PROSPERITY OF HOME PEOPLE SQUARELY UP TO COUNCIL

COMPROMISE MAY BE EFFECTIVE

A full to overflowing house and all members present greeted the Mayor Tuesday night at the council session. Little other than routine work was done, except to thresh out the local labor problem, but this furnished plenty of excitement for a time. A compromise was made wnich promises to work out satisfactory to all.

The issue was raised when the engineer's estimates were read showing a payment due Contractor Cotton on Francis street of $10,350.00. Mr. Filion called upon the engineer for a report as to whether local men had been employed in conformity with terms of contract. Many Italians are employed on this work, several who have been here less than 3 months. Mr. Filion moved that the estimate be not allowed, until the contractor complies with the terms of the contract. First the motion was ruled carried , then upon roll call was declared lost, Fisher, Hooker and Brennand voting no, Wolverton refusing to vote. Mr. Hooker then moved that amount of estimate be allowed, and this was amended at the instance of Mr. Fisher to read with the understanding that hereafter contractors employ local labor, and motion carried, 5 to 2.

The estimate allowed Kuppler & Caven on laterals south of town was allowed in full at $761.45, engineer reporting that local labor was generally employed on this job.

Then came the Mettler & Coit contract for Lincoln street. The engineer did not have his report from the engineer in charge, but he was of the opinion that there was much imported labor on this job and Superintendent Del Guzzo admitted that there were six local men of the 22 employed, alleging, however, that when a white man gets his feet wet he quits. He admitted that many applications were made for work, but on the morning he commenced there were few local men around, "and he had to put others to work." Many others applied later but he had a full crew. Filion renewed his motion in this case, with like result. The estimate was allowed at $2711.12

The hot debate preceding the allowance was ludicrous, but space prevents a more detailed account. City Attorney Smith took a bold stand, and refused to be corrected by popular sentiment, only later to apologize for "losing his head."

Mr. Wolverton then suggested a plan of compromise, somewhat along the lines suggested by Mr. Fleming in a communication to council, namely that a list of all those desiring work be kept. Engineer Filion agreed to handle this list through his office, and a motion by Mr. Wolverton turning the matter over to the engineer with instructions to publish notice to those wanting work to file their names with him, was carried.

Ordinance ordering reassessment of Railroad Avenue, was withdrawn for present.

Mettler & Coit's bond for $14,000 was approved.

Consideration of Ediz Hook road matter was again laid over for two weeks.

After considerable debate between two representatives, transformer contract for year was let to General Electric Co., as against the bid of the Westinghouse Co. at $56.85 each for 5kw. transformers.

Police Justice report for July showed collections of $261.90, of which $220 was for "bail forfeited."

Sexton Johnson at the cemetery earned $40 during July, toward his salary of $75.

Attention being called by Government to permit granted city some years ago for pipe line from Olympic Hot Springs to city throught forest reserve, relinquishment was ordered.

J. M. Cahill was granted a permit to build at a cost of $150, on lot 4, block 290.

J. R. Roddy was given permit to build on 4th, between F and G.

Water company notified city that hydrant had been placed at its service at Third and Albert.

A resolution adopted by the Port Angeles Improvement Company was certified to council and filed. It recites at a meeting of the club held Monday it was the sense and wish of those present that the east end contract be awarded to Del Guzzo and Coit, and that work go forward.

In this connection a couple of letters from Mr. Zindorf was read, alleging that his contract was considerably lower, some $2000 than Coit's, and that he should be awarded the contract. He also advised council that it would be better to go ahead with this work now during times of quietness, despite the bond market, as better results would be had in decreased cost. He agreed to employ all local labor to be had. Filed.

Mr. G. M. Lauridsen addressed a letter to council calling attention to fact that he had advanced money some months ago toward the creating of an assessment district at I street, changed from K against his will, but that no further action had been taken and that it looked as though an outsider's suggestion was being followed against the wishes of resident property owners. Thousands of dollars are and will be spent in improvements in the next year here, but none are so needed or so important as giving the workmen on the hill where scores of families reside, connection with the industrial center on the flat, as far as real benefit to our city is concerned. Filed.

A letter from former Councilman Fleming was read calling attention to fact that he had been instrumental in having local labor clause inserted in contracts. He holds that the city engineer has full power to enforce provision, being the sole judge of quality of work and material, and his interpretation is final and binding. Suggested that he refuse estimate where proper labor not employed. Filed.

After reading and allowing a grist of bills, council adjourned.

AUTOMOBILE CLUB EFFECTS TEMPORARY ORGANIZATION

The Clallam County Automobile Club effected a temporary organization at a meeting held in the Commercial Club room Wednesday evening, with W. B. Ritchie president and Frank C. Teck secretary. It was decided informally to make the membership fee $2.00 and that the money be used to purchase an emblem for each member. A committee of five was appointed to confer with the Commercial Club in connection with making arrangements for the dedication and formal opening of the Georgian Circuit, Saturday, August 14th. The committee consists of Dr. Craig, Donald McInnes, C. L. Babcock, Dr. Walter Taylor and Fred C. Farmer. Fred Farmer was authorized to have signs printed and posted indicating the correct route out of the city to the Lake Crescent road. The Club will meet in the Commercial Club rooms next Monday evening at 8 o'clock to complete its permanent organization.

COUNCILMEN CHARGED WITH CONSPIRING TO DEFRAUD CITY

Warrants were issued Saturday last for John Cain and Councilmen H. M. Fisher, J. W. Hooker and Wm. Brennand, charging conspiracy, "falsely and fraudulently, to cheat and defraud the city of Pt. Angeles, and owners of property, to be assessed in that certain local improvement district, established by Ordinance No. 496 (Francis street sewer district), by causing and procuring to be paid to said defendant John Cain, by divers false and fraudulent pretenses, subtle means, and devices, the sum of $1100...without adequate consideration to said city and district as the said defendants then and there well knew, and with intent then and there and thereby to cheat and defraud said city and said property owners."

The warrants were served Monday and said defendants were released on bail of $1000 each.

In general terms the matter seems to have grown out of a desire oi the part of John Cain to be reimbursed for the old plank sewer constructed by him some years ago for the accommodation of the Olympic Hotel, under pretense of purchasing a sewer right-of-way. Incidentally $300 was paid to Councilman Fisher, $200 of wnich was presumably for the Terminal Land Co. of which he is Secretary-Treasurer.

Chief Jas. F. Leghorn of the State Board of Accountancy, being in the city in attendance at the Treasurers' Convention, the matter out of which culminated the filing of the information by Prosecutor Rose, was called to his attention and a number of witnesses were examined. Mr. Leghorn stated that the money would have to be returned, and if not returned the Attorney-General would take steps to secure its return. The question of prosecution was placed squarely up to the prosecutor.

Mr. Fisher returned the $200 paid to him for the Terminal Land Co., holding the other $100 which he alleges was paid to him on account of a debt due from John Cain. None of the other money has to date been returned.

It is said that legal proceedings will now be instituted to condemn the right of way and fix the compensation. The sewer has been completed in the gulch.

BIG EXCURSION FROM VICTORIA TO GEORGIAN CIRCUIT DEDICATION

Secretary Frank C. Teck of the Commercial Club has been busily engaged this week making arrangements for the entertainment of the Seattle Automobile Club and the Victoria and Island Development Association, whose annual trip this year is to be made over the Olympic Highway. Several hundred auto enthusiasts are expected to be here Saturday, August 14th, to participate in the dedicatory exercises in connection with the formal opening of the Georgian Circuit.

The Victoria and Island Development Association have chartered the "Princess Adelaide," one of the largest C. P. R. boats, and they expect to arrive in Angeles at 3:15 p.m. Saturday and remain until 7:30. The Seattle Automobile Club leave Seattle Friday and will make stops at Townsend and Sequim, Donald McInnes will meet them at the Jefferson county line and his car will act as pilot for the remainder of the trip to this city.

Four-thirty has been set as the hour for the dedicatory services and they will be held at the city ball grounds. High government officials from both British Columbia and our own state are expected to be present and the speaking will take place from an improvised platform at the home plate on the diamond. All citizens of Clallam county are invited to be present.

OREGON NAVAL MILITIA HERE FOR PRACTICE

The U. S. Cruiser Albany, with 117 Oregon Naval Militiamen aboard, steamed into the harbor Thursday morning for target practice until Monday. They will be joined here Sunday by the torpedo boat Fox with the Tacoma Militia.

BEST PUBLICITY INVESTMENT EVER MADE FOR ANGELES

UNSTINTED PRAISE FROM ALL

Never before has the City of Port Angeles—no matter what the investment—received anything like the return in advertising which resulted from the recent entertainment of the State Press Association.

The invitation, extended partly because of a desire to show the newspapermen that we have here a hustling, progressive, growing town — somewhat of a rarity in these days of dull times — but chiefly that we might be enabled to give our guests a good time, has already yielded advertising, worth, had it been possible to have bought advertising of similar quality at any price, fully $1,500.

Every live newspaperman in the western part of the state who could be present was here and each of them has told the story of his visit to Port Angeles, depicting a thriving town of great promise, an ideal environment and a progressive people. He has told of our Olympic Highway, attempted to describe the beauties of Lake Crescent and give an idea of its modern hostelries and unexcelled fishing. And he has closed his account by saying that the hardest part of the trip was that of tearing himself away. Realizing that they have not been reading some town boomer's story, but that their editor has been describing his personal experiences and telling the truth as he saw it, they could hardly help acquiring a desire to visit the "Last Real West" and we may fuly expect that they will do so upon the first opportunity.

We wish space would permit our reprinting all the nice things that have been said about Port Angeles and its people, but anyway we give a few extracts from one or two papers just to show how much they really enjoyed their visit.

PORT ANGELES A GREAT HOST

Live City Makes Most of Opportunity To Exploit Its Wonderful Resources.

(Mount Vernon Herald.)

Port Angeles entertained the Washington State Press Association in royal style Thursday, Friday and Saturday last week. Meeting in the city at the same time was the Washington Association of County Treasurers who also shared generously in the hospitality of the growing little city. Nothing was left undone to make the stay of the visitors as pleasant as possible. There was just one unpleasant feature of the entire convention and that was the leave taking. Nobody wanted to go home.

While Port Angeles has a railroad in course of construction it is not hooked up as yet and it is still necessary to go there by boat, unless one possesses or can borrow a car in which case he can enjoy a delightful trip to the city over the Olympic Highway which starts at Olympia and runs north through some of the most beautiful country in the West. A number of delegates made the trip this way and found the going good.

The first day was taken up with the routine business of the convention. In the evening the editors and treasurers were the guests of the people of Port Angeles at an informal public reception in the beautiful new court house of which the city and county are justly proud. The Port Angeles Marine Band provided a concert which proved to be one of the excellent features of the entire program. This band would do credit to a city much larger than Port Angeles. To the mind of many a country editor the band brought thoughts of struggling organizations of like character at home.

Following the morning business session Friday the delegates were the guests of the Puget Sound Navigation company on the excursion to the Puget Sound Mills & Timber company's plant a short distance from the heart of the city. This is an Earles enterprise and is one of the largest institutions of its kind in the Puget Sound country.

In the afternoon the visiting ladies were entertained at a lawn party at the home of Mrs. John Cain.

In the evening in the great lobby of the new Olympic Hotel under the management of that genial host, Mr. John Cain, a reception and ball was held for the visitors. It was a brilliant affair, the hostesses of the evening being a committee of Port Angeles beauties who, Secretary Frank Teck assured the delegates, were all beauty show prize winners and ranged in age from 22 down. It was a rare night for the editors.

Saturday we visited Lake Crescent, 25 miles from Port Angeles. Arriving there after traveling over one of the finest highways in the state, the delegates were taken aboard the county ferry and started out on a cruise of the lake which is about 10 miles long. On board the ferry the delegates were the guests of the resort keepers and other residents who live at the lake. A bounteous picnic luncheon was spread on long tables and while the ferry, heading down the lake for Fairholm, ploughed through the blue water, the merry-makers supplied the inner man with all the good things possible to conceive of.

Fairholm is the landing where the auto stages from Sol Duc meet the ferry and take passengers destined for the springs, to the end of their journey. It is 14 miles from Fairholm to the springs, although the entire distance from Port Angeles to Sol Duc is made in half a day in the splendid auto stages provided for the trip.

Several delegates left the picnicers at Fairholm and went on to Sol Duc to remain for a few days. The others continued on their way back, the ferry stopping at the principal resorts along the lake. In time Lake Crescent will be far famed for its splendid summer hotels and sani-

JOHN DICKENSON, DUNGENESS PIONEER, HAS PASSED AWAY

First Death During Family's Fifty Years' Residence in County.

At his home in Port Angeles, John Dickenson, one of the early pioneers of Clallam county, passed to the great beyond, Friday evening, July 30th, after being a sufferer for many years from heart trouble.

Mr. Dickenson was born in West Moorland, England, in 1842, and came to Dungeness 45 years ago to join his brother, Jim Dickenson, who had preceded him there five years previous. On account of his health he gave up living on his Dungeness ranch and moved to Angeles three years ago. He was a patient of Dr. Jones of Victoria for many years and tho the Doctor told him his case was incurable he did much to relieve his suffering and prolong his life and always took a personal interest in him.

Mr. Dickenson was a man of a very retiring and reserved nature, but he commanded the love and respect of all who knew him and his character was above reproach. His wife and children were devoted to him and he was tenderly nursed and cared for by them until the last. His stepson, LeRoy Darnell, of Alberta, has been here since Christmas to assist in his care, and he leaves another stepson, Felix Darnell, and also a married stepdaughter besides his own son, Reuben Dickenson.

The funeral services were conducted at the Dungeness church Sunday morning at eleven o'clock by Rev. C. E. Fulmer, and were largely attended by the many old neighbors and friends of deceased who came to pay their last respects to one whose honesty and integrity had never been questioned. The church was beautifully decorated with flowers by the ladies of Dungeness, and the body laid to rest in the Dungeness cemetery.

DOINGS OF THE WEEK AT OLYMPIA

Olympia, August 5.—Title to thousands of pieces of real estate, scattered throughout the state, rests under a cloud as the result of the failure of the administrators and their attorneys to notify the tax commission of the appraisment, as required by law.

In the past no general check of estates has been made to see this provision had met compliance in all cases. The former tax commission established communication with administrators of all estates thought likely to be liable to the inheritance tax, insisting upon appraisments from these.

The present commission is making a careful check of the records of all counties, and is discovering thousands of cases in which it has not received the statutory notification. In such cases, the title of any real estate transferred rests under a cloud, for the state has a perpetual lien upon property for the inheritance tax. The fact that the estate may not have been large enough to be subject to the tax does not relieve the administrator of the duty of making the report.

More than 1,000 estates administered since 1909, upon which no report had been made, were found in King county. The records of Clarke, Pacific, Mason and Whatcom counties, which already have been examined, have shown smaller numbers of delinquencies, but enough to be of importance. Carelessness of lawyers has in almost all instances been the reason for the lack of notification.

Correspondence is being established by the tax commission in regard to all these estates. In the majority of cases it appears that the estates were non-liable, and the legal establishment of this fact will serve in most instances to clear the title of the real estate transferred. A considerable number of cases has been discovered, however, in which an inheritance tax is due the state, and the amounts collected from these estates will far more than cover the expense of the investigation.

"Pure" food, with filthy surroundings, may be worse than adulterated food handled in sanitary manner, Assistant Commissioner J. J. Higgins, in charge of the pure food division of the state department of agriculture, told the national convention of food, drug and dairy officials, at Berkeley, California, this week. Mr. Higgins was in charge of the discussion on "Present Problems."

"The battle for 'pure food' in the sense of unadulterated food, has made gigantic progress in the last 25 years," said Mr. Higgins, "but its coordinate, cleanly or sanitary food, has been sadly neglected. The best and purest products may become so contaminated by filthy surroundings and handling that they are more dangerous than the vilest adulterations that prospered in the balmy days of fraud prior to pure food legislation."

Mr. Higgins also urged uniform action to require manufacturers of canned goods to stamp on the date of packing, to prevent imposition upon retailers and consumers in purchase of deteriorated goods.

Labor Commissioner E. W. Olson, is at San Francisco this week, attending a meeting called by William B. Wilson, secretary of labor, to arrange plans for further federal, state and municipal cooperation in free employment bureau work, of especial interest in this state since private employment bureaus have been abolished.

The experience of the state department of agriculture under the new law allowing state compensation for owners of cattle which are condemned after reacting to the tuberculin test, indicates that the $25,000 appropriation for this purpose, will allow the testing of about 15,000 head of cattle.

Of 1,786 cows thus far tested under the new law, 147 or 8 1-3 per cent have reacted to the test and have been condemned. The average payment of the state has thus been at the rate of $20.23 per head thus far.

The law provides that a cow reacting to the test is first appraised, then slaughtered and the carcass sold, for food, if the disease has not become generalized, otherwise for fertilizer. if there is a local market. The state then recompenses the owner to the difference between the proceeds of the sale and the appraised value, not to exceed $35.

The average value at which reactors have been appraised thus far is $30.67.

Hazzard Stevens, son of Major I. I. Stevens, first Governor of Washington, was the first cattle owner to receive compensation under the new act.

Judge D. F. Wright of the Thurston county superior court has ruled that the prohibition law is valid. Although steps were taken immediately to appeal the case to the supreme court, where it will be heard October 11, the decision was an encouraging one to the "dries." Judge Wright based his decision on the reason that the official proclamation of Governor Lister, declaring the initiative act carried by the voters had the same effect as the signature of the governor on a legislative act, thereby precluding the court from inquiring into possible irregularities in the course of its adoption.

The cost of checking the names on the seven referendum petitions filed against measures passed by the 1915 legislature, as announced by the Secretary of State's office, totals $9,200, and this does not include the incidental expenses and printing which will come later. As the cost of this work is so great, it appears doubtful whether the amount appropriated by the last legislature for referendum and initiative work will be enough, if all of the new laws proposed to be submitted to the voters of the state at the next general election, should be initiated. The legislature appropriated $50,000 for the work.

The public service commission is completing three of the largest valuation projects ever undertaken in this state,—the Puget Sound Traction, Light & Power company properties, the Washington water power properties and the Pacific telephone properties throughout the entire state. At the same time remarkably good progress is being made in the mapping of all grade crossings in the state. A considerable number of these are being eliminated as the work of mapping is progressing, and improvements are being made in practically all cases which will add materially to the safety of the users of both the highways and the railroads.

With the complaints of the ranchers and orchardists of Eastern Washington, that the irrigation companies are not furnishing sufficient water and that their crops will be seriously damaged unless more is supplied, on the one hand and the complaint of the Puget Sound Navigation Company against the Kingston Navigation Company in regard to the cutting of rates, the public service commission is having a busy time of it these days.

This year the high schools of Washington will debate on the subject, "Resolved that the Monroe Doctrine should be continued as a part of the permanent foreign policy of the United States," according to the announcement made by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, Mrs. Josephine Preston. For the purposes of the debate six districts have been created.

Chairman Floyd L. Daggett of the industrial insurance commission is arranging a program for the meeting of the National Association of Industrial Accident Boards and Commissions, to be held in Seattle, September 30 and October 1. Thirty states now have adopted workmen's compensation laws, Washington being the first.

The new hotel and restaurant minimum wage of $9 per week for all adult females (over 18) except waitresses, and $7.50 a week for minors of both sexes, becomes effective August 17, and the industrial welfare commission is notifying some 3,300 employers, who will be affected by the ruling, to this effect.

A. L. Bradley of Danville, Stevens county, a member of the 1915 legislature, has secured Automobile License No. 13, which the Secretary of State's office first awarded to a young lady of Olympia, who refused to take it and was given another number.

Secretary of State I. M. Howell has already issued more than 25,000 automobile licenses, and from present indications it looks as if his supply of 41,300 licenses would be exhausted and he will be compelled to order a fresh supply. The licenses are good until next March.

Governor Lister has accepted an invitation to address the annual Governor's Conference, at Boston, August 25-27, inclusive, on "Conservation of Natural Resources." On his way to Boston Governor Lister will stop at San Francisco and San Diego expositions.

State Fire Warden, E. W. Ferris announces that thus far there have been no serious forest fires reported, and that there have as yet been no fires which have damaged the green timber in the state.

Literature distributed in May 173; in June 94; in July 257; total 524.

For the year ended July 31, 1915, letters received 1,318; letters written 1,018; literature distributed 2,694

This correspondence included letters to the 1914 patrons of the Clallam county fair, announcing the 1915 fair to be held September 23, 24 and 25, and also letters to the editors of the state inviting them to attend the state press meeting here July 22, 23 and 24.

NEW MEMBERS

Adam Paulus, Marchfield, Wisconsin, non-resident property owner, became a member May 10, 1915, proposed by Thomas T. Aldwell, Wm. H. Staake, Philadelphia, non-resident property owner, became a member June 8, 1915, proposed by W. J. Ware. A. Wesley Smith, Mora, Washington, became a member May 21, 1915. Otto A. Case, secretary of the Seattle Commercial Club, became a non-resident member June 22, 1915. Harry B. Stiles, manager of the City Fish Market, became an active member June 25, 1915, proposed by B. Goodbrand.

CLUB ACTIVITIES

The secretary joined with twelve other executive officers of Washington state commercial organizations in a convention held at Everett, on May 5 and 6, 1915, at which the Washington Federation of Commercial Organizations was formed, of which this Club is a member and its secretary a director and chairman of the legislative committee. The next meeting of the Federation will be held at North Yakima, September 8 and 9, 1915. The secretary personally paid all expense of this affiliation and co-operation, including the membership fee of $5.

The Club offered all its facilities toward promoting the success of the Elks Circus held in this city July 1, 2 and 3, 1915.

On July 2 the Club, in co-operation with Naval Lodge No. 353, B. P. O. E., facilitated the organization of the Clallam County Pioneers Association, with twenty-five pioneers participating in the organization meeting in these rooms.

On July 4 this office furnished military defense data to general officers of the United States Army who were here for that purpose.

The office has furnished numerous articles and compilations of authoritative data for many publications, including books and pamphlets issued or soon to be issued by the state government, Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway, Northern Pacific Railway, Victoria and Island Development Association, Automobile Club of Seattle, magazines and newspapers.

ENTERTAINMENTS

On June 16 and 17 the Club entertained the Olympia Chamber of Commerce party on its tour opening the Olympic Highway, the Club co-operating with the Sequim Commercial Club and the Board of County Commissioners. A dinner was served to the guests on the evening of June 16. The total cost to the Club was $10.60.

The elaborate entertainment of the State Press Association and County Treasurers here July 22, 23 and 24 was affected by the Club in co-operation with the Women's Auxiliary of the Commercial Club, the local press and county officers, and was made possible by the liberal spirit of the citizens of this community, particularly those owning automobiles, and the admirable spirit and helpful activity of the present Board of County Commissioners, John C. Hansen, James Dick and James F. Clark. The funds subscribed by public-spirited citizens were sufficient to pay the entire cost of the entertainments, aside from the liberal donations of service and material. The total amount of all expenditures on this account, with all known bills paid, is $181.65.

Respectfully submitted,
FRANK C. TECK,
Secretary.

D. R. YOUNG—OPTIMIST

"He was a man of great energy, and his naturally optimistic temperament enabled him to enter into any enterprise which engaged his attention with boundless enthusiasm. He took a rosy view of things and no disappointment or reverse could long dampen his ardor or restrain his activity. Under more favorable circumstances D. R. Young," said the Victoria Colonist last week, "might easily have been numbered among the world's millionaires. He passed away suddenly from heart failure, and there are few who knew him who will not breathe a sigh of regret over the quenching of such an ardent and cheery spirit."

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to convey our thanks to the many friends and Odd Fellows' Lodge for their acts of kindness and sympathy during our recent bereavement.

LUMBER IS RIGHT

Port Angeles has a saw mill that turns out several million or billion feet of lumber daily—we may have the figures mixed with the number of drinks the Totem Pole editor is reported to have imbibed; anyway, they turn out some lumber all right. —Kirkland News-Independent.

LINCOLN HEIGHTS

Last Friday night three dozen of the relatives of the Harding's and Fleming's, with a few friends, convened at the home of Ernest Harding and wife, to celebrate the birthday anniversaries of Ernest and his son Keith. Also a farewell visit with Joe and Ethel Hall, who are to depart this week for Alaska. Good cheer, ice cream and cake, were freely dispensed and a general good time was the result.

Saturday morning Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Filion, their son Louie, and daughter Lila, Elmer and Ina Pollock, Mrs. Ludwig and daughter, Priscilla, and Leon Wheeler, went out to the camp at Mt. Angeles. Sunday they made the ascent, viewed the pleasing sights and descended again to camp, returning home Monday, tired but happy.

Monday morning Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Fleming and son, Glen, Verne and Vernice Bergman, started to the Olympic Hot Springs. They were heard from within three miles of their destination as being a tired lot of hikers.

Tuesday morning Ernest Harding's family, Ruth Bergman, O. B. and Clare Fleming started for an auto trip to the ocean, returning home the same evening.

Sunday, after services in the church, Rev. Burkholder united a couple in marriage who were strangers here. They did not wish a public service and while the ceremony was being performed behind closed doors, the girls and women were busy and the bridal party was greeted with showers of rice and flowers when they emerged from the church.

Sunday evening the families of Homer and Wm. Filion, J. B. Fleming and Mrs. Fred Wright spent a few pleasant hours at the Felix Filion home, in honor of Miss Ella Harvey, who had been visiting with old friends here and was leaving on Sunday night's boat for her home in Portland.

Miss Lorena Ester and her brother, Elmer, went on Sunday night's boat to visit their sister, Mrs. Belt, near Hoods Canal.

Mrs. W. L. Smith's sister, Mrs. Lee and daughter, who have been visiting here the past two weeks, started Tuesday to the exposition in San Francisco on their way back to Iowa.

A daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler has been visiting them a few days but returned to her home near Seattle Tuesday.

Mrs. Crosby's brother, Richard Pfeiffer of Amsterdam, New York, is a recent arrival. He was lucky in securing work at Hansen and Glennert's mill, where Mr. Crosby is employed.

Mrs. Walp had not fully recovered from an attack of quinsey when her little girl had the same trouble, but is now better.

An eight year old girl of Lee Boyd's is almost if not entirely blind. The doctors here say they cannot do anything for her and she will be taken to Seattle for treatment.

Mr. Bailey was injured more severely than we reported last week and has had a bad time but is hoped the worst is over now. The back of his injured hand was bruised and an abcess formed which was lanced on Tuesday of this week.

A former schoolmate of Mrs. Margaret Wade, who resides at Clallam, visited her a few days ago.

There is a pretty little ranch on H and 10th street, owned by Mr. Headlee, consisting of seven lots, cleared, fenced and planted to vegetables, berries and fruits. They have beautiful apples, pears, etc. It is surrounded by woods and the wayferer is rather surprised to find such a spot. It is very productive. Their cow had twin calves recently.

MT. PLEASANT

Mrs. Goodenough and daughter of Seattle, who were visiting at the home of her brother, Milford Eacrett, returned to Angeles Saturday to visit with relatives.

Miss Inez Allen of Seattle and Mrs. T. S. Thompson of Bremerton visited with Mrs. C. N. McLaughlin Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Harding and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hall of Angeles visited Sunday at the home of A. H. Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Bartholomew are having a new house built on their property near the Boyd mill.

Mrs. Schrader and grandson, who have been visiting with her daughter Mrs. Austin for the past month, returned to her home in Everett Sunday.

FORKS AND WEST END

A force of carpenters are at work on the store building that is being erected by F. M. Ackerly. It is going to be a first class building and will be a credit to Forks.

The salmon cannery at Mora started in operation for the summer on the first of the month. Mr. Morse is bringing his fish from Neah Bay as the salmon are not running in the river yet.

County Commissioner Hansen and a party of friends made a visit to the West End of the county last Sunday.

Mrs. Taylor and Miss Nell Morse of Mora started on a hike to Mt. Olympus Monday morning.

The Forks baseball team redeemed themselves to a certain extent last Sunday by defeating the Neah Bay team, 5 to 3. Our Palmer and Palmer battery was in fine form. Hugh fanned fifteen of the Indians. Clallam Bay will play here next Sunday. After the game with Forks the Neah Bay team went to Clallam and played another game the same afternoon with Clallam Bay. They defeated them with a score of 3 to 4.

The members of the Sunday school were entertained at the home of Miss Beatrix Collings on the evening of July 31st.

The need of a road from Mora to the ocean beach becomes emphasized by the large number of automobiles that are coming to Mora lately. The mile and a half walk from Mora to LaPush is rather awkward traveling for most of the visitors. Mr. Taylor will have his river launch completed in a few days and will be able to make the trip with fifteen or twenty passengers when the tide is right.

AGNEW'S CROSSING

Miss Helen Laurens returned Saturday from a six weeks' stay in Seattle, where she attended the University summer school.

Mrs. C. A. Laurens, her sister Mrs. Shelton and daughter Ida have moved to Port Angeles to care for Mrs Laurens' house in town.

Miss Nellie L. Roberts came up from Seattle Tuesday and is visiting with Miss Laurens for a week or so.

BLUE MOUNTAIN

Written for last week.

Most of our farmers housed their hay without injury from rain. All are well satisfied as the hay crop turned out much better than expected.

J. D. Jackson has 32 tons besides a field of oats still uncut. His clover on a new seeding of last year, where the log piles burned, was as high as the horses back.

Henry Maybee, who is working Charlie Machenheimer's farm on Lost Mountain, reports clover, on a piece of new seeding, so heavy that it took two men to cut it. One man had to walk beside the mower and with a pitchfork lift the hay from the machine. Here the clover went three tons to the acre.

The oats also are very thrifty, being as high as a man's head.

Bert Joselin, on Fred Machenheimer's place, also has oats man high.

Mrs. King and daughter of Port Angeles are also visiting at the Emery home.

Jeannette Broughton and Merton Mathewson returned to Angeles on Wednesday after a week with papa and mamma; Jeannette going on to Seattle on the Sioux.

Last Saturday Viola Cary went to Fairview to renew her acquaintance with home folks, having been with her sister, Mrs. Jessie Jackson, most of the summer.

Grace Cary came up Sunday, returning Wednesday.

tariums. Some very fine places are now enjoying the patronage of a large number of tourists who are enabled to obtain accommodations at prices very reasonable.

That evening Dr. Suzzallo addressed a farewell assembly at the Port Angeles high school.

Port Angeles is losing no opportunity to exploit its industrial and scenic resources. It is now a good manufacturing city and is getting a crop of tourists which bids fair to be wonderfully profitable. The people are hospitable and open-hearted.

THE STATE PRESS JUNKET

(Hoquiam Record.)

One of the most enjoyable experiences in a course of twenty-five years of excursions about the state, under the auspices of the State Press Association, happened to the editor of The Record during last week, when the Association was entertained at Port Angeles, the most northwestern city of the United States.

CITY OF THE STRAITS AND LONG DISTANCES

Port Angeles is truly a city of magnificent distances—situated on the Olympic Peninsula, northern extremity, and the last place of importance seaward on the Straits of Juan de Fuca; a half-day's boat ride from Seattle, and when you have arrived distance confronts you in all directions.

Port Angeles is the result of much booming and many promises of railroad construction. Thus, naturally, it has suffered from real estatitis and is scattered in every direction—five miles from one to one and one-half—covering the natural townsite from the water front to the foothills.

The down-town streets are planked and a few blocks leading to the upper terraces are also planked, but the bulk of the streets are paved with the native soil and must so be, naturally, for many years. As a natural result of expanding the resident section, especially in dull times, it is impractical to keep streets, etc., in the best of order, and giant bull-thistles adorn many of the streets where someday roses will bloom.

Railroads are now apparently fulfilling their long ago promises, and some of Port Angeles' foidest hopes will assume shape.

With Frank Carleton Teck to do her professional boosting in a thoroughly practical manner—an ex-newspaper man—the entertaining city will some day be one of the leading cities of the state, with a climate second to none and a rainfall not exceeding 20 inches annually. There was no snow there during the past winter and the townsite is high and dry, offering the best of drainage, and probably no more natural townsite can be found in the state, especially when harbor facilities be considered.

Port Angeles harbor is deep and capacious—and protected from the straits proper by a low-lying and narrow sandspit, running from the western mainland with a gentle curve outward till it has nearly encompassed the splendid harbor.

ENTRANCING EXCURSION ON LAKE CRESCENT

Saturday, the last of the three days devoted to business and entertainment, was the day of days. Terminating the business of the morning session, at or near eleven o'clock, 42 automobiles were assembled down town with which to transport the newspaper men and county treasurers of the state, with their wives, who held a convention at the same time and place, to wonderful Lake Crescent.

You have heard of such a lake resort, but have had little information concerning it. It is a work for an artist in oil, printer's ink and the school of eloquence.

Some of our local people have visited the lake, making the trip up the Olympic Highway by way of Shelton, Hoods Canal and Port Townsend. They will possibly tell their friends something of the pleasures of the trip and of the sojourn at the lake; but neither they nor this writer can convey to their friends and patrons a full conception of the half that awaits to greet a personal inspection.

The road, the big trees and the occasional farms were reminders too, of the Grays Harbor country, and yet we have not the same attractions at the terminus of our highways that greeted our company when Lake Crescent was reached, after a most delightful ride—rushing, whirling and winding through Johnson's "virgin forest"—which "had never been defiled and where the hand of man had never set its foot"—all of which is decidedly Irish in the accent.

For miles and miles the trees stood as God made them and were of those dimensions where one has to look twice to reach their spire-crowned tops. These, too, must some day fall before the lumber jack's ruthless axe, and then the glory of the forest scenery will have departed and given place to an unattractive array of disfigured and begrimmed stumps and neglected fallen timber.

But we are now at the lake.

OVER THE LAKE ON THE "STORM KING."

The Storm King awaits two hundred people—editors, county treasurers and their wives, chaperoned by as fine a bunch of hosts and entertainers as we have ever met. The big ferry awaiting the excursionists, as well as the smaller ferry, are owned by the county, and made to carry people and their autos or other rigs the length of the lake—some ten miles—and they are new, commodious and well handled by gallant and sturdy men.

The sun shines warm down among these mountain peaks, concentrating and reflected at the surface of the water, but tempered with the ocean breezes which flow in different directions at different times.

On the trip up the lake a splendid luncheon was served and after depositing a few Sol Duc enthusiasts at the head of the lake the real fun of the trip was begun—on the return trip.

Calls were made at the various resorts and the revelations there met added an hundred fold to the surprises due to Nature's work and the unsurpassed scenery, which, as the Governor said, would probably make poets of editors before the trip was over. It did—not.

We passed many private summer homes, half hidden among the trees and in close proximity to a possible avalanche from the overhanging mountains.

But we made several landings and inspected the premises, one of which stands out as prominently as does the grandest mountain of the range among the lesser hills.

"QUISISANA," OR "HERE IS HEALTH."

A Portland physician, of German extraction—Dr. L. Dechman—with abundant means, has established a sanitarium here and spent many thousands of dollars building an artificial paradise where God Almighty preceded him in making Nature's paradise. We were invited to come ashore and it proved that we were billed to make the genial gentleman and his charming wife a visit.

Such a place!

Laid out on a gentle—not too gentle—slope, shade trees, fruit trees, thousands of rose bushes, berries of all kinds, vegetables growing between, lookouts, a fountain—perhaps the Fountain of Youth, or just as good—statuary, enjoying a perpetual shower bath, and something everywhere to attract the attention and make nature more beautiful thru the artistic touch of the true lovers of nature who happen to have a hand in beautifying and bringing out more of Nature's own handiwork.

Scattered about the spacious grounds are attractive individual cottages, splendidly furnished for visitors and patients, and near by are other cottage structures superbly furnished with bathing paraphernalia—(we can't seem to plainly designate these places as mere "bathrooms.")

But the house proper held the surprise of the whole shooting match. On entering, one was greeted with just a "look" at the most attractively arranged set of tables that a country editor was ever permitted to feast his eyes upon—to say nothing of attempting to join in despoiling.

The excursionists gathered reverently about the artistic arrangement and wondered who would be so base as to first touch or tear at the appetizing array—beginning with four enormous Beardslee trout, so arranged and decorated that we novices were tempted to believe an artist in oils had embellished them; but on further inspection it was discovered that the meats and all else were like embellished and made almost too attractive to eat, the ultimate destination of all good food.

It was some feast.

LANDING A BIG ONE AT OVINGTON'S CAMP

The Storm King again tied up at Ovington's and here too was a surprise, for no sooner had the guests arrived at the attractive shore-home than some excited young ladies on the veranda set up a series of screams that would have made a catamount on the mountain top turn pale, all because a lone fisherman at the dock had apparently hooked another "beauty" in the shape of a mammoth Beardslee trout.

The young fisherman "played" his fish and his part right well, lustily yelling for a man with the net to scoop in the big prize—caught just in time for the visitors to look and wonder.

The monster was netted and flung upon the dock where the successful angler fell upon it and prevented further struggling—the while excited visitors flocked to the float where they could secure a closer view of that other beauty—other than those who had signalled the "catch" with loud shouts and other foibles.

HOMELIKE RESORT, KNOWN AS "SINGER'S."

Next we tied up for fifteen minutes at "Singers." Here was the Hoquiam crowd, quickly returned from a night's visit to Sol Duc, and other acquaintances from Seattle, with happy surroundings, individual cottages, and a splendid central building; a big shady lawn, bypaths and cozy nooks, backed by jagged mountains.

VALE AND FAREWELL WITH ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

When all is said and done, it is readily conceded that Port Angeles is made up of a genial and hospitable people, wide awake to their best interests and willing to impart to others a portion of their knowledge and advantages—the knowledge that they have advantages that go to make a sterling city when the signs are right. The newspapermen of the state will greet with hearty approbation any and all news of advancement that shall come to so splendid would be an error, while we attempt to ascribe to one and to all the qualities of gentlemen and ladies of rea a people, whom to individualize finement and endearing qualities which go to make sterling friendships and a longing to someday return the compliments of the occasion—the 29th annual meeting of the Washington State Press Association.

THE NEWSPAPERS FREE SERVICE

If a board of trade is organized to boom a town it finds that it is expensive work. Secretaries must be hired, office rent paid, supplies must be settled for in cash. People usually make no discount because the work is for a public cause.

Meanwhile the newspaper is booming the home town all the time, and for the most of the services it renders it asks no pay. If its motives are not wholly unselfish, at least it is far-sighted enough to expect its compensation in the added prosperity that comes to all enterprises when a town grows.

In view of all this unpaid service it is fair to ask a reciprocal spirit on the part of its home community. This newspaper is not complaining of its support, which has been generous and friendly. It merely reminds its readers that when they pay down their money for a subscription they not merely get their money's worth, but they are helping to support an agency that gives unpaid service all the time for the development of the community.—"What's Doing."

MRS. SAMUEL WOODCOCK

Beloved Dungeness Woman's Untimely Death Caused by Nervous Breakdown.

It was a shock to the many friends of Mrs. Samuel Woodcock to hear of her untimely death last Sunday at her home in Dungeness. Many of her Port Angeles friends had not even heard of her illness, tho it seems she had been suffering for a number of weeks from a nervous breakdown. Mrs. Woodcock came to Dungeness a bride about 23 years ago and has lived there ever since, with the exception of seven years they spent in Angeles for the purpose of giving the children better educational advantages. They had but recently completed the building of a fine new home on their ranch and with her family pretty well raised, Mrs. Woodcock was looking forward to many years of comfort and enjoyment.

She had a sweet, sunny disposition combined with all those stirling qualities which make an ideal wfe, mother and friend. She was a lifelong member of the Episcopal Church and during her residence in Angeles was a faithful and untiring worker as a member of the Ladies' Guild. Besides her husband she leaves five children, Warren, Wilmont, Helen, Marion and Lucy. A sister, Miss Young of Humbolt, California, came for the funeral.

Funeral services were conducted from the Dungeness church Wednesday by Rev. Getty of the Episcopal Church of Port Townsend. The W. C.T.U. and members of the Yoeman lodge attended in a body and the floral offerings were many and beautiful. The sympathy of the community goes out to the bereaved family

THE CHOCOLATE DEPOT, A NEW CANDY SHOP

The Chocolate Depot, a new confectionery store, located opposite the Commercial Hotel, is one of Angeles' newest and most up-to-date stores catering to the public. It is under the management of a persevering ing young mian, A. D. Vasilatos, late of Victoria, B. C. During the past week he has had an expert candy maker here making chocolates on the premises, and many people inspected the kitchen to see whether the candy was really made here. They were all satisfied however, when the candy maker showed his skill in putting out some of the finest chocolates made. Mr. Vasilatos believes there is a place for an up-to-date store in this city and therefore has ventured into this line. He wishes the patronage of Port Angeles' people and hopes to make a success of the business. Read his ad in this issue.
