Short Comings ...

Nice weekend for visiting the beaches. Many people took advantage of it. Ocean surf was still and some clam diggers ventured out. Also many people took advantage of the weather to work in their gardens.

Seen hauling in a little red trailer hooked up a little red "Wheel Horse" was a 199 pound "pin" man. Believe his name is Ted Klahn. He and a partner by the name of Mel Ford have quite a woodyard behind Earley Tire.

John Sexton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ves Sexton, is in the Winter quarter honor roll at the University of Washington. Students on the list have a 3.6 grade average or better.

The Garbage dump was in touch shape this last weekend. Couldn't get off the road to dump garbage because people were too lazy to dump more towards the back earlier in the week. Lots of empty space between the road next to the road and the bank. Looks as if we need a caretaker there to show people where to dump.

The annual "Senior Trip" is set for Friday. The seniors will leave for Seattle by bus early in the morning and return early Saturday morning. While in Seattle the students will visit the Underground Tour and visit the University of Washington Campus. The group will dine together and then have several choices of entertainment available. The Ice Follies, Blanchet H. S. play "Ill Abner" at the Seattle Center and several top rated movies are playing in Seattle at this time.

Mrs. Walter Roberts is recovering satisfactorily in Olympic Memorial Hospital after surgery on Friday of last week.

Some kids had quite a time with a can of blue spray paint last weekend. They evidently learned how to spell the famous four letter word and proceeded to paint it on several of the school buildings. The maintenance crew spent considerable time repainting walls and scraping it off windows.

The Forks Hospital Guild is having their annual Hospital Guild Breakfast this Sunday, May 5, from 8 a.m. to 11 p.m. at the American Legion Hall. The Guild plans to purchase a Simons Bassinet Isolation Unit for the hospital nursery with the proceeds. There will be a silver offering.

Mrs. Thora Terveer is in a Seattle hospital receiving treatment for what is thought to be a viral infection.

A graduate of Forks High School earned a spot on the dean's list at Clark College with a grade point average of 3.25 or better for classes taken winter term. Joseph McKey-nolds was among 167 students so honored at Clark. He is studying welding in the technology division at the Vancouver Community College, according to Dean of Students J. M. Nelson.

The Run, Mat's album has really caught on here in the Forks area. The Forks sold 117 copies per "little o'".

MAYOR KENNEDY PROCLAIMS

Forks Clean-Up and Beautification program, under the direction of the Bogachiel Garden Club will be carried out during the month of May as Mayor Earl Kennedy issued the proclamation today.

Business, organizations and home owners are encouraged to begin the community clean-up and beautification program with their own premises as they see fit.

Plans are being coordinated for the projects by FHS students. Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts. The Bogachiel Garden Club will tackle the triangle on main street as the major project. The group cooperative effort will concentrate on the main street between the city limit signs. This coordinated effort will take place in mid-May.

The names of our Forks Americanist Essay Contest are to inspire the true ideals of Americanism—the free-enterprise system, and to keep our allegiance to our blessed republic, the United States of America.

It does not mean to stand by the President or any other public official, save exactly to the degree in which he himself stands by the country.

It is patriotic to support him insofar as he effectively serves the country. It is unpatriotic not to tell the truth—whether above or below him.

Theodore Roosevelt writes in his autobiography: "It is unpatriotic to support him to the extent that he is ineffective or otherwise he fails in his duty to stand by the country."

In either event, it is unpatriotic to tell the truth—whether above or below him.

The loss record nationwide in the housing phase of FHA credit activities is less than two-hundredths of one percent of total loans since the program started.

Richard Kullman Sr. is a patient at Olympic Memorial Hospital.

The Clallam County Democratic Convention will be held on May 11, 1968, at the Little Theatre at Peninsula College. Any Democrat who is a registered voter in the county is entitled to attend as a delegate.

Young Republicans Hold Convention

The Washington Young Republican Federation held its annual convention at Ocean Shores on Saturday, April 27. The main highlights of this year's convention were: the first Miss Washington Young Republican pageant; Miss Maureen Reagan (daughter of Ronald Reagan) who was the luncheon speaker; and the youngest editor of a major daily newspaper in the United States, the Indianapolis News.

The delegation attending from the West End Young Republican Club were: Mr. and Mrs. Ron James, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Klahn, Mrs. Joe Morrison, Miss Opal Parker, Dave Anderson, and Stan Peterson. Ron James was elected a District Director from the Second District, the Forks Young Republican Club.

President Robert Eborke had this message for the convention: "Republican principles—no matter how fine—and Republican programs—no matter how responsible—will never be able to compete with the 'Market-Place of Ideas' unless Republicans learn the mechanics of politics. . . . One of the most valuable services we can render for our Party is to motivate others to get into action. . . . We know that the 'Free Voter' can be depended upon to buy the best product for the most reasonable price. We have that product, now all we have to do is sell it."

An impromptu auction held on KVAC Radio Thursday and Friday of last week netted the Scholarship Fund over twenty-three hundred dollars. The auction began with the auctioning of a small box containing a selection of things given to Bruce Elliott for his birthday, and lasted almost 15 hours each day!

Everything from cat-sitting services to dump trucks went on the block and were bought by very cooperative Forks residents. KVAC would like to commend the community for the enthusiastic response, not only the buyers but also the multitude of people who offered things to sell. If the staff could have stood it, they could have gone on for days. A pat on the back for all the Forks folks from KVAC! One comment heard was, "It seemed to pull us all together again!" — If it did, the money made was incidental.

The meeting will be held at 8 p.m., May 9th, in the Fellowship Hall of the church. All women of the community are invited to attend.

Another building adjacent to the present Vo-Ag building should be built. It should be large enough to handle the wood shop program and an auto mechanics program. The wood shop could be moved into the new building and the art program should be moved to the vacated shop room. This would give the art program the necessary room needed to do the best job. The Junior high home economics program would then have the room designed for the program and free the high school facilities for its best program.

The elementary building program will hopefully be accomplished. Consideration should be given soon towards improving the secondary educational program to meet the needs of all the students.

Breakfast at the Vagabond Monday, May 6 will be Log Export Refectory discussion by Glenn Wiggins, Logging Manager, Peninsula Corp., and Tom Mansfield, County Commissioner.

Editor Speaks on Schools

WHICH DIRECTION SHOULD THE PUBLIC SCHOOL PROGRAM OF FORKS BE HEADED? DO YOU WANT YOUR KIDS TO HAVE THE BEST POSSIBLE EDUCATION THAT CAN BE OFFERED?

EDUCATION IS BEING TESTED IN ALL COMMUNITIES OF THE COUNTRY. IF PEOPLE REFUSE TO ACCEPT LOCAL RESPONSIBILITIES TOWARDS THEIR EDUCATION SYSTEMS THE LOCAL CONTROL WILL BE LOST. THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT STEPS IN TO TAKE CARE OF PROGRAMS 'THE STATE AND COUNTY CITY GOVERNMENT FAIL TO HANDLE'.

THE PEOPLE OF FORKS HAVE A DECISION TO MAKE ON THE UP COMING BUILDING BOND ISSUE. THE SCHOOL DIRECTORS OF QUILLAYUTE VALLEY DECIDED TO AGAIN PUT THE ISSUE BEFORE THE VOTE OF THE PEOPLE.

IT CAME TO THIS COMMUNITY NINE YEARS AGO AS A TEACHER. THE ENROLLMENT HAS RISEN FROM APPROXIMATELY 780 STUDENTS TO AN ENROLLMENT WHICH WILL EXCEED 1200 IN THE 1968-69 SCHOOL YEAR.

During this growth period the building program consisted of a vacant building and the junior high library wing to the present high school building. The people have witnessed the shifting program in the primary grades; the elementary school because they lacked space to house the students. By the 69-70 school year the double shifting is expected to move into the fourth grade necessitating an extension of the school day 2 hours because of state regulations on a minimum 5 hour day for intermediate grades.

Superintendent John Hitchcock was faced with difficulty in finding teaching personnel for the present school year. There is no reason to believe hiring will be any easier this year. Teachers presently teaching the second shift have expressed concern over the double shifting. The second shift would like to be moved back to the morning program. Not many people can dispute the fact that the morning session would be the better teaching situation. Kids are more alert in the morning. The building program is necessary to correct this situation of double shifting and teacher

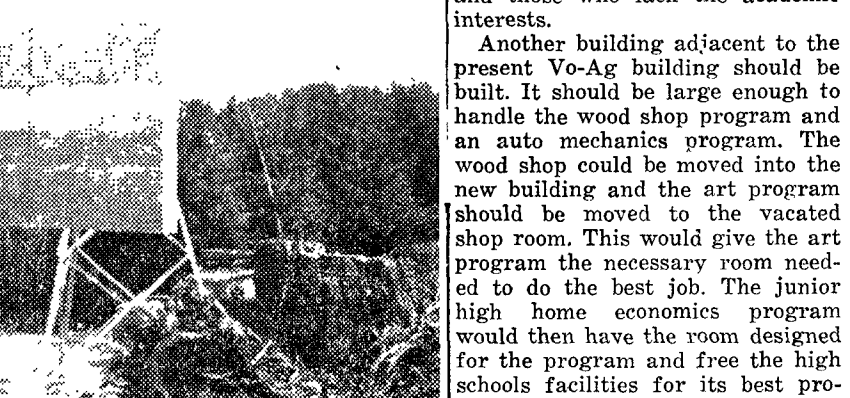

SECONDARY PROGRAM
The secondary program should also be considered for changes to meet the needs of the students. The art program designed for the Junior high home economics program. Mr. Ron Thompson is asked to handle classes larger than the room can adequately facilitate.

The high school and Junior high home economics programs share the two rooms in the science wing. The rooms were designed for the program in grades 9, 10 and 11. The program has expanded to the 8th and 8th grades. The problem is not a lack of equipment, but that isn't any room in which to install anything else.

A few years back the Vo-Ag building was constructed and Mr. William Thompson was hired to begin the program. Today he teaches a little bit of everything—welding, forestry, auto mechanics, electricity, machine work and landscaping.

EXPAND VO-AG
The board should begin to think about expanding the vocational program. This program meets the needs of many students not capable of being in the college prep program and those who lack the academic interests.

"Music in May"

Pacific University's 20th annual Music in May festival will attract four student musicians from Forks High School here May 2-4, according to Festival Director Albert Freedman.

The only event of its kind in the Pacific Northwest, Music in May annually draws top high school musicians from throughout the Northwest for intensive study under nationally-known conductors. A three-ensemble Grand Festival Concert, held the final night, highlights the event.

Forks High students participating this year are Band—Kristie Johnston; Chorus—Kathy Lohnies; Orchestra—Craig W. Rhyne, and Willa Withrow.

Some 550 student musicians have been selected from Oregon, Washington, Idaho and California.

The 1968 festival will include a 100-piece orchestra, 22-voice chorus, and 240-piece band. Carmen Dragon, famed conductor of the Hollywood Bowl Symphony and director of the Standard School radio broadcast, is orchestra director.

Frank Hollman, director of the Portland, Oregon Symphonic choir, will direct the chorus. Band director is Victor Nellybel, noted conductor and composer of the opera "A Legend and the Ballet 'In the Shade of a Love Tree'" and other works.

Housing for participants is provided by Pacific University, Forest Grove citizens and local churches. Open to the public, this year's Grand Festival Concert will be held at 8 p.m., Saturday, May 4, in the Forest Grove Union High School gymnasium.

Meeting Scheduled For Port Angeles

A school board workshop, designed for board members, administrators, clerks, secretaries and business managers, will be held in Port Angeles on Friday, May 10. The dinner meeting will convene at 6:30 p.m. at Peninsula College.

The meeting is one of 12 being sponsored throughout the State by the Washington State School Directors' Association.

The keynote speaker will be Dr. Richard Starbuck, professor of the Washington State School Directors' Association.

Three discussion groups are planned. One group will discuss the proposed changes in teacher certification. School public relations and insurance will be the topics of the other two discussion groups.

A film on LSD will be the last scheduled activity.

General chairman of the meeting will be Marshall D. Majors, Bridge Island school director and west vice-president of the WSSDA. Other leaders will include Mrs. Helen Radke, State Board of Education; George Ellis, assistant superintendent, Port Angeles School District; Donald M. Steeper, business manager, Port Angeles School District; Don Atkinson, information officer, Bremerton School District; and Michael G. Botwin, WSSDA administrative assistant.

NiWauna Club Hosts Meeting

The NiWauna Club was hostess to the Spring meeting of the Clallam County Hamamakers Club on Wednesday, April 17, at the IOOF Hall. About seventy members of the sixteen clubs were present.

Local president, Mrs. Leta Klahn welcomed the guests. County officers, Mrs. Walter Packwood, president, Mrs. James Helnick, secretary, and Mrs. John Shingles, treasurer, conducted the business meeting.

Tables for the luncheon were decorated with artificial dogwood, with individual placemarkers made by the Busy Hands 4-H Club, and cards with the legend of the dogwood.

Group singing opened the afternoon program, followed by Mrs. Darren, State President, with an informal talk on various aspects of the club work, and personal reminiscence of her years in Extension Club work.

Forks Prairie Grange News

Forks Prairie Grange met Thursday evening, April 25, in the Sportsmen's Clubhouse with Frank Buonsina, Master presiding.

It was voted to accept the demit of Margaret Helnick from Crestview Grange.

There was a discussion of several legislative bills currently under consideration in the U. S. Congress.

Mr. Arthur Munson read a paper on the Mississippi River, and plans for controlling erosion, and Mr. Munson gave a talk on Foreign Aid and allied subjects.

Since the supper committee chosen for the April 11 meeting had not served then, it was decided to retain the same committee for the May 8 meeting.

Postlunch supper was served at the close of the meeting.

Want to hit the jackpot, fashionably speaking? Then stripe it rich this spring with the zingiest assortment of striped fashions ever! From mini-waists to new bold strokes of color; clinging vinyl powdery poles; stark asymmetricals to racing conical stripes, this spring you can dress up, down, all around or on the diagonal in line style.

One way to look as fresh as the second shell is in the pastel striped Lonia Jr. has chosen for the delicately dramatic ensemble. Both the sleeveless dress and like striped coat are fashioned in a COON bonded lightweight blend that looks as great as it feels and is wearing after wearing. The strict quality control standards set by Coon International guarantee that when two fabrics are joined together, they'll never separate or pull apart—even after repeated cleanings. That's why your dry cleaner calls a COON bonded fabric the "top problem" bonded fabric. Look for its hanging when you're shopping for stripes that will look right through all your spring flings.

National Library Week Observed

Over two hundred people enjoyed the National Library Week open house held on Tuesday evening, April 23rd, at the Holy Trinity Lutheran Church in Port Angeles.

Attending from Forks were Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Croll, and Miss Bonita Burr. Others from out of town included the three guest authors who were introduced at the opening ceremonies. There was Mr. Amos Wood from Mercer Island who is the author of "Beach Combing for Japanese Glass Flowers"; Mrs. L. T. Laue of Colville, Wash., author of "Sawcrush Homesteads"; and Miss Belle Coates a children's writer from Southern California.

Miss Coates presented two autographed copies of her book "High Timber" to the Clallam County Library and the Port Angeles City Library. "High Timber" is about a tree farm in Washington and should prove popular with children around the grade 4 level.

Both libraries had some of their newest books on display. Also on display were exhibits provided by the Clallam County Art League, the U. S. Coast Guard, Crown Zellerbach, Pen Ply, The Clallam County Gem and Mineral Society, the Port Angeles Camera Club, the Fisheries Department of the Peninsula College and the Olympic National Park.

The highlight of the National Park display was the old ship's log off a sailing vessel.

The librarians and trustees appreciated all the volunteer effort that went into the National Library Week program to make it a success, and it is gratifying to note the keen interest here in this country for books, authors and libraries.

Convention Plans Taking Shape

Convention plans for Jehovah's Witnesses are now taking shape, according to Charles Meinzer of Forks. Assignments for program participation and assembly personnel have been approved for the forthcoming Circuit assembly to be held in Tacoma on May 10 to 12.

Members of the local congregation will have opportunity to share, with a special assignment going to Information and Pioneering Department.

The theme for the assembly will be "Strengthening One Another to Remain in the Faith." A talk on this subject will open the first session Friday evening and will be delivered by Alvin L. Franck, the District Supervisor for the Pacific Northwest. Franck is a special representative of the Watchtower Society of New York, and will be the chairman for the assembly. He will also have parts on the program each day of the convention.

Victor H. Brown, Circuit Supervisor for 16 congregations in the Peninsula area, will conduct the session beginning at 8:15 p.m. on Friday which will develop the theme, "Keeping Our Balance in this Time of the End." Brown has served in the full-time ministry for a number of years and brings to Washington a rich spiritual background from which to draw appropriate counsel for Christian people.

Sunday afternoon at 3 p.m. will mark the peak attendance for the assembly when A. L. Franck delivers the public address, "Why Does God Permit Wickedness?" While all sessions of the assembly are free, and open to visitors, the Sunday talk will be a special treat for all interested persons and everyone is urged to attend, according to local Witness representatives. For those traveling to the convention in Tacoma, it has been announced that all sessions will be convened in the auditorium of the Jason-Lee Junior High School located at 6th Avenue and Sprague Avenue.

Forest Wardens Hired In Forks Area

Forest Wardens for the Forks area were hired April 15 and announced by E. C. Gockereil, North Olympic Field Supervisor for the Department of Natural Resources. They will work until October when the fall rains begin.

Buck Taylor is assigned the Neah Bay, Clallam Bay, Fyssh area. He can be reached by calling the Clallam Bay Honor Camp.

Art Maxfield is assigned the Osette-Dickey-Sappho area. He resides at his farm on Quilleye Prairie. His phone number is 374-6486.

Bill Marshall is assigned the Forks-Goodman Creek-Nolan Creek area. Bill is a permanent employee of the department. His phone number is 374-6715.

Glen Mason is assigned the Upper Hoh-Snaphash area. He can be reached by calling 374-6669.

Lawrence Schoonover who lives near Clearwater will be assigned the Kalaloch-Clearwater-Queets area.

Ad Frichette, the veteran of the group, is assigned to the Quinalt Indian Reservation (which is protected by the Department of Natural Resources). He will be stationed near the Aloha gate, reside of the Clallam Bay Honor Camp which will have a permanent site on State land in the Clearwater area about July 1 of this year.

The Forks district and part of Port Angeles districts will be covered by aerial detection for the first time this year. The flights will originate at both Forks and Port Angeles and take two hours in duration. The more severe the fire danger is, the greater the number of flights. Three forest lookouts will be manned to supplement this aerial detection—Sekie Mountain, Mt. Oetopus and Salmon River Ridge. Four forest lookouts will be abandoned in the Forks district—Sees Peak, Ellis Mountain, Cunderson Mountain, and Clearwater and two in the Port Angeles district—Mt. Pleasant and Shidder Hill (Blyn Mountain will be manned).

Also to be hired in June will be an extra protection patrolman to be stationed at the Snaphash work center, crew cooks and a night dispatcher at Forks who will assist veteran dispatcher Elsie Metteler who works year around.

The men in charge of fire protection are Frank Dumas, fire control officer at Forks and Dick Dubrav, a year round employee, is heavy equipment operator at Forks. He grades forest protection roads and operates a bulldozer on fires.

In June, four fire crews will be hired for Quinalt, Hurst Creek, Forks and Clallam Bay. Each crew of 3 to 6 boys will have a foreman, a tractor driver and cook. The Clallam Bay crew will be stationed at the

The Forks district and part of Port Angeles districts will be covered by aerial detection for the first time this year. The flights will originate at both Forks and Port Angeles and take two hours in duration. The more severe the fire danger is, the greater the number of flights. Three forest lookouts will be manned to supplement this aerial detection—Sekie Mountain, Mt. Oetopus and Salmon River Ridge. Four forest lookouts will be abandoned in the Forks district—Sees Peak, Ellis Mountain, Cunderson Mountain, and Clearwater and two in the Port Angeles district—Mt. Pleasant and Shidder Hill (Blyn Mountain will be manned).

Also to be hired in June will be an extra protection patrolman to be stationed at the Snaphash work center, crew cooks and a night dispatcher at Forks who will assist veteran dispatcher Elsie Metteler who works year around.

The men in charge of fire protection are Frank Dumas, fire control officer at Forks and Dick Dubrav, a year round employee, is heavy equipment operator at Forks. He grades forest protection roads and operates a bulldozer on fires.

West End Pioneers

President Olive Kirg appointed standing committee. Suggestions were made for a float in the Fourth of July parade. Judy Northup and Iva Wahlgren will present a definite plan at the May 31 meeting. Clallam County history was discussed, members will collect facts for the book to be published in the near future.

Iva Wahlgren brought a book given the club by the Taylor family, from the La Push store of the Washington Fur Trading Company of 1887.

Music by Northrup, and potluck supper enjoyed by all.
