LEGAL NOTICE

The Board of Directors of Quillayute Valley School District No. 402 will hold a special meeting, Thursday, May 6, 1971, at 7:30 p.m., in the High School Library, for the purpose of accepting the new Primary building.
JOHN B. HITCHCOCK
Superintendent
Publish: April 29 and May 6, 1971, in the Forks Forum.

KAEMMLES RETURN

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kaemmler returned April 2 from a 5-months stay in a sunnier climate. They drove along the coastline down to Coos Bay, where they cut across to Nevada and traveled through the eastern part of the state to Las Vegas and spent a week there. The Kaemmlers spent 3 weeks in Needles, California, including Thanksgiving, which they spent with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Martin and family.
In Courtside, Arizona, where they stayed at a trailer court, they went rock hunting and took excursion trips into the hills. Courtside has a population of 50 people in the summer, due to the heat, but it increases during the winter months. During their stay in Courtside, they attended a pow-wow for people interested in different hobbies. Approximately 10,000 people from all over the states were there, and their wares were displayed on pickups. The hobbies varied from rocks, wood to dolls, crochet and knitted items. It lasted for 5 days.

and knitted items. It lasted for 5 days.
From Courtside they went to Crystal Hill, a primitive camp, and one day when they were out hunting for desert roses (a type of rock which actually looks like a rose) they met an old Forks resident, Gene Tilford. Mrs. Kaemmler said laughingly, when asked what kind of rocks they found, that they found a lot of "leaver-rites" and explained that they were rocks which were no good and you "leave them right there". Altogether they brought home with them 500 pounds of rocks, birdseye, rhyolite, petrified wood, jasper, desert rose and also copper ore, which they found in Ago, an old copper mining town. The mining has been going on for over 100 years and there are still 100 more years of mining left. The name "Ago" is an Indian name for garlic, and wild garlic grows all over.

On their way home to Forks, they visited for a week with their daughter and son-in-law in Westminster and also spent some time with Mrs. Kaem-mle's cousin, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ketz in Hemet, California, whom she hadn't seen since a child. They also visited with some former Forks residents, Mrs. Kaemmler's sister, Ruth Mann, and Mr. and Mrs. Nathan (Tay) Iverson.

The Kaemmlers really appreciated the Forks Forum while they were gone.

STUDENTS TO TAKE HANFORD TOUR

The Washington P. U. D. Association is sponsoring a "Hanford Tour and Nuclear Power Seminar" for high school students from PUD counties on May 20 and 21.
Because of increasing demands for electricity and the need for future nuclear power plants, as well as the many environmental concerns facing the utility industry, this program will be of particular interest to high school students.

The tour is planned to include 200 students from throughout the state. Clallam County P. U. D. Board of Commissioners has arranged to send 10 students from Clallam County. Those attending from Forks High School will be Ron Paul and Patti Engel.

4-H LEADERS MEETING

4-H leaders met at the home of Mrs. Howard Stockman Thursday, April 22, for a training meeting in meal activities which will be held in Joyce, June 12.

AUTO ACCIDENT REPORT

A one-car accident occurred at 3:30 p.m., April 27, 20 miles north of Forks on the Burnt Mountain Road. Patricia E. Williams, 19, of Seattle, driving a 1964 Chevrolet hardtop traveling toward Clallam Bay, failed to negotiate a curve to the right, skidded off the roadway to the left, rolled over several times and came to rest 150 feet down the bank. The driver received shoulder injuries. Damage to the car, $800.00.

A one-car accident occurred at 12:10 p.m. on May 2, 4.5 miles west on the LaPush Road. The driver, Jane Carney, 21, of 1811 Summit Ave., Seattle, driving a '67 Datsun sedan, was westbound on the LaPush road, failed to negotiate a curve to the left, rolled over 2 times coming to rest on its wheels in the eastbound lane. The driver received a fractured skull and lacerations and was flown to Everett General Hospital. Passenger, Janice Weber, of 1811 Summit Ave., Seattle, received a KVAC auctions are as follows: 1968--$2,171.75; 1969--$1,202.00; 1970--$2,041.70. For this year's auction, approximately $2,260.00 has been collected to date with $208.75 still owing. Those who bought items are urged to pick up their certificates at KVAC as soon as possible. All money goes to the Quillayute Valley Scholarship Fund.

A very special thanks to all of you who participated by either donating or buying and to those who helped behind the scenes at KVAC. Your efforts in this endeavor are most appreciated and have been instrumental in the success of the scholarship program.

PRE-COLLEGE TEST SET

The Washington Pre-College Test will be given on May 8, 1971 at Forks High School. This test date is for this year's juniors who intend to attend a college in the State of Washington.

The test is strictly a guidance tool. It provides valuable information about a student's college potential. The test results are for the use of the student and his counselor as they face important decisions regarding college, career, and courses of study. For this reason, it also can be of value to students who don't plan to attend college in the state of Washington but who would like to obtain this important information about themselves.

ANNUAL KVAC SCHOLARSHIP AUCTION

The fourth annual KVAC auction for the benefit of the Quillayute Valley Scholarship Fund took place Thursday and Friday, April 22 and 23, as auctioneer Gordon Otos opened the bidding with a record album. Individuals and both local and out-of-town businesses began making other donations and from the record album, the 2-day auction trail led thru numerous home-baked goodies, various animals including a kid goat and a $5 bill donated by Charles Mechals.
The excitement generated was typified by one young bidder who called asking hurriedly, "What's the bid?", when nothing was up for auction at the time. Another participant who had already bid and won, called later to ask what he had bought.
The results of the previous

This is a change from last year, when it took approximately 5 1/2 hours. The testing time is divided into two periods. The session will begin at 9:00 a.m. Students will be allowed an hour for lunch before the afternoon session.
The test costs $7.00. There is no advance registration. The fee is paid at the Testing Center.

A brochure about the test is available in the counselor's office, Room 209. If you have additional questions, stop by and visit with Mr. Golden.

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKERS ANNOUNCED

Commencement speakers for 1971 graduation exercises have been announced as follows: Sue Shearer, Rene Nielsen, Darrel Beebe and Debbie English.

LEA APPOINTED

ITT RAYONIER LOGGING SUPT

The appointment of Robert W. Lea to the position of Clallam County logging superintendent for ITT Rayonier Inc. was announced today by L.J. Forrest, vice president of the company and manager of the Northwest Timber Division. Lea replaces Robert F. Cunningham who retired May 1.

Lea was born November 13, 1940 in Aberdeen. He graduated from the University of Puget Sound in Tacoma in 1964 with a degree in business administration.
Prior to joining ITT Rayonier in March 1971, Lea was with Nielsen Logging Company in Forks.
He is a member of Concord Lodge #52 of Aberdeen. His outside interests include hunting and fishing.

Cunningham has worked for ITT Rayonier since 1945. He attended Elma High School and Knapp's Business College. Prior to joining ITT Rayonier, Cunningham was with Bloedel Donovan for 15 years.
He is a member of several organizations including Masons, Shriners, Elks, Lions, and Toastmasters. He is a Past Grand Patron of the Grand Chapter of Washington, OES, and is past patron of the Forks Chapter.

He and his wife, Effie, live in Sappho but will be retiring to Agnew where they own some property.

SCHOOL BOARD MEETING

The regular meeting of the Board of Directors of Quillayute Valley Schools was held in the library of the high school April 22. One hundred and ten visitors were present.
The agenda was lengthy and the following are just a few of the highlights.
Permission was granted for the use of a school bus to provide transportation for a proposed skiing program for young people in the winter.

Mr. Traver recommended the expulsion of John Richards from high school quoting Washington laws regarding pupil attendance in schools; rules in regard to motor vehicles on school grounds; laws listing causes for suspension and/or expulsion from school. At the request of John's attorney, a meeting was held April 2.

Both sides were represented by legal counsel and agreed John had performed expellable conduct. A special meeting was held Monday, April 5, in the library with the Board of Directors to hear an appeal of the expulsion.
After many comments from various people in attendance, the Board ruled John Richards' expulsion.

Mr. Traver outlined items leading to his request for the immediate dismissal of Donald W. Iverson, Biology teacher. After considering the evidence and determining that there appeared to be sufficient cause, the Board voted to dismiss Mr. Iverson from his teaching position as of this date on the grounds, as stated in the suspension notice, namely, inadequate performance of teaching duties, noncompliance with directives as presented by the administration, and the presence of nonprofessional material in his room.
The next regular Board meeting will be held May 20, 1971.

One good steed deserves another

By Al Clarke

This waiting around for a colt to be born is enough to drive a guy bananas. As you have read from time to time in the Trail Riders news, (a look at horses and their people through the eyes of my horse's landlady) our mare Babe (nee, Nina Manchada) has been in foal for almost her prescribed time, eleven months. For the benefit of the horse-less carriage trade, she is very pregnant. I am still at a loss in conversations regarding horses. To get back to the point on the top of my head, our mare and yours truly are taking this natural happening with little or no anxiety, and I am firmly convinced that our Babe will do her natural thing and settle down to motherhood as she has done twice in the past. So, what's to worry?

Meanwhile back at the Clarke ranch-house, Baby is climbing imaginary walls and trees and anything else that frayed nerves end propel one to scale. For the last two weeks, conversations have gone something like this.

"What's for dinner, Love?" "Listen," she says, her eyes popping. "Listen to what?" I say, cocking my ear in the direction of anywhere. "I thought I heard a colt whinny," she answered. "Sure you did, Baby, and it's telling you that your Big Daddy is curious about what's happening at the dinner table." "How can you possibly think about food at a time like this?" she blurted on the verge of hysterical. "It's easy. All I have to do is think back to eleven this morning when I had my last taste of nourishment," I say, trying not to be too flip. "What about poor Baby?" she cries, tears welling in her lovely brown eyes. "She's due to have her baby any moment and all you can think about is, what's for dinner." "Look," I said, surprising myself with the dominance in my voice. "I fail to see where my evening repast will have any effect on the very normal course of pregnancy of our esteemed mare, and further more, if you don't feed me in the next twenty minutes, I'll tell all the horse people that your Western belt is made from Eastern cowhide." Needless to say, my threat was disregarded with a toss of her head. I did get fed, and there really isn't anything wrong with hot cheese sandwiches and cold mashed potatoes.

Today (Monday) the event took place, the colt was born into this world. You can read all about it in my horse's landlady's column. At last we can get back to fairly normal living, and who knows, I might even be lucky enough to get hot mashed potatoes.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Editor,

I felt, for a hometown newspaper the Forks Forum made much too light of the P.T.A. Talent Show. It was one of the most successful social activities this community has produced.

Whoever wrote the article about it used poor taste in mentioning only a few of the people who donated their talent. I'm sure we all worked equally as hard preparing for the show, and we all deserve equal credit.

And, I think all the merchants who were interested enough and generous enough to donate all the great prizes should have some recognition, also.

Kate Silves
Forks, Washington

Editor,

It would seem that there is quite a rumble in the Forks School District, most of it based on racism of Indian-white kind and promoted not by the elders on either side but by the younger folks, mostly sub-adult. It would, of course, be very desirable for Indian school children to take a trip to the old archaeological diggings at Ozette where the ancestors of some of them lived centuries ago and where their buildings and artifacts are being uncovered, and that trip would not be amiss for the less concerned white scholars either, and I am certain that the school would not have objected if the school kids had been properly escorted by responsible adults approved by the Tribal Council and parents. And why such a trip on a school day anywhere anyway when there are holidays and weekends?

There is no justification for discrimination because of race either for or against any person; but what would almost any white parent have done if our school did not react if a group of white youngsters were to take off for an unauthorized trip led by irresponsible types as was attempted in this instance? In any case, when dealing with school children, the school must stand by the standards set by the most strict of the parents. That cannot be avoided. As for one race being disrespectful of another, that has gone on since man existed and chiefly causes troubles when the person derided lacks proper self respect. Those of us who remember the old-time Indians were deeply impressed by their native pride and integrity and maturity of spirit.

Too often today we try to make other races into patterns of ourselves, the Caucasians, with the result that they may lose their ancestral virtues and become tainted with our vices and that is no improvement at all. An Indian, after all, has as much right to be an Indian as I have to be an European. Mere difference cannot imply inferiority and enforced propinquity can often amplify any natural interracial distrust that may exist. It is a problem to be sure, but respect must be earned. Like love, it cannot be compelled. Far too many people today feel somebody owes them something when in reality that somebody is only themselves.

LENA FLETCHER
Forks, Washington

Editor,

For the past year and a half, my wife and I have been working as VISTA Volunteers for the Quilteute Tribal Council. During this time, we have been working closely with the Quilteutes in their attempt to secure a better education for their children. Like Indians across North America, they are concerned about the quality of education provided by their school system. It is an accepted fact that in this country the formal education of Indians has fallen far short of its goals. This has been shown by years of study. Analysis of achievement test scores show that Indians are achieving less than non-Indians at all grade levels. And it should be kept in mind that achievement test scores show the effectiveness of a school's programs, not the capabilities of the student. Studies have shown that Indians are just as intelligent as non-Indians. The ineffectiveness of our school system to properly educate Indians is further shown by the small number of Indian graduates and the larger than average number of absentees, drop-outs, and failures. This problem exists in most schools having Indian students, and the Quillayute Valley School system is no exception.

You may say that it is not the schools' fault that Indians are not succeeding in school, but rather the fault of the Indians themselves—that they are lazy, ignorant, and basically inferior. These are the views of racists and have been discredited over and over again. (I suggest you read "The Education of American Indians—A Survey of the Literature" prepared for the Special Subcommittee on Indian Education of the Committee on Labor and Public Welfare, United States Senate, Feb. 1969). Then what are the causes, for we must determine the causes before we can solve the problem.

The Indian students attending the Fork's School system will tell you that the problems are caused by: 1) cultural conflicts; 2) a damaged self-concept; 3) teachers who don't understand the Indian students in their classrooms; 4) prejudices and a lack of understanding of the Indian students by non-Indian classmates; 5) unsympathetic administrators. These causes are among the most frequently mentioned in most studies on this problem.

The Indian student, from his first day in school, must face these barriers. He finds that he is among people who think differently than he. They have different goal orientations and react to one another differently. He senses this subtle difference and begins to feel he is inferior because of it. Even though he is not inferior, the dominant group makes him feel so. Then he withdraws and does not respond in class for fear of showing his inferiority. The teacher seeing the Indian child's reaction interprets it as a sign of lower intelligence or laziness. All of this reinforces the already damaged self-concept of the Indian. Fellow classmates ridicule him for being inferior and the Indian becomes more and more rejected and defeated. For him, school has been a bad experience from the first grade. He goes to school because he has to, but as the pressure on him builds, he becomes more and more forceful in his attempts to stay out of school. His parents will stop encouraging him to go to school after a while because they know what the child is going through. Many of them had the same experience. The parents try to bring about changes in the school system, but they can only get token changes made. For they do not feel they are qualified or educated enough to challenge the authority of the unsympathetic administrators.

So I've shown you some causes of the problem and how they might affect an Indian student. What about a solution?

We have a solution. It originated in the minds of the Indian students in the Forks' school. They have been trying to implement their solution for the past year and have been unsuccessful because of the lack of cooperation, understanding, and sincerity of the school's administration. Because the students felt so strongly about their problems and their solution, they defied the administration. The result being that two Indian students were suspended, unjustifiably.

The Indian students proposed that they be allowed to meet like any other club, to overcome their shared problems. They feel that they as a group can develop a better self-image, study their cultural heritage, remove the stereotype that non-Indian teachers and students have of Indians, encourage attendance and performance as a group, participate in school activities as a club to make school more enjoyable, communicate problems and recommendations to teachers and the administration. The whole concept is so positive that I cannot see why it would be turned down. Yet the administration feels that to set up such a club would be discriminatory against non-Indians! This must be a joke. Participation of non-Indians would be in the results of the activities of this club. They will have a better understanding of their Indian classmates and of their heritage. The administration has much to gain from this innovative plan. But they fear they will be branded discriminatory by their peers. Where is justice?

David L. Neundorf

the state's unemployment problem this summer.

Six different in-service training programs may provide up to 462 jobs in park work this year, many of them in the summer months when help is most needed.

These are trainee jobs rather than permanent civil service positions. There are various special employment programs which provide opportunities for trainee jobs, up to 13 weeks in duration.

Applicants for any of these special employment programs may contact their local Employment Security Office or the Parks and Recreation Commission personnel office in Olympia.

DOG OBEEDIENCE TRAINING
By Sharon Clarke

A very important part of owning a dog, in my estimation is training. Not just the "sit-up", "roll-over" type tricks, but training which makes a dog more socially a member of the family and community. More and more, people are making the family dog a complete member by traveling with him wherever they go. This means manners are in order.

My start in obedience training was quite out of necessity more than any other reason. After a few walks with a German Shepherd on a leash and coming home wondering who was leading who, or being bowled over a couple times by sheer loving exuberance, the search for a training school began. My intentions were to just learn how to control this over-grown lap-dog, but one thing led to another and I ended up showing and expanding my training program to the more difficult exercises. The first class we entered proved very unsatisfactory in that the teacher believed in a little more discipline than I felt necessary, but we got some basic pointers and settled our monster down somewhat. The next try was with a well-known, AKC approved, non-profit organization in the Seattle area whose members donate their time to teaching obedience classes. Their technique was more to my liking. The theory that your dog is much like a child in that they need a certain amount of discipline to gain their respect, generously spiced with much praise is the basic idea. I've seen people pick up their precious pet and stomp out the door because they wouldn't think of patting little "Pom-Pom" on the po-po to make him sit. Yet that same person wouldn't hesitate to belt their kids a good one if they stepped out of line.

Then there's the man with a shy German Shepherd (it does happen) who embarrasses him. This dog is timid and a little afraid of her owner's ego. When she goofs, he gets enraged, because it might reflect on him. Therefore, she feels this disapproval and withdraws even more. There's not much chance for this dog because her owner is too pre-occupied with himself. He was asked to leave the class and refunded his money.

There are many types of problems in starting an obedience class, but very seldom is it the dog. A good obedience class trains you to train your dog. The bond between the two of you becomes much closer. You learn to understand each other. You're proud of the fact that your pet now comes when you call and neatly sits directly in front of you waiting for your next wish. He stays beside you when you walk somewhere; will stay where you leave him, be it sitting or lying down. (Don't laugh-your dog can learn this). These things are the result of a basic novice class. If one wishes to show his dog, these are also the basic exercises for a start in the ring. Any breed of dog is capable of learning and at most any age. You really can teach an old dog new tricks if he's alert and healthy.

If anyone in the Forks area is interested in obedience training, I'd love to hear from you. Call 374-6736.

In and Around Town

Isn't it wonderful to see those benches in the town of Forks? This is done through the Lions Club, but the one who deserves a big hand is Pat Tierney who did the job singlehanded. Thanks, Pat.

Jim Howard celebrated his 18th birthday with a dinner for the immediate family at the Vagabond. The birthday cake, baked by Mrs. Bill James, was an oblong chocolate cake with white frosting and decorated with miniature phonograph records and dancing teenagers.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Anderson April 24 and 25 was Mrs. Margaret Carlson of Portland, Oregon.

Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Mast spent the Easter weekend in Beaverton, Oregon, visiting his brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Mast.

Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Tiller went to Sunnyside over the weekend to visit Donna's grandfater, D.C. Lewis. While there, they also visited her grandmother, Mrs. Gertie Holt and other relatives. Along with them on the trip went their granddaughter, Sheila.

Ms. Janet Ketchum will be speaking at the Christian Women's Luncheon in Port Angeles, May 6.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Logan Kaas for about a week were her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Copeland from Seattle and Mrs. Earl Requa from St. Paul, Minnesota. They did some sightseeing while here and were surprised to see how the town of Forks has grown.

Visiting Mrs. Norman Fuller last week was Mrs. Lyle Ansinson from Hamilton, Montana. While here she also visited Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wahlgren.

Ricky Fuhrman celebrated his 12th birthday by inviting a couple friends to come along on a fishing trip to Beaver Lake, May 1. When they got back home, a delicious dinner was ready for them and later they went to the show. Helping Ricky celebrate his birthday were Chris Chambers and Jimmy Leppell. The next day his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kaemmler, came over for dinner and it was a double birthday party as Mrs. Kaemmler also had her birthday this month. A added surprise for Ricky was when his "Granny" and "Granddad", Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fuhrman Sr., from Omak, also joined them for the dinner.

Merit Badges were presented to Jim Bolin for Personal Fitness, Gale Bolin for Cooking, Kevin Borde for Cooking, Pat McReynolds for Cooking and Pioneering, Mark Palmer for Fishing and Andy Zepeda for Cooking and Pioneering. Also, Mile Swim badges were presented to Gale Bolin, Kevin Borde, Pat McReynolds and Hank Zepeda.

The following new Scouts were recognized by presentation of neckerchiefs: Dwight Addleman, Roger Baucher,

Following the Court of Honor, refreshments were served and a film was shown of the eleven day hike over Mt. Olympus by some Scouts and leaders.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Perry and Donald went to Seattle to visit Bill and Cena Perry and to wish their granddaughter, Debbie a happy first birthday. It was a double celebration as their son Dennis also had a birthday this month. Also there were Steve Perry and Dennis' girlfriend, Eileen Henfin, from Olympia.

Mr. and Mrs. Joel Dahlgren had as their guests for a few days, Ingrid's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Lindberg from Everson.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dieu is Mrs. Dieu's mother, Mrs. Delbert Marl of Dayton.

The Brager Brothers Bowling team went to Spokane over the weekend and really bowled up a storm. The team placed 12th in the state and this is the first time in 10 years the Brager Bros. team has placed in the state tournament. Jessie Brager and Pat Mansfield also did real good in doubles. Jim and Pat Mansfield and Susie drove to Spokane and so did Sally and John Nagel, but Jessie Brager, Florence Ninke and Yvonne Moore decided to make it a leisure trip and took a plane. Congratulations to the team.

Miss Marjorie Kathleen (Kathy) Barlow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Barlow of Forks, graduated from Washington State University February 5, with a Bachelor of Science Degree in Animal Science.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cunningham were honored at a special retirement reception at the Sportsman's Clubhouse Saturday night from 8 to 11 o'clock.

Mr. Cunningham is retiring as of May 1 from ITT Rayonier, Inc., after having worked in this area for the past 40 years. He started in 1931 with Bloedel Donovan Lumber Mills which company sold out to Rayonier Inc. in the 1940's. He is presently area logging superintendent for ITT, Inc., and will be retiring to his home in Agnew with his wife, Effie.

Cunningham has been active in many organizations including Lions, Elks, Toastmasters, Shriners. He is Past Master of Mt. Olympus Lodge 298, F. & A.M., Grand Patron of Grand Chapter, O.E.S., and has twice been Worthy Patron of Mt. FLETCHER-WITTENBORN AUXILIARY NEWS

The regular meeting of Fletcher-Wittenborn Auxiliary to Post #9106 was held in the Sportsman's Club on April 19. Three new members were initiated into the auxiliary. They were: Wilda Stenger, Berneta Newlon and Lorena Armour. They were welcomed by the members.

Reports were given by the Poppy chairman, Shirley Sharpes, who said the committee had met and worked on plans, and a work night to make poppy corsages was set for Wednesday, May 21st, in the VFW Hall.

The committee on the district dinner had made plans for this event. The district meeting will be May 2 in the IOOF Hall. Officers practice at 10:00 a.m.; dinner at 12:00 noon. The meeting will begin at 1:00 p.m. All members are urged to attend as this is the district convention.

Guests of the auxiliary were: District president, Hettie Manser of Port Townsend, Louella Butts of Hadlock and Marguerite Minty, Ann Pumphrey, Myrtle Sindors and Katie Echtenkamp of the Sequim Auxiliary. Each spoke in turn; they all enjoy visiting in Forks.

Following the meeting, the Past Presidents' Club entertained with a skit entitled "How not to conduct a meeting". You would never believe the ways that were exemplified. Refreshments were served by the Past Presidents' and a social hour was enjoyed.

POSITION OPEN FOR CAP

SCHOOL LEVY TO BE VOTED ON JUNE 1st

Voters in the Quillayute Valley School District will decide on June 1, 1971, whether or not the local schools will receive $113,440 additional tax funds for operation and maintenance during the 1971-72 school year. The local School Board recently decided to place the $113,440 special levy issue before the voters after many fact-finding meetings with school administration, instructional staff, and the Citizens Advisory Group.

In the opinion of the School Board, basic tax monies will not provide adequate funds to support a minimum education for the children attending the Forks schools. The only alternative open to the Board was to go to the voters for special levy funding.

If approved, the special levy funds will be used for instructional materials and supplies ($43,330), remodeling and building improvements ($30,080), and additional staffing ($40,030). A more detailed explanation of the basic levy categories will be provided in future news releases.

The School Board, Administration, instructional and maintenance staff, and the Citizens Advisory Group encourage anyone with questions about the levy to contact them either by telephone or in person to obtain an answer.

JEHOVAH'S WITNESSES CHURCH NEWS

The Forks Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses has received word that their next semi-annual circuit assembly will be held next month. Charles Meinzer, local minister, said he has been officially notified that the 3-day gathering will begin May 14 at 6:34 p.m. in the Shelton High School auditorium.

Special representatives are being sent to Shelton by the Watchtower Society of New York, to see that everything is in readiness by opening time. In addition, many peninsula-area personnel are being assigned to direct operations of the 19 departments involved in making the convention function smoothly. William R. Fennell of Sequim will oversee all of this activity, and will have over 300 men and women, some from Forks, working under his direction.

When fully set up, Mr. Fennell's operation will include everything from a department for locating rooming accommodations for visiting delegates, to a lost and found department which dutifully collects mislaid items... and occasionally a wandering child. And of course there is the cafeteria to feed those in attendance, the music department to accompany the singing, first aid, and many more.

Mr. Meinzer, in summing up his report, said he had been advised that as usual there will be no charge or obligation for attending any of the sessions, and that the public is cordially invited.

IN SERVICE

Coast Guard Chief Petty Officer Charles E. Upton, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Upton of Forks, participated in the sinking of a North Vietnamese trawler attempting to infiltrate South Vietnamese territorial waters. He was serving aboard the Coast Guard Cutter Rush when the action occurred April 10.

The Rush was operating with the Navy gunboat USS Antelope and the Coast Guard Cutter Morgenthau when the trawler was repeatedly challenged and received a warning shot across her bow in an attempt to halt her.

Rush fired illumination shells and directed the Antelope to take the trawler under fire.

The trawler returned the Antelope's fire and sought to evade the U.S. craft.

All the U.S. units then engaged the trawler at a point about two miles off shore. Two Navy Aircraft joined the attack. Finally a large explosion was observed aboard the trawler and the vessel disappeared from the radar scopes of the allied units.

Rush is credited with the sinking of another North Vietnamese infiltration trawler in November 1970.

TRAIL RIDERS NEWS

By Barbara King

Well, here it is Tuesday morning again and as usual I'm just getting my column written. Maybe once these foals all get here, I can do this up a day or so sooner. This week it was a good thing to wait until the last minute. Yesterday, Al and Sharon Clarke's Nina Manchada gave birth to a palomino and white colt. In honor of the little fellow's recently deceased sire, the colt will be registered as "Our Last Dollar". This morning, Thelma Graves became a horse owner this past week. Robin is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Roberts, and is a member of the Rein Riders. Her new mare is a black 3-year-old appendix registered Appy. Crown Jewel has now possessed her new family and all are giving her their undivided attention. Welcome to the whole family!

Coming up next weekend, Mother's Day, is a games show at the Quarter Moon Quarter horse ranch in Sequim. Come on, you Wranglers; your horses are as good as some of those we saw over the weekend. All we need to do is practice a little. Where is your competitive spirit?

Glenn, Matthew and I took in the Saturday part of the Rawliders State Games Show in Port Angeles. It was a two-day show at the fair grounds. There were lots of ribbons being handed out for the various events such as, pole bending, barrel racing, Canadian flags, 2-man flags, figure 8 stake race, rescue race, pony race, scurries, bareback relay and keyhole. Quarter horse racing was featured Sunday. The Lefler's raced their Tinky Eight to a second place finish. They also had their D.J. Mount in there, but he proved to be a little soft after a two-month vacation. Saturday we saw many familiar faces in and around the stands. Also attending from Forks were Mrs. Roger Stanley and children.

Miss Rolinda Mae Ronish became the bride of John Stephen Temple at the Congregational Church in Forks April 17, with Reverend Ted Ringsmuth performing the double ring ceremony.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rollie Ronish of Forks and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Temple of Rochester, Michigan.

The sanctuary was decorated in green and yellow artificial roses made by Mrs. Chuck Milton of Seattle. Mrs. Ruth Hutton sang, accompanied by Mrs. Fred Rosmond, "The Wedding Prayer" and "For All You Know".

The bride was given in marriage by her father. The bridal gown, floor length, was white lace with an empire waist, long sleeves and a ruffled, high neckline. She wore an elbow-length net veil and carried the Bible her mother carried as a bride, and little yellow roses.

Sharon Taylor, maid of honor and cousin of the bride, wore a floor-length pale yellow gown gathered at the waistline and had a tiered skirt. The bridesmaids, Rhonda

Black and Lori Lytle, wore floor-length, pale green flowered gowns. All dresses had puffed sleeves fitted to the wrist, and each of the attendants carried one long stemmed yellow rose. Flower girl was Johnnie Ronish, sister of the bride. Shoe wore a pale yellow flowered floor length gown. Candelighters, Valerie and Teresa Ronish, sister of the bride, wore the same style gown.

George Ronish, brother of the bride, was best man. Ushers were Terry Hutton and Terry Burr of Forks and the bride's brother, Rollie Ronish and her cousin, Craig Ronish.

A reception followed in the Fellowship Hall. Mrs. Walter Ronish of Port Angeles, aunt of the bride, served the punch. Mrs. Lloyd Johnston poured the tea and Mrs. Gordon Baze of Port Angeles, aunt of the bride, poured the coffee. The cake was cut by Mrs. Paul Taylor of Seattle, aunt of the bride, and the bride's cousins, Miss Paula Taylor and Miss Denise Baze were in charge of the gifts and guestbook.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Paul Taylor of Seattle, their daughters, Sharon and Paula; Terry Connell of Seattle and Mr. and Mrs. Gary Ferguson of Oakland, California.

OUTDOOR LORE

By Lonnie Archibald

WASHINGTON'S RARE MAMMALS
 Out of all the mammals that have ranged in our Evergreen State, the timber wolf is the only one to have been completely and permanently eliminated from this state. The sea otter, mountain sheep and antelope were gone or nearly gone but have been restocked and at this time seem relatively safe for the future. Two others which face an uncertain future are the caribou and grizzly bear. Neither of these ever occupied much range in Washington. Of the grizzly and caribou, the grizzly bear which ranges in the North Cascades probably has the better chance of becoming established in this state.

There is encouragement in the mammal scene by the increase in some mammals classified as rare. Moose, wolverine and cougar are among those which are showing the upward trend in abundance. Other rare species are holding constant population levels.

The establishment by the State Legislature of a class or category of "protected wildlife" has offered legal protection for many species. This reflects increased public support in preserving and protecting all forms of wildlife in the Evergreen State.

Those listed as rare mammals of Washington are Columbia white-tailed deer, bighorn sheep, moose, pronghorn, woodland caribou, cougar, grizzly bear, Canada lynx, red fox, wolverine, gray wolf, sea otter, fisher, pigmy rabbit, white tailed jack rabbit, ord kangaroo rat, and Western gray squirrel.

ANOTHER WARM ONE
 Last weekend provided the outdoorsmen with more of that stuff we know as sunshine. And my, how warm it was. Once again hikers, beachcombers, picnickers and sightseers took advantage of both sun and local beaches in search of relaxation and solitude. Lakes here in the Forks area also provided recreation as fishermen found the atmosphere quite pleasing.

HERE AND THERE
 The West Coast Trollers are back in action once again as an agreement was finally made with the fish packers. Lake Pleasant provided fishermen with some mighty fine silvers Saturday with fair fishing on Sunday. Worms seemed to be the answer.
 Its about time to take down the fly pole as the waters of local lakes begin to warm. A number of dedicated fly fishermen have already scored on a few trout in Beaver Lake.
 Roy Mohondro is in the market for a good second-hand pack horse which will take him back into the high country wilderness where those big lunkers await to test his fishing skills. How about a mule there, coach?
 It was Hugh Wentworth with a nice netful of smelt recently. They were taken at Nialto Beach, so the story goes.
 There will be minus tides this coming weekend for those dedicated clam diggers. Not too low, but good and early.

Sunset Highlites

By Fred Jarvis

Been a long week so far. Mother drove down to the Harbor for a few days on a business trip and to visit relatives. Should be back today I hope. Funny how that woman grows on me. Looks like the winter leagues are just about over, which means I'll have to start scratching for news again. Can't win 'em all.
 Kathy Decker hit 176-487 in Tuesday Afternoon League, and Pat Hammell, with 129 average, banged out a 170-480.
 Thursday Beginners had Charlotte Connell at 154, Sheryl McCoy 150, Pat Brooks 384, and Donna Springer 378, and picking off the 5-10 split. For the Captains Kathy Decker rattled the pins for a big 231 game and a 500 series, and picked off the 5-10. Margaret Windle hit a 504 series.
 Here's a little poem dedicated to the gal who flipped her wig the other nite.

She threw her ball at a spare,
 Her wig flew into the air.
 She cried aloud for help,
 Her hair had left her scalp.

Kind of corny, but it fits the occasion.
 Understand Clark's Vagabond Traveling team did real well at the N.I.B.C. Tournament in Cour'd Alene, Idaho last weekend, hitting a 3024 in the team event. Darrell had a 224-634, Duke 234-589 and "Hoss" Caulkins a 580. Duke hit 660 plus in the doubles and George Richardson teamed up with a Montana bowler to hit the highest score bowled in the N.I.B.C. doubles event.
 The Jackpot keeps getting bigger and bigger in Saturday Night Monte Carlo. Pete Jacobson had the big shot and Vern Rondeau a try at half of it. No luck again. Think what you could have done with all that loot fellas?
 See you next week.

Adria Fullman, Joyce Warren and Sue Daclis modeling fashions from Alice's in Forks.

Roberta Hunley and Sharon Clark modeling a slacks and shirt outfit.

Alice's Spring Style Show was held April 23 at the Vagabond with a noon luncheon. Alice Simonton, wearing an apple-green, 3-piece polyester outfit, welcomed everyone and introduced the models. Dresses, pantsuits, slacks, skirts, blouses and some hot-pants outfits, all wash and wear and in lovely colors, were on parade.
 Sally Nagel modeled a dress perfect for accessories, slightly A-line and sleeveless in a striking hot orange color. With it she wore a scarf in coordinating colors.
 Sharon Clark modeled straight, white pants and a safari-style jacket with a zip front and pockets. The red and white printed blouse she wore had long sleeves, button front and pointed collar. White is very popular this summer both for men and women.
 The pants and vest outfit

Roberta Hunley was wearing was very fresh and neat looking. The pants were in a pale blue color and the vest in white, pale blue and navy plaid. She wore it sleeveless, but it could also be worn with a blouse.
 Adria Fullman modeled a pants skirt in a wrap around style with a patch pocket on the hip. With it she wore a pale blue and white vertical stripe shirt with long sleeves, square buttons down the front and on the cuffs and a white, beaded tie.
 With summer just around the corner several of the girls modeled shorts outfits. Mary Ann Bullock wore a very cheerful looking sleeveless top in red, white and navy with buttoned front and a shirt collar with white polyester shorts.
 Ruth Fitts modeled a jumpsuit, suitable to wear in the evening. The paisley print colors were rust, orange, green, purple, yellow and black. The wrap panel with border print covering the culottted wrap front gave the outfit an Indian sari effect. With it she wore a wide belt, gold rhinestone earrings and a choker.

 The peasant look was also modeled by some of the girls. Joyce Warren wore a lovely white style blouse with gathered neck and sleeves and trimmed with open lace. With it she wore a long peasant skirt in a royal blue print. The skirt was trimmed with braid at the hem and around the waist.
 Alice's has a big selection of swim suits and the one Sue Daclis was wearing was a real eye-catcher. It was a teeny, weeny, polka dot bikini with a poncho cover-up in bright red with white dots. The poncho was trimmed with a white fringe.
 All the accessories were also from Alice's. The door prizes went to Norma Burr, Peggy Perry, Wanda Warren and Margaret Joutsen. Assisting Alice with the style show were Patti Gorham and Miriam Self.

PRINCE OF PEACE NEWS

The smoke last Saturday came from burning brush that was cleaned out of the woods on the church property by a work party. Our landscaping plan has come and Paul Lingvall is in charge of getting things ready to begin the landscaping work.
 Couples Club will meet May 8, at 6:30 p.m. at the church. The title for this Sunday's service is "The Ordained Ones" from Ephesians 5:21 through 28.

DURKAN GUEST OF HONOR AT DINNER

Local citizens will have an opportunity to meet the fore-runner for the 1972 Democratic gubernatorial nomination when the Clallam County Citizens for Durkan for Governor stage their upcoming dinner the Issaquah Democrat.
 Senator Martin J. Durkan will be guest of honor and featured speaker at the five dollar a plate affair to be held at Harrington's Skyroom in Port Angeles on May 12, beginning with a no host social hour at 6 p.m. and dinner at 7:30.
 The senator is scheduled to appear at the Senior Citizens Center at 3 p.m. on the same date.
 Co-chairmen for the local campaign committee are Ermine Cearey, Dave Knotek, and Dave Woodruff. Social arrangements and dinner decorations will be provided by a local Democratic women's club, the Lady Birds.
