MUST WAIT FOR GRADES

New System Surface Grades for East End of City to Be Considered Next Week.

All members of the city council except Mr. Wolverton were present at Tuesday night's council session. Several important matters were taken up: Practically all existing grades where improvements have not been made have been cancelled to prepare the way for new, surface grades; the Port Commission proposition was endorsed upon the importunity of S. M. Earling of the Milwaukee railroad; sewer matters in Francis street district taken up and boundaries of enlarged district fixed, and drastic action promised if owners, already given months, do not pay attention to sanitary regulations and orders.

At the outset Mr. Fisher of the ordinance committee reported recommending the passage of the ordinance approving the assessment roll for the improvement of Front street west of Oak, and of Cherry and Valley streets. The ordinance was adopted.

The committee also recommended the passage of the ordinance repealing and abolishing the existing grades with amendments to make the same more effective. Mr. Filion wanted to know the purpose of the ordinance. Mr. Fisher replied, to establish new grades to eliminate the necessity of cutting canals in future improvements and the establishment of practically surface grades to conform as near as possible to existing improvements and the contour of the townsite, already a natural townsite. The ordinance was adopted.

Mr. Hooker reported as to proposition of revising the auto license ordinance to the effect that about all of the owners of the city had paid their license fee, therefore there would be no recommendation for a change this year. Council may take up the matter of revision early next year.

Bootblack stand repairs made next to Cole's Barber shop were allowed.

C. D. Best was granted permit to blast on lots 17 and 18, block 343.

Joe Tomei was granted a license as official sewer connector under city ordinance. Also Harry A. Cotton.

Angeles Brewing Company called attention of city to weakened condition of bridge over Tumwater creek in vicinity of brewery and other necessary repairs. Referred to street commissioner for report.

C. B. Faires was granted a permit to remodel the office building now occupied by Dr. Warner, same to be fitted up as a barber shop.

Jos. Pearson entered a protest against his lot on First street between Vine and Albert being assessed in the Francis street district, on the ground that same is more easily connected with Albert. Referred.

Hearing on resolution for trunk sewer on Francis street was taken up and ordinance ordering said improvement was read twice and referred. The ordinance as outlined includes 35% of the cost of the improvement of the trunk sewer to be borne by abutting property, balance to be assessed against an enlarged district taking practically all that territory east of Peabody gulch, and Vine street, to Columbia.

Hearing on the resolution for the improvement of the east end district as heretofore outlined was taken up and continued until next week. Mr. Fisher calling attention to fact that grades had been abolished and therefore improvements could hardly be ordered without establishing grades. Matter was laid over. A committee consisting of Messrs. Fisher, Hooker, and Fowler was named to outline a tentative scheme of grades in the proposed district, acting of course in conjunction with the city engineer, he having about all necessary data already in his office.

Hearing on the resolution for the building of a road on the Ediz Hook sandspit as per lease from the government taken up. Clerk reported no protests. Engineer Filion stated that in the absence of any plan, but after consultation with some of the council, he had the assessment roll made up on the basis of $1 against each lot within the city limits. Mr. Bigelow suggested that they take up matter of fixing a basis at once. This was done. He opposed the basis as inequitable and unjust and was supported by Mr. Filion. He moved that the basis of assessment be according to the assessed valuation of the property within the city limits. If the building of a road on the spit is a benefit to the city it is a benefit to the whole city according to the value of its holdings. This seemed to be the opinion of the whole council, and was the expressed opinion of both City Attorney Smith and City Engineer Filion. The motion carried unanimously with the exception of Mr. Fisher, who refused to vote, and the services of Ed. Shields were engaged to prepare assessment roll.

Bond of Kuppler and Caven for Front street sewer work was filed and accepted.

Engineer's estimate of $500 of work done on First street sewer was approved and $375 allowed on same.

Minutes of Board of Equalization on Francis street sewer were read, and approved by the council.

Mr. Brennan called attention of council to dangerous condition of

SUPERIOR COURT IN SESSION

Probate and Divorce Matters Occupy Attention of Judge Ralston During Short Term.

Judge Ralston arrived Monday morning, remaining during the rest of the week cleaning up the docket of the Superior Court, which by the way, is not very extensive these days.

In the Skeffington estate, Adam Fitzgerald was authorized to sell all the assets of the estate.

The will of Port Angeles Bob, Indian, was admitted to Probate. Under this will W. B. Gould is appointed Executor. Peter Jackson of Port Gamble is named as beneficiary. Deceased directed that he be buried same as white man, including a monument, all to cost $200.

In the estate of Pehr A. Peterson, administrator turned into registry of court $298, which amount was ordered turned over to the beneficiaries and state inheritance tax paid.

Jas. Stewart was appointed administrator de bonis non of the estate of Mary B. Howard, who died some years ago, vice J. S. Maxfield, former administrator, now deceased.

Helen McKay was granted a decree of divorce from Ross McKay on grounds of desertion. No property or children. Mrs. McKay has been cigar salesman at the Merchants Hotel until just recently.

Agnes R. Wood was granted a divorce from Chas. F. Wood on the grounds of cruelty. Her mother, Mrs. Robertson, was also a witness in the case. No property or children. The Woods formerly resided at Dungeness.

In the three foreclosure cases of Adam Zerenner vs. Walter Goodwin, et al, Attorney Rose for Alden Goodwin, asked for a change of judge on the presumed ground that the judge's

HELP MAINTAIN THE BAND

This city has one of the most accomplished musical organizations in the state, but it has not been sufficiently appreciated in a material way to supply it with funds to maintain it. The Port Angeles Marine Band is and has been maintained chiefly by the public spirit and sacrifice of its own members. They have not only contributed their time and talent to sustain its reputation as a band organization of very high rank, but they have individually provided for the payment of all the maintenance expense, such as the payment of the director, the purchase of new music, uniforms, instruments, etc.

The Olympic-Leader has therefore decided to open a subscription appeal in its columns to help provide a permanent fund sufficient to maintain the band. It is hoped to obtain monthly subscriptions for one year, beginning and including the month of May, 1915, and amounting in the aggregate to $100 per month. To do this will require many small subscriptions, of from 25 cents per month up. This subscription list will be kept standing in the Olympic-Leader until a sufficient amount has been raised, or until failure to produce it shall have been demonstrated. If you want to help the band, come in and sign up, and the more of your subscription that you pay up in advance the better it will be appreciated, as the organization is already considerably in debt for current expenses.

Next week the Olympic-Leader will start off the list with no less than 25 names. Over half of this number is already in our hands and signed up. Remember, you will have all this week to drop into the Leader office and jot your name down on the growing list of donations.

ROMANCE STILL LIVES

Bride-to-Be Will Travel 9,000 Miles to Land of Midnight Sun to Wed Man She Loves.

By Herbert Hanlon

What does a journey of approximately 9000 miles over seas, land, snow capped mountain passes, Alaskan waters and Yukon rapids count, when you know that upon reaching your destination within the lonely Arctic circle wastes, you are to wed the man of your heart's desire and choice, thereby acquiring the unique distinction of being the first white woman to be married in that mysterious land north of that famed boundary, the Land of the Midnight Sun and Northern Lights—and into the bargain on the longest day of the whole year—June 21st—when old Sol, at that particular point, will be on the job the whole twenty-four hours straight? Such an unusual journey has been made necessary because of the European war and the desire of the principals to carry out their plans to be married in the Land Up There on the day on which the sun never sets. It's a matter the bride-to-be has set her heart on, you see, and while this captivating little woman does not exactly plead a feeling of superstition in the matter in this enlightened age, she is, however, fully convinced in her own mind that nothing but happiness can follow in the wake of a ceremony performed in such a far-distant-from-home place and under such odd circumstances and conditions.

The Girl—Miss Gail Porter of Enniskelling, Ireland.

The Man—Jack Carruthers of the city of Seattle.

The Place—Fort Yukon, north of the Arctic Circle on the Yukon river.

The Time—June 21st, 1915, the day on which the sun never sets within the Circle.

And of course the inevitable moving picture man will be present, first because Mr. Carruthers has plenty of money and second, because he confesses to a desire to possess a permanent and lasting record of this marriage which is to be performed in the crude little church at this trading post in the Northern wilds.

Back of all these arrangements and preparations for this marriage in the far Yukon country, there's a mighty gripping story of trials, toil and hardship before Carruthers' long search for gold was finally rewarded, capped by his unusual love romance which is to culminate, because of the European war, in his wedding in the land from whose bosom he wrested enough yellow metal to make him independent for the rest of his days.

Carruthers, a stalwart son of old Erin, hails from Enniskelling, that thriving little city on Loch Erin, long noted for its big military barracks and her contributions to the flower of Ireland's crack regiments. Tiring of the hum drum life of boarding school at the prententious Model school, Carruthers took French leave and filled with a spirit of adventure came to America to seek his fortune. He was still busily engaged in the search when the magic word "gold" and tales of its discovery in the North was flashed from Seattle and immediately the famous rush of '98 was on. Carruthers felt the call as strongly as did any of the other lion hearted

BEATRIZ MICHELENA IN "MIGNON"—AT STAR

The World Film Corporation presents Beatriz Michelena in "Mignon," from the famous opera of that name. A California Motion picture corporation feature in five acts.

"Mignon" in its lyrical form on the grand opera stage, enjoys a popularity which began half a century ago and which increases rather than diminishes with the passing years. This is due to its picturesque and stirring plot, which lends itself so well to film dramatization.

"Mignon" is taken from Goethe's immortal "Wilhelm Meister." The forlorn heroine pictured by Miss Beatriz Michelena, star of this capable producing company, beautifully protrays the emotions of imperilled beauty and girlish innocence in her characterization of "Mignon."

In "Mignon" will be found the highest type of photo-dramatic perfection—action, excitement, thrills, beauty and scenery unsurpassed as background for one of the world's most poignant stories and tender romances.

As literature, as story, as dramatic plot, "Mignon" occupies a position which no other imaginative work enjoys—a position of popularity with savants and servants, rich and poor. As a motion picture its producers believe they have given it a permanent place in the new art of the proto drama.

Tuesday, May 4th, will be the only day you can see this picture. It will be shown at the Star Theater on that evening.

AUSTRALIAN LINE WILL CALL AT PORT ANGELES

At the city council meeting Tuesday night, Councilman Hooker read a telegram addressed to J. H. Dalton of this city from S. M. Earling of the Milwaukee railroad. It is dated Chicago, and reads as follows:

"If vote on Port Commission proposition is carried, I have assurance that an Australian line of steamers whose present Port of Entry on Puget Sound is Vancouver, will call at Port Angeles, and make this their United States Port of Entry.
(Signed) S. M. Earling."

The council joined in petition to county commissioners to call a special election to consider the Port Commission proposition. The commissioners have a hearing on this matter next Monday.

OLYMPIC HIGHWAY WORK PLANNED FOR THIS YEAR

The state highway board, in session at Olympia last Friday, decided to expend but $1,000 on the Quinault section of the Olympic Highway this year, and that for location work. Of the $97,125 available, $9,625 will be spent along Lake Crescent, $48,000 in clearing slides and in construction from Quilcene to Shelton, and $38,500 from McCleary to Mud Bay; for this last a call for bids has already been issued.

FIRST ASCENT FOR THE YEAR

Party of Seven Klawannas Made First Peak of Mount Angeles on Sunday Last.

"Where are those toasted marshmallows that the Olympic-Leader told us of," asked President Ben Phillips of the local mountaineering club as the flames from the big camp fire lit up the whole mountainside Saturday evening and the party of twenty young men and women gathered about to rest after a strenuous day getting their lodge into shape for the summer season. Unfortunately, the member who had the good eats in mind was absent in body, but there had been served, under the management of Mrs. Phillips and Mrs. Herbert Wood, a dinner that even the gods, had there been any on Mount Angeles, might well have praised.

It had been a long day's work, this repairing of the lodge, building bunks and tables, setting up the new range, and improving the grounds, all in a dense fog that silvered the hair of the maids and covered their sweaters with a hoary frost. But all were happy and content that their mission had been accomplished, even to the door plate, which bore the mystic legend, Lodge of the Klawannas, soon to become as well known, they hoped, as the grand old mountain itself. We know not who suggested Kla-wan-na, tho' it was tho't up on the spot at the conclusion of the work, but it means "good times" and these the Klawannas sure have in store.

Sunday morning at 6:30, someone, possibly imbued with a vision of fragrant coffee, fried potatoes and bacon, called out "nine o'clock, time to get up," and as the bright sun-

ROYAL ARCH ENTERTAINED GRAND HIGH PRIEST

The Royal Arch Masons had as their guest, Wednesday of this week, Judge Kennan of Spokane, the Grand High Priest. A party of ten of the prominent members of the lodge took him to the lakes where they had dinner at Fairholm, and returned in the afternoon in time to visit the Olympic Power Plant and the Earles Mill. At six o'clock a banquet in his honor was given at the Merchants Hotel, which was attended by about thirty of the members of the Royal Arch Chapter. At the regular meeting in the evening Dr. F. E. Warner, Julius Kirschberg and Corliss Gordon were initiated into the order and a midnight supper was served. Judge Kennan expressed himself as being delighted with his visit to Port Angeles and appreciated the cordial hospitality extended to him. He also complimented the Chapter on its rapid growth and the interest and enthusiasm shown by its members.

TROUT SEASON OPENS TOMORROW, SATURDAY

The trout season opens May 1st this year, continuing 'till November 30th. The catch limit remains at not more than fifty per day; and not more than twenty pounds and one fish per day, or thirty pounds and one fish per week.

CONDITIONS ARE APPALLING

Sewage from Business Houses Piled Up in Heaps Under the Buildings.

Dr. Bigelow of the health committee reported to the Council Tuesday night a state of unsanitation in the business section and in the old Central school not heretofore discovered which was appalling. All the sewage of the Aldwell block, the Tribune-Times building, and the Aldwell-Fisher building to the east, thru inadvertence on the part of workmen and the plugging up of the outlet in the bay has been deposited under the Bank of Clallam and the Leader Department Store. An 8-inch main was left open to permit of later connection, presumably with the opera house block, and the plugging of the outlet forced all thru this neglected opening. This is a private sewer. The committee recommended that ground under the buildings at Front and Laurel be flushed, drained and filled, source of contamination having been repaired.

At the Central school on First street, the toilets have been permitted to become clogged and an awful condition existed. Attention of members of the Board brought quick action.

Dr. Bigelow also called attention again to order of council of last week giving the Aldwell interests one week to connect with sewer in block 1 east and west of Laurel street. Some of these buildings not connected are bringing in $50 per month for the ground floor, he said, and the work ordered by council has had no attention paid to it. He believed in being right, then forcing the owners to comply with council's orders no matter who said owners may be. It was ordered that one additional week be given to connect with these sewers, otherwise the marshal is directed to swear out warrants for the owners or agents responsible for the violation. This by unanimous vote.

In re the nuisance under the Goldwater building ordered abated last week Dr. Bigelow reported that his attention had been called to the fact that the water mains at Front and Lincoln leaks in three places, thus making abatement impossible. The water company will dispense with the pipe there this week, and Mr. Goldwater was given additional time to abate.

"THE WALLS OF JERICHO" AT DREAM THEATER. MAY 4

Remember, Tuesday, May 4th.

"The Walls of Jericho," a five reel picture of American mining country and English society, William Fox presents an all star company, including Edmund Breese and the beautiful Claire Whitney. This play ran for two years at the Garrick Theater in London and one year at the Savoy Theater in New York. This is an elaborate production with 300 scenes and a punch in each one.

Friday, May 7, Charles Dickens' "Old Curiosity Shop," in five parts, unexcelled in acting and photography and guaranteed to be authentic in every scene. Produced in England by famous Dickensian character players. Actual surroundings as they exist today. Come and bring the children.

OLYMPIC HIGHWAY IN GOOD CONDITION

Ex-Postmaster E. Fisher and Capt. Jackson and their families, traveled from this city to Quilcene and back on Sunday last in nine and one half hours, in the former's auto. They reported the road in fine condition and improvements are noted in the same in several places along the highway. Mr. Fisher stated that the Milwaukee has placed a water tank at Morse Creek and ties are laid for beyond that temporary terminal site. In several places around Discovery Bay ties are also in place.

ANGELES HIGH SCHOOL SHORT ONE PITCHER

The Port Townsend High School baseball team journeyed up to this fair little city last Saturday afternoon on the "Weary Willie" and took away the honors of the day when they defeated the local school boys in a sluggish game of hits, runs and errors galore. After the battle was over the big white letters on the fence showed 18 for the visitors and an unlucky 13 for the home guards. There is no tale of mystery to this defeat. Roscoe McKee failed to don a suit of grey and the other pitchers had sore arms and few assortments of puzzlers.

The Central School team will ride to Sequim Saturday and play them a morning game of baseball.

IT ISN'T YOUR TOWN—IT'S YOU.

If you want to live in the kind of a town
Like the kind of a town you like,
You needn't slip your clothes in a grip
And start on a long, long hike.
You'll only find what you've left behind,
For there's nothing that's really new,
It's a knock at yourself when you knock your town,
It isn't the town, it's you!

Real towns are not made by men afraid,
Lest somebody else gets ahead.
When everyone works and nobody shirks
You can raise a town from the dead.
And if, while you make your personal stake
Your neighbors can make one, too,
Your town will be what you want to see,
It isn't the town, it's you!

EXCURSION SUNDAY ON CITY OF ANGELES

On Sunday, May 2, the City of Angeles will go on the first excursion of the year to Agate Beach, leaving here at 10:30 a. m. Come and go along and find an agate for your curiosities. The fare is 50 cents. A broad smile and a big lunch basket will go well. Sunday, May 2.

COFFEE GRINDERS ARE DEFEATED

Berry of Coronas Has Fast Spit Ball and Fools Many. Score 6 to 1.

After finding that the Victoria League team was a little too strong for the local team, Manager Graves matched the Coronas of the Commercial Importing Company of Seattle, last Sunday with the local ball boys to the delighted satisfaction of the fans, in a fast nine inning game at the local ball park. A good sized crowd turned out and the afternoon proved to be "jake." The Angeles team put big Pete Reardon in the box. The visitors announced that Berry would pitch and he did. He has some spitball. It fooled many. Pete Reardon struck out eight of the coffee grinders and handed them a good assortment of curves. The game would have been listless had it not been for the Corona shortstop, Chesterfield, who lost the game for the visitors in his many bobbles.

Powless is hitting like a fiend and also is Steele. Both hit the ball safely twice and Steele stretched both of his drives into doubles. Powless is getting his eye back again and no pitcher will be safe when the warm weather sets in.

Bayton is a real fielder and studies the game with much interest. He throws accurately and is fast on the bases. Bayton could not get onto the curves of Berry and batted a hitless game.

LELAND BEAM GOES TO PENNSYLVANIA COLLEGE

J. E. Beam received word this week that his son Leland, who will graduate from the State College at Pullman in June, has been appointed to a fellowship in the Pennsylvania State College. This means that he will continue his work in certain lines as a student but will also be a salaried instructor in the college. He was offered a government position in Alaska but took the fellowship in preference. Leland is a graduate of the Port Angeles High School and his classmates and many friends will be glad to know of the excellent progress he is making and that he is already beginning to reap the reward of patient industry and faithful service.

Track laying on the Milwaukee, which was discontinued in January until completion of the Morse Creek grade, was recommenced the first of the week and will be pushed along with a big crew to Fairmont. With the exception of two miles at the head of Discovery Bay, grading is completed and ties have been laid over much of the route.

It is expected the county officials will remove to the new court house some time during the second week in May. There is some hitch in the acceptance of the furniture and until this is adjusted and the furniture in place or it is decided to set the disputed furniture aside, removal will not take place.

Over three hundred tickets have been sold to the H. S. dinner and entertainment tonight and it looks as if the affair would be a grand success.

CANNOT WITHHOLD HIGHWAY AND STATE MONEY

Olympia, April 29.—Although in the land board case the supreme court decided that the legislature could not put a law in effect immediately with the sole purpose of forestalling a referendum, this decision cannot be stretched to withhold money appropriated for the support of the state government and its institutions, the supreme court says, in holding that the general appropriations, highway appropriations and new fish code became effective prior to the expiration of 90 days after adjournment of the legislature.

"We must not make a scarecrow of the law," the opinion, written by Judge Chadwick states, adding that common sense is a safe rule for guidance.

Attorney General W. V. Tanner had advised Stat eAuditor C. W. Clausen to issue no warrants against contested items totaling $2,300,000 in the general budget, the highway appropriations or the fisheries fund. Attorneys Fletcher & Evans of Tacoma, P. M. Troy of Olympia and E. S. McCord of Seattle presented the cases for Governor Lister, and in every instance the governor's contentions are sustained by the supreme court, writs being granted to compel Auditor Clausen to issue warrants.

In the other two emergency clause cases presented to the court, on the ground that the benefit of doubt should be given the legislative declaration of emergency, the court held that the jitney bill and Renick bill prohibiting diversion of city funds, were not subject to referendum.

No time is being lost by the state highway commission in proceeding with 1915 road work. Within fifteen minutes after the supreme court decision, making highway money available, had been handed down, Governor Lister had called a meeting of the highway board. This meeting took formal action approving plans for nearly $250,000 worth of road work, upon most of which calls for bids will be issued immediately.

The immediate work approved, and the estimated cost of each section, is as follows:

Inland Empire highway, Colfax south, 9.2 miles, $31,000; Cashup to Steptoe, 4.25 miles, $16,000.

Sunset highway, Davenport west, 13.7 miles, $57,000; construction between Wenatchee and Waterville, five miles, $51,400. On the last named section employment of convict labor is considered if further investigation makes the project seem feasible.

Olympic highway, Mud Bay to McCleary, 10.85 miles, $38,000.

Pacific highway, new Nisqually grade to eliminate steep hill, using in part abandoned Northern Pacific grade, 9.2 miles, $37,000.

Governor Lister proposed a resolution, which was adopted unanimously, calling upon Highway Commissioner William R. Roy to work out a systematic plan for the expenditure of maintenance money, 7½ per cent of the total road appropriation, or $150,000, being set aside for this purpose during the biennium. Mr. Roy now is working out the details of a thoro plan for maintenance in good condition of state roads already constructed.

State lands and timber valued at $360,177 will be offered at the state land sale of June 1, applications to purchase having come in at a rapid rate during the last few weeks.

The effect of the European war and other economic changes of the past year on the prices that the Washington housewife is compelled to pay for food stuffs will be determined in a practical manner as the result of investigations instituted by Labor Commissioner E. W. Olson.

Mr. Olson a year ago obtained prices on a list of foodstuffs considered sufficient for an average family of five persons in moderate circumstances. The total cost of this list of supplies ranged from $405.93 to $431.57 for different geographical divisions of the state.

Mr. Olson this year has taken the same list of supplies and is again obtaining price quotations on all articles in the list in all parts of the state.

The "Safety First" campaign inaugurated a year ago by Labor Commissioner Olson and the industrial insurance commission will be extended by the latter department to logging camps this year. Commissioner Clarence Parker, labor member of the board, will leave Olympia about July 1, accompanied by a physician, on a tour of all logging camps in the state. In each camp an accident prevention and first aid to the injured crew will be organized and given a thoro instruction. The plan of the commission is meeting with hearty support from lumbermen generally, who believe that the promised reduction in cost of accident insurance will be one benefit derived, and that better conditions for the workmen in the camps will be of more value.

Governors of Oregon, California, Idaho, Utah, Nevada, Arizona, Montana, Wyoming, Colorado, New Mexico and South Dakota will assemble at Seattle this year, in accordance with plans laid at the original Western Governor's Conference at Denver last year. Governor Lister, whose invitation to meet in Seattle was accepted, has proposed May 18 to 20, inclusive, as the dates of the meeting.

Governor Lister will celebrate the Good Roads Day, May 15, in Thurston county this year, and has invited United States Senator Wesley L. Jones to join in a tour of all stretches of road upon which improvement work will be in progress during the day. The governor was compelled to decline the invitation of Spokane good roads boosters to make a series of split log drag demonstrations over the Sunset highway, patterned after the memorable Pacific highway trip of last year.

Secretary of Agriculture, D. F. Houston in a letter to Governor Lister, praises the activity of the executive and state department of agriculture in stamping out the foot-and-mouth disease when it occurred at Spokane last November, and states that Washington's freedom from a recurrence of this disease, which has been experienced by other states, is traceable to the prompt and effective measures taken.

More than three tons of badly decayed dried codfish, and hundreds of pounds of finnan haddie, tomato catsup and other food stuffs unfit for human consumption, were seized by food inspectors of the state department of agriculture at Seattle this week and consigned to the city incinerator.

THE SUPERIOR COURT

friendship for some of the defendants might be an embarrassment to him. The court was inclined to grant the motion off hand, but the motion being resisted by Mr. Lindsay, court took matter under advisement, briefs on the law in the matter to be submitted.

Defendants motion for bond for cost on grounds of non-residence of plaintiff in Fred Phillips vs. Angeles Realty Company, was denied and defendant was given ten days to answer.

The Sequim State Bank recovered judgment against D. M. Talbot, et al, for $2,157.77 in foreclosure proceedings against 160 acres of land at Lost Mountain and the Talbot Mill in the vicinity. Mrs. Duncan recently sold this land on execution but her lien will be inferior to the banks.

The Citation to Roy Whitcomb to appear and show cause why he should not be punished for contempt was quashed on motion of his attorney and the question of his payment of alimony was postponed subject to being brought up at a later date, if found advisable.

Defendants demurrers in the cases of the State Bank of Sequim and P. S. Govan vs Bugge, Knapman, et al, were overruled and defendants given 10 days to answer.

Attempted service of summons by publication in F. A. Durr vs. A. U. Dann and wife, was quashed as not being in proper form. A new summons may be published.

New cases:

Clara V. Youngman vs. M. F. Kane, et al, foreclosure.

Albert Goldwater vs. Asa B. Steele, et ux, foreclosure.

Owing to pressing business in other courts and a quiet spell here, Judge Ralston will not again hold court here until May 18. unless some important matters now unknown comes necessitating his presence.

Oxfords and Dress Shoes

for summer wear

When you want a new suit you don't go to the shoe store, do you? No, you confer with the man, or woman, who KNOWS clothing, who understands quality, workmanship and style. I don't "know" the clothing, nor the dry goods, nor the millinery, nor the table and bed linen and carpet business. But I DO KNOW shoes. My knowledge of footwear, a knowledge gained thru years of experience with shoes alone, is at your service. The lines of goods I carry are the best to be had. If there were better I would have had them years ago. So why experiment. Why take chances so long as here is a store where the element of "chance" has been eliminated.

THE CITY COUNCIL

Eighth street bridge at Francis street and street superintendent was directed to get necessary plank and put same in good condition.

Old Dippold barn on First street east of jail was ordered removed from sidewalk area.

A representative of the Port Angeles Electrical Co., appeared before council and preferred charges of favoritism against the city electrician, making the charge that his company's work was rigidly inspected, while the work of their opponents was allowed to pass. Mr. Bigelow, chairman of the light committee, resented the imputation that there was graft in connection with the city electrician and the gentleman backed up to this proposition. The committee will investigate and report on the charges.

DRUG STORE CHARGES

The other day I meandered into a durg store and ordered certain chemicals which I happened to know actually cost 11 cents. The druggist charged me 35 cents. I inquired if he hadn't added too much profit. I told him just what the items cost.

"My dear sir," answered he, "in this corner drug store we do not pay attention to the cost of the chemicals in the drugs—that is the smallest part of our expense. We are selling you the high rental of a drug store on a convenient corner, electric light, furnace heat, free telephone service, stamps sold at cost, a meeting place for the neighborhood, a place where you can stand on a cold day and wait for your car, free seats, free newspapers. It is for this class of service that we charge—the drugs that we dispose of are simply incidentals."

Well, brother, don't you think this druggist was about right? At the same time, it is just like you and me to accept all these convenien ces and accommodations, and then kick if a fly happens to light in our soda water.—The Gimlet.

WHEN PORT ANGELES GOES ON THE DRY MAP

A report is current that the Angeles Brewing Company's plant will be turned into a condensed milk canning factory when the state goes dry in 1916. It seems that the plant will not be able to manuracture beer for the market trade and it is believed that the milk business is the next best industry. There are plenty of cows and pasture in the county and at the present time the Glendale are the only creameries in this territory. They do not can milk, however. All the engine plant, the pumps and the ice plant can be used in the manufacture of condensed milk. Only canning machines and smaller ecessities will have to be insmaller necessities would have to be installed.

U.S S. CONCORD NEARLY WRECKED ON SPIT

Last Friday evening at seven o'clock the old time gunboat Concord broke loose from the tow of the two tugs Captain Crosby and Monitor, and came within an ace of piling up on the Ediz Hook. The accident happened directly in front of the mouth of the Elwha river. The Concord is a gun boat and saw its best days in the Spanish-American war. It was stationed in Elliott Bay, West Seattle, for many years and was used as a training station for the National Guard of Seattle. The government decided upon using the 200-foot steel ship for quarantine station in the immigration service at a point directly opposite Astoria, Oregon. The two tugs, from which the old war horse broke loose, were towing her down there at the time of the accident. All brass work on the ship, also the first cabins, have been removed. The engines are still in her, but are probably rusty by this time. The tug Crosby, from an interview with Captain Crosby, was bucking a strong straits wind when the Concord broke loose. Mr. Crosby had purchased 75 fathoms of new chain for the tow and this cost him $500. This was attached to the stern of his tug from the prow of the gunboat. It in some unknown way broke away from the deck of the Concord, and the whole seven tons of this chain made a very heavy anchor for the Crosby. The chain caught in the propellor and left him helpless to the waves. The big ship then drifted in towards the spit with the tug Monitor bravely bucking the wind alone and at the same time trying to hold its own with the big hulk. Early Saturday morning the tug Crosby freed herself of the chain and went to the aid of the Monitor. The Concord was within a few blocks of the spit when again put in tow. Monday the tug Darling came up from Grays Harbor and departed with its tow for the Columbia river.

NEW OIL WELL COMMENCED THIS WEEK

A new oil company, organized by Joe Houston, former Alaska mining man, has started operations close to the city limits of Port Angeles the past week. The well is located on Peabody street, a half mile south of the Boulevard. It will be sunk with a twenty-inch casing. An 84-foot derrick will be built. Lumber is now on the ground and the machinery is expected next week. The drillers will have steam up and the jig working in two weeks.

Many residents of that part of the town use springs, and have pipes running from them to their homes. They claim that the pipes have many times filled with the grease from the oil and that they have had considerable trouble stopping it as it seems to have a continuous flow. It will be good and well for Angeles if the oil bearing field is as close as it is now claimed.

UPHOUSE UNDEFEATED CHAMPION AT POOL

In the tournament pool game last Saturday night between E. Branlund and Pete Uphouse, one of the largest crowds ever seen in a local billiard parlor turned out to watch the two marvels. Branlund's high run was 22, and that of Upnouse 15. Uphouse ran 100 points in 8 innings while Branlund was making his 68 in the same length of time. Saturday, May 1, the new champion, Uphouse, vs. Ed. Bacrett in a 100-point straight pool game. Battle begins at 8:00 p. m.

NEW COAL DOCK FOR PORT ANGELES

Captain Johnson, owner of a small fleet of boats operating in and around the harbor of Angeles, has started the construction of a large coal dock alongside the Peoples' wharf. Heretofore the coal has been dumped on the Peoples' wharf and causes much trouble to the teamsters, who have a hard time getting at the coal. The new dock will not be a deep water one. It is expected to be completed in three weeks.

NOTICE OF THE SALE OF REAL ESTATE

In the Superior Court of the State of Washington, in and for Clallam County.

In the Matter of the Estate of Joseph Skivington, Deceased.

Notice is hereby given that the executor, James Fitzgerald, will sell, for cash, to the highest bidder, all the real estate of the above estate, consisting of lots 13 to 24, inclusive, Fredrick's Addition to the city of Port Angeles, Clallam county, state of Washington.

A public sale of said lots will be held in front of the old court house, Lincoln street, Port Angeles, Washington, by the executor at the hour of two o'clock, p. m., on Saturday, the 15th day of May, 1915. In the meantime the executor reserves the right to sell said lots at private sale, if the price offered is sufficient, and a deposit of ten per cent accompanies the offer. At said public sale the executor reserves the right to reject all bids, if in his estimation they are not sufficient.

ANOTHER NEW BARBER SHOP FOR ANGELES

Showing that the kick about hard times does not make a dif of bitterance to Port Angeles, one of the real boosters of the town is C. B. Faires, who has formerly been connected with the Pettit barber shop. Mr. Faires made arrangements a few weeks ago to buy the Herman Mitchell shop on Front street, but Mr. Mitchell changed his mind and left Mr. Faires to do some more thinking. Today Cyrus Faires has leased the building, of late occupied by Dr. Warner, optician, and will remodel it into a first class barber shop. Four chairs and four washbowls. Four mirrors and four barbers, and four of almost anything else that brings forth a good shave. The new shop will be ready in exactly two weeks. Watch for the interesting announcement in this paper.

FOR SALE

ABOUT THE COUNTY

LOWER ELWHA

Miss Clara Goodwin is visiting at the home of her brother, Mr. Walter Goodwin.

Mrs. C. E. Lewis of Dry Creek, paid a visit to our school last Monday, and also caled on Mrs. Dougherty.

Mr. E. .T.h.mpson, Mr. and Mrs. Thompson, and Mr. and Mrs E O'Brien spent last Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Jack McDonald.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis, Master Richard Davis, Mrs. Dougherty, Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Rasmussen, went to town last Sunday in Mr. Davis' car.

Mr. and Mrs. Sturdevant and family spent last Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Page who live east of town.

Mr. Aldrich was a caller in the Valley one evening last week.

Mr. Leslie Jennings is staying at the home of Mr. L. P. Shaffer.

The Game Warden, Mr. Pike, passed thru the Valley last week one afternoon.

Miss Bown spent last Sunday with Miss Olive Goodwin at Dry Creek.

Mrs. J. M. Dougherty is enjoying a visit this week from her neice, Mrs. W. T. Rary, who came to Angeles on Tuesday morning to spend some time here.

Mrs. L. P. Rasmussen entertained Mrs Dougherty and Miss Bown at a dinner last Tuesday.

Last Friday evening the pupils of the Lower Elwha school and their teacher, Miss Bown, entertained about fifty guests with a bonfire and wiener roast. The party was given in honor of the Dry Creek school children and their teacher, Mr. Aldrich. There were some twenty patrons and friends of both schools in the crowd and who joined the children in the merriment of the evening. There were two large bonfires built on the beach, which furnished heat and light for the occasion, and served as a furnace in which to roast the wieners, which proved to be the main attraction of the evening.

LINCOLN HEIGHTS

We are pleased to report that all our neighbors who were in the hospitalare now at home, and those who were ailing at home are some better.

Mr. James Headlee has bought a 40 acre ranch on Morse Creek, and Mr. Eugene Whitmore five acres on Ennis Creek.

Mr. I. Filion has the cellar excavated for his new house on the corner of 9th and C streets and will soon be cementing.

Ralph Daniels has moved from Mrs. Harding's house on 9th to one on 10th, and J. W. Pike will occupy Mrs. Harding's.

Last Friday Ernest Harding took his wife and child, Clare, E. B., Daisy and L. C. Fleming out on a pleasure trip. They visited Sequim and Dungeness; saw many beautiful farms and homes, and some that were not very pleasing, large black and ugly looking stumps in the nice green fields and moss-covered old rail fences, or buildings, seemed to spoil the scenery. If the owners are unable financially to remove those, it is a pity; and if able but not ambitious enough to do so, they deserve both pity and blame.

Mrs. Sarah Chamberlain visited at J. B. Fleming's Thursday.

They were a jolly lot of young folks, thirty in number, the majority of them members of the Christian Endeavor Society, who spent Friday evening at the home of C. A. Filion, as guests of Miss Esther. They were given the privilege of the house which was fully enjoyed by all, and there was plenty of music, a room for those who wished to dance, and all kinds of games for the others. It has been whispered that the older ones forgot the passing of years and were as gay as the gayest. That is all right boys (?) A nice luncheon of fruit was served and at a seasonable hour all departed hoping they might soon be invited again.

Miss Mabel Cadwallader invited thirteen of her friends to assist her in celebrating her thirteenth birthday anniversary last Saturday on the beach. Amusements were games, races and eating the excellent picnic dinner furnished and partly cooked over a camp fire by Mrs. Cadwallader. Eliza Hopf won a thimble in the needle race. Vivian Gormly and Ethel Green won a cup and ball in the three-legged race. Evan Cadwallader won a toy chicken in egg race. The birthday cake was ornamented with thirteen tiny candles, in rosebud candle holders. The guests are loud in their praise of the good time and don't consider thirteen an unlucky number.

Sunday, Charlie Harding took his wife and child, Mr. Rogers and wife, and her son Charlie, out on a pleasure trip to celebrate Mrs. Rogers' birthday anniversary. They went to Sequim and Dungeness, had a picnic dinner under a fine shade tree which they all enjoyed very much. It was certainly grand to Mr. Rogers, who has been so long unable to get out without assistance.

Tuesday morning twenty of Daisy Flemings neighbors went in and made an attack on her carpet rags. She seemed well pleased so they worked (except while eating) until the last rag was sewed and then had lots of time left to visit.

Mrs. Crawford, Mrs. Simmonds and Mr. Davis of Gettysburg were guests of the Whitmores recently. Mrs. Simmons left her daughter at the General hospital for treatment.

Mrs. Cowan has written from Portland that Hazel is much better.

Mrs. Wm. Maxfield has gone to spend some weeks at the Olympic Hot Springs. She left a friend as substitute cook and housekeeper.

Mrs. J. Layman visited Mrs. Wheeler Sunday.

Frank Pierson returned Sunday from his eastern trip.

Guy Wheeler was home Sunday from Seattle.

Mr. Headlee and son Glenn have built a house on their ranch and will stay there while improving the same, but the family will not move out at present.

FAIRVIEW

Once more Fairview appears on the scene.

The Fairview Ladies Club wishes to announce that they now have the sum of $41.50 toward the new piano, and they wish to thank all who have been so generous and willing to come and help, and for the sake of the public as well as ourselves we hope that it will not be long until a piano will take the place of the old organ we now have.

Mr. Norman Sturdevant and family of Eden spent Sunday at the Page home.

Robert Winters has bought the Yerkes farm on the Danz road and has gone to farming there.

Mrs. Burlinguette is in town helping care for Claud Lewis, who has been very sick. We are glad to report that he is now on the mend.

Mrs. Ed Pellerin and Mrs. George Critchfield came out to the dance last Saturday. They returned home Sunday.

Mrs. Stephen Land and daughters called at the home of Moss Land on Sunday afternoon.

We are all glad to see so much road work going on out this way, all who live on side roads will surely appreciate Mr. Dick as one commissioner who believes in the square thing by everybody.

The Babcock family dined at the Chambers home on Sunday.

Mr. Rasmussen has bought 35 acres from Mr. Sutter and has moved his family out. They intend to build right away.

Mrs. Page has nearly two hundred young chirkens, mostly brown leghorns.

Miss May O'Brien and Viola Cary spent Saturday night in the city with Mrs. Jacobs.

Everyone present enjoyed the fine dance here last Saturday night.

For young tomato plants Phone Black 001.

Since February 25th the school children have been having a flower contest, which closed Friday. The object was to be the first one to find new wild flowers as they came in bloom. The first one to find each flower had it put down to his credit and the winners were awarded prizes. In all, there were found 110 different varieties of wild flowers from the pussy willow to the wild rose. Frances Laurens was given first prize and Hazel Richards won the second.

Miss Alfrida Harbaugh was a Sunday visitor at the Wooding home.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Thompson and family were Sunday visitors in the neighborhood.

Mr. Edwin Champion spent a few days at the Richards home last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Chambers and Miss Esther attended the exercises at the school housee Friday evening.

Miss Helen Laurens left Wednesday for Seattle for an extended vacation with friends.

EDEN VALLEY

Week of April 23, 1915.

Work on the Superior Shingle Mill is progressing rapidly and Eden Valley residents will soon be awakened from their slumbers by the four-thirty whistle.

Miss Stella Erickson was greatly surprised upon her arrival from town Saturday evening to find a large crowd assembled at the D. J. Kelly home in honor of her birthday. The evening was spent very pleasantly with music and games. A delicious luncheon was served, the chief feature being a birthday cake, brightly lighted with candles. All joined in wishing Miss Erickson many happy birthdays.

Ferman White of Linden, was a business caller at the Superior Shingle mill this week.

Mrs. Rena Gould, Mrs. Bourgette, and Mrs. Linquist spent a day last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Gould.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bushnell and family from Sequim are late arrivals in the valley.

C. G. Johnson of Seattle is overseeing the work at the mill.

Al Filion was a business visitor this week.

This week.

Mr. Charles Peters of Dry Creek was a Sunday visitor here.

Miss McKibben spent the week at the home of O. H. Babcock.

A party of five motored from the town of Sequim to visit the Bennett family Sunday.

Mr. Aken of Seattle arrived today and intends to bring his family here the first of the week.

Mr. Stanley Tronsell, the bookkeeper of the Hansen-Glannert Mill, visited here Sunday.

LOWER ELWHA

Week of April 23, 1915.

Mr. and Mrs. Alden Goodwin were visitors in the Valley last Sunday.

Dr. W. J. Taylor was a caller at the Davis home last Sunday.

Mr. Gilbert C. Brown of Kent spent several days of last week with his sister, Miss Bown, at the Davis home. Mr. Bown expects to leave soon for Honolulu where he has a position with the Inter-Island Navigation Co.

Mrs. McDonald and Mrs. Erickson were in town last Saturday.

With the combined efforts of the land-clearing force on Mr. Brandt's land, the logging camp, and the scaling of the Elwha hill by "Old Faithful," the Elwha Valley is the scene of much action of late.

Mrs. Chas. Brandt was an early morning visitor to the Valley last week, coming out with Mr. Brandt on the auto truck.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis, Master Richard Davis, Mrs. Dougherty, Mr. Bown and Miss Bown, motored to town last Saturday and with Miss Ester of Port Angeles, formed a party attending The Spoilers shown at the Dream.

Mr. Jay Gould was in the Valley on Tuesday of this week.

Mrs. Borgette of Bremerton has moved into the Valley, having taken possession of her place recently bought from Mrs. A. H. Gould.

Mr. Earl Goodwin was a business caller here last Friday.

There have been cars and rumors of cars in this section of the county. We are all awaiting for the trial trip of the Buick, Overland, Dodge, Ford, or whatever it may prove to be.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis and son, Mrs. Dougherty and Miss Bown spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Hartley Goodwin at Dry Creek.

Mrs. A. H. Gould expects to leave soon for Seattle where she will visit with friends, before leaving for Alaska, to stay with her daughter.

One of the recent illustrated advertising folders put out by the Milwaukee railroad, devotes five pages out of its thirty-four to illustrations and data about Clallam county. That is certainly the best kind of publicity.

Mr. Ward McMahon of the Lake Crescent Trasportation Co, will start the regular lake schedule beginning Saturday, May 1st. Leave Port Angeles 7:30 a. m., returning leaving East Beach 9:30.

It makes some of us amateur gardeners green with envy to see the peas Mr. Wm. Morrisey brought into our shop for exhibition this week. Think of having pea pods in April, four inches long and an inch wide, and containing pretty good sized peas, Mr. Morrisey insists there is no secret about it, just ordinary good pea seed, planted early, and well cared for.

The reputation of an old-established county seat newspaper, clean, bright and newsy, is one of the most valuable assets to the advertiser. Space in such a publication, particularly in a paper where one is not compelled to compete with the big city and patent medicine advertiser, is worth twice what it is in the sheet of low standard.

Mrs. M. E. Troy wishes to announce that she has moved her art studio to her place of residence with her father, Dr. F. S. Lewis, on First street, near Oak. She will continue to give painting lessons and take orders as she has done heretofore and will be glad to welcome all her old patrons and many new ones. Mrs. Troy is an artist of exceptional ability and her work never fails to please.

Buy any of your favorite magazines at their store and receive with it a package of your favorite ready-cooked breakfast food. Read their advertisement in this issue which tells you all about it.

At the regular trustees meeting of the Library Association on April 27, a vote of thanks was given to the April Whist Tournament committee and their assistants and to those who donated prizes, also to Mr. Eagle who kindly did the draying of the tables free of charge. The association appreciates every assistance rendered at all times, but especially so now in its undertaking to lift the debt on the library site incurred by the street grade tax. We hope to receive quite a few more subscriptions before May 10th, and invite the reading public to give this matter their attention and add their subscription to our list. We would also appreciate the donation of any good books suitable for a public library. Trustees.

Mr. Tom Olson has taken the agency for the Home Ironing Board Company, and any one wishing to see one of these splendid boards, which help to make your ironing easy, can call at his house, or phone him at No. L-186, ad he will be glad to call and demonstrate it to you. 17f

NOTICE OF HEARING OF PORT PETITION

To the Electors of Clallam County:

Notice is Hereby Given, That a valid and sufficient petition for the organization of a Port District of all the territory westerly of the following described lines, in Clallam county, State of Washington, viz: Commencing at the mouth of McDonald Creek in said county, where it empties into the Strait of Juan de Fuca, thence in a southerly direction following the center of said creek to a point where said creek intersects the north line of the Olympic Forest Reserve in said county; thence westerly along the north boundary line of said Olympic Forest Reserve to a point at the Range line running north and south between Township Twenty-nine (29) North Range Four (4), West of the Willamette Meridian, and Township Twenty-nine (29) North Range Five (5) West of the Willamette Meridian; thence southerly following the course of said range line to a point intersecting the south line of Clallam county, State of Washington, has been filed in the office of the Auditor of said county and certified to this Board as having the names of more than ten per cent (10%) of the electors of said county and said district attached thereto and being in all things sufficient.

That said petition will be brought on for hearing and determination before this Board at the Court House in Port Angeles on the 3rd day of May, 1915, at the hour of ten o'clock a. m., on that day, when and where any person may appear and show cause why the prayer of said petitioners should not be granted.

Attest: J. C. HANSEN,
J. W. Warren, Auditor. JAMES DICK,
JAMES F. CLARK,
(SEAL) County Commissioners of Clallam County, State of Washington.

FIRST ASCENT OF THE YEAR

shine, after the previous day's fog, seemed to guarantee his words, the camp was soon astir. After a hearty breakfast, a small party, consisting of Mrs. Wood, Misses Reddington and Webster and Messrs. MacNeal, Wood, Phillips, and Isbell, left for a walk up the trail, but the day proved so cool and altogether pleasant they found the call of the high places irresistible and continued their little stroll to the top of the "first peak"—the first ascent of the mountain for 1915. They found the snow hard and climbing easy, and being above the thin layer of clouds that apparently capped the mountain, had a splendid view of thee Cascades, an island of snow peaks floating in a sea of cloud at an elevation of a trifle over a mile. The first days of spring had but just arrived at that altitude and on the bare ground among the rocks at the crest of the ridge they found the beautiful pink primrose, first flower to bloom in the Arctic zone.

Others left to scout out new trails and still others to gather "ground pine," trailing arbutus and bunches of early flowers. A pleasing diversion was the finding, by Miss Jolliette Glenn, of a partridge on her nest and all tiptoed up carefully to get a glimpse of the beautiful bird, sitting so quiet and yet so bright-eyed only six feet away.

Sunday noon the party was joined by Messrs. Paulhamus, Teck and Thomas, all of whom made the seven mile trip in less than two hours. At Fisher's place at the foot of the mountain Secretary Teck, so he said, stopped to let his shadow catch up with him and asked Mrs. Fisher where those crazy mountaineers might be found. "A half mile straight up," she replied, and he had found it even so.

After dinner the party divided, (first promising to keep still about the good time they had had that there might not be too large a crowd on the next outing), a few coming out by way of the north fork of Little River and the old Lake Road, and the others returning down Ennis Creek.

After the work on Klawanna Lodge is completed and some of the most urgent trail work done, notably to Lake Angeles and to Ennis Creek falls, the club will doubtless take up the establishing of a second camp on Lake Crescent, Treasurer Wood having placed his lot on Sunshine Grove at the club's pleasure for that purpose. It is likely, apparently being the preference of the present membership, that two or three short outings will be undertaken this summer and fall in place of the single long outing usually undertaken by similar clubs, in which event one at least will be made from the Lake Crescent camp.

HIGH SCHOOL FAIR

In order to finance the Tum-Tum of 1915 the faculty and classes have decided to give a fair, which if successful, will be made an annual event.

Each class is to furnish candy, fruit, etc., and dispose of them at low prices. Booths will be conducted by the classes and 5 cents admission will be charged.

A 25 cent ticket will entitle holder to entertainment, supper and the privilege to spend money at the different booths.

Everybody should make it a point to come to this first annual fair and we are sure they will come again next year.

The fair will be held in the H. S. Auditorium Friday, April 30, 1915. beginning at 6 p. m.

We have strictly fresh halibut, caught locally. The price is 10c per pound. You get the best at the City Fish Market. Phone 49.

pioneers of the early days. Like thousands of others he hit the trail, and went in over Chilcoot pass with the usual big pack strapped to his shoulders. Carruthers is a sure enough sourdough, having passed many a winter in the north.

Success did not crown Carruthers' early efforts to strike gold in paying quantities. However, he did not become disheartened because the goddess of luck failed to select him for elevation to sudden riches but persevered in his never ending search for gold. His search took him all over the Yukon country and when he finally struck "pay," Carruthers was content even though many others had made far richer discoveries. His search for years' rewarded, the spell which the rugged Yukon country and woven around him, claiming him for his own, was broken. He longed for the outside and came out when able to dispose of his holdings to advantage.

Last year he went to Europe and visited his old home in Enniskelling. Later on, he drifted over the continent and just for the sake of comparision was one of an excursion party to North Cape in Norway, to witness the midnight sunrise there. On shipboard he became acquainted with Miss Porter and she became deeply interested in the narratives of his experiences in the Yukon country. The acquaintance begun so casually quickly ripened into a strong friendship and great was Carruthers astonishment to learn when it came time to say good bye that she was from Enniskelling, his old home. Without mentioning that he had already been back on a visit, he announced his intention of going there direct, as it chanced to be his birthplace. Carruthers' visit was prolonged until he had won the heart and hand of Miss Porter and her promise to wed him in the following year. While planning their forthcoming wedding, Miss Porter half jestingly expressed the wish that they might be married at Cape North in Norway, in the field of daisies, buttercups and yellow violets which annually grow in the lee of the monument of King Oscar standing on the summit, while the Midnight Sun shone, clearly disproving that romance has long since gone to seed. This met with the instant approval of Carruthers and it was agreed that they would be married there this year. Then along came the European upheaval and the failure of a speedy termination of the war to loom in sight, caused Carruthers, who had returned to his home and business interests on this side of the Atlantic, many a sleepless night until he hit upon the plan of having his fiance come to this country and journey north inside the Arctic Circle, to Fort Yukon, that they might still be married in The Land of the Midnight Sun. When he broached the subject by letter, he feared she would be a little diffident at the 9000 mile trip which it would be necessary for her to make, but he was overjoyed one morning to receive a one word cable "Yes" from her.

"I have completed arrangements for our wedding at Fort Yukon," said Carruthers today. "Miss Porter, with her mother, will arrive in Seattle not later than June 1st and we will sail from Seattle for Skaguay on either June 12th or 14th. From that point we will go by rail over the White Pass & Yukon route to Whitehorse. It is interesting to note in this connection that while I hit the trail over the White Pass with a pack on my shoulders, my fiance will go across that famous pass in a train. And from Whitehorse we will go down the mighty Yukon river in one of the White Pass & Yukon route river boats to Fort Yukon inside the circle. Miss Porter will run none of the risks that I, and many others like me had to when we were prospecting in that country, and it was necessary that we shoot the dangerous rapids on the Yukon in our frail craft. That was before the day of the palatial river steamers up north, however, which have removed hardsips, especially to tourists and sightseers, from that country.

"When we are married at Fort Yukon, word will be flashed by wireless from Eagle City, where you will remember the first word was sent out after Amundsen had discovered the Northwest passage. On our honeymoon trip, we intend to visit all the famous old gold camps, Nome, Fairbanks, Dawson, and others. My wife is bound to be agreeably surprised to learn that despite her fears to the contrary, Alaska is not a land of ice and snow the year 'round, that it has a delightful summer climate and as far as being barren, that it is a land of flowers, from Ketchikan in the southeastern part, to Fort Yukon and even farther north, in the summer time."

Don'ts and Whys for Piano Buyers

By a Man Who Knows

Don't buy a Piano simply because it looks nice and is cheap. Why? Because a cheaply constructed piano is the shoddiest thing in the world.

Don't buy a Piano because it looks nice and the salesman tells you it was made by a reliable Piano factory, who failed to put their name on it. Why? Because reliable manufacturers want their name on the goods. Why? Because in no other way could they establish a reputation.

Don't buy a Piano with a three quarter plate because some salesman tells you it is just as good as a full metal plate. Why? Because the tension on the strings of a piano at international pitch is forty thousand pounds, and with only a three quarter metal plate more than one half of this forty thousand pounds rests on the wood frame of the piano and the piano will not stand in tune.

Don't buy a Piano without a five ply built up pin block. Why? Because the entire forty thousand pounds tension on these strings rests day and night on the tuning pins of any piano.

Don't buy a Piano without at first ascertaining whether or not there is a reliable piano factory by that name. Why? Because there are over 800 different names of pianos being sold in the United States of which names there are no such manufactories.

Don't buy a Player Piano with rubber tubes. Why? Because rubber is very perishable and has too short life to put in an expensive piano.

Don't let a salesman tell you that the manufacturer of his piano uses rubber tubes because they are easily replaced. A tuner will charge you from 3 to 5 dollars every time he replaces a rubber tube in your piano. Metal tubes never have to be replaced.

Don't buy a Player Piano without an automatic tracker device. Why? Because no two music rolls are cut just alike.

Don't buy a Player Piano with only a three point Motor. Why? Because it runs hard and plays irregular.

Dont buy a Piano from a man you never expect to see again. Why? Because when the sale is made his responsibility ceases.

We are always here. We sell pianos at live and let live prices and on easy terms. If you are thinking of buying a piano, it will certainly be worth your time to come in and see us.

"More stock has been sold to the people of Forks and surrounding country in the past six weeks, than in the entire previous time since the Washington Oil Co, started drilling," said Charley Sult, proprietor of the Cottage Hotel at Forks, when asked this morning how the oil well is coming on.

"I am not particularly interested in the well, having only a small amount of stock, but just to show you what I think of the prospects, if I had a thousand dollars to spare, I'd certainly put it into stock. They are now drilling thru the hardest formation they have encountered thus far with the best of prospects of finding the oil bearing strata immediately below."

BABY LOSES LIFE IN HEARTRENDING ACCIDENT

One of the saddest and most heartrending accidents which ever occurred in Port Angeles was that of the serious burning of the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cotton, at their home on 10th and Lincoln streets last Friday evening, causing the little one's death in a couple of hours after. The baby was suffering from a bad cold so the mother lighted a small alcohol lamp and placed it near its crib for the purpose of creating a vapor for the child to inhale. In some unaccountable way the baby's bed clothing caught fire and the whole room was in a blaze when they were notified by Mr. Goos, a neighbor. Mr. and Mrs. Cotton rushed to the rescue of their baby, the little boy's bed being on fire also, but he was uninjured.

The little daughter, Harriet Elizabeth, was just eighteen months old that day and was an unusually bright baby. Her sad death has prostrated both parents with grief and the sympathy of the whole community goes out to them. The remains were taken to Port Townsend Saturday for burial, Mrs. Cotton having lived there most of her life before coming to Angeles a couple of years ago.

Mr. Cotton was expected home the last of this week but Mrs. Cotton went to Tacoma to remain a while with her sister. The injuries to their home by the fire have all been repaired and made almost as good as new.

JOEL SHOMAKER WILL BE HERE MONDAY

Joel Shomaker, for seven years on the editorial staff of the P.-I., and a lecturer and writer of prominence, is expected to be in Angeles Monday and will give an address in the evening at the regular meeting of the Commercial Club. Mr. Shomaker is a humorist speaker as well as a most gifted and entertaining one, and it is expected that a large crowd will greet him Monday night at the Commercial Club room. He will give you some good solid facts along with his funny stories. The press comment he has received from the different towns where he has spoken are very flattering. He is a born organizer and booster. "The Easy Seams of Life," and "The Open Road to Success," are two of his lectures which have gained him popularity.

STAR ENTERTAINED GRAND WORTHY MATRON

Mrs. J. C. House of Port Townsend, Grand Worthy Matron of the Eastern Star, paid an official visit to the Port Angeles Chapter last Saturday evening. She was also accompanied by Mrs. Slayton, the Worthy Matron of Port Townsend chapter. Both ladies were highly pleased with the work as put on by Esther Chapter and Mrs. Slayton says she would like very much to have the officers put the work on at some time for the Port Townsend chapter. She extended a cordial invitation to all members who could to attend their meeting of June first, when Mrs. House would pay an official visit to her home chapter. Following the work and the address of the Grand Worthy Matron a pleasing social session and refreshments were enjoyed.

MOOSE LODGE HAD INSTALLATION MONDAY

The recently elected officers of the Loyal Order of Moose were installed at the regular meeting Monday evening by the Supreme Deputy Dictator E. E. Fisher. After the installation ceremonies Chas. E. Cox, dictator, was escorted to the chair of the past Worthy Dictator and presented with a gold memento, an emblem of the lodge. The presentation speech being made by Deputy Fisher. Refreshments and a social session followed. The following officers were installed: Cecil Ricketts, worthy dictator; H. S. McLeod, vice dictator; H. B. Lathrop, prelate; G. I. Haswell, treasurer; L. M. Campbell, secretary; the latter being a holdover and J P. Jensen, trustee, 3 year term, Wilbert Bailey, sergeant at arms.

J. M. GANGLER WILL MAKE HIS HOME HERE

J. M. Gangler of Leavenworth, one of the proprietors of the Toggery, paid Angeles a visit the first of the week. He expects to return again about the middle of the month to make his home here. If all the good things his friends tell about him are true he will be a valuable addition to Port Angeles business and social circles.

MRS. HUGH PHELPS' SUDDEN DEATH IN SEATTLE

The many friends of Mrs. Hugh Phelps were shocked on last Sunday afternoon by the news of her unexpected death which occurred Saturday afternoon at the Minor Hospital in Seattle. She had long been a sufferer from diabetes, and this attack, though more severe than some previous ones, had confined her to her bed for only a few days before her death. The doctors advised moving her to the hospital but she only lived 24 hours after being taken there. Mrs. Susan Phelps was summoned to her bedside but her spirit had taken flight before Mrs. Phelps arrived.

The funeral services were conducted from the Bonny-Watson chapel at 1:30 Monday afternoon by Rev. Wood Stewart of the Episcopal church. The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful, many of them being sent by Port Angeles friends.

Jean Evelyn McKee Phelps was a southerner by birth but spent most of her girlhood days in San Francisco. She was left an orphan when a very small child and was raised by an uncle, John McKee. She has one sister, Mrs. Hattie Morrow of Oakland, California, and one brother Redick McKee of Seattle, besides her husband and son, Redick, who is 12 years of age and attending a private boarding school in Tacoma. She was married to Mr. Hugh Phelps in San Francisco in September, 1898 and came to Port Angeles to live about five years afterward. She was a graduate in kindergarden work in 1887, under Kate Douglas Wiggin, who was a teacher in San Francisco at that time.

Mr. and Mrs. Phelps were both members of the Congregational church of San Francisco, where Mrs. Phelps had been a great worker when a young girl. She had a beautiful christian character, was very reserved and retiring in disposition. A great reader and thinker, she was also a good talker when approached with a subject that interested her. She has been a member of the Port Angeles Reading Club for a number of years, retaining her interest and membership even after moving to Seattle. The club members will recall with pleasure the many pleasant meetings held with her at her Port Angeles home, and none know better than they, her many virtues and lovely traits of character. The sympathy of many friends is extended to the bereaved family.

ODD FELLOWS CELEBRATED THEIR 96TH ANNIVERSARY

About 200 Odd Fellows and Rebekahs with their invited guests celebrated the 96th anniversary of the organization at their lodge room on Monday evening. Four of the lodge members who had attained a twenty-five year membership in the order were presented with a medal jewel by Grand Secretary Bier. They were Fred Wescott, F. N. Cloukie, E. D. Short and Herman Cluver; James Stewart was also entitled to a jewel but as he could not be present Monday evening, his will be presented at the next session. After the lodge ceremonies a short program was given followed by dancing and a supper.
