempting to spawn in a gravel bed near the culvert running under the road.

The young steelhead in the pond are running about 9 inches per fish. They are due to be released in mid-April. We'll have a story on the steelhead plant next issue.

Everett won the precision category and Wenatchee won the combination precision and dance category. Forks has been the top school the last two years. At Everett they received a 13.84 rating if a possible 15.

Next year the conference will be held in Bellevue, and the teams will be divided according to classification. The class "A" schools will march in the morning session and the "AA" in the afternoon.

"Since we have received the highest score among class 'A' schools for the last two years, we are hopeful of placing high in competition next year," stated Mrs. Patton, drill adviser.

Nippy weather over the weekend sure cut down on the beach activity. Phil Reibe was wheeling around town with the town street sweeper last week. It sure would improve things if they could run that thing up and down main street a few times.

Cycle riders are expected to obey the same laws as an automobile driver. If you operate your machine without the required equipment the law will get you. If you fail to use proper signals, speed and ride across peoples lawns you deserve to be fined. Get off the main roads to do your clowning.

Pioneer Club met Friday, 6 o'clock. Sportsmen's Club. Potluck lunch.

Drove by the Legion Hall Sunday about 2 o'clock and noticed the men mending the porch. Pat Tervey was standing in the doorway supervising the job. Returned from a trip to the beach about 5 o'clock and the crew was still at it. Couldn't help but notice vice-commander Pat was maintaining his position in the doorway.

Maurice Peltz, former Forks resident and golf enthusiast, shot a hole-in-one at Peninsula Golf Club last weekend. It's the second time for Maury and oddly enough on the same 6th hole. I know Don Schneider will remember the last occasion.

Jerome Hull, son of Caroline Hull, has been appointed president of Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. Jerome is a brother of Maury Hull.

Guest speaker at the Forks Lions Club meeting tonight at the Vagabond will be Joe Jackson. Joe is a sales representative of Pfizer Laboratories and will speak on the drug industry.

Chamber of Commerce meeting Monday at 6:30 p.m. at the Antlers. Fourth of July program will be on the agenda.

Lena Hartge fell and broke her hip recently and after surgery is now at Lahona Rehabilitation Hospital, 63rd and North Portland, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma.

Walt Humphrys has tendered his resignation to the Forks Broadcasting Co. effective immediately. Walt has some other opportunities pending, but as yet is undecided on which to accept.

We wish Walt well in the future. League League baseball meeting will be held at the Vagabond, Tuesday at 7:30, April 2. All interested parents please attend; many committees to be formed.

LITTLE RED SCHOOL HOUSE CROWDED

SCHOOL BOND ISSUE NEEDED
Did the failure of the bond issue last fall indicate that the desire of the citizenry is not to meet the community's school needs? This seemed to be the major item discussed by board members and concerned citizens at the regular meeting of the Quilley Valley School Board March 21.

As time passes by, the problems continue to mount. If a bond issue for building construction were supported by the voters, it would be two years before the building would be ready for occupancy. The Quilley Valley Schools now house 1160 students. By the 1968-69 school year, the enrollment will exceed 1200. As we all know, this is not the type of trend which reverses itself. Where will the increased number be put? Don't shifting is the stop-gap method that became necessary to solve the problem of overcrowded conditions in the present school year. Without the space available for increased enrollment expected next year, classes will have to be loaded heavier.

Some classes on the secondary level will face stultination and others will be downgraded to extracurricular status, thus enabling the school to handle a portion of its increasing enrollment. Overcrowded conditions also present the very real possibility of placing teachers in subject areas they are not fully qualified to teach, a situation unsatisfactory to student, parent and teacher alike.

It has become quite evident that the state is expecting the local citizenry to accept more of the educational responsibility of its own community. Superintendent of the Port Angeles Schools, points out the current outpouring of frustrated citizens searching for their trails, leaving gifts, and finally making contact with these people.

When a friendly contact is established, the next phase is to learn the language represented by these various tribes, reaching the language to writing through a linguistic approach, teaching the Indians to read and to write in their own tongue. As soon as possible, the Scriptures are translated into the tribal tongue, and they are given the Gospel. The end result is the formation of indigenous churches, under the leadership of trained Christian leaders from among the tribespeople to carry on the work, so that if it were necessary for the missionaries to leave the area, the work would be capable of keeping the ministry going.

Mr. Garmo will be singing and playing the guitar at the Forks Bible Church on Friday evening, March 29th, at 7:30 p.m. The public is cordially invited.

Large Timber Sales In Forks District

The Forks District of the State of Washington, Department of Natural Resources sold two timber sales Tuesday for a total value of $662,745.50.

M & R Timber, Inc. of Port Angeles bought the Mill Creek Leave 40's sale with a bid of $56,700 thousand board feet for hemlock and white fir, $21.50 per thousand board feet for cedar, $27.50 per thousand board feet for spruce, and $29.50 per thousand board feet for Douglas fir. This sale, which contains approximately 8,661,000 board feet will harvest some timber left after earlier logging about 5 miles Southeast of Forks. Based on the cruise estimates, the total value of the sale is $470,567.50.

Timber Traders of Mercer Island bought the Willamaud Creek sale. This is an 11,640,000 board feet sale located about 20 miles Southeast of Forks and in addition to harvesting overmature timber the sale will build over 3 miles of permanent timber to use in logging other timber. The bid prices per thousand board feet were $22.15 for hemlock and white fir, $46.50 for cedar, $19.50 for spruce and $50.00 for Douglas fir, for an estimated total value of $492,182.00.

Philip Riebe spoke at the March meeting of the West End Democratic Club. His remarks were largely directed to the subject of a Forks State Tax. He was quick to point out that the town of Forks really does not have a juvenile delinquency problem. However, as numbers increase, and with the young having "wheels and spending money" a potential problem does exist. He feels a youth center is needed. He praised the teen court program now in the works at Port Townsend, and reported that the formation of indigenous churches, under the leadership of trained Christian leaders from among the tribespeople to carry on the work, so that if it were necessary for the missionaries to leave the area, the work would be capable of keeping the ministry going.

Tyce-Beaver-Sappho News

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Blankenship and children, Ray, Harvey, Ronald, Paula, Fern and Rosemary, moved back to their home in Grunty, Va., February 24, after spending a number of years in Tyce. They were accompanied by Robert Tyce, who went along to help them move their household belongings.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Haubrich went to Seattle last Friday and returned home Saturday. While Mrs. Haubrich was consulting her doctor, the two small Haubrich boys, Bert and Donnie were cared for by their grandmother, Mrs. Charlotte Dentley in Renton. She had recently returned from a trip to Detroit, Mich., where she visited her brothers, Leonard and Austin Killam.

Shortly after the Haubrichs arrived home on Saturday they were pleased to have phone calls from Mr. and Mrs. Duane Granston of Montesano, saying they were in the vicinity. They came with their two children to the Haubrich home, remained overnight and returned home Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Granston and Mrs. Haubrich were girlhood friends in Montesano. Some persons in the Tyce area have been getting rather free with an air rifle or other gun—in the neighborhood children between the ages of 3 to 5. Said Mrs. K: "If none is any indication a good time was had by all."

Although they were in Seattle three weeks or more, the Knopas' new little child of their own is spending all his spare moments studying for his finals. He is a junior at the U. of W. Dental School.

LETTER To The Editor

Dear Editor Forum: Down in Southwest Washington the Ocean elected to throw up spits of bars and tillman's retreated far enough to make visible (called accreted) lands.

The State of Washington urged by the greedy recreationists to lay claim to these lands and wash, said that these lands do not belong to the state but to the upland owners for whose benefit they were set aside.

So now what does the state propose to do. It intends to file a claim of adverse possession against the owners of the property, and to have the U. S. Supreme Court has just ruled not to be to it.
