Mr. and Mrs. Dean Hurn went to Seattle Saturday to attend the U of W-California football game. They were met by Mr. Hurn's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Coonc of Concrete, and all stayed at a motel overnight. In the morning Mr. and Mrs. Coonc returned home and the Hurns went to Port Townsend for the Little League football game between the Forks Packers and the Port Townsend Rams.

Clyde Smith was one of several lucky hunters in this area. He went out early Saturday morning and was back home in a very short time with a nice four-point buck. Some other lucky hunters were Matt Zoffel, Allen Kuchan, formerly a Sappho resident, now making his home in Forks, Warren Scarlett, Lewis Lato and Sammy-McElravy who came up from Aberdeen.

Richard Eaton, Gene Hine and Dennis Faulkner came out from Seattle Friday, spent the weekend with Mr. Eaton's parents, and returned home Sunday empty handed.

Mrs. Clyde Smith went to Kingston Saturday to visit her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Don Norris. She returned home Sunday and found, hanging in the garage, the carcass of the deer her husband had been so lucky in getting the previous day.

Mr. and Mrs. James Snowden of Mount Vernon visited over the weekend at the home of Mrs. Snowden's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George McCain.

Mrs. Marvin Shawver of Port Angeles visited on Monday with her grandmother, Mrs. Martin Engeseth, while Mr. Shawver was out trying for a deer.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray McCoy have been living at Beaver for the past four months. They came here from West Virginia in June, like it very much and may decide to make it their home. It is Mrs. McCoy's second trip to Washington and the third, and saying is that if a person once goes back East after having lived in "God's Country" he will always return to it. To the West, I mean.

Frank Platt, attorney for Forks presented the ordinance for the annexing of the area of the new primary school.

Marshal Woods was asked about the problem of the signal lights on First Street. Marshal Woods has discussed the problem with Mr. Hitchcock and it was decided that the signal (flashing red light) should be left as it is and a stop sign would be installed at the south exit of the high school parking lot and First Street. In regard to the posting of a loading zone in front of the school, Woods told the council and the representatives of the school that as the law now stands one may both load and unload their children in front of the school as long as they do not park and leave their car.

Mrs. Elizabeth Barlow was contacted by Councilman Hall and said she would paint the mural for the City Hall, she said she would present some sketches and cost estimates soon.

The Association of Washington Cities will meet in Port Angeles, October 27th, at Haguewood's. The meeting starts at 7 p. m. Several of the councilmen and Mayor Kennedy will attend.

The next council meeting is October 26th, 8 p. m. at the Town Hall, the public is invited.

FORKS TO HAVE SEWER SURVEY

The Forks Town Council at their Monday meeting, approved entering into a contract with Lee Johnson Associates to conduct a sewer feasibility study. The cost for the survey will be $1900.00. It is necessary to have the study and figures derived from the study to apply for Federal Funds allocated for installation of a sewer system. The council unanimously agreed that it was imperative to at least take some steps in the direction of a sewer system, because of the rate the population is increasing. The decision made Monday night was the culmination of many weeks of study sessions between the council and the representatives from Lee Johnson Associates. When the figures are obtained, there will be a public meeting to discuss the proposal with the citizens of Forks.

The council heard a request from Verl Poole, representing the Forks Lions Club to construct and place with the permission of the property owners, benches for the old timers of Forks who like to sit and converse. The benches would be placed on the sidewalk on main street. Poole said, there are many old retired fellows in Forks, some who have retired from the woods and such, who need someplace to sit and talk, where they will not be expected to buy something. Poole also said the Lions Club wanted to put up a series of signs along the roadway coming into Forks from both directions on Highway 101. The signs would read, "Drive Slow, Visit Our Town", "Drive Fast, Visit Our Jail," and "We Love Our Children". The Lions wanted to know if there were any ordinances prohibiting the signs and benches. Mayor Kennedy told Poole that there was no existing ordinance prohibiting the benches if the club could obtain permission from the property owners. Kennedy also said that the signs could not be put along the highway, unless permission is obtained from the State Highway Department.

ASB Financial report, county agent and primary school seeding, State Board candidates, nursery school, --supplies, over-aggressive students, state examiner's report, teacher evaluations--if any, etc.

Mr. and Mrs. Vern Bunce will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary, October 18th, 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. at the VFW Hall. All friends are invited to attend.

At that time, Otos made a request to the council to broadcast the council meetings over KVAC. The members of the council discussed this matter and Bob Swerin said he felt the broadcasting of the meetings would "horse collar" the council. Swerin said he felt the members of the council held discussions of different items premature to their being presented to the public and that this would constitute the council meeting in work sessions. Councilman Chuck Anderson said he felt a concise report on the radio of the council meetings would be more beneficial. Councilman Frank Smiley said he felt a taped radio broadcast of the meeting in concise form should be done. Councilman Bob Hall said he felt the airing of the broadcast was a very good idea and that he felt it should be done for one meeting out of four. Hall also said that he felt it was not feasible it should be tried on a trial basis. Mayor Kennedy said he was sure it would make his job much easier, and make the meetings shorter but he felt it would hamper the councilmen from discussing the issues they normally discuss. Otos said, that it might bother the men at first having a microphone in front of them, but they would get used to it very soon and it would no longer be a problem. Otos said that the council meetings are broadcast in Port Angeles and other major cities and he felt the meetings in Forks should be taken into the homes of the residents, thereby acquainting them with the workings of city government. Councilman Anderson said he felt the council didn't have the responsibility to go into the home, the meetings are open to the public and the interested should attend. Councilman Fred Cline said he thought the matter should be discussed further by the council before rendering a decision. Councilman Bob Hall made a motion to approve the broadcast on a trial basis. The motion died for lack of a second. The matter was tabled until the next meeting at which time the matter will be discussed further with Mr. Otos.

Building permits were approved for George Campbell, $15,000, a new home; Frank Henry, $400.00, re-roof; and

Gordon Otos, from Forks Broadcasting Company was the next guest of the council. At EDITORIAL . . .

By Nedra Reed

Do you know the difference between Rubella and Measles? It could mean the difference between preventive medicine and tragedy.

The children of the Forks school systems this week are bringing home fact sheets on Rubella and a form to fill out for immunization against the disease.

For the children who get "three-day measles" or German measles or light measles, it means nothing more than a sore throat, runny nose and a light red rash over their entire body. For the pregnant woman who contracts the disease it can mean tragedy, serious birth defects in the child she is carrying.

These are the differences in the disease. In Rubella, German measles or light measles, the symptoms last 2 to 4 days, a mild fever, a mild illness, and can cause birth defects in an unborn child if a pregnant woman contracts Rubella. In measles, red measles, 8-day measles, or hard measles, the symptoms last 7 to 14 days, there is a high fever, and a severe illness. This type of measles is most likely to produce mental and physical damage during the first 3 years of life.

The vaccine for measles was licensed in 1963 and in 1969 a vaccine for Rubella was licensed. Even if your child has had Rubella this does not prevent them from having it again and the "measles" shot does not protect them from Rubella, only the Rubella vaccine can do this.

With the proper vaccination given now to all school children this seemingly mild illness, that causes heartbreak for so many people can be prevented.

When your child brings the fact sheet and form to you, return it, all it will be is a small pin prick for your child and the tragedy of birth defects caused by Rubella can be averted for the next generation.

Year-round school

A proposal to establish the 12-month or year-round school in Washington's public schools has been made by the State Board of Education.

The proposal for such an operation is included in the 1971-73 budget request of State Superintendent Louis Bruno, endorsed by a resolution adopted earlier this year by the State Board of Education.

The state superintendent serves also as president of the State Board of Education.

Bruno said he will ask the 1971 legislature for funds to establish 14 pilot projects around the state (two in each of the state's seven congressional districts) in order to let communities develop the type of year-round school which would best suit that community's needs.

He pointed out that there is no one, single, year-round school plan--there are literally dozens. They can be separated into three basic concepts: the four-quarter system; the three-quarter system and the extended semester or 11-month system. However, there are many variations and combinations, too, so each school district must examine all proposals in the light of its own needs and situation, he said.

"Our present nine-month school year is an anachronism dating from the last century," Bruno said. "Years ago, when children were important members of the labor force on the nation's farms, the operation of schools had to conform to the needs of an agricultural economy. Schools took second place to the seasonal demands of crops and cows.

"Obviously that's no longer the case, with communities supporting multi-million-dollar facilities that depend upon an annual national public expenditure of $21 billion. In spite of the rising school costs and expanding educational requirements of the twentieth century, most of these buildings still stand idle during the old 'sow and harvest' season.

"Better ways must be found to use school facilities and manpower. The schoolhouse doors should not close at 3:00 each day. Schools should employ their buildings all day and their teachers all year."

The National Association of State Boards of Education is considering a resolution at its national meeting this month to "advocate full, year-round use of school facilities for all educational programs in the community."

The American Association of School Administrators has urged educators to "reexamine the almost universal practice of leaving school plants and personnel idle at a time in our history when every available resource is needed." They have published a booklet which looks at the pros and cons of five different plans.

"It's not surprising that the vacation issue creates the most opposition to the year-round school," Bruno said. "It's interesting, though, that a recent national survey shows an increasing trend away from summer as the vacation period: 14 percent of vacationers prefer their holiday in the spring, 12 percent in the winter and 23 percent in the fall. That's almost half who do not prefer summer vacations.

"This state's precarious dependence upon special property-tax levies for financing operations makes it even more important that expensive school buildings not stand unused in the summer. Summer school is only a partial solution, not the answer.

"Several states are experimenting with various plans--Kentucky, Georgia, Delaware, Illinois, Missouri, New York. Some of our own school districts--Seattle, Spokane, Kent--are examining the idea, too.

Leads to poor attendance and performance

Analyses of year-round school programs have proved that student attendance is not affected by year-round operation. Some people say student performance suffers in the summer months, but studies indicate the opposite, especially in communities where the only alternative is the streets.

Bad for teachers

It is commonly said that teachers must have a three-month "rest" after nine months of school, yet research shows that teachers who choose to teach on a year-round basis lose none of their effectiveness. Surveys of teachers reveal support of the year-round program if it is voluntary and adequately compensated.

Creates an administrative nightmare

Studies show that year-round schools actually are easier to administer. In fact, the year-round operation often eliminates the need for computer class scheduling of students.

How Do Year-Round Schools Work?

Year-round school does not mean, according to most plans, that each student attend classes all year. Vacations don't get lost. Generally speaking, when schools operate on a 12-month basis, any given season will see some students on vacation, the rest of the school population in class. Vacation periods needn't confirm to a static pattern year after year for each individual student.

Rotating four-quarter plan

The school year is divided into four quarters of 12 weeks each, with one week between quarters. Students attend three of the four quarters, and vacation the other quarter, on a rotating schedule. All children in the same family are assured of the same vacation rotation. During 12 years of school, each student has three summer vacations, three in the fall, three in the spring and three in winter.

Full 48-week school year for all

A full 48-week school year in which students attend four quarters of 12 weeks each. Four weeks will be left for vacation, to be distributed among appropriate times throughout the year such as Christmas, Easter and others. This program gives pupils an opportunity to accelerate and complete four years of work in three years or to take additional courses. Teachers work 48 weeks with 80 days for vacation and so do the pupils.

Voluntary summer program

A regular 36-40 week program with a summer program varying in length from four weeks to 12 weeks. The regular program runs in the conventional manner with a conventional curriculum. Some opportunities are provided for remedial and make-up work but major emphasis is usually placed on course offerings and experiences above and beyond what is offered during the regular terms, such as advanced courses in science, math, literature, social studies, music, drama, arts, vocational, etc. Faculty members could serve in the summer program by choice or the full faculty could be used with varied assignments some to do professional production work, to travel or to attend summer school.

Summer program for Professional personnel

A regular 36-40 week program for students with the faculties serving an additional 10-12 weeks with assignments devoted to improving the program of services to students during the coming year. Faculty members could be assigned to summer workshops, special summer work in universities, curriculum studies, the preparation of special materials for instruction and similar activities.

"Multiple trails" extended school year plan

This plan depends on time equalization to release classroom space. All students work through a 210-215 day school year calendar. The instructional time provided in the regular school year calendar is now spread over 42 weeks instead of 36. This means that students need to attend classes fewer times a week while obtaining the same amount of instruction over the course of a year. There is a new daily and weekly time schedule. Students meet fewer teachers in a day and have fewer classes per week.

Do you find yourself upset at times with your children over their music? Do you find that you have a hard time understanding some of the words that they use? I think that most of us do and that our children have a hard time understanding the music we like. Whenever Lawrence Welk comes on our children go do something else but we really enjoy it. This shows that there is a definite gap between us. They like rock music which we just can't see. The questions comes, Is this reason enough for us as parents to go our own way and our children to go another? Should we just eat together but otherwise have little to do with each other?

I think that we all need to start to try to understand our children and help them to try to understand us a little better. They can like their music and we can like ours but this doesn't mean that we don't have much in common. As children of God we all have a common bond. We are united together as his children. As such we need to start to find areas in which we can share common interests.

One thing that we all have in common is the need to live in love. We like to feel that someone else accepts us as being important. A word of thanks, a word of respect, a word of encouragement are needed by each person. I believe that we need to take time to spend with our children and really put ourselves out to appreciate who they are and what they have done. We so often get so bound up in our own work and way of life that we fail to appreciate some of the problems which our children are going through. We just don't take the time to understand some of the pressures under which they operate.

Along this line we need to allow God to work with us in our relationship with them. We need to attend church with them and show them that God is important in our lives. We need to respect their ideas and questions about God and life. As we do this they can teach us much about the life we live. So open up to your children and allow God to help you form a strong relationship to love and respect with them.

don't knock it

Maybe you don't like rock and roll, but there's vibrancy to its beat that lets kids express themselves. Even if it isn't your kind of music it's their kind of music. Perhaps the "generation gap" may be narrowed slightly if you'll listen.

Life, remember, is a process of give and take. Adults and teenagers have to give a little if they are going to reach mutual understanding. If, in the beginning, you've given the basic things—like faith, love and respect, then you've nothing to worry about.

But it's never too late. For instance—have you gone with your teenager to church lately?

Sunset Highlites

By Fred Jarvis

Look's like it's almost all George Richardson this week. He's gone completely out of his wig on league nites, averaging 188 Tuesday nite, over 200 in the Friday Mixed, and way up there subbing in the Traveling League. A very unsociable guy when you'll bowling against him as he'll clobber you with a big 600 plus series. Where you at on Monday nites, George? That's all right, we'll hold you up as usual. All kidding aside, hope you keep it up.

Faye "All-Events" Fuhs led Tuesday Afternoon girls with a 208-507. Barb Allen hit 186 and picked up the 3-7 split, and Kathy Decker converted the 6-7.

Al Whitehead and Darrell teid at 228 in the Sunset League and, who else (?) George Richardson had a 223-609.

Powder Puffs had Helen Thomas at 189 and Paula Lyda a 518. Sally Nagel picked off the 6-7-10 split and Ollie Swearingen the 4-5 twice.

Jean Cool, bowling in league for only the second time, hit a cool 200, 100 pins over her average. Betty Holz had a 196, and Kathy Hamby a 498. Phyllis Whitehead converted the 6-7-8 split.

Marilea Coates rolled 205 and Reto O'Keefe 508 in Women's Thursday Nite, and Dorothy Vedder picked up the 3-6-7-8 split.

Darrell with a 212-581 and Duke Streeter 212 - 562 in the West End League.

Guess who on Friday Mixed? Good old George Richardson again with a 231-646. Jerry Beebe and Mary Jo Carte with 174 and Doris Markham at 452. Jess Parris hit a 137 triplicate. Not a big score, Jess, but still pretty hard to do.

Bob West missed the TV shot at Monte Carlo but hit on a five dollar shot later. Not to be out done, his wife, Rae, won fifteen bucks a little later.

Big George, subbing for Claude on our Vagabond Traveling team, smashed out a 277-614 Sunday in the first shift, and Duke hit a 216-609 in the second round.

Al Whitehead at 211-595 in Sunday Mixed, and Billie Crist a 186-457.

Duke Streeter led Fitts Log to a 1120 team game and a 3134 series as he hit a 224-648. D.J. Caulkins also threw a 224. Brager Bros. Blackshirts still lead.

Bowlers of the week: George Richardson ??? 277, Duke Streeter 648, Faye Fuhs 208 and Paul... 18.

Bulldogs upset Spartans

The Forks High School Spartans suffered their fourth straight set back last Friday evening as they were upset by the North Mason Bulldogs, 13 to 8. The loss leaves the Spartans 1 and 4 for the season and 0 and 3 in league play.

After a scoreless first half the Bulldogs took the opening kick-off in the second half and drove 75 yards in 12 plays with halfback Don Havens going the last 20 yards on a quick opener, to score the touchdown. Havens then kicked the extra point to give the Bulldogs a 7 to 0 lead.

The Spartans came back with 54 seconds left in the third quarter to score their touchdown and take the lead. After a double reverse Dan Payne threw 33 yards to Darrell Beebe in the end zone. Payne put the Spartans ahead scoring the two points after touchdown on a power sweep.

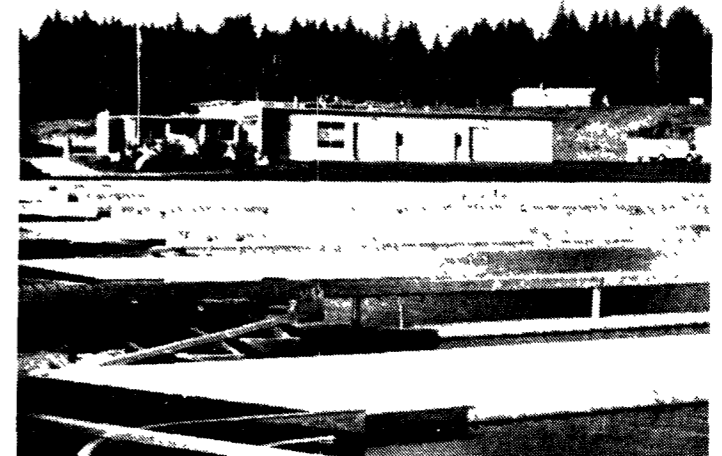

The score remained 8 to 7 until 9:53 in the fourth quarter when North Mason's quarterback Bruce Landrum went to the air to move his team down the field with third down 8 yards North Mason used guard named Ralph Hagan at quarterback, Hagan immediately threw 40 yards to split end Dixon at the Forks 8 yard line where he was pulled down from behind by Dan Payne. A roughing penalty moved the ball half the distance to the goal line. From the four-yard line Landrum used two quarterback sneaks to score the go ahead and what proved to be the winning touchdown.

The Spartan defense was led by Bernie Nash, who sat out the second half with an injury, Larry Gaydeski, John Dahlgen and Curtis Maxfield.

The Spartan's next foe will be the Lakeside Lions this Friday night in Forks. Game time is 8 p.m.

OUTDOOR LORE

By Lonnie Archibald

A HATCHERY AND IT'S SALMON--The Soleduck Salmon Hatchery located near Sappho on the Soleduck River is now beginning operations. Although full operation will not come until a later date, the hatchery has received chinook eggs from Hoodport. The Washington State Department of Fisheries has prepared to trap fish in Lake Creek, Beaver Creek and an area of the Soleduck River, near the hatchery site. The Soleduck Hatchery, covering 43 acres, represents an investment of $1,666,000. More than 100,000 pounds of salmon will be reared in the 12 vaneed circulating concrete ponds and the one-acre coho release pond. Approximately 40,000 coho and 18,000 chinook will be contributed to the commercial and sport fishery annually. Three million Chinook and one and one-fourth million coho will be reared each year at the Soleduck Hatchery.

Giants in action

The Forks Little League Giants lost to the 49'ers of Port Townsend two weeks ago then came back last Sunday and rolled over the Sequim Lions, 31 to 6 in Forks.

The first week the Giants scored first with Bruce Kreider rambling nine yards for the touchdown but other than Jimmie Leppell's outstanding defensive play, the Giants did little right. The 49'ers, one of the power houses in the Eastern Division, blasted the Giants 32 to 6.

Last Sunday the Giants had it all, as they steam-rolled past the Sequim Lions, 31 to 6. After a scoreless first quarter the Giants began to roll behind the running of Randy Milsap. Milsap scored three touchdowns and one point after touchdown for a total of 19 points, rushed for over a 150 yards proving he is a real threat for the league champion Packers this coming Saturday night.

Milsap scored first in the second quarter going 35 yards to score, Milsap then added the extra point raising the score to 7 to 0. Again in the second quarter the Giants got on the scoreboard as quarterback Jim Rondeau threw 10 yards to Steve Burge for the touchdown.

After halftime the Giants came back sending Milsap in to score his second touchdown from 30 yards out. Bruce Kreider attempted to kick the extra points, but failed.

With many substitutes in the game for the Giants the Lions got their only touchdown on a 60-yard gallop. Milsap retaliated after the Lions' touchdown with a 34-yard run for 6 points leaving the score 25 to 6.

The Giants finished the scoring with less than one minute left to play in the game. Quarterback Delton Beebe rolled out to his right, found some running room and raced 33 yards to score leaving the score 31 to 6, Giants.

The Giants finish out their regular season Saturday night when they play hometown rival Packers. The Giants are 2 and 2 for the season while the Packers are 4 and 0 and unscored on the season. But as the Forks area fans know, when these two teams meet the season record means nothing. Game time is 7:30 p.m. Saturday.

Babes win one

The Junior High School Spartan Babes gained their first victory of the year last Saturday as they defeated the Stevens Junior High from Port Angeles, 22 to 0. The Babes were even more powerful than the score as during the game Coach Leon Golden substituted freely and even with that had two more touchdowns called back.

In the first quarter the Babes looked as if they blew Steven right out of Spartan stadium.

On the third play from scrimmage, Harrison Davis intercepted a Steven pass and went 31 yards to score the first touchdown. The Babes, deciding to go with the hot hand, went back to Davis on a inside plunge for the points after touchdown.

Jeff Blair made the score 14 to 0 in the first quarter on a 8-yard sweep. For the next quarter Coach Leon Golden went to his bench using his full roster for the next two quarters. The Babes' defense in the meantime held Stevens at bay, never allowing them to gain serious momentum. The defense was led by the charge of Rusty Roberts, Eugene Sampson and Ken Olson.

In the fourth quarter the young Spartans, using their first string, moved 55 yards in 6 plays scoring with 5 seconds left on the clock on a 35-yard pass from Ken Olson to Mark Hitchcock. Harrison Davis made it 22 to 0 with points after touchdown.

The Spartan Babes next game is Thursday, October 15, here in Forks when they host the Roosevelt Teddies from Port Angeles. Game time is 3:30 p.m.

Pack unbeaten

The Forks Little League Packers won their fourth consecutive victory by downing the Port Townsend Rams, 14 to 0 last Sunday in Port Townsend. The game was also the fourth consecutive game the Packers have failed to allow a touchdown to be scored against them.

To list the players who were outstanding on defense would be like writing out a roster of the players. The Packer defensive coach, George Olson, repeatedly used both first and second string defensive units to put the stoppers on the Ram team. Just a few of the defensive standouts would be Steve Tovey, Runt Blankenship, Butch Eastman, Brian Nash, Mike Musick, Lindsay Halverson and Andy Zepeda.

The Packer offense took until 2:05 left in the second quarter to get on the score board, then after driving to the Ram 35-yard line quarterback Jeff Hilt went to the play book and called a double reverse with Randy Crogrove carrying. Randy, turning the corner picked up a block from Runt Blankenship and Mike Hilt and raced the 35 yards to score. Steve Tovey made it 7 to 0 with a power sweep for the pat.

The score remained 7 to 0 until the fourth quarter with 41 seconds left on the clock quarterback Mitch Lamb rolled out to his right for a 15-yard game and placed the ball on the Ram 5-yard line. On the next play Lamb again rolled to his right and twisted his way into the end zone for (continued on page 12)

The primary corner

From the desk of Joe Newbry.

This is the first in a weekly series of articles by the teachers and staff of the new Forks Primary School.

"You are all invited to visit your new primary school, said Joe Newbry, principal. "Visit the team teaching classes, the teachers are Mrs. Stohl, Miss Clark and Miss Stillman. I feel the classes are extremely successful. Parents might also like to observe the self-contained classrooms and the outside activity classes. If you would like to visit the school, come to the primary office in the west end of the A pod, and make arrangements to visit the classrooms."

Newbry said, "we are working to improve the reading program over the entire school, along with balancing the rest of the curriculum between classes. We now have 470 students in the primary school."

From the desk of Mrs. Bob Rosmond.

Parents are getting a lot of information home this week, the Rubella fact sheet must be returned THIS WEEK, so that the data can be processed before October 28, the day the shots will be given.

Bank day started this week. Tuesday of each week your child will be able to make a deposit to a savings account of their very own. This is made possible with the cooperation of Forks State Bank.

Miss Primrose Bredl, Clallam County Children's librarian will be visiting the school, November 2nd and 3rd, and will have a one-half hour story hour with each of the three grades.

School pictures will arrive sometime this week and something new has been added, a 8 x 10 enlargement with each packet. If you decide to purchase the entire packet you may do so for $4.25. If you do not want to purchase the 8 x 10 the remainder of the pictures 1, 3 x 5, 2 gift enlargements and 8 wallet size, may be purchased for $2.60.

Eastern Star

The Mt. Olympus Chapter, O.E.S., met October 5th. Worthy Matron Mrs. Douglas Howell and Mr. Henry Geist, worthy patron presided. The chapter room was decorated with dahlias.

Mrs. Howell extended a welcome to Mrs. Duane Osburn, past matron from Middleville, Michigan who was a visitor.

Mrs. Al Nagel, Sunshine chairman, reported the following members have been ill, Mrs. Pat Ismay, Mrs. Merle Schoeneman and Mrs. Harry Sackett.

It was reported that the Forks Assembly of Rainbow for Girls had received their supply of candy and would be selling it soon.

CABIN CRUISER BURNS

A 21-foot cabin cruiser owned and operated by Reinhold Koska, of Santa Maria, California, burned and sank in 600 feet of water off the Wallace place on Lake Crescent Sunday morning.

Mr. Koska jumped from the burning boat about 150 yards from shore, as he was swimming toward the shore an unidentified man from Forks came along side in an aluminum boat and assisted him on in.

The fire started from gas fumes in the engine compartment. When Park Rangers arrived on the scene the only part of the boat visible was a small portion of the stern and the motor, the rest of the boat was burned to the water line.

To add to his troubles Mr. Koska found upon his arrival back at Fairholm that his pickup truck was stuck on the launching ramp and Joe Marlow, a friend had gone to Forks to get help. Tom Tinkham of Port Angeles came to the rescue and pulled the pickup back onto the blacktop.

Power outage at lake

A power outage on the North Shore road of Lake Crescent Saturday night was caused by a hole in the size of a lead pencil in the underground cable according to P.U.S. officials.

The power went off at 8:45 p.m. from Fairholm to the end of the North Shore road. The P.U.D. linemen came out immediately and had power restored from Fairholm to Camp David Jr. at about 2:30 a.m., Sunday.

The linemen then had to send for a line tester and were able to repair the break in the rest of the line by about 1:30 p.m., Sunday.

Going hunting? Keep your sights on these fire safety rules: When you camp, use caution in selecting the site and building your campfire; keep your fire small, and be certain it's dead out when you leave; don't smoke where there's danger of fire. Save that hunting area for next year, too. Let's Keep Washington Green.

At the September 25th meeting of the Pioneers, members and guests enjoyed seeing slides shown by Mr. Verl Poole, taken when he served on the "Burton Island" icebreaker. He showed scenes of Arctic and Antarctic icebergs and ice fields. In addition, he had photographs and a mounted Adelle penguin. He gave very interesting information of the Coast Guard's activities and how an icebreaker operates. Pioneers will meet October 30, 8 p.m., Sportsman's clubhouse; program for a potluck supper. Guests are welcome.

Pennoyer

Mrs. Virginia Pennoyer, a missionary from Bataan, Philippine Islands, was honored with a luncheon, given by Mrs. Bob Swanson at her home on Wednesday, October 7. Present were: Mrs. Keith Shirley, Miss Emily Kalla, Mrs. Garth Parberry, Mrs. Clyde Swanson, Mrs. Luther Proctor, Mrs. Fred Anderson, Mrs. Richard Breithaupt, the hostess, Mrs. Swanson and guest of honor, Mrs. Pennoyer. Grace was offered by Mrs. Breithaupt.

Mrs. Pennoyer told of things that go on in the Philippines, the ways of the people around the mission, and how they are taught about God.

The Pennoyers have been in the Philippine Islands for 16 years. When they first went there there was nothing but jungle around them. They started with nothing but land, and little by little they built up till now they have a lovely mission. They feel that God has been with them all the way. The Pennoyers are staying in Joyce with her mother, Mrs. Agnes Pennoyer. They will be visiting here until November. They will leave, going by way of Africa to visit their daughter, Mrs. Larry Judd and

Mrs. Judd, who are missionaries there, as her parents are in the Philippines. Following the visit with the Judds will return to the Philippines to take up again their missionary work for God. Three weeks ago the Pennoyers attended the Tyece Union Sunday School and showed slides of the mission at its beginning 16 years ago and on through the years until as it is now.		H	L	P
