

Dangerous Curve!!!!

By Nedra Reed

So, you decide to take a short trip to Aberdeen, or perhaps you decide to drive down the coast. You see the trees and once in a while you get a glimpse of the ocean. The pavement stretches ahead for what seems like endless miles, and suddenly ahead a curve to the right. Oh, it isn't really a sharp curve, you feel you can let your automobile drift around but then you find you are too close to the edge of a very steep embankment! You pull the steering wheel sharply to the left, inwardly congratulating yourself on your driving skill you look up to find you have over-corrected and have crossed the center line of the highway, approaching you in the south bound lane is another vehicle, a log truck perhaps. Increasing his speed to pull the upgrade of the road. You pull your automobile back to your lane, just in time.

Take a deep breath, tragedy has been averted for you, but what about the countless others who have died on this curve in a barren stretch of highway between Queets and Quinault, known to most of those who drive it often as that "miserable road to Aberdeen".

Tragedy struck last Tuesday on that curve, a young family man from Forks was killed. What caused the accident no one can say, suddenly the driver of the log truck saw the pickup truck in his lane, no time to stop, no place to go. . . .

Last year, two young girls headed home from vacation, the girls never reached their home. They were killed on this same curve during a driving rain storm. when their small foreign sedan collided head-on with a gasoline transport truck driven by a Forks resident. He narrowly escaped injury by throwing himself across the seat of his truck. The cab of the truck was practically demolished.

These are just a few instances according to long time residents of the area.

Mrs. Lena Fletcher said Tuesday, that she knew of many who had narrowly escaped death on that same curve, as well as many more who have been killed on that curve in the last twenty years.

That stretch of road was built about 35 to 40 years ago. At that time that curve was banked, the average speed of automobiles was about 35 to 40 miles per hour. The average speed today is from 60 to 70 miles per hour.

We have been the recipient of many pleas by the Washington State Highway Patrol to drive safely, use your seat belts, and etc.

This is in turn a plea to the Washington State Patrol to use their influence with the State Highway Department, to urge them to take an objective look at the curve, survey it. Is it banked to follow the path of the vehicles traveling it at today's speeds? Or is it not banked at all?

Please, do something! Both for the safety of the men driving the road, and the travelers to our area. Just ask any log truck driver, they will tell you that that curve is not safe. Post a sign, widen the shoulder, anything to save lives. Both for the driver's sake and for the families they leave behind.

PROTECT YOUR CHILDREN

Failure of adults to protect children against the obvious dangers of drugs and chemicals is a serious problem, warns Kent Stoner, regional manager of the Allstate Life Insurance Company. He adds that some 300 children under the age of 5 die each year from poisoning. Stoner urges parents to follow these rules to help prevent their children from becoming poisoned:

♦ Keep all drugs and medicines far out of the reach of children--preferably under lock and key.

♦ Label all containers. Mark prescriptions with date, dosage and the patient's name.

♦ Do not keep cleaners and other toxic chemicals in the medicine cabinet.

♦ Pour down the drain all old or unlabeled medicines. Never throw them in a wastebasket.

♦ Before giving or taking any drug, read the label in a good light.

♦ Paste the day and night phone numbers of your physician and druggist inside the medicine cabinet door.

♦ Never tell children that aspirin is "candy". (Large dosages of aspirin, taken secretly by children who think it's candy, can be deadly.)

"Setting a good example is the most effective way to teach your children to practice good safety habits," Stoner advises.

ANOTHER MOOD OF THE LAKE
Deep are the waters of Lake Crescent. Clear like that of crystal are the waters as they splash to shore. At times her waters are still, reflecting the green of vegetation, the blue of the sky, and the white of the clouds. Then again the lake is rough, with a display of whitecaps. Today a few clouds gather while the waters are somewhat unstable. Tomorrow the rising sun will find a lake like that of glass. Another day, another mood of the lake.

Local Man Killed in Accident

John J. Jones, 33, of Forks was killed instantly when the vehicle he was driving was involved in a head-on collision with a log truck driven by Jimmy E. Plumb, 38, of Copalis Beach, July 28, at about 7:30 a.m.

The accident occurred about 40 miles south of Forks on Highway 101, as both vehicles were rounding a curve, the vehicle driven by Jones crossed the center line and was struck by the Plumb vehicle. Jones was killed instantly. Plumb was not seriously injured.

The 1970 Dodge pickup, driven by Jones was a Washington State Department of Natural Resources vehicle. It received $2,000 damage. The 1965 Mack log truck, belonging to Mayr Brothers Log Company, received $6,000 damage.

MOTORCYCLIST KILLED

A young Forks youth, John E. Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Brown of Forks, was fatally injured Friday when the 1969 Mini Honda he was riding was struck by a vehicle driven by Robert A. Logan of Austin, Texas.

The boy was riding his bike on the right side of the road and was parked about 15 feet from the highway, he apparently proceeded onto the highway without seeing the approaching vehicle. The bridge girders obscured both the boy's view and the view of the driver of the car.

The bike was thrown 260 feet from the point of impact and the front wheel of the bike was thrown 34 feet in the opposite direction.

DRIVER ESCAPES SERIOUS INJURY

Two young men from Olympia escaped serious injury Monday, when a 1963 Ford Falcon pickup driven by Michael R. Blankenship of Olympia, was towing a 1957 Chevrolet sedan, driven by Stephen Roberts, 17, also from Olympia. The accident occurred when the Blankenship vehicle stopped on Highway 101, about 1 mile south of Forks, and the vehicle in tow began to "whip" causing Blankenship to lose control of his pickup. The truck flipped over coming to rest wrapped around a telephone pole and a power pole. Both vehicles were totaled. The only injury was sustained by Blankenship, a small puncture wound on his right arm.

Hats off to Art Morlin and the Community Council for bringing park improvement closer and closer. The work and planning have been very time consuming, but its great to see what can be accomplished when someone takes a project and follows thru on it. Needed: Another man who will take the initiative to go ahead on the development of a plan and co-ordination of finances for a Community Center. Please step forward.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

This article is a reprint from the Evergreen News.

With the continuing attempts on the nation's campuses to turn protest over the involvement in the Vietnamese War into radical antiestablishment destruction, the following "Letter to a son" which first appeared in the Wichita Falls, Texas, Times, and then in the Lake City, Washington, Star, expressing the views of parents "over 30" years of age, seems appropriate:

Dear Son:
Today we saw you on TV, along with other students, carrying "anti-establishment" signs in a peace demonstration. We were surprised, for we thought you were in class.

We have decided therefore that as members of the establishment, we must cut off your funds. Look for no more checks from home.
We take this action reluctantly, son, for as you well know, your mother and I have worked hard to finance an education for you. To do so, we have had to work within the so-called establishment. That is to day, we get up early in the morning, go to work, have lunch at a specified time, quit at 5 o'clock to return wearily home to have dinner and then watch television.

is an overrated virtue. We had no peace when you were a baby, when you tried your first cigarette, when you ran away from home that time. In the daily grind, we have no peace. We are constantly confronted with crises. We have to make decisions. We have to compromise.

We had to peace in World War II when we helped defeat Hitler, but we believe firmly that so long as there are Hitlers, political or figurative, someone must fight them, or else we must be content to be dominated by Hitlers. It's that simple.

We would remind you, also, that by foregoing the luxury of peace (by fighting) we created the climate in America that permits you now to clamor for peace. Had we not fought, you would neither have peace not be permitted to demonstrate for it now.

And so, son, we feel the "establishment" while far from perfect, has much to commend it. Since you disagree, we know you will understand if your poor parents, members of that establishment, cease supporting the opposition. No more checks, son. The establishment is tired.

Your Dad

LABOR COUNCIL ASKS COMPENSATION INCREASE

Joe Davis, president of the Washington State Labor Council, AFL-CIO, today told members of the Agricultural and Labor Committees of the Legislative Council that the Washington State Labor Council would probably introduce a workmen's compensation bill of its own at the 1971 legislative session. The Council bill, according to Davis, "will modernize our present exclusive state system and make it a model for the rest of the nation."
Davis termed the present level of workmen's compensation benefits as "hopelessly inadequate." He indicated that the present benefit level should be increased by a minimum of about 30% just to stay even with the last increases granted in 1965. Workmen's compensation is a state fund designed to protect the families of workmen killed on the job and provide for medical care and payment for time lost to workmen injured on the job. Davis termed the attempts of private insurance to enter the workmen's compensation field in Washington a "side issue." "Proponents of private insurance," Davis said, "have introduced their bills into the last three legislative sessions with a notable lack of success." Davis urged the members of the Committee not to listen to the arguments of business that there be "no improvements in workmen's compensation until private insurance is allowed to enter the field." Davis called this a callous approach to the needs of the families of workers killed or injured on the job. Davis told the Committee that the need for extending coverage to agricultural workers is obvious and long overdue. He pointed out that the job injury rate in agriculture is two or three times as high as the average for all other industries. He also urged extension of coverage to all workers in the State, including retail clerks and hospital workers.

PARKS ATTENDANCE BREAKS RECORDS

Annual State Parks attendance has topped 21 million, breaking all previous state records. For the 12-month period ending June 30, visitors logged in Washington State Parks totaled 21,340,358. This represents an 8.64 percent increase over the 19,641,923 total for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1969, and marks the first time over 20 million visitors utilized their parks in one year.

State Parks Director Charles H. Odegaard pointed out that current attendance figures reflect the parks' capacity strained to the limit and do not indicate the crowds being turned away.

"The urgent need for development of additional facilities becomes obvious," Odegaard said, "when you realize these parks can accommodate many more visitors as soon as we build additional facilities, while yet giving due and proper consideration to the land-carrying capacity." He explained that park rangers have no way of keeping records on the number of would-be overnight visitors who continue to arrive, especially on weekends, long after the parks are closed. He said, "In the parks closest to Seattle, we estimate we are turning away 500 a week."

He said, "Though we still need to preserve some additional areas, our primary concern in the 1971 legislative session will be for development of additional campsites. It is our hope that funds can be provided to construct 1,164 new campsites. "To properly conserve the land so that it does not become over-used, as well as to provide an enjoyable outdoor experience," he said, "we try to develop the areas on the ratio of five acres of open land for every one of development."

OTOS FILES FOR 3RD DISTRICT COMMISSIONERS POST

"The people of Clallam County need an individual as County Commissioner who has the best interest of the average person at heart," declared Gordon Otos, Friday, as he announced his decision to file for 3rd District Commissioner's post.

"The availability of the commissioner to be reached is also of prime importance," Otos said.

Otos was born in North Dakota in 1928 and moved to Washington at the age of 12. He attended school in Vancouver, Washington, he also spent two years at Clark Community College also in Vancouver. On completion of his college course he went into the U.S. Army and served two years, leaving the service as a Staff Sergeant.

Otos then moved to Los Angeles, California, where he attended the Don Martin's School of Radio and Television, Arts and Sciences. On completion of this course, he returned to Washington and went into radio business in Tacoma where he was affiliated with Radio Station KTAC. Being determined to go into business for himself he organized Forks Broadcasting Company and built Radio Station KVAC in Forks. A short while after going on the air his company purchased the Forks Forum.

In the 4 years he has been in Forks he has been extremely active in civic affairs having been vice president of Forks Chamber of Commerce for two years and General Chairman of Forks Fourth of July Celebration for three consecutive years.

His ability to co-ordinate both personnel and activities, is proved by the increasing success in stature of the Fourth of July Celebration.

Otos is a charter member of the Prince of Peace Lutheran Church and currently on the church council.

Otos and his wife, Betty, have been married 20 years and have 4 children, Randy, 18, David, 14, Debbie, 12, and Clifford, 10. All feel that they have lived on the Olympic Peninsula all their lives.

Otos said, "that the County Commissioner's basic job is to communicate with the people. He feels that is what he does best." Otos also said, "the most pressing need in Clallam County in the coming year will be solving the cedar mill problem, which if handled right

RICHARDSON TO SEEK RE-ELECTION

"I had not planned to run for Prosecuting Attorney but after these malicious and dastardly attacks upon my by the Evening News, I have no other choice but to defend myself by running for re-election. These evil articles have done irreparable damage to me and to my family. I know the people of Clallam County will be fair to me by denouncing this yellow journalism. Therefore I now announce my intention to run for the office of Prosecuting Attorney again."

I graduated from Skykomish High School in 1941 and attended Western Washington College for 2 years prior to entering the military service. I served 3 years in the military service, 18 months of this as a bomber pilot for General Chenault in China. I hold an L.L.B. and a Juris Doctor Degree.

gree from Gonzaga University. I have had 20 years of legal experience in Clallam County.

As far as service to the community other than being Prosecuting Attorney, I was on the Board of Directors of the Clallam County YMCA for 3 years, Board of Directors of UGN for 3 years, Mayor of Port Angeles for 2 years, and a City Councilman for 2 years.

My record on behalf of the County speaks for itself. I have won all cases pertaining to suits against the County Commissioners including 1 in the Supreme Court. My criminal conviction record will also speak for itself.

I am a member of the American Legion, the Elks, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the Eagles, the Washington State Bar Association and the National District Attorneys Association and also am immediate past president of the Washington State Association of Prosecuting Attorneys.

I am 47 years old, married and have 2 children, my wife, Norma, teaches at Jefferson School and my daughter attends the University of Southern California. My son attends Port Angeles Senior High School.

It is my feeling that during these troubled times, Clallam County needs an experienced Prosecutor and Trial lawyer. The crime rate throughout the nation is increasing enormously and I feel that with the support of the Police Department, Sheriff's Office and State Pa-

Tyee - Beaver - Sappho News

BY MRS. J. E. MERRITT

Your correspondent goofed on two of the items in last week's Forum. In the account of the surprise party given on Wednesday of the previous week for Mrs. Dale Dawkins the name of Mrs. Keith (Alice) Shirley was unintentionally omitted from the list of those attending, and the name of Miss Geraldine Gooding was listed as one of those present. In the second item, telling of the baby shower given by Mrs. Harry Edwards on Monday, June 20, for Mrs. Robert Morgan (Rosemary Cassell) the name of Mrs. Al (Sharon) Clarke was omitted from the list of those present. I'm sorry Alice, Sharon and Geraldine!

Mrs. Joe Elder, Sr., came from Middleburg, Virginia, recently to visit her son, Jesse Elder and family in Port Angeles, and on Sunday, July 19, the younger Mrs. Elder brought her mother-in-law out to Tyee to call on friends and former neighbors. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Elder moved from Tyee to Redfield, Kansas a few years ago, later moving to a retirement home in Mississippi, where Mr. Elder passed away last summer. Mrs. Elder is now making her home with her son, Joe Elder and family in Middleburg, Va., where he is employed by United Airlines. While the two Elder ladies were calling on Mr. and Mrs. John Merritt they said that Guy Elder, brother-in-law of Mrs. Joe Elder, had undergone a very serious operation on the preceding Friday. The doctors had said that Mr. Elder, who is 90 years old, would probably die, even if the operation were performed, but would certainly die if it were not. Latest word is that he survived the operation and is getting along nicely, although he will have to remain in the hospital for quite a long time.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Robertson who have carried the mail between Port Angeles and Forks for quite a few years, have retired, as of July 1, and the contract has been divided between Albert Fernandez of Clallam Bay, who has the contract to deliver the first mail in the morning, and Mrs. Jesse (Lou) Elder, who delivers the second mail. They have had the contract for the past five weeks, and Mrs. Elder, who, in the natural course of things, meets more of the patrons on the route than does Mr. Fernandez, has endeared herself to all who have met her.

Mr. and Mrs. Sid Busser, with their daughter and new son-in-law, Judy and Mike Harvold, of Carnation, Snohomish County, visited overnight at the home of Mrs. Busser's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Wes Gooding, and returned home last Thursday.

"Red" Hill, who worked for J.L. Mac Donald many years ago at his gas station in Beaver, was in this area on Saturday, looking up friends he knew. Mr. Hill operated the service station now owned by Mr. and Mrs. Bud McStotts, although at that time if memory serves me right it was a Union 76 station.

Mr. Hill moved, around 1933, to Sunnyside, Yakima County, where he became a member of the police force, eventually tie chief of police, which office he retained until his retirement in 1933.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Heathers visited on Saturday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Engeseth.

Mrs. A.M. Nordman and Mrs. Dale Dawkins went to Seattle on Monday and visited Mrs. Nordman's son, Arvid Nordman and daughter, Mrs. Henry Werner and their families, and returned home that night, bringing with them Mrs. Nordman's granddaughter, Lisa Nordman and a friend Laurie Harlaa.

Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Woody of Philomath, Oregon visited on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Cooper called on Mr. and Mrs. L.R. Eaton Monday on their way home to Everett. They had visited Fred Townsend for several days last week, then came over to visit Mr. and Mrs. Martin Himmel in Forks. They planned to stop in Port Angeles to visit Mr. and Mrs. Charles Clauen and Mrs. Belle McDaniels (Mr. Townsend's mother), but were not certain they would be able to do so, as Mrs. Cooper had become quite ill.

Miss Wendy Gooding returned to Seattle Tuesday morning after a four-day visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wes Gooding. She is taking nurses'

WEDDING — Mr. and Mrs. Henry Halverson received a wedding picture this week from Boona Ruhs. The newlyweds are taking two months to tour Laos, Malaysia and Indonesia and will head back for India in October. Boona was married June 7 to Herbert Ruhs in New Delhi, India.

ART MUNSON
Arthur Munson is well-known in Clallam County as a long-time resident who has been actively involved in civic and political affairs of this county. He entered the 1970 political campaign when he filed as a candidate for the position of county commissioner from the third district. He runs on the Republican ticket.

Munson served with distinction as a member of the Clallam County School Organization Board, and was a member of the Clallam County School Budget Review Board. The members of the Grange know Art Munson as an active member for the past 22 years. He was elected director and later president of the Grange Livestock Marketing Association and served one year as a member of the Washington State Grange Auditing Committee, and is presently on the State Grange Intersession Livestock Committee. On the local level Munson served as the Master of the Quillayute Valley Grange for eight years and is presently a member and past master of the Forks Prairie Grange.

Presently Munson serves as president of the Board of Supervisors of the Clallam Soil & Water Conservation District and has been a member of the board for eight years. Also, for the past three years he has been a member of the Clallam County Planning Commission. Thus he is very much concerned with the ever increasing problems of zoning and platting in this county. He is, also, president of the West End Pioneer Club, and was a charter member of the Beaver Volunteer Fire Department. But he still likes his music. Art Munson's band and his musical talent which he shares with his family are well known to people who dance. His wife is the former Elizabeth Smith, whose father, with his parents, came to the Quillayute country in 1877. Art and Betty have four children, Art Jr., who was killed while on duty with the Armed Forces in Germany, Mona, now married and living in Roslyn, Wash., Gregory who lives at home, and the youngest, Linda, who is a senior at Western Washington State College and married to Dale Pihlman, a former teacher at Forks.

Art Munson, for whom the representation of Forks and the West End of the county has become a part of his life, believes that the responsibility and work that goes with the position of West End commissioner is a welcome challenge to which he will devote most of his time.

Munson pointed to a major concern of property owners in this county due to the legislative directive that requires a uniform assessment ratio, and the implications of the "Open Space Bill" beginning next year. "I believe my background in land use and my familiarity with assessment procedures can make me of real value to the Commission and the people of Clallam County", Munson said.

By Pastor Wm. E. Cross

What a privilege to be able to stand at Ocean's Edge! One looks upon the great waters of the sea with comforting assurance, a restful spirit and an awesome fear!!! Its beauty is admired and its strength is feared. Yet there are multitudes who play in its surf, walk its beaches and gleam from it all that it offers in edible products, but never stop for a moment to admire its grandeur. They just take it for granted.

How many face all of the areas of life in some way! They stand beside it, walk it and draw from it but with an abstract carelessness that is appalling. Consideration is never given as to the real potential of a God-given life. The thought never enters their minds that life has a God-ordained beginning and ending. To watch these individuals one would gather that their philosophy is nothing more or less than a "take it or leave it" attitude. However, our lives are under the control of and are determined by the Infinite God, As He has set a limit upon the sea just so does He determine the affairs of the individual life, with one exception!

Of the Sea He hath said in Jeremiah 5:22: "Fear ye not me? Saith the Lord: will ye not tremble at my presence, which have placed the sand for the bound of the sea by a perpetual decree, that it cannot pass it: and though the waves thereof toss themselves, yet can they not prevail; though they rear, yet can they not pass over it?" Of man He has said: "It is appointed unto man once to die, after that the judgment." God said: "I have set before you the way of life and the way of death; choose ye---". God is as much in central of man as He is the sea. Wouldn't it be far wiser to find out what His plan and purpose for your life is rather than to stand passively by the "ocean's edge"?? Why not come to Church??

OCEAN'S EDGE OCEAN'S EDGE OCEAN'S EDGE

Yesterday I saw the ocean for the first time. Jim and I had been invited to a house party at a cottage on the shore. Having recently moved East from the Midwest, I had anticipated nothing more on the drive down than a week-end of fun and games, swimming and dancing.

But I wasn't prepared for the ocean. Its grandeur and beauty stirred me. Today I walked along the beach for long hours watching the waves or searching the shore for shells, listening to the wonderful roar of the sea as white-caps splashed around me.

Tonight as I stood at ocean's edge, the stars seemed near. Breakers crashing rhythmically sprinkled phosphorescence on the sand. For an instant I was caught within infinity. Sky, beach and tides contained me—in that moment I saw God.

I may never again achieve the clarity of that second on the beach, but someday I may. For this experience has awakened in me a longing to know more about God and the Truths the beauty of His world reveal.

Sunset Highlights

OUTDOOR LORE

By Lonnie Archibald

Sitting here at the alley trying to divide my time writing this article, watching John Nagel bowl, and following "It Takes A Thief" on the boob tube. Plus waiting on customers while Mother keeps score for John. Right now the T.V. has drawn most of my attention. Good program.

Well, its over and the butler didn't do it, so back to my column.

Ed Rondeau won the Summer Singles district at Laurel Lanes last weekend with a 678. Nice shooting. Reta O'Keefe hit a 641 to cop first place in the women's division. Duke had a 630, good enough for fourth place for the men.

Darrell teamed up with Betty Laswell in the Mixed Doubles Tournament at Laurel and their combined score totaled 1280. Betty had a 564 with handicap, and Darrell hit a 257-226-218-701, 716 with handicap. Like money in the bank!

Betty rolled a 111 triplicate in open play last week and daughter, Norita, rolled a 65 game.

George Richardson walked off with first place in No-Tap play last Friday, Duke Streeter place second, and Bernice Richardson nine-pinned her way into a third place finish. Don't spend it all in one place!

Vern Rondeau missed the TV shot at Monte Carlo Saturday nite, but Duke didn't miss the Jackpot, walked in fresh off the street and collected all the loot with the first ball he threw. Think I ruined his whole evening tho, as he had to pay me four-bits in our little side pot.

Took Mother out to celebrate and we sure had a ball. On 50¢?
