AUTO ACCIDENT REPORTED

Trooper Jaske reported that approximately five minutes after midnight, March 12, 4 miles north of Forks on Highway 101, a one-car accident occurred involving Suzani L. Rogers, 29, of Beaver, driving a 1955 Ford sedan. Mrs. Rogers sustained broken ribs.

The vehicle apparently was traveling northbound toward Beaver, when there was a blow out of the right front tire. The vehicle went off the road to the right, into a ditch resulting in about $100 damage to the right front. Miss Rogers was treated at Forks hospital where she remained overnight.

KEEPER'S QUARTERS BURNED

Chief Johnson of the Coast Guard reported the burning of an old building on Destructor Island, Tuesday, March 16. The deteriorated building had been a keeper's quarters and was built in 1885.

THE DENIZEN WAS MENIZEN THE AIR

A dead whale washed upon a Pacific Ocean beach isn't anything to blubber about, but it's rough on the eye: if you're down-wind. On Saturday, March 6, 1971, this mammoth of the deep became a victim of old devil sea, and is now high and dry on the Hoh Indian Reservation beach. Just what caused the demise of this denizen remains a mystery to man, but the fact is that it is dead and is causing quite a scramble to the nearest store for a supply of room spray deodorant, any scent will do. This picture was taken on Friday, March 12, and as you can see, our friend isn't in too bad shape, conformation wise. I'd venture to say that in his day he could spout brine with the best of them.

A problem did arise as what to do with the big mammal, nobody wished to lay claim to it. Possession is nine points of the law, but the Hoh Indians said they had enough points for the time being, and perhaps the state could use a few. The problem was finally solved when the Hoh Tribe hired an Aberdeen man and his bulldozer to bury the whale. By the time this hits the street the whale will be a lot of six feet under. Burial at sea would have seemed a fitting thing, but Davey Jones was out to lunch for the rest of the month. Notice to all whales... "It's alright to play in the sand, but for heaven sake don't go near the beach. ---Forum Photo, Al Clarke

The money will be used for personnel fire and safety equipment for the department.

PARDON MY WIFE'S UMBRELLA
---Al Clarke

The rain in Spain falls mainly on the plain, but in Forks it falls on everything in sight, including my $30 sweater that used to be size 44. Two and some tenths inches of rain in forty hours doesn't hinder or seem out of the ordinary to some of the oldtimers, but to a dry-back like me it's like 137 pounds of rice at a midget wedding.

Don't get me wrong; I'm not saying we don't need rain. It's necessary for the growth of Nature's loveliness. I do appreciate Ma Nature's handiwork, but I feel very strongly about some kind of control. Perhaps a sort of wet radar system. On second thought, radar doesn't seem to work well in this area. Rain is looked upon by the oldtimers as a natural thing. "But," said one long-time resident, "rain hereabouts ain't like it used to be. There was a time when the rain came straight down like rain should; then the winds began. It's like walking through a Bendix during the rinse cycle. There just ain't no way to dress for it."

On windless rainy mornings (we have had a couple), I plod to work under the protection of my wife's yellow-gold umbrella, never giving a second thought to the effect it might have on the question of masculinity in the minds of on-lookers. At five in the morning, I was pretty safe. I have wondered on those morning treks what would happen should a wind arise. A trip to the Rain Forest on not-so-gossamer wings, or more realistically, a trip on my face trying to rescue my wife's inside-out yellow-gold umbrella. Umbrella or no umbrella, the rain continues to fall on everything in sight in Forks.

The other day I was trotting alongside an oldtimer, 23 steps ahead of a downpour, when a ridiculous question crossed my mind. "Did it rain this hard in the old days?" I shouted. "Rain this hard in the old days!" He snorted. "How do you think Lake Crescent got there?" It's better my wife's umbrella should leak.

PEN. TEL. & TEL. TO INVEST $175,000

Maurice R. Hull, President of Peninsula Telephone and Telegraph Company, Forks, has announced the corporation plans to invest $175,000 in new equipment during 1971. The company operates exchanges in Forks, Beaver, Neah Bay, Clallam Bay, and Clearwater, serving 3,009 telephones.

Hull estimates that in 1971 the company will add approximately 270 new telephones. Included in the company's 1971 construction program is the addition of $83,000 in central office equipment, $48,000 in aerial and buried cable, and $44,000 in station apparatus and connections. All new equipment additions are required to keep pace with normal subscriber growth and service improvement projects.

"In 1970," said Hull, "we installed a net of 246 new telephones in our five exchange areas. This represented an increase of 8.9%, compared with 9.5% in 1969."

The exchange areas and their station increase in 1970 are as follows: Forks, 167; Beaver, 11; Neah Bay, -6; Clearwater, 5; and Clallam Bay, 69. In 1970, over $266,500 was expended for new plant facilities. The largest projects during 1970 were the installation of an Improved Mobile Telephone System, a Tone-Only Paging System, and a new toll carrier between Forks and Port Angeles. Over $67,000 in new cable was added to keep pace with subscriber growth and for improvement of existing service.

CAPE FLATTERY SCHOOL BOARD MEETS AT NEAH BAY

Cape Flattery School Board met March 8, 1971, in the Neah Bay Home Ec. room. The following members were present: David C. Parker, Glen O. Willison, Edward Nicholas, Jack Sands, Ken Sadjlek and Ruth Hinkle. Teachers and guests were also present.

A letter from Faul Conner relative to funds for remote and necessary schools was read. The district receives about $31,000 from these funds.

IT WAS STATED THAT MR. LOUIS BRUNO HAS WRITTEN A LETTER TO GOVERNOR EVANS ASKING FOR A COST OF LIVING INCREASE FOR ALL SCHOOL EMPLOYEES.

A report was given on the trip Mr. Willison, Mr. Gil and Mr. Whitener made to Seattle to work with Mr. Barkhard and Mr. Tionsland on school buildings, and to visit new schools in the area. The schools visited were built on the "open school concept" and were found to be very different and interesting.

Mr. Buckingham reported on the trip to Olympia for Programs Conference. The meeting concerned Title III, which is for innovative programs. What they really want is a program which could be used in other schools.

A group of people from the State Office, Stanford and Washington D.C. were here visiting the Neah Bay area for the Urban-Rural School Development Program. The specific purpose of this program is to train staff on special problems and could be incorporated into our Johnson-O'Malley program. A school-community committee is required to work on this.

Mr. Bigelow has drawings of the Neah Bay school area demonstrating the areas in need of blacktopping. The area from the gate to the crosswalk and possibly around to the kitchen service area should be done when any work is done along this line on Neah Bay roads.

The Board looked at schematic drawings for buildings at both Neah Bay and Clallam Bay. There was a discussion of school building programs with the architect, consultant and staff.

Next regular meeting will be April 12, 1971, at 7:30 p.m. in the Clallam Bay Home Ec. room.

COUNTY LIBRARY TO PROVIDE MORE SERVICE

Breaking a long tradition, the County Library headquarters in Fort Angeles will stay open during July and the bookmobile will continue to run on its regular two-week schedule. The two branch libraries at Forks and Sequim are to be given additional hours. They will be kept open on their regular hours for July. With headquarters open, borrowers will be able to send in for special requests and the bookmobile will be delivering them.

Apart from the July hours, trustees also decided to give both Forks and Sequim an extra opening day each week throughout the year. At present Forks is only open four days a week and Sequim five. Details are to be worked out and the new hours announced later.

Another new service to county borrowers in 1971 will be the 16 mm films. As already announced, the County Library and the Port Angeles City Library have taken out a joint membership in the Washington State film circuit. All films will be housed at the City Library and the County Library is paying the city a fee so that county residents may borrow them on the same basis as city residents.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

Four Scouts of Troop 467 of Forks, participated in a competitive first aid meet at the Peninsula College gymnasium February 20. The four Scouts were first class Gale Bolin, first class Andy Zepeda, second class Pat McReynolds and second class Mark Palmer. We filled out a 20 question quiz and then worked our way through 16 first aid stations where we were given two minutes to work on the victim. Altogether there were 260 points possible. Though we did not place in the top three, we felt we gained much more knowledge on first aid. After the competition there was a movie on mouth-to-mouth resuscitation.

Last Friday and Saturday, the troop went on an overnighter on the mouth of the Hoh River. We camped at the end of the Oil City Road. We left Forks at 4:00 Friday afternoon and returned at 6:00 Saturday evening. Luckily, we had beautiful weather. About 19 Scouts attended. We took a hike on the beach and then split into two groups. One group of brave Scouts led by Mr. Zepeda rounded the "A" Rock Point while the chickens stayed with Mr. Thompson. The tide came in and stranded the brave and daring Scouts from the camp. For seven hours the Scouts persevered and finally rounded the point. Though very hungry and soaked to the skin, we Scouts kept up our spirits. Other than this risky predicament, the camp was a tremendous success.

Scout meetings are on Wednesday nights at 7:00. They are usually held at the Vo-Ag shops.

In and Around Town

Mrs. Paul Lingvall, 374-6302

The latest addition to our family has arrived. Our youngest son begged and begged his dad for a chimpanzee and lo and behold his dad said yes. I could picture myself walking downtown leading "it" by the hand and maybe having to leave it in the nursery during church service. We managed to talk Tom into a smaller monkey and even a smaller, smaller monkey and now we have here at home a little small envelope, containing "instant life", which after dumped into water, will turn into SEA MONKEYS.

Ray Perkon and George Vanoy left March 4 for Susanville and Los Angeles on a combined business and pleasure trip. They did some deep sea fishing, and George managed to catch a couple flounders, while Ray got tangled up with rock cod and 8 inch squid.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Warren is her father, Clayton Foster, from Eureka, California. He is recuperating from an operation and will be here for a week. Get well soon.

Mrs. Jim (June) Griffin left March 14, for Reno, Nevada, after spending 5 days in Forks visiting Mr. and Mrs. Bob Gunnell, Mr. and Mrs. Del Gott and numerous relatives.

Gina Howard celebrated her 13th birthday with a luncheon March 10. They went bowling and Debbie Otos won the "birthday bowling tournament". Cake and ice cream were served after the game. Attending the party was Gretchen Rich, Nancy Whitehead, Debbie and Clifford Otos.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. John Rosmond over the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Barry Jewell from Port Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Barger spent the weekend in Portland, Oregon, visiting Kathy's stepmother, Mrs. Mildred Hampton and numerous relatives.

Phil Riebe returned home March 8 after spending 7 weeks at the Good Samaritan Hospital in Puyallup for physical therapy.

Harry C. Spade has moved back to Forks from Wisconsin. He is working for the G & L Shake mill.

Mr. and Mrs. Phil Borde spent the weekend in Seattle visiting with Bev's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Chiles.

KAROL BECHTOLD SELECTED FOR GIRLS STATE

Karol Bechtold has been selected for Evergreen Girls State. Each year a list of girls qualified from the Junior class (based on leadership, citizenship, scholarship and health), is presented to the American Legion Auxiliary. It is an Americanism program held on the campus of Central Washington State College in Ellensburg. This year it will be held June 13-20. During that week the young people take part in a mock-government based on Washington State government. State and County officials are the advisors for the program.

ST. ANNE'S CHURCH DEDICATED

The new St. Anne's Catholic Church was dedicated by the Most Reverend Thomas A. Connolly, D.D., J.C.D., Archbishop of Seattle, on Sunday, March 7th. A consecrated Mass followed the dedication ceremonies, and the following priests celebrated with the Most Reverend Archbishop, the Reverend William A. Maat, O.S.B., present pastor of Queen of Angels in Port Angeles, Daniel Regimbla, O.S.B., and Cyril Kenna, O.S.B., present associate pastors of Queen of Angels and the master of ceremonies for the Archbishop the Reverend Stephen Szeman. A reception followed in the old building which will now be used for a social hall and for classrooms. An open house was held the same afternoon to enable those who didn't attend the dedication to view the new building. On the reredos is hung the picture, a reproduction of the "Christus Pancrator" which is used extensively in the Eastern church. It signifies the Risen Christ in power and glory holding the Book of Life. The Latin words on the cover of the boys says, "Receive the joy of your glory, alleluia. Giving thanks to God, alleluia. Who called you to your heavenly kingdom, alleluia." The letters at the top are an abbreviation of the sacred name of "Jesus Christ". The picture is painted in bright colors and is exceptionally appropriate in this setting.

VO-AG PROGRAMS INCREASE

The number of vocational education programs in the high schools of the state has tripled during the current school year over any one of the last three years, according to figures released today by State Superintendent Louis Bruno. The new course, forest products harvesting, is designed to train students for the logging industry. It is operated cooperatively by the Longview, Kelso and Castle Rock school districts and is an excellent example of the inter-district cooperation program approved by the Legislature in 1969.

The children in the 6th grade from Forks Intermediate school will leave March 19 for an excursion trip to Victoria. The trip will include a tour of the Provincial Building, the Legislative Building in the morning and in the afternoon the youngsters may visit the wax museum, the Crystal Gardens or the Totem Pole Park. The transportation to and from Port Angeles is furnished by the parents, as this is not a school affair.

THE PRIMARY CORNER

TEAM TEACHING ACTION AT PRIMARY SCHOOL

In team teaching at Forks Primary School, in first grade we are seeing the importance of work. We know we have a post office, police department, bank, hospital and stores in our town. So we built them and are discovering what services they give in our town.

Our class of 69 was broken up into committees. Each committee elected a chairman. Then each committee met and assigned duties for each child. The chairman gave a report and it was recorded what each child was to do. We took a week building and preparing our town from boxes, paper, crayon, chalk and imagination. Then we

STEELHEAD RECORD BROKEN

For the second and third time this winter, the world's winter-run steelhead record was broken recently by Washington fish.

Albert English's record fish of 30 pounds, 2 ounces, caught January 1 in the Skagit, lasted until February 21. Then, on a float trip down the lower Quinault, Ted Burton, of Denver, Colorado, smashed the record with a 32-pound bright male.

But Burton's record was to be short-lived. On March 2, Harold Halverson, of Sedro-Woolley, gave the record back to the Skagit by beaching a 32-pound, 8-ounce monster. Halverson's current world's record winter-run was taken just below the town of Sedro-Woolley on Whiskey Bar.

How long will this record fish remain on top? Who knows? March and April are known for their runs of extra-large winter steelhead. Washington's fabulous winter-run season is not over yet.

WHEN THE SPRING RAINS FALL

When the spring rains come to the Peninsula the sportsman is forced into his den where he awaits the ending of the storm. It has destroyed any hopes of fulfilling his well planned weekend which would have placed him along the river, on a clam beach or perhaps on a back-country campout. With the muddy waters of local streams washing against the alders, and the surf pounding high above the driftwood on Pacific Coast beaches, the sportsman finds himself in a world of darkness viewing the great outdoors with a dismal outlook.

Fish are running the rivers and according to the tide book, the waters of the Pacific should be well on the minus side. Yet, here is the sportsman, his clam shovel braced firmly against the wall in one corner of the garage and the Fenwick hanging on the pole rack awaiting a descend in the storm. But let's take another look at that which seems to be a complete disastrous weekend for the outdoorsman. First off, let's take a look at the dedicated fly fisherman who will probably take this opportunity to tie up his favorite styles of flies and streamers. The plunker will most likely rig up a few spin-in-gloss and pour a few lead weights. Then we find the trap and skeet shooter who will dust off the reloader and turn out a few rounds of his favorite target and hunting loads. Also, we find the hiker who mends his pack-sack, inventories the cooking utensils, carves out a new walking stick and checks the park map in search of new adventures for the summer season ahead. On the miscellaneous side of things we find smelt nets which need repair, clam shovels with rough handles, leaky tents, rusty barrels in the gun cabinet, dull fishing knives, stiff hiking shoes, damaged climbing gear, un-tuned outboards, etc.

And so it is. A weekend which appeared to offer absolutely nothing to the sportsman, was put to good use by those involved in these outdoor sports. Something to subsidize, when the spring rains fall.

HERE AND THERE

Well, records were meant to be broken and the State record winter-run steelhead which was taken on the Quinault in late February has now been topped by a 32-pound, 8-ounce buck from up in Skagit country. This is the third record breaking steelhead so far this season.

Littering is now on the decrease along the nation's highways and with more help from motorists this costly habit could be nearly wiped out.

Several of the game department's planted sea otter have been spotted along the south wilderness beach and south of the Hoh River.

Whales are now showing off LaPush, southeast of James Island.

Sunset Highlites

By Fred Jarvis

Some good ones shot during the week and the weekend tournament. Hit good enough myself to have won the booby prize, if there was such an award. Even bowled my age a couple of games. Can't win 'em all.

Barbara Windle hit 197-507 Tuesday Afternoon, Patsy Robinson rolled a 188, and Ruth Hutton a nice 208. Mabel Smothers picked up the 4-5 and Margaret Windle the 4-9.

At Whitehead's 222 and Frank LaGambina's 554 topped the Sunset League.

In Wednesday Powder Puffs, Wilma Engeseth hit 203-496, Billie Crist 494, and Jerry Beebe 491. Yvonne Moore converted the 5-7 and Ollie Swearingen the 3-9-10.

The twins were at it again in the Hoot Owl League. Rena O'Keefe had a 198-537, and Leta Rondeau a 213-538.

Thursday Beginners: Colleen Gagnon 166-430, Sheryl McCoy 143-370, Wilma Engeseth ran a little wild, hitting a 194-200-556, Jean Bumgarner had a 191, and Carol Woody 186-497. Pat Brooks made the 5-7.

Women's Thursday Nite: Marilea Coats 197, Sally Nagel, 495, Fern Johnson 199 and the 3-7-10 split. Irene Goos the 5-6, and Phyllis Whitehead the 5-10.

West End guys wasted some, Willis Bryan had a 223-614, Warren Paul a 211, Al Whitehead 212-572, and Darrell a 253-593.

Lou Suchodolski hit 183 in Friday Nite Mixed, Sally Nagel 497, and Ed Duncan banged out a pair of 214's and a 572 series.

Sunday Nite Mixed: Lous Suchodolski 211, Reta O'Keefe 546, Ed Rondeau 207 and Ken Middleton ?????? a 592.

Willis Bryan hit a 235-612 in Forks Prairie League, George Richardson 214, Ed Duncan 210-563 and Stan Fouts a 567.

Results of the Men's Tournament: Team event, Bob's Texaco 3025, Singles, Cliff Thayer 693, Doubles, Cliff Thayer-Dave Allen 1289, All-Events Scratch, Willis Bryan 1712, All-Events Handicap, Dave Allen 1942. High game, Cliff Thayer 257, Hoss Caulkins 247, Duke Streeter 236, Series, D.J. 600, Cliff 593.

Seems like Mrs. Stanley's sixth graders bowl six frames every Friday, and I understand we've got some pretty good bowling going on. Debi Otos has been high the last few times, with her latest effort a 101. I have trouble getting that much in 10 frames, let alone six.

Bowlers of the week: Leta Rondeau 218; Wilma Engeseth 556; Cliff Thayer 257; and Willis Bryan 614.

LIFE MAY DEPEND ON COUPONS

The idea that coupons may be an important factor in saving the life of a four-year-old boy is not as far fetched as it may sound.

The boy is Tommy Davis of San Jose, California, who was born with a kidney malfunction.

Physicians attending Tommy say that within the next six months he will need a kidney machine to take over until a kidney transplant can be performed, and if Tommy's life is to be saved, he must have the machine the instant he needs it.

General Mills will supply a kidney machine in exchange for 800,000 Betty Crocker coupons, but all of the coupons have to be in by May 31, 1971.

To date the family has managed to collect 55,000, but much more help will be needed if a sufficient number is collected to pay for the machine.

If you can help, coupons for Tommy should be sent to him at 6220 Omaha Court, San Jose, California, 95123, or to the Forks Baptist Church, Box 505, Forks, Washington.
