The interim legislative Transportation Committee and the Washington State Highway Commission shall jointly consider three proposed highway additions in Clallam County.

State Representative Paul H. Conner at the request of the Clallam County Commissioners sponsored legislation which has passed the legislature directing Washington State Highway Commission to consult with the National Park Service of the United States Department of the Interior to determine their interest in entering into an agreement to jointly finance a feasibility study for relocating State Road 101 outside of the Olympic National Park in the Bear Creek area. A report shall be made to the legislative transportation committee by October 1, 1972 and to the 1973 legislative session. Said report shall include a resume of all previous studies and the recommendations of the National Park Service, cost estimate of study $3,000.

Other legislative studies sponsored by Rep. Conner and adopted by the legislature include an extension to the state highway system an extension from Sappho to Pysht via the Burnt Mountain Road. Study estimate $36,300.

Trooper Jaska reported two accidents which occurred Sunday, May 16.

The first occurred at 12:30 p.m., 11 miles north of the Clearwater Junction on the Clearwater Road when Rodney V. Zimmerman, age unknown, of Olympia, traveling north in a 1971 Mazda sedan, attempted to cross the William C. Cross bridge. The vehicle failed to negotiate the bridge, hit the right side of the bridge, spun around and hit the left side of the bridge. The vehicle was totaled. The driver and 2 other passengers were transported to Hoquiam by the Quilnault ambulance service and released the same day after treatment of lacerations and numerous minor injuries.

The second accident occurred at 2:30 p.m., approximately 5 miles west of Forks on the LaPush Road at the Quillayute Junction. Two vehicles were involved, both traveling west on the LaPush Road. Leroy R. Brickey, 44, of Clallam Bay, driving a 1970 Plymouth hardtop, attempted to pass a 1971 Ford Bronco driven by Clifford E. Tate, 26, of Kalaloch. The Tate vehicle attempted a left turn to continue onto the LaPush Road and the Brickey vehicle failed to stop or avoid the turning car and struck it in the rear. There were no injuries. The Brickey vehicle sustained approximately $500 damages to the front end; the Tate vehicle approximately $250 damages to the rear end.

CHECKERS ANYONE?

By Al Clarke

I have to believe that among my fellow Americans is the feeling that other forms of employment are a great deal less tedious and indeed more lucrative than the one they bend to forty hours a week. Oddly enough, I once aspired to become a checker in a supermarket. That was shortly before I made the acquaintance of a checker in a supermarket.

The meeting was quite by chance during lunch hour in a small city park. I was seated on a park bench munching on a peanut butter and tomato catsup sandwich, when this shirt-sleeved giant grunted, "OK if use half of your bench?" I nodded my approval and continued munching. The conversation started as I downed the last of my yogurt. I made the grim mistake of mentioning my secret desire to work as a checker in a supermarket. "You gotta be outa your gourd," he boomed, "You ain't got no idea what it's like workin' against them shopping nuts." "Working against them?" I asked in all sincerity. "Ya damned betcha," he boomed again. His tone quality could loosen the barnacles on a sunken hull. The boomer continued, "I been a supermarket checker in thirteen states, and I ain't never seen no difference. Them shopping nuts is the same wherever you go." I thought for a moment of my speech teacher, Walton Haddley. What a challenge this English mangler would have been. Stuffing cotton in my ears I bravely asked, "Why do you consider shoppers to be anti-supermarket checker?" The big man paused long enough to re-light his dirt-globe-like cigar, letting forth a billow of smoke that would put any normal American smog bank to shame. "Ain't that they're anti-supermarket checker, they just ain't got no couth." He stopped to consider the word he'd just discovered. "People don't know what manners is. If just once someone would say please or thank you, I would not think of leaving my position as third best checker." I could see he was dead serious, so I decided to listen. "People are too pushy, always in a hurry. Constantly accusing you of overcharging. Ever see our displays after the nuts get through with em? It's murder. If you think being a checker in a supermarket is a snap, stand by my side for a shift." He lumbered off in the direction of his supermarket still hammering away at the shopping nuts who ain't got no couth. My desire for his occupation had dampened considerably and I vowed right then and there to be more humane in supermarkets.

My life in communications wasn't so bad after all. Very seldom did anyone talk back and when they did, I could simply cut them off. The grass always seems greener in the other guy's yard alright, but it grows just as fast.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

In doing the telephone survey in connection with the sewer system, Mrs. Paul Lingvall found that the biggest complaint people had against a sewer system was the price, so after writing to the Town of Eatonville, inquiring about the sewer system they installed in 1967, she received the following answer:

Dear Mrs. Lingvall:

The population of Eatonville is approximately 900 people. Not all of the town is served by the sewer system but gradually new districts are requesting sewer service. We have a large sewer lagoon on the edge of Town that handles the effluent.

All of the sewers have been financed by LID's (Local Improvement Districts) with the property owners requesting the Town to initiate such projects. I know of only one instance when the Town initiated the action themselves and that was in a situation where the drainage was such a problem as to constitute a health hazard.

A survey is taken by the water department, after the initial request from the property owners involved, to determine the approximate cost of such an LID, the equipment used, estimated labor cost, the amount of sewer line necessary, supplies, etc., and then the cost is divided by the amount of front footage to be served by such line. To date, on the various LID's the Town has had, the cost has run between $3.50 to $4.50 per front foot for the property assessment. The hookup charge is $50 which includes the first 20 feet of line into the property and $2.00 per foot for each additional foot if the Town lays the pipe. The monthly service charge is $2.50 which is added to the regular utility bill. The assessment against the property may be paid off over a ten-year period with five percent charged on the unpaid balance. The hookup fee must be paid immediately. As prices for material increase and increased labor charges arise, these prices may have to be revised in the future.

If you have further questions, please feel free to call on us.

Very truly yours,
Norma Tredwell
Town Clerk

SHAKE THIEF JAILED

The following article is a reprint from the May 11, 1971, edition of the ABERDEEN DAILY WORLD, SHAKE THIEF SENT TO PRISON

Montesano--Peter Potter, Quinault area shake cutter, has been taken to the Washington State Corrections Center in Shelton following a revocation of a suspended sentence in Grays Harbor Superior Court Friday.

His suspension of a 15-year sentence was revoked by Judge Warner Poyhonen after a hearing revealed Potter had been taking shake blocks belonging to Arthur Schimelpfennig last month.

Potter had originally been given the 15-year suspended sentence by Judge John H. Kirkwood following a plea of guilty to a charge of grand larceny last July.

At the time he had been charged with taking shakes belonging to Terrence E. Doyle of Markham.

Mrs. Floe's Third Grade students have been writing legends, making paper mache' Indian masks, and writing poetry. Many of the legends have learned their multiplication tables. In science, the children are experimenting with making carbon dioxide. Here are some of the legends the pupils have written that we'd like to share with you.

MRS. J. E. MERRITT
Mrs. A. M. Nordman went to Seattle on Thursday, April 29, and stayed overnight at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Henry Werner. The following day Mrs. Nordman, Mrs. Werner and her little son, Aaron, left for Willmette, Illinois. They drove through Washington, Idaho, Montana, North Dakota, Minnesota and Wisconsin, and saw Mike Dawkins (brother of Mrs. Richard Loushin) and his wife in a Missoula, Montana restaurant.

They arrived in Willmette, a suburb of Chicago on Tuesday, May 4, and Mrs. Werner and little Aaron went on to Fort Campbell, Kentucky to join Mr. Werner, arriving there on Thursday, May 6. On Saturday, May 8, Mrs. Werner and Aaron drove on to Fort Lee, Virginia to stay two months with Henry who will be stationed there. Mr. Nordman flew from Seattle to Chicago on Tuesday, May 4, to join Mrs. Nordman at the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Nordman at Willmette.

While there they toured the area by auto, elevated and commuter trains and visited Bahai Temple. They saw a baseball game between the Chicago White Sox and New York Yankees and took in the horse races at Balmoral Track in Arlington, Illinois, viewed the city of Chicago from the John Hopkins Tower, toured the city to see the Universities, Hull House (it was established in 1889 by Miss Jane Addams and Miss Ellen Starr), the financial and produce marketing areas, the stockyards, Maxwell Street Flea Market, Piper's Alley in Old Town, Parker's Museum, the Planetarium and quite a number of other places of interest. They flew to Seattle on Monday, May 10, and arrived home that night. Quite a full jaunt in less than two weeks!

Mrs. Mary Johnson and Mrs. Ida Eaton, Beaver and Sappho postmasters, respectively, attended the luncheon meeting of the National Postmasters Association held on Wednesday of last week at the Three Crabs restaurant at Dungeness. Henry Bechtold, Forks Postmaster, Harriett Konopaski, former Postmaster of Beaver, and her husband, Ed Konopaski, were also present.

Mrs. Russell Newlon of the Sol Duc Fish Hatchery, Sappho, went to Olympia over the weekend to help her father, Conrad Felton move into another home. Mrs. Felton passed away about a year ago. Mrs. Newlon and the children who went with her to Olympia returned home Sunday night.

The Dean Hum family went to Seattle Friday taking with them Mrs. Hum's niece, Elizabeth Gwerder who had spent the week at the Hum home. The Hums stayed overnight with Mrs. Hum's sister, Mrs. Deanna Gwerder and on Saturday morning they attended the U. W. crew race on Lake Washington. Mr. Hum's nephew, Cliff Hum is part of the U of W Varsity team and their boat was the winner. In the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Hum and the three oldest boys, Rick, Ron and Roger took in the U of W Varsity-Alumni football game. Cliff was in the Varsity team, and again was on the winning side.

The Hum family came home that night. Robert Hum, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Hum, celebrated his 5th birthday on Monday, and in honor of the

Mini Bikes Make Maxi Headaches

The latest craze in the "mini" world --mini-bikes-- has the potential to cause maxi headaches for many parents in Washington, the Insurance Information Institute cautions.

These packages of pint-sized propulsion look like toys, the Institute notes; but they can cause serious legal and insurance problems.

Because of their popularity among the younger set the ease by which they may be carted off, many parents learn only too late that their homeowners policies, specifically, do not cover the theft of mini-bikes.

Not do auto insurance policies, as a rule, cover the damage a mini-bike causes to a neighbor's property, his family or another bike rider on a mountain trail. Of course, if the damage or injury caused by the mini-bike is done on the operator's own property, the resulting claim would be covered by the usual homeowners insurance policy.

Another hazard of mini-bikes is that they are often not the most safe and properly equipped of motor vehicles. Even in the few cases of those which do meet equipment requirements, the operator should wear approved protective headgear.

Parents should also be aware of the fact that if their youngster does not have a driver's license, he may be arrested for operating a mini-bike on any public street or thoroughfare in the state, the Institute says. This means that sidewalks, parking lots, apartment complex entrances and exits, as well as alleyways and highways, are off limits to unlicensed operators.

If a mini-bike is covered by an auto insurance policy and its youthful operator does not have a license, insurance coverage is non-existent off his parents' property.

Washington law prohibits operation of a motor vehicle by anyone under the age of 16. The mini-bike must also have its own license plate to be operated off the owner's property.

The Institute urges parents to consider the problems involved in allowing unlicensed drivers to operate mini-bikes; harm to the child, motor vehicles law violation, legal liability and resultant damage suits.

TALK ABOUT A CHILD'S GOOD POINTS
Talking about a child's good points rather than his bad points often can make him behave better.

"As a rule, children do what is expected of them. If you expect a child to misbehave, the chances are that he will.

Telling a child he is 'bad' is a good way to get him to act 'bad' because he comes to believe you," says Marie Burnes, Area Extension Agent.

The process also works the other way. Telling a child he is "good", is a "good helper" or is a child you can "trust", will lead him to behave the way you expect.

Every child has his good points, so try talking about them instead of criticizing his bad points. The results will be much nicer for everyone this way.

Threatening a child does little to make him do what you want him to do, or feel that he should do. For instance, you are getting ready to leave and the child continues to ignore your previous statements, then you say, "if you don't hurry and come to the car, I'll have to leave you." Chances are this threat has been delivered before, so what happens? The child shrugs his or her little shoulders and casually remarks, "I don't care, go ahead and leave me."

It's best to avoid making such unnecessary statements or threats. Tell the child ahead of time when you will be leaving.

DURKAN HONORED

The Clallam County Citizens for Durkan Committee held a dinner May 12 at Harrington's Skyroom with approximately 188 people attending. After a social hour with entertainment by Carl Rudolph, the guests were welcomed by Dave Woodruff who also introduced distinguished guests, among them Senator and Mrs. Gordon Sandison, Representative and Mrs. Paul Conner, Representative and Mrs. Charles Savage, County Officials John Kirner, Frank Feeley and Mrs. Teeny Thorne. Also introduced were ex-county commissioner Tom Mansfield and Elmer Critchfield, former Prosecuting Attorney Nathan Richardson, City Councilman John Hordyk and Hospital Commissioner Ray Taylor, Center Committee officers Vivian Startup, Rene Hansey and Pat Mansfield.

Presidents for the Democratic Clubs in Port Angeles, Forks and Sequim, Jim Wood, Mrs. Barbara Windle and Walter Bain and the Chief of the Makah Tribe from Neah Bay, Ed Claplanhoo. Mrs. Ermine Gearey read a message from Congressman Lloyd Meeds who was unable to attend.

Senator Gordon Sandison introduced the guest of honor, State Senator Martin Durkan, who spoke on the accomplishment and failures of the legislature session. He mentioned that due to the state economy the demands upon state government were greater. For the first time legislature has become a separate branch of the government, not just an arm of governorship. He then discussed the budget which was a compromise in an effort to stay at a current level with no new program, no salary increase and no new positions in state employment.

Senator Durkan pointed out the necessity for a spending and tax reform. He went on to mention a few Senate sponsored resolutions, one which would reduce property tax from 50% to 25% of its fair and true value. He discussed a property tax revaluation program to limit to 6% the increase in any year, beginning in 1972. The Senator mentioned that he was in favor of House Joint Resolution No. 1 to abolish property tax exemptions for non profit organizations, except that property which concerns its special function. He touched on the timber tax proposal and stated that he was in favor of the yield tax.

Senator Durkan regretted the failure of passing the camouflage and expenditure disclosure act and mentioned that he did sponsor a bill calling for a mandatory jail sentence of 5 years for those who sell hard drugs and narcotics for a profit. He touched on the war situation and the necessity to guard the right of privacy.

WINDLE WINS

Aside from turning out to be one of the most successful winter steelhead seasons on record, last winter provided the making of a story of real personal heroism.

The Game Department recently received a letter from Lt. General W. R. Peers, a steelheading customer of Forks guide Sam Windle. General Peers' letter chronicles the instant reaction and quick judgment which triggered Sam Windle into saving the lives of at least two people.

"On Sunday, 15 March, I went fishing with the Fishing Guide Sam Windle on the Soleduck river. Major General Mike Kauffman... was with us."

"Sam Windle's spontaneous and effective reactions early that morning, in my judgment, save the lives of at least one, and possibly two people, and I thought you should know about it."

"We had just loaded our boat at the landing above Highway 101 and about to push off, when another McKenzie river boat put in a few feet upstream from us..."

"The other boat with three passengers (an old man whom I would guess in the 60's was at the oars and a man and a young boy of 10 or 12 were seated in the front of it) pushed off into the current and passed from our immediate view."

"The next thing we knew, Sam Windle shouted a warning and was out of the boat like a flash. As we turned to see what had happened, we saw the boat tip over and submerge as it went down under some overhanging brush and stumps a few feet down the river."

"Sam moved very rapidly to get out on a branch where he reached the old man and pulled him in so he was in shallower water and we could help him to shore. His boots were filled; he was tired, almost spent, and probably would not have made it without Sam's help."

"Meanwhile, the boy who was a few feet downstream lost his hold on a branch and was swept downstream. The man, whom I assumed to be the boy's father, was a few feet further downstream in the water and holding onto a small limb, but quite calm."

"He grabbed the boy and kept him afloat until Sam could get out on the limb to drag him to safety so we could get him ashore. The boy's boots had been pulled off by the fast current and were dragging him down. He was a fine boy, frightened as might be imagined, but not panicking. Without the boy, it was quite easy for Sam to help the other man to safety."

"One can never be certain, but in my view in that fast current, had Sam not reacted as rapidly and effectively as he did, the elderly man would probably have perished as might have the young boy. Both General Kauffman and I were tremendously impressed by his actions and his unassuming, matter-of-fact attitude."

"The boat which tipped over was swept down the river to beach on the far bank. After we finally got onto the water, Sam rowed over to help them get their boat righted and drained."

"All in all, it was a tremendous performance, and I for one am glad to know that you have such people as this as guides on your rivers. You can be well proud of him."

Thank you General Peers and rest assured the State Game Department is very proud that persons such as Sam Windle also call themselves sportsmen.

EASTERN STAR NEWS

Mt. Olympus Chapter #253, O. E. S., met Monday night, May 17, 1971, at 8:00 p. m. with Mrs. Harvey Hoffman, Worthy Matron and Arthur Maxfield, Worthy Patron presiding. Sprays of apple blossoms and lilacs decorated the Chapter room.

Mrs. Hoffman opened the meeting with a poem entitled "The Things That Count". The altar was draped in memorium for John A. Emel, Past Grand Worthy Patron of the Grand Chapter of Washington O. E. S., in 1946-47. Mr. Emel passed away on March 30, 1971. We were again reminded of the "Golden Harvest" session of Grand Chapter to be held in Tacoma on June 24, 25, and 26. Ms. Signy Udd gave the Rainbow report, Cheryl Ulin was installed as Worthy Advisor on Sunday, May 16, 1971.

Mrs. Marvin Goldman was installed as Marshal by the Worthy Matron and Patron. Those celebrating May birthdays were Mrs. Thos. Mansfield and Marvin Goldman, with Mrs. Mansfield winning the birthday cake baked by Mrs. Art Maxfield. The next meeting on June 7, 1971, will be the ladies' turn to entertain the men and an entertaining program is being planned by Mrs. Braithwaite, Mrs. Blakely and Mrs. Howell. Visiting from Sequim was Mrs. Velma Chenault of Pilgrim Chapter #157. Meeting was adjourned.

Mr. E. C. Gockerell of the Department of Natural Resources was present to show and narrate slides showing just what the DNR has accomplished and the reasoning behind their methods. He said that one-half of the state's timber is sold here. These pictures will be shown next week to the Board of Regents at the University of Washington. Mr. Gockerell stated that they managed the forests like a farm. Trees are planted, thinned and fertilized assuring a good crop in approximately 40 years. They do "patch" cutting to cut down on erosion and for easier seeding. They also have several primitive campgrounds in different areas. A section on the Hoh has been set aside for the National Science Foundation of the U. of Washington to do further studies in the near future. Many of the bridges are cedar logs and designed by the late Gordon Marsh. Fire protection was also explained and shown how a helicopter was used to drop a fire hose in the river where the water was pumped out, and the other end flown over to fire fighters; thus saving much valuable time. It was a very informative and interesting program.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Maynard Lucken and Mrs. Doran Jackson.

HOH VISITOR CENTER ANNOUNCEMENT

Olympic National Park Supt. Roger W. Allin announced recently that interpretive services at the Hoh Rain Forest will be increased starting Saturday, May 22.

Hours for the Hoh Visitor Center will be 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily. Guided interpretive walks along the Spruce Nature Trail will be conducted by a ranger at 9 a.m. every day except Thursdays and Fridays.

Campfire Circle programs will be presented on Saturdays at 9 a.m. through May and at 9:30 p.m. starting in June. Saturday, June 19 will mark the beginning of a full schedule of daily interpretive activities for the Hoh rain forest.

SOL DUC HOT SPRINGS ALSO OPEN

Olympic National Park Supt. Roger W. Allin has announced the opening of the Sol Duc Hot Springs Resort for the 1971 visitor season.

At this time most of the overnight lodging facilities are open as is the trailer court and thermal spring baths. Food services at this time are limited. The two pools will open by May 29 when the resort will begin full operations.

STEELHEAD

Challenging, fighting ability and size have made this trout the trophy fish of the Evergreen State. The steelhead which is a sea-run rainbow supplies the sportsmen with both winter and summer action. The latter being less common as good summer-run steelhead streams are primarily those of southeast Washington only.

Here, locally, Larry Barger, Bogachiel Rearing Pond superintendent, announces that the steelhead release program has been completed for this season. A total of 216,500 fish in the 7 to 10-inch bracket have been released in area streams.

HERE AND THERE

Wildlife Agent Jim Aggergaard once again warns about dogs running deer. Sunday, May 23, will mark the opening of trout season on the upper rivers, tributaries, and beaver ponds.

A few more inches of snow were added to the Olympic back country early this week. It looks like a short hiking season is in store for outdoorsmen this summer.

Reports from the lower Hoh are that some nice size spring salmon are entering the silky waters of the westside drainage. Thirty and 35-pound fish were reported.

Saw George Olsen with a bus load of students heading for the Hoh Rain Forest early this week. A real outdoorsman, that Mr. Olsen.

Plumb tucked out. Mother and I rode to Tacoma with D.J. and Marge. "Hoss" bowled with Darigold Saturday and then with myself and the rest of Brager's Blacksirts Sunday. Saturday nite we took the girls out on the town. Like I say, boy, 'am I pooped!

Of the six teams from Forks bowling in the BPAA team finals, Bob's Texaco and Brager Bros. were on the board. Should win a little. We bowled with the top team, a bunch from Everett, who hit a fantastic 1135 scratch game. Low series was 601 and team series 3274. Some shooting.

Barb Windle hit 214 and Kathy Decker 503 on Tuesday Afternoon. Dorothy McCoy picked off the 3-7-10 and Jerry Diimmel the 5-10 and 2-7.

Roy's Offset Printing set a new hi team game of 889 and new series of 2444.

In the Olympic Traveling League, George Richardson hit a 235-682.

Thursday Beginners: Pat Lindquist 405, Colleen Gagnon (again???) 156-425, and Linda Yothers 400. Captains: Kathy Decker 190-540, Ollie Swearingen 188.

Thursday Nite Mixed: Phyllis Whitehead 189-503, Kathy Hamby 206, Reta O'Keefe 187-510, and Rae West hit a very consistent 1-4-135-133. Darrell Thomas 245-632, Bill Long converted the 5-10, Jack Banner 4-5 and Al Whitehead the 6-7-10.

Jerry Beebe won a ticket on the T.V. at Saturday Nite Monte Carlo. Lauri Rollins missed her shot at the big Jackpot, as did Louis Lato and Arden Prissel.

Darrell gathered a few of the guys together and hit a 627 at the Villanma Tournament in Tacoma, leading his team into first place so far.

By the way, whoever was responsible for grading the parking lot at the bowling alley, thanks a million, not only from Darrell, but from all of us who bowl.

WARNINGS FOR CARELESS BOATERS

In Washington last year, there was a total of 121 boating accidents which caused the deaths of 49 Washington boatmen and injured 18 others. Total property damage from the accidents totaled $305,700.

Coast Guard statistics clearly illustrate that in over half of the boating accidents, the operator was at fault.

Vessels capsizing as a result of operator mishandling is by far the most consistent cause of lives lost in boating accidents. Chief among the operators' faults are improper loading or over-loading of the boat, ignoring weather warnings and proceeding under unfavorable weather conditions, and operating in waters which exceed the limits of the craft and/or the operator's training or experience.

Personal injuries in boating accidents are primarily caused by collision which is, again, the result of fault by the operator. The increasing popularity of water skiing and the failure of the boat's operator to maintain a forward lookout is a dangerous combination on the water.

A Coast Guard brochure dramatically illustrates the importance of proper ventilation when it describes the potential explosive force of one cup of gasoline spilled in the bilges as equal to 15 sticks of dynamite.

It is evident from these statistics and a predicted record number of over 100,000 boats tooling around Washington's waterways and over 5,000,000 boats in the nation, that caution and common sense at the rudder and wheel could be lifesavers this summer.

Summer Starting Date Set

Complete schedules of summer classes to be offered by Peninsula College will be available after May 15, according to Registrar Floyd Young.

With classes scheduled to begin with registration June 14, the day before the start of classes, the summer span will continue through August 12.

"A variety of courses will be chosen for the summer quarter," Young added, "so that students will be able to either begin their college education or continue to pick up additional credits necessary for their projected educational development."

The high school chorus, under the direction of Stan Scells, entertained 425 children in the team teaching area of the primary school building, with some selections from the Spring Concert to be held May 18. Accompanying them on the piano was Miss Julie Baker. The children enjoyed it very much.

Research important At Peninsula

BY SHELIA SCHOTT
Peninsula College can well be proud of its Fisheries Department and what it is doing in the way of fish research and management on a local level.

In 1963 a survey was made by the Bureau of Indian Affairs and the Washington State Employment Security Department showing the need for this type of program.

An advisory committee was set up, consisting of representatives of local industry, state and federal game and fisheries personnel, and representatives from sportsmen's groups.

It was decided that Peninsula College enjoyed a unique and favorable geographical position with close access to the Strait, local streams and lakes. So it was that in August of 1964 Robert G. Mausolf was hired by Peninsula to head the fisheries program.

The program was launched with 24 students enrolling in 1964. By 1965 the need for another instructor was apparent and the college hired Donald R. Well.

The Fisheries Department started in one room at the old college campus located at Port Angeles Senior High School. It has grown to consist of a large building containing one classroom (lecture), one combined laboratory-lecture room, museum, washroom, office for two instructors, preparation room, workshop and a large covered area for hanging nets and storing small boats.

Not far from the main building is a small hatchery building with outside concrete ponds serviced by a creek flowing through the campus. A 28-foot boat, used for training purposes, is based close at hand at the marine dock.

By 1968 the need for another instructor was apparent, so the college hired Mr. Richard B. Grnols, with the previously hired teachers makes up the present staff.

Two years ago the fisheries department started a study of Lake Crescent. They have mapped the entire bottom of the lake showing depths. (This map is available at the college book store). They have taken samples of the fish from the lake in order to classify them, and helped the fisheries department mark and plant fish in the lake.

According to Mr. Mausolf the study was supposed to end in January, but will be continued indefinitely. At the present time the fisheries department has acquired a television camera that will photograph under water to depths of 600 feet. They hope to start photographing the lake in the near future.

The current research project at the fisheries department is the embryonic and larval development of the silver salmon, which at the time of this publication will be in its 21st day. The salmon were taken with hand dip nets from the waters of the Dungeness Hatchery. They were hand spawned and the eggs fertilized at that time. The eggs were then transferred to an aquarium at the college where they have been checked daily at 2 p.m. The students remove eggs at each check time and study them under a microscope. Then they write a daily report on the development of the embryo.

The students raise about 200,000 fish in the campus hatchery each year. These fish are planted in local waters. The State Fisheries department regulates where the plants are made.

On completion of the two-year fisheries curriculum, the fisheries student receives an Associate of Applied Arts Degree and a fisheries certificate, which qualifies him for jobs in any of the following categories: Scientific Aide I, Scientific Aide II, Hatchery Assistant I, and Biological Aide.

Lloyd Receives Invitation

The Stadium High School Band has been invited to play in an international school-band festival in Austria in July, 1972, as part of "Austria Youth Year, 1972".

John Lloyd, band director, received the invitation from Dr. William D. Revell of the University of Michigan, who will direct the festival.

Mr. Lloyd was music director of the Forks schools from 1957 to 1964.

A beautiful bouquet of cherry blossoms decorated the bride's table when Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Robertson celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary with an open house May 15 at the V.F.W. Hall.

Hosting the event were the couple's daughters, Elda and Michelle, who were wearing identical peasant-styled dresses in different color combination and a corsage of white carnations.

Mrs. Robertson wore a yellow knit, street length dress and a corsage of gardenia and talisman rosebuds, identical to the one she wore as a bride.

Mrs. Jack Brown poured. The Browns were also the best man and maid of honor at the wedding 25 years ago. Mrs. John Siegworth cut the cake, which was made by Mrs. Rocky Fletcher. Miss Diane Demorest presided at the punch bowl and Miss Leesa Brown tended the guest book.

A pleasant surprise for the Robertsons was the unexpected arrival of his sisters, Mrs. Frank Falcone and Mrs. John Siegworth, who came up from LaPuente, California, for the event. Other out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Al Rust from Tillamook.

The honored couple received many lovely gifts and a wishing well with money. Flowers arrived from Mr. and Mrs. George Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. D.H. Hardy and Mr. and Mrs. John Leppell Jr. The reception was followed by a dinner at the Vagabond, hosted by Gene Lemmon, brother of Mrs. Robertson.

THE FLAGS DON'T WAVE ANYMORE

And the bands don't meet the ships; but the sick and disabled man returning from Vietnam has given just as much as his dad did in World War II.

Maybe he's given a little more.

In addition to his health, his strength, and his earning capacity, he's lost some of his confidence in his fellow citizen. If a little lump of bitterness is added to his other aches and pains, who can blame him?

Thousands of young men are bedfast for life--others are destined to spend the rest of their days in wheelchairs or on crutches, as the result of a war they didn't start and in a cause they haven't fully understood. Many more have found themselves handicapped in adjusting to the challenges of a civilian life which has passed them by.

A grateful government has provided hospitalization where needed and some compensation where impaired earning power can be proven, but no government, no matter how well meaning, can provide the personal touch and the individual understanding that staves off despair.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars is pledged to serve the disabled and needy veteran and to aid and comfort his dependents. Combat veterans themselves, the members of the V.F.W. (and the wives, mothers, sisters and daughters who make up its Ladies' Auxiliary), have met the challenge of lending a helping hand in the battle against doubt, boredom, bitterness and despair. In Veterans Hospitals, at the seats of government, and in the community, you will find V.F.W. volunteers and trained staff members at work in behalf of the returning veterans.

Funds are needed to carry on their program. While the V.F.W. raises most of its money from its own members, the public is offered an opportunity to help by the purchase of a Buddy Poppy during the annual sale.

Buddy Poppy Day in this area will be on May 21 and 22. When a V.F.W. volunteer offers a Poppy, please contribute generously. Your help will go a long way toward smoothing the path of a deserving young man.

TRAIL RIDERS NEWS

By Barbara King

Here it is Monday evening and for a change I'm doing my column a night early! I usually am doing it Tuesday morning at the last minute.

Doreen Planes and I were thinking back a few days ago, about the days when we really had to scrape the phone book to find eight head of horses, in order to entice a horse-shoer to come out here. The horse population has grown just slightly since those days. On his last trip here, Jerry Tucker put shoes on 38 head and trimmed 201! That is just about half of the horses in the area. As the summer grows closer the more there will be to do. Soon anyone shoeing horses in the area will wish they only had eight to do.

Some people around here don't wait for their own mares to foal, they do it a harder way...they take on an orphan foal. The people in this case are Harold and Betty Tuttle. The foal is a purebred Arabian colt out of a mare named Raffon, by Mirrey. The mare died five days after foaling, the cause, unknown. The Tuttles heard about the little fellow and went to Enumclaw and bought him. They have named him Shi-Tan, meaning "little devil". Right now their schedule is being scheduled around his every 4-hour feedings.

The feedings are a mixture of whole milk, skim milk, ground calf manna, Karo, and lime water served in a bowl. They just hold out the bowl and the colt sticks his muzzle in and comes out for air in about four minutes when the formula is all gone. He seems to be thriving, as well as good looking. Good luck to all concerned!

The Tuttle's also recently purchased Betty Munson's yearling filly, Syndomin. There is something that gives us the feeling that Harold and Betty are going into the business in a few years. The immediate plans are the show rings. More good luck to you both.

Melody, the Lefler's buckskin mare, (and a Music Mount mare at that), was visited by that stork last Tuesday. The little buckskin filly he left is last of his deliveries at their place this year. Six foals running and playing together is really a sight to see.

At last we have a foal on the place that is mine! Our Radette, gave birth to a fine chestnut filly last Wednesday evening. The old bird didn't have a thing to do with this baby, she did it herself. The filly, Kadife, meaning velvet, is doing fine and Radette and I are recuperating nicely! Barn talk: Wranglers' meet-ing May 20th, at 7:30 p.m. Dr. Mowbray will also be here the 20th. Rein Riders trail ride the 23rd, starting here at 10:00 a.m. The Rein Riders open horse show, June 6th. Better weather, please!

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Atkinson are the parents of a baby girl born May 7. Katrine Dawn weighed 7 pounds, 15 ounces and her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. William R. Atkinson of Harrisville. New York and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Moore of Canton, New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Terry Pedersen are the very proud parents of a baby girl born May 14. Joelle Leeann weighed 5 pounds, 7 ounces. Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Loral Gossage of Forks, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Woodside of Port Angeles and Paul Pedersen of Port Angeles.

FORESTERS MEET

Ken Sweeney, Clallam County planner spoke to the monthly meeting of the Society of American Foresters May 7, at the Vagabond Cafe in Forks.

He told of the problems of the county and the need for planning in the rural areas especially restricting development in flood hazard areas.

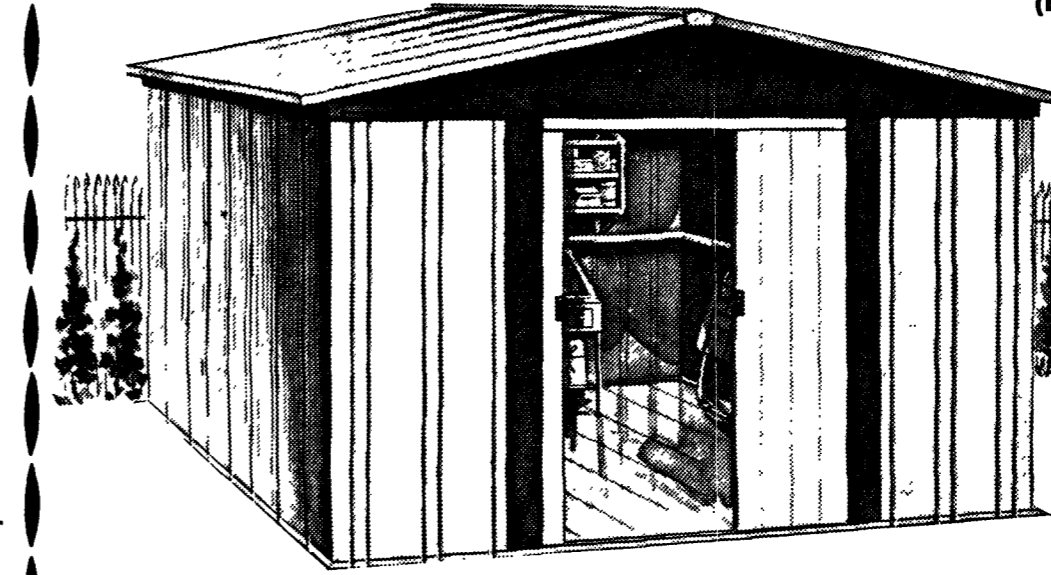

It is important to plan ahead while the plans are still flexible.

Our country grew 13% in the 50's and 16% in the 60's and is projected to grow another 33% by the year 1985 which will bring the county population to over 46,000.

Mr. Sweeney will be developing a forest and agriculture use policy, a zoning ordinance, making specific recommendations as well as working with an appointed citizen advisory committee.

Jehovah's Witness News

Charles Meinzner, of Forks, reported that the three-day convention of Jehovah's Witnesses in Shelton drew to a close on Sunday, with a peak attendance of 1,701 for the public lecture.

Malcolm Van Ike, an official of the Watchtower Society, delivered the advertised talk, "What Is Behind the Spirit of Rebellion?" He acknowledged: "Sometimes those in rebellion are sincere--moved by injustices." Then he added, "Really, the point is, whether sincere or selfish, rebellion has failed to solve man's basic problems.

It should be shunned because it is condemned in God's Word." Van Ike concluded by explaining that it is Satan the Devil, the deceiver, who is behind the spirit of rebellion. He urged all in the audience to follow the course of obedience to God's laws and righteous principles.

Saturday's baptism service was enjoyed by a large crowd who witnessed the immersing of 50 new ministers for the group. The evening program highlighted the assembly theme, "Implanting of the Word." Practical means for teaching effectively the truths of the Bible were demonstrated and discussed. The shortness of time left for the present world was stressed, making it vital for the current generation to hear the message of Christ's Kingdom and respond to it. Meinzner explained that the opportunity to hear this message is being offered by Jehovah's Witnesses in 206 lands throughout the earth, with a million and a half teachers using over 160 languages.
