Tolo Soon

By Steve Lingvall

On Saturday, March 14, the Tolo will take place at FHS. This dance is quite unusual in comparison with previous ones. A girl asks a boy to escort her to the dance, instead of the usual common practice.

Live music will be provided by the band, "E.M.S. Company". Although the final choice has not been made, this group seems to be the most likely choice. The success of this dance depends on the organization, the entertainment, and other such minor details.

The old gym will be closed on Thursday and Friday of this week. Preparations for the Tolo will be completed in this time. The price for couples is $2.50 and for singles is $1.50. "In An Octopus Garden" is the theme. The dance will last from 9:00 to 12:00 a.m.

Play Attracts FHS Students

By Steve Lingvall

Students in the 11th and 12th grades at FHS will travel to Port Angeles on Friday, March 13. "The Crucible" is the play that they will see. It will be presented by various students from the Port Angeles High School. A previous performance will be presented for the rest of the students and the final performance will be given at 8 p.m.

Those individuals who will accompany Mr. Gregory Dickenson (English teacher) will travel by bus. The fee for each student will be $1.00, plus $.75 to get in to see the play. Students signed up for this trip during the week.

"The Crucible" is a play that concerns the infamous Salem witch trials. It was written by Arthur Miller, who was noted for his other play, "Death Of A Salesman." His writing ability is world-renowned. This particular play reveals the injustice of our Puritanic heritage. It hopes to make people realize that religion can be misused, and abused to suit certain individuals.

ARSON SUSPECTED IN SHINGLE MILL FIRE

Mill manager Larry Musick and mill owner, Jack Henshaw look over the smoldering ruins of the Peninsula Mill.

Looking north from the area of the log yard, the mill ruins are still burning and are expected to burn for several days.

The Peninsula Shingle Mill located approximately fifteen miles south of Forks, burned early Tuesday. The fire apparently started at both ends of the mill, it was a total loss. The heat from the fire was so intense that firemen had to turn the hose on a house across the highway from the mill.

The mill had been plagued with problems as of late. Several months ago vandals cut all the saw belts in the mill, resulting in a loss of time for employees as well as a loss of several thousand dollars to the owner of the mill.

With the mill being shut down because of strikes and the lack of cedar, it has not been in full operation in some time. It opened again February 9.

According to the mill owner, Jack Henshaw from Anacortes, the losses are set at between $200,000 and $250,000. There were several thousand dollars worth of shingles in the mill ready for shipment. Plans are being made to rebuild the mill, but Henshaw stated, "We will put as many of the men back to work as we can, plans are being made to re-open the Bogachiel Mill. The new Peninsula Mill will be built later in the year." The mill was only partially insured.

According to Jefferson County Deputy, Larry Gardiner, arson is definitely suspected, and the investigation is continuing.

An additional $445.00 was added to the bid if the Council chose to install carpeting instead of the tile floor covering. If the Marshal's office and the addition to the Town Hall were built at the same time, Enger Construction would deduct $1500 from the stated price.

FEATURING WELDING, GENERAL REPAIRS. OPENS WEDNESDAY, MARCH 4

They used to call us country people hicks and clods and other derogatory names implying that we were crude and lacking in good sense but let me tell you, in modern days. The biggest clucks and most uninformed people are living in the big cities. They howl whenever a tree is cut to meet the demands of their multiple needs -- the homes, books, newspapers, and multi-packaging of infinitesimal parcels of groceries and goods they require and none of them understand that only a properly harvested forest is productive--the mature unused forest standing in a state of nature equates a desert--because for every tree that grows another must die and be reduced to decay and so the answer is zero. The forest service recently had a bill before Congress which would have provided for an orderly harvest on the lands it manages. The outcry of the ignorant urban population insured its defeat, the day of forest ravishment is past, the day of forest management and tree farming is here and will enrich the future. In our area a properly harvested forest duplicates its original value through tree farm reproduction, in less than a lifetime, for some purposes in only 50 years, and there can even be a preharvest (a necessary thinning) of trees useful as Christmas trees after only a few years.

Even such an area as the Olympic Park has an annual wastage of 600 million board feet of timber. How many homes would that build? How many of its trees are ever seen by vacationists? Time isn't it the city public learned about the forests they so heavily depend on.

Man to Blame For Pollution

Western man's "ruthless attitude toward nature must take the blame for today's towering problems of pollution," a Washington State University professor of zoology has charged.

Dr. George E. Hudson, speaking at a seminar on environmental science, said "man for centuries has believed the world was made for him, that he can do anything with it that fits his fancy.

"Today he must change his attitude and begin thinking in terms never imagined before. He must make adjustments far beyond his imagination if he is to stay alive on this planet."

Hudson says, "we are slowly beginning to realize that what is good for the individual is not necessarily good for the world. People must fast come to the conclusion that they can't do anything they please with land--that they can't mine it, and then get out."

He said the world's population explosion "probably is the real cause of all pollution. And our affluent western society is the biggest contributor.

"I am convinced, now, that there is no technical solution to the population problem--and that man again is facing the three age-old factors that have always managed to reduce his numbers--famine, pestilence and war."

"And because the world simply isn't big enough to support our affluent way of living, and because western man can't possibly feed all his neighbors, we can expect a major famine in the foreseeable future. The brunt of this will affect China, India and Asia."

Hudson said the tough decisions will come when mankind learns to know when he has had enough--"when he learns to get off the hog, and abandon a present philosophy that there is no such thing as enough, that there must always be more."

Property Revaluation Grants

Through February 22, counties had been approved for grants under the state's property revaluation program. They represent 87 percent of all assessed value in the state.

George Kinnear, director of revenue, said that the allocations total $2,473,969. Five other counties have submitted plans for department approval.

The unprecedented state-funded appraisal program was begun last year under a $2.85 million legislative appropriation. This was increased to a total of $6 million at the recent special session. Together, the appropriations will cover the first half of a projected four-year plan, and enable county assessors to increase their staffs or employ appraisal firms on a contract basis.

"The goal is to generate realistic tax revenues based upon uniform and current property values," says Kinnear. "A second purpose is to bring about, for the first time in the history of the state, a top quality, uniform valuation of real property. A third benefit will be uniform tax recording procedures."

The $6 million investment will pay for itself quickly. It is estimated that the appraisal work presently covered by approved revaluation plans will increase assessed values an average of $400 million a year. The gain in revenue to local taxing districts is estimated at $14.4 million annually.

The director of revenues said that participant counties will be given weighted assessment ratio credit during the progress of their program. Beginning in 1970, this will be phased over the full four-year cycle.

Counties which started last year and the amount of allocations are Benton ($15,000), Clark ($112,535), Cowlitz ($60,446), Grays Harbor ($60,544), Jefferson ($14,640), King ($1,091,379), Kitsap ($57,059), Kittitas ($19,700), Pierce ($291,000), Snohomish ($200,000), Spokane ($155,655), and Thurston ($37,675).

New starts are in Adams ($25,500), Chelan ($37,250), Clallam ($32,780), Douglas ($13,750), Franklin ($28,825), Lincoln ($25,590), Mason ($25,140), Okanogan ($22,500), Whitman ($45,000), and Yakima ($102,000) counties.

Those pending are Pacific, Pend Oreille, San Juan, Stevens, and Walla Walla counties. In addition, Skamania County is nearing completion of reappraisal work begun independently of the program but is expected to apply for a grant to cover follow-up mapping.

Genetic Program Seeks Improved Timber Growth

An attempt to grow higher quality future timber stands in the Pacific Northwest is being made by Crown Zellerbach through a unique Genetic Tree Improvement Program.

Planting of 9,000 "special" Douglas fir seedlings is now being done on three selected sites on the company's Stamm Tree Farm near Veronia, Oregon. The seedlings are termed special in that they are expected to be genetically superior to previous Northwest Douglas fir seedling crops.

Longview Fibre Co., the State of Oregon and International Paper Co. have also joined the program initially started by CZ in 1966, and are also planting seedlings on nine other Northwest sites.

How these progeny seedlings perform during growth is of key importance, as they will help locate genetically superior parent trees for use in cone collecting and future regeneration. All seedlings have been marked and correspond to respective standing parents, and this identity will be maintained the next 50 years.

CZ's program at the Stamm Tree Farm began in 1966 with the screening of over 1,000 selected roadside 20 to 35-year old Douglas fir. This species is the lone type being tested, but future plans are to include other species capable of growing in the Pacific Northwest.

From this original selection, the best-looking 200 trees were chosen, along with an additional 100 at random, for control purposes. Cones were then collected from the 300 trees, resulting in 218 pounds of seed.

Roadside trees were selected to facilitate ease of seed collection. Seed was collected separately by original parent and planted at Industrial Forestry Association nurseries at Canby, Oregon, and Nisqually, Washington; and in specially prepared seedling beds at Oregon State University at Corvallis.

The seedlings being planted come from the original 300 parent selections and are three years old.

Based on previous studies, these seedlings should produce at least 20 percent increased

OCOSTA WILDCATS UPSET SPARTANS

by Larry Thomas

The Ocosta Wildcats, behind Glen White's 35 points, pulled out a 61 to 60 victory over the Forks Spartans in the last 30 seconds of game No. 2 of the Washington State Class "A" basketball tournament in Tacoma last Wednesday morning.

White going into the tournament averaging only 12.9 points a game, hit from all angles in the Spartans defeat.

The Spartans in the meantime were using Jerry Price's 21 points and 14 rebounds, Dave Beebe's 12 points, and Rich Liles' 10 points and 19 rebounds in an attempt to stop the Wildcats.

By Fred Jarvis

Sunday: Stuffed myself with fried chicken tonite and then Mother and I went down and subbed in the Sunday Mixed. Sure hope its no indication of how I'll bowl in the tournament this next weekend. Did a much better job on the chicken.

Kate Silves topped the Tuesday gals with a 206-Hi 10 and a nice 546 series. Kay Sundberg had a 551 Hi 30, Ruth Hutton a 204-523. Barbara King rolled her first 200, a 205 and picked up the 6-7 split as did Esther Parris. Ollie Swearingen picked off the 4-5 and 5-6.

Jr. Mixed: Patty Laswell had a 156-425, Jim Blair a 184, left Blair a 177-478 and Bob Hutton a 176-477. Mark Henry converted the 6-7-9-10 split and Robbie Jackson the 5-7.

Earl Kennedy almost but not quite threw his 600. Banged out a 232-599. Fred Jarvis had a 609 and Darrell Thomas a 612.

Aggie Claussen bested the Hoot Owls with her 180-501. Thursday Beginners: Anira Bumgarner a 159-398 and Mary Jo Carte 154-404. Captain Kathy Decker had a perfect Parrel 200 going but doubled in the 10th to ruin it, ending up with a 208 and a 536 series. Exasperating, ain't it, Kathy? Ollie Swearingen had a 193.

Fred Jarvis had a 257-653 in the West End League. Boy, could I ever use that Saturday or Sunday?

Also rolled a Hi 10 of 222 in Early Friday Mixed, and Carl Simmons had a 215-606 (his first). Jerry Beebe threw a 189 and Mother a 484 for the gals. Dick Suchodoski won 10 free games from Sunset Lanes for picking off the 4-6 split. Rocky Cofelt had a man-sized 179 in Saturday's Bantams and a 345 Hi 20. Randy Henry had 158 and Ed Bishop a two game total of 285.

Dave Allen won the first certificate on the Saturday Monte Carlo TV show and Esther Parris almost flipped when she picked up the 6-7-10 Jackpot. Betty Jacobson hit a big 210 (her first) and Ol Dad picked off most of the loot in our pot game. Thanks, fellas.

Clark's Vagabond picked up seven points in the Olympic Traveling League. "Hoss" Caulkins hit a 229. Fred Jarvis 222, and Duke Streeter had a big 636.

Sunday Mixed: Bernice Richardson 193, Elzada Jarvis 516, and Duke Streeter 211-588.

Vern Rondeau was the big gun of the Forks Prairie League as he blasted out a 256-664. Should have saved it, Vern. Al Whitehead had a 234 and Chuck Hamby a 223.

Good luck this weekend fellas.
Bowlers of the week: Kathy Decker 208, Kay Sundberg 551, Fred Jarvis 257-653.

Eastern Star

Mt. Olympus Chapter of Eastern Star was opened by Shirley Meisner, W.M., and Sander Swalling, W.P., Monday evening March 2, at the IOOF Hall. Nelma Rhyne was introduced as Grand Representative of International Order of Rainbow for girls. William Read was introduced as Worshipful Master of Mt. Olympus Lodge No. 298 of Forks.

The traveling basket is traveling from one member to another. A report on its success will be given next time.

Irene Jackson and Lucille Read volunteered to help the Rainbow Girls with their rummage sale, to be held soon.

Nelma Rhyne reported on a successful Rainbow-Masonic dinner, held at the IOOF Hall March 1.

The Past Matrons and Patrons held their monthly no host dinner meeting March 5 at the Vagabond. The backdrop behind the W.M. and W.P. was a beautiful blue with large gold and white candles and a large emblem of praying hands.

Refreshments were served in the dining room.

Bogachiel Garden Club

The Bogachiel Garden Club will meet, 1 p.m., March 19 at the home of Mrs. John Rosmond.

Calawah Rebekahs

Vice Grand Ruth Hutton presided at our meeting as Noble Grand. Irma Mair was ill. 15 members were present.

March 21, is the date of the District Association meeting at Sequim. Forks is to give an Agenda for the Past President of the Association.

A thank you letter from the Bethany Home for the Aged was read for their appreciation of all the store coupons we have been sending them. They have purchased a bus for the home from coupons and are now furnishing their home with these store coupons that we and other organizations have sent.

The Rebekahs voted to give scholarships again this year.

They voted to send a child to Camp David, Jr. again this year.

Sister Lena reported that a town in Michigan got a kidney machine with Betty Crocker coupons. So we decided to save our coupons for that purpose. All others interested in this project can turn their coupons in to any Rebekah. It seems a very worthwhile goal to us.

Remember District Association meeting at Sequim March 21.

There will be a no-host dinner for Assembly president Rae Raiton on March 25 in Port Angeles when she makes her official visit to that lodge.

PTA Meeting

The program for the next PTA meeting March 18, 8 p.m. at the grade school multi-purpose room will be given by Joe Newbry. Mr. Newbry, to be principal of the new elementary school will talk on "whats going to be new in the elementary school".

West End Pioneers

West End Pioneers Club met Feb. 27, 1970, welcoming Minnie Peterson after a long absence, and her daughter Carma Shaw, who joined the club.

Officers elected were President: Arthur Munson, and Vice-President Esther Floe; re-elected Secretary-Treasurer; Marj Anderson.

An account was read about Wesley Smith, the West End Pioneer to be honored in the Clallam County History "Jimmy Come Lately." Iva Wahlgren and Louise Gaydesku told recollections of his being greeted and honored by Indians; officiating minister at a wedding; dentist without anesthetic! Iva read a letter from the journal of the Washington Fur Company.

A write-up from the Aberdeen World of twenty five years ago, was read telling how the family of Benson Northup, Senior, moved everything from Houghton, near Kirkland, to Seattle, by boat to Clallam Bay, by wagon, horseback and foot to Forks, Bogachiel, Hoh River, across the hills to Clearwater. It took eight days, in August 1897. Lester Northup told some of their experiences he remembered, being five years old.

The Destruction Island log-book and the many scrapbooks were on display, carefully kept up by Iva Wahlgren. Photographs and written articles will be welcomed to add to the books.

Potluck supper ended the meeting.

New "Marine Fence"

A new "marine fence" that can be easily assembled to bar intrusion of floating oil and debris in marinas and harbors has entered the anti-pollution fight. It is made of sheets of asbestos and rubber, combined with foamed flotation material. The sections are linked together by welded marine-type chain stretched along the bottom underwater edges of the fence. The weight of the chains helps hold the fence upright.

Cedar Homes Dist. Named

Clarence L. Hook, President of Cedar Homes Manufacturing Corporation in Bellevue, Washington today announced the appointment of Richard Lunning as exclusive franchised distributor for the home manufacturing firm in the Clallam County and Port Townsend area.

Hook said, "The purpose of appointing Dick Lunning as our exclusive distributor is to better serve these areas growing housing needs and fulfill the increasing demands for Cedar Homes structures." Hook stated that the new distributor will be appointing dealers to represent the distributorship in key localities in the territory where the company's market research has shown a substantial demand for housing at an economical cost. "With a relaxing of Federal Reserve funds for housing needs and a growing demand for housing, the dealer appointments being made by Dick Lunning will provide substantial opportunities for those selected."

"Other distributor appointments have been, or are being made in Washington, Oregon, Alaska and Hawaii," Hook said. "The company is a leader in the field of solid cedar construction with a full line of vacation, residential and commercial buildings.

Meditation

By Rev. Ted Ringsmuth

To be part of a family involves one in weighty responsibilities. For some the burden gets too heavy. They give it up. This giving up takes many forms. Large doses of anti-freeze, even during warm weather. Excessive and repetitious excursions to the happy hunting and fishing grounds. Long evenings with "the boys", long card-games with "the girls". Sometimes "giving up" is finalized in divorce or even suicide. Living in a family is not easy. Nothing worthwhile ever is. Every great art requires the best that we have. Requires great effort, study and discipline.

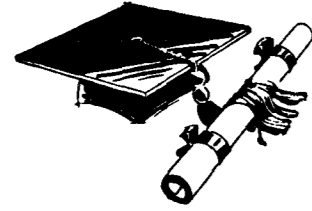

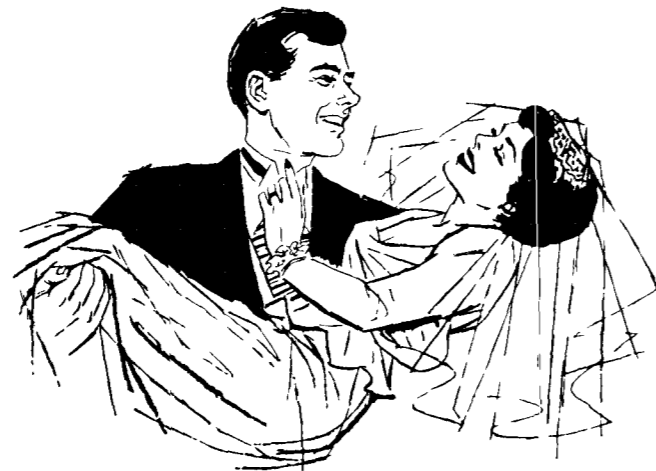

In family living we learn that others matter. We learn that life is to be shared and that meaning and happiness, growth and maturity comes not in building an inflated ego but in learning to relate successfully to others.

This is where God comes in. He asks us to learn to love one another, not just ourselves. We must learn this first with those who are close to us then as we mature and grow the circle of our family must expand.

Jesus taught us to begin our prayers saying: "Our Father". He made it clear that every person of every race and color and culture has the right to pray in this way. This means that under God we are one family.

A strong and happy family life is the foundation for a strong and happy community. Unity encourages unity. Devisiveness breeds division and hostility and leads to violence. It is difficult to see how we can be a part of the family of God and not be a power for peace and unity in God's world.

Jesus said: "Come unto me... my yoke is easy and my burden is light." Surely it is God's love in our heart that makes every burden light.

Jimmy weighs a full ten pounds only when he's full of formula. But to his daddy, he's the weight of the whole world when its time for that 2 A.M. feeding. What a chore it is, but it allows plenty of time for thinking:

What kind of man will Jimmy grow up to be? What kind of father will I be to him? How can I keep him from following the wrong crowd? How can I help him to value the worthwhile things? How can I give him a solid foundation for life?

The responsibility that parenthood places on people is a heavy weight. A sensible man can't take it lightly. But the Church can help him bear it wisely. In church he will discover those enduring values, something against which to measure his own standards—and, as he finds these things for himself, he will pass them on to his son.

The church can't rear your children for you, but it can help you as you do the job. It's a champion weight-lifter.

ADVENTURES IN CERAMICS

An adventure in ceramics is waiting for you thanks to Mrs. Charles Rooks of Forks.

Mrs. Rooks started her ceramics classes as a favor to a few friends who were interested after seeing some of Mrs. Rooks finished pieces. Mrs. Rooks originally held her ceramics classes in her mobile home. The classes quickly began to grow as word got around Forks, the classes grew but needless to say the space in their home did not! Therefore her husband, who is also interested in ceramics, built a workshop adjoining their home. Mrs. Rooks, despite efforts not to, went into business on a full scale. She now has 65 women enrolled in classes held afternoons and evenings. According to Mrs. Rooks, the classes are held on a non-original basis. If your budget permits you can attend as often as you like or if your budget is a bit shakey that particular week and you are feeling very creative. Mrs. Rooks has orders to fill quite a lot of the time and you could probably help her.

Mrs. Rooks purchases the green ware, clay pieces before glazing and firing, from different dealers all over the Northwest. The women enrolled in the classes purchase green ware, paint and other materials from Mrs. Rooks. She has a complete stock of all paints and other materials.

After the green ware is painted, and glazed, it is then fired. Mr. and Mrs. Rooks do all the firing.

Then you have the finished product, lovely things for your home or yard, including statues, ashtrays, cups and saucers, the old-fashioned pitcher and bowl sets and many other things too numerous to mention.
