LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

William Blair Jr., Acting Assistant Secretary of Public Affairs for the State Dept., on June 30, 1971 made the remark, "So far as we are aware, opium is not grown legally in the Peoples Republic of China and one is exported by the Chinese Communist authorities." As early as December 13, 1961 the coordinator of information for the United States House of Representatives revealed that, "for the first time in human history, the system- ing to this visit. It can be atic production and distribution of narcotic drugs has become an organized government monopoly in Red China. "

Mr. Henry Anslinger, for many years director of the Federal Bureau of Narcotics. has reported, 'Spreading narcotic addiction and obtaining funds for political purposes is the policy of the entire China." They have an officer called Chief of Special Trade.

Ed Reid, Pulitzer Prize winning author and crime researcher states, "There is no question but that the youth of this country are the victims of a conspiracy. The object is to get the kids on drugs and effectively destroy the next generation of adults. " Reid also believes that Mao Tse-Tung is financing cells to push the drug influence around America and using the establised transportation system of the Mafia to distribute them effectively."

Kevin Phillips, a political reporter in a column on May 5, 1971 said, "There is evidence that Peking's probable weapon -- a recent massive infusion of high grade herion to "blow the minds of GI's has had devasting effects. Pure grade is being sold throughout Vietnam at prices far below what our well paid GI's could well afford. The motive, therefore, is not profit but addic-

In 1952, Red China's opium was valued at $150 million. British Intelligence Digest, the value, $800 million. Sale of drugs pay for western machinery, aircraft, transportation equipment and food grains.

It seems to add up to Red China gets its dollars to buy America by selling herion to our kids; after they make addicts of them!!!!!

Just remember, all Red China has to export is opium, herion, and morphine. How many of you have written the President, objecting to his "breaking bread" at the peace (ho hum) table with the most cruel tyrant in history who is "breaking the minds" of the young.

The American Federation of Labor put together a report in 1952, it states, "within two years after the Reds took over mainland China, they had deliberately murdered fourteen million people in order to demoralize all opposition and consolidate their position and power. An estimate of twenty million more in cold blood since!

Is it morally right for the President of the United States to sit down with that type of rulers? When are you, the people, going to say, "Enough, let's return to sanity?????" Write and keep writing letters to the President, Congressmen and State Department objectstopped if enough of you care enough to stop it.

TRAIL RIDERS

report of overturned car east of Sappho, possible injury;

By Baibara King

Roger, Mary, and Cheryl Addleman taking advantage of the woods being closed last week, took a ride up the Queets Corridor. While in the Queets Valley they visited the old Smith farm and spent two days just seeing everything there was to see on both sides of the river. From there they trailered down to Quinault for another bit of exploring and a 22-mile ride. It must be great to get away like that and have such a good trip and weather too!

I got away for a night last week with the Rein Riders. My assistant leader, Linda Stanley, and Jan Hillcar spent the night with us at Klahanie Campgrounds. Ten of the Rein Riders, Doreen Planes, Jan, and myself role up in the heat of the afternoon. Upon arriving we all took a swim in the of Third Beach Trail. (Clothes and all!)

lots of good food and company. While speaking of the Rein Riders. I should tell of their show Tuesday. Their horses were judged in a fitting and showing class and they were judged in bareback equitation class. All of this is part of their year's horse project. Linda and I are really proud of all our girls. They have done an outstanding job in training and learning to show their horses and are going to give the kids of the county fair a real run for their money. In the fitting and showing 13 and over division, blue ribbons went to Molly Madden's Dixie, Janie Roberts', Wickery, and Robin Roberts' Crown Jewel. Red ribbons went to Gail Graves' Mities Misty and Doreen Miller's Amigo. By Sharon Clarke

The following is Dandy's first chapter of his autobiography. It's old news, but he wanted to share the beginning with you before he goes any further. He's getting the big head what with his picture in the paper and preparation for the fair, etc., so I had to placate with this.

February 14, 1970: Well, I thought maybe I'd wait awhile before leaving the security of my Mom--(known to most as Babe) -- but then my curiosity got the best of me. I found my way into your dark out, so I couldn't take in much at first. I knew the warmth and comfort of my mom, and I could sense another horse nearby. Then there was a creature who didn't resemble any of us. It sounded nice to us and appeared somewhat sleepy, but to me it sure was strange,

Little by little the place I was in got lighter and I could see the stall mom and I were in. Pretty soon the strange creature returned with another strange creature. This one started messing with my ears and eyes and put a strange thing from his head on me. It didn't hurt, but I still wasn't too sure about all this faul-de-rauld. Then he stuck me with something that DID hurt, but only for a second. Mom's turn was next and I sure won't go into detail on that! Anyway, when he left he seemed satisfied with

I finally learned that these creatures are called people and their strange noises were talk. The first one was called Ann.

Mom helped me understand what was going on. My mom is real good to me, but she just won't let me get acquainted with our neighbor called "Sugar". Whenever I go near her, mom goes and bites me and pushes me away. She doesn't mind the people around me. though, because they're supposed to be our friends and take care of us.

Every once in awhile I hear this horse talk in the distance, and mom tells me that's my Dad. His name is Skip-A-Dollar and she says he's a real neat Big Daddy.

Well, I was getting along pretty good for my first day and then more people came. I was taking a "colt-nap" when the barn door opened. These people were so excited over seeing me. Mom said they were our owners, A1 & Sharon, and that they were so proud of both of us. They were all excited about my pretty flashy red markings (sorrel in horse language), and my pretty brown eyes (why my eyes were so important, I don't know). Then they started making some flashing lites go off. Mom said they taking pictures, whatever that means, but it didn't hurt, so I hammed it up a bit for them. They were calling me a Valentine baby -- Boy! I sure hope they don't name prevent serious head injuries, me that --- after all, I'm going to be a Man someday!!!!!

The Washington State Patrol

receives many complaints about the noise and speeds of motorcycles - - - especially dur ing the summertime. This summer is no exception. Letters and telephone calls are received frequently at many of the Patrol offices throughout strange world when it was pretty the State to the effect that motorcyclists are speeding up and down the street, or that a group of motorcyclists are making a lot of noise, etc.

Motorcycle

Problem

Chief O.C. Furseth of the State Patrol wishes to call to the attention of all motorcyclists the fact that they must obey the traffic laws.

"These laws were enacted to protect all drivers," said Furseth. "Speeding beyond the l'egal limits, for example, can be dangerous," he stated.

On file at the State Patrol Headquarters in Olympia are the records of hundreds of motorcycle accidents, many of which include serious injuries and deaths. In nearly every accident, according to Chief Furseth, there was evidence of improper driving on someone's part.

The Patrol Chief feels that parents of teenagers who have motorcycles should make it a point to see that their children are safe riders. If they are frequently driving above the speed limits in a careless or a reckless manner, the chances of their becoming involved in an accident become very great, according to Chief Furseth.

During 1971, there was a total of 17,077 motorcycle accidents in the State of Washington, a 43 percent increase over the previous year. Of these accidents, many serious injuries were incurred---44 lost their lives. One out of every 40 accidents that took place was fatal. Seventy percent of all motorcycle accidents involved persons between "The majority of those who ride motorcycles," Furseth said, "have exhibited the maturity and responsibility necessary for safe operation of their vehicles. We hope some of the other riders will take note of this fact and readjust their driving habits so that they too can be safe motorcyclists,'
