MOVED ALONG ANOTHER NOTCH

Improvement Ordinances Introduced and Passed Two Readings. No Grades in East End.

The City Council held an adjourned session Wednesday night, there being no quorum Monday night. Only four councilmen were present.

The new Olympic Power Company ordinance which, it is said, is satisfactory to the power company, was introduced and referred after first and second reading to the Ordinance committee and city attorney. It contains all the features of compromise heretofore noted.

Ordinances were also introduced ordering the work in the east end and middle assessment districts. These were placed as far along on the calendar as possible and referred as above. The improvement of Front and First streets between Chase and Albert may proceed uninterrupted, but it is discovered that there is no official grade east of Francis street, and the question arises will there not have to be before grading of streets is ordered.

A resolution was introduced by Mr. Dustman calling upon Senator Poindexter and Representative Falconer to do all in their power to further the passage of the bills introduced in Congress by them for the lease of the Ediz Hook Light Reserve to the City. The res was adopted.

A resolution was also introduced by Mr. Fisher and adopted endorsing the lecturing tour to be undertaken by Messrs. C. J. Tucker and Fred Phillips in the following language:

Resolved, That we hereby endorse and approve of undertaking as one that must be advantageous to all industrious people and those having means to invest, who may be wishing to better their condition by seeking new locations. And we further recommend their exhibits and illustrations as a fair and truthful representation of our city and county, with the resources and advantages offered here.

A petition from residents of vicinity was read asking that light be placed at 14th and Cherry streets. Referred.

Time of notice having expired, St. Supt. was directed to construct sidewalk on Washington street, between 4th and 7th, and have cost of same charged against abutting property.

Mr. Ritchie appeared before council in behalf of claimants against the city and contractors' bondsmen for work done on Francis street under the Hahn & Grierson contract. The claims aggregate something over $1000. Mr. Ritchie held that the proper reserve had been made to guarantee payment of these claims, but that city had used the funds to continue the work under a separate contract to Johnson & Leonard, and he now desired that city either take steps to compel the bondsmen of Hahn & Grierson to pay the deficiency or that the city levy a special assessment, which he held legal, for the purpose of paying the claim. The matter is in the hands of the city attorney, but upon motion of Elliott, a report was asked by the next meeting as to what had been done in the matter. Clerk Shields stated that some six weeks ago he had taken it upon himself to present the claims to the bonding company, and that they were fully advised in the matter.

Mr. Ritchie has filed with the city the proposed lease of the spit to the city, as prepared between the city and the government.

At the informal session Monday night Mr. Ritchie addressed the council as to the advisability of him again going to Washington City to push thru the bill for the lease of the spit, and sought the pledge of the councilmem present to an appropriation of $250 for the purpose. No official actiom of course could be taken and certaim of the councilmen refused to pledge in advance of consideration at regular session.

Wm. Fowler, P. F. Hanley and C. E. Gordon have formed a pratnership under the name of the Angeles Construction Company, for general contracting amd building work. They are all expert workmen and will doubtless prove a very popular firm.

The Monitor Cheyenne, a state training ship, was in the harbor Wednesday evening and Thursday.

PENALTY WILL BE ENFORCED

Every Day's Delay After January 1st Will Cost Elwha Bridge Contractors $10.

The Board of Commissioners have been holding their regular monthly session this week and grinding out the usual grist of business. In addition to the paying of bills, reports were heard from the different road contractors. Cays and Knoph's report of completion of road work west from Hurd's creek to Sieberts was passed on and accepted. Sloan Brothers, who have contract for road from Sieberts creek west to Morse creek came before the Board and asked for an extension of time. They were granted thirty days.

A resolution was adopted notifying the Portland Bridge Company that the clause in their contract providing a penalty of $10 a day for every day after January 1st until the Elwha bridge work is completed would be enforced to the letter.

Geo. Weldrick of Sappho appeared before the Board in regard to controversy over right of way.

James R. Smith, who had a contract for one and a third miles of road south of Beaver, appeared before the Board in person and by his attorney Mr. Trumbull, claiming that the estimate of the bonding engineer, Mr. Rixon, is not satisfactory. It would appear that he has built a more expensive road than his contract calls for. The case will in all probability go to the courts.

LADIES FEEL THEY HAVE BEEN SWINDLED

Have Not Yet Received Prize Money Won in Fourth of July Parade. Public Library the Loser.

The Ladies Auxiliary desires the people of Port Angeles (who subscribed so liberally to the Fourth of July celebration) to know that while they were awarded the prize for the best decorated auto in the parade, they have not as yet received their money. They have inquired after it at three different times and have been promised the matter would be looked up for them. The auto which won the prize carried the officers of the Ladies Auxiliary and represented paid up subscriptions to the Fourth of July Celebration of more than the amount of the prize. The ladies went into the proposition in good faith and spent over $17.00 in their decorations and now feel they have surely been swindled whether intentionally or not on the part of the committee.

However, as this prize money was to have been used for the support of the library, the ladies hereby extend a cordial invitation to the committee and those who did not pay their subscription to that committee, to patronize the library by taking out a yearly card at $1.00. Seventeen of these cards will reimburse us for our decoration expense and supply the card holders with good reading, or if you do not desire the reading for yourself, the card would be a fine Christmas gift for some friend or someone who enjoys good reading but cannot afford the price of the card. The library is open every Wednesday and Saturday afternoon from 2:30 to 5:30 and Saturday evenings from 7:00 to 9:00.

OPINION OF US NOT FLATTERING

The Olympic-Leader's Fairview correspondent hands the city merchant a neat little roast this week over the condition of his front door, i. e., the street in front of his place of business. Fairview is in the center of a prosperous dairying community and undoubtedly the correspondent voices the opinion of all the ranchers out that way at least. There can be absolutely no excuse for the present condition of Angeles' main thoroughfare.

Port Angeles truly looks like some city these days or rather nights upon approaching from the water. The investment is worth the price from an advertising point of view, to say nothing of the extreme usefulness of the new lighting system.

Bishop Keator will be here for confirmation at the Episcopal cuhrch the second Sunday in January.

ELKS MEMORIAL SUNDAY, 7TH

Address by H. Ballinger of Seattle. Lodge Will Pay Tribute to Honored Dead.

Naval Lodge, No. 353, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, will convene its "Lodge of Sorrow" Sunday next at 3:00 p. m. in the Opera House and pay tribute to the virtues of their honored dead.

The memorial address will be made by Harry Ballinger of Seattle, an attorney well known here, and a prominent member of Elkdom. The program, which follows, is more elaborate than usual, the musical features being especially attractive.

Naval Lodge has a membership of about 370, many of whom being naval officers and steamboat men are scattered about the world at the present time. The names of F. S. Harrington, P. J. Williams, W. F. Delabarre and J. A. Hawke have been added to the roll of honored dead the past year.

ASKED $250 OF COUNTY

Commissioners Cannot Legally Appropriate County Money for Advertising.

Representatives of the Commercial Club appeared before the Board of Commissioners on Tuesday asking for an appropriation for the sending of the exhibit car through the country. Judge Smith appeared in their behalf and quoted law and made a nice speech to the board for the project. The Board in return put the matter up to the County Attorney point blank, Has the county legally the right to expend money for the purpose? and the able prosecutor was, after looking into the matter fully, of the opinion that there was no law which would permit of expenditure for the purpose. The commissioners refused to make any appropriation.

WHO PAYS THE BILL ?

Remember that the only tax the Seattle merchant pays toward the support of Port Angeles, its streets, lighting system, churches, schools, and all the rest, is the two bits the City receives for the use of the principal location in its streets for bill boards. The citizen who patronizes the catalogue houses that are thus advertising does so, not only at the expense of the merchants to whom his trade rightly belongs, but at the expense of the town as well.

The "Bender Brothers," a freight and passenger schooner which has long been operated between Seattle and Alaskan ports, and which was until a wek ago under temporary charter to the Port Angeles Transportation Co., was burned in Seattle harbor Tuesday. She was preparing for a special voyage to Alaska and had over 2,000 cases of distallate on board.

We would call special attention this week to the Christmas advertisements of our business men in this issue. It will pay you to read them carefully.

The B. P. O. E. lodge will entertain their wives and sweethearts with a social session and dance in the opera house Saturday evening.

CITIZENS TICKET ELECTED

Socialists Poll Average of 160 Votes, Men and Women, in the City. Gray Ran Ahead of Ticket.

Quite a little interest was manifested in the city election Tuesday. While the preliminary skirmish at the primaries on November 4th practically settled the final result, the people took enough interest in city affairs to get out and vote on Tuesday, the total vote being between seven and eight hundred out of a total registration of over twelve hundred. The entire Citizen's ticket was elected with good majorities, with the exception of councilman of the sixth ward, E. B. Fleming, Socialist, being easily elected in a vote of 89 to 35.

THE TOTALS

Mayor—Horace White 543; W. W. Gray 200.

Attorney—G. V. Smith 551; David O'Brien 166.

Treasurer—W. A. Lange 563, Nina Halverson 160.

Clerk—J. L. Beam 575; Jennie F. Gregory 153.

Councilman - at - Large — C. E. Shields 572; A. J. Pabst 155.

Councilman 2nd Ward — H. M. Fisher 151.

Fourth Ward—Wm. Fowler 120; F. S. Goos 21.

Fifth Ward—J. E. Bigelow 118; Dan Garber 31.

Sixth Ward—J.A.Grossman 35; E. B. Fleming 89.

INDIAN WELL TO BE PROVED

Action Taken to Mean that Producer is Found. Will Take Two Weeks to Finish Work.

The oil well at Taholah of the Indian Oil Company will be proved in the course of the next two weeks, according to an announcement made yesterday by J. A. Paulhamus, manager, says the Aberdeen World.

No further drilling is to be done at present. The sand strata has been penetrated, and the bits have struck a hard cap. The casing has been pulled out of the hole, which is now a solid column of mud. The entire hole will be widened to 14 inches to a depth of over 300 feet, at which point solid rock has been encountered. 10 inch pipe will be installed and will be allowed to rest on the support of solid rock. Then the entire hole will be baled out and the well allowed to flow.

Mr. Paulhamus makes no predictions of a gusher; in fact, he makes no predictions at all. It is plain, however, that he is satisfied that he has oil in commercial quantities, and that he expects a producing well. If the well turns out as expected, a second well will be drilled. If the well now dug does not "come in" as anticipated, it will either be "shot", blown out with nitro glycerine, or the drill will again be put to work to pepetrate the hard cap now reached.

SOL DUC ON RUN THIS WEEK

All Steamers of Sound to Be Fumigated to Destroy Bubonic Rats.

The Sol Duc has been taking the place of the Iroquois the past week, the latter steamer being on the run to Bellingham while the Whatcom is being overhauled. There will be other temporary changes before all the steamers get back on their regular runs, as the work of fumigation of all the vessels on the Sound will begin in a few days. The health officers of Seattle having found a number of rats infected with bubonic plague along the water front, the state health officers have taken the matter in hand with the intention of exterminating all the rats in that city, and at the same time preventing them from spreading to other ports.

The choir of the First Methodist Church, under the direction of Miss Edna Holt, are preparing to give a Christmas Cantata entitled "The Shepherd King" about Christmas time

The holiday spirit is now in the air, and the windows of all the business houses are in gala attire, exciting a great deal of admiration from old and young.

WORK BEGUN ON ELKS BLOCK

Foundation of Piling and Cement Going in Before Contract is Let for Building.

The Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, No. 353, of this city have begun the construction of their new home and business block at the corner of First and Lincoln streets, and the work is well under way under the direction of E. D. Elliott, one of the building committee. The building is to be of concrete throughout, three stories in height, with 100 feet facing on First street and 80 feet facing on Lincoln. The lower floor will be store rooms with large commodious plate glass show windows, and the up-stairs offices and Elks quarters. The building will be modern in every detail. Among the plans is seen the commodious Elks lodge room, with all modern conveniences, the social halls, including billiard parlors and card rooms, and some sleeping apartments. The cost will be between $40,000 and $50,000.

No contract for the building has as yet been let, it being the intention of the committee to get the foundations in, so that there will be no guess work on the part of the contractors as to what depths they will have to go. Supt. Elliott already has the pits dug ready for the pile-driver to drive a solid foundation of piling upon which the concrete piers will be placed.

The committee has the finances of the project in such shape that it is practically certain that the entire amount of money needed will be furnished by the membership of the local order, an unprecedented proceeding for a town of this size, and one which speaks loudly of the strength of the local order. Fully three-fourths of the required amount has already been signed for, and the membership has no more than half been seen.

The Elks have a bid in for the new postoffice site, but this will not be a factor in the completion of the building, as the work will proceed rapidly whether the order gets the new postoffice location or not.

BASKET BALL WITH TOWNSEND

The boys' and girls' basket ball teams will play at the Athletic Hall Friday night. The teams will then be chosen for the boys' game at Sequim the following day. Admission 5c and 10c.

The Townsend boys and girls are coming here to play basket ball the 13th of December. Both girls' and boys' teams will play the same night.

A meeting of the Athletic Association was called for Wednesday. A report of the expenditures for the foot ball team this fall was given by Mr. Failor. This report was accepted by the association and it is now practically out of debt.

Miss Ellen N. Evers of Seattle began work in the position made vacant by the resignation of Miss Bonker in the Lincoln Heights school on Monday. Miss Evers is a graduate of the Iowa State Normal School and has had several years' successful experience in teaching.

A number of passengers from Seattle to Victoria take advantage of the run of the Sol Duc through by way of Port Angeles.

ANNUAL MEETING OF ST. ANDREW'S GUILD

Receipts for Year Amounted to $425, New Officers Elected. World's Fair Next Week.

The Ladies' Guild of St. Andrew's Church held a most interesting meeting Wednesday afternoon at the Parish House, the annual election of officers and the reading of annual reports being matters of chief importance in the order of business. The Secretary's report showed that the past year has been a very busy one with much accomplished.

The society was organized primarily for the financial support of St. Andrew's Church; but their work has not been confined exclusively to that end. They have not forgotten to express in words, and substantial deeds, their sympathy with those in sorrow and need. Beside the charitable work of the Guild, they have given much time to the social life of the community. The young people of Port Angeles are indebted to the Guild for many a happy evening spent in Parish Hall.

The Treasurer's report showed that the receipts for the year amounted to $425, and after many old bills of years' standing had been paid, and the current expenses of the year, a cash balance of $93.65 remains.

Mrs. McGillivray was re-elected president, Mrs. Butler vice-president, Miss Fowler secretary, Mrs. Remp treasurer. The membership of the Guild has doubled during the past year, and under the management of such competent officers, with so large a number of congenial, faithful and zealous workers, it is safe to predict a brilliant year for the Guild and that it will be a powerful factor in the social life of the city, as well as a strong religious organization. The first social event of the new year will be the "World's Fair", to be given in the opera house on the afternoons and evenings of next Thursday and Friday, December 11th and 12th. There will be booths representing the different countries of the world, under efficient committees, where articles suitable for Christmas presents, candies, cakes, pies, puddings, novelties, etc., will be sold.

D. OF H. INSTALLATION

The Degree of Honor installed their new officers for the coming year at their regular meeting Tuesday evening. A little spread was enjoyed after the ceremony. The new officers are: Chief of Honor, Daisy Fleming; Past Chief of Honor, Jennie Warren; Lady of Honor, Dollie McRoberts; Chief of Ceremonies, Nina Hall; Recorder, Mable Woods; Receiver, Cleora Finch; Treasurer, Jennie Clegg; Usher, Alice Hayne; Asst. Usher, Daphne Gillispie; Inner Watch, Mrs. Charlie Cox; Outer Watch, Mrs. C. A. Thompson.

LAUNCH STOLEN AND WRECKED

Dr. Butler's gasoline launch, the Bonnie B., was stolen from the harbor here last Saturday evening and was found Sunday morning about a mile east of Washington Harbor on the rocks. Her sails were all set and lights were lit just as she had been deserted. Dr. Butler's license was found on board so a telegram was sent in to Frank Fisher of the Customs service. The Doctor says the damages amount to at least $400. This matter should be looked after by the proper authorities and an example made of the thieves if found.

THE NEWS FROM THE STATE CAPITOL

[From Our Regular Correspondent.]

NEARLY 1500 CORPORATIONS UNDER COMMISSION'S CONTROL

Olympia, Dec. 3.—How extensive the work of the public service commission has become is evidenced by the mailing list just prepared by the commission for distribution of an order issued calling for accident reports It was found, when the list was prepared, that nearly 1500 corporations in the state are under control of the commission at the present time.They include 81 railroads, 115 telephone companies, 8 telegraph companies, 135 electric light and power concerns, 65 water companies, 35 irrigation companies, 21 gas companies, 5 express companies, 107 docks and wharves, 351 boat lines and 686 warehouses.

Finding that the public utility corporations have grown careless in reporting accidents, as required by law, the commission last week sent to every company included in the above list a letter of warning, setting forth the law requiring reports and the rules of the commission.

All accidents resulting in a fatality must be reported to the commission immediately by telegraph. Other accidents are to be reported immediately also, but the mail can be used in this case. Upon receiving a report of a railroad accident resulting in loss of life the commission sends its track and safety equipment inspector or deputy to the scene at once, if possible, to make an investigation and determine if the accident was caused by faulty equipment.This procedure has resulted in reducing wonderfully the number of accidents until at the present time Washington sees many less railroad accidents than many of the eastern states.

Failure to comply with the law governing reports of accidents renders the railroads and other corporation officials liable to prosecution for a gross misdeameanor, the maximum punishment for which is a year in jail.

STATE'S NOTARY PUBLICS MAKE A SMALL ARMY

Since talk of American intervention in Mexico has filled the air,the famous saying attributed to the late Governor John R. Rogers, "If war ever comes I'll not call out the militia; I'll call out the notary publics" —has been recalled frequently around the state house at Olympia. The late governor's remark was induced by the immense number of applications for notarial commissions he received about Spanish-American war time. They were so numerous that history says the governor used to spend about half his time signing commissions, and the great seal of the state was so overworked that one of the two or three new dies that have been needed since the seal was granted, had to be made. All of which calls attention to the fact that the number of individuals in the state of Washington who aspire to notarial commissions as a matter of convenience in the transaction of their own business or for the rather snug little sum of "pin money" that accrues to every "live" notary in the course of a year, keeps growing with the state. Since the notary public was made an institution 11,305 citizens have been designated as such by the various governors. Governor Lister has appointed 980 notaries since he took office on January 15, 1913. At the close of business November 30 there were 4,724 individuals in the state entitled to sign their names below the well-known "Subscribed and sworn to before me" legend. When it is taken into consideration that should the National guard of Washington be ordered out tomorrow for Mexican or other service, between 1500 and 2000 men could be mustered, it seems that the facetious remark of a late governor is still in point, so far as mere numbers go.

Incidentally, notary publics, since 1889, have paid the sum of $113,050 to the state of Washington in the $10 statutory fee required of each one.

WHAT IS INFECTED FRUIT

T. O. Morrison, head of the horticultural division of the state department of agriculture, has issued a bulletin officially defining "infected fruit" as meaning fruit affected with any of the following insects or diseases: Codling moth, lesser apple worm, oyster shell scale, peach twig borer, San Jose scale, wooly aphis, potato tuber moth, potato eelworm, fire blight, peach mildew, scab.

The bulletin continues: "Apples and pears showing the borings resulting from codling moth injury are hereby declared to be infected. Apples showing worm stings must for all practical purposes be classed as infected unless the sting is thoroughly healed. Apples, pears, and quinces showing any exudate or the wrinkled condition due to fire blight organism are declared infected. Peaches showing split pits or any other injury caused by twig borers are declared infected."

SPARK ARRESTERS ON ENGINES

State Forester and Fire Warden E. W. Ferris, in his annual report just filed, suggests that during the fire season of 1914 operators of logging roads remove the exhausts from their engines and lengthen the stacks, to give better draughts. By this means, he believes, the fire hazard can be reduced materially. The Simpson Logging company, one of the largest operators in the state, tried this method, after experimenting with all kinds of spark arresters and finding them defective. Mark E. Reed, general manager of the company, sets forth his experiences after removing the exhaust, and states this method was a complete success. If other operators, after adopting this method next season, find it to be succesful, Forester Ferris suggests that the law relating to spark arresters be changed by the next legislature.

ANOTHER TRAINING SCHOOL

With the site for the new state training school for girls selected and the deal for the land near Grand Mound practically closed the commission appointed by the governor will soon hold a meeting at which an architect will be selected and the general plan for the school will be agreed upon. The girls building at the state training school at Chehalis is overcrowded and the erection of the new institution is becoming a vital necessity.

PAROLES FOR CHRISTMAS

The state prison board will meet at Walla Walla Saturday of this week and present to a number of inmates of the penitentiary a Christmas present in the form of a parole. Next week the board of managers will meet at the state reformatory at Monroe to act on applications for releases at that institution. These Christmas meetings are annual affairs at the institutions and the inmates look forward to them with considerable anxiety and anticipation.

The state department of agriculture is warning dairymen against the operations of a man representing himself as an inspector, who "tests" cows for tuberculosis by sticking a pocket flashlight down their throats, charging 50 cents per cow for this "inspection."

THE HONOR CAMP IN CANADA

They have a "Brotherhood" over in Monroe, at the University of Another Chance, which holds meetings Monday evenings, the members being frequently addressed by the noted men of the country. One such recent talk had as its chief feature a description of a real honor camp in Canada, a camp conceived and formed by Dr. Gilmore, who sent out a picked bunch of men from the Toronto Central Prison several hundred miles from that institution. It was absolutely without guards or guns of any kind and there wasn't a fence or padlock on the place, says the Monroe Index in its account of the address. The men first lived in tents and under the direction of the foreman, constructed farm buildings, first class living quarters and developed a large farm on the virgin prairie. It was the plan of Dr. Gilmore and Mr. Hanna to have the men build a model modern institution but they took hold of the work in such a wonderful way and thereby worked out their own reclamation and rejuvenation, that they never had time to build the institution and the plans for it went by the board. Instead, their numbers were steadily and largely augmented and they were put to work building foundations for a large asylum, fine roads where they were needed, installing water and sewerage systems and building a railroad to the site. A guard or a lock are unknown. Ninety per cent of the men would drop their work and run down anyone of their number who ran away before it was time for him to go, so generally has the spirit to do the right thing, to play fair and remain true to the trust placed in them by the authorities been developed. The need of old style institutions is rapidly disappearing in that particular section of Canada and Mr. Roe stated he and his co-workers at the meeting are confident that the day is not far distant when the need for such institutions will be eliminated entirely from the requirements of society as it is at present constituted.

MUST DEVELOP SMALL CITIES.

Statistics show that about thirty years ago two-thirds of the population of the United States lived in the smaller towns and districts, while one-third lived in the larger cities. Today the situation is about reversed, only one-third of the population is rural, while two-thirds is urban.

This tendency of population away from the country into the big cities is undesirable from many viewpoints. Not only is it one of the chief causes for the high cost of living, but city life in general is neither so healthful or moral as is the country life and if the movement continues it must ultimately undermine the health and character of the American people.

Is there anything we can do to check and reverse this movement? There is. The "back to the farm" movement will help some, but the real solution must come from the the roads, make the country a more desirable place in which to live, make the home town more attractive increasing its entertainment features so the young people will be more content to stay at home, and we will be doing much to change the tide, at least in this community.

Many go to the cities through necessity. There is not sufficient employment for them all in their home community. But if we will patronize home industries and home merchants and develop the agricultural and other resources of the community, there will be sufficent employment for every one. Patronizing eastern catalog houses is one of the things that is driving young people away.

One firm in Chicago employs something like 600 girls, and 85 per cent of these girls come not from the city itself, but from the country districts, and one-third of the girls employed by this firm have to be recruited each year. Many of them never find in Chicago the healthful, moral and social advantages that should exist in the home town and community.

Many men are drawn, or better "lured," to the cities by the literature of the day; by articles in the magazines and newspapers exploiting the successes of the country boys in the cities and exaggerating the attractions of city life. Let us reverse this and exploit the success of country boys who "made good" on the farm or in the home town.

In most cases of rural retrogression, the fault does not lie in natural or economic conditions, but with the people themselves. —West Coast Trade.

SUPERIOR COURT IN SESSION

Stokes and Bayer Fined and Sentenced, Suspended During Good Behavior.

Court convened Wednesday.

Matter of Receivership of Angeles Brewing & Malting Co. on final settlement coming on for hearing same was postponed until February 2nd, pending settlement in Supreme Court of suit involving some $10,000, twice held by Supreme Court in favor of receiver.

Divorce case of May Holden vs. Thos. Holden, Neah Bay Indians, set for hearing January 8th.

In Wright vs. Meac, et als., deportation case, Attorney Trumbull for defendants stated that his clients would certainly want a jury. Case went over until Friday to deposit jury fee.

Williams vs. Hitchcock, Receiver, went over upon failure of either party to appear. Mr. Thorp, one of the interested parties, is sick, and presumably notified other side of fact.

In Tillman vs. Reeves, counsel for defendant asked and was granted leave to withdraw defense of usury, same having been made in good faith, but found erroneous. Defense then consented to plaintiff taking judgment for full amount of note.

In Duncan vs. Talbot, for illegal taking of timber, plaintiff was granted leave to amend complaint to make additional parties defendant.

John S. Stokes, negro, and Fred Bayer, known as "Tyng", were brought before Court upon informations filed by Prosecutor Cochran charging them with 2nd and 3rd degree assault. The evidence showed that both were more or less intoxicated, the latter knowing little of what occurred. In a quarrel over a dice game for the drinks white and black prejudices mixed, Bayer seemingly being the aggressor. Bayer, after some considerable difficulty during the evening. came upon Stokes in Clark's saloon and struck him in the face, and followed it up. Stokes to protect himself pulled a razor which he "happened to have" and slashed right and left, catching and cutting Bayer across the abdomen about four inches long. Stokes consented to plead guilty to assault in 3rd degree and this was agreed to by the prosecutor after talking with eye witnesses. He was thereupon fined $50 and costs and given a six months suspended sentence pending good behavior. Bayer at first plead not guilty, but later confessed that he did not know what took place or how matters came about and plead guilty. He, too, then received a six months' in jail suspended sentence and $10 fine, which with costs amounted to some $35.

Jas. Stewart was appointed admr. of estate of James Ramsey with bonds fixed at $2000.

Felix Grauel, a rancher in the vicinity of Lake Sutherland, was admitted to citizenship.

Judgment by default was given in the case of A. Powell vs. Ole Engvolse nand Oregon Nursery Co. in foreclosure of mortgage. A like judgment was also given in the case of Wm. Kember vs. Henry Belden for $200.

Today the Court is hearing the condemnation suits of Railway vs. M. Freiman and S. C. Templin for terminal grounds at the east end, and petitioners for removal of Ludwig Hahn as admr. of Estate of Elizabeth Hahn.

Other new cases filed this week are Klipsun Lumber Co. vs. E. M. Young, W. S. Denio and City for lumber 8th street bridges. Maud Stockwell vs. Bert Stockwell, divorce, non-support. Lillie Lotzgasell vs. Margaret B. Morrison, Jas., Wm. and Dave Dick, Grace and Jessie Fisher, Mrs. O'Brien, Chas. George, and Sine Tennant and Mable Tait for partition of real estate.

LOCAL S.P.C.A. NEEDED

It seems that there is great need of a humane society for Port Angeles that dumb brutes may be protected from the violence and nasty tempers of some of our citizens. A story was told us of a man clubbing a horse over the head last Sunday morning and not satisfied with the beating he gave it out in the open, he took it in the barn, locked the door and began repeating the cruel treatment. When a passer-by stopped to make inquiries he was told it was none of his d— business. The same answer a drunk gives after beating his wife and children. These events make one see the justice of the old-time public whipping post. It is the best kind of medicine for wife beaters as well as those who abuse poor dumb animals.

A WELL-FOUNDED PROTEST

Lincoln Heights People Object to Having their Locality Named After Olympia Beer.

A few months ago the writer went into a newly established business house and purchased a few articles. The proprietor asked where they were to be delivered, and when told Lincoln Heights exclaimed in amazement, "Lincoln Heights! Why, I've never heard of that place." Since that time many strangers have come to the city and for their information, also as a reminder to those who do know but persist in giving this part of the city the name of "Tumwater Hill" this is written.

Tumwater is not in Clallam county, but somewhere in the southwestern part of the state. The creek here known by that name we are told is "Frasier creek," but even if it is correctly called Tumwater, it don't necessarily follow that the land beside it must take the same name. If it did, either Pine Hill or Cherry Hill would bear the strange name of Valley Hill. Rather an absurd nam[illegible]

S[illegible] that Tumwater is a pret[illegible]n Lincoln Heights. That [illegible] matter of opinion and [illegible]kely to differ. Cedar Hill might [illegible] some be thought prettier than Pine Hill, or Rose Hill prettier than Cherry Hill, and either one would be appropriate, but would the residents be willing to have them changed?

The [illegible] say this city was laid out by Abraham Lincoln, and the land west of the creek was named Lincoln Heights in honor of the founder of the city. Surely no one will deny that "Honest Old Abe" was and is deserving of all the honors that can be given him. The memory of his sons will live longer in the hearts of thinking people than those of any other of our rulers.

This article has been called out at this time because recently the reporters for some of the papers had the improvements going on, in the way of buildings, badly mixed. The new bungalow of Mr. Huddleston's was located on Tumwater Hill; also several others to be built. And while these residents were craning their necks and straining their eyes to see that bungalow, those on Pine Hill were complaining that since the bridge was built they were losing their identity, being swallowed up by Lincoln Heights. Don't worry friends! We think too much of Pine Hill people to harm you in any way. Have more territory here than we can use and would be very grateful to the real estate men, or any others, who would come and build homes on our beautiful, healthy Heights and help us to regain our true name—the name by which our school is known.

A man had been arrested on the charge of beating and cruelly misusing his wife. After hearing the charge against the prisoner, the justice turned to the first witness.

"Madam," he said, "if this man were your husband and had given you a beating, would you call in the police?"

The woman addressed, a veritable Amazon in size and aggressiveness, turned a smiling countenance toward the justice and answered:

"No, jedge. If he was mah husban', and he treated me lak he did 'is wife, Ah wouldn't call no policeman. No, sah. Ah'd call de undertaker."

Administrator of the estate of Michael Sullivan, Deceased.

The Fact Remains

No amount of misrepresentation by the peddlers of alum baking powders, no juggling with chemicals, or pretended analysis, or cooked-up certificates, or falsehoods of any kind, can change the fact that

Royal Baking Powder has been found by the official examinations to be of the highest leavening efficiency, free from alum, and of absolute purity and wholesomeness.

Royal Baking Powder is indispensable for making finest and most economical food.

THE COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE

Community Center Movement to Be Leading Topic at Dungeness Tomorrow.

Announcements are out for the meeting at Dungeness next Saturday, December 6th. The people of Dungeness and the eastern part of the county generally are greatly interested in the Community Center movement just launched and are endeavoring to organize for the purpose of doing active work along this line during the winter. Indications are that Sequim, Dungeness and the McCleay district will become centers that will radiate a great deal of influence toward greater enthusiasm in school work thruout the county. The following program has been prepared for the meeting at Dungeness:

1. Address of Welcome—Prof. A. S. Foster, Dungeness.
2. Song.
3. Speech—Supt. Thos. Geisness.
4. Song, Slumber Island—Primary Department, Dungeness.
5. Phases of Manual Training—Prof. Davis, Sequim.
6. Song, Selected— Misses Geer and Paulson, Sequim.
7. Some Phases of School Work—Prof. White, Port Angeles.
8. Selected Reading—Miss Moore, Dungeness.
9. Recitation—Thelma McAlmond, Dungeness.
10. Recitation, My Rosary—Prof. Bert Slater, McCleay District.
11. Recitation, My Ma's Curls—Margaret Cline, Dungeness.
12. Round Table, all to participate.

Teachers examinations will be given in superintendent's office December 11, 12 and 13.

The list of words for the Clallam county spelling contest will be distributed to every district in the county this week. It is hoped that every district will try to have a representative at the final contest next spring.

The 1913 Code of Public Instruction is out and copies are being distributed to the school officers in the county.

PARENTS TEACHERS MEETING

A meeting of the parents and interested friends of the school is called for the evening of December 8th at the auditorium of the high school. The object of this meeting is to organize a Parent Teachers Association such as are found throughout the U. S. both in the large and small cities. Come out and tell us what you think of it.

TEACHERS EXAMINATION

Teachers Examination will be held in the office of the County Superintendent at the court house, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, December 11, 12 and 13.

LINCOLN HEIGHTS

Another Thanksgiving day is past. To some it was a day of sadness; to others one of festivity and happiness. We hope everyone in the city had a good dinner. Possibly some had turkey. We know many had ducks and chicken, which in our opinion, is better. There were home gatherings and invited guests, but as the writer has not been informed of many, will omit all names and places.

The people generally will be sorry to know that the health of Rev. Mason, the Presbyterian minister who came here a few months ago, is such that he has decided to return to his home in New Jersey. He had not fully recovered from an attack of illness when he came here but was anxious to work and began too soon.

Fred Epperson came up from Sappho Saturday morning and returned Monday. He reported 1½ inches of snow there.

Mesdames J. A. McKee, Laubach, Riley and Burgman were guests at J. B. Fleming's Saturday. The three first spent the evening at E. B. Flemings.

Lela Epperson has gone with Mr. Gorman's family to Seattle and expects to remain until Christmas.

Mr. Jack Johnston has bought a lot on Pine Hill at Sixth and Pine streets, which he will improve as soon as possible. We wish they had decided to remain with us, but our loss is Pine Hill's gain, and that is a nice place to live, so here's wishing success to Mr. and Mrs. Johnson.

Last Sunday, a number of people who had years ago lived near Oak Hill, Kan., met at the home of E. B. Fleming to greet Mr. Patterson, who is teaching at Mt. Pleasant. Mr. Patterson taught last winter at Oak Hill and gave us much information about old neighbors and our relatives there.

Mrs. Ester and Mrs. Conrad are wrestling with severe colds.

Mr. Myers and family are expecting to go to Victoria in the near future.

Messrs. Felix and Charles A. Filion are home from a business trip to Seattle.

The stork visited the home of Hover Anderson Wednesday morning and left a baby girl.

FAIRVIEW.

Mr. Bailey of Seattle spent Saturday night at the Fossett home.

Mr. Bohall is helping Jack Kilmer on his barn this week.

Mrs. Ruth Pellerin visited her mother a few days last week

Hazel and May O'Brien spent a few days in town last week.

Albert Land was grinding grain a couple of days for Mr. Sutter this week.

There will be a socialist lecture at Fairview school house on Saturday evening, Dec. 6th. Everybody is invited.

At the last meeting of the council here it was decided to plank or gravel our Front street, which is at present very sloppy and muddy. These men are very wide awake fellows and realize how disgusting it must be for visitors and strangers to be forced to land in the middle of a big mud hole the first thing. When an auto comes tearing along the street, the poor footers on the sidewalk necessarily keep dodging and blinking to keep from getting a splash in the eye. Now don't that sound elevating for a town ive appearance as cmfwypmed onca that tries to put on such a prosperous air as we do?

MT. PLEASANT.

Mrs. Dietsch was an Angeles visitor from Friday until Monday.

Master Douglas McNutt was a visitor at the home of Mr. Lee Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Finch and daughter visited Saturday at the home of their daughter Mrs. Eacrett.

The Misses Irene and Hattie Race visited in Angeles from Thursday until Saturday.

Mr. Patterson spent his Thanksgiving vacation with friends in the city, returning to Mt. Pleasant Monday morning.

Miss Frazier returned Monday evening from her vacation.

Mr. Eacrett with a crew of men baled hay for Mr. McNutt a couple of days the past week.

The school board have had a new floor put in the school house. They dismissed scool for a couple of days in order to oil the floor and let it get dried.

About thirty-five of the neighbors gathered at Mr. Dorr's Thursday evening to help Miss Clara celebrate her birthday. The evening was spent with dancing. At midnight a delicious lunch was served and at a late hour the guests departed, wishing Miss Clara many happy returns of the day and declaring themselves well pleased with their entertainment.

WEST END NEWS

Mr. John Ward left last week on on extended visit to Seattle, his former home.

The dance given at Clallam Bay on Thanksgiving was well attended and everybody reports an enjoyable time and hopes that it will happen oftener

A party of young people who are attending high school at Port Angeles took advantage of the four days vacation to visit with their parents. They all returned on Monday's boat to resume their studies at school, satisfied in their minds that Thanksgiving was worth while for them.

A quiet wedding took place at the Palmer home in Forks in which Miss Gertrude Palmer and Mr. Ray Maxfield were united in marriage, Rev. Fulmer officiating. After the ceremony the couple left for Quillayute prairie on their honeymoon trip. They will visit with the groom's parents after which they will make their home at Forks where Mr. Maxfield is engaged in a prosperous business. We wish them much happiness and prosperity.

The order of the Rebekahs at Forks held their regular meeting last Friday at which a number of new members were initiated. After the business transactions refreshments were served and a sociable evening was enjoyed by all the members present.

We were all wondering at that pleasant smile Max Klahn was wearing, when he revealed the secret that it was a bouncing boy born at his home some time last week.

Morgan Terwillergar lost a valuable boat in the Solduck river last week during the flood which has been raging the past several days. Besides the high water, the winds have blown down dry timber into the roads, keeping the road supervisors busy maintaining the roads in condition to travel.

Miss Genevieve Lust, teacher from Beaver, is spending a few days with Mrs. Oscar Klassel at Clallam Bay.

E. M. Fassett, engineer of the Beaver-Fairholme road, left for Port Angeles last Friday on business for the county. Mr. Fasset had charge of a big stretch of road which was being built in the West End and he deserves the credit given him as a road engineer.

Mr. Joseph Hamilton of Beaver was an up sound passenger for Port Angeles on a business trip, after which he will spend some time in Seattle and other parts.

Miss Minnie Nelson from the Hoko is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Fairservice. The Fairservice children were home visiting parents and relatives so Miss Nelson undoubtedly enjoyed her visit.

Little Eric Sugdon has been visiting with his grandma Weldricks at Sappho for a week, after which he returned to his home on the Solduck.

The piece of road between Tyee prairie and Beaver has been completed and the contractor, Mr. Welker, returned to his home at Clallam Bay. We all agree that it is a very good job.

The oil excitement seems to be holding its own around Forks, at least every effort is made to leave no doubt of oil being discovered. Drilling is kept up the same as ever and some enthusiastic oil promoters are in the field to keep up the spirits of any discouraged dreamer that may come under their influence.

John Iverson is building a new school house at Mora. Nearly all the school districts in the West End have school houses now. A few years ago schools had to be kept in old deserted cabins, which were none too comfortable, and it was difficult for the teacher to do successful work. So the change from cabins to modern houses is certainly welcome.

SEQUIM

There is a new club started in Sequim; it is called the Happy Thought. Meetings are held at the homes of the members; it meets this week with Mrs. Fred Howell. The club is a social affair to get neighbors better acquainted.

The friends of S. A. Wilber are very glad to know he is improving from his very sick spell.

It is reported that Sequim is to have another saw mill to be erected on William Wright's place.

Auston Smith is rushing his new paint and paper store.

Henry Knapman has the frame of his new house up; there are a number of new buildings going up in Sequim.

Mrs. Alma Commers and son Cleo returned home Monday from a two weeks visit with relatives and friends in Tacoma and Seattle.

Mrs. Guy Price, formerly of Sequim, will sail Friday for SanFrancisco for a couple of months' visit with her father.

Mr. Barber says it will be much better when the lunch room is completed as he is very much crowded at present.

N. S. Borst, one of our prosperous farmers, is building a log barn on his ranch.

OIL DISCOVERY HAS BEEN VERIFIED

Representative of Aberdeen World Describes Well from Personal Observation.

While all allowance must ordinarily be made for rumors and stories set afloat by those interested in the sale of stock, there seems to be little doubt that oil, not merely seepage, but oil in quantity, has been struck on the Quinault reservation. The exact nature and extent of the strike are not known, even to those on the spot, but it is evident that the theory that the Olympics is an oil bearing country has become an established fact. A special representative of the Aberdeen Daily World, writing after a personal inspection of the property says:

"Indian oil well No. 1 at Taholah should "come in" within a week and it will be a big well beyond any doubt. It will flow or pump 100 barrels per day or better. It would not be surprising if the flow would be enormous, so rich are the indications as uncovered by J. A. Paulhamus, manager of the Indian Oil Company.

These facts are apparent from a personal inspection of the property. Any one, though not an oil expert, and totally unfamiliar with the rotary method of drilling, knows oil when he sees it. The mud which boils out of the well mouth is rich with the fluid, and the gas is surprising.

Today Mr. Paulhamus is penetrating farther into the oil bearing strata. He will go thru the sand rock and will then case up the well, bale, put in strainers and pump. That is, he will unless he strikes just a little more force than there now is behind the tons of mud which blockade the hole. It will not take much more pressure to shoot the whole load skyward, and Indian No. 1 will be not only the first oil bearing hole in the Peninsular district but a real gusher.

Laying aside likelihood of a gusher, Mr. Paulhamus may bore thru the oil sand at any time. Already he has gone about 34 feet thru this strata. How much deeper it is, no one knows. The deeper the sand formation the greater the chances for a rich and lasting well. His protection is the stiff mud with which the hole is filled, and which he trusts to act as a plug until he is ready to clean her out. In the meantime there is nothing for an impatient public to do but wait, and discuss the boom which seems destined to strike this section in the space of a few weeks. The fact that a well as good as this — it would pay right now—is one grade of comfort, at least.

Here is a brief description of conditions at the Indian well:

Description of Well.

The well is at the base of the only known gas mound in the United States. They occur frequently in the Russian and other foreign fields and in no case has a well drilled in one of them failed to be a producing well, either of oil or gas or both.

The hole is sunk 50 yards at one side of the Taholah gas mound, the top of the hole being about 30 feet lower than the top of the mound. Thru the 10-inch casing at the surface the gas spurts mixed mud and oil into the air, and this through a pipe 350 feet in length which from top to bottom is filled with mud of the consistency of porridge. This alone proves an enormous pressure. Out with the mud comes great globules of petroleum, nearly black in color. The mud would be a bluish clay color were it not for the large percentage of oil. As it is, the mud is of a decidedly brown tinge.

The mud runs down to one side of the well where there is a settling pool. Here the black scum gathers on the surface. Stir the pool with a hoe even ever so slightly and globules of water as large as the end of a pencil are shot in the air several inches. What is more this motion continues for some time and the experiment can be continued indefinitely without fresh mud running into the pool. That shows how heavy is the gas pressure down in the ground. That mud as it runs down to the settling pool shows the oil color as it should be. The water is covered with the rainbow hues of petroleum. The smell is there too, and the oil appears to be of very high grade.

Just to show how heavy this impregnation is, some sand, pulled from the bottom of the well Saturday and which had lain on a board out in the rain—some rain too—since that time, was picked up yesterday and it still showed the oil color very strong. Likewise the smell was still there. The sand is according to Hoyle too, very sharp and gritty, and black.

Mr. Paulhamus would be very foolish to say what he has when it is impossible to tell. He is a very matter-of-fact, hard-headed oil man with twenty years experience in the oil fields. He does think the Indian is going to be a rich oil well. He is not stating this as a fact, however, and there is plenty of time later for that assertion."

The Seattle P.-I., which editorially comments as follows on the prospective oil fields, also says the Indian Oil Company is a close corporation. The average man couldn't get in it with dynamite. It is composed entirely of wealthy Tacoma men. Interested in it are Chester Thorne, banker; S. A. Perkins, newspaper publisher; Henry Hewitt, millionaire lumberman; Allen C. Mason, tide land owner; John Baker, banker; and Calvin Phillips, realty dealer. There are not many more, this list comprising about all the stockholders. They are working one of three Indian leases secured before the government decided to shut oil prospectors out of the reserve.

Manager Paulhamus is a brother of State Senator W. H. Paulhamus, and is a man of eighteen years' experience in Texan oil fields. He invented the rotary drill he is using at Taholah and it has been a big success. He himself runs it and it is working all hours of the day and night. He is hardheaded and practical and is not given to dreams. All these facts have added to the public confidence in the strike, and have increased the feeling that the discovery will prove larger than now reported.

Oil in the Olympics.

"Announcement that oil has been found in the Taholah well on the Quiniault Indian reservation is welcome though not unexpected news.

"It has long been known that oil exists in the Olympic peninsula. The seepages are there, extensively distributed, showing a large area of probably profitable ground in a belt paralleling the shore line of the Pacific ocean from the Strait to Grays harbor. The oils found are parrafine base.

California has the only extensive oil field on this coast so far developed. But its oils are asphaltum base and are largely valuable for their fuel products. There is every reason to believe that Alaska is rich in oil resources, but development will not be had in that region for many years.

Production is on the decline in all of the old fields yielding paraffine base oils, only Louisiana and Oklahoma showing any increase at the present time. Pennsylvania in particular is at a low ebb.

"Oil discoveries in Washington will direct the attention of Eastern operators and investors, now eagerly looking for a new field, to this region. Development is certain to follow so important a discovery as that at the Taholah well. This will add another important resource to the wealth of Washington, the value of which can be appreciated when it is remembered that California is now producing above 80,000,000 barrels of oil per year, worth about $35,000,000 at the well, and many times more in its refinery products.

"The discovery is encouraging and the announcement welcome news to all who look with hopeful eyes for material progress in the Northwest,"

One of the shingle manufacturers at Quilcene, according to the Megaphone, has a real grievance on account of a young ladies' minstrel show recently put on at that place. It seems one handsome young lady of color asked another handsome young lady of color if she had heard of the telegram Mr. Green had received from the shingle dealer to which he was shipping his product. The lady of whom the question was asked acknowledged her ignorance of the telegram and of course wanted to be put wise. The first lady then read the telegram, which was: "To W. S. Green, Quilcene, Wash. Knotholes received—please send the knots." Green claims that the demand for his product has suddenly fallen off.

Henry Gunderson has sold 25 tons of dynamite for blasting stumps during the past year. This in an indication of how the land in the east end of the county is now being cleared up and put into cultivation.—Sequim Press.

BLYN'S NEW LOGGING INDUSTRY

Seattle Firm Will Employ 125 Men on Reserve Near Sequim Bay.

The Snow Creek Logging Co., of Seattle, a new logging concern, which recently bought $80,000 worth of timber in the government forest south of Sequim Bay, has established headquarters at Blyn and is getting ready for business, says the Press.

The new company, of which Messrs. Webb & Beveridge are the principal owners, have bought out the Sequim Bay Logging Co. and will use the whole outfit of the old concern, including the logging railway, booms, etc. Superintendent Spearing of the old company will continue in charge of the new industry.

New camp houses and homes for the employees are now being constructed at Blyn and things are looking so lively around the head of the bay that folks are saying a new and greater Blyn is now building up that will sidetrack Sequim as the leading city of the east end of the county.

The new company will run two sides, or two separate camps, and employ all told from 125 to 150 men. The timber to be logged consists of a forest of cedar and fir on the reserve that is mature and decaying and must be cut and removed in the near future. Much of it is dead and down or burned over.

Graders and other workers have come from Seattle this week to start making roads into the timber, and by summer the camps will be in full operation, meaning a big and prosperous new industry for the Sequim bay community at Blyn.

Now is the time to get in your magazine orders. I have some exceptionally good club orders that will save you money. Mrs. Jessie Webster, phone 92.

SPRAYING "MUST" BE DONE YEARLY

Fine Ranging from $50 to $250 for Those Who Fail to Comply with Commissioner's Instructions

Stephen Land, Horticultural Inspector for District 5, left for Seattle Tuesday to assist the state's inspector there in the Hood Canal and Kitsap country. Mr. Land says many of the people here are negligent in the care of their trees and he may have to make an example of some in order to demonstrate that it is a case of "must" under the new law, which provides that all infected fruit trees shall be sprayed annually during the dormant season by the owner or lessee of the property. Anyone failing to disinfect within the time specified after notice by the district inspector shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and fined not less than $50.

Aside from the matter of the fine, Mr. Land says it will pay every tree owner to see that they get a thorough spraying. Several boxes of his apples which were sold to the Port Angeles Commission Co. the other day were very favorably commented upon by a gentleman familiar with eastern Washington fruit who was surprised to see such fine apples here. "It is merely a matter of spraying," said Mr. Land. "If our people here were to spray three times a year as they do in North Yakima, they would get the same results. Neglected trees will not produce good fruit."

LUMBERING NEXT TO AGRICULTURE.

According to E. T. Allen of Portland, Oregon, lumbering is the greatest American manufacturing industry and is exceeded only by agriculture in supplying the essentials of life. In an address before the convention during the last week, Mr Allen during the last week, Wr. Allen called called attention to the comparative lack of public knowledge of the economics of the subjects which touch each individual so closely as forestry and lumbering, says the Pacific Coast Times.

Mr. Allen is forester of the western forestry and conservation association, an organization of lumbermen whose principal activity is the protection of their holdings from fire. A large part of the association's efforts are directed to making the public realize the loss which each individual suffers, directly and indirectly, from forest destruction. In this connection he pointed out that forest preservation can not be conducted wholly by business managers or boards of directors. "It is a mutual cooperative enterprise," he said, "requiring daily participation by all concerned. The American forest policy must exist not because a few say it should, but because a majority of citizens understand what is needed and why it is needed and put the policy into effect."

"The only reason the average citizen does not realize the importance of forestry and does not give it the same active and intelligent interest that he gives his home town problems is that he can not see it so clearly. The very immensity and importance of the lumber industry causes its several processes of growing, manufacturing and distributing to be conducted separately and this confuses the public mind. Different communities see diferent parts of the whole process, but get no thorough grasp of forest economics.

"In many a little German village the whole communitiy sees the forest grow, cut, manufactured and used. Those who do not actually participate serve or supply those who do. There forestry needs no propaganda. The people could not understand the need of it any more than of propaganda for raising wheat and making bread.

"We talk too much about forests as though they were an end in themselves.We might just as well talk only of land when trying to improve agricultural conditions, or of water when urging the protection and propagation of food fishes. The average citizen must be brought to consider all forest production and all forest use as little or no different from the production and use of any necessary crop, obviously to be encouraged and stabilized on a permanent basis profitable to all concerned. Whether he is a private citizen or a law maker serving private citizens, he must be familiar with all the factors. As long as he thinks an uncut forest is forestry, and that such forestry is good and all lumbering bad, there will be no real progress.

"There is little trouble in passing laws for the protection and advance of agriculture, horticulture, and dairying, because people understand the growing condition of this industries and see the point of such laws readily.

"To succeed in the United States forestry must be so closely allied with lumbering that neither forester, lumbermen nor public makes any distinction. This being true, the need is to teach the principles of the business from start to finish. Every process, its cost and its relation to other processes and to the final price of the product should be common knowledge. The education of the public along these lines is the greatest need in forestry today."

ORDER TO SHOW CAUSE
Why Order of Sale or of Mortgage of Real Estate Should Not Be Made..
In the Superior Court of the State of Washington for Clallam County
In the Matter of the Estate of Bodil Christine Vind, Deceased.

H. S. Ralston, administrator of the estate of Bodil Christine Vind, having filed his petition herein, duly verified, praying for an order to sell or mortgage all or a portion of the real estate of said deceased for the purposes therein set forth, and it appearing to the court from said petition that there is no personal property belonging to said estate with which to pay the outstanding debts of said deceased and the debts and expenses of administration; and it appearing that, therefore, it is necessary to sell or mortgage the whole or some portion of the real estate of said deceased to provide funds for the payment of such debts and the costs of administration;

Now, therefore, it is ordered by the Court that all persons interested in the estate of said deceased appear before said court on the 5th day of January, 1914, at 9:30 o'clock in the forenoon of said day, at the court room of said Superior Court, in the City of Port Angeles, County of Clallam, State of Washington, then and there, or as soon thereafter as to the court may be convenient, to show cause why an order should not be granted to said administrator to sell at private sale or mortgage such of the real estate of said deceased as the court may order, as shall be necessary, and that a copy of this order be published at least four successive weeks in the Olympic-Leader, a newspaper of general circulation printed and published in said Clallam County, Washington. Done in open court this 18th day of November, 1913.

JOHN M. RALSTON, Judge.

Twenty Pounds Can Be Sent 150 Miles for 24 Cents.

The postoffice department, in order to facilitate Christmas business, or any sort of parcel post packages, is making an effort to educate the public relative to the regulations, in order that the postmasters' time will not be taken up during the busy season, replying to queries. The department insists that packages be mailed early, as that is the most important factor in insuring speedy delivery. Postmaster Fisher has received instructions from the postmaster-general, urging that the following rules be observed during the Christmas season:

"Not to be opened before Christmas" or similar expressions conveying the same meaning may be written on eather side of the Christmas package.

Insurance on packages, the actual value which does not exceed $25, may be secured for 5 cents.

Packages weighing up to 20 lbs. may now be sent by parcel post to points within 150 miles of Port Angeles for 24 cents. This includes 1st and 2nd mailing zones. The rates in those zones are 5c for the first pound and 1c for each additional pound.

For a 10c deposit C. O. D. packages will be delivered by parcel post. This deposit also insures the package.

PALMER - MAXFIELD NUPTIALS

A Wedding of Unusual Interest, Solemnized at Forks, Wednesday, November the 26th.

Awedding of unusual interest was solemnized Wednesday, Nov. 26th, at high noon at the home of Palmer Brothers of Forks, when their sister, Mary Gertrude Palmer, was united in marriage to Ray. S. Maxfield of Quillayute, Wash., by Rev. Fulmer of Port Angeles.

The ceremony was performed in the large living room which was tastefully decorated in English ivy and sword fern intermingled with chrysanthemums and white carnations. At 11:50 the wedding march, played by Miss Ruth Palmer, began and the bridal attendants, who were Mrs. Annette Palmer, Charles Palmer and Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Maxfield, took their place with the minister in the bay window to await the bride and groom, who promptly at noon descended the stairway preceded by little Earnest Palmer, ring bearer, and entering thru the music room, took their place in front of the minister.

Immediately after the ceremony a sumptous wedding dinner was served, about thirty guests being seated at three tables. The bride's table was beautifully decorated in white flowers with trailing green vines and white crepe paper, making a very pretty effect.

Those present were: Mrs. Annette Palmer, mother of the bride, Rev. Fulmer of Port Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Maxfield, Mr. H. E. Maxfield, Mrs. Maybury, Mrs. Ross of Tyee, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. Casper Maxfield and children, Miss Lawrence, Miss Beth Smith, Miss Delphene Merchant, Miss Elizabeth Merchant, Miss Ruth Palmer, Miss Anna Maxfield, Mr. S. Johnson, Lee Palmer, Hugh Palmer, Charles and Walter Palmer, Cleve Maxfield, Miss Winona Whitcomb and Elizabeth Whitcomb of Rochester, Wash., Master Earnest Palmer.

The bride was gowned in pearl gray silk and carried a large bouquet of white carnations tied with white tulle. The groom wore the conventional black

Mrs. Maxfield, nee Palmer, is a native of New York and is a woman of high ideals and winning ways and is greatly esteemed and well liked by all who have made her acquaintance during her three years residence at Forks. Mr. Maxfield is certainly to be congratulated on his good fortune.

The groom is well known and highly respected in Clallam county where he has lived most of his life. He is a native of Oregon. His father, Jessie Maxfield, was the first settler on Quillayute Prairie and one of the oldest settlers in the county. The groom served two terms as county assessor a few years ago, and is a young man of sterling character and we bespeak for him a happy married life.

They are spending their honeymoon on Quillayute and will go to housekeeping soon at Forks where Mr. Maxfield will engage in blacksmithing.

Many useful and handsome presents were received, including silverware, table and bed linen, dishes, furniture, etc.

With the distribution of nearly one million Red Cross seals thruout the state among hundreds of campaign managers and assistants, Washington has begun to set a new record for the sale of seals in this territory. In no preceding sale has enthusiasm reached its present height nor has enthusiasm been so general. From railroad magnate to humble bread winner, from the largest city in Washington to the remote country home, requests for Red Cross seals have poured into the offices of the Washington Association for the prevention and relief of tuberculosis. This is the one time during the year when the usually despised pennies may do a noble work and have a part in financing the world's greatest fight—the fight against tuberculosis. As several towns are not yet represented in the sale, a request is made of their mayors to arrange for the selling of seals in order that every incorporated town may have a part in this great practical and educational campaign.
