HUNTER FATALLY INJURED

Gary Gaydeski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Gaydeski of Forks, was fatally injured in a hunting accident Sunday. The accident occurred approximately two miles south of Sekiu on the Crown Z 1000 road.

Mr. Gaydeski and two hunting companions were driving the road when they saw a deer standing on the roadway. They stopped their vehicle and Gaydeski and his companion pursued the deer down the ravine. Gaydeski apparently fired two shots at the animal. The other companion on the road heard a third shot, which was the fatal shot for the hunter fired by his companion. They were hunting in heavy brush.

The man who fired the shot was arraigned in Superior Court Monday, charged with manslaughter and bail was set at $1,000.00. There will be a two week continuance in the case until the accused consults an attorney.

Letters To Editor GI Benefits extended

According to a recent letter to you some visitors to Seven Lakes Basin were much disaccommodated when the tranquility of their enjoyment was disturbed by the buzzing of a helicopter. They apparently know little about the values and uses of helicopters and assumed someone was just bent enjoying himself and contaminating the air with pollution. Well, there are sounds and noises and some forms of music enjoyed by the younger generation (even with ear splitting amplification) that are detested by their elders and if you don't believe that you haven't attended the message of the comic strip artists.

Helicopters which are almost indispensable instruments of our public agencies, are highly regarded by most of us and their buzz is a welcome sound and an assurance of safety and help if needed. The Coast Guard and Park Service and the Department of Natural Resources can use helicopters even where nothing else would serve to rescue accident victims from inaccessible places and hurry them to the hospitals if need be, to locate lost persons, to spot fires, to seed forest lands, to distribute bug dusts, to halt disease and parasite infestations on public lands, to spread fertilizers on tree farms and range lands, to spot patches of dangerous and poisonous weeds and if need be to destroy them with controlled herbicides, to assess the values and species content of forests and to cut the costs of road location. The helicopters can hover or fly slowly. It can land in places entirely inaccessible to any other vehicle or conveyance or it can cover ground as fast as some airplanes do. So it is stupid to take offense when a helicopter disturbs the tranquility and to let its quite moderate noise put one up. So let us ask ourselves before we complain is that noise necessary and an accompaniment of some valuable purpose or is it just purposeless pollution of our environment?

A major piece of legislation designed to assist million of veterans to get homes of their own was signed into law October 23, 1970, by President Nixon.

One provision wipes out an ending date for GI loan benefits for all veterans who served after January 31, 1955, and also restores these benefits indefinitely to 3.9 million Korean Conflict and World War II servicemen who did not use them earlier.

Another provision offers a veteran for the first time a program of loans for mobile home purchases--up to $10,000 for a mobile home alone, up to $17,500 if he gets a lot to place it on.

A third authorizes VA to make direct loans in any part of the country to certain seriously disabled veterans who are entitled to specially constructed housing.

Administrator of Veterans Affairs Donald E. Johnson also called attention to provisions of the new law which:

"Eliminate a VA funding fee of one-half of one percent on guaranteed direct home loans to veterans who served after January 31, 1955."

"Authorize VA to guarantee loans to veterans existing loans or other mortgage liens on homes owned and occupied by veterans, and allow borrowers to pay lenders any required discounts. The guaranty may be for 60 percent of the loan, or $12,500, whichever is less."

"Authorize VA to guarantee 60 percent, or up to $12,500, of loans for veterans to purchase family units in condominium projects insured by the Federal Administration."

"Eliminate March 1, 1975, as the terminal date for VA's direct loan program."

Connor Hits gas subsidies

Subsidies to local gas station dealers have disrupted orderly gasoline pricing and lead to "price wars," Representative Paul Connor (D-24th Dist.) said last week.

Following a hearing by the Legislative Joint Committee on Highways, definite need was shown for legislation to protect both the motoring public and the small gasoline dealer, the 24th District legislator said. He added:

"Testimony from dealers from around the state was unanimous in finding a way to end price subsidies that the major oil companies grant to their dealers."

"This leads to disruptive 'zone pricing' and promotes the kind of gas wars that we frequently see around the state. We will attempt to develop legislation which will provide a standardized price in the state, with differences between geographical areas reflected only in the added costs of transporting the gasoline to these areas from a central distribution point."

Both the public and the gas station operator lose in gas wars, Rep. Connor, a member of the highway group's finance subcommittee, said.

"This was made very evident by the statements we had from gas station operators, many of whom are discriminated against by their own companies, which without a doubt control the prices the individual dealer can charge at his pumps," he said.

"We will develop legislation for the 1971 session to set up a base-price, plus transportation cost pricing system that will eliminate the destructive company subsidy practices."

Huskies meet Indians

The Washington Huskies get to play against the young man many people consider to be college football's greatest passer---Jim Plunkett---this Saturday.

The Huskies will meet Plunkett and his Stanford Indians Saturday afternoon at Stanford, Calif. The game will be regionally televised beginning at 1:20 p.m.

Stanford, thanks greatly to Plunkett, may be heading to its first Rose Bowl game in 20 years. The Indians were denied that spot last year when Southern Cal beat them 26-24 on a field goal on the last play of the game.

This season, the Injuns are coming through with all sorts of broken precedents: they beat those Trojans for the first time since 1957, 24-14; they beat UCLA for the first time since 1958, 9-7.

That 9-7 win over the Bruins was the first time Stanford has been held without a touchdown with Plunkett as quarterback. Instead, Steve Horowitz kicked three field goals--the last with five minutes left in the game--to win it and keep Stanford the only team unbeaten in Pacific-8 Conference games this season.

Plunkett has rarely been even slowed down in his sensational career. He now holds the all-time collegiate total-offense record---after the UCLA game he had more than 6,600 yards by running and throwing. He broke the conference passing records midway through his junior season.

Washington will face him with one of the conference's youngest--and stingiest--pass defenses. As of a week ago, the Huskies were leading the Pac-8 in pass defense. They had allowed an average of just 156 passing yards a game.

The Huskies' defensive backfield has two brilliant sophomores--Bill Cahill and Calvin Jones--and two seniors, Bob Burmeister and Mark McMahon.

In his first seven games, Plunkett had thrown for 1,775 yards and nine touchdowns.

His best receivers are flanker Randy Vatah and tight end Bob Moore.

The Indians' top running backs are Hillary Shockley, 220-pound fullback, and Jackie Brown, a halfback from Yakima.

covering the entire area one evening.

The annual Halloween party and parade for kids was one project recently completed. Other immediate projects coming up are the reconditioning of the waste containers in the community, and three rest benches to be constructed and placed downtown and a sign project suggesting that motorists entering Forks obey the special laws. A project still in the planning stage is a replacement of the street signs in the area.

The Lions Club has raised over $2000 to equip one of the new rooms in the hospital addition. The club challenges other clubs, organizations and industry to make this one of their community projects.

AIRCRAFT NOISE
 WASHINGTON, D. C. — If you're like the rest of us, you're probably annoyed by aircraft noises and frustrated because the situation seems to be getting worse and you can't do anything about it. Don't despair. There are those — and many of them — in and out of government who are sufficiently concerned to do something about it. As a matter of fact, the U.S. is now gathering the results of research conducted over the past few years as part of the Federal Aircraft Noise Abatement Program. Of course, the first and obvious conclusion of those working in this interagency effort is that aircraft noise abatement is a problem for which there are no easy solutions. Nevertheless, in a situation where aircraft traffic is increasing every year, the government is determined to do something to reduce this nuisance. Within the federal agencies involved, the problem is being approached systematically by concentrating on the reduction of the noise at its source, that is in the airplane and engine design; installation of noise-reducing acoustic materials; then in the procedures that are used in flying and controlling the aircraft, and finally in reducing the impact on people and communities. These boil down to: (1) design, (2) acoustic treatment, (3) path of the aircraft and (4) the receiver (people). NASA is one of those several federal agencies involved in this work being coordinated by the Department of Transportation. One of NASA's major efforts in this area is research in the development of a quieter jet engine. NASA has issued a contract to the General Electric Company for the development of a 22,000-pound thrust turbofan engine so designed that there will be an appreciable drop in the production and radiation of noise compared to the engines powering today's transporters. Another interesting phase of NASA research is with the Boeing 707 and DC-8 aircraft engine nacelles, demonstrating that significant reduction in fan noise can be reached through the use of acoustically treated panels in the inlet and discharge ducts of a turbofan engine. All we've listed here are just a few directions from which the government is attacking the aircraft noise problem. The research is varied and even extends to suggesting guidelines for "compatible land use planning..." for local governments and airport authorities. For almost as rapidly as aviation technology has advanced, burgeoning urban populations are closing in around the very areas where this noise rains down... So while the federal government is trying to get closer to the solution of the problem, some people are moving closer to the problem and, in effect, becoming part of the problem.

TYEE BEAVER SAPHO NEWS

By Mrs. J. E. Merritt

Mr. and Mrs. William Blanchard, former Sappho residents, returned on Sunday, October 25, to their home at Montesano, after spending the weekend as guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Walken.

Monday, October 26, was the 35th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Lucken, and in celebration of the event they were guests, Saturday evening, of the Blanchards and Walkens at a dinner at the Vagabond.

Monday evening the Luckens were dinner guests at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Halverson in Forks.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Grice of the Edwards Apartments at Bear Creek are the proud parents of a new daughter, October 20th, in Olympic Memorial Hospital in Port Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fox attended a testimonial dinner in Everett on October 24, for Mrs. Esther Kallstrom who was elected National Guard for the Ladies Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, at their National Convention in Miami, Florida in August.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Faucett of Santa Monica, Calif., arrived on Wednesday, October 21, to visit her sisters, Mrs. Garth Leavitt of Sappho and Mrs. Ben Leavitt and their families. They left on Monday of last week for their new home at Mendenhall, Mississippi, which was where Mines, Garth and Mrs. Faucett were raised. Mr. and Mrs. Faucett have recently retired from Douglas Aircraft, where he had been employed for 25 years, and she for 20 years, and made the trip to Washington before going on to Mississippi.

Mr. and Mrs. Buck Johnson and their son spent the weekend of October 25 in Portland, visiting Mrs. Johnson's uncle and aunt and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Holman from Shelton were guests at the Harry Edwards home over the October 25th weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fox went to Port Townsend on Wednesday of last week (October 28th) to attend the meeting of Key City #1495 VFW and Auxiliary.

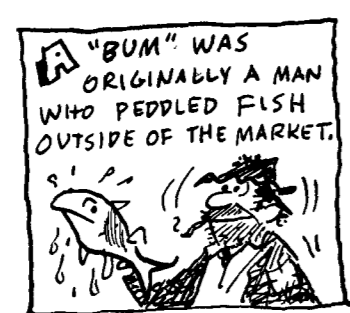

On Tuesday, October 6, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Konopask started out with a loaded trailer, intending to go to Eastern Washington for a 2 or 3 weeks' hunting and fishing vacation. Ed had been having a little chest pain, so when they got to Seattle they stopped to check with his doctor who promptly put him in the Medical-Dental Hospital for three weeks, and away went the Konopask's vacation. Only advantage of Ed's stay in the hospital was that Harriett managed, between visits to the hospital to get her Christmas shopping done. Ed was discharged on Thursday of last week, and they came home Friday.

Since Ed is not allowed to even drive the car for awhile, it was up to Harriett to hook up the still loaded trailer and pull it home. She says you can do ANYTHING if you make up your mind to it.

Ed will be convalescing at home for a month or so, and take care of his ailing heart.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fox had a birthday dinner on Sunday for their two younger daughters, Sharla, who was 18 that day, and Clara whose 21st birthday was Nov. 4. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Howard Goakey (Clara), Sharla Fox, Mrs. Mickey Klahn, Mr. and Mrs. Buck Echtenkamp and daughter Kim, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fox. Later in the evening Mrs. Edith Goakey, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Lewis, Mr. Melvin Fraker and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Tucker of Port Angeles came in for cake and coffee.

Sunset Highlites

By Fred Jarvis

By the time this paper comes out, I suppose the town will start filling up with hunters from near and far, gathering here for the opening of elk season this weekend. If I were real smart, I'd stay home, but guess the old man will give it a try. Probably the only thing I'll bring home will be track soup, aching muscles and tired bones.

Goof-off day Tuesday afternoon. Sears won first place with their head hunters costumes. Judy Klahn, Cheryl McCoy, Betty Bonds and Ruth Hutton make up the team. Best individual costume went to Barbara King who came as a pumpkin.

Scoring wise, Sally Nagel won both 10 and 30 with 198-516. Gwen Genson hit a 188 and picked up the 6-7 split, and Jeanette Gilmore converted the 5-7-9.

Darrell led the Sunsetters with 224-602 and Stan Fouts rolled a 222.

Sally Nagel had 203 and Mary Kennedy, (Frankie's sister) hit a 192-525. Betty Blattner tossed six splits in a row, and wins five bucks for the effort from Earley Tire Co.

The Hoot Owls had their goof-off nite last week with most original team going to Joyce Warren, Linda Gott, Jackie Leavitt, Betty Tuttle, and Shirley Halverson. Best team went to Woody Hamby, Reta O'Keefe, Jean Bumgarner, Leta Rondeau and Lotus Huling. Most original individual to Phyllis Whitehead and best individual to Harriet Tryon. Leta Rondeau had 188 hi game and Jean Bumgarner a 179 and a 504, her first 500 series.

The Beginners of Thursday Afternoon were led by Pat Brooks with a 143-368, Pat Lindquist picked off the 5-10 split. The better bowlers were topped by Jean Bumgarner's 188 and Wilma Engeseth's 489, and Darlene Neel made the 5-7 split.

Yvonne Thomas in Thursday Nite Women's League with a 197-534 and Mary Kennedy with 507.

West End guys had Darrell at 213-588 and Rick Dimmel picked up the 4-10.

Friday Nite Mixed saw Sally Nagel with 182 and Jean Streeter with 485, and for the guys, Ed Duncan at 212, D.J. Caulkins 212-552.

Al Whitehead hit 228-577 in Sunday Nite Mixed, and Jo Anne Helmeseth had 195-505.

Dick Suchodolski's 213 and John Nagel's 591 were the best of Monday Nite's Forks Prairie League.

Bowlers of the week: Sally Nagel 203, Yvonne Thomas 534, George Richardson 231, Darrell Thomas 602.

SPARTANS THUMP WOLVES

The Sequim Wolves may have beaten the Forks Spartans on the scoreboard but it will be a game the Wolves may never forget as the highly spirited Spartans taught the Wolves many things in the hit department. The Port Angeles paper has a remark that summer sports are up quite well when they said it seemed the hit department the Spartans hit the Wolves behind on the scoreboard the Spartans got.

The Spartan defense put up one of their finest efforts of the year, even though they gave up 35 points. The only real drive the Wolves had was stopped by the Spartans at the nine-yard line. The Wolves got their breaks by way a couple of Spartan fumbles, a blocked punt, and kick-off return.

Don Hunt, back to his quarterback position, moved the Spartans with more authority than the Spartans have had all year. But the breaks weren't with the Spartans as penalty, in this sportswriter's eyes, there were a great many against the Forks team, and fumbles killed all chances for the Spartans to score and get closer to the Wolves.

John Dahlgren played one of his finest games in a Spartan uniform. John moved into the backfield for the game and proved he could move the football. Dahlgren, with his head down and using brute strength, bullied his way through the Sequim defense for good yardage. But John's defensive play put him head and shoulders above everyone in the game.

Mike Simmons, Larry Gaydeski, Reg Shawgo, Chet Hunt, Chuck Rondeau, and Curtis Maxfield allowed the Wolves high powered offense a total of 173 yards.

Sequim started the scoring with the opening kick-off as Al Culdice raced 75 yards for a touchdown.

Sequim came back again in the first quarter after a Spartan fumble at their own 29-yard line. Sequim drove the 29 yards in seven plays with Gary Kase carrying the last four yards for the touchdown.

Robbie Waters got the third Sequim touchdown from 3 yards out with 6:21 left in the second quarter. A Kase pass to Al Culdice scored the two points after touchdown leaving the score 20 to 0, Sequim.

Forks came back on the ensuing kick-off for their own touchdown. Doug Holz fielded the kick and handed off to Jeff Wittenborn. Wittenborn in turn gave to Darrel Beebe, Beebe, trying to turn the corner picked up an outstanding block from Holz and romped 82 yards for the touchdown.

Forks had another chance to score with just seconds left in the first half. Bruce Allen intercepted a Sequim pass on his own 35-yard line and returned it to the Sequim 25-yard line but a clipping penalty brought the ball back to the Wolves 41-yard line. The Spartans then went to the double reverse pass with Jeff Wittenborn passing to Darrel Beebe at the two-yard line, but from there it was a combination of penalties, lack of time, and an outstanding Sequim defensive effort, forced the Spartans to go to the locker room down 20 to 6.

The score remained 20 to 0 until midway in the third quarter after a blocked punt the Wolves went 21 hard yards against the Spartan defense in seven plays with Kase throwing six yards to Don Daniels for the touchdown.

Kase finished off the scoring for the evening with 4:13 left in the fourth quarter throwing nine yards to end Tim Rosenbalm for the final touchdown and a final score of 32 to 6.

Next week the Spartans will have their annual homecoming game and they will be hosting the Bainbridge Spartans. Game time is 8:00 p.m. and the game will be brought to you over KVAC Radio.

Meditation

By Max S. Klinkenberg

It was the English philosopher, John Locke (1632-1704) who referred to the human mind as "tabula rasa" or literally, a blank tablet. He felt that human knowledge came from experience rather than being within the child at birth. The mind is like a slate upon which experience records impressions.

When I was in high school I used to buy a notebook for each class. These books were clean and fresh with many pages awaiting my scribbling pen. After several weeks the pages were full of notes, equations and much doodling. The book reflected only the portion of each lecture I felt was important and soon the rest was lost. When I studied my notes and took a test I often found my notes were a distorted reflection of what the teacher had given.

TWO OF A KIND

Now there are two "snaggletooths" in the family. What fun Jerry had trying to duplicate his own toothless grin!

I smiled, remembering his first "jack-o'-lantern" and how he had howled with fright at the eerie smile of the funny-faced vegetable. Jim and I had to work hard to convince him that "jack-o'-lanterns" were fun. Now, just a few years later, the "jack-o'-pumpkin" is one of his special delights.

How easy it is to shape the attitudes of a little child. It seems to Jim and me that Jerry is like a sponge, soaking up thoughts and ideas from the things we do and say. His points of view reflect our own.

That's why we know how important it is for all of us to go to church every Sunday. It was there we learned the love for God that enriches our every day. We want this dominion and joy to become a part of Jerry's life, too.

Mrs. Horton's third grade class had a very exciting afternoon this year making blackberry jam. A lot of preparation took place in learning about measuring and reading a recipe. Some students brought jars, while others brought sugar, and still others arrived with beautiful blackberries. It was a lot of hard work but the students were rewarded at the end of the afternoon with toast spread with fresh blackberry jam.

In Social Studies, Mrs. Horton's class has been studying a unit on "people who make our homes." They have been busy drawing plans of their own homes and cutting pictures of homes they like out of magazines. Carpenter's square, hammers, concrete, mortar, and asbestos are now all familiar words in their classroom. Many of the class members have been busy after school visiting homes under construction around Forks.

Most of the thirty pupils in our room would probably say that the most exciting event this year was our flood! When we were eating lunch one day, suddenly a water-pipe fitting blew off under our sink. By the time the water was turned off, over 250 gallons of water covered our rug.

Our entire class is taking an imaginary trip around the United States, basically re-tracing the route that Mr. and Mrs. Floe took early this spring. However, before we go, we are learning how to read maps so we can know where we are going. We will keep you posted on our travels and activities.

In art, we have been tie-dyeing. Tie-dyeing is an ancient Indian art that originated before Jesus Christ was born. A piece of cloth is folded and twisted, then it is dipped into a pot of dye. Some of the tied and dyed pieces are very striking.

We would like to invite all of you to come and see what we are doing in our room. You are always welcome!

Social Scene

A surprise birthday party was held Friday evening for Mrs. Joseph Newbury. Attendees were her husband, Curtis Penn, Elsie Bryan, Mr. and Mrs. Don Fraker, Mr. and Mrs. Hartley Ber, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Bryan, Jim Blake, Luwanna Clark, and Mr. and Mrs. Hu H. Preston.

A beautifully decorated cake and many lovely gifts were presented to Mrs. Newbury. Refreshments were served.

As president of an organization whose goals are assistance to veterans and their families and fostering patriotism, Mrs. Cottone chose as her motto, "So Proudly We Hail". She said, "I believe these words express so well the auxiliary's feel for the American flag."

When Mary Cottone became National President of the 440,000 members of the VFW Auxiliaries, she announced that her organization would work closely with the VFW in an effort to obtain relief and release of more than 1400 U.S. servicemen held as prisoners of war in Southeast Asia. Mrs. Cottone will discuss the prisoner of war issue in an effort to increase public awareness during her travels overseas and her official visits to each of the 50 states and District of Columbia.

Mrs. Cottone was elected to the office of National Guard in 1965 which ultimately led to the office of National President. She joined the VFW Auxiliary of New York in 1942 under the eligibility of her brother who had served during World War II. She was interested in the work the auxiliaries were doing in their communities and she wanted to help.
