Driver's License Office closed

The Dept. of Motor Vehicles Driver's License Division has announced that all offices in the State will be closed both Christmas and New Year's Day.

CHURCH BURGLARIZED

On December 15 at 9 a. m., the Forks marshal's office received a call pertaining to a burglary in progress at the Assembly of God Church in Forks.

CHAMBER ELECTS OFFICERS

The last Chamber of Commerce meeting for the year 1971 was held December 15 at the Vagabond. The following officers were elected for the new year: president, Verl Poole; vice president, Carol Lunsford; secretary, Mary Ann Bullock; and treasurer, Ingrid Lingvall. Directors are: Frank Horton, Bob Rosmond and Warren Paul.

County commissioners informed the chamber that plans were looked into about building a new courthouse. The county has some land, said D. J. Caulkins, but was also looking into the possibility of trading some county property for school property. He also gave a brief resume on the solid waste problems and what the county has done to improve the dumps.

Marshal Dave Huson reported on the progress of the upcoming ski lessons at Hurricane Ridge. A dry land ski clinic was held December 14 with 30 youngsters participating. The lessons will start January 8.

The next meeting will be January 19.

CHILDREN PRESENTED CHRISTMAS FILM

Children of the Forks Primary School are given a special treat each year before Christmas. Their teachers lease a Walt Disney film to be shown to each grade.

This year "So Dear to My Heart" with Burl Ives, Beulah Bondi, Laura Patten, and Bobby Driscoll was shown. This is the touching story of village farm life and honest people who are close to the earth.

It tells of an eleven year old boy and his prize black lamb that becomes lost. In the search for his pet, the boy frets more about the ribbon he hopes to win at the county fair rather than the lamb itself. Guided by his grandmother, he learns which prizes have lasting importance. With the movie goes a special wish from each teacher to each child to have a very Merry Christmas.

NEW OSHA ADMINISTRATION

James W. Lake, an expert in on-the-job safety and health, was named today as Northwest Regional Administrator of the U.S. Department of Labor's Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA). As an OSHA Regional Administrator, Lake will be responsible for administering the Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1970 in the four Northwest States of Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Alaska. He will also supervise compliance inspections and any resulting citations and penalties involving alleged violations of Federal standards. Based in Seattle, he will direct OSHA staffs in three Areas Offices across the region. He succeeds M. Chalm Robb, who last fall was sworn in as Deputy Assistant Secretary/Administrator for Occupational Safety and Health by Secretary of Labor J.D. Hodgson.

MEASURES WILL AID FISHING INDUSTRY

The Senate Commerce Committee has acted favorably on two measures designed to help the American fishing industry. Senator Warren G. Magnuson, committee chairman, said the measures were reported favorably to the full senate where they will await the new session of the Congress in January. "The first bill," said Magnuson, "is designed to expedite reimbursement to fishermen for the fines they pay foreign governments when their vessels are illegally seized. Some-times payment from the U.S. Government takes up to 18 months." The bill establishes a revolving fund of $3 million for the payment to fishermen of such fines.

"The bill would also require the U.S. Government to collect the fines by deducting the amounts from foreign aid or other such payments," said Magnuson, "and I hope this provision will strengthen our position in negotiations with Peru and Ecuador."

The second bill, dealing with the taking of American Salmon and other species on the high seas by other nations, is designed to enhance the effectiveness of International Fisheries Programs.

"This bill" said Magnuson, "empowers the President to order a prohibition or imports of fish products from any nation which violates the conservation doctrines of our International Fisheries agreements. "The first bill" said Magnuson, "should certainly be of some support to American officials who are negotiating these matters currently in Peru and Ecuador. Surely, the report of my Committee is an indication that the Congress is concerned about this matter, and will follow through unless serious negotiations begin very soon."

Congressman Tom Pelly of Washington's 1st District, a sponsor of both measures passed out by Magnuson's Committee has acted so promptly and affirmatively on these two bills. This is further proof that the Congress of the United States will not tolerate the illegal seizure of Americans who are working their trade on the high seas.

HELP THE LESS FORTUNATE

The local Salvation Army committee wishes all a Merry Christmas and A Happy New Year.

For many of us Christmas is a happy season. Our hearts are filled with fellowship, good cheer and joyful expectation. It is also the time when our esteem and affection for those near to us find expression in words and deeds of love and generosity. The season is, for most of us, the best of times. But in our contentment, we sometimes forget that many of our neighbors--the elderly, the lonely, the ill, and those beset by financial problems or sudden disaster--are living in the worst of times. For them, the Salvation Army is a lifeline... making Christmas a happier occasion.

As the dedicated members of The Salvation Army bring the true joy of Christmas to those in need, we too can serve as a lifeline by looking beyond our circle of friends and loved ones---to share our good fortune with many more. Such unselfish sharing will make Christmas a more meaningful

THE PRIMARY CORNER

Mrs. Waters' second grade is singing one of the Christmas songs they learned. Mrs. Reed, a volunteer aid, has taught them songs which they plan to sing for the three primary grades on Monday, December 20.

Christmas time is a very busy and exciting time for the children with visions of what they might get for Christmas and making their gifts for their parents at school. (If your child is in Mrs. Waters' room and you haven't opened your present yet, don't read the rest of this paragraph---it's a secret!) This year they made a collage from little pieces of wood, colored rocks, stones, etc., glued to red burlap. They also made tiny candles decorated with whipped wax and colored beads.

We have an eight-space study carrel in the room made by Forks Builders Supply. Each carrel has a set of earphones. The children can listen to taped lessons or they can enjoy listening to stories when they finish their work.

We have a language master to teach words that are difficult to learn. The children can use this machine without tion from time to time, Connette said. The collection records all facets of woods work, milling, shipping, fishing, sealing and diverse maritime activities. Shipping is preserved in extensive photographs of the coasters, lumberjacks and schooners that plied the coast and rivers of the area and sailed to all parts of the world.

PACKAGE OF SAFETY

Through the combined efforts of the Washington State Highways Department, Washington State Patrol, and the Washington Traffic Safety Commission, a "Package of Safety" is offered to all travelers during this holiday season.

This formable "Package of Safety" urges motorists to use seat belts to wrap themselves and their passengers snugly and safely inside vehicles; to be awake and alert at all times to avoid traffic and weather-caused hazards; to plan holiday trips allowing plenty of time to reach destinations; and, to make frequent "safety stops" at Highways Department rest areas and scenic viewpoints.

COLLECTION

AIDS RESEARCH

An extensive photographic record of the area around Grays Harbor, its people and its early industry has been acquired by E. O. Holland Library at Washington State University.

Dr. Earle Connette, librarian in the archives section of the library, said more than 2,500 high quality glass negatives, prints and lantern slides from the collection of Charles R. Pratsch, pioneer professional photographer of Aberdeen, are included in the collection which covers a period from 1880 to 1920.

The rich, unpublished and unique collection was purchased from a son, Fred Pratsch, now 82, who still lives in Aberdeen, Connette said. Fred Pratsch carefully preserved the 8-by-10 inch glass negatives over the years and guarded against their exploitation.

"Mr. Pratsch would permit the collection to be seen but allowed no one to copy a single item," Connette said. WSU will make the collection available to scholars for research here and will build its own shows and displays from the collection.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. D.L. Dalton wish to announce the engagement of their daughter, Marsy Kay, to Russell A. Clark of Forks. The couple has set their wedding date for January 7.

PRE-RETIREMENT PLANNING

Today's earlier marriages and the trend toward earlier retirement mean that many persons are still vigorous and alert when their responsibilities are curtailed.

For this reason it is wise for a person nearing retirement, to take a good look at the part work has played in his life and begin to plan ahead for substitute activities.

About the first thing that comes to mind is decreased income. However, there are other job-related satisfactions that may be missing too. Work provides a feeling of being needed, brings a sense of accomplishment and provides identity and status.

In addition to providing a regular schedule, work also provides daily association with co-workers and opportunities to see and make friends.

A prospective retiree needs to recognize what his work has meant to him, so he can take positive steps to make sure there will be equally satisfying activities to replace those he is losing.

While some individuals look forward to a time for relaxation and reading, relaxing in itself is an art, and some people may suffer a feeling of guilt if they are not busy at work. For this reason, an important step to take before retirement is to develop new group contacts away from the job.

Volunteer organizations, civic improvement groups, church groups, and organizations of older persons can offer an individual worthwhile activities and the opportunity to make new friends.

An individual may find that retirement can mean having freedom and time to help others and provide the feeling of being needed which the retired person had in his job.

Today one-tenth of the population is people past retirement age, with the ranks still growing. A booklet entitled "Planning for Retirement" is available at the County Extension Office, located in the basement of the Post Office, Port Angeles, which may be of help to you.

May Old St. Nick be good to all of you!

DEAR SANTA
With Christmas only a few days away, perhaps its time to send this letter in which we hope you may find time to study and perhaps fulfill our dreams.

Local sportsmen would like a summer-run steelhead program here in the Forks area which would supply Forks and Clallam Bay area streams with much better summer and fall fishing. The Washington State Game Department has done a fine job of stocking our streams with winter steelhead, and perhaps a note to the game department in Olympia, Santa, would put a rush on this summer's steelhead program.

Also, maybe by some miracle we could have some gravel dumped into the Clearwater river to replace the spawning grounds which have been filled in with silt. Those winter steelhead running this river are going to be disappointed this season when they find a limited supply of spawning area.

Another nice present would be a few rounds of blank cartridges to be distributed between visiting and local poachers.

On your way through the Forks area, you might scatter a few litter barrels along our several boat launch sites, and maybe leave some instruction pamphlets with these as there are a few who do not seem to understand their use. Thank 'ya, Santa.

HERE AND THERE
Although local streams have been high, fishing has been good so far this season. Most all lures have proven effective taking steelhead for both bank and boat fishermen. Not many large fish have been taken, but then these monsters usually do not show until the last half of the steelhead season. Last year it was February, March and April which yielded the record breakers along with many that ran in the twenty pound bracket.

Sam Windle of Forks scored in the Hoh-Clearwater archery area last weekend, and what a trophy it was. A trophy which most rifle hunters dream of was taken by Sam with the bow. A single shot which traveled approximately 35 yards was placed nicely behind the eye of a four-point elk.

The local archery areas which are open for either sex deer and elk will close December 31.

December 19 marks the closing of the statewide pheasant season. Duck and goose season will close on January 16 in Western Washington.

In and Around Town

Mrs. Paul Ingvall, 374-6302

It's so much fun to receive Christmas cards, especially from such far away places as Finland, Sweden, France and Guam.

Some of the "lute-fish" lovers in town have already started to sample the traditional Scandinavian Christmas dinner according to Margit Joutsen who had her children over for a bite.

Several groups of carolers have been around town on foot, in pickups and on horseback, singing the old familiar Christmas songs.

Mrs. Ruth Johns, Mrs. Anita Ellis and Mrs. Muriel Huggins went to Tacoma December 18 for the wedding of Patricia Leibold.

Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Caulkins went Christmas shopping in Seattle and also visited their daughter, Danya Parker, in Mount Vernon over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Brush drove to Portland over the weekend of December 12 to visit her brother, Kenneth Lewis, who was up from Kansas City, Missouri. They also stopped in Astoria where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Fred Robinson.

Kathy and Larry Barger and family left December 14 for Shelton where they will be making their home for a long time, according to Kathy. We're really going to miss you.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill James and son Billy drove to Seattle over the weekend of December 12 where they visited their daughters, Karyn and Eilyn, and also did some Christmas shopping.

Attending a V. F. W. district meeting in Sequim December 11 were: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fox, Mr. and Mrs. Jules Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Sharpes, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Lindeman, Mrs. Martha Lewis and Mrs. Datsy Klahn.

Winners of the door prizes at the V. F. W. bazaar were: Mrs. Gordon Adrian (Barbie doll and clothes); Mrs. Norman Dedman (baby doll); and Mrs. Laurie Loushin (wreath).

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Nielsen over the Thanksgiving holiday were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Palmer Wang of White Salmon; Mr. and Mrs. Willard Wang and three children of Bingen; their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Loren Dingwall of Arlington; and Loren's mother, Mrs. Dorothy Dingwall of North Bend. Others were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Nielsen and three children of Bellevue and the Nielsen's son, Rene, from the University of Washington. Also there for the turkey dinner were Ernie's mother, Mrs. TheIna Jones and their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Nielsen of Forks.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hage spent three days in Bremerton last week visiting their daughter and family. Together with all the members of the LaPush Ocean Park Corp., the Hages also attended a Christmas party at the Empress Garden in Tacoma and "helped" one of the members, Paster Milton Nesse, celebrate his "39th" birthday.

A surprise birthday party was held at the Forest Service during the 15 minute coffee break for Ellie-May Addleman. All the personnel joined in the celebration. Also there were Mrs. Doris Douglas, Mrs. Linda Yothers, Mrs. Wilma Miller and Mrs. Mary Addleman.

Mr. and Mrs. Phil Arbelter drove to Seattle early in December to do some Christmas shopping and also to visit her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hobbs and family.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Jensen over the Thanksgiving holiday was her daughter, Elizabeth Brownlee and son, Tabin, from San Diego, California.

Miss Terry Genson and her brother, Chuck, drove to North Bend during Thanksgiving to visit their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Thompson and Mr. and Mrs. George Genson.

Bonnie Loshonkohl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Loshonkohl, celebrated her 10th birthday by having 9 young ladies over for a slumber party. They "snacked" on pizza, cheese, cake and milk, played games and had a good old fashioned pillow fight. Attending were: Tam Ronish, Linda Wells, Laurie Sandmire, Vicki Meyer, Sherri Cook, Debbie Barker, Laurie Windle, Beth Crippen and Julie Robinson.

Art Anderson won a trip to Mexico through Bryant Corp. (dealer's contest). The Andersons returned in early December after spending 4 days in Mazatlan, where they did some sightseeing, visited art and craft places, and farmer's markets. Pat and Art also tried their luck at deep-sea fishing, and for beginners they did real well, each one catching a sail fish. Pat's was "just a little one", but Art succeeded in catching a trophy-sized fish. They also attended a fiesta and a banquet put on by the corporation.

Glenn and Barbara King held open house at their ranch for all the horseback riding carolers last Sunday.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Al Genson December 16 and 17 were his brother, Eddie, just out of the service and his dad, George Genson of North Bend.

Winner of the door prize at the Yardage Boutique tag sale was Mrs. Pat Mansfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Noback, Mrs. R. A. Reider and the Noback's daughter, Marsha, visited the Ed Woodys and the Bill Rich's two weeks ago. They are former Forks residents and have been living in Marysville for the past 12 years. They send greetings to all friends in Forks.

A potluck luncheon was held December 13 at the home of Mrs. Bill Rich in honor of Jeanette Linsey of Kennewick and Irene Wynn of Centralia. Miss Linsey and Miss Wynn are Child Evangelism Fellowship teacher's trainers. Teachers and helpers of the Good News Club who attended the luncheon were: Mrs. Ed Malmsten, Mrs. LeRoy Malmsten, Mrs. Don Beattie, Mrs. Nan-sen Anderson, Mrs. Larry McClanahan, Mrs. Bill Kinsman, Mrs. Larry Klahn, Mrs. Ralph Howell and Mrs. Gerald Miles. Unable to attend were: Mrs. Bill Tubbs, Mrs. Walter Baron, Mrs. Dave Robinson and Cecilia Angola of Kennewick.

JAN. STATE TIMBER SALES

"Nearly 44.5 million board feet of state-owned timber will be offered for sale January 24 and 25," Bert L. Cole, Commissioner of Public Lands, announced. The fourteen parcels of timber have been appraised by Department of Natural Resources foresters at $1,-881,912.50.

The largest and most valuable offering contains 11.4 million board feet of timber and has been appraised at $554,600. It is located 53 miles south of Forks in Jefferson County.

Boundaries of a planned timber sale five miles west of Napavine in Lewis County have been carefully located to protect a blue heron nesting area. The timber sale contract also stipulates that no logging equipment will be permitted within the three acre nesting site. Roads have also been re-located around it.

The birds have been nesting in this area for many years. They arrive in April and build their large nests in the tops of tall Douglas fir trees. The precautions being taken will insure the blue heron of a safe and secure nesting site which they may continue to use in its natural state.

Timber sales will be held in the following counties: Clallam, Ferry, Clatsop, Jefferson, Lewis, Skamania, Snohomish, Wahkiakum and Whatcom.

SCHOOL CONCERT HELD

The Forks School held its 1971 band and choral Winter Concert the night of December 15, Mr. Stan Sells conducting. The concert was dedicated to Dr. Don Wise, dean of men at C. W. S. C.

The gymnasium was decorated with a large, central Christmas tree and a smaller tree at each end.

The junior high band opened the program with the "Star Spangled Banner" and continued with "March Militaire," "Silver Bells," "We've Only Just Begun," "Little Irish Suite" and "Toyland".

The junior high choir presented Mr. Sells with a tie then sang "Angels We Have Heard on High," "Frosty the Snowman," "Carol of the Drum" and "Twas the Night Before Christmas."

Mr. Sells introduced members of the high school band who had assisted elementary band members, and then called attention to the new bass drum and 2 marching drums on display beneath the tree. Mr. Sells said he was working towards a good marching band for parades, etc.

Elementary band selections were "Jingle Bells," "Good King Wenceslas," and "Jolly Old Saint Nicholas."

More gifts--a pink and white stuffed elephant and a cake--were presented to Mr. Sells by the high school choir which began its presentation with "Winter Wonderland". The "surprise" selection was "Rudolph the Red Nosed Reindeer," complete with actions. The choir continued with "Do You Hear What I Hear," "The Twelve Days After Christmas" and "Silent Night". During "Silent Night," a newscast suddenly filled the air relating the wars, misery and strife in today's world. The newscast was narrated by Mr. Ross Jones and added a sharp contrast to the peacefulness of the choral selection.

The audience was then asked to join in singing some old favorite Christmas carols, Stan Sells and his pink "hepalump" directing.

The high school band continued with "Front and Center," "Ballet Song," "Feel'n Groovy" and "Green Sleeves" (which Mr. Sells hoped to make a tradition). Mr. Sells also called attention to the new string bass donated by Mr. Russell Thomas. The band continued with "Sleigh Ride", more gifts were presented to Mr. Sells, and the concert was climaxed by "Elsa's Procession to the Cathedral."

The accompanist throughout the program was Russ Karen Liles.

HARLEM CLOWNS TO APPEAR

Basketball Monkeyshines! That's what local fans will see when the world famous Harlem Clowns bring their fantastic show to the local high school gymnasium on Wednesday, December 23, at 7:30 p. m.

The globe-trotting Clowns have been criss-crossing the United States and Canadian provinces as well as the rest of the world, for more than 35 years.

For folks who like laughs with their sports, the Harlem Clowns have all the answers. From the time they take the floor to the tune of their theme song, "Sweet Georgia Brown" until the grand finale "baseball game" the Clowns are working their hardest to combine fancy ball handling and shooting with both planned and spontaneous humor.

In their long history, the Clowns have played mostly for high schools, with their games usually sponsored by the Lettermen's Club, Associated Student Body, Key Club, PTA and Girls' League.

Locally they are sponsored by the Letterman's Club as a fund raising project for the present school year.

Opponents have as much fun as the Clowns---because owner Al Pullins insists that his players "keep the game interesting". Often the Clowns purposely pass up scoring opportunities and even toss the ball into the wrong "bucket" now and then.

The Harlem Clowns will play against the local Pay 'n Save team.

BOGACHIEL GARDEN CLUB NEWS

The December meeting of the Bogachiel Garden Club, which included its Christmas party, was held at the home of Mrs. Warren Paul, Mrs. Al Ryberg, Mrs. Carl Lamb and Mrs. Ron Shearer were hostesses.

Members brought handmade decorations, and gifts were exchanged. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Fred Shaw and Mrs. Warren Paul for novel and beautiful gifts, and Mrs. Ron Shearer and Mrs. Vester Sexton received prizes for most original and beautiful decorations.

The garden club agreed to award second prizes of $5.00 in each category of the Christmas Trails contest. Moody's Nursery, Leppell's Distributing and the garden club are offering the first prizes in each division. Duplicate prizes will also, of course, be given in case of a tie.

The judges will be making their rounds the evening of December 23. Winners will be notified, if possible, on that same evening. Decorations, to be judged, must be clearly visible from the road.

Mrs. Wal. Fuhrman gave an interesting talk on arts and crafts as related to Christmas decorating. The materials she demonstrated were ingenious and, in the main, inexpensive.

Mrs. Warren Paul demonstrated the making of ribbon poinsettias.

His favorite sports during the high school years were boxing and wrestling, and he said, "I'd like to get a wrestling-boxing program going for the youth if enough interest is shown."

Report theft or loss of explosives

During a recent investigation of an alleged extremist bombing, the Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms Divisions, IRS, U.S. Treasury, discovered that the explosives used were stolen from a construction camp in a midwestern state.

Some contractors and construction firms using explosive materials in their activities are neglecting to store them according to Federal law. Equally as important, companies are failing to report any explosive losses and thefts as required.

Federal regulations require specific storage facilities for explosives and, if a theft or loss occurs, require the owner of the explosives to report the loss to the local police and the Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms, (ATF), within 24 hours. Failure to report the loss subjects the violator to a fine of up to $1,000 and imprisonment for up to one year in a Federal prison.

To report the loss, contact your local police department and the Assistant Regional Commissioner, ATF, at 870 Market Street, Room 1006, San Francisco, California 94102, or call (415) 556-0698.

WEST COAST LOG EXPORTS

A total of 161.2 million board feet of softwood logs, Scribner scale, was exported from all ownerships in Washington, Oregon, northern California, and Alaska in October 1971, according to Research Economist David Darr of the U.S. Forest Service, Pacific Northwest Forest and Range Experiment Station in Portland. The volume for October was up sharply from September shipments of 83.8 million board feet, reflecting in part the mitigation of labor disputes on the West Coast. October exports were down 3.4 percent from June 1971 shipments, the last month not directly affected by labor disputes, and down 26.9 percent from October 1970 volume.

Washington and Oregon exported 155 million board feet in October, down 30.6 percent from shipments in the same period of 1970, but well above the September 1971 volume of 61.9 million board feet. October shipments from northern California totaled 5.2 million board feet, down sharply from the October 1970 volume of 15.8 million board feet. There were no exports from this area in September. Alaska exported a total of 1 million board feet in October compared with 6.9 million board feet in the previous month and 9.6 million board feet in October 1970.

Japan was the destination of 158.4 million board feet, or 98.2 percent of all October shipments. Douglas fir accounted for 22.3 percent of October exports and Port-Orford-cedar, 2.7 percent. Other softwoods, primarily western hemlock and true firs, accounted for the remaining 75 percent.

October shipments had a total value of $21.4 million at port of exportation and an average value of $132.65 per thousand board feet. Douglas-fir averaged $127.65 per thousand board feet, Port-Orford-cedar, $394.03, and other softwoods, $124.81.

Softwood log exports totaled 1,439.1 million board feet through the first 10 months of 1971, 30.5 percent less than for the same period of 1970.

DNR LAND SALES

A Department of Natural Resources real estate contract for $11,411,592.00 was formally signed by Ber L. Cole, Commissioner of Public Lands, and Charles H. Odegaard, Director, Washington State Parks and Recreation Commission. Representative Irving Newhouse, a major supporter of the land sale, was also present for the contract signing. This sale represents the culmination of years of cooperative effort to work out the complicated details whereby land held in public trust can be sold to another state agency.

The sale of more than 15,000 acres of public trust land managed by the Department of Natural Resources was approved by the Board of Natural Resources at their October meeting.

Cole said that the annual payments will be made to pay out the contract at 6% interest over a period of 20 years and will be distributed to the various trusts as they are received. For a number of years these lands have been under lease to the Parks and Recreation Commission with the trusts receiving the rental monies.

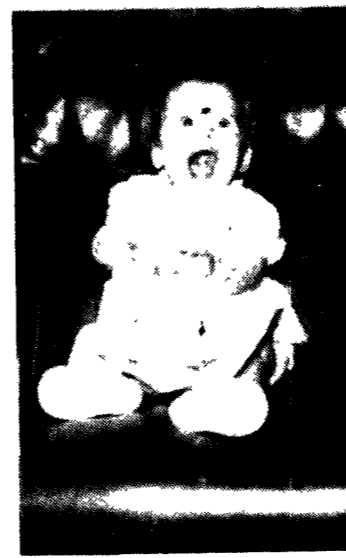

Twenty-six state parks are located on the 15,072.15 acres of lands included under the real estate contract. Among them are Ginkgo, Bridle Trails, Leadbetter Point, Sun Lakes, Mt. Pilchuck, Federation Forest, Field Springs and Chief Kamikim State Parks.

The most valuable parcel of land included under this contract is the 480 acres of Common School Land in the Bridle Trails State Park near Kirkland, valued at nearly $3 million. Leadbetter Point, on the northern tip of the Long Beach Peninsula in Southwest Washington, contains 775.75 acres and is valued at $1.6 million.

Specific reservations were written into the contract, covering all rights, title and interest in the timber, oil, gas, coal, ore, minerals (except sand and gravel), and fossils of every name, kind or description (except petrified wood in Ginkgo State Park). According to the terms of the contract, prior to granting contracts on these reservations, both the Parks and Recreation Commission and the Board of Natural Resources shall be consulted.

Cole also pointed out that the Washington State Parks and Recreation Commission meets the public's demand for the more modern, sophisticated type of state park facilities, while the Department of Natural Resources' recreational developments are smaller and more primitive.

"I feel that the sale of these lands will solve many of the management problems for both state agencies," Cole said.

Miss Cheryl Denise Schostak celebrated her first birthday Dec. 11 at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Schostak.

There were 17 small guests present. A special guest was Santa Claus who gave candy canes to the children and let each child tell him what he wanted for Christmas.

Cake and cupcakes were served with ice cream and punch.

A good time was had by all and Cheryl wishes to thank all her friends and relatives for attending.

$100 FINE FOR LITTERING

New litter prevention signs are currently being posted throughout the state by Highways Department maintenance employees to call attention to the serious litter problem in Washington State.

Citizens of the State of Washington are paying more than $1,000,000 a year just to send Highways Department maintenance employees around to clean up after litterbugs.

How much does a $1,000,000 clean-up bill represent? According to national statistics, there are 16,000 pieces of litter deposited along each mile of the primary highways of the nation each year. The litter of the highways of Washington help make up that national figure.

The reasons for each littering incident would probably make an extremely interesting book since everything from dentures to nighties are found by roadside clean-up crews. But none of the reasons for littering is truly acceptable.

Much of the littering problem could be solved if every automobile carried a litterbag. Statistics show that only half of the nation's automobiles carry litterbags. Of course just having a litterbag in the car does not assure that it will be used.

Additionally, most people do not connect their littering habits to the litter problem as a whole. They see their bit of trash as something that needs to be discarded, rather than something which adds to the mounting pile of litter.

The Washington State Highways Department provides 1,435 litter barrels for the convenience of the motorist, and still must pick up one million dollars worth of litter from the highways of the state.

So, what is to be done? There have been many suggestions made, but none has worked satisfactorily yet. In the meantime, the Highways Department is changing the litter prevention signs. The maximum fine of $250 for littering is no longer the law. There is now a minimum fine of $100.

Unit pricing in liquor stores

Unit pricing will go into effect at all state liquor stores and agencies January 1, the State Liquor Control Board announced.

Customers entering the stores and agencies January 3, the first working day of the new year, will find shelf tags listing the total price of each item, along with the cost per ounce.

Unit pricing is a relatively new program, brought on by the new "consumerism" in the marketplace. The Liquor Control Board and its employees are proud to be among the first to introduce unit pricing in the State of Washington, and thereby provide another service for its customers.

The cost per ounce will enable customers to determine whether they are getting a better buy by purchasing any given item by the half gallon, fifth or pint.

Generally, the largest bottle is the best buy, but this is not always true. For example, the state's largest volume, Item, MacNaughton's Canadian Whiskey is a better buy by the ounce in pints than in fifths. A pint costs $4.15 or 25.9 cents an ounce, while a fifth costs $6.80 or 26.6 cents an ounce. The best buy, however, is the half gallon which costs $16 or 25 cents an ounce.

The move to unit-pricing to better serve the public was made possible by the liquor board's sophisticated computer system. It enabled the board to compute by machine the per ounce cost of each of the 1100 items carried in state stores even though 30 different size bottles were involved in the overall computation.

Wash. winters are your home's best enemy

Old man winter makes his official debut in the state of Washington at 7:24 a. m., Deember 22; and, if you have not already taken steps to winterize your home, his first number might be to put you out in the cold.

Water pipes and exposed plumbing are the most vulnerable and usually the first to succumb to the freezing temperatures, chilling winds and swirling snow typical of winter months in Washington. The minimum precaution that should be taken, is to wrap all pipes with a woolen material and cover that with plastic. Heat tape, an electrical conductor that attaches directly to the pipes, is a bit more expensive but will provide a warmth rivaling spring-time in even the most bitter of winters.

The fall leaves that have collected in your home's gutters and downspouts over the past months are also a hazard to the well-being of your home, as the melting snow and rain back up and pour over both sides of the gutters. Homes with enclosed gutters are the hardest hit as the water overflows down inside the walls. The damage caused by the rot that results can be extensive and costly.

Snow covered roofs are another winter hazard that must be watched and protected against. One foot of freshly fallen snow on your roof presses down on all of your worldly possessions with the weight of five automobiles. A foot of wet snow on an average-size home, around 1,300 square feet, can weigh up to 33 tons. It is a good idea, particularly on flat roofed houses, to keep the roof swept or shoveled clean of any significant accumulation of the white stuff.

The cold winter may also create some very hot problems for the home owner who does not take a few minutes to inspect his furnace or heater before using it almost steadily all winter long. After sitting practically unused during the warmer months, there are a number of problems that can develop that a simple, nonprofessional inspection can remedy. Among these problems are leaking oil that should be cleaned up, combustibles placed too close to the furnace, and flues, particularly fireplace flues, that have become clogged and should be cleaned.

Trailer houses and vacant homes are special cases and require special care to protect them from the vagaries of winter weather. If you are planning on a winter vacation, keep your heat on, shut off your water, if possible, and have a neighbor check your home periodically.

Do not let old man winter get the best of you in the coming months. Common sense and a few special cold-weather precautions will keep you and your home cozy and warm, no matter how low the thermometer drops.

Congressman Meeds announced that the program director will be Pearl Warren of LaPush.
