News Release: Communicable Diseases

"It's that time of year again when communicable diseases spread faster. For one thing, as the weather gets more rainy and cold, people tend to spend more of their time indoors, rather than outside in the fresh air." say Area Extension Agent, Marie Burnes. In close or crowded areas there is always greater risk of exposure to colds and other communicable diseases from those who are sneezing or coughing. (Remember the little poem: "I sneezed a sneeze into the air, it fell to earth I know not where, but ten days later, I was told, that twenty others had my cold").

Dr. Kenneth Barber, Washington State University Extension Family Life Specialist passes along some effective health care measures. He suggests: Take advantage of immunizations available from the family physician check family records to determine which member needs a vaccination or booster shots.

Teach children to wash their hands after going to the bathroom before meals and before handling foods. Frequent baths for all family members keep the skin healthy and clean. Have towels, face cloths, toilet articles and cosmetic for each family member (no sharing). Wash hands with soap and hot water before and after any contact with ill family members. Sterilize eating utensils and dishes by boiling in water for any family member with a communicable disease, and store these items separately for easy access. If any chemical antiseptics or disinfectants are used read the labels and follow directions. Store the containers out of sight and out of reach of children. When removing soiled bed linen, fold the contaminated side to the inside. Keep soiled linen away from the face and handle it by the edges and corners. Such linens should be laundered separately. Usually a bacteriostat should be used together with hot water (particularly for sheets and pillow cases), to kill harmful bacteria. (There are a number of good bacteriostats on the market at your local grocery or supermarket.)

Observing these precautions should help cut down on transmitting communicable diseases within the family, concludes Extension Agent Marie Burnes.

AFTER THE STORM - The storm came and the storm went. Clouds new descent as the sky lighted. Below the watered clouds, a river flows. The Quillayute runs wild. It's water's muddy. It's water's high. A maple tree stands tall against the brown sky. In the early morning sun rise, the water level above the bridge surges southward assuring us of the cold winter ahead. Yesterday's loss of yellow leaves covered the maple. Today the leaves cover the ground. Tomorrow the maple will display the winter foliage and snow. Just another day, another mood on the Quillayute after the storm. By Bonnie Arendhaud

ACCIDENT CLAIMS LIFE

Jensen, 20, U.S. Coast Guard, LaPush, was killed instantly early Wednesday morning when the car he was driving westbound on the LaPush road left the road at a high rate of speed after failing to negotiate a curve to the right. Let's Talk Turkey Stuffing

There is no place like home for celebrating happy occasions, whatever they may be! From casual gatherings with friends to special affairs to family holiday dinners, home is the right place for good fellowship and good food all the year 'round.

From our days of the early settlers, turkey has been a favorite dish in American homes. Its tantalizing aroma, crackling golden skin, and tender meat make any occasion festive! For the crowning touch to this delicious entree, the home economists at Bordo Products Company have a suggestion for stuffing that everyone will enjoy!

- DATE-NUT TURKEY STUFFING
- 1/2 cup (1 stick) butter
 - 4 individual stalks of celery, diced
 - 2 medium, or 1 large onion, diced
 - 20 slices white bread, cubed (including crust)
 - 1 tablespoon seasoned salt
 - 2 eggs, beaten
 - 1 8 oz. package Bordo imported diced dates, or Bordo whole dates, cut up
 - 1 cup chopped pecans

Melt butter in deep saucepan. Saute celery and onions in butter until transparent and lightly browned. Remove from heat. Add bread and mix until moistened. Add diced or cut up dates to beaten egg and mix. Add seasoned salt, egg and date mixture, and chopped pecans, to bread mixture. Mix thoroughly.

Yield: About 5 cups of a rich, moist stuffing, enough for a 13-15 pound turkey.

Always stuff fowl loosely to prevent bursting. Stuffing also may be baked separately in a greased casserole.

Council Studies Street Lighting

The lack of street lighting in the newly annexed addition was discussed with Dale Nichols, representing the PUD. According to Nichols, "the Clallam County PUD office in Port Angeles is sending engineers to Forks sometime this week to make a study of the problem. They will submit the results of the lighting study at the next meeting of the council."

A letter from the Chamber of Commerce was read. The letter commended the council for the fine job done on the city street, also commended the councilmen and Mayor on the job well done.

Issues on the airport property were discussed.

The Olympic Regional Planning Commission meeting was attended by J.J. Blongren, he reported on items discussed by the commission. These items included a county-wide zoning plan.

There have been some councilmen discussing all-day parking in front of the library. Marshal Sandmire had begun checking the cars parked there prior to issuing tickets.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Editor,
I regret that I must take exception to some of the views expressed by my friend Nelma Rhyne in her letter in a recent edition of the Forum.

I recall reading the Time magazine article on homosexuality that she referred to and feeling that it was a fairly objective report on a rather controversial subject which was seldom discussed openly until the recent spate of books, plays, and movies focused our attention on the problem. I believe that Time--- and it might as easily have been Newsweek or U.S. News---should be commended rather than excoriated for its enlightened views toward the problem. I detected in the article a plea for more tolerance and understanding on the part of the public. On one of the professional panel, including the admitted homosexuals, recommended that the public condone any blatant anti-social conduct by this unfortunate, and, no doubt unhappy, group. Most of the panelists, on the contrary, seemed to lean toward more effective psychiatric treatment.

With regard to the propriety of the article in the local classrooms, the question seems largely academic since it was neither assigned nor discussed so far as I know. But the principle of free discussion is a crucial one. Today's student is keenly interested in the problems of his society and extremely sensitive about any attempts to gloss over or ignore issues that appear relevant to him. His emotional and intellectual maturity is often underestimated and he is likely to resent any attempts to short change his education.

I simply cannot agree that there is any danger to the moral or emotional stability of a student in a Contemporary Problems class arising from a tactful discussion of the Time article or the general subject of homosexuality. Nor would I agree that God has been removed from the classroom by court decision or otherwise. Surely God exists in the heart of the individual and piety cannot be measured by protestations of faith. Is God more likely to manifest His presence in the form of group prayer or through a recognition of the need for more tolerance and compassion in man's treatment of his fellow man?

Sincerely
Robert D. Hall

Join in National Day of Prayer

Residents of Forks are being asked by Commander Charles Fox of V.F.W., Post No. 9106 to join in a national day of prayer November 16, asking for peace, safety of our servicemen in Vietnam, national unity and guidance for the United States in this time of crisis.

Commander Fox said he hopes all residents of Forks will participate in this "call to worship" and that the clergy will set aside November 16 for special prayers in all Forks churches, synagogues and temples.

In announcing the day of prayer, Commander Fox cited a recent appeal made by the Rev. Earl Best, Indianapolis, Indiana, National V.F.W. Chaplain, who said: "In this critical time, all Americans should reflect prayerfully on the future course this nation will follow and to ask divine guidance for President Nixon as he makes decisions and sets policies that may affect untold generations yet unborn."

"All Americans should pray for peace and for the thousands of men who daily put their lives on the line in Vietnam to ensure the right of dissent for other thousands at home who so vociferously object to the role our nation is playing in that troubled country. Let us pray for unity in our resolve to do right."

"In their prayers Americans should remember the men and women who have given their lives in Vietnam and in all the wars their countrymen have fought to preserve freedom everywhere."

Commander Fox explained that November 16 was selected as the national day of prayer because it is the first Sunday after Veterans Day, November 11, and concludes the week-long V.F.W., sponsored "Operation Speak Out" calling for unity and public support of American policies and troops in Vietnam.

Bigger Checks Due For Wash. Widows

Bigger checks are due in January for nearly 3,000 widows in Washington, of the approximately 168,000 nationwide. John B. Kirsch, Manager of the Seattle Veterans Administration Regional Office, announced today.

Signed by the President on October 27, 1969, a new law (Public Law 91-96) authorizes increases for most widows of servicemen and veterans who are eligible for dependency and indemnity compensation (DIC).

Effective December 1, the increase will show up first in checks received in January. This increase is automatic and no application is needed.

DIC payments, Kirsch explained, are authorized for widows of servicemen and veterans who died on or after Jan. 1, 1957, of service-connected causes.

The new legislation does not affect payments to survivors receiving compensation under laws that preceded the DIC program.

New DIC rates provide $167 monthly for the widow of a lowest ranking enlisted man compared to a minimum of $134 at present. Similar increases are provided for eligible widows of other enlisted men and officers.

Widows with minor children will get an extra $20 per month per child under the legislation. With few exceptions, they get nothing extra now. Forms for making application for children's allowances will be mailed to all widows automatically. Kirsch said.

DIC payments have been tied to military pay through a complex formula. In raising DIC rates, Congress disclosed the complex formula and provided a table of payments based on pay grade.

DIC recipients who are patients in nursing homes, or who are helpless or blind to the point that they need regular aid and attendance of another person, may receive an extra $50 per month under the law.

By Lonnie Archibald FORKS FORUM SALUTES OUTSTANDING MEMBER OF THE COMMUNITY

KATE JOHNSON, one of the outstanding members of the community, is pictured holding her first tea set which is over 50 years old.

Our choice for a outstanding member of the community is Mrs. George Campbell. "Kate" to all who have ever met her.

Kate was born and raised in a little coal mining town, Cambria, Wyoming. Her father was a mine inspector. With her parents, one sister and five brothers they were in Kate's words, "a happy and contented broke family." When he was nine years old, her family moved to Sheridan, Wyoming, where she went to grade and high school.

That was where Kate met her "hero" husband George. They were married April 20, 1916, three years and a daughter and son later, they moved to Everett, Washington. They were blessed with two more girls while they lived on their "Stump Ranch", as Kate calls it. In 1947 they moved to Beaver, where the Campbells lived until 1951 when they moved to Forks.

After moving to Forks, Kate became what her family termed a "joiner".

She was a member of the Girl Scouts Mothers' Club, a charter member of the Forks Eastern Star Chapter #263, and when the Rainbow Girls organized Kate was part of the group that organized them. The Campbell's daughters, Goldie and Mary, were members of this group. Kate is a member of the Past Mothers' Club, she received a "Grand Cross of Colors," the highest honor in the Rainbows.

As for Kate's hobbies, she collects tea cups, she has 35, and State plates, also a lovely collection of tea-pots about 50, she also crochets, sews and makes beautiful pillows, helps panic stricken mothers with weddings and what have you. Have a problem? Call Kate.

When asked about her "pride and joy" Kate replied, "My pride and joy is my wonderful family. First my husband George, with him life has been worth living. Our oldest daughter Edie, is our only single child, she lives in Everett.

"Next is our son Jim, his sweet and lovely wife, Mary Anne and their daughter Karen Marie. Live in Forks. Our daughter, Mary (Mrs. James Wallace), is a beauty operator and has three lovely children, Danny, Susie and Jamie. They live in Langley, Washington.

"Our youngest daughter, Goldie (Mrs. Bob Southwood) and her family, husband Bob, and two sweet boys, Scott and Carl live in Fairbanks, Alaska, where Bob has his own industrial welding business. Bob and Goldie went to Alaska on their honeymoon and have lived there ever since.

"Life has been good to me and we just love Forks. It's a wonderful place to raise and educate your family. As long as I can be of any assistance I shall be glad to do so. We've watched Forks grow and change and have, like everyone else who has lived here for years, had our sad and happy experiences, but such is life."

We wish to say "Thank You Kate" and keep up the good work!

Meditation By Pastor William E. Cross

CHURCH? I can take it or leave it! Why is it so necessary to "be in attendance" for every service? I can worship God in many other places than "in Church"... And so the statements could be multiplied.

Church membership, at least Church attendance, is that which is professed by the multitudes today even though a vociferous minority would have us believe that "institutionalized religion" is something outdated. How many thousands of people in our land profess to "Church membership! On the other hand how great is the number who never seem to get around to the business of "consistent attendance" at the services. So what??? Does my "attendance" really make that much difference???

First, let me say that it does according to God's own Word, Hebrews 10:24-25, is a direct command from God: "And let us consider one another to provoke unto love and good works: Not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as the manner of some is; but exhorting one another: and so much the more, as ye see the day approaching."

Secondly, you may not always be able to make a choice as to whether you attend or not. There are a multitude of circumstances in this life, any one of which could prevent your active attendance in Church. How many sick, crippled and aged now confined to bed and home wish that they could "get out to Church", even once in a while!! Many of these live with the memory that when they had the opportunity to go, they were "too busy"!!

Thirdly, is the Almighty God, the One who loved so much that He "gave His only begotten Son" as a ransom for lost men, simply a "God of convenience"? Men go merrily on their way, seeking the fulfillment of their own desires and pleasures until the Crisis hour: some loss by accident, sickness or death!! The Bible says: "But seek ye FIRST the kingdom of God and His righteousness"... In almost every other area of our lives we desire to do "first things first". Why shouldn't this be true in our personal relationship to God? Are you wistfully "looking out of a window" at what might have been or are you taking full advantage of all that the Bible-believing, Bible-teaching Church has to offer?

The Bennetts live here. That's Grandmother Bennett's Bible on the window sill, and the whole family goes to the church across the snow covered field.

John Bennett works in the local bank. Martha, his wife, is president of the PTA, and they have three lovely children. Grandmother Bennett has been living with them for the past couple of years, since she broke her hip. She can't always get to church in wintertime and that's why she calls this her window. When she can't be in church, it helps to be able to see it.

To her, the church steeple represents a great many things, and brings back many memories. Her son was married in that church. Her husband was buried from it. Her grandchildren were christened in it.

The Church has helped her to bear grief, in hours of sorrow; and it has seemed to put a benediction upon her happiness, in times of joy. Most important of all, whatever the occasion, whatever the crisis... the Church has always been there.

To Grandmother Bennett, the most comforting thing in the world is knowing that it always will be there.

Fletcher-Wittenborn Auxiliary Meets Oct. 20

District #14 President Esther Boettcher of Henry Eckternkamp Auxiliary, Sequim, made her official visit to Fletcher-Wittenborn Auxiliary on October 20, in the IOOF Hall.

Mrs. Boettcher stressed one of the most important qualities of good membership is consideration of your fellow members. Remember to always be considerate, courteous and friendly, in short, do unto other, as you would be done by. Mrs. Boettcher conducted a question and answer period on the duties of each officer in the Auxiliary. In closing, she said the following were the commandments of a good member: Be present, be punctual, be patient, be pleasant, be prepared, be progressive, be full of pep and enthusiasm, be patriotic and be a producer.

Mrs. Boettcher presented a gift and corsage by President Jeanne James of the local unit, on behalf of the membership. The District President graciously thanked the members for the gift and hospitality.

Five new members took part in the initiation ceremonies they were: Frances Etchison, Lottie Franklin, Ellen Lindeman, Helen Brooks, and Shirley Sharpes. A short recess was declared in order to welcome the new members.

Reports included the rehabilitation chairman Mabel Dankert's report, get-well and sympathy cards sent, magazines and paperback books to the hospital and nursing home, gifts and visits to the hospital. Legislative chairman, Paula Lyda urged all members to vote in the November 4th election.

Did you know your Forks Memorial Library has a list of both European and North American artists and their works? These reproductions are available for library patrons to check out. They may be ordered from the bookmobile or through our library as they come from the county library in Port Angeles. For a conversation piece, you may want a Picasso, Van Gogh, Vermeer, Renoir, Raphael, Rembrandt are all represented and if you are a Currier and Ives fan there are many selections.

Records are also available. For a real treat try "Fiddler on the Roof" in Yiddish. If you are familiar with the music from the Broadway hit, it will be a real experience. Songs from "Annie Get Your Gun", "The King and I" are just a few of the stage and screen hits on the list.

Clallam County Homemakers Hold Annual Arts Fair

The annual Rural Arts and Craft Fair sponsored by the Clallam County Homemakers was held at the Eagles last Friday.

The Agnew club had the registration in the morning and the Hillside club in the afternoon. One-hundred and ninety-nine guest registered. A door prize was given by drawing every half hour. Most of the prizes were handmade and all furnished by the clubs.

A silver tea was held with each club furnishing cookies. The Agnew club served in the morning and the Blue Mountain club in the afternoon.

Ten clubs had tables at which they demonstrated how to make their displays, sold patterns and some sold already made articles.

East West club had for their theme "Fashion Accessories with Scarves". They showed how to make smoke ring scarves and tie scarves. They sold out their display early in the day and bought more material and were busy sewing up new ones. Each member wore a colorful scarf.

Eden Valley club used a round cardboard or wood base to which they glued half of styrofoam cups and trimmed them with glitter and felt. They also gilded milk week pods and placed tiny figurines inside for Christmas tree decorations.

The Carlsborg club made colorful felt Santa Claus bean bags. They displayed bottle cap Christmas trees and a net swan centerpiece.

Fairview club made dolls from white plastic bleach bottles and clothes to match. They also decorated styrofoam balls and birds for tree decorations.

Olympic club made tissue paper flowers, and foam trees which they used to decorate packages with.

Hillside club used baby food jars with flowers inside for paper weights, had a cardboard Santa holding Christmas candy, tote bags, bridge and tally card holders and showed how plastic scouring pads can be made into a roller pin holder.

Blue Mountain club had centerpiece made from wire screen pieces with red velvet and decorated with a bow.

Mt. Pleasant made unusual flowers from yarn wrapped around wire and from plastic trays. They also had knitted Christmas bell corsages.

Ni Wauna had "Kitchen Critters" for sale. They made them from foam and backed with magnetic tape to cling to metal surfaces.

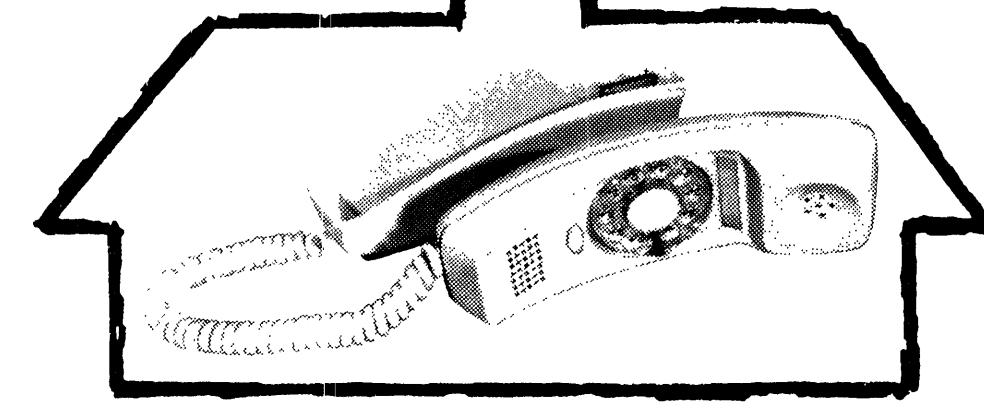

Dry Creek club showed how one can use unusual articles to make flower arrangements. They also made mobiles and tree decorations from circles cut from Christmas cards and stapled together.

ECONOMY TO YEAR 2020

Wood will be used less for lumber but more for veneer, plywood, and pulp for paper production by the year 2020. These are among the highlights of "Projected Developments of the Timber Economy of the Columbia-North Pacific Region," just released by the U. S. Forest Service, Pacific Northwest Forest and Range Experiment Station. The author, Research Economist Brian Wall, noted that during more than a century, the forest industries of the Columbia-North Pacific Region have developed into a major component of the region's economy, and their products are distributed throughout the Nation and the world. Projections to the year 2020 indicate the forest industries will continue to be a significant element of the regional economy, and will necessarily consume increasing amounts of second-growth timber in future decades. The projections, which are based on new and updated inventory data, foresee an increasing national demand for wood products, increased investments in forestry by public and private forest-land managers, and significant changes in the forest industry in the Columbia River basin by the year 2020.

The lumber industry is expected to consume 29 percent less wood by 2020, but veneer, plywood, and pulp and paper industries are expected to increase consumption substantially. Total employment in the forest industries is expected to decline approximately 35 percent, primarily as a result of continuing gains in the productivity of workers. Total payrolls, on the other hand, are expected to increase by about 50 percent as individual workers become more highly skilled and more highly paid.

Projections are shown by subregions within those States which are wholly or partially within the Columbia-North Pacific Region. The States included are Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana, and Wyoming.

This study is a contribution by the Forest Survey Research Unit of the Forest Service toward the comprehensive river basin planning program of the National Water Resource Council and cooperating agencies. It is also part of the Forest Service's continuing appraisal of the future timber economy.

The report is now available from the Pacific Northwest Forest and Range Experiment Station, P. O. Box 3141, Portland, Oregon 97208. Ask for Research Paper PNW-84.

Understand Your Insurance Policy; Avoid Costly Misunderstandings

A 69-year-old woman complained that her claim under an accident and health insurance policy had been denied because of a "pre-existing condition."

She had incurred doctor and hospital bills of several hundred dollars as the result of a blood clot operation shortly after her retirement following 35 years as a switchboard operator.

After receiving the claim, the insurance company delved into her medical records and found that she had suffered rheumatic fever as a child of 11. The company said the woman had not listed her illness or her application for insurance coverage.

It claimed that the blood clot was a direct result of the childhood fever and so denied her claim on the basis that the condition causing the clot existed before the insurance policy was issued.

The Insurance Commissioner is not a medical expert. There can be a very legitimate dispute over a medical question which can only be resolved in a court of law.

However, in certain doubtful situations, such as the denial of the elderly woman's claim because of the pre-existing condition, Commissioner Hermann endeavors to have the company either compromise the question or resolve all doubt in favor of the insured.

Many policies provide that after a certain length of time, say three years, coverage shall not be cancelled except for such reasons as nonpayment of premium or willful misrepresentations in the application.

It pays to read your policy closely. It spells out most of your rights and obligations. When you first receive it, the law allows you ten days in which to examine an accident and sickness policy.

If the policy is returned within that time as unacceptable, the company must make a refund of your entire premium. The Insurance Commissioner will assist you by requiring the insurance company to establish its conclusion of a pre-existing condition.

He also will determine whether the matters omitted from the medical history portion of the application were material to the extent that a policy would not have been issued had they been declared. If the policy would have been issued in the regular course of business with complete disclosure, then the Commissioner would request reformation of the contract and payment of the claim.

He also will review the terms of your policy and your medical bills to arrive at correct benefits. The purpose of insurance is to protect the policyholder against a loss or a disaster. It is well to remember that, in the case of homeowner's insurance for example, the policy is not intended for home maintenance.

In an effort to hold down the premium, the 50-dollar deductible was introduced to eliminate an excess of small claims, many of which may cost the companies as much to handle as large claims.

Of course, you may put in a claim for any loss covered by your policy, but a series of incidental claims may lead to an increase of premium, cancellation or non-renewal of your policy.

A tip to remember about your policy is that the all-risk type covers incidents unless they are specifically excluded while the named-peril policy covers only those events listed.

A loss may be a theft of personal items from your auto. There are a few instances when such is covered under your homeowner's policy. Be sure and read the theft clause and the exemption clause to see if yours would qualify.

Many homeowners have found to their dismay that they were unable to collect the full face amount of their policies when their dwellings have burned down. It should be remembered that insurance companies pay such claims based on the market value of the house and this could result in a payment in less than the face amount of the policy.

In May of 1968 the first attempt was made to stabilize the areas by terracing. Men dug trenches on the steep sideslopes by hand. Slopes were even used by the men on the steeper slopes to prevent injury in case they slipped. Seed and fertilizer was then sown on the area by use of hand seeders. Within a few months, the grass growth was evident. Growth of the grass on the north slopes is much better than that on south slopes. Available moisture during the growing season is the reason for this. Olson said, "The difference between terraced and unterraced areas is also quite evident."

Other areas were terraced and treated in the same manner in the spring of 1969. A different seed mixture was used. The mixture contained Alta tall fescue annual ryegrass and creeping red fescue. Orchard grass was the principal grass sown in 1968. A good comparison can then be made in 1970 between the two mixes. Fertilizer has proved to be an essential item. This has been applied at the rate of 300 pounds per acre. The seed has been applied at the rate of 35 pounds per acre. The primary objective of the project has been to stabilize the raw soil sideslopes. The erosion of these areas causes unnecessary siltation of streams and eventually rid the sideslopes of all soil. During the spring of 1969, the secondary objective of this project was attempted. This was to get trees established on the slopes. This would give additional stabilization effect to the area and also enable the area to again produce wood fiber. The high temperatures and low humidities during May killed some of the planted trees on the south slopes. The competition for moisture between the trees and the grass left some of the trees coming out second best. However, the project was promising enough that more acres will be treated as money becomes available. It will take a few seasons of further experimenting before the best solution on how to stabilize and reforest these areas will be found. However, District personnel are convinced they have found a way to stabilize the treacherous steep slopes. Within a few years, the slopes should be productive and esthetically pleasing once again.

Forks Burn Soil Stabilization Projects to Continue

A soil stabilization project begun in the spring of 1968 is being continued on the Sleduck Ranger District of the Olympic National Forest. "We are very pleased with the results of our first year's work" said Frank Olson, District Resource Assistant. "Terracing of similar areas will continue as financing becomes available," he added.

District land managers have been concerned for many years about the raw soil on steep slopes within the Forks Burn. Regular methods of broadcast seeding and fertilizing the areas have not been successful. The seed and fertilizer would not catch on the slick, weathered soil surface.

In May of 1968 the first attempt was made to stabilize the areas by terracing. Men dug trenches on the steep sideslopes by hand. Slopes were even used by the men on the steeper slopes to prevent injury in case they slipped. Seed and fertilizer was then sown on the area by use of hand seeders. Young Hunter Overtaken by Dark

Barney Engel, age 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Engel had quite a tale to tell his schoolmates last week. It seems Barney went hunting after school, lost track of the time and was overtaken by the dark. He picked out an up-rooted tree and was preparing to spend the night, when he heard shots of his father and friends looking for him. He was found by Don Hutt and Leo Roark and his father who knew about where he was.

Barney said, "I wasn't a bit scared until I started to crawl under a dead fall and saw the outline of two bears." Needless to say Barney will be more aware of the time after this.

Huskies vs. Trojans; Homecoming at UW

The nation's sixth-ranked team comes to Seattle this weekend, when the Southern California Trojans arrive to take on the Washington Huskies Saturday afternoon. The Trojans have been in the top ten since the season began.

Entering this season, USC Head Coach John McKay said, "I would say that our primary concern is the youthfulness of the backfield. It will be difficult to replace the likes of O. J. Simpson and Steve Sogge."

The Trojans won six of their first seven games, and tied Notre Dame. And those inexperienced players McKay was worried about were tearing the opposition apart. Jimmy Jones (6-1, 189), sophomore quarterback, had 11 touchdown passes to his credit through six games. The Trojan record for a single season is 12, set by Jim Powers in 1949.

Clarence Davis (5-11, 194), junior halfback, has led the Pacific-8 Conference in rushing all season and is a sure bet to become the ninth man in conference history to crack the 1,000-yard mark. In six games, he had picked up 826 yards on the ground.

Leading Southern Cal defensively are Jim Gunn (6-1, 210), tackle Al Cowlings (6-5, 245) and linebacker Greg Slough (6-3, 235). The defensive unit, in six games, limited the opposition to 90 points and 1,490 total yards. Cowlings and Gunn were All-Coast picks last year, and Gunn was a second team All-American selection. Defensive starters should be: ends Gunn and Charlie Weaver (6-2, 204); tackles Cowlings and Tody Smith (6-5, 237); middle guard Willard Scott (6-1, 237); linebackers Slough and Bob Jensen (6-0, 215); defensive backs Sandy Durko (6-1, 176) and Tyrone Hudson (6-0, 177); and safeties Gerry Shaw (6-0, 180) and John Young (6-2, 186).

Sunset Highlights

By Fred Jarvis

Got the house all to myself tonite. Mother's working at the alley and Juanita's baby-sitting for a bowling couple. Just lounging around listening to some hillbilly music and catching up on some league-secretary work.

Some pretty hot pin-topping still going on in league play. Billie Bryon had a 187 and Gwen Genson a 493 on Friday Afternoon and Mabel Smothers had a 185-475.

George Richardson came up with the big game on Tuesday Nite's Sunset League with a 237. Darrell Blasted out a 228-628 and Ed Maneval a 233-662.

Billie Crist with 191, and Sally Nagel with 513, topped the Powder Puffs. Margaret Windie was close behind with a 190-507.

Leta Rondeau on top again for the Hoot Owls with 198-553. Jean Bumgarner rolled a 191 game.

Anita Bumgarner had 170-394, and Bev Johnston a 156-412 for Thursday's Beginners.

Kathy Decker couldn't be beat Thursday nite as she ripped out a big 212-554. Jerry Beebe got back in stride again with a 192-525. Lefler's are out in front by three points over Coast-to-Coast.

West End had Jim Whitehead's 210 for hi 10 and Warren Paul's 567 for hi 30. Orva Lima rolled a 208 and Mike Holz threw a 125 triplicate, for which he'll receive an arm patch from A, B, C.

Ed Duncan banged out the big game of the year in the Friday Nite Mixed, a big 263 and a 599 series. Nice going, Ed. Sally Nagel was tops for the gals with a 180-513. Hank Bigelow had a 227 game, and Andy Anderson picked up the 8-10 split. Het gets ten free games from Sunset Lanes.

Suzanne Manfield had a 131 hi 10 and a 244 hi 20 in Saturday's Mini-Squad. Joyce Huling had a 99 game and Jill Blattner a 184 2-game total.

Dennis Lefter had the Jackpot shot at Monte Carlo Saturday nite, but left a lousy ten-in. Mother picked up half the money with her strike, and Max Lewis got the free game shot.

Billie Crist's 179 and Leta Rondeau's 526 topped the gals of the Sunday Mixed, and George Richardson had 191-526 for the men.

Chanel Murphy totaled 227-500 in the Forks Prairie League and Fred Jarvis a 218-572.

Bowlers of the week were Ed Duncan with a 263, Darrell Thomas with a 628, and Kathy Decker with her 212-554. Congratulations on your good bowling.

SPORTS BABES UNBEATEN

On a cold and wet Saturday morning two weeks ago, the Forks Junior High Spartan Babes ran their record to 5-wins and no-losses by downing the Sequim Wolf Cubs, 20 to 14 in Sequim. This is the first undefeated Junior High football team in Forks since 1960.

The pressure packed game was interrupted by numerous wrestling and verbal battles between opposing team members. Several players were ejected from the game and numerous penalties were assessed to both teams.

The Spartan Babes showed their often versatility and strength early in the game when quarterback Jeff Wittenborn, running from the single wing, shotgun and "T" formations drew first blood in the game when he swept to his right, cut back off tackle and behind blocks by George Schumack. Mike Brandeberry and Kevin King raced 85 yards to paydirt. The pat run by Schumack was stopped short.

Schumack then kicked off to Sequim. The ball went off the side of his foot down to the Sequim 30-yard line where a Sequim player tried to field the ball only to have the ball bounce off his shoulder pads where Billy Jones of the Spartans, retrieved the ball for Forks.

From there the Babes drove to the Cubs 19-yard line where Wittenborn dropped back and threw a pass intended for Craig Petrovich, but the ball was deflected by a Sequim man into the arms of Mike Brandeberry, who ran it in for the touchdown.

The pat pass from Wittenborn to Petrovich was good. The score stood 14-0 at this point.

With 7:59 left in the first half, Kevin King broke thru and blocked a Sequim punt on their own 10-yard line and Billy Jones picked up the loose ball and ran it in for the score.

The snap from center for the pat was fumbled and the score stood 20-0, Forks at halftime.

Sequim came back to score twice in the second half but through the defensive effort of Jim Belin, Billy Jones, Reg Shawgo, Ron Handerson and the rest of the Spartan defensive, they could never push across the tying or winning touchdown.

Last Saturday evening a group of parents put on a dinner at Clark's Vagabond to show appreciation to the Junior High Spartans for a fine 6-win and no-loss record this season.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Schumack, Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Nash and Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Wittenborn footed the bill in giving the players and coaches dinner at Clark's Vagabond, trophies for each player and plaques for the coaches.

Rus Thomas also put on a hamburger dinner for the players last Tuesday for bringing home the Junior High Championship.

It really seems strange how few people show appreciation to kids for a job well done. I fell there should be a few more people interested in helping reward the players for the hard work they have put forth this year.

Keep up the good work Schumack's, Wittenborn's, Nash's and Thomas', and good luck to the players in the future.

Little Leaguers End Season

The Forks Little League program will put the finishing touches on a top-notch season for both teams with a dinner, November 14th.

The dinner will start at 6:30 p.m. and will be held in the Grade School 1-purpose room. Guests of honor will be the Forks Packers and the Forks Cubs.

They will finish their seasons with identical records of 5 wins and 2 losses.

Awards will be given to the outstanding player of each team. All parents and players are invited to attend. See you all Friday night.

By Larry Thomas Mistakes Beat Spartans

The Bainbridge Spartans upset the Forks Spartans last Friday night in Winslow by the score of 12 to 0. Forks' mistakes were the key to the loss for the Spartans, a fumble and a pass interception led to the two Bainbridge touchdowns.

Bainbridge quarterback Pete King only connected for 62 yards by way of passing, but 35 of these yards were for touchdowns. King passed 21 yards to Steve Johnson in the first quarter for a touchdown, then in the second quarter passed 14 yards to John Oreiro for the second Bainbridge touchdown.

Forks, behind the running of Pete Dahlgren, Dennis Perry, Doug Holtz and the passing of Don Hunt, penetrated the Bainbridge 10-yard line 5 times during the evening, but the Spartans could never find the right combination to punch the ball through for the touchdown.

Dave Beebe, Pete Dahlgren, Dan Payne and Daryl Beebe all did outstanding jobs on defense in helping hold the Bainbridge team to a total offense of 109 yards.

Saturday the Spartans will end their season by taking on King's Garden High School in Seattle at 1:30 p.m.

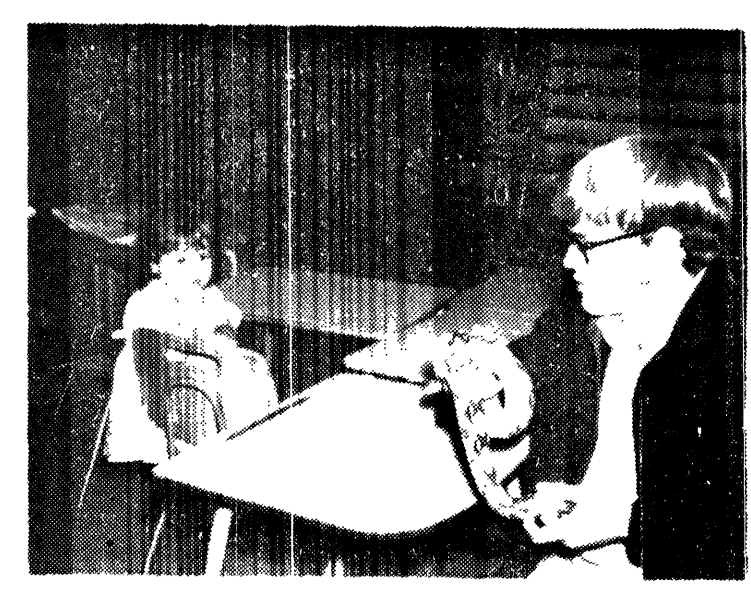

Weekend games: Vashon-26, Sequim-0; Bainbridge-12, Forks-0; Lakeside-35, Port Townsend-8; Octosta-21, North Mason-12 (NL).

MEET SNAKE!

RANDY OTOS and friend, "Snake", a four foot boa.

LITTLE "ANGEL" TUBBS is not too sure she wants to make friends with "Snake". Shortly after this picture was taken Angel was petting him and letting "Snake" curl around her finger.

The biology class of Forks High School has a new member, a boa.

According to Donald Ivenon, Biology teacher, "the snake has become quite a pet, we have two boys who handle the snake primarily they are Randy Otos and Dale Harrison. The snake is housed in a glass enclosed cage kept at 70 degrees by a 300 watt light bulb. "Snake" eat meat and takes no liquids at all. He is locked in his cage to prevent anyone not familiar with him to remove him from his cage without supervision.

He is about four feet long and weighs two pounds. He is around one and a half years old. The student purchased the snake, the approximate cost was $21.

We have no immediate plans for "Snake" this summer, but will either board him or will give him to a zoo."

Getting acquainted with the snake overcomes most of the fears we have of them. He is not slony, he is dry and warm, a light beige color with a pattern of darker brown spots. He feels like plastic.

The students are quite excited about him and this gives our students something to study outside of the regular classroom routine.

Awarded Bronze Star

DONALD M. BURNS

Donald M. Burns grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Taylor of LaPush was awarded the Bronze Star for heroism in action.

When the landing zone came under furious ground assault accompanied by heavy rocket and mortar and automatic weapons fire which was directed at his mortar position, PFC Burns immediately rushed to his gun, ignoring the bursting rounds and his own safety, he directed heavy suppressive fire on the charging enemy waves. Shouting encouragement to his comrades, PFC Burns covered the vulnerable points in the wire and finally repelled a determined enemy force.

His display of bravery and devotion to duty is in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and reflects great credit upon himself, his unit and the United States Army.

PFC Burns also received the Purple Heart for wounds received in this action. The incident occurred the 5th of August, 1969.

PFC Burns has lived in LaPush since he was 4 years old and attended Forks schools.

Burns leaves November 29 for Vietnam where he will be stationed in Saigon as a supply sergeant.

Nov. 17-21

Dr. James Murphy, University of Washington faculty member and United States Forest Service Researcher, will speak on a cooperative aspect of the unique forest fire science technology program at the University of Washington, at the regular meeting of the North Olympic Chapter of the Society of American Foresters. This meeting will be held Friday, November 14 at Haguewoods Restaurant in Port Angeles with a no host dinner at 7:00 p.m.

The fire science technology program which Dr. Murphy heads up at the University of Washington is probably the only one like it in the world.
