CITY'S GUESTS ENJOY DAY OF UNALLOYED PLEASURE

CRESCENT EXCURSION UNIQUE

Over two hundred people, guests of the City of Port Angeles and citizens who were assisting in their entertainment, enjoyed the hospitality of the Lake Crescent folks last Saturday on the most novel and perhaps the most thoroughly enjoyable excursion of any ever given in the state.

At eleven o'clock, the closing hour of the dual conventions, forty private cars were lined up along First street, to be soon filled and off for the lake. The roadbed, as a result of recent showers, was excellent and the hour's ride delightful. The day was simply perfect, not a cloud in the sky, yet not too warm for comfort. Reaching Lake Crescent, the entire party boarded the ferry Storm King and all were soon enjoying a delicious luncheon served by the proprietors of the lake resorts.

After arriving at Fairholm, the upper end of the lake, and leaving a small party, which included the political contingent, who were bound on a trip to the hot springs, the ferry called at Qui Si Sana, Dr. Dechmann's home and sanitarium. Many were the expressions of surprise as the visitors ascended the terraced grounds above the lake shore to find such a beautiful spot in primeval surroundings. The graveled paths, bordered with thousands of thrifty rose bushes in full bloom, wound upward between fruit trees and flowering shrubs to the close-cropped lawn studded with tiny trimmed evergreens, where, at the door of the rustic pavilion, Dr. Dechmann waited to receive his guests and request them to partake of the bounteous luncheon which was temptingly arranged on three tables, nearly filling the large room. Neither money nor time had been spared in the decorations and preparation of the lunch, which had never been excelled by anything seen in this county, unless, perhaps, it might have been at the opening festivities of the same institution. After refreshments a few moments were given over to a stroll about the grounds inspecting the beautiful fountain with its allegorical statuary, the bath house and lodges, after which, with many a rousing cheer for the Doctor and his good wife, both of whom came down to the pier, and for their generous entertainment, the Storm King left for Ovington's.

Here a really delightful bit of byplay was provided in the landing of a ten pound Beardslee trout which nearly bent the rod double while the water was churned to foam by the enthusiastic use of a large landing net. Cheers and screams from the young lady guests, who had gathered on the porch above to assist in the illusion, added the proper touch of excitement, which was only allayed when the fish was landed, to lie as still as a smoked herring, on the wharf. Punch and home-made wafers were served while the guests were entertained with music and dancing. Again was an enthusiastic round of cheers given, for the "judy who served the punch," the host, and the young ladies at Beardslee Bay.

Other stops were made at Lake Crescent Tavern, the new resort upon which Mr. Singer has spent some $50,000, and at Mitchell & Christopher's "Crescent Hotel," at Piedmont, where the famous garden interested all. Nor was Mrs. Littleton's "Rosemary" forgotten, three rousing cheers being given in passing for the lady and girls who had done so much toward the pleasure of the guests.

It was a tired and happy crowd that left East Beach Hotel at a quarter of seven, all feeling that they had had sufficient for one day, but making a promise unto themselves that they would come again.

BALL AND BUFFET SUPPER

Fully five hundred people were in attendance at the ball given at the Olympic Hotel Friday night, when the Commercial Club, represented by several young ladies as hostesses, held open house for guests and citizens alike. The dancing, to music furnished by a splendid orchestra, was interspersed with addresses by Governor Lister, Senator Poindexter and Congressmen Johnson and Hadley. The hostesses were the Misses Irma Lindsay, Nell Mason, Laura Hopkins, Cecil Smith, Frances Hoare, Helen Hooker, Mae Webster, Leah Babcock, Margaret Delabarre, Verna Wolverton and Vivian Stoval. The little Misses Josephine and Helen Tucker acted as ushers and later presided at the punch booth.

MARINE BAND CONCERT

One of the most impressive and delightful entertainments of the week was the admirable concert contributed by the Port Angeles Marine Band, assisted by Miss Sadie Robertson, who sang two inspiring soprano solos, with accompaniment by the band. The halls, rotunda, and court room were lavishly decorated with flowers by Mrs. E. E. Hopkins and assistants of the Ladies' Auxiliary, and several hundred people called during the evening to welcome the members of the Press and Treasurers' Associations and their wives and hear the address of welcome and responses by Mayor White, Ben Spear and Calvin S. Carr.

Special entertainment was furnished the visiting ladies in the form of

COUNTY TREASURERS WOULD ABOLISH THE 3 PER CENT REBATE

The abolishment of the 3 per cent rebate tax was doubtless the most important matter considered by the county treasurers when assembled in convention at Port Angeles last week, a resolution being finally adopted favoring the abolishment of the rebate. The treasurers would have the first half payable by March 15th and the last half by October 15th, with June 1st as the date of delinquency of the last half if not paid before October 15th. Interest to date from June 1st.

Chairman Al. Helander, in a legislative report covering all legislation passed or turned down by the last legislature, gave C. L. Babcock, representative from Clallam, credit for most of the good work accomplished.

During the three days the treasurers were in session, addresses were given and discussions had on every phase of the work, those on the new laws, particularly regarding the collection of personal property taxes, being especially interesting. Talks were also made by Governor Lister, Secretary of State Howell, Land Commissioner Savidge, Deputy State Treasurer Sherman, and by Senator Poindexter and Congressman Hadley and Johnson.

J. G. Glazebrook of Pacific county was elected president; Maud Gilmore of Kittitas vice-president, and Herbert H. Wood of Clallam secretary-treasurer. South Bend was selected as the place of the 1916 meeting, invitation having been received from the Commercial Club of that city.

E. S. Stewart and Ralph Lewis, deputy treasurers of Clallam county, and W. W. Sherman, deputy state treasurer, were elected to honorary membership.

The association adopted resolutions thanking "the mayor, commercial club and business men of Port Angeles for the magnificent hospitality with which they greeted us and for the many entertainments provided, also to the Marine Band for the splendid music furnished at our entertainments, and last, but by no means least, for the very charming manner in which the ladies of Port Angeles have entertained the ladies of our convention. We leave the fair city of Port Angeles feeling that nothing has been left undone which could have added in the least to our pleasure." Thanks were also extend-

DR. SUZZALLO'S LECTURE A MASTERPIECE OF LUCID REASONING

It was nearly 10 o'clock on Saturday evening when Vice-President W. B. Jessup of the Press Association opened the meeting in the auditorium of the High School building and introduced Dr. Henry Suzzallo, president of the University of Washington, to an audience that left about half the available seats unoccupied. Owing to the deplorable episode of the lingering launch on Lake Crescent, it was eight instead of six-thirty when Dr. Suzzallo and the University party reached the city, and the admirable program of the Alumni banquet at the Olympic hotel had to be cut down to the irreducible minimum in order to give the distinguished guest any time at all for the public gathering at the High school.

Those who attended the meeting at the High School auditorium, however, were favored with a rare opportunity to appreciate the superb quality and depth of Dr. Suzzallo's mental power, for his forty-minute lecture on "The Press in Relation to Education" was indeed a masterpiece of lucid reasoning and faultless expression.

Dr. Suzzallo, without in any way referring to the present calamity of war, ingeniously and impressively exposed the futility of physical force and the superiority of education and mental control to win the enduring victories of the world. He typified force and coercion as the policeman, and education and mental control as the school teacher and editor. The need and potency of the former diminishes as the people progress from primitive ignorance and error, and the power of the latter increases as the people, through precept and discussion, initiated by the free school and free press, respond to an awakening knowledge of rectitude and justice, which is the heritage of all mankind.

His comprehensive illustrations of the progressive and uplifting power of public assemblage, free discussion and the contending press were examples of lucid eloquence of the highest order.

EXCEPTIONALLY LARGE ATTENDANCE AT PRESS CONVENTION

MANY PLEASING FEATURES

The exceptionally large attendance, both of newspapermen and of prominent officials of the state, coupled with unstinted praise of their hosts as "a people who know how to do things and do them right," marked the twenty-ninth as the most successful session of the state's newspapermen thus far held.

The regular features provided in the program were interspersed, quite happily, with brief talks by Governor Lister, Senator Poindexter, Representatives Hadley and Johnson, Dr. Suzzallo, Secretary of State Howell, Land Commissioner Savidge, Editors Scott C. Bone of the P.-I., James A. Wood of the Seattle Town Crier, and J. C. Reed of the Seattle Sun.

In the program, as published last week, there were three or four addresses which proved of especial interest. Of these, that of Prof. Frank G. Kane of the University's School of Journalism, easily took the lead, everyone present listening with the closest attention as he told of the training they are giving a number of the brightest boys and girls in the school, fitting them to take up the newspaper business as their life's work.

Major H. W. Patton of the Washingtonian, Hoquiam, one of the leading daily newspapers of the state, talked on the "Benefits of the State Press Association," keeping his audience in a continual roar of laughter, and Fred W. Kennedy, manager of the University Print Shop, in his address, "The Business Policy that Pays," started a discussion that will give the newspaper publishers food for thought for some little time. The Annual Historical Report by F. A. Hazeltine of the South Bend Journal was exceedingly complete, covering the activities of practically every newspaper in the state for the past year.

Hon. James W Higgins, British Consul at Port Angeles, told of his experiences as a pioneer in the newspaper field of the Coast,, he having been one of four young men who established the San Francisco Call, and later publisher of the Victoria Colonist. Mr. Higgins' first trip to the Sound was made when Seattle was merely a collection of shanties and Tacoma so small that the local steamers only stopped upon signal. At the conclusion of his interesting talk he was extended the thanks of the association and made an honorary life member.

At the business meeting Saturday morning, Major H. W. Patton, editor of the Washingtonian at Hoquiam and humorist of the association, was elected president; W. B. Jessup of the Bremerton Searchlight was reelected first vice-president; J. C. Kaynor, Ellensburg Record, second vice-president; Louis Jacobin, Concrete Enterprise, secretary and treasurer; Fred Ornes, Mt. Vernon Argus, historian; Calvin Goss of North Bend, the poet; and Scott C. Bone, editor of the P.I., orator. Ellensburg was chosen as the place of meeting next year.

A pleasing feature of the closing session was the visit of the Treasurers and their wives, and an address by their president, Calvin S. Carr.

Dr. Suzzallo, who had arrived that morning, was called upon, just before adjournment, for a few words. He stated that he was endeavoring to ascertain what the people wished him to do at the university, and that he was pleased to here meet the "eyes, ears and voice of the body politic."

"The newspapers tell us what we ought to do and money tells us if we can do it," he said. "There has been a great deal of talk about economy here as elsewhere in the country. As a people I do not believe we should give up our high standard of living. We are not going to reduce taxes much in the next few years. However, there is a convincing proof that we shall demand a better and wiser expenditure of public money."

40 AUTOS CONTRIBUTED BY ANGELES CITIZENS

The following are the public spirited citizens whose assistance, not only in the loan of their cars but in giving a full day of their own time as well, made possible the entertainment of the city's guests at Lake Crescent: Fred C. Farmer, T. T. Aldwell, J. C. Hansen, J. M. Davis, H. B. Simmerman, E. J. Maynard, Thos. Geisness, J. W. Lindsay, W. B. Ritchie, A. I. Filion, F. L. Thompson, G. W. Jeffrey, G. M. Lauridsen, R. D. McLaughlin, D. H. Fry, C. L. Babcock, Dr. D. E. McGillivray, W. S. Brewster, J. W. Hooker, Dr. D. H. Craig, J. M. Kanall, Peter Grubb, Guy Dann, Ray Best, A. J. Singer, E. J. Walton, J. O. Morse, H. C. Bishop, McMann Bros., J. W. Pike, C. E. Fulmer, Aug. Swanson, F. C. Pratt, H. J. Erickson, E. D. Short, Willis Chambers, R. W. Remp, F. P. Fisher, C. C. Donovan, Robt. Paulhamus.

AUTOMOBILES OWNERS TO MEET

All automobile owners residing in Clallam county are requested to attend a meeting to be held in the rooms of the Port Angeles Commercial club next Wednesday evening, August 4, at 8 o'clock, for the purpose of forming an automobile club and foster the interests of all motorists. The need of such an organization here has long been felt by owners of cars in this district, as well as by automobile clubs and associations in other parts of the state, and this demand is emphasized by the recent enormous increase of automobile touring over the Olympic Highway and the Georgian Circuit.

BIG EAST END IMPROVEMENT GOES TO DEL GUZZO & COIT

$95,805.45 THE CONTRACT PRICE

There was another record crowd and a full attendance of the councilmen and city officers at Tuesday night's council session. The attractions of the evening were the letting of the contract for the big east end improvement and the local labor problem, with a little expectation of sensational developments because of the talk occasioned through the presence of state experts going over the city books unexpectedly. In the latter there was nothing doing as far as that session of the council was concerned.

Upon motion of Mr. Brennan the big east end improvement was let to "the lowest bidder," whoever that happens to be. The bids read as follows: Bids of C. A. Cotton and Anderson & Dicken were ruled out for lack of check.

Mr. Filion sought to have incorporated in any future contract the employment of local labor, and City Attorney Smith sending for a copy of a contract, showed that the provision is in all contracts, in the following language, "Except in case of extraordinary emergency $2.50 shall be the minimum wage paid for any work done under this contract, and all local labor shall be employed in preference to imported labor, where the same efficiency can be had."

Then came Mr. Jensen's inquiry: "Why is it that a contract is let for a sewer to be built down the center of Francis street, and the work is done on the east side for several hundred dollars less, and why is 8-in pipe laid where the contract calls for 12-inch? Also do the people on the west side of Francis street have to pay the additional cost of connecting with the east side?"

Engineer Filion was called in to answer: "The bid, he said, was on the unit basis, hence if less depth of trench is dug less is paid and the district gets the benefit. The change was made to keep from digging up the hard surface in the center of the street, it also saves two feet depth of trench. The change of piping is also a saving, only 8-in being paid for. In order to accommodate a low spot at Georgiana street greater fall was obtained, hence the larger pipe not needed. As to the west side owners there will be a few feet difference in favor of the east side where the district does not take in both sides."

Chas. Johnson granted permit for building, 20x27, on lot 11, block 86, to cost $400.

L. W. Thompson granted permit to build at 11th and Lincoln, 24x32, to cost $800.

C. C. Henry was given permit to build on Second between Peabody and Vine, one story, 23x32, cost $950.

John Bell was allowed to make repairs to his building on lot 8, tideeast, to amount of $40.

Consideration of spit road assessment plan and hearing on Resolution laid over for one week.

Fire Chief Dilling reported recommending that moss be cleared from roofs in business district, and that pipe through roof of Holly Candy Kitchen be removed. Referred.

Mrs. Geo. Smith of Cherry, between 7th and 8th, wanted alley opened so she can get to her lots. Referred.

COMMERCIAL CLUB MONTHLY MEETING

The regular monthly meeting of the Port Angeles Commercial Club will be held in the club rooms next Monday evening, August 2nd, 8 o'clock. The officers and directors hope to see quite a general attendance of all members at that time, as there are many matters of vital interest to the city and county that should be profitably discussed and considered.

STIMULATING TOURIST TRAFFIC

The Crescent Transportation Co. was one of the chief contributors of automobile service for the entertainment of the editors and county treasurers of the state last week. Manager Ward D. McMahan cheerfully transported dishes and lunch material to and from Lake Crescent and also provided one of the big red Stanley steamers for the Saturday excursion, carrying a dozen persons both ways, all without charge to the committee in charge. That is the only spirit which made it possible to put Port Angeles on the map as the best little entertainer in the Evergreen state, and on this occasion it served to give the city thousands of dollars worth of the best kind of advertising that will bring results for years to come.

SEATTLE AUTO CLUB TO DEDICATE GEORGIAN CIRCUIT AUGUST 14TH

Saturday, August 14th, has been set as the date of the formal opening of the Georgian Circuit which will be carried forward coincidently with the annual club run of the Automobile Club of Seattle, and participated in by the Victoria and Island Development League.

Frank M. Fretwell, secretary of the Automobile Club, who was in Angeles last week, has undertaken largely to initiate the arrangements and lead in consummation of the dedication. Invitations will be sent out by the Seattle club and it is expected that several hundred autoists will be present.

NEW AUTO REPAIR AND SERVICE SHOP STARTED

The Port Angeles Auto Service Shop, a new auto repair garage located at the corner of Laurel and Railroad avenue, is exceptionally well equipped to do first class auto repair work. Mr. Con Buchet, manager, is elated over the success of the first month's business. He and his two partners, Vern Menary and Chas. Buchet, personally handle all work. They intend in the near future to locate in a more substantial home and still further improve their equipment. Read their advertisement in this issue.

BUYING MACHINERY FOR NEW STEAM LAUNDRY

C. E. Gordin and Fred Lease, of the Metropolitan Laundry Co., recently incorporated, went up to Seattle yesterday to select machinery and other equipment for their new building on Fourth, between Laurel and Lincoln, where they expect to open, about the 20th of August, a modern steam laundry.

A NEW RACKET STORE

A new 5, 10 and 15 cent store is to be opened in one of the Laurel street rooms of the Warren Morse building early in September, C. M. Hazlett of De Fuca being the proprietor.

Washington and Oregon stand today on the eve of the greatest era of prosperity they have ever seen.

It may be two or three years before these changed conditions reach us but come they will just as sure as the rising of the sun.

When they do come these two states want to be ready to throw wide the door of industrial opportunity and invite the world here to develop our untold resources.

We must be ready to do more than merely invite, we must be ready to show the world that we are through the experimental stage and are ready to offer investors protection in the way of sane legislation, low taxes and freedom from unnecessary regulation of private business.

This program is worthy of the support of every commercial organization, laborer and business man in the two states and we should all go about it just as systematically as we would the establishment of a new business, for a program like this will mean more business for all of us.

Since the beginning of the present year, the number of permits which have been issued by state fire warden E. W. Ferris, totals 1,464, according to figures issued by his department. The figures also show that the Washington Fire Association has issued 1,027 and the United States Forestry has issued 10, making the total 2,501 thus far. In 1914 the total number of permits issued was 2,833, or 332 more than have been issued this year. The number of acres to be burned over under the permits issued this year however, is 3,301 acres more than were burned over last year. In 1914 the acreage burned over was only 25,857 as against 29,158 acres this year. The state fire warden issued 38 permits in Clallam county for the burning over of 411 acres of land, while 13 permits were issued by the Washington Association for burning over of 3 acres of land.

From the sale of uplands, together with tide and shore lands and the rentals from harbor area leases, the state since January 1st, 1915, has realized the sum of $125,499, and adding to this amount $51,832 the amount received from the sale of timber, the grand total is $175,332, as is shown by figures given out by the state land commissioner, Clarke V. Savidge. The sales of state lands took place in twenty-eight different counties of the state. The largest amount was realized from the sale of uplands which brought in $118,684, while the tide and shore lands brought in $6,400, and harbor area leases amounted to $415.00. From the sale of tide lands in Clallam county the state realized $682.75, while it received from the sale of agricultural lands in this county the sum of $1,800.

Work on the 1,000,000 acre timber cruise of land in the national forest reserves of this state will begin this week, says the P.-I. An early start on this immense undertaking which involves the exchange of scattered school sections lying in the different reserves for a compact tract, was decided at a meeting of state officials with the representative of the forest service Monday afternoon.

The project of cruising this area, the largest which has ever been undertaken by either the federal government or the state, has presented grave difficulties, not the least of which has been the selection of experienced cruisers and compassmen from the more than 400 applicants. At Monday's meeting F. L. Housley of Bellingham and H. C. Whittier of Forks were chosen as the two inspectors; E. B. Clark of Port Angeles was selected as one of the compassmen.

The cruise will require two seasons and will result in an untold enrichment of the school fund, involving, as it does, lands worth more than $15,000,000. Commissioner Savidge says it is the most important matter to be taken up since statehood.

Approximately two thousand people were drowned off a pier in the Chicago river in the heart of the city Saturday when the lake steamship Eastland, ready to start for Michigan City, Indiana, turned on its side and trapped the 2,500 picnicers on board.

One of the greatest marine tragedies in history, it was also one of the most sudden. The ship went clear over on her side in less than three minutes, drowning all except those on the upper deck in a steel trap. The dead were taken out by steel workers, firemen and divers, who burned off the plates as the ship floated on her side and plunged into the hold after the bodies.

Reports from other lake cities say the Eastland was known as a hoodoo ship and had been called topheavy, changing hands because people were afraid of her.

It is not thought there will be any mixup over the matter of the placing of the work of extending the tax rolls in charge of the county auditors of the state instead of in charge of the county assessors, as in the past, if it should be decided that that is the intent of the law passed last winter by the legislature. The tax commission has sent out a letter declaring that the board believes this to be the meaning of the law. Miss Annie Gaston, auditor of Thurston county, declares that if the tax commission's interpretation of the law proves to be correct, she will have the work of extending the tax rolls done by the employes of the county assessor's office, and will simply certify as to the correctness of the work, and she thinks that there need be no difficulty over the matter.

The 1915 legislature made an appropriation of $1,737,900 for the years 1915 and 1916, for state highway purposes, and of this amount $972,900 will be expended this year, according to figures given out by State Highway Commissioner W. R. Roy, who shows that contracts awarded for the present year total that amount. This leaves a balance for next year of $965,00. There are now at work on the roads of the state 860 men and 160 teams, according to the figures.

DID SOME ONE SAY PEACE?

WHERE THE BLAME LIES

"Government inspectors were hastened to Chicago Saturday under the impulse of wired commands from the authorities. Officials were called out of bed to begin an inquiry begun too late. There was a belated indignation rampant in official places, and the arrests were ordered of captain and mate of an overturned steamer which had been overloaded under government supervision. Many arrests have been made of persons connected with the affair, in the hope of finding a "goat."

"The fact that the Eastland overturned when tied to her dock is sufficient proof that she was overloaded or inefficiently managed. Government inspectors who had stood at the gangplanks and counted the babies, women and men as they were bundled aboard, admitted that the vessel was loaded to her full capacity. The inspectors knew, or should have known, that the steamer once before had almost capsized under a heavy load. They knew she was a "cranky" ship, regarded in some official places as dangerous.

"All over the country boats large and small are permitted daily to expose human cargoes to the fancy of the fates. Here on the Sound, where firedrills and rescue drills are as infrequent as criminal inefficiency possibly can contrive, boats large and small go and come, with the smaller ones by far the greatest offenders. A seeming indigency often is the cover for inefficiency, and an excuse for crime in all walks of life.

"We send our loved ones to sea in Titanics, which split the night's blackness in attempts to break speed records; we dispatch wealth, genius and innocents into hell's zone, on Lusitanias laden with dynamite; we jam Slocums with helpless women and children and ship them to sea to be burned through criminal neglect; we joyously overload Eastlands and sink them at the docks.

"Then we piously deplore war, but ship bullets with which to kill men and produce widows and orphans because it is neutral to do so. Our neutrality is appalling. It makes cowards of us; it smothers and destroys humane sentiments. Because we are not directly hurt we let trains go to wreck, hospitals and theaters burn, and calmly assist in organized murder all along the line by permitting an inefficient officialdom to do all our thinking for us, then allow it, as a rule, to select scapegoats for its cowardly self defence."—Tacoma News.

During the last session of Congress, Senator Miles Poindexter secured an appropriation of $7,000 to enable the Department of Agriculture to publish reports and maps of the kelp beds of the Pacific Coast. These reports and maps, which are now available at the Department of Agriculture, show the great extent of the beds and are expected to attract the attention of capital to the great possibilities the Northwest offers along his line.

NAT WON HIS WAGER.

He Proved He Could Make Money Off the Stage as Well as on It.

Sheridan Shook, one of the most celebrated of the New York theater managers of his generation, used to tell with a characteristic chuckle a story illustrating the quick wittedness, the enterprise and the native shrewdness of Nat C. Goodwin.

It was during Goodwin's engagement in "Hobbles," of which he was the life and center. Shook, A. M. Palmer, Edward E. Rice and other theatrical magnates of that well remembered time were sitting near the curb in front of the Union Square theater one afternoon talking shop, when Goodwin, who had been to the funeral of a fellow Thespian, joined the group. He was sad and mad. Being asked the reason why, he explained that the clergyman's eulogy had made an impression on him and that one of the actors in attendance upon the solemn services had persisted in talking shop. The deeper he went into details in his explanation the more disgusted he became with player folk in general and expressed a wish to quit the profession.

"Huh!" snorted Shook, "you couldn't do anything but act."

"Couldn't I?" (This with sure confidence in his versatility.)

"No," Shook persisted, "you couldn't earn your salt in any other way."

After considerable discussion of the matter, with more or less heat on Goodwin's side and exasperating imperturbability on Shook's, the latter bet Godwin a week's salary that he could not make the same amount in the same time by any other means than his regular appearances before the footlights.

Goodwin eagerly took on the wager, with the stipulation that it must be decided in the week next following, and he agreed that he would interrupt his playing in the meantime.

Summoning his Yankee ingenuity to his aid, Goodwin hit upon an idea. He placed an advertisement in a morning newspaper of large circulation:

WANTED.—A companion to accompany a gentleman to Europe; salary no object; good fellowship the only requisite; send stamp for reply.

Before the end of the week Goodwin had received 8,500 replies. Since the postage in those days was 3 cents his revenue from the sale of the stamps exceeded his salary as an actor and thus he was able to claim forfeit from Shook.—Detroit Free Press.

DOINGS OF THE WEEK AT OLYMPIA

Olympia, July 27.—The state highway department now has under construction 217 miles of road, which will cost $900,000. Thirty of the thirty-nine counties have under construction, under the permanent highway act, 207 miles, to cost $1,334,000 according to statistics prepared by Highway Commissioner William R. Roy.

Of the county work under the permanent highway act, 10 miles is work left over from last year, while 197 miles is new work authorized since January 1.

The mileage of new permanent highways by counties, authorized since the first of the year, is as follows:

Adams, 8.5 miles; Benton, 6.9 miles; Chelan, 5 miles; Clallam, 6.1 miles; Clarke, 4 miles; Columbia, 3 miles; Cowlitz, 2.3 miles; Grant, 8.3 miles; Grays Harbor, 4 miles; Island, 1 mile; Jefferson, 1.5 miles; King, 25.8 miles; Kitsap, 2.1 miles; Kittitas, 9.5 miles; Klickitat, 2.2 miles; Lewis, 3.6 miles; Lincoln, 12.5 miles; Okanogan, 4.8 miles; Pacific, 2.5 miles; Pend Oreille, 3.5 miles; Pierce, 6.8 miles; Skagit, 2.3 miles; Skamnnia, 1 mile; Snohomish, 14.3 miles; Spokane, 15.6 miles; Thurston, 3 miles; Walla Walla, 6 miles; Whatcom, 6 miles; Whitman, 11.3 miles; Yakima, 13.7 miles.

Types of surfacing used are:

Gravel, 112.6 miles; macadam, 29.1 miles; asphaltic macadam, 17.8 miles; bitulithic, 1.5 miles; asphalt, 1 mile; concrete, 23.8 miles.

Reports received by the state board of control indicate that Washington wheat growers probably will be called upon to pay increased prices for their grain bags. The estimate of the India jute crop is 7,000,000 to 7,250,000 bales, as compared with 10,531,505 bales last year.

The state has been compelled to pay $24 a bale for the major portion of its jute supply for the penitentiary grain bag mill. The first shipment of the new supply is now on its way to the penitentiary, and as soon as it is received the mill, which has been undergoing its annual overhauling, will be reopened.

The board of control has contracted in all for 4,000 bales of jute. Three thousand bales is an ordinary years' supply for the mill. Although the price paid for jute purchased some months ago was above the ordinary, on account of the rising market it is anticipated that this year the state will be able to manufacture sacks at a price well below the market. The sacks will be placed in the hands of farmers practically at cost.

Manufacturing concerns which own docking facilities, used exclusively for their own business, cannot obtain the status of public docks and enjoy their privileges merely by filing traiffs, the public service commission has ruled. In a letter sent by the commission to all railroads, it is intimated that the practice of the carriers in absorbing docking charges for such concerns in making through rates, may be construed a violation of the anti-rebating section.

In response to the call of June 23, the 274 state banks and eight trust companies show combined resources aggregating $130,924,011.17. Deposits, totalling $90,915,258.11, are more than $4,000,000 less than were shown in the corresponding call of a year ago, suggesting that depositors are, with returning business confidence, finding better investments for their money.

Instead of giving foreign labor false encouragement to come to the state of Washington, prospective immigrants should be told that there is a surplus of labor in the manufacturing industry and that conditions of employment are likely to be made worse by encouraging immigration of persons of small means, Labor Commissioer E. W. Olson has stated in a letter to Jan Kool, consul for Holland. Mr. Olson decries "plausible literature, designed to attract immigrants to this country, which does not acquaint them with obstacles that are invariably encountered," and states that "until our lands are made available to the people at prices that will permit settlement the condition of unemployment is apt to increase from year to year."

Irregularities in the referendum petitions, as certified by Secretary of State I. M. Howell to county prosecutors, involved only 6 per cent of the signatures on the petitions, a marked improvement as compared with the initiative petitions of last year, and taken to indicate generally that the early irregularities were the result of lack of familiarity with direct legislation methods.

In petitions from eight counties, Asotin, Benton, Columbia, Ferry, Garfield, Island, Jefferson and Skamania, no illegal signatures in any form were found. More than half of all the irregularities were from King county.

There were less than 100 persons who signed their names more than once on the same petition. Approximately 3,000 signatures were not certified as those of registered voters.

New York women suffragists in a letter to Governor Lister ask the executive to make a week's series of speeches in New York state in the "votes for women" campaign, including Buffalo, Rochester, Syracuse, Albany, Brooklyn, and New York City. On account of work at home the governor has been compelled to decline the invitation, but has sent Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt his best wishes for the success of the movement, stating:

"In Washington, where we have had woman suffrage for a number of years, there appears to be no sentiment whatever against it and I am sure that if a vote were taken on the question again the male voters would go on record more strongly in its favor than when the last vote was taken."

Since the first minimum wage orders became effective last summer, 31 violations have been found by the industrial welfare commission. In all cases the employers were required to recompense girls in their employment for the amounts that their wages were reduced below the established minimum. Sixty-three girls thus received amounts ranging from $1.25 to $165. In only four cases to date have prosecutions been brought.

Eighty-six men, 35 county wardens and 51 federal patrolmen, a larger force than has been employed in any previous summer, is at work in the woods this year, under State Forester E. W. Ferris, as a protective force to guard against forest fires.

Governor Lister, as commander-in-chief of the National Guard of Washington, officially reviewed the citizen soldiers of the state last week, the coast artillery at Fort Worden and the mobile branches at the American Lake camp.

WORKMAN LOSES FOUR FINGERS AT BIG MILL

Mr. J. J. Bailey, working in the resaw department of Earles' mill, met with a painful accident on Monday morning. He lost his balance and was thrown into the gearing of the machinery. The ends of four fingers of the left hand were cut off and the flesh was torn from the arm and from the shoulder to the elbow and which required stitches to be put in place. The patient was taken to the Taylor hospital but later returned to his home on 5th and D streets..

SCANDINAVIAN'S ANNUAL PICNIC

The Scandinavian picnic, held Sunday afternoon on the greensward in a little grove at the mouth of Ennis creek, was well attended by a jolly party of folks bound on having a good time. While there were not as many Norwegians, Swedes and Danes present as are generally presumed to be residents of Port Angeles, there were others, bearing good old German, Irish and English names, whose fathers, at least, could not have been Scandinavians, to more than make up the deficiency.

The day's program was opened by Chairman Lauridsen, who introduced Fred Ornes of Mt. Vernon, a newspaperman here in attendance at the convention, as the first speaker. Mr. Ores has a happy faculty of expression and an infectious smile, at once interesting and holding the attention of the audience, which had been scattered over the grounds, but as the point of several of his jokes was given in Norwegian or some other language equally unintelligible to us, our early education in that respect having been sadly neglected, we were deprived of the pleasure of joining in the general laughter. As Mr. Ornes admitted that he liked to talk a "pure language" and so seldom used Norwegian, we have a suspicion it was his brogue rather than his stories that brought down the house.

Mr. Lauridsen having to accompany his guest to the steamer, Mr. Christensen assumed the chairmanship, in order, as he subsequently stated, that he might be the only one in the crowd not called upon to make a speech, and introduced Mayor White, who spoke of the Scandinavian's love of nature, evidenced by the outdoor feature of their annual gathering. Prof. Geisness, Mr. Seevers, Capt. Nelson and Mr. Goodbrand were also called upon and entertained with brief talks, all very pleasing. Mr. Geisness paid a high compliment to the Scandinavian character, in which honesty, sobriety and industry are leading features; he said the Scandinavians had never been impressed into slavery and that when conquered they preferred to leave their native land and settle in other and newer countries than continue to be subjects of another power, citing the settlement of Iceland, from which country Mr. Goodbrand came, as a case in point, and stating that the royalty of England today traces back to the old Viking blood.

Officers elected were J. P. Christensen, president; G. E. Norman, vice-president; F. E. Ullstrom, secretary and treasurer; G. M. Lauridsen, Edw. Christopherson and B. Goodbrand, executive board.

CANNOT BE TAXED UNTIL TITLE PASSES

The supreme court decided, Saturday, that Port Angeles lots, sold by the government under the stipulation that in addition to the cash payment of purchase price, improvements to the value of $300 must be made before title passes to the purchaser, cannot be taxed until this requirement is met; the case was that of Edward S. Wildy vs. C. C. and Mattie Henry.

OUR COUNTY CORRESPONDENTS

DE FUCA

De Fuca has been renamed by the railroad. In the future it will be known as Agnew's Crossing.

Mrs. Solf and two children spent a few days with her sister Mrs. Heuhslein.

Mrs. Aldrich has been staying at Fernwood for a few days. She left again Wednesday for her home in Tacoma.

The railroad camp is moving to Sequim. Mr. Agnew's place will look rather deserted as there have been quite a few tents there lately.

Twelve men from the railroad will be boarding at Heuhslein's for a while.

Mr. Hazlett is spending most of his time in Angeles where he will start up a store in the near future.

The Sunday School attendance last Sunday was twenty-one.

Mr. Richards lost his horse Harry, "the Old Faithful." He has been doing service in Clallam county for over thirty years. The horse was over thirty years old, had never worn shoes and had not a single blemish on him when he died.

Mrs. F. P. Laurens, two children, Etta and Marie have been sick for quite a while but the● are improving.

BLUE MOUNTAIN

At last haying weather is here and those that waited have the crop under shelter without a raindrop touching it.

Messrs. Kale and Forrest returned last Saturday from Mr. Agnew's, where they had put up 40 tons of hay; it being good haying weather down there and raining every day up here.

Mr. and Mrs. Littlefield were out last Thursday to pay their respects to little Miss Lewis.

July 15, Miss Marie Broughton entertained a few friends at a birthday dinner.

Miss Reba Bush and Mrs. Joslin and children spent Sunday with the latter's sister, Mrs. Henry Maybee. It was the first time little Kenneth has been over since his serious illness.

A. B. Cameron visited the upper farm this week.

Jeanette Broughton came out Thursday for a few days with her parents.

Earl Gasser returned home Thursday from an extended visit in the country. Earl likes the farm but he cannot remain away from home folks very long.

Mrs. Stewart came out home Thursday to see parents and little daughter.

The Needle Craft met last week Thursday with Mrs. Mary King, plying their needles at a guild.

August 20, the Needle Craft will entertain their husbands and friends. They will have a program and refreshments.

How is this for a record—Geo. King has a cow that had four calves within fourteen months.

Mr. King found the cow with one calf by her side in the pasture. He put the calf in the barn. The old cow came to the barn every evening for two days; then on going after her George found her with the twin calf. Both are fine large calves.

Julia Broughton spent two days this week with Lost Mountain friends

Henry Maybee has gone to Lost Mountain to do the haying on the old Machenheimer place and to assist Bert Josline get his hay in the barn.

LINCOLN HEIGHTS

The paper was a little ahead of time last week and the itemizer rather slow, consequently they missed connections and some of following items will be a little old to some, while others are dropped entirely.

Twenty of Glen Fleming's friends by coming Monday evening, July 19, to assist him in celebrating the fourteenth anniversary of his birth, gave him a genuine surprise. They brought with them all things necessary for a fine luncheon and made ice cream in abundance. When not eating, the time was spent in playing games and listening to piano music by Glen's sister, Helen. Then on the twentieth, the real anniversary, his family and grandparents participated with him in a chicken dinner and Glen thinks he fared well.

Speaking of chicken dinners reminds us that such toothsome meals will not be an every week affair in this locality this year. The two legged thieves got away with so many chickens. They are still at it. A box with a hen and a lot of newly hatched chicks disappeared recently and the licensed dogs are making sad inroads on what are left. In view of these conditions is it any wonder that the citizens here are indignant when they look at the streets and vacant lots ornamented. (?) with weeds and dried up pasture which the cows would have trampled down and eaten had they been permitted to wear a collar and run at large. The owners would gladly have paid more than one dollar license to make his cow free, as are the dogs, and she would have returned that and much more to her owner in the shape of wholesome milk and butter. The food she would have consumed would not have made any one the poorer but now it is a menace to the safety of the city. One who has resided here twelve years and never owned a cow, remarked that the cows had never damaged them a penny's worth but the dogs had destroyed over twenty dollars worth of chickens within the last six months.

Mrs. N. L. Harding has been at Mt. Pleasant with the Hall's since her return from the lakes.

A new inmate at the Lee Boyd home recently. His sister, Mrs. Bartholomew is assisting in caring for the newcomer.

Mrs. McLeod, who was so long and severely ill, is again able to attend to the lighter work in their home.

Mr. Headlee s reported as being able to sit up a little.

Vera Bergman came home Sunday morning from her visit to friends in Everett and Seattle, which she enjoyed very much.

Mrs. Whitmore and daughters arrived home Sunday morning after a four weeks' absence berry picking, near Puyallup. They report an enjoyable outing and warm weather. One day it was 90 degrees in the shade. They had water to drink from a well 150 feet deep, consequently cold and good.

Mrs. Hazel Meyers is at home now with her mother and will certainly get well in Angeles.

Mr. Harmon Matthews has sold his shoe repairing outfit to Mr. Hahn, who will carry on the business at the same place.

John Leyh's friends gave him an anniversary surprise Friday evening. No particulars given but venture to say it was a success.

A fire in the woods Monday, came near getting to where Mr. Balcom lives; the family who were burned out three weeks ago.

Mrs. W. L. Smith is enjoying a visit with a sister and niece from Iowa.

Mr. Bailey unfortunately lost two fingers in Earles mill.

REEVETON

Mr. C. C. Donovan made a trip of inspection over the road Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorenzo Brown and son, Cecil, of Shields, N. D., left for their home in the East last Monday, after spending a pleasant vacation with Mr. and Mrs. Earle Pollock. Mr. and Mrs. Brown are teachers in the Indian service at Shields.

Mr. Chas. Agnew says he is getting thin; we can't understand that. Maybe he is working too hard.

Mr. Ewen MacLeod and family of Lytton, B. C., are spending their vacation at the home of Mrs. J. A. Reeve.

MT. PLEASANT

Mr. and Mrs. Camp are rejoicing over the arrival of a dear little baby girl at their home Sunday morning, July 25.

Mrs. Alice Goodenough and daughter of Seattle arrived Thursday at the home of her brother, Milford Eacrett, to visit.

Mrs. Joe Hagan and daughter of Angeles arrived Wednesday to visit a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Harrington.

Mr. Myron Bosse, who was assisting Mr. Lee in the hayfield, left for his home in Angeles Friday.

Mr. Anderson of Angeles was a Mt. Pleasant visitod Friday, taking some horses to the Lucas ranch to pasture.

Mr. Wm. Rex, the Grand Union tea man, was a visitor to this vicinity Friday and Saturday.

Miss Nadine Watts visited in Angeles from Saturday to Tuesday with her cousin, Helen McLeod.

Mr. Bodley of Everett, formerly of Mt. Pleasant, was calling on his old neighbors in this part of the country Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hall and babies and niece were visiting at the home of A. H. Hall Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Kepler and daughter Clara of Angeles arrived Monday to visit with her daughter, Mrs. A. L. Byers.

Mr. and Mrs. Graves and Mr. Broulette were fishing out this way Saturday and Sunday

Mr. Hall, who has been in Seattle several weeks assisting his brother-in-law to build a house, returned home Sunday.

Sunday visitors to Mt. Pleasant were Mr. and Mrs. Sweet, Oscar Morse, John McLeod, Mr. Burroughs and party.

Miss Ada Stevens, who was visiting in Angeles a few days, returned Saturday, accompanied by her cousin, Miss Grace Draper of Seattle, who will visit with relatives in this vicinity.

Perry Harrington is the possessor of an auto which he brought home Monday of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Clegg and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dilling and children of Angeles were visitors at the home of George Dilling Sunday.

The men at some of the Port Crescent logging camps are in great need of some one to do their washing and mending.

In honor of her friend, Miss Mary Reese of Seattle, Mrs. Benj. Phillips entertained a number of young ladies at her home Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Harry Ballinger and friend Miss Salverson of Seattle were guests at the E. B. Webster home Wednesday, enroute to the lakes and hot springs.

D. D. Huddleston left Monday afternoon for Butte, Montana, where he will engage in the land business with his former partners, who have recently located there.

Mrs. Oscar L. Peavey of Sand Point, Idaho, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. E. E. Boies for a number of weeks, left on Tuesday's boat for her home.

Complimentary to Miss Reeves, a house guest of Mrs. Benj. Phillips, a number of young people made merry with a beach party Monday evening at Ennis Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hatch and children of Everett, were here this week, touring the Olympic Highway. Mr. Hatch was formerly a resident of Port Angeles, a brother of the late Judge Hatch.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hansen had the the pleasure of entertaining Mr. and Mrs. McAllister over Sunday, taking them out to see Lake Crescent; Mr. McAllister filled Rev. Smith's pulpit at the Congregational church.

M. A. Regnier, instructor of manual training, who is spending his vacation in Seattle, looking up new ideas in his line of work, visited in Angeles over Sunday. He will return in a couple of weeks to lay plans for next year's athletic work, of which department he will also have charge.

Mrs. A. D. Wolverton was hostess to the Woman's Literary Club July 9th. Twenty members and four guests were present. The time was spent in summing up the year's work and discussing the work for the coming year, after which a bounteous luncheon was served. All departed with the wish that they might meet more often with Mrs. Wolverton.

Last Sunday afternoon Miss Ida Pearson was married to Mr. John Pederson. The wedding took place at the home of the parents of the bride, living on 10th and Cedar. The immediate relatives and close friends of the family were present. The house was nicely decorated with flowers. A fine luncheon was served after the service. Rev. A. H. Burkholder officiated.

Attorney Harry Ballinger of Seattle, with his son Douglas and friend Joe Lewis, arrived in Angeles Sunday morning and were joined by T. F. Trumbull and son John and Dr. Chas. Trumbull for a ten days' trip up the Elwha. From there Mr. Ballinger and son go to the lakes to meet Mrs. Ballinger and together they go to the Sol Duc for their annual outing.

Mrs. Joseph Dodier, assisted by her daughter Anna, entertained one evening this week in honor of Mrs. Edna Landstrom of Seattle. The evening was very pleasantly spent, music or cards, and other pastimes being greatly enjoyed. Miss Landstrom, a very accomplished musician, rendered several beautiful selections on the piano. Among the guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Storr, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Landstrom, Mrs. Edna Landstrom, Miss Mabel Landstrom of Seattle and Mr. Howard Osier.

Clark Davis, son of Mrs. Annie Davis, suffered a severe accident on Tuesday afternoon while out working with the county surveying crew. He fell from a log, inflicting a deep cut in his left leg from the sharp axe he was carrying at the time. The cords of his leg were all severed and it was feared he would bleed to death before medical aid could be secured. He was brought in on a Milwaukee train and taken to Taylor's Hospital where he is resting comfortably, but it will probably be several weeks before he will be able to be around again. Clark is a graduate of the Angeles High school and has been a student at the University the past two years.

NELLIE T. GASSER HAS PASSED AWAY

Nellie T. Gasser, wife of Daniel Gasser, passed away Wednesday afternoon, July 28th, at the Taylor Hospital, the result of a serious operation she underwent last Saturday. Mrs. Gasser was 39 years of age, having been born in Carver, Minn., in 1876. They had been married 17 years and she was the mother of three children, Evelyn, Earl and Clyde. She was a good and kind mother and always took a great deal of interest in her family and home. Besides her grief stricken husband and children, Mrs. Gasser leaves a sister, Mrs. Foy, and a brother, Charles Busse, to mourn her loss.

Funeral services will be held from the Lutheran church Saturday morning at 10 o'clock and will be attended by the Degree of Honor in a body, who will conduct the burial service at the cemetery. The sympathy of the community goes out to Mr. Gasser and his family in their great sorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. G. V. Smith have had as their guests the past two weeks, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Tomlison of Cedar Rapids, Iowa. Mr. Tomlison is a brother of Mrs. Smith and she left with them on Thursday's boat to accompany them to Iowa for an extended visit. She expects to return home by way of Frisco to visit the exposition.

Last Sunday afternoon Albert V. Rolling and Bessie B. Bright were quietly married at the home of Rev. C. R. Waite, 521 11th street. The happy couple took an afternoon boat for Seattle, but expect to return to Port Angeles soon and will make their home here.

Dr. and Mrs. F. E. Warner are enjoying a visit this week from Mrs. Warner's brother and wife of Seattle, Mr. and Mrs. M. Diffenbacher. They have been entertaining them with fishing and picnic trips and leave today for an auto trip to the ocean, expecting to return Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Thompson and Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Stiles returned today from a week's motoring trip to Montesano and Aberdeen, where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Stiles' eldest son and family.

Asked Too Late.

With the last drop of gasoline gone, Umson found his machine stalled by the roadside, fully six miles from Struthers, at 3 o'clock in the morning. He was overjoyed when he saw, approaching through the darkness, the glimmer of a lighted lantern. A low rumble soon gave evidence that the light was attached to a vehicle of some kind, and soon a wagon drawn by two stout horses hove into sight.

"There's a five spot in it for you if you tow me into town," hailed Umson.

The driver readily consented.

For an hour or more they rode in the approaching dawn.

Just before they reached the village Umson called to the man on the wagon seat:

"Pretty early to be on the road, isn't it?"

"Yes," the driver returned, "but I have to be out early to get all over my route."

While he was handing out the $5 Umson inquired:

"What is your business?"

And he nearly dropped in his tracks when the man replied:

"I peddle gasoline in the village."—Charles A. Leedy in Judge.

Strike Today.

Rise, for the day is passing,
And you lie dreaming on;
The others have buckled their armor
And forth to the fight are gone.
A place in the ranks awaits you,
Each man has some part to play;
The Past and the Future are nothing
In the face of stern Today.

Rise from your dreams of the Future,
Of gaining some hard fought field;
Of storming some airy fortress
Or bidding some giant yield.
Your Future has deeds of glory,
Of honor (God grant it may);
But your arm will never be stronger
Or the need so great as Today.

Rise! If the Past detains you,
Her sunshine and storms forget;
No chains so unworthy to hold you
As those of a vain regret.
Sad or bright, she is lifeless ever;
Cast her phantom arms away,
Nor look back, save to learn the lesson
Of a nobler strike Today.

Rise, for the day is passing;
The sound that you scarcely hear
Is the enemy marching to battle—
Arise, for the foe is here!
Stay not to sharpen your weapons,
Or the hour will strike at last,
When from dreams of a coming battle
You may wake to find it past!

—Adelaide A. Procter.

What the Maid Wanted to Know.

One of our leading actresses was engaging a maid and impressed upon her the necessity of not discussing out of doors what she heard said indoors. "There wasn't a single thing said in this house that wasn't gossiped over by my last maid," added the actress. "Now do you think you can keep your tongue still?" The would be maid was thoughtful for a minute, then piped out, "Please, madam, is there much to conceal?"

One For the Minister.

An old minister in the south side of Glasgow who was noted for his habit of dishing up old sermons again and again was one day advertised to preach in a suburban church at the anniversary service there. An old woman who in days gone by had sat under his ministry, but who had now removed from his neighborhood, determined to go in and hear him preach on this particular occasion. After the close of the service she waited on the clergyman, who greeted her cordially and asked what she thought of his discourse. "Eh, mon," she replied candidly, "it's a lang time sin' I first heard ye preach that yin, sir, and I've heard ye at it a guid wheen o' times sin' syne."

"Aye, Janet," said the minister. "How often do ye think ye've heard it, na?" "Oh, aboot a dizzen o' times, sir," she replied. "An' div ye mind it a'?" said the minister. "Aweel, maybe no' it a', sir." "Weel, I see I'll need to preach it to ye again, Janet," said the minister, and Janet felt that she had been sold for once.

An Achievement.

General Howard Carroll, captain of coastwise transportation industry, as a raconteur is somewhat negligent at times as to the vintage of the yarn spun. At a club gathering recently one of his stories had the good fortune to get a laugh at exactly the right place.

"Bully," said the general. "I thought that yarn would go here. I told it for the first time last night at home, and when I'd got through my daughter looked at me admiringly and said:

"'Why, father, that was a new one!'"—New York Sun.

Too Early.

When Ollie James, the world's largest United States senator, was a youngster down in Kentucky he went one summer to visit some relatives on a farm.

On the morning after his arrival little Ollie was awakened by a rude pounding on the door of one of the boys in the family. It was the father, and he made a remark that startled and totally unnerved Ollie.

"Git up," said the father. "You've overslept yourself. It's almost 4 o'clock."

Ollie coulda't get over that "almost 4 o'clock." That afternoon he made some excuse to return home.—New York Sun.

WAITING AND WATCHING.

The Old Codger Thought He Had Been Baited About Enough.

A taciturn "old codger" down Cape Cod way sat smoking in a doorway under a sign, which read, "Bate For Sale."

A sun browned, bareheaded youngster motored by without perceptibly slackening speed and called out, pointing to the sign, "A-i, bo'sun; a-i!"

The old fellow gave no indication of hearing or seeing. But a few days later the young fellow again raced by. This time the sign read, "Bate For Sail."

"Hey, cap'n," sung out the boy, "swing your a-i for'ard, and"— But the racing motor had flown by.

Once more the sign was changed and now read, "Bait For Sail."

Evidently it had become a point of honor with the young racer to see that the old fisherman's advertisement was at last correct, for soon after he again scorched through the village. One glance he gave, and then—almost reached for the emergency—but not quite.

"Commodore," he yelled above the shriek of his motor, "drop the a-i astern, and"— He was gone.

This time the old fellow did indeed show that he was neither deaf or blind. Rising in wrath, he shook his fist fiercely at the cloud of dust down the road; then, tearing the offending board from its hook, he bore it indoors.

Since then a coarse fishline with an immense fishhook attached hangs from a projecting stick at one side of the door, and fastened in the hook is a particularly large, well scoured, empty clam shell. In the doorway sits a taciturn "old codger" with a wary eye and a menacing look smoking.—Woman's Home Companion.

Do Your Best.

To do anything in this world worth doing we must not stand back shivering and thinking of the cold and danger, but jump in and scramble through as well as we can.—Sydney Smith.

Two Badly Puzzled Ladies.

Vernet, the French painter, was once traveling from Versailles to Paris in the same compartment with two ladies whom he had never seen before, but who were evidently acquainted with him. They examined him very minutely and commented upon him quite freely. The painter was annoyed and determined to put an end to the persecution. As the train passed through the tunnel of St. Cloud the three travelers were wrapped in complete darkness. Vernet raised the back of his hand to his mouth and kissed it twice violently. On emerging from the obscurity he found that the ladies had withdrawn their attention from him and were glaring contemptuously at each other. Presently they arrived at Paris, and Vernet, on leaving them, said, "Ladies, I shall be puzzled all my life by the inquiry, Which of these two ladies was it that kissed me?"

"I SHALL BE PUZZLED ALL MY LIFE."

Language Puzzle.

Foreigners are forever having trouble with the English language. A German recently arrived in this country was in line for a good business deal.

"If the transaction goes through," he was told, "you'll have all kinds of money."

Later he met the friend who made the remark. "Vell," said he, "der thing has fallen through."

"That's too bad," replied the friend.

"Too bad? Und you is sorry I make a pile of money?"

"Oh, it went through all right?" questioned the friend.

"Yah, so I said."

"Well, I'm glad of it. That's different."—New York American.

Jarred Her Veracity.

When the season was almost over a storekeeper in a small southern town put a lot of dollar shirt waists in the window at 75 cents.

"Say, what kind of bizness you call dis?" asked an old colored woman. "Is dat de way you try to make a liar out of yo' customers? After I been tellin' all de cullud folks in de neighborhood dat I paid a dollah for dis shirt waist you come an' spoil my reputation for veracity. Las' time I ever gwine to do bizness here."

For Good Cause.

A man allowed himself to get very much excited about a letter he had written to the editor of a newspaper. He told a friend that he intended to lick the editor.

"Why?"

"Well, the other day I sent him a letter on public affairs, which I signed 'Honestas.'"

"Didn't he print it?"

"Sure he printed it. But what did he do but add an 's' to the signature!"

Fooled Him.

"When I was young in the profession," said a dentist, "I was working in a country place for a few weeks to help a friend. One day a farmer came in—a big, muscular chap, full of blooded bone of the sort whose teeth come like the roots of oak trees.

"As he sat in the chair he asked, 'Will it hurt?'

"Feeling in a rather jocular mood, I answered, 'Well, if it doesn't it shan't cost you anything.' Then I fell to work.

"The tooth came even harder than I expected, so as the man got up from the chair and pulled himself together—he had not uttered a sound—I said, 'Well, did it hurt?'

"'Not a bit,' answered the countryman, and strode out of the office, leaving me minus a fee, completely nonplussed and the laughing stock of my friend and the two or three patrons who sat about the office.

"I have never tried to be funny professionally since," said he meditatively.

A Use For His Voice.

On one occasion while crossing the ocean David Bispham, the famous opera singer, in addition to his contribution to the usual concert program given for the benefit of the sailors' widows and children fund offered to auction a program which had been autographed by all the distinguished people on board. He actually secured $800 for the program, which was added to the receipts from tickets. After it was all over a gentleman approached Mr. Bispham and said, with all due admiration and enthusiasm: "Say, I'm a New York auctioneer, and I want to tell you that was great work you did tonight. Here is my card, and whenever you want to give up singing you just come down to me, and I'll give you $10,000 a year to sell our stuff."

PRINTING
STYLES in job printing have undergone many changes in the past few years. The gaudy type, fancy borders and big ornaments have been replaced with more simple designs. Present-day advertisers realize that the old out-of-date designs have no connection with modern business methods. We are specially equipped to execute simplified designs which attract attention of buyers and reflect the prosperity of the merchant.
All work promptly and carefully attended to.

Resolution No. 38

Be It Resolved by the City Council of the City of Port Angeles:

(1) That it is the intention of the City Council to order the improvement which shall consist of running a lateral sewer in and along the alley running between Blocks 35 and 36 in Norman R. Smith's Subdivision of the Port Angeles Townsite in the State of Washington, from 250 feet west from the west line of Eunice street to connection with the trunk sewer on Francis street in said city; also a lateral sewer to be constructed in and along Caroline street from Eunice street to a connection with the Trunk sewer on Francis street in said City, to accommodate Block 33 in said Subdivision of said townsite, together with the necessary catch basins, man holes, wyes, openings and other necessary appurtenances, to be constructed of first class vitrified salt glazed pipe, or other suitable material and in doing such other work as may be necessary in connection therewith, all in accordance with plans and specifications to be prepared by the City Engineer and to be filed with the City Clerk.

(2) That all persons who may desire to object thereto, are hereby notified to appear and present such objections at a meeting of the City Council to be held in the Council Chamber in the City Hall in the City of Port Angeles, Washington, on the 10th day of August, 1915 at 8 o'clock p. m. of said day, which time and place is hereby fixed for hearing all matters relating to said proposed improvement and all objections thereto and for determining the method of payment for said improvement.

(3) The City Engineer shall submit to the City Council at or prior to said date all data and information required to be submitted, by law.

(4) That the cost and expense of said improvement shall be borne by and assessed against the property liable therefor as provided by law, each sewer above described to be constructed at the cost respectively of the property in each block which is accommodated by such sewers, viz: Block 33 by said sewer on Caroline street and said Blocks 35 and 36 by said sewer to run through the alleys thereof above described and said Blocks constitute the district of said improvement.

Passed by the City Council and signed by the Mayor on this 20th day of July, 1915.

HORACE WHITE,

an automobile ride Thursday afternoon and a reception at the home of Mrs. John Cain Friday afternoon at which Mrs. Cain and the ladies of the executive committee acted as hostesses. The day was perfect, and the guests enjoyed to the fullest the beautiful grounds and the delightful view to be had of the straits. The spacious rooms of the Cain residence were all lavishly decorated with a profusion of beautiful flowers and vines, which presented a most attractive appearance. Assisting in serving the dainty refreshments were the Misses Cora Wolverton, Leah Babcock, Margery Walton, Bernice Campbell, Marcella Schweitzer and Beth Webster.

Vocal music was contributed by Miss Frances Hoare, which was a real treat. Orchestral music by Prof. Theo. Jensen. Mrs. C. P. Brown and Mr Chet Shields—violin, cornet and piano

EXCURSION TO THE MILL

The excursion on the Sol Duc about the harbor and to the Earles mill gave Secretary Teck an opportunity to point out to the visitors the superior advantages of Port Angeles' harbor and the great future before this city when the work of developing the county is well under way. Mr. Teck has spent the past year in acquiring a vast amount of detailed information concerning the resources and industries of the Olympic Peninsula and has all the salient points at his tongue's end, making him a very interesting talker when it comes to boosting this county. Time limitations necessitated a quick trip about the mill but it was sufficient to give all an idea of the magnitude of the plant.

GUTHRIE'S LOGANBERRY PUNCH

The loganberry punch served thruout the evening proved the most delectable treat of the ball and supper at the Olympic Hotel. The booth, adjoining the clerk's desk, was decorated with berry-laden vines cleverly arranged by the pretty girl hostesses, while the punch bowl occupied a depression in the center of a circular disc of ice frozen for the purpose by the Angeles Brewing Company; imbedded in the ice were sprays laden with ripe berries. The punch proved a most delicious and popular drink and was composed exclusively of fresh loganberry juice from E. D. Guthrie's five-acre berry farm, sugar and aerated water, the juice, sugar and water being carbonated in quart and pint bottles ready to serve, by the Gate City Bottling Works. The delicious quality of this refreshing drink was enthusiastically applauded by all the guests, with the result that Mr. Guthrie proposes to co-operate with the bottling works in producing it in commercial quantities.

CONVENTION MANAGEMENT

Those who had charge of affairs and to whom our people are indebted for the perfect manner in which every detail of the three days' program was carried out, are:

Executive Committee: Frank C. Teck, H. Maurice Fisher, G. M. Lauridsen.

Finance Committee: Lewis Levy, Hon. A. A. Smith, Hon. C. L. Babcock

Lake Crescent Committee: Fred C. Farmer, H. M. Fisher, C. L. Babcock.

"Storm King" Buffet Lunch Committee: Mrs. H. L. Mitchell, Mrs. Rose Littleton, Mrs. E. J. Ovington, Mrs. A. J. Singer, Mrs. D. A. Christopher, Mrs. Frank E. Kalloch.

Lake Crescent Auto Committee: D. E. Zent, W. J. Mathewson, W. J. Ware, B. Goodbrand, John C. Hansen, F. L. Plummer, H. B. Zimmerman.

Ladies' Executive Committee: Mrs. E. E. Hopkins, Mrs. A. A. Smith, Mrs. E. B. Webster, Mrs. Alice Boomer, Mrs. C. L. Babcock, Mrs. Herbert Wood, Mrs. J. C. Hansen.

E. J. Walton, besides acting in support of practically all committees, had his automobile at the disposal of prominent guests at all times during the three days, as well as on Sunday and Monday. The cars of Frank L. Pratt, G. M. Lauridsen and C. L. Babcock were also host and committee conveyances at all times.

ed to C. L. Babcock and the county officials for kind and courteous treatment and to the county commissioners for use of the court house; to the press of Port Angeles for the publicity given convention; to the Pioneer for badges and printing proceedings; to Governor Lister and others for addresses given, and to retiring president and secretary for efficient services. The resolutions also expressed sorrow over the death of Treasurer W .H. Britt of Thurston county, and at the absence of a number of county treasurers and honorary members.

SANDSTROM AND STORR

A very pretty wedding took place Wednesday, July 28th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Storr, 614 2nd Avenue West, when their youngest daughter Alberta Edwyna, and Carl V. Landstrom were united in the Holy bonds of wedlock by the Rev. A. H. Burkholder, in the presence of relatives and a few invited friends.

The marriage service took place in the living room under a bower of greenery, intertwined with white and pink buds. The bride looked very sweet in her gown of cream satin and Georgette crepe; she carried a large shower bouquet of bridal roses and buds. She was attended by Miss Mabel Landstrom of Seattle, a sister of the groom. Mr. Howard Osier attended the groom as best man. Little Bertha Dodier, daintly gowned in white, acted as ring bearer, carrying the ring in a large bridal rose.

A dainty luncheon was served in the dining room which was prettily decorated in pale pink flowers and ferns. Mr. and Mrs. Landstrom will make their future home in Seattle, where the young man is engaged in business. The bride, as Miss Storr, was a popular Queen Anne High school girl and will be warmly greeted by her many Seattle friends. Although Miss Storr remained in Port Angeles but a short time, she made many friends, who wish her a long and happy life. The happy couple were the recipients of many beautiful and costly presents.

After a ten-day motor trip to Mt. Rainier and through National Park, Mr. and Mrs. Landstrom will make their future home on Capitol Hill in Seattle where the young man is engaged in business.

C. C. MacNutt certainly surprised all his friends here, who have known him only as a staid business man, by blossoming out this week into a "seasoned yachtsman," a member of the crew of the Genevieve, which is even now on the broad Pacific, racing with the Ortona over the 900-mile course to San Francisco.

The two boats, each manned by six men, left Seattle Wednesday afternoon, there being some three hundred spectators present to bid them godspeed. The run will require seven or eight days and is for a silver trophy offered by San Francisco people.

WEDDING OF TOM THUMB BENEFIT FOR BAND BOYS

The Wedding of Tom Thumb, to be held at the Opera House Tuesday, August 3rd, promised to be one of the leading social events of the season, as relatives from far and near are to be present and all the boats and trains are bringing guests. It will be one of the prettiest weddings ever seen in Port Angeles, and is to be given for the benefit of the Port Angeles Marine Band.

Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Woods announce the wedding of their daughter to Victor Cox (Tom Thumb). Rev. Newell Sprague came all the way across the continent to officiate at his friends' wedding; even the old maid, Miss Margarie Phillips and her black cat promised to attend the wedding and leave her fortune to the happy pair.

Roderick O'Donnell, the old bachlor uncle, insists on bringing his pet dog, and red-haired Wilma Darnell and father Richard Guy are in town visiting friends and waiting to see the happy pair united. Dorothy Shields, Mera Davis, Irene Fisher and little Blanche White will shower the bride and groom with roses and Miss Coffey will bring the ring.

The following are some of the young people who are being entertained by their friends and will be at the wedding: Dick and Helen Anderson, Genevieve and James Coolidge, Helen Frame, Edwin Burroughs, Loretta Smith, Evomie Remp, Russel Bayton, Clyde Kanall, Delmar Jensen, Carl Davidson, Jean Rose, Leah Stiles, James Frederick, Rossie Brown, Buster Brown, Maxine Corbett, Cleo Conners, Nichles Larkins, James Buchet, Erie De Loer, Reggie De Loer, Jess Weed, Edna Fernanda, Merrill Sparkes, Andray Sprague, Alice Caven, The Dobbs family, Mr. and Mrs. Hamblin, Master Cholska.

The Band and Orchestra will furnish music during the evening and a great surprise is in store for every one as the costumes are very pretty and the wedding is really formal.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

In order to accommodate excursionists from Seattle, the steamer Sol Duc will on Sunday, August 1st only, leave Port Angeles at 4 p. m., one hour later than her regular schedule.

Ordinance for special assessment for deficiency for improvement in alleys in Blocks 15 and 16, down town, in amount of $1106, and for $6427.-80 on Railroad Avenue, read twice and referred at Tuesday night's council meeting.

NOTED MENTAL SCIENCE HEALER IN THE CITY

Prof. M. F. Knox, founder and president of the Mental Science College of Bryn Mawr, near Seattle, is in this city for the purpose of delivering a series of free educational lectures on Mental Science subjects. He is the most widely known public lecturer on New Thought lines today in the world and has branch colleges in many of the leading cities of the United States and Canada.

The Mental Science College is incorporated under the laws of the State of Washington. Graduates of the college are licensed by the medical board of examiners to practice mental health in the state. The instruction in the college course aims to fit each man, woman and child to make a success in life. The object of these lectures is to secure teachers and form a branch college in Port Angeles.

Lectures will be given Sunday night, Monday night, Tuesday night and Wednesday afternoon and evening in Lincoln Memorial Hall, just south of the court house. Seats free. The subject for Sunday evening will be "How to Cure Poverty," that for Monday evening, "The Law of Mental Healing or How All Can Be Healthy Without the Use of Poisons."
