Port Angeles Derby Days slated

The 34th annual Port Angeles Salmon Derby will be held Sept. 4-5 this year and over $15,000 in prizes await an expected banner turnout over the Labor Day Weekend.

Fishing for kings and silvers in the Port Angeles area has been great since July with 30 pounders the rule rather than the exception.

The 34th derby prize list is headed by a 17-foot Glass Ply boat with trailer and 90 horsepower outdrive motor. Second prize is a 1971 Chevrolet half-ton pickup and third prize is a 17-foot travel trailer.

A camp trailer, boat-motor-trailer combo, two other boats, a motor and $300 in merchandise awards plus eight $25 prizes are also on tap.

Fishing can be great and this derby is the greatest. Anglers can fish two days if they so desire. Complete rules and regulations may be obtained in a free brochure by writing: Port Angeles Salmon Club, Box 830 in Port Angeles, Washington 98362.

Registration closes Sept. 3 at 9 p.m.

1,328 anglers registered to fish. The winning angler boated a 35-9 king.

HEARING SCHEDULED FOR CRESCENT LAKE BY-PASS HIGHWAY

Notice is hereby given that the Clallam County Planning Commission will hold four public hearings on the 10th day of August, 1971, commencing at the hour of 7:00 p. m., in the Clallam County Courthouse, Port Angeles, Washington.

The purpose of the hearing shall be as follows:

Hearing Number 1: To consider a change in the Clallam County Comprehensive Plan which would include a thermal power plant location in Section 17, Township 30 North, Range 2 W, W. M., generally described as on the north side of the Miller (Blyn) Peninsula.

Hearing Number 2: To consider adoption of an interim zoning ordinance and a TPP Thermal Power Plant zoning designation, for all of Section 17, Township 30 North, Range 2 W, W. M.

Hearing Number 3: To consider amending the Clallam County Comprehensive Plan to show a new highway location, generally described as following the route to U.S. Forest Service Road No. 3105 from its intersection with U.S. Highway 101 in Section 36, Township 30 North, Range 12' W, W. M., to its intersection with Washington State Highway 112 in the vicinity of Section 25, Township 31 North, Range 10 W, W. M. This hearing refers to the Crescent Lake by-pass highway.

Hearing Number 4: To consider the adoption of an interim agricultural zoning district for possible future application to farms in the unincorporated areas of Clallam County.

At the hearings all persons interested in the above mentioned items are invited to appear and be heard.

Copies of maps showing the locations of the proposals and the proposed interim zoning regulations are available for inspection at the office of the County Planning Commission, Clallam County Courthouse.

BURGLAR HITS JACKPOT

A local residence was entered by means of an unlocked garage door. Stolen were four fifths of Seagram's 7 whiskey, 8 or 9 splits of Lancer wine, 2 or 3 splits of emerald dry Paul Mason wine, 2 or 3 miscellaneous splits of wine and a case of Country Club malt liquor. Suspect is under investigation.

Christianson appointed

G. Ken Christianson has been appointed Superintendent for Clallam County PUD. He was formerly with Cowlitz County PUD, serving in a number of capacities there since 1948, most recently as senior distribution engineer. Clallam PUD Manager Phil Jackson has named Roy Lycksell as Chief Engineer for the District, and Carl Olsen as Assistant Superintendent.

New law for trail bikes & 4-wheel drive units

Beginning August 9, persons operating a trail bike, a 4-wheel drive unit or any other self-propelled vehicle, on trails or off-highway must display a registration number. According to Jack G. Nelson, Director of the Department of Motor Vehicles, applications for registration numbers will be accepted by any county auditor or vehicle license agent. Some motorcycles are not included. No registration for trail use is needed if the engine has 50cc. or less displacement, the wheels are 14 inches or less in diameter and the wheelbase is 42 inches or less.

A number will be assigned and a validating tab and receipt will be issued. It will be the owner's responsibility to paint the number on his vehicle or display it in some other suitable manner.

The cost of the registration is $5.50 per year. If the vehicle has never been titled in Washington, there is an extra

$1.50 charge for a title. Most of the money raised by this registration program is earmarked for all-terrain vehicle trail-related expenses and enforcement.

The new law prohibits operating an all-terrain vehicle while under the influence of liquor or drugs. The vehicle must be equipped with brakes, a spark arrester and a muffler. If it is operated at night it must have lights.

The chasing of wildlife or domestic animals is forbidden. No loaded weapon is to be carried on the vehicle. Property damage or personal injury accidents must be reported.

The new law will be enforced by state wildlife agents, park rangers, fisheries patrolmen and designated employees of the Department of Natural Resources. Officers of the State Patrol, County Sheriffs and deputies and Police Departments will enforce the law within their jurisdictions.

WHY IS IT?

"Why is it? A man wakes up in the morning after sleeping on an advertised blanket, in advertised pajamas. He will bathe in an advertised tub, wash with advertised soap, shave with an advertised razor, drink advertised coffee after his advertised juice, cereal and toast (toasted in his advertised toaster), put on advertised clothes and an advertised hat. He will ride to work in an advertised car, sit at an advertised desk, smoke advertised cigarettes and write with an advertised pen. Yet this man hesitates to advertise, saying that advertising does not pay. Finally, when his unadvertised business goes under he will then advertise it for sale."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

With heartfelt appreciation and thanks from the whole community of Delta Junction, we herewith acknowledge the receipt of your donation of Betty Crocker coupons for our badly needed fire truck.

As our contract with General Mills expires in January, 1972, we will appreciate any further donations very much. After all, 5 MILLION is a tremendous amount! We can accept all expired coupons. We can also use S & H Green Stamps and Top Value Stamps. Perhaps you could ask your friends and neighbors to help, too!

Sincerely yours,
Mrs. Deane Goodwin

Editor,
How long has it been since you did anything to help your school? I could add community, church, club or service organization to the list, but my concern right now is for our school.

Almost three weeks ago I made a plea on the "Action Line" program over KVAC, and Will Slaughter added a footnote that volunteer help was needed at the school. There was another plea in this paper two weeks ago. At the writing of this letter, not one person has shown up to volunteer their time.

Doesn't anyone care? The special levy was turned down in June. That left our school board hard-pressed for money for much needed supplies and services. Now there's been a chance to show your concern and support in another way and it has been turned down.

I've heard it said that Forks has the kind of a school system they deserve (it wasn't a compliment). You can prove that statement to be false. Bring a coffee-kitchen up to the elementary building to paint windows--there's been every other kind of party in town, why not a "school painting party"? Show that you care. Remember, each person in the district is responsible for the kind of school we have. Right now, we have one that needs paint and not enough people to man the brushes.

Editor,
I, for one, did not appreciate the article in the Forks Forum about the Forks City Council meeting held July 26. The article was written as a report of the meeting and as such should have stuck to facts and not to so much personal opinion. The article made those that are against the sewer system sound like villains that are all for pollution. That is one of the things we are trying to avoid--the possibility of directly polluting the rivers.

It was stated, "The Council handled the situation with diplomacy." I understand one of the members made a remark that was far from "diplomatic".

Thanks,
Sylvia Diimmel

LOWER WELFARE COSTS
Welfare recipients who are able-bodied shall work as a condition of eligibility for benefit payments. This proviso has been in New York State law for more than a quarter-century.

What happened when someone decided to enforce a provision?
Well, one commissioner of welfare investigated the rolls in his county and found 50 men who were able-bodied and who, in his opinion, were able to work. He then directed them to report at the highway department.

Fifteen of the 50 remain on the rolls because of legal reasons, which are being processed, and two others can't work because they're ill. BUT...

Eight promptly asked to be taken off the relief rolls and two moved away.

Five refused to report for work; so, their benefits were cancelled.

Then nine more decided they wouldn't work either--thus, no more benefit checks.

Nine did report for work. They immediately began their highway clean-up jobs, being credited at $1.85 an hour to pay for the relief they receive. Two of these men proved to be exceptionally good workers and accepted permanent jobs in the highway department, becoming self-supporting citizens.

Suppose every welfare commissioner followed this example! It would make a big dent in the welfare mess and also help clean up our communities.

PEPPER WAS HOT TO TRAVEL

By Al Clarke
Introducing Pepper, the West End wanderer. Not since the celluloid adventures of Walt Disney's "Old Yeller" has a dog caused so much concern and confusion. Pepper is a ten-year-old half Golden Lab and half German Shepherd, yellow in color, quite a few fingers in height, and has a large head with teeth to match. At first glance, one would tend to give this fellow a wide berth. Basically, Pepper is right friendly in nature (he's a people dog) although, should the need arise for protection of home or master, instinct would turn him into a matchless adversary. His size and breed make him an ambler in movement; not unlike a night crawler moving across broken ground after a heavy rain, all of him will eventually get there. The Forks Old Fashioned Fourth of July celebration draws visitors from everywhere, so it wasn't at all unusual that Mr. and Mrs. William Brotherton and family, and Pepper from Edmonds, Washington, arrived in Forks for the three days of events. After settling down in Klahanie Park, the Brothertons proceeded to enjoy this part of their vacation, for the Forks Fourth of July celebration provided fun and excitement for all ages. As for Pepper, his thoughts turned to other interests such as checking out the various varieties of wooded growth. Dogs are botanists at heart, you know. All was going fine for our hero. This was a great place to relax, take an occasional snooze, walking only long enough to snap at an intruding fly, always just a fraction too late. If only the boys at his neighborhood hydrant could see him now. To some breeds of dogs, especially the German Shepherd, the sound of firecrackers is a frightening experience, sometimes to the point of complete panic. Being half German Shepherd, Pepper's reaction was close to panic and he left before this menace could surround him. The Brothertons, knowing all too well what caused Pepper's disappearance, combed the countryside but to no avail. An urgent appeal to the local radio station was seemingly their only hope. His description was broadcast day and night, but as the weekend turned the corner to Monday, no trace of Pepper had been found. So the Brothertons, an emptiness in their lives, reluctantly headed for home.

The radio station continued to relay Pepper's description, and it wasn't long before the calls started coming in. Pepper had been seen in a dozen or so places. Each call was checked out and all were false alarms. And so the search continued.

On July 23, 1971, Mrs. Dave Mansfield saw a big yellow dog with a large head (and teeth to match) come out of the woods onto her property. She remembered hearing the description broadcast, and something told her that this fellow just had to be Pepper. After considerable calling, she finally coaxed him with food (he ate five pounds). When a guy spends about 18 days in the wilds of the West End without nourishment, five pounds is a mere hors d'oeuvre.

The Brothertons were contacted. They couldn't believe it but they were happy. Pepper spent his remaining days in Forks with the Forks Forum "girl Friday," Mary Ann Bullock. Said Mary Ann, "He was good company, very polite, but he sure could put away the food."

All's well that ends well, and Pepper is back to the old routine of being man's best friend and watchdog. He'll have a lot of wild stories for the boys at the neighborhood hydrant, none of which they'll believe. Dogs are like that... yeah, they are.

Former resident visits

Dr. and Mrs. Gordon Havstad from Tiburon, California, passed through Forks on their way home from Canada where they attended the Calgary Stampede. Having lived in Forks about 50 years ago, Dr. Havstad stopped in at the Forum and related an experience he had in "the town where I almost died to death."

While working for Knut Saucett who had the contract to build a proposed highway, Havstad cut down a tree which was listing far into the roadway. Being a greenhorn at the trade, he missed the log and buried the double-bitted ax into his right big toe. Two fountains of blood shot up in spurts. Help was summoned and he was carried by way of man's back 5 miles to a horse trail, then by horseback another 4 miles to Forks. At that time, he remembers Forks as consisting of one small service station and garage and a general store. From Forks, he was transported to Port Angeles on a 1916 Ford flatbed truck and due to loss of blood, fainted every time he raised his head. The trip took 4 hours and he was put in a 3-bed hospital. Unfortunately, the doctor had no local or general anesthetic and used a very course needle in repairing the deep wound.

Havstad said, "The only local anesthetic available was when I would raise my head and faint! The doctor must have done a great job, however. I thought I would be crippled for life but was back on the job in one week. In those days, a man earned $1.00 per day compensation."

Havstad worked in road construction for 6 months building what is now Highway 101, and takes pride in the fact that he had a part in building this magnificent road which has since become a major tourist attraction.

He concluded, "This was a grand experience for a novice and supplied tuition for one year at Walla Walla College, a first step in gaining my diploma."
Dr. Havstad received his medical degree from Loma Linda University in 1931 and is now semi-retired.

PIONEERS VIEW SLIDES

West End Pioneers enjoyed viewing some beautiful slides at their June 25 meeting. Russell Thomas showed slides of many high and low river valleys in the Olympic Mountains as well as some Cascade Mountain scenery. They were excellent pictures, well narrated, and Mr. Thomas answered questions.

Pioneers and their guests will hold a picnic Saturday, August 14, at Lefler's Park. The park is the former Fred Wahlgren place on Highway 10J south of Forks.

In and Around Town

Mrs. Paul Lingvall, 374-6302

Heard around town that Santa Claus isn't the only one who comes down the John McFall's chimney. They had a blue point Siamese cat making its entrance the same way.

I had my second airplane trip and must admit that I was a little bit leery about getting aboard THAT size plane, but once up in the air I just closed my eyes and pretended I was on the bumpy road down to the dump in Forks. The weather in Spokane was hot, so what a wonderful feeling it was to come back to Forks and inhale our "ocean air".

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Wall and family spent their vacation at Bay Center and while Norm went tuna fishing with his brother-in-law, Herb Hathaway, Dorothy and the children "played" on the beach. In Geribaldi, they visited with the Hathaways, Dorothy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Pearson, and her aunt, Mrs. Veri Martin.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Howard Trimble for a few days are their grandchildren Tim, Steve and Cheryl Trimble from Port Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Carte and family returned July 23 from a week's vacation at Tofino, on Vancouver Island. Accompanying them on the trip were Don's sister, Mrs. Barbara Tucker and two boys, Jerry and Steven. The Tuckers spent the previous week in Forks visiting the Cartes. Also visiting them were Don's aunt, Mrs. Mary Brooks and her daughter, Mrs. Delores O'Donnell, from Portland.

Mrs. Pat Tierney is visiting her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Maher of Everett for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Horton spent a week in Elma visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Horton. Howard was also doing a special job for Simpson Timber Company.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank LaGambina and children are back home after a 5-week vacation. They drove to New York where they visited Mr. and Mrs. John Nissilen on Staten Island and took in such sights as the Statue of Liberty and the Empire State Building, and also spent some time on Coney Island. During their trip, the LaGambinas also visited Yellowstone Park, the Bad Lands, Devil's Tower and Mount Rushmore, and spent some time with Frank's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Massey, (Bill Massey, by the way, is a collector of old guns and has close to 1,000 "antiques". He also does a lot of carving and made 2 duck decoy for Frank and Judy). On the way home, the LaGambinas drove through Canada, and the drive around Lake Superior was really pretty but the prettiest drive was around Lake Crescent.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. George Campbell for a week were their daughter, Mrs. James Wallace and children from Langley. Also visiting the Campbells are Mrs. James Southwood and family from Fairbanks.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Lewis celebrated their anniversary enjoying a delicious smorgasbord at Riverside Gardens in the company of Mr. and Mrs. George Campbell.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Halverson arrived home July 21 from a five-week vacation which took them to Redmond, Washington, where they visited a nephew, Mr. and Mrs. Viktor Halverson. In Pullman, they visited Mr. and Mrs. Larry Kallman and family. The Halversons then drove to Long Prairie, Minnesota, where they spent some time with Mrs. Halverson's mother and other members of her family, and to Minneapolis for a visit with her sister. In Sauk Center, the home of Sinclair Lewis, they stopped for a visit with Henry's relatives. (Sauk Center has the famous Main Street of America). While in Long Prairie, the Halversons also got together with their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. James Blodgett and family, who were there from Carmichael, California, and her niece, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Senn of Toledo, Washington. The Halversons had the good fortune to miss the hail storms and tornadoes while there, but didn't miss the warm weather on the way home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Holz returned July 5 from a trip to California along the coastline and visited Disneyland, Marineland and Knotts Berry Farm. They spent a couple of days in San Francisco with Ken's sister, Mr. and Mrs. John Sexton, and celebrated the 4th of July in Kelso with Ken's brother, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Holz, before returning home.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stern had a baby boy July 25. Terrence Michael DeForest weighed 7 pounds, 4 ounces, and his grandparents are Dr. and Mrs. Bruce Stern and Mr. and Mrs. Perry Biber of Port Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. James Rooney had a baby boy July 26. Jody

Alexander weighed 8 pounds, 7 ounces, and his grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Baar of Joyce and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Rooney of Port Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Queen had a baby boy July 27. Bryan Steven weighed 7 pounds, 14 ounces, and his grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. George Warren of Forks and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Queen of Port Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Woody had a baby boy July 30. Chad Edward weighed 8 pounds, 15 ounces, and his grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Ed Woody of Forks and Mrs. Della Middleton of Sylva, North Carolina.

LEAVE IT CLEAN FOR OTHERS

It is here on the west side of the Olympics that vacationers search for relaxation and solitude; A walk on the beach, camping along one of many area streams, hiking, canoeing, salmon fishing, picnicking or any of the recreations in which the area is famous. What brings the visitors? Forks is an area which offers a variety of outdoor recreation, a variety not found in many other areas of the State. Where else can one fish the salt water for king salmon, dig clams, net smelt, fish for trout, gather agates, visit a rain forest, then hike into a high county lake to spend the night, all in a 16 hour period.

Another factor which helps explain the high tourism to the great outdoors is simply that as man pollutes the cities and industrial areas, he searches for that which is still pure. This brings man to the beaches, rivers, rain forests and back country. He finds that here, especially within the boundaries of the Olympic National Park, he can escape smog, noise and the ugliness of litter. Or can he? The smog he will leave behind as he will the noise, but what he finds upon arrival at his favorite campsite may be a portion of that which he is attempting to escape; that of litter. Beaches, river bars, lakes, trails, roadways, wherever man travels we find broken glass along with numerous other harmful and ugly debris. If one can carry in full bottles and cans, he can surely carry them back empty, depositing them in the proper areas known as county garbage dumps or donating them to the various organizations which turn the containers into cash. An inexcusable crisis as man attempts to destroy the outdoors for himself and others. If not for yourself, leave it clean for others.

HERE AND THERE

Thus far it has been a good season for cutthroat fishing with the best yet to come. The Bogachiel, Calawah, Soleduck, Quillayute and Dickey yielded some nice catches. A few salmon and steelhead have also been taken, especially in the Bogachiel. Every dedicated fisherman has scored well in the high waters which are just now beginning to drop. Well, I guess there would have to be one exception to that statement. The exception would be that of Ben Ringer who, though very dedicated to the sport of fishing, has failed in all departments of that sport. Hang in there, Benny. The Bogachiel Rearing Pond now holds approximately 275,000 young steelhead. Wayne King has scored on 20-inch cutthroat, but the knowledge pertaining to the type and size of lure used is not available for public release at this time.

Gone again over the weekend. Just call Mother and me "Mr. and Mrs. Wanderer". South this time, Quinalt, Neilton, Pacific Beach, etc. Had supper at Quinalt Lodge and ran into Walt and Adria Fuhrman and Verlain and Jean Sackett. Happy birthday, Walt.

Went down a few times Sunday to bowl, but nobody home. Somebody better change the sign on the door that says, "Open at 2 p. m., everyday".

Margaret Sorrell had a try at the T. V. at Saturday Night Monte Carlo, while Ken Sorrell, Gordon McCoy, Arden Prissel and Phyllis Whitehead all blew their chances at the Jackpot. What are you folks doing? Saving it for me? I'll take it. Arden won the little sidepot with a whopping 510 series.

BPAA at Port Townsend had Gordon McCoy in first place in the Singles, and shared third place with Kathy Decker in the Mixed Doubles.

CANINE AND EQUINE

By Sharon Clarke

The issue of the last of the mustangs is very much in the news lately. There have been T. V. shows dedicated to this noble creature, many books written over the years, much legislative action taken for their interest, but for the most part these efforts have been to no avail. The dog food industry has thrived on these animals with the cooperation of money hungry people who give no thought to what they are destroying. The mustang is, along with the American bison, one of the very last living reminders of our old west; a way of life I love to recall through reading and traveling.

Granted, the mustang is causing his share of problems, especially to horse breeders. Many a good-blooded animal has been taken from a corral or pasture by some verile mustang stallion, for the call of the wild will always be answered. But, for the most part, they keep to the high country as they are timid. They exist on sparse, dry grasses and keep on the move, so they do not ruin the open range as they have been accused of by conservationists. The mustang herds, which comprise only a few head each, roam far and wide for feed, water and their own safety. There is usually a lead mare who is all-wise, and the stallion brings up the rear, guarding from behind. When a rest is needed, the stallion stations himself at a higher position where he can view any on coming dangers. This is a most beautiful sight rarely seen by human eyes, as man is usually spotted first and the escape already executed.

These are but a few facts on the gallant mustang. Not so beautiful as a blooded animal is, but beautiful in his own way for his ability to survive and remain free as man cannot. Are we jealous of anything that can achieve this? I wonder.

If you support the idea of saving the wild mustangs from inevitable extinction, write Senator Henry M. Jackson who is a staunch worker on legislation for the free equines.

Coastguardsman commended

The following is a reprint of the letter of commendation. To: SN William E. Palmer.

1. I am pleased to commend you for your performance of duty while serving on 29, November 1970 as a member of a boat crew engaged in assisting the fishing vessel MATT-GUNN which was taking on water and in danger of sinking in Quartz Bay in the West Arm of Nuka Bay and on 30 November 1970 as a member of a repair party assisting the same vessel. Despite extremely adverse weather conditions on 29 November 1970, your boat succeeded in placing a repair party aboard the MATT-GUNN. When the MATT-GUNN grounded, your boat successfully removed four persons from the beach and transported them to the safety of the Coast Guard Cutter SORREL. On 30 November 1970, after the MATT-GUNN had been refloated and was proceeding to Seward, flooding resumed, and you boarded the vessel as a member of a repair party which succeeded in dewatering her. You remained aboard until she was safely moored in Seward, Alaska approximately five hours later.

2. You are commended for your outstanding performance of duty during this period. By your meritorious service you upheld the highest traditions of the United States Coast Guard.

3. A copy of this letter will be made a part of your official record in Headquarters. J. A. Palmer Rear Admiral, U. S. Coast Guard, Commander, Seventeenth Coast Guard District by direction of the Commandant

SOLEDUCK RANGER DISTRICT REPORT

Visibility is greatly hindered by the dry weather's dusty roads. Oiled roads present an extra hazard with a soft, crumbling shoulder. Visitors should drive more slowly under these conditions.

Sunlight filtering through a canopy of hemlock, spruce, and cottonwood trees falls to the mossy forest floor to further enhance the surroundings of Klahowya and Klahanie Campgrounds. Open sites are abundant in each and offer an unparalleled setting for the camper.

The Soleduck offers recreational opportunities which are often not considered primary. Our system of roads provides easy access to innumerable areas where a forest visitor can experience the quiet seclusion of an old-growth timber stand of the comparative excitement of a rushing mountain stream. For an hour or a day a visitor can take advantage of his forest and its resources.

Timber is only one product of the forest. Streams may or may not be productive fishing spots, but their yield of seclusion and serenity is worth experiencing. A little effort in a cleared area will reward a variety of wild berries. Any non-commercial product of the forest is available to the forest user. The experience of having your efforts rewarded by a simple discovery, if only an interestingly shaped root or a sun-bleached snag is incomparable. Visitors need not invest several days in backpacking to achieve a remote and uninterrupted atmosphere. One of the forest's most valuable products is the opportunity to be a quiet observer, to use all the senses in an undemanding environment. "Listen then, if you have ears."

TRAIL RIDERS NEWS

By Barbara King

My apologies to Mrs. Floe. I said last week that her new gelding, Go Go, was an American Saddlebred-Tennessee Walker cross. The big chestnut is a Thoroughbred-Tennessee Walker combination. That is a lot of horse for a nice little lady.

Rein Rider Darla Gaydeski missed the 4-H Horse Show in June to be in Eastern Washington. While there with her family, she met a little red gelding named Rebel, and recently Rebel has moved over here to live with his new owner. I'll be expecting Darla and Rebel to make a good showing in 4-H next year.

While I am on 4-H, the Rein Riders' horses will be judged next Tuesday, August 10th, at the Thillicum Park arena, 10:30 a. m., is the time that has been set for Mr. Ray Isle, the judge, and Andy Kruswyk, county extension agent, to begin their judging. These kids work hard with their horse projects and this is where what they they have learned really counts.

Within a few days, I will have entry blanks for the parade of stallions and the dinner-bell race to be held at the Clallam County Fair. Any of you who have stallions should plan to take part in the parade. It is good advertising and costs nothing. Last year there were 22 stallions paraded in front of the grandstand, one at a time. As each one was being led or ridden past, Doc Mobraey gave its history, bloodlines and where it was located. If I remember right, there was one Morgan, one Arabian (Betty Munson's Saly), one Tennessee Walker (Herb and Jane Smiley's), and all the rest were either Appaloosa or Quarter horses. We have some beautiful stallions in our own area, so get them entered!

SCHOOL BOARD

The regular meeting of the Board of Directors of Quillayute Valley School District No. 402 was held in the high school library July 15, 1971. Directors Fred Fletcher, Darrel Gaydeski, and Dean Hum were present.

Mr. Hitchcock received a letter from Bigelow Carpet guaranteeing replacement of the present rug in the primary building with a comparable rug with a firmer backing, which should eliminate the pull problem.

Considerable discussion on what to do about the old gym showers since no bids were received. The bids will be gone over for possible revision, changing completion date to December 31, and to be advertised in September. Mr. Golden felt having the showers available for football season was more critical as they have so much gear.

The Board will suggest to the Washington State School Directors Association to bring up for their conference, a) to move up about a month and a half the notification and dismissal dates regarding unsatisfactory staff members, b) to make help available to districts when militant activists and outside agencies invade the districts, c) set up a statewide salary schedule to relieve districts of the yearly salary negotiation problems.

Mr. Hum moved to adopt the Emergency Bus Use Policy form as supplies by the State office. When sufficient copies are available they will be sent to the local organizations who might have need of the school buses in an emergency. Mr. Fletcher seconded and motion carried.

Mr. Canaday asked about the status of the charges filed against the school by the State Board Against Discrimination.

It was explained there were no charges, just complaints. At this time, the State Board has seen fit to make no statement and the School Board feels they should not either. The State Board will have a meeting July 29 in Bremerton and if anything further comes, it will be after that. It is assumed someone from the District will be asked to talk with them after this date.

Mr. Fletcher moved to recommend to the Intermediate School District Board at their meeting August 11, 1971 to approve appointment of Myron C. Simmons and Cecil M. Wallerstedt to fill the current vacancies on the Board of School District No. 402. Mr. Hum seconded and the motion carried.

Mr. Cline wondered if anyone else who was interested in serving on the Board could submit their name to the Intermediate District Board. Mr. Hitchcock felt the School Board had complied with the law in the names they submitted, and any others interested should file for the positions at election time.

Questions was raised if State law still requires a person to be a freeholder to file for School Board position and if the appointees will fill out the unexpired terms of those they replace or just until the next election, which will be in November. Mr. Hitchcock will check these out.

Mr. Fletcher moved to approve teaching contracts for Forrest J. Kallenbach for the vocational-agriculture position, Barbara J. O'Sullivan and Emily A. Slaton for elementary positions, and JoAnn D. Timm and Linda M. Gilmore for Home Economics positions. Mr. Hum seconded and the motion carried.

Mr. Fletcher moved to approve Betty J. Silcox and Cheryl L. Rich as auditing officers and recording secretaries for the district. Mr. Hum seconded and the motion carried.

The meeting adjourned at 10:40 p. m.

NOTE: Letters to the editor, in order to appear in print, MUST be signed by the writer. If not signed, they will not be accepted.

you can't see it...
BUT
you depend on it!

You can't, of course, see electricity. It is invisible. You can't taste it. Can't feel it, or weigh it, or shake it, or break it.
But there is a lot that you can see that results from your use of electricity. Your bill, which we try to keep as low as possible. Our trucks, buildings and equipment, which we try to keep neat... Our employees, who are well-trained and courteous.
Most important are the effects of using electricity in your home. Effects like good lighting... ice cubes... hot water... home entertainment through TV, radio, and hi-fi... and a more comfortable home environment in winter and summer.
Even though you can't see what we produce, electricity provides services and entertainment that have become an indispensable part of your everyday lives. That's why your local electric utility must strive so hard to provide reliable electric service, available 24 hours a day.
