ANGELES ARTS In Action

The annual Angeles Arts in Action arts and crafts fair will be held June 5th and 6th, on the grounds of Peninsula Community College, in Port Angeles, Washington.

Artists and craftsmen in Western Washington, (all the counties west of the Cascade Mountains), and also those on Vancouver Island, B.C., are eligible to participate.

The may participate in either, or both, of the following categories:

1. Enter paintings or sculpture in the "Juried General Painting and Sculpture Exhibit."

2. Come in person and work the two days of the art fair as "Demonstrating Artist or Craftsman".

The Juried Exhibit will have a prominent state artist as the judge, and will offer cash awards. Those interested in this category should write immediately and ask for Juried General Painting and Sculpture Exhibit Rules, which will contain information on when to deliver paintings, etc.

Persons interested in Category 2 should write immediately and ask for a Demonstrating Artist and Craftsman Application. When you receive and fill in your application, you must return it to the art fair by May 20, deadline for demonstrator application returns. So write today.

The address for all is: Angeles Arts in Action, Box 176, Port Angeles, Washington, 98362, or telephone Jerri Koehaneck, 452-2278 in Port Angeles. Forks residents for convenience may get forms from Kathy Gunningham, phone, 374-6491, after 4 p.m. weekdays.

was visiting the County Library, the telephone company truck arrived at the psychological moment to install the long awaited SCAN which is being provided by the State Library without charge to the individual library. It is part of the overall scheme for a network system of library service throughout the State. Instead of all inter-library loans being routed through the State Library and on to the Bibliographic Center in Seattle, many requests will be filled by another library within your region. When a library borrower needs some special material in a hurry, his library can call on SCAN to another library within the region without an expensive long distance call. The telephone company has estimated that the average cost of SCAN per call is 6¢.

Small branch libraries such as Forks will not be on SCAN, but it will benefit from its County Library headquarters use of SCAN.

Community colleges have been on SCAN since 1968. Public libraries are just starting this year although as Miss Cutler explained, the statewide Library Development Council has been making plans for this for some time.

SCAN FOR PUBLIC LIBRARIES

On April 28th Miss Dorothy Cutler, a consultant at the State Library in Olympia, visited the Clallam County Library to describe to staff members the purpose of SCAN, in other words State Control Area Network. While Miss Cutler

SCHOOL BOARD MEETS

The Board of Directors of Quillayute Valley School District held a special meeting Thursday, May 6, in the high school library for the purpose of accepting the new primary building. The Board moved to accept the electrical and mechanical contract, and to hold off on the General Contract until a letter is received from the rug manufacturer that is acceptable to the prosecuting attorney.

The Board also approved Mr. Newbry's request for kindergarten testing which would reveal a child's readiness for kindergarten regardless of the age deadline.

Mrs. Letoy Eike of Seattle asked if the Board would reconsider John Richards' suspension from school. The Board agreed that John's entrance into school this year is not warranted, but that he would be readmitted

TIMBER TO BE SOLD

Timber sales in June will be almost double previous monthly offerings. Charles Schwab, Supervisor of Timber Sales for the Department of Natural Resources, reported today. The forty-two parcels of timber represents a dramatic increase with timber appraised at more than $5 million.

The largest sale is located 37 miles southeast of Forks in Jefferson County. It contains 19,120,000 board feet of mostly old growth hemlock and white fir.

The most valuable offering is located 52 miles south of Forks. The timber, mainly white fir, old growth hemlock, and Douglas fir, has been appraised by Department foresters at $549,085,00.

Twelve sales to be auctioned in June contain special provisions designed to increase the wood volume removed resulting in a more efficient utilization of the natural resources. Logs containing extensive defects which make them unsuitable for lumber or plywood products will be removed and used for pulp and paper products. Cleanup of this extra wood will make reforestation of the areas easier. It will also increase the volume of wood fiber that is available to the forest products industry by utilizing wood that normally is left on the ground to decay.

Timber sales will be offered in 19 of Washington's 39 counties. They are: Clallam, Clark, Cowlitz, Grays Harbor, Jefferson, King, Kittitas, Lincoln, Mason, Okanogan, Pacific, Pierce, Skagit, Skamania, Stevens, Thurston, Wahkiakum, Whatcom and Yakima.

CLALLAM COUNTY SALES:
Bogachiel Ridge Sale: 9.7 million board feet, appraised at $285,940, located about 14 miles south of Forks, to be sold June 29 at Forks District office.

Dean Creek Sale: 4.3 million board feet, appraised at $103,670, located about 8 miles southeast of Sequim, to be sold June 28 at Port Angeles district office.

Maxfield Loop Sale: 6.8 million board feet, appraised at $187,360, located about 9 miles west of Forks, to be sold June 29 at Forks District office.

Pond's Creek Sale: 2.4 million board feet, appraised at $61,100, located about 18 miles southwest of Clallam Bay, to be sold June 29 at Forks District office.

Grader Creek #2 Sale: 8 million board feet, appraised at $237,370, located about 4 miles south of Forks, to be sold June 29 at Forks District office.

JEFFERSON COUNTY SALES:
Tower Creek Sale: 14.8 million board feet, appraised at $373,820, located about 20 miles south of Forks, to be sold June 29 at Forks District office.

Matheny Bridge Sale: 17.8 million board feet, appraised at $549,085, located about 52 miles south of Forks, to be sold June 29 at Forks District office.

Shine Sale: 4.6 million board feet, appraised at $180,455, located about 17 miles northeast of Quilcene, to be sold June 28 at Port Angeles District office.

Matheny Bend Sale: 2.2 million board feet, appraised at $92,305, located about 65 miles south of Forks, to be sold June 29 at Forks District office.

Upper Clearwater #2 Sale: 19.1 million board feet, appraised at $317,860, located about 37 miles southeast of Forks, to be sold June 29 at Forks District office.

The first order of business concerned the proposed Forks sewer system. Ingrid Lingvall who is in charge of the telephone survey regarding the new proposed system, said that although the survey has about three days before completion, the general feeling has been unfavorable. Some of the reasons given were too much money, too hard on the elderly, should have much more study, location of the treatment plant is questionable, and some preferred a written questionnaire to the telephone survey.

The following building permits were voted on and accepted for issuance. Parnsonage, Forks Bible Church, builder, N.W. Olympic Development; Galvanized steel roof and siding, owner, Ernest G. Nielsen, builder, Brookdale Lumber, Tacoma; Shake machine room, owner and builder, Hinchen Bros.

The subject of a dog pound was again discussed. The Council asked Fred Cline to further study the operation, and the matter was tabled until the next regular meeting.

The appearance of citizens at the Council meeting gave assurance that people are interested in what is happening in our town. The next regular Council meeting is Monday, May 24, at 8 p.m. Plan to attend; get involved in your community.

Good Bowling Ain't Up My Alley

By Al Clarke

Picture an old army amphibian with two flat tires lumbering along in quest of victory over a tired picket fence, and you'll have a shot of yours truly approaching the foul line at Sunset Lanes on a Thursday night, trying vainly to better my alley hi score of 130. "Damn the torpedoes, full speed ahead," I wheeze, as I lurch forward in my number 12 hand-me-down bowling footwear. The velocity of my circular bludgeon couldn't crack the crust of an oven-fresh cream puff. I learned quickly the actions for covering up the real and obvious mistakes in bowling. Like most one-night-a-week bowlers, I stand gazing at some imaginary piece of fluff that caused my hand to turn over, or perhaps threw me off balance so my chance of a follow through was defeated. Returning to my seat in the dugout, my eyes are transfixed on the fingers of my right hand: fingers that can normally tear a soft orange to shreds. It must be the hang-nails.

Bowling is an interesting sport in that it involves all types of people. The various bowling styles are delightful and at times incredible. There's the smooth 190 average bowler. His approach, delivery and dress are impeccable. His time returning from the foul line is spent scanning the gallery for A, B, C, scouts. The everybody's friend bowler (alley hopper); his constant visitations have caused more low scores than a no-hit pitcher. Then there's the bowling Romeo. He really can't get all choked up with the game spirit, but it's a great place to display his charm, rugged masculinity, and in some cases, too good looks, overshadowed only by the height of his inflated ego. My favorite is the average 160 bowler whose scoring ability is fairly consistent and who never falls apart with grief because of a bad game or two. I can readily identify with this fellow. Bad games are my forte. It's easy for me to grin half heartedly as my ball thumps along on its holes toward the white cluster that openly defies the feeble impact on its ten pin.

Baby and I join the mixed leggers every Thursday night at 7:30, and I might add with pride, except for an occasional weakening of the wrist. Baby throws a darn good game. "You're looking good, Big Daddy," she cooed. She was right. I did look pretty fair. I had my hair combed, a clean shirt, freshly ironed slacks, and a carefully sprayed shot of my driest deodorant under each arm. It was after my first ball when she would pat my hand and give me that "It's only the first frame". Baby spends 30 frames patting my hand. Such loyalty deserved reward, so I bought her a manicure set and a bottle of Palmolive liquid. Since our self ejector garbage bag ceased to function, my nails have been a mess.

Darrell Thomas, the agile proprietor and excellent southpaw shooter, ambled over with a cherry "Hi" to both of us. "Darrell, old boy, how about a bit of professional advice?" I asked, my mind open and ready for any star-making tip he might toss in my direction. "Ever think of taking up jacks?" He offered. Baby patted my hand and we headed for the door. "You know," I started, not looking back, "I was once up to my sixties in jacks." "Great," she chirped. "I'll break out the Palmolive liquid and we'll start your training, cause like I always say, jacks are better openers than ten pins." "Baby, you're too much," I grinned. "Me too," she said.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Editor,
Anyone who reads the so-called Genocides Treaty can see that it will not effectively prevent or punish the crime of genocides.

The General Assembly of the United Nations had originally defined genocides as a crime committed against racial, religious or political groups. The Soviets would not sign the agreement until the word "political" was deleted. Why? The United States sought to have genocides defined "with the complicity of governments". The communist nations refused to permit this in the treaty. So who wants to punish genocides? So now, because we do not vote for it in the Senate (as our Constitution says must be done), we are being accused of not being against genocides because allegedly our servicemen are committing such acts.

Most people by now should see this My Lai mess for what it is, part of a subversive plan to downgrade the military. How many people are aware that the communists in South Vietnam have murdered 30,000 village leaders and educators and still doing so at about 100 a week; also kidnapping and torture of more than 30,000, blowing up of schools and civilian buses and restaurants and terror attacks on populated areas? In Hue 5,000 civilians were executed in cold blood. I do not hear the Fullbrights, McGoverns, Muskes and Kennedys crying about these acts of war! Why is only the killing of communists seen as "war crimes" by too many of the "free press" and establishment?

This treaty will repeal the Bill of Rights and servicemen out of the armed service could and would be hauled overseas and handed by foreigners for alleged war crimes. The police could and no doubt would be tried for genocides against the Black Panthers or any other revolutionary group calling for the overthrow of our country under the guise of civil rights or freedom or peace.

Write Senators Magnuson, Jackson, Secretary of State William Rogers and Henry Kissinger, advisor on foreign affairs. And even Attorney General John Mitchell who has told the President there are no constitutional obstacles to the treaty. You might mention the Bill of Rights to him.

The REVIEW OF THE NEWS, April 21 issue, available at the Library in Forks, has some information on the subject. Eleanor Thornton Forks, Washington

Advisory Committee Election Set

The Citizens Advisory Board for the Quillayute Valley School District is going to have an election of one-half of its membership on May 20 at 6:30 p. m., in the High School study hall next to the library. The Committee would like to urge all interested members in the school district to come and participate in this election.

Those members whose terms are up and whose positions will have to be filled are as follows: Forks labor, Myron Simmons; Beaver labor, Lawrence Gaydeski; Sappho labor, James Scarlet; Quillayute, Harvey Hoffman; LaPush, 2 people needed, Bogachiel, Don Hutt; Hoh, Charles Barlow; west of Forks, Ron Thompson and east of Forks, John Leppeil. This means that there will have to be 10 people elected to fill these vacated positions.

Those who will be carry-over members on the Committee are as follows: Forks, Ron Shearer and Mary Rosmond; Beaver, Harold Kennedy and Vi Hincien.

This year the Advisory Committee has been actively involved in studying some of the problems of the Quillayute Valley schools. We have made many recommendations to the School Board which have come from the people in the school district. We also spend a considerable amount of time working with the School Board and the administration in trying to assess the needs of the school over the next few years.

We are aware of the feeling in the district that taxes are too high now. But we have also become aware of the increased needs of the school

CANINE AND EQUINE

By Sharon Clarke
"Spring and Magic"
Spring has finally sprung and this is the time when nature really gets into one's heart. The beauty of multi-colored flowers, the green fringed trees carrying the promise of better weather to come, and most of all--the arrival of the baby animals. On our trip to Seattle last weekend, we observed so many new babies on the scene, it made the trip most exciting. Baby pigs near Blyn, calves and lambs near Sequim, twin mules between Port Angeles and Sequim, and many obviously expecting female animals everywhere we looked.

With spring in the air, one finds many wonders coming in to full focus once again, but fresher and newer each year. One example was the obvious magic which occurs between animals and children. I prefer to call it magic in preference to the term instinct, because most of us in our hearts really want to believe there is such a thing. An instance which happened to our family was our yearling colt, "Dandy" and our two children, Bobby, 8, and Suzy, 5 years old. Here is a rambunctious, impulsive, over-grown equine lap-dog, who is aware that us big people can take care of ourselves in his illustrious presence, therefore he capers and tears around us in his corral; sometimes charging at us, stopping just in time to avoid knocking over his human bowling pins. But with these small ones, he was so different. He stood still, only moving his head and nuzzling them gently while they patted him on the neck, chest, nose and legs.

I've seen children with nothing but a heart full of love and trust transform a beastly animal into a gentle pet. There is an element present between children and animals that we, as adults, have long since forgotten, or have yearned to revive, with no success. It's an exclusive thing. All we can do is stand by, observe, reminisce, and enjoy the situation. It's an amazing thing and I prefer to call it "magical".

THE PRIMARY CORNER

During this month the kindergarten children started working in their own workbooks-- Scott, Foresman's WE READ PICTURES. They enjoy reading the picture stories and marking some of the pages. They seem pleased to know the characters who are also in the books that their older brothers and sisters read. We have also started using "Language Building Pre-Reading Skills", by Ginn & Company, which is a series of stories specially designed to elicit responses from the children, which will later help them to learn to read.

We have also been working on rhyming words and color names. The math work has been designed to teach place value and the concept of representing sets with numerals.

We have just completed a Mother's Day project which was very successful even though it created a lot of mess. The children made hot pan holders for their mothers by painting little pieces of plywood. (They also painted hands and faces and teachers, but most of that paint came off with paint thinner.) The hot pan holders were carefully wrapped and tied by the children and proudly carried home.

One of their favorite songs is: "Spring is Here" Spring is here said the bumble bee; How do you know said the wide oak tree? I just saw a daffodil; Dancing like a fairy on a windy hill.

Mrs. Ryberg showed us a new gavel that was donated to the Guild by Robert Dudley. It is a beautiful piece of work and much appreciated.

Guild members are selling tickets on a quilt and child's clothes rack. These items are on display in Lefler's empty store next to the Sears Store.

POSTAL RATES INCREASE
Hurry up and use that 6¢ stamp because Sunday postage rates are going up. It will take eight cents to mail a letter and 11 cents if you send it by air.

Penny postcards, which have cost a nickel for a long time, go up to six cents. And all second- and third-class rates, plus some fourth-class rates will increase by from 10 percent to 20 percent. Special delivery and registered mail costs also go up.

The May 16 boost comes under what the Postal Service claims is its authority to make temporary increases in postal rates pending a recommendation by the Postal Rate Commission.

Mailbox Improvement Week

The Postal Service designates a week during May each year when customers on rural, city motorized, and box delivery star routes are encouraged to examine, and improve where necessary, the appearance of their mailboxes. The week of May 17-22 has been selected this year. The purpose of "Mailbox Improvement Week" is to call attention to the need for providing mail receptacles which are designed to protect the mail from the weather, and which are designed to protect the mail from the weather, and which are neat in appearance, conveniently located, and safe to use. Neat, attractive mailboxes will make a significant contribution to the appearance of the countryside and the streets in suburban areas.

Mailboxes that meet these 4 important requirements contribute to a more efficient delivery operation, and the result is an improved service to the entire route.

LOOK--BUT DON'T TOUCH

This is the time of year when the State Game Department gets phone calls from persons saying they have "found a lost young deer--or bear cub". The animals really haven't been lost, but were just hiding and awaiting the return of their mother.

While wildlife young-of-the-year are cute, cuddly and different, the Game Department reminds everyone that it is strictly against the law to molest them or take any wildlife home for pets.

Such "adoption" and removal from their natural habitat and wild mother's care almost always leads to the unnecessary death of these wild babes-of-the-woods.

When found by intruders such an infant appears to be lost, hungry, abandoned. Its mother, naturally spooky and reluctant to show herself often stands timidly nearby as her offspring is kidnapped into an unnatural world.

JEHOVAH'S WITNESSES CHURCH NEWS
A special announcement was made today for all those planning to attend the circuit assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses in Shelton. Charles Meinzer, presiding minister for the group in Forks, reported that opening sessions will begin Friday evening, May 14th, in the Shelton High School.
Malcolm Van Ike, a special representative from the Watchtower Society's New York headquarters, has been assigned as chairman and principal speaker for the event. He will deliver the welcome address on Friday at 7:00 p. m., after which he will conduct the ministry school on the stage for the enjoyment of the entire audience. The service meeting will follow.
On Saturday, Van Ike will direct the main program for the evening which will include skits and demonstrations, long a favorite with audiences in the past. His public discourse, "What Is Behind the Spirit of Rebellion?" will be given Sunday at 3:00 p. m. Meinzer also reported, "Mr. Van Ike will be happy to talk personally to anyone who wishes to see him during the assembly, but due to his busy schedule an appointment should be made at the Chairman's office."
The circuit supervisor, Edwin R. Thorgerson, will be in charge of preparing the assembly program. He makes the assignments and is responsible to see they are carried out in such a way as to be not only interesting, but educational and of practical value to all those attending.
Mr. Thorgerson is a native of Battle Ground, Washington, graduating from school there in 1949. With his wife, Joann, he has been ministering to congregations of Jehovah's Witnesses since 1961, and has recently been transferred to this area after serving in Wisconsin, Minnesota and Oregon.
Thorgerson will present a program designed to build faith in the Kingdom government of Jesus Christ, and the public is invited to attend any sessions of the assembly they wish. Attendance figures are estimated to reach over 1500 for the gathering.

WASHINGTON'S TROUT

Today Washington anglers tend to favor trout fishing over all other types of angling. Here in the West End we are fortunate to have an abundance of streams and lakes which await the outdoorsman and his fishing skills. From the jewel-like lakes of the high Olympics to the waters of the Quillayute, trout await you, the sportsman.

Included in this state's trout are the rainbow, cutthroat, brown and golden. Others belonging to a separate group known as "char" include the Dolly Varden, brook, and lake trout. We also have two landlocked salmon which are normally salt water fish. These are the silver (freshwater silver salmon), and the kokanee (freshwater sockeye salmon). All trout, salmon and chars belong to the "Salmonidae" family which also includes whitefish and grayling.

Here in the Forks area we find the Eastern brook trout abundant in the lakes of the Olympic National Park, cutthroat in our many streams, the rainbow which adapts to any of our waters, and the landlocked salmon of the lowland lakes. We also find Dolly Varden in our glacier fed streams as the Hoh and Queets. Of course many of these trout may be found in all waters of the Olympic Peninsula such as the cutthroat and rainbow which take to highland lakes as well as the lower lakes and streams.

The rainbow is said to be the most valuable freshwater game fish in Washington, both as a "rainbow" and a sea-run "steelhead". About 17 million rainbow are stocked in Washington waters annually by the Game Department hatcheries. The steelhead is a rainbow that has migrated to sea. This fighter is the trophy fish of Washington.

The cutthroat display the widest assortment of color patterns of any trout species. The rainbow and cutthroat are the most abundant of all the Northwest trout and due to the many color patterns of the cutthroat they can be, at times, hard to distinguish from the rainbow. The cutthroat prefer cooler waters and thrive best in cold lakes. This fish is frequently used for stocking programs of high mountain lakes. Of course they are also found in warmer waters of the lowland lakes and beaver ponds as well as rivers and creeks.

The brookie was introduced to Washington and is now found in many of the high country lakes. This trout's original native habitat was that of the Eastern United States. These trout are great reproducers in the lakes of the high Olympics and many of the higher streams. The brook trout is no doubt the most colorful of trout. Distinguished marks are the red spots with bluish rings.

The Dolly Varden is a native of Washington streams as are the cutthroat and rainbow but are not early as common. If salt water is available this trout will migrate returning to the stream weighing one to three pounds. Some will exceed 20 pounds.

The silver is a landlocked salmon found in many of Washington's lakes. These fish average 7 to 14 inches at maturity and are often mistaken for the kokanee. Approximately half a million fingerlings are released into silver lakes each spring. These silvers after two years will feed near the surface where they will run in schools. These fish will not spawn naturally when landlocked and therefore stocking is required to maintain population.

The kokanee is another freshwater salmon species found in Washington waters. This fish is a variety of sockeye salmon and will reproduce naturally. The kokanee will travel in large schools throughout many of our lakes. They average 9 to 16 inches depending largely upon where found. Some have reached five pounds although this is unusual.

The Washington mountain whitefish are found only in streams. These white and silver fish are quite distinctive with their large scales, large adipose fin and small mouth. In the summer these trout will school in the deeper pools of rivers and creeks. Whitefish average 11 to 12 inches in most areas but do grow to larger sizes in some areas. Here in the Forks area these unwanted lunkers are often taken in the 12 to 18-inch bracket. We also have another species of whitefish in Washington known as the lake whitefish. These may grow to four or more pounds.

HERE AND THERE

To many, the whitefish is an unwanted specimen around the supper table. Have you ever tried them after they have spent a hours in the smoke house? Mighty fine!

Larry Barger of the Bogachiel Rearing Pond was guest on KVAC's "Breakfast at the Vagabond" recently. Rearing and planting of steelhead was the main topic.

Those who ventured to the beaches in search of clams last weekend were rewarded with shellfish. Tides will continue through this week.

Sunset Highlites

By Fred Jarvis

Mother and JoAnn feverishly getting ready for the big wedding just a month off. Offered to buy a new ladder for the kids so they could elope, but I guess you know that went over like a lead balloon. Always thought tux was the plural of tax, and now I find out its something I have to wear. Whooo-boy!

Janet Joseph topped the gal's Tuesday Afternoon League with a 191-498.

Thursday Beginners had Donna Springer at 148-394, Colleen Gagnon a 423, and Linda Yothers, packing a 96 average, hit a 133-372. Wish I could bowl that much over my average. Heck! Would be happy just to bowl it! Of the Captains, Kathy Decker had 192-528, and Wilma Engeseth a 506.

Thursday Nite Mixed: Phyllis Whitehead 188-494, Reta O'Keefe 176, Al Whitehead 222, Mike Roening 572, and Darrell Thomas 224-578.

In the NHC in Idaho, George Richardson hit a 258-638, and his partner Vern Cline of Billings, Montana had a 678. Their 1376 is an all-time high for the tourney doubles. Nice going George.

Judy Klahn had the T.V. shot at Saturday Nite Monte Carlo but missed, and of the three shots at the Jackpot, Chuck Hamby missed, Arden Prissel ditto, and John Nagel? Close, but no luck.

Looks like Forks walked off with the lion's share of the loot at the BPAA zone finals last weekend in Port Angeles. Margaret Windle banged out a big 244 scratch and a 706 with handicap for a first place in the women's singles, Al Whitehead had a 662 for third place in the men's singles. Gordon McCoy 643 for fifth place, and Jess Parris 628 for eighth.

Gordon and Cheryl McCoy had a 1369 in the Mixed Doubles for first place, with Gordon knocking heck out of the pins, getting a real big 278-695 scratch. Wow! Lou and Dick Suchodolski took second place with a 1266, and Billie Bryan and Darrell placed third on their 1212 series.

SPARTANS WIN

Two weeks ago our Spartans captured a win over Clallam Bay and Joyce, Forks showed some strength in a non-league track and field event to gain six first place finishes and came up with a three-point victor over Clallam Bay. The Spartans totaled 78 points, Joyce picked up 39, and host, Clallam Bay finished third with 39 points.

Highlights of the contest came in the discus, shot-put, and the team spirit which prevailed throughout the contest. We are looking forward to a great season in track from our Spartans. As this is being written, the Spartans are preparing for a sub-district meet to be held Friday, May 14, 1971, at North Mason. This should be an exciting meet as the top seven performers will have the opportunity to go to the district meet which will take place the following Friday at Sumner. This should make competition keen, with some very surprising developments. Taking part in events will be: 180 lows, Byron Windle; 880, Rick Gale; javelin, Danny Hinchey; discus, Chuck Rondeau; shot-put, Chuck Rondeau; 880 relay, Tim Anderson, George Schumack, Bruce Allen, and John Dahlgren; mile relay, Tim Anderson, John Dahlgren, Dan Hinchey, and Rick Gale.

We will try to keep you posted on the track and Little League baseball results as we gather them.

Gun Control

Requirements

Since the Gun Control Act of 1968 sportsmen and gun collectors have been confused about the requirements of the Act. To explain and clarify the Act, the Chief, Enforcement Section of the Alcohol, Tobacco, and Firearms Division of the Internal Revenue Service, Western Region, answers the questions most often asked:

Q. Can a gunsmith make minor, immediate repairs or adjustments to firearms at locations other than at his place of business?

A. Yes. A gunsmith may make immediate repairs, adjustments or engrave firearms at fairs, shooting events or places of similar activity away from his business premises.

Q. How is the average hunter or sportsman affected by the Gun Control Act of 1968 when he purchases a gun?

A. A sportsman or hunter making a retail purchase will have to show sufficient identification to establish his name, address and age. In addition, there is a procedure for the protection of licensees under which they will obtain an executed statement from purchasers showing that the purchaser's acquisition or possession of firearms would not be unlawful.

Q. Can a sportsman or hunter who resides in one state and owns property in another state purchase a firearm in each state?

A. No. Simply owning property in another state does not qualify the persons to purchase a firearm in that state. If the sportsman of hunter maintains a home (for 90 days or more) he may, while residing in the state where he maintains a home, purchase a firearm in that state.

Q. Can a sportsman or hunter sell some of his personally owned firearms at a gunshow?

A. If the sportsman or hunter is unlicensed he may make an occasional sale of his personally owned firearms at a gunshow as long as his activities are such that he is not engaged in the business of selling firearms at wholesale or retail and does not sell to a person who lives in a state other than the sportsman's.

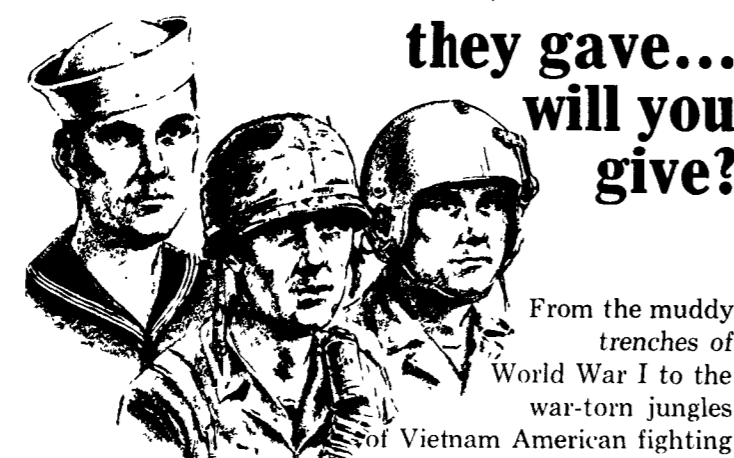

Q. Does the Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms Division issue permits to carry concealable weapons?

A. No. There is no authority in the Gun Control Act of 1968 for the Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms Division to issue permits to carry concealable weapons.

Q. What are curios or relics as defined by the Gun Control Act of 1968?

A. Firearms or ammunition which are of special interest to collectors by reason of some quality other than is ordinarily associated with firearms intended for sporting use or as offensive or defensive weapons. To be recognized as curios or relics firearms and ammunition must fall within one of the following categories:

- (a) Firearms and ammunition which were manufactured at least 50 years prior to the current date, but not including replicas thereof;
- (b) Firearms and ammunition which are certified by the curator of a municipal, State or Federal museum which exhibits firearms to be curios and relics of museum interest; and
- (c) Any other firearms or ammunition which derive a substantial part of their monetary value from the fact that they are novel, rare, bizarre, or because of their association with some historical figure, period or event. Proof of qualification of a particular firearm of item of ammunition under this category may be established by evidence of present value and evidence that like firearms of ammunition are not available except as collector's items, or that the value of like firearms or ammunition available in ordinary commercial channels is substantially less.

BUY AND WEAR A V.F.W. BUDDY POPPY

SMILE WHEN YOU BUY YOUR POPPY

When you are asked to buy a Buddy Poppy during the coming sale in this community, do it with a great big smile on your face. And remember that it is the most grateful investment of your loose change you can ever make!

Across America tens of thousands of men and women volunteer poppy sellers are offering you a once-a-year opportunity to personally thank the uniformed lads who have made the supreme sacrifice and those countless men in hospitals who may never again be physically fit.

Maybe the government does give a few bucks a month to their survivors and maybe the disabled are given free hospitalization, but the help you can give them through the Poppy sale conducted by their own organization comes from your heart--not through what you are forced to pay in taxes.

If your gratitude means more than lip service, buy and proudly wear your Buddy Poppy when it is offered by a Veterans of Foreign Wars volunteer.

OPEN HOUSE HELD

Approximately 44 people attended the open house held in the lovely double-wide mobile home of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Black of La Push.

A delicious baked salmon dinner complete with all the trimmings was served. The salmon was baked by Mrs. Roy Black Sr. After dinner, numbers were drawn and those with lucky numbers taped under their plates were the delighted recipients of hand-woven baskets made by Mrs. Roy Black Sr. Mrs. Sherman Black presented gifts to all present, then opened the open house gifts. Her candid remarks kept the crowd in good humor and she thanked all for attending.

Assisting with preparations for the open house were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Black Sr.

NEW YARN SHOP

Mary Lee's Yarn Basket held open house May 4 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gail Garbrick on Calawah Way across from Alder Grove Trailer Park. On display were crocheted vests, ponchos, little girl's dresses and hats. Mary Lee is featuring a variety of machine washable, anti-stretch bulky-knit yarn in several luscious frosted colors, and also has a sport-weight yarn which is perfect for crochet and children's knitted outfits and sweaters. The pattern books, Spinnerin and Fashion in Wool, have many lovely patterns, and Mary Lee says she will take orders and is considering giving lessons, depending on the demands. The shop will be open between 12 and 5 p.m., Monday through Friday.

First Baptist. Men and women from ten churches on the Olympic Peninsula will come to our church this Saturday for a brotherhood and women's missionary union meeting beginning at 10:00 a.m. Dinner will be served at noon and the meeting will close at 2:30 p.m.

Remodeling is taking place at the church to add two classrooms at the front of the auditorium. The rooms will be used by our youth classes, 12-14 and 15-17.

The men of the church will be working this Saturday cutting shake bolts. The money will be used for the purchase of a church bus and other needed improvements on the building.

TRAIL RIDERS NEWS

By Barbara King

Forks was well represented by spectators this past weekend, at Ann Martins' Quarter-moon Ranch in Sequim. The occasion; an all-games show. For fast action, fine horse flesh, fancy Western gear, and general excitement, that is the type of show that everyone can enjoy. Next year some of these Forks people will be participants instead of on-lookers. Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Norman Snodgrass and Emmie; Mr. and Mrs. Ron Planes and Bea; Mr. and Mrs. Ron Ford and Roger; Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Graves and family; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Giger and family; Mrs. Olive King; and Glenn, Matthew and myself. The Gigers arrived a little later than most as they had been to an open horse show in Silverdale. We were sorry to hear that Myrna Graves had been hospitalized that morning with a bad case of Asian flu. Hope she is up and about real soon.

Cheri Ulin will be installed as worthy advisor of the Forks Assembly #140, Order of the Rainbow for Girls. The installation will be held on Sunday, May 16, 1971, at 2:00 p.m. in the IOOF Hall. Cheri is a junior at Forks High School. She is also a Grand Page of Washington and Idaho, International Order of the Rainbow for Girls. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Ulin of Forks. The public is invited to attend the installation.

Credit Bureau Restrictions

Restrictions on credit bureaus enacted at the 1970 session of Congress went into effect Sunday, April 26. A new law allows a consumer to demand that credit bureaus send corrections to stores, banks or insurance companies when they have received false or incorrect information about a consumer. Employers who received such information within the past two years must also be notified. Credit bureaus must also tell consumers who provided information included in their files.

The new law, entitled the Fair Credit Reporting Act, requires credit bureaus to give consumers, on demand, "the nature and substance of all information" in their files--except medical data. Credit bureaus are required to investigate contested information. If the bureau insists that the disputed information is accurate, consumers have a right to place a 100-word statement telling their side of the story in their files. The credit bureau must then mail the statement to everyone who has received the disputed information.

Consumers have the right to check their files at credit bureaus even though there is no indication the file contains erroneous information. However, the bureau can charge a "reasonable" fee for this. The credit bureau must correct erroneous information and within thirty days notify anyone who has received reports in the past.

The law also bars credit bureaus from sending out ad-

Our Youth Group is sponsoring a folk musical called "Tell It Like It Is" by Ralph Carmichael and Kurt Kaiser. A group of young people from Tacoma will be here to put this on at the school lunch room at 7:30 p.m. on May 29. This is a great production for both youth and adults and we invite any from the community who are interested to come. Sunday, May 9, was 4-H Sunday and 4-H girls from the church ushered and served cookies during the coffee hour following services. The title for Pastor Stockman's sermon this Sunday is "Ask In His Name And Believe" taken from text John 16:23-30.
