MILWAUKEE HEAD MUCH PLEASED AT CONDITIONS HERE

President Byram, of C. M. & St. P. Ry Was Glad to See Industrial Activity Under Way In Port Angeles

"This is my first visit to the Olympic Peninsula, but not my last, for I'm coming back next summer to verify what has been told me about the beautiful lakes in the West End," said President Byram, of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway, to a News man upon his return from the west end of the line last evening.

Mr. Byram said he was much pleased to see the Big Mill in full operation again, "for," said he, "we have suffered with Port Angeles as a result of the dull season caused by the strike."

"I am gratified to learn of the coming of new industries to Port Angeles, and assure its citizens our road will do anything it can to be of help. I am sure big things are in store for Port Angeles and the Olympic Peninsula and we are looking forward to much prosperity here." He clearly showed the pleasure he felt at conditions as he found them on his short visit here.

President Byram is well acquainted with Western Washington railroad and business conditions, although he left the Coast in 1902, when he was division superintendent of the Great Northern Railway with headquarters at Everett, going to the Rock Island System. In 1904 he became general superintendent of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad, with which road he began his railroad career as a call boy in his birthplace, Galesburg, Illinois, in 1881. He left the "Burlington" as vice president to become president of the "Milwaukee" last September.

Like many of the great "captains of industry" of the country, Harry E Byram started life's struggle as a printer's devil, and when the reporter attempted to apologize for having announced his arrival in Port Angeles by a 'ten point head,' he quickly replied, "We only made an 'eight point' stop, so you're two jumps ahead anyway."

HAWAIIAN ISLANDS MOURN THE PASSING OF FORMER QUEEN

Special to the News.

HONOLULU, Nov. 12—Queen Liliuokalani, of Hawaii, who a week ago began to fail rapidly and since has been at death's dor, passed away Sunday morning. The body will lie in state with a guard of honor from the territorial troops. A regal funeral is being planned by the former subjects of the dead queen for Sunday next. As the last funeral of a native monarch, all the pomp of the old days will be revived and ancient customs will be observed by the people.

RED CROSS DANCE SATURDAY NIGHT

The big event of this week is to be the Red Cross dance in the opera house Saturday night to raise money for the soldier boys' Christmas boxes. The number apportioned to the local chapter to prepare and send has been doubled an it is going to take a lot of money so everyone is asked to be as liberal as possible and either make a donation or come out to Saturday evening's dance. A. L. Phillips has kindly consented to act as floor manager and that means a good time for everybody.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Van Brocklin are comfortably settled in their new home on Sixth street, having moved in Saturday.

Well Known Book Agent Gets In Bad

The following item from the Tacoma Triubne will doubtless be a surprise to the many friends and acquaintances of Mr. Tussing in and around Port Ageles where he has made himself quite well known.

CENTRALIA, Nov. 8.—Many checks, cashed at local business houses by W. S. Tussing, who for the past year has been covering the territory for the Dodd & Meade company of Seattle, have been returned, marked "no funds," and Tussing himself has apparently dropped out of sight. It is understood that a warrant will be issued for his arrest on a charge of grand larceny.

The checks were drawn on the Bank of Clallam at Port Angeles. The firms that are known to have been victimized and the amounts are: St. Johns & Titus of this city, $35; St. Johns & Titus of Olympia, $150; Twin City Auto Company of Chehalis, $150; Stahl Drug Company, $23; Hotel Centralia, $50; and the depot lunch counter, $70. Others are expected to show up.

In addition to the checks it is said that Tussing mortgaged an automobile that was bought on contract to the Port Angeles bank for $300. The man during the year he has been covering this territory has been accustomed to cask checks of considerable size, and his alleged victims on his last visit here were thus taken unawares.

MILLIONS IN HOARDED FOOD STUFFS WILL BE TAKEN BY GOVERNMENT

By United Press.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 12.—The federal administration today officially stated that the millions of dollars worth of food stores and feeds found stored near New York by neutrals and suspected German agents will be taken by the government unless surrendered voluntarily.

Hoards of foodstuffs and other property valued at something like $73,000,000 have been unearthed by agents of the federal secret service stored in New York and neighborhood warehouses, no return of which has ever been made to the government under the trading with the enemy act. It is believed that the storehouses already discovered are but a small part of those that will yet be found.

MEETING THURSDAY TO COMPLETE ORGANIZATION CO-OPERATIVE CREAMERY

Thursday afternoon at 1 o'clock a meeting will be held in the commissioner's room at the court house for the purpose of completing the organization of a farmers' co-operative creamery association.

The meeting will be addressed by Asher Hobson, of the State College, and County Agriculturist Alleman, and every farmer in the west end of the county who owns cows and is interested in the organization of a co-operative creamery is urged to be at this meeting.

Those promoting the co-operative creamery plan are meeting with hearty response from the farmers interested and the matter now has reached the point where the meeting Thursday afternoon will record either the success or failure of the present plans. Therefore all interested farmers should be present and take part. Don't wait for a few to complete the organization and select the officers, and then kick, but be there and have your say. The promoters state plainly that the matter cannot hang fire; it must be closed up or given up.

The plan is to sell stock at $5 per share and to secure the pledge of at least 400 cows by the farmers of the district tributary to Port Angeles.

In case sufficient stock can be sold and at least 400 cows guaranteed it is then planned to buy the machinery of the local branch of the Glendale Creamery Company and operate the same, depending largely upon the local market to absorb the output, which the people of Port Angeles will without doubt be glad to assist the farmers in doing.

Mr. Hobson met with a committee of farmers and bankers this forenoon at the office of County Agent Alleman. At 2 o'clock this afternoon he met with the Fairview Grange; at 8 p. m. this evening he will meet with the Mt. Pleasant Grange; Tuesday at 2 p. m. he will attend a meeting at the Upper Elwha school house; at 8 p. m. at Dry Creek Grange; Wednesday at 8 p. m. he will attend a consolidated meeting of the Ramapo and Joyce Granges at Ramapo.

ITALIAN FRONT IS HOLDING AGAINST THE HUN INVASION

Whole Line Stiffens and Number of Counter Attacks Successfully Delivered—No Further Retirement

By United Press.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—Official cables from Rome today declare that the entire Italian battle front is stiffening, and that the Italians have successfully counter attacked the Austro-German invaders at a number of points.

Further Italian retirement is declared to be unlikely. Veteran Italian brigades have reconquered Gallilou. The fighting here is said to have been desperate, both sides losing heavily.

Between the Tagliamento and Lorenzago rivers a large detachment of Italians broke through an encircling body of Germans by a fierce bayonet assault.

CAMPAIGN MOVING FOR SALE OF RED CROSS CHRISTMAS SEALS

Special to the News.

SEATTLE, Nov. 13.—Unanimously accepting the challenge of Red Cross Seal leaders in West Virginia, Kentucky, Nebraska and other states in the same population group for leadership in the interstate competition for the National Pennant, Washington workers are bending every energy to place Red Cross Seals in every community in the state. The pennant will be awarded to the state making the highest per capita sale. 3,000,000 seals have been assigned to Washington, which means that every man, woman and child is responsible for at least two seals. Washington now occupies fifth place among 16 states, grouped according to population. Place her at the top. Agents are needed at once. Volunteers are being recruited from every walk of life to take part in this national campaign.

The sale opens December 1st, closing December 22nd. Every one can render patriotic service by helping finance the campaign against tuberculosis. Red Cross Seals cost only a penny each and are the "Liberty Bonds" of this war. Place one on each letter and package and show the world that Washington is taking the first line trenches against tuberculosis.

Write for seals today. Address the Washington Association for the Preventation and Relief of Tuberculosis, 916 Cobb Building, Seattle, Washington.

HIGH COST OF KEEPING CLEAN IS COMING NEXT

By United Press.

PORTLAND, Nov. 13.—Now it's the high cost of keeping clean.

Increasing demands for soap and a decrease in the quantity of fats, glycerin, resin and other materials will force the retail price of soap still higher, dealers and manufacturers predict.

The price of soap has already taken several jumps recently.

Mrs. N. M. Caskey is resting comfortably today after a very serious operation at the General Hospital yesterday.

ITALY ABANDONS VENICE TO SAVE ART TREASURES

All Uniformed Men Taken From City and Civilians Leaving That Germans May Have No Excuse

By United Press.

ROME, Nov. 13.—Every uniformed man has been taken from the city of Venice, and all civilians are leaving in order that if the Germans capture the city they will have no excuse for destroying the priceless art works that have made the city world famous.

The Italians have succeeded in repulsing an attack on Asiago, it is announced.

24,000,000 MEN SHOULD RECEIVE AID FROM RED CROSS

The National War Work Council of the Associations at its recent meeting in the Banker's Club in New York, a meeting attended by a remarkable body of foremost laymen and citizens from all parts of America, unanimously recommended the raising of a fund of $35,000,000 to serve the men of the armies and navies of the United States and certain of her allies such as Russia, France and Italy, as well as the prisoners of war throughout the war zones, for the period ending June 30, 1918. The spirit of highest patriotsm, the dictates of soundest military strategy and business judgment, and the principles and spirit of Christ Himself combined to influence this significant action. The reasons which led these men of large vision and of proved wisdom and capacity to decide that this sum be secured are the reasons which should prompt everyone who reads these lines to do all in his power to ensure the success of the undertaking by sacrificial gift, by constant advocacy and by earnest work to enlist the cooperation of others.

The sum of $35,000,000 is needed because of the vast number of men to be served. Before next July the American army and navy will in all probability include 2,500,000 men. The National War Work Council is also called upon to extend its work throughout the Russian army of over 7,000,000 men, the French army of about 4,000,000 men, the Italian army of possibly 3,000,000, and the smaller armies of Belgium, Mesopotamia, India, East Africa, Egypt and Roumania numbering probably 1,500,000 more. Moreover, the 6,000,000 prisoners-of-war imperatively require the continued practical ministry of America through the association. Here then are a total of 24,000,000 men whose physical, intellectual, social and spiritual betterment we wish to promote. When we remember that in no previous war have more than 2,000,000 men been opposed to each other and that here are twelve times that number to whom we have a mission, the colossal magnitude of the undertaking is apparent.

We believe in securing the $35,000,000 because there could be no more economical or important use of funds. It means an expenditure of $1.50 per man. This statement is in a sense misleading because it is proposed to spend the disproportionate sum of nearly $10 on each American enlisted man. Ten dollars, however, is a very small amount to devote to the welfare of an American soldier or sailor, especially when we consider the range of the needs which are to be met, the variety of the means to be employed, and, above all, when we reflect on the dangers and possibilities of the lives of these men, the character of the service they are rendering and the supreme sacrifice every man of them stands ready to make. The burning question, which each of us must help answer, is, shall the flower of our American manhood, who go out to represent us, come back to us (so far as their lives are to be spared) with bodies shot through, with unnamable disease, with character weakened or blasted, or shall they return stronger and better men? What more important asset have we to conserve?

To fulfill our obligation to our Allies we should raise this fund of $35,000,000. As the past three years have unfolded it has became increasingly clear to the American people and their leaders that in a very true sense the Allies have been fighting not only for themselves but also for us. In entering the war we have made their cause our cause. Their defeat would mean our defeat. Anything which strengthens their hands will hasten the victorious ending of the struggle. The military and civil leaders of certain of our Allies have made it clear that there is no one way in which America can help their cause more than by placing at the disposal of their entire armies the practical and constructive agencies of the Young Men's Christian Association.

PETROGRAD REBELLION IS WEAKENING

Kerensky Heads Two Army Corps Near City—800 Casualties In Petrograd Fighting, 700 In Moscow

STOCKHOLM, Nov. 13.—The Kerensky government troops have entered Petrograd and captured part of the city, according to Telegram Agency dispatches.

Kerensky and his followers now control the Nevsky Prospkt, the radicals are fleeing from the Smolny Institute, their government headquarters, and the Bolshekivi resistance to the advancing provisional government forces is steadily growing weaker, state the reports.

The sailors from the Kronstadt garrison and the Bolshekivi radical forces are well armed and have been making a fight.

HUNDREDS KILLED AND WOUNDED IN THE STREETS

LONDON, Nov. 13.—It has been authoritatively learned here that eight hundred persons have been killed and wounded in the fighting in the streets of Petrograd, and that seven hundred approximates the list of casualties in Moscow.

The casualties are reported as steadily increasing as the fighting progresses, and the latest Petrograd dispatches report that a wave of anarchy, robbery and rapine is spreading throughout the city.

Premier Kerensky of the provisional government is heading two complete army corps near the city, and the Bolsheviki resistance is steadily weakening.

U. S. ARTILLERY DOING CREDITABLY IN FRANCE SAYS SECRETARY BAKER

By United Press.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 13.—The American artillery in France is a quitting itself very creditably, declares Secretary of War Baker's weekly war summary today. Secretary Baker declares that the Italian situation is developing normally, and says that in the opinion of the war experts the capture of Passchendaele and the German retirement from forty square miles of territory north of the Aisne are the most important of the war developments for the week.

WILSON APPEALS TO LABOR TO JOIN IN WINNING WAR

Tells Convention of American Federation That Maximum of Productiveness Must Be Reached to Win

By United Press.

BUFFALO, Nov. 12.—Asking that he be considered as a fellow citizen, and not as the president of the United States, President Wilson today speaking before the American Federation of Labor convention in this city, asked that labor join with the other people of America on a new and high platform.

The waving of flags and vigorous applause greeted the President's request. In his speech President Wilson declared that if Germany retained the Bagdad railway she will have won all her war aims. He told the representatives of labor gathered to hear him that if we win this war we must raise labor to the maximum point of productiveness.

This is the first time that an American president ever talked directly to labor's national representatives.

In opening the convention, the president of the Buffalo chamber of commerce charged that German agents were among the delegates, and insinuated that the American Bolsheviki was busy. The Federation is facing the most important convention in its history.

THE RUSSIAN STATUS

With civil war looming between the wild-eyed radical elements who have constructed their recent release from the iron heel of autocracy and their new-found liberties to mean unbridled license, and the more wise and modern elements of the freed citizenship of the great empire, there is no man wise enough to predict at the present time what the outcome is to be in Russia.

It is however, too early for the world to declare the attempt of the Russian people to govern themselves to be a failure. Time must be given and many vicissitudes must be worried through before the great majority of the Slav people find themselves and their true rallying point.

It is too early, also, to declare that Kerensky has fallen, and that his endeavors to hold the unwieldly mass have proven unsuccessful. His ministrations to date have shown the only degree of promise that has come out of the revolution, and he has already shown that he is no quitter.

It must be taken into consideration that the Bolsheviki radicals are just now controlling the wire and the censorship and that the true facts concerning the situation are not coming out of Petrograd.

It must be taken into consideration, also, that Petrograd itself is but a small part of the great Russian nation, and that it is the worst part. It is the hotbed of the fiendish and amazing German propaganda and the home of all the more radical elements of the people now struggling for the leadership.

There is hope that the moderate elements, under the leadership of Kerensky, or some one of his mold, will rally at Moscow and welding the great interior population into something like cohesion, come out of the present apparent debacle with something in the way of a stable government that will make good the hope of democracy for the long down-trodden millions of the Russian populace.

THE ENLISTED MAN MUST HELP HIMSELF

Every enlisted man in the military or naval forces of the United States must allot for the benefit of a wife or child an amount equal to the Government's family allowance, with a maximum, however, of half his pay and a minimum of $15 per month. If he has no wife or child and makes no voluntary allotments for other dependents, or for other purposes, the secretary of War or Navy may require him to deposit with the Government at four per centum compound interest half his pay, or so much of half his pay as he does not allot either for his dependents or for other purposes.

This puts the man with dependents more nearly on a democratic footing of equality with one who has none and the better-paid American soldier with the poorer-paid European with whom he is fighting.

The family allowances are based on a graduated scale depending on the number of dependents, and are conditioned on allotments of equal amounts up to half pay. In no case, however, does the allowance exceed $50 for one family. An ordinary enlisted man receiving $33 per month in foreign service, if his family is large enough, may be required to allot $16.50 per month and secure thereby for his family a total income of $66.50 per month.—From "Soldiers' Insurance versus Pensions," by Samuel McCune Lindsay, in the American Review of Reviews for October, 1917.

CONSCRIPTION

When the government needed an army of fighting men it adopted the policy of conscription and the men most capable were conscripted for army service and are being trained for the trenches. To maintain and support this army the government needs more workers in the shipyards, navy plants, munitions factories and in all line of industry. To meet this emergency may require conscription of labor. It may be necessary to compel men to work as well as to fight, says a state contemporary.

PROSPERITY

In view of the position occupied by the State of Washington and the market available for its products it is evident that nothing can stand in the way of prosperity except failure to grasp opportunities. The most serious period of the adjustment of the country to war has passed and the State of Washington can now look forward to an unequaled period of industrial activity, providing the entire citizenship of the state is ready and willing to grasp the opportunity. Wages are high, markets are good and the only other essential factor is industrial peace.

The arrival in London of the American commission to the coming Allied war council, and the announcement that they will go at once to Paris to there meet the representatives of the other Allies, means that there will soon be a conference of the powers in combat with the Kaiser out of which will come a more fully coordinated campaign against the Teuton cohorts. The announcement of Secretary Lansing makes plain that only war measures are to be considered, and that the time has not come nor the men named for the consideration of any peace proposals.

GOVERNMENT GETTING A GRIP ON PRICES

The national food administration voices a confident expectation that it will succeed in its stupendous work of substantially cutting out unlawful profiteering, hoarding and speculation. Yeterday 100,000 manufacturers, wholesalers and other distributors were put under the license provisions of the new law which imposes severe penalties for extortion, hoarding and other unfair practices.

While the law exempts retailers from its licensing provisions, they are subject to the general provisions of the act forbidding speculation, hoarding and excessive profits, and the administration has devised another means of holding profiteering retailers in check through its power to cut off their supplies through licensed manufacturers and wholesalers.

It is gratifying to have the reassuring statement from the food administration "that with few exceptions those engaged in the handling of food have shown the utmost patriotism and a desire to go even beyond the requirements of the law itself in supplying the public with necessaries at moderate prices."

The public should not raise false expectations that the impossible can be performed by the government. High prices are everywhere abroad in the world and will be with us for several years. The causes are too deep-seated and controlling to be overcome while the world is at war. But the government can apply the brakes and check the upward flight. It can reach out its strong arm against the greed that would superimpose extortionate profits upon prices that are already necessarily high.—Spokesman-Review.

FRANCE MUST BE FED OR FAIL

We have to go to the core of the food problem in Europe to understand the soundness of the Hoover plans for conservation in American homes, says a contemporary.

France's dire needs were frankly revealed in the chamber of deputies the other day. Authentic statements by the minister of agriculture and the French food controller revealed a number of ominous facts. When the war broke 8,000,000 men, women and children were tilling the soil. Three millions of the able-bodied agricultural workers were called to the armies, and the 5,000,000 remaining workers are unable to maintain efficient production.

We glimpse the alarming decline in agriculture from the figures given by these officials. In 1913 France produced 1,250,000,000 bushels of cereals, potatoes and sugar beets. Since then production has steadily declined and this year's harvest is down to 770,000,000 bushels. This year's wheat harvest is the scantiest France has known in 50 years.

Against that dark picture the food controller held out high hope of help from the United States. Mr. Hoover, he said, was rousing the American people, and France was depending on 100,000,000 bushels of wheat from the United States. England would lend them some ships, and by putting themselves on short rations the French people would pull through.

But the expected 100,000,000 bushels can not be sent if the American people go on eating wheat this year as they consumed it last year. In that event we shall have a surplus of only 70,000,000 bushels to portion out to France, England and Italy. France alone requires a minimum of 100,000,000 and needs 140 million bushels.

But France and our other Allies need more than wheat. They need every possible pound that we can save of meats, fats and sugar. The annual American consumption of sugar is about 90 pounds per capita. The French people are now on a ration of 12 pounds a year.

Are there hearts so cold, are there natures so trivial, are there minds so impervious to patriotic thought, as not to be moved to earnest action by these stern facts?

PT. ANGELES BOYS ENLIST FOR WAR WORK OF Y.M.C.A.

At the high school auditorium this afternoon is being held one of the most important meetings to the boys of our community that was ever held in the city. It is in the interests of the army Y. M. C. A. work, the most far-reaching, ennobling and uplifting work ever done for humanity.

Tracy Strong, one of the best friends of boys in the state, and one of the most earnest and enthusiastic workers for their betterment, is here to address the meeting and assist the local manager, Verne Samuelson, in getting the boys organized for the big Y. M. C. A. drive next week. Tom Dobbs, former reporter for the Evening News, is spending the day in Angeles from Camp Lewis, and will give a talk on what the Y. M. C. A. means to the soldier boys over at American Lake. This evening a banquet will be held at the Merchants Hotel at which Benj. N. Phillips, general manager of the Clallam County Y. M. C. A. work will preside, and which will be attended by all members of his committee, the captains appointed at this afternoon's meeting who are to carry on the boys' work and Mr. Strong and Mr. Dobbs, who will be the principal speakers.

Orders for 41,000,000 feet of fir lumber for airplane construction has been placed with the West Coast Lumbermen's association by the governments of Great Britian, Italy and the United States.

DRIVE FOR Y.M.C.A. WAR WORK WEEK OF NOVEMBER 11 TO 18

Boys to Bear the War Burden.—100,000 of Them Are Expected to Earn and Give to the Cause One Million Dollars.

The boys of other lands have been and are helping to bear the brunt of the present world conflict. They have been making sacrifices of heroic measure. We hope that our boys, from 14 to 19 years, need not give their blood in promoting the successful issue of the present war, but they must be given a chance to sacrifice. The most effective means of rendering this sacrifice has been decided upon as follows. Each boy, of these ages, is asked to earn and give $10. The $10 given by the boy will save a life in a prison camp in Europe or furnish the Y. M. C. A. to one soldier for one year. Money accepted on pledges must not be solicited from folks over the age of 19 years, but must represent a personal sacrifice on the part of the boy. He may pay his pledge in cash from earnings secured through his own efforts or he may pay from present earnings until June 1918.

There are many ways in which the boys can express their patriotism in securing money enough to meet such a pledge. Such jobs as cleaning automobiles, beating carpets, chopping the inevitable wood pile (which a boy will do for his country) gardening, etc. An employment agency, to be maintained during this campaign, will be conducted by this paper. Merchants, and all others who can give employment, at odd hours on Saturday, for one or more boys, are requested to notify this paper by mail or telephone. Boys will be furnished from such employment bureaus at any time during the campaign.

Suppose our boys, tired, cold and mud-stained, could only knock at your door tonight, how wonderfully you would administer to them. With what eagerness you would comfort and feed them. You would do this in your own home. Why not help the Y. M. C. A. to do this for you in the camps and at the front—where you cannot go. Help them by heroic giving. All should do a share.

Our boys will give their lives to make America safe for you. They will make the supreme sacrifice to preserve democracy. What will you sacrifice to give them a touch of home love and cheer, to keep the home fires burning in their hearts? Here are some of the results of your sacrifice: Each million men will require 500 Y. M. C. A. centers, 2,000 experienced workers, 500 pianos 500 motion picture machines, 500 talking machines, 25,000 records, 1,000,000 feet of film daily, 3,000,000 sheets of paper daily, 25,000 chess and checker boards, 50,000 magazines a week, 1,000,000 Bibles and Testaments.

Great issues are at stake during these dark war days. But the greatest issue of all is whether our millions of boys, who go to the colors, shall keep true to their home ideals. Are we going to be backward in giving our men the nearest thing they can get to a Christian home on the firing line?

If you are a boy you will want to do your share, phone 226 or call V. A. Samuelson at the Ford garage.

If you are one of the grown-up boys past 19, and want to do your share call up B. N. Phillips, H. Van Brocklin, W. K. Nattinger, Conrad Luppen, J. T. DeKay, or Postmaster Stocking.

Offers Unusual Opportunity to Its Readers

AMONG our large circle of readers there are a great many who are interested directly or indirectly in fruit growing, dairying and other branches of farming. All of these naturally wish to keep in close touch with agricultural activities throughout the state; and to know about any fight which is being waged for the measures Washington farmers want and against all sorts of schemes that are detrimental to the people and agricultural interests of this state.

We have, therefore, made a special clubbing arrangement with THE WASHINGTON FARMER whereby any farmer or fruitgrower, who is one of our regular subscribers and who is not now a subscriber to THE WASHINGTON FARMER, will be entitled to receive THE WASHINGTON FARMER in combination with this paper at the same rate as for this paper alone.

This offer applies to all those who renew or extend their subscriptions as well as to all new subscribers. If you are interested directly or indirectly in Washington agriculture, do not miss this unusual opportunity, but send your order in now.

THE WASHINGTON FARMER is the one farm paper which is devoting itself exclusively to the farming activities and interests of Washington. It has a big organization gathering the news of importance to farmers, dairymen, fruitgrowers, stockraisers and poultrymen; and it has the backbone to attack wrongful methods and combinations and bad legislation, and support honest leaders and beneficial measures. We are confident that our readers will congratulate us on our being able to make this splendid and attractive clubbing offer.

SPANISH WAR VETERANS HOLD A PATRIOTIC MEETING

A patriotic social gathering was held last evening in the G. A. R. hall by the members of the G. A. R., W. R. C. and Spanish War Veterans, when they entertained as their official guest, the department commander, W. P. Brown, of Bellingham. The meeting was largely attended and proved most enjoyable. It was opened with the Salute to the Flag followed by a program of songs and recitations. "Daddy's Little Girl in Overalls" was given by Mrs. James Warren; "The Ride of Jennie McNeill" by Mrs. G. P. Witt; and a patriotic vocal solo by Mrs. Ed. Eacrett.

After a stirring patriotic address by W. P. Brown in which he advised that all fraternal organizations in the city unite in holding a patriotic meeting, light refreshments were served and a social time enjoyed.

HOW THE CLALLAM MEN ARE FARING IN THE ARMY LIFE

Thomas E. Dobbs, formerly with the Evening News, now a Sergeant in the service of his country at Camp Lewis, is in Port Angeles today visiting friends and enjoying a two-days lay-off from duty. Asked for his impressions of the army life and some report of the Clallam County men in camp, Sergeant Dobbs said:

"Strict as the much-talked-of army discipline may seem, yet there is not a question of doubt in the minds of the boys who have gone from Angeles to the National Army cantonment at at Camp Lewis as to whether or not they are being benefitted by it. The boys who went from Angeles have been scattered around in the various regiments and are difficult to find, but those whom I have seen during the last two months seem to be satisfied with their lot and contented in the knowledge that no matter what turn the war takes, they will be gainers to a greater or less extent.

"Should peace be declared before these men have seen service in the trenches, and had a chance at "Fritz," they will gain through the effects of the army discipline and the clean wholesome life they are leading. Their bodies will be better, and their minds will be larger and better equipped to meet and cope with the exigencies and problems which will arise when they return to civil life because of the rigid training in strict obedience to orders which they are now receiving. If they go to the front and "do their bit" they are the gainers by reason of the fact that they have contributed to the cause of world democracy, and their names will go down in history beside those who some fifty-five years ago 'gave their lives that this nation might live'.

"In the meantime their thoughts are far from these lofty ideals most of the time. The drill periods take up eight hours out of every day, and during that time the commands come too thick and fast to allow any time for concentrated thought on these subjects. The ment stand reveille at six in the morning, and, after mess and policing of quarters, start out for the first drill p riod which begins at seven. Infantry drill and calisthenics take up most of the morning, and at 11:30 they come in for a few moments rest before lunch. In the afternoon the same routine is followed, and the men are off shortly before five. At 5:30 they stand retreat and the day's work is done. Lights are out at tattoo, which sounds at nine o'clock, but they may stay up until 11 when taps is sounded and a check is taken to see that every man is in his bunk.

During the drill hours it is not all hard work, however, although it may be strenuous. 'Kid' games, such as 'three deep' and others, are found to be very beneficial in a physical way and are not so irksome for the reason that even these men between the ages of 21 and 31 are still boys and like to play.

"The mail is distributed just before noon and just before retreat, and naturally those are the times of day awaited most anxiously by the boys in olive drab. A little word from home or a paper from the home town telling the news of the home folks is most warmly appreciated and mail time has come to be a sacred hour with the men in the cantonment."

AMERICAN TEAMWORK WILL WIN THE WAR SAYS GENERAL GREENE

TACOMA, Nov. 10—American team work will win the war, Major General Greene, commandant of Camp Lewis, said today.

"That's what we need in this country—team work of the masses," he declared. "You can't make an army without money, but you can't send dollars alone against a German bombardment. It takes the two."

His vision of American war aims is not clouded. "We are fighting now against dynasty, monarchy and injustice," he continued. "We are fighting for independence, freedom, liberty and the principles necessary to the American people."

BIG BASE HOSPITAL AT CAMP LEWIS NOW HOUSING 800 PATIENTS

By United Press.

CAMP LEWIS, Nov. 10.—Sprung up as if by magic is the big base hospital here.

Ninety-two days ago surveyors broke ground for the hospital.

Today it stands, a group of 10 buildings, capable of housing 1,000 sick men. Operating rooms as complete in equipment as any in the country, special apparatus for the treatment of practically all known diseases and doctors and nurses and surgeons make the hospital the equal of any on the coast.

An average of ten operations are performed daily in the hospital. Over 800 men are in the hospital today receiving treatment.

In addition to physicians and orderlies, 180 Red Cross nurses are stationed here. A number of the agents of mercy arrived this week.

The American Hardware Manufacturer's Association at its recent annual meeting declared itself in favor of the open shop and compulsory arbitration by the government of all labor disputes.

DAIRYMEN SHOULD WEED OUT "BOARDERS" AND BUILD SILOS

O C. Van Houten, of Seattle, a state dairy inspector, who has spent most of the time since July inspecting the dairies of Clallam County, is finishing up his work here this week. He has visited about 250 dairies and is well pleased with the conditions he has found. He says our dairymen and their herds rank well with other sections of the state and sees a profitable future for the industry here if prosecuted on progressive lines.

Mr. Van Houten says there are too many "boarders," or non-productive cows in the county. These cows are rapidly being located through the work carried on by the Clallam County Cow Testing Association, and are being eliminated. There is a decrease of about 25 per cent in the number of cows in the county as compared with a year ago. While the high prices of feed has been responsible to some extent for the decrease, it is also true that the accurate and painstaking work of the tester has resulted in many cows going to the butcher which in the past were simply boarding off their owners.

Prices of dairy products and of meat will continue high for a long period, is the opinion of Mr. Van Houten, and his advice to those in the dairy business is to cut out every cow that is not making money for her owner and build up with better stock wherever possible. He sees profits for men who will follow this line of action and would advise no man to quit dairying because of present high prices of feed, but to seek ways to overcome the handicap, and says it can be done. The first thing, of course is to get rid of all cows producing 200 pounds or less butterfat a year. At the present price of feed it costs from $70 to $90 per year to keep each cow. With butterfat averaging around 45 cents, a 200-pound producer is just about paying for her feed. It is figured that the value of the manure, skim milk and calf will pay for the labor of taking care of a cow, but any man is decidedly unwise to keep an animal which in fact is but paying him wages to look after her. A cow to be at all profitable should produce at least 300 pounds of butterfat annually. Many cows in this county are doing much better and it is the object of the cow testing association to weed out the poor producers as rapidly as possible. A herd of poor cows these days is a mighty expensive proposition and will "break" a man about as quick as anything capable of putting figures in the red on his ledger.

Mr. Van Houten suggests that dairymen seed all available burned-over lands and take advantage of such pasturage. He says it would pay to scatter the seed of the wild vetch or wild pea which grows quite plentifully in many of the hill sections of the county. He says it is good feed and the cattle like it. There are several thousand acres of land between Angeles and the lakes along the coast line that could be utilized for pasture, says Mr. Van Houten. He says such opportunities should not be overlooked.

A most important item which means permanency and profit for the dairy business of the county is the large number of silos that have been erected the past year, and many more fill be built next season. The silo can be made a life saver of the dairying industry of the county and the opportunity should not be neglected.

HOW AMERICANS DIFFER FROM THE HUNS

By United Press.

QUANTICO, Va., Nov. 10.—U. S. Marines bombarded an enemy city yesterday and the only buildings left standing after the terrific fire were churches and hospitals.

It was only a miniature city, to be sure, and the buildings were not more than a foot high. Cities in miniature are used as objectives by Marine Corps artillerymen in training here, and the little buildings in them are plainly labeled "gun factory," "barracks," "church," hospital," etc. The marine gunners are careful in training to avoid hitting buildings marked "church" or "hospital," and in practice they show wonderful marksmanship in razing buildings adjacent.

The supreme court of the United States has decided against the Indians in a Nebraska land contest involving 43,000 acres, which is no surprise to the red man, because he has been falling down on land ownership ever since the Mayflower docked at Plymouth Rock.

ALLY-COMMITTEE HAS TAKEN OVER ITALIAN DEFENSE

Special to the News.

ROME, Nov. 10.—With the arrival on the Italian front of the British and French army heads and statesmen and the reinforcements rushed to the aid of the Italian armies, an inter-allied committee has been formed to take over the direction of military operations. General Diaz succeeds General Cadorna in command of the defense and the committee in charge is composed of General Cadorna, General Foch, of the French forces, and General Wilson, of the British staff.

Reports from the battle front are to the effect that the retreat from the Livensa river to the new positions along the Piave river has been successfully conducted according to staff plans. The official statement of yesterday says:

"The retirement of the Italian armies to the Livenza was conducted in strict conformity with the plans laid and has been successfully accomplished. While the Tagliamento river, which line has been abandoned is an obstruction to the enemy advance, this is true only in time of flood river. When the rains stopped and the waters of the river receded the river was no longer an obstacle to the enemy's advance.

"The army corps commanded by General di Giorgio and some parts of the Third army corps, retreated on the extreme left to the hills above Pinzano and by a wonderful maneuver succeeded in greatly retarding the enemy's crossing of the Tagliamento river, presenting a serious menace to the Austro-German right wing and threatening his communications in the direction of Codroipo.

"Meanwhile the retirement of the main body of the Italian army to the Livenza was greatly aided by the configuration of the ground and the streams which delayed the pursuit of the Austro-Germans."

NET FISHING CLOSES ON FRAZIER RIVER

VANCOUVER, B. C., Nov. 10.—So that salmon can go up to the headwaters of the Frazier river to spawn, all net fishing on the Fraizer was stopped today. Nets cannot be used again until January 1.

Authorities are determined to protect Frazier river salmon in the face of increased demands for the fish.

Did it ever occur to you what a pitiable plight it would be for a man to have one pair of shoes or one pair of pants, or suit of clothes, or for a woman to have one pair of shoes, or one dress. Suppose they needed repair badly—what then? Now any of these cost as much as a pair of glasses? I have known women to have as many as three or four dresses, of course not now during war times! Official Washington Admits a Critical Status Existing In Italy

By GEORGE MARTIN,
(United Press Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 10.—Confidential advices from Italy to the American government today painted a picture of a cold and hungry populace which officials consider menacing.

It is a matter of common knowledge among Washington newspaper men that conditions in the Empire of the ancient Romans are far worse than the public has been permitted to know.

There is practically no coal for private consumption. It is said that not a single fire will be lighted this winter in any hotel or private home in Italy. Pine cones and old newspapers burned in iron buckets give all the heat the public at large gets.

The army is hard hit, too. Owing to lack of coal, Italy has been compelled to quit the making of cannon. She gets her artillery supply from Great Britain. Other manufacturers have no coal at all.

Italy's pre-war coal imports were 850,000 tons. Her present war minimum is 1,100,000 tons. She has had to reduce that to 690,000 tons, and even of this she has been able to get only about 66 per cent. Her reserve supplies have been entirely exhausted.

Drastic food control has failed to solve Italy's food shortage troubles. Prices are fixed, every person is rationed, food products are directly controlled by the government.

Sugar is so short that there is no such thing as cake in the entire nation. In Rome, Genoa, Naples, and Florence they have what they call cake. It is really bread with a large proportion of rice flour. Using sugar in cooking is a crime punishable by heavy fine. They have tried to use saccarine, but it is a coal-tar product and very unhealthy.

Except at rare intervals, eggs are given to no one but invalids and nursing mothers. There are two meatless days, meat fit to eat is hard to get. There is no such thing as veal. It is a crime to kill calves or sheep. Chickens are a rare treat.

Restaurants and cafes may keep open only a few stipulated hours a day. Some days a very short time. Salted fish has come into general use.

There is an acute shortage of all cereals. Corn cannot be fed to hogs under the law. As this order practically wiped out the hog-raising industry in the provinces of Modena, Parnia, Reggio, Emilia, Ferrara and Ravenna, the hogs were ordered slaughtered by thousands. This has made the shortage of hog fat and meat acute.

The shortage of beef, milk, butter and cheese is keenly felt. Short imports led to the slaughter of one-fourth of Italy's herds, which has accentuated the crisis in beef, milk, butter and cheese.

Olive oil is used for cooking almost exclusively. All bread is a very dark, heavy war bread. Some of it tastes fairly good, some does not. Black bread, soaked in olive oil, is a much used though despised dish.

This shortage has brought an embargo on food exports and practically wiped out the big exporters' business in rice, macaroni, cheese and other milk products, fresh and dried fruits, oil, chestnuts, vegetables, forage and fish preserved in oil.

Meals in public places are rigidly regulated. The serving of butter or cream, or dishes garnished with eggs, is unlawful. No lunch of whatever price can contain more than two dishes, no meal a la carte can contain more than three. Railway restaurants may open only one hour before the departure of the first train and remain open only one hour after the departure of the last train.

IN SPITE OF THE PACIFISTS

We are going to get a lot of things out of this war, and one of them is the fact that, from this time on, we shall not be too proud to fight. We are going to be prepared to fight whenever necessary. With the greatest navy in the world and an army that can compel respect, Uncle Sam will open a new chapter in the story of his life, says the Los Angeles Times.

At the regular meeting of the Cherry Hill Auction Club yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. F. A. Bell, the club decided to give all their year's dues, amounting to $24.00, for the soldiers' Christmas offering. The club has eliminated both the refreshments and prizes this year preferring to use the money for some kind of Red Cross work.

Harold H. Ginnold, architect of Seattle, is in the city to interview the Library Trustees and Mayor Walton in regard to plans for the Carnegie library building. He is a guest at the home of his father-in-law, Emil Dermul. Mr. Ginnold was the architect and superintendent of the Lincoln Heights school, one of the best planned public buildings in the city.

* * *

The Executive Board of the Red Cross met in regular session Thursday evening. The by-laws, as drawn up by the committee appointed at the last meeting, were accepted. The heads of committees were left as previously appointed. A committee was appointed to look after the packing and shipping of the soldiers' Christmas boxes, and it was decided to give a big dance in the opera house Saturday evening, November 17, to raise money for these Christmas packages.

* * *

Leland Beam, son of J. E. Beam, and a well known Port Angeles boy, who has been an instructor the past two years in the Pennsylvania State College, writes his father that he has been called to the colors and leaves for the training camp at Fort Meade, Maryland, the middle of this month. His father has written to him to see if arrangements could not be made for him to be transferred to Camp Lewis while in training thus bringing him near home and with the Washington boys. Leland is a graduate of the State College at Pullman and while there was captain of the cadets, so the military training is not new to him. He was married a Pennsylvania girl this summer.

* * *

Mrs. J. Lloyd Aldwell, secretary of the Red Cross, is in receipt of a letter which states that there is a call for 750,000 more Christmas packages for the soldiers than at first estimated, so our local chapter's apportionment, instead of being 175, is increased to 310, of this number the Sequim branch has already sent 50. The packages must be ready not later than December 1st. Each one costs about $1.50, containing a khaki handerchief, stationary, pencil, candy tobacco, gum, some kind of game, cards or puzzles. In order to raise the necessary money for these packages a dance will be given in the opera house a week from Saturday, November 17th, and the public is asked to save this date for the soldiers' Christmas offering. Any person wishing to make donations for this offering may leave same with any member of the Christmas box committee: Mrs. A. A. Smith, Mrs. R. D. Willson, Mrs. E. E. Hopkins, and Mrs. T. T. Aldwell.

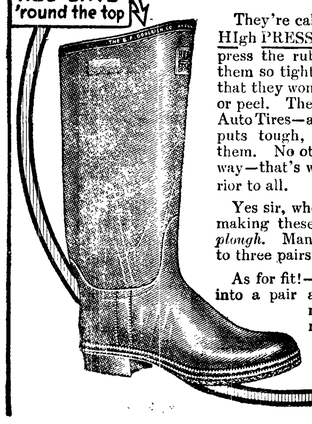
"HIPRESS"

These are the best wearing rubber boots and shoes you've ever bought

WITH THE RED LINE 'round the top



They're called "HIPRESS" because HIgh PRESSure—tons of it—is used to press the rubber and fabric that's in them so tight together into one piece that they won't come apart, crack, leak or peel. They're made like Goodrich Auto Tires—and the Goodrich Company puts tough, auto-tire-tread rubber in them. No other footwear is made this way—that's why "HIPRESS" is superior to all.

Yes sir, when Goodrich gets through making these boots they wear like a plough. Many a pair has outworn two to three pairs of the other kind.

As for fit!—just tuck your toes into a pair and you'll be the most satisfied man on earth.

ANGELES BOY TELLS OF THE GREAT WORK OF THE ARMY Y.M.C.A.

BELVOIR, VIRGINIA,
November 4, 1917.

Editor, Evening News:

Through the kindness of a friend in dear old Port Angeles I am in receipt of a copy of the Port Angeles Evening News of October, and noticed in it an article containing an appeal for assistance from the Y. M. C. A. National Headquarters, and I fell it my duty to tell you all of a few of the things the Association is doing. I am not a member of the organization, and in fact was against it up to the time of my arrival at Camp American University, at Washington, D. C., where I had my introduction to the Army Y. M. C. A. I have completely changed my views to the extent that I sincerely believe that the good they are doing is equalled only by the Red Cross.

You can read in the papers about their furnishing club rooms and writing materials, and maintaining an information bureau and all of those things and they are all true, but that is not half of it, and to itemize everything would take more than my allowance of stationary (which by the way is unlimited.) In Washington they furnished about seven hundred men with invitations for Sunday dinners every week and although I did not have the pleasure of a dinner I had the invitation, and, from the sublime to the ridiculous, when we arived here in Belvoir the only stove to which I could secure an access was in the Y. M. C. A. and when it came time to shave before inspection I was granted permission to heat my water and shave right here in the club, and believe me it was a real treat to have hot water and a good warm fire to shave by. And just this minute they have broached a new one; one of the fellows just brought out a pop-corn popper and some corn and is popping it over the stove, not for himself either, because he said, "anybody like popcorn?" which means come and help yourself.

I hope your readers will fully appreciate what these things mean to the men in training camps and at the front, and will all do their bit for the Y. M. C. A.

FAREWELL PARTY FOR MRS. PHIL MEREDITH

In honor of Mrs. Phil Meredith, a valued member of the Pythian Sisters, who is moving from Port Angeles, the members of the lodge and of the Altruistic Club gave her a surprise farewell party on Saturday evening at the pleasant home of Mrs. Herman Fisher. Mrs. Fisher invited Mrs. Merdith to have supper with her and she was completely surprised when the large company of 30 or 40 friends called in the evening with lunch baskets and all preparations for an evening s pleasure. Progressive whist was played, the highest scores being made by Charlie Harding and Irene Woods. On behalf of the Pythian Sisters, Mrs. Fisher presented Mrs. Meredith with a handsome set of silver spoons, as a token of affection and regard. Another nice little surprise on two unsuspecting members, was the occasion for much merriment when Mrs. Fisher introduced Mrs. C. D. Best and Mrs. Ida Laurens as the twins, whose birthdays the Altruistic Club wished to honor. Mrs. C. E. Shields then stepped forward and presented them each with a beautiful pin; the two recipients being so overcome with surprise, that it was some minutes before they could find words to express their thanks and appreciation at being so kindly remembered by their sisters. The entire evening was one of pleasure long to be remembered by all present. A delightful lunch was served after cards at the close of the evening.

Mrs. Anna Mahaffey and Miss Fisher left on Saturday evening's train for Camp Lewis to spend Sunday with Mrs. Mahaffey's son, Arthur Snelling, but when they arrived at Port Townsend he also arrived there on the Sioux coming home to spend Sunday as a surprise for them. The three returned to Angeles on the ten o'clock train and the ladies accompanied him back to Seattle on the Sol Duc yesterday afternoon, returning this morning. Mr. Snelling reports that of all the boys who went over to Camp Lewis in the last contingent he is the only one left. Most of them were ordered to training camps in the East supposedly New York.

* * *

For the success of providing a "home away from home" for our millions of boys who go to the colors, many of the public spirited men of Angeles offered their suggestion, interest and service for the campaign week, November 11 to 19th, at the banquet organization meeting held at the Merchants Hotel, Saturday evening. These men have agreed to give their time to providing you an opportunity for contributing to our boys at the front, as you would most generously do even were they in similar need at home. "There are many issues at stake these dark days, but the most important issue of all is to preserve the ideals of home for the millions of our boys who are called to the colors."

Ladies Urge Use of Economical Recipes in Cooking

The ladies of the Port Angeles Reading Club enjoyed a most interesting and instructive afternoon Friday at the home of Mrs. Benj. Phillips. In response to roll call favorite, well tried and economical recipes were given, which we take pleasure in publishing for the benefit of all our readers. After the exchange of recipes a most excellent paper on the subject of Food Conservation was read by Mrs. Herbert Wood and afterward discussed by the club. Mrs. Wood also read a short magazine article setting forth the sin of hoarding food. Mrs. MacGillivray read an interesting article from the Geographical Magazine telling of the world's great famines and the cause of them.

Two new members were added to the club roll: Mrs. Logerloff and Mrs. F. A. Dean.

All the club members present agreed to assist in the sale of Red Cross Christmas seals for the tuberculosis fund.

Mrs. Wood presented each club member with a printed pamphlet prepared by Mary F. Rausch, head of the domestic science department of the University, containing 25 war time recipes. These recipes will appear from time to time in the Evening News.

"APPLE ALLIES"

The recipe for making "Apple Allies" as given below, was taken from the Seattle Times of recent date. They are delicious and especially recommended for Christmas boxes to "our Soldier boys"

"Use good, sound apples. Make a syrup of two cups granulated sugar, one cup water, bring to boil. Have ready one medium-sized apple, pared, cored, each quarter cut into three pieces. Drop the twelve pieces in the now boiling syrup, and allow to cook or boil therein until they are all transparent and tender, easily pierced with a straw. Remove from kettle, drain and place on waxed paper or platter. Allow to remain twenty-four hours, then roll in granulated sugar, roll twice again at intervals of twenty-four hours.

"If moisture accumulates on waxed paper renew it. Allow the fruit after the third rolling to remain on platter until dry; keep in dry place thereafter exposed to air, turning from time to time. The amount of syrup stated will make five dozen "Apple Allies," five apples being used. Add boiling water to syrup, as it thickens, to maintain original consistency. When all dry and crystalline in appearance pack in candy or other box and send away to "your boy in khaki," or send it East for Christmas. You may garnish with red Allies, cut in small pieces made by putting vegetable coloring in syrup."

I have found that pears and quince are equally delectable.

Y. W. C. A. WAR FUND CAPTAINS SELECTED

At an organization meeting held Saturday afternoon at the high school auditorium for the flotation of the $200.00 Y. M. C. A. War Fund to be raised by the boys of this county the following captains were selected:

Chas. Webster, Frank Hickok, Russell McKechnie, Frank Dann, Stewart Brown, Paul Hansen, Thomas Kinniard, LeonGraves, Ray Wollitner, Frank Miller, Oscar Nelson. Each captain is responsible for soliciting ten other boys for enlisting his earnings up to $10.00. The boys of America we hope, will not be required to make the heroic sacrifices that the boys of their ages are making in the fighting countries, but they must be given an opportunity to sacrifice. In this an opportunity is given to work for their country, as only money representing actual earnings is acceptable. The American boy will make good.

Encouragement and assistance can be given the boys by providing them with work. When you need errands done, wood cut, rugs beaten, your automobile cleaned or any kind of work these boys can do, either call up one of these captains or the Evening News office and they will be at your service.

Mrs. T. T. Aldwell entertained with a very charming party on Saturday afternoon, six tables of auction being in play while a number of ladies spent the afternoon with their knitting. The rooms were attractively decorated in a profusion of cosmos. The favor for highest score at cards was won by Mrs. J. I. Kirschberg, Mrs. H. H. Butler receiving the consolation and Mrs. W. J. Mathewson the free for-all. The guests included a number of our new resident, also Mrs. Farr, who is visiting her sister, Mrs. Blanchard, and Miss Shover, sister of Mrs. C. J. Bastedo.

STILL ENJOYING WEEKLY TRIPS TO THE MOUNTAIN

A party of ten Klahhane Club members and friends spent a pleasant week-end at their lodge on Mount Angeles this week, returning Saturday and Sunday.

Much work is being done at the lodge to add to the comfort and pleasure of members, the particular task now being the building of rustic furniture. Cherry is used for this purpose, and some of the benches and chairs are quite artistic, as well as restful. A capacious fire place and a wide veranda, built some time tgo are enjoyable features also. Much additional work is planned and the lodge is already acquiring more than local fame.

Those in this week-end party were, the Misses Lee, Rambo, Renshaw, Brown, Davis and Cloukie; Thos. H Guptill and Masters Earl McRavy George Johnson and Curtis Thompson.

Misses Lee and Rambo with Earl and Curtis climbed the mountain Saturday, Miss Lee and Curtis continuing at far as Isabel Rock, on the First Peak, not reaching camp until nightfall.

REVOLUTIONISTS ARE IN CHARGE OF MOSCOW OFFICES

Committee Proclaims That Kerensky Joins Korniloff Against the Revolution—Lenine Outlines Peace Plans

Special to the News.

PETROGRAD, Nov. 10.—Announcement is made that all government offices in Moscow have been seized by the revolutionary committee now in control of affairs here, and that military garrison is supporting the revolutionists.

A proclamation issued by the revolutionary committee appeals to the Russian army to stand with and protect the revolution. The proclamation says that Kerensky has united with the partisans of General Korniloff, Kaledines and others and is making an effort to attack Petrograd with troops.

Maximalist Peace Plans

Nikolai Lenine, the Maximalist leader, addressed the council or workmen and soldiers yesterday on peace plans of the revolutionists, saying:

"We plan to offer an immediate armistice of three months, during which elected representatives from all nations, and not the diplomats, are to settle the questions of peace. We offer these terms, but we are willing to consider any proposals for peace, no matter from which side. We offer a just peace, but will not accept unjust terms."

CHRISTMAS GIFTS FOR EVERY AMERICAN FIGHTING MAN

By United Press.

WASHINGTON, D. C. Nov. 9.—Uncle Sam is today planning for a visit by Santa Claus to his fighting lads across the sea.

The gifts which the United States will present to its soldiers and sailors are being mobilized by the Red Cross in thirteen divisional warehouses. One-third of the "Christmas cheer" consignment is already in.

It will be a jolly, old-fashioned Yuletide for America's fighters—as jolly as a grateful nation can make it and as old-fashioned as the modern Red Cross will allow.

Each cantonment and army post in this country will have a Christmas tree. Each soldier and sailor, whether in this country or abroad, will receive a Christmas package valued at $1.50. It will contain chewing gum, tobacco, writing material, games, dried fruit, candies, puzzles, knives, mouth organs, or other articles. No perishable or breakable articles will be included. Each package will be wrapped in a khaki-colored handkerchief and tied with a red ribbon.

Money for the purchase of these packages is being raised by the American Red Cross through contributions by individuals for this specific purpose to be used for Christmas gifts.

AMERICANS SERVING ON BRITISH MERCHANT VESSELS DISCLOSED

By United Press.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—American navy enlisted men are serving on British merchantmen. This fact was disclosed when Secretary of the Navy Daniels commended for gallantry American signal men on a British vessel which the Americans beached after the vessel had been struck by a torpedo.

GOOD AMERICAN GOODS GOING INTO THE KAISER'S COUNTRY

By GEORGE MARTIN,
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, D. C. Nov. 9.—Enormous quantities of American food are on the way today to the kaiser's country.

The American government knows about it. Is, in fact, glad of it. Did.

The food and clothing, however, is to considerable trouble to arrange a routing so it would be sure to get there.

The shipment now enroute, which will be followed by others to the vaule of at least $500,000, is 5,000 sacks of perfectly good American flour. Other foodstuffs and clothing will be sent on to German territory just as fast as the American government can get it there.

The food and clothing, however, is not going to German subjects, but to Servian prisoners of war in Austrian prison camps. Concerning the shipment, the American Red Cross said today:

"As part of the Red Cross program for aid to Serbia, which has been undertaken in co-operation with the Serbian government, the Red Cross has just shipped 5,000 bags of flour to Serbians in Austrian prison camps.

"This is the first shipment of a series of food purchases which the Red Cross, in co-operation with the Serbian government, is making in this country for relief of prisoners. The Serbian Minister has deposited $500,000 to the credit of the Red Cross for the purchase of these foodstuffs.

"The Allies must provide living necessities for their soldiers who are captured because the Central Powers are not providing prisoners of war with sufficient food to keep them in good health. By arangement with Germany and Austria, prisoners are permitted to receive extra rations and clothing from their home governments. Lack of supplies in Europe has forced Serbia to buy in the United States.

"The shipments go to the Serbian Consul at Marseilles, and thence through the Serbian Section of the Bureau de Secours at Berne, Switzerland, to prison camps in Austria.

"The American Red Cross now has a special Commission in Serbia, headed by Cordenio Arnold Severance, of St. Paul, Minnesota. The ravages of war there are said to have been even worse than in Belgium and Roumania, and many Serbian refugees have been entirely dependent upon America for relief. Next to Belgium and France, Serbia has been the chief center of American relief work abroad."

Draft Questions To Be Mailed Soon To Remaining Men

By United Press.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—The draft questionaire, determining the class and order of service of America's remaining nine million registered men will be mailed soon. Five classifications are provided. The most radical change keeps all married men in the non-belligerent class. Provost Marshal General Crowder will ask congress to draft 500,000 men reaching their 21st year since conscription became effective. The second draft call probably will be made in the spring.

FORMER LIGHTWEIGHT CHAMPION TEACHING SOLDIERS TO BOX

By United Press.

CAMP LEWIS, Nov. 9.—Willie Ritchie, former champion lightweight boxer of the world, here to teach the Sammies how to box, will not conduct Sunday school classes in the art.

The men will go direct to the mat and pound each other until they get the idea of boxing firmly pounded in their heads.

"One thing's certain," Richie said today. "I'm not going to do any talking. There'll be no schoolroom classes in pugilism while I am here."

Boxing will be of particular value to the soldier. "If a man has nerve enough to stand up and box, he'll have nerve enough to slip it to a German with a bayonet," Ritchie said. "If a man is light on his toes, quick at dodging and alert every minute, he will land a k. c. as quickly with a bayonet as with his fists."

LONDON PESSIMISTIC OVER RUSSIAN STATUS

By United Press.

LONDON, Nov. 9.—It is generally believed here that the arrest of Kerensky means an indefinite prolongation of the war. The situation is admittedly gloomy. The seemingly inevitable civil war in Russia would mean further disarmament and the permitting of the Russians to withdraw more troops from the Russian front.

The London press does not conceal its pessimism. Regarding the reports that Lenine and Trotsky are now controlling Petrograd, both are believed to be entirely in accord in their program.

HONOR GUARD A PATRIOTIC ORDER FOR THE GIRLS

The following letter from Marcella Schweitzer is self explanatory and doubtless will prove of interest to many of our girl readers.

920 High St., Bellingham, Wash.,
November 6,, 1917.

Dear Mrs. Webster:

I have been wondering if you have heard anything about the work of the girls Honor Guard in Oregon. The Honor Guard was first established in Portland, Oregon, and has now spread throughout Washington, and is continuing to spread through the states. I have joined the Bellingham Honor Guards, as I felt that this was my chance to help along the needs of the country as far as I can, with my limited amount of time. We have drill once or twice a week at the Armory hall just as the soldiers do, expect to have rifle practice, but this is just the least of the duties of Honor Guard. Last night a young woman who was one of the first women to help along the work of the Honor Guards in Oregon, spoke to us of the many things the Oregon Guard is doing. She said that at first they were laughed at, but now they are recognized by the governor of the state as one of the most reliable patriotic organizations of the present time. The Honor Guard is a new thing, being only about a year old, but already they have gained prestige in many places, and are being called upon by the various authorities of the state to perform duties for their country.

I want to tell you more especially just what sort of work these girls do. Their general object everywhere is to be of service in whatever way they can. Some groups make it their main duty to send boxes or knit for the soldiers who have left their communities. In Portland many of the girls take up first aid work and hospital work, for a period of days, and get practice in the Base Hospital. It was said that the girls were given he dirtiest kind of work purposely, but that they always stood the test, and were selected as some of the most reliable of the hospital staff. The girls also have helped to promote the sale of Liberty Bonds, Red Cross drives, Y. M. C. A. work and in fact anything to be of service. The girls also are given the care of certain destitute families who have relatives in the war, and canvas cities to look after these families and also to promote food conservation and get people to sign the Hoover pledges. The Honor Guard girls are also given the opportunity to learn stenography, first aid work, telegraphy, etc., so that if they are needed in these positions they are qualified to fill them.

The organization here in Bellingham, is but a few months old, and we are just beginning our real work. Next Tuesday night we have our first building, and I have joined the class. There is also to be a class in stenography. I find the work very interesting and only wish that I had more time to give it.

You perhaps are wondering why I have taken the trouble to tell you all this, but again I have a reason. I am anxious to get the Port Angeles people interested in the work of the Honor Guards, and if possible to get an Honor Guard organized there, for I am sure it would be a splendid thing for the girls. If you would publish these facts concerning the Honor Guards in your paper, it might help to interest the girls in this work and bring before the Angeles people the growing importance of the Honor Guard. The Oregon Guard is going to publish an Honor Guard magazine and are going to send us copies, which I will be glad to send to you or to anyone who would like more information on the subject.

You see, we girls who are up here attending Normal and who do not live here will hate to give up our Honor Guard work at the end of the term, and for this reason, I am anxious to have the Honor Guard established in Angeles, so I can continue my membership, which is transferable, when I return home this summer.

I suppose Angeles hears about the slugging going on in Seattle continually. Well, Bellingham is now also inhabited with them, making it unsafe for any girl to venture out alone at night. Night before last another woman was seriously injured here, and is now in the hospital. A few weeks ago their camp was discovered out in the woods by Lake Padden and was searched. One of the men was caught and arrested, but there are still others appearing.

I am very busy with my school and outside work. I am president of our Alkisiah Society and there are always so many things to look after. We expect to begin practice soon on a play to be given this semester, so it will keep me busier than ever. We are now practicing along with other clubs for a vaudevile show to be given for the soldiers' benefit. Everything we do these days is for the soldier boys, we knit, we give plays, give money, etc. The Students Association sent many boxes to the soldiers for Christmas. Instead of having a Christmas tree and presents this year as formerly, we are going to use that money for the soldiers. Everyone is giving up everything for soldiers here. This morning Mr. Harlim, of the Y. M. C. A. secretaries at Camp Lewis, spoke to us for over an hour telling of the good work the Y. M. C. A. is doing. I think it is wonderful the many good things they do. Another man from Seattle whose name I cannot remember, was here conducting the Y. M. C. A. drive, of which the Normal must contribute $1,700. I have decided not to give any Christmas presents outside of the family this year, and spend any time and money that I would use making Christmas presents for the Y. M. C. A. contribution and for knitting for the boys. There are ever so many girls who are not going to give Christmas presents this year, and are doing without things for the sake of the soldiers.

This week ends our first quarter's work at school. I have been teachng 4th grade drawing to thirteen pupils, and 3rd grade, language; besides taking sociology, physiology, and advanced music methods. This next quarter I will not teach but take Socilogy, Physiology, Kindergarten Theory, advanced drawing and advanced music methods.

ARMY Y. M. C. A. SHOULD HAVE SUPPORT OF EVERY AMERICAN

General John J. Pershing says: the Y. M. C. A. gives the soldier an opportunity of improving himself physically, mentally and morally. Physical fitness demands correct living. The association encourages that kind of life. It affords clean amusements and associates whose instincts are worthy; men banded together with aims, mutually assisting each other. It stimulates a man's intellectual life. Strong muscles, clear brains, high ideals in the soldier, increase the fighting efficiency of the army, and these qualities of the citizen insure the permanency of our institution."

"If it wasn't for the Y. M. C. A. there would be more boys forgetting home ties, be more dissatisfied and hunting up other amusements which would probably be far from what would be good for them," writes Elmer E. Horsley in the Riverside Press from Camp Kearny, near San Diego, where the National Guardsmen are mobilized. "There are six Y. M. C. A. buildings, one to each brigade, and they are packed all hours of the day. Boys are in the buildings all day long writing to folks at home, as it is the only place that they can write to any advantage, and all the necessary material is furnished."

The above is the testimony of a soldier at the Linda Vista cantonment where 40,000 men are to be stationed. His words are substantiated by hundreds of other letters from boys at Camp Kearny.

Writing from the Presidio, San Francisco, Clarence E. Gillie, in a letter published in the Spokesman-Review, Spokane, Washington, says: "In the squad rooms there are no conveniences for writing or any pastime. But, thank God, the Y. M. C. A. War Work Council saw fit to place, just inside the gates, a building where all enlisted men can find, free of charge, plenty of writing material, reading matter, different games, music and gymnasium, and, best of all, Christian men to influence our lives. The strongest side of the Y. M. C. A. is the spiritual. Often a soldier is invited to a Christian home through the Y. M. C. A. for a good, home cooked dinner like we used to get at home. Then there are invitations to church entertainments where we meet young people. What would we do without the Army Y. M. C. A.? It is the most important part of the army and should have the support of every loyal American citizen."

MAY HOLD UP BALANCE OF RUSSIAN LOAN

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—The balance of the $114,000,000 loan authorized for the account of Russia may not be delivered if the Lenine and Trotsky peace faction gains complete control of affairs in Russia. The American government, declared one official, considers the Bolsheviki as aiding the Germans.

An additional thirty jurors have been sumoned to serve in the federal court at Seattle, beginning next next Tuesday. Clallam County is represented on this list by Frank Lotzgesell, of Dungeness.

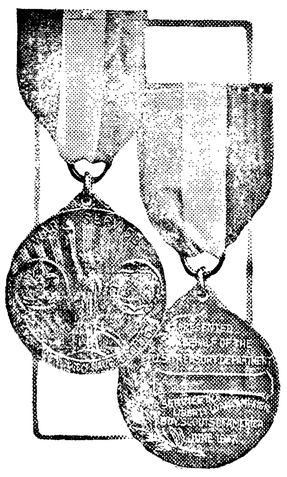
MEDALS FOR BOY SCOUTS



This is the medal which has been awarded to each Boy Scout who obtained Liberty Loan subscriptions from ten or more persons. Thousands of the lads are proudly wearing them today. Probably never before in the nation's history has the government placed the seal of the treasury department on a bronze medal to be awarded to others than soldiers and sailors in the service of the country.

PETROGRAD, Nov. 9.—The city of Petrograd is almost normal today, with the new revolutionary government controlling the city and maintaining practically complete order.

The change in government has been accomplished without bloodshed. The All-Russian Council announced that Kerensky last appeared at Catchina, near Petrograd, Wednesday, where he addressed 6,000 soldiers to persuade them not to attack Petrograd.

President Trotsky, of the Workmen's and Soldiers' Council, states that the new reign proposes to try all members of the Kerensky government on the charge that they conspired to aid the Korniloff revolt.

The Council has decided to imprison Korniloff and others, not in sympathy with the new revolt, in the Fortress Sts. Peter and Paul.

BRITISH HEADQUARTERS, Flanders, Nov. 9.—The Germans have not yet recovered from the terrific British drive through Passenchendaele. Apparently the blow of Tuesday has left the enemy groggy.

Captured documents reveal the fact that Hindenburg ordered the Germans to recapture Passchendaele, if lost, at whatever cost, and violent German counter attacks are being expected soon by Field Marshal Haig, although there have been no signs of any stir by the enemy since the big drive. The British successfully raided the Germans today east of Hardecourt.

LONDON, Nov. 9.—The Turkish troops are retiring toward Hebron, twenty-four miles south of Jerusalem, as the British continue their advance into Palestine, says the official statement today.

The Turkish railroad terminal Beitanun has been captured and the entire Turkish army is retreating. Forty guns were captured. The British navy is assisting the advance.

COLUMBUS, Nov. 9.—With practically complete official totals in on the prohibition election Tuesday, the wets now have a majority of 1,056 votes.

MARINES VERSUS ARMY IN FOOTBALL STRUGGLE AT TACOMA TODAY

By United Press.

TACOMA, Nov. 10.—Former college team mates will battle here today when the Marines football team meets the Ninety-first division team.

Johnny Beckett, old University of Oregon star, now mainstay of the Marines, has a number of northwest college men in his lineup. The army too, has old college men, including Monty Monteith, Kenneth Bartlett and Snyder, formerly of the Eugene school.

The Marines arrived here yesterday and worked out on the Stadium where today s game is being played.

MILWAUKEE RAILWAY BRINGING ITS TRACKS UP TO GRADE

The Milwaukee Railway is raising its tracks along Second and Third streets for a distance of about a half a mile, bringing them up to the street grade.

The raise runs from six inches to two feet. Along the Crescent Boxboard Company's site the street is being filled full width.

The material for the work is being hauled by train from Ennis Creek.

About $1,500 damage was done to the home of Jacob Rupp near the Filion mill by fire this afternoon, which broke out shortly after 1 o'clock. The only way the fire can be accounted for is that it was caused by spontaneous combustion from oil soaked rags that had been used in cleaning milk cans that had been taken from the bay. The house was built about three or four years ago, and had just been repainted and other improvements made. Most of the furniture was taken out but all the bedding and furniture upstairs were ruined.

Many people will not send Christmas gifts this year, but will instead, send to their friends a card of greeting. The Evening News office is prepared to supply your wants in this line. Last year our orders went up into the thousands and we hope to more than double on it this year. Early orders will be appreciated.

ALSACE-LORRAINE FRENCH PATIENTLY AWAIT ALLIES

By HENRY WOOD,
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

WITH THE FRENCH ARMIES AFIELD, Oct. 26.—(By mail)—Letters of the most touching character are daily received in France from residents of Alsace and Lorraine, telling how the inhabitants of those two provinces are still awaiting the coming of the French armies, and the return of the provinces to the bosom of the Motherland of France.

These letters as a rule are sent to friends in Switzerland, who in turn send them on into France. Almost without exception the writers are old men and women who ever since 1870 have patiently awaited for the day to come when the Marseillaise would again ring through the streets of their native villages, and the tricolor of France would again float from the flagstaff of the "Hotel de Ville."

The following extracts are taken from a number of these letters that have just reached the military authorities of the French army. The authenticity of the facts are vouched for on the highest authority.

"* * * One of the older residents of—— realizing that he must die before he would be able to see the entrance of the French troops, called one of his old comrades to his bedside and said:

"'Now the moment you see them coming, you must hurry to the graveyard and cry as loud as you can: 'Charles, Charles, they are here! They are here!' Then you will plant the tricolor of France on my grave and after that you will feel the earth about me tremble with joy."

"Another old resident of —— had kept hidden a French soldiers' cap. At the moment he felt himself dying he had it brought to him, and expired happy just as he placed it on his head."

"Still another aged resident of —— was going daily to the canal and taking long walks up and down the bank while waiting for the French to arrive."

"As he had threatened repeatedly to drown himself if he did not see them, the cure has succeeded in persuading him that when the French come, they will enter from the opposite side of the town, so that it is there he now takes his long daily walks while waiting for them to arrive instead of near the canal."

Contractor Anderson is planning to use a steam shovel on the bluff near K and Fourth streets on the I street improvement. There are abolt 35,000 yards of earth to be moved and while the Bagley scraper has done good work, it is thought a steam shovel will accomplish the task much sooner and cheaper.

War-Savings Certificates To Be Issued By Government To Encourage Thrift

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 7.—A campaign will be launched shortly to make the most extravagant people in the world the most thrifty.

The stern necessities of war will ·erret out from American life its one be etting sin—excessive spending. This, at least, will be the aim of the war savings campaign to raise more funds for the national warchest.

A $2,000,000,000 issue of war-savings certificates, in denominations as low as $5, and running for five years, will be offered some time this month by the treasury department. It will mark an innovation in government financing.

The certificates, which will be on sale at post-offices and all other government agencies throughout the coun' y, are designed to appeal to m and women of limited means. ie general interest rate for the entire issue will be 4 per cent.

It is planned to sell the certificates by way of stamps and post-office books. Thus the children's dime-bank can be effectively mobilized for the government.

Certificates will be redeemable any time before maturity at the request of the holder, allowing interest at a rate slightly less than four per cent.

"It is vitally necessary that the American people should practice savings on a large scale during the progress of the war," said Secretary McAdoo today. "This new plan will give every man, woman and child in America, no matter how small his means, the opportunity to do something to help the government."

Economists, who have long upbraided Americans for their care-free spending, see benefits of far-reaching importance in the new war-savings campaign. The crusade will be one of education. Just as important as the actual raising of two billion dollars, officials declare, is the inculcation of thrift habits throughout the country.

Frank A. Vanderlip, president of the National City Bank, now a dollar-a-year employee of the government, has perfected plans for the gigantic campaign. He is assisted by Henry Ford, Mrs. George Bass, of Chicago, Frederic A. Delane, member of the Federal Reserve Board, Eugene Meyer, Jr., and Charles A. Paine, of Boston.

STATE DAIRYMEN MEET AT SEQUIM

Sequim will this year have the distinction and pleasure of entertaining the delegates who will attend the annual meeting of the Washington State Dairymen's Association to be be held on Thursday and Friday, December 13 and 14, says the Sequim Press.

The credit for this unexpected honor belongs to Donald McInnes, a leader of state dairymen and a citizen of this locality.

The coming of the state dairymen will bring to Sequim the leading men of that following in the state.

The naming of the convention city rests with the president of the association, Fred Mess, the leading dairyman and farmer of King county, and a member of the legislature, holding the chairmanship of the live stock committee.

Appreciative of the distinguished honor which has come to the town through the personal endeavors of Mr. McInnes, Sequim will, as on all occasions, rise to meet the requirements of the opportunity and do the right thing to show the delegates and the association that the little dairy town on the peninsula is not unmindful of the honor bestowed upon it. Just what action Sequim will be permitted to take will be determined in a few days, and word will be passed around among the faithful.

Another prominent citizen of this district, Frank P. Holland, holds a high position with the State Dairymen's Association, that of vice-president. He was elected to that position two years ago, holding the honor of being the youngest officer ever chosen to that responsible post.

The business meetings of the association are generally attended by about 250 delegates and farmers of the surrounding neighborhood. In all probability about 75 or 100 delegates will come from outside points.

SOLDIER GRATEFULLY ACKNOWLEDGES WAR WORK OF LADIES

The letter which appears below was sent to the local D. A. R. chapter by their regent, Mrs. T. L. Harrington, who now lives in Seattle. It is another testimonial of the boys' appreciation of the sewing kits and comfort bags made for them by the Red Cross and of the benefit and enjoyment they receive from the home comforts and entertainment provided by the Y. M. C. A.

Camp Lewis,
October 11, 1917.

Mrs. T. L. Harrington,
Port Angeles, Washington.

Dear Madam:

Through Mr. Trefethen, chairman of the board of Division four, of Queen Anne Hill, Seattle, I received the "husuf," for which I thank you very much. They are indeed very handy and almost indispensable in the outfit of a soldier in the field.

I came here in the third quota on October 4th. So far I find things better than one would expect under the circumstances. I have been assigned to a band, which has not been organized as yet; so I have no duties at present. I followed music professionally in Seattle.

We think you ladies are doing a splendid work, and I would like to thank the lady who gave me mine. I have about thirty more here with me to give to Queen Anne boys who did not get one. I received those yesterday and will dispose of them today.

The sixth Y. M. C. A. was opened and dedicated here last evening. Seven of we musicians of the 346th Field Artillery furnished music for the occasion. The Y. M. C. A. is surely doing lots of good in the camp, and deserves the co-operation of the boys as well as those on the outside.

Speaking for all the boys here I again thank you and can assure you that we all appreciate very much your efforts to make army life as pleasant as possible for us.

Respectfully,
HORACE C. BROWN,
Battery "F" 346 Field Artillery.
Camp Lewis, American Lake, Washington.

Mallory Hats

are made for any and all kinds of weather. They are real "weather resisters" — moisture doesn't affect them in any way and "Mallory Hats" are the only hats that have this extra protection.

If you spend much time out of doors, you'll soon appreciate how good "Mallory" Hats are and the high importance of the "Cravenette Finish."

We have all the best Fall styles in the newest colors.

REEVETON NEWS

The state dairy inspector was making his annual trip the past week, and had no complaints whatever to make.

Mr. E. Little, of the Pangborn-Little Shingle Mill made a flying trip up-sound this week.

Mr. B. Yocum returned last evening from Bellingham and other up-sound points.

County Superintendent of Schools R. E. Gilmore visited our school Wednesday and was much pleased with the discipline throughout the school.

I. E. Bayton was a Reeveton caller Wednesday.

Mr. Burgess came out Thursday night to get Willie Wooding back to his former position.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Richards were visiting at Sequim a few days.

Nicholas Heuhslein from Camp Lewis arrived on Friday night's train for a short visit with his parents.

Mr. Thompson and Mr. Agnew made a flying trip to Dungeness Saturday.

Saturday afternoon was the scene of a delightful party as Mr. Heuhslein's, the occasion being Mrs. Heuhslein's birthday, and also a reception for Nicholas. The afternoon was most delightfully spent. Train time arrived altogether too soon, and it was with heavy hearts that we wended our way to the station to bid Nicholas goodbye. Those present were, Mr. and Mrs. Heuhslein, Nicholas, from Battery B, Camp Lewis; Mr. and Mrs. Solf, Mr. and Mrs. Drumer, Mrs. Gherke, Mr. and Mrs. Kruger, Mr. and Mrrs. Baar, Mr. and Mrs. M. Fey, Mr. and Mrs. Bowers Mr. and Mrs. Richards and Mr. Agnew.

Miss E. Studley went to Seattle Saturday morning, returning Sunday night.

Don't forget the entertainment and dance November 27th.

Jacob Rupp, whose house and contents was so seriously damaged by fire Saturday afternoon, is amply insured to cover all loss, it is reported.

CALL FOR BIDS.

Notice is hereby given that sealed bids will be received by the Commissioners of Clallam County, Washington, at the Court House in Port Angeles, up to the hour of 2 o'clock P. M., on Monday, December 3, 1917, for the gravelling of about one-half mile in the Town of Sequim, under the direction of the County Engineer.

Certified check or cash deposit to 5% of amount of bid must accompany each bid.

The Commissioners reserve the right to reject any or all bids.

By order of the Board of County Commissioners, made November 6th, 1917.

J. W. WARREN,
Auditor of Clallam County, Wash.

The Hoover Pledge Card Committee wishes to announce that those who were not given an opportunity to sign the cards, will be looked up and presented with cards very soon. There seemed to be a shortage of cards, probably too many were sent to the rural districts and have not yet been returned. Reports from the country have been coming in very slowly, so the committee has been unable to make a report.
