AND EVEN THE HEAVENS WEPT!

Celebration of Our Glorious Fourth Greatest Splash Ever Pulled Pulled Off in Angeles.

Never was there a lovelier sunrise than that of Friday last, the morning of the glorious Fourth. Never a more auspicious opening of the day set aside in commemoration of our independence. Never an Olympic peninsula celebration more widely heralded.

The skies were clear, the earth cleansed and freshened by the recent showers, and the city decorated with a lavish display of good taste in the National colors and the prevailing tints of the Evergreen State. As early as seven o'clock Front street began to fill up with pleasure seekers, walking up and down, and excursionists who wished to enjoy the matchless boat ride and spend a portion of the day in Victoria.

THE DECORATIONS.

Most prominent among the decorative effects was the massive arch bearing the one word, "Welcome," which spanned the street between the Morse Block and the Merchants. Being located at the entrance of the wharf along which all visitors must pass and decorated with the flags of the two countries, it was in reality the gates of the city ajar, thru which Angeles extended to all the welcoming hand to attend and partake of the feast of good things therein provided. Other arches were erected at either end of Front street and these supplemented with flag poles bearing the National and British flags and serving as central supports for radiating lines of signal flags and pennants. Even the unsightly bill boards which the city fathers, for a paltry two or three dollars a year, have allowed to be planted in the Laurel reet zig-zag to further disfigure e city, were covered with curtains red, white and blue, contrasting prettily with the green background. Front and Laurel streets were made one continuous bower of greenery—the whole being in decided contrast to the decorations of 1913, when strings of faded, color-run and listless bunting, the remnants left after several years' use, were hung here and there across a few scattering, scraggly tree tops nailed to the walks.

The improvement was the more remarkable in view of the fact that for the past several years the city has had the framework of the arches, electric light wiring and colored lamps, and other decorations stored that they so could be used at trifling expense.

THE PARADE.

By the time of arrival of the first excursion boat from Victoria, bringing over several hundred people, to be followed later in the day by an excursion of former Port Angeles residents from Seattle, the downtown streets had filled up with the people of Angeles and surrounding country, who joined the earlier arrivals in the the pleasant pastime of walking from hither to yon, waiting for the appearance of the widely heralded parade, the assemblage of which on lower First street formed the only attraction of the morning. Promptly at 12:30, as advertised, or possibly an hour or two later, the Marine Band led off up First street, followed by a detatchment from the Snohomish, the Ladies Auxiliary floats, a half dozen private automobiles, the bag pipe band, and the Moose lodge with its car of Baby Moose. It was indeed fortunate that the ladies and the Moose took an interest in seeing that this feature of the celebration was not an entire failure, for tho there are something like one hundred automobiles in the city, the one prize of $25, less by half than the Ladies Auxiliary alone offered last year, would not have sufficed to bring out a single decorated car. But, however, that may have been, the parade was voted an entire success by the two or three hundred people who had a chance to see it. At the last moment, the cars, which had lined upon Oak for a triumphal entry up Front, as advertised, were turned around for the march eastward on First, continuing when once started, to the east city limits or thereabouts. hile four thousand people, wo thousand of whom were of the business men of the o had financed the celebra- re packed and jammed on two sidewalk, struggling up and down and across and back and forth, hungrily and impatiently waiting till mid-afternoon for the parade to untangle itself from the stumps and brush of the East End and come down town. It was a sad scene. Even the heavens wept. And the ladies and little children, who might have been home an hour ago, had it not been for the asinity displayed in selecting the line of march, had to sit and take it as it came, while their new gowns were ruined.

THE SPORTS.

LaCrosse and baseball were the attractions of the afternoon, for those who were interested. But the great bulk of the people jammed into the photoplay houses, crowded the billiard rooms and dancing halls, and made the round of the saloons, all strictly pay attractions, tramping between times up and down and across in the same endless and aimless procession, the men stopping occasionally to give vent to their feelings with the maul of a striking machine.

There was no band music, if we except the tune that was occasionally played by the pipers; no rousing strains of Columbia, the Star Spangled Banner, Dixie, or even Yankee Doodle; no observance of the day with program of music, reading of

COUNTY AWARDS $90,000 CONTRACTS

Steel Bridges for Lower Dungeness and Beaver Creek; $40,000.00 Contract on Solduck.

The Commissioners' session this week was a busy scene, and several contracts were awarded for road and bridge building which should assist in making the coming months ones of additional activity. The contracts awarded aggregate nearly $90,000.

For the building of McDonnell creek bridge only one bid was filed and the contract was awarded to Critchfield & Cotton at $4041.50.

An emergency was declared in the case of the lower Dungeness bridge and bids of the bridge men present were asked for a 110-foot span steel bridge, and awarded to Chas. G. Huber at $5475, the bid of R. E. Mieth of Portland was $5677.

The six mile strip of new road out from Beaver up the Solduck toward Lake Crescent was given in a contract to Alston Fairservice at $40,914, the only bid submitted.

For Beaver to Tyee Prairie 1¾ miles, two bids were submitted. Chas. Welker $9223, and J. R. Smith $9802; the former secured the contract.

For the construction of the 6¾ miles from Seibert's creek to Hurd creek, two bids were submitted, Chas. Fitzgerald $25,470, and Chas. Cays and Frank Knoph $18,770. The latter was awarded the contract.

A 62-foot span steel bridge over Beaver creek was awarded to R. E. Meith at $5490. Chas. Huber bidding $6649. This contract was awarded on amended bids after the submitted and higher bids had been rejected. Meith is a Portland man, the successful bidder for the new Elwha bridge.

It has been mutually agreed between Engineer Sullivan and Consulting Engineer T. F. Rixon that the latter shall have full charge of the road building under the bond issue.

LEAGUE WANTS COMPLETE ROAD BUILDING FIGURES

Thad. Wagner and J. M. Grant, representing the Taxpayers League, were here Tuesday before the Board of Commissioners to ascertain if a more definite account of cost of various roads and auxiliary work cannot be kept to the end that the League officers at a glance may know the exact and entire cost of any given piece of work. All officers agreed to do what could be done in the matter and the engineer, who has charge of all road building, agrees hereafter to keep such a record in his office. The result will be more satisfactory to all parties.

Stephen Land, one of Angeles pioneer settlers, has been named District Deputy Hort. Inspector in the newly appointed Agricultural Department.

FLOWER SHOW THE BEST YET

Many Rare and Beautiful Roses Shown, as Well as Great Variety of Other Flowers.

The second annual Flower Show given under the auspices of the Women's Auxiliary to the Commercial Club, proved to be a splendid success in every way, surpassing in many particulars the one of last year. The ladies feel that they are attaining the object for which their flower exhibits were started, that of increasing the cultivation of roses and flowers and thus adding to the natural beauty of Port Angeles. Among this year's exhibits were many more rare and beautiful roses than were exhibited last year, and we feel sure that 1914 will see a still greater increase. It is to be hoped, too, that our sisters in the country will become interested and cultivate more flowers. We would like to see flowers entered from every rural school as well as from the city schools next year, and hope our superintendent will strive to create an interest amongst the teachers as part of the work in agriculture.

There is probably not another city or town in the United States where a flower show is conducted wholly by women and we feel that the business men of Port Angeles do not realize what a splendid advertisement these exhibitions are. Some strangers visiting in our city said to the writer: "My, we were happy to attend your Flower Show and the beautiful entertainment following. It made us feel as though we would like to come and live among you; but your Fourth of July celebration was such a horrible awakening. Did you ladies help to manage that also?" Thank goodness, no! only to take part in the parade and to have a committee of ladies and girls meet the boats and welcome the visitors with rose buds, the only pleasure afforded the strangers that they did not have to pay for.

THE LOGGED-OFF LANDS ACT

No Extra Tax Will Be Imposed on Taxpayers By Reason of Acceptance of Provisions.

By W. S. Pearce.

In order that the provisions of the Logged-off Land Act may be clearly understood by the voters who are to pass on the question of adoption or rejection of the aid offered by it in this county, it may be timely to say that no extra tax is imposed upon the tax payers by reason of its acceptance.

The law, as set forth in the act, stipulates that a special district or municipality shall be created in any county or part thereof, to be administered by a commission composed of three members, who are elected for terms of one, two and three years respectively.

The commission is empowered to purchase logged-off or cut-over land at a price not to exceed twenty dollars per acre (the latter provision evidently intended to discourage speculation.) The settler who wishes to avail himself of the assistance offered by the state, selects his tract at twenty dollars an acre or less, if it can be purchased at a lower figure, and sells it to the commission at the same figure for which he purchased it. The commission, in turn, clear the land and sells it back to the settler at the original price, plus the actual cost of clearing with five per cent per annum added as interest on the whole amount, the settler having the option of paying for the tract on a basis of twenty equal annnal installments or paying the whole amount at any time he may elect.

It is obvious, therefor, that taxes of the county are in nowise affected by the creation or this district, which is a separate and distinct unity, having no relation whatever to any other department of the district or county wherein it may exist.

The law was framed and passed for the express purpose of extending assistance to bona fide settlers who want to build homes for themselves and families and who have hitherto been unable to do so on account of the high cost of clearing and making ready for cultivation the land from which the timber has been removed. The enactment of the law will, in a large measure, settle the question of bringing into productive use the immense area of these lands in western Washington, which, though rich and very fertile, have remained valueless and would continue to remain so were it not for this generous aid of the State.

By an affirmative vote on the question in Clallam County, several hundred thousand dollars will be available for the purpose above indicated. The people of the county will be benefitted by reason of the labor employed in clearing the land; but the greatest and most substantial benefit will be the enhanced value of the land when placed under cultivation, the increase in population and the value of the products of the inexhaustibly rich soil.

THIRD STREET CONTRACT LET

W. S. Denio, the Eighth Street Bridge Contractor, Proved to Be Lowest Bidder.

The city council was in session until after 11 o'clock Tuesday night and several important matters were considered. The contract for the building of Third street extension was let and must be completed by September 8, and several new ordinances were considered, the fire limits ordinance being adopted.

The bids for the improvements on Tumwater and Third street to the Sampson tract were submitted as follows:

P. J. Woods, $13,100; lumber at $20, piling 24 cents foot, cut-off piling 10 cents foot, excavation 57 cents yard.

Christ Kuppler, $13,127.50; lumber $19.75, piling 25 cents, cut-off piling 10 cents, excavation 54 cents.

Angeles Piledriving Company, $13,651; lumber $21.50, piling 24 cents, cut-off piling 10 cents, excavation 50 cents.

W. S. Denio, $13,096; lumber $23.10, piling 15½ cents, cut-off piling 10 cents, excavation 55 cents.

After some discussion as to possibility of Denio getting work done on short time owing to fact that other contract on Eighth street bridges not being complete Elliott moved that contracts be awarded to lowest bidder Mr. Denio and the motion carried. The city attorney was then directed to bring in contract next meeting allowing sixty days from date to complete work, and next lowest bid held in abeyance pending signing of contract with time limit.

Ordinance establishing a fire limits was placed upon final passage. According to its provisions only fire proof buildings may be erected with in that section bounded by Chase on east, alley between First and Second on south. Valley on west and Front on north between Valley and Oak and inner Harbor line between Oak and Chase, provided that on Railroad avenue corrugated iron building may be erected. No removals or alterations may be made within limits without first obtaining consent of council.

The saloon line-up was again brought into prominence. The police justice reported that fines against all keepers in town for keeping open all night July 4 for $9.70 each were unpaid and action on same was thereby

AUXILIARY ENTERTAINMENT HAS CROWDED HOUSE

Every Feature Met with Enthusiastic Applause, the Rose and Military Drills Being Especially Fine.

The opera house was taxed to its utmost capacity the evening of July 3rd to accommodate the several hundred people anxious to see the pretty Flower Show and patriotic entertainment given under the auspices of the Women's Auxiliary. After the overture by the Jensen Orchestra, the evening's entertainment was opened by little Miss Abbott who so beautifully delivered "Our Magna Charta" in a manner befitting one twice her years. The Rose Drill by a dozen dainty young girls in pink was lovely and was greeted with rounds of applause, especially when in a particularly effective pose, dainty little fairies appeared scattering rose petals. The Rose Drill closed with a solo by Miss Welch, the young ladies and fairies joining in the chorus. The Dutch Girls, Helen Linn and Katherine Becker, certainly made a hit with the audience as well as with each other. The Yankee Doodle Drill, with Harold Thompson as Yankee Doodle and four other boys as guards and a military corps of sixteen girls armed with guns and later carrying flags, was considered by many the most attractive feature of the evening's entertainment. The climax was reached when the girl soldiers stood, united by flags, forming the letters U. S., and the audience feelingly expressed its appreciation. This drill was originated by Professor Murray and was so successfully carried out with the assistance of Mrs. Warner.

Miss Hazel Hooker delighted the audience with an amusing monologue and Professor Murray gave two original selections, "A Girl Spy" and "Casey's Smile," which splendidly portrayed his dramatic and elocutionary abilities. The vocal solos by Mrs. Troy and Miss Welch and the quartette, A Gipsy Chorus from the Bohemian Girl, by Gertrude Willson, Helen Laurens, Francis Hoare and Hazel Hooker, added to the pleasure of the evening's entertainment, which closed with a beautiful tableau, introducing the Queen of the Rose Show, Miss Stakemiller, and her attendants. As she appeared upon the stage with her maid of honor, Miss Hopkins, she was escorted to the foot of the throne, where she was crowned queen by Mrs. R. D. Willson, President of the Auxiliary, and presented with the sceptre by Mrs. Jessie Webster, secretary. The queen then ascended the throne and was surrounded by her attendants and little fairies scattering roses. It was an impressive and pretty scene—combining youth, beauty and the roses.

A dance followed the entertainment, so many remaining to participate in this popular pastime that there was hardly room enough to make it enjoyable.

POWER PROMISED BY NOVEMBER

Prominent Engineers Express Belief that Work Will Not Require Over Four Months.

Three of the leading engineers of the country were here this week in company with Glines of the Olympic Power Co., inspecting the plant and the work now in progress. As a result of the conference Messrs. Glines and Aldwell say they have every confidence the dam will be finally completed by next November.

Mr. Seastone of Mead and Seastone. Madison, Wisconsin., the engineering firm which has the contract in charge, stated it as his belief there is a strong possibility that they would be ready to operate in six weeks, but Mr. Aldwell, having in mind the many unforseen difficulties that are constantly arising in a big undertaking of this kind, places the long-looked for day months away.

The gentlemen here with Mr. Seastone were Chief Engineer Strahlo, representing Hayworth, the contractor, and Chief Engineer Hayward of the Western Canada Light & Power Co., who came in a consulting capacity.

The work at present under way is the drilling of holes fifty feet back in the canyon walls at either side and the driving of sheet steel piling both above and below the dam. When all is ready the walls of the canyon will be blasted out, filling the river with rock and making a gigantic solid structure.

PARADE ONE OF THE BEST EVER GIVEN HERE

The Fourth of July Parade was one of the best ever given here, the beautifully decorated autos helping out wonderfully. Peter Grubb's, containing the officers of the Women's Auxiliary, and entirely decorated in natural roses, led, and was awarded the twenty-five dollar prize. Behind this was John Cain's auto carrying the queen of the Flower Show and her attendants. It was most artistic, being entirely trimmed in pink and white; over four hundred paper roses were used in its decoration besides many genuine ones. A large pink and white umbrella formed a canopy over the handsome queen. Dr. Warner's was designated the "White Car" as most of the decorations were in white, with a beautiful white dove perched upon the front; the lady and gentlemen occupants of the car were all handsomely gowned in white also. John Hansen's car was greatly admired, not only for its artistic decorations, but also for the attractive looking ladies seated therein. The "Yellow Car" excited a great deal of admiration and was owned by John Bell. Its decorations were all of Scotch Broom, the lady occupants carrying dainty yellow parasols. The Gateway Realty, the Eagles, and several unknown cars were all very attractive and worthy of mention. Of the other attractions, the Moose float, in the decoration of which about fifty little misses had been used, was unquestionably in the lead.

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING.

How many persons read the advertisements in a newspaper? No doubt the question is asked time and again by the advertisers themselves, though those who have the wares and the prices and who know how to present them through the columns of a newspaper have no doubt about results.

A middle west publisher who has been doing a bit of quiet scouting on his own account is telling his friends among the newspaper fraternity that he is astonished at the number who read the advertisements. We quote a extract from his letter:

"I conducted the inquiry in such a manner as to hide my purpose and I am sure the replies I received were frank and truthful. * * *..I found that about 80 per cent of my readers were reading the advertisements with reasonable regularity, with 7 per cent more reading them frequently and 9 per cent reading them occasionally. I found, on the other hand, only 3 per cent who asserted that they never read the advertisements, either in newspapers or magazines. Yet, on questioning this 3 per cent, I found most of them to be trading at the stores that were well advertised in the newspaper."

The appeal made upon the reader unconsciously is well known. Day after day he sees without recognizing his intellectual reception of the fact the names of merchants and stores. Gradually these names are so fixed in his mind that his merchandise wants and the names are thoroughly associated.

This inquiring publisher sought also learn to what extent his advertisers believed they were benefitted in a pecuniary way by the advertisements. He found among other things a growing belief among his townsmen that an advertising merchant is more reliable than one who does not advertise, the logic being that if a man publicly proclaims through a newspaper that he is going to do a certain thing he is bound, in order to save his name and thus continue his business, to do that thing. In other words, the conclusion was that the advertiser is bound by what amounts to a contract with the public, while the non-advertiser is not.

We believe this to be true. This impression has been developing for several years, owing to the rapidly increasing reliability of merchants. The world never has known a time when business honor was at so high a point. The modern merchant insists with his whole soul upon treating his patrons with absolute fairness. There is no flannel stretched in this day by progressive mercantile men, and there are no stones in the latter. The intent is to do exactly the honest thing. The newspapers had much to do with impressing this fact upon their readers, and the readers, in responding to newspaper advertising, have found that, in the main, the promises made by merchandise advertising have been honorable promises, carried out to the letter.—Tacoma News.

TREATY TANGLES.

There is one country with which our relations seem to give occasion for no contention, argument or uneasiness whatever. That country is Russia. Six months ago, as you may recall, the treaty between Russia and the United States expired and all contractual relations between the two nations came to an end.

It is well known that we would not permit any discrimination against Jewish Americans in a new treaty. It is equally well known that Russia would not sign a new contract that did not discriminate against them. Consequently both countries seem to have made up their minds that a new treaty is out of the question—and there is nothing to bother about.

Russia cannot claim that we are violating clause three of section A; nor can we raise a question as to whether Russia is acting conformably with clause six of section D. As the basis for a dispute does not exist, it is highly probable that no dispute will arise. Being perfectly free agents, with no claims whatever upon each other, the two nations will presumably continue to get along in the most amicable manner.

Diplomacy is two-thirds buncombe. Attaching a grossly exaggerated importance to treaties is part of the buncombe. We have a treaty with Japan. Neither country has violated it. Yet a rather serious misunderstanding exists. It would almost be worth while to abrogate all treaties for the single purpose of stopping the Senate's pernicious meddling with foreign affairs.—Saturday Evening Post.

There is a saying among the Jewish people that if the thirtenth of June falls on Friday there will be rain for forty days. The date is the anniversary of the day when Noah is supposed to have bundled his horses and elephants and other things aboard the Ark and sailed away to await the abatement of the floods. The coincidence of day of date is exceptionally rare but this year all the necessary conditions were fulfilled with the result that some rain has managed to fall every day for three solid weeks. If the saying holds good we are unsafe without raincoats until the twenty-third of July.—South Bend Journal.

Prof. Meany, of the State University, head of the department of history, has by recent correspondence with descendants of early explorers found that Mts. Constance, Ellinor and The Brothers (Arthur and Edward) were named after members of the Fauntleroy family by George Davidson, who explored Puget Sound in 1856. Davidson received his first lessons in survey work from Lieutenent Fauntleroy, head of the family. Constance Fauntleroy afterwards became famous through founding the first permanent woman's club in America.

Dr. T. C. Frye, head of the department of botany at the university, together with G. B. Rigg, one of the instructors in the same departmnet, are heading an expidition fitted out under the direction of the United States department of agriculture, which will be engaged in surveying and mapping the kelp fields of the Alaskan waters. Extensive study and experimentation in the university laboratories have demonstrated the rich content of potash in kelp and have found practical means for its utilization.

A lively reception is being prepared by business men throughout the state for the members of the University of Washington crew that won third place at the regatta on the Hudson recently. A banquet is being planned to take place after college opens next year, so that all of the crew men will be present. The sending of the varsity crew to Poughkeepsie is regarded by prominent business men over the state as one of the best things ever done to advertise Washington and the Northwest.

The "bloomer" tea given by the Royal Neighbors of Sequim last Friday afternoon, was a decided success. The ladies entertained about 150 guests. Each one was asked at the door if they would wear bloomers. If they said they would they were presented with a pair—of beautiful roses.—Press.

The Townsend Leader says it is believeh that a unit contract will be let within a short time for a portion of the road along Hoods Canal, the survey for which is now practically completed. An effort is to be made to use paroled labor on some three miles of road near Hoodsport. The road will not be completed till 1914.

A psychologist came upon a hard-working Irishman toiling, bareheaded, in the street. "Don't you know," said the psychologist, "that to work in the hot sun without any hat is bad for your brains?" "D'ye think," asked the Irishman, "that Oi'd be on this job if I had any brains?"

ALBION MEETS WITH MISHAP.

The steamer Albion, operating between Seattle, Port Townsend and Port Angeles, was picked up at an early hour yesterday morning while drifting in the Straits outside Point Wilson, by the British steamer Amur, says the Townsend Leader. The disabled craft was brought to this city, being later towed to Seattle by the tug Pioneer. The Albion was on her way from Port Angeles to Seattle and when at a point north of Protection island, at 11 o'clock Friday night, a log become fouled between the rudder and propeller, stripping the wheel clean from the shaft. The steamer was drifting helplessly in the Straits when picked up by the Amur.

The Albion had on board a considerable quantity of freight and a number of passengers for Seattle. These remained on board and were eventually landed at their destination.

TOWNSEND'S STREET RAILWAY.

W. B. Webb, of Hamilton, Mont., who holds a franchise for a line of street railway here arrived from up-Sound yesterday, accompanied by A. B. Talcott, a locating engineer, and a crew of four men, says the Townsend Leader.

According to the terms of the franchise, work on the line must begin by July 11th. Mr. Webb stated yesterday that he intended to comply with the right given him by the city council six months ago, although he will not endeavor to rush construction work faster than is necessary, owing to the conditions prevailing not only in this section, but generally throughout the coutry. He is particularly optimistic concerning the business outlook, but believes that there will be no great promise of development until the tariff question is settled by congress. Following this line of reasoning, Mr. Webb is of the opinion that the summer months are bound to be quiet, but that a great revival of industry will be noticed in the early fall, continuing throughout the winter.

Resolution No. 9.

Be it resolved by the City Council of the City of Port Angeles:

1. That it is the intention of the City Council to order the construction of a trunk sewer, together with the necessary outfalls, manholes, catch basins, drains, wyes, openings, and appurtenances, all of proper porportions, along and on Francis street in said city, from the north line of eighth (8th) street to the inner harbor line of Port Angeles Bay, for the proper sewering and draining of all blocks and streets between Eunice street on the West, Race street on the East, 8th street on the South and Railroad avenue on the North.

Said trunk sewer, sewer outfalls, catch basins, drains, wyes, openings, and appurtenances to be constructed of concrete, reinforced concrete, brick, vitrified clay or other suitable material, and to do such other work as may be necessary, in connection therewith, all in accordance with plans to be prepared and submitted by the City Engineer.

DOCTORS INDORSE NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE FOR THE HAIR

When a doctor endorses a preparary testimonial. His opinion is al-tion it means more than an ordin-ways that of the professional man devoted to the welfare of the people.

Dr. J. J. Boyd, Covington, Tenn., says: "I feel it my duty to write this for the benefit of those suffering from dandruff. In the average case a few applications of Newbro's Herpicide will remove all dandruff. It is advisable to continue its use for several weeks."

The words of J. B. Thompson, M. D., No. 2 Burrough Place, Cor. Hollis St., Boston, Mass., are not less enthusiastic: "I can only speak in praise of Newbro's Herpicide. It is all that is claimed and perhaps more. Hepricide not only cleanses the scalp, but brightenes the hair, given it life and makes it soft."

Dr. T. A. Moore, Duncan, Ariz., writes of his experience: "My scalp was in places covered by patches of dry, scaly material and th itching was incessant. Since using Herpicide all these evils have disappeared and my hair is soft, smooth and growing. Hair has grown on spots before but thinly covered."

Newbro's Herpicide is "the original remedy to kill the dandruff germ" and stop falling hair. The terrible itching which goes with dandruff is allayed almost at once."

Newbro's Herpicide in 50c and $1 sizes is guaranteed to do all that is claimed. If you are not satisfied your money will be refunded.

Applications may be obtained at the leading barber shops. Be sure you get genuine Herpicide. W. J. Mathewson, special agent.

All these bids being considered too high, they were rejected and the bidders were given a chance to file amended bids, which were as follows: Chas. G. Huber, $5,719 and R. E. Mieth, $5,490.00.

Wednesday, July 9, 1913, at 9:00 a. m.

The Board entered into a contract with Alston Fairservice for the construction of about six miles of highway from Beaver Creek toward Lake Crescent.

The Board adopted the following resolution:

"Whereas, the bridge across the lower Dungeness River has become in such a condition as to be a menace and danger to traffic, and is liable to collapse at any time, and

Whereas, a loss of such bridge would cause a great hardship to the citizens living on either side of the river, and

Whereas, it is not deemed advisable to delay any longer in the construction of a new bridge across said river, as the old one is in such shape as to be impossible to repair,

Be it therefore resolved, that an emergency is hereby declared, and that informal bids be called for, and that said bridge be built as soon as possible."

Informal bids were then called for a steel bridge upon plans and specifications on file in the Engineer's office, and the following bids were filed: R. E. Mieth bid $5,677.00 and Chas. G. Huber bid $5,475.00, which last bid was accepted and contract entered into.

The Auditor was instructed to recall for bids for the construction of a road from Morse Creek to Siebert's Creek.

The Auditor was also instructed to call for bids for the construction of the approaches to the Elwha River bridge, on each side of the river.

Has the state the right to fix the minimum wage? As long as we have already accepted the idea of government interference in regard to sanitation and the length of hours for the working man we must accept the idea of government interference in wages, was the statement of Prof. Arthur Wood, of Reed College, Portland, in an address before the Puyallup Summer School students.

Every worker has the right to a living wage. A great number of problems will inevitably arise with the minimum wage laws. One of the most important of these problems will be that of the young man or woman who is not efficient. The school system must be made more largely vocational for the worker must be trained to earn at least a minimum wage.

One of the interesting features of the Puyallup Summer School, which is attracting much attention, is the emphasis being laid on instruction in lowering the cost of living, and of special interest along this line is the work of the class in rural school lunches. With an equipment costing $5.50, including a gasoline stove, kettles, pans and other utensils, the class of twenty-four students, teachers, principals, ministers, stenographers etc. prepare their hot lunches every day at the remarkable cost of 5c or less. The class is one which is thoroughly practical and the lunches such that they might be served in any rural school.

The surprise was complete, but the lady bore it bravely. Presents had not been included in the program, but she received several. The time was spent in social intercourse and all seemed to have a good time. Lemonade, ice cream and cake were served by the hostess, Mrs. A. Conrad. Among the cakes was a birthday one, made by Miss Carrie Solf, which was beautifully inscribed, "Grandma's 80th birthday." Mrs. Conrad is hale and hearty; can read without glasses, but rather deficient in hearing. To say she was pleased is putting it mildly.

Mr. Shaw's family, which has occupied the Houckie place since early spring, are leaving this for California. They think it too cold here. Rumor has it that Mr. Shaw has bought the place and has it rented. No house stands unoccupied very long. There were five applicants for the house Mrs. Vitale lived in before she left it.

The children are now very busy. When not in the woods picking berries, they are amusing themselves in the school yard.

Mrs. Edna Harding, Edna Cook and two ladies from near Seattle, relatives of Mrs. Mahaffey, took an auto trip to the Lakes last Friday.

Mr. Musgrave, proprietor of the Olympic Theatre, has closed here and opened up a photoplay house in Sequim. Mr. Musgrave is a pleasant gentleman to meet, and the Olympic has been run in a strictly first class manner, failing to make good only because of the smallness of the room and poor location.

We are glad to report Mrs. Hibbard as recovering most satisfactorily from an operation at the Angeles General hospital last week.

Mrs. Webber, who has been quite ill at her mother's, Mrs. A. D. Willson, is convalescing nicely and hopes to be out soon.

THIS WEEK IN HISTORY.

The news of twenty years ago, from the Democrat Leader, John W. Troy, editor.

About fifty citizens appeared before the Board of Commissioners and asked for work on the roads, representing that they had redeemed much of the public domain making it taxable, bu the they were unable to make a living from the same; they intimated the county would have to support them if they couldn't find work.

The Farmers' Mercantile Co.'s stock at Dungeness is being auctioned to satisfy a judgment. It is rumored that C. F. Seal, of Townsend, will be the new manager.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald McInnes arrived Wednesday from a visit to the former's home in Scotland.

M. J. Carrigan and his Chillicothe, O., associates have succeeded in securing a diamond drill and the money to prosecute a thorough prospect for coal in this county.

The Colony mill has been running quite steadily filling orders.

Bill granting Port Angeles eight surburban lots for a cemetery introduced in Congress.

The Gate City Band filed articles of incorporation with the county auditor, capital $500.

A Fourth of July celebration had just been held, with 3,000 visitors from Victoria and the county. T here were seventeen features in the parade and a display of fire works in the evening. A list of winners in twenty different races and contests is given. Evidently some celebration.

H. C. Strong, hardware; Shields, groceries; Mrs. Phelps, milliner; Adam Zerenner, tailor; the Aldwell Cigar Store, were among the live business houses at that time.

J. G. McClinton was judge, A. A. Richardson clerk, S. G. Morse sheriff and W. E. Burnside deputy.

Cleveland was president; Debs, the railroad strike and the Chicago riots furnished the leading news of the week.

W. A. HAIGHT HAS PASSED AWAY.

William A. Haight, well-known to many Milton, Osnabrock and Langdon people, and a resident of this vicinity, until about eight years ago, died at St. Thomas Aquinas Sanatorium, Mentone, Cal., on Wednesday, June 25th, following a long siege of tuberculosis. Mr. Haight moved from here to Saskatchewan, where he was married three years ago to Charlotte Walton. A year ago he began to fail in health and he and his wife moved to British Columbia and later to Port Angeles, Wash.,with the hope that the change of climate would benefit him. Growing worse, however, they went to Southern California, where everything in human power was done to try to save him, but all in vain.

Mr. Haight, who was 35 years of age at the time of his demise, was a young man of sterling character, a talented musician and the kind of citizen any town could be proud to claim as its own, and his bereaved young wife has many to sympathise most sincerely with her in her great loss.

The funeral was held at Osnabrock Tuesday aftfernoon, the church services being conducted in the hall by Rev. G. E. M. Young, Presbyterian pastor at Milton. The crowd of friends who came to pay their last respects to the dead was so great that the hall had to be used to make room for them all. After the church services, the Masonic order took charge of the remains and the body was laid to rest with full Masonic ceremonies. Masons of Milton, Osnabroch and Langdon took part.

The deceased leaves besides his wife an aged father, two brothers and three sisters, residing here and in Canada.

Mrs. Haight will leave shortly for her old home in Cayuga, Ont., where she will visit for sometime before returning to Sasketchewan.—Milton Globe.

After a few minutes of the awful dinn and roar, the bunch was invited in by the whole family, and seats were soon found for all. As soon as hats and coats were off, good things began to appear from all corners, and best of all, was the lovely cake that the bride herself made. The most of the shiveree crowd were school mates and old friends of the Woodings and surely received a royal welcome by all. We all wish Willie and his dear little bride a long happy life together.

Henry Emery, who has been helping John Winters cut wood, has gone out to Freshwater to work.

Did any one notice the twist up about the Sunday school in last week's paper?. It was meant to read, "There has been a Union Sunday School organized." Please don't blame the editor or the correspondent for they each had one eye on the items and the other on the Fourth of July.

ATTRACTIONS OF THE NORTHWEST

to the savagery of the surrounding region. Laying our course from Port Angeles straight toward the setting sun we coast along the rocky, heavily timbered shores of the Olympic peninsula to Neah bay, where a crew of Makah Indians will take one in one of their frail canoes close around the harsh face of Cape Flattery, which is the extreme northwest corner of the United States.

Clothed With Forests.

"Westward of Cape Flattery we may not go, for beyond it lies the open sea, but steering eastward again we can nose about at will, loitering through the romantic scenery of Deception pass and Rosario straits, dropping in at Anacortes, whose canneries supply the people of half the world with salmon, and coming thus to Friday Harbor, the county seat of the San Juan islands, which, despite the Robinson-Crusoeness of its name, looks exactly like one of those quaint, old-fashioned seaport towns which dot the coast of Maine.

Incomparable Summer Heritage.

Nor is Mr. Powell alone in his unstinted praise of the glories of this region. The June Sunset, in a more minute description of this locality says that "Puget sound is recognized as America's incomparable summer heritage of health, happiness and inspiration—the Western hemisphere's one ideal refuge of clear, cool, refreshing summer weather in a very paradise of scenic grandeur and wild luxury of outdoor recreation."

And coming directly home to Seattle, it says:

"This municipal masterpiece of the Pacific Northwest stands heartily beside the quiet waters of this beautiful waters of this beautiful inland sea midway between the wild wonderlands of the snowy Cascades to the eastward, and the marvelously manyhued Olympics forming the jeweled rim along the western horizon—while within full view southward Mount Rainier, 14,526 feet high, rises into the clear, blue vault like some shimmering new planet built of pearls."

Country of Clear Skies.

Where else on earth could such things be written without the charge of hyperole? But here figures fail to fill up to the measure of reality. As the writer says, "from the last of May till the middle of September, Puget sound is the cool, dry belt; the skies are clear, no rains, no storms, no high winds, while temperature ranges from 60 to 85 degrees with ever deliciously cool billows of air from the sea. If you have never seen the scenic splendors of Seattle's wonderful environment you have missed the most inspiring summer playground of America, with motoring, boating, mountainclimbing, hunting, fishing and all the luxury of wildering in the ambrosial open!"

Familiar Beauties at Hand.

This is all of big things. But the nearer and more familiar beauties are at hand in equal profusion. Roses bloom from early spring until Christmas. Rightly cared for one may have a garden of bloom the whole year round. And to become practical the same may be said of a vegetable garden. In Rainier valley contiguous to the city the truck farmers have growing things under cultivation from one year's end to another.

It is a great country, as Mr. Powell discovered, and greatly he has praised it. But there is yet a great uncombed country of logged off lands to be polished and made to bloom. When two decades more have passed the writer who tells the truth about this Puget sound country will have to write about civilization as marvelous and as beautiful as the writers of today about the natural things that have been there perhaps since the morning stars sang together.

THE LEBANON RESCUE HOME.

An Institution Which Deserves the Support of All Christian People.

Mrs. Emma Perry, who has been in the city for the past ten days, left for Port Townsend Monday, where she will spend several days in the good work in which she is engaged.

Mrs. Perry is the State Solicitor for the Lebonan Resuce Home of Seattle, located at 1110 W. 65th St., Ballard. She gave a very entertaining and instructive lecture at the First M. E. Church a week ago last Sunday, and the church was crowded to its full capacity.

The Lebanon Rescue Home is for the protection and uplifting of fallen women and girls. Mrs. Perry states that during the past twelve months, there have been taken into the home fifty-two girls and many of these girls have reformed completely. The home is comparatively new, being purchased two years ago last April at a cost of $7,200. There has now been paid on this amount more than $4,200, besides interest and several hundred dollars in repairs, insurance, etc. $2,000 of this is on a mortgage which can run indefinitely, and there is $275 yet to be raised to meet the other $1,000, the balance of which is promised and will be paid as soon as this $275 is raised.

This is certainly a great institution and deserves the hearty co-operation of the people, not only of this city, but from every city in the state. After the first debt has been entirely paid, the subscriptions will all be applied toward maintenance of the home and the protection of these poor girls who have been dragged from the straight and narrow path. More than three-quarters of the girls received at the home are from the country districts, and the remaining one-quarter of them are girls who have been taken from the Sunday schools and led astray.

Many of these pure innocent girls have been met by some nice appearing young man at a dance, or even at church or Sunday school who would tell them of the nice office they had in some large city, and how nice it would be if the girls could come and work for them, and tell them what a good salary they would pay them to work as stenographers or office assistants, and when the girl arrived at the supposed office, it would be nothing more than a disguised house of ill-fame, and that the girl would be taken and abused and disgraced beyond human imagination and this way lead into a life of shame and debauchery. Is it not time that the mothers and fathers were awakening to these horrible facts and lending a helping hand to such institutions as the Lebannon Rescue Home and endeavor to make it a great success?
