NEW LAKE CRESCENT FERRY CHRISTENED "STORM KING"

MISS LOUISE SHULTZ, SPONSOR

All is finished! and at length
Has come the bridal day
Of beauty and of strength.
Today the vessel shall be launched!
With fleecy clouds the sky is blanched
And o'er the lake
Slowly, in all his splendors dight,
The great Sun rides to behold the sight.

Then the master,
With a gesture of command,
Waved his hand;
And at the word,
Loud and sudden there was heard,
All around them and below,
The sound of hammers, blow on blow,
Knocking away the shores and spurs.

And see! she stirs—
She starts—she moves—she seems to feel
The thrill of life along her keel,
And spurning with her foot the ground,
With one exciting, joyous bound,
She leaps into the water's arms.

We were reminded of this beautiful description of the launching of a ship, as written by our great American poet, Longfellow, when witnessing the successful launching of the big new ferry for Lake Crescent, at Piedmont last Sunday.

While to some the comparison may seem inappropriate, to those who were instrumental in the building, and also to those who realize and appreciate its wonderful value to the county, its successful launching was of as much importance as the launching of a great ship is to its builders and owners.

Never in the history of Lake Crescent was there such a large crowd assembled, or such a gala day spirit manifested everywhere.

People began gathering from early morning, some bringing lunches and enjoying a picnic in the woods, others taking dinner at the Crescent Hotel or East Beach. At the former place over a hundred were fed at noon and many stayed for dinner in the evening. It was estimated that about four hundred people witnessed the launching and about fifty arrived at East Beach too late to get the ferry or launch over to Piedmont, but were picked up by the new ferry upon her arrival at East Beach on her trial trip around the lake.

The naming of the ferry was rather a perplexing question, so, after a number of names had been suggested, the County Commissioners decided upon the plan of each choosing three ladies to act as a committee to decide which name should be chosen.

The ladies comprising the committee were Mesdames Willis Chambers, J. B. Mapes of Dungeness, Frank Kalloch and Frank Sullivan of East Beach, Willis Mathewson, P. Grubb, Remp, Jessie Webster and Miss Bertha E. Meyer of Chimacum. Their unanimous choice was for "Storm King," in honor of the mountain peak of that name, which belongs distinctly to Lake Crescent and so wonderfully enhances the beauty of its scenery. A peculiar significance is attached to Old Storm King by the people of the lake, who look to it as their "weather prophet," and some day we hope to see it immortalized in story as Hawthorne did "The Great Stone Face."

The Stars and Stripes were unfurled on top of the pilot house by Miss Inga Hansen, the little daughter of Commissioner J. C. Hansen, and its raising was greeted with an outburst of hurrahs. Captain Treiber, the designer and builder, then gave the word and the ferry slipped into the water so quietly and quickly that one did not realize she was moving. The christening was performed by Miss Louise Shultz of Sapho, sister-in-law of Commissioner James Clark, who said, as she broke the bottle "In the name of the people of Clallam county I christen thee 'Storm King.'"

The sun was shining in all his glory and the lake never looked prettier; the Marjory and a number of the small launches and boats on the lake, besides the Betty Earles, were anchored near by and added to the attractiveness of the scene. The Betty Earles was gaily bedecked in flags and was a pretty sight on the water all day, Captain Martin generously carrying over a number of the passengers from East Beach to Piedmont.

Frank Kalloch, a long-time resident of the lake, is captain of the Storm King and will be found an efficient and obliging officer. He is particularly interested and proud of the craft because he helped in the building. The trial trip to Fairholme Sunday was very satisfying, though of necessity the first trip had to be made very slowly.

Captain Treiber's wife came from Hood River, Oregon, to attend the launching and to share with the Captain in the pleasure and satisfaction of the ultimate success of his achievement.

The successful launching of the Storm King must have been a source of great satisfaction to County Commissioner J. C. Hansen, to whom the people of Clallam county are largely indebted for these ferries, which will doubtless prove the greatest factor in the development of the West End of the county. Mr. Hansen's proposal to build the Marjory met with a great deal of opposition, but he was so positive that he was right, and his faith in Captain Treiber's ability was so strong, that he went ahead in face of the opposition.

The splendid success of the Mar-

NOTED ROSE SPECIALIST COMING TO BIG SHOW

An added attraction to the Annual Flower Show this year will be a lecture on the Care and Culture of Roses, by Mr. Roberts, the Rosarian of Tacoma, and one of the best informed horticulturists in the state. Mr. Roberts has been associated with the Tacoma Daily News for a number of years and his articles on rose culture and replies to the many questions asked of him through the press, relative to the raising of flowers and plants of all kinds, has been of invaluable assistance to many hundreds yes, thousands of people. Mr. Roberts is kept busy during the month of June acting in the capacity of judge and giving talks on rose culture at the various Rose Shows thruout the state. It is to be hoped that nothing will deter him from coming to Port Angeles to act in this capacity as we all are anxious to learn more about the successful raising of roses and other flowers. Take your note book at once and begin to jot down some of the vexatious problems you have had to contend with in your flower garden. He will answer them all for you.

ELKS TO HOLD THREE DAYS' CELEBRATION

At last Port Angeles is to be treated to a real, genuine circus, something far ahead of what P. T. Barnum or Ringling Bros. ever dreamed. And, why not, when the idea has been conceived by the local B. P. O. E., who never do things by halves. Elephant, monkey and dog performers are common every day occurances, but wait till you see Muck's band of trained Elks. It sure will be a scream, and the best of it is it will last three days July 1, 2 and 3, and it will be the most gloricus Fourth of July celebration Clallam county or Port Angeles has ever seen. Several parties have already cancelled their trips to the Panama exposition so as not to miss this Wonderful Elk Circus, and it is intimated that Teddy Roosevelt has been secured as one of the star performers. The names of other celebrcties who will take part will appear in these columns from week to week.

The net results for the week are that the marshal was directed to notify the Bungalow Inn to abate a nuisance immediately and the committee was asked to look further into the cause of trouble at 4th and Laurel.

Final assessment rolls were reported by the engineer and hearings on same were set as follows: First street sewer June 16, Lincoln street improvement June 15, and Peabody bridge June 17. In the latter matter considerable new territory being included in the new district notice of hearing was ordered sent to new owners included.

MR. J. M. GANGLER, OF THE TOGGERY, MARRIED

Announcements were received by friends here this week, of the marriage of Miss Mary Emaline Shoulter and Mr. Joseph M, Gangler in Seattle, Saturday, May 15. Mr. and Mrs. Gangler arrived in Angeles on Tuesday morning and will occupy the Van Brocklin residence during the absence of Mrs. Van Brocklin in the East, where she has gone with her two sons to spend the summer with her parents. Mr. Gangler is one of the proprietors of the Toggery and he will take charge of the Angeles store for a while and Mr. Van Brocklin will go to Leavenworth in the interest of the new Toggery store which they have recently bought there, but he says nothing can permanently take him away from Port Angeles.

Mr. Gangler is one of the directors of the Tumwater Savings Bank of Leavenworth and has been cashier in the bank for the past five and a half years. He has but recently resigned his position that he might give more attention to his stores. Mr. Gangler's excellent reputation as an exemplary citizen and business man traveled ahead of him to Port Angeles and we hope he may decide to locate here permanently.

The Olympic-Leader extends a hearty welcome and congratulations to Mr. Gangler and his bride, who are already enthusiastic boosters for our little city.

MEMORIAL DAY A NATIONAL SABBATH FOR HUMANITY

CEREMONY UNIQUE WITH U. S.

By H. W. Doty.

The 5th day of May, 1868, General John Logan, then Commander-in Chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, issued the first general order, designating the 30th day of May as Memorial Day, for the purpose of strewing flowers or otherwise decorating the graves of comrades who died in defense of their country during the late rebellion and whose bodies now lie in almost every city and village cemetery in the land.

Again the sweetly solemn function is at hand.

Again comes the time when we are to forget for awhile the fret and fever of selfish gain-getting, the quest of pleasure, the demands of business, and dwell for awhile in loving remembrance of those who, under God, gave their lives to gain for us, all that we now enjoy.

It is greatly to our credit that this ceremony is unique with us. In no other nation has there ever been set apart a day in the year as a memorial of those who died for their country. No other land has established such a Sabbath Day of Patriotism, the celebration of which is an honor to the people who observe it, and an invaluable lesson to the rising generation, which must bear rich fruits in some coming day of the nation's trial, when it shall need all the fortitude and unselfish devotion of its sons and daughters.

While we are alone in such a celebration, we are also alone in having so much reason for one. From a total of 20,000,000 of people, over 2,000,000 of fighting men went forth to battle four long bloody years for their country's salvation. In that time those 2,000,000 men fought 2,260 battles and skirmishes, many of them the most sanguinary engagements in the history of war.

Before those 1,505 eventful days were numbered, more than half a million of those patriotic men were dead. Over 1,000,000 had been striken dead on the battlefield; 10,000 had been starved and tortured to death in prisons; 200,000 had died in hospitals, and 225,000 had been so severely injured, as to cause their discharge, half of them dying at their homes or before they reached there.

It is these facts which exalt our Memorial Day into a great National occasion such as no other country possesses. With Memorial Day comes the expression of a nation's gratitude for the brave men who suffered death that their blood might seal the unity of the nation. If there is anything that softens the heart and intensifies patriotism, it is to stand at the graves of the men who sacrificed their lives for their country.

The American people honor the dead union soldier, not because he slew so many of the foe, but because he gave up even life itself in the performance of a duty. So long as the observance of the day is kept in all its genuineness and purity, not given up to frivolity and amusement, it will impart to all a truer sense of the obligations resting upon us; reaping what the living and the dead have sown, we now enjoy the priceless blessings of peace and prosperity, to life and property.

It matters little to union soldiers, whether monumental granite marks the spot where they await the last roll call, when the night tattoo has sounded for them its last notes; but they will have died in vain, if from the inspirations of Memorial Day the youth of our land learn no lesson.

They died that the nation might live; they died that this land should be an asylum for liberty-loving men all over the world; they died to make this land of ours such, that the sons of the laborers of all nationalities in our valleys and hills should swell and commingle with the free anthem of America.

Let Memorial Day teach the rising generation that the liberty, and the government, which were established be by them yielded up only, when, like the men who wore the blue, they rest with honor in a soldiers grave; and should the man of future years be tempted to surrender the rights that were established upon so many battlefields by these men, or become cold or callous in their love of their country and its institutions; may the memory of the green mounds spread all over the land, covering the remains of the loyal boys, with its hopes and pleasures for freedom and father-land, hold them firmly to public virtue.

Memorial Day is more than a national day. It is a Sabbath for humanity.

It is a testimony to the world of the manhood, the valor, the self-sacrifice of a free people, who fought not for themselves alone, but for the enfranchisement of millions of bondsmen, and that a "Government of the People, for the People, and by the People, should not perish from the earth."

CONTEST GOES ELEVEN INNINGS

Wreckers Run up Against Real Stuff and Battle for Three Hours. 6 to 5.

Again a victory. The Wilson Modern Business College of Seattle was the team which journeyed some 80 or more miles to find that they had a real ball game to play and a mighty hard one to lose. Every fan, from Seattle, Port Townsend, Forks, Sequim or Angeles declared it was the best game of baseball they had ever witnessed. Every player was in a form fit for the International Olympic Games . Only five errors were made by both sides in the entire eleven innings of play. Twenty-seven men of the opposite sides walked up to the plate and then—whiffed—then back to the bench with thoughts of a 300 batting average.

Two hundred and forty-nine visitors arrived on the Sioux from Seattle and Port Townsend to view this little progressive town that is so much talked about and advertised everywhere. They were not sorry either. The ball game, the big mill, improvements and new projects were all of interest to the excursionists.

The game opened up with B. McIvor and Kuntz as the batteries for the visitors and McInnes and Corbett for the locals. Both pitchers showed fine speed and strike-outs were all that could be jotted on the score book. No scoring was done until the third inning opened up and Mr. Clarke managed to get a pass. He then stole second, Moir sacrificed him to third, and Powless put down one of the neatest bunts manufactured by the human machine—and our Mr. Clarke came home on the play. It was through the excellent managership and coaching from the bench of Manager Jessen and Captain Riley, that the boys put down so many bunts, stolen bases and good plays.

The fifth inning opened up with Clarke again at the bat, and he didn't do a thing but work the exleaguer for another pass. He stole second and got to third with horseshoes and rabbits' feet hanging all over him. He came home again on a sacrifice by Moir. The Business

COUNTY HOME TO HAVE A "WHAT-EVER-IT-IS"

E. E. Getchell, in charge of the Westphal County Home, received a postal last week, stating that some one had a nice little gift for the Home, which they would like to have called for; but as they did not sign their name, Mr. Getchell is all in the dark. If the person will either write or phone to Mr. Getchell he will be glad to call for what ever it is.

WASHINGTON THE BANNER GOOD ROADS STATE

Olympia, May 19.—Closing his books for the 1913-1915 biennium, Auditor C. W. Clausen has announced that the actual expenditures in that period for the various activities of state government were $16,871,-174, the balance of the 1913 appropriations, $7,175,970, reverting at the close of the biennium.

Of the money reverting approximately $500,000 may be accounted as a real saving. Eliminating money appropriated for the sale of jute left unused and the reversions of the highway and exposition funds, which were reappropriated, Governor Lister shows that the actual saving of departments under his control total $479,000. During the last campaign the Governor predicted reversions of between $450,000 and $500,000 and the final figures indicate that he had a clear understanding of the financial status of each department fund.

Many of the other reversions are not entitled to be accounted as savings. The 1913 legislature appropriated $4,000,000 for capitol building purposes, but it proved impossible to float bonds and little was expended from this appropriation in consequence. Similarly $300,000 was appropriated for initiative and referendum expenses. Actual expenses proved only $50,000.

Governor Lister and Wesley L. Jones made a 150-mile tour of inspection of the Thurston county highway system in celebration of Good Roads day last Saturday. The observance of the day was general throughout the state.

Referring to his memorable trip of last Good Roads day, down the Pacific Highway from Blaine to Olympia, Governor Lister predicted that this highway would be in such condition by next year that the entire route, from Blaine to Vancouver, could be covered in one day, offering to attempt this trip, even if it necessitated rising at 3:30 o'clock a. m. to start sufficiently early.

The sequel to this statement of the Governor came in the following telegram from Frank M. Fretwell, secretary of the Seattle Automobile club:

"Honorable Ernest Lister,
Olympia, Washington.

"Good Roads Day greeting. Allow me to congratulate you on efficient manner you are putting in effect present road program which I will believe will make Washington the banner good roads state of the union before your term of office expires. Please consider this as formal offer to provide car, arrange details and put in effect schedule that will take you from Blaine to Vancouver in Good Roads Day, 1916."

In statistical information compiled for the benefit of contributors to the accident fund and others, the industrial insurance commission gives some interesting data on the experience under the workmen's compensation act during the period of more than three and one-half years during which it has been in operation.

There are now 10,011 employers and 181,687 employes in the state working under protection of the act.

Total contributions to the accident fund are nearing the $5,000,000 mark. The operation of the act, the commission states, is now costing employers approximately $1,400,000 per year, all of which is going directly to injured workmen and their dependents, and is costing the taxpaying public 7.02 per cent of this sum for administration expenses, this being the expense ratio of the commission during the last biennium, representing a reduction from an expense ratio of more than 9 per cent previously. Expense ratios of casualty companies before the compensation act went into effect, were 30 to 40 per cent higher.

The commission has prepared statistical data showing the exact cost by years, of industrial insurance to employers in each industry. In only one other state, Ohio, is the cost of industrial insurance to employers less than in Washington. There the cost, 93 per cent of that in this state, is lower because the chief industries are less hazardous than lumbering and logging, the branch of industry that accounts for nearly half the accidents in this state. In Michigan the cost to employers is more than twice that in Washington, and under the Wisconsin act the cost to employers is three times as great.

The cost of a year's supply of food and fuel for an average family of five has advanced an average of about $15 in the past year, Labor Commissioner E. W. Olson shows following a second cost of living investigation.

Last year price quotations in all parts of the state were obtained on a list of articles considered sufficient to supply a family of five persons in moderate circumstances. Estimates ranged from $405 to $431. This year prices were obtained on the same list of articles and prices ranged from $418 to $444.

The value of the state capitol land grant today, with 114,432 acres of land and 3,266,000,000 feet of timber, is $5,210,878, the state capitol commission shows in a valuation brought down to date.

Labor Commissioner Edward W. Olson will institute a bulletin service, describing in detail accidents due to carelessness, the bulletins to be distributed to workmen in other factories as a warning. Mr. Olson also is writing all factories in which shop safety committees have been appointed, urging regular monthly meetings between these committees of employes and the managements.

Flour, potatoes and sugar are chiefly responsible for the increase in the domestic budget, the investigation of Mr. Olson shows. Other cereals have followed the increased price of wheat, but meat and canned goods remain at about the same price.

The sharpest advance in prices was shown in Seattle quotations, cost of the family budget in that city being $25 greater than the cost of the same articles one year ago.

Occupying the pulpit of the Congregational church of Olympia last Sunday, Governor Lister made an earnest plea for sober judgment of the American people in the present crisis. Attacking the argument that a large army and navy are necessary to insure peace, the governor contended that this had not proved true in Europe.

"The people of Europe are much the same as the people of the United States," he said. "They did not desire this war. It was brought on by the desire for more authority by those in power and in an effort to show a necessity for still larger armies and navies."

On property of the actual value of $1,000, taxes in Adams county this year would amount to only $9, while in Island county the same property would be assessed $22 taxes, the state tax commission shows in a comparison of levies in various counties for taxes now being collected.

Eastern Washington, credited with 42 per cent of the taxable property value of the state, pays only 35 per cent of the total taxes, this comparison shows, the average tax rate in Western Washington being 40 mills, on assessed valuation basis, and in Eastern Washington 29 mills.

POSTAL SAVINGS ACCOUNTS

Every person in the United States ten years old or over may open an account in a postal savings bank after July 1st. This important extension of the service will be made possible by permitting persons living in communities so sparsely settled as not to justify the designation of their local postoffices as regular savings banks to open accounts by mail.

The intending depositor, residing where there is no regularly designated postal savings bank, will apply to his local postmaster who will see that necessary identification data is prepared and forwarded to a nearby postoffice authorized to accept deposits. He will then be given permission to forward deposits by money order or registered mail direct. He may withdraw all or any part of his postal savings by mail on demand togther with any interest that may be due him.

Postal savings receipts have broken all records the past year. During the eight months prior to April 1st there was a net gain in deposits of $19,000,000, as against a gain of $8,000,000 for the same months the year before. Thousands of new accounts have been opened and the millions made up largely of hidden savings have been turned back into the channels of trade just at a time when there was pressing demand for every dollar.

The public service commission has filed a complaint against the five large railroad systems of this state, alleging that their practice of charging excess fare for the privilege of being allowed to purchase compartment or drawing room reservations is unfair. The case is set for hearing in Seattle Saturday.

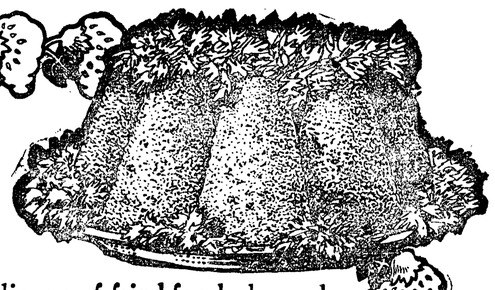
Swift's Cotosuet costs less and goes farther



Best For Frying

The goodness and delicacy of fried foods depends upon what is used for frying.

Swift's Cotosuet

may be heated to a high degree without scorching or discoloring. This puts a delicate, brown, crisp crust on the food so quickly that it prevents its becoming grease soaked, and it enables you to use Swift's Cotosuet many times for frying before clarifying.

It is economical, pure, efficient and does not flavor the food cooked in it or absorb odors from the food. Government inspected and passed; put up always in tight covered new tin pails, 3 sizes.

SOCIAL AND CLUB NEWS

MISS PAZANDAK ENTERTAINS MEMBERS OF BOARD

On Monday evening, Miss Pazandak, teacher of domestic science at Central School, and her class of H. S. domestic science pupils, very delightfully entertained at dinner, complimentary to the members of the Board of Education. The table was laid in the lecture room of the school building adjoining the domestic science department and as the guests entered the room, it presented a very attractive appearance. Covers were laid for eight. The prevailing color in the decorations and parts of the menu was yellow. The table with its snowy linen, centered with Scotch Broom, the half of a golden grapefruit on each plate, the dainty place card with its tiny blossoms of Scotch Broom in the corner and the unique "bon-bon" basket cut in a triangle and fastened with yellow ribbons—all produced a very artistic effect.

The dinner of four courses was not only most appetizing, but, in every detail, showed the touch of a skilled hand—and the grace and ease with which each course was served reflected credit, not only upon the teacher, but also upon the two pretty waitresses who assisted her.

As the guests were paying their compliments to their hostess upon leaving, one of them remembered that she had never been in favor of domestic science—but she was now converted.

Central school is certainly to be congratulated in having so energetic and efficient a teacher as Miss Pazandak, at the head of its domestic science department.

Those present were Dr. and Mrs. MacGillivray, Superintendent and Mrs. White, Professor MacNeal, Mrs. Nailor and Rev, and Mrs. Smith. Miss Pazandak was assisted by the Misses Geist and Graybill.

FORTNIGHTLY AUCTION CLUB PLAY "RAILROAD WHIST"

The ladies of the Fortnightly Auction Bridge Club entertained their husbands at a "Railroad Whist" at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Willson on Tuesday evening. Each table representing a city along the route, progression was made from Boston to Port Angeles. Roses and rhododendrons were in profusion all along the way.

After refreshments were served, Mrs. F. E. Warner gave several delightful readings and Lyman Johnson rendered some piano selections which were appreciated by all. Gifts for highest scores went to Mr. Willard Brumfield and Dr. F. E. Warner, the consolation, a miniature "Port Angeles Western" train of cars, drawn by a "Forks-oil-fed" engine going to Mr. J. I. Kirschberg.

Of the ladies, Mrs. W. V. Moore held the highest score.

Funny telegrams received by different gentlemen and read along the trip by the "speiler" caused much merriment.

FIRED "FATHER" ON HIS 20TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mrs. C. P. Brown was happily surprised last Monday evening, when about a dozen of her lady friends called to see that she properly celebrated her wedding anniversary. Cards, music and delicious refreshments were the principal features of the evening's festivities.

C. P., seeing that his presence was not deemed as necessary on this occasion as it had been twenty years previous, took his departure and left the ladies to celebrate as their fancy dictated, free from the presence of a mere man.

HUBBY PUTS ONE OVER ON HIS WIFEY

Who ever heard of a mere man thoughtful enough to remember all by himself the exact date of his wedding day? We have just heard of one man and that is Dr. H. H. Butler. Remembering that Wednesday was the 18th anniversary of his marriage he planned a nice little surprise on his wife, and while she was at a neighbors house in the evening the invited guests to the number of twelve, gathered at the home ready to offer congratulations when she returned. So nicely had her husband carried out all his plans that she had not the slightest suspicion of what was going on and the surprise was complete. Cards furnished the evening's entertainment, Mrs. Walter Mack Clark and Dr. F. T. Hyde making the highest scores. The refreshments were entirely prepared by the host and it was some spread, believe me. The guests decided he must have been taking private lessons in domestic science of Miss Pazandak. At any rate the Doctor has set a good example which we hope to see other husbands following.

P. A. READING CLUB HELD ANNUAL BUSINESS MEETING

The P. A. Reading Club held its annual business meeting last Friday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. F. T. Hyde. In spite of the hard rain there was a very good attendance. Considerable time was taken up in discussing subjects for the next year's program. Election of officers resulted in the re-election of Mrs. Jessie Webster for president, Mrs. D. E. McGillivray, vice-president, and Mrs. R. J. White secretary. Mrs. L. M. Campbell was elected corresponding secretary and Mrs. J. H. Stephenson treasurer. MUSICAL RECITAL AT THE H. S. AUDITORIUM LAST FRIDAY

There was a splendid attendance of parents and interested friends at the musical recital given in the H. S. auditorium last Friday evening by the pupils of Mrs. W. A. Stoval.

The first half of the programme was devoted to the beginners; the little tots being particularly interesting and a credit to their instructor and parents. Besides their instrumental selections, which comprised solos, duets and a trio, they sang two very sweet choruses.

The second part of the program was rendered by the more advanced pupils and was also very ejoyable. Two pretty choruses were given by the young ladies and the closing selection of the evening was rendered by four young ladies, two at each piano.

PARENT-TEACHERS' OUT OF FUNDS

The Parent-Teachers' Association held its last meeting of the year at the Central school building Monday evening. Superintendent White gave a very interesting talk on the importance of the Compulsory Educational Law, pointing out how schools, or we might say, individual pupils were robbed of their just educational apportionment by the non-attendance or the irregular attendance of some pupils. The state apportionment is regulated by the number of pupils attending school and parents should see to it that their boys and girls are regular in attendance.

After an open discussion of the subject, the president, Mrs. Nailor, announced that the association was in debt for the services of Prof. Lull of the University, who lectured at one of the meetings. Several plans were suggested for raising the necessary funds but finally a motion was made and carried that the president appoint a committee of three to see if they could not raise at least a part of the money by collecting of members, the annual fee of 25 cents. The committee consists of Mrs. Ray Haynes, Mrs. Gregory and Mrs. Hopf, and please have your quarters ready for them when they call. Election of officers resulted as follows: President, Mrs. J. C. Hansen; Vice-President, Miss Ester; Secretary and Treasurer, Mr. S. E. Stakemiller.

There will be May-Pole dances given by the pupils of different grades, folk dances and songs by the little tots, drills and marches and all kinds of pretty things to make you wish you were a school child once more. Remember the date, May 28th, at 1:30 p. m.

Mrs. C. J. Tucker entertained at dinner Wednesday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Mathewson and Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Fisher. Other friends joined them in the evening, making three tables of cards.

YOEMEN ENTERTAINED NEIGHBORING HOMESTEADS

The Brotherhood of American Yoemen entertained Dungeness, Sequim, and Ramapo homesteads in the I. O. O. F. Hall Tuesday evening, the 18th.

The hall was beautifully decorated in red and green (Yoemen colors), red roses and green ivy. The State Manager Ray E. Snyder was present.

The ladies drill team put on the initiatory work in a very pleasing manner. At the close of the meeting several invited guests enjoyed the programme and the banquet which was served in the dining room. The program was as follows: Opening address, Mayor White. Review of Ivanhoe, Oro Hickok. Solo, Miss Florence Brock, accompanist, Miss Gail MacKechnie. Reading, Mrs. Mary M. Wade. Piano Solo, Master Jack Cosser. Address, State Manager Ray E. Snyder. Presentation by E. L. Snyder, district manager of gold watch to Mrs. Cynthia Pattison, (securing 10 new members for the order), a silver set of 26 pieces to Mrs. MacKechnie, (securing 6 new members), and a watch fob to Harry Baldwin, Ramapo, (securing 2 new members).

NEW OFFICERS FOR WOMEN'S LITERARY CLUB

Mrs. Celia Merritt was hostess to the W. L. C. Friday, May 7, with twenty-four members present. An excellent paper on the History of Mexico was given by Mrs. Ora Hickok. Officers elected for the ensuing year were Mrs. Frank Hansen, president, Mrs. C. D. Best, Vice-pesident, Mrs. H. I. Small, secretary, and after being bound and gagged Mrs. Durmel consented to again retain her office of treasurer. The new president was elected as first delegate to the State Federation of Women's Clubs, to be held at Spokane in June. Dainty refreshments were served and all enjoyed a pleasant afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Fisher are entertaining the members of the Married Peoples' Evening Card Club at a six o'clock dinner this evening. Covers will be laid for fourteen as Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Walton are to be guests of the club. After dinner, the usual game of cards will be enjoyed. The club consists of Dr. and Mrs. F. T. Hyde, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. E. W. MERRILL & CO.

CAFETERIA HERE, TO BE MANAGED BY WOMAN

A cafeteria, to be run by a woman who knows how, is one of the innovations for Port Angeles. Mrs. B. B. McLean, who is known to many residents as a sister-in-law of Col. Coolican, who helped to put Port Angeles on the map, is the woman. Under her management, the interior of the old Aldwell building, standing on the corner of Front and Lincoln streets, opposite Johnson & Bork's Paint Shop, has been transformed into a very neat and attractive home, where you will be served with all the good home made foods—just like mother used to make. One visit will prove to you that everything will be clean, wholesome and sanitary. Mrs. McLean is a woman of wide experience and has been accustomed to catering to all classes of people—rich and poor. She is particularly interested in the girls who work down town in the offices and stores, and school girls and they will find her meals just to their liking. If they wish to bring part of their lunch from home and just get a bowl of soup or a cup of tea or coffee, they are welcome to do so. Everything will be served cafeteria style and her special Sunday dinners will appeal to many families who can go there and get dinner cheaper than they can prepare it at home. The cafeteria will be open for business next week.

THE SUPERIOR COURT

Vera Sparrow was granted a decree of divorce from John J. Sparrow on the grounds of cruelty and non-support. She was awarded the custody of 7 year old son and $15 monthly on his support.

In the cases of the foreclosure of three mortgages by A. Zerrener vs. Walter Goodwin, and others, in which the defendant Alden Goodwin asked for a change of judge, the court denied the motion as a matter of law, but refused to hear any case where an affidavit of prejudice was filed and therefore will call in another judge to hear the case as soon as possible.

Emma Mathews recovered judgment by default against M. Francis Kane for $800 in foreclosure on lots 12 to 15, Block 222.

George F. Gund recovered judgment for $23,229, against the Angeles Realty Company, Harry C. Peet, et al. This is a foreclosure on a considerable number of lots on Lincoln Heights, and the only defense put up was as to the attorney fee allowed. Upon motion of defendant's the court cut the attorney's fee asked for from $1,000 to $500. Defendant's will endeavor to redeem this property.

The Netherland's-American Mort. Bank recovered judgment against J. A. Reeve, et ux, for $4,845, covering the Reeve farm east of town, under mortgage foreclosure.

Motion to quash the supplemental complaint in Dungeness Trading Co. vs. J. L. Weekley, was denied by the court and defendants given 10 days to further plead. This is the case in which plaintiffs won before the public service commission some weeks ago.

In Louis C. Alberty vs. Albert Boschan, wherein the former recently had the City Dye Works placed in the hands of temporary Receiver, Court took the matter under advisement for the quashing of the appointment of the Receiver by the Court Commissioner. Defendant filed a number of affidavits as to his rustling qualities and alleged if the Receiver had not butted in all would have been well. The Court was of the opinion that the Partnership should be wound up and left it to the counsel to agree upon a manager for this purpose. They agreed that the property be sold by the Sheriff and the proceeds be placed for disposition by the court upon the final accounting. The sale will take place May 22.

Motion to quash the attachment sworn out by the Port Angeles Commission Co., against the stock of the Italian grocer, S. Maugeri, was granted. The goods have been removed from the Maugeri store under the attachment and an action for damages will likely follow.

John M. Bell was dismissed as Administrator of the estate of the late Jas. Neally.

Nellie E. MacArthur was granted a decree of divorce from Harry MacArthur on the ground of cruelty. Defendant did not appear. There is no property and Mrs. MacArthur scorns alimony. They lived at Sequim.

Fred P. Henson was appointed administrator of the estate of John F. Francn, the boatman, recently deceased. Bond fixed at $2,500.

The divorce case of Mary Holden vs. Gilbert Holden has been set for trial June 2. Both are Indians and both want a divorce. The dispute is over the property interests.

New cases:

Fred Bailey vs. B. F. Jones, et al, foreclosure.

Goodyear Logging Company vs. B. Melhime, condemnation for logging railroad in vicinity of Clallam Bay.

State vs. Robert Baker and Frank Lusk, forgery in first degree. Former blames the boy, but guilt seems to lie with Baker.

TRIALS OF THE BASE BALL FAN AT FORKS

In the town of Forks
There lives a man
Who goes to church
When ever he can;
And he runs his store
On religion too—
Oh he's religious alright
Through and through.
At one time I know
He ran a saloon
But then he whistled
A different tune.
Before that I suppose
He used to play ball
If that's the worst he's done,
He's not bad at all;
But I'll bet many's the Sunday
He's skipped away
For a game of baseball
To go and play.
Now this same old duffer
Owns a field close to town,
And every Sunday
The boys used to come down
To play ball in this field
Andhave lots of fun,
And as far as objections
I know he had none.
Until one Sunday when he knew
That there would be a big crowd
He came to this field
And that crowd, it was awed.
His appearance was wrong
And he looked a fright;
One could see
That things weren't right.
His hair stood on end
And his face, it was white;
You could see that he didn't have
All of his senses quite.
He looked more like a madman
Than a deacon from church,
As he swung up to a machine
And stopped with a lurch
And said, "Who owns this car?
Get it right out of here.
I don't want to see
Any baseball games here.
Stop this game I say
This very minute;
I'll have you all fined
If again you begin it.
You're tresspassing now
This field belongs to me;
Why should you play here
I cannot see."
So the game it was stopped,
The players were bested,
For he said if they didn't
He'd have them arrested.
It was a sort of a joke
If you look at it this way:
The constable of Forks
Played in the game that day.
And of the crowd there was
A hundred at least.
They all called this man
An ungrateful beast—
Now this man depends on
The public for trade
And I can't see
What advancement he's made
By driving the crowd
From his old ten-acre lot
And making the whole bunch
Pretty d--n hot.
Does he think it will help him
On life's winding way
To go acting like this
Every day?
Not by a jugfull;
And he'll find out too
That that business won't pay
Before he gets through.
If he'd went at it right—
Told them to finish the game—
All would have been well
And we'd not felt the same.
But he went at it so
In such an unfriendly style
That we'll steer clear of him
For a mighty long while.

College tallied a run in the first half of this inning with a clean hit and fast playing.

The seventh inning is always a lucky one. "Mr. Steele," first man to take the honor of knocking a home run this year, laid on the ball for the complete circuit with two men on. McIvor did nothing but smile grimly.

During all these seven innings McInnes, our big farmer pitcher, struck out 12 of the business heads and went like a house a fire. The eight inning opened up. That is about all it did—open up. They got to Rex for three clean hits and one pass and had shoved four runs over the plate before Honorable Leo "Pete" Reardon, walked from the tall grass in right field to the official stamping ground. He held the rest of the inning in his grasp. Two long flies were knocked and caught and the two men on bases tried to come home on the throw-in. Clarke and Bayton, fielders, made perfect one-hop throws to the plate and saved a game for the locals. Thanks to them, they are also historians.

The score now tied, both pitchers showed good form and kept hits well scattered. The first of the eleventh nearly let Wilson score again. A clean hit, a pass, and another clean swat put three men on bases for the visitors. Pete Reardon then pressed his arms against his ribs, spit on the ball and struck out two men. The next man was thrown out at first base. The crowd howled when Big Pete walked to the bench. The last of the eleventh Clarke again secured a pass. Moir again sacrificed him and was safe. Clarke stole the next bag by a lucky play. Powless hit safely past first base and Clarke romped home for the fourth time in eleven innings.

SKATED THIRTY FEET ON HIS THUMB

A broken thumb and badly torn ankle fell to the lot of Clyde McDonnell one day this week, when he was thrown from his motorcycle, the result of a collision with a dog. His companion in the joy ride had all the enjoyment of their 30-foot slide in the dirt without sustaining injury. Clyde says his experience has not cured him of the motorcycle habit, but that he will get a machine so fast that the dogs won't catch a glimpse of him until he's a mile the other side.

In these days of sharp competition one must keep his brains clear and active if he would succeed and the right kind of food is as necessary for brain development as for muscle. Doctors tell us Fish is the best Brain Food. Harry Stiles of the City Fish Market, has large quantities brought in fresh every day. Call up 49 and it will be delivered to your door.

The Salida paper of May 14, gives a lengthy account of a pleasant farewell surprise party on Mrs. McKenna given by about seventy-five of her Catholic friends. Most of the ladies attending the party were dressed in character costume, affording a great deal of amusement. As a token of regard and affection Mrs. McKenna was presented with a beautiful rosary, exquisitely wrought in opals, her birthstone, as a parting gift from her friends.

Mr. McKenna has made many friends during his short residence in Angeles, who will be glad to welcome his wife to social and church circles.
