ABOVE: OLYMPUS - To the mountain climber Mt. Olympus is a huge mass of rock, glacier, and snow fields. To the airplane pilot it is a rugged upheaval of 60 feet below. The climbers are gone now and only a few elk remain, gathering in herds before migrating to the rain forests which will serve as winter homes. The nights are colder as winter nears and snow will soon blanket the high country. Tales will once again flow over, remaining frozen until the hiker and mountain climber return the following summer to conquer that which is theirs to explore. At this time the scene is peaceful. Tomorrow will bring storm clouds which will fill the sky above Olympus.

Forest Service Reconstruction Job Nears Completion

The Soleduck Ranger District of the Olympic National Forest, with headquarters in Forks, announces the completion of the largest rock crushing project on the district in recent years. The crushing project is part of the restoration of 7.9 miles of the Hunger Mountain Road #2970 on the Brandeberry Pass timber sale contract.

Olonco contracted the crushing to Spoelstra Bros. Logging Company of Forks and crushing began in September of this year. A total of 28,105 cubic yards of crushed rock was placed on the 7.9 miles of road. Crushing and placement of the rock were completed on October 22nd, according to District Construction Engineering Assistant Donald Markham.

Elk Season Opens With Mixed Success

Washington State's general bull elk hunting season opened Saturday with mixed success for somewhat few hunters than turned out last year. Monday morning analysis of weekend field checks taken by State Wildlife Agents show elk-hunter turnout and success in Yakima-Kittitas and Blue Mountain areas as being comparable to the 1968 opener; but a severe decline in the number of hunters and elk harvest in southwest Washington. Hunting pressure showed a predictable decline in Grays Harbor county according to the State Game Department checks, but other Peninsula areas hosted more hunters than last year.

relatively warm and sunny weather in all late elk areas, offering ideal hunting conditions but less than optimum from the hunting standpoint. Blue Mountain elk areas reported about the same hunting pressure and hunter success as in 1968 but with relatively few elk sightings in lower elevation areas. Favorable weather in the southeast has allowed more pack-in hunters than usual to remain in the back country. Elk movement which should raise the hunter's success, is expected to begin when stormy weather arrives. Elk hunter turnout in the Wynoochee-Satsop and Hinnuplups areas of coastal and peninsula counties showed a checking station on the Wynoochee tallied 960 hunters with 14 elk and 5 deer; on the Hinnuplups, Donkey creek checking station, 607 hunters were tallied with 16 elk. Elsewhere on the coast, hunting pressure was up in some areas, and hunters had good success. Spot checks in some of the better areas include: Neah Bay-82 hunters with 6 bulls; Goodman creek-135 hunters with 10 bulls, 4 bucks, and 1 bear; Clearwater-Falaloch-128 hunters with 10 bulls and 1 deer; Middle Nemah-141 hunters with 11 bulls (but very crowd-

Observance of Veterans' and Admission Day, Nov. 11, 1969

On November 11, 1918, silence fell over Western Europe and millions of people throughout the world breathed a prayer of thanksgiving. Four long years of battle and bloodshed had come to an end. The war which was to end all wars was over.

We had won the battle to "make the world safe for democracy" -- but at what a cost. Millions of the finest young men from nations throughout the world had courageously sacrificed their lives for the preservation of an ideal. They died dedicated to the principle of self-determination and the right of all people everywhere to enjoy those privileges of representative government which had nurtured our own nation.

November 11, first observed as Armistice Day and since 1954 designated as Veterans' Day, should be for each of us, young and old alike, a time to pay homage to those of all races and creeds who unselfishly made the supreme sacrifice. On Veterans' Day we pay tribute not only to those who died in World War I but also to those who gave their lives at Bunker Hill and Valley Forge, at Gettysburg and Chattanooga. At Bataan and Iwo Jima, at Pusan and Inchon, and at Da Nang and Khe Sanh. And for those of us in the State of Washington, who also observe November 11 as Admission Day we pay tribute, too, to those who struggled and died to extend the blessings of liberty westward "from sea to shining sea."

Veterans' Day must be more than a day of tribute to our honored dead. It must be a day of dedication to the unfinished tasks remaining before. In no better way can we demonstrate that "these dead shall not have died in vain."

We urge schools throughout the state to begin now to plan appropriate observances of Veterans' Day. It would be our hope that veterans' organizations and a variety of community groups be involved in the planning and that they be invited to participate in the observance.

We urge that attention be given to those great and pressing problems, domestic and foreign, the solutions to which we can seek within a framework of freedom and equality for all -- the ideal for which so many have fought and died.

Say, "Good Morning World" with the Bud Howard program, early morning on KVAC.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Editor,

We are writing to protest. . . Protest--as defined in American College Dictionary--to declare solemnly or formally; affirm; assert.

We know teenagers are noisy, too active, and some of us, forgetting our own youth, would almost wish they weren't around to bug us. But life being what it is, we can't all be adults and we aren't all as responsible as we would like to believe.

There are many good, upright and efficient teenagers in this town, who definitely need our support. We are writing in behalf of three high school boys who are trying to play for dances to keep the other teenagers off the street, as well as express themselves through their music. Of course we know it doesn't always sound like music, but it is the music of their generation, just like the jazz, waltz or Charleston of our day (and didn't some of our parents frown on such "nonsense"?)

The problem is, where are they going to practice and when are they going to play when some people feel they must call to complain about the noise and/or threaten to call the police, etc. When they practiced at their own homes, some of the neighbors complained, so the radio station seemed to be the perfect place away from houses, and a place where they could keep their equipment and have access to a tape recorder. But again, a few people were unhappy. It is true, the hour may have been later than it should have been, but it was only two or three times a week and it was for only an hour. These boys go to school every day, work on jobs after school, on weekends and in the summers to pay for their own instruments and equipment and their time to practice is limited.

For those who feel they have legitimate gripes, we would appreciate suggestions as to what they expect the teenagers to do. These are dedicated and sincere boys who are not deliberately making noise just for the sake of causing a disturbance. They are truly trying to be responsible citizens and deserve the chance to prove they can succeed, but they need cooperation and certainly not complaints and threats. Thank you.

Sincerely,
Mr. & Mrs. Ivan Burr
Mr. & Mrs. Ben Howard
Mr. & Mrs. Gordon Otos

NOTICE OF SALE OF VALUABLE MATERIAL ON STATE LAND
Bert L. Cole, Commissioner of Public Lands

Notice is hereby given that on Tuesday, the 25th day of November, 1969, commencing at ten o'clock in the forenoon of said day, at the Forks District Headquarters, located at Forks, County of Clallam, State of Washington, by the District Administrator of said District, the timber on the following described state land will be sold at public auction to the highest bidder, to wit:

APPLICATION No. 33243
P-1810 Cleanup located approximately 8 miles by road south of Clallam Bay. The sale is composed of all timber bounded by sale area boundary tags on part NE 1/4 NE 1/4 of Section 17, all decked timber along the P-1810 road on part W 1/2 NW 1/4 of Section 16, plus 21 trees marked with blue paint on part NW 1/4 NE 1/4 of Section 16, part NE 1/4 NE 1/4 of Section 17, all in Township 31 North, Range 12 West, W.M., containing 9 acres, more or less, comprising approximately 240,000 bd. ft. of hemlock and white fir, 140,000 bd. ft. of Douglas fir, 120,000 bd. ft. of cedar and 5,000 bd. ft. of spruce, or a total of 505,000 bd. ft.

Minimum acceptable bid: $23,812.50.

Timber will be sold on a cash or installment plan basis. Timber must be removed prior to September 30, 1971.

On or before November 25, 1969, at 10:00 a.m., each bidder must make a minimum deposit of $23,812.50 in the form of cash, money order or certified check. Said deposit shall constitute an opening bid at the appraised price.

Upon award of this sale, the respective deposits shall be returned to the unsuccessful bidders. On the day of sale, the purchaser must pay the balance between the bid deposit and the full bid price plus a $5.00 bill of sale fee, or may, if the purchaser so elects at the time of sale, pay an additional amount, to bring the total amount of the deposit, exclusive of fees, to equal 10% of the full bid price based on the cruise estimate. This balance may be paid by personal check. Purchaser must also furnish within 70 days of date of sale a surety bond of $3,000.00 to guarantee compliance with all terms of the bill of sale. All checks, money orders, etc. are to be made payable to the Commissioner of Public Lands.

ACCESS ROAD REVOLVING FUND: $125.00 to be paid on date of sale.

Accessibility: Via Department of Natural Resources access and Peninsula Plywood Corporation, Crown Zellerbach Corporation, Murray and Nelson easements. Complete contract and specifications may be examined at Forks District Headquarters, County Auditor's office, and office of the Commissioner of Public Lands, Olympia.

To be sold at Forks District Headquarters, on Tuesday, November 25, 1969, at 10 o'clock a.m.

Any sale which has been offered, and for which no bids are received shall not be reoffered until it has been readvertised. If all sales cannot be offered within the specified time on the advertised date, the sale shall continue on the following day between the hours of ten o'clock a.m. and four o'clock p.m.

Said timber on said land will be sold for not less than the appraised value, as appraised by the Commissioner of Public Lands in the manner provided by law, a notice of which is now on file in the office of the Auditor of said county, and District Administrator of said district.

By Pastor Howard Stockman

How innocent is a child. He doesn't know what is right in the world. As parents we look at our children with love in our eyes and think that we are going to give them an education that will prepare them to meet the world. We have the responsibility of bringing them in contact with different parts of life so that they will be able to choose what is best for them when they come of age. We are responsible for setting their sights for how high they will go. This is an awesome responsibility which God has given to us and I wonder if we all take this job with utmost seriousness? We think that we do and perhaps try to do the best but we are always giving them the well rounded education so that they are fully equipped to make the right choices?

We have to make sure that they get the proper education in school because this is so necessary to enable them to go out and properly make a living. We train them to have the proper social graces so that they will be accepted by society and not treated as an outcast. Social customs are very important to enable a person to make friends and enjoy life.

We teach them how to dance, play a musical instrument, work hard, play in sports, drive a car and the list goes on and on. These are all important things to keep in mind as we train our children.

If we stop here I believe we aren't aiming nearly high enough. A very important part of life is God who created everything. So often you hear someone say that they are going to leave God out of their training because that is something for them to decide when they get older. The problem is that without any training when they are young they will not know enough about God when they get older to even make any choice. For example, if you decide not to teach a child to read or write when he is young the chances are that he will never learn. We know that this has to be part of their training when they are young so they can make a choice as to whether they want to continue their education or stop. This same thing applies to their learning about God. If we don't include this in their training they do not know enough to make a proper choice for or against God. If this is the case then you as a parent have failed in setting the sights of your children high enough. In order to have their sights properly set they need to have God included in their education.

If only I had been born with the ability to reason and all the wisdom great decisions require.

Then I'd ask Daddy to teach me a prayer.

And I'd ask Mommy to read me a Bible story.

And, if nobody offered to take me, I'd walk myself to Sunday School.

But, as things are, I've no more say about my destiny than a missile has. You grown-ups decide how high—or how low—my life shall be aimed! And when to launch me! And where!

And, from what I hear, some of us never get off the ground.

Please . . . SOMEBODY . . . plan my orbit.

New Hope for Narcotic Addicts

Treating and rehabilitating narcotic addicts successfully has been hampered by the fact that the addict was often treated in a hospital far from his home community.

Usually also, he was not adequately followed up and helped with his problem after release from the hospital.

Means for overcoming these and other deficiencies are provided in the Narcotic Addict Rehabilitation Act of 1966—known as NARA.

Congress established a new national policy through NARA. It calls for the treatment of narcotic addicts rather than solely prosecuting them under criminal statutes.

For the first time, Federal law provides that narcotic addicts may apply for treatment in lieu of prosecution for certain crimes and that addicts not charged with a criminal offense may also be committed to the Public Health Service for treatment and rehabilitation.

NARA has set in motion a new nationwide program for the supervised treatment and rehabilitation—of addicts in the community.

The National Institute of Mental Health, Division of Narcotic Addiction and Drug Abuse is responsible for the examination and treatment of patients committed under provisions of NARA.

How is it working? A look at five "case histories" suggests that the program is off to a good start.

Robert J. started using barbiturates in reform school when he was 14. At nineteen, he was a high school dropout and heroin addict.

Jose H. started using heroin at 15 and has been using it intermittently ever since.

John P. has been an addict since he was 19. Now 26, he found his "habit" costing him $35 a day at the peak of his addiction; and he stole checks to support his addiction.

Bill M. is 30 years old and has a 10-year history of drug abuse. Once he was sent to jail to "kick the habit," merely jailing him didn't work.

Another heroin addict, R. R., had been stealing $25-30 daily to pay for the drug. His family, consisting of his wife and three children, had broken up.

Before NARA, there would have been little hope for the rehabilitation of any of these five individuals. Typically, they would have remained hooked on hard narcotics, stolen more and more to pay for their drugs, been jailed repeatedly.

Likely, they would have been dead within a few years from an overdose of drugs which happens frequently among narcotic addicts.

Moreover, the five, if released, would have followed a path of crime and chaos to support their habits since the time they entered the NARA program.

Now, each of them has been free of drug since at least May 1968. Two of them have been rid of their habits since the fall of 1967. All are either gainfully employed or receiving training; and one is attending college part-time.

Among the first to receive treatment under NARA, they were given six months of intensive inpatient treatment at an NIMH clinical research center. On discharge, they went into intensive rehabilitation programs established in their home communities. Local agencies were contracted with by NIMH to provide the services.

Currently, 58 such programs have been set up in 55 U.S. cities in 37 states. More are being added almost daily.

Now enrolled in the total program are 268 patients. The number is growing and by summer of 1970 is expected to reach 2,000 patients, according to Dr. Sidney Cohen, Director of the Division of Narcotic Addiction and Drug Abuse of the National Institute of Mental Health.

Admission to NARA is always through the Federal courts. In some cases, addicts themselves request commitment proceedings be started. In others they elect commitment to treatment rather than face prosecution on Federal criminal charges.

So far, the program has had a low dropout rate. Dr. Cohen attributes this to two factors: mainly, the personal attention and intensive service received by the patients and creating out of addicts who show little hope or desire for successful rehabilitation.

The program already is paying dividends in economic savings as well as social ways, according to Dr. Cohen. He estimates, for example, that "for less than $1 million (the cost of the aftercare program to date), thefts required to support the habits of the addicts receiving rehabilitation have been reduced by $1.6 million—a savings of $600,000."

The savings are calculated on the basis of findings by the President's Commission on Law Enforcement and Justice which indicate how much the average addict must steal daily to support his drug habit.

Far from all addicts will ever be as outstanding beneficiaries of the program as R. R., mentioned earlier, but his case is encouraging and hope-bringing to others.

He was a heroin addict for nine years before entering NARA's program. After intensive treatment at NIMH's Lexington center, he went into his community after-care program. In Detroit, following four weeks of psychological testing and vocational evaluation there, he took part in self-help group therapy and was placed for employment in an automobile production plant.

Since he began his therapy, he has paid for renovations on his home, purchased an automobile, and assumed full family responsibilities for his wife and three children. He also became an active member of his community's social organizations, helping groups on youth and drug problems.

As do all NARA patients, R. R. will remain in his after-care program for 36 months. The chances of his completing the program and maintaining his progress are good, say the program authorities.

4-H Horse Club

The Washington Rein Riders held their first meeting, October 14th at 3:30 p.m. Election of officers was held. Officers for the next 6 months are: president, Rocky Colfelt; vice-president, Sanford Windle; secretary, Debbie Johnston and treasurer, Suzan Mansfield.

Jane Roberts will take care of the scrapbook and Gail Lingvall and Keith Waters are the telephone committee. After the elections we practiced a skit for the 4-H awards dinner.

The second meeting was held October 19th at our barn. We had a problem clinic. Everyone put on a demonstration on "How to Show a Horse for a Halter Class". Roll call was answered by naming a part of a horse.

FORKS ELEMENTARY LIBRARY

"Forks Elementary School library serves grades 1 thru 6, approximately 600 students," according to Mrs. Henry Halverson, librarian.
"We have received several good books from family book shelves and the books we have purchased were paid for from funds allocated to us by the Federal Government.
"We also have a set of National Geographic from 1916 to 1969, we need only 56 issues to complete our set.
"There are four high school girls who help us by mending books, mounting pictures for file, put up bulletin boards. This is done on a volunteer basis.
"The children learn to use and enjoy the library at a very early age. We have a story hour for the five first grades, one day a week.
"This week we have been privileged to have as our guest Primrose Brendl, Clallam County Childrens' Librarian.
"She has spent time reading to the children and teaching us several ways to improve our library program."

Cub Scout News

Several meetings were recently held to organize the Cub Scout program for the Forks area this year. Eugene V. Garbrick is the newly volunteered Cubmaster with Henry Bechtold, Charles Minor and Hartley Berg as committee men.

Five dens have been set up involving some 30 boys, ages 8 to 10. Two or more men are still needed to work together with a Webelo Den.

Den mothers this coming year are: Mrs. Dick Ford, Mrs. Charles Minor, Mrs. Richard Haberman, Mrs. Clayton Russell, Mrs. John McFall, Mrs. Walter Johnston, Mrs. Robert Hall, Mrs. Ivan Burr, Mrs. Avery Bumgarner and Mrs. Gail Garbrick. Assisting the den mothers are: Mrs. Gordon Richards, den mother counselor and awards chairmen, Mrs. Sam Quigley, Mrs. Douglas Howell and Mrs. Hand Zepeda.

More boys can be taken into the program providing den mothers can be found.

Chicken dumplings for Sunday dinner! Pretty good meal after a hard day's bowling here in our Olympic Traveling League. Any meal Mother slaps together is good.

Jarrell had the high game, 213, and the high series, 596, for the Forks bunch.

Margaret Windle rolled a 113 and Kathy Decker a 507 in Thursday afternoon's League.

Burset had a 236 by Carl Simmons and a 578 by Claude Clark.

The Powder Puffs had ten 600 plus series, led by Pat Mansfield's 551. She also had the high game, a 702. Mary Keeney posted a 547, Joyce Blair a 536, Margaret Windle a 201-519, and Maureen Anderson a 514.

Leta Rondeau topped the Hoot Owls with her 191-513, and Diana Haag had a 183 game. Kay Whitehead pushed up the 6-7-10 split and Jean Bungegarner the 4-7-10.

Raye West had hi 10 for Thursday's Beginners with 164, and Anita Bungegarner had a 408. Bev Johnston tossed a 159-405. These scores might not sound very big to the better bowlers, but for beginners they are real good games and series. Mabel Smothers picked up the 6-7-10 split.

Billie Crist slanted out a 210 hi game for the Women's Thursday Nic League, and Paulis Lyda had a 111. Yvonne Ferrel threw up a 111-505.

Leta Keeney was the big gun for the West Enders, with hi 214-527.

Paulis Lyda had a 202-511 for the party on the Friday Nic Mixed. She bowled out a 1-5-10, and

Alba Jarz had hi 10 for day to a 1-5-10. Other hi 137-408, and Linda Holton's 191-498.

Clara Keeney was the big gun for the 1-5-10, 12-20-10, 240, for Saturday's Nic Squad. Joyce Hulin had a 1-5-10.

Other was the nice game shot at Saturday Nic Monte Carlo, and Duke took but one pot from Bob West and I with a beautiful 232 game. Took the other two myself with a nice 600 series.

Leta Rondeau topped both men and women of Sunday Nic Mixed with a 29-548. Ed Huling had 190-508.

Chuck Hamby threw a 221 hi 10 and Stan Lou had a big 222-636, Aha boy, Stan.

The Men's Clallam-Jefferson Counties Bowling Association will be holding its first Doubles-Singles Team Tournament later this month. Better get down and practice, fellas. We bowl in our own house, so, with some of the events that have been fit here lately, we should get a good chunk of the pot of money.

Huskies Meet Indians

Washington's Huskies begin a three game home stand this weekend when the Stanford University Indians come to Seattle for a game Saturday.

In the last six meetings between the two teams, the Huskies have won four. But Stanford has won the last two, and the Huskies will be attempting to stop that string.

The Indians have lost two games, and had another tied, in the last few minutes, and in two cases, seconds, of play this season. Purdue and Southern Cal came from behind to win, while UCLA had to battle back for a tie.

Leading the Stanford offensive attack are fullback Howie Williams (6-0, 196), halfback Bubba Brown (6-0, 184) and quarterback Jim Plunkett (6-3, 204).

Through six games, Williams and Brown had 344 and 340 net yards rushing, for 4.1 and 4.5 yards per carry averages. Plunkett, who led the Pacific-8 in total offense after six games, had completed 114 passes of 197 attempted for 1,500 yards and 14 touchdowns. He had 1,553 total offensive yards.

Defensively, Stanford has two of the fine linebackers on the coast in Don Parish (6-2, 215) and Pat Preston (5-11, 205). They were in on 87 and 69 defensive plays, respectively, through six games. On the line, defensive end Jack Schultz (6-0, 197) had 45 tackles and Tim McClure (6-2, 216), tackle, had 42. Rich Keller (5-11, 180), halfback, had three interceptions for 62 yards and one touchdown.

Probable offensive starters against the Huskies are: split end Jack Lasater (6-2, 205); tackles Pete Seymour (6-3, 216) and Dave Sharp (6-4, 221); guards George Crooks (6-1, 215) and Bob Reinhard (6-1, 224); center John Sande (6-2, 226); tight end Bob Moore (6-3, 209); quarterback Plunkett; fullback Williams; halfback Brown; and flanker Randy Vetaha (5-10, 182).

Defensively, the Indians will go with: ends Jeff Siemon (6-2, 221) and Schultz; tackles Dave Tipton (6-6, 220) and McClure; guards Pete Lazetich (6-3, 236) and Jody Graves (6-0, 215); linebackers Parish and Preston; halfbacks

Dick Oliver (6-3, 197) and Keller; and, safety Jim Kauffman (5-11, 168).

Bob Reinhard also has the punting chores and has done a good job this season. In the first six games this season he had kicked 33 times and was averaging 40.1 yards a punt.

KVAC Forks Radio Station will air this Saturday's game. Game time is 1:20 p.m.

Also, this 46th meeting between the Indians and the Huskies is the NCAA Regional Game of the Week and will be televised on ABC to West Coast fans.

THINK SMALL

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Most who discuss contemporary problems or current events require the student to subscribe to one of the news magazines, such as U.S. News & World Report, Newsweek, Time etc. Time magazine is used throughout the United States in many of these classes. The October 1st issue of Time magazine has as its caption across the front cover "The Homosexual in America". Here is an article 6 pages long. This is a complicated medical problem and should be treated by professionals dealing in this field. Why would any pre-college classroom be placed in the position of discussing professional, medical problems?

The power of suggestion is very strong. Why should parents allow this thought to be presented to their children when the word, "GOD", has been removed from their classroom experience? The Fall of the Roman Empire, immorality and sex perversion went hand-in-hand. Won't civilization ever learn? Yours truly, Mrs. Nelma Blayne Forks, Washington

Wolves Squeak Lunch Menu

By Spartans

The Forks Spartans, playing before a capacity crowd last Friday night, watched the upset of the year slip thru their hands in the fourth quarter. After being tied 8 to 8 at half time the Wolves roared back to score twice in the fourth quarter to defeat the Forks Spartans 24 to 8.

Sequim scored first on a quarterback sneak by Steve Mahaney in the first quarter after driving 45 yards.

Forks then came back in the second quarter to tie the score 8 to 8 at half. Dennis Perry got the touchdown on a 30-yard aerial from Dan Payne. The play, consisting of a double reverse and a pass, finishing the Spartans razzle-dazzle. Perry then scored the final two points on an off tackle slant.

The state ranked Wolves had their hands full all evening with the Spartans. Pete Dahlgren, and Dennis Perry ran well from the back field for the Spartans. With Rich Liles, Dan Payne, Dave Beebe, and John Dahlgren doing an outstanding job of stopping the strong Sequim attack.

The Spartans next game is Friday night against the

Tips for Hunters Search and Rescue

Ray Ellis, co-ordinator of the Search and Rescue Unit for this area, reports on Sunday night we received 7 calls reporting hunters lost in the woods. If there are hunters hurt we will go into the woods no matter how late. But we have had many reports of "lost hunters", who have walked out of the woods. The people who called us to report them lost do not call us back when they return. Therefore we have them on our list and our reports are not complete. Please give the hunter ample time to return some times they may kill an animal and dark over takes them so they stay with the animal until daylight. As a rule Search and Rescue Units wait until at least 4 hours after daylight for the missing hunter to return. If he doesn't the unit then starts on an organized search. Please, when you call, know the area the hunter is in and what time he was expected to return to camp.

The best thing a hunter can do when overtaken by dark is to build a fire and stay put until morning.
