ATTRACTIONS OF THE NORTHWEST

Nowhere in the World is there Another Region So Crowded with Beauty and Wonder.

By Charles Eugene Banks in Seattle P. I.

E. Alexander Powell, F. R. G. S., a traveler who has seen most of the world and written entertainingly about it, has an article in the July Sunset magazine in which he describes, among other things, the Puget sound country. . This eloquent globe trotter himself declares that he "stumbled upon a treasure trove in the northwest corner of his own continent," so crowded with beauty and grandeur, so delightful, so filled with marvels of nature's handiwork, that he is at loss for terms to express his admiration.

If one might be lifted above the earth in the vicinity of Seattle, for instance, and having gained a position high enough to have a vision of the entire length of Puget Sound, from the Straits of Juan de Fuca to Olympia, what a vision would be presented to the gaze. Perhaps nowhere in all the world is there a region so crowded with beauty and wonder.

Sight Sets Blood Flowing.

Mountain ranges tumble with indescribable variety of form and color in every side for hundreds of miles, their green feet bathed by salt sea waters of Puget sound, their bosoms jeweled by hundreds of fresh water lakes, their foreheads crowned with the pearl and amethyst of pure snow kissed by sun and moon and stars. To look down on such a scene would be to rival the glory of the gods. To look at even a small portion of it from any point of vantage sets the blood flowing faster and the spirit of adoration takes possession of the soul.

Mr. Powell has drunk the intoxicating grandeur of this country for the first time and, telling of it, he says:

"It has been said of the Puget sound country, that wilderness of mountains, glaciers, forests, lakes, lagoons, islands, bays and inlets which makes the upper left-hand corner of the map of the United States look like a ragged fringe, that no region on the continent possesses so many natural attractions and is at the same time so little known. It is by no means an easy country to describe. Southward from the Straits of Juan de Fuca, an eighty-mile-long arm of Washington: that is Puget sound. On its eastern shore are the cities of Seattle and Tacoma, at the head of the Sound is Olympia, the capital of the state, and bordering the western shore rise the splendid peaks of the Olympic range.

Clothed With Forests.

"If your imagination will stand the further strain of picturing an archipelago four times the size of the Thousand Islands, clothed with forests of cedar, fir and pine, and indented with countless bays, harbors, coves and inlets, dropped down in this body of water, you will have a hazy conception of the inland labyrinth of Puget sound, which is generally admitted, I believe, to be the most beautiful salt water estuary in the world.

"I can conceive, indeed, of no more enchanting summer than one spent in a well-powered, well-stocked motor boat cruising in and about this archipelago, loitering from island to island as the fancy seized one, dropping anchor in inviting harbors for a day or a week, as one pleased. There are deer and bear in the forests and trout in the rivers and salmon in the upper waters, and if those did not provide sufficient recreation, one could run across to the mainland and do the stiffest kind of mountain-climbing on Mount Olympus or Mount Rainier.

In the Straits.

"Let us give ourselves the luxury of imagining—for, to my way of thinking, there is about as much pleasure to be had in imagination as in realization— that we have a fortnight at our disposal on which no business worries shall be permitted to intrude, that we have the deck of a sturdy motor boat beneath our feet, and that the placid island-dotted waters of Puget sound lie before us.

"Leaving Seattle, seated on her stately hills, astern, and the grim gray fighting-ships across the Sound at the Bremerton navy yard abeam, we will push the wheel starboard and point the nose of our craft toward Admoralty inlet, the Straits of Juan de Fuca, and the open sea. Our first port-of-call will be, I think, at Dungeness, whose waters are the habitat of those Dungeness crabs which tickle the palates and deplete the pocketbooks of gourmets from Vancouver to San Deigo. At the back of Dungeness is Sequim prairie, whose irrigated lands produce 'those big baked potatoes' which form the piece de resistence of dining cars in the northwest. It is nothing of a run from Dungeness to Port Angeles, which is the most convenient gateway to the great unexplored Olympics.

Up in the Olympics.

"A score or so of miles southward from Port Angeles by automobile, a portion of which is by ferry across the beautiful mountain Lake Crescent, through a rugged, untamed country and over a road which is a marvel of mountain engineering, are the Sol Duc Hot Springs whose modern hotel is in startling contrast

SEES BIG FUTURE FOR PORT ANGELES

W. S. Pearce, Secretary of the Commercial Club, Says Resources Marvelously Rich.

W. S. Pearce, secretary of the Port Angeles Commercial Club, while in Seattle on a business trip told the P. I. of progress of railroad construction on the Olympic peninsula.

Mr Pearce said:

"Work along the entire line is being rushed at a rapid rate. New construction crews are being added at frequent intervals and no effort is being spared to expedite the work in order that the good summer weather may be taken advantage of. The general character of the construction is favorable, there being no tunnels or heavy rock along the line. The latest and best equipment is being used by the contractors, a factor which is contributing largely towards the acceleration of the big task.

"Arrangements for extensive terminals at Port Angeles have been satisfactorily settled. The yards, depot and roundhouses, together with machine shops, will require a large area of ground and this has already been acquired.

"The question of the route the road will take through the city has been definitely settled upon since the creation of the assessment district authorizing the building of a sea wall along the entire water front of the city. There is no longer any doubt on this point. Much speculation as to whether or not the road would follow the main street prior to the passage of this ordinance was indulged in, but the atmosphere is now clarified and everybody is jubilant over the outcome.

"The building of this railroad line into the Olympic peninsula means the rapid development of a marvelously rich territory which has hitherto been retarded by the lack of transportation.

"With both water and rail transportation, Port Angeles, which has one of the finest harbors on the Pacific coast, will rapidly come into her own, and with the coming of great sawmills to manufacture her billions of feet of timber into merchantable lumber, together with the other industrial enterprises that will follow in the wake of the railroad, she will occupy the place in the commercial world to which her natural wealth entitles her."

Wellington S. Dorr and Miss Lettie McMillan were united in marriage by Mr. Fulmer at the home of the bride's parents,Mr .and Mrs. William McMillan, at noon Wednesday, July 16th. The bride was attended by Miss Mabel Geist, while Mr. Coble acted in the capacity of best man. After the ceremony a most appetizing wedding dinner was served and the happy bride and groom left on the Sol Duc that afternoon for a short wedding trip upsound. Mr. Dorr is captain of the Grant, one of the Manhattan Cannery boats, and the young couple will make their future home in Port Angeles, where they have the best wishes of a host of friends.

It is now believed the Eighth street bridges will be finally completed and ready for acceptance by the council next Tuesday, night.

CITY HAS $25,000 CASH ON HAND

Olympic Hotel Co. Must Have Sewer at an Early Date. Electric Light Machinery Here.

The new 100 kw generator, which the city ordered of the General Electric Company the first of June, arrived the past week and was installed, but it being found that the exciter had been broken in transit, the machine coming from Fort Wayne, and the old generator will have to be continued in service for two weeks longer.

Clerk and treasurer presented their quarterly reports showing $25,411,-53 cash on hand, divided between the various funds as follows: Current Expense, $469.75; lighting, 307,91; cemetery 65,21; indebtedness, 2,-171,67; municipal bond refunding $2,235.83; electric light bond, $1,-639.04; First street improvement, $190.19; Francis street improvement, $6,810.91; Eighth street improvement, $11,521.02.

Out of $15,900 of Francis street bonds issued, $1900 have already been called with no warrants outstanding, making a very good showing for the first year. Over a third of the cost of the Eighth street improvement was paid in cash before bonds were issued.

A communication from the Olympic Hotel Company was read and referred to city attorney as to the legality of entering into a contract as suggested. The communication states that "as it is evident we will be ready to operate the hotel long before the the city is in a position to provide the same, can the writer enter into a contract or have an understanding to build a portion of the sewer from the hotel to possibly Front street or such point as the city engineer will designate and when the city lets contract for the entire sewer, to be paid the same rate per lineal foot for such portion of sewer as is in, and approved by the city engineer. From Front street to the water front, a temporary wooden box could be provided at a nominal cost."

Surface water in alley between First and Front declared a nuisance and ordered that drainage be provided.

Ordinance establishing grade in Cherry street as recommended by engineer was passed over protest of a number of the property owners. The ordinance provides for a grade of 6.5 between First and Second, with a cut of from forty to fifty feet at Second, the grade running out at Fifth. The old gradeof 10.86 between First and Second, gave something like a thirty foot cut at Second.

Repair of Peabody street bridge referred to street committee, street superintendent and city engineer, with power to act.

$25 was appropriated for opening of Fourth street between Oak and Laurel.

City approved Harry Peets plat of subdivision of surburban blocks Nos. 157, 35 and 51.

Street superintendent was instructed to notify people on west side of Peabody, between Eighth and Eleventh, to put in a new five foot sidewalk; also property owners on East side of Albert from Front to Georgiana and south side Georgiana from Albert to Eunice to put in a five foot walk.

Mayor and clerk authorized to execute and sign contract for improvement of Third street.

WOMAN'S WAGE COMMISSION ALL WOMEN.

Statute Provides That Commissioner of Labor Olson Shall Be Fifth Member—U. of W. Instructor Is Named.

OLYMPIA, July 12.—(Special.)—Gov. Lister today appointed four women to compose the industrial welfare commission provided by the last legislature, the law being popularly termed the "minimum wage statute for women."

The law provides that the state labor commissioner, E. W. Olson, shall be a member of the commission. The four women named by the governor today are Dr. Theresa McMahon, an instructor in the University of Washington; Mrs. Jackson Silbaugh of Seattle; Mrs. Florence H. Swansan, a well known club woman of Raymond and Mrs. N. J. Laumer of Spokane.

RICH TREAT FOR PORT ANGELES

The Frank Rich Company at Opera House July 26th and 27th.

The management of the Opera House has secured the services of the Frank Rich Company for Saturday and Sunday, July 26th and 27th. This company is now playing with great success at the Seattle Theatre. They are making this stop-over on their way to Victoria where they open on the 28th, and in this way we are sure of getting the entire organization, with everything in the way of scenery that they carry. This will be one of the biggest opportunities for the Port Angeles public to see a first-class company.

On and after July 22nd, the Commercial Club rooms will be open to the business men and club members, from 11 a. m. until 1 p. m. The object of this arrangement is to bring into closer harmony the various business interests of the city.

PLAYGROUNDS GREAT SUCCESS

Supervisor Anderson is Proving to Be Very Popular with Both Children and Parents.

The playgrounds are now in full use daily by a large number of children. No sooner was the apparatus set up, than it was tried out and found not wanting by the young folks. The first day of real work at Central showed an attendance of over forty and present conditions point to larger crowds in the future.

The baseball and volley ball will be here in a day or two and then the work will be in full swing. A number of woman, some of whom are mothers, have been out afternoons and evenings, encouraging the work and with splendid results. Mothers and fathers and in fact anyone who is interested can encourage the work more and make it a bigger success by coming to the grounds at spare times during the day or in the evening and playing and watching the children play, than in any other way. The supervisor is very anxious that you should do so.

There will be different games in the evenings, for the young people and for the old people, so if you come you will all be provided for.
will all be provided for.

Remember the evenings at Central on Monday, Friday and Saturday; at Lincoln on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

Talk about your noise! Some of the home loving neighbors thought the Japs were bombarding Port Angeles. But, no! Willie Wooding sprang a real surprise on his friends by joining the "Ancient Order of Benedicts" when in Seattle ostensibly to celebrate the Fourth. His main object in going became evident when the erswhile Miss Lillie Burgess came home the blushing bride of Master William. The folks got even for his quiet sneak-away, by giving a real old-time serenade. Willie showed his appreciation by the royal spread of refreshments which was served to to "charivari—eers."

100 MEN WORKING AT POWER PLANT

River Cleared of Logs and Rubbish so that Rapid Progress Can Be Made on Dam.

The new contractors have not lost any time in getting the work of completion of the Olympic Power Co.'s dam under way. Day and night shifts are employed driving the steel piling, and over one hundred men are already on the pay roll.

The recent celebration continues to be a live topic—everyone who contributed is asking how much money was raised and for what it was spent. Nothing less than a detailed report, showing who subscribed, who paid their subscriptions and the individuals to whom the money was paid, will be satisfactory. The columns of the Olympic-Leader are open for detailed report.

A meeting of the Play Ground Association will be held next Monday evening, July 21st at 8 o'clock at the library room in the annex of the old Central school building. Everyone interested in this splendid movement for the boys and girls of our city are earnestly requested to be present.

DO CELEBRATIONS PAY?

Confessedly when a carnival of any sort is given, which is supposed to attract people to a town, the object after all is a commercial one of bringing money to town. Some carnivals may, but when the leading feature of the carnival is to "lift the lid," lose the key," throw the town wide open" or any other euphemistic title given to the practice of letting all laws against decency be violated with impunity, do such carnivals pay? We believe that the merchants are waking up to the fact that they do not. The merchants contribute most heavily with the idea that they will reap a harvest from the visitors but far from making any money on such days they have even to extend credit to regular customers who have "blown themselves" tempted thereto by the carousing spirit prevalent. As one merchant put it, "it will take two pay days for the merchants to get even." After diligent inquiry among merchants in legitimate business lines we have failed to find any in either South Bend or Raymond whose store receipts were materially increased. It is true that some of the saloons took in as high as $1000, but very little of that money stays in town Most of it must go to the brewery or liquor houses. Any banker will testify that no institution gathers cash in so rapidly or ships it out so completely as a saloon. A few extra bartenders may get wages out of it and the restaurants and hotels may do well.

It is reported as doubtful if the Seattle merchants will again assess themselves freely as they have in the past for the Potlatch. They give the visitors a grand time, but there is nothing in it for the merchants. The visitors are too busy having a good time to buy anything but drinks and candy. In referring to the recent entertainment, we do so simply because it is so recent and the incidents and profits connected therewith so fresh in the minds of the business men. The same things can be said of any entertainment designed to draw visitors to a town where the main feature is the lifting of the lid. It can be said of too many Fourth of July celebrations. Some years ago the Journal editor had his eyes opened when he was, just once, made chairman of the program committee and discovered that the main business of the committee was to parcel off the sports so that each saloon in town should have the same number of events pulled off in front of it as the other saloons. The interests of the legitimate merchants came in only incidentally.

We believe in these potlatches, festos, pow pows and other special celebrations designed to advertise a town and bring visitors but the lid feature is detrimental. Pasadena, California, has a most delightful flower carnival every year and the lid is kept down. In fact there are no saloons there. Portland's last Rose Carnival was not as successful as previous shows and less interest displayed. Was it because the city had a wide open mayor and because the lifted lid feature repelled visitors?

It is time that business men took a stand and quit being tools for the saloons as they certainly are when they contribute to and work for carnivals and entertainments where a chance for an orgy is advertised as one of the attractions.—South Bend Journal.

MERCHANTS HELD THE SACK.

The city of Portland is grumbling a little over the outcome of the World's Christian Citizenship conference held there a few days ago. Portland raised the sum of $15,000 for a publicity fund and turned it over to the National Reform association, with headquarters at Pittsburg. It was represented that at least 20,000 delegates would be brought to the city. Instead of 20,000 delegates, by actual count just 670 people came to the city; of that number, 506 were from Oregon and Washington and were induced to attend through the efforts of the local committee and not by the managers of the conference.

The excellent and very successful parcel post system now in vogue in the United States is making a lot of money for Uncle Sam. In fact, it is making altogether too much money. The public is being charged too high rates.

The parcel post is cleaning up profits at the rate of over $20,000,000 a year. Nearly two-thirds of the gross revenue received from carrying parcels is clear profit. Representative David J. Lewis of Maryland and George J. Kindell of Colorado have been laboring with Postmaster General Burleson to get him to reduce the rates. The law gives the postmaster general full power to do anything he wants in the way of reducing rates or increasing efficiency.

A report just issued by the state industrial insurance commission shows that there are 6,500 employers of labor paying into the accident fund for the protection of 145,000 employees injured to a great or less degree; that they have paid in up to date $2,105,798; that to 16,268 laborers whose claims have been allowed. $1,176,777 has been paid in compensation for injuries, and that 23,761 accidents have been reported or that one man in every seven employed in hazardous occupations is injured to a great or less degree.

Some of the piles in use in Amsterdam are 300 to 400 years old. That part which is not in the ground is often bored by a pile worm near the surface, but is preserved by driving in nails with very large heads, so as to give the pile an iron coating. This coating is then transformed by the water into a layer of rust, which protects the wood from the pile worm. This process must be repeated every fifteen years.

JENSEN, THE SHOE MAN

MUST WORK CO-OPERATIVELY.

Agricultural Interests of State Must Be Built Up to Make Substantial Cities.

"The trouble with the state of Washington is the fact that the cities are built away beyond the country. When hard times come unless we have good country back of the cities we won't have very substantial cities. The thing to do is to build up the agricultural interests of our state," said W. H. Paulhamus, president of the Puyallup & Sumner Fruit Growers Association, in an address before the Puyallup Summer School yesterday. "The new settlers are not going to stay if things do not suit them. In the last few years when the new settlers were coming into the United States the old settlers were going on up to Canada. Would it not have been better to retain the old settlers?

The best way is to teach our people to work co-operatively and market their products as a body. The truth of the matter is that the people living on farms can conduct their business along the same lines as the people in the cities, consolidating to better fit themselves to take care of conditions, just as the steel and coal-oil trusts organized. While I do not believe a dishonest trust that is trying to rob the people should be encouraged, I do believe that people on the farms should adopt the same processes in order to get the same results.

There are from 1300 to 1400 members in the Puyallup & Sumner Fruit Growers Association and we are conducting this association on the same line as a bank; you bring your fruit and we give you a receipt for it. You do not know where it is going and you do not care where it goes so long as it is being sold to the best advantage.

We have orders for 45 car loads of red raspberries to be shipped to North Dakota; 545 crates times 45 means a good many crates of raspberries. There is not a single grower in the entire Puyallup Valley who could ship one car load of berries alone. The buyers would buy our berries for just as little as they could buy them and they are the people who make the profits.

Because the Association is so strong it was able to set its own terms and yet secure $18,000.00 from a Chicago dealer for strawberries.

I recognize that the teacher, and especially the teacher of the rural school can do more to build up the country than any other class of people. They are in position to teach co-operation, to get into touch with the people and point out to them how they can better themselves.

A BURLESQUE FLEET.

"Is Secretary of the Navy Daniels has any sense of humor he will have some use for it when he sees the Pacific fleet assembled in San Deigo on July 25. There will be three cruisers, four submarines, which will gallantly stick to the surface to help out the show, the gunboat Alert, and it is hoped to scare up eight more odds and ends to make a 'flotilla.' By keeping them all a few miles apart and steaming slowly during the 'review' it will be possible to have a 'naval pe-rade' that will be several minutes passing 'a given point.' If the humor of the thing strikes the secretary it follows that the seriousness of the situation will appeal to him strongly. It will be a visible demonstration of the fact that the Pacific is itself an unprotected cruiser, while practically the whole battleship strength of the navy is ornamenting the Atlantic."—San Francisco Post.

An exchange says that "there hain't no such thing as politics in Washington." Well, why not be content, then?" "The state seems to be getting along right smart, the people are happy, crops are growing, everybody and his wife are joy riding in the family auto and the country roads are being improved, so what's the use of creating 'nausea' by referring to the absence of political agitation? Let's all be happy for a little time longer."

The Webb law forbidding interstate shipments of liquor into "dry" territory is not a criminal statute and violations of it cannot be prosecuted in United States courts. Attorney General McReynolds has so declared in instructions sent to every United States attorney in the country. The law merely prohibits such interstate traffic and contains no penalty from infractions.

A New York patriot has issued a pamphlet, urging that we speak American, a greater name for the greatest language. What's the matter with talking United States?

A special writer asks: 'Should a woman tell her husband everything?" The question is, how are you going to prove that she does?

The new nickel has evoked much unfriendly criticism, yet the coin might have been a great deal worse. Suppose some cubist had been allowed to furnish the design for it!

PRACTICAL EDUCATION IS A LIVE ISSUE.

Public School System Needs to Get More in Line With Actualities of Life.

How many farmers could take a quantity of mixed seeds, grains, weeds and grasses, separate the different kinds and name them correctly? Not a great many, it would be found on trial, and yet that is one of the things that the pupils entered in the Boy and Girls Agricultural and Industrial Contest will do this fall at the Spokane Fair, and do in a surprisingly correct and accurate manner.

Mr. J. L. Dumas, state organizer of the Boys and Girls Agricultural and Industrial Contest explained something of its methods of procedure to the Puyallup Summer School yesterday.

The contest is of state-wide interest and the way in which it is to be carried on will test fairly the real value of the work which the pupils have been having in agricultural, manual training, domestic science and domestic art. The work of making garments, constructing furniture and cooking meals is to be carried on before anyone who wishes to watch operations, a certain amount of work being done in a given time. It is certainly directly in the line of the live question of practical education.

"We want to get at something which will draw people's attention to the fact that boys and girls ought to know these practical things," said Mr. Dumas, in his address. "We want to connect these things up to the practical things in life, and we believe that this will bring them up against the real thing. We cannot hope to accomplish much good with our contest in schools where they have formal teaching of agriculture, domestic science and domestic art and an interested community backing them, willing to grasp and back them in what they are doing. Those are not the people we are endeavoring to reach.

We have felt for a good many years that there was something radically wrong with our public school system; that it needed re-directing; that we needed to get it more in line with the actualities of life in order that it might better prepare the boys and girls to meet the stern realities of life.

We are taking an educational survey of the state of Washington and the question of efficiency, which plays such an important part, and shows us that something must be done to eliminate some of these useless things. We ought to inquire into the matter of how much useless matter we are teaching in our public schools.

The time is coming when what we teach in school is not going to be left so much to the school teacher. There are other people who have some ideas on education. We want all the people who have an interest in education to be able to think and act intelligently in this relation and not go astray.

The problem of the state course of study is one that will be worked out in the couse of the next two years. Why should not the parents be interested as much as anybody else. The teacher cannot go ahead and do things unless the people will back her up in what she is doing."

One of the smart social functions of the week was the reception complimentary to Mrs. Fitzhenry given Thursday afternoon by Mrs. Frank and Mrs. Maurice Fisher. The rooms were all profusely decorated with flowers and vines, being most attractive. The dining room table was presided over by Mrs. R. D. Willson and Mrs. Alfred Jensen, while the Misses Athlene Fisher, Margaret Delabarre and Julia Seckins assisted in serving. About sixty ladies called during the afternoon.

Miss Watson, Miss Burrows and Rev. Phillips leave today for Seattle to attend the Epworth League Convention. Florence Pettit and Mary Brown will go Sunday.

Mr. H. C. Pettit and wife returned from Seattle Sunday, after spending several days there.

PARCEL POST TO BE MADE MORE EFFICIENT

One-Third Total Parcels Are Handled Within First and Second Zones.

The postoffice department has announced several changes in the parcel post regulations, effective August 15th, chief of which is the increase from 11 to 20 pounds in the maximum weight of parcels and a reduction in the postage rates in the radius of 150 miles from the home office.

"The first zone shall include the territory within the local delivery of any office and the first zone rate of postage will apply to all parcel post mail deposited at any office for local delivery by city carrier or on rural routes emanating from that postoffice.

"The second zone shall include the remainder of what is now the first zone together with the present second zone, and shall include all the units of area located in whole or in part within a radius of approximately 150 miles from any given postoffice.

"The rate of postage on parcels weighing in excess of four ounces in the proposed first zone will be reduced from 5 cents for the first pound and 1 cent for each additional pound or fraction thereof to 5 cents for the first pound and 1 cent for each additinal two pounds or fraction thereof and the rate for the second one will be reduced from 5 cents for the first pound and 3 cents for each additional pound, or 6 cents for the first additional pound or fraction thereof to 5 cents for the first pound and 1 cent for each additional pound or fraction thereof.

"The maximum weight of parcel post packages will be increased from 11 pounds to 20 pounds, the increase of weight to apply only to the first and second zones. No change has been made in the size or form of packages."

Statistics collected by the department show that quite one-third of the total parcels mailed are handled within the proposed first and second zones, and the postmaster general believes the increase in the weight limit and the reduction of the rates of postage in the first and second zones, as proposed, will benefit greatly more than one-third of the public and that the producer, the consumer and the local merchant will profit materially by the changes. He points out, too, that the farmers who were led to anticipate much benefit from the parcel post service will be afforded a cheap means of transporting their products directly to the consumer, and that the local merchant whose trade does not justify the employment of extensive delivery service also will be benefitted, as the system will put him in close touch with his customers.

Postal experts estimate that with the proposed changes in the parcel post system in operation, the revenues of the postoffice department will be so increased as to show a substantial surplus at the end of the current fiscal year.

MRS. A .A. RICHARDSON.

Death Came to Her Relief at Port Townsend, Sunday, July 20th.

Mrs. A. A. Richardson passed away at the Northwest Sanitorium in Port Townsend at two p. m. Sunday, July 20th. She had been a great sufferer for a number of months and her death was not unexpected. Her maiden name was Melissa Orr and she was born in Hastings county, Ontario in 1863. By her first marriage she had three children: James, Alton and Grace Gibson, all of whom survive her and are residents of Port Angeles. Throughout their mother's long illness they were constantly at her bedside, securing for her the best of medical attention and doing everything in their power to prolong her life and make her last days as peaceful and comfortable as possible. Her second husband, A. A. Richardson also survives her and was in Townsend at the time of her death. Funeral serveces were conducted in the I. O. O. Hall by the Eastern Star, of which order Mrs. Richardson had long been a faithful member. The floral offerings were many and beautiful, testifying the love and high regard in which the deceased was held. A number of handsome set pieces were from the club and lodges to which she belonged. Burial was in Ocean View Cemetery, the beautiful Eastern Star service being used there also,—and so was laid to her last, long sleep, a loving mother, faithful wife, kind and generous neighbor and friend.

Complimentary to Mrs. FitzHenry, Mrs. Morganroth is entertaining the Bridge Club this afternoon, of which Mrs. FitzHenry was a member.

GROWING SEQIUM SEEKS TOWN INCORPORATION

Desire to Insure Permanent Trading Center in East End Prompts the Move.

Sequim citizens are petitioning the county board for an election to determine the question of incorporating the town. The official notice, published in the Press gives the proposed limits of a townsite one mile square and states that it contains 300 people.

The Press says:

The petition will be presented to the board next month and the statements made in the petition as to population, boundaries, etc., will be investigated by the board. The signatures to the petition will be examined and checked over and no doubt the petition will be held for 30 or 60 days by the board before any further action is taken thereon.

If satisfied that the law as to town incorporation is fully compiled with the commissioners will order an election which will probably be in November or December, so that the new town government, if established at the election, will go into operation next year. Nothing can be done by a town government here for a year or more after its establishment except preserve order, look out for fire protection and public health and get local odinances shaped for the progressive and systematic growth of the town.

Sequim is growing. Our citizens desire to build up a city and cautiously and carefully to build it right. We are taking this step in time to insure the permanent establishment of a trading center in the east end of the county and to get our town government in operation as an efficient and helpful force in building up a good big town.

Comparative Digestibility of Food

Made with different Baking Powders

From a Series of Elaborate Chemical Tests:

An equal quantity of bread (biscuit) was made with each of three different kinds of baking powder—cream of tartar, phosphate, and alum—and submitted separately to the action of the digestive fluid, each for the same length of time.

Bread made with Royal Cream of Tartar Powder:

100 Per Cent. Digested

Bread made with phosphate powder:

68¼ Per Cent. Digested

Bread made with alum powder:

67¾ Per Cent. Digested

These tests, which are absolutely reliable and unprejudiced, make plain a fact of great importance to everyone: Food raised with Royal, a cream of tartar Baking Powder, is shown to be entirely digestible, while the alum and phosphate powders are found to largely retard the digestion of the food made from them.

Undigested food is not only wasted food, but it is the source of very many bodily ailments.

Ballard's SNOW LINIMENT

Is the Right Remedy for All Abrasions of the Flesh.

If the wound is cleansed and this liniment applied promptly, the healing process begins at once and the wound heals from the inside outwardly, thus performing a perfect cure that leaves no scar. If the wound heals on the outside too quickly, pus forms under the surface and breaks out into a running sore that is hard to cure and inevitably leaves a bad scar.

Owners of blooded stock prefer this liniment to all others for that reason, and they use it not only on fine animals, but on human flesh, as it does its work quickly and thoroughly.

Miss Myrtle Madison left Monday to spend a few days visiting with friends in Seattle, Snohomish and Monroe, and will possibly take a trip to Tacoma for a few days before returning. Miss Madison has worked hard and steady at the office of the Angeles Telephone & Telegraph Company, of this city, and certainly is entitled to a good outing.

John Dierssen of Vancouver, B. C., who is spending a month in Port Angeles for the purpose of selling his property here and taking an outing to the hot springs, says that last year he visited Europe instead of taking his usual vacation here and while there spent some time at Carlsbad. He thinks Carlsbad cannot compare with the hot springs in Clallam county.

THIS WEEK IN HISTORY.

The news of twenty years ago, from the Democrat Leader, John W. Troy, editor.

J. H. Johnson, John Dippold and August Nelson were drowned off the mouth of Morse Creek, their sloop having overturned in a storm. The milkman at Morse's ranch brought word into town Tuesday morning that he had heard cries Monday afternoon and evening and had seen the men clinging to the bottom of the boat. Dyke and Campbell left on horseback as soon as they learned of the disaster and followed the beach to Seibert's creek, where they saw the sloop with one man still clinging to the mast. They recognized him to be August Nelson, but he was so overpowered with joy that he seemed to lose his mental poise and taking off his coat, jumped into the water and was seen no more. The terrible struggle of the past twenty-four hours had completely exhausted his strength. Editor Troy said " that later developments revealed the astounding fact that Kriebel was not the only eyewitness of the tragedy. A man by the name of Jas. Allen who was employed on the farm also turned a deaf ear to the piteous entreatries of the drowning men. It seems almost incomprehensible that a being with a spark of humanity would not atetmpt the rescue o this fellow men in distress. If too cowardly to attempt the rescue himself, the least he could possibly have done would have been to notify others more humanely disposed."

The contractors are making progress with the construction of three new school buildings. The Lincoln street school, two stories high will cost $1,553. Mr. Gherke is the architect, Eben Merrill is the contractor and S. Land the architect on the Tumwater Heights school which will cost $1,343. The Pine Hill Heights building, also two stories, will cost $1,727.

Postoffices have been established at Dickey Lake and Royal.

Petition of Wm. Anderson and eleven others for an appropriation to purchase 10 or 12 cans of powder to blast a trail around the rock at McDonald bridge was refused by the county board—and the thousands who have since taken the trail to Geyser Valley and further up the Elwha have had to climb over the mountain ridge in consequence.

The P. A. Lumber Co. secured a contract for 3,000,000 feet of lumber for railway building in the Sandwich Islands.

The Port Angeles Water Company petitioned the court to restrain city from work on Fraser creek, where the city is constructing a pipe line to bring water from Little River for use in the development of electric light and power.

While Mr. Broughton was assisting Mr. McDonald with the hay last Saturday, he met with a painful accident, three fingers being caught in the ropes that operate the hay fork and were badly crushed.

While passing thru De Fuca on their way from Mt. Pleasant to Quilcene, Mrs. King and daughters, Ana and Mrs. Pollander and husband stopped and spent a few hours with their friend, Mrs. Clevenger.

Among the most interesting of the lectures yet delivered at the Washington State College Summer School at Puyallup was that of Dr. W. G. Eliot of Portland, who took Sex Education as the subject of his address. Mr. Eliot decared that sex education is necessary and must be brought about through the co-operation of church, school and home. The work of instructing boys and girls in these matters has been left to parents, who persistently refuse the responsibility, and it must now be undertaken by others and carried out by organized efforts rather than by individuals working alone.

Agents of the New York Factory Inspection Commission have made the discovery that many thousands of high grade cigaretts are made in tenement houses, among which contagious diseases are found. The women of the house employs odd moments between housework and caring for sick children in rolling these "coffin nails," licking them with her tongue to hold the paper together.

This disclosure may not suggest anything to the youth and their elders, who smoke cigaretts, but it ought to.

Mr. John Fisher, Jr. returned from Seattle last Sunday, where he had been for a few days.

SNOHOMISH CLUB PROTESTS AGAINST MISREPRESENTATION

Stranger Should Buy a Tent and Move Into Residence Section on the Hill.

From the last issue of the Tribune-Times, we of the Snohomish Club, find that a complaint has been registered against our organization by a man named Mettler. In his complaint he alleges that the Club is a public nuisance, a detriment to society, and should exist no longer. We of the Club take issue with Mr. Mettler regarding the merits of the Club. This Club was originally organized about a year and a half ago by the crew of the Snohomish in order that:

First: That not having homes in the city would have a suitable place for their civilian clothes.

Second: Owing to the lack of places of amusement in said city of Port Angeles (there being at that time only one moving picture show and numerous thirst emporiums where the uniform was welcome) it was considered that the club would be a greater attraction than said booze joints and that the boys could spend their evenings in a more enjoyable and economical manner.

The results derived from the club have been very satisfactory. The boys are better off, both morally financially now than they were previous to the organization of the club and we have had the hearty support of the leading citizens of the city. Now after a year and a half, this well-meaning, but misguided and narrow-minded man, posing as a true hearted citizen, who is, by the way, NOT one of our closest neighbors, sees fit to go before the worthy council and insult our organization. Perhaps he considers us to be of less benefit to the city than non-tax-paying transients and curbstone real estate brokers. But if this champion of the better element would pause and consider that the pay roll on this ship is something over thirty thousand dollars ($30,000) annually, and, that at least seventy-five per cent of this is spent in this city; and that several of the crew are married and have homes here, he would grant that we are entitled to at least some privileges in the city. We have never met this (?) and only one occasion have we seen him, and that time was when he and some of his friends were occupying seats on their back porch enjoying a (private concert) which was being given by the leading stringed orchestra of this city, composed of members of the Snohomish Club. We hope that the readers of the Tribune-Times will not be misled or get a false impression regarding the true character of the Club by the foolish article which contained the ravings of Mr. Mettler.

Signed,
THE SNOHOMISH CLUB.
