SMALL BOND ISSUE FOR PARK TO BE VOTED UPON

COUNCIL ORDERS ITS SUBMISSION

Although there had been no council session for two weeks there was little business other than routine at Tuesday night's session. All members were present except Mr. Filion.

Mr. Pettitt of the school board appeared and asked on behalf of the school children and others residing in the Third ward that some way be found to give the east end section access to the high school building by means of a foot bridge across Fourth street between Peabody and Albert. There is no means of getting from that section lying east of the gulch between 8th and 2nd streets, and it is impossible for children to get home to lunch and get back to school on time. The matter was referred to the city engineer for an estimate of the cost of the cheapest possible construction of a foot bridge.

The ordinance committee reported back with recommendation that they do pass the ordinances authorizing the issuance and sale of bonds for subsewers west of Lincoln and between Second and Fourth streets, and the ordinance granted the right to Standard Oil Co. to erect storage tanks on the flat at Tumwater street. All were adopted by unanimous vote The bonds for sewers in blocks 69, 70 and 71 will be for $1419.97 and for those in blocks 53 and 54, $1,-022, payable in five equal annual installments.

The franchise committee reported the wharf franchise back favorably, and it was also adopted by unanimous vote. The grant is for the foot of Tumwater street, for a period of ten years, for general wharfage purposes. Wharf and approaches to be substantially constructed, according to plans and specifications to be first approved by the city engineer. The ordinance provides for the payment of $500 for the grant, held heretofore to be illegal. The ordinance will be published at the expense of the grantees.

A resolution was also adopted giving to the Standard Oil Co. the right to extend supply mains between its wharf and storage tanks, always under the regulation of the city council and subject at all times to its order for removal at any time upon 60 days written notice.

City Engineer Filion submitted his final estimate on District 38, showing balance due Mr. Cotton, contractor of $403.98. The sewer in this district cost $1576.12; including $275 fixed estimate.

In District 36, Lincoln street sewer, the engineer submitted his estimate allowing contractors Mettler & Colt $1695. The amounts were allowed.

Hearings on assessment rolls were fixed as follows: District 33, Dec. 14, District 34, Dec. 15, Districts 37 and 38, Dec. 13, Districts 31 and 32, Dec. 1.

Application for permit was granted for a 24x32 building at Fifth and Pine streets. Permit was also granted B. J. Spencer to construct a stairway down rear of Haning Hall and to enclose sidewalk area and place two trap doors in sidewalk. Tony Bishop was granted a permit to build at 10th and Valley streets, a building 24x28. E. N. Eagle was granted permit to blast on lots 17 and 18, block 199 And Bootblack adjoining the Toggery is allowed to put in a door in his establishment for the winter season.

Residents of block 18 on east Front street, petitioned council to clear alley of mud, agreeing to re-

BUSINESS MEN ADVOCATE ISSUE

TO THE VOTERS AND TAXPAYERS OF PORT ANGELES:

We, the undersigned citizens, desire to impress upon the voters and taxpayers of this city the vital necessity of voting for the proposed issue of city electric light bonds in the sum of $28,000. These bonds are to bear 6 per cent interest and are to be paid out of the earnings of the city light department.

As taxpayers and voters of Port Angeles, we believe it is of extreme importance that this bond issue be authorized, for the following reasons:

1. The issue of these bonds is not creating a new debt.

These bonds will take up and replace old outstanding warrants drawing 8 per cent interest,, issued in payment for the present up-to-date equipment of the city light plant, and will thus make a net saving to the city in interest charges of approximately $600 per year.

2. It will enable the city to make profitable extensions of the light service, thus increasing the city's revenue, which will be impossible if these bonds are not carried. It will at this time enable the city to increase the earning power of the city light plant at least $100 per month.

CALIFORNIA HAS NO PLACE LIKE HOME

"We had a fine time," said Otto Myerding Monday upon his return from San Francisco. "We visited Los Angeles and other towns in southern California, but didn't find any place we liked so well as Port Angeles. Then one day we were looking at a moving picture, at the exposition, called Four Hours from Tacoma to Mt. Tacoma, and we got so homesick that Mrs. Myerding said, Let's go home. And here we are." Mr. Myerding has been looking this week for a small furnished house to rent and for the present will continue to enjoy life, though doubtless with improved conditions in the spring he will again go into business in some line here.

INSTANTLY KILLED BY FALLING TREE

Peter Olson, a young man of about 25 years, was instantly killed at Camp 5, near Joyce, Sunday morning by the bounding of a tree which was being felled. His brother Nels came down from Seattle Tuesday and the body was shipped to that city.

MAY WE KEEP THE DAY WITH GLADNESS

We give thee thanks, O Lord,
Not for the palaces that wealth has grown,
Where ease is worshiped, duty dimly known
And Pleasure leads her dance the flowery way,
But for the quiet homes where love is queen
And life is more than baubles, touched and seen,
And old folks bless us and dear children play.
For these, O Lord, our thanks!

In our healthful climate, our comfortable homes, our good crops, and in all that goes to make material prosperity, we, the people of Port Angeles and Clallam county, have much to be thankful for at the close of this year of world-wide war and famine, and of general business depression.

We are thankful for the completion of the "Seattle, Port Angeles & Western" branch of the Milwaukee railway, giving us terminal rates whereby our lumber industry is placed on an equal footing with all other points on the coast.

We are thankful for the coming of three new industries which will employ hundreds of men, bring to the county thousands, even millions of dollars, and open up a vast and fertile territory to further settlement—the Merrill-Ring Co., the Goodyear Timber Co., and the Erickson Lumber Co.'s logging railroads and mills.

Thankful for the recent sharp advance in the shingle and lumber market due to the building boom now under way in the eastern states, whose people are even now at the flood tide of returning prosperity—thankful because this means that soon every shingle mill, every lumber mill and logging railroad in the county will be operating overtime.

Thankful because Port Angeles is no longer isolated from the rest of the state, but with the opening of the Olympic highway has even become the mecca of thousands of business men and tourists in search of new and more attractive fields for recreation.

Thankful that it has been possible to continue the work of city building, adding miles of beautifully graded streets, well-built walks and a modern and extensive sewer system.

Thankful that we now have in course of construction more business blocks and more residences than at any time during these recent years of marvelous growth; thankful as well that the contemplated activities in this respect even exceed those of the present year; thankful for our new and modern court house, our adequate school facilities, our prosperous churches.

Thankful that we have out-distanced our older and one-time wealthier neighbors and have become the leading city on the peninsula in wealth, population, industries and prosperity.

And best of all, next to the continued health and happiness of those dear to us, we may be thankful that we are living in the West where more than anywhere else on earth is practiced that sum of human knowledge, "Love one another."

LINCOLN AGRICULTURAL ASS'N ORGANIZED AT JOYCE

RANCHERS WILL DRAG ROADS

In response to the call issued by Commissioner J. C. Hansen, forty-five farmers assembled at Joyce Friday evening last to discuss road maintenance and other questions of interest to the district. Mr. Hansen, in explaining the object of the meeting, said that our good roads program had progressed to the point where it would be impossible to provide funds for proper maintenance and at the same time make necessary extensions. The county had provided the best of grades, proper drainage, and hard surfacing, and now he believed it was rightly up to the ranchers themselves to maintain the roads by dragging, relieving the district of that expense. This plan has been carried out in other parts of the country with uniform success and it is proposed to organize the whole district in like manner thru meetings called later on. All present being willing to turn in and drag the roads in the vicinity of their ranches, the plan was agreed to without dissention.

The meeting organized as a permanent club under the name of the Lincoln Agricultural Association with C. A. Kilmer president and J. Bouram vice-president. The object of the club will be to promote good roads work as it is realized that a community will progress only as fast as its roads will allow, and to meet and discuss agricultural questions and the problems the farmer has to meet in everyday life.

Mr. Geisness, county superintendent of schools, gave a talk upon co-operation between the parents and the school teachers in all school work and pointed out that differences between the parents and the teacher are often due to a misunderstanding of the work the teacher is to do.

Next followed a talk on the duties and aims of the County Agriculturist by O. T. McWhorter, in which it was explained that the County Agriculturist is not a dictator or a person to criticise farming methods but he is here to help the individual farmers with their farm problems. This is accomplished thru farmers' meetings, visiting the farms, and by use of the extension school.

Sometime during the month of December or January the association may hold an Extension School under the management of the Washington State College. The Extension Division devotes its time to holding of Extension Schools during the winter months. No set program is given the state over, but instead, the program is varied to meet local problems and conditions. Some of following are subjects that might be considered and discussed:

Needs of local soils.

Farm management and crop rotation.

Stock diseases.

Dairy farm sanitation.

Home economics, questions relating to the home life and making life easier for the farmer's wife as well as for the farmer himself.

P. A. E. Club Will Do Sewing and Mending and Other Charitable Work for Needy Folks.

The P. A. E. Club met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. W. White on Seventh and Oak street and a very pleasant afternoon was enjoyed. It was decided that from now on part of their time would be given over to sewing for those in need.

Oh, what joyful news this was to the local reporter who has been wondering how the needs of so many children she knew were to be attended to before the weather grew colder.

One little family of five, she had particularly in mind, who live in the outskirts of the town, but are faithful attendants at our public schools as well as Sunday schools. The oldest child is a girl of fifteen and for three years she has mothered the little family, doing all the bak-

PROBLEM OF NEW WALK TO MILL HAPPILY SOLVED

30,000 FEET OF LUMBER REQUIRED

Director Kirschberg of the Commercial Club, brought up, at the regular meeting Saturday evening, the vital necessity of improving Third street from Valley street to the P. S. M. & T. Co. mill entrance, which, although admittedly the most important highway in the city, is in an almost impassible condition and without sidewalks. President Walton, who had thoroughly investigated the subject and in company with Street Commissioner French had examined every foot of the way and determined what was most essentially required, reported the result of his efforts. He said that the city would probably improve the roadbed satisfactorily at once, but had no funds for the purchase of lumber for the sidewalks. Mr. Michael Earles had offered to subscribe $50 to a fund for the purchase of the 25,000 to 30,000 feet of lumber required for a two-plank walk, and if the business men of the city would contribute about $200 the lumber could be provided and the city would probably undertake to lay the walk. Councilman Hooker thought that the city would heartily co-operate with the club to this extent. He also suggested that it might be practicable to get some financial support from the county, as 15 per cent of the road fund paid to the county by the city must be spent in the city. He offered to appear before the commissioners with the Club committee relative to this prospect. In accordance with a motion by Aldwell, the president appointed Messrs. J. I. Kirschberg, H. H. Van Brocklin and C. S. Stakemiller as a committee to raise a subscription fund as suggested, to confer and co-operate with the city council and the county commissioners.

Correspondence of the Secretary with Chairman Tom W. Holman of the Port Townsend committee endeavoring to arrange for a celebration of the completion of the Seattle, Port Angeles & Western Railway, and with the officials of the railway company, brought out a general discussion participated in by Directors Smith, Aldwell, Leonard, Kirschberg, Ritchie and the president, at the conclusion of which a motion prevailed for the appointment of a committee to take charge of the subject and to co-operate with the Port Townsend committee so far as practicable, initiating the celebration excursion here. The president appointed as such committee, J. I. Kirschberg, S. J. Lutz, T. T. Aldwell.

Chairman Aldwell of the Pysht road extension committee reported in detail that the investigations of the committee indicated that the road can be built without bonding the county, and that available funds can be adjusted as to provide for the building of the Pysht road. The subject will be fully presented to the county commissioners on December 7.

The Secretary read an invitation from the city of Everett, Wash., asking the club to attend the ceremony of laying the corner stone of the new Federal building there November 17, 1915.

Also a letter from Managing Secretary J. A. Harader of the Yakima Commercial Club urging Clallam county representation at the third annual session of the Washington Irrigation Institute, North Yakima, Jan. 10-12, 1916.

RED CROSS ENTERTAINMENT DEC. 7

Vice-Consul Higgins Has Prepared Delightful Program for Aid of War Sufferers.

TO THE PUBLIC

I wish to draw your attention to the fact that Friday evening, December 7, has been selected for holding an entertainment in aid of the Funds of the Allied Red Cross Society.

The event will be held at the opera house, the use of which has been generously tendered free of charge. A number of talented amateurs have volunteered their services and admission has been fixed at the low rate of 50 cents for all parts of the house.

Soldiers in the trenches are suffering untold hardships and with those who have retired wounded stand in need of comforts and attentions that the devoted men and women who form the Red Cross Society will, with the aid of your generous contributions, supply.

The object is one that appeals to the humanity of all classes and conditions. True charity knows neither distinction of age, sex or nationality.

All who come within the scope of Red Cross Relief are succored. Life and limb of the nurses and medical men may be imperiled; but the work is pushed bravely on in spite of every obstacle and danger.

It is officially stated that thousands of lives have been saved by the timely treatment of the Red Cross volunteers.

The misery and horror of the campaign cannot be realized by people who, like those of Port Angeles, are comfortably housed and at their own fire-sides enjoy all the comforts and blessings inseparable from life in this land of peace and plenty.

I appeal to you, my friends, to lend a helping hand in furtherance of the noble objects of the Red Cross Society and for the relief of our fellow beings who are in peril within the zone of this awful conflict.

I am respectfully yours,
D. W. HIGGINS,
British Vice-Consul.

Port Angeles, Wash.

A PROCLAMATION

By the Governor.

With a deep appreciation for the manifold blessings bestowed upon us we again approach the time when, following a long established custom, a day is set aside that we may all join together in offering our thanks to Almighty God for the blessings vouchsafed us and to pray for Divine Guidance in our future actions.

Our State has been free from pestilence, famine and the ravages of war; crops have been bountiful; the State is steadily increasing its industrial operations; its resources are each year being further developed and made of greater service to its people; our educational institutions continue to advance and increase in efficiency; civic responsibility is being appreciated to a greater degree each year by the citizens of the State, and in every direction we see evidences of greater possibilities in the future of our people. Surely, we of the State of Washington have cause for Thanksgiving.

Now, Therefore, I, ERNEST LISTER, Governor of the State of Washington, by virtue of the authority in me vested by law, and in observance of the time-honored custom established by our forefathers, do hereby appoint and designate Thursday, the twenty-fifth day of November, nineteen hundred and fifteen, as a day of Thanksgiving and Prayer.

And I Do Most Earnestly Recommend that on that day the people of the State of Washington desist from their usual occupations and gather together in their homes, houses of worship, or such other places as may be designated, and return thanks to the Ruler of the Universe for the rich blessings so bountifully bestowed on us, and also to pray for Divine Guidance in all our future acts. And may we receive inspiration from the words of the poet who wrote:

"We shall do much in the years to come,
But what have we done today?
We shall give our gold in a princely sum,
But what did we give today?
We shall lift the heart and dry the tear,
We shall plant a hope in the place of fear,
We shall speak the words of love and cheer,
But what did we speak today?

We shall be so kind in the after while,
But what have we been today?
We shall bring each lonely life a smile,
But what have we brought today?

WEEKS TO CHRISTMAS

Buying Presents EARLY Helps EVERYBODY

We shall give the truth of a greater birth,
And to steadfast faith a deeper worth,
We shall feed the hungering souls of earth,
But whom have we fed today?

We shall reap such joys in the by and by,
But what have we sown today?
We shall build us mansions in the sky,
But what have we built today?
'Tis sweet in idle dreams to bask,
But here and now do we do our task?
Yes, this is the thing our souls must ask:
'What have we done today?'"

In Witness Whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the State of Washington to be affixed at Olympia this thirteenth day of November, A D., nineteen hundred and fifteen.

ERNEST LISTER,
Governor of Washington.
Secretary of State.

THE RED CROSS BENEFIT

Tuesday, December 7th, has been selected as the evening on which the Red Cross entertainment will be held. A fine bill is being arranged by the Ladies Musical Club under the Presidency of Mrs. Troy and an active canvass of the city and the neighborhood will be made for the sale of tickets, which have been fixed at 50c for all parts of the Opera House. There is every indication that the entertainment will be a bumper.

Agricultural Commissioner H. T. Graves will go to Chicago next week for a conference with Secretary of Agriculture D. F. Houston and other state officials, to arrange a concerted program between federal and state authorities for prevention of future foot and mouth disease epidemics.

The second issue of the Workman's Safety Guide, a quarterly publication issued by State Labor Commissioner E. W. Olson in the interests of accidental prevention and first aid work, has gone to press Copies may be obtained by addressing that official.

Plans for continued activity in application of the tuberculin test to dairy cattle in this state were approved by the advisory board of the state department of agriculture at its meeting last week.

ACTIVITIES OF THE STATE'S DEPARTMENTS

Highway Construction Program Far Ahead of Schedule.

Olympia, Nov. 17.—The state highway department is far ahead of its schedule with road construction work for the present biennium on the $2,000,000 program authorized by the recent legislature. The biennium began April 1. Up to November 1, a statement issued by the highway department shows, work to the amount of $907,028.45 had been done. By the end of the present calendar year the work done will have reached $1,200,000, or 60 per cent of the entire biennial program.

The work done to date has been distributed financially as follows:

Pacific highway, $248,685.17.
Olympic highway, $158,750.31.
Sunset highway, $152,158.46.
National Park highway, $112,405.52.
Inland Empire highway, $49,373.13.
McClellan Pass highway, $12,697.77.
State roads (secondary highways) $172,958.09.

State road work this year was concentrated on the Pacific highway, for the benefit of exposition tourists desiring to drive through this state, on the Olympic highway, which this year afforded the first direct connection between the upper peninsula and the mainland, and on the Snoqualmie pass section of the Sunset highway, which when completed last summer gave the first road thru the Cascades connecting Eastern and Western Washington.

The largest single expenditure of the year has been approximately $120,000 on the section of the Olympic highway along Hood Canal. The next expenditure, $97,000, was on the Waterfront road, the heretofore missing link of the Pacific highway. Next in amount was the $91,000 used in the completion of the Snoqualmie pass section.

Although in previous years state highway work has been devoted practically exclusively to grading, this year saw many sections of road built by the state well surfaced with gravel or crushed rock to prevent deterioration.

Financial Business of State Doubled in Seven Years.

A statement issued by State Treasurer Edward Meath, covering activities of the treasurer's office for the fiscal year ending September 30, shows that during this period of 12 months the total receipts of the state were $11,927,794.39, and total disbursements $10,945,613.78. This indicates that the financial business of the state has doubled in approximately seven years. For the two years ending September 30, 1908, the amount of money handled by the state treasury was almost exactly the same as that handled in the one year just passed.

The state started the last fiscal year with a cash balance of $3,860,284.47, and ended the year with a cash balance of $4,842,465.08. This increase of nearly $1,000,000 in the state balance is a greater increase than during any previous year in the state's history. However, during each year of the present administration, receipts have been greater than disbursements, and the condition of the general fund, which was heavily overdrawn at the beginning of the administration, is particularly satisfactory, with a balance of more than $1,500,000.

Bites of Rabid Coyotes Give Rabies to Sixty Cattle.

Agents of the state agricultural department are investigating a reported outbreak of rabies in a herd of 60 cattle near Ritzville, believed to be due to bites of rabid coyotes.

Hardened Criminals Not Allowed at Monroe Reformatory.

In order that hardened criminals may be barred from Monroe, and that institution be made a reformatory in fact as well as in name, the board of managers has authorized Superintendent Donald B. Olson to transfer immediately to the state penitentiary at Walla Walla any prisoner discovered to have had a previous criminal record. Committing judges often fail to learn of prior convictions in other states, especially when a prisoner pleads guilty, but this fact is soon established through the state's correspondence with the national identification bureau.

Expositions in California Will Close This Year.

There is agitation for continuation of the San Diego exposition during 1916, but Governor Lister has expressed himself as opposed to having the Washington exhibit at this fair continued at the expense of the state beyond the scheduled year, even if this should be legal, which is doubtful, nor does he believe that commercial organizations of the state should be asked for contributions to continue the exhibit. The San Francisco exposition will close, as scheduled, December 4.

Supreme Court Upholds Validity of the New Fish Code.

The supreme court has upheld the validity of the new fish code against the attack instituted by the gill netters, who claimed that the measure was so drafted as to practically exclude them from fishing.

All Institutions Will Get Good Thanksgiving Dinner Says Board.

The state board of control is approving special purchase orders of the superintendents of al state institutions, to provide turkey, chicken cranberries, celery and other "fixin's" for the Thanksgiving table. At a number of the institutions all necessary supplies of poultry are raised, but at all institutions regulation Thanksgiving fare will be the rule. There are now more than 6,000 inmates of the institutions.

Revival of Business and Easier Financial Conditions.

During the first two weeks of November inheritance tax collections of the state tax commission have exceeded $25,000, being in excess of the total collections for an entire month for more than two years, while escheat collections also have been large. This is taken as another indication of revival of business and easier financial conditions, as many estates find it more advantageous, when money is scarce, to allow the 6 per cent delinquency tax to accrue than to make prompt settlement.

Irregular bowel movements lead to chronic constipation and a constipated habit fills the system with impurities. HERBINE is a great bowel regulator. It purifies the system, vitalizes the blood and puts the digestive organs in fine vigorous condition. Price 50c. Sold by the Mathewson Drug Store.

"Little Visits" No. 6

Dr. Theodore Sharpe.

The folks and impressions which I describe in this number of "Little Visits" are not the results of a single pilgrimage which I made to some one place, but the combination of many little journeys which I have made up and down the streets of Port Angeles. Knowing that Port Angeles must contain all varieties of human nature, I determined to know for myself just what kind of folks they were in their thinking and opinions of the world in general but Port Angeles in particular.

Every schoolboy has heard of the old Greek philosopher who set forth one day with a lantern in search of an honest man. So one day with open eyes and waiting ears I began a series of little trips in search of the pessimist and optimist.

Being a preacher does not make me live a silent, sedentary and solitary life in my study but rather it has given me a most keen desire to know what other folks are thinking about and what their feelings are toward their fellowmen. I remembered what Plato said somewhere in his writings, "Do not be a slave to any one science as so many are, but roam abroad, have an oar in every man's boat, taste of every dish and sip from every cup." I would say to my friends that I am still a prohibitionist and need not be alarmed at the above question.

As I started to search for my pessimist and optimist I remembered the words of the maker of rhymes when under the spell of the poetic muse he muttered slowly and silently:

"Now the difference between the pessimist and the optimist is very, very droll, the optimist sees the doughnut, the pessimist the hole."

Now I had no notion of making this introduction so lengthy and dusty an honest man. So noe day with explanation or intention. I must forsake my life-long plan of using simplicity of word and language. What I heard and saw compels me to use words and language the like of which I never dreamed I would be compelled to use. This is not megala-mania, but the humor of a gentle soul which could not be sarcastic if he tried (?)

One day I stood in one of the banks and watched a man cash a check for a considerable sum of money. He ought to have been a happy man to have been able to load his pockets with the pile of gold which the cashier thrust out to him. Any man in these hard times who has a bank credit ought to laugh in his sleep and shake his fist at the crouching wolf.

This man was far from happy, judging from his looks. The blue devils had written all over his face the most dismal doleful dumps and doldroms and megrims. He looked as though he were going to the Slough of Despond instead of going out on the streets of the best city in the West with his pockets filled with good gold coinage. I followed him out on the street. He was soon met by a friend who asked him where he was going. With a groan of despair he answered, as he showed the man a bunch of monthly duns, "See all the bills I have to pay, it is awful the expense of living these days. I just wish we could live without eating or drinking or buying clothes, then I could have some money." I watched him as he went sadly down the street and I wished I could read his thoughts. They must have been pleasant indeed.

This is one of the worst pessimists that walks the streets of any city. I said to myself, "This man must have a disordered reason, a diseased intellect, a mental aberation, a spiritual alienation, he must have calenture of the brain, he is corybantic, dithyrambic, vertiginous, he is living under a hallucination, he has siriasis, hypochondriasis and addled wits." Then I said to myself with a feeling of exultation, "He is guilty of 'heautontimorumenos.'" If you want the meaning of that word, ask my friend, Lawyer Trumbull. It is his favorite word.

It was during that same afternoon that I met a man of the very opposite type. He did not have very much money but he believed in using that money for the most good. He said he was glad he was able to pay his bills, he liked to pay his taxes and his street assessments, he liked to pay his church obligations, he made no complaint when any legitimate bill was presented to him.

I was glad indeed to meet a man like that and I have been delighted to meet many more of his like in Port Angeles. The best type of citizen is the righteous spender and not the iniquitous hoarder.

Well, here is another experience. I was standing at the Peoples' dock when the Sol Duc was due to sail for Seattle. I was within legitimate eavesdropping of two men who were strangers to me. One fellow said to his companion in a loud voice, "Isn't this a hell of a place. I am glad to get away from it." I muttered to myself, "Well, here is one fellow anyway who is glad to see you go."

Port Angeles has no place for fellows of his tribe and family. I afterwards found out that he had been mighty glad to take away a considerable amount of Port Angeles money. As the boat pulled away from the dock and moved out toward the strait, I reasoned thus within myself, "This fellow is orthodox, scriptual and psychologically scientific, he is coloring all people and places with the black hue of his own foul thoughts." When I hear a man casting reflection upon this fair city I always say to him, "Look at your own thoughts and feelings, perhaps the trouble is within and not without."

A city is not any better than the thoughts of the citizen. Any man who lives in this city and gets his support here ought to think well of the city as long as he lives here.

But now let me relate more pleasant things which I have heard of Port Angeles. Here are just a few: "This climate has saved my life; Port Angeles will always be my home; The best people I ever met are here; As fine a type of folks as you will meet anywhere; When the saloons are closed we will have abundance of money; When the war stops we will have work for every worthy man; When the street improvements are complete we will have a modern city indeed." These are just a few of the things I have heard on the streets of Port Angeles concerning its welfare and its future.

Now since I set out to tell what I have heard on the streets of Port Angeles let me tell my tale to a finish. I found out that some folks who express their opinions on the streets must be moonstruck, shatterpated, crackbrained and stark staring mad. Using a classical phrase, "They have rats in the upper story." Secretary Teck says, "Bats in the upper belfry." They mean the same. Bats and rats hate the light and when you let light into these places, why these creatures have to build new places of abode.

Listening to some folks on the street you would think that there were millions of professing Christians but a very small number of real followers of the Man of Galilee, a mighty lot of preachers and mighty little practice. Some people say the church is long on talk but short on conscience, maximum of denominations but a minimum of unity and harmony. I heard a man say just the other day, "Look at all the lawyers around here and see the little bit of justice you get." It is like a wolf pronouncing a sentence upon a lamb."

According to these fellows the market is a place where you are trapped out of your money, the world is a vast chaos and humbug, a theater of hypocrisy and sham, a shop of knavery, a scene of bombastic babbling and buffonery, and the academy and college of vice and crime, a battlefield in which only the bad and evil survive, a place without humor, friendship or affinity and the sooner you die the better.

But Port Angeles is a living example that the man who looks upon the world in that light is a living falsehood. The vast majority of the citizens of Port Angeles are just the opposite and here in this beautiful city you will find the highest type of character, manhood, womanhood, civic love and high regard for the good and pure.

I listened to a man some few weeks ago who had a most doleful tale of woe, he smiled that ghastly smile which is the sign of the bilious, jaundiced and splenetic creature. He was as "melancholy as a jib cat." I thought he would have been a fine substitute for Pandora when she opened her box of troubles and let them loose on the world. He spoke thusly, "And so you are the Methodist preacher, I pity you indeed. You will have a dreadful time, you will starve to death. There is less religion in this city than any place I ever was." Just then I excused myself and hurried away to more pleasant folks, not desiring to hurt the dear brother I softly said, "Go tell your troubles to the marines, I am having the time of my life and I have already found some of the best folks on the face of this good old earth."

Pardon a little illustration. Hippocrates one day visited Democritus in his garden at Abdera. He found him under a shady grove with a book on his knees, deeply busy in study; sometimes he would write, then he would walk around very fast. The subject of the book was Melancholy and Madness. Around him were the bodies of many beasts which he had slain, cut up and anatomized. He was trying to find out the seat of this black bile which he called melancholy and how it is engendered in the bodies of men so that he might cure himself and others. Democritus never succeeded in finding the black bile in the body. The cure of this kind of melancholy is in the mind and heart. But I just remember what Robert Burton says in that odd book of his, "The Anatomy of Melancholy." He says, "To cure melancholy we must begin with prayer, and then use physic; not one without the other."

I am delighted to say that I have found scores and scores of optimists in Port Angeles, men and women of vision. These folks will be the "Salt of the City," and will preserve the city from putrefaction and decay. Think pleasant things of your home and city and the law of recompensation will prove the logic of your wisdom.

Get in love with folks and the world will sing a happier tune. I have wandered the streets of Port Angeles many hours since I first came here and I am well paid indeed. I have met many friends in my little visits here and there and I count among my friends all kinds of folks. There are doctors, lawyers, dentists, bankers, officials, horse traders, policemen, merchants, mechanics, street laborers, newspaper men, teachers, preachers, agents, telegraphers, and others. Last but not least I must place Secretary Teck. He belongs to a division by himself.

And what is my conclusion? The optimists predominate and they possess the preponderance of evidence that Port Angeles will move ahead steadily and smoothly.

But hold on, I must stop. I have gone beyond my allowed space in Webster's modern paper, The Olympic-Leader. I have not yet started to say what I started out to say. Read my thoughts and you will know.

Let me close with my beginning. "Now the difference between the optimist and pessimist is very, very droll,

The optimist sees the doughnut and the pessimist sees the hole."

Mr. Bigelow presented an amendment to the sewer ordinance reducing the connection fee from $5 to $2.50, with the provision that no fee at all will be charged those who connect with the sewers during construction work on main laterals. The ordinance was read twice and referred.

Mr. Wolverton reported in re matter of submitting the bond issue for park purposes petitioned for by the Brotherhood and Commercial Club. The 12 lots adjoining the court house and school property can be had for $4350, and the 6 lots farther north for $2200 additional. He thought the price altogether too high, but seemingly favored submission. It would cost nothing to submit the matter. The City Attorney was directed to bring in an ordinance for the submission of the proposition.

The council then took up the canvassing of the vote at the late city primaries, after which they held a committee meeting with Mr. Keeler of Denver, relative to the purchase of the city improvement bonds.

The funeral of K. Y. Church, who died in Aberdeen the first of last week, was held Saturday afternoon at the McKee & LaFlower chapel and was conducted by the Elks Lodge of Port Angeles of which Mr. Church had long been a member. CANDY

Sugar ranks first as energy giving food. It passes quickly into the circulation so that it produces energy in a very short time. It forms part of the rations of the soldiers of this and other countries. Eaten at proper times, pure candy is a useful article of food. It should not be eaten to excess, or before meals as it will cause fermentation in the stomach. 3 or 4 oz. per day may be considered the right amount for the adult. In making candy use agate or iron pan as it is less liable to burn. Acid substances like lemon juice or cream tartar added to candy while cooking, will keep it clear.

PINOCHE

2 oz. light brown sugar, 15 drops vanilla, ½ c milk, 1 tbsp butter.

Boil first 3 ingredients until soft ball forms in water. Remove from fire, cool, add nut meats, vanilla, beat until creamy. Pour into buttered pan, cut in squares. The butter may be omitted and 1 c of milk used in place of half cup of milk.

CHOCOLATE FUDGE

1½ c sugar, 1 square Baker's chocolate, 2-3 c milk, 2 tsp butter, ½ tsp vanilla.

Boil first 4 ingredients until soft ball forms in cold water. Remove from fire, let stand 10 minutes. Beat until mixture thickens, then add vanilla. Pour quickly into buttered pan, cool, cut in squares.

SEA FOAM

2 c sugar, ¾ c chopped nut meats, ¾ c boiling water, whites 2 eggs, ½ c corn syrup, ½ tsp vanilla.

Boil first 3 ingredients until hard ball forms in cold water, or until it spins a 4 in. thread. Pour syrup very gradually into stiffly beaten whites. Add nut meats and beat until creamy. Pour into buttered pan to cool, or drop by spoonfuls on buttered paper.

PEANUT BRITTLE

1 qt. peanuts, 2 c sugar, 1-8 tsp salt.

Shell, remove skins, and finely chop peanuts, sprinkle with salt. Put sugar into perfectly smooth pan, stir until melted, and golden brown, taking care to keep sugar from sides of pan. Add nut meats or pour sugar over them.

TAFFY

Boil together first 3 ingredients until hard ball forms in cold water. Add soda and pour into buttered pan. Pull when slightly cooled.

NOTES

The usual services will be conducted in the church. The pastor will preach in the morning and in the evening the district superintendent will preach.

The Sunday School is growing steadily. Parents ought to send their children to some place on Sunday for religious instruction. Investigation has proven that the child who has had early Christian training stands the best chance of making a success in any walk of life which is worthy and honorable. The vast majority of our undesirable citizens have not had any religious training at all.

Our Superintendent and teachers will be pleased to receive your children and give them the best of attention and instruction. The Sunday School meets at 9:45. A class for everybody who comes. Miss Reed, who has charge of the music, will be delighted to see some more good singers join the choir. Her success in the Public Schools as a musical instructor is evidence of her ability to train and instruct. Her solo last Sunday was highly spoken of in many places.

DR. HOTSON OFFERS SEED OF PRIZE WINNING CORN

University of Washington, Nov. 8.—University Dent corn, a variety developed at the University of Washington by Prof. John W. Hotson, which will mature successfully and in good quantity in the moist climate of western Washington, captured first prize at the Clallam county fair at Port Angeles this fall. The seed from which the prize winning grain was grown came from the campus, and Dr. Hotson is willing to furnish more for test purposes to western Washington farmers, on request.

P. S. Govan, of Sequim, entered the corn at Port Angles, and had no trouble in winning, according to a letter received by Professor Hotson from Thomas G. Mortland, secretary of the Sequim Commercial Club. At that Govan's corn was somewhat inferior to the same variety grown by Ben Ridgway, also of Sequim. Large, healthy stalks were produced, almost all of which bore two ears. Ridgway's crop ran 45 to 50 bushels to the acre, when left to ripen. Cut for ensilage, it was estimated that it would yield 40 to 45 tons. The corn was sown April 7 and was cut October 1.

Sequim's soil and climate were found ideal for University Dent corn, according to Mr. Mortland, and the grain aroused more interest than any crop ever introduced. Some of the ears harvested were eight inches long, and had from 16 to 22 rows of grain, all large and well filled.

The University Dent corn, lately so named by Dr. Hotson, was developed from Wisconsin Golden Glow Dent corn. Four years ago the university botanist started growing it, but with very poor results for two years. The corn refused to mature. However, he preserved the good grains, grew them, selected again and finally achieved the present encouraging results. The best kernels ripening first were always used.

His principal difficulty has been lack of funds to prosecute his experiments. He has had to cultivate the corn in his spare moments on a little patch of land, not much over an eighth of an acre, near the railroad which crosses the campus. It is unfenced, and between birds, rats and hungry humans, he has had a hard time getting any seed worth mentioning.

Corn grown west of the Cascades has heretofore refused to go past the milk stage before the frost. There seems to be no reason now why farmers cannot profit by the new crop, if they will select their seed carefully, Dr. Hotson thinks.

JUST THE RIGHT PRESENT

Don't take chances in the matter of Christmas presents. You don't want yours, like so many others, to be received with indifference or worse, and ten days after Christmas to be cast aside and forgotten.

Did you ever know of a home in which it came amiss, or of one in which it was not conspicuous on the library table or in some one's hands all through the year?

It is worth while to make a gift of that sort, and it is worth while to receive it, too, for The Companion illustrates the best traits in American life in its stories and sketches, upholds the best standards in its articles and other contributions, and combines the practical and informing with the entertaining and blood-stirring.

If you do not know The Companion as it is today, let us send you one or two current issues free, that you may thoroughly test the paper's quality. We will send also the Forecast for 1916.

Every new subscriber who sends $2.00 for the fifty-two weekly issues of 1916 will receive free all the issues for the rest of 1915 and The Companion Home Calendar for 1916.

Canada and Mexico also take the lead in the amount of shingles received from the United States. Australia and the Oceanic Islands rank next in the amount of this material received from the United States.

Of the total amount of railroad ties exported during 1914 (over five million), the State of Washington alone furnished nearly half a million.

Smiles and Frowns from The Stage of Life

O. Stockmar

"Smiles and Frowns from the Stage of Life," seem to have made a hit with the people of this city—that is what we have heard, at least But anyhow, it is a red-hot compliment and these are always accepted by newspapers. It helps their circulation. The trail is narrow and space is scarce, so it happened like this:— These stories are true enough and about people locally but the smiles we aim, come back as frowns, and the frowns we try to put in come back with smiles, or vice-versa. The man or person that is talked about under this heading have brickbats waiting for us and his or her enemies are sending us bouquets and telling us to keep it up. So you see "all the friends we lose we get back in the way of enemies, and if we gain a friend maybe they will subscribe for the paper—if they haven't subscribed. It is getting nearer Christmas all the time and the editor will probably have a few presents to buy so we wouldn't mind receiving any new subscriptions this month. Now there are many "inside" stories we are striving to get about different people but it is mighty hard to "get" someone's personality and win a smile without hurting their feelings. If you know of any person who needs a pair of socks or something please tell us and we will be the good samaritans. It would make a good story for us to present some needy person with a pair of socks and to write about it without a frown or smile.

One of the hardest articles to deal with, or rather things, taken from a newspaper view or from a bystander's view, is a cat. A cat is supposed to have nine lives—one inside and eight out. Many people believe that you can kill a cat, bury it for six months or six hours, and then dig it up and it will move, wag its tail, meow and walk away the same as the tommy you have in your home, whom you feed like a child, and who is alive and well. This brings the subject to eating. But before we go any farther with this catnip story we must invite the dog, for that is what the story is aout—nothing but a home-bred pet—a dog. It belongs, we think, rightly, to Mr. Sweeney, the barber. All dogs are not alike and for this reason we print the story of a dog. He was of a mixed breed, a sort of collie make, we think, and was not known by more than a dozen people in this city. People had no reason to know the dog, except that once in a while he would use some neighbors lawn or garden for a road. Now, as we get it, this dog should have been fed catnip, or soup, or something it could swallow. Last week, he was given a bone to devour. Each week and in fact every day he has chewed more or less on bones. But now, the poor dog can swallow no more. It was like everything else, something that he went too strong on, got him. It was the bone. It stuck in his throat. For a few days the people or owners of the pet did not know how it would escape the throes of starvation. At last the dog showed signs of cashing in. The owners, feeling that they could not do without a dog, telephoned to nearby friends, who have several young pups, and asked them for a dog. It was bequeathed and was to take the place of the dieting dog. This week, the poor dog—the one with the bone in its throat—is alive and well. The bone has been swallowed or else coughed out. We get this report as we go to press. The new little pup has won a home. Sympathy has gone out to the other dog. Both are eating overtime—one from starvation and the other is just learning how. It seems that the world has gone on just the same, whether we knew about the dog or not, but somehow, when a feller needs a friend he looks for his dog. The folks who own the pet are happy and so are we. Moral: If you have a dog which you hope to lose or get rid of, just feed it bones and bones until they get him, just like things get a human being, but be sure that the bone is big enough.

Saturday we had the pleasure of meeting the new Sequim booster and newspaper man, Mr. Angus Hay, editor of the Sequim Press. Indeed, it was a pleasure to meet him. He is very optimistic and thinks that when he is firmly settled in his new home he will be able to fully appreciate the advantages offered in Clallam county. He was formerly connected with large eastern daily papers, has had lots of country newspaper experience, to which is added a broad knowledge of the whole country. Mr. Hay has traveled much. This land, this county, as Mr. Hay puts it, took his eye even before there was daylight to see what the place looked like (he arrived in the night), so he thinks that this will be his last place of abode on this globe. When he put his eyes on Angeles he exclaimed, as all do, that he had never seen such a pretty place. He expects to co-operate with the newspaper men of the county in helping to bring its wonderful advantages and resources before the eyes of the people, both locally and to those who expect to settle here. After seeing all that he could see, in an allotted time, Mr. Hay took a Ford home and promised to visit us often.

TRAVEL 12 MILES FOR LACK OF 2 MILE ROAD

Editor Olympic-Leader:

Dear Sir: We live in the Reis District. Our ranch is 6 miles from the city, but for lack of 2 miles of road we have to go 12 miles over a lot of steep hills to get to Angeles. There are two good roads from Angeles to Mt. Pleasant. Two miles of road from the end of the Boyd road to the Reis road would give us a good level road to Angeles. A bridge 30 feet high and 70 feet long would span Morse creek in a narrow place. This two miles of road would give us a good level road from the Reis district to Angeles. From our ranch to the Lewis ranch on the Blue Mountain road is three miles, with one and a quarter miles of road not as good as a foot trail; with a county bridge rotting down, leaving one and three quarter miles between the Reis road and the Blue Mountain road without even a trail. When the people of Texas Valley and Blue Mountain get to Lewis' ranch they are nine miles from Angeles if these two pieces of road were built. But now they have 27 miles to go from Lewis' ranch to Angeles. If these two pieces of road were opened it would give us a rural mail route to our homes. We are tired of traveling around the country, over steep hills, to get to Angeles. It seems we pay a heavy tax and can't get five miles of road where it will do us some good. The county commissioners don't belong to some humane society or they would have some pity for our horses. But they ride in their autos and don't care. But if they had to put their heads through a collar and pull big loads over steep hills and long roads like our poor horses do, with the whip over their backs, they would build the two pieces of the road. If they would build them they would save the poor horses many a cut of the whip and many a curse and give the driver's arm a rest.

IS THE PROPOSED WAR PROGRAM NECESSARY?

The plans worked out by Secretary Garrison and Secretary Daniels for increasing the army and navy were given out at Washington last week. They are said to have the President's approval.

The Garrison plan calls for an increase of our regular army from 93,000 to 140,000, and the estalishment of a continental army of soldiers who will enlist for six years. During the first three years they will be required to serve two months each year. During the last three years they will be subject to call to the colors at any time.

Secretary Daniels proposes a naval program for five years. The first year there will be begun two dreadnoughts, two battle cruisers, twenty-five coast submarines, five sea-going submarines, twelve destroyers, etc., and there will be an increase of 8,000 men in the navy and an addition of 2500 to the Naval Academy. This program will increase the army appropriations by $75,000,000 a year and the navy appropriations about the same. The entire program for national defense will total $400,000,000 for next year.

This raises two questions that the American people have got to face, and face squarely. How are they going to raise the money? What are they going to get for it?

First. The National Government is proposing a budget of a billion and a quarter dollars.

Excluding postal appropriations, which the Government ultimately gets back in charge for service, Congress must provide about $900,000,000 next year. Over $600,000,000 of this will be for army, navy, pensions and interest on the public debt, all war items. This is more than twice as much as were expended on the German army and navy the year before the war.

Thus the total expenditure for war will be more than two-thirds of all the disbursements of our Government. This means that the American people have got to go deep down in their pockets. And what for?

To be sure, methods of warfare have changed, but defense as a political philosophy or a practical precaution of statesmanship remains about the same as ever. Defense is only the last link in a long chain of reasoning. As has been said, "before defense comes attack, and before attack come all the motives for aggression, all the misunderstandings and racial prejudices, all the intrigue and secret diplomacy and military preparation."

The war has no doubt rendered a change in military methods necessary, and undoubtedly a strengthening of our forces. But why should the American people go beyond this and overload themselves with taxation for defense, when Europe is bleeding to death and Asia is straining every nerve to keep on good terms with us, and when war is certain to be the most hated word in existence when peace is once declared?

The United States never was so safe from invasion as it is today. Even though the proposed increase is not unbearable it will necessarily tend to promote a feeling which will involve year by year greater expenditures until finally we fall under the same burden as the European nations.

We are at the parting of the ways. Let us give to this matter the most sober consideration before it is too late.—New York Independent.

According to the latest Forest Service figures, the amount of Douglas fir in the national forests of Washington and Oregon is estimated to be 98,605,000,000 feet.

The bulk of the railroad ties exported from the United States are shipped to Canada and Mexico. South America ranks third in the receipt of this material.

Ordinance No. 522

An Ordinance authorizing and empowering the Standard Oil Company, Incorporated, its successors and assigns, to construct, maintain and operate a wharf and approaches at the foot or terminus of Tumwater street in the City of Port Angeles, Washington, for the purpose of shipping its products and for its general wharfage purposes and repealing Ordinance No. 354, entitled "An Ordinance authorizing and empowering the Angeles Brewing & Malting Company, Incorporated, its successors and assigns, to construct, operate and maintain a wharf at the foot of Tumwater street in the City of Port Angeles, Washington, for the purpose of shipping the products of its plant and for other and general handling or freight."

The City Council of the City of Port Angeles do ordain as follows:

Section 1. That there be and is hereby granted to the said Standard Oil Company, its successors and assigns, the right, privilege, authority and franchise for and during the period of ten years from the date of the passage of this ordinance, and subject to all the conditions, provisions and reservations hereof, to alter, improve, construct, maintain and operate a wharf and wharf approaches and such other structures as may be necessary, at the foot or terminus of and within the limits of Tumwater street, in the City of Port Angeles, Washington, for the purpose of shipping its products and for its general wharfage purposes.

Section 2. That said wharf and its connections with approaches herein mentioned shall be constructed at the foot of Tumwater street between the inner harbor line and outer harbor line in Port Angeles Bay, according to harbor line map showing said harbor lines now on file in the office of the auditor of Clallam county, herein referred to and made a part hereof.

Section 3. That said wharf and its approaches shall be constructed and maintained in a good workmanlike and substantial manner according to plans and specifications to be first approved by city engineer of the City of Port Angeles, and any and all re-constructions, alterations and improvements thereof, shall likewise be subject to the approval of the said City Engineer, and that said grantee shall save the City of Port Angeles harmless from any and all damages or suits suffered or brought by any person by reason of the construction, operation or maintenance of said wharf or its approaches.

Section 4. That said grantee, its successors and assigns shall permit any and all persons or corporations that may be authorized by the City of Port Angeles so to do, to run his or its railroad tracks across said wharf or said grantee, its successors or assigns.

Section 5. That this franchise or lease shall not be construed in such a manner as to take away the right of the public to the use of said wharf or its approaches, or any part thereof, as a public highway, consistent with the use hereby granted said Standard Oil Company and the same shall at all times be subject to the laws of the State of Washington and the ordinances of said city regulating wharves.

Section 6. That said grantee, its successors and assigns shall within ten days after the conveyance or transfer of any interest in the franchise or lease hereby granted in said wharf and its approaches, file with the clerk of the City of Port Angeles, a written notice setting forth therein the name of the grantor or assigns, the name of the grantee or assigns, and date of the transfer and the interest transferred.

Section 7. It is hereby expressly provided that any refusal, neglect or failure on the part of said grantee, its successors or assigns, to comply with any of the terms, conditions, requirements, or reservations contained in this ordinance, or if said grantee, its successors or assigns, shall fail to operate and maintain a wharf according to the provisions of this franchise or lease for a period of one year at any one time during the period aforesaid in the manner provided in this franchise, such failure shall be deemed an absolute forfeiture of the rights and privileges herein and hereby granted, and it shall be lawful to declare by ordinance the forfeiture of the same as well as a forfeiture to said City of Port Angeles of any wharf buildings, structures, or other improvements that may have been erected or standing upon said street and wharf space pursuant to the franchise or lease herein granted.

Section 8. That said grantee its successors and assigns shall at its own expense and without cost to said city, properly light said wharf and approaches subject to the direction of the city council of said city, and shall build and maintain during the life of this franchise all approaches thereto in drive-way from inner-harbor line to the north line of Second street on Tumwater street in accordance with present grades or such other grades as may be hereafter established from the north side of Second street to connection with said wharf. That said approaches shall be constructed and maintained at least sixteen (16) feet wide, or eight (8) feet on each side of the center line of said street, and said wharf fifty (50) feet wide, or twenty-five (25) feet on each side of the center line of said street, and in accordance with regulations and directions of the City Council for safety and convenience of travel thereon, and said grantee shall build and maintain at said wharf a suitable slip for the convenience of the public whenever ordered so to do by said City Council. Nothing herein shall restrict or limit the said city's full police control and fire regulations over said wharf and approaches.

Section 9. That for the rights herein granted, the grantee, its successors and assigns, shall pay to the City of Port Angeles, the sum of Five Hundred Dollars ($500.00) for said franchise or lease upon acceptance thereof.

Section 10. That this franchise shall be published at the expense of the grantee and the written acceptance of the provisions, conditions and restrictions of this ordinance, shall together with the affidavit of the publication of such notice, be filed with the clerk of said city within ten days after the passage of this ordinance.

Section 11. That Ordinance No. 354 of the City of Port Angeles, entitled:

"An Ordinance authorizing and empowering the Angeles Brewing & Malting Company, incorporated, its successors and assigns, to construct, operate, and maintain a wharf at the foot of Tumwater street, in the City of Port Angeles, Washington, for the purpose of shipping the products of its plants, and for other and general handling of freight."

Approved November 20, 1907, having heretofore been duly assigned to the grantee herein, and the grantee herein possessing all the rights and privileges thereunder and being desirous that the same should be repealed and a new franchise or lease granted, said Ordinance No. 354 is therefore hereby repealed.

UNIQUE DANCE GIVEN BY ST. MARGARET'S GUILD

Unique in its appointment was the dance given in the Parish hall last Saturday evening by the young ladies of St. Margaret's Guild.

Streamers of pink and white sweet peas and Japanese lanterns were draped low from the center of the hall centered by an immense Japanese parasol. With the young hostess attired in Oriental dress the party bore the air of a Japanese tea party. At prettily appointed tea tables in the dining room a delicious luncheon was served during the evening.

The patronesses for the evening were the Mesdames F. C. Bell, W. Taylor and Filion.

The young ladies of St. Margaret's Guild will continue their dancing parties during the winter in an endeavor to furnish their club rooms and complete the building of the Parish reception hall.

WHIST TOURNAMENT AN ENJOYABLE AFFAIR

The Board of Trustees of the P. A. Public Library feel very grateful for the generous patronage given them by the public at their whist tournament in the opera house last Friday evening. It is quite a struggle to defray the expenses incident to maintaining the library and also to have a little for the expenditure of new books once in a while, so any help individuals or the public can give is very much appreciated.

Everyone enjoyed the tournament and the prizes for the highest scores were awarded to Jack Leonard and W. J. Ware, Mrs. Spencer and Mrs. Hopkins of the married people and Wm. Welch, Mr. Knight, Miss Kincaid and Madge Nailor of the unmarried.

READING CLUB FILLS OUT MEMBERSHIP

Readings from Walt Whitman were given by Mrs. Brock and also a very interesting talk about this great American. Mrs. F. A. Plummer, Mrs. Benj. Phillips, and Mrs. Herbert Woods were elected to membership in the club. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Webster, November 26, Mrs. I. W. Hall, hostess.

JENSEN-BARR WEDDING A DELIGHTFUL AFFAIR

A very pretty home wedding was solemnized Thursday morning at 11:30 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. August Baar, when their daughter, Miss Emma Baar, was united in marriage to Mr. Martinus Jensen. The home was beautifully decorated in ferns and white and yellow chrysanthemums.

Rev. Otto Gerbich of the German Lutheran church performed the wedding ceremony in the presence of over thirty relatives and guests. The bride was lovely in a gown of white crepe de chine with lace trimmings and the maid of honor, Miss Lucy Mona, also wore a white crepe de chine gown. Mr. Walter Baar, brother of the bride, was best man. A very elaborate wedding dinner was served at 12:30 and the happy couple took the 2 o'clock boat for Seattle and Everett. They will visit Mr. Jensen's sister at the latter place and returning next week will go to Neah Bay, where Mr. Jensen is employed at the life saving station. Both the bride and groom are well and favorably known in Port Angeles.

Mr. Jensen was formerly one of the police force and Mrs. Jensen has worked for a number of years in the county treasurer's office. Her place will now be filled by her brother, Walter. The many beautiful wedding gifts were expressive of the high regard in which this young couple are held by their host of friends, who wish them a most happy and prosperous wedded life.

ing, washing, etc., herself besides attending school. There is a father but his work keeps him away from home all week and his wages are small, so the strictest economy must be practised. Think of having to get noon lunches for these children to carry to school every day! Then the long walk home after school at night to a cold home to prepare a warm dinner out of a very meager supply. My, but wouldn't their eyes dance if some good fairy would visit that little home and have a cake, a pie, some cookies, fruit or most anything! And how fast the ill fitting shoes cut holes in the stockings! One poor little girl can't begin to keep them all mended, and this kind of weather they need lots of changes for the feet are wet almost every day. All honor to the ladies of the P. A. E. Clu.b

KLAHHANE CLUB LIMITS MEMBERSHIP TO FIFTY

Owing to the small size of their lodge, which will furnish sleeping accommodations for not over twenty, the local mountaineering club decided, at their regular meeting Tuesday evening, to limit the number of active members to fifty.

As thirty-seven of the forty-five now enrolled are included in the list of active members, but thirteen more applications can be considered, and new members can only be added thereafter as vacancies occur. It is expected that the limit will be reached by the next meeting, the third Tuesday in December.

THE BIBLE IN MUSIC

It was an appreciative audience which listened to a paper on "The Bible in Music," read by Mrs. Stephen Smith at the Congregational church Sunday evening.

Mrs. Smith, herself fully imbued with the subject, made the audience see clearly that all the music that has withstood the the best of ages, has been that music through which runs a strain of the religious. That music is the voice of the soul, and as such, has a lasting influence on the life of an individual or a community.

PORT ANGELES & WESTERN LAYING NEW RAILS

The work of improving the old Port Townsend Southern road, now under lease to the Milwaukee, by replacing the old rails with seventy pound steel rails has been commenced, a barge of the new rails having arrived last Sunday. The completion of this work from Fairmount to Port Townsend will enable the heavy engines of the Port Angeles & Western to run into the upstraits cities, affording them connection with the other towns of the straits. The company is also preparing to build a spur at Fort Worden, so that supplies can be delivered from the East in carload lots.

WOMAN AND BOY KILL TWO LARGE BOB-CATS

H. Jacobs of Fairview, ten miles east of town, has a little 9½ year old boy who has already started in to be a sportsman, having discarded the 22 in favor of a man's size gun and bagged his first big game, a full-grown bobcat. It seems he was riding his pony to school the other morning when the dog treed a cat. Believing it to be a cougar, he returned home for his mother, Mr. Jacobs being away, and taking the biggest rifle in the house they started out, bagging not only the one but a second cat which the dog treed as soon as the first one was disposed of. Mr. Jacobs says his wife shot the first one, bringing it down after several attempts, while the boy potted the second with one and the last cartridge.
