

Peace Corpsman Visits Forks High School

By Steve Lingvall

Paraguay is a small republic in the south central part of South America. This land-locked nation is bordered on the east by Brazil and Argentina, on the west by Bolivia, on the north by Brazil and Bolivia, and on the south by Argentina. It has an area of 157,047 sq. mi., and a population of 1,500,000 (according to a census taken in 1950). The capital of Paraguay is Asuncion, which is also the biggest city and the junction point for airlines.

Mr. Frank Erickson, a former Peace Corps volunteer to Paraguay, provided a great deal of information for the various history classes in his visit to FHS. He talked for a few minutes on Paraguay and its chief geographical features. This was followed by some slides of his visit to South America. It showed the living conditions of the Paraguayans, some of the training techniques involved with the Peace Corps, and other things encountered on their visit.

Other interesting points that Mr. Erickson brought out especially intrigued the students. The majority of the population consists of women. Most of the male population had been wiped out in Paraguay's wars with its surrounding neighbors. All of the roads are dirt, which makes them almost impossible to travel on. The only paved road in Paraguay is a long driveway that extends about 500 miles. To cross a river, a simple boat is used to carry a bus or two cars to the other side. There is only one concrete bridge in Paraguay.

Progress in this impoverished Latin American nation is already taking place. Although it is under a dictatorship, great improvements are being made in the fields of agriculture, communication, and commerce. Whether progress will take place soon, it is up to the people and their foreign compadres to make it come soon. Thanks to the Peace Corps, and other organizations like it, our country will know how to deal with their problems.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Kiehl spent last weekend visiting Mrs. Kiehl's sister in Tacoma and were delighted to see on Channel 11 a film about the Good Samaritan Hospital. The film was shown here in Forks for the Hospital Guild some time ago. The text of the film was to show handicapped people in their homes and working surroundings. Appearing in this film was Paul Lingvall, of Forks, who works at Allen Logging Company.

Area Residents Get Meeds Questionnaire

Almost 200,000 households in the eight counties of the Second Congressional District will soon receive a detailed questionnaire from Congressman Lloyd Meeds.

Meeds wrote the questionnaire in late December and early January before leaving last week for Israel on official business with the Select Education Subcommittee's work on day care legislation.

"This is a major undertaking," said Mark Houser of Everett, the Congressman's Legislative Assistant. "As the decade of the 70's begins, Mr. Meeds is very anxious to receive in detail the views of his constituents. He's drawn up a list of highly relevant questions."

Among the topics included in the questionnaire are Vietnam, drug abuse, inflation, environmental and consumer protection, job safety, population, and education. Seven of the twelve questions are multiple-choice, and space is furnished for citizens and their children to express additional comments.

Meeds designed the questionnaire so that wives as well as husbands will be able to respond. The questionnaire is not paid for at government expense. Those wishing to fill it out must affix a stamp in the space provided.

The Second District Congressman will have all the answers tabulated and will later mail out a complete summary of the results.

Public's Right to Use Beaches Upheld

A recent Oregon Supreme Court case upholding the public's right to use ocean beaches is based on a rule which applies to Washington State as well. Attorney General Slade Gorton said today in a letter to Governor Evans.

The text of Gorton's letter. "A case recently decided by the Oregon Supreme Court upholds the public's right to freely use the ocean beaches in that state. That case was based on a rule which is applicable to Washington's beaches as well. The Oregon court, in State of Oregon ex rel Thornton v. Hay, affirmed a trial court decision which recognized the public's right to the unrestricted use and enjoyment of all of the land on the Oregon coast lying between the line of mean high tide and the line of vegetation, and prohibited construction of fences or other obstructions in that area.

The decision was based on long-established and customary public use of the beaches. Without question, the same conditions as the Oregon court cited exist in Washington. The public's use of Washington beaches has been no different from the use of Oregon beaches, and the public enjoys the same rights to the use of the beaches in Washington as the Oregon Supreme Court has indicated exist in that state.

While we believe that the rule announced in Oregon has equal applicability and is equally recognized in Washington, no immediate court action is contemplated. There are no existing obstructions to the public's right to use and enjoy that area of the beach between the line of mean high tide and the line of vegetation in our state, and to the best of our knowledge none are planned. The public's right to use the Washington beaches has not been hindered, and it seems clear that the vast majority of oceanfront property owners fully recognize the right. Property owners have, in almost every case, cooperated fully with the State in its endeavor to maintain and preserve the beach for the benefit of the public, and there is no reason to anticipate anything other than continued cooperation.

If in the future, however, any fence or other improvement were either constructed or threatened which would interfere with unrestricted public use of all of the beach to the line of permanent vegetation, then, of course, appropriate action to enforce the public's rights and protect the public's interest in the beaches will be taken.

A question which the Oregon Supreme Court did not touch upon, and which the State of Washington cannot determine either, is the right of free public access to beaches located on Indian reservations within the boundaries of the State. Because the state has no jurisdiction or control over such lands, we take no position with regard to that question."

DNR Board Approves Land Exchange

The Board of Natural Resources approved today an exchange of seven parcels of state-owned land comprising 2,209 acres for surplus Federal land in Clallam and Jefferson counties. Bert L. Cole, Commissioner of Public Lands, reported that the State lands lying within the present boundary of the Olympic National Park and the surplus Federal lands being received have been appraised at an equal value.

Bennett T. Gale, Assistant District Director of the National Park Service, Seattle, said that in 1958 Congress declared the Federal lands to be surplus and set them aside for the purpose of exchanging for lands under non-Federal ownership in the Olympic National Park. This present action will enable the National Park Service to consolidate its holdings within its boundaries and enhance recreational opportunities.

Cole said the purpose of the exchange for the Department of Natural Resources is the continued blocking up of State lands for better management in the Forks District and assuring, in many instances, better access to State lands.

PORT ANGELES

Editorial . . .

By Gordon Otos

Unfortunately in the newspaper business many times an advertiser feels because he is an advertiser gives him the privilege to condemn the policy of the paper and change its policies by financial pressure. We at the Forum have been accused of being a Port Angeles newspaper. We do have a great many Port Angeles ads, this does not take money away from this area but brings in as much as $10,000 a month to the Forks area and is distributed in wages and payments to Forks area businesses.

Forks Broadcasting Company is the only business in Forks that brings money to Forks from Port Angeles. This money has made it possible for the Forks Forum to become the paper it is today. We are being condemned for doing a better job.

LAW ENFORCEMENT

By Nedra Reed

Law enforcement and the weather. Everyone talks about it but there seems to be little you can do about it. This may hold true as far as the weather is concerned, but some very important moves in the law enforcement field have recently been made.

The Clallam County Commissioners increased the budget of the Sheriff's Department to allow the hiring of a relief deputy for the West End. The deputy will cover the area assigned to the regular deputies on their days off and also be on duty on Saturday night, as a roving patrol.

The Town of Forks has hired a new town marshal and now has two qualified men on its staff.

But perhaps the most significant of all these moves is the forming of a West End Detachment. The detachment, somewhat similar to a police precinct would be composed of Deputies Jay Skewes, Ron Ellsworth and David Robinson, two reserve deputies, three dispatchers and a matron. The detachment will be supervised by Deputy Skewes.

This will allow the law enforcement problems of the West End to be handled locally, while still under the jurisdiction of the Clallam County Sheriff.

Although seemingly unsurmountable problems remain, this is definitely a step in the right direction.

Trailer License Fees Due Jan. 31

Trailer owners must now pay their annual vehicle license fee; by January 31 instead of March 30, the Department of Motor Vehicles reports.

The 1969 legislature changed the license expiration date, at the same time including a provision that a mobile home or travel trailer license plate must be displayed on "an exterior wall... in a position where it may readily be seen from the road or driveway nearest the trailer."

The January 31 expiration date was adopted so that travel trailer and mobile home licenses would expire at the same time as other vehicle licenses. (However, the expiration date for other vehicle licenses was later extended five days to February 4.)

On their license renewal forms, trailer owners must fill in the number of the school district in which the trailer is located. This is because 60 percent of their excise tax goes directly to the school district in which the trailer is located.

A first birthday dinner was held for Paul Richards Jr., in the LaPush dining hall. Approximately 85 people attended the dinner.

Young Paul received numerous gifts and money. Out of town guests included: Mr. and Mrs. John Shale, Mrs. Lilli Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sand and daughter Faye of Queets.

Meditation

By Pastor Art Morlin

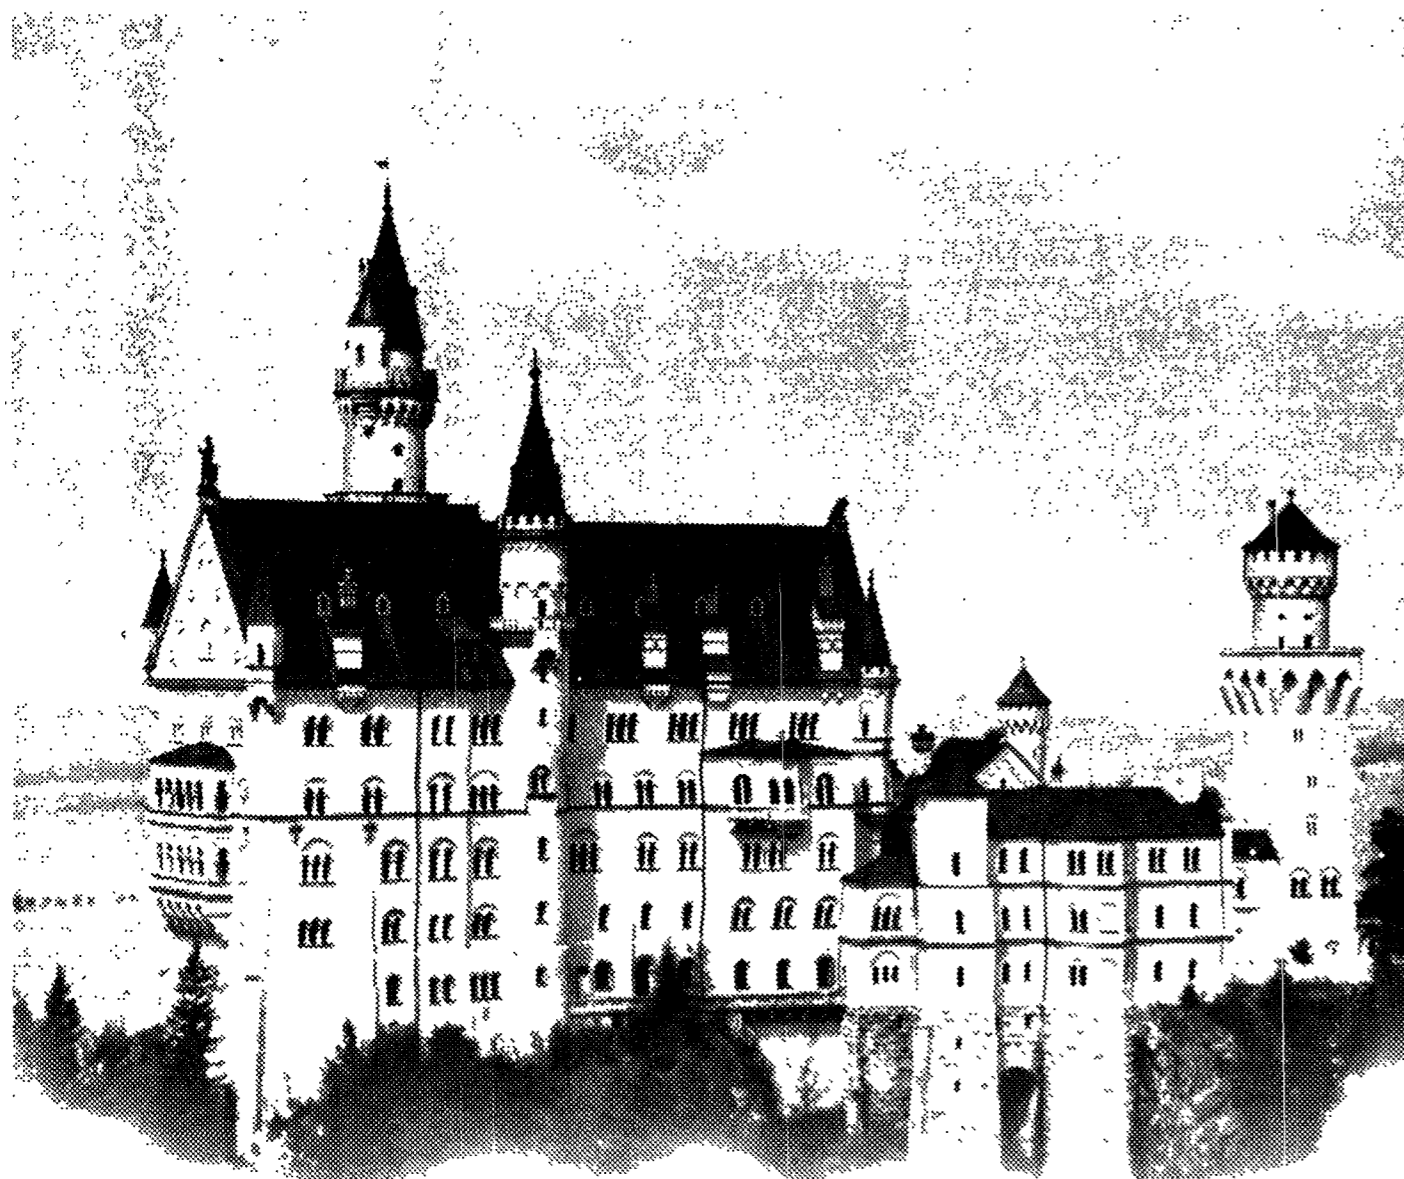

The hopes and the promises of Bible are more than fairy tales more than dreams. They are realities. It was the great desire of Jesus that his disciples carry on His work and bear His message to all the world. He gives us that same challenge today!

There is a great deal being said today about whether the gospel is relevant or applicable to 20th-century man. Naturally the unbeliever does not like to think of it as relevant. He has a great deal more peace of mind if he can convince himself that the world has outgrown the Christian religion. Many people want a more flexible and tolerant gospel. Modern translations of the Bible have helped to make the Scriptures easier to read, but not easier to heed. Even though the gospel has been put into our language it has not made it relevant to our generation.

The question of relevancy is not new. The Apostle Paul dealt with it by going to the heart of the problem---"The natural man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God; because they are foolishness unto him: neither can he know them, because they are spiritually discerned" (Corinthians 2:14). So then it is the Christian--the one who has acknowledged the claims of Christ--who knows the gospel is relevant. He is living by it, proving it every day. He knows that Christ's rule of love works in a modern world. Forgiveness works wonders today as it did when Christ walked on the earth.

On the negative side, lust still leads to immorality today. The way of the transgressor is still hard, and sin when it is finished still brings forth death.

Yes, the message Christ gave to the world is still relevant, but its relevance is only fully grasped as men allow God by His Spirit to enter their hearts. No man who has felt the power of God transforming and cleansing him can ever say that this gospel is irrelevant. It has been related to him by experience and continues to relate to his everyday experiences as he lives for God. The Christian experience does not have to be a dream of your life; it can be a reality!

Deep inside each person, where no one can see, stands a dream castle. The nature of it varies according to one's character and personality. An artist may dream of creating a masterpiece--not yet painted--which will inspire many people. Another person may see a vision of how he can make life happier for others.

Everyone must believe in his dream in order to go forward with patience.

Jesus hoped that the world would bear His message through the uneducated fishermen He chose as His close companions. He did not give up His dream that the disciples would carry on His work... even when they argued over places of honor in heaven... or when Peter denied any connection with Him.

His dream came true. Showing courage and faith, this small group of twelve grew through centuries into today's worldwide congregation of millions.

You will find inspiration and help for your dreams of spiritual accomplishment when you attend the church of your choice.

How's fishing?

Do you really want us to answer that question?

The expected run of steelhead just hasn't materialized, according to the State Game Department and scores of disappointed anglers.

In a few words, "fishing is lousy!"

There have been several theories concerning the poor steelhead run, one is the Russian fishing boat harvest of hake off the Pacific coast. The theory goes that ocean predators, deprived of their normal hake diet, might be feeding upon steelhead, and so depleting the number of steelhead, that few return to fresh water.

One angler is quoted as saying, "If the Russians are messing up the steelhead fishing, World War III is about to begin!"

Editor,

Introduced into the legislature is the Washington Housing Act, Senate Bill #56 and House Bill #57. These are to provide housing, because of the shortage in all levels of income. Apparently the rich can not build houses without help from the government! The federal government caused the shortage by deficient spending and control of money for home construction for years.

The building is done by giving to privately owned corporations but government controlled the right of eminent domain, and what does this mean? It means that private corporation will be given the right to condemn your land and take it. There is a State Assistance program where you will be taxed to pay for the takeover of your property.

Sounds fantastic but this is going to happen this special session if you the people let the legislators pass any of the following related bills.

- (1) REGIONAL HOUSING DEVELOPMENT CORPORATIONS,
- (2) ZONING & CODE ASSISTANCE,
- (3) AMEND EMINENT DOMAIN,
- (4) UPDATE URBAN RENEWAL LAW,
- (5) STATE FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE,
- (6) RESEARCH & TRAINING FUND,
- (7) TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE,
- (8) QUALITY PLANNING.

Meditation

By Pastor Art Morlin

The hopes and the promises of Bible are more than fairy tales more than dreams. They are realities. It was the great desire of Jesus that his disciples carry on His work and bear His message to all the world. He gives us that same challenge today!

There is a great deal being said today about whether the gospel is relevant or applicable to 20th-century man. Naturally the unbeliever does not like to think of it as relevant. He has a great deal more peace of mind if he can convince himself that the world has outgrown the Christian religion. Many people want a more flexible and tolerant gospel. Modern translations of the Bible have helped to make the Scriptures easier to read, but not easier to heed. Even though the gospel has been put into our language it has not made it relevant to our generation.

dream castles

Deep inside each person, where no one can see, stands a dream castle. The nature of it varies according to one's character and personality. An artist may dream of creating a masterpiece—not yet painted—which will inspire many people. Another person may see a vision of how he can make life happier for others.

Everyone must believe in his dream in order to go forward with patience.

Jesus hoped that the world would bear His message through the uneducated fishermen He chose as His close companions. He did not give up His dream that the disciples would carry on His work... even when they argued over places of honor in heaven... or when Peter denied any connection with Him.

His dream came true. Showing courage and faith, this small group of twelve grew through centuries into today's worldwide congregation of millions.

You will find inspiration and help for your dreams of spiritual accomplishment when you attend the church of your choice.

The question of relevancy is not new. The Apostle Paul dealt with it by going to the heart of the problem---"The natural man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God; because they are foolishness unto him: neither can he know them, because they are spiritually discerned" (Corinthians 2:14). So then it is the Christian--the one who has acknowledged the claims of Christ--who knows the gospel is relevant. He is living by it, proving it every day. He knows that Christ's rule of love works in a modern world. Forgiveness works wonders today as it did when Christ walked on the earth.

On the negative side, lust still leads to immorality today. The way of the transgressor is still hard, and sin when it is finished still brings forth death.

Yes, the message Christ gave to the world is still relevant, but its relevance is only fully grasped as men allow God by His Spirit to enter their hearts. No man who has felt the power of God transforming and cleansing him can ever say that this gospel is irrelevant. It has been related to him by experience and continues to relate to his everyday experiences as he lives for God. The Christian experience does not have to be a dream of your life; it can be a reality!

The Cape Flattery School Board met January 12, at the Neah Bay School Library. The Board at that time expressed their sympathy to Mrs. O. T. Darling in the loss of her husband, Mr. Darling, who passed away January 9th. The Board also expressed their sympathy to Mrs. Elsie Tulloch in the loss of her husband on December 10. A replacement for Mrs. Tulloch's position in Director District No. 4 will be needed by June.

A letter was read from Mr. Gohneen concerning the conduct of a 9th grade student. Mr. Colfax stated that the boy has been hired as an "out of school" NYC employee. No action was taken by the Board.

A letter from Mrs. Lorraine Misaiszek, consultant on Indian Education for the State Superintendent office, was read concerning Johnson O'Malley funds for the future. We must work with Indian people on this and prove financial need of the district.

A recommendation on consolidation by the Cape Flattery Teacher unit was read. Mr. Colfax and others presented their rebuttal to their recommendation.

Mr. Gohneen and Mary Bussanich gave a report on the progress of the new Indian Education program at Neah Bay. Starting the first of January, classes in basket weaving, taught by Lena McGee and Isabelle Ides, folklore, language, dances and songs and artifacts taught by Nora Barker and Helen Peterson were begun. Would you believe a lizard from Lizard Lake?

The point of original post found on Tyee Ridge set in 1891.

The Department of Natural Resources in Forks has several unusual items on display in a glass enclosed case in the main lobby of the Forks Headquarters.

The project started out years ago and according to a department employee, has continued to grow.

Some of the items featured are, pictures of old time logging, seeds from various trees, bird's nests and an collection of rock samples. These mentioned are only a few of the ones on display. Note That isn't really a lizard skin.

Evans Predicts Economic Upturn

Washington State's economy will slow down substantially during 1970, but an upturn is expected during the second half of the year. Governor Dan Evans predicted tonight in addressing the Allied Dailies' annual meeting.

The Governor based his prediction on a forecast prepared by the research division of the State Department of Commerce and Economic Development.

Governor Evans said the impact of federal and state anti-inflationary measures will weigh heavily on overall performance of the Washington State economy. An upturn later in the year, he said, is predicated on an easing of the current policy of national economic restraint.

The Governor said employment in the aerospace industry will continue to decline through the first half of 1970, but further growth is expected after that as additional order for the Boeing 747 roll in and work on the supersonic transport prototype gets under way.

In the forest products sector, a strong demand will continue for pulp and paper products, but lumber and plywood production will not rebound until the housing industry gets back into normal production.

Governor Evans noted that the money market is expected to ease up after mid-1970 and that residential construction will expand rapidly once the anti-inflationary restraints are lifted. The outlook for Washington's structural material and equipment manufacturers appears to be optimistic, since spending for new plant and equipment is projected to rise by nearly 10 percent through 1970.

"Clearly, the decade of the 1970's is to begin at a crawl", the Governor concluded. "This period of adjustment in cooling an overheated economic situation should prove to be short lived and relatively mild, and will be followed by strong growth on a sounder foundation.

"It should be borne in mind that the 1960s also started at a slow pace. In fact, Washington State felt the drag of two recessionary periods--one in 1961 and another in 1963 and 1964. We will experience a slow-down during the next six months, but beyond that the outlook is bright and promising. The potential exists for a growing work force, continued gains in productivity and tremendous advances in technology."

Football Field Will be Completed

By Steve Lingvall

Due to the poor condition of the football field, a project has been underway for the past few months to improve it. Some dirt was poured over the field and leveled by volunteers from the Forks area.

Coach Roy Mohondro had answered various complaints lodged against him about the field. Visiting teams were forced to play in a combination of mud and water. He organized a meeting with the local residents to discuss the problem, and they decided to begin immediate work.

Now that the field is ready for the final step, Dr. Goss, a county agent, and Andrew Kruswyk will come to FHS and check the soil for the right type of fertilizer and grass seed. As an aid to the unskilled, they will work 60 yards of the field, Bill Thompson, the local lason man, will help to complete the project.

Spartans Rout Wolves

The Forks High School Spartans jumped to a commanding 15 to 0 lead in the early minutes of their game against the Sequim Wolves last Friday evening and never looked back in posting a 69 to 32 victory over the Wolves.

From the opening tip there was no real doubt that the Spartans would register their fifth straight league victory. After the tip Dave Beebe shot, Bruce Allen missed a tip, Rich Liles missed a left-handed tip, Jerry Price missed a tip, and then finally Liles, who had another outstanding night rebounding, tipped the ball up right-handed and scored. This was the kind of play that helped the Spartans register the win by 37 points. Jerry Price and Rich Liles again led the Spartans in scoring as well as rebounding. With Price continuing his scoring pace with 31 points and Liles getting 12 points.

Dennis Perry gave another high scorer of the Olympic League, Jeff Bills, his defense. Bills averaging close to 15 points a game found himself pressed to get 9 points against the super quick hands of Perry.

The Spartans will again resume league play Friday night when the Spartans will travel to Port Townsend to battle the Redskins, then Saturday night the Spartans will battle Quilcene at Forks. J.V. games will start at 6:15 p.m. with the Varsity games following. All games will be brought to you over KVAC Radio Station.

Spartans Rap Lions

The Forks Spartans, behind the scoring of Jerry Price and Rich Liles, beat the Lakeside Lions for the second time in two weeks by the score of 63 to 43.

Price raised his state leading scoring pace to 29.4, with a 33-point night against the Lions. Liles in the meantime was contributing 16 points for the Spartan cause.

The Spartans had very little trouble with the Lions, with Coach Mohondro going to his bench early in an attempt to keep his regulars healthy from the very physical game.

Scoring:

FORKS (63)---Price 33, Liles 16, Perry 4, Allen 0, Goos 2, Dahlgren 4, Hull 1, Hunt 0, Silcox 2, Hutt 0, Simmons 0, Beebe 1.

Sunset Highlites

By Fred Jarvis

Lots of action down at the alleys as the gals feverishly work on their bowling in preparation for the upcoming City Tournament. As I said before, it takes practice, not only physically but mentally as well. Some people choke up at the thought of bowling in a tournament, while to others it is just another bowling session. Keep at it girls, the more you practice, the better chance you have of collecting some of the tournament loot.

Barbara Windle took all honors Tuesday Afternoon with a 174-466. Ollie Swearingen picked up the 2-7-8 split and Barbara Hoffman the 5-7.

Earley Tire set a new Sunset League high series of 2529. Frank La Gambina had a 242-573. Stan Fouts a 228-592, and Fred Jarvis a 222-615. D.J. Caulkins southpawed a 221-605.

Ruth Hutton topped the Powder Puffs with a 198-514, and Kathy Decker had a 190.

It was Leta Rondeau's 186-464 and Kay Whitehead's 183-464 for the Hoot Owls.

Forks State Bank won the first half of the Thursday Beginners with Ruddell Chevrolet and Windle Bros. tied for second. Peninsula Loggers Supply set a new high team game, 663, and series, 1917. Lenora Oliver had high game with a 158, Gerry Banner had an even 400 series, and Rae West posted a 156-430. For the captains, Barbara Windle had a 191, Billie Bryan a 191-592 and Kathy Decker a 188-509.

Big news for the week was Mary Kennedy's big 257-603 in Thursday Nite Women's League. This is the new all-time high game for women in league play at Sunset Lanes, breaking sister Frankie's previous high 256 by one pin. Mary's second game was 216, and under all that pressure she was still able to get the magic 600. Beautiful bowling, Mary, and congratulations on joining the Century Club.

Altho overshadowed by this feat, Jean Streeter hit a real nice 201, and Frankie Kennedy picked off the 6-7 split, which is quite a chore.

Old Man Jarvis led the guys of the West End League with a 246-617. Willis Bryan had a 227, and John "Retired" Nagel rolled a fine 593 series.

Jean Streeter tossed a 184 Hi 10 and Jerry Beebe came in with a 183-522 in the Friday Nite Mixed. John Nagel again with a 203, and Jim Simmons had a 200-577.

Big nite at Saturday Monte Carlo. All eight lanes going. Nobody hit the Jackpot which means a nice chunk of change for this coming Saturday nite. Duke won nine free games besides our sidepot.

Sunday Nite Mixed: Fred Jarvis 211; George Richardson 549; and Leta Rondeau a 188-507.

Darrell Thomas was the big gun in the Forks Prairie League with a 225-636. Chuck Hamby was close behind with his 223-608.

Bowlers of the week: Mary Kennedy, 257-603, Fred Jarvis, 246-617.

Huskies Meet Cougars

Washington's Huskies meet their cross-state rival, the Washington State University Cougars, this Saturday, in what could develop into a real "cat and dog" fight. Game time is 8 p.m. in Hec Edmundson Pavilion.

This will be the first meeting of the year between the two teams, and the Huskies hope to end the Cougars Domination of the series. WSU won both games last year and the year before. However, Washington leads in the series standings, 118 victories to 66 for WSU.

Through 13 games, Washington had a 10-3 record, while Washington State was 11-2. The Cougars won their first two conference games, but the Huskies managed only a split. Of six like opponents in those 13 games, WSU was 6-0 and Washing-

OUT OF STEP-Someone seems to be out of step as the Little Leaguers appear to be marching toward the west basket Saturday afternoon in the Forks High gym. Little League basketball is now officially underway, featuring four games each Saturday in the Forks High gym, home of the Olympic A League leading Spartans. By Lonnie Archibald

Willenborg (6-0) and Chris Smith (6-1) and center Jay Bond (6-9)---are shooting just a few percentage points below the .500 mark from the field and averaged 75.4 points per game for the first five games that Stone and Hawes missed. But only one of those five players is averaging in double figures for the season---Irvine, averaging 21.3 after 13 games. Also, since Hawes has been out of the lineup, the Huskies have had trouble rebounding. Statistically, Washington should have an edge, but a good portion of those statistics were piled up while Stone and Hawes were in the lineup. However, the Huskies have only lost one game in Edmundson Pavilion this season, while winning six.

Spartan Babes Win 3 of 4

The Forks Junior High School Spartan Babes fought off a late rally by a strong Fort Worden team in the fourth quarter to down the Worden team, 48 to 47 two weeks ago in Port Townsend.

The Babes, behind Bernie Nash's 18 points and Mark Soderlund's 11 points, popped thru 5 of 6 free throws to down the Worden team.

Last Saturday the Babes ran into an impressive Roosevelt team and were downed 55 to 27 in Forks.

Bernie Nash again was the Babes leading scorer with 13 points but could not equal the fire power of the Roosevelt team.

In 8th grade action the Babes, behind Harrison Davis, downed the Fort Worden team, 42 to 36.

Davis did a little of everything in registering 27 points on 13 field goals and one free throw.

Against Roosevelt the 8th grade won a real thriller, 55 to 52, with Davis again leading the scoring with 26 points but getting help from John Soderlund who pitched in 11 points.

Council Discusses Problems

The Forks Town Council met Monday, 8 p.m., at the Town Hall.

Building permits were granted to A. E. Fletcher, for remodeling the Almar Building, the permit was for $1,000.00. The Quilkyte Valley School requested a permit for the new school building, but since the area is out of the city limits the school was advised to go to the county for their permit.

The Ordinance for Resolution, for the street lights in Mansfield Additions was discussed. There seemed to be some problem about who would obtain the easements, Attorney Frank Platt will contact the PUD concerning this matter.

The extension agreement for gravel purchase from Rayonier was agreed upon by the Council.

A letter was read from the Association of Washington cities concerning the insurance for city employees. The town will be contacted by representative from Etna Insurance Company.

Leases for the airport property were discussed. Maps showing existing property lines were drawn up by Bert Maris. The descriptions will be prepared by Maris. Frank Platt will draw up the legal lease agreements. They will be 5 year leases with a 5 year option to renew.

A sick-leave plan for city employees will be under study by Councilmen Swerin and Hall.

The purchase of the master map of the city from Bert Maris was authorized. The maps may be purchased at the Town Hall. Councilmen Anderson and Swerin will be on the street committee.

School Bus Problems Discussed by PTA

The expected problems of shortage of buses was discussed when the PTA met Wednesday, January 21.

With the expected completion of the new school this fall, there will not be enough buses to transport the 1200 plus students expected to be enrolled. Several suggestions were made by members of the School Board, who were present to explain the problem. The suggestions were: the limiting of students allowed to ride the bus to outside 2 miles from town, the calling for a special levy to purchase buses, the suggestion that all secondary school students within Forks provide their own transportation to school, and the last suggestion and the most acceptable one to the majority of the people present was the staggering of the pick-ups for children. Under this plan, the high school students would be picked up first, then the buses would make another run to pick-up the elementary school students.

The busing home of the students would work the same way, with the high school students being dismissed earlier than the elementary students. This plan might possibly allow the students living in the country to participate in the practice sessions of school sports, perhaps they might be allowed to ride the later bus home.

A summary of the recent school board meeting was given by Ron Thompson, PTA president.

Mrs. Richard Haberman reported on the summer library program. Tentative plans are for the library to Maps of the blacktopped streets and maps showing dry wells will be drawn up after the study is completed.

Frank Platt will write to the Association of Washington cities concerning their plans to handle the "dog" problems. There have been numerous complaints in the last few days. At the present time Forks does not have an ordinance covering the problems being experienced. Forks does have an ordinance that requires dogs to be licensed and has the authority to dispose of any vicious or dangerous dogs, impound dogs for 4 days and impose a $25.00 fine for any violations.

Representatives from the local Scout troops met at the Jim Bolin home to discuss the possible changing of the date of the Scout-A-Rama. Apparently there are too many events scheduled for the previous date. It was decided to change the date to April 4. It will be held at the school multipurpose room from 6 to 9 p.m.

Ways to better promote the event were discussed.

DOLLS ON DISPLAY AT LIBRARY

Mrs. Henfin started collecting the dolls when she was eight years old. The first one of her collection was purchased at the Forks Variety Store. It was a doll imported from Poland, she found the mate to it in California about seven years later.

Mrs. Henfin has on display a Greek doll. It is a Greek man in native costume. She bought it at the Empress Hotel when she was touring Victoria as Miss

Forest Service Presents Garden Club Program

A good attendance was noted at the January 15th meeting of the Bogachiel Garden Club held at the home of Mrs. Walter Fulrman, with Mrs. Gordon Marsh and Mrs. Vester Sexton assisting. At each meeting, designated members provide house decorations for the hostess. At this meeting, Mrs. Fred Wahlgren brought an attractive arrangement of pussy willows and heather in a natural container fashioned from a large tree branch. Mrs. Henry Halverson's contribution was an arrangement of flowering cherry blossoms from her yard, Hail Spring, in our Forks banana belt.

During the business meeting, conducted by Mrs. Hal Canaday, president, a unanimous vote was given for Mrs. Terry Klepey to be a delegate to the Community Council.

Mr. Frank Olson, an employee of the United States Forest Service, presented an interesting program. The first section of his program
