MANUFACTURE OF MUNITIONS IN RUSSIA TO CEASE

Prospective Peace Make Unnecessary Further Need of Armament; Finland Asks For Recognition.

By United Press.

PETROGRAD, Dec. 27.—Germany has asked a postponement of peace negotiations with Russia until January 24th, according to a semi-official announcement.

It is also reported that Finland has asked Germany to recognize her independence.

The Bolsheviki have issued a manifesto demanding that the manufacture of all war material cease in Russia, inasmuch as the Russian-German armistice will probably be shortly changed into a general democratic peace.

It is again asserted that the Black sea fleet has joined the Bolsheviki, threatening the Ukranian hold on Odessa.

WAS A DESERTER BUT NOT WILLFUL

R. G. Richardson, who registered at Blyn on June 5th in the selective draft, was somewhat surprised this afternoon when he called at the sheriff's office to enquire about his status to be told he had been posted as a deserter.

Mr. Richardson is a locomotive engineer with headquarters at Discovery Junction, Jefferson county. He had made application for transfer to the jurisdiction of Seattle and supposed he was so transferred. Hearing nothing, he went yesterday to Seattle and was referred to the Port Angeles board.

The local board had summoned Richardson to go with the quota leaving for Camp Lewis on October 3rd. and when he did not respond he was posted as a deserter. Upon his call at the sheriff's office yesterday afternoon the board immediately took up his case and after careful consideration were convinced that the "desertion" was more apparent than real; that Richardson had had no intention of refusing or neglecting to serve his country, so he was given permission to report at Camp Lewis and left for there last evening.

GENERAL DYMAMITING THREATENED THROUGH ANONYMOUS LETTER

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Dec. 26.—Governor Stephens today received a letter threatening to dynamite him two other state officials, and the whole city detective bureau unless $50,000 was left near Oakland next Monday.

STEFANSEN PARTY IS HEARD FROM

By United Press.

OTTAWA, Canada, Dec. 27.—The minister of naval affairs announced today that word has been received from the Stefansen party, which had arrived safely at Port Yukon, Alaska, and will probably make their way to Nome and take steamer for the south. The party of 24 men started north in 1913.

AUSTRIA TAKES HAND IN PEACE PROPOSALS

BY United Press.

COPENHAGEN, Dec. 27.—In a formal reply to Russia separate peace overtures, Vienna says that the Central Powers are willing to make a general peace on a basis of no indemnities, and asks only that other beligerents pledge themselves to the same policies.

FEMALE SPY SAID TO BE HEAD OF HUN INTRIGUES

A Woman, Name Not Given, Has Directed Continuously All Spy Work Since War Began.

By United Press.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 27.—A woman spy, credited by William Strasse as high in the German spy service, has directed the movements of Schultenberg and other master spies. This the federal officers announced after sweating Schulenberg to obtain the facts. The papers seized indicate her continuous direction from the outbreak of the great war. She operated on this coast exclusively. The papers dovetailed in with those taken in the Vonigel raid, and it is believed she is now the directing head of all spies in America.

AVIATION AND SUBMARINE BASE DEFERRED

A dispatch from Washington states that the establishment of an aviation and submarine base by the government on Ediz Hook, at this place, has been deferred for the present. The initial expenditure, it is states, would be $1,400,000, and because of the government's policy of not asking any appropriations of Congress not directly concerned with the prosecution of the war, the navy will not ask for an appropriation for this purpose at this session.

ATTEMPTED HOLD-UP AT BENNETT'S GROCERY

C. W. Bennett, groceryman at Second and Valley streets, is shaking hands with himself today over his escape from death at the hands of a hold-up man last night.

At a few minutes after 9 o'clock last night he was in the act of taking the day's receipts from his cash register when a man walked into the store, pulled a gun on him and began snapping the trigger. Three times the gun missed fire, the fourth time a bullet passed by his right shoulder and lodged in a glass jar filled with candy sitting on a shelf at his back.

The hold-up never uttered a word making no demand or giving Bennett a chance to put up his hands, but ran from the store at the explosion of the fourth shell. Bennett threw a lighted lamp sitting on the showcase beside him at the fleeing figure, but the man was pulling the door to after him and the lamp struck the edge of the door and exploded setting fire to boxes on the floor near the door. While Bennett was putting out the fire the man made good his escape.

Mr. Bennett thinks the man had been watching him from the outside of the store and came in just after he had opened the cash register. He is able to give but a meagre description of his assailant. The man was about 5 feet ten, slim and very active. He wore a gray sweater with the "rough neck" pulled up to hide his face, with a hole cut for his right eye.

ITALIAN FRONT SCENE OF BITTER COUNTER ATTACK

By United Press.

ROME, Dec. 27.—Fierce fighting has been progressing between Buso and Monte Valbella. Despite the most violent attacks of the Austrians, the Italians at fearful cost still hold their line, and in addition have made a mile of gain. This gain was the result of a monster concentration of all calibers of artillery this morning on the Italian front. Teuton attacks at Monte Grappa have failed.

Italian machine guns answered Austrian attempts to fraternize on the lower Piave.

ROME, Dec. 27.—In a desperate battle which lasted all day yesterday the Italians fought their way back to the positions from which they were forced the previous day on the Asiago plateau under Austro-German attack, according to today's war office statement, which reads:

"On the Asiago plateau the battle, which continued fiercely and sanguinarily the whole of yesterday diminished in intensity only at nightfall. Our counter-attacks made several hours before dawn, succeeded in spite of the difficult terrain and the very low temperature in arresting the enemy and carrying the fighting on to the positions from which we had moved the previous day."

RUSSIAN CIVIL WAR STILL PROGRESSING

By United Press.

PETROGRAD, Dec 27.—An unknown newspaper prints a dispatch from headquarters at the front that the fourth and eighth Rumanian armies had captured the Maximalist forces and disarmed them. Fighting at Tomsk is continuing with alternating successes. The Cossack cadets are opposing the Bolsheviki.

Trotsky has telegraphed the Bolsheviki commander-in-chief urging him to come to terms immediately with the Ukranians, that they could join forces and cut off Kalendines.

A FUSE BLOWS OUT; LIGHT AND POWER OFF

A fuse blowing out at Chimacum on the power line from the Elwha to Bremerton yesterday afternoon at 1:30 put the power and light plant on the river out of commission for a couple of hours. Later the damage was repaired and power was on again at intervals until at about 7:40 last evening, when a large transformer at the city substation burned out and put the city in darkness. This transformer was the second to burn out the first going some weeks ago, when the load was cut over onto the two remaining. There is yet one in commission and it was coupled up this forenoon and light is now on for all purposes except street lighting.

An attempt will be made to connect up the substation on Valley street which has not been used for about three years. It will require about two miles of wire to connect with the power company's lines to the west, if the transformers there are in condition for us it will then be possible to furnish power users about the city with current.

It is not possible at present to tell how long the city plant will be crippled as it is almost impossible to get repairs now because all factories are engaged on war work. The damage at the city substation is serious.

Dell Church Burned.

When the "blow-up" took place at the substation last night City Electrician Del Church was badly burned on both hands and face. He was fortunate to have escaped with his life.

The News Crippled.

Readers of the Evening News were deprived of their paper yesterday but temporary power is at hand today by the installation of a gasoline engine, and although somewhat crippled the paper will make its regular appearance hereafter.

COAL PRODUCTION OF COUNTRY INSUFFICIENT DECLARES GARFIELD

By United Press.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—Fuel administrator Garfield told the senate investigating committee today that the war's demands had caused a fifty million ton shortage in coal this year in face of the greatest production in history. The bituminous output had increased ten per cent and the anthracite sixteen per cent. He blames the railroads for much of the famine, and urges federal control.

BRITISH OFFICALS ASKING CONCESSIONS FROM LABOR LEADERS

By LOWELL MELLETTE.
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

LONDON, Dec. 27.—Labor leaders expected to receive demands from the government, when they met Lloyd-George, Geddes and other government leaders here last Friday. And they were not far wrong. The government asked further concessions from labor, including heavy army drafts. The laborites intimated they would accede, but will use the opportunity to obtain government adhesence to the principal points of labor's war aims. They may ask Carson's resignation from the ministry. Home rulers may ask extension of co-operative societies system.

PRESIDENT WILL ORDER ROADS TO BE TAKEN OVE

President Wilson Confident t: Plans Will Be Acceptable To the Railroad Heads As Well As People.

By United Press.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—Government operation of all the railroad of this country probably under M Adoo, will begin early in January, a few legal and financial problem can be adjusted, is announced by the President. President Wilson confident that the plan, including fixed compensation for all railroads will be approved by the railroa heads.

The wage question will be considered tomorrow at a White House conference with all the railroad chiefs the Act of August 29, 1916, sufficiently empowering the President to assume immediate control, but there will be necessary legislative adjustments later.

SECRETARY McADOO WILL BE IN CHARGI

By United Press.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—Secretary McAdoo, who will retain his cabinet position, and at the same time assume supervision of all the railroads in the country, calls upon all railway men to aid in the work. Existing railroad organizations will be allowed to continue for the present, railroads to receive compensation on the basis of the average of the last three years' earnings, ended June 30th last.

Actual operation of the railroads will begin January 1st, thus avoiding confusion in their operation. It means the reduction of non-essential trains now tied up.

ANNOUNCEMENT BULLS NEW YORK STOCK MARKET

By United Press.

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—The market is strong on railroad shares, showing a decided advance as a result of the announced government control. Advances ranged from 3 to 11 5-8 per share

Has Approval of Financiers.

By United Press.

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—Financial America approvs the government's operation of the railroads, says the Stock Exchange. This is the best news in years. Advances of railroad stock are generally maintained, the move seeming to restore confidence in the entire list. Financiers say the move will stabilize monetary conditions.

Secretary McAdoo, as director, is universally approved, and editorial comment of New York papers are also in that line.

Needless Transportation Eliminated.

It is expected that dining and club or private cars will be next eliminated in getting the last ounce of effectiveness from the roads.

A move is also started to curtail race - horse transportation, and theatrical companies may be forced to use regular trains.

McAdoo will select a board of directors, including a railroad war board, a commerce commission and other agencies to help direct transportation.

Labor Behind the President.

A. B. Garretson, spokesman for the brotherhoods, says labor is behind President Wilson.

It is proposed eventually to make complete the federal ownership of railways. Officials confidentially admitted this possibility.

HE AMERICAN ARMY AS IT IS TODAY

The latest official figures put the umber of enlisted men in the armies the United States at one million, hree hundred and sixty thousand. his is the force that has grown in ght months out of an army that on pril 1st numbered only 110,000 en.

Most of them are still in the training camps. Many of them are not et disciplined troops, fully equipped nd armed for battle.

But there they are, 1,360,000 of hem, already one of the biggest actors Hindenburg is reckoning ith for the campaign of 1918.

To lead them, there are over 80,000 officers. When the graduates of he second training camp get their rst orders the number will be over 00,000 as many officers as there ere privates nine months ago.

The whole military establishment, ith the marines and the auxiliary orces thrown in, numbers a million nd a half. The expansion that has aken place is as if Grand Rapids ad grown in eight months to be irtually as big as Philadelphia.

Since Xerxes led his million and a alf of assorted Asiatics across the ellespont, Europe has seen many a ampaign conducted on the grand cale. American battles have been ought as stubbornly but with smaller forces engaged. There were 2,000,000 enlistments in the Federal rmy in the Civil War. But many f this number were re-enlistments. he highest total engaged at any one ime was reached in the last year of he war. On March 31, 1865, the nion Army comprised 980,000 men.

For the Spanish War an army of 75,000 was raised. Only 60,000 en saw service.

When Great Britain entered the ar it was with a much smaller rmy. The first Expeditionary orce numbered barely a hundred housand. The Kaiser called it a ontemptible little army. Yet without its work at Mons, Paris might ave fallen. One hundred thousand en, and the encouragement they rought to the French, were enough o avert defeat in the first year of he war.

It is the hope of the Allies that nother new force, ten or twelve imes as great, will be enough in the ourth year of the war to ensure ictory.

If it is not enough, America has the en and the machinery to make a reater effort.

IME. ROMANOFF HAS ARRIVED.

A week or two ago the news was ent broadcast over the land that one f the daughters of the czar had scaped from her Siberian prison, ad evaded the vigilance of the uard, journeyed a thousand miles r more to the Pacific coast, and in isguise had become a pssenger on ne of the Japanese vessels making egular trips to this country. The ews was certainly startling, and eemed almost impossible of successful execution. All the same, her arrival at some Pacific port of the United States was expected, and conjecture was rife as to the nature of the reception to be accorded one of such distinguished if not honored parentage.

Well, Mme. Romanoff has arrived at a Pacific port, as was predicted, but not the czar's daughter. It is Mme. Melene Romanoff, quite another person, and she is accompanied by her husband in a truly civilized and eminently proper manner.

Now the world can move on as serenely as formerly.

JERUSALEM WILL NEVER REVERT TO THE MOSLEMS

As Premier George told the House of Commons the other day, the capture of Jerusalem from the Turks was of historic interest. For fully fifteen centuries it had been occupied by Mohammedans, excepting the few brief months in the 12th century when the Crusaders, one band of which was under the command of Richard the Lion Heart, of England, held nominal possession. The Premier declared that Jerusalem and Palestine would never revert again to the Turks, and as it is an English army which consummated its capture that nation should have the right to dictate as to its final disposition. On evacuating Jerusalem the Moslems are reported to have taken all Church valuables with them, including the famous treasures of the church of the Holy Sepulcre, valued at millions of dollars, and sent to Berlin the church's celebrated ostensory of brilliants—whatever that is.

LIQUORS BARRED FROM OVERSEA SOLDIERS

Gen. Pershing, commander of all the United States forces in France, is determined that nothing shall be overlooked which would impair the moral standard or the physical efficiency of the troops under his command. He has prohibited the use of all alcoholic liquors, except light wines and beer, and his officers are to be held to strict accountability for the fullest enforcement of this order. Should men return to camp in an intoxicated condition after leave of absence, they are to be made to realize that this order will be enforced to the letter. And he will do it.

"AMERICA" TO BE SUNG AROUND THE WORLD

The "Etude," a musical publication of national circulation, makes the suggestion that "America" be sung around the world at 9 o'clock on Christmas morning. Wherever Americans are gathered—around the fireside, in training camps, in the chapel, in the trenches, on the street, everywhere—they will form part of an endless chain that will encircle the globe, all singing in praise of "this sweet land of liberty." It is an inspiring idea, and easy of accomplishment. Think about it; talk about it; and at nine o'clock Christmas morning put it into execution

CONGRESS MAKING SURE MONEY IS WELL SPENT

It is probably right and proper for Congress to be probing into every department connected with the prosecution of the war, to satisfy itself and the country that the enormous sums of money being spent so lavishly is used judiciously, and that every department is exerting itself to the utmost. Everyone realizes that poor human nature is inclined to allow a little of the government money passing through its hands to stick to the palms unless they are quite sure they will be found out. And Congress is well acquainted with human nature, for it has a good supply of it itself. But it is the universal hope that patriotism and a convincing knowledge of the extreme sacrifices so many of the citizens of this nation are making will be a sufficient deterrent from repeating the disgraceful instances of chicanery and double dealing with the government that has been so conspicuous in former wars in which this nation has been engaged.

URGES GREATER USE OF CREAMERY BY-PRODUCTS

If consumers want the creameries to stay in the business of producing butter and do not want the price to go higher; they ought to use more of the dairy by-products, according to N. P. Sorrenson, of Bellingham, who spoke at the closing session of the Washington Creamery and Buttermakers' Association.

He advanced the theory that the matter of price is up to the consumer in many respects, Sorrenson said he had been obliged to close his creamery at Bellingham because he could not meet the competition of the condensers. Other creameries, he said, will suffer a like fate, production will be curtailed and the price of butter will go still higher unless the consumers realize the food value of skim milk, buttermilk and cottage cheese, all creamery byproducts which now are largely waste.

He proposed a campaign to educate the people in the use of these byproducts as food, giving the creameries an additional income that would overcome the condenser competition and enable them to do business without putting the price of butter at a prohibitive figure, which ulimately would have the same effect as the unequaled competition.

The local creamery is prepared to furnish an excellent quality of buttermilk. It can be purchased at the creamery or from the Port Angeles Dairy. Also the dairy is able to furnish skimmed milk in limited quantities to all who wish to make cottage cheese. Our people can help conserve these byproducts and not only help in the general scheme of food conservation but will directly benefit by the use thereof.

McINNES' IMPRESSIONS OF DAIRYMEN'S MEETING

SEATTLE, Dec. 21.—The State Dairymen's Association meeting recently held at Sequim was one of the most successful, looked at from a business standpoint, that has been held for a number of years. Owing to the impression that seemed generally to prevail that Sequim was a difficult and inconvenient place to get to, the attendance from the outside was not quite as large as expected.

King county was well represented and their delegates assisted materially in making the meeting an interesting one. Among the prominent visitors that took an active part in the proceedings was Mr. Benson, the state commissioner of agriculture, and Professor McDonald, the Live Stock Commissioner of British Columbia. Both of these gentlemen took a prominent part in the discussions and aided very materially in solving some of the problems that always arise in a meeting of this character.

The address of the president was a very able one and touched on matters that each and every dairyman of the state can well give serious consideration. One of the matters that came before the association meeting viz: the elimination of waste and conservation of valuable time (or in other words to make it plain, should the dairymen be compelled to burlap hogs and veal before shipping to markekt) brought out quite clearly under discussion that the dairymen had never been at fault but instead that the Seattle dock companies had utterly failed to take proper care of the hogs and veal after they had been landed. In all probability the order made some months ago in regard to this matter will be modified in so far as pork and veal shipped in by boat is concerned. Another matter that caused hot debate was the resolution brought in by the resolution committee in regard to relief in some measure from the scarcity of farm labor. The main objection seemed to be to that clause of the resolution relating to Chinese labor. The resolution was adopted.

If the farmers generally would give this matter more thought they must inevitably arrive at the conclusion that to bar out Chinamen who at this time could be of great help to the farmer and yet admit free of duty the products of Chinese labor that come in direct competition with the farmer, is unfair and unjust.

The opposition to this measure came principally from some of the King county delegates who for some years past have been trying to reach some kind of a working agreement with organized labor for the marketing of their farm products.

One of the most important resolutions passed and the one that received the least attention was the anti-discrimination resolution. This if enacted into law would prohibit a creamery doing business in different sections of the state to pay a greater price for butter fat in one section than in another.

Considering the weather the attendance was very good, and the meeting may be considered a very successful one. No doubt some very useful information was gained from the various papers read and speeches made and I feel sure that the association lived up to its record as being an interesting one. I am informed that the commissioner of agriculture deemed the proceedings of such interest and importance that he intends to have them printed and distributed by the State.

The banquet at the Hotel Sinclair was a huge success. Mr. Keller is to be congratulated on the very excellent spread. The arrangements were perfect, the attendance fine, everyone enjoyed themselves and last but not least I have yet to find a single man that does not have a good word for the royal welcome and treatment accorded him by the residents of Sequim and vicinity.

William Bishop the well known dairyman of Jefferson county, was elected president for the ensuing year. D. McI.

PORT ANGELES BOY WRITES FROM CAMP

Camp Mills, Long Island, N. Y.,
December 10, 1917.

Dear Father and Mother:

I got your letter yesterday and will answer right back. I am feeling fine and dandy and having a good time; we had a big parade last Friday to show the President that we had a good army. For President Wilson was here and there was about 5,000 to 12,000 men in it so you see that we have some army yet. I have only got two letters from you since I have been here. But I think I will get the rest of them later on for there is one man in camp got nine letters.

There are about fifteen airplanes here and some of them do some dare devil tricks in the air and there are two ladies that are flying here, one is a lieutenant and the other is a sergeant. But they can't get a commission to fly in France. They had a collision the other day over here, one airplane was going up and the other was coming down and the wings on the one that was coming down hit the top of the one that was going up and one turned over and the other hit head first and plowed up the earth, but no one was hurt.

Write soon.

WALTER AKELEY,
Co. L., Camp Mills, Long Island, New York.

TRANS-ATLANTIC AIRPLANES POSSIBILE

That the airplane is as yet only in its initial stage of development and adaptability is brought forcibly to mind by the announcement that an Italian bearing the euphonious and ponderous name of Cavaliere Mario Coblanchi, has arrived in this country, bringing with him plans for the construction in America of an airplane capable and perfectly willing to fly across the Atlantic ocean, from New Foundland to Portugal, in sixteen hours, carrying with the inventor 5 passengers. This airplane will have three motors, which will develop 1,500 horse power, and be capable of a speed of 200 miles an hour. After being obliged to acknowledge that the seeming impossibility of wireless telegraphy and transmission of the human voice for thousands of miles is an accomplished fact, who can be so skeptical as to deny the possibility of this Italian's machine doing just what he says it will.

This Proven Educator of Boys

WANTS TO AID IN MAKING A FINE MANLY MAN OF YOUR BOY Read Carefully and Accept His Proposal

Frank G. Moran, Headmaster, Moran School

"Parent Love, Wisdom, and Patriotism demand now, today, the very best for our boys: for YOUR BOY"

MR. MORAN HAS NOW MADE POSSIBLE for your boy the splendid training of The Moran School, through a highly practical and carefully worked out plan of Non-resident Scholarships. The essence of the efficient training of this foremost secondary school is now provided for your boy while he remains in school at home, and at a cost of but one-eighth the tuition of a resident student.

THIS PLAN EVOLVED BY MR. MORAN is as startling in its progressiveness as was his proposal when he founded his now famous School for Boys.

THE FINANCIAL AND INTELLECTUAL leaders of our Northwest make possible Mr. Moran's training for their boys at great cost. Now Mr. Moran is making the fundamentals of this training possible for YOUR BOY at the minimum expense.

NO GREATER ASSURANCE CAN YOU HAVE that YOUR BOY will develop into that clean, virile, manly fellow of poise and leadership than to make possible for him the intimate concern and influence of such men and educators as Mr. Moran and his associates.

MR. MORAN'S NON-RESIDENT PLAN provides his careful and personal attention to the complete development of the entire boy; physical, intellectual, moral, social and religious. Those inborn and highly important capacities of initiative, judgment, resourcefulness, responsibility, application and leadership are allowed expression through wise guidance and direction from Mr. Moran.

THE SAME CAREFUL SELECTION of non-resident students will hold as with resident students. Only clean-cut boys of character will be considered. A Non-Resident student must pledge himself to the ideals and purposes of the School and is subject to the same high standards of conduct.

A NON-RESIDENT SCHOLARSHIP A REAL XMAS present. The entire costs for the fifty-two weeks is one hundred and fifty dollars. Semester opens February first. It is inconceivable that there will not be more applications than can be accepted, so immediate action is necessary. Write for booklet and application blank at once.

CIVIL WAR FACES RUSSIA, LATEST REPORTS STATE

Independence of Ukraine Province Is Ultimatum; Ex-Czar and Family are Permitted to Leave

By United Press.

PETROGRAD, Dec. 21.— The Ukraine province has formally rejected the ultimatum not to aid the Cossacks, and demanding full recognition of Ukraine's independence. Both sides are massing for battle.

Propositions for cessations of civil war, but emphatically demanding that the Bolsheviki do not interfere in affairs of the Don region, and that a new national government be immediately formed, are made in communications from Gen. Kalendine, the Cossack leader.

It is authoritatively stated that ex-Czar Nicholas and family are to be permitted to seek a haven outside of Russia and that a decree was issued Thursday granting the imperial family's request to go abroad.

This Bolsheviki action is said to be due to the insistance of Germany in the armistice negotiations.

STOCKHOLM, Dec. 21.—It is learned the Bolsheviki are preparing a rump convention to replace the Constituent Assembly, where they were in the minority. It is stated that they might not even appear at the Assembly, owing to their small numbers.

The government is reported as dissolving the whole assembly.

HOOVER STATES HIS STEPS IN SUGAR CONSERVATION

By United Press.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 22.—Food Inspector Hoover, after a personal intervention by the President, introduced a statement in sugar hearing declaring his activities resulted in maintaing the morale of the allied nations and helped to keep sugar under twenty cents a pound. The President communicated his wish to let Hoover introduce his statement after the probers had decided to put Hoover off for another week.

SALE OF HERALD BY SHERIFF IS ENJOINED BY TEMPORARY ORDER

A temporary restraining order was issued this forenoon by Court Commissioner James Stewart enjoining Sheriff Harry C. Bishop from selling the plant of the Port Angeles Daily Herald tomorrow under the writ of execution issued ten days ago upon the judgment of Sandford C. Rose for $1,000 damages awarded him by a jury for libel.

The summons to defendants is returnable in 20 days, and by stipulation of the parties the cause will be heard before Judge J. M. Ralston of the superior court on January 25th.

The papers in the case were filed by Herman . Anderson, of Seattle, attorney for T. J. McVey, of the Metropolitan bank of that city, who is trustee for the timbermens syndicate mortgage holders against the Bee Publishing Company's plant and Sandford C. Rose and Harry C. Bishop, sheriff, are made defendants in the action.

The complaint filed by Attorney Anderson is signed by S. J. Lutz, local trustee for McVey, and by A. V. Watts, and recites as cause for action that said Lutz is owner and holder of one promissary note for $2,500 executed by the Bee Publishing Company, and also one chattel mortgage against the assets of the concern to secure the same; that sometime in August, 1917, said Bee Publishing Company sold said assets and delivered same to A. V. Watts, who filed bill of sale for same with the auditor; that Sandford C. Rose on Nov. 5th secured a judgment against said Bee Publishing Company in the amount of $1,000 and caused a writ of execution to be issued, and that said Sheriff Bishop had advertised said assets for sale on the 22nd day of December; that said defendants have not served on said Lutz any notice of said sale; that said notice of sale is illegal; that said A. V. Watts is owner of said assets and entitled to their possession; that the Port Angeles Daily Herald, published from said plant, is a going and profitable concern having valuable advertising contracts; that its good will is a considerable part of its value and would be destroyed by said levy and sale, and that an emergency exists.

The complaint then asks judgment against the defendants for the sum of $1,000; prays for a temporary restraining order to enjoin said sale, and asks that said defendants be required to show cause why said temporary restaining order should not be made permenant.

The complaint further sets out the promissary note issued by the Bee Publishing Company on November 29, 1915, for $2,500, payable on or before October 1,1920, with interest payable annually; also the mortgage securing the same.

The plaintiffs put up a bond in the sum of $1,000, to secure defendants from loss in action, the same being furnished by the Aetna Casual- & Surety Company, through Thos. T. Aldwell & Company, agents.

JAPAN'S MINISTER SAYS INTERVENTION NOT CONTEMPLATED

By United Press.

TOKIO, Dec. 22.—Vice Foreign Minister Shidehara today told the United Press representative that the Japanese foreign office was not considering intervention in Russia, and no mobilization order had been issued.

GERMANY'S PLOT AGAINST UNITED STATES EXPOSED

Count Luxburg's Telegrams Sufficient to Cause the Downfall of Argentina's President

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 21.—The State Department has made public the forty telegrams sent from Argentina to Berlin by Count Luxburg, its official representative to that country. The telegrams give actual evidence of a German plot to align all the South American countries against the United States.

One of the messages revealed that Luxburg had induced the president of Argentina to seek a secret agreement with Chile and Bolivia, a "mutual rapproachment for protection against North America.'

It also showed that Luxburg did everything possible to have Peru brought into such an agreement.

The correspondence deals largely with efforts made by the German minister to prevent any rupture of relations with Argentina, and throughout the dispatches there was a warning to his government to flatter the Argentinians and to word the note in reply to the Argentine protest against he sinking of the steamer Toro in such a way as not to offend them.

The following telegram to Berlin implicates the president of Argentina, showing his German sympathies and will probably cause his downfal, now that everything is known:

"July 10, 1917. No. 67. President in the course of a long interview protested his friendship for Germany and firm desire for neutrality in spite of severe pressure. He demanded forebearance for all ships, about six in number, proceeding to the war zone, but conceded that contraband on board might be destroyed."

GERMAN'S PEACE TERMS CANNOT BE CONSIDERED

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 21.—What purports to be an outline of the kaiser's much advertised "Christmas peace terms" has been received through neutral diplomatic channels.

The so-called terms include the following: "To leave the disposition of Alsace-Lorraine to a plebiscite of the inhabitants.

England to pay Germany for her lost African colonies and the money to be used for the rehabilitation of Belgium, Serbia, Rumania and Northern France.

Russian provinces bordering the Baltic sea, the Black sea and Prussia to become independent under a German plan.

Poland to be called an independent state under Austrian suzerainty.

Disarmament, freedom of the seas and commerce to be left to the peace conference.

Rumania,Serbia and Montenegro to retain their original boundries, with the right of access to the sea being granted to Serbia.

Turkey to remain intact.

CONSPIRATORS SUFFER HEAVY PENALTIES FOR TREASONABLE ACTS

By United Press

DETROIT, Dec. 22.—The Federal District Court jury today convicted Albert Carl Kaltzschmidt as an accomplice in a conspiracy in pro-German plots, by a band attempting to destroy munition plants, the St. Clair tunnel and stirring up military enterprises against the United States. Klatzschmidt was sentenced to four years in the Leavenworth penitentiary with a fine of $20,000. The other men associated with him were given two years and $10,000 fine. A woman, associated with him, was given two years in a local house of correction.

EMPEROR WILLIAM WILL ATTEMPT TO ENTHRONE THE EX-CZAR AGAIN

LONDON, Dec. 22.—The Morning Post prints a dispatch from Petrograd dated Tuesday, which elaborates on the report that the Russian throne is to be reestablished. The gist of the article is that Germany is determined to restore the throne and place Nicholas Romanoff or another member of the Romanoff family on it as an autocrat. The newspaper says it is expected that a German pronunciamento announcing this will be shortly issued in Petrograd, where the arrival of a body of Germans to negotiate future arrangements is impending.

The writer predicts that Germany in the future will control all of Russia and oppose the vast power thus acquired against the democracies of the West.

CHINESE PREDICTION ENDS WAR IN 1918

By United Press.

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—The war will end in September, 1918, after an American general has done "wonderful things" on the French front, according to a Chinese prediction just received here.

Parish - Watson and Company, Chinese art importers, 560 Fifth Avenue, received a large "Tang" jar, valued at $5,000, last week. The jar was made about 1,000 years ago. When it was unpacked, a piece of blue paper was found at the bottom upon which were four rows of Chinese characters which when translated read:

"Some day one American young and famous general will acieve wonderful things in the front of France, and this great world war will be ended in September, 1918."

It is supposed the prediction was made by some Chinese "scholar," or philosopher, and was placed in the jar before it was packed for shipment at Hankow, China, last summer.

BALFOUR PRAISES OUR PRESIDENT

LONDON, Dec. 22.—In the House of Commons, yesterday, in response to a pacifist's attack regarding war aims, Balfour declared that President Wilson's statements on war policy were absolutely identical in spirit with those of the leaders of thought in Great Britain. He did not think there had been in the whole history of the war more powerful state documents than those issued by the President of the United States.

When Ponsonby sneeringly charged that the Allies were sheltering themselves behind the President's reply to the Pope, continued Balfour, he presumed the member meant no more than that when a statement of policy was admirably made by the head of the great American republic it might not be necessary, and very often was unnecessary, that it should be at once repeated on this side of the Atlantic.

THE MEAT PACKERS ARE INSUBORDINATE

By United Press.

WASHINGTON. D. C., Dec. 22.—The meat packers made their first move in an attempt to block the federal trade commission food probe when Swift & Company refused to allow federal officers to examine their files. Heney, who is endeavoring to show that the stockholders in the old Chicago stockyards had been fleeced of millions by the packers, will appeal to the courts, if refusal continues.

The treasurer of the old company admitted that its president secretly agreed with Armour to form a main holding corporation, thereby freezing out the stockyards holders.

GERMAN SAILORS BARRED FROM U. S. VESSELS

SEATTLE, Dec. 21.—Four German sailors, members of the crew of the barge Charles Nelson, were taken off that vessel at Mukilteo Thursday morning by agents of the United States naval intelligence bureau and after a searching examination were ordered not to attempt to ship on any other vessel out of this port.

Later in the day agents of this department found four members of the Industrial Workers of the World employed on an oil dock, and promptly took the quartet off the job.

GERMANS REFUSE OFFERED PEACE BY THE RUSSIANS

Unofficial Reports Are to the Effect That Germany is Demanding Enormous Concessions From Russia

Special to the News.

LONDON, Dec. 21.—Dispatches from Petrograd state, it is unofficially reported, that the Germans have refused Russian peace terms. The Bolsheviki peace delegation has been called to Petrograd.

The cessation of fighting between the Russians and Germans is still effective, if reports can be depended upon.

It is believed that the German refusal of the peace terms offered by the Russians was occasioned by the confidence felt in their strength and ability to extort enormous concessions from the Russians.

WIDE AWAKE CLUB CHILDREN ENJOY CHRISTMAS PARTY

Over 125 children ranging in ages from 15 to little tiny tots, all members of the P.-I. Wide Awake Club, enjoyed a delightful Christmas party at the opera house last evening. Clarence Player the father of the club was unable to arrive on account of washouts, but wired that he had sent candy and fruit and for Juanita Lindsay, commander, to go on with the party if she thought best instead of postponing until he could get here. As all arrangements had been made the children decided to go on with the party and Mrs. Lindsay and Mr. and Mrs. O. L. and L. T. Guy assisted in making it a splendid success and the children, though disappointed at not having Mr. Player with nevertheless had a very jolly Miss Juanita certainly proved h ficiency as a commander for wi assistance of her cousins Blanche and Dorothy Guy, she to the woods, helped cut down Christmas tree and hauled it thr the streets and up to the opera h where it was set up and gaily med. To Our Customers

We beg to call your attention to a new feature of our bank, which we will inaugurate December 17th, 1917, namely:

The Statement System

Out-of-town customers will kindly mail us their deposits as formerly and we will acknowledge receipt of these by mail. At the first of each month we will mail to them a statement of their account and return to them their cancelled checks.

City customers will please bring their pass books along when making deposits and we will enter these deposits in their pass books as usual. Then whenever desired, a city customer may call at our bank and by receipting to the Teller therefore will receive his or her statement of account with the bank and the cancelled checks returned. Our new system will make it possible to oblige a customer at a moment's notice.

Without the STATEMENT SYSTEM neither our bank, nor our customers are obtaining the full benefit of our new Ledger Posting Machine.

Everybody is invited to call at our bank and inspect this wonderful machine and its workings; it is the only machine of its kind in operation in our county.

Respectfully,

J. P. CHRISTENSEN, Cashier.

MACEDONIAN FRONT IN ACTIVE HOSTILITIES

By United Press.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 24.— Germany has started a powerful offensive in Macedonia, possibly to anticipate the offensive the Allies are preparing on that front.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 24.— Military authorities believe this presages the long expected Balkan activity. Over a hundred thousand Greeks are near Saloniki, waiting to go against the Bulgarians. It is authoritatively stated that the German officers commanding the Bulgars have been withdrawn, the latter assuming command of their own troops.

The blow against Bulgaria would encourage the beleaguered Rumanians and lessen Bulgaria's Dobrudja pressure.

CLALLAM'S RED CROSS QUOTA IS NOW SIGNED UP

Manager Donovan Reports 3,000 Names Enrolled Thruout County—Those Who were Missed May Yet Sign Up

With the approach of Christmas Eve, when the Red Cross drive for 10,000,000 new members closes, it is apparent that Port Angeles and Clallam county have furnished their quota. The enthusiastic work of the scores of patriotic men and women who offered their services in the work of enrollment, and who made a house to house canvass both in the city and country, as well as the spirit of patriotism that actuated every man, woman and child, practically, in their co-operation in this great movement, has borne rich fruit in bringing to the great auxiliarf armf to our fighting forces a substantial force of recruits. Owing to incomplete reports from outside districts nothing more definite can be said than was stated in Saturday's paper, namely, three thousand for the county.

By Wednesday it is thought that a reasonably full statement can be made.

It is thought by Campaign Manager Donovan that an additional list can be secured by establishing headquarters in some hotel or drug store where people may enroll during next week as, in spite of care on the part of canvassers quite a number of people have been missed. Accordingly Fry's drug store and the Merchants Hotel will enroll members during next week.

TRIPS HOME FOR CHRISTMAS WERE DENIED NATIONAL ARMY MEN

By United Press.
CAMP LEWIS, Dec. 24.—Two jolts were received by the National Army men this week. One of these was an order prohibiting the men participating in any athletic exhibitions for monetary considerations. The other was a bulletin stating that owing to present congestion of railroads, trips home for Christmas would be discouraged.

However, these are not causing the men to be downhearted. The flood of packages coming in daily for the men and officers indicates every one of their acquaintances have taken it upon themselves to see they are well remembered Christmas, and programs will be given in camp. In connection with the athletic order, these men are now in the same situation as army musicians who have been prevented from earning extra money by playing at outside functions. The amateur standing that the new order forces upon the men is expected to make for much more interest in sports for their own sake or for company or battery pride, developing a fine quality in men who are soon to play the Big Game "over there."

CAMP LEWIS, Dec. 24.—New officers are much in the limelight at Camp Lewis. A total of 586 new officers, practically all of them wearing new uniforms, whose newness fairly spouts that they have finished the second series of officers' training camps, have arrived within the last two weeks, and are being rapidly assigned to commands with the national army forces. Some of these men are to be organized into a new training battalion for advanced work, with a view to making them commanders when the second draft men come to camp.

The enlisted men of the camp who aspire to be officers are "boning" on drill regulations, service regulations, the manual of interior guard duty and other military text books, for the matter of choosing the men for the third series of training camps is now down to "brass tacks". Recommendations, applications, etc., have all been considered, and the likely men are being watched closely as to their adaptability.

Consideration in this way for future training is a tribute to any enlisted man. It marks him as a man of mental and moral ability of the caliber Uncle Sam likes, for only men who have shown their ability are being considered.

The camp is now supplied with an attractive library of 11,000 volumes in the regular library building, and 15,000 volumes plaed in various placed in various points throughout the camp.

PETROGRAD SCENE OF STREET RIOTS AND PILLAGING

Drunken Soldiers are Dispersed Only by Armoured Cars; General Kaledine Retires as Military Leader

By United Press.
LONDON, Dec. 24.—The latest dispatches indicate that the Bolsheviki, while discussing peace with Germans are unable to control matters at home. Petrograd is in a reign of terror. Drunken soldiers of the garrison are wildly rioting, firing indiscriminately in the streets, and are dispersed only by armored cars.

Moscow reports that the Cossacks have declared martial law. General Kaledines has retired as military leader and is urging a representative government.

THE GERMAN-AUSTRIANS POSSIBLY BLOCKED IN MOUNTAIN REGIONS

ON ITALIAN FRONT, Dec. 24.— The re-capture of Monte Asolone positions by the Italians is of prime importance, for if successfully held it will confine the Austrians and Germans in the mountainous regions, where the increasing cold and winter storms are making occupancy one of extreme severity, and their line of communication and supplies in danger of being entirely cut off.

Thus balked in their march on the Venetian plain by the loss of the Monte Asolone positions within 24 hours after they had captured them, the Austro-German forces are concentrating heavily, according to all available reports, north and northeast of this important approach to dominating Monte Grappa. A new and unprecedentedly vigorous onslaught on the barriers to the plains is expected soon.

ROME, Dec. 24.—Strong Teuton attacks in the west sector near Asiago penetrated the Italian lines, the Italian artillery checking further advance. Surprise attack along the Piave river near Vecchia compelled the retreat of the Teutons.

RUMANIA STILL TRUE TO THE ALLIES

PARIS, Dec. 24.—V. Antonesco, the Rumanian minister here, has issued the following statement concerning the situation on the Rumanian front:

The armistice was simply a measure of military order imposed on us through the Rumanian front being entirely inclosed within the Russian front. It would be a mistake to make a political deduction from it. Rumania intends to remain faithful to her alliances and to work until the end with the Allies.

CAMP UPTON'S EXCELLENT BASE HOSPITAL

CLALLAM DAIRYMEN TO REMOVE DISEASED ANIMALS FROM HERDS

Many of the dairymen of Clallam county are availing themselves of the opportunity to have their herds tested for tuberculosis. In doing so, they are protecting their pocket books, the lives of themselves, their families, and any others who may use milk from their dairies. They are, at the same time, demonstrating a com mendable progressive spirit.

Those who have their herds tuberculin tested and remove the reactors —and by removing is meant the slaughtering of the animals, and not removing by selling to someone else —are protecting themselves financially by taking from their herds diseased animals that are a menace to the healthy members, which should eventually find their way to the block as healthy meat, instead of being sent to the tank. They save money by avoiding the expense which comes with the effort to regain health of themselves or that of their families after the dread disease has been contracted.

Ignorance may be bliss, but the pleasure thus gained, in this case, hardly compensates for the mental and physical suffering resulting from wanton carelessness, or failure to see beyond the dollar immediately before us.

Without question, everyone who owns a cow owes it to himself to have her tested. Just now it would be worth a great deal to the farmers of the west end of the county, and especially to those who are interested in the Angeles Co-operative Creamery, to say that their butter is made from animals free from tuberculosis.

The state of Washington has made some provision for indemnifying the dairyman against total loss. When an animal reacts to the test, provision is made for appraising the animal and reimbursing the owner. To get the full value of the testing, herds should be tested periodically; that is, once every six months, or once every year.

The statement has been made that the injection of tuberculin gives the animal the disease. That such a statement is absolutely erroneous is evident when it is considered that the serum is heated to a temperature of 240 degrees, Fahrenheit, for more than an hour, passed through a fine porcelain filter, and then disinfected and preserved by the additions of carbolic acid.

The testing is done by the department of agriculture and for this service there is no charge.

Application blanks may be secured from the State Department of Agriculture or through the local County Agent M. R. Alleman, who will be glad to give any information or assistance possible.

A few of those making application for the testing of their herds are: Frank Fisher, Albert Eacrett, Orin H. Babcock, George Critchfield, Willis Chambers, W. H. Guthrie, and J. R. Baskins. Thos. T. Aldwell has previously had his herd tested, but will have it tested again.

WHAT IS CHRISTMAS WITHOUT A TURKEY?

Many Angelans today are trying to answer this question satisfactorily, and they can't even do it by saying goose, for both such fowl are as scarce as friends of the Kaiser here just now. The supply was never so low and but few were lucky enough to get the usual table decoration for the Christmas dinner.

THE RED CROSS NEEDS YOUR AID IN ITS GREAT WORK

There is a mother who works in her home and her church for the Red Cross who said that the highest points of her life, and her deepest happinesses were the times her son, a new young second lieutenant home on furlough, talked with her as they washed the dishes together at the kitchen sink.

How these humble things, and not the dramatic ones, that bind us together and thrill us now! To those whom the war has touched, people are no much generals or colonels, or presidents, servants or ice-men or tailors, scrubwomen or kings, as fellow-human-beings; and the hope of carrying on what thousands of radiant youths have died and are to die for, centers upon the little children.

This is thinking in Red Cross ways. For the ideal of the Red Cross Treaty signed in Geneva by the delegates of nations, is merely this: that every suffering human being in war, whether belonging to friend or enemy, shall be sacred to the Red Cross. Yet the symbol of that treaty is so great, that it is the meeting-ground of the most diverse of races and the most conflicting creeds; of black, white, yellow and red; rich and poor; of Jew and Gentile, Catholic and Protestant, Buddhist and Confucian; of artists and artisan; of materialist and idealist; of general and private, Foe and Adversary—the Red Cross!

So we will put candles in our windows this Christmas Eve, that the flickering point of light shining through the Red Cross may say to the wayfarer the soldier and the sailor, things too deep for words. They will understand. For in this overwhelming trouble we have begun to be simple of heart together. The poor and the rich have begun to understand each other's sarcrifices. And we can sing Cristmas carols and not be hypocrites; for the guns that are killing men so anguishingly dear to us, are blasting out old wrongs and old hypocricies.

The Red Cross is our home way to help. The need is too great for us to compass even in our minds. The organization of the American Red Cross can do the things we cannot do ourselves—it will carry Christmas to our men. It can, if we let it, look after their little children left at home.

If you are not a member of the Red Cross, you are needed beyond imagining.

Help—because you are so needed.

To get the Red Cross to our boys and our men.

This is a Red Cross Christmas.

PROHIBITION AN EVER-INCREASING TIDE

War's necessities and the innate conviction of reasonable people are advancing the cause of prohibition by leaps and bounds. Canada's Premier has issued a proclamation that the importation of liquor into that territory is prohibited from today, (December 24th) and that its manufacture at home is to be stopped after a date to be determined later. In extenuation, the Premier states that "it is essential and indeed vital for the efficient conduct of the war that wasteful or unnecessary expenditures should be prohibited, and that all articles capable of being utilized as food should be conserved. It is beyond question that the use of liquor affects adversely the realization of this purpose."

And now comes the report from New York State that its governor has seen the handwriting on the wall and is an announced convert to total abstinence. If, as now predicted, the forthcoming executive message at Albany shall recommend the destruction of the liquor traffic in that state, that circumstance will be accepted as almost miraculous proof that one of the most accomplished of all our weather wise public men is satisfied that every sign and potent point in that direction.

WILL DECLARE WAR AGAINST GERMANY

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 24.— Declaration of war against Germany by Argentina was regarded as almost certain in Latin-American diplomatic circles today as the result of new evidences of German trickery disclosed simultaneously in Washington and Buenos Aires last night by publication of another series of telegrams between the notorious Count Luxburg, of "spurios versenkt" fame, and the Berlin foreign office.

Juanita also received her gold medal and she and Alice Larkin each received a nice book from Mr. Player.

COUNTY MAKES SURE THE DOCK FOR SMALL BOATS WILL STAY PUT

County Commissioner Garf. Davis has made certain that the small landing float for the mosquito fleet at the City Dock will stay on the job during the heavy weather of the winter months. Ten heavy dolphins have been driven to which the ffoat will be securely fastened.

Owners of small craft have heretofore had much trouble making a landing in the winter months for the reason that the float, while on the job in the summer months, would invariably make its escape in the first heavy storm of the winter.

REEVETON NOTES

Mrs. James Wooding returned to Reeveton after spending a few days at Sequim.

Miss E. Studley went to Seattle to spend the holidays with her friends.

Mr. B. Yocum was a passenger on Saturday's train to Bellingham.

Mrs. Hull and Mrs. Dimm, from Carlsborg, were Red Cross workers in this district Saturday.

Mr. Rockey, shingle buyer from Bellingham spent Friday and Saturday with Mr. Pangborn.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wooding, Sr., went to Seattle Sunday morning to spend Christmas.

Mr. and Mrs. O. E .Elder were passengers on Monday's train for Seattle.

Mayor Agnew went to Port Townsend to spend Christmas with his sister.

Mrs. Heuslein is expecting her son home from Camp Lewis to spend Christmas.

Yesterday the weather looked as if old Santa would come with his reindeers, but judging from the weather right now, it is likely he will come in his airship. But the kiddies are all anxiously watching for him.

FAIRVIEW FORUM

The Christmas program by the school ably supplemented bby the Women's Club of Fairview was given Saturday evening, the 22nd. First opening exercises consisted of reading Luke 2:9-21. Talk on picture on blackboard named "Joy Representing Angeles appearing to Shepherds with the First Christmas Present. Song, "Joy to the World," by school, Nellie Sutter presiding at the piano. Explanation of the solid white flag with blue star drawn on board, the only flag that ever floats above the Stars and Stripes. Salute to the flag by entire school; other individual salutes given by Elizabeth Page; John Roberts, Tom Winters, Mildred Headlee and Zella Page. These being followed by concert recitation of "Your Flag and My Flag," as written by Wilbur D. Nesbit, given by entire school.

Nearly every pupil had an appropriate recitation alone, and four bright future pupils not yet in school pleased the audience by their courage to come down in front and speak their pieces.

The school's program closed with a lullaby song to their dolls, by Zella Page, Laura Winters, Florence Land, Myrtle Headlee, and Mildred Headlee.

The Women's Club then took charge. Willis Chambers came out and spoke his first little boy piece, which he learned —— years (don't dare say how many) ago for the delight of the youngsters. Miss Harbaugh favored with a beautiful solo, very pleasingly rendered. The pupils enjoyed the ent rtaining way in which Mrs. O'Brien told "A Frog Story." Esther Chambers pleased all with "A Bear Story," told as the boy would tell it. Then with Mr. Burlingette as Santa Claus with the most pleasing makeup we have ever seen, and the general treat following; if anyone could have a grouch, we would say "hard to please!"

Everyone was glad to see Lloyd Page out to the school house last Saturday night. An agreeable surprise since his recent illness.

The school was in session Monday closing for the remainder of the week.

The opening exercise time was given to the explaining of U. S. Government War Savings Stamps. The teacher read the leaflet by McAdoo, "Save Money and You Save Lives."

Mr. Willis Chambers, of Wayside Farm, C. L. Babcock and E. F. Pellerin were visitors at Little Michigan last Sunday.

Mr. Nicholas Heuschlein and Rudolph Luthi, our soldiers from Camp Lewis, are home for Christmas Day.

Carl Fossett and family have moved away and are going to live east of the mountains near Ellensburg.

The Red Cross drive was on in Fairview last week. I understand about $24 was subscribed.

Mrs. Burlinquette was a visitor in Port Angeles Monday, going in to do her Christmas shopping.

DESERTER TAKEN TO FORT WORDEN TODAY

Deputy Sheriff F. H. Cooper took Vernon DeFaut to Port Townsend this morning to turn him over to the military authorities at Fort Worden as a deserter from Uncle Sam's national army.

DeFaut is one of the men who was picked up at Carlsborg the middle of last week, having registered at St. Paul, Minnesota and then failed to show up afterwards.

Ray Tardiff, arrested with DeFaut, is still in the county jail and will be turned over to the federal authorities at Seattle as a slacker.

Fred Danz, of Round Mountain, was a business visitor Sunday morning at the Page home.

May all the Year be Bright

A Calendar Party Is Jolly at New Year's

A CALENDAR party makes a novel and informal entertainment for the evening of New Year's day or any night during holiday week. It is a very prety idea to make the invitations look as much like the first page of one of the single leaf calendars as possible. Paste on a sheet of white note paper a leaflet from the calendar bearing the date on which the party is to be held. Below this write:

This is an invitation hearty
To my little calendar party.
Next Monday night at 8 o'clock
Bring all the wits you have in stock.
Be sure to come whate'er the weather;
We'll have a jolly time together.

When the guests have arrived announce to the assembled company that they have been enfered as contestants in a calendar race. To prepare for it take one of the single leaf calendars which you can buy anywhere for a few cents. This contains 365 leaves, or one for every day in the year. Tear the leaflets from the cover and hide them all over the house or apartment, in the living room, hall or spare bedroom or wherever you want your guests to go. At a given signal, the blowing of a whistle or the ringing of a bell, everybody starts on a search for the leaflets. This can be continued for as long or as short a time as desired.

The first prize should be given to the person who has collected the greatest number of days represented by the calendar leaves. This can be an ornamental calendar of some sort. The second prize should go to the person who has the most calendar leaves for any one month, but it is forbidden for players to swap leaves to accomplish this. A little diary makes a good second prize.

There should be special prizes for the people who find the dates of the most holidays—Christmas, New Year's, Washington's birthday, Lincoln's birthday, Memorial day, Fourth of July, Labor day (the first Monday in September) and Thanksgiving day (the last Thursday in November). A different prize should be given to the holder of each holiday date and should be something appropriate to the occasion. For instance, the prize for finding Dec. 25 should be a tiny figure of Santa Claus or a small stocking made of tarlatan or net and filled with tiny candies. New Year's day prize could have a small red blotter decorated with the figure of Father Time cut from a card.

After the prizes have been awarded there is usually time before supper for the date game. To play this it is necessary for the hostess to prepare in advance a number of slips on which certain well known historic dates have been written—for example, 1492, 1066, 1776, 1914, etc. These, of course, stand for the discovery of America by Columbus, the battle of Hastings (Norman conquest of England), the Declaration of Independence of the American colonies and the beginning of the great world war. Each player draws a slip, reads it aloud, and whoever first names the event that makes it famous receives the slip.—New York World.

A Song For the New Year.

A song for the New Year! Exultant its hours.
The dust of defeat hath not sullied its flowers,
But fancy hath dipped them in roseal dew,
And brought them, all blooming in beauty, to you!

A song for the New Year! A clarion strong;
Achievement through service, refreshment through song!
No mountain too mighty for faith to remove;
No labor too lowly, transfigured by love!

A song for the New Year! A message of joy;
May never a discord its music alloy!
But, growing in sweetness and melody clear,
May it ever inspirit and strengthen and cheer!

AT this Holiday Season we wish to extend our felicitations and express our appreciation of the good will extended to us in the past.

We trust the New Year may bring you happiness and prosperity.

JOFFRE LIKES SHORT POEMS

Hero of the Marne Carries Them With Him to Read in the Train.

Paris.—Talk that the Immortals may elect Marshal Joffre a member of the institute has evoked many stories of the great soldier's appreciation of literature. One of the best concerns a young poet who, on the eve of the marshal's departure for America, presented him with a slender sheaf of his poems.

Joffre, who is fond of souvenirs and who brought back hundreds from America—including cards of invitation and banquet menus—took the manuscript. Then desiring to express his appreciation, he looked at it and said:

"Poems? Oh, yes, I like them." Then after a pause: "They are just the right size to slip in one's pocket to read in the train."

Logic.

Proud Father (showing off his boy before company)—My son, which would you rather be, Shakespeare or Lloyd George?

Little Son (after meditation)—I'd rather be Lloyd George.

ROAD BUILDING URGED, TO OBTAIN PLANE SPRUCE

Port Angeles Business Men Suggest Construction of Forty-One Mile Highway to Tap Big Timber Area

(Seattle Daily Times.)

Plans for solving the airplane spruce supply problem, proposed by the Port Angeles Commercial Club to Secretary of War N. D. Baker, are being considered by the State Development Bureau of the Seattle Chamber of Commerce and Commercial Club. The trustees received a copy of a nine-page communication addressed to the War Department, accompanied by maps, outlining a plan by which the government can obtain the required supply of Sitka spruce for airplanes. The timber is in Western Clallam and Jefferson counties. The proposal is that the government shall hard-surface forty-one miles of road from Fairholme to Mora, to support heavy trucks to be used in bringing the timber to the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railroad.

The Industrial Bureau of the Chamber has been working with the government for several months, locating supplies of spruce. Col. Brice P. Disque, of the Signal Corps, now in this district in charge of the work of getting out the spruce, replied as follows:

"I have your letter of December 14, stating that one of the largest stands of spruce is in the Quinault Indian Reservation. We have actual cruises of all available spruce in the states of Washington and Oregon, and are trying to encourage operators to open new logging sites, but without much success. There is no question as to the amount of timber available in these states, and our great problem is to persuade the industry to get it out.

Would Advance Capital.

"For the present, the government has no means by which it could be operated as a governmental industry. It may be necessary to come to this, but if it does, we cannot hope to produce and appreciable quantity within the time set by the Aircraft Board. Should your office know of any business concern, logging company or otherwise which would undertake to open new logging camps, this office will gladly co-operate by furnishing labor, and, and if necessary, advancing capital."

The Evening News has been in possession of all the facts in connection with the matter referred to above in the Seattle Times, but did not publish same upon request of the local Commercial Club and because Captain Miller when here a couple of weeks ago expressly requested that nothing be published, as the matter was then considered of military importance, and the Evening News respected the request. As the matter has been given out by the Seattle Chamber of Commerce and Commercial Club the News feels its readers are entitled to the "news."

About two months ago this paper gave exclusively a plan proposed by Councilman Horace G. Horstman for getting out spruce timber for the United States government airplanes, which was that the national government be interested in providing a suitable roadway for heavy auto trucks into the spruce belt over which the logs could be transported to the railroad and to the mill here.

This was to be done by concreting the highway now in use, which for ordinary travel is in splendid condition but could not stand up under the enormous loads it would have to carry if trucks were operated over it in transporting the spruce logs.

In some circles Mr. Horstman's plan was received more or less as a jest; seriously in others. That the plan had merit was shortly shown by the fact that one of King county's most prominent men, and himself a member of the national defense council, took up the suggestion, and in company with a competent engineer of the Portland Cement Association, went over the whole road, carefully examining the manner of its construction; found abundance of suitable sand and gravel, and water at convenient locations over the entire distance—in fact everything on the ground and ready except the cement.

These men were so thoroughly convinced that the plan was feasible and under existing conditions a proper matter for government action, that they lost no time communicating with government officials, nearby representatives being sent here immediately to investigate, and the plan looked just as good to the military representatives as to those previously taking it up.

At this point the Commercial Club became interested and its action is recorded in the Seattle Times as above reprinted.

The Spruce Supply.

As to the supply of spruce the plan of hard-surfacing the Olympic Highway from Fairholme to Mora would open up and make immediately available, the government is now in possession of absolute knowledge. The government survey made in 1902 gave the standing spruce here as 2,157,330,000 feet, board measure. The western portions of Clallam and Jefferson counties have the greatest as well as the best stands of Sitka spruce in the United States. The government must have spruce in hitherto unheard of quantities and at the earliest possible moment.

Cost of Concrete Highway.

It is estimated the concreting of the roadway between Fairholme and Mora—41 miles—18 feet wide and 9½ inched thick at center and 7½ inches at the shoulders, would cost $1,000,000, and could be completed by May 1, 1918.

By so improving the highway practically the entire spruce area would be made tributary to this roadway, for the timber distant could be put into the Sol Duc, Calawa, Bogaschiel and Quillayute rivers and delivered at Mora, there to be loaded on auto trucks and carried to Fairholme and put into booms on Lake Crescent, towed the 10 miles across to Piedmont. There it is planned the Milwaukee would pick up the logs and carry them on their way over a new stretch of track of about 3½ miles, which it is understood the company would be willing to construct, connecting with their present line at Joyce.

Possibly a Government Mill.

If the Big Mill for any reason could not handle all of the logs, it is urged that the government establish a mill at Port Angeles to saw the timber. While spruce lumber is now so very important, it is a fact that the demand for fir lumber was never greater, and possibly a government mill might be required to complete the plan.

OCCUPATION OF SIBERIA BY JAPAN CONTEMPLATED

ENGLAND DESIRES NO TERRITORIAL EXTENSION

By United Press.

LONDON, Dec 21.—The foreign office has issued a comment on the German report that the Allies are accrediting legations to Ukrania, which is seeking independence.

Lloyd George says England is in full accord with President Wilson's outline of war aims, and that a fight for world's democracy to victory is not from any selfish desire. The British seek no territorial expansion, only as far as the international peace conference deems it necessary to continued peace.

This season's holiday ball will be given December 29, for the benefit of the Red Cross.

1000 NEW NAMES IN SIGHT TONIGHT FOR RED CROSS

Sufficient returns are in at Red Cross membership headquarters in the Commercial Club to warrant Campaign Manager C. C. Donovan, in estimating that by the time the drive closes on Christmas Eve, one thousand new names will be added to the list in this city alone.

In cases where complete returns are in by districts, the enrollment shows a large percentage of the residents.

The rule is to take out the one dollar memberships, but a large number of the two dollar magazine memberships have been sold also. Also a few of the higher subscriptions.

In the mill district nearly all subscriptions were for two dollars each.

Mr. Shroeder, of the Merchants Hotel sold about twenty-five memberships since yesterday. Many travelling men are joining in every town on their circuit.

Mr. A. L. Phillips, manager of the Angeles Telephone Company has joined eighteen times, five times on his recent visit to Seattle. Mr. Phil- and at Sequim, will enroll.
of the telephone company, both here and at Sequim will enroll.

The total enrollment at Dungeness and Sequim is expected to approach very nearly that of this city. Eight hundred is a conservative estimate, although no very accurate figures can be compiled for the west end of the county owning to the widely scattered territory and storm conditions, Manager Donovan feels that eight hundred is a safe estimate for this section.

He sent the following telegram today to R. R. Fox, State Chairman at Seattle. "Clallam county enrollment 2,600, anticipate 400 additional." The drive will be conducted up to Christmas Eve and many additional members are expected by that time.

SHERIFF BISHOP RETURNS FROM CALIFORNIA THROUGH WATER

Sheriff Harry C. Bishop arrived home this morning from Oakland, California, bringing with him E. G. Lowry, who was arrested in the southern city, charged with desertion of his family here. Lowry made no objections to returning with Bishop, waiving extradition.

Mr. Bishop says there are three ways of travel just now between the Sound and Frisco—by rail, by water and "through" water. He came the latter way and it was a tedious trip. He left Oakland at 7:38 Monday evening and arrived in Seattle at 7 o'clock last night. He says the train spent most of the time backing up and detouring, not to mention standing motionless considerable. They were held up twelve hours at Turner, Oregon, where the town was practically flooded, many houses floating around without any regard to lot lines or streets and alleys.

When the train finally got away from Turner it took exactly ten hours to reach Portland, a distance of only 81 miles.

THE RUMANIANS JOIN UKRAINES, CONTINUE FIGHT

The Bolsheviki Have Ordered the Arrest of the General in an Attempt to Stop the Union

PETROGRAD, Dec. 22.—It is reported that the Ukraines have united under General Techerbatcheff, and taken over the Rumanian southwestern front. The Bolsheviki has ordered the general's immediate arrest.

This may mean an early resu. bion of fighting, as the Rumanian were forced to acquiesce in the Bolsheviki armistice by the inactivity of the Russian troops.

PETROGRAD, Dec. 22.—Ukrainian troops have taken positions along the border. The Cossacks are mobilizing, and issuing their own money.

His picture was riveted to the latter passport and there is no question as to his being a slacker.

COURT HOUSE FILL SLIDES INTO GULCH

About two hundred yards of the fill made last summer on the south side of the court house took a slide last night into the gulch along the Lincoln street bridge.

For several days it has been apparent that the bulkheading put in to hold this fill would give away under the great strain, and while it was thought damage might ensue to the Lincoln street bridge and also to the trunk sewer carried underneath the roadway, the slide took place without such damage occurring and while the bridge had a nice Grecian bend in it yesterday it is almost on a straight line today.

THE OLYMPIC-LEADER

Makes Clubbing Arrangement With

TheWashingtonFarmer

Offers Unusual Opportunity to Its Readers

AMONG our large circle of readers there are a great many who are interested directly or indirectly in fruit growing, dairying and other branches of farming. All of these naturally wish to keep in close touch with agricultural activities throughout the state; and to know about any fight which is being waged for the measures Washington farmers want and against all sorts of schemes that are detrimental to the people and agricultural interests of this state.

We have, therefore, made a special clubbing arrangement with THE WASHINGTON FARMER whereby any farmer or fruitgrower, who is one of our regular subscribers and who is not now a subscriber to THE WASHINGTON FARMER, will be entitled to receive THE WASHINGTON FARMER in combination with this paper at the same rate as for this paper alone.

This offer applies to all those who renew or extend their subscriptions as well as to all new subscribers. If you are interested directly or indirectly in Washington agriculture, do not miss this unusual opportunity, but send your order in now.

THE WASHINGTON FARMER is the one farm paper which is devoting itself exclusively to the farming activities and interests of Washington. It has a big organization gathering the news of importance to farmers, dairymen, fruitgrowers, stockraisers and poultrymen; and it has the backbone to attack wrongful methods and combinations and bad legislation, and support honest leaders and beneficial measures. We are confident that our readers will congratulate us on our being able to make this splendid and attractive clubbing offer.

Few people in town knew that for many weeks past a real Santa Claus shop was in operation in our city turning out many new and wonderful toys for the girls and boys who might otherwise have to do without these pleasures of childhood. The shop was in the manual training department of the central school and Mr. Beauchamp was the originator of the idea. He found ready and willing workmen among his class of manual training pupils who enjoyed making up the many designs he furnished them. There were all kinds of animals and birds, performing acrobats, automobiles, wagons and puzzles all made from wood, and painted and finished up in fine shape. There were about 75 in all and through the help of Mrs. Cosser and the boys with their automobile they were distributed around to many homes where they will furnish hours of fun to the little folks and some of Scout Master Verne Samuelson is giving his boys a last outing for the yesterday with their packs on this morning with their packs on their backs, Mr. Samuelson taking them as far up the road as he could in his car. The boys thoroughly appreciate the opportunity of spending a day or two on the mountain above the clouds and fog and playing fox and geese and other old time games on the snow-covered clearing in front of the cabin, as well as sharpening their wits in an efort to trail their leader who is an expert at backtracking and sidestepping through the heavily snow-laden brush. They are going to miss Verne with his splendid comradship and never ending thoughtfulness and kindness, far more than they, or even their parents can at present realize. His place cannot be filled. And it is with keen regret, we, who have watched his work with the boys and know what it has meant, will see him depart even though it is at the country's call.

A pretty wedding took place Christmas Day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Chambers at Wayside Farm, when their daughter Esther was united in marriage to James Rogers by Rev. C. E. Fulmer. The bride's cousin, Thelma Chambers, acted as bridesmaid and Francis Chambers, the bride's brother, was bestman. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. P. Nichols were the only witnesses to the ceremony besides the bride's relatives and family which included Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Pellerin, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Babcock Mr. and Mrs. Ben Chambers and dinner was served after the ceremony, covers being laid for 17. The young couple received many useful and handsome gifts. They are to go to house keeping on the old Frank Chambers' farm, southwest of town.

MERCHANTS BUREAU TO HOLD IMPORTANT MEETING

The Merchants' Bureau of the Commercial Club will hold its first regular meeting since the re-organization and amalgamation of the two organizations tomorrow (Friday) evening at 7:45 at the Commercial Club rooms. It is important that all merchants be present if possible. The meeting of the Bureau has been delayed by the rush of Christmas business.

At this meeting a permanent chairman will be selected and a number of important matters will be up for consideration and it is planned to have an outside speaker versed in mercantile problems to address the meeting.

BAGGED FOUR WILDCATS IN ONE DAY'S HUNT

R. G. Winters and W. M. Danz bagged four big wildcats in one day's hunt last Sunday near the head of Siebert's creek. Their dog ran the "varmints" all day and finally rounded them up in one group of trees all within a few yards of each other, where the hunters were able to bring them all down into their game sacks. This is believed to be the wildcat record for one dog and two men in one day in these parts. the big folks too.

LOCAL EXEMPTION BOARD VERY BUSY THESE DAYS

The members of the local exemption board are busy men these days. Questionnaires have been sent out to about 700 men, and others will be mailed out each working day until January 8th. So far about 250 of the questionnaires sent out have been returned to the board filled out, and about 150 of them have been passed upon. Very few so far have had to be returned for correction.

Edward F. Hansen, of Fort Casey, and Lillian L. Thompson, of Victoria, B. C., were married yesterday by Rev. Fulmer in the ladies' reception room of the Elks home. The bride was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. L. W. Twyman., The attendants who stood up with them were Mrs. Clara Whorm and R. H. Lazinka.

COAST SPECIALTIES PICTURED TO TOURISTS

TACOMA, Dec. 27.—Innumerable reasons why people of Western Canada, Idaho, Montana and the Dakotas should spend their vacations in Oregon, Washington and British Columbia are being furnished residents of the first mentioned states by the Pacific Northwest Tourist Association. Newspapers and farm papers only are being used for this advertising campaign, and already inquiries are being received as a result.

RED CROSS MEMBERS IN COUNTY NEARLY TO THE REQUIREMENTS

Today at Red Cross membership headquarters in the Commercial Club rooms, Campaign Manager Donovan is busy meeting his district captains and checking up returns preparatory to sending in final reports to headquarters in Seattle.

Figures for the city are nearly complete and show returns very close to the largest estimates of the committee.

Reports from the east and the west ends of the county are still incomplete but sufficient information is at hand to make it certain that Clallam county is far ahead of many other sections of the state in per capita membership.

This morning a letter arrived at headquarters from Mr. G. M. Lauridsen, who is now in California, enclosing ten dollars for memberships. Those who have not yet joined may call at the office of the Merchants Hotel where Manager Shroeder will issue certificates during the balance of the week.

All the telephone girls of the Angeles Telephone Company were very generously remembered Christmas by the company, who presented each one with a war savings certificate with a five-dollar stamp affixed and a thrift card with a 25-cent stamp affixed. These were very appropriate gifts at this time and will encourage the girls to add more war saving certificate stamps to help Uncle Sam.

A YEAR'S TRAINING REQUIRED FOR DRAFTMEN

By United Press.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26.—Major General O'Ryan told the senate probers today that a year's training will be necessary before drafted men will be fit to go to France.

They tell about a farmer in Kansas who makes $6,000 a year from 160 acres of land, with the help of but one extra man. He raises corn, and alfalfa, and feeds them to thirty-two cows, and his income from the milk averages $500 a month. And he says he could make more money if he had a better farm. Some people are never satisfied.

ARRANGEMENTS COMPLETE FOR HOLIDAY BALL

All arrangements are now complete for a big patriotic holiday ball for Saturday evening at the opera house for the benefit of the Red Cross. The best musicians in the city have donated their services for the evening and a committee of Red Cross men and women will see to it that everybody has a good time. Residents of all the rural communities are especially invited to come and enjoy this dancing party, the last benefit for the Red Cross for 1917. Remember you are not simply spending your money for a good time, but to relieve the suffering of some wounded or sick soldier whose life your money may save. Dr. Fisher, president of Reed College, who was sent to France by this government to inspect the work of the Red Cross reports that there is still a great need for surgical dressings supplies. He said one doctor was operating on a bare kitchen table with no anaesthetics and about half enough bandages. Your fifty cents will buy a good many bandages. Don't fail to give it.

PEACE OVERTURES LEAVE OUT NECESSARY POINTS

By United Press.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 27.—"If the Central Powers' overtures to Russia are true, they still lack several essentials," says President Wilson. "England asserts that the elimination of Hohenzollern, a blanket formula of no annxeations and no indemnities does not cover all that is necessary to a final settlement. It leaves other kindred and vital problems out."

The overtures are considered largely as a bait to Russia.

PURCHASE OF WARM CLOTHING DEMANDED

MILWAUKEE, Dec. 27.—Eleven Italians(including one woman, have been sentenced to twenty-five years' imprisonment for participation in the Bayview riots on September 9th.

Skating at the pavilion tonight. Everybody come.

SECRETARY OF WAR STANDS BY OFFICERS

By United Press.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 27.—Secretary of War Baker today expressed confidence in General Crowder, Quartermaster General Sharpe, and other officers concerned in the senate military probe of war supplies, and made it clear that these officers will remain in their positions until proven inefficient. He admitted that their war council and experience will do much in directing the head of the war department.

HOUSE OF AMERICAN CONSUL DYNAMITED

By United Press.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 27.—It is announced that a bomb was hurled at the home of the American consul at Odessa, Russia, on the 18th of December, doing considerable damage. The consul was away at the time.

There was for a time a fear expressed that consumption of gasoline by the millions of automobiles now in use, and the extra demands of the government would create a scarcity and extra high prices of that commodity. It is now announced by A. C. Belford, chairman of the petroleum committee of the national council of defense, that there is not the slightest danger of a deficiency, which he attributes largely to the patriotism of the oil men and their enthusiastic support of the government.

The Christmas dance at the pavilion last night was one of the best attended of the year and everybody seemed to have a jolly good time. Many original and comic costumes were worn by the maskers.

Study of the eye and the results from non use when badly defective, and the action upon the nerve system, has been our life work. The temporary use of glasses upon the child that has a slight trouble of the eyes, often heads off the constant use later in life. You can have their eyes examined now without interruption to the school work, during vacation.

The proper place to have the eyes looked after is by one who makes that the entire profession.

Examinations FREE at Dr. W. A. Ingalls, Sight Specialist and Optometrist. Rooms 122-3 Warren Morse Block.
