School Levy Fails

The Special Levy submitted to the voters by the Quillayute Valley Schools went down to defeat, not by lack of validation, because 486 votes were needed and 593 people voted. Not by lack of a majority of "yes" votes, because the vote was 308, "yes" and 285, "no", but because it did not get the 60% "yes" vote that is necessary for passage. FORKS TV CLUB TO MEET

A meeting of the Forks T.V. Translator Club will be held in the VFW Hall on Thursday, June 10, at 8:00 p.m.

All persons who are interested in the translator, or are using the facilities of the club, are urged to attend this meeting.

Due to a shortage of finances, some means of financing must be made in order for the club to exist. At the present time the only means of the club are from the voluntary dues of the members. If you wish to have the club continue, come to the meeting and voice your opinion.

Rabies, Summertime Caution

Each summer the number of possible and confirmed rabies exposures takes an up-turn, due to increased contact of people and pets with wild animals. Last year, as in the past several years, bats were the only native Washington animal found positive for rabies. (One skunk imported from Oregon was rabid.) However, the possibility of rabies appearing in other animals in Washington exists. Physical contact with all wild animals should be avoided. Any animal bite should be immediate-and medical advice obtained promptly. Board of Health regulations require that any fox, skunk, raccoon or other wild animal which bites a person must be sacrificed and tested for rabies; only dogs or cats may be quarantined and observed for signs of rabies. If the biting animal is not available for laboratory examination or quarantine, the decisions as to whether to administer rabies prophylaxis must be based on the circumstances of the bite. All bat bites should be treated as rabies exposures unless the bat is tested and found negative.

Pen Ply High Bidder

The Peninsula Plywood Corporation of Port Angeles was the successful high bidder on the Calawah Skyline Timber Sale, sold recently by the Soleduck Ranger District, Olympic National Forest.

The total bid value was $600,529.40 for 12,300,000 board feet. The sale was appraised at $857,964.40. Seven bidders competed for the sale, according to David Lanham, District Timber Management Assistant.

Calawah Skyline is the first skyline sale sold on the Soleduck Ranger District.

Almost all current logging is being done by highlead methods because of steep topography and potentially unstable soils. A skyline logging program was started this year to protect soil and watershed values further.

By using skyline equipment, the logs can be suspended clear of the ground, and yarding distances can be increased. This means fewer miles of road will be necessary, and unstable soil areas can be avoided.

About one-third of the remaining old-growth acreage planned for cutting on the district will require some sort of skyline, balloon or other advanced equipment, Lanham said.

SUE SHEARER
Photography by Ron Paul, 4-H Photography member.

Miss Sue Shearer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ron Shearer of Forks, was selected to represent the State of Washington 4-H members for one of the two $800.00 scholarships awarded nationally to two 4-H members who will enroll as a college freshman in the fall of 1971 who will be majoring in agronomy, soils, entomology, plant pathology, horticulture or ornamental horticulture.

Sue is a member of the Buttons and Bowls 4-H club, under the leadership of Mrs. Ron Shearer. Following is a story written by Sue, telling of her experiences and knowledge gained through her 4-H years:

"Upon entering my last year in 4-H club work I suddenly realized that half of my life has been spent in 4-H work. As well as completing my last 4-H year, I will graduate from high school and plan to carry on with some of the same interests by attending college in the fall.

4-H kept me occupied with worthwhile things in summer during my first several years. Lately it seems I have an impossible amount of things to do in the summer, especially around fair time. My community is rather remote, being 60 miles from the county seat. We have our own 4-H fair prior to the county fair and our own achievement night. This has given me many opportunities to help plan and participate in program and activities. Our fair is a tremendous amount of work. About a week after it's completed, all blue ribbon entries must be re-tagged, registered and packed and sent on to the county fair. The local fair adds a lot of interest to the program for the 4-H'ers and creates a closeness and feeling of unity among all clubs. The fair has given me an excellent chance to develop leadership and accept responsibility.

4-H has given me the chance to travel that I wouldn't have had otherwise. Traveling to Conference was invaluable to me. There were many new experiences, such as traveling by bus (it takes 10-1 1/2 hours from where I live to Pullman, Washington). Exploring the WSU campus and getting a taste of dorm life was really great!

I met many people and made more lasting friendships at county camp than at Conference. Attending county camp has always been fun, but more so since I became old enough to share the responsibilities, plan programs and lead groups. All ages learn to share responsibility at camp through KP duty and keeping their barracks clean. Camp and conference has given me a chance to talk to other 4-H'ers and gather new ideas which could be useful in my community as well as the county.

Through my 4-H activities I have become used to taking responsibility and gained confidence. This confidence has helped in many ways in Junior High and High School. I always thought planning and preparing 4-H fairs was hectic until I was general chairman for the Junior Prom. The amount of responsibility and cooperation required was really incredible. This year I am editor of the yearbook and there is a lot of pushing and urging involved. Last week we just met a forty-page deadline and now have only two weeks to get in another thirty pages.

Early training in keeping records has been invaluable to me. Where it once seemed a discipline, I now see how necessary it is in so many of my activities. This previous experience has been helpful with many school activities, such as homecoming floats, junior prom and tolo, for which records of expenses, etc. must be kept. Now that I have realized how important record keeping is, I encourage younger members to keep accurate records.

For many years I have been interested in entomology, but it wasn't until three years ago I had the courage to take it as a project. It has been many years since anyone in this county has carried the project, but I decided if I really wanted to learn, I would have to go ahead on my own. I ran into a number of stumbling blocks, such as finding good reference books. Our County Extension agent loaned me two books and has provided helpful information and a lot of encouragement. Another thing bothered me, I wasn't sure if I had properly pinned and labeled my insects. During my first year I searched in vain for another collection to look at. It wasn't until the end of the year at the Puyallup Fair that I was able to observe other 4-H collections. What a relief when I saw a blue ribbon on my collection and realized that the judges had found my methods of pinning and labeling correct.

My parents have been very helpful in furnishing new reference books and opportunities to collect and study. As I become involved with entomology, the more interesting it becomes. Last year I participated in the entomology activity at the State Fair for the first time. While there I had the opportunity to talk to other contestants and the Extension Entomology Specialist, who urged me to continue in this field of study. I was also asked to attend a short course in entomology at Washington State University last April and helped demonstrate pinning and labeling of insects, to the other 4-H club members who attended the short course also.

Since I started taking this project, many people in the community have become interested and help by bringing me insects they think are interesting and unusual. As a result I have added several curious-looking insects to my collection. This year there is another young member taking entomology in my junior 4-H club. I believe this is a very worthwhile project if you are interested. Now I wish I had taken the project earlier, because this is my last year in 4-H and only the third year in entomology.

This year Sue has taught the 5th and 6th grade students in the Forks Grade School, the proper methods of killing insects for mounting, how to mount them and how to properly identify insects. Sue says this has been a most enjoyable experience.

THE PRIMARY CORNER

On Friday, May 21, the second graders took a field trip to Mora and Rialto. The trip also included a visit to the weather station. Upon returning from the field trip, Miss Smith's class wrote reports on what they liked best about the trip.

Here are a few samples of these reports:

The Ocean and The Woods
By Lesa Roark

On Friday our class went on our field trip. We went to the forest and the beach. We went on the bus. When we got there we were put in two groups. I went to the beach and I looked for shells, but all I found was rocks. After all the fun was over at the beach, we got back in the bus and went to the woods.

In the woods the ranger told us about all the animals. He told us about the birds, that make their nests in trees, and about the bears, and the beautiful trees. The one that I thought was interesting was the tree that had its roots out of the ground.

Our Field Trip

By Bonnie Cassell

I saw some seaweed floating in the ocean. There were some sea gulls flying in the sky. Down by the ocean a ranger told us we could find some things. I found some dried seaweed on the beach. We found other things like shells, barnacles and sand fleas. I liked the sand fleas the best. When it was lunch time the boys thought they saw a whale, but it was only rocks.

The Woods
By Jim Decker

It is fun to go to the woods. There was a pond in the woods. We walked out to the pond on a log. I saw a skunk and a bird's nest.

In the Forest and On the Beach
By Leif Stohl

In the woods we saw a bird's nest, a pond, Hylpads, slugs, and a chipmunk. At the beach I saw crabs, rocks and driftwood. After the beach we went to the weather station. We saw a weather balloon. What I liked best was walking on the beach.

The reports were all interesting because they included the children's personal highlights of their trip. However, due to lack of space, we were unable to include all of them.

Approximately 75 friends and relatives attended a reception honoring newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Jensen of Forks on the afternoon of May 16 at the First Christian Church in Port Angeles.

Hosts for the reception were Mrs. Jensen's father, Mr. Ed

McMillen, and her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Merle Wilson, all of Port Angeles.

The Jensens were married in the Wilson home on May 2, with Rev. Harold Sorter performing the double-ring ceremony. Mrs. Jensen is the former Helen McMillen Brownlee.

A pink lace cloth covered the tea table which was centered with the wedding cake, a pink and white tiered cake, made by Mrs. Ivan Bishop. Silver tea service and silver candelabra holding pink candles completed the table decor.

Pouring were Mesdames Gil Spencer and C. C. Stefani, cousins of Mr. Jensen. Mrs. Jensen's daughter, Mrs. Jack Womack, of Seattle, cut and served the wedding cake.

At the punch bowl was Mr. Jensen's son, Mr. Richard Jensen of Port Angeles. Mrs. Dale Hofer was in charge of the guest book. Assisting about the room were Mrs. June Cook, Mrs. Arthur Lowery, and Mrs. Paul Case.

Mrs. Jensen wore for her wedding, an afternoon frock of pink silk shantung, fashioned with princess lines and with full bolero sleeves of pink chiffon, topped with a sleeveless coat of pink lace. A circlet hat with pink veiling and pink slippers completed the costume.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Simpkins took pictures during the afternoon affair.

O.N.P. SUMMER FISHING REGULATIONS, 1971

No regular state fishing license is required in Olympic National Park. Some opening and closing dates for trout season are as follows: April 18-October 31, Lake Mills, Lake Crescent, and Lake Irley; May 23-November 30, Bogachiel, Dosewallips, Hoh, Queets, Quinault, Skokomish and Soleduck Rivers, including tributaries; July 1-November 30, Quillayute River; May 23-October 31, all other waters.

SIZE LIMIT

A minimum length of six inches exists on most park waters. The exception to this are the following streams or portions thereof which have a minimum length of ten inches, exclusive of tributaries: Bogachiel River below Flapjack Shelter, Dosewallips River below the falls east of Dosewallips campground, Hoh River below Mt. Tom Creek, Queets River below Tshletshy Creek, Quillayute River, Quinault River, below Graves Creek, including North Fork below Rustler Creek, Soleduck River below the North Forks.

LEAVE 'EM ALONE

Once again, State Wildlife Agent Jim Aggergaard asks the public not to pick up deer fawns. These young deer have not been abandoned as one may expect. The mother is usually nearby, and the only real danger to the fawn is the possibility of man taking him home. A person could bring a fine upon himself by doing so.

CONSERVATION AS A HUNTER

I wonder how many of you, known as the general public, have taken into consideration or tried to understand the fact that hunters are large supporters of conservation, and that these sportsmen are responsible for the flourishing of many of today's game and non-game populations.

For example, we find the California bighorn, which was once extinct in Washington, now much a part of the animal kingdom here in the Evergreen State. This particular race of bighorn sheep was eliminated in our state by early settlers who shot them for food. Today, thanks to the license-buying hunter, Washington has the largest herds and total population of California bighorn of any state or Canadian province. These sheep were transplanted by the Washington State Department of Game.

Another example is the Yakima elk herd of which the nucleus was brought to this state from Yellowstone National Park by interested hunters. This herd attracts many sightseers each winter during feeding operations at Oak Creek headquarters.

The hunters and fishermen have also been credited for the game department's 650,000 plus acres of land, 500 miles of stream bank access, plus over 400 public fishing access areas which were purchased directly or indirectly through monies provided by hunting and fishing license.

When a species becomes endangered, sportsmen are usually the first to take steps toward preserving such wildlife.

Let us consider the facts before condemning the sportsmen, the conservationist.

Sunset Highlites

By Fred Jarvis

Been working in the high country the last couple weeks, up where the snow drifts are still seven or eight feet deep. We're so high, I have to move the machine everyday at noon to let the sun go by. Shades of Paul Bunyar!

Must apologize to the Westward Hoh team for having them in second place last week instead of in first place. Someone goofed, girls. Sorry. And to Paul's Serv-U; at least you were champs for a week. Got chewed out but good over this boo-boo.

Jr. Sr. Mixed: Leta Rondeau 189-502, Lou Suchodolski 190-508, Don Markham 201, Jess Parris 202, Duke Streeter 220, Darrell Thomas 222-028, Randy Henry 178-481, Jim Rondeau 178, Ronnie Gale 147-394, Eddie Bishop 140-389, Theresa Decker 137-347, Theresa Suchodolski with a 30 average, hit a 72 game and a 146 series.

Thursday Nite Mixed: Gordy Allen 203, Vern Rondeau 537, Leta Rondeau 212-548.

Mark Thomas showed his Dad, Chuck what for the other nite. He hit games of 181-234-210 for a big 623 series. We won't say what Chuck had.

Al Whitehead had the T.V. shot at Monte Carlo Saturday nite, Reta O'Keefe the big Jackpot shot, Phyllis Whitehead half of it and Gordon McCoy one third. Sorry to say, they all had the same luck; bad.

SPORTS AT A GLANCE

By Greg Allen

The Spartans ended their track and field season last week. Last Friday was the state meet, but the Spartans didn't make it because of the eligibility clause. The Spartans did place some people at the district meet but couldn't continue past that point.

Little League and Pony League have been underway the past few weeks. On Tuesday, May 18th, the Giants, coached by Fred Orr, and the Cubs, coached by John Leppell, were matched up for the second night of team action. The Giants, as the home team, went on in fine style to overtake the Cubs, 9 to 3.

The June schedule shapes up like this: June 7th, Dodgers vs. Cubs, Mets vs. Tigers, Giants bye; June 8th, Cubs vs. Giants, Tigers vs. Dodgers, Mets bye; June 9th, Mets vs. Cubs, Giants vs. Dodgers, Tigers bye; June 10th, Tigers vs. Cubs, Mets vs. Giants, Dodgers bye; June 11th, Mets vs. Dodgers, Giants vs. Tigers; June 12th, Cubs vs. Dodgers, Tigers vs. Mets, Giants bye; June 13th, Giants vs. Cubs, Dodgers vs. Tigers, Mets bye; June 14th, Cubs vs. Mets, Dodgers vs. Giants, Tigers bye; June 15th, Cubs vs. Tigers, Giants vs. Mets, Dodgers, bye; June 16th, Dodgers vs. Mets, Tigers vs. Giants, Cubs bye. In each game, the home team has been listed first.

The results of the Little League are in for the last few weeks, and things seem to be heading in the direction of the Giants and the Cubs.

So far, the running looks like this: Giants have won 3 and lost 1; the Cubs are tied for first with 3 wins and 1 loss. The Dodgers hold down the third place with 2 wins and 2 losses. Number four position is held down by the Tigers as they have one win and 3 losses. In last position, looks like the Mets with one win and 3 losses. To get technical, the Tigers and the Mets are tied for last. These standings include games through May 29, 1971.

The weather around the Forks area has improved, so let me urge you at this time to attend as many sports events as you can. You'll really enjoy the games, and those who are playing will enjoy seeing and hearing the fans. Audiences make the teams more competitive, and the games will be more exciting if you turn out.

LISTEN TO GREG ALLEN, THE PIED PIPER OF KVAC, DOING HIS THING ON TEEN BEAT FROM 6 TO 10 P.M., MONDAY THRU SATURDAY.
