Clearcutting Is Valuable Conservation Tool
The system known as "even-aged management" of commercial forest lands is one of the most beneficial, and at the same time most controversial and least understood, conservation programs ever carried out on managed forests.
"Most people agree that managing a forest for the multiple uses of wood production, forage, water production, wildlife and recreation is a fine idea. But when the management technique involves clearcutting, or removing an entire stand of mature timber, there is a great deal of misunderstanding and even hostility on the part of the large segments of the public," Andy Kruswyk, Jr., county extension agent, says.
However, experience has proven that even-aged management is the best way in many areas, such as the Douglas-fir region of the Pacific Northwest, to keep forest lands producing for everything in the multiple-use program.
Many trees, including Douglas-fir, do not grow well in shade. Because of this, good management requires that the entire stand of mature timber must be removed in order to provide enough sunlight and growing space for the next generation, he says.
"Actually, this system is much like other types of farming. One starts with an area, prepares it, raises a crop, then harvests it. Then he repeats this cycle.
Those who are interested in forest management may wish to take part in the Washington Resources Tour, which will be held in western Washington July 27-28. The tour will visit a tree nursery, a thinning and salvage operation, a high country logging area and Camp Grizdale, one of the few remaining logging camps.
The registration deadline for the tour is July 22. For registration information contact Veg F. Cain, treasurer of the Washington Resources Council, 1210 Centralia Avenue, Centralia, Washington 98531.

IN HIS SEARCH FOR SOLITUDE---The sounds of nature are heard by he who searches for solitude and relaxation. A lone visitor here in the Olympic National Park finds time for meditation. He hears the sounds of sea gulls. He hears that of the sea. Tomorrow he may find himself a part of the city where noise, smog and asphalt torture both body and mind. But for now, he becomes a part of nature in his search for solitude.

FIRE DAMAGES RIVERSIDE GARDENS
At approximately 10:05 a.m. Monday, July 12, a fire broke out in the kitchen area of the Riverside Gardens 2 1/2 miles north of Forks on Highway 101. The deep French fryer was the cause of the blaze. The Forks Fire Department responded immediately and in a matter of minutes the blaze was under control. Fire Chief John Henson said damage was minimal, mainly from smoke, although the grill area did come under flame damage. Riverside Gardens will be closed for about 2 days.
AUGUST TIMBER SALES TO BE SOLD
"Over 107 million board feet of timber will be offered for sale August 23 and 24," Charles Schwab, Supervisor of Timber Sales for the Department of Natural Resources, announced today. The twenty-nine parcels of timber contain 107,395,000 board feet and are valued at $3,854,990. In addition, there will be a sale of 135,000 board feet of fire-damaged timber July 20 at the Department's Ellensburg office.
The largest offering is located 26 miles southeast of Forks near the Clearwater Honor Camp. It contains 12,740,000 board feet of mostly old growth hemlock and white fir. Logging will not be permitted during the winter and early spring except on certain parts of the sale. This is to prevent damage to the soil from the heavy rains.
The most valuable tract of timber being offered next month is located 34 miles east of Castle Rock. It has been appraised at $632,050 by Department foresters.
The Douglas Falls Sale, six miles north of Colville in Stevens County, contains a special provision which requires all logging to be carried out between December and May of each year until 1974. The Department of Game is assisting in this effort.
This sale will provide the local deer population with the tops of 6,388 trees for winter browse and increase the growth of the remaining trees. It will also improve the chances of the deer surviving the long winter months when food is scarce and the snowfall is heavy, thus helping to maintain the abundant deer population in the area.
This is another example of how the multiple use management program being carried out on state-owned lands can benefit the sportsman, the logger, and the wildlife management specialist.
CLALLAM COUNTY--Shafter Creek Blowdown--8.7 million board feet, appraised at $319,420, located approximately 23 miles by road southwest of Clallam Bay, to be sold August 24 at the Forks District office.
JEFFERSON COUNTY--Mid-Kalaloch--12.2 million board feet, appraised at $352,485, located approximately 39 miles by road south of Forks, to be sold August 24 at the Forks District office.
Queets Ridge Blowdown--250,000 board feet, appraised at $9,125, located approximately 55 miles by road south of Forks, to be sold August 24 at the Forks District office.
Clearwater Camp--12.8 million board feet, appraised at $444,490, located approximately 26 miles by road south of Forks, to be sold August 24 at the Forks District office.
McKinnon Creek #2--6 million board feet, appraised at $322,232.50, located approximately 52 miles by road south of Forks, to be sold August 24 at the Forks District office.
Ocean View--2.7 million board feet, appraised at $78,965, located approximately 37 miles by road south of Forks, to be sold August 24 at the Forks District office.

18, 19 & 20 Year Olds Can Now Register To Vote
Secretary of State A. Ludlow Kramer has announced that 18, 19, and 20 year olds can now register to vote in all Federal, state, and local elections, can also file for candidacy for any state or local position. After working on various drives to lower the voting age, such as the statewide Vote-19 campaign, Mr. Kramer said, "We are delighted over our victory to lower the voting age and to give youth the opportunity to participate in government."
Offices of all county auditors and city clerks begun registering 18, 19, and 20 year olds today. Secretary Kramer has been in contact with several other secretaries of states over the past months and Common Cause, a national organization which lobbied with all of the states to lower the voting age, to develop the best method to register the new voters as quickly and efficiently as possible.
Today, Governor Dan Evans proclaimed August 15 through 20 as "New Voters' Week." An aggressive voter registration drive has begun to encourage these citizens to register for voting in the 1971 local government elections. This effort will climax on August 21, 1971, when registration books are closed for the Primary Elections.
As Chief Elections Officer, Secretary Kramer said, "I will continue in my efforts to work with the local government elections officials and all the citizens of the State of Washington to welcome and encourage our new young voters to enter into our electoral system."

Don't Monkey Around In Zoos
By Al Clarke
When Kathy Barlow arrived in St. Paul, Minnesota, she ceased Forks from her mind and went completely ape, Kathy's uncle, John Fletcher, is the director of the Como Park Zoo in St. Paul, and her cousin, LaLa Fletcher, is one of the keepers. As a matter of fact, at age 21 she is the first and only female zoo keeper at Como Park, and I think that's pretty cagey. The highlight of Kathy's visit was the opportunity of meeting and playing with two baby gorillas, Don and Donna, 60 and 70 pounds respectively. Being the more friendly of the two, Donna attracted Kathy's attention immediately. This new-found friendship was in full swing when Don suddenly took a dim view of the spotlight staying so long on dear Donna, fifteen minutes to be exact. The young great ape did what any normal young great ape would do in a situation such as this, he bit Kathy on the right knee. You might ask yourself, why the right knee? Elementary my dear Watson. It was closer than the left. Cousin LaLa stepped into view, and a sound scolding put young Donald in his proper place. Young great apes are handled pretty much as children. Discipline is most important.
Don's attitude completely changed. Although he would have nothing to do with Cousin LaLa, Kathy became the apple of his eye. (the goril-of his dreams). Everything turned out fine. Kathy's knee is none the worse for wear and tear. Musically, she is probably whistling "Fangs For the Memory."
To sum it all up, if Darwin's Theory is correct, it was merely a case of kids getting to know each other, and maybe that's why I still get a charge out of climbing trees. Moral: It's perfectly alright to monkey around Como Park Zoo; just don't try to ape Donna's brother. Oh, brother!

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

NOTE: Letters to the editor, in order to appear in print, MUST be signed by the writer. If not signed, they will not be accepted.

Editor, Last week in the paper, I read the two letters concerning the subject about the crowning of the 4th of July queen. Since I also was in the running, I thought I would tell my side of the story.

It was a shame, being as there was a tie between two of the contestants, that one of the two didn't get the honor of being crowned queen, but then someone does win while someone does lose. It is also a shame that the one that did happen to lose couldn't have accepted the fact with dignity and taken the situation with good grace. Funny thing, all the time I was in the presence of the present queen during the morning of the crowning, not once did I hear the 1st runner-up congratulate the queen. Not that this is extremely important, but it would have shown some concern for someone else besides herself and her loss, which seems to have meant so much to her. It was rather odd when the queen was thus named; I happened to glance at the person on my righthand side, the 1st runner up, and saw the look on her face. It was one of shock and disbelief, almost as if she had really expected the crown to be placed on her head, and the tears that followed just didn't stop. Were these tears of happiness?

Help and encouragement were always being given to us from our so-to-speak, head mother. She was always more than eager to help us in any way possible. She made it quite enjoyable, and if any girl in the future is thinking of running for this position, I would tell her to do so as it was an exciting experience.

During those couple of weeks, we really had only one major problem. This was when one of the contestants was accused of having been calling on the phone for promises, which happened to be against the rules. Several people had told me that they had been contacted by the phone and had asked me if it was legal. Although she had denied the accusations, someone had called these people for her. In any contest, when the rules are broken, this is called cheating, and the person doing so should have been disqualified.

On Friday, July 3, at 11:00 p. m., our money and badges were to be turned in. I arrived at the house to turn my money in at about 10:20. At about 10:30, one of the other contestants arrived. This being the present queen. We both had quite a wait while one of the other girls turned in her money. At approximately 5 minutes to eleven, I turned my money in and left at about a couple minutes after eleven. Still the last contestant hadn't yet arrived. Regardless of being late or not, the present queen had been there first.

Jill Horton Box 745 Forks, Washington

Editor, We again this year visited your town over the 4th of July celebration, and although we have enjoyed your festivities in the past, this year we came away very composed at your method of choosing a queen.

It's hard to understand how 2 girls who have both worked so hard (and tied) in making your celebration a success could end up with only one being crowned queen.

They were both deserving of this honor, and the way your committee decided it left one with all the honors and the other with nothing.

We have supported your celebration in the past by always buying buttons. We have bought our last button and may not return for next year's celebration. Hopefully the 4th of July committee will find another way of finding a queen or will recognize two queens now and in the future, in case of any ties.

Sincerely yours, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Courmyer Rt. 12, Box 530 B Olympia, Washington

Editor, As one of the 4th of July queen candidates, I hope everyone realizes what sad feelings this occasion brought. I wonder if the people concerned actually feel it was worth it for Charlene Leppell to be hurt this way. I'm very glad for Cheryl Micheau, the crowned queen, and equally as unhappy for Charlene, the losing one. If there was a rule on ties, none of us knew. Shouldn't this have been understood before we started, like all the other rules were?

Mrs. Hodges, Mrs. Kallman and the four of us girls worked hard; but not so much as Cheryl and Charlene did. So why should only one of them get the credit and recognition, when each sold exactly the same?

I just hope someone is really proud of themselves for this injustice. It scarred an otherwise perfect 4th of July for many.

Sincerely, Rene' Kesterson Forks, Washington Editor, How easy it is to blame someone else when things don't go our way. I can understand the losing queen candidate's feeling to have been defeated in the "race" for queen, but let's not forget that there were also two other girls in the "race". Isn't that part of the "game", win or lose? I would like to complement Jill Horton and Rene' Kesterson for showing good sportsmanship. Also, a big thank you to the 4th of July committee for a job well done. Maybe not enough people realize all the work that goes into the 4th of July celebration. To really see what work is done, your chance is next year. Take an active part in it. And as far as blaming others when things don't "go our way", I don't think it is just a "childhood disease". Even we grown-ups seem to do the same thing and we call it "defending ourselves".

Ingrid Lingvall Box 226 G Forks, Washington

Editor, In light of recent letters to your paper concerning the Forks Fourth of July queen contest, as a member of the committee I felt there should be a reply.

There are certain facts that the writers of these letters are unaware of, and I would like to point them out at this time.

Several incidents took place prior to the choosing of the queen that all should know. The rules for the contest are: 1. Each candidate is responsible for her own buttons and money until returned; 2. Age 16 and single; 3. Must have her parents consent (each parent was required to sign the copy of rules given each girl); 4. No sales by promise or by phone; 5. Sales are not transferable; 6. Any person can sell for the candidate; 7. Money earned for each day's sales must be turned in that evening; 8. Ten percent of each girl's sales will be paid her by the Forks Fourth of July committee; 9. The top 5 girls in sales will ride the float; 10. All sales end the evening of July 2, at 11:00 p. m.; 11. All final decisions are made by the Fourth of July committee.

On several occasions, one of the contestants violated the rules and caused a great deal of dissention among the girls. One girl dropped out, the other girls were encouraged to continue their participation in the contest. The girl who had broken the rules was not ever in the lead; however, she was warned of the rule violation and informed that she could be disqualified. The problem did not cease, and the rule concerning the use of the telephone continued to be broken.

The deadline for button sales was set for July 2, 11:00 p. m. Jill Horton, Rene' Kesterson and Cheryl Micheau turned in their proceeds minutes before the deadline. At approximately 11:10 p. m., Charlene Leppell arrived and requested additional buttons which she allegedly had sold. The request was denied and her total was tallied. The tie was obvious.

The chairman was notified and a decision was made as to the winner.

This year's queen, Cheryl Micheau, is a lovely young

Editor, I want to thank all of those who helped me sell my buttons. Its a pleasure being queen, and representing your community. Cheryl Micheau

The following letter was received from SFC and Mrs. James R. Quinby & family, Fort Belvoir, Virginia.

Dear Mom, Dad & Family, I am writing you this letter to inform you as to the reason why Edith, the kids and myself were unable to make the trip to Forks as we had planned.

Due to an unforeseen accident, I was in Walter Reed Hospital in Washington D. C. with a broken jaw in several places. As you know, we were to be in Forks on or around the 1st of July so as to attend the annual 4th of July celebration which I am sure was one of the greatest so far to be held in Forks.

I understand that you had also planned a large dinner in my honor and that you had invited all of my old friends to attend. I sincerely hope that you and all my friends of Forks will accept my humble apology as it was our sincere desire to attend this gala celebration.

Because of the accident, it will be some time before we will be able to do any traveling. I will be under a doctor's care until around the first week in August. At that time, the family and I have to prepare for our trip to Germany. This time we will be stationed in a place called Wiesbaden which is not far from the Black Forest. We must be in that country by September 5th of this year. We will be there for a period of about three years after which I hope we will be back to Forks. Please place an article in the Forks paper so as to let my friends know the reason why my family and I were not there as planned.

I went to the hospital on June 8th with a fractured jaw in four places. I stayed there until the 14th of June and was released on what is called convalescent leave because I am living within 15 miles of the hospital. I must return to the hospital twice each week for checkups. Because my mouth is wired closed, I must drink all my food through a straw and now I am getting sick of soup. It will still be some time before I will be able to eat solids again.

That's all I can think of for now so I guess I will close.

STATE CONDUCTS TRAFFIC SURVEY

S. R. 112 was the scene of an origin and destination traffic survey conducted by the Washington State Department of Highways on July 12 thru July 14.

The State Highway Department is giving consideration to improvements of S. R. 112 and Burnt Mountain Road and before decisions can be made as to the proper type of improvements, it is necessary to know not only the amount of traffic usage which will be made of the highways, but also the travel desires of the motorists of the area. Since modern highways are expensive to construct, it is important that they be located to give the motorist the upmost in highway service.

MOTOR VEHICLE DEPT. VIOLATIONS

Laurence S. Moore, Deputy Prosecuting Attorney for Franklin County successfully argued for the conviction of a prominent Oregon auto dealer in what appears to be a landmark case, Deputy Director Will Swanzky of the Department of Motor Vehicles in Olympia advised other similar cases are under investigation or have been filed.
Louis C. Waldenberg of Portland, Oregon, was convicted yesterday of two counts of grand larceny in connection with violations of Washington's 1969 odometer laws. It was the contention of the state that the act of setting back odometers in two instances resulted in obtaining money from purchasers by trick and deceit and constituted the crime of grand larceny when purchasers were induced to buy cars they would not want if the true mileage was shown on the odometers. It was also the contention of the state that if the purchasers had wished to purchase these vehicles based on true mileage the value would be $200 to $400 less.
During the 3 day trial in Superior Court Judge James Lawless' court it was revealed that Waldenberg had sold over 700 vehicles in Franklin County during 1970. The cases which resulted in a jury verdict of two counts of odometer law violation occurred early in 1971.

This action in Franklin County will serve as notice that deceptive practices in the sale of automobiles will not be tolerated.
Swanzky stated the department has had many complaints from purchasers who have been denied warranty claims after purchase because the odometer had been rolled back. He said Department of Motor Vehicles investigators will continue to spot check cars and will strictly enforce the odometer laws.
The Department of Motor Vehicles had called a special meeting in the fall of 1970 to warn out-of-state dealers that the full penalty of the law would be applied to odometer violators. Swanzky has suggested that anyone having information of odometer re-setting contract the Dealer Division of the Department of Motor Vehicles.

MRS. J. E. MERRITT

Mr. and Mrs. Bruno Samowski were among the 40 persons who attended the Vanderhoof family reunion in Seattle, June 26. An equal number of relatives (children and grandchildren) failed to make it.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Green spent 10 days in Hawaii. They flew from Santa Barbara to Los Angeles then straight through to Hawaii and visited all of the islands. They arrived at Sea-Tac at 8:30 p. m., Thursday, July 1, stopped in Seattle to pick up a General Motors car and drove to the Peninsula to spend 10 days visiting relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Mose Green of Forks and Mr. and Mrs. Bruno Samowski are parents of Harvey and Ione Green, respectively.

Darrel Johnson, home on leave from the U. S. Navy, visited last week at the home of his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Hum. He spent one night at the home of his brother, Dean Johnson at Beaver, one night at the home of his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Boury in Forks, and left Monday to spend the balance of his leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Johnson in Concrete, Skagit County.

In the "Northwest Today" section of the Sunday P-I there was an article on crew racing at the University of Washington, written by Bill Knight, and a picture of "Cliff Hum, Washington's Outstanding Stroke". Young Hum is the nephew of Dean Hum, and has visited here many times.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Buonpane and children, John and Rita Stallivieri left on Thursday, July 1, on a week's trip. They visited Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fuhrman at Omak, some of Frank's friends in Spokane and came home by way of Princeton, Hope and Vancouver. The weather was miserable the whole time -- they even had SNOW between Grand Forks and Osoyoos--and they arrived home last Thursday night mighty glad to be here.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Smith went to Seattle Friday, July 2, to meet his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Smith of Sparta, Tennessee, who arrived by plane at 8:30 that evening. They visited the Clyde Smiths' son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Smith at Lynnwood, and arrived home early Saturday morning.

The visitors were here a week and were taken on a

"Cook's Tour"---or as Mrs. Clyde Smith said, "Smiths' Tour" by their hosts. On Sunday, they went to the Rain Forest and Monday to Hurricane Ridge. On Tuesday the visitors were taken to Sekdu and Hoko Camp, and at Sekdu Mr. Smith caught a nice salmon, the first he had ever seen. On Wednesday and Thursday they visited two beaches, one at Mora and one at LaPush and on Friday they went to Sequim, had dinner and visited Mr. and Mrs. Frank Conley. Saturday morning the Beaver Smiths took their guests to Seattle where they caught a United Airlines plane at 1 p. m. for home. The group stopped for breakfast at the Ken Smith home. The younger Smiths had arrived at Beaver the previous Saturday afternoon and accompanied his parents and their guests to the Rain Forest on Sunday and to Hurricane Ridge on Monday, returning home that evening.

Mrs. Mary Worley and her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Noble Besser, all of Los Angeles, accompanied by the Bessers' son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Chuck Wiler of Bremerton arrived on Thursday for a visit at the home of the Wilers' daughter, Mrs. Bob Swanson, forming a group of five generations--Mrs. Worley, Mrs. Besser, Mrs. Wiler, Mrs. Swanson and her baby son, Bobby.

On Sunday Mr. Swanson took Mrs. Wiler to fish for salmon and Mr. Wiler took Mrs. Besser, and would you believe it, Mrs. Besser outshone them all, landing a lovely 18-pounder, the first salmon she had ever caught. The rest of the group had to be satisfied with salmon weighing merely 6 or 8 pounds.

George and Becky Smith came out from Seattle on Tuesday of last week and spent the afternoon visiting their father, Bob Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Elvis Farman and two children of Satsop, arrived Thursday to visit Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Eaton. While here they did a certain amount of smelting and clam digging. Mrs. Farman is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Comfort, cousins of Mrs. Eaton.

Mr. and Mrs. Herb Welch came up from Shelton Saturday to visit Mr. and Mrs. John Merritt at Tyee and Mr. and Mrs. Walt Mason at Forks. Mr. Welch brought his chain saw along and cut up some short logs for the Merritts, and then went on to Forks. The Welch's stayed overnight with the Masons and Sunday morning the Welch's and Mr. Mason and Herb's brother Dick Welch went clamming at Kalamo, getting nearly four limits. The Welch's returned home that afternoon.

In and Around Town

Mrs. Paul Lingvall, 374-6302

Everything seems to be getting back to normal after the 4th of July celebration. Just heard that Jean Bumgarner drove to Seattle for the first time a couple of weeks ago. The way she drove in the demolition derby, I thought that's where she got her practice.

Wasn't there a beautiful sunset Sunday night? I would also like to thank all of you who are so kind as to share your trips, vacations and out-of-town company with everybody else. It almost makes a person feel part of it. So keep calling. . . .

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Carol Lunsford for two weeks are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Al Lunsford, and his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Volle Gray from Cordell, Oklahoma.

Tammie Bumgarner celebrated her 5th birthday June 22 with a party together with some of her friends. Ice cream, cake and cool-aid were served as refreshments and the little guests were: John, Tammy and Ray Bumgarner, Danny and Lynn Brooks, Rhonda Haag, Tracy, Karleen and Susan Lindberg, and John, Bobby and Renee Kuchan.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Fouts had a houseful of company over the 4th of July. Visiting them from Port Angeles were Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Fouts, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Wheeler, Mr. and Mrs. Willis McClure, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Bretzbach, and from Klamath Falls, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Jakobsonky.

Scott Chiles is spending a couple weeks visiting Mr. and Mrs. Phil Borde and family. Scott is Bev's nephew from Seattle, and he will be moving to Detroit in the near future.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Pat Tierney is her brother, Karl H. Norby, from Seattle.

Jill Horton and Gail Lingvall spent Friday and Saturday in Seattle. They spent Friday "messing around" at the Seattle Center, and in the evening took in "Walt Disney on Parade" at the coliseum. Saturday they visited with friends of the Lingvalls, Mr. and Mrs. Magnus Vike, and had a chance to talk with their daughter, who was home from Oslo, Norway for a short visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Rich and family traveled to Renton over the weekend of July 11 to visit Cheryl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Clauson, and to attend the wedding of her sister.

Leonard Kelso is in the General Hospital in Seattle for observation.

Al Kettel is recuperating at home after undergoing surgery due to an accident. Hurry and get well, Al.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Blomgen for several days during the latter part of June were Joe's mother, Mrs. R. J. Blomgren from Weston, Oregon, and Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Vancell from Mount Vernon, Oregon. They went clam digging and sightseeing while here and on the way back home visited Port Townsend, Bremerton and Seattle.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Roth and family are back after one month's vacation in Pennsylvania where they visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Beck and Mr. and Mrs. Peter N. Roth.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Barger returned July 5 after 3 week's vacation. They visited families and friends in Bend, Oregon and Klicoklat, Washington. Larry also attended a personnel school for Game Department employees at Pacific Lutheran College in Tacoma. Visiting the Bargas for a week is their friend, Veronica Felton, from Seattle.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Moody spent a week fishing in the "pot holes" at Moses Lake and also drove to Oregon for more shrubs for the nursery. They were fortunate enough to find sunny weather wherever they went, until.

Visiting the Paul Lingvalls over the 4th of July were Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Brosig from Port Angeles and Mr. and Mrs. Larry Fish from Bellevue. Also spending the weekend at the Lingvalls were Jo Robb and Pat Wood (the whistler's daughter) from Sequim.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hage of LaPush spent 3 days in Bremerton visiting John's mother, Mrs. Augusta Hage, Dolly's mother, Mrs. Ann Brusseau, and their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Aqualuz, and granddaughter, Robin.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Planes are back home after one week vacation in Montana.

Visiting Murray Macauley over the weekend of July 4th were his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Neil Macauley from McMinnville, Oregon, his granddaughter, Mrs. Peggy Schiek from Bainbridge Island and his grandson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Doug Macauley and Jim, from Kodiak, Alaska.

returned July 9 after spending 2 weeks in Alaska. They stopped for a visit with Mrs. Klahn's sister, Mrs. Frank Green (formerly Hazel Smith) in Oak Harbor, and drove to Prince Rupert where they went by boat to Ketchikan to visit Mrs. Klahn's brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Smith.

A salmon-bake was held in LaPush last Sunday to help raise money for the "Quiloute Rebelles" who are leaving July 16 for a 3-day softball tournament in Toppenish. Good luck, girls.

LAKE CRESCENT---ITS BEAUTY, ITS HISTORY
Beauty is that of deep crystal blue waters surrounded by mountains and giant evergreens. Beauty is that of a countless number of pure streams rushing from mountain peaks to the waters of the lake. This is beauty. This is Lake Crescent preserved within the Olympic National Park. Camp here at the Fairholm campground. Fish the pure waters of the lake for beardlee, crescent, cutthroat and rainbow. Skiing, boating, swimming, hiking, camping and picnicking are all enjoyed here on the northern edge of the Olympic National Park. Here, on Lake Crescent.

There was a time when journeying to the west end of Lake Crescent meant taking one of Clallam county's ferries such as "Marjorie" or "Storm King". "Marjorie" was built in 1914 with "Storm King" following in 1915. It was 1922 when the road along the south shore of Lake Crescent was completed. This eliminated the ferry usage which had been very inconvenient. It was here on beautiful Lake Crescent that the Olympic National Park was dedicated in June, 1946. U.S. Highway 101 now borders the south shore of this 600 foot deep lake. These 10.5 miles of scenic roadway today offer the traveler beauty and purity like that which existed here during the days of the ferry boats. And so it is. One of few areas not yet spoiled by man. One of several here in the great Olympic National Park.

Sunset Highlights

By Fred Jarvis

Mother is a year younger Sunday, I guess that's the way women count their birthdays, isn't it girls? Anyway, happy birthday, Hon.

The Junior-Senior Mixed ended their season last Wednesday nite. Someone goofed again, as I didn't get any scores for the girls. Real sorry about that. Tim Winn, with a 40 average, had a 195 series, Chuck Ward hit a 202-524, Mark Henry a 435, and Fred Jarvis 237-630.

Gordon McCoy had the T.V. shot at Saturday Nite Monte Carlo. Vern Rondeau, Max Lewis, Joan Strom, and Margaret Sarrailell all had Jackpot shots. History repeats itself, no luck again. Boy, what a pile of loot just waiting for someone to grab it.

Catching any fish, Darrell? You should be in pretty good shape by the time the new bowling season starts in September, what with your fishing and shake cutting.

Usually, the parents, frightened by the approach of humans, have taken cover a short distance away. They will return to the care of their offspring as soon as they are left alone. Humans are understandably sympathetic to young rabbits, birds, fawn deer, and bear cubs. Annually, this time of year State Wildlife Agents are plagued with "orphaned" wildlife which would have lived normal lives had they been left in the field or forest.

LOOK---DON'T TOUCH
The State Game Department again reminds all persons sympathetic to young wildlife to leave wilderness youngsters in the woods where they belong.

Aside from dooming the wild young animal to an unnatural life in captivity, it is strictly against the law to remove any wild animal or bird from its natural habitat.

With many young birds and animals in the field and forest at this time of the year, persons finding the tiny creatures may innocently believe the animals have been "orphaned." Such is not the case.

Usually, the parents, frightened by the approach of humans, have taken cover a short distance away. They will return to the care of their offspring as soon as they are left alone.

Glenna Marie Priest became the bride of Richard John Pitt at the First Baptist Church in Port Angeles, June 26.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Priest of Port Angeles, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Pitt of Forks.

Reverend James Ledbetter performed the double-ring ceremony in the presence of 275 guests.

Mrs. James Ledbetter played the organ and Fern Purvis sang "We Have Just Begun" and "The Lord's Prayer".

Brass baskets of pink and white gladiol and candles in brass candelabras were at the altar. Pink candles and pink bows trimmed the pews along the aisle.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a long gown of white organza over taffeta made with a high round neckline, long full sleeves and a princess style bodice and skirt trimmed with rows of ruffled Val lace. Satin bows accented the skirt which fell to a chapel train in back. The matching headpiece was attached to an illusion finger-tip veil. For luck, the bride had a penny in her shoe and wore a blue garter. The gown was made by a friend, Mrs. Ann McCartney of Everett.

Miss Donna Brittain was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Joyce Wilson, Judy Scott, Rhonda Konopaski and Betsy Mickel. They wore identical gowns of flowered georgette in empire style with scoop necklines and short sleeves. The slightly gathered skirt was accented at the waistline by a pink sash. The pink gloves and necklaces were gifts from the bride. Each carried a pink gladiola with baby breath and pink streamers. Janice Priest, sister of the College. The bridegroom is a Forks High School graduate, attended PC and works for Eclipse Timber Co.

CZ Notes: $5.5 Million Investment In Clallam

Crown Zellerbach's Clallam Managed Forest on the northern Olympic Peninsula invests $5.5 million annually in Clallam county in payrolls and local purchases of goods and services, according to division manager Dave McMinn.

New figures show that 178 CZ employees receive $2.2 million in total payroll each year at Clallam, while local contractors and their employees receive $1.9 million annually. Another $1.4 million is invested in local goods and services, including parts, supplies and equipment.

The Clallam Managed Forest is the westernmost private timberland in the United States and covers 76,000 acres on the northwest tip of the Peninsula. The northern boundary is the Strait of Juan de Fuca and the Makah Indian Reservation, with the eastern edge located just east of the Little Hoko River. The primary timber species is western hemlock.

Thinning and pre-logging of the forest to produce higher quality, faster growing mature trees, while utilizing young trees that might become victims of overcrowded growing conditions, is important in CZ timber management practices. In 1970, 200 acres of Clallam land were thinned, and another 70 acres were pre-logged.

In an active year-around reforestation program, millions of young seedlings are hand planted on company lands throughout Oregon and Washington to assure continued future wood supplies. There were 337,000 seedlings planted on 1,540 acres of the Clallam Managed Forest during the latest reforestation season. In addition, 277 acres in areas too difficult to hand plant were aerially seeded by helicopter. Recreational opportunities and the enhancement of fish and wildlife habitat are also important on the Clallam Managed Forest. Company lands are open to the public year-around for recreational purposes, except during times of extreme fire danger or where logging crews are working.

Land and timber taxes paid by the Clallam Managed Forest help support schools and the services of municipal, county and state governments. CZ's timber operations make the company a major taxpayer in the county.

MORE TREES

Since CZ began its reforestation program some 45 years ago to supplement natural growth, the company has replanted over 200,000 acres of timberlands in the Pacific Northwest with new trees.

At the Clallam managed forest on the northern Olympic Peninsula near Sekiu, Washington, 337,000 seedlings were planted on 1,540 acres. Another 277 acres were aerially seeded.

Some Beachcombers Comb Parked Cars

As thousands of Washingtonians trek to the ocean beaches and inland lakes to escape the heat this summer, they are shadowed by thieves whose business it is to go where the action is.

A beach parking area can be the closest thing we have to the Sahara Desert; and vacationers who dread returning to an oven-hot car will leave windows open, unwittingly inviting thieves to help themselves. Most bathers want as little with them as possible on the sandy shores; so cameras, handbags, binoculars and even billfolds are left in the car while the owners soak up sun.

The professional thief is deterred only momentarily by a locked glove compartment; so cash, watches and jewelry should either be left at home, in the trunk and out of sight or kept with you on your beach blanket.

Don't let your vacation be spoiled by the pilferer who thrives on the carelessness of honest people. Hot or not, lock your car at all times and take all other necessary precautions; and the car-comber will be forced to ply his trade elsewhere.

Success Creates Problem For Davis Family

Little Tommy Davis and his parents in San Jose, California are profoundly grateful to the many Baptists and others who have contributed more than enough Betty Crocker coupons to secure an artificial kidney machine for him.

A story in the January 14 issue of "The California Southern Baptist", reprinted in several other Baptist papers, along with publicity elsewhere, started a landslide of coupons from all over the United States.

The Davises not only received the 800,000 coupons needed for the machine for five year old Tommy, they have nearly four million more stacked in the living room and are wondering what to do with them.

Long ago they had to move the furniture out of the living room to make room for the coupons. And each day's mail brings more. One woman recently drove in the Davis driveway with the whole trunk of her car full of coupons collected for Tommy.

The Davises are profoundly grateful for the outpouring of compassion for their son.

Now they are wondering what to do with the coupons that continue to arrive. They know that there are still some people with contracts for kidney machines which General Mills will honor on an extended deadline, Dec. 31, 1971.

But who are these people who need the coupons? The Davises wish that they knew, for they would like to help someone whose need is as desperate as theirs was.

And, they would like their living room back.

If you know of someone who is in need of Betty Crocker coupons for a kidney machine, contact: Tommy Davis, Sr., 6220 Omaha Court, San Jose, Calif., 95123.

Editor,

We supported the Forks July 4th celebration by buying buttons, but wonder just how the queen was chosen.

Since they both tied for the honor. Or better still, why couldn't both girls have shared the honors?

Not every celebration has two queens.
