DECLARED NOT GUILTY

City Councilmen Cleared of Charge of Conspiracy; Legal Battle Lasted Four Days.

The second week of the jury term finds the Criminal docket cleaned up by Thursday night, with the exception of the case of the State vs. Stirton, a petit offense which may not be heard.

The case of the State vs. Lew La Sage, charged with carnal knowledge of a female child, occupied the attention of the court all day Friday last, a verdict of "Guilty" being reached by the jury at 11 p. m . The evidence in this case was most convincing, much more so than evidence in like cases generally are, and was also most revolting. The girl was 15 years of age, not over bright, motherless, and almost fatherless, in that she was left in charge of her brothers and sisters, to feed and mother, practically all of each week, the father being compelled to work several miles from his little home in Syndicate Addition, east of Ennis creek. The defendant has not as yet been sentenced, owing to the pressing duties of the court in continued jury cases.

Saturday the case of the State vs. M. A. Anderson was heard. This is an appeal from the justice court where the defendant was found guilty, possibly because the defendant wore the clothes at that time which he was recognized in, the combination being unmistakable. These were not in evidence in this case, and the jury this time found the defendant not guilty. The charge was using dynamite in taking game fish in the waters of the Lyre river. The state's evidence was that the river was blown up in front of defendant's camp and that the explosion called the attention of two witnesses who ran to the river, and there saw defendant with some one else picking up fish. Hearing witnesses approach defendant and partner skipped out and did not return to the camp until late that night. Dynamite, stolen, and fuse, a coat and ring, were found in the brush near by, but not identified as the property of defendants. Defendant denied charge, and sought to prove an alibi, and seemingly succeeded, to the satisfaction of the jury at least.

Monday the cases against George and Robert Priest were called. The Prosecution's main witness was absent. The prosecution had a telegram to effect that witness had left Sedro Woolley, whither he had gone to work, some days before, bound for this city. Things had been made rather warm for witness before his departure, and possibly he thought the easiest way out was to fail to appear. The case went over until Thursday, and he still not appearing, Prosecutor agreed to allow cases to be dismissed.

A jury was secured in the case of State vs. H. M. Fisher, et al., on Monday morning. This is the famous conspiracy case in which certain councilmen were charged of agreeing to pay Mr. John Cain, one of the defendants, for a box drain sewer owned by him out of the proceeds of the Francis street trunk sewer district. The prosecution took the balance of Monday and all day Tuesday to present this case, using a multiplicity of witnesses, most of whom proved reluctant to testify. The defense likewise consumed all day Wednesday with a large number of witnesses, the case going to the jury at 1 p. m. Thursday, after extended argument by counsel. The State seemingly failed to prove the charge of conspiracy to the satisfaction of the jury, and a verdict of "Not Guilty" was reported at 3:15.

The State showed pretty conclusively that the box drain sewer built by John Cain to connect his hotel with the beach, at a cost of $1100, was the basis of the price paid under the guise of right-of-way damages across property belonging to Mr. Cain and others, and it was admitted that Mr. Cain had this in mind when he fixed the price. It was also conclusive that certain at least of the councilmen had in midn that Mr. Cain was deserving of compensation for this sewer and found, as one of the witnesses expressed it, this right-of-way money was in view of all the circumstances a just compensation. It would take columns to give the details of the evidence in this case. It was evident, however, that after the $1100 got out into plain view, it was not all to go to John Cain. He did, finally get $600 on his half interest in certain of the lots, the other half interest getting nothing; $200 going to him on other property, and $200 to H. M. Fisher for crossing the lands of the Terminal Land Co.

Engineer Chas. J. Filion, who acted as it were as the go-between in the negotiations for the right-of-way down the gulch, was the main witness for the state, and his sworn statement of last July, the gist of the evidence, supplemented and corroborated by J. P. Christensen, L. M. Campbell, and others, as to the price of the drain being the basis of the price for the right-of-way. Mr. Filion, while somewhat reluctant, testified very fairly, and all honor is due him that he refused to stultify himself.

This sworn statement, which was one of the exhibits in the case, sets forth, that after ascertaining that a saving could be effected by divert-

JOYCE-PIEDMONT ROAD TO BE ONE OF THE BEST

The Miller Brothers and Hugh Govan, contractors on the Joyce-Piedmont road improvement, have fifty or more men at work straightening out the road, eliminating dangerous curves and putting on a heavy coat of gravel. From the amount of work being done, in comparison with other road contracts, it would seem as though the county and state are getting full value for the $10,000 investment. This road has never been satisfactory, the surface cutting thru in the winter until it was almost impassible and it was thought best while at it to put in a permanent piece of work.

Jensen's Annual shoe sale opens Saturday, September 25 and closes Saturday, October 9. Bargains that defy all competition.

EAST BEACH-PIEDMONT ROAD EXCEPTIONALLY PRETTY

Though several automobilists have made the round trip from Angeles to East Beach, Piedmont, Joyce and return, over the new road, during the past ten days, and all have spoken in the highest terms of the lake shore portion thereof, that section is hardly ready for travel as yet, nor will it be until it is given a heavy coat of gravel at the western end. Leaving East Beach this new section of the Olympic Highway is broad and runs at a very slight grade down to the lake shore, thence following the contour thereof at an elevation of from six to twelve feet above the water. The surface is fairly good, being covered with fine rock or shale blasted from the hillside. As Piedmont is neared, however, the road narrows very perceptibly, and has more and sharper curves than any portion of the Lake Crescent road along the Elwha. Here too, it has neither been properly drained nor surfaced, the niggardly appropriation having petered out before Highway Commissioner Allen had the work properly completed. But when some of the rough edges are taken off and the refuse timber and brush left along the shore is burned and cleaned up, it will make an exceptionally pretty drive.

NEW BLOCK ON LINCOLN

G. M. Lauridsen Has Work of Excavation Under Way for Fine Concrete Building.

G. M. Lauridsen has commenced the excavation for a concrete business block 70x60, on his Lincoln street property, nearly opposite the old court house. G. M. is not saying what the building is intended for, but as it is to be 45 stories and 1 inch high, there will be ample room for at least half the business houses of Port Angeles. It is to be completed within two months, weather permitting.

Messrs. Gierin and Filion, owners of the northeast corner at First and Laurel, opposite the new Elks' Hall, are also contemplating the construction of a brick building, an opportunity for some enterprising firm to get out of the old district.

LOWER ELWHA PEOPLE HAVE A "CORN ROAST"

Miss Ruth Bown, the teacher in District No. 35, at the mouth of the Elwha, assisted by patrons of the school, arranged for a very enjoyable meeting at the school house on Wednesday evening last. The occasion was that of a "Corn Roast," the novelty of which, as well as the promise of good things to eat, brought out many of the Lower Elwha inhabitants. The county superintendent drove out and joined in the festivities and partook of the generous refreshments

It was an ideal evening for a "Corn Roast," the company was in a merry mood, and the Elwha valley echoed with the laughter of those who participated in "Three Deep" and other games. Quite a number were there from District 2, including the teacher, Geo. Aldrich. Among the conspicuous characters in the games and the one who distinguished himself for speed and agility was Garf Davis, our ex-county sheriff, who is now a resident of Lower Elwha.

No one present will ever say that the patrons of District No. 35 are not royal entertainers and jolly good people and that the best corn in the world cannot be raised in Clallam county, near the mouth of the Elwha river.

HARVEST HOME GREAT SUCCESS

Corn Ten and Twelve Feet High and Many Giant Vegetables on Exhibition.

The Harvest Home Fair given at Sequim last Saturday under the auspices of The Women's Club was a enough to make every citizen of that thriving little city swell up with pride.

Not only was it a splendid financial success but it was also another demonstration of what women are able to accomplish when they set about a task. The excellence of the exhibits spoke wonders for the productions of the Sequim prairie and for the enterprise and enthusiasm of the producers, who never miss an opportunity to let people know what a really fine community they have when it comes to raising grain, fruits or vegetables.

Think of having a good display of strawberries, raspberries, blackberries and loganberries after the middle of September! The apples were also a subject for much talk; such fine specimens and so beautifully colored were they. But the peaches surprised all the visitors, for they compared most favorably in size and color to the Eastern Washington peaches.

Some giant vegetables were on exhibition; also corn ten and twelve feet high. One of the attractions in the vegetable exhibit was the artichokes. Mr. Seal had a very excellent collection of roses and asters from his garden and Mrs. Ed Gierin's display of cactus dahlias and asters elicited a great deal of admiration as did the exhibit of old-fashioned flowers, shown by Mrs. James Burrows.

This seems to have been an especially good year for asters, for never were they so large and beautiful, and the Sequim ladies had a splendid showing of them.

Mr. Prim's booth of home-made furniture and the exhibit from the manual training department of the school were both worthy of special mention, and many exquisite pieces of needlework were found in the fancywork department. Very clever and attractive were some of the booths arranged by the business houses of Sequim. The cafeteria luncheon served by the ladies was greatly appreciated by the hundred visitors from Port Angeles and, believe me, there are some cooks amongst that Women's club!

In the afternoon the band played and an address of welcome was given by Mayor followed by interesting talks by other prominent citizens of Sequim.

CITIZENS REQUESTING E. J. WALTON TO TAKE MAYORALTY

A petition, circulated about the city last week, requesting E. J. Walton to become a candidate for mayor on the citizen's ticket, has met with universal approval. Mr. Walton has been one of the foremost workers in the Commercial Club, a man always to be relied upon when the success of any project hung in the balance; recognizing his untiring efforts in behalf of the advancement of the city's interests, the directors have just elected him president for the ensuing year. Port Angeles would indeed be fortunate could she secure a man of his ability and interestedness as mayor. As the petition says, "We want you, and the community wants you."

CALL FOR ORGANIZATION OF COUNTY IOWA CLUB

At the request of many Iowans who are now residents of Port Angeles and Clallam county and who would like to organize an Iowa Club and meet once in a while to talk over bygone days, the Olympic-Leader extends a call to all who feel interested in such a club to meet at the Commercial Club rooms at 8:00 p.m. Friday evening, October 8th, that being the second day of the Clallam County Fair.

CLEARED $40 FOR LIBRARY

About Fifty Took Advantage of the Automobile Excursion to Sequim.

About fifty persons took advantage of the Automobile Excursion to Sequim last Saturday under the management of the Port Angeles Library Association. The day was perfect and every one enjoyed the ride and the splendid Harvest Home Fair, given at Sequim by the Women's Club.

An excellent cafeteria luncheon was served and the pumpkin pie and doughnuts were the best ever. The ladies of the Library Association feel grateful to those who so generously carried passengers or donated the use of their automobiles and extend to each and everyone a hearty vote of thanks. Those earning the gratitude of the ladies were: A. D. Wolverton, Fred Bishop, E. D. Short, Al Filion, Ed. Halberg, R. D. Willson, C. S. Stakemiller, Mrs. Lonsdale, Miss Leah Babcock, Samuel Orr, E. J. Walton and G. M. Lauridsen.

LEADER'S FORKS CORRESPONDENT VOUCHES FOR OIL

By J. V. Koenig

The oil well here has materialized at last and everybody has the oil fever. The indications at present are most excellent and practically insure that we have oil here in commercial quantities. Wednesday morning the bailer brought up about fifteen gallons of oil. When the casing is closed a heavy head of gas collects and when lighted the flame shoots up 20 or 30 feet until the force of the gas blows out the flame.

Malcom Scott, who is head driller and field manager, reports that he struck oil-bearing sand at 1920 feet and finds that it is thirty feet thick. He put in a light charge and shot about six feet of the sand on Sunday and obtained the oil on Wednesday. Mr. Scott says he is confident that he has oil in paying quantities and that the well should produce fifteen or twenty barrels a day.

The oil is of excellent quality, being of an amber color and it jells when it has cooled so as to be almost as thick as vaseline.

The next card party to be given at the Catholic Social Hall will be held this time on Wednesday evening, September 29th. Tickets 25c. Come and enjoy a good time.

ACTIVITIES OF THE STATE'S DEPARTMENTS

In a formal letter to the state board of equalization, Governor Lister has asked that body, in fixing the 1915 state levy, to consider the feasibility of leaving a sufficient surplus in this fund so that the state's bonded indebtedness may be wiped out as soon as legislative authority is received.

The improvement of the last two years in the financial condition of the state makes the present the ideal time to wipe out remaining indebtedness, the governor states. Two years ago the state general fund was overdrawn $261,000. One year ago there was a cash balance of $763,000 and there is now a cash balance of more than $1,600,000.

The issue of normal school bonds, amounting to $206,000, can easily be retired by planning to retain a small portion of the present surplus by the time the next legislature meets.

While reserving sufficient money to wipe out this bonded indebtedness the only present charge against the general fund, it is the belief of the state tax commission that the total state levy for this year can be at the same time reduced 1 or 1.2 mills from the figure of last year's levy, 8.07 mills.

The only other state bonds outstanding are the remaining $75,000 of the Wenatchee bridge bond issue, payable from the public highway fund. In his letter to the board of equalization Governor Lister states he will recommend that the next legislature use sufficient of the state highway levy to retire these bonds, besides retiring the normal school issue.

Adjutant General Maurice Thompson appeared before the state board of equalization last week, asking that the military levy be increased to the maximum of one-fifth mill, to enable Washington to do its share in preparation for national defense. The war department recently notified the Washington national guard that to furnish its full quota of troops it would require in addition to the present force, seven companies of coast artillery, one troop of cavalry, five batteries of field artillery, two companies of engineers, one ambulance company and one field hospital. To provide sufficient money for the next legislature to authorize these increases, or even a portion of them, a $500,000 fund for expenditure during the next biennium will be necessary, General Thompson said. The Board took the request under advisement, but State Auditor C. W. Clausen, chairman of the board, indicated opposition to the plan.

That insurance companies in Australia are using the same tactics attempted in Washington, to fight workmen's compensation legislation, is indicated by a cablegram which the industrial insurance commission received this week from the Secretary of Justice of Queensland, reading:

"Queensland government intends establishing insurance, workers' compensation, as state monopoly. Private companies, conducting protest campaign, allege Washington scheme failure and fund practically bankrupt. Will you please cable, our expense, actual conditions. Urgent."

The charge that the Washington law has proved a failure brought a smile to state officials. The following answer was dispatched:

"Statement insurance companies false. Fund excellent condition; balance in reserve fund, September 1, 1915, $1,304,974.13; balance accident fund, $450,381.75. Act proving satisfactory to 95 per cent those affected."

The Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. has indicated that it will comply with the recent order of the public service commission, requiring all telephone deposits to be returned to consumers, without attempting court action.

The beneficial effects that will result from the inspection and platting, by public service commission engineers, of the 5,000 railroad and highway grade crossings in Washington is indicated by action taken in the first three counties completed, Whatcom, Skagit and Snohomish.

In these three counties 30 crossings have been listed for elimination and 193 for improvement. A definite policy has been adopted by the commission in segregating crossings for elimination or improvement In the first class are placed those crossings over which both railroad and highway traffic attain certain degrees of density, and where a minimum view of 500 feet is not obtainable of approaching trains. The expense of eliminating these dangerous crossings, by grade separation, will be divided between the county and the railroad.

In the class scheduled for improvement various plans will be adopted, including the reduction of grades on sharp approaches, the widening of approach road beds, removal of brush, stumps and other obstacles to view, installation of automatic warning signals, etc.

The work of mapping the 5,000 crossings in the state now is approaching completion, and in each county the crossings for elimination and improvement will be listed as those in the first three. Members of the public service commission believe this work will remove the cause of some of the most tragic accidents that occur in this state.

A feature of the state fair at North Yakima this week was the comprehensive exhibit of the work of state institutions, made by the state board of control, going far beyond the scope of the first exhibit of the kind, made last year. Aside from the previous exhibits of the work and products of the various institutions, small classes from the state schools for the blind and deaf at Vancouver, Wash., under state instructors, gave exhibitions of the useful work that is being taught these afflicted children by the state.

The most important pieces of road work undertaken by the state highway department this year now are approaching completion. Governor Lister personally is urging haste upon the new Lacey-Nisqually section of the Pacific highway, between Tacoma and Olympia, which will eliminate the dangerous Nisqually hill, scene of two bad accidents last week. Both this piece of road and the new Waterfront road section of the Pacific highway will be opened for travel by November 1.

Superintendent Murchison, who successfully solved all engineering and practical difficulties in connection with the work on the Waterfront road, already has been sent to Skamania county to take charge of the construction of State Road No. 8, along the Columbia river.

Installation of the common battery telephone system for Sumner has been arranged by the public service commission, without added cost to the subscribers of that community.

Governor Ernest Lister and a legislative delegate this week represented Washington at the western states waterpower conference at Portland, called by the Oregon legislature.

Contract for the construction of the new administration building for the state school for girls, Grand Mound, has been awarded by the board of control to S. C. Erickson, Tacoma. Specifications call for a two-story fireproof brick building, with tile roof, to accommodate all offices of the institution and provide living quarters for 25 girls.

Highway Commissioner William R. Roy is urging that good roads enthusiasts take advantage of the first fall rains to work with the split log drag.

A boy was arrested in Philadelphia early in September for hitting a woman in the eye with a snowball. Later in the month there were a number of heat prostrations in that city. No one in Philadelphia need go away from home to get varieties in climate.

Berlin has authorized a bond issue of $75,000,000 with which to push extensive municipal improvements. Under what conditions would the government of such a city consider that the times were so bad as to justify civic stagnation?

Between 3,000 and 5,000 Italian reservists are sailing from New York every day now. There are those who would like to see an equal number sailing from Puget Sound weekly.

work a man is doing,
If you like him, if you love him, tell him now.
Don't withhold your approbation till the parson makes oration,
And he lies with snowy lilies o'er his brow;
For no matter how you shout it, he won't really care about it;
He won't know how many teardrops
you have shed.
If you think some praise is due him,
now's the time to slip it to him,
For he cannot read his tombstone

More than fame and more than money, is the comment kind and sunny
And the hearty, warm approval of a

For it gives to life a savor and it makes you stronger, braver,
And it gives you heart and spirit in the end.
If he earns your praise—bestow it; If you like him let him know it;
Let the words of true encouragement be said;
Do not wait till life is over and he lies beneath the clover,
For he cannot read his tombstone
when he's dead.—Graphite.

According to Dr. Melander, entomologist at the Washington Experiment Station, wasps may be destroyed by placing a gallon jug, quarter filled with water, near the nest. Wasps fly at the jug, when emerging from the nest, and the hollow sound of the buzzing, echoing from the jug, will make them enter, when they fall into the water. One by one in the course of the day, the entire colony will find its way into the jug.

STAR THEATER

THE EAGER ADVISER

When first a stranger hits the town
He is profoundly moved,
And tells with many a solemn frown
How it could be improved.
He speaks in generous tones yet grim
And really seems to think
The town, if it were not for him,
Would be on ruin's brink.
But when awhile he has remained
He sees how well and long
Its men have struggled and attained
'Mid difficulties strong.
How oft the man who lost his sleep
That he might have his say,
Concludes he'll simply try to keep
From getting in the way!
—Washington Star.

CO-ED DANCER RUNS REAL PRINT SHOP

(U. of W. Daily.)

About a year ago Miss Cecil Smith, a freshman in the department of journalism, appeared at a university function in the role of danseuse. Now she is manager of a print shop in Port Angeles, which she took over following the death of her father last spring.

Although the new proprietress is but a little more than five feet tall and barely out of her teens, she directs the work of two able and experienced printers with an assurance that leaves no impression of newness on the job. Wearing a professional leather apron, the blond haired, blue eyed little owner works at the type cases with the men, declaring she is out for profits and not excitement.

The little printer last year danced at several university affairs. The most notable of these was a gym dance, where she had Mr. Little, a dancing instructor from the university district, as a partner in demonstrating the fox trot, hesitation waltz and the half and half.

BODY OF MISSING MAN FOUND AT THE SOL DUC

The skeleton of George Moyer who disappeared mysteriously from Sol Duc Springs two years ago, was found last Sunday by Robert Loveren M. Bickstrom and Verner Cathro, employes of the hotel, about two and one-half miles southwest of the springs while out hunting. A .32-caliber revolver was lying by the side of the remains, and the presumption is that the unfortunate victim met death by accidental discharge of the weapon.

All previous efforts to locate the body have been fruitless and the discovery is regarded as one of sheerest chance since the ruggedness and the inaccessibility of the region where the skeleton was found is such as to discourage exploration.

HIRSCH RECITAL PLEASES MANY

A large and appreciative audience enjoyed the excellent Musical Recital given in the opera house Wednesday evening in which Miss Maude Hirsch of Chicago, a former Port Angeles girl, took the leading part. When just a child, Miss Maude used to delight her Angeles friends with her performance on the piano, but to this accomplishment she has added voice culture since returning to Chicago and her old friends and acquaintances were glad of the opportunity to hear her sing The stage was made very attractive with its floral decorations of scarlet dahlias.

The program opened with a brilliant overture by Mrs. C. P. Brown, piano, Mr. Chester Shields, cornet, and Mr. Theo. Jensen, violin. This was followed with a piano solo by one of Port Angeles' favorite musicians, Miss Verna Wolverton, who played the Sextette Luci di Lammermoor, for left hand alone, and was heartily encored. Mr. George H. Hubert, one of the new business men of Port Angeles, then delighted audience with two baritone solos, followed by a cornet solo by Chester Shields, after which Miss Hirsch appeared and sang "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice," with violin obligato by Prof. Theodore Jensen, and "To You, My Lords, a Greeting." The songs were well suited to her voice, the high notes being paricularly sweet and clear and carried by her with great ease. Later she sang a number of Carrie Jacob Bond's popular songs with Miss Verna Wolverton playing the cello obligato. Her closing number was Paolo Tosti's beautiful "Good-Bye." Other delightful numbers were Prof. Theo. Jensen's violin solos and Chester Shields' cornet solo the "Holy City,, and Mr. Hubert's baritone solos. Mrs. C. P. Brown, who never fails to please, was the piano accompanist. At the close of the concert dancing was enjoyed until midnight and Miss Hirsch's engagement to Mr. Clarence Gehrke of Angeles was informally announced and congratulations extended.

MORE SMOKE; MORE BUTTER AND MORE PROSPERITY

Every rancher in the Joyce country has from one to a dozen fires going, getting rid of the logs and poles left after burning the slashings. The whole country is covered with a dense pall of smoke with no relief in sight until it rains, but then it means increased pasturage and a greater degree of prosperity. The absence of wind has made it unusually disagreeable, though, for those who would enjoy a fall outing; Lake Crescent and in fact all the valleys are literally packed full of the smoke.

FORKS AND THE WEST END

We are just getting somewhat used to the idea that we have an oil well that is an oil well. While it is not a gusher, like we though maybe it would be, still it has clearly demonstrated that we have a well that will produce the highest grade of oil in commercial quantities; and also that we are in an oil-producing section of the country. The people around here have confidence in Joe Christie, field manager and treasurer of the Washington Oil Company and in the efficient work of Malcom Scott, head driller, and a great many are turning their available cash into Washington Oil Stock.

Six or eight loads of Sapho, Forks and Quillayute people went to the dance at Clallam Bay Saturday night. It was a peculiar coincidence that nearly every car had a break down, or blowout, but the fact did not spoil the fun. Everybody got to Clallam, finally, and had a good time when they got there.

Caspar Maxfield leased his farm at Shuwah to Alfred and J. V. Koenig for a period of five years. The renters will take possession in January. Caspar reserved several acres of the place and intends to devote the most of his time to poultry and garden.

Miss Myrtle Peterson left for Seattle last week. She expects to be gone for several months.

C. D. Sult returned Monday from Port Angeles, where he has been serving on the jury.

Al Merrill had his car badly damaged last Tuesday, in a collision with Tony Fernandez, a few miles south of Clallam Bay.

Miss Christine Hahn has gone to Seattle, where she will attend high school during the coming winter.

Mrs. W. P. Elliott of Pins, was accidently shot last Saturday, when a revolver which she was carrying dropped from her pocket and exploded. The bullet entered just above her ankle and was later removed by Dr. Koenig.

Mrs. W. F. Taylor, Miss Frank Morse and Lloyd Taylor, spent the week-end with Otto Seigfrieds, at Bogachiel, where Miss Nell Morse is teaching.

The crew that has been working on the road east of Quillayute finished their work Wednesday. The road is now in fine shape. The road from Mora to the mouth of the Dickey river will be finished in a week or so.

State Fire Warden O. J. Ford had a good-sized fire to fight near Oberg's Tuesday and Wednesday. It took a good sized crew to handle it.

George W. Groffman, the Forks' toggery man, is spending the week in Port Townsend and Seattle, buying his winter stock of dry goods.

The Olympic-Leader was in error in lining up C. C. Henry with the witnesses for the timber men in the trial at Seattle last week. Mr. Henry was really a witness for Clallam county, giving testimony as to the value of Port Angeles property. As he says, the attorneys employed by the opposition were there for the purpose of confusing the county's witnesses, and when he testified on cross-examination that certain outside lots of little real value were worth $500 each he was simply confused as to location.

WILL YOU DO THIS?

The Olympic-Leader will consider it a favor if the officers and members of the various fraternal societies, lodges, social clubs, churches and allied societies, and all other civic and social organizations of the city and county will furnish it with brief news items concerning their work or entertainment. EPWORTH LEAGUE HOLDS MERRY BEACH PARTY

All present report the beach party given by the Epworth League near the mouth of Ennis creek Wednesday night a very enjoyable affair. The teachers of the city schools attended almost in a body and contributed not a little to the success of the enterprise as well by the manner in which they did justice to the refreshments, or by their ability to tell good stories and join in the songs. It was already growing late and the assembled company was showing signs of fatigue when the wienies appeared on the scene, together with salad, sandwiches, pickles and coffee. The timid arrival of the aforementioned added new zest and vigor of the members of the jolly crowd and after a brief period of comparative quiet, during which time the greater part of the eatables disappeared, the Sleepy Hollow again resounded with song and laughter.

Sitting around the blazing fire, which lighted up the weird surroundings and threw shadows out over the waves of the bay, stories were told and some so effectively that it is said some of the more timid among the fun makers shared in the feelings of that other famous pedagog when pursued by the headless horseman and were not in condition to go home alone. This event it is understood, takes the place of the Annual Beach Party, given by the faculty, and as such will go down in history as one of the "annual events" in Port Angeles.

ANGELES PIONEER PASSES AWAY AT AGE OF 80

Mrs. Jennie Nichols, one of the pioneers of Port Angeles, passed away Tuesday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. Walter, at the age of eighty. Mrs. Nichols came to Port Angeles to live in 1887 and had made her home here most of the time since then. For the past twenty years she has been confined to her home. Since the death of her husband, 7 years ago, she has lived with her daughter, Mrs. Welter. She leaves two sons, John R. and Ervin E. Nichols of Port Angeles, and three other children by a former marriage, Mrs. A. L. Johnson of Angeles and George H. Hancock of Seattle and Vincent Hancock of Tacoma.

Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at one o'clock from the Fulmer chapel and were conducted by Elder Holbrook. Two beautiful vocal selections were sung by Mrs. Alfred Jensen and one by the audience. Burial was in Ocean View cemetery.

KURTZ-HUTCHISON WEDDING AT OLYMPIC HOTEL

On Saturday morning the Olympic Hotel was the scene of a pretty wedding in the marriage of Miss Mildred Hutchison, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hutchison, and Mr. W. W. Kurtz. The wedding took place in the hotel lobby and was attended by friends of the family and the guests of the hotel. Miss Wolverton played the wedding march while the bride and grom took their places, attended by Miss Margaret Gormley and Mr. Antone Smith. Rev. A. H. Burkholder officiated. At the opening of the service Miss Wolverton sang "Oh, Promise Me," and at the conclusion, "I Love You Truly." A fine wedding breakfast was served under the direction of the popular chef of the hotel. Mr. and Mrs. Kurtz started on their honeymoon over the Olympic highway in the groom's automobile. Mr. Kurtz is one of the electricians of the Elwha power plant.

A Titled English Girl Who Likes Lawn Tennis.

Quite a noted tennis player is this little girl here pictured. She is an English girl, and her name is Lady Rosamond Butler, quite a high sounding title for one so young. In England, however, it is not at all unusual for some small person to bear a big name. Lady Rosamond is very fond of racket and ball and is said to be very skillful. Tennis is an excellent outdoor sport and is deservedly popular in this country. In winter, of course, there is not much opportunity to play the game, as it is essentially a game to be played in the open air. Some folks have indoor courts and keep up practice all the year.

Game of Tip Cat.

This is a common sport among boys, more particularly in the country. It has a great advantage in being easily made with a common knife. The piece of wood which is called the "cat" is about six inches in length and from one and a half to two inches in diameter, gradually tapering from the middle to each end.

The cudgel with which the game is played is about the length and thickness of a common hoopstick.

The player, taking this in his right hand, strikes one end of the cat smartly, which causes it to rise in the air high enough to be struck before it again falls to the ground.

There are several ways of playing the game of cat. The most common is to make a ring, selecting a piece of flat ground. One boy holds a piece of string that will make the circle required at the center, and another one takes the extremity of the line, and with a piece of chalk he walks round and forms the ring. The player takes his stand in the middle, and his business is to strike the cat outside the ring. Should he fail in doing so he is out, and the next player takes his place; if successful he judges with his eye the distance the cat is driven from the center of the ring and calls for a number to be scored for his side. If the number named be found to exceed the same number of lengths of the stick he is out. If, on the contrary, it does not he obtains his call.

Some Hints on Fire Making.

To begin with, dry wood must be used to get the fire started, and after it is once going you should mix green wood with the dry. Birch bark is about the best thing to start with, or pine needles and other things may be used. On top of the birch bark small dry twigs should be laid. Around all this a sort of blockhouse of larger wood should be built. The whole fire should be built between two green logs about four or five inches in diameter, if such logs are easily procured. If not, the fire should be built inside a three sided wall of rocks. The opening should be turned toward the wind. Never choke a fire by piling on too much wood. Grass is a poor substitute for birch bark, as also are leaves.

A Potato Race.

Put ten medium sized potatoes in a pile for each contestant and about twenty feet away from each pile a pan. Provide each contestant with a teaspoon and at a given signal let all start to transfer the potatoes to the pans. The potatoes are not to be touched with either hand. The contestant who first gets the ten potatoes into his pan is winner. The larger the potatoes selected the greater is the skill required. Entries may be limited to men, women, girls under twelve, and so on.—Country Gentleman.

Politeness Pays.

A little tramp dog met a nice little cat.
And he bowed most politely and took off his hat.
"Good evening, good evening!" so sweetly said he
That pussy invited him home to tea.

Cake Baking Hints.

If the cake rises rapidly in the middle like a pyramid and cracks it is cooking too quickly. A well cooked cake should be flat on top when done.

Cake tins, patty pans, etc., are easily cleaned by boiling. Put them in a saucepan with some soap powder and water, boil them for about an hour and they will be found clean and new looking. Soap and soda or borax may be used instead of soap powder if preferred.

Bandeau For the Hair.

A hair ornament that is very attractive and one that would make an acceptable gift is of rhinestones mounted on blue velvet. There is a narrow bandeau to go about the head and two curved ends that stand upright. They are all formed of a string of rhinestones held on a wired twist of sapphire blue velvet.

To clean a hairbrush mix one-half cupful each of salt and flour and rub through and into the bristles. Shake out, and the brush will be clean and white. This does not soften the bristles as washing does.

ing the route of the sewer down the gulch, Filion took the matter up with Fisher, Brennan and Hooker, and one asked what the right-of-way could be had for; that he ascertained from Mr. Cain "that since he (Cain) was out $1100 to $1200 for that (his private sewer) he should in justice be paid that much for the right-of-way;" that the matter was brought up in council (nothing about the Cain view of compensation) and a committee of the whole appointed; that as this committee appeared to investigate the matter each who appeared was advised of the Cain view, particularly Hooker, Brennand and Fisher, and they agreed that Cain should have $1100, which " in view of all the circumstances was a just compensation." The extension of the sewer onto the property of the Terminal Land Co. is clearly shown on the profile, but was not noticed according to the evidence until a small map of the lots effected was made for the purpose of getting waivers some time later. It was then discovered by Fisher that his company's land was crossed and "the Terminal Land Co. should be entitled to some compensation, which was fixed at $200." Cain agreed that this should be paid from the $1100, "so as not to have to back up and get a new estimate." Waivers were then secured and filed and $1100 put into the estimate for the purpose immediately, "because John Cain said he wanted money, that his land was occupied, etc."

Prosecutor Rose feels somewhat aggrieved in this case in that several of his witnesses failed to come through in the pinch with the testimony they had given him at the outset. He has, however, nothing to apologize for, in that single handed and alone he kept the four attorneys heretofore mentioned, re-inforced by George Tennant of Seattle, quite busy during the four days of the legal battle.

Thursday afternoon the case against Henriette Maynard of Port Discovery was heard before a jury and she acquitted. Victor Roma of Blyn testified in this case that he bought two bottles of beer from an auto at the Blyn dance hall, that Mrs. Maynard took the dollar and gave him change. He was certain of the person, though it was dark. Mrs. Maynard denied the selling or the taking of the money, though she admitted she was there at the time on her way from Discovery to Dungeness, and that she had beer in the auto. Mr. Severn of Blyn supported her in her statement that she was lying down in the rear seat of the auto during the two hours they were at Blyn, and that he did not see her sell the liquor. He however, was not with her much of this time.

Today and tomorrow the cases of The State Bank of Sequim and P. S. Govan vs. W. H. Knapman will be heard before the jury, to be followed next week by the cases of Barton vs. Garrison, and Kaughman vs. Gallagher. The jury session will adjourn Tuesday of next week.

THE CITY COUNCIL

making a fill.

City Attorney was instructed to begin the necessary proceedings to bring the question of the issuance of bonds for the purpose of paying outstanding light warrants and making needed extensions before the voters at the next regular election. This action was taken after a discussion of the necessity of making certain extensions in the lines, wherein City Attorney Smith advocated the continued issue of warrants for the purpose, whether contrary to law or not, and City Clerk Beam, citing instructions from the state bureau, said he most certainly should not issue them. There are already $28,000 in outstanding warrants against this fund. Mayor White advocated a bond issue of $40,000, leaving sufficient after the warrants were paid to do considerable work, while some of the councilmen thought the issue for new work should not exceed two or three thousand, merely suppling some of the more pressing needs.

Attorney was instructed to bring in an ordinance licensing expressmen and non-resident junk dealers.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

At a meeting of the presidents of the Sophomore, Junior and Senior classes it was decided that the best time for the Freshman reception to be given was next Friday. So committees are appointed and preparations are in full swing for a happy evening. The Freshmen will surely feel well initiated to the High School by the time they leave for their homes.

At an athletic meeting this week, officers were elected for the year. Harold Dodge is now president; Sam Tate, vice-president; Reuben Dickenson, secretary; and Oliver Mitchell, treasurer. But since the constitution provides that the former treasurer shall be a member of the faculty, a new treasurer will probably be chosen. Finally, Mr. Regnier announced that Stewart Brown, who is a good live member of the association, would be yell-leader. Everyone agreed to this so enthusiastically, and even noisily, the meeting was adjourned at once.

A good many of the boys have decided to join the Glee Club and will meet each Thursday afternoon. The girls' glee club meets on Fridays.

Because Miss Pazandak has been ill since Monday, there have been no classes in sewing this week. While the girls are very sorry about their teacher's illness, yet they do appreciate the two periods off each day to devote to other studies which are rather hard at the start.

The history teacher in Port Townsend suggested that the A. H. S. and T. H. S. should try to arrange for debates between the schools, the contestants to be chosen from the history classes. This led to a decision to try to put the teams on the state debating list. If enough of the students are willing to try, we will probably have a good team this year, altho no work has been done in that line since the Philomathea society was broken up.

At the Sophomore class meeting last week, William Thompson was made president; Sidney Wright, vice-President; Lauvina Johnson, secretary; and Ethel Geist, treasurer. Oscar Nelson is their athletic reporter.
