PORT ANGELES OLYMPIC LEADER

VOL. 30. No. 1. PORT ANGELES, CLALLAM COUNTY, WASHINGTON, FRIDAY, JANUARY 2, 1914. $1.00 EER YEAR.

LICENSES GRANTED FOR NEW YEAR

Council Voted Four to Theee, the Old Crow Being Only One Turned Down.

Council routine was broken in interest Tuesday night by the wholesale granting of liquor licenses. Councilman Fleming was the only member who showed any discriminating knowledge of tne relative merits of the many applicants, although Fisher and Swanson refused to vote on the application of J. W. Little. of the Old Crow bar, and this will doubtless have to close until an application can be placed before the new council which meets next week. The Patterson application came up again and was granted, Fleming consistently voting against this, the Olympic Hotel, which he said was in the residence district, and the application of Day & Abbott. Dustman and Wilcox voted against all except as above noted. The following licenses have been granted to date:

Peyser & Wiseman, Eagle Bar.
John Clark, Clark's Tavern.
Peter Grubb, Commercial Hotel.
Fred Roach, Olympic Hotel.
Day & Abbott, Merchants Hotel.
Mettler & Pollanz, Angeles Hotel.
L. .H Kempton, The Buffet.
A. A. Patterson, Front and Oak.

The street committee recommended that $50 be expended on Peabody between 11th and 12th, and for culvert in alley. Upon motion of Elliott report was adopted.

J. H. Gibson, late engineer of the city's electric light plant at $150 per month was employed to assist the city electrician at $75 per month, it being part of his duty to keep in good condition the city's auxiliary plant.

The city attorney reported as to the recommendations of the mayor in the vetoed public utilities ordinance to the effect that the matter of railways and street cars was of such moment that a separate ordinance would be most desirable. This, he stated, could be brought up any time within the next 90 days. The ordinance committee recommended the adoption of the report and the public utilities ordinance governing the placing of all pipes and poles of all public utilities and providing for the filing of plats and securing permission of city to lay and plant was read with a few minor amendments by the city attorney and adopted by unanimous vote.

Engineer Chase of Spokane submitted a communication to city stating that it would be a waste of time for him to come here until advised that the oil at station is dried out and juice is ready to test plant, when so advised he will come. This called forth a smile from the council, knowing that the station has not only been dried out, but tested and is in operation. The matter was referred to the light committee.

The acceptance of the Olympic Power Co. of the franchise granted at last meeting was read and filed.

E. Ramsey was granted permission to blast stumps in Blk 379 under usual restrictions.

A claim was presented to the city in behalf of Chas. George and against Chase Eng. Co. in shape of a judgment for $498.93 against Chase Eng. Co. with request that same be either allowed or rejected. The claim was rejected on recommendation of city attorney, who held that city could not pay same from the funds due Chase until ordered to do so by the courts. Prompt rejection would allow claimants to proceed.

Upon motion of Wilcox the street supt. was directed to continue the Washington street walk 50 feet to connect with 7th street walk.

Claim of Olympic Power Co. for $148.90 for putting power station in order and extras ordered by city was read and referred.

The application of Treasurer-elect Lange was again taken up, it being stated that Mr. Lange would not be able to qualify unless permitted to maintain the office in his regular place of business. The plea was made that the salary was lowered to $60 per month after Mr. Lange had filed. Dustman maintained that the office should be at the city hall, particularly the coming year when there would be much increase in business and now that the Treasurer was the collector of light bills and patrons were in the habit and would continue t ogo to the city hall. Elliott moved that the request of Mr. Lange be granted, sec. by Fisher and carried, 4 to 3.

The clerk called attention to fact that the city has $240 tied up in oil barrels, now empty, at substation. Dustman that same be shipped as per instructions of Gen. Elec. Co.

Dustman brought up condition of C street at 11th, stating that it was a main travelled road. One and one-half blocks need heavy coat of gravel and other repairs. Also condition of main thoroughfare out of town east—Front street. Upon his motion both streets were referred to the street com. and supt. for a report as to cost of putting each in good condition.

Three new condemnation suits were filed this week with the county clerk. The lands sought to be condemned are in the vicinity of Gettysburg. The defendants named are Oscar Nelson, M. P. Egan and T. F. Trumbull, trustee.

KILLED AT SOL DUC HOT SPRINGS

Guest at Hotel Caught in Belting in Engine Room where Light and Heat Are Generated.

A Seattle man, Capt. George L. Hill, was caught in the power belting at the Sol Duc Hot Springs last Friday and instantly killed. The engineer was engaged in another part of the building and did not see the accident; his attention was called when the belt was thrown.

Capt. Hill was 52 years old and been prominent in shipping circles many years, having been long connected with the steamboats of Alaska and Puget Sound. The body was taken to Seattle Saturday; he is survived by a widow, Mrs. Elizabeth A. Hill.

ERICKSON'S BID $50,000 TOO HIGH

Lewis, Wiley & Morse of Seattle Will Take the Two Districts at $194,000.

The Council chamber was packed to the doors Tuesday night at the regular session, occasioned by the opening of bids for the street work, which is to transform the city and start it off on the road of renewed prosperity. All members present.

The big event of the evening was, of course, the opening of the bids for the improvement of districts 11 and 12, embracing the business section, Railroad avenue, Front and First streets and alley between, Oak, Laurel and Lincoln, north and south, and Third street; and District 12, embracing the hill section of Front and First streets east of the business section and including the cross streets Peabody and Vine.

Two bids were submitted; one by the Erickson Construction Co., who made good their promise to "submit" a bid, and one by Lewis, Wiley & Morse of Seattle, large contractors. Mr. Erickson stipulated in his bid that he must be awarded both contracts and that he would give a personal bond, not a surety bond, also that it had been agreed that the Railroad avenue trestle was to be ready for the rails, and the specifications were to be amended to include this.

Lewis, Wiley & Morse simply stated that if awarded both bids council could consider the earthwork at 5c per yard or 16 2-3 per cent less than the separate bids submitted. The awarding of the contract was laid over for one week to look up the legality of the bids in the forms submitted.

The Bids Submitted:

Erickson Construction Co.: Aggregate as per specifications,

District 11,...	$220,525.00
District 12,...	27,200.00
Total	$247,725.00

Earthwork 35c; piling, driven, fir 26c, cut off 14c, cedar driven 35c, cut off 15c; lumber sized $25, concrete $10 yd straight; concrete sewer $50. Earthwork Dist. 12, 28c.

Lewis, Wiley & Morse proved the best bidder, according to the figures of the engineer, by $53,496.00, as follows:

District 11: Earthwork 30c; piling, driven 23c, cut off 9c, cedar piling driven 27c, cut off 10c; lumber rough $21, sized $22; concrete $9 yard, extras $10; concrete sewer $25. District 12: Earthwork 30c yd. Both bids of the latter firm contained the clause that if awarded both contracts 5c per yard reduction for earthwork could be made. The following is the engineer's tabulation of the L. W. & M. bid:

District 11	$177,249
District 12,.....	29,000
Total	$206,249
less 5c off on earth...	12,000
Net bid	$194,229

This bid is some $8,000 less than the city engineer's estimate.

A WELL DESERVED APPRECIATION

Very few of the people who were present at the Christmas entertainment of the Congregational Sunday school and who saw the beautiful and appropriate gifts presented to the children of the Sunday school realize the amount of labor and genius it requires to make such a Christmas giving possible. It often taxes our ingenuity to provide suitable gifts for our immediate relatives and friends with unlimited means at our disposal. When dire necessity places limitations upon our pocket book and provision must be made for an entire school of all ages and tastes the difficulty increases a thousand fold. We are more than pleased to acknowledge our indebtedness to the love, self-sacrifice and ingenuity of Mrs. Conrad Luppen and Mrs. L. M. Campbell, whose good judgment and business sagacity in purchasing these numerous articles made people exclaim "How beautiful!" "How lovely!" and "How could you do it and keep within your means?" **

Nine oil leases by ranchers in the Morse creek district to Jas. H. Tomlinson have been filed with the county auditor.

THE PILGRIMS PROGRESS

Immortal Story to Be Shown in Photo Play at Opera House Two Days Next Week.

John Bunyan's immortal story of "The Pilgrims Progress" staged in strict accordance with the book, will be seen at the Opera House Wednesday and Thursday night. The prologue unfolds the life of John Bunyan who has dissipated his fortune in earthly pleasures. The sight of his family reduced to poverty fills him with remorse and he is not only converted but subsequently becomes a preacher. Imprisoned by the authorities for his religious zeal and influence over the masses, he is confined in Bedford jail. It is then that he writes the book of the Pilgrims Progress—the result of a vision. John Bunyan's dream double in the book is Christian, who like our modern "Everywoman" in search of love, encounters all the vicissitudes of mortal existence. His pilgrimage from the city of Destruction to the city of Everlasting Life is a continual struggle for righteousness—a series of extraordinary circumstances, until finally he passes over the River of Death.

The films for this production were made amidst the magnificent scenery of Terine, Italy by the far famed-Ambrosio Company, the entire effect costing $36,000. The players selected were the best available in all Europe. Alexander Salvini appears as Christian, Eleanor Seranti as Christiana and Allaco Gievanni as John Bunyan in the prologue. The various scenes and events are described throughout the performance by the well known narrator, Charlotte Curtiss who brings the story written 250 years ago, home to everyone.

The entire performance will be exactly as it was given at the University of Washington a few days ago.

Two fine musical programs were given at the Congregational church last Sunday. The congregation in the evening was greatly favored with an interesting and scholarly address by Prof. Charles McGillivray who took up the subject of Christmas from a historical standpoint giving the preparation of the world for the coming of the Messiah. He showed in a clear convincing way how Greek culture and Roman law had their mission as well as the Hebrew prophets in preparing the way for the coming of the "Prince of Peace."

Efforts are being made to do away with the Seattle Land Office. The Seattle Chamber is resisting the effort on the ground that most of the remaining land is adjacent to Seattle and not to Olympia, being in Clallam, Whatcom and Snohomish counties.

The Seattle Times of December 30 says editorially: "Port Angeles is reveling in electric light furnished by the new Elwha river plant. The improvement marks a distinct epoch in the Peninsula's development."

A BRILLIANT SOCIAL FUNCTION

Mr. and Mrs. Roach of the Olympic Hotel Entertain 100 Couple with Ball and Dinner.

The Grand Ball and dinner given at the new Olympic Hotel last evening proved to be one of the most brilliant social dances ever given in Angeles. All the society people of the city were present and the handsome costumes of the ladies added to the general attractiveness and beauty of the rooms. No hotel on the Sound can boast of more elegant furnishings and equipment, and with the added attractiveness of its holiday decorations it made a very favorable impression. The music furnished by the Gate City Orchestra was excellent and the floor of the spacious dancing hall was crowded with merry dancers until the small hours of morning. The dinner served shortly after midnight, left nothing to be desired and was convincing proof of the efficiency of the hotel managers. Mr. and Mrs.Roach have had years of experience in the hotel business and nothing is left undone that adds to the comfort and pleasure of their guests.

BLACKBIRDS STOP STREETCARS

Happy Little Fellows Quite a Novelty in Web-Foot Section.

Down in Hoquiam, it would appear from the following press dispatch, the blackbird is almost unknown as a winter resident. Common enough here; flocks of them all over town this winter, last winter, and every winter. But Port Angeles don't have some seven feet of rainfall a year—enough to discourage even the web-footed birds, let alone such cheerful fellows as the blackbirds.

Hoquiam, Dec. 24.— A swarm of blackbirds—hundreds of them—coming from no one knows where or why, settled dow on Eighth street about 9:30 o'clock this morning and for a time called a temporary halt on traffic. The street car, which scattered the band once, only to have them settle down again on the street after the car passed, was brought to a temporary halt until the track could be cleared of the birds, which moved slowly out of the way on the approach of the car. Not a bird was killed however. The birds remained in the vicinity for some time. They perched on surrounding buildings and telephone and electric light poles, and in fact, everywhere. They did not seem very wild. Care was taken to harm none of them.

WANT TO RUSH GRADING

Contractors Propose to Sign Up With City Council at Earliest Possible Moment.

City Clerk Shields received a wire from Lewis, Wiley & Morse, the big Seattle firm of contractors who were the lowest bidders on the extensive street improvement to be undertaken in Port Angeles' business district, requesting him to bring all papers and records regarding the creation of assessment districts, etc., to Seattle at once for examination by their legal advisors. If it appears that the City has proceeded legally thus far with the various steps upon which the future sale of bonds will depend the contractors will sign up ready for acceptance by the Council next Tuesday night. The commencement of operations will then be up to the contractors, with the presumption that they will get busy within a very few days.

THE SUN ALWAYS SHINES IN PORT ANGELES

Only Town in Sound Country Having Little Rain and No Cold Winds.

The Seattle Times weather man, in his prediction of "drippin'" for last Sunday, gets off the following effusion, reprinted here merely to direct attention to the fact that while they are having "beastly weather" most of the time in Seattle, we are enjoy-sunshine.

With Blizzards in the Middle West,
And Jersey gales a raisin' Cain;
And California's beach cafays
Put on the blink by ocean sprays,
We have no cause a kick to raise
When we git simply rain.

As a matter of fact, we who are accustomed to Port Angeles weather don't half appreciate it. We think of it as being general over Puget Sound whereas no other place in this northwestern country has so little rain coupled with an almost entire freedom from wind. Other towns there are that have little rain, but the wind blows so hard much of the time that the rain simply don't egt a chance to fall.

Mr. Phillips, superintendent of the telephone system, again dirceted our attention to this fact the other day, saying we had had but one rain during the two weeks he had been here. During the same time up-sound papers have been telling of almost continual bad weather.

The Congregational church was filled both morning and evening last Sunday to listen to the special Christmas services. The music by the choir was exceptionally enjoyable. "O, Silent Night" as sung by the male quartet Messrs. DeSwarte, Cosser, Isbell and DeSwarte was beautiful. The Methodist and Episcopal churches both had splendid song service also. At the Episcopal church Mrs. Rixon sang a solo and she will also assist with the special song service next Sunday.

With the establishment by congress of the office of "market investigations," we can claim that the "back to the farm" movement has begun. If there is one thing that has been necessary this office is "IT," says the Denver Post. Not many years ago the profits of the farmer were low, so low that there could be no good reason for advocating the proposition of people going back to the farm. Almost any kind of a position in the city gave the worker a better income than he could make with the same energy on the farm. Much has been done by the government in teaching the farmers—thru experiment stations—how he could grow better and larger crops. Little attention has been paid to the fact that there is a terrific leakage between the producer and the consumer. This new bureau should bring the farmer and consumer nearer together, find a way to sell the products to the consumer tnd thus give the farmer more for his stuff than he is now getting and make the farm work more profitable.

Although the sale of Red Cross seals closed officially at midnight December 24th, a few managers who had not disposed of their entire consignments pushed the sale with vigor to the first of the year. All returns are to be made to the Washington Association for the Prevention and Relief of Tuberculosis, 915 Cobb Bld., Seattle. While it is too early to accurately estimate financial results, one fact is evident, the sale of 1913 stands out as the most purposeful of the educational campaigns yet undertaken in this state against tuberculosis. The definite program proposed by the association and enacted into law by the last legislature has met with approval from all quarters and public sentiment seems agreed that a winning fight against tuberculosis in Washington has been begun. Every county should provide a thoroughly qualified visiting nurse for tuberculosis cases; each school or town should arrange at once with the association for a lecture or motion picture exhibit during the early spring, and every resident of Washington should do his part to make the Red Cross seal campaign effective thruout the year by assisting in every possible way in the work. All this will hasten the time when tuberculosis will be controlled and ultimately eradicated in Washington.

In common with most of the cities of the state, Aberdeen had a City Christmas tree this year, concerning which the World says: "The city Christmas tree idea, put into effect here this year, is really a splendid custom and one that should be, and undoubtedly will be, continued. It is an idea that is spreading over the country. Most of the larger cities had such trees this year and many of the smaller ones in various sections of the country. The public tree brings Christmas to many who otherwise might note the passing of the day with something very like bitterness. For a first attempt, the achievement here this year was well done. Next year the details will be better and the whole thing improved. The tree is especially for the children and nothing should be undone that will help to give them pleasure. Those who planned it and those who carried it thru to success are entitled to the thanks of the community.

CURRENCY BILL NOW A LAW; VITAL TO WHOLE NATION

CARTER GLASS.

Chief Features of New Federal Reserve Act Here Presented---Federal Reserve Board of Seven Members to Supervise Banking System of the Country.

R. L. OWEN.

Eight to Twelve Reserve Banks to Be Established In Various Parts of the Land --- Enacts Money Reforms, Particularly With Regard to Farmers.

THE federal reserve act is now a part of the law of the land. With President Wilson's signature to the new Glass-Owen currency reform bill the country looks forward to the practical working out of the act. The law is in part as follows:

An act to provide for the establishment of federal reserve banks to furnish an elastic currency, to afford means of rediscounting commercial paper, to establish a more effective supervision of banking in the United States and for other purposes.

© 1913, by American Press Association.

THE PRESIDENT.

That the short title of this act shall be the "federal reserve act."

Sec. 2. As soon as practicable the secretary of the treasury, the secretary of agriculture and the comptroller of the currency, acting as "the reserve bank organization committee," shall designate not less than eight nor more than twelve cities to be known as federal reserve cities, and shall divide the continental United States, excluding Alaska, into districts, each district to contain only one of such federal reserve cities.

NAMING RESERVE BANKS.

To Take Title of Principal City In Reserve District.

The said committee shall supervise the organization in each of the cities designated of a federal reserve bank, which shall include in its title the name of the city in which it is situated, as "Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago."

Under regulations to be prescribed by the organization committee every national banking association in the United States is hereby required and every eligible bank in the United States and every trust company within the District of Columbia is hereby authorized to signify in writing within sixty days after the passage of this act its acceptance of the terms and provisions hereof.

When the organization committee shall have designated the cities in which federal reserve banks are to be organized and fixed the geographical limits of the federal reserve districts every national banking association within that district shall be required within thirty days after notice from the organization committee to subscribe to the capital stock of such federal reserve bank in a sum equal to 6 per cent of the paid up capital stock and surplus of such bank.

Any national bank failing to signify its acceptance of the terms of this act within the sixty days aforesaid shall cease to act as a reserve agent upon thirty days' notice to be given within the discretion of the said organization committee or of the federal reserve board.

Should any national banking association in the United States now organized fail within one year after the passage of this act to become a member bank under the provisions hereinbefore stated or fail to comply with any of the provisions of this act applicable thereto all of the rights, privileges and franchises of such association granted to it under the national bank act or under the provisions of this act shall be thereby forfeited.

No individual, copartnership or corporation other than a member bank of its district shall be permitted to subscribe for or to hold at any time more than $10,000 par value of stock in any federal reserve bank. Such stock shall be known as public stock and may be transferred on the books of the federal reserve bank by the chairman of the board of directors of such bank.

Should the subscription of stock by banks and the public be inadequate the government itself may subscribe for stock. Stock not held by member banks shall be voted by Class C directors only.

RESERVE BANK BRANCHES.

Regional Institutions Empowered to Establish Sub-Banks.

No federal reserve bank shall commence business with a subscribed capital less in amount than $3,000,000.

Sec. 3. Each federal reserve bank shall extablish branch banks within the federal reserve district in which it is located and may do so in the district of any federal reserve bank which may have been suspended. Such branches shall be operated by a board of directors under the rules and regulations approved by the federal reserve board. Directors of branch banks shall possess the same qualifications as directors of the federal reserve banks. Four of said directors shall be selected by the reserve bank and three by the federal reserve board, and they shall hold office during the pleasure, respectively, of the parent bank and the federal reserve board. The reserve bank shall designate one of the directors as manager.

Sec. 4. * * * Upon the filing of * * * certificate with the comptroller of the currency * * * the said federal reserve bank shall become a body corporate and as such and in the name designated in such organization certificate shall have power—

First.—To adopt and use a corporate seal.

Second.—To have succession for a period of twenty years from its organization unless it is sooner dissolved by an act of congress or unless its franchise becomes forfeited by some violation of law.

Third.—To make contracts.

Fourth.—To sue and be sued, complain and defend, in any court of law or equity.

Fifth.—To appoint by its board of directors, elected as hereinafter provided, such officers as are not otherwise provided for in this act, to define their duties, require bonds of them and fix the penalty thereof, to dismiss such officers or any of them as may be appointed by them at pleasure and to appoint others to fill their places.

Sixth.—To prescribe by its board of directors bylaws not inconsistent with law regulating the manner in which its general business may be conducted and the privileges granted to it by law may be exercised and enjoyed.

Seventh.—To exercise by its board of directors or duly authorized officers or agents all powers specifically granted by the provisions of this act and such incidental powers as shall be necessary to carry on the business of banking within the limitations prescribed by this act.

Eighth.—Upon deposit with the treasurer of the United States of any bonds of the United States in the manner provided by existing law relating to national banks to receive from the comptroller of the currency circulating notes in blank, registered and countersigned as provided by law, equal in amount to the par value of the bonds so deposited, such notes to be issued under the same conditions and provisions of law which relate to the issue of circulating notes of national banks secured by bonds of the United States bearing the circulating privilege, except that the issue of such notes shall not be limited to the amount of the capital stock of such federal reserve bank.

But no federal reserve bank shall transact any business except such as is incidental and necessarily preliminary to its organization until it has been authorized by the comptroller of the currency to commence business under the provisions of this act.

CLASSES OF DIRECTORS.

Every federal reserve bank shall be conducted under the supervision and control of a board of directors.

Such board of directors shall be selected as hereinafter specified and shall consist of nine members, holding office for three years and divided into three classes, designated as Classes A, B and C.

Class A shall consist of three members, who shall be chosen by and be representative of the stock holding banks.

Class B shall consist of three members, who at the time of their election shall be actively engaged in their district in commerce, in agriculture or in some other industrial pursuit.

Class C shall consist of three members, who shall be designated by the federal reserve board. When the necessary subscriptions to the capital stock have been obtained for the organization for any federal reserve bank the federal reserve board shall appoint the Class C directors and shall designate one of such directors as chairman of the board to be selected. Pending the designation of such chairman the organization committee shall

LINCOLN HEIGHTS

Christmas is among the past, as New Years will be ere this is in print. May the Christmas spirit of love and pity for the poor, in connection with helping to make their lives easier, last the remaining three hundred and sixty-four days of the year, and the "good resolutions" usually made the first day of the year be of the same duration.

We have heard of too many Christmas dinners on the Heights to name the entertainers. Nearly all who did not entertain were guests of other families.

Roy LaFlower has so far recovered from his recent illness that he was able to come up to his father's this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Harding arrived home Sunday from their visit to Tacoma and while they had a splendid visit there with old neighbors from Ok., were glad to see the sun shining when they arrived in Angeles.

Joe Hall, wife and baby, also came home from Seattle, Sunday.

Mrs. Burgman and daughters, Vera and Vernice, came home Tuesday morning. They were in Everett when the earthquake shook that city and say it was more severe than the one experienced here some years ago. Mrs. Burgman also visited friends in Snohomish. She says she went away to rest but now thinks she will have to do the resting at home. Visiting many places in a short space of time is not restful.

Mrs. Mahaffey and neices are home from their up-sound visit, also.

Mrs. Emma Schrake, Mrs. LaFlower and Lottie, assisted Roy and his wife to celebrate his birthday anniversary last Sunday.

J. A. Epperson and son Fred returned to Sappho Friday, where they have about six weeks work yet to do. Mr. Epperson purchased a small ranch south of town when home which he intends to make a home of in the near future.

The many friends of Mrs. Ishmael Filion are pleased to hear that she is rapidly recovering from the serious operation she passed thru at the hospital in Victoria, last week.

Mr. A. H. Hall is now the owner of a team of horses which may mean that they prefer country to city life.

PROGRESS OF IRRIGATION

Uncle Sam has about 70,000,000 invested in some 25 irrigation projects. They contemplate making first class farming area of about 3,000,000 acres scattered throughout all the states from the Dakotas, Kansas and Nebraska, west to the Pacific. This region that Uncle Sam is putting under water is expected to care for a family of five on every forty acres; this is for a total of 375,000 people. But this does not consider the number who will be kept busy merchandising for these farmers, hauling things by rail to them, raising livestock for the irrigation farmers to finish, mining low grade ores that couldn't be worked unless civilization was brought closer to them than it was before the irrigation project brought it.

On the whole, it is fair to say that these government irrigation projects represent the potentiality of a million population, housed and made independent producers. Take the Salt River project, in Arizona, one of the very largest of government undertakings. About 115,000 acres of its lands are now under cultivation, and this will be increased to 200,000. The government spent about $10,000,000 in the works, and last year the products of these lands were worth about $6,000,000. This year they will go much higher. But the real reason why the Salt River proposition got on its feet so soon and has been a success from the start is that it had the right kind of settlers. They knew just what to do with irrigation lands, they did it and they succeeded.

WILL BE GREAT DAIRY SECTION

From the Sequim Press.

The Pacific coast and especially Clallam County, is destined to become one of the greatest dairy sections in the world. In support of this statement I wish to submit three reasons: First and foremost, we have an intelligent and progressive people. Now I hope no one will dispute this, but if you do I am prepared to prove it. Second, we have large and good markets for our output. Last, but not least, we have soil and climatic conditions enjoyed by few other localities.

A crop failure is something unheard of here. I passed through Texas, Indian Territory, Nebraska and Kansas and saw country where the crops had been dried out and burned up by drouth.

In Minnesota and Wisconsin cattle have been shut in barns for two months, expensive barns too, as they must be made warm to get good results. Here our cows may be out every day for water and exercise and most of the time for grazing. There they must have root houses to keep the beets and carrots. Here we can leave them in the field until we want to use them. There the question of what manner of silo to build not to be injured by frost itself and make it possible to handle the silage, anything that is tight will do. There they have to give considerable attention to proper balanced ration, corn and other crops being short of protein, which must be supplied in inexpensive feeds such as cotton seed or linseed meal. Here our clover, oats, peas and alfalfa abound in protein in a highly digestible form.

We already have in this community a lot of good cows. I would like to see the time come soon when each and every cow should be tested and only the best ones kept. Then as the bull is half the herd, let pure bred, high record sires be used to grade up to a still higher production.

Let's not "guess" that we've got good cows. It is only by knowing that we can hope to improve.

W. C. Jeffries, an Ohio farmer, says,"Probably the nearest perfect animal of its kind in existance today is the Holstein cow, Spring Farm Pontiac Lass, that made the astonishing official record of over 44 pounds of butter in seven days and other world's records right along for 30, 60 and 90 days, and is still going." As showing how she is appreciated, she was bought for $10,000, the highest ever paid for a butter cow."

After nearly three months of travel and inspection of many good herds I brought back a carload of good, pure bred young Holsteins, several of which have 25 per cent. the same blood as the famous cow. One-half of these went to the county farm, it being the purpose of the authorities to assist the dairymen to improve the stock of the county.

WHY SLIGHT THE CARRO

Why does no poet rise to sinse song of the carrot? This is the rot season,the time of harvestine hardest worked vegetable in the gdom. Much is said in favor one plethoric pumpkin, the gatherio of corn is a common-place theme but poor carrot has been neglected,a, even scorned..

For diversity of use the carrcas pumpkin and corn backed offhe garden wall. Men feed carrcto the cattle, increasing the dairutput; they feed them to otherck sometimes, improving its tempe A carrot, artificially hollowed w a knife, makes an elegant Japse vase. Sufficiently hardened bysh contact with the world, a carrcay be used for a weapon, either oted like a mallet with a handle oirled like a Russian boom.

Carrots are sometimes evesed for food by human beings.ley are a chief ingredient in veble soup. Mixed with butter thmprove its color. They make ter pumpkin pie than pumpkinsmselves. Served as hubbard sh, they make one wonder why shes wers invented.

THE MANAGEMENT OF THE NATIONAL FORESTS

Chief Aims Are to Insure Restocking and Permanence, and Prevent Monopoly in Timber.

The report of U.S. Forester Graves for the fiscal year, ending June 30, furnishes some interesting facts relative to the forest service.

More than two million board feet of timber, with a value of four and one half million dollars on the stump, was sold by the forest service last year, according to the annual report. This is an increase of 167 per cent over the sales of the preceeding year. The timber sold was largely for future cutting under contracts which run for a number of years. The actual cut was a little less than 500 million board feet, an increase of 15 per cent over 1912. Still larger sales are in prospect.

The timber sale policy of the forest service is summarized as aiming first of all to prevent losses by fire, and secondly to utilize the ripe timber which can be marketed. Other aims are: to cut so as to insure restocking and forest permanence; to get the full market value for the timber sold; to prevent speculative acquisition and private monopoly of public timber and to maintain competitive conditions in the lumber industry so far as possible; to provide first for the needs of local communities and industries; to open lands of agricultural value to settlement without allowing them to be tied up by timber speculators; and finally, to secure as soon as possible the cost of production and administration to the government and a revenue to the national forest states, to which go 25 per cent of all receipts.

A large part of the report is devoted to a discussion of various kinds of claims under which title to land within the forests is sought. Nearly a thousand homesteads were taken up under a special act which provides opening to settlement land suitable for agriculture. The report states, however, that some old homestead claims were instituted for the purpos of securing timber, and the same is still true of some mining claims.

"The mining laws," it says, "afford the greatest cloak for land frauds in the national forest, and fraudulent mining claims are initiated by men and interests having no connection whatever with the mining industry." The mining laws, for example, have been used to cover townsite and timber claims, to secure mineral springs, to secure farms and ranches, sites for saloons, water power sites, and stock watering places.

One of the largest tasks of the service during the past year has been the classification of lands within the national forests in respect to their highest future use. This work was undertaken during 1913 on a more comprehensive scale than ever before, because there was a specific appropriation for the purpose. Large areas are being classified where the amount of land chiefly valuable for agriculture warrants its being taken out of the forests, and it also takes care of areas on which detailed classification will disclose small areas suitable for agricultural development within the forests.

Under existing law, 25 per cent of the gross receipts from the forests is paid over to the states by the federal government for the benefit of county schools and roads. An additional 10 per cent is expended in building roads and trails for the benefit of the public. About $587,000 will be available for the states during the current year from last year's receipts, besides $235,000 provided for in the road fund. Altogether, including special funds to Arizona and New Mexico, the national forests provided nearly $867,000 to be expended for the benefit of the states in which they are situated.

The Abbotts' new $16,000 photo play house was opened at Sedro Woolley on Christmas day, work having been rushed day and night for the past six weeks. It is a steam heated fire proof building, seating 600 people.

NOTICE FOR PUBLICATION.

Department of the Interior, U. S. Land Office at Seattle, Washington, December 12, 1913.

Notice is hereby given that Martha E. Newbert, of Mora, Washington, who, on January 16, 1911, made Homestead Entry Serial, No. 02219, for lots 4, 5, 6, section 1, and lot 1, section 2, township 27 N., Range 15 West, Williamette, Meridian, has filed notice of intention to make final five year proof, to establish claim to the land above described, before James Stewart, U. S. Commissioner, at Port Angeles, Wash., on the 30th day of January, 1914.

Claimant names as witnesses: K. O. Erickson, Port Angeles, Wash.; J. M. Kay, of Forks, Wash.; Joe Marsh, of Quillayute, Wash.; John O. Hermanson, of Mora, Wash.

JOHN C. DENNY, Register.

SAME CONDITIONS EXIST IN ANGELES TODAY

Many a Man is Turning Down Opportunity to Provide for His Old Age.

The New York traveling man who was in Seattle the other day lamenting his shortsightedness at not having purchased a lot on Seattle's water front in 1882 because it was under water was an unlucky person, to be sure, but there were others, lots, if they would only come to the front, says the P. I. There is an old farmer down at Dungeness, very old now, who lived in Seattle in the '60s. He owned one of the Pike and Second avenue corners away back in those dim days. It wasn't much of a possession then, and the possessor, to tell the truth, thought just that. He didn't care a lot for that lot.

He didn't need it, as he had more lots then he could use to live on or to grow truck on. What he did need was a cow. So one day he traded this lot for a cow, and chuckled to to think how he had put it over on the cow's previous proprietor. It was regarded as a good trade, and the fellow who got the lot was looked upon as more or less of a mutt, with most of the community taking the "more" view.

However, it is still to be said that the cow either died or became beef before the crime of '73. The lot is still there, worth a large flock of cows and a mixed herd of goats and sheep thrown in. All kinds of people made mistakes in those days.

DOCTORING THE SOIL

The Country Gentleman says: "Soil analysis by itself is of little value to most farmers. The mere facts of composition give little light as what a soil is worth. Every analysis must be explained in the terms of relative value and of various modifying influences to be of aid to the farmer. Realizing this, the soil experts of Wisconsin drafted a law which was passed by the legislature at its last session.

"This new law establishes a state soils laboratory at the college of Agriculture and prescribes for it a three fold duty—to make field examinations, to make chemical analysis of the soil, and to give full and detailed explanation of such analysis to the owner of the land, together with instructions on how the soil should be cropped and improved. More important still, the law puts a price on these services which is within the reach of any farm owner. For field examination and analysis on 160 acre tracts when requested by one person the charge is $5; for an additional 160 acres or any part thereof, $3. Most of the cost of this work is very properly placed directly upon the farmer who is helped. The cost is trifling compared with the benefits which may come from such service. This is a lead which other states should promptly follow."

FEEDING FRUIT TREES

To intelligently feed fruit trees, it should be ascertained what the soil is capable of doing for them. A soil may be deficient in potash, or in phosphoric acid, or in nitrogen. If the trees are making quick growth, and the foliage has a deep green color, and the wood matures, it is evidence that nothing further need be done. But if there is a sluggish growth and the folliage turns yellow, the trees are not receiving sufficient food. In case the soil is not mellow and friable it should be made so. A lumpy, coarse soil can be improved by growing some cover crop, as cowpeas, or rye, or by the use of barnyard manures, which should be plowed under in the spring.

While working about the trees in spring a few pounds of ground bone and wood ashes spread about the roots and worked in with a hand implement will be found beneficial.

It frequently happens that orchards, upon reaching bearing age, are growing too fast, showing little inclination to fruit. This is largely caused by the presence of too much nitrogen. To remedy this condition, the orchard should either not be cultivated for a season, or, if cultivated, a nonnitrogenous cover crop should be sown, and fertilizers applied that contain only potash and phosphoric acid. When the trees begin to bear, these latter ingredients are heavily drawn on.

For bearing orchards, commercial fertilizers are frequently used. In rich soils the result of their use is quite marked, but for young trees in comparatively poor soil, commercial fertilizers are not not as valuable as good barnyard manure. An excess of nitrogen is to be avoided, as it has the tendency of growing wood rather than fruit. The potash and one-half the phosphoric acid may be applied in the fall, but the remainder should be applied in spring. It is generally conceded that potash is the most important constituent, as fruits withdraw much larger quantities of it than they do of nitrogen or phosphoric acid.

[Written by a Carrier.]

IT takes lots of men in a newspaper shop,
And all must keep busy or presses will stop.

The Editor's certain that he's the big noise.
He looks more important than the carrier boys;
He sits at a desk, and he bosses the works
And keeps the gang jumpin' like so many Turks.

But what is the use of his work in good shape
If the Carrier fails to deliver the pape?

THE Reporters are pretty important young chaps;
They write about weddings, hoss races and scraps.

Of course they are needed to hunt up the news,
But if you should ask for my own honest views
I'd say the Reporter needs legs more than brains,
For he spends his time running from hotels to trains.

But what good is all the Reporters can do
If the Carrier don't bring the paper to you?

THE printers and pressmen are all worth their pay;
They do their work well and with little to say.

They are needed at times, and so is the clerk
Who takes in the money, though that is not work.
But the guy that's the real thing, the one who cuts ice,

The fellow whose value can't be fixed at a price,
Is the one who begins when the others are through
And hurries to bring the paper

An Ordinance granting to the Olympic Power Company, its successors and assigns, the right to construct maintain and operate an electric distribution system by means of poles and wires to be erected in the streets, alleys and public places of the City of Port Angeles, for the purpose of furnishing to said City electric current for the operation of its municipal electric light and power plant, and for the further purpose of furnishing electric power for other purposes, excepting lighting and domestic use, and to furnish said current for lighting and domestic use when and where permitted by resolution of the Council of said City.

WHEREAS, The Olympic Power Company is a corporation, engaged in the business of generating electric current on the Elwha River in Clallam County, Washngton, and is desirous of conducting electric current to and distributing the same in the City of Port Angeles; and

WHEREAS, The City of Port Angeles is maintaining and operating a municipal electric light and power plant and is desirous of procuring from said Olympic Power Company the electric current necessary to the operation of its said plant, and is willing that said company shall furnish to the inhabitants of said City, electric current for power purposes, not conflicting with the business of said municipal plant,

NOW THEREFORE,

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF PORT ANGELES:

Section 1.

That there be and hereby is granted unto Olympic Power Company, its successors and assigns, the right, privilege, license, authority and franchise to erect, maintain and use poles or other devices for the support of wires in, over, along, across and upon the streets, avenues and alleys of the City of Port Angeles, and to construct and equip conduits in such streets, avenues and alleys, and to install all such other means, equipment and devices as may be necessary, proper, or convenient, and to maintain and use such poles, conduits or other means, equipment or device for the purpose of the transmission and distribution of electric current for use as electric power, heat and light, and for any other purposes for which electricity may be used, and to furnish electric power, heat and light within the corporate limits of the City of Port Angeles, Clallam County, Washington, for municipal, domestic and manufacturing uses and for any other use or uses to which electricity may be put, and to charge and collect toll, rates and compensation for such power, heat and light and such other uses, subject to the reservations hereinafter contained in favor of said city, for a period of twenty-five (25) years from the first day of December, 1913, save and except, that said City reserves to itself the exclusive right to furnish power for light and domestic uses, within the corporate limits of said city. Provided, however, that said City may by resolution of its City Council, permit the Grantee to furnish power for light and domestic purposes, to users within said city limits, in case of emergency where the City does not reach the same and until such time as the City may be ready to supply the same, and to any manufacturing industry when purchasing power from the Grantee.

Provided that in the construction, operation and maintenance of said power plant within said City limits, said Grantee, its successors and assigns shall at all times conform to such reasonable ordinances, rules and regulations, which may be in force or which may hereafter be adopted by said City in relation to the construction, operation and maintenance of any of the appliances or works necessary for the manufacture or distribution of electric energy.

Section 2.

That said Grantee, its successors and assigns, shall remove or cause to be removed any of its poles, lines, conduits, or other devices from the streets and alleys of said City, as may be required by said City, for the purpose of regrading, relocating or repairing any of such streets or alleys, within ten (10) days, upon written notice from the City.

Further, that said Grantee shall remove or cause to be removed any of its lines, poles or other devices obstructing the passage of any structure or building across or along any of the streets or alleys of said City, upon written notice, within forty-eight (48) hours.

Section 3:

The electric energy furnished to the City shall be 3 phase, 60 cycle, alternating current electricity at approximately 66,000 volts, which voltage shall be maintained within the usual range of commercial operations. It is understood that the power factor of the City's system shall not be less than eighty-five per cent and in the event of a less power factor obtaining on the City's system, it is mutually agreed that all additional current due to the lower factor shall figure as producing energy and be added to the monthly peak load in Kilowatts, and the total Kilowatt hours supplied.

Section 4:

That the Grantee agrees and binds itself to reserve and furnish for the use of the City of Port Angeles, and for supplying the patrons of the said City with electricity for light, power domestic and other purposes, both day and night continuously during the life of this franchise, electric power in the amount of one hundred and fifty Kilowatts and as much more, up to the unused capacity of the plant at time of notice, as the City of Port Angeles may from time to time demand by giving the Grantee thirty (30) days notice in writing, and the City of Port Angeles agrees and binds itself to take all its electric power from said Grantee, except as hereinafter provided, at a rate per Kilowatt hour as computed each month from the following formula:

Provided that in no case shall the rate per Kilowatt hour exceed two cents.

Provided that the City agrees to pay a minimum of $3.50 per Kilowatt per month for the 150 Kilowatts provided for in this franchise and further, that the City agrees to pay $2.50 per Kilowatt per month for each additional Kilowatt capacity requested in writing as provided.

The maximum number of Kilowatts to be determined from the readings of a graphic recording wattmeter or other suitable device, by taking the average of the five highest peaks of load of at least three minute duration.

Section 5:

The Grantee will make all reasonable efforts to maintain an uninterrupted service to the City, but if by reason of the acts of God or the public enemy, or causes beyond its control, it shall at any time be unable to furnish all or any part of the power, herein contracted for, then the Company binds itself to use all diligence to restore delivery of the full amount of power, contracted to be delivered, and in the event of a partial or total failure of delivery of power during such time, the City shall be entitled to a reduction on the minimum amount of its bill, in the proportion that the duration of the shut down bears to the entire month.

All claims on the part of the City, arising under this clause of this franchise,shall be made within twenty(20)days after receipt of theGrantee's bill covering the period to which the claim relates, otherwise the right to make such claim will be considered as having been waived.

Provided, that should said Grantee be unable to supply power to said City through any of the causes above enumerated, said City shall have the right to make such other provisions for the supply of power required for the operation of its electric plant, while such emergency exists, as may be deemed best by its Council.

Section 6:

All power to be furnished to said City under this franchise shall be delivered by the Grantee, its successors and assigns, to said City at it sub-station as at present located.

The City will, at its own expense, install and maintain such transformers and other equipment as it may for its own use require.

The amount of power furnished by the Grantee to the City will be determined by standard meters and measuring devices installed upon the high tension lines within said substation, said meters and measuring devices to be the property of and under the exclusive control of the City. All such meters or other measuring devices used, shall be such as are standard and have been shown to be accurate and reliable in their indications or readings, and the City will keep said meters or other measuring apparatus in good order and repair, but in case any question arises as to reliability of said meters or measuring apparatus, either party hereto shall have the right to call for a testing of the same. Representatives of each party may be present while the test is being made; expense of test to be bourne by party requesting test. In the event of any derangement of the meters, causing them to be temporarily out of service, the parties will agree upon a means of approximating the correct amounts and if they shall be unable to reach a satisfactory agreement, then a third party mutually agreed on, will be called on and his decision shall be final.

Section 7:

The acceptance of this franchise shall obligate the Grantee to save the City harmless from all claims and judgments accruing to third persons by reason of the construction and operation of the Grantees said electric plant, and distributing system, and should any action be commenced against said City upon any such claim, the Grantee shall, upon notice thereof, defend said action at its own expense and upon demand, pay any judgment which may be obtained against said City, in any such action.

Section 8:

If at any time, except for cause beyond the power of man, or the public enemy, said Grantee, its successors and assigns, shall fail, neglect or refuse for a period of sixty (60) days to comply with any provisions of this franchise, except as previously noted, to be by them complied with, or shall fail, neglect or refuse for sixty (60) days to comply with any municipal regulations now in force and which may hereafter be lawfully imposed by the City Council of said City, this franchise and all rights under this ordinance shall, at the option of said City Council, be forfeited and the City shall at once, upon such forfeiture, have the right to require all conduits, poles, wires and other appliances and property of said Grantee, its successors and assigns, to be removed from the streets and other public places of said city.

Section 9:

That the said Grantee shall, within fifteen (15) days from and after the passage and approval of this ordinance, file an acceptance in writing thereof, with the Clerk of said City.

Section 10:

That Ordinance No. 390, entitled "An Ordinance Granting to Olympic Power Company, its Successors and Assigns, a Franchise, etc.," is hereby repealed.

Section 11:

This ordinance shall take effect and be in force after its passage and approval, its acceptance by said Grantee, and from and after five (5) days after its lawful publication.

The federal reserve board shall have power to levy semiannually upon the federal reserve banks in proportion to their capital stock and surplus an assessment sufficient to pay its estimated expenses and salaries of its members and employees for the half year succeeding the levying of such assessment, together with any deficit carried forward from the preceding half year.

The first meeting of the federal reserve board shall be held in Washington, District of Columbia, as soon as may be after the passage of this act at a date to be fixed by the reserve bank organization committee. The secretary of the treasury shall be ex officio chairman of the federal reserve board. The president shall have power to fill all vacancies that may happen on the federal reserve board during the recess of the senate by granting commissions which shall expire thirty days after the next session of the senate convenes.

RESERVE BOARD POWERS.

Has Controlling Hand on Banking of the Nation.

Sec. 11. The federal reserve board shall be authorized and empowered:

(a) To examine at its discretion the accounts, books and affairs of each federal reserve bank and of each member bank and to require such statements and reports as it may deem necessary. The said board shall publish once each week a statement showing the condition of each federal reserve bank and a consolidated statement for all federal reserve banks. Such statements shall show in detail the assets and liabilities of the federal reserve banks, single and combined, and shall furnish full information regarding the character of the money held as reserve and the amount, nature and maturities of the paper and other investments owned or held by federal reserve banks.

(b) To permit or on the affirmative vote of at least five members of the reserve board to require federal reserve banks to rediscount the discounted paper of other federal reserve banks at rates of interest to be fixed by the federal reserve board.

(c) To suspend for a period not exceeding thirty days, and from time to time to renew such suspension for periods not exceeding fifteen days, any reserve requirement specified in this act: Provided, that it shall establish a graduated tax upon the amounts by which the reserve requirements of this act may be permitted to fall below the level hereinafter specified; and provided, further, that when the gold reserve held against federal reserve notes falls below 40 per centum, the federal reserve board shall establish a graduated tax of not more than 1 per centum upon such deficiency until the reserves fall to 32½ per centum, and when said reserve falls below 32½ per centum, a tax at the rate increasingly of not less than 1½ per centum upon each 2½ per centum or fraction thereof that such reserve falls below 32½ per centum. The tax shall be paid by the reserve bank, but the reserve bank shall add an amount equal to said tax to the rates of interest and discount fixed by the federal reserve board.

(d) To supervise and regulate through the bureau under the charge of the comptroller of the currency the issue and retirement of federal reserve notes, and to prescribe rules and regulations under which such notes may be delivered by the comptroller to the federal reserve agents applying therefor.

(e) To add to the number of cities classified as reserve and central reserve cities under existing law in which national banking associations are subject to the reserve requirements set forth in section 20 of this act, or to reclassify existing reserve and central reserve cities or to terminate their designation as such.

(f) To suspend or remove any officer or director of any federal reserve bank, the cause of such removal to be forthwith communicated in writing by the federal reserve board to the removed officer or director and to said bank.

(g) To require the writing off of doubtful or worthless assets upon the books and balance sheets of federal reserve banks.

(h) To suspend, for the violation of any of the provisions of this act, the operations of any federal reserve bank, to take possession thereof, administer the same during the period of suspension and when deemed advisable to liquidate or reorganize such bank.

(i) To require bonds of federal reserve agents, to make regulations for the safeguarding of all collateral, bonds, federal reserve notes, money or property of any kind deposited in the hands of such agents, and said board shall perform the duties, functions or services specified in this act and to make all rules and regulations necessary to enable said board effectively to perform the same.

(j) To exercise general supervision over said federal reserve banks.

(k) To grant by special permit to national banks applying therefor, when not in contravention of state or local law, the right to act as trustee, executor, administrator or registrar of stocks and bonds under such rules and regulations as the said board may prescribe.

(l) To employ such attorneys, experts, assistants, clerks or other employees as may be deemed necessary to properly conduct the business of the board. All salaries and fees shall be fixed in advance by said board and shall be paid in the same manner as the salaries of the members of said board. All such attorneys, experts, assistants, clerks and other employees shall be appointed without regard to the provisions of the act of Jan. 16, 1883 (volume 22, United States statutes at large, page 403), and amendments thereto or any rule or regulation made in pursuance thereof.

Section 12 creates a federal advisory council, consisting of one member from each federal reserve district, which is empowered to confer with the federal reserve board and make representations regarding the business of the board.

RESERVE BANK POWERS.

Principal Functions of the New Regional Institutions.

Sec. 13. Any federal reserve bank may receive from any of its member banks and from the United States deposits of current funds in lawful money, national bank notes, federal reserve notes or checks and drafts upon member banks, payable upon presentation or solely for exchange purposes may receive from other federal reserve banks deposits of current funds in lawful money, national bank notes or checks and drafts upon solvent member or other federal reserve banks payable upon presentation.

Upon the indorsement of any of its member banks, with a waiver of demand notice and protest by such bank, any federal reserve bank may discount notes, drafts and bills of exchange arising out of actual commercial transactions—that is, notes, drafts and bills of exchange issued or drawn for agricultural, industrial or commercial purposes or the proceeds of which have been used or are to be used for such purposes, the federal reserve board to have the right to determine or define the character of the paper thus eligible for discount within the meaning of this act. Nothing in this act contained shall be construed to prohibit such notes, drafts and bills of exchange secured by staple agricultural products or other goods, wares or merchandise from being eligible for such discount, but such definition shall not include notes, drafts or bills covering merely investments or issued or drawn for the purpose of carrying or trading in stocks, bonds or other investment securities except bonds and notes of the government of the United States. Notes, drafts and bills admitted to discount under the terms of this paragraph must have a maturity at the time of discount of not more than ninety days, provided that notes, drafts and bills drawn or issued for agricultural purposes or based on live stock and having a maturity not exceeding six months may be discounted in an amount to be limited to a percentage of the capital of the federal reserve bank, to be ascertained and fixed by the federal reserve board.

Discounting Acceptances.

Any federal reserve bank may discount acceptances which are based on the importation or exportation or domestic shipment of goods and which have a maturity at time of discount of not more than three months and indorsed by at least one member bank. The amount of acceptances so discounted shall at no time exceed one-half the paid up capital stock and surplus of the bank for which the rediscounts are made.

The aggregate of such notes and bills bearing the signature or indorsement of any one person, company or firm or corporation rediscounted for any one bank shall at no time exceed 10 per centum of the unimpaired capital and surplus of said bank, but this restriction shall not apply to the discount of bills of exchange drawn in good faith against actually existing values.

Any member bank may accept drafts or bills of exchange drawn upon it and growing out of transactions involving the importation or exportation of goods having not more than six months sight to run, but no bank shall accept such bills to an amount equal at any time in the aggregate to more than one-half of its paid up capital stock and surplus.

Open Market Operations.

Sec. 14. Any federal reserve bank may, under rules and regulations prescribed by the federal reserve board, purchase and sell in the open market at home or abroad, either from or to domestic or foreign banks, firms, corporations or individuals, cable transfers and bankers' acceptances and bills of exchange of the kinds and maturities by this act made eligible for rediscount with or without the indorsement of a member bank.

Every federal reserve bank shall have power:

(a) To deal in gold coin and bullion at home or abroad, to make loans thereon, exchange federal reserve notes for gold, gold coin or gold certificates and to contract for loans of gold coin or bullion, giving therefor, when necessary, acceptable security, including the hypothecation of United States bonds or other securities which federal reserve banks are authorized to hold;

(b) To buy and sell at home or abroad bonds and notes of the United States and bills, notes, revenue bonds and warrants with a maturity from date of purchasing of not exceeding six months, issued in anticipation of the collection of taxes or in anticipation of the receipt of assured revenues by any state, county, district, political subdivision or municipality in the continental United States, including irrigation, drainage and reclamation districts, such purchases to be made in accordance with rules and regulations prescribed by the federal reserve board;

(c) To purchase from member banks and to sell, with or without its indorsement, bills of exchange arising out of commercial transactions as hereinbefore defined;

(d) To establish from time to time, subject to review and determination of the federal reserve board, rates of discount to be charged by the federal reserve bank for each class of paper, which shall be fixed with a view of accommodating commerce and business;

(e) To establish accounts with other federal reserve banks for exchange purposes and, with the consent of the federal reserve board, to open and maintain banking accounts in foreign countries, appoint correspondents and establish agencies in such countries wheresoever it my deem best for the purpose of purchasing, selling and collecting bills of exchange, and to buy and sell with or without its indorsement through such correspondents or agencies, bills of exchange arising out of actual commercial transactions which have not more than ninety days to run and which bear the signature of two or more responsible parties.

Section 15 provides that moneys held in the general fund of the United States treasury, except the 5 per centum fund for the redemption of outstanding national bank notes and the funds provided in the act for the redemption of federal reserve notes, may be deposited in federal reserve banks which shall act as fiscal agents and that the funds of the Philippine Islands, the postal savings and any other government funds must be deposited in federal reserve banks.

Section 16 provides for the issuance of federal reserve notes to federal reserve banks, redeemable in gold on demand at the treasury department or in gold or lawful money at any federal reserve bank. The collateral security shall be notes and bills accepted for rediscount under section 13. Federal reserve banks shall have a gold reserve of 40 per cent of their federal reserve notes and shall maintain in the United States treasury in gold a reserve of not less than 5 per cent of the federal reserve notes for their redemption.

Section 17 repeals laws requiring national banks to deposit government bonds with the United States treasurer.

Section 18 provides a plan for retiring the 2 per cent bonds on which the present currency is based. Under the plan $25,000,000 worth of these bonds will be purchased each year, beginning two years after the system is placed in operation, by the new regional banks from member banks. On one-half of its holdings each regional bank may issue currency. The remainder will be refunded in 3 per cent thirty year bonds or 3 per cent one year treasury notes, which the banks must agree to renew each year for thirty years.

Section 19 describes how member banks shall establish and maintain reserves.

Section 21 provides for the examination of each member bank by the comptroller of the currency at least twice a year, for a special examination of member banks when desired by federal reserve banks and for a special examination of any federal reserve bank upon the application of ten member banks.

PENALTY FOR DISHONESTY.

Tampering With Bank Examiners Made Criminal Offense.

Sec. 22. No member bank or any officer, director or employee thereof shall hereafter make any loan or grant any gratuity to any bank examiner. Any bank officer, director or employee violating this provision shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be imprisoned not exceeding one year or fined not more than $5,000, or both, may be fined a further sum equal to the money so loaned or gratuity given. Any examiner accepting a loan or gratuity from any bank examined by him or from an officer, director or employee thereof shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be imprisoned not exceeding one year or fined not more than $5,000, or both.

Section 23 provides that national bank stockholders shall be responsible for all contracts, debts and engagements of their banks to the amount of their stock at par value in addition to the amount invested in such stock. If they transfer their stock within sixty days before the failure of their banks they shall be liable to the same extent in case the transferee fails to meet such liability.

Loans on Farm Lands.

Sec. 24. Any national banking association not situated in a central reserve city may make loans secured by improved and unencumbered farm land situated within its federal reserve district, but no such loan shall be made for a longer time than five years nor for an amount exceeding 50 per centum of the actual value of the property offered as security. Any such bank may make such loans in an aggregate sum equal to 25 per centum of its capital and surplus or to one-third of its time deposits, and such banks may continue hereafter, as heretofore, to receive time deposits and pay interest on the same.

The federal reserve board shall have power from time to time to add to the list of cities in which national banks shall not be permitted to make loans secured upon real estate in the manner described in this section.

Section 25 authorizes national banking associations possessing a capital and surplus of $1,000,000 or more to establish foreign branches under the direction of the federal reserve board.

Section 26 authorises the secretary of the treasury to strengthen the gold reserve by borrowing gold on United States bonds or by selling them.

Section 27 extends from June 30, 1914, until June 30, 1915, the life of an act authorizing national currency associations, the issuance of additional national bank circulation and the creation of a national monetary commission. It re-enacts certain United States banking statutes amended by an act of May 30, 1908, subject to such amendments or modifications as are contained in the new currency law. It amends the May 30, 1908, act in regard to the taxation of circulating notes held by national banking associations and secured otherwise than by United States bonds.

Section 29 provides that if any part of the act is declared invalid by a court the judgment shall not affect the remainder of the act.

Old theatre goers, will recall with reminiscent pleasure the visit to this conutry of that famous Italian tragedian Tomasso Salvini. The younger generation will remember his brilliant son, Alexander Salvini, whose rendition of the character of D'Artagnan and the Three Musketeers, thrilled vast audiences throughout the country. The talented Salvini family is still represented by Alexander Salvini, Jr., a nephew of the great Tomasso. The young Salvini will be seen at the Opera House, Wednesday and Thursday night, in the famous Ambrosio production of the John Bunyan's Pilgrims Progress. When this marvelous picture was taken in Torino, Italy, young Salvini appeared in the part of Christian.

GROWING IMPORTANCE OF DAIRYING INDUSTRY

Sequim Land that Produces 45 Tons of Silage Corn to the Acre: The Way it Was Done.

In reporting the proceedings of the State Dairymen's Association convention recently held in North Yakima, the Yakima Morning Herald makes the following mention of the contributions of Donald McInnes of Dungeness and P. S. Govan of Sequim, says the Press:

Mr. Donald McInnes, president of the association, taking up his formal annual address, called attention to the fact that at the gathering this year the state bankers, packing houses and transcontinental railroads are represented, a fact which indicates the growing importance of and appreciation for the industry. He extended the right hand of good fellowship to State Commissioner of Agriculture Perkins, whose office and appointment have been within the period since the last annual meeting of the state dairymen, and he reiterated his former advice regarding community owned pure bred sires which he thinks is a plan dairymen ought to adopt, and he added that the right heifers ought to be retained.

Co-operation is heartily recommended by Mr. McInnes, who says that it is becoming necessary in order to enable the dairymen to have something to say in regard to the price his products will bring. In this connection reference was made to the fact that some of the creameries are now working hand in hand with the condensaries to keep down the price of milk to the end that the condensaries, especially in the winter creameries put an end to this.

If the present agitation in regard to the high cost of living continues, said Mr. McInnes, the dairymen of this and sister states are going to suffer by the enactment of foolish and drastic legislation in the near future. To prepare for this and to use all lawful methods to prevent it, I urgently recommend a statewide organization of dairymen on somewhat the same lines as the labor organizations, and would suggest that a committee be selected to draw up a constitution and by-laws.

Speaking of fodder corn as a soilage and silage crop, P. S. Govan of Sequim said:

There are four essential steps to be observed in raising corn: Seed bed, fertility, seed and cultivation. Corn will do well on clover sod. The ground should be thoroughly disked before plowing; the plowing to be done in the fall or winter.

In fertilizing, it is well to spread the manure during the winter and in the spring before plowing for the second time, disk the ground thoroughly both ways, lapping the disk half; after cross plowing the ground should be again thoroughly disked and harrowed.

It is very necessary to have good seed, but let the seed be of the best and if the ground is not properly prepared before planting the crop will not amount to much.

In planting corn for ensilage, the seed can be drilled in with rows three or four feet apart.

One of the main essentials in a corn crop is cultivation. Corn should be cultivated about every 10 or 12 days as long as you can get through with the cultivator. Shallow cultivation gives best results, for in deep cultivation there is danger of disturbing the roots and feeders.

This year I planted a small piece of ground with "Pride of the North" for ensilage. I raised stalks that measured 13 feet high. The ground was planted in drills and with the rows three feet apart. The land produced a crop of 45 tons to the acre.

GOSSIP FROM THE STATE CAPITOL

State Aiming to Attain Highest Standard of Efficiency in Its Dairy Herds.

Olympia, December 31.—With the aim of bringing the dairy herds at the state institutions to the highest standards of efficiency the board of control has recently purchased additional thoroughbred dairy stock, so that new pedigreed stock is at the head of most of the herds owned by the state.

Modern methods in selecting and breeding the stock are being employed and at several of the state's institutions graduates of the agricultural department of the state college at Pullman, as the farm supervisors, are producing results. It is the aim of the board of control to keep so-called boarders entirely out of the state's herds and to own only paying stock.

Experiments are also being conducted at several of the state institutions to determine the value of various breeds. One of the most interesting tests now being made at the Western and Eastern Hospitals and at the penitentiary is to determine which of three breeds of hogs is the most profitable to produce the Berkshires, Durocs or Poland Chinas. It has been demonstrated that hogs can be produced at about one-half half what fresh meat would cost purchased on the market.

The sizes of the various dairies owned by the state can best be estimated from the fact that the Western hospital now has a herd of seventy head of dairy cows, with 29 heifers in stock, while the Eastern hospital's herd is in the neighborhood of 40 dairy cows.

A modern piggery at the Western hospital contains 412 head, the Eastern hospital owns 445 hogs, while the penitentiary leads with 4[illegible] hogs.

The poultry at the Western hospital is the largest with 4,750 members of the feathered tribe with the Eastern hospital second with 1,205.

Annual Production of Grain.

A feature of the forthcoming annual report of the public service commissioner will be the report of State Grain Inspector R. D. Jarboe. This report shows that for the year there were in round numbers 33,500,000 bushels of wheat actually handled at the various public warehouses throughout the state. He estimates 1,500,000 bushels should be added to cover the amount used by interior mills and private warehouses. There were 7,500,000 bushels of barley and oats handled at the warehouses and 1,500,000 kept at home. The production of rye is estimated at 100,000 bushels.

"The report for the year shows the receipt of 10,831 bushels of corn grown in Spokane and Chelan counties," states Mr. Jarboe, which is probably the first time in the state's grain production that this cereal has been received in commercial quantities. "The actual grain production of the state for the year 1912 totaled nearly 49,000,000 bushels, which was in excess of the estimated crop of 1911 by 15,000,000 bushels.

The holidays find an increase rather than a diminution in the work of the public service commission. Commissioner Lewis has been in Eastern Washington where two formal hearings were held and a number of informal complaints were investigated. Commissioner Spinning, at the office has cared for a large number of informal complaints and handled a heavy correspondence.

Much of the time of the office force has been taken up in the preparation of data for the annual report. This will show that more than 800 complaints have been considered and disposed of during the past year. The report will differ from others in that a careful condensation has been made of the important formal orders entered. A feature of the report will be a summary prepared by Assistant Attorney General Stephen V. Carey, counsel of the commission, who gives the status of all litigation pending in the state and federal courts to which the commission is a party.

State Powder Factory.

Senator Ralph Metcalf, a member of the special committee appointed by Governor Lister to investigate the feasibility of establishing a state powder factory, has returned from an extended eastern trip, during which he made exhaustive investigation of the subject of powder manufacture. The other members of the committee are John A. Rea of Tacoma and the chemist of the State College of Washington. It will probably be some weeks yet before the committee's investigation of the subject is fully completed and report thereon made to the governor.

A forgotten amendment to the banking laws, enacted in 1909, will prevent any Washington state bank from coming under the new national emergency act, by subscribing to the stock of any other bank.

A board of regents, six out of seven of whom will be appointees of Governor Lister, will select a new president for the University of Washington, the governor announcing this week the replacement of four holdovers.

The program for the Parent-Teachers Association to be held the second Monday evening of January will be published next week and it is hoped there will be a large attendance. The subject for discussion will be Vocational Training for Port Angeles Schools and there will be an opportunity given for all interested to express their opinions on the subject. These meetings are to be called at 7:30 and we hope all will be prompt in attending.

Amid the ringing of bells, blowing of whistles, firing of guns, and general jollification, the New Year of 1914 was born in Port Angeles. May it be a red letter year in the history of our city. We are all optimistic of the future and are looking for wonderful improvements this year. May all our fondest hopes and dreams for Port Angeles be realized.

R. G. Trumbull of Seattle and two children, Robert and Barbara, visited relatives in the city Monday and Tuesday. Douglas Ballinger accompanied them home after a pleasant week's vacation with his Angeles cousins.

The Misses Aram, Culliton, Martz, Mooman and Southwood of Seattle are week-end guests of Miss Angeline Ritchie. A number of young men from the University are coming down for the dance Saturday evening.

Tennyson's Last Hours.

Dr. G. H. R. Dabbs was the medical attendant on Tennyson during the latter's last illness. A few hours before the end the poet turned to the doctor and said "Death?" The doctor merely bowed his head. "That's well," said Tennyson. Dr. Dabbs has left on record a picture of the concluding scene. "Nothing," he writes, "could have been more striking. * * * On the bed a figure of breathing marble, flooded and bathed in the light of the full moon streaming through the oriel window; his hand clasping the Shakespeare which he had asked for but recently and which he had kept by him to the end; the moonlight, the majestic figure as he lay there, 'drawing thicker breath,' irresistibly brought to our minds his own 'Passing of Arthur.'"

South African Lame Sickness.

An investigation of the South African disease known as lamziekte, or lame sickness, suggests that it is due to a special plant poison that is generated under abnormal conditions in grasses or other plants that are normally harmless. Its development seems to be associated with unusual weather and soil experiences, of which summer drought is important. Through such conditions wilting would favor the formation of the poison, and this gives explanation for the common belief that the disease results from eating wilted plants.

The Equator In Africa.

At the equator in Africa there are only two seasons—the wet and the dry. The former lasts eight months. During the rains the natives live in houses made principally of bamboo and roofed with leaves, but as soon as the rains stop they set out for the forests and jungles.

Writes Some Good Things.

Chlorinda—How can you dream of marrying a man who writes such awfully stupid love letters? Marigold—But just think, dear—he can write the most beautiful checks, and that's the main thing, you know, after one's married.—Judge.

Misunderstanding.

Distressed Damsel—Oh, sir, catch that man! He wanted to kiss me! Pensive Pedestrian—That's all right. There'll be another one along in a minute.—Purple Cow.

Once Is Enough.

Proh — They say lightning never strikes twice in the same place. Kohn —Well, what's the use? — Louisville

A Habit of Thought.

"The equator is an imaginary line running around the earth," said the boy who likes to tell what he has learned at school.

"An imaginary line," repeated the great railway financier absentmindedly. "Who's promoting it?"—Washington Star.

In New York.

No, Marjorie, there is a difference between a taxidermist and a taxicabbist. A taxidermist skins animals, and a taxicabbist isn't so particular — he'll skin anybody.—New York Clipper.

Superfluous.

Casey (teaching Hogan to swim)—Now kape yer mouth shut and breathe through your nose. Hogan — And phwat else cud a man breathe through wid his mouth shut, ye fule?—Puck.

Rapid Voice Culture.

"Teaching the voice is a difficult task," said a great singer. "It is a fine thing to be a good teacher. Some pupils are so very stupid!

"You can no more hurry a voice than you can hurry a flower, but most pupils want to become star singers in a month or two.

"A lady said to one of my friends, a superb teacher:

"'I'm going abroad next month, and I want twenty-five lessons in voice culture before I sail.'

"'Impossible,' said the teacher.

"'Why impossible?' said the lady. 'I could take two lessons a day some days.'

"'Or, better still,' said my friend sarcastically, 'you could take the whole twenty-five lessons all at once, one after the other. A day would do it, then.'

"'Splendid!' cried the lady. 'Shall we make it tomorrow?'"—Exchange.

Sweet Corn.

Sweet corn, classified by botanists as Zea saccharata, is a variation of Zea mays, which is regarded as a montypic genus. It first came into cultivation in the region about Plymouth, Mass., in 1779, being received from the Indians of the Susquehanna. Whether some Indian Burbank originated it or whether it was the result of careful selection by copper colored cultivators is now unknown. Prior to 1854 only two varieties of sweet corn were known, but in 1899 sixty-one distinct sorts were listed. We do not know when sweet corn was introduced to Europe. Field corn was introduced in 1562. Sweet corn has been attracting some attention in Great Britain for several years, but is not yet generally grown. William Cobbett, the politician and writer, who died in 1835, tried to popularize the culture of field corn and grew it for some years at his farm in Surrey.—Rural New Yorker.

Pleasant Hypocrites.

In a school I once attended the most popular girl was the most tactful one. As far as I know, only one girl disliked her. That girl was spiteful, cross and therefore not very well liked. Do you know what she used to call our idol? A hypocrite. The words bothered me not a little, and I spoke to my chum about it, but she answered me in her thoughtful little way:

"Well, I guess that may be. Betty is a hypocrite if being a hypocrite means saying little kind things based on small pretexts and leaving unsaid the unkind things, no matter how good a reason there is for saying them. But she's a mighty comfortable person to have around. I wish that the world was full of such hypocrites!" — Christian Herald.

Cheese.

The British are the greatest cheese eaters in the world. England also heads the list for diversity of cheeses, seventeen different varieties being produced there. France comes next and then Italy, Holland, Norway and Sweden. British cheeses are all made from cows' milk and without any admixture save in the case of "loaf" cheddar, which is sometimes flavored with sage leaves. Foreign cheese makers show less exclusiveness. Roquefort is made from sheep's milk and Gruyere from goats' milk.
