To George Richardson to demolish the old Homemakers Supply building.

A water permit application for Tye Timber Company was tabled until a meeting can be arranged between representatives of that company and Frank Lyda.

The council approved the hiring of Leonard Kelson for part-time dispatcher for the marshal's office. The hiring of part-time clerical help in the marshal's office was also approved.

The council also received a complaint from 8 families living on G Street in the Mansfield Addition about speeding on the street. A stop sign was constructed at the corner of G Street near the Forks Bible Church.

The problem of speeding and excessive noise of automobiles in Forks was again brought before the council. The complaints stemmed from cars parked in the Texaco parking lot and driving onto the street with excessive tire noise. Several citations have been issued and will continue to be, according to Marshal Woods.

There have been several complaints about dogs destroying gardens and one complaint has been received that dogs killed several rabbits belonging to a family in Forks. According to Deputy Sandmire the rabbit Hutches were destroyed also. The council discussed the possibility of constructing a holding pen for the dogs. Marshal Woods will contact the builders in the area about cost. The location of the pen will be discussed at a later meeting.

Home renovation is processed to start by July 15th, 1970. As coordinator of the water system construction is now underway. Target date for completion is August 15, 1970. 'The 'rooming work', " continued Mr. Meinzer, "was begun June 10th in Seattle. Volunteers from 27 congregations began the search for room for the visitors in private homes in addition to hotels and motels.

"All persons interested in learning Jehovah God's answer to the problems, confusion and distress of our times, are welcome to attend all these free and informative sessions." Mr. Meinzer concluded.

QUILEUTE CHIEF CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

David, young chief of the Quileute Tribe, celebrated his 16th birthday, June 17. The celebration was held in the Hoh Longhouse on the Hoh Indian Reservation, south of Forks.

David, son of Ted Hudson Jr., makes his home with his grandmother, Mrs. Ted Hudson Sr. David became the chief of the Quileute Tribe at about 8 years of age. The lineage was passed on to David from his grandmother's father, Chief Charlie Howeattle.

A dinner was served to those attending the celebration and a large birthday cake was cut and served. Then the celebration began in earnest.

Several gifts were presented to the young chief, one of those was a white buckskin costume, trimmed with orange and bright blue beads. The costume, all handmade, was presented to Chief David by Mrs. Flora Thompson, widow of Chief Tommy Thompson, chief of the Wy-Um Tribe from The Dalles, Oregon. Mrs. Thompson is a relative of the

HIGHWAY DEATHS SET NEW RECORD

Fund-raising organizations across the nation cheer widely when they achieve their goal or set a new record. We have set a new record on America's highways...not the kind that cheer about--but the kind that should call for a great public reaction.

More than 56,500 persons were killed in highway accidents in 1969--the highest number in history. And, more than 4,700,000 men, women and children were injured last year. That's a lot of pain

SONS MEETING HELD COUNCIL HEARS PROTEST ON MILL SITE

A meeting between bank fishermen and boat guides was held June 18 at the Lawrence Soderlund home. There were 12 people present.

The group discussed possible measures to bring before the Game Commission when it meets in Port Angeles, July 7.

The friction between the boat fishermen and guides was very much in evidence, however. At one time the question was asked, "what do we do about the natural fish?" One of the guides seemed to think the question of the natural fish was minor in importance. He stated that all the bank fishermen wanted was to get the boats off the river.

Archie Larson, president of the Guide Association, said that the association was formed to police the boat fishermen, and that it is working out very well. He also stated he thought that the bank and boat fishermen should work together for the common goal of saving the natural fish.

Several ideas were discussed. They included the suggestion by Russ Thomas that logging across creeks which are the natural spawning beds be prohibited and strictly enforced.

Archie Larson said that the Game Department should plant more fish. He especially stated that the Game Department should make use of the helicopter to plant the tributary streams. Larson said in closing, that he felt perhaps some of the upper rivers could be closed but that the Guide Association could work with representatives of the bank fishermen to work out the closure areas.

In conclusion, several suggestions were agreed upon, to end the unlawful trapping of beaver, to trap and transplant the beaver for the timber companies, to plant the fish at a natural spawning area, to clear the mouth of Elk Creek and to suggest the use of the helicopter for the Game Department to plant the upper tributaries to the rivers.

Meetings of bank fishermen and guides were to be held this week to draw up a set of suggestions to make to the Game Commission.

The Forks Town Council met June 22, at the Town Hall. Mayor Kennedy, Councilmen Swerin, Smiley, Cline, and Hall were present. A petition circulated and signed by 43 home owners in the Mansfield Addition area was presented to the council to protest the construction of a shake mill on airport property on Russell Road. The petition read, "we do hereby petition that no more shake mills or burners, including that of Willie Self, be constructed on the airport property due to the smoke, dust, fire hazard, equipment and de-evaluation of home owners property and that said property be left as a recreation area for the children in the neighborhood."

The first shake mill was constructed on the property in 1948 and at the present time there are two mills in operation. The mill owned by Stratton and the Harris and Harris mill.

Presenting the petition to the council was Mr. and Mrs. Jim Rich and Fred Shaw. Rich said property owners in the area were tired of having to contend with the excessive noise and smoke.

Willie Self said when the news of a petition being circulated reached him, he went to Jim Rich and offered to sub-lease the property to him but that to do so he must have the $500 for the lease plus the $100 he had spent to clear the area. He said that rather than have trouble with the home owners in the area he would relinquish the mill site back to the town if they would reimburse him the cost of the lease and if he could get the cost of the bulldozing from property owners in the area. After much discussion the council agreed to buy back the lease if Mr. Self can work out the necessary arrangements with property owners in the area. One of the councilmen remarked that he was in favor of returning the money Self had spent for the lease but hated to see Self be forced into relinquishing his mill site since there were others in operation.

The council was addressed by Tony Barret, from the Olympic Health District about a city wide sewage plan. Barret said he felt with the construction of the 60-foot dry wells in several areas of Forks it was imperative for the city to at least run a sewer survey. The estimated cost of the survey would be $50,000.00. Barret was informed by Mayor Kennedy that at this time there seemed to be no problem with Forks water supply and that he was satisfied that drainage in the area was adequate. Forks has in past years applied for funds to run the survey, but no funds were available from the state. At the present time, according to Barret, the real problem with water and sewer is in the Clallam Bay-Sekiua area.

The bids were opened for the street sweeper, the bid went to Sahiberg Equipment Company of Seattle. The price of the used sweeper was $9,737.50. It will be delivered June 29.

Building permits were granted to Forks Broadcasting Company to install a septic tank.

LAKE TRAGEDY AVERTED

The dangers of floating on a intertube became very evident to four young men Sunday. The boys, Tim Devine, Tacoma, Greg, Dave, and Steve Mitchell from Milton, Washington, were all in their early teens.

They were camped near Fairholm on Lake Crescent, when the boys, floating on a very large intertube were carried too far from shore. They repeatedly called for help and waved to passers-by, but for the most part people thought they were just playing around and waved back at the boys.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Miles, were visiting the lake with friends when Mrs. Miles became suspicious and told her husband she thought the boys were in trouble. The Miles already had their boat out of the water, but talked another boater into going out to see if the boys needed help.

The unidentified man tossed the boys a rope and towed them into shore.

Mrs. Miles said the boys were cold, numb and scared. They could swim, however, but had been in the water for so long they were afraid to try to swim to shore. A possible tragedy was averted, but parents would be well advised to caution their children in

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Editor,

The game commission has declared the steelhead a sport fish. This being so, steelheading should be regulated as a sport fishery and the rules so designed as to give the most sporting pleasure to the most people within the bounds of the survival of the fish.

It is imperative that the sport be immediately regulated to reduce the take of steelheads, and especially natural steelheads, whose sporting quality is attested to by all knowledgeable sportsmen.

Planted fish must, in the future, be regarded as an augmentation of the natural runs and must be planted in good quantity in the tributary streams where they can spawn and inter-breed with the resident fish.

We must execute a much closer program of watershed management by close co-ordination with the Park, National Forest and private land owners. By this I mean road building at the proper time with sediment ponds to avoid harmful siltation, road logatons to avoid leaching of the soil, and borders of trees and all vegetation along every stream.

Recent studies by the British Columbia Game Department have documented the value of the beaver to the whole ecology of the watershed. Remove the beaver and his dams and fish ponds washout. This seriously damaged the fish raising capacity of a stream.

In addition to greatly increased ecological control, the streams in the Forks area will have to be closed in part to boat fishing. The advent of overwhelming numbers of boats have greatly increased the take of steelheads in recent years.

bridges would leave certain inaccessible spots where the fish could spawn unmolested. It would leave the smaller streams to the real art of fishing in the serene quiet of the river--it would leave the most productive parts of the river to boating.

It should be further recommended that the Forks Guide Association be advised to draw up rules of the river. These rules should include: numbers and names on the guide boats, rules on the care and handling of released fish, well policed rules to avoid litter and pollution.

of the river, photography, wildlife, and barbequing and less upon the catching of fish. Rules of courtesy to shore fishermen should also be established. The institution of these rules and regulations should help our native fish to survive and return peace and quiet to the river.

COAST GUARD CAUTIONS

BOAT OWNERS

The Coast Guard reports that there have been over six serious explosions or boat fires already this boating season. On two recent occasions, motor boats have exploded and burned in Lake Union, a body of water wholly within the corporate limits of downtown Seattle.

The explosions occurred apparently from loose gasoline in the engine compartments or bilge area. It is hard to pinpoint the exact causes when the hull is blown into several hundred pieces.

Lieutenant Commander Hadley, Boating Safety Officer for the 13th Coast Guard District cautions all boatmen to take extra care when fueling their boats. If gasoline spills, remove it before turning the ignition key. Avoid liquified petroleum appliances that employ detachable fuel bottles. Steer away from gasoline stoves aboard boats. This extra caution may make your next outing an enjoyable one.

Crabs are cooked in vats under the watchful eye of the operator who must use the exact amount of cooking solution and precise timing. Large baskets of crabs are lowered into the steaming cookeries.

The shakers crack the shells then shake the meat into a pan. Several quick slaps against the side of the pan releases the meat from inside the shell.

After soaking in a special solution the meat is ready for final inspection. Under a blue fluorescent light the shells will appear blue and are removed. The meat is then placed into cans, each can containing half body meat and half leg meat. They are then vacuum sealed and frozen.

Whole crabs are those of larger size, good color, with all parts in contact. These are shipped to market in cartons packed with ice.

Owner "Cap" Hilton stands on the dock at LaPush awaiting the arrival of another crab boat from the Pacific.

Northland Fisheries, located at LaPush, on the Pacific Coast of Washington, is the area's newest industry. The crab cannery, owned by "Cap" Hilton, employs about 25 people.

MUNRO APPOINTED SCHOOL BOARD CHAIRMAN

The Cape Flattery School Board met June 15 in Clallam Bay. Members present were: G. G. Munro, Ruth Hinkle, Edward Nicholas, Lloyd Colfax and David C. Parker. Visitors were: Ralph Burkhard, Arlington Flinn, and Jack Sands, chairman of the Neah Bay-Clallam Bay Citizens' Advisory Committee.

Mr. Munro was elected chairman of the Board to replace Mrs. Elsie Tulloch, and Mr. Parker was elected vice-chairman of the Board. The Board discussed applicants for the District #4 position open since the resignation of Mrs. Tulloch. Suggested were David Brooks, Ken Sadleir, Marlene Hansen and Mark Thomas. Action was tabled until the next meeting.

After discussion, the architect's contract was approved. The school will purchase a Model 209 Dry Photo Copier, with stack feed at a cost of $1294.00. This is a 3M product, with copies costing 3 to 5 cents each.

The order of the agenda was reversed, in order to discuss the building needs, so that Mr. Burkhard could catch the last ferry to Seattle. The Advisory Committee had studied needs and Jack Sands and Arlington Flinn reported that the committee decided they would like to see a master plan for the Clallam Bay School complex and advise later on which part they felt should be built first, keeping in mind the immediate need for four rooms. For Neah Bay they felt the shop was the first priority need with science and service areas such as restrooms, teachers' lounge and special service room problem areas.

The cost of building was estimated at approximately $30.00 per square foot and $3 or $4 per sq. ft. more at Neah Bay. One possible order of preference and approximate cost of buildings are: Clallam Bay-Group A-- Includes 6 classrooms and 1 conference room, Home Ec., Science, Lab. Storage & Lecture, Bus, Ed, Practical Arts, Art & Mech, Drawing, Food Services & Stage area, plus toilets & custodial areas. $784,800.00.

Neah Bay-Gym, shop and possibly science. $544,000.00.

Clallam Bay-5 elem. classrooms, 1 conference room, toilets, storage. $225,000.00.

Clallam Bay- Jr. Sr. High School balance of buildings auxiliary spaces. $284,000.00.

Neah Bay- Jr. Sr. High School, $500,000.00.

It was the consensus of opinion that Federal funds could be obtained to share in the cost of the Neah Bay buildings,

Tye - Beaver - Sappho News

BY MRS. J. E. MERRITT

"The galavanting Konopaskis" (Mr. and Mrs. Ed) are home from a month's stay in San Francisco, at the home of their son, Ron and family. For three weeks of the time they cared for their three grandchildren, Christian, Marlin and Angela, while their mother was visiting her mother, Mrs. Thea Walther, in Germany. On the way home the Konopaskis stopped at Medford, Oregon to visit Dan Gibson and his family. Dan and his parents, the late Roy Gibson, and Mrs. (Mabel) Gibson of Apache Junction, Arizona, lived in Beaver, when Dan was a small child.

Mr. and Mrs. Konopaski arrived home on Saturday, June 13 and the next day they went to Seattle for medical check-ups; both of which proved satisfactory. They arrived back in Port Angeles in time to attend the dinner given Tuesday evening by N. A. P. U. S., for retired postmasters. On Thursday they hooked up their trailer and went to Kalaloch for a weekend of clamming, and returned home Sunday.

Mrs. Ida Eaton, postmaster at Sappho, and Mrs. Mary Johnson, Beaver postmaster, commuted, daily to the N. A. P. U. S., state convention held in Port Angeles Monday through Thursday of last week. They went in Mrs. Johnson's car.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Edwards, of the Hungry Bear and Edwards Trailer Court visited a few days recently with their daughters, Mary Jo and family, in McCleary, Grays Harbor County, and Pat and family in Kent. They then went on to Oakville, where they visited Mr. Edwards' oldest brother, Jim, and family. It was the first time in two years the brothers had been together, so the two families had a very enjoyable visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Webb of Port Orchard visited Saturday and Sunday at the L. R. Eaton home in Sappho.

Mr. and Mrs. Kerry Leavitt and children spent a recent week in Bellingham, visiting relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Herb Welches arrived Friday for a Father's Day weekend visit with their respective parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Merritt, Beaver, and Mrs. Walt Mason in Forks. On Saturday the Welches and Masons went to Kalaloch for clams. They were accompanied by State Trooper and Mrs. Donald Mason with their daughters, Jody and Cindy, who had come up from Chehalis on Friday to visit his parents. Saturday was a very good clamming day, and, with the exception of little Cindy, who was under-age to dig clams, all got their limits in a very short time.

Mr. and Mrs. Merritt were dinner guests at the Mason home that evening. The Donald Masons left for home Sunday, and the elder Masons accompanied the Welches as far as Kalaloch on Monday morning. They got their limits and each couple left for home, the Masons to Forks and the Welches to Shelton.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Landgraaf are new trailer residents at the Edwards Trailer Court. They intend to reside here permanently as Mr. Landgraaf is retired. Welcome to our neighborhood, where there is lots of good fishing as that is Mr. Landgraaf's main hobby. He and Mrs. Landgraaf are from California.

Mrs. Dewey Fisk and her great-grandson, Ronnie Browning returned home Sunday after a ten-day visit with her daughter, Mrs. Gladys Leese in Bellingham. Mrs. Leese's daughter, Mrs. Clark Browning, had taken her children and Mrs. Fisk to Bellingham on Friday, June 12, returned home on Sunday and went up again last Friday, to get Mrs. Fisk and Ronnie.

Mrs. Ida Prissel of Portland has been spending a few days with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Arden Prissel in Sappho.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Engeseth spent an anxious two hours Sunday night, when their son Ron Engeseth phoned from Seattle at 10 o'clock to tell them his 10-year-old son Ronnie was missing. He had disappeared from his home and no amount of searching availed. The police were called in and the boy was finally found down on the beach around midnight.

SHOWER HONORS MISS PETERSON

A wedding shower was held last week in honor of Glenda Peterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Peterson Jr., of Forks.

The shower was given by the W. M. C. of the Assembly of God Church. Approximately 40 people attended.

Miss Peterson, a student at Seattle Pacific University will be married Saturday, June 20, to Gerald Dormaier of Hartline.

Congregational Church news

The women of the church will be busy between now and the coming holiday baking pies both at home and in the church kitchen. The pies are to be delivered to the "Pie Shack" (across from Sully's) on Friday, July 3, from 4:00 to 8:00 p. m. or by 10:00 a. m. on Saturday. They may be brought to the parsonage if they cannot be taken to the "Pie Shack" at the designated time. For those who have time to help bake pies at the church, please call Velma Maris, 374-6426 or Shirley Ringsmuth 374-5528. All proceeds from the pie sale will be used to purchase a set of handbells for our youth.

Next week's sermon will be "When We Talk About Freedom," the first of a series of sermons on Freedom. Thomas Jefferson said, "The God who gave me life gave me liberty at the same time." And again, "I have vowed upon the altar of God eternal warfare against every tyranny over the mind of man." The sermon for July 5th: "Let Freedom Ring."

ADEQUATE WIRING helps you and your family live better electrically! Then there is enough electrical capacity, and circuits, outlets and switches for Sis to operate her record player, Brother to play his radio, Mom to cook a hearty meal and Dad to operate all the power tools in his workshop.

Besides that, there is plenty of power for household chores—laundry, cooking, cleaning—and plenty of light for seeing. And the TV tube doesn't shrink when the refrigerator starts up nor do you run out of hot water.

You'll live better electrically... with adequate wiring.

Meditation By Pastor Howard Stockman

A father is a real important person in the life of every child. Each child needs the security that his father can give him. His strong hand is the hand that can give the child the security that he needs. Each child needs this security as he grows up if he is to become a good responsible citizen in our society who will be able to be an asset to the community in which he will live.

In order to be a father who can give the security and assurance that each child needs he needs the light of help which only God can give. As you look at the picture there is a light that shines on the hand of the man and on the boy's face. This is the light which God gives to help show the path which leads to a better life. This better life is not only in the life that is to come but also is life that is lived every day here on earth.

This light of God is not made known through some magical process to each child. It is made known rather through each child's father. As a man lives with a strong faith in Jesus Christ as his Lord and Saviour the light of God shines through him to his children. A child grows into a living faith in God through the experience he has with his father's faith. The Father cannot give his child faith. Faith only comes as the child lives in an environment of love and faith.

On Father's Day we honor our fathers who have shown us their faith as we grew up. It is through this living example that we have a confidence and security which is based on the love of God. If you are a father who has not been involved in the Gospel of Jesus Christ bring your child to Church this Sunday so that you can give your child an experience of life which is full of the light of God.

yours is the hand
that lights your child's face

We've heard so much about the effects of insecurity on the life of a child! It seems urgent to find a picture of security . . . that elusive ideal that parents want to provide but can never be sure they have.

Notice the importance of the light in our picture. It doesn't really come from that fatherly hand. Someone else has provided the light which links father and son. The father merely stood in that light . . . and held his son's hand!

Sunday — Father's Day — in hundreds of thousands of churches, earnest fathers will stand in the Light. With their sons they'll worship God . . . experiencing again the spiritual understanding of life. See the brightness of that true security reflected in youthful eyes.

Some pretty hot scores in the district finals of the Summer Singles here over the weekend and our bunch from Forks really shone. Bernice Richardson (Bernie????) took first place for the women with a 678 and Kathy Decker placed second with a 633. Chuck Laswell (Chuck???) banged out a 707 for first, Duke Streeter tied for second at 675, Ed Rondeau placed sixth with a 655 and Claude Clark seventh, at 653. Seems like I heard Bernie complaining about her bowling so poor Saturday nite. I should bow, so bad!

The lanes will be closed the 4th and 5th of July for resurfacing and will open again on the 6th. And on Friday nite the 10th of July, the Scotch Doubles WITH HANDICAP will start at 8:00 p.m.

Little Norita Laswell, who uses the two-handed, run and roll it style of bowling, hit her highest game the other nite, a 102. Keep it up Norita, you'll beat the old man someday.

Duke and I finally hit the other nite, but seems like most everybody knew it was coming, as only three couples showed up. Ripped out a 1215 scratch. Jean sure gave it a try tho, as she hit a big 233 her first game.

The four top scores so far are a 1306 by Al Whitehead and Gordon McCoy, 1222 by Kathy Decker and Barbara Windle, 1216 by Avel Baker and Helen Thomas, and our 1215.

Should be pretty easy tonite as we haven't shot good twice in a row yet. How about it, Claude?

I'd have to say the bowlers of the week are Jean Streeter and her 233, and Bernie Richardson and the 678 she shot Sunday. Hank Bigelow hit for a 257 Saturday and Chuck Laswell a 707.

Darrell tied the highest game ever bowled here by hitting a 288 in the Summer Singles house eliminations the other nite. Frank Goos tossed the first one a few years in a pot game. Only 12 pins to go, Darrell.

GIRL'S SOFTBALL SEASON ENDS

Mrs. Glen Gooding is coaching the Beaver team which entered too late for league play. Game time tonight is 6:00 p.m., at the high school. Come out and support your team.

By Lonnie Archibald

The girls' softball league will complete their scheduled games tonight with the Phillies playing the Angels. A win for the Angels would place all three teams in a tie for first place with 2 wins and 2 losses, ending regulation play. A win for the Phillies would give them the league title with 3 wins and 1 lose. This is the first year for girls in the West End Little League and these 10 to 13-year-olds are enjoying every bit of it. Plans are already being made for expansion next year in girls' softball. Here is a look at the standings up to this time,

	W	L
Phillies	2	1
Orioles	2	2
Angels	1	2

The head coaches for these teams are as follows: Phillies, Don Carte; Orioles, Willie Self; and Angels, Ed Duncan.

Attended a steelhead meeting at Lawrence Soderlind's last Thursday. I felt that by the time of adjournment the purpose of the meeting had been fulfilled. Several good proposals to present to the Department of Game at the Port Angeles meeting on July 8th were agreed on. There is one proposal, however, that will bring several comments and arguments at Aggie's when presented. This is the proposal to close given areas to boat fishing. Myself, I enjoy the privacy of fishing on an upper stretch of a river or a stream without being disturbed by the passing of a boat, but then again, the thrill of drifting several miles of river by boat is a sport in its own. Now the question is, are the boats overharvesting or jeopardizing the runs of steelhead in our local streams? There is no doubt that the native steelhead are on a decline. Most of the blame in the past and present has been placed on both the boat fisherman and the Department of Game. Now let us take a good look at the so-called sportsmen who does not hesitate to point the finger at others who he holds responsible for our deminishing game. How many times have we heard him say, "a few years back I caught 12 steelhead a day. Can't do it now, the Game Department has destroyed our steelhead." Think about it a while, fellow. Now point the finger. It's you, the poacher. You played the leading role in destroying the native fish. Well there it is. To sum things up I believe that the Department of Game could spend more time and money in the field and less in the office. These upper streams are very seldom boated anyway. And the poacher can turn his finger toward himself.

Clamming was excellent at Kalaloch over the weekend. A few crabs were also taken. Haven't heard any reports on the clam digging at Goodman Creek the last few weeks. Things must of slowed down some what. A little humor there. The next tides will fall on the Fourth of July weekend.

A 47 1/2-pound king was taken at Sekiu over the weekend. Sekiu is still slow, however.. LaPush is holding its own, and Neah Bay is now beginning to pick up.

West End Pioneers

The West End Pioneer Club will meet June 26, at 8 p.m., at the Sportsmen's Clubhouse. Members will discuss plans for Fourth of July and set the date for the picnic in August. Bill Lefler will show his pictures taken in Labrador, Korea and Japan. Guests are welcome, Pot-luck supper follows the program.

GAME COMMISSION TO MEET

The Washington State Game Commission and representatives of the State Game Department will hold a public hearing on steelhead management the evening of July 7, in Port Angeles, it was announced today.

The hearing was urged by local State Senator Gordon Sandison and officials of the Olympic Outdoor Sportsmen's Association. Sandison has long had an active interest in hunting and fishing affairs.

The hearing, scheduled for 7:30 p.m. to 9:00 p.m., in meeting rooms at Aggie's Motel, will precede the regular satutory session of the Game Commission to be held the following day, July 8, at the same location.

Hearing subject will be over all steelhead management programs for the Olympic Peninsula area. Certain to come up for discussion will be boating use of steelhead streams.

Some controversy has arisen recently in apparent conflict of boat fishermen and shore fishermen on several Clallam and Jefferson county rivers.
