Charterboats out of La Push were limiting parties after weekend checks and kicker boats were averaging one per fisherman.

The fish were a mixture of kings and silvers. The charters are limiting early on silvers, 5-7 pound average, and a few kings outside the Whistler. Most of the kicker boats are harvesting kings in the 15-20 pound class off James Island.

July 1st will be an important date for river anglers. The main portions of the rivers in the area open on that date for cutthroat, salmon and summer steelhead.

Forks Lions, Olympic Youth League team, will play a double-header in Port Angeles with Local 155 on Saturday evening. Ray Maxwell is scheduled to pitch the first game and Chip Pruefert the second. Ken Olson will be used in relief.

A big thanks is in order for the volunteer umpires in the little league baseball program for a job well done. To the coaches and to Pat Russell for operating the concession stand at the games.

The Little League program can only be accomplished by the cooperation and efforts of the adults contributing to the program.

"I used to stand up and say the world was a miserable place. Then I would sit down and do nothing about it."

Let's face it. All is not perfect in this land of ours. America has taken some lumps and quite frankly it hurts. But maybe we should step back and take a long hard look . . . take inventory of how we are and how we got here. Maybe we should inspect our brighter side as well as some of our ills. And maybe, just maybe, we'll come out thinking this country's good side far overshadows its bad. Then maybe we'll start to do something to make it better. Rather than knocking it, which ends up making it worse.

Now comes the big question. What can you do? You're only one little individual among over 200 million people. How can you help?

For one thing, you might think about investing in your country. Showing your faith in its future.

That's exactly what you do when you sign up to buy U. S. Savings Bonds. You're simply buying a share in America. You're also socking away some money for yourself.

Money that grows at a guaranteed rate, to pay you back $4 at maturity for every $3 you've saved.

Of course, Savings Bonds are not going to cure all our headaches. But they'll help to provide the economic strength we'll need for the job.

And at the same time, they can cure a lot of your financial headaches in the years to come.

Any way you look at it, they make good sense. And that's just what we need in this country right now.

If they're lost, stolen, or destroyed, we replace 'em.

Building Committee, Directors Review Building Plans

Members of the Building Advisory Committee, School Board Directors and Charles Rieger of Charles Rieger & Associates, Architects, reviewed plans and specifications of the proposed elementary school building at the regular school board meeting Thursday.

George Blattner, Al Fletcher and John Leppell, Jr., members of the advisory committee directed numerous questions to Mr. Rieger concerning the plans.

The board tabled action on a public relations program until the next meeting.

A letter was read to the board from Mrs. Diane Holloway and Mrs. Sue Holt recommending and discussing the advantages of radio KVAC conducting broadcasts from elementary classes next school term. This would be conducted in all class levels with question and answer periods between students and teacher, singing of songs and other related programs.

Mr. Gordon Otos had presented the idea to Mr. John Hitchcock and Mr. Tom Winsor.

The board expressed tentative approval to the idea, but the program will be presented when school begins next fall.

The board accepted resignations of Shirley A. Benson and Bruce A. Hummel. Approved the contract of Miss Linda J. Kalvig to teach high school home economics to replace Mrs. Francis Verbick, Mrs. Verbick retired.

The building inspection by the board and advisory committee will continue Tuesday,

June 24 and Thursday, June 26. They will finish the inspection of the elementary building, inspect Beaver School, LaPush bus shed and Quillayute Airfield housing.

The board approved waiting for $60,000 in additional building matching funds from the state. This action will push the beginning construction date back to October 1, but the board felt the extra money was worth waiting for. The new State Board of Education regulation for the building program should be approved by the end of July and would not become effective until the September meeting of the State Board. The new matching ratio would grant Quillayute Valley Schools an additional $60,000 towards the building of the new elementary school.

Construction of phase one of the Soleduck Salmon Hatchery at Pavel Springs near Sappho is underway with Delguzzi Construction Company from Port Angeles the general contractor.

Phase one totaling approximately $986,000 consists of the main hatchery building, 6 rearing ponds, spring water collecting system dam, river water pump station system, drainage and general landscaping of the site.

The main hatchery building will be a 110 x 60 foot construction with the 6 ponds, covering an area 210 x 70 feet, located south of the building,

Citizens Question Use Of Park By Motorcycle Club

Twenty-seven visitors were at the Town Council meeting Monday, to discuss with the council, their views concerning a motorcycle club camp-out at the City Park.

Mr. Del Gott asked why a large group had been given permission to camp in the City Park and what guarantee do the people have that this group will not cause troubles in the community or damage the park.

Mayor Earl Kennedy explained the procedure concerning the park. He said, "The Park Board granted the permission after talking with members of the club and checking into their organization."

He further stated, "The Park Board is the governing body responsible for the Park with council approval."

Mr. Charles Lamb explained that her daughter and son-in-law belong to a club in Chehalis, Washington and that they will be here for the camp-out. Her daughter is 36 years old and one of the younger members of the club.

The Park has no ordinance against camping or operating vehicles in the Park.

Mr. Gordon Otos of Radio KVAC pointed out that possible ordinances against City Park camping and vehicle traffic were needed.

Mayor Kennedy pointed out that the Park Board plans to eliminate vehicle traffic by construction of a fenced parking area.

In a summation, Mayor Kennedy said, "The Town does not anticipate any problems with the group coming, but will not go into the thing with closed eyes."

The Council did not approve a request by the Mansfields for constructing a fence at the triangular section of the airport from Ulin's hanger east for grazing of cattle. Airport manager Bill Bransfield presented the proposal. He felt the grazing would help keep the brush down.

The council approved the park.

Mr. Bill Chaney asked the council if they anticipated selling any of the airport property along Russell Road. Mayor Kennedy stated the city does not plan to sell any of it's property at this time.

A building permit for Forks Motel construction of an office addition at a cost of $6,000 was approved.

Mr. Don Quick was present at the meeting and agreed to remove brush in the alley at his residence. He explained that the brush would be removed shortly after the 4th and a fence would be built.

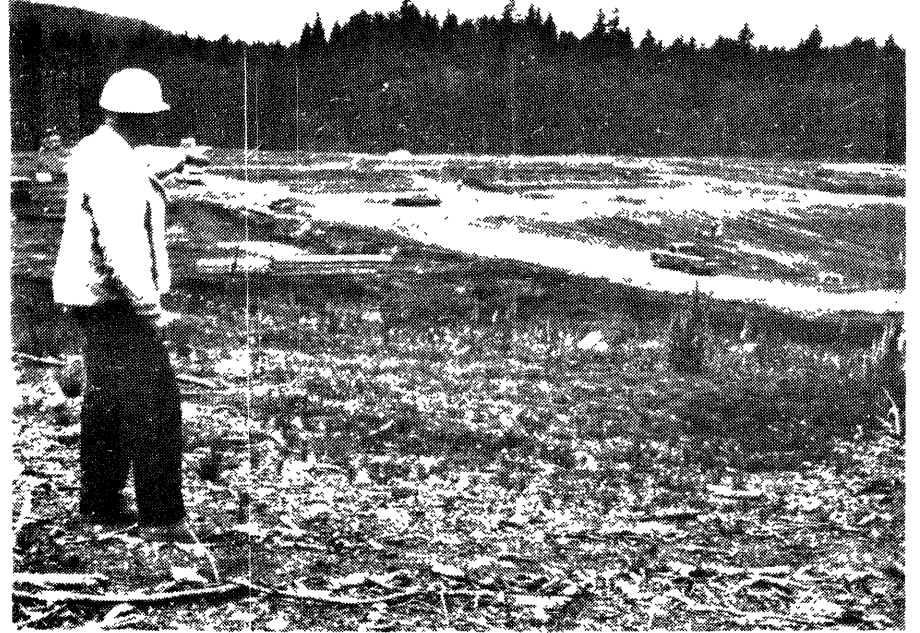

The council had received a complaint concerning the brush and shrubbery.

Mayor Kennedy informed the council that the hearing date for review of the annexation of Mansfield Additions 1, 2 and 3 and Daniels Addition would be held June 30, 1969 at 2:30 p.m. in the Clallam County Commissioner meeting room at the Court House in Port Angeles.

Council members discussed leakage problems in the water system. Request Frank Lyda, water superintendent, to be present at the next meeting to discuss some solutions.

In other business the council was asked if the parking lot at 1st Avenue and Division would be ready soon. The council has approved the project and will encourage that it be completed as soon as possible.

Letters To Editor

Editor.
 Vacation time is here and all over the country Chambers of Commerce, recreation associations, owners of motels, camps and picnic grounds and real estate developers are pouring out thousands of words of print and advertising inviting tourists and "summer" people to their so highly landed outdoor and climatic benefits. Stupid to try to compete with that. As a vacation land, we of course have many things and maybe high on the list our ocean tempered, air conditioned vacation time climate when the nine months rains that nourish our billions of trees are gone and a drier season comes. Why brag about things that many other places also have. Let us take a new line and consider some of the not so nice things we don't have that other places do, and carefully sweep under the rug or back of the door and hope nobody will notice. Take our streams for instance, rushing sparkling clear or if roily, then discolored with clean glacial silt. We love to talk about stream pollution even in this state, and imply that it is a problem even here, but those of us who have never taken a trip vacationing in the Midwest really should, to see what polluted streams are. So loaded with mess that only a catfish could enjoy himself and the repository of sewage from one big city, and source of water supply for the next, pumped out of the horrible murkiness and chemically treated to make it potable if not palatable and eventually returned to the streams as another load of sewage to proceed to the salt seas together with the drainage of millions of acres of chemically treated farm lands and thousands of barn lots and feeder yards. There is not a real polluted stream on our whole two million acre peninsula.
 There are very few places in the United States that can claim unpolluted waters as we can.
 In vacation time the Midwest, the South and the East have their most miserable weather, tolerable tho it might be in Spring or Fall. There are those hot and muggy nights and when it is clear here it coincidentally is drying. Ever hear of hanging out a batch of wash here on a sunny hot day and finding it hardly dried at all? Well that happens there. When we have high humidity we have cooling weather and when the sun comes things dry and who ever heard of uncomfortable, even intolerable hot nights in Forks?
 If you will listen to experienced people from other places you will learn about bug problems, again something not advertised by tourist bureaus. Alaska, Northern Canada and New Jersey have clouds of biting insects; mosquitoes, deer flies, others to no end. And in some parts of the United States there are ticks, nasty ones that can carry diseases such as Rocky Mountain Fever and others that just crawl on their victim and bite. Every night after a day in the woods people in some places used to have to strip and go over every inch of hide with a fat piece of kerosene to do in the daily load of ticks and chiggers (those little nasties that are too small to notice until they burrow under the skin). So let us write off ticks and chiggers and most of the mosquitoes and biting flies.

 Then East of the Cascades and South of the Columbia there are various dangerous reptiles; rattlesnakes, black widow spiders, (which are neither reptiles nor insects) sidewinders, copperheads and gila monsters. We have only two snakes, both harmless, the garter snake and the rubber boa the latter quite rare. So we can say our peninsula has no poisonous reptiles.
 And we can to all purposes write off poison plants, the kind anyway that cause irritation on contact. Tho there are a few patches of poison oak, a plant quite common even in such near places as Oregon, we do have no poison ivy common in the East and Midwest. We can write them both off gladly.
 And all those thorny and prickly plants, we have a few such as the devils club and some with thorns such as wild roses none worse than many plants in home gardens and yards. So that is quite a list of not having.
 Maybe once or twice a year, usually not during vacation months, we see a flash or two of lightning, and a rumble of thunder follows. In ten days in the Midwest in June on a camping trip we experienced five thunder storms at least, two of which would make our occasional rumblings and flashings look most inconsequential. In our mountains maybe one could expect one of those type to come along every fifty years. I have never seen a really good size thunder storm along the West Side lowlands and I have been around a long time.
 Hurricanes and cyclones we can also say are impossible here in the tourist season. Our rare storms are related to the rainy season, usually only winter affairs. So what more can you want to do without when on vacation? So let us tell them about things we don't have.
 LENA FLETCHER

Corrective Action Needed Now

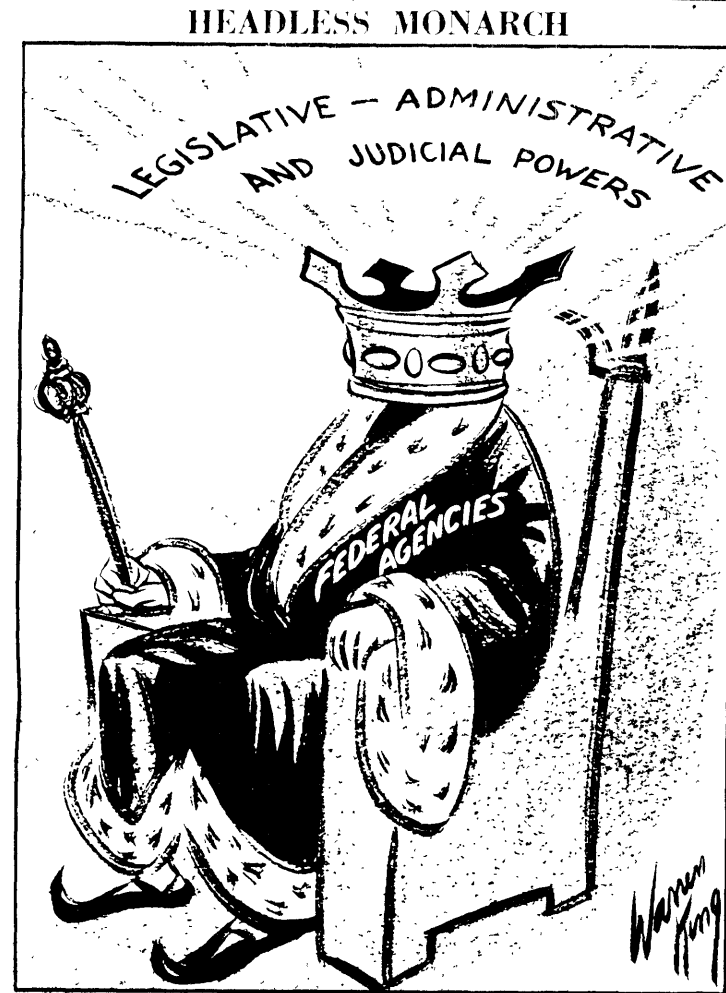

Administration spokesmen have urged labor and business to go slow on wage and price increases. They have also expressed opposition to any minimum wage increase on the ground that it would add fuel to inflationary fires. But, these stabilizing efforts may come to nothing unless a decision of a local District of Columbia Wage Board is set aside.
 The board in question was created by Congress and holds wide powers. It recently ordered a minimum wage of $2.00 per hour. Under its decree, the current rate of $1.60 per hour would go to $1.80 on August 1, 1969, and on July 1, 1970, to $2.00. The real import of the Washington, D.C. Wage Board decision reaches far beyond the environs of Washington. It has set a precedent that, if not stopped, may well establish new state minimum wage patterns throughout the country irrespective of the federal minimum wage level.
 A release from the Variety Stores Association, Incorporated, declares, "This serious breaching of the $1.60 FLSA (Fair Labor Standards Act) rate is a deliberate move to undercut the 'hold the line' policy of the Administration and Secretary of Labor Shultz. It is an unwarranted usurpation of authority which should belong only to Congress. It is designed to speed a federal rate of $2.00. The only way to stop this Wage Board and to protect the nation from the political, spreading effects of $2.00 in 'Capitol City' is for Congress to amend the law which created the D. C. Wage Board."
 Corrective legislation has been introduced in Congress which would limit the level of local minimum wage rates to the highest minimum in effect under the Fair Labor Standards Act. It should be enacted without delay.

CARD OF THANKS
 I am thankful beyond measure for all of my good friends who helped me so much during my recent sadness. May I offer my humble thanks for your comfort and love.

RESTRAINT NEEDED

Members of the American Newspaper Publishers Association have been urged by ANPA President William F. Schmick, Publisher of the Baltimore Sun papers, to battle the "headless fourth branch of government"—the so-called independent agencies.
 The influence of the Federal regulatory agencies, whose "proliferation seems to have no end," has "grown beyond comprehension," he explained. Examples of the "fourth branch" are the National Labor Relations Board, Federal Communications Commission, Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, and Federal Trade Commission. There are 60 or more such agencies, large and small.
 He added, "The organization of these agencies challenges the most fundamental concept of our governmental system—the separation of powers. The challenge comes because they possess a combination of legislative, executive, and judicial authority, a circular kingdom of power and glory."
 He stated that the failure of Congress to spell out its intent exactly has permitted a usurpation of power by the regulatory agencies and a dangerous point of view has been allowed to develop. This point of view sees the administrative agency free to originate its own policies regardless of congressional intent.
 The proper task of government regulation is to be fair, expeditious, impartial and consistent within the laws enacted by the Congress. Congress should insist on the retention of all legislative powers and the complete compliance by regulatory agencies of the policies defined in the legislation.

Sure is quiet today. Mother and the girls are at a wedding in Aberdeen, which means the Old Man has the house all to himself. Big deal! Too darn lonesome, and it also means I must cook my own meals. What a revolting thought.
 Duke, Vern Rondeau and myself hit the BPAA Singles at Port Townsend over the weekend and am sorry to say none of us placed. Time is running out as there are only a few more weeks to qualify for the finals and a shot at the big money. So come on guys and gals, let's get busy and bring a large share of that loot back home to Forks.
 Brenda Middleton and Kathy Decker each had a 195 for HI 10 in the Tuesday Women's Doubles and Brenda threw in a 194 for good measure. They both ended up with a 630, second to Margaret Windle's 680 HI 40.
 John (Retired) Nagel, bowling open play with Darrel and George Richardson the other day, did something that only a small percentage of bowlers accomplish in a lifetime. He strung out twelve strikes in a row. No, he didn't get a 300 as he ended one game with six in a row and started the next with six in a row. Next time, John, start at the beginning of a game with a string like that.
 Billie Crist led the gals of Thursday Nite Ma and Pa Mixed with a 193-649. Pa Jarvis topped the men with a 242-804.
 How about that 13 year old girl from New York, who, in her first year of bowling, blasted out a 727 series on games of 206-235-286? She started out in October with a 78 average and when she hit the big one on April Fools Day of this year, she was averaging 139.
 And the California 16 year old boy who startled the bowling world with one of the 20th highest scores ever in sanctioned competition? On games of 299, 279, and 269 he amassed an 847 series. I feel sick!
 And to top this off, the youngest 300 shooter in the history is a 13 year old from Ohio who won his perfect in a Father-Son League this last February.
 Monday Nites Jr. Sr. League was led by Willis Bryan who shot a big 224-620. The gals saw Lucky Leta Rondeau on top with a 194-533. Terri Genson paced the Jr. Misses with 127-346, and Randy Henry clobbered the Jr. boys (including brother Mark), with a 166-467. And he only has a 102 average! Nice going Randy.
 Ray Maxwell picked off the difficult 4-7-10 split. Duke Streeter leads the qualifiers for the next finals to be held in Port Angeles. He has a 644 posted.

Forks In 4-2 Victory Over Crown-Z

Forks Lions came up with three big runs in the fourth inning and added a sole run in the fifth to turn back Crown-Z 4-2 in Olympic Youth baseball action in Port Angeles last Saturday.
 Crown scored two runs in the first after two were out. Jirikovic doubled and Beatler singled. Jirikovic holding at third. Cox drilled a triple to left center, driving in the two runners. Lane grounded to short to end the threat.
 Forks took the lead with three runs in the fourth. Darrel Peterson walked and went to second on a bad throw by the pitcher on the attempted pick-off. George Peterson reached first when the catcher dropped a third strike. Ron Diimmel walked filling the bases. Ken Olson walked forcing in D. Peterson with the first run. Jeff Blair slammed the first pitch into left field, driving in G. Peterson and Diimmel with the second and third runs.
 Chip Pruefert bloomed a single into right to open the fifth, stole second and later scored on a wild pitch by Beatler.
 Crown threatened in the bottom of the fifth after D. Beatler grounded out to the first baseman Blair. Mahaney walked and advanced to third on a single by Root. Jirikovic grounded out short to first and Maxwell fanned Beatler to get out of the jam.
 Cox led off the Crown half of the sixth with a single, stole second and advanced to third on a passed ball, all with no outs. He failed to score as the next three batters grounded out. Ray Maxwell went all the

BY MRS. J. E. MERRITT

Mr. and Mrs. John Merritt went to Shelton, Saturday, June 7, and stayed overnight with their son-in-law and daughter. Mr. and Mrs. Herb Welch, Sunday afternoon the Welches took them to Seattle and John entered Northwest Memorial Hospital for prostate surgery.

Dr. Haakon Ragde decided to forego the complete operation due to John's age which is 82. The doctor says he should live just as long as the cancer. He was released from the hospital on Friday, and although he was quite weak, is rapidly regaining his strength.

Mr. and Mrs. Welch came up and took him and Mrs. Merritt down to Shelton, where they stayed until Tuesday morning, when they left for home. At Sequim they stopped for a visit with Mrs. Frank Conley, a former neighbor. While John was in the hospital Mrs. Merritt stayed at the Ramada Inn, on Northgate Way, which was quite handy, as it is only a few blocks from the hospital.

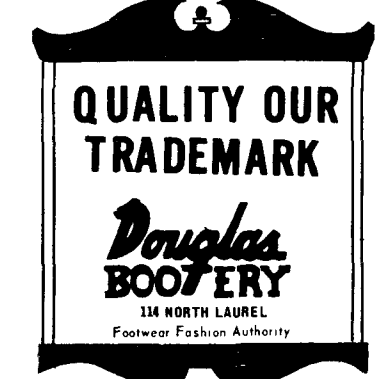

Mrs. Ray Hull was assistant hostess at a bridal shower Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Fred Shaw for Mrs. Donna Hansen, formerly Mrs. Donna Parker, who was married recently in Bellingham. About 20 guests were present, and Mrs. Hansen received a nice assortment of gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Darel L. Maxfield and son Darel C. Maxfield left Sunday for their home in Spokane after a three day visit at the home of Mr. Maxfield's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tuttle.

Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Eaton returned home Sunday from an overnight stay at the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Eaton in Seattle. They brought with them their grandchildren, Pamela, Janeen and Alan.

Rev. and Mrs. Ray Hull and family were guests the first of last week at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hull, Sr., at Bear Creek.

Rev. Hull (nick as he is known to his friends) has been pastor of the Assembly of God Church at Winthrop, Okanogan County, for the past year, and has been assigned to the Assembly of God Church in Prosser.

Benton County. He was to preach his first sermon in the latter church last Sunday, so he and the family left on Wednesday for their new home.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kono-pak returned home Sunday evening from Seattle where they attended a reception on Friday evening at the Officers Club at Sand Point Naval Air Station, in honor of their son Ronald's graduation from dental college. Others attending the reception from Beaver were: Mr. and Mrs. J. L. MacDonald and Mrs. Alice MacFarlane.

The Kono-paks brought their three grandchildren home with them.

Rainbow Grand Assembly Attended In Tacoma

"GOD BLESS AMERICA" was the Patriotic theme used for the 48th annual Grand Assembly of the Order of the Rainbow for Girls held in Tacoma June 14, 15 and 16th. Kitty Olson, Kennecott No. 66, Grand Worthy Advisor, presided over the 3-day meeting which was held in the University of Puget Sound Field House.

Sunday Church Services were held in the Field House which was completely filled. The Grand Choir, composed of Rainbow girls throughout the states of Washington and Idaho, sang "Battle Hymn of the Republic". Dr. Franklin Thompson, president, U.P.S., gave the sermon. Invocation and Scripture were given by Junior Past Grand Officers. All four verses of "America" were sung by the entire audience.

Mrs. A1 Rhyme, Grand Deputy in District 21 and Mrs. Helen Haller, member of the Grand Executive Board, attended the Rainbow affair along with grand officers from the Olympic Peninsula: Donna Brittain, Port Angeles #93, Grand Associate Drill Leader; Carolyn Duncan, Forks #83, Grand Representative of New Mexico; Charlene Boulton, Quilicura #149, Grand Representative of Alabama; Vickie Boyce, Sequim #87, Miss Service 1968-69; Glenna Priest, Port Angeles #88, Grand Page and Peggy Rhyme, District Service Representative. Two area accidents involving log trucks occurred Monday within fifteen minutes of one another.

A 1968 Mack log truck and trailer owned by John R. Solomon, Concrete, Washington, and driven by Robert Elwyn Sanderson, 49, Star Rt. 1 Port Angeles, was attempting to pass a string of cars near Tyee when the driver lost control and went off the shoulder of the road.

The accident took place at the intersection of Heinz Campground Road and Highway 101.

Sanderson was treated at Forks Community Hospital for lacerations of the head and right ear.

Damage to the log truck and trailer was estimated at $1,500 to the truck and $200 to the trailer by the Washington Highway Patrol.

A second accident involved a head on collision of a log truck and station wagon 2.2 miles east of Highway 101 on the A Road with the driver and passenger in the station wagon injured.

Norman A. White, 25, Forks, received a fractured pelvis, fracture of the right wrist, laceration of the face and possible chest injuries. He was the driver of the station wagon.

He was treated at Forks Community Hospital and later transferred to Olympic Memorial Hospital in Port Angeles.

His wife, Sue Ellen White, age 21, was treated for a laceration of the chin and possible chest injuries.

Funeral Services Held For Chief Howeattle

Charles Alvin Howeattle, 85, former chief of the Quilute Indian Tribe died in La Push Washington.

The 1964 Peterbilt log truck owned by R & P Inc., Port Angeles and driven by Robert J. Papsen, 30, Port Angeles received an estimated $3000 damage to the left front according to a report by the State Patrol.

Papsen received a cut finger in the accident.

A car and truck collided in a non-injury accident 50 miles south of Forks on Highway 101 the evening of June 18th.

A 1955 Chevrolet driven by Paul C. Spigler, 20, of Forks and a truck-trailer lumber carrier driven by Allen A. Cousins, 35, of North Surrey, B. C., sideswiped on a curve. The Spigler vehicle was heading south and the truck-trailer was heading north on 101 when the accident took place.

The '55 Chevrolet was totaled and the truck-trailer rig sustained approximately $40 damage according to the State Patrol report.

Funeral services were held Monday in the La Push Community Center with Bishop William Martin, Sedro Wooley, officiating.

Mr. Howeattle was born in La Push June 16, 1884, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Howeattle. He became chief of the Quilutes at the death of his brother in 1930. His grandson, David R. Hudson, was declared chief in a celebration held at the Hob Village in 1964.

Mr. Howeattle was minister of the Shaker Religion for many years. He retired because of ill health. In his younger days, Howeattle owned and operated a store where he built and sold dugout canoes. He was a fish dealer in the Hob and La Push areas. He also fished in the ocean from canoes, hunted seal and whales in his younger days.

He is survived by his widow, Elva, in La Push; daughter, Pansy Hudson, Hob; three grandchildren and cousin, nieces and nephews.

DEAR JANE

Carla Jonientz
Engagement
Announced

DEAR JANE:

There have been speakers here in Forks on the drug problem in our community, and the danger of the new Sex Education Program that may be introduced into our school.

What I would like to know is how are the teenagers supposed to know what to think, or who to believe, when they are teaching such filth in our local theatre.

My husband and I were so shocked at the movie we saw the other night that I don't think we will ever forget it.

I am writing this in hopes that more parents will take notice of what they are sending their children to see and learn. You were supposed to be sixteen to see this movie. It was eighteen not too long ago; next it will probably be twelve.

I don't understand how we as parents, can let something like this go on in our community.

Concerned

Dear Concerned:

You are correct in your concern over lack of parental knowledge as to the varied activities indulged in by their children. If parents had enough interest in their children to know what they were doing and with whom they were doing "it with"; then a good percentage of youth problems would not exist today. If the youth of this community were placed in a metropolitan area, they would be subjected to the same type of movies mentioned plus much more. This situation is not limited to our own town but seems to be nation wide. The public demands this type of movie. This is not the fault of the theatre management, this is what the movie industry sells, because that type of movie is what the public demands! If parents would put their foot down and forbid their children to view this sort of thing and refuse themselves to support this type of movie, then the industry would have to change their ways or go broke!

DEAR JANE:

Several weeks ago I attended the Honor Camp dedication where our Governor was the honored speaker. I have been under the impression that the honored guest speaker was acknowledged first but in all cases except one when the other speakers got up to speak, they acknowledged all the others first and then mentioned the Governor last. To me and the other person I rode up with this seemed very rude. Could it be that political etiquette is different or could it be because the Governor was the only Republican speaker there? Or are we wrong on our etiquette?

Still Wondering Why

Dear Wondering:

Political etiquette is pretty much a standard; variations depend on the occasion--dedication, banquet, luncheon, rally etc. The chairman or in this case the master of ceremonies is in charge of the introduction format; co-ordinating order of speaking and seating protocol. Political etiquette in this situation could be as follows: in a chairmans opening remarks, he may mention the presence of the "Honorable Governor Daniel J. Evans", briefly stating that he is our guest speaker this afternoon and will be properly introduced later in the program. It is considered proper political protocol for each speaker preceding the honored guest speaker to begin his or her speech introduction with something like the following: "Honorable Daniel J. Evans, honored guests, ladies and gentlemen"... in any case it is important to at least acknowledge the guest speaker. Lack of proper protocol regarding the presence of an important figure could be considered rude by many people. A letter stating your feelings should be sent to the political parties involved.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lohneis, daughters, Heidi and Heather, John Lohneis and daughter Kathy, spent last weekend in Portland. They viewed the Parade of Roses and visited with Richard's Aunt Anne Jenkins. It had been twelve years since the Lohneis' had seen Mrs. Jenkins. with Mrs. Greg Jacques, also of Portland.

IN PREPARATION FOR FLIGHT—Two young hummingbirds think the situation over as they prepare for flight. These small creatures have been under the watchful eyes of Mr. and Mrs. Don Hutt, owners of the Bogachiel Store, located six miles south of Forks on Highway 101. Mr. Hutt is kept busy feeding the mother bird as it buzzes about protecting her young. There will soon be two more beaks at the supper table in Bogachiel country. By Lonnie Archibald

Attends Law Meet

On June 26, 1969, the Oregon-Washington Lawmen's Association meets in Bellevue, Washington, at the Country Kitchen. This organization, now some 800 members strong, continues to provide law enforcement officers in the Pacific Northwest with leadership and an opportunity for professional liaison. Assuming the posture that law enforcement must be advanced to professional status and that techniques of supervision and investigation in the field must constantly be improved.

In keeping with these principles, OWLA has provided a speaker, Captain Glen Dyer, for the June 23rd meeting. Forks Marshal Phil Riebe will attend the session.

UGN Helps Baseball

Emphasis is on baseball as the principle recreation in the outlying areas of Clallam County. This is what the United Good Neighbor's Admissions and Distribution Committee learned when reviewing the budgets from the Forks Community Council, the Sequim Recreation Council and the Clallam Bay-Seku Recreation Council.

The major portion of the allocation received through your contributions to the United Good Neighbor's is used in these areas to buy equipment and sponsor Babe Ruth and Little Leagues. "More and more interest is being shown in this 'All American' sport and practically everyone is either a player or a spectator," stated Ms. Richard Haberman from Forks. "It really fills the need for the young people during the summer months. Then in the fall and winter they go into Cubs, Boy Scouts, or other sports.

Forks Community Council also provides, through the UGN allocation and other disaster donation, a disaster fund for emergency aid of fire victims or other disasters.

Maintaining the Forks Library and City Park are also projects of the Forks Community Council.

In addition to the baseball in Sequim and Clallam Bay-Seku, swimming instruction by qualified water safety instructors plays an important part in the lives of their young people. Part of the operating expense for these programs is paid for with the UGN allocation.

Meditation

By Rev. Canon Walter W. McNeil, Jr.

Even though we live at considerable distance from the criss-crossing freeways pictured here, the urban pressures of life penetrate into the most peaceful countryside. We are part of the urban society whether we like to admit it or not. By means of modern travel and communications media we are "hooked up" to all parts of the world in matters of minutes.

It is true that we do have 'the calm of the Everlasting Hills' of the psalmist. We do have the advantage of being able to escape in a few minutes time to a hillside where like the author of Psalm 36 we can say, "Thy mercy, O Lord, reacheth unto the heavens, and thy faithfulness unto the clouds. Thy righteousness standeth like the strong mountains: thy judgements are like the great deep." And yet, while we have the advantage in living in this beautiful country, we see ourselves and many of our friends harried, worried, tense and often cracking up.

Peace is an inner thing. It is the substance of our soul. The dweller in the heart of the city can achieve it as can the one who lives out here. It is being 'in tune' with God, like the psalmists were.

Here is a prayer, which, if said daily will do much to bring to you that peace of God which passeth understanding. It is quoted by the Bishop of Coventry "as one of the most beautiful prayers ever written and I have it always in my chapel day and night".

"Slow me down Lord:
Ease the pounding in my heart by the quieting of my mind;
Steady my hurried pace with the vision of the eternal reach of time;
Give me amidst the confusion of my day the calmness of the everlasting hills;
Break the tension of my nerves and muscles with the soothing music of the singing stream that lives in my memory;

Help me to know the magical restoring power of sleep:
Teach me the art of taking minute vacations of slowing down to look at a flower, to chat to a friend, to pat a dog, to read a few lines from a book;
Remind me each day of the fable of the hare and the tortoise, that I may know that the race is no always to the swift, that there is more to life than measuring speed;
Let me look upward into the towering branches of the oak and know that it grew great and strong because it grew slowly and well;
Slow me down Lord and inspire me to send my roots deep into the soil of life's enduring values, that I may grow towards the stars of my greater destiny."

(Quoted by the Bishop of Coventry in The Burrwood Herald of Summer 1964 as "one of the most beautiful prayers ever written and I have it always open in my chapel, day and night.")

HURRY UP and RELAX

Highways, superhighways, turnpikes, freeways, expressways—they crisscross America, leading in every imaginable direction. And, they get you there so fast, you are past the right exit before you know it. We live in such a speed-oriented world that, when we are not working, we feel we must "hurry up and relax." At times we even feel guilty when we are not busy about something.

We don't really like our foolish pace. We speak longingly of peace of mind and quietude, and we take tranquilizers by the ton. We search frantically... on vacations, on "lost weekends," on "fun activities"... but tranquility is hard to find.

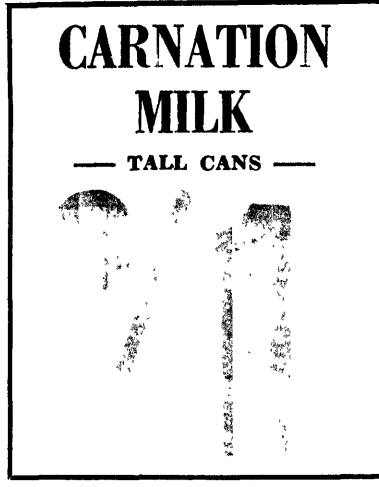

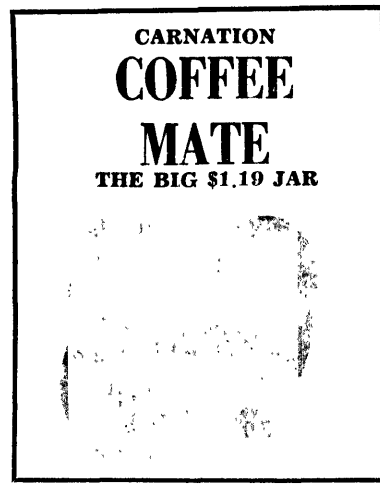

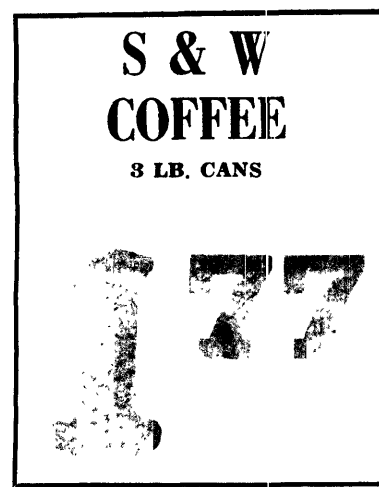

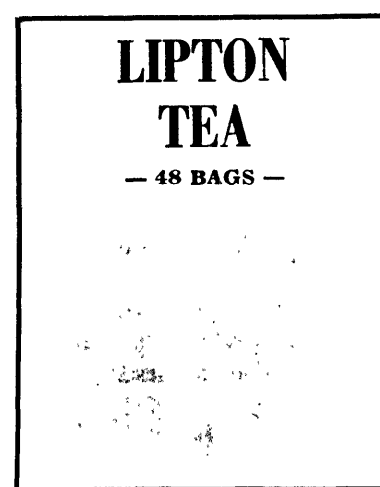

Perhaps we are seeking too hard. Perhaps tranquility is not to be sought. Rather, isn't it what happens when you are at peace with yourself, no matter the circumstances?

You can be at peace with yourself only when you are at peace with God. He is the very center of your being, and His peace is freely given when you accept it.

Accept this great gift of God in the very best place of all—His Church.
