OH! HELLO THERE--You startled me when the shutter tripped on your camera. I thought maybe those poachers were up here again and I was ready to high tail my blacktail out of here. I didn't really expect to find anyone up here shooting at me in daylight, however, as the cowardly poachers generally sneak up here at night. Well, got to go now. See you around these parts come grouse season. ---Lonnie Archibald

"WILDFIRE"

What's it like to battle one of the Pacific Northwest's worst fires: fire outbreak in history? Thousands of firefighters dispatched from across the Nation already know, having been in north central Washington during 1971's summer of fire.

Millions of America's television viewers will share the experience via an hour-long film documentary, "Wildfire!", narrated by actor Lorne Greene, and scheduled for showing by NBC stations February 5, 7:30-8:30 p.m.

"Wildfire!" was filmed on the Wenatchee and Okanogan National Forests as the area suffered its worst forest fire crisis in some 30 years.

Total snow in January, 21.50 inches.

C.G. AWARDS PRESENTED

Commander A.J. Soreng, Commanding Officer of the Coast Guard Group Port Angeles, presented the Coast Guard Commendation Medal at U.S. Coast Guard Station Quillayute River today to Fireman Clyde R. Baker and Seaman William A. Byrd for assisting in a daring rescue of two stranded persons trapped by the tide on April 26, 1970 at Teahwitt Head, approximately four miles south of LaPush, Washington. Both Baker and Byrd swam from a Coast Guard rescue boat being piloted by First Class Boatswain Mate Richard Deer and Second Class Fireman Larry Thompson

ACCIDENTS REPORTED

The Washington State Patrol reported two accidents in the Forks area over the weekend. The first occurred January 28, 10:40 a.m., approximately .6 of a mile east of Jim Creek bridge on Highway 112. The driver, Jeffery S. Reynolds, 21, of Port Angeles, driving a Volkswagen sedan was headed eastbound on 112, when he was approached by another vehicle westbound in his lane, he swerved to avoid the other car and went into the ditch. The Volks received $350 damage, the driver was not injured.

The second accident occurred about one-half mile south of the Lower Hoh road, February 2nd, 4:00 a.m. The driver, Clifford Hudson, 36, from the Hoh Reservation, driving a 1970 Ford hardtop was northbound on 101, failed to negotiate a curve to the right, traveled back across the roadway and rolled over, coming to rest on its tiop. Hudson was not injured.

LOGGING OFFICE OPENS

John S. Spage, manager of the Washington State Employment Security Department in Port Angeles, has announced the re-opening of the Forks

The Mansfield Dinner Committee held their second meeting the night of January 27, 1971. Committees reporting on their activities found the planning well underway. Contrary to last week's news, the starting time will be 6:30 p.m. and the cost to be $3.50. The reduction being made possible by the caterer Claude Clark. Tickets according to committee chairman Ruth Ann Leppell are now available. They are at the Forks State Bank, Forum office and Post Office. It is suggested to get them early. Telephone reservations may be made with Ruth Ann Leppell, Dorothy Gorham, and Dr. Baker's office.

The decorations committee appealed for an early location selection. A report from Arthur Munson regards the Early Pioneers group finds them pretty well prepared. Most of the committees are bidding time until everything is a little more firmed up. Next meeting for further organizing and problem solving will be February 10, 8:00 p.m. at Ruth Ann Leppell's home, everyone welcome.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Editor,

Now that Lonnie Archibald has brought up the subject of bow and arrow hunting, as I live within the opened area, I should like to express some of my views.

I can't do so with total indifference. To have had a beautiful tame doe come to you as a pet for four years and then have her gone shortly after bow and arrow season, can scarcely make one indifferent. I can only hope that the arrow that struck her found a vital spot and her suffering wasn't prolonged.

Enjoy your doe hamburger, hunter: But how does one finish off a dying deer without a gun?

Hunting has passed from the stage of necessity, when our pioneers lived off the game, in their journey westward. Now it is a costly luxury. The glory rests in the killing and if the meat isn't fit for food in the end it makes little difference.

By the time the big hunt arrives every hunter is aquiver with excitement and anticipation, so much so that cow elk are killed because a spike is in their midst; the country is put to the expense of recovering lost hunters, men drown themselves in rivers to reach the bank and hunters are shot because they carelessly move a bush.

I do not argue that there should be no excess game killed, but that it should be done in as efficient and humane way as possible. If the rifle were not more efficient than a bow and arrow, the Indians would not have changed to guns. To make more certain that game is killed quickly, the Game Department specifies that a large caliber gun be used, even for deer. This is right. But then why put on this last, long, either sex, deer or elk, bow and arrow season? There can be no other explanation but that pressure groups have pushed it and the Game Department hoped to get additional revenue and at the same time believed the hunters would get little game and a lot of exercise.

As we live within the hunted area we made contact with 3 hunters who actually saw elk and used their bow and arrows. Two of the hunters stuck arrows in the backs of two elk on the hillside below them and tried to follow the blood trail. They ran into our posted area and came to the house for permission to pursue, which we granted them. As it was late in the afternoon of Sunday, they remarked it might be too late in the day. The next day we went into the vicinity and saw no fresh human tracks or elk tracks.

The third hunter had just come to his camper from hunting. There was a light snowfall. He had shot an elk and the arrow had struck in its brisket. He remarked that wet arrows did not seem to have the necessary "go power". Remember this is wet Washington. He had tried to track the elk and lost the trail. Much of the ground is covered with moss and tracking isn't easy even for an expert, and as the terrain is covered with brush, and trees, game is soon out of sight. There were more elk there and he was going to try again. Better luck next time, hunter, but what luck will these three wounded elk have?

Further on a man, a young man about twenty, and a boy about twelve with his small bow and arrows were ready to start the hunt. Can this small boy do more than wound an animal? He is just as eager and has the same hunting privilege as the other.

So this is the end of one, two, three, I shall say no more. You may figure the percentage.

Editor,

More than once I have read a complaint about aircraft "invading" the mountain regions.

Who of us hasn't taken a long tedious trip into the high country with pack and staff, and so with much struggling and suffering attained what must be isolation and who knows, could be first discovery?

Once can acquire so little distinction in a world seething with population, it really takes some doing to lead out and bring back a record of achievement that could make history.

You sit down, you ache, but you exist.

Comes now a well known humming sound, louder. A huge dragon fly comes in and down, disgorges humans and an unbelievable amount of cargo. Mystery land is phifft!

An opinion is sent to the paper, the frustrated malcontent is heard from.

Someone answers, its got to go on and why. But let's look a little farther. Are the beloved heights, only for the able-bodied, the young enough or the old enough? What about those who cannot obtain their glory otherwise? The many that loved the mountains and made a climb every year and are now unable?

The very young? Crippled soldiers? The other wise disabled? The aged? Let us look forward to a regular helicopter service with a safe place to land, enjoy and returned.

Costly perhaps, but many can or would afford it, and the environment is wholesome. So are the underprivileged to be denied the mountains because some of us want a monopoly, yet on them? Marie Lewis Star Route 1, Box 438 Forks, Washington

Lakers surprise 76'ers

Brian Borde isn't too tall, but he can put the ball through the hoop and that is what counts. With his 10 points and Scott Birdwell's 9 markers, the Lakers marched to a 24-18 win over the 76'ers in little league action last Saturday.

In other league action, the Chiefs continued their winning ways at the expense of the Bullets, 34-16, while the Celtics came home a 15-9 victor over the Pistons, and the Suns rallied from last week's defeat to down the Sonics, 25-19.

Coach Clayton Silves' Lakers built-up a 17-7 halftime lead over the 76'ers and never looked back. Borde was a "one-man parade" as he went to the charity line for 7 shots in the second period and connected on 5. Ron Minor and Steve Weed tried to rally the 76'ers, but it was to no avail. Minor hit for 8 and Weed for 5 points in a losing cause.

The overpowering Chiefs had trouble with a stubborn Bullet five before pulling out their win. Leading 12-8 at the half, the Chiefs put together a 16 point third stanza, while the Bullets could count only 4 times. Butch Eastman's 12 points, followed by Dean Penn's 10 counters led Coach Sherm Black's crew to their victory. Coach Morgan's top "twine ticklers" were Jim Leppell and Ric Furhman with 6 apiece.

Coach Johnny Medsker is beginning to make winning a habit. The Celtics picked-up win number two with their 15-9 victory over the Pistons. The Celts jumped to a 3-0 lead in the first frame and maintained the lead at half, 12-7. Neither team found the board in the third period and the fourth period scoring was 3-2 in favor of the Celtics. Mike Schultz tallied 9 for the Celtics and Brad Kennedy, 5. The Pistons answered with Jim Johnson getting 4, two apiece for Vincent Johnston and Larry Hutt, and 1 "bean" for Ron Bagby.

Coach Wes DePew had his crew "fired up" as his team pulled out a 25-19 win over the Sonics. With the first quarter score, 6-6, the half, 10-9, and the third quarter, 15-14 Suns, one could say Coach DePew's five "fourth quartered" 'em. Larry Wentworth hit for 13 big points and Danny Gockerell, Scott DePew, and Jerry Banner tallied 4 apiece. Tom Cook threw in the other counter. Ron Williams of the Sonics tipped the twine for 9 and Sam Windle, Greg Moore, Fred Bennett, and Bruce Henneger netted 2 apiece. Jim Gale matched Cook's total of 1.

This Saturday, action begins early with the first of four games set for tip off at 8:00 a.m. The Suns go against the Bullets in game #1. Following game #1, it will be the Lakers hosting the Sonics, the Celtics meeting the Chiefs, and the 76'ers play the Hawks in the day's final. The Pistons draw the "bye" for the week.

When on playground duty you are: zipping zippers, buttoning buttons, tying hat strings, applying bandaids to "hurts", breaking up "physical disagreements", "soothing tempers". Listening to... "do you know what?" stories. All in all that 30 minute duty leaves you exhausted, yet with new stories to tell over coffee about, "guess what happened yesterday on the playground?"

Yes, I'd say if you are interested at all in children or bored, with nothing to do just come visit the Primary School, I guarantee after your visit you will feel a definite lift of spirits. I guess after seeing so much LIFE in action you can't help but feel better.

25-POUNDER FOR EARL

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hamilton ventured to the high waters of the Soleduck Friday morning in pursuit of the much sought for ironheads of the Olympic Peninsula. Earl has caught his share of fish this season which is evident by his smokehouse on Bogachiel Way which is continually smoking. Anyway, getting back to what it was we were going to say, Mr. Hamilton standing bravely on the bank of the Soleduck tied a spin-in-glo to his line, accompanied with a cluster of eggs and made his cast. After the big lead weight had settled to the bottom of the plunking hole the pole tip arched, Earl set the hook and the fight began. You say how long does it take to land 25 pounds of fish? Well, who knows. Who keeps track of time during an episode as this. Actually it matters not how long it took. The important factor was that together the Hamiltons finally landed this trophy stealie. The smaller fish is not really small at all but weighed in at 10 pounds. This fish was caught by Mrs. Hamilton who also cashes in on her share of smokehouse material. And so it is, another trophy for our local sportsman. And where can we find sportsmen as dedicated as the Hamiltons of Forks? Thanks for the smoked fish, Earl.

HERE AND THERE

Speaking of sportsmen how about a few cheers for the dedicated outdoorsmen at the local Peninsula Tel. & Tel. Names like Jon Erickson, Dan (the fish killer) Lodholm, Tricky Dicky Haberman, even Al Ramsaur is showing signs of becoming one of the all time great sportsmen. And how about the old bear hunter, Wayne Haag and fly fishing expert Dick Wentworth. Then there are clam diggers Bob Pelikan and Ronald Shearer. And how about the old smokehouse king William (burn-em-up) Chaney. Then we find top experts in that of Gentle Ben Ringer and Clayton the Russell. There is no doubt in my mind that these names will someday top the list of the all-time greats in the great outdoors.

Cowboys maul Spartans

Forks Spartans found out last Saturday evening that a basketball game consisted of four quarters and went down to boys, 61 to 50. Forks playing sporadic for three quarters put on a fourth quarter rally, but it wasn't enough to overtake the Cowboys.

Getting off to a slow start Forks trailed 13 to 0 at one point and 15 to 4 at the end of the first quarter and 27 to 12 at the end of the half. In the third quarter the teams played pretty much even scoring, 14 points apiece.

In the fourth quarter Chima-cum built their lead to as much as 21 points before a Forks rally cut the lead to 3 points. At that point fouls and turnovers took their toll on the Spartans. The Spartans had four players foul out and they committed nine turnovers in the fourth quarter.

Scott Kilmer proved to be the winning factor for the Cowboys as he scored 10 of his game high 20 points in the fourth quarter. Eight of Kilmer's 10 fourth quarter points came on free-throws, Mike Simmons and Don Hutt led the Spartans with 10 and 16 points respectively.

The Spartans are now 5-wins and 9 losses for the season and 0 and 6 in league play. The Spartans will be after league win number one when they travel to North Mason Friday evening. North Mason defeated the Spartans 68 to 64 earlier in the season. Saturday the Spartans travel to Quilcene to battle the Rangers. The Spartans are averaging 55 points a game for the season while their opponents are averaging 62.

Forks' Junior Varsity team collected their 9th win of the season at Chima-cum, winning a thriller, 53 to 48. The Spartans have five losses on the season.

Four of five Forks starters scored in double figures as the young Spartans led all the way in capturing the win. Coach Cash's team shot 19 of 46 for 41 percent and 15 of 28 from the free-throw line for 53 percent.

John Dahlgren led the scoring parade with 13, followed by Ron Diimmel, Bernie Nash and Cy Thornton with 11, 10 and 10 points respectively.

Scoring
FORKS--(50)--Allen 7, Simmons 10, Maxwell 8, Hut 16, Jackson 6, Dunlap 1, Beebe 2, Nielson 0, Hunt 0, Hinchon 0, Brandeberry 0.

Redskins over Spartans

Forks basketball fans watched a new wrinkle in the Forks High School offensive strategy last Friday evening as Coach Mohondro's chargers came out with a slow-down ball control offense over the Port Townsend Redskins. Only a late third and fourth quarter rally saved the Redskins from defeat, as they sunk the Spar-

Sunset Highlites

By Fred Jarvis

Comes the moment of truth for you gals this weekend in the Doubles and Singles events of the Forks Women's City Association Tournament. Has all the bowling you've done these past few months going to pay off? Sic 'em, gals. Maybe you've saved all the big games and series just for now.

Darlene Neel and Judy Klahn tied at 179 for Hi 10 on Tuesday Afternoon and Kathy Decker had a 480 Hi 30. Barbara Hoffman hit her first league 400, a 423. Esther Parris converted the 5-8-10, Gerry Banner the 5-6-10, Rae West the 4-5-7, and Judy Klahn the 5-7.

Some big ones amongst the Sunset bunch; Frank Goos had a 220-570, Darrell Thomas 228, Ed Duncan, 578, and Duke Streeter a 229-628, plus picking off the 6-7-10. John Nagel picked off the 6-7-10 split twice.

For the Powder Puffs, Delta Joutsen hit a 191, Mary Kennedy 195, Billie Crist a 200, Sally Nagel 511, Paula Lyda 521, and Wilma Engeseth a 537. Lake Pleasant Grocery set a new high team series of 2470.

Reta O'Keefe tossed a 202-491 and Doris Broderson a 202-495 in the Hoot Owls League and Alice Olsen picked off the 4-5 split.

Pat Brooks of Thursday Beginners hit 158-380 and picked off the 4-1-10 and 5-10 splits. Bev Johnston picked the 5-6-10, Donna Springer rolled 133 and Beth Youngblood 966. For the Captains, Ollie Swearingen hit 182, and Wilma Engeseth 184-492.

Mary Kennedy banged out a 208-528 in Women's Thursday nite, Jerry Beebe a 511, Leta Rondeau 201-510, and Reta O'Keefe a 203-568.

Fred's Barber Shop ruled the roost in the men's West End league, hitting a team high game of 930 and a series of 2488. Team members Carroll Lunsford (222-534), and John Medsker (225-554), led the way. Ves Sexton converted the 4-7-10 and 4-5-7.

Jerry Beebe topped the Friday Nite Mixed gals with her 202-479. Stan Fouts hit 213 and Fred Jarvis 582. Betty Jacobson with a 119 average banged out a 171, and Lou Suchodolski made the 3-7-10 split.

Bill Long drew the TV shot at Saturday Nite Monte Carlo and Jim Hjelmeseth the Jackpot try, no luck again, and so the pot gets bigger. No Monte Carlo this week or next, due to the tournament. Gerry Banner had a $15 shot, but must not be able to handle such high finances, she missed. Better luck next time, Gerry.

Sunday Mixed: Phyllis Whitehead 202; Joanne Hjelmeseth 202-475; Jim Hjelmeseth 202-562.

Forks Prairie: Hank Bigelow 229; Carter Warren 219; Fred Jarvis 214-574; Darrell Thomas 222-612.

Sunset Lanes Traveling Team: John Nagel 196; Ted Prior 191-559.

Bowlers of the week: Mary Kennedy 208; Reta O'Keefe 568; Hank Bigelow 229; and Duke Streeter 229-628.

tans, 49 to 34.

The run-and-gun Redskins had shot down the Spartans 69 to 40 earlier in the season, but this time the Spartans set the tempo of the game. Using the control offensive Forks trailed 6 to 5 at the end of the first quarter then hit on 7 of 8 shots from the field to take a halftime lead of 19 to 18.

Port Townsend, with the help of the inside work of Reed Gunstone and Forks miscues, came back in the third quarter to take a 29 to 22 lead, Forks cut the Port Townsend lead to two points in the fourth quarter behind the play of Ray Maxwell and Don Hutt, but a late rally by the Redskins put the game out of reach.

Port Townsend, now in sole possession of second place in the Olympic League, behind the Lakeside Lions, was paced by Rich Gasfield with 13 points and Keith Harper and Reed Gunstone with 11 points apiece.

Forks' Don Hutt led the Spartans with 12 points followed by Ray Maxwell with 10 points.

In the preliminary action Forks' JV's fought off all Port Townsend rallies to take a 50 to 44 victory from a strong and much taller Redskin team that had defeated the Spartans earlier in the season at Port Townsend.

Forks, having a good night, hit on 18 of 40 shots for 45% compared to Port Townsend's 17 of 45 for 38%. From the free-throw line Forks collected on 14 of 30 for 47% as Port Townsend had 10 of 19 for 53%. Forks had 15 team fouls while the Redskins committed 23 personals.

Forks JV's in winning put three of five starters in double

Huskies now 2 - 2

Washington State, in a Pacific-8 Conference slump the past few weeks, hosts Washington for a Pac-8 basketball game this Saturday night.

The Cougars won 9 of their first 11 games this season; but then conference play began, and on successive weekends they lost to UCLA and Southern California, then to Oregon and Oregon State.

The Huskies are 2-2 right now in the conference; they swept Oregon and OSU at home after losing to USC and UCLA in Los Angeles. Last weekend, Washington played a pair of non-conference games against Long Island University and Gonzaga.

Saturday's game is the only contest this week for either team. It will begin at 8:05 p.m. in Pullman's Bohler Gym.

CANCER DRIVE BEGINS

"More Will Be Done in 1971", in this year's theme of the American Cancer Society drive, according to Mrs. Harley Witherow, area chairman.

Mrs. Harley Witherow, Mrs. Mike Oakes, educational chairman and Mrs. Phillip Jasper, service chairman, attended the meeting held January 25 at Aggies in Port Angeles.

Division field service representative, Mrs. Orienne Lane from Seattle opened the clinic by showing many new crusade materials, two film strips prepared for this year's crusade.

Vince Francke, the principle speaker is vice president of the AMS crusade Washington Division. This is his fourth year as chairman of this division. He was formerly crusade chairman and president of the Cowitz-Whitcom counties, and he is presently a officer of the National Bank of Commerce in Longview, Washington.

Many aspects of the April crusade were discussed, the control of cancer in our lifetime was also stressed. Money to continue cancer research is necessary, but people to people contact is necessary to get the educational material out to the public. Fight cancer with a check-up and a check is a main point.

Talk it up! In all clubs, organizations, and to your friends, we need more workers, volunteer people to give a small portion of their time to spread the life-saving information. Early detection of cancer could save 100,000 lives this year. In two years more people die of cancer than have died in all the wars we have fought.

We have a number of new films that are available to the public and lots of posters have been printed. Any group that would like to use some of the posters or see a film, please contact Mrs. Witherow for this and other life-saving material.

Mr. and Mrs. Rex P. Oakes

In a lovely evening ceremony performed at the First Congregational Church in Forks, Miss Peggy Ann Rhyne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald H. Rhyne of Port Angeles, became the bride of Rex Patrick Oakes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harley Witherow of Forks. Rev. William Cross performed the double-ring ceremony in the presence of 200 guests.

Baskets of red roses and pink chrysanthemums decorated the chapel. Four gold candelabras with white candles and red and pink bows decorated the altar. The pews were decked with hot pink pom pom bows and draping ribbons. Mrs. Fred Rosmond was the organist, Gordon Oros, the soloist sang, "The Lord's Prayer" and "I'll Love Your For Eternity".

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of white de-lustered satin with a high neckline and bishop sleeves with deep cuff and tiny satin buttons. The bodice had a sheer organza yoke outlined in pearls and Alencon lace, which also outlined the neck, bodice and sleeves. The skirt had a full chapel length train which fell from the waistline. She wore a chapel length Alencon lace mantilla. She wore the traditional blue lace garter and a sixpence, the date of her birth in shoe.

For sentiment the bride wore a cameo brooch, given to her by the bridegroom and a bracelet that had been the bridegroom's great-grandmother's. The bridal bouquet was of gardenias, stephanotis and red roses.

Jane Baker, bridesmaids were all gowned alike in high waisted cummerbund skirts in wine colored pan velvet with hot pink crepe blouses, which had full long sleeves and wide pointed collars. They had matching wine chokers and carried baskets of deep pink roses with fern and deeper red ribbon to match the skirts.

Ringbearer was Richie Newman, nephew of the bridegroom.

The best man was Kosta Arger from Tacoma. The ushers were brothers of the bridegroom, Mike and Clayton Oakes.

The bride's mother wore a two-piece powder blue wool knit suit with pearl and silver trim. Mrs. Rhyne had beige accessories. Mrs. Harley Witherow, mother of the bridegroom, wore an aqua blue A-line dress with three-quarter length sleeves and matching accessories. Both mothers had orchid corsages.

The reception was held immediately following the wedding, in the Fellowship Hall of the church. The wedding cake was a four-tiered creation with miniature bride and groom between the middle tiers. The top of the cake was decorated with red and pink roses. After the bride and groom cut the first piece, it was served by Mrs. Roy Layman, aunt of the bride and Mrs. Ernest Wittenborn. Mrs. Nelma Rhyne poured, assisted by Mrs. Terry Newman, sister of the bridegroom, Mrs. Al Fletcher, and Mrs. James McDevitt, aunts of the bridegroom.

For her going away costume
