LETTERS--EDITOR

Editor,
Just what is a person supposed to do to keep people on horses and on motor bikes from tearing up yards and hay fields in this community?

You try to be nice and let them use the roadway between the fields for their horses and bikes. But apparently this isn't good enough for them, as they have to go up your driveway and out through your yard, or race through your fields.

It is getting pretty good when you politely tell them to stay out of your fields and as soon as your back is turned, they are right back out there again. You give a person an inch and they have to take a mile. No wonder these kind of people are suddenly finding certain trails being closed to them.

I guess parents must not think it is important to teach their children to respect other people's property anymore. But I guess you really can't expect must more from the kids when they see grownups (the people who are supposed to set the examples for them) riding horses and etc., through people's yards and flower beds.

We even went so far as to put "no trespassing" signs up, and we can sit in the house and watch them ride past them like they were not there. This, we feel, is going a little too far.

We have tried to be nice about it, but it hasn't done much good. So there is only one thing left to do. When we see them from now on, we will call the sheriff and make them liable for property damage.

Irwin and Judi King
Forks, Washington
Editor,

Introduced in the Legislature are the following bills:

Senate Bill #54 and House Bill #193; Control of all private property next to navigable waters in class AA counties.

Senate Bill #174 and Initiative 43; Control of all shoreline private property in the state (both fresh and saltwater lands).

House Bill #554; Control of all private property by flowing bodies of waters, streams, creeks, or branches of creeks in the state.

Senate Bill #584 and House Bill #584; Requested by Governor, regional in approach. Control of private owned land. Section 21 gives state and local government condemnation power to acquire land.

Senate Bill #830 and House Bill 1014; Requested by Governor, applies to all private property land in the state, not just by water.

House Bill #935; Puts the control of all private property land in state under the State Land Use Commission which will be appointed by the Governor.

Believe me, these people mean business! Most of us see the need for a reasonable solution to the problems facing us. But I do not believe it is going to come from confiscation of all private property for the so called good of all! We certainly need public access to certain recreational areas, but I do not believe, and no one can convince me, the answer is state or federal control of all private property! This is not what our forefathers gave their lives for!

For more information write to Private Property Rights, 4200 Elizabeth Ave., Olympia 93501. Send a contribution for literature. Write your legislators now. It may already be too late!

Eleanor Thornton
Forks, Washington
Editor,

It has been nearly ten years since I first set foot in LaPush. For the best part of three years I lived in the village and since that time have lived in the area, either in Forks or on the lower Bogachiel River. During this time I have had the opportunity to make the acquaintance of most of the people in LaPush as well as many from Iloh River, Queets and Taholah. Among these people are some of my closest friends.

I have always felt a strong interest in Indian culture, admiring their many fine accomplishments in the arts and crafts, their superb maritime technology, as well as their religious and philosophical approach to living in harmony with their natural environment.

In this day as we rapidly consume and destroy our environment, it may well be we could take a few lessons from these people.

I have never considered myself a do-gooder and do not appreciate people who fall in that category. However, I cannot ignore the obligations of friendship and life long interest. For this reason, I have become increasingly concerned with the many problems and affairs of the native American people in the area.

Many of the white population would like to believe that the Indian people are contented with their lot. However, good cheer in the face of adversity while a virtue, cannot be construed as contentment. In almost every area, socially and economically, native Americans are at the bottom of the totem pole. For example: In 1969, nation wide unemployment among native Americans was ten times below the national average. Ten percent had incomes of $5,000 or more, 50 percent had incomes of $2,000 or less and 74 percent earned less than $3,000 per year. Infant mortality rates in 1967 were 12 points above the national average. In the same year, life expectancy was more than six years less than the national average.

The Office of Education of the Department of Health Education and Welfare found that nearly 60 percent of the Indian population had less than an eighth grade education, and the dropout rate was excessive. In the State of Washington, 21 of 28 eighth graders were non-readers with a seventy percent dropout rate. Seventy-five percent of the native dropouts tested in Alaska revealed more than enough intelligence to complete high school.

Any doubt of native ability and intelligence has been removed by studies jointly made by the B.I.A. and the University of Chicago. Comparative intelligence tests of Indian children and white children showed that every Indian group tested had a higher average (on the good enough test) than the white children. The highest scores were attained by two groups of Hopi Indian children, ages 6 thru 11, with average IQ's of 112 and 111 on the Arthur Scale. Interestingly enough, the Hopi have had less interference from white culture than any other tribe, maintaining to the present day their language and culture intact and uninterrupted.

A member of a Senate investigating team offered this analysis: "The theory is that if teachers and other members of the dominant group are convinced that the Indian is innately inferior and incapable of learning, such attitudes will be conveyed in various ways. A child will come to think of himself in a negative way and set for himself lower standards of achievement and ambition. Thus, the teacher's expectation and prediction that her Indian pupils do poorly in school and in later life, become major factors in guaranteeing the accuracy of her prediction."

It is a pretty well established tenet of child psychology that approval, affirmative experience, and positive attitudes shown by teachers and parents are essential if the child is to be motivated. To learn initiative must be encouraged in every way possible.

It is my conviction our Indian children, because of the disadvantages in their upbringing, because of the prejudice they must experience at the hands of the white people, because of the very fact of being a minority distinct in race and culture and having to adjust or cope with the different cultural values of a dominant and controlling society, need every affirmation, every encouragement and, in general, every positive experience we

It takes people

- Supplying your ever-growing need for electricity is a big job. It takes miles and miles of expensive wire. It takes poles... transformers... office space... typewriters... trucks... adding machines... and other necessary equipment.
- But, most of all it takes people. It takes people with the know-how to use the equipment. People qualified to make important decisions. It takes people who are trained to act quickly and efficiently when a job needs to be done.
- The next time you snap a switch, or set a dial, that puts electricity to work, remember the people who are on the job for you.

Jerusalem. The procession of quite a number of people should be a very colorful display with the Rev. Max Klinsenborg portraying the Christ riding on a donkey.
 Mr. Stan Sells of the high school music department has been hard at work directing a choir of approximately 50 voices in a wide variety of music for this event, and to add to the festivity of the occasion, the Rain Beats will sing and the Congregational Church Hand Bell Choir and their rhythmic choir will perform.

This is ecumenism at the grassroots level since many of the churches in Forks are taking part in this Ministerial Association sponsored event.

TYEE-SAPPHO-BEAVER NEWS

MRS. J. E. MERRITT

Mrs. Gladys Gavette and Mrs. Alice Beutler of Portland visited Saturday, Sunday and Monday at the home of Mrs. Gavette's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Zerbel.

Jim Hull, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hull of Bear Creek, left on Sunday of last week for Tacoma to enter a technical school where he will study to become an electrical engineer. He is boarding with Mr. and Mrs. Art Stacy, former Sappho residents.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Konopaski arrived home Tuesday night of last week from a 6-week vacation in California. They drove down to San Francisco where they spent some time with their son, Dr. Ron Konopaski and family. They then flew to San Gabriel and spent three weeks at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Storms. While there they visited Harriett's brother-in-law, Elmer Geiger, and his son John. John is a sophomore at college in Whittier. (He spent his summers with the Konopaskis for many years.)

The Konopaskis went to San Francisco, spent another week with their son and then started for home, driving by way of Seattle, as Ed had a doctor's appointment on Tuesday. They spent a night in Medford, Oregon, and while there they visited Mr. and Mrs. Chet Taylor, former residents of Beaver (he was a trainman for Bloedel-Donovan some thirty years ago). Since moving to Medford he has been employed in a plywood mill and is retiring this weekend.

The weather was beautiful the whole time the Konopaskis were on the trip, but they did feel a couple of after shocks of the February 9th earthquake.

Mr. and Mrs. John Johnson of Sedro-Woolley arrived Friday for a visit with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Hurn, and returned home on Saturday. They came by way of Seattle, and brought with them their granddaughter, Elizabeth Gwerder, who will spend the week here. The Hurn's daughter Deborah celebrated her 7th birthday on Monday, and Mrs. Hurn gave a party that day to mark the occasion. Present were Elizabeth Gwerder of Seattle, Adina Johnson of Beaver, Mrs. Dick Boury and four children of Forks and Deborah and her four brothers and one sister.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Dawkins and daughter Darlene went to Renton Saturday to visit Dale's and Mrs. Gene Beckett. Sunday was Dale's birthday and the Becketts gave him a party to mark the occasion. There were ten adults present and numerous children.

 Mr. and Mrs. Dawkins and Darlene returned home that night.

Mrs. Elsie Browning returned home Sunday evening after a week's visit with her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Isaacson, in Indianola. Their sister, Mrs. Sophie White of Winlock, Cowitz County, was also a visitor at the Isaacson home.

Congregational church news

Next Sunday, April 4, is Palm Sunday and new members will be welcomed into the church. There will be special music including a trumpet solo by Stan Sells, and selections by the Hand Bell Choir.

50TH ANNIVERSARY
 Open house will be held at 12 noon, April 3, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A.R. Dimmel, Whitcomb-Dimmel Road on the Soleduck River. Friends and relatives are invited to attend.

PRINCE OF PEACE NEWS

The WE CARE group met March 22. Mrs. H.V. Hensertling, public health nurse, met with the group and spoke about her job, as WE CARE members are searching for ways in which to be of service to her in her job. Later that same evening, the women's church group, A.L.C.W., met to study the book BEYOND OURSELVES by Catherine Marshall.

Two work parties were held, during which the grounds were partially cleaned and some finishing work was done on the church. Mr. Sidney Malton from Wildbey Island is drawing up a landscape plan for the church.

For Holy Week, a service of Holy Communion will be held on April 1 at 7:30 p.m.
 Easter Sunday, April 11, the high school youth will be putting on a Sunrise Service at 6 a.m. The regular Easter Service will be at 11 a.m., the same day. A film will be shown for the Sunday school classes at 9:45 a.m.
 The sermon for Palm Sunday is "Humble yet Triumphant" from Matt. 21 verses 1-9.

All this brings us the situation and events of the past several months at Forks High School.

John Richards is a full-blooded American native. His mother is a Quilteute born and raised at LaPush. His father is Eskimo from Point Barrow, Alaska. John is 18 years old and is, or was, a senior at Forks High School. I have known John for about a year and a half. During that time we have become good friends. On his own time, John has read extensively in the areas of race relations, Indian history, education and related fields. I have enjoyed many fine discussions on these subjects with him. From this experience, he has quite on his own, conceived of ways he could help his fellow Indian students to adjust and cope with the white school system. One such idea is to form an Native American Student Association within the school. Such an organization would be the springboard for activities for and by the Indian students. sponse he has received, it is little wonder he has become rebellious and to some extent a disruptive element in the school. I cannot help but wonder what he would be doing if he had had the benefit of a cooperative and positive response from the school administration.
About two weeks ago, John and I came to the conclusion that if anything was going to happen we would have to initiate it ourselves so, we proposed a field trip to the Ozette Village Dig for the Indian youngsters in the High School and Junior High. The Ozette Village site is of great importance to the Northwest coast tribes in attempting to reconstruct their pre-white culture. Because of the great age and the remarkable state of preservation of the 4,000 plus artifacts unearthed so far, it has received wide acclaim among archeologists. It is considered one of the most important finds in North America to date. It is believed that the Ozette Village may have been occupied as long as 10,000 years by the ancestors of present day natives of Neah Bay and LaPush. I consider the trip very educational and a fantasy individual. In view of the re-

OUTDOOR LORE

By Lonnie Archibald

TAKE THEM HIKING

To a youngster, summer brings happiness in the way of sandy beaches, hot dogs, pop, swimming, fishing, play yards, and probably most of all, the closing of the school door. Let us now, however, take a look at another potential recreation. A recreation which, for many, is completely omitted from their childhood. As a result, many seasons of joyous hiking are lost. It matters not your choice of area. Whether it be the sea coast, rain forest wilderness or alpine meadows. Hiking will be most rewarding to those who visit the great outdoors.

We here on the west Olympic Peninsula are fortunate to have as our surroundings one of the last wilderness areas remaining in the continental United States. And within this area known as the Olympic National Park, we find approximately 600 miles of trails awaiting you, the outdoorsman. As soon as one mentions "mountain trails", many right away picture a rough terrain where only the very strong could venture. This image is very much false. In my last 5 years of back-packing, I have noticed a large increase in the amount of visitors to the high Olympics and the sea coast. This is especially true in area such as Seven Lakes Basin and Enchanted Valley. Amongst these hikers, there is becoming a large increase in five and six year olds who are hiking with the best of them.

START THEM LIGHT

The layout of the Olympic National Park trails allows one to take his choice of distance and elevation he wishes to hike in a given amount of time. Considering that this will be the child's first hike, we chose a two or three mile hike. Along with the shortness of the hike, we also pick one which will provide us with the least amount of climbing. Also, considering that this will be his or her first trip, they will travel light. Perhaps only a lunch and a fish pole will be carried. Of course, every young hiker will differ in hiking ability and physical condition. Some may find two miles of trail quite tiring while others will hike four or five miles on their first outing without showing any signs of fatigue. And so it is; start them young, but start them light. As experience and physical condition gradually build, so will the packs which they carry.

THE PACK TODAY

Here again, the word "pack" automatically discourages many as they picture a large amount of weight which must be carried for survival. This is also misleading as today's pack sacks are extremely light and built for comfort. The contents become much less as one gains experience. By carefully selecting food and supplies, one may hike extremely light.

SUMMARY

And so it is. The youngsters who are often left home with grandma deserve a chance to prove their capability as hikers and, believe me, when given the opportunity, they can do it.

HERE AND THERE

A few razor clams were taken by the very bold who fought the rain, wind, and surf last weekend.

Steelheaders also scored as they set forth in a fight against that of the unfavorable weather.

Young steelhead at the Bogachiel Rearing Pond are nearing their day of release in local streams.

It's about time for our young sportsmen to look around the house and garage in an attempt to round up their fishing gear as the opening day of Mill Creek is not too far off.

The forests are now filled with the drumming of natives. Ruffed grouse, that is.

Has anyone netted smelt this month?

Sunset Highlites

By Fred Jarvis

Talking Mother to the hospital in Port Angeles today, so you'll have to excuse the numerous mistakes that will probably be made in the column. She'll be operated on tomorrow (Monday), and if everything goes right, she might be home this Friday or Saturday. I'm not nervous or anything, but fingernails sure aren't very appetizing.

Pat Hammell topped Tuesday Afternoon with 184-508, Kate Silves had a 129 triplicate, not so much score wise, but a once in a lifetime feat for most people, Melinda Robbins converted the 4-5, Sheriff Fouts the 2-4-10, Vicki Hanham the 5-6-10, Dorothy Barker the 5-7, and Judy Klahn the 5-11??? That's what it says here. No wonder the women are bowling so good, with eleven pins to shoot at.

Arden Prissel hit 217 in the Sunset League, Fred Jarvis 214, and "Hoss" Caulkins 567.

Powder Puffs had Pat Mansfield at 192, Billie Crist 197, Leta Rondeau 465, and Ollie Swearingen picked the 3-6-7.

100r Owls: Anine Lehman 181, and Doris Markham 475.

Thursday Beginners: Colleen Gagnon 131-367, Beth Youngblood 137-352. Captains, Margaret Windel hit 452, Kathy Decker, 453, and Wilma Engeseth, 176-455.

West End: Gordon McCoy had a 183 all spare game, Darrell Tillier hit 201-565, and Dave Conerly with a 132 average, hit 193.

Women's Thursday Nite: Helen Thomas 180, Leta Rondeau 485.

Friday Nite Mixed: Mother clobbered me but good, she had a 187, Jean Streeter 485, Jerry Winn 200, and Jess Parris a 536. Rae West blew an all blow game by picking up a spare. Too bad, Rae.

Duke Streeter and Lonnie Hamby had shots at the T.V. and the BIG Jackpot at Saturday Nite Monté Carlo. No luck, which puts the loot up near the century mark. Al Whitehead and George Richardson cleaned the rest of us in our sidepot. Boy! Are they money hungry.

Al hit a 207-606 in the Traveling League here Sunday. Ted Prior rolled an even 200 while Stan Fouts knocked off a big 225.

Jess Parris busheled 225 sticks in one game in Sunday Nite Mixed, but his chain must have gotten dull the other two games. Al Whitehead threw a 220-548, and Leta Rondeau topped the gals with her 190-548.

Forks Prairie: Darrell Thomas 202-562, Carter Warren 202, Glenn Gilmore 560, Brager Bros. bowls Fitts Log, next week for the championship.

Bowlers of the week: Billie Crist 197, Leta Rondeau 544, Jess Parris 225, Stan Fouts 225, Al Whitehead 606.

Many thanks to all of you who inquired after Mother's health. Saw her today, she'll be fine.

Minimum acceptable bid will be $300.00.

On or before April 12th, 1971, at 10:00 a.m., each bidder must make a minimum deposit of $30,000 in the form of cash, money order or certified check. Said deposit shall constitute an opening bid at the appraised price. Upon award of this sale, the respective deposits shall be returned to the unsuccessful bidders. On the day of sale the purchaser must pay the balance between the bid deposit and the full bid price plus a $5.00 bill of sale fee. This balance may be paid by personal check. All checks, money orders, etc., are to be made payable to the Commissioner of Public Lands. Any sale which has been offered, and for which no bids are received shall not be re-offered until it has been re-advertised. If all sales cannot be offered within the specified time on the advertised date, the sale shall continue on the following day between the hours of ten o'clock a.m. and four o'clock p.m.

The State of Washington does not guarantee its published cruises of the herein described forest products, and purchasers thereof shall have no recourse against either the State of Washington or the Board of Natural Resources if the actual cut does not equal such published cruises.

Forest products must be removed prior to June 30, 1971. Located approximately 12 miles by road south of Forks. Accessibility Via Department of Natural Resources Access.

tic experience, especially for these children.

Initially, we had hoped for support or sanction from the Forks High School administration. Once again the response was negative. We decided to go on our own. I agreed to furnish a vehicle and cover the expenses out of my own pocket and we set Wednesday, the 24th of March, as a tentative day. This was a school day, but it was decided upon going anyway because of the weather factor and the difficulty of organizing a full turnout on a weekend. I stipulated that the children were to have parental permission to go and that an excuse would have to be turned in at school. To the best of my knowledge, these conditions were met.

The children assembled at my house and we were on the way a few minutes after 9 a.m. We stopped at Sekiu for sandwich materials for lunch-able to take his quarter exams or attend classes.

The following day we appeared before Judge Beebe and were granted a change of venue to the Port Angeles District Court. Legally, this is where the matter rests.

Neither John nor I have any regrets about the matter as it now stands. We feel that things have come to head and it is time for something to be done. The enrollment in Forks High and Junior High is approximately 11 percent Indian, yet there are only two Indian students in the junior and senior classes including John Richards. The others have found the situation too disagreeable and dropped out or gone away to Indian boarding schools which, to best of my knowledge, really provides a substandard education.

In talking with the Indian students, I find their morale low. They are discouraged by the continued negative attitude of the administration to their needs.

Over the past ten years the situation has remained the same. If policies designed to solve these problems are in effect, they obviously are not effective. It is my considered opinion that the main practice has been to ignore the whole problem. I would like to know why? Since the dropout rate is extremely high, why hasn't the situation been examined and steps taken?

Why should any initiative taken by native students not be encouraged, let alone be discouraged?

Why is there no qualified Indian teacher on the faculty? Certainly the high proportion of native students warrants one.

If there are regulations that prevent special action, they should be changed. In view of the high percentage of Indian children in the school system, teachers and administrators alike should on their own initiative educate themselves to better understand the Indian culture and its problems, as related to the children.

Every day the Indian people are becoming more aware and more concerned. How much long must they wait?

What I am recommending would not cost the taxpayer one red cent. It simply involves a change of attitude within the existing structure. I feel that I am not speaking out against anything, but I am speaking for these children.

Thank you,
Jim Dennis

READ THE LABELS
--Al Clarke

Show me a consumer item that doesn't have an extra or something added to it, and I'll show you something that was manufactured long before my time. Nothing gets by on its own merit anymore. The next time you're browsing through your cupboards or medicine cabinet, check out a few of the labels.

The other evening I was brushing my teeth with one of the leading flourides (SP 1040 Ruxle whitener added).

"Strange," I mumbled through the foam to Baby, who was busy preparing a ready mix Pan-Dowdy (Malto Flaxen germ added). "This new toothpaste is sure greasy." "Of course it is," she said, "you're using the Stay Neet hair cream with added dandruff kock." "Darn, the tubes are identical. There ought to be a law against commercial deception. I think I'll call my lawyer," I fumed.

"Oh, for heaven's sake, all you have to do is read the label, see what's added to it and no problem," Baby crooned. "Nuts!", I growled, "a toothpaste tube should not be duplicated by a hair cream tube. It could be dangerous." "Dangerous?" She asked, licking the Pan-Dowdy spoon. "Of course," I continued. "A guy could get dandruff in his cavities, or wind up with the freshest hair in town, that would be embarrassing." "Really!", Baby wailed, "Stop acting like a child and take out the garbage, and wipe the hair cream off your mouth. I don't want people to think I'm harboring a rabid male." "Okay, okay," I moaned, grabbing the indoor plastic garbage pail with the self ejector bag. "Scoff if you like, but this is a very serious problem and only a small part of it. I read where some clown wants to add dental floss to spaghetti so people won't have to brush after every meal."

"Another thing, what ever happened to good old just plain shaving cream?" "It went out with high button whiskers," chorleled Baby. "I'll tell you what happened," I said. "They've loaded it with lime and lemon and grapefruit. If this sort of thing persists, a guy will have to write the Florida citrus growers for permission to shave." "Big Daddy," Baby cooed, "you'd complain if they made turtle neck sweaters out of real turtles." "Now you're being absurd," I said. "My only aim here is to curb additives, or at least keep them down to a minimum." "Well, stay in there pitching, Big Daddy," she sighed, "I'm settling down with a good book." "That's one way of escaping the hard facts of life," I said, trying to get the last word.

"By the way, what are you reading?" She arched an eyebrow and beamed, "I WAS A TEENAGE ADDON." "Now who in the world would tag their name to something like that?" I almost screamed.

"Your lawyer," she said, continuing to beam. There was only one thing left to do. In the morning I would cut him out of my will. Come to think of it, he was a last minute add on anyway.

TRAIL RIDERS NEWS

By Barbara King

Last Wednesday, Thelma Graves was invaded by several of the horse lovin' ladies in and about town. The invasion was brought on by the arrival of the Graves' new purebred Arabians. Those taking a look and admiring the two mares and a filly were Doreen Planes, Jo Madden, Jeanette Gilmore, Pam Ford, Sharon Giger, Marilyn Snodgrass, myself, and a few assorted kids. Art and Betty Munson were there earlier. Mrs. Graves gave us a guided inspection tour of all the horses as well as their new lovelies. An enjoyable time was had by all.

April 15th, the Olympic National Park Superintendent, Mr. Roger Allin, will be the guest of the Forks Wranglers. He will give us the Park's views of the high country trail situation, and allow us a chance to express our views and offer suggestions. Due to the interest shown to our dilemma, the Wranglers will welcome anyone interested to join us for this meeting. The place is the Prince of Peace Lutheran Church, 7:30 p.m. We all hope to see you there.

This rain and weather, in general, is something else. Do you suppose that nasty little ground hog came out for a second glance and saw his shadow again? It sure has raised cane with all the plans we have had for this spring. The only sign of spring that gives me any hope at all, is my hay fever, and I can't figure out what causes it. It couldn't be the pollen in all this wet air, or the animal hair shedding out. Whatever it is, I could do without it!

Tuesday, March 30th... Well, here it is almost deadline time, and still the stork circles over the home of the Wayne Gilmores. "Yaki" has gone in to overtime. .hope that birth announcement will be issued by next week! I told you that this waiting for a new foal was like waiting the birth of your first child!
