Elderly people, especially, should be extremely careful when walking on ice or snow. A mis-step on a slippery piece of ice could have a very painful ending.

A drift log stands boldly at the high tide line where it awaits the next winter storm from the Pacific. Glass floats were scattered here yesterday, but of course they were quickly gathered by those who venture here. A few bottles and other drift still remain along this beach near Kalaok. Here, along the Olympic National Park's ocean strip.

'SPARTAN SOMERSAULT'

Spartans Strive to Snap String of Subjugations; Start Success Skein

The community, the team can't help but be a winner, can it? Special halftime entertainment, door prizes, celebrity hoop shoot, and a promise of the biggest splash of fun since the sinking of the Titanic, is in store for all in attendance.

So don't wait to read about this rone; come and experience excitement, AND I'll guarantee you'll never go back to Guy Lombardo. And, besides, it's a chance to celebrate New Year's Eve all over again---at least in part?

Also a reminder the game times, Vanity and I.V. have been moved up to 8:15 and 7:00, so the festivities begin an hour earlier.

While Jerry Cash's club is winless in six outings, there is cause for considerable optimism following a narrow 60-56 loss at North Mason, December 17th, as they battled from a dozen points down early in the fourth quarter.

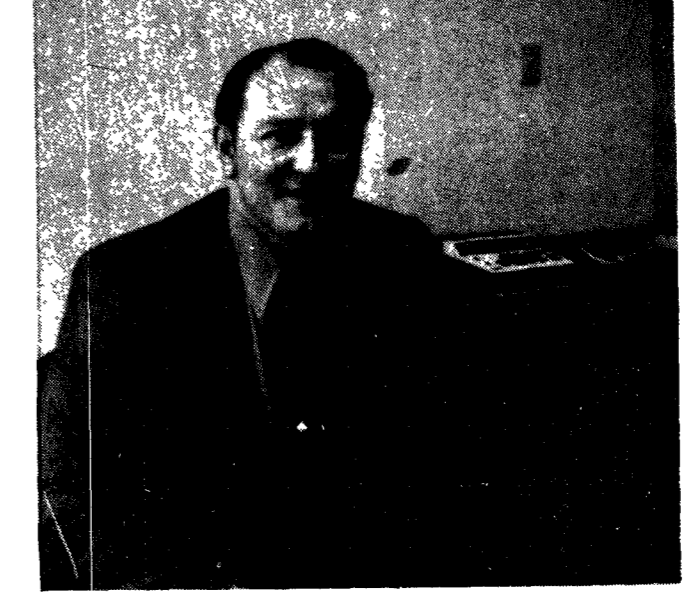

A convincing win over the Pirates could restore needed confidence to the Spartan club. Tough, hard-fought losses cause more coaching ulcers and suicides than a defeat 99-12. And, due to the overall weakness of the Olympic A loop, a win would put the Forks club right back in the thick of the title chase.

Extension of the generous Christmas spirit shown the opposition throughout 1971 will be forbidden. In fact, supporters at tomorrow night's contest will be asked, aided and abetted by the ban, drill team, and pep staff, to unload with an array of horns, gongs, bells, whistles, and noisemakers, which will drive away that evil ghost of Christmas Past, which seems to haunt the Forks basketball floor.

I'm told that with the proper volume, the gym loses its hat, so perhaps we can have the first partial domed stadium this side of Arlington, Texas.

Anything goes, in the guise of noise and enthusiasm, and with the help of everyone in

NEW BANK MANAGER

With the New Year starting, Charles R. Marsh also started his duties as the new vice president-manager of Forks State Bank. Marsh was born and raised in Longview, Washington and graduated in 1957 from Oregon State University where he received a bachelor of science degree in business and technology and a minor in forest products.

Previous to his arrival in Forks, Marsh was employed as an assistant cashier and operations officer at the First American National Bank in Port Townsend.

His wife, Connie, is an R.N. and the Marshes have a daughter, Melissa, four and a half years old. His favorite hobbies are fishing and sports of all kind.

"No changes in the bank policies will be made," said Marsh. "We will continue to serve the public as we have in the past."

"I think we are going to like Forks," said Marsh, and added with a grin, "we have no quibbling about the amount of rain that falls here, because we lived in Sitka, Alaska, for several years where the rainfall is about the same."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

NOTE: Letters to the editor, in order to appear in print, MUST be signed by the writer. If not signed, they will not be accepted.

The following letter was received by the Forum, we are printing it in hopes some of our readers will be able to supply Mr. Kirsch with the information he needs.

Dear Sir:

I am engaged in a research project concerning the late Rhode Island author Howard Phillips Lovecraft (1890-1937). One of his lone-time correspondents was the poet C. Edward Cone (died at LaPush on 27th of October 1938, buried same day later at Forks), and I am writing to obtain a copy of his obituary notice from the local newspaper from your city. Perhaps you could forward to me a copy of the obituary notice of Mr. Cone, and any other information or clippings that you have about him.

I am particularly interested in knowing whether he left a family, or if there are any descendants of his living today. Perhaps you could check with the cemetery where he is buried, or with the funeral home who handled his burial, to inquire if there were then any relatives, and also where they lived. I am also interested in having Mr. Cone's first name, which the letter C stands for, and also would like to verify his place of birth. Perhaps in the newspaper obituary there might appear a photograph of him, for I am looking for a picture to include in my thesis.

I would be most grateful to you for whatever information you might be able to give me regarding Mr. Cone, and any descendants or relatives, and I shall look forward with interest in hearing from you shortly. Yours respectfully, R. Alain Kirsch c/o Prof. R. E. G. Harris 10446 Wilshire Blvd., 206 Los Angeles, Calif. 90024

1972 WITHHOLDING RATES

The Internal Revenue Service urges all wage earners to adjust their income tax withholding exemption certificates (Form W-4) according to the recently enacted Revenue Act of 1971. Otherwise, many will be subjected to overwithholding and unnecessary reductions in their take-home pay, according to Neal S. Warren, District Director.

He said new withholding provisions of the tax law apply to all wages paid after January 16, 1972, and employees should file new exemption certificates as soon as possible. The changes in withholding reflect the increases in the standard deduction and in the personal exemption provided by the 1971 act, and are designed to eliminate the major causes of underwithholding that many taxpayers experienced in 1971. The withholding tax rates are adjusted so that single employees earning up to $28,000 a year and married employees, whose spouses are not employed, with earnings up to $31,000 a year can generally expect to have their full tax withheld.

The new law also introduces "special withholding allowance" for one-job individuals and families and liberalizes the provisions governing additional withholding allowances for taxpayers who itemize their deductions (for charities, taxes, etc.).

Mr. Warren said that, generally, an employee should do these things: (1) Claim all of the withholding exemptions to which he is entitled for himself, spouse, dependents, etc. Employees who formerly underclaimed exemptions in order to counterbalance the underwithholding in the withholding system will probably find that is no longer necessary or desirable.

(2) Claim the new "special withholding allowance" if single and he does not earn more than $25,000; or, if married, his spouse does not work and he has only one job from which he earns not more than $31,000.

(3) Claim the "additional withholding allowances" shown in the table on the back of the Withholding Exemptions Certificate (Form W-4) if his itemized deductions are substantially larger than the standard deduction.

However, Mr. Warren suggested that all single employees who earn more than $25,000 and married employees who earn more than $31,000 figure out their 1972 tax and withholding based on expected earnings for the year. Then, if their withholding is not sufficient, they can increase it in order to avoid having to make payments on a declaration of estimated tax. They can do this by underclaiming their exemptions or asking their employers to withhold additional dollar amounts, or both.

The IRS is mailing to all employees a new Employer's Tax Guide (Circular E) which contains the new withholding provisions and tables and also provides an initial supply of the new Withholding Exemption Certificates which their employers will need. An order blank for additional forms is included.

The women of the church will hold their next project meeting at 12 noon January 10. Pastor Stockman's sermon Sunday January 9, will be "Our Response to the Call of Christ."

Big catch by young fishermen

Steve Weitzman, left, 15-pound fish and David Weitzman who caught the big one, 24 pounds.

"If I could skip school, I would fish for the rest of my life," was David Weitzman's word as he, with a big smile, held up (not without some struggle) the 24-pound steelhead he caught near the mouth of the Sol Duc river during his Christmas vacation.

He used hot shot for bait and it took him 20 minutes to land. "Not too long," said David, "as the steelhead helped a little bit by wiggling around so the line got wrapped around its gills." David had some ocean fishing, but this was the first time he tried his luck at steelheading.

His cousin, Steve Weitzman, didn't do too badly either. His catch weighed 15 pounds, but it was sort of hard to land," said Steve. "Took me 15 minutes."
This was the first time Steve had gone steelhead fishing, but he has also gone ocean fishing at San Diego.

ing wheels in the direction in which your rear wheels are sliding.

"When the car comes out of the skid, straighten your wheels and pump brakes gently to slow down.

"Snow and studded tires are obviously a good safety measure to minimize the chance of skidding," says Ross C. Orreby, Chairman of the Tire Industry Safety Council.

"But," he adds, "special tires still can't take the place of a careful driver prepared to cope with the tricky stop-and-go conditions of cold weather."

To aid proper inflation, a prime factor in preventing skids, tire pressure should be monitored more closely as weather gets colder. For every 10 degree drop in temperature, the pressure drops approximately one pound.

The Council recommends special caution in planned braking where winter has really taken hold; experience has shown that stopping on glare ice or packed snow can take up to ten times the normal distance on a dry road.

The Council also suggests checking tires for safe tread depth if you live in a temperate climate where snow is intermittent, and haven't switched to snow tires.

When the tire is down to 1/16 inch of tread groove depth it is unsafe, the Council says. This measurement has been adopted as a legal minimum standard in 27 states.

If a skid starts:
*Take your foot off the gas.
*Keep off the brakes; braking only makes the skid worse.
*Steer into the skid by turn-

In and Around Town

Mrs. Paul Lingvall, 374-6802

A very happy New Year. During the week between Christmas and New Year's Day, we had a taste of almost every kind of weather possible. Saw Duane Badgley sprinkling salt outside the post office during those slick days, saw kids on sleighs and sleds, and saw the cutest snowwoman and snowman in the Fred Jarvis' yard (the sculptor was Juanita Jarvis).

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Windle over the Christmas holidays was Margaret's mother, Mrs. Lillian Swafford of Maple Valley. Mrs. Swafford also visited her other daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Decker.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rook, son John and grandchildren Charlene, Carla and Richard drove to Bremerton over Christmas and spent Christmas morning at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William (Margaret) Lattin. Both families then went to Tacoma to enjoy a dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James McDonald (Mary Anne), and by the evening a total of 30 relatives had gathered at Mr. and Mrs. Niklas Riggo's house for dessert.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Klug spent Christmas Eve in Seattle with Barbara's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Isido Redin.

Mr. and Mrs. Elno Jousen returned December 29 after a week's stay in Woodinville with Margi's sister, Mr. and Mrs. Art Howard. The Jousens also visited another sister in Renton, Mr. and Mrs. George Jacobson and their niece, Mr. and Mrs. John Rusk, in Carnation.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Don Quirk over the Christmas holiday were Gal's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Loral Gossage of Sequim, her grandmother, Mrs. E. Gossage, and Mr. and Mrs. Terry Pedersen and family.

Ran into an "old" Forks resident the other day. Bruce Dunlap was here visiting Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Nielsen, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Mansfield and the Don Palmers. Bruce is going to Peninsula College and spent the rest of his holiday vacation in Auburn with his mother, Mrs. Jean Dunlap and sister Gwen.

Mr. and Mrs. Jon Erickson and family returned December 31 after spending Christmas in Quartzsite, Arizona, where they visited Jon's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Erickson, and his sister, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Blaney. While there they also took a trip to Mexico.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Vall spent Christmas in Sedro Woolley where they visited his brother, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Vall. The Valls also spent a day in Seattle and visited Janice's sister, Mr. and Mrs. Al Schneider.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bullock spent Christmas Eve in Omak with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Bullock and Christmas Day in Wenatchee with Mary Ann's mother, Mrs. Clara Thorp.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Chuck Minor over Christmas were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Minor of Shelton.

Spending the New Year weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Vall were her mother, Mrs. Vera Genslinger of Sedro Woolley and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Merritt from Eureka, California.

Mrs. Gordon Marsh spent the Christmas holiday with her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Marsh Jr., of Seattle. She also visited her mother-in-law, Mrs. George L. Marsh, in Centralia.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Oost and family went to Seattle over Christmas and spent three days with Irene's sister, Mr. and Mrs. William Forrester.

Reverend and Mrs. Howard Stockman visited the Tamlin Anderson family in Auburn for a couple of days during the Christmas vacation.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Aanderud over the holidays were his brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Aanderud of Portland, Oregon.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Alexander spent Christmas at the home of their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Olson in Oquahut. Visiting the Alexanders for a few days are their granddaughter, Mrs. Larry Marshall, and grandson, Keith Olson, of Oquahut.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Lindeman welcomed the New Year at the V.F.W. hall in Sequim and stayed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Rosanbalm. Accompanying them to Sequim were Mr. and Mrs. Buck Eckertkamp.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Hammell and family spent Christmas with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Dahlquist and Mr. and Mrs. Alton Hammell in Lynden. The temperature of 5 degrees made them cut their visit short as they arrived home December 26.

Ray and Linda Brackett flew to Los Angeles, California, to be with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Crose, over Christmas and New Year. The Bracketts also visited Disneyland and Marineland.

Bill and Bev Borda and family returned home January 1 after a 10-day vacation in Nevada and California. They spent Christmas in Las Vegas and that day seemed to be just like any other day during the year. The Bordes also took in a show with Barbara Streland at the Hilton Hotel, enjoyed visiting with one of Bev's classmates and naturally didn't miss a trip to Disneyland.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Loshonkhal and family together with Bob's mother, Mrs. Helen Burdick, are back home after a 6-day vacation to California. They went strictly as tourists and had a wonderful time visiting such places as Knott's Berry Farm, Marineland and the Wax Museum. To go swimming before the New Year's Eve party was one thing the children got a big kick out of, and at Disneyland, where the party was held, they got involved in everything.

The "wolf" (B'er Rabbit and the Wolf) stole Pat's hat, and Bonnie got kissed by Winnie the Pooh. Live entertainment and dancing in the different squares was part of the New Year celebration, and at the stroke of 12 each visitor (close to 36,000) received a hat and a noisemaker. The Loshonkhal and Mrs. Burdick also visited Helen's brother, Jim Kolls in Onard.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Grush and family went to Willamette, Oregon, for a family reunion during the Christmas holiday, at the home of Diane's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Lambert. Around 20 relatives were present for the gathering.

During my daily trip downtown I asked several people if they had made any New Year's resolutions and here are some of the answers:

I really haven't thought too much about it. (Margaret Windle)

Heavens no! Why should you make one, when you can't keep one. (Sandy Simmons)

Go on a diet. (Jim Horton)

Me? No! Why make them and break them. (Dorothy Corham)

Hope to lose 40 pounds of Forks footage from around my waistline. (Verle Poole)

No... always break them, so why bother making them. (Gail Garbick)

Have I? I don't make them. The right time for doing something is the right time whether it's January 1 or some other day. (Sandy Poteet)

No, ma'am, I haven't. (Pat Adams)

No. No sense in it. (Jack James)

Haven't given it much thought. You wouldn't do it anyway. (Carl Sinema)

No, I'm staying clear of that. (Sandy Minor)

Christmas and New Year's for a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Paul and family returned December 30 after a week's vacation in California where they spent the Christmas holiday with their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Colwell in Chico. From there they went to San Jose where they visited Warren's sister, Mr. and Mrs. James Chapell, and also friends in Menlo Park. The heavy snowfall created quite a problem as the freeway was closed for awhile. In Eureka the Pauls stopped to see Ella's sister, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. Johnson returned recently after spending three weeks in Salem, Oregon, with their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Goven, where they also spent Christmas.

The Monday Bunch bowling team gathered at the home of Mrs. Ken Lindsey December 13, for a coffee hour with Maryjo Garte a pleasant trip as she was leaving for a two-week vacation. Other team members were Darlene Thrush, Vicki Lanham, Part Lane and Donna Crawford.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Grush and family went to Willamette, Oregon, for a family reunion during the Christmas holiday, at the home of Diane's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Lambert. Around 20 relatives were present for the gathering.

Sunset Highlites

After two hectic weekends, things are beginning to get back to normal. Sure glad those holidays only come once a year. A scarcity of league bowling last week: Only four to report on, but there was no shortage of good games. Larry Palmer hit a big 235 in the Sunset League. Aub Johns had a 222-532. Not too shabby for only bowling once a month or so. Darrell had a 554 series. Norm Clarke hit a 208, and Darrell a 200-556 in Thursday Nites West End League. Billie Crist banged out a 229 in Monday's Doubles and Kathy Decker shot a 203-517. What happened to your other two games, Billie?

Good shooting amongst the Forks Prairie Bunch. Vern Rondeau rattled the pins for a 242, Duke Streater hit 233-571. Darrell a 230-599, Ed Duncan 220-597 (finally got it rolling, 547) Bob Auld, with a 131 average, hit a 218. Bowlers of the week: Billie Crist 229, Kathy Decker 517, Vern Rondeau 242, Darrell 598.

CLOWN CONVERSATIONS

Traveling and living out of a suitcase for five months of the year takes its toll on the Clowns. Bobby summed it up this way. "The traveling is hard, and we wouldn't kid anyone that it's not. You have to sit in that damn bus we travel in and you go to the game, perhaps going 2-300 miles to get there, and then you might have to play a decent ball club and you have to get warmed up. Maybe it's the second quarter before you do. It's tough to stay prepared night after night."

Helping and working with underprivileged kids reaching them to understand the value of education, and at the same time upgrade themselves and basketball, are prime off-season interests.

Mostly in the greater Los Angeles area, the Clowns offer guidance, training and education benefits to many youngsters, for the want of a break could be or could have been great ball players.

"In order to become a good athlete, an athlete is not just on the court or on the field-- whatever sport you're in--it's off the field, too."

"A lot of great ball players are missing out in breaks because they are outside life. "If a man lives destructively on the outside, well he's black-balled from the big type of sports."

"So we try to teach kids to stay away from the booze, the pills, the dope--because these things are what are hurting a lot of great ball players."

"Kids look up to a ball player, whether he's a Clown or plays for the Lakers or the Knicks; they'll look up to a professional ball player."

"And, although we are Clowns, we still do a professional job-- and as long as you are in a pro job, kids will look up to you."

After a million miles of travel, and performances before hundreds of millions people, the Clowns offer this basic advice to all ball players: "Stay in school. One thing a ball player has to do is keep up his grades to play ball. "I might have to retire my shoes before I receive another chance, but if you are in school, the chances are there. "Opportunity does knock but once, and once it passes you by, you might never get it again. It's just a hope."

"...Kids don't realize-- they drop out of school but they've also dropped their chances... and it might be one chance in a million that they will get that big break."

"So stay in school, because there are a lot of things which rub off in school to enable a youngster to carry through life. "A great many ball players, even though they play in high school, don't bother to go to college."

"Something might come up-- they might have to take care of family or get married or various things... and, of course, there is the Army. "Uncle Sam stops a lot of good ballplayers, ruins a lot of careers, but that is the way it goes."

Working with kids to provide opportunities they possibly never had, and playing basketball to the delight of millions of fans, the Harlem Clowns have done much for athletics and even more for humanity. Oh! In case anybody asks, the Clowns got lucky against the local Pal 'n Siave club, 61-58.

In case you didn't know, TNT stands for Tennessee's Nuclear Tempered Offense. Most sportswriters are up-to-date on the translation, after receiving the news in a promotional dispatch from Ray Mears, head coach of the Tennessee basketball team. (Additional copies are available for $ .50....)

"Starting with the school color, orange, Mears launched a dynamic program back in 1962," the brochure proclaims. "Big Orange now covers everything in Knoxville from the telephones and taxis to buses and beauty queens. The coach has become one of the most successful mentors in the nation and Tennessee proudly boasts of seven Volunteer All-Americans in the era."

"The trademark of these teams has been fashioned with a flair--rally girls, a marching band, elaborate pre-game drills, and a unicyclist dribbling, shooting and juggling three basketballs! It appears reasonable then that the next chapter in the Vol story should involve the relationship between offensive basketball and nuclear physics." (Reasonable? But wait, there's more.)

According to Mears, "we have always spoken of the nucleus of a team, an explosive team, an explosive team, a team getting blown off the court, a player having the hot hand or hot night and shooting the 'bomb'. These terms refer to a cohesive nucleus and an explosive energy which is the very essence of nuclear physics."

For this reason our three-dimensional (3-D) offense has incorporated the features of a nuclear model. The model can best be described as the three dimensional Tennessee Nuclear Tempered Offense, or in simpler terms, the 3-D T, N, T, offense--it's dynamic and more!!!!

As you may have noted, Ray Mears is an athletic merchandise. He is a coach, but he is also a promoter, a hustler, and a door-to-door salesman, for himself and his program. And he thrives in the Deep South, where basketball fans once stepped juleps on porch swings while listening to Adolph Rupp discuss the shifting zone.

At the University of Maryland, the band plays Hall to the Chief as Lefty Driesell strides across the gym, flashed the "V" for Victory sign, and then collapses into his director's chair next to the bench. His teams are becoming almost as entertaining.

It was Lefty Driesell, you may recall, who bought a full-page ad in the "Washington Post", directed at three highly-sought-after prep basketball stars. "The University of Maryland needs you," the ad proclaimed. And the Terps landed two of them, 6-7 Jim O'Brien (30 point average as a frosh) and Howard White (21.3 ppg.).

The next year Driesell and Maryland landed four prep All-Americans, including 6-11 Tom McMillen, whose jersey was retired in to the National Basketball Hall of Fame at the end of his high school career.

Maybe astute coaching is no longer enough. Maybe if you want to fill the seats and balance the budget and establish the reputation, you have to advertise.

LaSalle College last year sent out hundreds of Wanted Posters on Ken Durrett, All-American candidate wanted for the "destruction of Western Kentucky, Miami, Niagara, Temple and various squads throughout the nation."

The colleges are battling the pros for the spectators' dollar, and some are employing the hard sell. In fact, it was Michigan Athletic Director Don Canham, a member of the NCAA Football Television Committee, who recently watched pro football's Monday night telecast (9 p.m. in the East) and mused aloud: "You give us Oklahoma vs. Nebraska at 8 o'clock on Monday night television and we're not gonna worry about what's on at 9 o'clock!"

Think Howard Cosell will defect?

COLLECTION AGENCY ACT

Effective January 1, 1972, the Collection Agency Act, as passed by the 97th legislative session, becomes law. Mr. Jack G. Nelson, Director, Dept. of Motor Vehicles announced that all collection agencies operating within the state must be licensed by his department in order to legally perform such functions within the state. Nelson also announced that all agencies within the state must also be licensed if they intend to conduct any business as a collection agency within the boundaries of the State of Washington.

Each collection agency is required to pay an initial licensing and investigation fee of $200, and must renew its license each year for a fee of $100. All agencies must be bonded in the amount of $5,000; such bond primarily protecting the customers or clients of collection agencies.

On and after January 1, 1972, along with other restrictions, collection agencies will be prohibited by law from attempting to collect claims by any means contrary to postal laws or regulations, publishing "deadbeat" lists, attempting to use any uniform or badge which may stimulate federal, state, county, or city law enforcement agencies; using any name when making a collection demand other than the name contained on its current license; threatening a debtor with imprisonment or his credit rating if a claim is not paid; communicating with a debtor in such a manner as to harass, intimidate, threaten or embarrass a debtor; communicating with a debtor by using firms or instruments that simulate the form or appearance of judicial process, government documents, telegraphic or emergency messages; sending any telegram or making any telephone calls concerning a debt, and for which charges are payable by the addresser; or attempting to collect from a debtor an amount greater than the principal, allowed interest, authorized collection costs, and in cases of suit, attorney's fees, and taxable court costs.

Under the provisions of the Collection Agency Act no agency may bring or maintain an action in any court of this state involving the collection of a claim against a third party without proof that such agency was duly licensed in accordance with the laws of the state.

The Director of Motor Vehicles is empowered to investigate all complaints against collection agencies, and if prefer charges against such businesses or agencies in conformance with current statutes. Additionally, the Collection Agency Act provides for the establishment of the Washington State Collection Agency Board, consisting of 5 members.

SCHOOL BOARD MTG.

The regular meeting of the Board of Directors of Quilley Valley School District was held in the high school library December 16, 1971. All directors were present. Visitors Robert Hall, Mr. and Mrs. I. Cunningham, Joe Newby, Gene Coate, Mr. and Mrs. F. Jacobs, D. D. Peterson, Mr. and Mrs. G. Laes, Hal Canaday, Lyle Davis, Forrest Kallenbach, Tom Hedglin, Robert Starr, Phil Borde, Stan Sells, Terry Sullivan, George Olsen, Jesse Maxfield, Mrs. Cecil Wallstedt, Linda Gilmore, Joanne Timm, Linda Jacky, Ralph Hill, Dick Lohnes, Ron Thompson, Harold Kennedy, Jack Perkins, Ron Shearer, Mrs. Eileen Penn, Mrs. Pearl Warren, Lawrence Soderlund, Pastor Howard Stockman, Gregory Dickson, Mrs. Eldon Winkle, Mrs. Harrington, Kent Thomas, David Oros and Ray Johnson were welcomed.

Pastor Stockman asked, as the prime concern of the Advisory Board, what happened to the ventilating system that was to be purchased under the 1970 Special Levy. It was the understanding of the people at the committee meeting that it was to have been purchased.

Mr. Hitchcock stated it was not on the levy, but was further down on the agenda under new business, item D. He also reported the wind tunnels of the Primary school should be taken care of soon.

An agreement has been worked out with asphalt company for just a skin coat new and when spring comes they will return and complete the job when the weather is better.

They will also lower a drain at no additional cost to the district.

Mr. Hitchcock recommended to the Board they consider work/study meetings at least once a month other than the regular meeting night. There are many things of concern to the district that should be considered with ample time for study. He felt the Board should set in advance the item to be studied and the length of time of the meeting with a suggestion of 7:30-9:30 p. m. He felt that pass-fall should be one of the things considered at this type of meeting.

Mr. Coate stated he, with parents, was concerned with truancy of students. He has found several discrepancies in the policy manual on attendance. He would like to shore up the attendance of students. The ideas presented were worked out with the teachers.

Mr. Coate presented to the Board an inquiry on intended curriculum study. He requested two Board members to meet with him and faculty members and any interested parents on January 11 at 7:30 p. m. in the High School library to study these three subjects, discipline, curriculum and policy changes. Mr. Simmons and Mr. Eastman will represent the Board at this meeting. The Advisory Committee was requested to attend if possible.

Mr. Coate presented a proposal to the Board on Curriculum study. He felt our curriculum is slanted at about 15% of our students. He would like some of the staff to go outside the district and see other schools in action. Since the district is short of substitutes, this could present a problem.

Mr. D. D. Peterson representing a committee for landscaping the hospital grounds requested Board approval for using the high school landscaping classes for this project. Due to shortage of funds, the hospital could not hire this done under their bond issue. They would be able to move any dirt that needs to be moved and they will be able to purchase the plants.

Mr. Kallenbach had made a survey of the area and taken soil tests and felt it would be possible for his classes to do this as long as they were given plenty of time. He felt his biggest problem would be transporting the students to the site. Mr. Hitchcock felt this could be arranged. The Board approved the undertaking of this project.

Mr. Hitchcock noted for the Board he had approved a change order on the remodeling of the old gym for putting in four-way light switches where needed for safety on the stairways leading down to the shower room while the electrical people were on the job site. In removing walls it was discovered wood bases were rotted and this renewal would add to the cost. He felt it was a legitimate increase and should be allowed as there was no possible way the contractor could have foreseen this deterioration. It would be under $400. Mr. Peterson has also been in contact with the Fire Marshal and has had to replace plywood with sheetrock to meet the Fire Marshal's requirements. Mr. Hitchcock felt Mr. Peterson was doing a good job and using better grade material than asked in many cases. He has made a slight change in putting in building paper because we seem to have a leakage factor from the brick wall. This will need to be sealed this coming summer. The Board approved the charge in orders.

Mr. Hitchcock stated in the Title III-N, D, E, A, request for funds we have singled out the wood shop area as the area to be improved. The basic request is for 1-20" hand saw, 2-12" and 14" tilting arbor saws, belt and disc sander, stand for same, scribe saw with tilting base; router 1 hp, router bit storage cabinet, dust collector, shop vacuum. The total will probably not be allowed, but we can be assured of about $1250. under the Title III funds. He recommended starting with the dust collector and anything else put on a priority that would be established by the shop teacher.

Dr. Goss of W. S. C. has Again recommended stripping the center of the football field for about 60 feet and replacing the dirt there with sawdust and sand mixture. The Board directed copies of the report be sent to them for further study.
