Funeral

Mr. and Mrs. Vel Oliver returned home after spending three days at Issaquah, where they attended the funeral of their daughter, Donna Ione Heckendorn, who passed away suddenly November 18.

She was born in Forks September 13, 1931.
Besides her parents, she is survived by four children, Robert, Thomas, Janis and John; a brother, Robert L. Hess of Vancouver, Washington; a sister, Cindy L. Hess of Seattle; two uncles, Walter S.
Parker of Forks and William
O. Parker of Bremerton.
Mrs. Oliver is the former Lela Jane Parker.

Tire inflation pressure should be watched closely as the weather changes. For every 10 degrees variation in temperature, pressure will go up or down approximately one pound.

Bank Manager to Enter Business

H. Franklyn Horton has made known his resignation as vice president and manager of the Forks State Bank effective January 1, 1972. He announced that he will devote his full efforts in the field of bookkeeping and tax service and will take offices in the Perry Building, U.S. Highway 101 South in Forks.

This move closes out a banking career of over 23 years. "I have harbored a desire to be more on my own for some time and I felt that the longer I suppressed that desire the more difficult the change would become", he said. "I feel that there is sufficient need at this time for additional personnel in this service field and that my past experience in banking should be helpful", he continued.

Mr. Horton moved to Forks in November, 1969, and was later joined by his wife Jeanne, son Casey and daughter Jill. They reside in Danielson Addition in Forks. "We found the move from Boulder, Colorado to Forks to be most enjoyable and have adopted

Lutheran Bazaar Saturday

The annual Holiday Bazaar will be held at Prince of Peace Lutheran Church in Forks on Saturday, December 4, from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Featured will be homemade candies, baked goods, needlecraft, stocking monkeys and other toys, novelty items and many other gift ideas.

There will also be a "white elephant" table, a crazy quilt door prize, and homemade pie and coffee.

A nursery will be provided the entire day, and Santa will be on hand from 1 to 3 p. m. Chairman for the event is Mrs. Roger Huestis with Mrs. Larry Holt as co-chairman.

Pre-school PTA News

Pre-school PTA met November 22 to plan Christmas activities for the coming month.

pedic guild for the children at the hospital at Christmas time. For special interest at this meeting, members who make Christmas decorations will demonstrate how it is done. Anyone who has something special they make is welcome to demonstrate it.

Welfare in America

How well do we really understand the problems of the other American who lives on welfare in our affluent society today?

This topic will be discussed at the next meeting of the West End Democratic Club on Thursday, December 2, at the VFW Hall at 8:00 p. m. Boyd Turner from the Public Assistance office in Port Angeles will be the speaker.

Also on the agenda for the evening will be the election of officers for 1972.

All members are urged to attend, and all meetings are open to the general public.

VFW Drive For Needy

VFW Post #9106 is conducting a drive for old car and truck batteries. Fund derived from these will be used for needy families at Christmas. For pickup, call Charles Fox, Harvey Lindeman, Clarence Sharpes or Martha Lewis.

Anyone wishing to donate canned foods may leave the food at KVAC. This will replace the annual Christmas show.

Flood Insurance

After complaining for more than 20 years about the lack of flood and mudslide insurance, most Washington property owners are ignoring this protection now that the federal government and the insurance business are providing it, according to the Insurance Information Institute.

With the state about to enter a new rainy season, federal officials have voiced their disappointment with the progress of the new government-private insurance flood and mudslide insurance program designed to provide irreplaceable property owners some degree of financial protection. In effect for more than a year and a half now, the program makes available for the first time at reasonable cost flood and mudslide insurance for several areas of Washington.

As of Sept. 30, only 10 policies covering the 2 parts have been sold in the entire state.

PERSPECTIVE

Stories and news reports from East Pakistan and India present with numbing horror the plight of a people overwhelmed by war and pestilence. One report in Life magazine declares, "The scale of the disaster... is staggeringly hard to comprehend. Cholera is only the first epidemic; it now afflicts areas along the entire 1,350-mile India-East Pakistan boundary. Doctors point to the possibility of smallpox, typhoid and polio in the offing."

Pictures show scenes of people whose faces are "emptied of all hope". Young and old, fleeing from the brutality of West Pakistan's soldiers, have no food, shelter or clothing. They are doomed to death because these things are not available. Their tragedy should make every American pause in humble gratefulness for the blessing of plenty which is taken for granted in our own country. Compared to the final extremity confronting countless thousands and perhaps millions of people in diseased and war-torn East Pakistan, the imaginary tribulations and laments of some of our own people are revolting to say the least.

By 1985, it is expected that there will be 25 million Americans aged 65 and older. A study of 600 elderly persons in San Francisco revealed that the healthiest and happiest were interested in conserving and enjoying rather than acquiring and exploiting, and in concern for others rather than control of others.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

NOTE: Letters to the editor, in order to appear in print, MUST be signed by the writer. If not signed, they will not be accepted.

To the people of Forks, Washington:

November 22, 1971

Hello,
As your prospective new doctor, I first wish to extend my heartiest congratulations to each of you for the overwhelming support you have given your new clinic and hospital. The community minded spirit that you have demonstrated in making this facility a reality is to be admired greatly, for it demonstrates dramatically the concern that each of you has toward the health care needs of the individual in your community.

Originally I am from the Midwest having been raised in a community approximately the size of Forks. I went to Iowa State University at Ames, Iowa, graduating in zoology and chemistry. Between 1964 and 1966 I was a National Institute of Health Cardiovascular trainee and received a Master of Science degree in 1966. I next went to an osteopathic medical school at Des Moines, Iowa, from 1966 to 1969. After completing the first three years of medical training, I was privileged to work with some of the most outstanding medical doctors in this country. At the University of Washington I was involved in the study of blood diseases following which I studied at Ohio State University, Jefferson Medical School and the Mayo Clinic. These studies involved all aspects of modern medicine including cardiology, radiology, neurology, oncology (cancer), medicine, and emergency medicine.

After graduating from medical school I served a rotating internship at Providence Hospital in Seattle. Since my internship I have worked as an emergency room physician in various hospitals in Seattle. If any of you have any questions to ask me, feel free to write or call me here in Seattle. I am looking forward to meeting each and every one of you. Sincerely,
D. Steenblock, M.S., D.O.

Upcoming timber sales
The sale of over 44.5 million board feet of timber was approved by the Board of Natural Resources, Bert L. Cole, Commissioner of Public Lands, announced. The timber, valued at $1,812,222.50, will be sold

December 27 and 28 at local district offices.

The largest sale is located 13 miles west of Clallam Bay in Clallam County. It contains 10,520,000 board feet of mostly hemlock, white fir and cedar mixed with some spruce and Douglas fir.

The most valuable sale is found 35 miles east of Castle Rock in Cowlitz County. It has been appraised by Department foresters at $556,820 and consists of mostly Douglas fir, Noble fir and hemlock.

Special provisions for yarding of utility grade logs will apply to three of the major sales, involving 54 percent of the volume being offered this month. The utility grade logs will be hauled to the landings or roads, where they will be available for special markets that develop periodically. These low-grade logs, that otherwise would be left in the woods, will be available for chipping when a market develops.

Provisions requiring the yarding and decking of utility logs are normally only needed in sales of overmature timber where such highly defective logs are found. Timber sales will be held in the following counties: Clallam, Cowlitz, Grays Harbor, Jefferson, Kitsap, Klickitat, Okanogan, Pacific, Stevens, and Thurston.

CLALLAM COUNTY:
South Stolzenberg--4.03 million board feet, appraised at $160,075.00, located approximately 13 miles by road south of Clallam Bay, to be sold December 28, at the Forks District office.

Little Sekdu River #2--10.52 million board feet, appraised at $487,075.00, located approximately 15 miles by road west of Clallam Bay, to be sold December 28, at the Forks District office.

Railroad Alder and Thinning--1.72 million board feet, appraised at $26,390.00, located approximately 20 miles by road west of Port Angeles, to be sold December 27, at the Port Angeles District Office.

Slivash #2--5.66 million board feet, appraised at $156,950.00, located approximately 19 miles by road northwest of Forks, to be sold December 28, at the Forks District office.

Beck Ranch Blowdown--560,000 board feet, appraised at $18,135.00, located approximately 6 miles by road south of Sequim, to be sold December 27, at the Port Angeles District office.

JEFFERSON COUNTY:
Manor Ridge Leave--1.11 million board feet, appraised at $33,855.00, located approximately 59 miles by road southeast, of Forks, to be sold December 28, at the Forks District office.

Winter Driving Requires Care

Driving hazards in Washington during the winter months of November, December and January produce nearly 20 percent more accidents than the average month, the Insurance Information Institute reports.

Last year, there were more than 8,100 accidents per month
while, during the three worst winter months, the average climbed to more than 9,000.

Driving today, even in ideal weather, can be described as difficult at best. On snow-and ice-covered bridges and mountain-pass roads, it becomes downright dangerous.

For those who must drive,
snow or no, the Institute says
now is the time to make changes, both in car equipment and driving habits, to prepare for winter's worst.

For winter driving, motorists should be sure to switch from standard to snow tires and should carry chains. Washington State Law permits the use of studded tires from November 1 through March 31, but requires tire chains when posted in snowy, mountain passes.

Motorists planning excursions in the mountains should carry extra equipment in case
they become stuck or stranded.
Besides chains, a snowed-in survival kit would include several blankets, a bucket of sand,
a shovel, traction mats, a tow chain or strap, battery booster cables, flares or warning lights
and a mirror for signaling.

If you get stuck on a back road, track SOS in the snow
where it can be observed by aircraft.

Icy bridges are especially treacherous during winter months. Ice forms on bridges before it does on highways and remains longer. A skid on a bridge is an efficient means of producing extensive automobile damage and bodily injury.

Intersections can be hazardous in snowy weather. Heavy traffic and starting-and-stopping movement produce ice
in the intersection while none may be present on the rest of the roadway. Special care should be taken where the snow has been packed into ice.

A driver who finds himself in a skid should always turn the front wheels into the skid.
For slowing or stopping in snow or on ice, motorists should always pump the brakes thus allowing the wheels to revolve
from time to time and lessening the chance of skidding.

Winter's shorter days and reduced visibility require that motorists be especially careful of pedestrians.

TYEE-SAPPHO-BEAVER NEWS

MRS. J. E. MERRITT

Fifty-seven years ago last Thursday, November 25, your correspondent, then a bride of nearly ten months, and eight months pregnant, with her husband, Lewis Lobdell, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Lobdell, arrived at Sunnyside, Washington. It was 10 o'clock at night, bitterly cold, and we had been traveling, in a covered wagon, since 7:30
that morning from Yakima,
at that time called North Yakima, a distance of only 38 miles.

We went to the Planter's Hotel and stayed there until Friday, as Thursday, November 26, was Thanksgiving Day. The menu that day, served family style, was, to the best of my recollection,
as follows: turkey, dressing,
sweet potatoes, celery, cranberry sauce, a delicious fruit salad, hot rolls, a vegetable, pumpkin and mince pies, and coffee, plus fresh apples and oranges. I'm sure there must have been more, but after all these years it is rather hard to remember. At any rate, when it came time to pay for the meal our host, a Mr.

Wight, said "If you had come in just for the dinner I should have to charge you for it, but as you are staying at the hotel I can let you have it for 35cents!"
Of course, wages at the time
were correspondingly low, Lewis Lobdell having worked,
the first three months of 1914,
for $35 a month and his board.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Loushin, with their daughters, Debbie, Brenda and Pamela had Thanksgiving dinner at the home of Mrs. Loushin's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs.
James Miles, in Port Angeles.
Mrs. Miles' brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Dawkins, were also guests.
Mrs. Dawkins went to Olympic Memorial Hospital that afternoon, and underwent surgery on her feet Friday morning, returning home Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Engges-eth were holiday dinner guests at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Dimmel. Mrs.
Ruth Lodde and daughter, Laurie of Tacoma were also guests on Thursday at the Dimmel home. They stayed there overnight, on Friday
they went to the Engeseth
home and stayed overnight,
leaving for home on Saturday.

Sunset Highlites

By Fred Jarvis

Still have a stuffed feeling after all the food and blood-shot eyes (not what you think) from watching too many football games over the long holiday. Will just about get over it and along come a couple more long weekends.

Darlene Damon had a 181 to lead the Tuesday Afternoon League in the hi game department, while Kathy Decker hit 178 and a 508 for hi series. Janet Joseph rolled a 178.

Frank Goos was in fine form for a game at least, tossing a 230, top game for the Sunset bunch. Gordon McCoy had a 222-558.

Jerry Winn, Bob West and Jess Parris were the big guns in the Friday Night Mixed. Jerry banged out a 244, Jess a 231, and Bob a 233 and a big 650. Paula Lyda hit 174, Jean Streeter 167, and Lou Suchodolski 164-465.

Sandy Parris again in the Girl's Mini Squad, with 116-222. Lori Sandmire had a 105 game and Laurie Wentworth a 179 series. Rod Swerin had a 142-246, and Eddie Bishop 137-138-275.

Chuck Hamby and Dave Allen blew the money shots at Saturday Night Monte Carlo. Sunday Junior Mixed: Jeff Blair 178-467, Randy Henry 174-453, Nancy Whitehead 141, Theresa Decker 133-323.

Leta Rondeau with a 180-513 in the Sunday Nite Mixed. Lou Suchodolski 176, Vern Rondeau 210, and no report on high series. Margaret Windle again in Monday Doubles with a 211, Kathy Decker 203-534, and Jerry Beebe 201.

Forks Prairie had Dick Suchodolski at 210-558, Ed Rondeau 207-557, Vic Walker won ten free games for converting the 4-6 split and Vern Rondeau picked off the 4-7-9-10. Harold Kennedy also spared a goody, the 6-7.

The Women's 500 club will be bowling at Laurel Lanes sometime in January. Will post the date later.

Bowlers of the week: Jerry Winn 244, Bob West 650, Margaret Windle 211, Kathy Decker 534.

OUTDOOR LORE

By Lonnie Archibald
STEELHEAD AND STEELHEADING

Well, it's that time of the year again when steelheaders prepare for the worst of weather in hopes of finding the best of fishing. Snow, ice, wind and rain will once again greet those dedicated sportsmen known as steelheaders. Peninsula streams such as the Hoh, Calawah, Bogachiel, Soleduck, Quillayute, Physt, Salt Creek, Clallam, Ozette, Twins and Lyre will yield these much sought for ironheads.

The familiar sight of riverboats is once again seen along Forks Avenue as guides once again return here to the steelhead capital of the world. Each season we notice an increase in fishermen over the year before and this season will be no exception. The 1970-71 season ended on the bright side with 6 record breaking steelhead being recorded during the months of January, February and March. There is no doubt that all available steelheaders, and then some, will be out to pick up where they left off last April.

The steelhead is the trophy fish of this the Evergreen State and has all the appeal to attract the angler. It's habits are a mystery, it's a fighter and it carries the size required in a trophy fish. The steelhead, a migrating rainbow trout, will go to sea where the food supply is plentiful. Winter brings the return of the ironheads to Forks area streams where they fight their way up the swift waters in search of spawning grounds. These winter-runs move upstream from November to May or June spawning largely in the spring. Over 90% of all steelhead caught are those which are on their first upstream migration. The large fish are not those which have gone to sea and are on their second upstream migration, but those which have remained at sea for 3 or 4 years before returning to their birth stream. Fish which spawn, return to sea, then re-enter the stream again in the following season may only gain 2 or 3 pounds over the previous season as it takes an extreme amount of energy to recover from first time spawning efforts.

Whether it be a 6 pounder for the fry pan or a 30 pound trophy for the den, they are both equal in many ways. Neither fish will be easily lured, and don't let the size fool you as the smaller fish will often put on a tail walking show which will remain in the minds of the sportsman for years to come.

And so it is, another season opens here on the western slopes of the Olympic Peninsula, here in the steelhead capital of the world.

SCHOOL BOARD

The regular meeting of the Board of Directors of Quillayute Valley School District No. 402 was held November 18, in the high school library. John B. Hitchcock administered the oath of office to the newly elected board members: Theodore Eastman, Fred Fletcher, Dean Hum, Lorraine Klahn and Myron Simmons. The Board elected Lorraine Klahn as their chairman.

The Citizens' Advisory Committee requested that two Board members meet with three members of their committee for the purpose of submitting a proposed school bus policy to the school board for approval. Mr. Klahn appointed Mr. Hum and himself to work with Howard Stockman, Ron Shearer and Harold Kennedy from the Advisory Committee.

Sandy Poteet presented the Board with an engineer drawing which may represent a proper solution for the wind tunnels in the Primary school. He asked the school board to inform the PTA of their decision.

Joe Newbry reported that the first phase of the Primary Parent-Teacher Conferences has been a real success and thanked the Board for their cooperation.

Greg Dickinson informed the Board that Mrs. Pearl Warren has been invited to come November 30th at 7:30 p. m. and talk to the certificated and classified personnel.

Myron Simmons was appointed legislative representative with Fred Fletcher as his alternate. A bid was accepted for fencing from U. S. Steel Corporation for $5434 plus 5% sales tax with a delivery schedule of approximately two weeks.

Mr. Hitchcock requested verification of how the Board wished to spend the windfall from State Forest Board monies. It was noted that a motion was made September 27, 1971, to spend these monies as per the special levy with the exception of the steam survey and the gym. The board then discussed the wind tunnel drawings presented earlier in the meeting. Dean Hum moved to have Terry Trantow and Will Slathar get a cost on the wind tunnel drawings and, if the cost is within that provided in the special levy, to have the maintenance staff proceed with construction.

The board discussed the matter of students driving cars and there was some indication that school policy was not being followed. The board felt that they should be informed to exceptions to school policy and before any changes are made requests should be received by the board and students should be informed before implementation.

Rooms 2 and 4 in the intermediate school had the adjoining wall removed this past summer to facilitate the team teaching program. However, the hard floor is a terrific noise factor; thus, the request for carpeting. Mr. Hitchcock stated that the carpet would be of the same type as that in the primary school, except that it would be on a pad and not glued to the floor. The cost would be approximately $2,000 and there is money available. Butch Eastman moved that a carpet be purchased for rooms 2 and 4 in the intermediate school if we can get it for the same price per square yard as that in the single building.

A request for a curriculum study and a discipline policy study from Mr. Gene Coate was presented to the board. Mr. Coate would like representatives from the school board, students, staff and possibly the Citizens' Advisory Committee to work on these studies. Myron Simmons moved to allow the curriculum study and the discipline policy study and for those involved to stipulate the time in advance when they are going to meet.

Mr. Traver gave a brief talk on the horticulture program and greenhouse that he will present in a more detailed report at a later time. Myron Simmons moved that a study be made on this program to see what the student interest is, where we would be able to put a greenhouse and the cost.

LISA KILMER, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Kilmer, was the first prize winner in the poster contest which was held in Port Angeles in connection with this year's STORY BOOK PARADE. The contest was open to all 4th grade children throughout the county. The theme was "Wild Things Can't Read, but You Can". The prizes, which were donated by Mrs. Harry Lydiard, were presented to the winners at the party held after the parade. Second prize went to Ann Webster from Dry Creek, third prize to Kelly Smith from Fairview and honorable mention to Vanessa Karr from Monroe and Teri Grinols from Fairview.

Edward Otto Gentry

Graveside services for Mr. Edward Otto Gentry, 88, were held Friday, November 26, at 1 p. m. at the Forks Cemetery. Arrangements were under the direction of Ridgeview Chapel, and President Joseph Newby, Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, officiated.

Mr. Gentry was born September 9, 1888, in Monroe Co., Kentucky, to Mr. and Mrs. Edward B. Gentry, and passed away November 22 in Forks.

Mr. Gentry attended schools in Kentucky where he farmed until moving to Illinois in 1905 and later to Deming, Washington, in 1907. He worked in the lumber mill there and later in Montesano and Raymond before moving to Lake Pleasant in 1940. He was married November 22, 1941, in Montesano to Thelma Sargent who survives in Forks. Mr. Gentry retired at the age of 73 living in Forks since 1962.

He is survived by: his wife, Mrs. Thelma Gentry of Forks; 3 sons, Don Gentry of Forks, Harley Gentry of Kentucky and Robert Christen of Medical Lake, Washington; daughters, Mrs. Harley Billingsley and Mrs. James Rosenberg, both of Kentucky; a step-daughter, Mrs. John Leppell of Forks; 14 grandchildren and 4 great-grandchildren.

Memorial contributions may be made to Forks Nursing Home Fund, P. O. Box 144, Forks, or to the Cancer Fund.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

Girl Scout Troop #742 invites all junior and cadette troops and their families to a Christmas party at the Sportsman's Club December 4 at 6:30. The Beaver Junior troop will hostess the party and also make the name tags. Mrs. Walt Fuhrman's troop is responsible for decorating and set up. Cadette troop #1098 will handle the invitations and serve at the potluck dinner. Entertainment and presentation of badges will be on the program. Skits will be presented by the different troops, and all girls (and boys, too) are asked to bring a gift for exchange.

The Brownie troops are also in full swing. Troop #1077 has been busy learning the Brownie promise, the 3 Brownie B's, and flag ceremony. Brownie troops #1350 and 1077 are getting ready to go caroling the week before Christmas. The girls will share their Christmas spirit with others as one way of performing a service to people in the community. The girls also made tray favors for the hospital for Thanksgiving and are now working on Christmas surprises for their families.

Christmas Party to be Held

A Headstart Christmas get-together will be held December 13 at the Community Center in LaPush at 6:30 p. m. for parents and children. A potluck dinner will be served, and the film "Jenny is a Good Thing" will be shown. Everyone is welcome.

Family tradition continues

A family tradition continued as Miss Lara Marie Johnson celebrated her first birthday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Johnson of Beaver.

A large white candle, first used 55 years ago by Lara's paternal grandfather, Mr. Alfred Johnson of Mt. Vernon, has since been used on the first birthday cake of each of his 6 children as well as 12 grandchildren.

Lara is the 12th grandchild to honor the unique family tradition.

needs. Also of great concern to The Salvation Army will be the necessary contacts to rest homes, hospitals, prisons, all of which is accomplished with an anxiety to serve those less fortunate.

The local committee stated that no child will go without a toy, or an unwed mother without personal attention. Meals to the homeless and handicapped men will be priority at this season of the year.

A Christmas letter appeal will arrive in your home during the first week of December, and the local Salvation Army Service Extension Committee encourages everyone to respond by return mail. Your prompt response to this appeal will help meet the needs of those early expenditures which are required. With many, Christmas giving in this manner has become a tradition. An intricate part of the season's activities. Your contribution can be sent to the local Salvation Army treasurer, Jon Erickson, Box 90, Forks, Washington 98831.

Salvation Army Needs Your Help

"Christmas is in the air," according to A. E. Fletcher, the local Salvation Army chairman, but to many, poverty does exist and becomes painfully evident at Christmas time. No one will knock at your door tonight seeking a meal, a pair of shoes, or a place to sleep because The Salvation Army will be meeting those

Wash. Highways

The Washington State Highway Commission approved requests this week for more than $8.6 million in unprogrammed funds for various state highway projects.

Authority was granted by the Commission to design and construct a safety improvement project at various locations around the Olympic Loop on U. S. Highway 101, and State Highway 106, east of the Junction with U. S. 101, at an estimated cost of $103,000. Guard rail will be installed on bridge approaches to reduce accident potential.

Work on this safety improvement project will start this winter with completion scheduled for the spring of 1972.

Motorists planning trips over Washington State's Cascade Mountain passes will want to get current road condition reports by dialing the Highways Department's SNO-LINE telephone service just before driving up into the passes.

Motorists should get in the habit, a short time before departing on trips, of dialing a SNO-LINE telephone number at any one of these key locations: Everett -- 262-3146; Seattle, 464-6010; Tacoma, FU3-4541, Olympia, 943-4600; Wenatchee, NO3-5151; or Yakima, CH8-6982. This SNO-LINE telephone service is offered only in these 6 cities to help motorists get up-to-the-minute road condition reports just before driving over the mountain passes. Weather and road conditions can change rapidly in the passes, so drivers should dial SNO-LINE a few minutes before departing.

The second annual Fatal Traffic Accident Report for the Washington State Highway system has been released by the Highway Dept. and its statistics are grim. 875 persons lost their lives in traffic accidents during 1970. Of these, 487 fatalities occurred on the state highway system. Some encouraging news was revealed in the midst of all this carnage, however.

The Washington State Highway Dept. revealed in the study that more than 20.7 billion miles of vehicular travel was logged by motorists throughout the state during the past year, so the state must have many very good drivers.

Even one billion miles is an impressive figure, that is roughly 40,000 trips around the Earth at the Equator, but 20.7 billion miles is more than 8 MILLION trips around the Earth.

But the factor which is completely uncontrollable -- the human element -- cannot be overcome by any amount of study, research, or incorporation of safety features.

Of the 497 traffic fatalities on the state highway network during the year, 43.3% were found to be drinking.

More than 50% had seatbelts available, but only 13.6% were using them.

The 5 major causative factors for fatal accidents were: drinking driver, vehicle turning into paths of others; excessive speed; pedestrian failure to yield right of way; and driver falling asleep.

CANINE AND EQUINE

By Sharon Clarke

Well, I have acquired a new canine friend called "O'Reilly". As you can guess from his name, he's an Irishman--Irish Terrier to be exact, and he has the red hair to make it official. "Reilly" is 5 months old and full of the zip you'd expect from a pup that age. He belongs to my boss, so I see him growing up every day as he is our office mascot when not in the woods with his master. It'll be awhile before he grows into those big feet of his.

This was a difficult animal to locate as there are only 2 known breeders of Irish Terriers on the West Coast. These animals are noted for their loyalty, friendliness, intelligence and stamina. The official AKC dog book claims, "...none is harder or more adaptable." The adult should weigh about 27 pounds and stand about 18 inches at the shoulder. They have a clean-cut, sporting-type build, with the typical classic terrier look, on a medium size frame.

"Reilly" has a lot yet to learn, but he sure has absorbed a lot for his mere 5 months of existence. Among his achievements are some personal tricks for his master such as speaking at the right moment for certain things, sitting on command, shaking hands in lieu of jumping up (this one's tough for a robust, friendly fellow), and knowing that lunch is over when his master brushes his hands together and says, "That's all." He also has to learn safety hazard recognition as he accompanies his master to the woods--where there is plenty of danger.

All in all, this dog lives the "Life O'Reilly" for a fact, and I know my boss, Lloyd Allen, would be able to tell you more fully the attributes of the Irish Terrier if you should happen upon them.

There have been many inquiries as to when another dog obedience class will be offered. We will plan to set up a 12-week course after the first of the year if an indoor location can be reserved. Further inquiries can be made to 374-6736. Thank you for your interest.

Heart Fund Dir.

Jerry D. Barnes, Port Angeles insurance man, has been named regional director of the February Heart Fund Drive. Barnes will have overall responsibility for the drive in Clallam and Jefferson counties. He also will serve as Clallam County chairman.

The 1972 Heart Fund has a goal of $913,027 in this state. Funds are needed to support research projects, to continue the Heart Association's free Cardiac Work Evaluation Unit which provides medical examination for heart patients seeking to return to work, and to continue programs that help keep physicians and nurses of this area informed on new developments in heart patient care.

Washington State Heart Association has a full time program

THE PRIMARY CORNER

Team Teaching I-----
We begin our day with an impressive flag salute to six United States flags and six Washington State flags, held aloft by twelve respectful first graders. The Pledge of Allegiance is led by another, using the microphone.

We've learned the names of all the letters of the alphabet and the sounds of many of them. With the help of phonics and the sight words we have learned, we are reading Sally, Dick and Jane, We Look and See, and Fun With Our Family.

We are learning how families live in other parts of the world, from the cold Arctic to the hot desert. Our Social Studies unit on the family is showing us how different families are, and how they are alike in many ways.

In Science, we brought in many different kinds of seeds and leaves of plants for our wall exhibit. We've been studying weather, also. We are learning about thermometers and temperature, winds, clouds and rain. We made rain in the classroom. If someday you want rain in Forks, you can do it, too. Just hold a pie tin full of crushed ice in the water vapor from a boiling tea kettle spout. Be patient and drops of moisture from the water vapor will condense and drip from the bottom of the pie tin to the table or the floor. Don't cheat! Be sure the pie tin doesn't leak! Mr. Chamberlin is showing us models of instruments from the weather station.

In Math it has sometimes been hard work, but we can make all the numerals from zero to ten, facing in the right direction. We are now adding numbers up to five. That's pretty easy, but when we try to find the missing addend: two plus what equals five, sometimes it's still missing!

Mrs. Adams, Miss Stillman, and Mrs. Spohl appreciated the parents taking time to come to Parent Teacher Conference. The contacts have been very satisfying and helpful.

Rondeau-Harrison Wedding

Miss Judy Lynn Harrison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill E. Harrison of Forks, became the bride of Edward Lester Rondeau, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Eugene Rondeau of Forks, in a single ring ceremony held November 18, 1971, at 9 p. m. in the First Baptist Church in Forks. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Max Klinkenborg with approximately 65 guests in attendance.

The wedding march was played by Mrs. Max Klinkenborg who also accompanied Mrs. Eugene Hamby as she sang "The Wedding Prayer" and "Whither Thou Goest". Baskets of pink and lavender roses with white carnations decorated the altar with pink and white candles completing the decorations.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Mr. Bill E. Harrison. She wore a short A-line dress of white polyester sheer with an empire waist, lace bodice and long lace sleeves. She carried 3 pink carnations tied with a wide white satin ribbon.

Sherry Harrison was maid of honor and she wore a short empire waisted, A-line dress of burgandy velvet and carried a single long-stemmed white carnation.

Best man was Russel Gale of Forks, and ushers were Dale A. Harrison and Charles A. Rondeau, also of Forks.

The bride's mother was attended in a green dress and the groom's mother wore a dress of yellow; both wore corsages of white carnations.

A reception was held in the reception hall of the First Baptist Church after the ceremony amid decorations of pink and purple crepe paper and pink wedding bells. Mrs. Charles Hamby poured, and the cake was cut by Mrs. James Grush. Gifts were opened by Pat Engel and Sandy Strouf, and Brenda and Joyce Huling attended the guestbook.

The couple is now at home in Forks at the Forks Trailer Court.

your electric investment

Chances are, you never thought about the value of the electric distribution system that serves you. How much do you suppose is invested in the electric meter, service connection, poles and wires just to serve you? And how about the miles of line that bring electricity to your property—what's your share of that? And the transformers? And the trucks and the line equipment, and the electric utility property and building? What's your guess?

Nationally, America's public power systems have an average investment of more than $1,000 for each customer served—$1,034 to be exact. And this figure is growing rapidly. Ten years ago the investment for each customer was $596—about half that of today. In 1971 we estimate that an average of nearly $150 will be spent in electric system additions or improvements for each customer served.

Your electric utility investment is a sizeable and growing amount. As your local, publicly owned electric utility, it is our responsibility to use and maintain this investment wisely. As a citizen-owner, you should know that we value your electric utility investment.

Commissioners: Russell Bayton, President; James Lotzgesell, Vice President; Alvin E. Fletcher, Secretary.
