PORT ANGELES OLYMPIC LEADER

VOL. 29. NO. 46. PORT ANGELES, CLALLAM COUNTY, WASHINGTON, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 21, 1913. 5c THE COPY.

NEW ORDINANCES INTRODUCED

City Intends to Profit by Experience Gained In Contracting Business.

Notwithstanding the City Council had been restrained by the Superior Court from passing any repealing ordinances, an interesting session was held Tuesday night. All members except the Sixth ward vacancy were in their seats. Attorney Trumbull appeared before Council in explanation of the action taken by the Power Company in restraining the city officials and stated that was the only thing the Power Company could do to protect its rights, and, he said, "I want to tell you, gentlemen, that the Power Company has rights that cannot be abrogated in any such arbitrary way as proposed."

Dustman had stated that he and other members of the council had thought that the matter of a new franchise with the company had been practically agreed upon, and he was considerably surprised to see the city tied up in the matter with a court order. He thought, too, possibly the matter could yet be amicably settled and if so, he would do all he could to effect such settlement. Mr. Dustman moved that the mayor appoint the council as a committee of the whole to meet with the power company before Thursday, day of hearing, to ascertain if a settlement could not be made.

It was at this period that Attorney Trumbull appeared and gave his explanation. He stated that no action had been taken by any member of the council to meet with the power company since the preceeding session when the council after citing Aldwell to appear, had gone just as far as it could go, before giving him a hearing, and the natural suppositon was that the repealing ordinance would be adopted. Up until Monday morning the company was open to negotiations, and without action taken the city would have been in a position to dictate. He said that Mr. Aldwell had told them of the harm they would do, that money raised had been raised upon the contract received from the city; that the company can exist without city contract, but not without upbuilding of entire community. The way to settle the matter is to get together and the power company is open to negotiations.

Dustman's motion then carried by unanimous vote and Wednesday, Nov. 19th, at 10 a. m. was set for time of hearing at council chamber. City expert would be present.

The ordinance committee reported back ordinance for improvement of down town section with recommendation that same do pass. Fisher thereupon moved that the ordinance be read in full upon its third reading A few minor amendments were made and also upon motion of Fisher it was adopted. The estimated cost of work is $170,000.

The School Board petitioned council for a crossing from court house to school grounds, stating that a great many children would use that route and that same was dangerous at present. The Board agreed to furnish all material for a substantial foot bridge if city would pay for work. The petition was granted and street superintendent directed to do the work.

Crossing ordered over Francis at Georgiana.

A. B. Wolfe granted permission to build iron stand in front of Crescent Cafe.

Offer by H. R. Johnson to dig graves at less rate than they cost at present brought forth statement that our cemetery ordinance is impractical in certain provisions and clerk was directed to look among his files for ordinance considered some years ago but not passed.

An ordinance was presented by attorney providing for payment for all labor and material used in contracts with city, also providing that bonds shall run to city instead of state as heretofore. Contracts shall not be assigned according to ordinance without consent in writing of city and no extensions will be made in time of completion without consent of sureties on bond.

An ordinance was also presented by attorney providing regulations of public service corporations within city. All water, power, gas and like corporations shall file with city plats of mains, poles, etc., and additional plats showing extensions shall be made and approved before extensions are made. Telephone and telegraph poles shall be placed in alleys where possible.

The following election officers were named:

First ward: Polling place old Central school, J. W. Hooker, Mrs. C. A. Wood, Mrs. P. E. Graves.

Second: City hall; C. P. Brown, J. M. Davis, Hartley Goodwin.

Third: DeSwarte's office; Mrs. Homer Filion, Mrs. J. McKee, Oscar McLaughlin.

Fourth: McKechnie's residence; S. E. Stakemiller, Mrs. Jessie Webster Miss Florence Elliott.

Fifth: Nicholson Bld., E. W. Wood, Jas. Fitzgerald, John Hitch.

Sixth: Martin's Hall; Ernest O'Brien, Mrs. J. E. Cochran, Mrs. Wm. Filion.

The proposed lease of Ediz Hook spit and tide lands, two miles in length and containing 600 acres was read to council by Mr. Ritchie, who had been to Washington as a representative of the Commercial Club. The lease is direct to city for 99 years, with the provision that as payment therefor the city shall construct a public highway of macadam to the end of the spit and all expense or tax for improvements on same to be borne by city or its sub-lessees.

A resolution defining method of issue of $36,000 refunding bonds was presented by Fisher at request of bonding house and adopted.

The Iroquois is now leaving Angeles at 2:00 p. m. and all points between here and Seattle a half hour later than formerly. The Sioux has been discontinued.

SUPERIOR COURT IN SESSION

Assault Cases Settled Without Jury. Shipped Liquor Into Dry Territory.

Owing to the settlement of the two criminal cases which were to have been tried before the Superior Court and the Jury, the jury called for the November term was dismissed this week, and only matters coming before the Court were heard.

G. M. Rouse charged with assault in the 2nd degree upon the person of Lyman Munro, now deceased, agreed to plead guilty to a cnarge of assault in the 3rd degree. He rehearsed before the Court what really happened in the assault alleged, and was fined $100 and costs.

J. W. Butcher charged with like assault upon the person of Cy. Williams, and released upon $100 bonds some months ago, came before the Court and plead guilty and was fined $50 and costs.

Charles Davis, who would possibly also have been tried before the jury in the event he was tried at all, came before the Court and plead guilty to giving intoxicating liquor to one Johnny George. Davis himself is an Indian of good repute and his statement convinced the officers and the Court that he did not realize that he was violating any law, and he having served 11 days in jail, the charge was withdrawn.

I. C. Rowland and J. A. McLeod, wholesale liquor dealers of Tacoma, were haled into court for shipping liquor into dry territory. It was shown that Jas. Cleveland had sent in an order from the Hoh for a shipment of liquor to him there. The liquor was inadvertently shipped to Clallam Bay, the intention being to ship to Hoh, via Clallam Bay. Defendants plead guilty and were assessed $60.00 and costs.

Monday morning the Olympic Power Co. appeared in Court and obtained a restraining order returnable Thursday, prohibiting the City of Port Angeles from in any manner adopting any ordinance interfering with the franchise of said Power Co. with the City. The petition sets out after reciting the purposes of the Power Co. and the ordinance granting the franchise, that the Power Co. is willing, able and ready to furnish the City electric current in accordance therewith; that the reason it has not been able to do so before was beyond human effort and not from any neglect; that City has permitted the com-

NEW BUILDINGS COMMENCED

Evident that Winter Months Will Not Cause Cessation of Work in Residence Districts.

One would think that with the approach of winter and the rainy season building operations in the residential sections of the city would cease for a time. But such is not the case. On the contrary, there seems to be more activity along this line at present than at any previous period. This is to be accounted for by the fact that there are more strangers and homeseekers in the city at the present time than on any previous occasion, and the demand for houses to rent is daily increasing. Only yesterday we learned of an instance where a gentleman and his wife, newcomers, had taken up their temporary home in his office rooms on Front street, being unable to find a suitable house in the city in which to move their household goods.

Among those who have commenced building operations during the past week, or who contemplate building at once, is W. B. Ross, Pine Hill. Mr. Ross has lumber on the ground, corner Ninth and Pine, for a modern bungalow 24x24 with leanto 20x14. Tilly & Pym, contractors and builders, will do the work. Mr. Ross will also, about January 1st, commence a building on the corner of Sixth and Cherry streets.

John S. McKee also contemplates the building of a modern bungalow, for rent, on his lots on Ninth street, near Pine. The building will be of good size with concrete foundation.

The D. D. Huddleston bungalow on Pine Hill is about ready for the plasterers. The structure is large and roomy, with a broad veranda extending around two sides of the building. The outside finish is in the rough, the woodwork stained instead of painted, according to modern methods in the citites.

John Cays is building a cottage on Tenth and Albert.

Geo. Benson is building on Fourth, near A, Lincoln Heights.

The first load of lumber was delivered on the ground Wednesday for the residence W. P. Nichols will build at once on his lots on 9th, near Lincoln.

Work is being rushed on the N. E. Peacock home, 14th, near Pine. It will be remembered that this house was recently destroyed by fire, together with all its contents.

F. M. Pearson will build a new house on his lots 16th and D streets, work to commence at once.

I. Filion is having his lots on C and 9th streets graded, preparatory to building thereon.

K. O. Erickson is also grading his lots on Fourth street between Laurel and Lincoln. While Mr. Erickson has no definite plans for building at present, it is a sure thing that this property will not long remain idle.

Mrs. Kirschberg, mother of Mrs. Julius Kirschberg, proposes the erection of two bungalows on her lots on Caroline street, work having commenced on one of them within the week. These buildings will be for rent.

T. J. Rush is making extensive repairs on his property on Fifteenth, near Boulevard.

E.M. Kelly is building on Eleventh between Vine and Albert.

The case of C. F. Doyle vs. L. G. McBurney was heard yesterday and damages awarded plaintiff in the sum of $250. Doyle, Cashman and McCumber engaged McBurney to take them to the canyon, after which he volunteered to take them to the entrance of the lane leading to Sturdivant's mill. Doyle opened the gate and McBurney, making a quick swerve to miss a tree struck Doyle and dislocated his leg. Doyle spent two weeks in the hospital and lost considerable additional time.

Pedestrians from Lincoln Heights and Pine Hill no longer feel as tho they lived in the backwoods with the bridges all illuminated with the finest lights in the city. To the Woman's Literary Club the credit is due. May they never more walk in darkness.

Mr. Harris of the Front street Racket Store, was a Seattle business visitor the first of the week.

A DEMONSTRATION CAR

Meeting Monday Evening to Make Final Arrangements for Tour.

Through the efforts of the Commercial Club a demonstration car has been secured from the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway, for the purpose of advertising the resources of Port Angeles and Clallam county. Messrs. Chas. J. Tucker and Fred Phillips will represent the Commercial Club in the extensive territory that will be covered by the car in the Central West, the East and the South.

Products of the soil and the ocean will fill the car, and a stereopticon outfit which will show more than one hundred colored slides, illustrative of Port Angeles and Clallam county, will be a part of the equipment employed in graphically exploiting the marvelous wealth of the region. The gentlemen in charge of the car will leave for the East early in December, and their itineracy, which will include all the principal cites in the territory traversed, will consume several weeks.

The enterprise is one which should appeal powerfully to every citizen in Port Angeles and Clallam county, for it will bring prominently before thousands of people the richness and possibilities of our matchless soil and climate.

A special meeting will be held in the Club rooms Monday evening, Nov. 24th, at 8 o'clock, for the purpose of completing final arrangements for the tour. All members of the club and the public generally are invited to attend.

W. S. PEARCE,
Secretary.

CONGREGATIONAL BROTHERHOOD

Rev. Gale of Seattle Made Inspiring Address on National Congregational Convention.

Among the most pleasant and successful of the many delightful social functions of the week was the Congregational Brotherhood dinner and program Monday evening. It was ladies' night, so they were asked to arrange the program and Mrs. Conrad Luppen was appointed chairman of the committee. Rev. Van-Horn of the Plymouth Congregational Church of Seattle accepted an invitation to come and address the Brotherhood on the late national convention of Congregationalists held in Kansas City. Circumstances arose which prevented him from coming so he sent Rev. Gale, who had also been present at the convention and who made a most inspiring and eloquent address, interspersed with many little witticisms and humorous stories. The Kansas City convention was probably one of the most important meetings as regards Congregationalism ever held and all the leading lights and most powerful ministers of this faith in the United States were present. The new rules and regulations adopted unanimously at this great meeting to govern the Church as a whole show a wonderful step forward in progressiveness and broadmindedness. Their confession of faith is so broad and beautiful we publish it, as one would have to be heathenish indeed to find a flaw in it. Rev. Gale was very much impressed with the large gathering at the Brotherhood, the excellence of the dinner served and the entertaining program. He even said he was glad to find it raining on his arrival in Angeles for as a resident of Seattle it made him feel more at home. It is hoped Rev. Gale will pay our little city another visit when we don't have Seattle weather.

The Ladies' Aid are to be congratulated upon the excellence of their dinner and the promptness with which the bevy of pretty waitresses served the guests. Scattered artistically over the snowy table covers were reminders of autumn in the shape of the beautifully colored strawberry leaves, while large bouquets of red berries centered the tables. The near approach of Thanksgiving was suggested by the delicious cranberry jelly and pumpkin pie.

After the guests had been seated at the table, the church choir rendered that inspiring anthem, "We

AGREEMENT REACHED

Satisfactory to Power Company. City Gains Material Advantages by Change.

The amicable adjustment of the controversy between the City Council and the Olympic Power Company relative to the provisions of the franchise furnishes ample reason for general rejoicing and everybody is again happy. As noted elsewhere, the council met with the power people Wednesday morning and were in session until late afternoon, when an agreement was entered into and the court proceeding set ahead pending the putting of the agreement into effect.

By the terms of the agreement reached the life of the grant is extended 25 years from this date; the power company is to deliver power at 66,000 volts to conform with present power station; measurement is made satisfactory to city, meters to be half paid for by the city but all equipment at power station to be property of city; the maximum to be paid for power to be 2c per kilowatt hour with a sliding scale down to one-half cent per kilowatt hour according to amount of juice used by the city; the maximum of power to be given city at $500 per month will be 150 kilowatts continuous service, measurement to be at average of five peak loads instead of one; if failure to provide power for any reason for thirty days, franchise may be cancelled at option of city; power company will file its acceptance and bond for $5000 within 15 days from passage of new grant. City has right to furnish power in any amount and to demand same from company on 30 day notice. The more power the city can use the cheaper the rate for all, hence power may be sold cheaper to manufacturers in any quantity.

The rate agreed upon, while apparently a decided advantage to the city, is the same that General Manager Aldwell had prepared to submit to the public service commission and it would undoubtedly have been granted by that body.

Now that all differences have been peacefully adjusted, it may not be amiss to recall to mind the fact that, two years ago, it was not believed that Port Angeles could possibly make use of $500 worth of power in a single month, at least for many years to come, and that the chief objection to the ordinance at that time was not the rate or the absence of a sliding scale, but the fact that the city was required to contract to pay the sum of $6,000 a year for a term of 25 years for power! Mr. Aldwell insisted he had to have at least that much of a contract in order to do anything at all toward financing the project, and the people of Angeles, becoming imbued with a small measure of his enthusiasm were willing to take a chcance on the future as he saw it!

The building of this splendid plant was generally thought to be at least ten years ahead of its time, even on an investment basis of only a half million. But, inspired with the belief that its development would upbuild this country, Mr. Aldwell addressed himself to the task of inducing capital to take hold of the project. The effort involved tireless energy and unflagging zeal and the citizens of Port Angeles may well felicitate themselves over the completion of this great factor in their material development, and should never be unmindful of the efforts and devotion of its promoter and his enthusiastic co worker, President Glines.

SEATS FOR LECTURE COURSE

Those holding season tickets for the Lecture Course may reserve their seats for the season by calling at Mathewson's Drug Store any time after one o'clock Friday (today). Tickets will be on sale there; and if any have subscribed for them and not received them, they can get them there.

If our city officials had taken one-tenth part the interest on the start in safe-guarding the city's interests when granting franchises, what a lot of trouble would have been saved.

Ten more carloads of machinery, loaded on a car ferry, were received at the Earles' mills Wednesday.

"THE WOLF"

Noted Star in Famous Masterpiece at Opera House Dec. 4.

When Eugene Walter's famous masterpiece, "The Wolf," appears at the opera house on Thursday, Dec. 4, theatergoers will have an opportunity to see the work of the young star, Miss Jessica Ray, who appears in the part of "Hilda MacTavish," the golden-haired daughter of the woman-hating old Scotch settler, "Andrew MacTavish." Miss Ray received her early stage experience in E. H. Southern's company, and has since appeared in leading roles with the best eastern stock companies.

When the western company was organized for the Walter play, the attention of the management was called to this young actress by an eastern dramatic critic and she was engaged for this most difficult role. That the choice was a wise one is satisfactorily proven by the praise critics have showered upon her. She has youth, beauty, and ability of a high order, and is rapidly carving a niche in the hall of dramatic fame.

REMINISCENCSES OF A WEST END TRIP

Fifteen Pupils in Five Districts in a Country Unequaled for Dairying; Poor Roads Cause.

It is claimed by those versed in psychology that suggestions made to one under hypnotic influence will recur to the mind of the subject a long time after he has returned to normal condition and that under these circumstances the source of these suggestions will be unknown and usually considered original ideas. To a certain extent the same process takes place when suggestions are made at a time when his attention is directed with great force toward a given object or a fixed idea. Perhaps one or both of the above phenomena are responsible for the fact that the writer feels his thoughts often revert to the scenes of western Clallam and finds his imagination more or less inflamed by the impressions there received.

Crossing the Calowa river in a canoe managed by two skillful Indian oarsmen the novice experiences a feeling of admiration and pleasure at the graceful and rhythmic movements of these sons of the forest in their native element. The rhythm of the forest and the music of the streams have undoubtedly been communicated to these children of the wilds. It is probably this that makes the artificial life of civilization at times lacking in power to kindle the imagination when compared to the life of these nature's noblemen. Perhaps the progress of civilization has come upon us with such rapid strides that we have not been able to adapt our faculties to the new view points and hence are partially unable to see through this more powerful glass the wonders and the beauties in nature and the traces of God's marvelous handiwork in the operations of the mind of man. To teach this is partly the business of the schools and certainly in western Clallam lie opportunities for inspiration along this line.

The solicitude of the state for the education of its children is nowhere better illustrated than in this section of the country. In spite of the sparse population and poor roads there is not a family in the West End that is deprived of the advantages of a school for the children. The people also appreciate this fact and place a high value upon the privileges thus enjoyed. Remarks have been heard to the effect that these privileges are abused in some instances. Should any one reach out a hand of greed and touch with such unclean hand the treasure that has been placed within his reach for the good of his children let him be held in scorn and contempt by all honest people.

In these small schools a great deal of good work is done in educating children, teachers and parents. Many of the teachers are obliged to ride horseback from 10 to 30 miles to reach their schools over almost impassible trails and there in new and strange surroundings to live seclud-

THE NEWS FROM THE STATE CAPITOL

[From Our Regular Correspondent.]

Olympia, Nov. 19.—Governor Lister, accompanied by State Geologist Landes, last week made a personal inspection of a portion of the territory upon which it is proposed to place water through the Quincy irrigation project. The voters of the state next fall, at the general election, will be called upon to decide whether to authorize the issuance of bonds up to $40,000,000 to carry this project thru to completion. An essential portion of the project is the boring under the Columbia river of a tunnel through which the waters of Lake Wenatchee are to be conveyed toward the arid lands on the other side.

Two cases which probably affect more people than any other two cases ever before the public service commission, are being considered this month. The first is an investigation of the so-called air line long-distance rates proposed by the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company, which are based upon air line mileage irrespective of the mileage of the wire used in the talk. The other big case originated in a complaint brought by the Roslyn Cascade Coal Vo., against the Northern Pacific. This hearing involves the rates on all coal shipped in the state.

Women and girls employed in laundries throughout the state do not receive as good wages as women workers employed in stores, an investigation just completed by the industrial welfare commission indicates. While 55 per cent of the women working in stores received wages of $9 or over each week, only 39 per cent of the laundry workers earn this much, the report shows. This is, evidently, largely due to the fact that only a small per cent of the laundry workers are employed for a full six-day week of 48 hours, while practically all employees of mercantile houses work a full six days.

The state department of agriculture, in an effort to improve the quality of dairy stock and to induce care in handling milk, is attempting to induce leading creameries and large purchasers of milk and cream generally, to grade what they buy and establish different prices for different grades. Flavor and smoothness should be considered as these qualities cannot be attained unless care is given the handling of the milk and cream, and on the other hand, good butter cannot be obtained from cream that does not possess these attributes. Just as it took grain grading to improve the quality of wheat grown by the farmers of eastern Washington, so will milk and cream grading, the department believes, tend to the establishment of higher standards and production of a better quality of dairy products.

Compilations of the state department show that more than a million apple trees, covering some 18,751 acres, came into bearing this year. During each of the next three years almost double this acreage will come into bearing. These figures are based on the plantings of 1909 to 1912, with reasonable deductions for trees failing to reach maturity. That a perplexing marketing problem may result from this anticipated extraordinary increase in production seems not unlikely. This year plantings were less than in 1913.

Governor Lister has appointed a commission consisting of John A. Rea, State Senator Ralph Metcalf and the state chemist, to investigate the feasibility of establishing a state powder factory, to supply farmers at cost with explosives for land clearing. The last legislature made a provisional appropriation of $50,000 for the purpose.

Even the Indians are human, and susceptible to the automobile speed craze. In Wisconsin a sheriff had a machine and had occasion to go out and arrest an Indian for a minor crime. He brought him to jail in an automobile. The sensation to the Indian was new and delightful. When he got back to his tribe he told the rest of the members about the new machine and now all of the Indians are committing minor offenses purely for the purpose of getting a ride and the sheriff is on the verge of insanity.

An old darkey was convinced that a bill rendered him by his butcher was not correct. He complained to the butcher, who said, "Sam, figures don't lie."

"Ah knows dat," said Sam, "but liars do figger."

Port Angeles, Washington

Ordinance No. 424.

An Ordinance, providing for the improvement of parts of certain streets and alleys in the City of Port Angeles, Washington, to-wit: Railroad Avenue, from the west line of Oak street to the west line of Francis street, forty feet in width; Front street from west line of Oak street to east line of Chase street; First street from west line of Oak street to west line of Lincoln street; Oak street between Front and First street; Laurel street from First street to 140 feet north of the north line of Front street; Lincoln street from Railroad Avenue to Third street and Third street from the east line of Lincoln street to Laurel street and the alleys in Blocks 15 and 16 in the Port Angeles Townsite, up to grade, full width, and doing such other work as may be necessary in connection therewith, all in accordance with the plans prepared by the City Engineer, now on file in the office of the City Clerk and hereby adopted, all in accordance with Resolution No. 11 of the City Council, creating a local improvement district therefor, and providing that payment of the cost and expenses of said improvements be made by special assessments upon property in said district, payable by the mode of "Payment by Bonds."

The City Council of the City of Port Angeles do Ordain as follows:

Section 1. That Railroad Avenue from the west line of Oak street to the west line of Francis street shall be improved up to the established grade forty feet in width (Said improvement to be constructed 20 feet on each side of the center of Railroad Avenue.), and the following named streets and alleys in the City of Port Angeles, Washington, shall be improved to established grade full width, within the following named limits, to-wit: Front street from the west line of Oak street to the east line of Chase street, First street from the west line of Oak street to the east line of Lincoln street, Oak street between Front and First streets, Laurel street from First street to 140 feet north of the north line of Front street, Lincoln street from Railroad Avenue to Third street, Third street from the east line of Lincoln street to Laurel street and the alley between Oak and Lincoln streets in Blocks 15 and 16 of Port Angeles Townsite, by piling, capping, planking, grading, regrading, clearing, grubbing, filling, gravelling, constructing drains, culverts, bulkheads, retaining walls, crossings and sidewalks, and doing such other work as may be necessary in connection therewith, all in accordance with plans prepared by the City Engineer, now on file in the office of the City Clerk and which are hereby adopted, and in accordance with Resolution No. 11 of the City Council.

Sec. 2. That the cost and expense of said improvement including all necessary and incidental expenses shall be borne by and assessed against the property included in the assessment district hereinafter created, in accordance with law. The City of Port Angeles shall not be liable in any manner for any portion of the cost and expense of said improvements.

Sec. 3. That there is hereby established a local improvement district, to be called Local Improvement District No. 11, which said district is described as follows:

"All property between the termini of said improvements abutting upon, adjacent, vicinal or proximate to such portion of such streets, avenue and alleys to a distance back from the marginal lines thereof, as provided by law.

Sec. 4. Bonds bearing interest at the rate of 7 per cent per annum, payable on or before ten years from the date of issuance shall be issued in payment of the cost and expenses of said improvements, which bonds shall be redeemed by the collection of special assessments to be levied and assessed upon the property within said district, payable in ten equal annual installments, with interest at the rate of 7 per cent per annum, under the mode of "Payment by Bonds" as defined by law and the ordinances of the City of Port Angeles. These bonds shall be delivered to the contractor in redemption of warrants on the Local Improvement District Fund, issued on estimates of the City Engineer, or the City of Port Angeles may, at its election, sell said bonds and make such redemption in cash, warrants.

Sec. 5. This ordinance shall take effect and be in force after its passage and from and after five days after its publication according to law.

A wiskey panic is predicted in 1914 by some distillers on account of over production. What a whiskey panic will amount to, or what shape it will assume is hard to figure out. We always supposed whiskey panics were purely personal matters.

Wall street is up in the air. The bankers frankly admit that the income tax law is to deep for them and they were in trouble as it went into effect on the first. If Wall street is in trouble what must be in store for the country editor?

It took 31,000 tons of coal to supply electricity to a Kansas institution housing 800 people. At the same time the electric light company of Topeka used 25,000 tons of coal to supply heat, light, power, street car and water service for 25,000 people. That is the difference between public and private utilities.

The famous Eiffel tower in Paris, the highest structure in the world, built during the exposition only as an ornament,or curiosity, and which was about to be torn down a few years ago, is now considered one of the most valuable assets of France. On account of its height it hasbecome the center of the wireless telegraphy of the world.

From the telegraphic dispatches we learn that a certain nobleman has offered to sell to the government of England 200,000 acres of his forest reserves for $10 per acre. Also that Andrew Carnegie recently purchased a large piece of land for $5 per acre. This is in the densely populated country of England. The dispatches also state that the taxation on this forest or game preserve is only nine pence per acre, or eighteen cents. Under the laws of England a growing tree cannot be cut, consequently the land cannot be used for agricultural purposes. Think of it!—land with heavy timber at $10 per acre. No wonder the suffragettes are throwing dead cats in public meetings at lawmakers who display such asinity.

Port Angeles might well follow the example set by the enterprizing citizens of Raymond in the taking of a census of the city. We may have 4,000 or 4,500 population, but such claims are always taken with a grain of salt by those who know how estimates shrink when a count is made. In Raymond the ministers worked with the Commercial Club and a count was made in one day. After the work was concluded the workers who numbered about 75 were treated to a cafeteria lunch in the club rooms by the Commercial club. The result will have to be checked and tabulated before figures can be given out. Results thus obtained will carry weight in advertising a growing city.

An eastern paper says that a disgusted Iowan who recently came from California says that the trouble out there is it is "Ten per cent reality and ninety per cent boom." It says the people out there are beginning to find out something is the matter. "The Los Angeles Record is printing a department headed "What is the matter with Los Angeles.' While the railroad and real estate boomers are prosperous the common people are far from that state. The cost of living is 15 per cent higher than in any other city and wages are 20 per cent lower, because the place and whole coast is overrun with men who want work and are willing to work for anything." It is evident our eastern friend has never been in the Northwest, where the highest wages in America are being paid today, and the trend constantly upward.

The state of Washington produced as large a crop of apples this year as Oregon, California, Idaho and Montana combined. Its wheat crop was greater than the total of that of Oregon, Idaho and Montana. It stands in the front rank of the foremost states in the union in the matter of public education. Is it any wonder that our population has grown 120 per cent the past decade? But greater things are in store. It will be the greatest dairy and hog raising state in the Union The present problem is to create a good foundation for future government, but we should not make the burden of public improvements too heavy for the next ten years.--Northwest Horticulturist.

Germany, with a land area less than Texas and with a population of three-quarters as much as the United States is able to feed nine-tenths of her population upon stuff grown within her own borders. The great bulk of the importation of her food stuff is the meat and that nation are not great meat eaters as compared with this country. The farms are all small as compared with those of the United States but the farming is more intensive and every foor is made to count in crops that average much more than in this country. We have a good deal to learn from the old country.

In Milwaukee Messrs. Szbezynski and Szczerbinski are candidates for aldermen. Whenever a voter, other than a Pole, is asked whom he is going to vote for he simply says nothing and passes on.

In his Mobile speech President Wilson said: "If a president pays too much attention to being re-elected it is difficult for him to be worth re-electing." A truism that applies locally as well as nationally.

NO COMMON GROUND

The Seattle Sun asks "What's the matter with the Progressives?" then proceeds to state that they seem to be disintegrating. To justify this latter conjecture it mentions the reported withdrawal of Senator Norris, of Nebraska, and that of five other place hunters from the Bull Moose ranks.

Surley, the Sun is unnecessarily alarmed. It certainly remembers that the Progressives polled over four million votes in the late national election. In Washington we know there has been no defection and we have the assurance of Progressive newspapers, magazines and speakers that there has been none in the eastern states. There is but one conclusion, the Progressive party as a whole is growing steadily, gaining both in point of numbers and in scope of influence in all parts of the nation.

Yesterday's press dispatches contained the report of an effort on the part of some political leaders to reunite the factions of the Republican party. It is proposed by them to place Supreme Court Justice Hughes in the field as a candidate for the presidency as a bid for Progressive support. True, Justice Hughes is both progressive and honest, but he is a Republican and is committed to Republican policies, which are not Progressive policies.

If the Republican leaders would first reconcile themselves to the fact that Progressives are more interested in political principles than in the spoils of office, they would make better progress in reuniting the partisan factions. This could be done by making a study of the Progressive platform and striving to comprehend that it is a "program" to be kept and not a lot of false promises to catch voters. If the Republicans really want to affiliate with the progressives, they should first repent of their political sins and abandon their sinful practices. The suggestion to nominate some honest man for office with the sinister presence of Barnes, Guggenheim, Penrose, Root and Lorimer in the near background, shows a lack of sincerity.

The Outlook holds with nearly all the leading magazines of the nation that a union of the Progressives and Republicans is impossible. There is no common ground on which the two parties can meet. Their political principles as well as partisan practices are not at all alike. The issues of today are entirely economic, and the attitude of the three parties in this relation may be represented as combination, competition and co-operation. The Republicans are largely responsible for the present economic system of combination of capital on the one hand and combination of labor on the other; the Democrcats are now striving to destroy these combinations by restoring competition; while the Progressives are awaiting the opportunity to make the experiment or co-operation. —Western Woman's Outlook.

More strangers coming into our city every day and the demand for modern houses to rent is steadily on the increase. If some of these oldtimers owning 200 or 300 lots would sell some of them at moderate prices and invest the money in a few good houses or bungalows, it would be a paying investment for them and a great inducement for strangers coming here looking around for a location to decide to stay with us.

ORDER TO SHOW CAUSE

Why Order of Sale or of Mortgage of Real Estate Should Not Be Made.

In the Superior Court of the State of Washington for Clallam County

In the Matter of the Estate of Bodil Christine Vind, Deceased.

H. S. Ralston, administrator of the estate of Bodil Christine Vind, having filed his petition herein, duly verified, praying for an order to sell or mortgage all or a portion of the real estate of said deceased for the purposes therein set forth, and it appearing to the court from said petition that there is no personal property belonging to said estate with which to pay the outstanding debts of said deceased and the debts and expenses of administration; and it appearing that, therefore, it is necessary to sell or mortgage the whole or some portion of the real estate of said deceased to provide funds for the payment of such debts and the costs of administration;

Now, therefore, it is ordered by the Court that all persons interested in the estate of said deceased appear before said court on the 5th day of January, 1914, at 9:30 o'clock in the forenoon of said day, at the court room of said Superior Court, in the City of Port Angeles, County of Clallam, State of Washington, then and there, or as soon thereafter as to the court may be convenient, to show cause why an order should not be granted to said administrator to sell at private sale or mortgage such of the real estate of said deceased as the court may order, as shall be necessary, and that a copy of this order be published at least four successive weeks in the Olympic-Leader, a newspaper of general circulation printed and published in said Clallam County, Washington. Done in open court this 18th day of November, 1913.

JOHN M. RALSTON, Judge.

DENATURED ALCOHOL

If Senator Lane can bring about an amendment of the denatured alcohol law which will permit every farmer to produce his own fuel from the waste products of his own farm, he will confer a boon which will revolutionize not only the farming but the automobile industry. The great need today is a cheap substitute for gasoline. Use of that once-despised by-product of petroleum has so immensely increased with the use of automobiles that it has now become the chief product and kerosene is the by-product. The price of gasoline has risen to such a figure as to be a serious consideration to owners of automobiles and an objection to their purchase. Search is being made for a substitute and the Society of Motor Manufacturers and Traders of London has offered a prize of $10,000 for a new fuel.

When the present denatured alcohol law was passed, we were promised a fuel which could be manufactured on every farm at a cost of a few cents a gallon from farm waste. But Congress was then under the control of men who were adepts in the art of appearing to do something for the people while they actually guarded the interests of the trusts. They hedged about the manufacture of denatured alcohol with restrictions which rendered an investment of $12,000 to $20,000 necessary. Even with these restrictions denatured alcohol has been put on the market at half the price which was previously paid for wood alcohol. The Oregon senator estimates that it can be made from waste products on every farm with a still costing about $250 and can then be taken to a central plant to be decentralized. The residue of the distillate is also valuable as a fertilizer.

South Bend schools had an overall day recently and the youngsters appeared at school in the graceful blue garments. Those who refused to appear thus clad were unkindly treated, one youth being immersed in a rain barrel because of his dressiness.

Down in Tacoma the Woodmen of the World have hung up a turkey, a goose, and a chicken as prizes for a masquerade; but then, Tacoma is a city and they can afford to blow themselves.

REMINISCENCES OF A WEST END TRIP

ed for many months. These teachers are surely not overpaid.

The most difficult part of the road in visiting the schools of the West End is the trail up the Dicky river, along lake Ozette and thence to the Quillayute prairie. On this circuit there are five schools, Districts No.s 9, 56, 47, 20, and 55. In these five districts there were altogether fifteen pupils. To one not acquainted with conditions it would seem a waste of money not to consolidate, but even though these districts were formed into one and managed by one Board the same number of schools would have to be maintained or some of the pupils board away from home, as the condition of the country trails (there are no roads) makes transportation impossible. And, by the way the people of Ozette feel slighted because the officials have not made greater efforts to give them a good road from Clallam Bay. What justice there is in these criticisms is not for the writer to say. Certain it is that when—at no distant day it is to be hoped—there is a good road from Clallam Bay through the Ozette or Dicky river country to the Quillayute prairie it will render accessible to settlers a stretch of land that is perhaps unequaled anywhere for vegetable and dairy purposes.

The writer had the great pleasure to ride the length of lake Ozette from north to south in Mr. Lovelace's launch. He also enjoyed the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Borseth on the shores of the lake and was also entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Klaboe and Mr. O. Boe. On one occasion he listened to stories by an old resident of how the Indians believe that a giant monster lives in this lake, having been left there some time when the river which connects it with the ocean two and one-half miles distant was broader and deeper than now. Suggestions during the telling of this tale are reproduced in the following form. Readers are asked to pardon this poetic splurge in treating a subject so fanciful.

AN INDIAN LEGEND

On lake Ozette, when winds are still
And sunshine streams through wood and hill,
The heavens smile;
While murmurs soft from sylvan shore
And whisperings of woodland lore
The hours beguile.

But when from neighboring rock-ribbed shore
Of ocean vast the breakers roar
Disconsolate;
And angry storm clouds' murky form
Moves onward with approaching storm
O're lake Ozette

This would-be rival of th' raging ocean
Displays a wild and frenzied motion,
And then, ye gods!
The monster sleeping in the deep,
Begins to rouse up from his sleep,
And blinks and nods.

This hideous creature dreams that he
Is back within the open sea
In ocean caves.
Like fabled dragon semi-snake
Emerging from the seething lake
He whips the waves.

Like searchlight through the foamy spray
His glaring eyes the scene survey.
He upward leaps.
This monster rears his uncouth form
And roars e'en louder than the storm
That round him sweeps.

But soon as storm and waves subside
The monster slinks away to hide
In waters deep.
And there he rests his ponderous form
And feasts on victims of the storm
Until he sleeps.

Of human life one entire span
Has passed away on Ozette's strand
Since this occurred.
But from the tribes at Neah Bay
A few can still recall the day
With memory blurred.

They think that monster dwells there yet
Beneath the waters of Ozette,
And this, it's said,
Gives credence to this tale of yore,
That lake Ozette does nevermore
Give up its dead.

GET THE "ANGELES SPIRIT"

A Duty We Owe to Ourselves and Our Church to Welcome Every Newcomer.

When Mr. Richardson, the noted publicity expert, was in Angeles almost two years ago, one of the points he laid greatest stress upon was the necessity of cultivating the acquaintance of the new people who come into our city and helping to make them feel at home. If they come here and are lonely and homesick they are sure to discourage others who would wish to come, but if they like the people and are hospitably treated they will want their friends to come here also. Anyone who has ever been homesick knows it is about the worst sickness in the world and the best cure for it is the cheerful companionship of some congenial soul, one who helps you to forget for the time being the many pleasant associations of the old home in pointing out the many attractions of the new one and its bright and cheerful prospects for the future. At the whist tournament given by the Women's Auxiliary a couple of weeks ago, it was remarked by many that almost half of the large company present seemed to be strangers or newcomers to our city. An effort was made by the committee in charge to introduce as many as possible but in the short time they could not get around to everyone. We mention this instance to show that there are many more strangers in our city than most people realize and every week is bringing in more new families. What is our duty to these strangers? This week the writer made the acquaintance of several sweet, attractive women who said they had lived here several months and had only had two or three callers. They told of one young woman who had come here a bride, far from her own people and home, and who was suffering with lonliness and homesickness. Another family had moved to Seattle because the woman was so lonely last winter she couldn't think of spending another here. Isn't this rather a reflection on our churches, social and fraternal organizations? Ladies, let us hunt up these strangers within our gates and welcome them to our city by calling and bringing to them words of cheer and comfort. We all were strangers in a strange land once ourselves, and doubtless still remember with a particular affection our first callers and kind neighbors. Angeles ladies have always been considered very hospitable but the rapid growth of the city the past year and the wide distances between the residence sections has made it difficult for them to reach all the strangers, many of whom are located out quite a distance from the business center.

OF INTEREST TO PORT ANGELES

The Gregory-Savage Mining property adjacent to Port Angeles is now in a fair way to commence active and permanent development within the next sixty or ninety days. Negotiations are being completed with Los Angeles capitalists looking to a suitable plant, transportation, and a steady output from the ores of the property. Mr. M. J. Gregory and E. D. Gallaher leave tonight for Los Angeles and Arizona on business connected with the above mentioned property. This is the third examination of this property by Mr. E. D. Gallaher and through him the deal is being consummated.

The ladies of St. Andrews Guild will hold a bazaar at the opera house the afternoon and evening of December 4th and 5th. Fancy work of all kinds on sale, also plum puddings, cakes and pies. tf pany to go ahead with the work of construction after the time allowed for the furnishing of power with the full reliance that said city would stand by the conditions of the grant and contract, notwithstanding the delay in performance, and is now estopped at this late date; that unless restrained city will cancel the franchise of said company and remove the poles of the company and do irrepairable damage to the financial affairs of said corporation, as evidenced by notice to appear and show cause why grant should not be cancelled; that Power Co. had not been given a hearing and City had refused to give it a hearing.

In Chas. Fitzgerald vs. J. A. Adams and H. Fitzgerald, Court allowed motion to strike complaint as far as counter damages are concerned, without prejudice to another suit to collect alleged claim. It is understood the case will be dismissed.

In case of Ardist Priest vs. A. C. Petridge for damages on false guarantee in sale of motor truck Court refused to allow striking of complaint but ordered that same be amended to make claims for damages more definite.

Several estate matters were heard. In Sarah Richardson estate it was stipulatd as to ownership of property and each pay own attorney. Order to sell was issued in Charles Blake estate. Sale of Kline personal property was approved.

H. A. Balch of Port Townsend secured a judgment against Dick Owen by default upon a note for $65 and interest.

The Puget Sound Traction, L. & P. secured a judgment of $700 against Rowan & Anderson, railroad contractors of the East End upon a note for amount.

Preliminary hearings were had in the Railway condemnation suits against P. J. Wold, P. J. Woods, M. Frieman, Caroline Leighton, Terminal Land Co., S. C. Templin and others for right-of-way and terminal grounds from Ennis creek to Francis street along the water front. These cases were also to have come before the jury, but will not now be heard until January. Wm. Ritchie withdrew as attorney for railway to defend in behalf of Woods and Wold.

Judgment in quieting of title was allowed in case of M. L. Martin vs. Olive Anderson, both Seattle women.

On Wednesday it was stipulated that the statue quo in the case of the Power Company vs. City officials would be maintained for 30 days and hearing go over, it being understood that an agreement had been reached.

were glad when they came into the House of the Lord." After dinner Secretary Cosser read the minutes of the last meeting and then Dr. Hyde, the new president, turned the meeting over to the ladies. In addition to several very pleasing musical numbers, Miss Wiggins, elocutionist, gave two very enjoyable readings and Mrs. Smith read the Outlook paper which was very witty and cleverly gotten up. The Congregational church is surely to be congratulated upon having for their pastor's wife so talented a woman as Mrs. Smith.

A rising vote of thanks was given Rev. Gale for his splendid talk and also to the ladies for their sumptous repast and pleasing program. Dr. Hyde makes a very dignified and efficient presiding officer and in a few remarks at the close of the meeting extended a cordial invitation to all the citizens of Angeles of whatever religious faith to become members of the Brotherhood. The organization is entirely non-sectarian and is solely for the civic, moral and educational betterment of our community.

EAST END

From the Press.

The new sidewalk and wire fence in front of the M. E. church and parsonage is a substantial improvement.

Miss Bertha Burrowes returned home Friday from a few weeks visit in Seattle and Olympia.

Mrs. James Keltner left on Monday for her home at Clallam Bay after a visit here with friends.

Robert Long is having a full set of plumbing placed in his house on Second street.

Samuel Orr is improving his five-acre tract with a new wire fence in front.

Wm. B. Ritchie purchased a choice double corner in the first plat of Sequim on Monday last. He states that he is seriously contemplating a change of residence to this place.

Mrs. Walter Grant arranged a very pleasant surprise dinner for her husband at their home, on November 9th, the occasion being his birthday anniversary. Thirty-two guests were present to enjoy the surprise and all had a fine time.

The Sequim high school basket ball team has been re-organized for a series of games this winter and next year with outside teams, the first of which will probably be with Angeles December 6th. The Sequim line-up is as follows: Leonard Kirner, center; Guy Hurd and Harold Waldron, forwards; Neil Grigware, substitute; James Graham and Goodwin O'Brien, guards. Paul Davis, athletic and manual training instructor, is coach for the team.

THIS YEAR'S COURSE

Ot Lyceum Concerts, Lectures and Entertainments Under Auspices Angeles HIgh School.

The concerts, lectures and entertainments which are pictured and described herewith represent a group of good things which are in store for the patrons of the local Lyceum course this season. They are booked through the oldest and largest bureau in the world—the Redpath—a bureau which guarantees every one of its attractions to make good.

In all parts of the American continent the Lyceum movement is growing, and as it grows in size it is likewise growing in popularity. There are today more than 12,000 Lyceum courses in the United States, besides some 1,500 Chautauquas. Incidentally it is of interest that more than 600 of all the Chautauquas in this country are managed by the same bureau, from which the attractions described on this page are booked.

Lyceum entertainments differ from any other types of public amusements, in that they leave the community life better for their having come and gone. Every Lyceum lecturer has a message which he believes will benefit his hearers. The aim of Lyceum musical companies or entertainers is to help maintain or raise the standard of the art they represent in all the towns and cities they visit.

THE DIXIE QUINTETTE.

THE DIXIE QUINTETTE

First Number Lecture Course, at Auditorium, Monday, Nov. 24.

The Dixie Quintette is composed of men of many years' experience on the American platform. The personnel of the company is as follows: Edward Goodbar, first tenor; Edward Williams, second tenor and banjo; Louis Johnson, baritone and reader; John Turner, basso; Joseph Gray, pianist.

Four of the men who compose this organization were leading artists in the Dixie Chorus, the big attraction which has been out for the past two years under Redpath management, appearing in the "Epic of the Negro" on large courses throughout the country.

In the program of the Dixie Quintette there will be vocal solos and instrumental work in addition to the quartette work and jubilee music which is always so enjoyable in a colored organization. Mr. Goodbar's tenor solos, Mr. Williams' characteristic songs, with banjo accompaniment; Mr. Johnson's famous interpretations of Paul Lawrence Dunbar's works and Mr. Turner's deep bass voice will all be features. There will also be laughable negro sketches in dialect.

The quartette will have as an accompanist Joseph Gray, who will also play piano solos. Mr. Gray has been on the Lyceum platform for some two or three years and is therefore no experiment.

The second of the series of special Sunday evening services planned to be given at the Methodist church proved to be very interesting and drew out a large, attentive audience. The subject for discussion was "The Church and Commercial Interests," and was ably handled by Rev. C. E. Fulmer and Mr. Neal. Mr. Fulmer holds very optimistic views, believing that the world is growing better and that each year sees less of "man's inhumanity to man" and more of the spirit of brotherly love. The ten commandments, he says, form the basis of all religious life and help to make strong characters, and character is power. The successful man is the one who has striven to make character. Righteousness is the underlying principle of all, and the highest type of man or woman can only come through Christian living. A special song service by the choir was very much enjoyed.

Mrs. Holt was called to Bellingham suddenly Wednesday evening because of the serious illness of her father.

KEEPING FAITH WITH SANTA CLAUS.

We are in Partnership with Santa Claus. We are his right hand men in making the children of Port Angeles glad. We are his leading allies in seeing that there are enough presents to go around in this city, no matter how many presents are needed.

"Santa Claus is a wonderful old Saint"

May he never cease cheering the hearts of childhood and bringing joy to this old world. But Santa Claus, in critical years, is conservative and a poor guesser. He hesitates to plunge for fear he may have some things left over. This is when we perform our duties in this interesting partnership. We plunge. We take the risk. We get the goods, boxes and boxes of them. Then, when things look good again and Santa worries for fear he wont have presents enough, he turns to our stock and his problem is solved. We can do this you see because with us

Toys Are a Principal Line

We don't have to fret like others do, as we sell toys the whole year round. We kept faith with Santa last year when courage was needed. We did the same this year. We can prove it come and see.

NAVAL LODGE WANTS P. O.

Elks Propose to Build Cement Block for Post Office Corner of First and Lincoln.

The matter of the future location of the local post office still remains in the embryo stage. The date for opening bids was again put over, from the 15th to the 20th and we were unable yesterday to learn the result. The local order of Elks proposed to take up the matter of putting up a concrete building on their lots corner First and Lincoln streets provided suitable arrangements could be made, and submit a bid for the location of the post office therein, so the matter of location was deferred awaiting their action. The post office inspector who has charge of the matter says that the department has always found it more satisfactory to lease of a fraternal organization than of an individual or corporation. Other bids would also be submitted.

We understand that Mr. W. H. Peter contemplated putting in a bid, the location to be Front and Francis streets, near the prospective depot. The Postal Laws and Regulations require that for an office of this class the location must be within eighty rods of the depot or steamboat landing, or near the business center of the town, i. e., located within a district where it will accommodate the largest number of the patrons of the office—that is what a post office is for. The carriers, the railroad or boat companies, must get the mail from the post office and deliver the incoming mail thereto when the office is located within the eighty rod limit, otherwise the postal department must carry the mail between these terminals. As the department is not usually actuated by any charitable proposition, and as the location of a proposed railroad depot, to be built sometime in the future, will not appeal to those in charge, all talk of a change of location to a point over eighty rods from the present postoffice may be set down as mere buncombe.

MOOSE SOCIAL SESSION

A social session of the Moose Lodge for their wives and families was held Wednesday evening in the I.O.O.F. hall. A program consisting of musical numbers by Howard Campbell, Theo. Jensen and Mrs. C. P. Brown, and the reading by Dr. Hyde of a couple of Paul Dunbar's poems was very much enjoyed. Whist was the next thing on the program. When the scores were counted it was found that Dr. Hyde had won the gentlemen's first prize, a large rocking chair and Mrs. Hyde the ladies', a center table. The consolations went to Miss Irene DeRousie, a pretty jardinerre stand, and to A. Burgess an umbrella.

The exciting part of the program then began when Mr. Laurenson, acting as auctioneer, sold to the highest bidder the attractive looking boxes furnished by the ladies. Some of them were real works of art and all sold at prices ranging between one and two dollars. When every man present was furnished with a lunch box he hunted up for his partner the lady who put it up and then all repaired to the dining hall where hot coffee was served with the lunch and a jolly good time enjoyed by everyone. At the close of the meeting a few pleasing remarks were made by presiding officer of the lodge, J. P. Jensen, who expressed the regret felt by all that the attendance had not been larger, as otherwise it was a splendid success.

Mrs. James Mackley, mother of Mrs. John Dopp, was stricken with apoplexy Tuesday, passing away very suddenly. Her funeral was held from the Fulmer chapel Thursday at 11 a. m., under the auspices of the Ladies Relief Corps of which deceased was an honored member.

THE WOMEN'S CLUBS

Ladies Say Their Husbands Object to Turkey-leg Soup and Fried Wattles at 30c the Pound.

The Port Angeles Reading Club held a very interesting meeting last Friday afternoon with Mrs. Charlie Filion as hostess. Mrs. Howard Stephenson continued the history of Mexico up to the present time in a very well written paper. An interesting discussion of the reigns of Diaz and Madero followed. A number of local topics were discussed, among them being the washing of the mud off Front street, and the high cost of living. Thanksgiving being near bro't up the subject of turyeys, the ladies all protesting against having to pay such a high price when the turkeys come to the buyer not drawn, crops full of grain, and heads and feet on. Miss Jessie Gilmore will be the next hostess and Mrs. Geisness will give the history of the rulers of Mexico. The members all seemed well pleased with the new Year Books just fresh from the hands of the printer, a number of which will be sent to former members of the club and to other clubs in the state.

The W. L. C. met at the home of Mrs. Emil Dermul last Friday afternoon with twenty-seven members present. Papers on the following interesting subjects were given Women and the Grocery Store, by Mrs. Sarah Mitchell; Medical Inspection and School Playgrounds, by Laura LaFlower; Open Air Schools, by Lucy Hooker; Adulterated Foods, by Lillian Hanson. Mrs. Anna Christopherson entertained with a reading. On account of the lengthy program, roll call and current events were omitted. The club voted to become a subscriber to the Dope Book to encourage the prisoners at Walla Walla who are publishing it every month. The women's clubs all over the state are lending their support to this good movement. After partaking of dainty refreshments the club adjourned to meet in one week with Mrs. Dustman.

Mrs. C. C. Donovan was hostess to the Thursday Bridge Club this week, entertaining them in a delightful manner.

The Book Club will be entertained by Mrs. Wm. Smith next Monday at their regular monthly meeting.

Mrs. W. Brumfield entertained the Fortnightly Bridge Club Tuesday afternoon.

J. W. Clevenger was taken seriously ill with some brain trouble Tuesday and was brought to the General Hospital Wednesday in an unconscious condition but is very much improved.

The Men's Brotherhood of the M. E. Church held its regular monthly meeting in Epworth League Chapel Wednesday evening. There was a good attendance and an interesting session. The program consisted largely of a discussion upon the general welfare of the city, in which a number of those present took part. Mrs. E. O. Brown favored the Club with a reading, which was well received. The ladies of the Aid Society of the Church furnished the banquet.

On account of illness I could not get my millinery and dry goods properly displayed, but I am now ready to receive all customers and anxious to close the stock out as quickly as possible. Doings in the County

WEST END NEWS

The whistling of the donkey engine, the report of powder blasts and the clanging of axes up around the Solduck are all convincing evidence of the progress that is being made in opening up the west end of Clallam county. One of the most important pieces of road that is being built down here is the Beaver-Fairholme road which will open a pass to Port Angeles, making it no longer necessary to go by boat. This will save time and heavy loads will not have to be hauled over high mountains as the road runs on a level grade all the way to Lake Crescent.

Mr. and Mrs. Rex Johnson, who were residing in Seattle for the last year, have returned to their old home at Clallam for the winter.

Mr. James Oberg, who has had charge of a crew of men for A. Fairservice clearing a right-of-way closed down for the time and returned to his home on Bear Creek.

Harry Shanks, a citizen of Tyee Prairie, reports that bear are proving themselves a menace at that place, eating fruit and destroying gardens, and besides Harry says "There is a queer sensation when one arises in the early dawn and beholds a bear clinging to an apple tree in the front yard and not prepared to shoot it." Where are our hunters

The work of drilling for oil on Forks Prairie is carried on with more interest than ever. The drillers have reached a depth of about 1500 hundred feet and now they have found that the casing they were using is too narrow so they are pulling it up and will replace it with wider casing as soon as possible, as the report is that all indications point to oil being struck soon.

The temporary bridge built across the Calawa river under the supervision of Mr. Shearer, assisted by Mr. Iverson, is now ready for public travel.

An oculist from Sequim is making a tour of the west end of the county and is stopping at the Cottage Hotel at Forks. Those that are afflicted with eye troubles will take advantage of the opportunity to have their eyes attended to.

Arthur Quay assisted by Marcus Howard is busy hauling material for the new residence which is under construction on the Lacy farm near Beaver.

Lloyd Curtis, after spending a few days with friends on Bear creek, returned to his home at Forks Tuesday.

R. H. Kidd who has been on a business trip to Port Angeles returned home last Saturday.

George Fletcher left for an extended trip up sound; when he returns he will spend the winter on his homestead on the Solduck.

Camp No. 2 of the Fairservice road contract has been moved four miles further up the Solduck river and is installed at the Jacobson place on Bear creek.

J. F. Clark, West End County Commissioner, is spending a few days at Sappho renewing old acquaintances. He will leave soon for Forks.

SEQUIM

H. P. Barber is building a nice bakery to be used for a lunch room. He says his trade is heavier now than it has ever been and he needs more room.

A crew of men with teams and tools started to work on the new cemetery Tuesday, clearing and cleaning it up, getting it ready for use as it is sadly needed.

Mr. George Attwood has improved his home with a nice veranda and painted the house.

Nov. 10th a dozen friends of Alice Spaulding walked in to help her celebrate her 18th birthday; the evening was very pleasantly spent with games and at midnight light refreshments were served and all returned to their homes wishing her many happy returns of the day.

Mrs. William Wooding and little daughter of DeFuca came to Sequim Monday for a two weeks' visit with her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. B. Potter, and a number of her sisters.

Miss Alice Spaulding left last Thursday for Everett to be gone two weeks visiting friends.

James Wooding, who accepted a position on State Road No. 14 on Hood Canal, returned home Monday, passing through Sequim.

Eighteen little friends of Archie McDougall marched in and gave him a grand surprise Nov. 14th. It was his birthday. They had a fine time playing games and eating popcorn and taffy and there was a fine lunch such as all children like. He was well remembered by his little friends and all went home wishing his birthdays came more often.

The concert given by Dungeness local talent was well attended at Sequim last Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Balch were in Blyn on business and pleasure this week.

Think of buying a boy's wool sweater for 50 cts and men's vests for 50 and 25 cts, and the children's shoes—well come yourself and get the prices. Lutz & Co.

LINCOLN HEIGHTS

Did you see the lights on the bridges Tuesday evening? The writer was near the center of the Tumwater bridge when the lights were turned on and felt like cheering.

J. A. Epperson has gone to Sappho to work at carpentering, where his son Fred has been some weeks.

Al Critchfield and family were guests at J. B. Fleming's Sunday.

Mrs. Ethel Hall and baby, Stella Lucetta, went from Mrs. Martins to her home on Cherry Hill Sunday and Mrs. Ethel Curtis and baby girl expects to go from the same place to her home on Pine Hill Wednesday.

Mrs. Martin's son-in-law, Mr. Morgan, paid her a short visit Tuesday.

Mike Doyle is building a nice house for his chickens. If hens are expected to lay eggs when 60c per dozen; they should be well cared for.

Dan Jackson of Blue Mountain and Will McMillen of Pine Hill dined at O. D. Burgman's Monday.

The stork has again visited the Heights and left a 12 lb. boy with Mr. and Mrs. Cashman.

Mrs. Doyle of Chehalis is a guest of her daughter Mrs. Cashman.

Mrs. VanKuren is having some work done toward further beautifying her flower garden. A. H. Hall is doing the work.

Mr. Benson has lumber hauled to build a more permanent house in place of the temporary one on his lot adjoining D. O'Brien's.

MT. PLEASANT.

Miss Zella Lee who has been cashier for Mr. Garrison in Angeles, has resigned her position and returned home Saturday.

Mrs. Eacrett, son and daughter, visited in Eden Valley from Saturday until Monday.

A number of our young people attended the dance at Fairview Saturday evening.

Mrs. Harlow, Mrs. Harrington, and J. W. Boyd are among the number who received a new Home Comfort Range, Monday of this week.

Mr. Oscar Lee is employed on the county road in the Fairview district and is making his headquarters with Sloan Bros.

There has been a gentleman in this vicinity the past week securing leases on lands for drilling for oil and gas, and is meeting with good success.

FOURTH WARD

Steve Land came home Tuesday in response to a telegram that his mother, who has been poorly for some time, was much worse.

Paul Land came from Seattle Wednesday and went out to see his mother.

D. C. Reid came in last Friday and had the x-ray on his ankle, which is slowly mending. He is able to be about on crutches. He returned home Tuesday with H. A. Falk, who came in on business, but is so taken up with the ranch work he had to return the same day. We fear the Olympic-Leader will be getting thirsty for some more of that sweet cider if he don't make a longer stay next time, but he says he will be in a few days before Thanksgiving and set things all right.

Leet Elliott and family from the Elwha visited Mrs. Elliott's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Isbell, Monday

Mrs. Campbell and daughter visited Mrs. E. H. Isbell last Tuesday.

Mrs. L. Mitchell visited the Misses Falk on Wednesday.

Mrs. H. E. Abell is on the sick list this week with a cold which seems to be in vogue now.

Mrs. Ulmer is keeping house for her mother, Mrs. Land, during her absence caring for Grandma Land.

Things seem to be doubly prosperous up the road from town as there is lumber on the ground for a walk and a wagon started Monday taking part of the children to school. Will we not all be allowed to travel on the sidewalk?

John Donahoe has the cement foundation completed for his new house and the carpenters are now at work on it.

An overheated furnace and a steel smokestack, possibly not properly safeguarded where it passed thru the floors, caused a little excitement and what might easily have been a serious fire Saturday morning in the Morse building on Froat street. The fire had evidently been burning some time when discovered. Three floors around the heated flue were on fire. A small section, about two feet square, fell upon some blankets and other merchandise. The burning goods were immediately carried out into the street and the fire quickly extinguished. The loss was not large.

The Elwha was plunging over the north spillway at the dam last Sunday in a stream twelve feet deep; a good sized stream was also flowing over the south side.

CONG'L SUNDAY SCHOOL

The "Knights of Avalon," Mr. Gilmore's class, held a regular meeting at the home of Miss Bernice Campbell Friday evening. The evening was spent by playing games and engaging in turkey contest, in which Vivian Stoval received the prize. At the close, dainty refreshments were served by the hostess. Seventeen members were present.

The topic Sunday morning was "The Death of Moses" and Miss Wiggins greatly favored our school by reciting a poem, "The Burial of Moses."

The material for the "Cradle Roll" has arrived, and a Cradle Roll day will soon be held when the babies will be formally initiated into the Sunday school. Mrs. Stephen Smith is superintendent of this branch of the school.

Mr. Lewis Isbell has been appointed as secretary of the "Cross and Crown System," recently installed in our school.

Biggest whist tournament of the year at the opera house Friday evening Nov. 21st, given by the Women's Auxiliary for the benefit of the public library. Card playing begins at 8 and dance at 11.

County Treasurer Babcock went up to Seattle Wednesday on business.

HIGH SCHOOL

The A.A.A .Hall has been finished and the boys and girls have begun to practice basket ball. Mr. Lacey will coach the boys and Mr. Failor the girls.

In the foot ball game with the Snohomish team last Saturday, the high school boys showed their superiority over their opponents by winning the game, 53 to 0.

The members of the class of '16 were much pleased to see their former classmate, John Kelly, who came to school during his visit in the city. He returned to his home in Seattle Tuesday evening.

The Washington Children's Home Society has asked the schools for a Thanksgiving offering to help satisfy the children's needs. The boys and girls are responding to the petition and the nickles and dimes are being dropped into the small bank provided for the purpose.

Mrs. Frank Fisher returned from Seattle Saturday.
