Westco Sports Network Player-of-the-Week

JOHN DAHLGREN

(This award will be presented each week to the player who shows the most hustle and determination during the two previous ball games).

"I'm not the great natural player. I have to work at it."
There seems to be no lack of hard work displayed by John Dahlgren. He came off the bench against Vashon and scored two buckets and set up another. John then added a perfect night as a starter against Neah Bay. He was 5-5 from the field, 4-4 from the foul line, and pulled down 6 rebounds, including four off the offensive backboards.
However, John used a little too much muscle--he also fouled out of the ball game.
(Westco Sports Network's Player-of-the-Week receives one free dinner at Clark's Vagabond Restaurant).

LOCAL SHARE OF LIQUOR PROFITS

The City of Forks received $15,987.68 from the State Liquor Control Board last year as the city's share of liquor profits and taxes generated by the state liquor system during the year ended June 30, 1971.
Clallam County received $54,910.90.
The figures were disclosed today in the annual report issued by the State Liquor Control Board for fiscal year 1971.
The cities and counties of the state, and state government, itself, shared almost $69 million in liquor profits and taxes during the 12-month period.
The total included $44.4 million to the State general fund, to help pay for the cost of education, welfare, public health, public safety and other functions of state government.

The cities of the state shared a total of $18.7 million. The 39 counties split a $4.7 million melon.
In addition, $1.1 million was handed over to the State Health Department to help finance its alcoholism program.

NIGHT CLASSES OFFERED

Registration for night classes will be held January 13, at 7:00 p. m., in the High School Library. Peninsula College will be offering five classes: Sewing, Woodworking, English Composition, Accounting and Shorthand. Classes will begin the week of January 17. The fee for all classes is $16.60.

REPUBLICANS TO MEET

The West End Republican Club will meet Monday, January 17, 1972, at 8 p. m. at the Bill Pierneke residence in Sappho.

S&R ELECT OFFICERS

The Forks Community Volunteer Search and Rescue unit held their annual election of officers on Wednesday evening, January 5, at the V. F. W. hall. Officers of the organization to preside in 1972 are as follows: president, Dudley Maxfield; 1st vice president, Ellsworth Whitehead; 2nd vice president, Willard Morgan; secretary, Ethel Whitehead; treasurer, Gladys Maxwell; co-ordinators, Benny Hansen, Myron Simmons, Carl Maxwell.
Lyle Cowles was appointed reporter and scrapbook chairman.
Kate Campbell was appointed as delegate to the Community Council and Ethel Whitehead and Willard Morgan were selected as alternate delegates.
Any communications regarding business with this S&R unit should be addressed to the appropriate officer.

SENIOR BALL

The class of '72 held its annual Senior Ball December 21 in the old gym of the high school.
The gym was decorated with red and white streamers and a large Christmas tree trimmed with white and red lights. At one end of the room was a huge door opening with the theme "On the Threshold of a Dream" written alongside of it. At the other end, behind the bandstand, was a sign reading "dedicated to Mr. Johnston". The young people danced to the music of the "Fragile Lime". At 10:30 Santa Claus arrived with a thump and a fall to wish everyone a Merry Christmas and to announce the royalties, who were elected by the class according to whom they felt worked the hardest. They were Duke Chuck Genson, Duchess Karol Bechtold, Prince Ron Paul, Princess Gail Lingvall, King Buck Merrick and Queen Jill Horton. All the royalties received a gift, the girls a tiara and a lovely basket with red carnations mixed with mums and babybreath. The boys received a statue. Chaperones for the evening were Eugene Coats, Mr. and Mrs. John Leppell Jr. and Mrs. and Mrs. Ray Johnston. Photographer was Wilmer Ullin assisted by Ted Ringsmuth.

Eight girls, Charlene Leppell, Rene Kesterson, Geri Leavitt, Jill Horton, Karol Bechtold, Judy Core, Cheryl Ullin and Gail Lingvall, formed a central committee to organize the various jobs and to solve any problems that came up.
The dance was well attended and everyone seemed to have a good time.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

NOTE: Letters to the editor, in order to appear in print, MUST be signed by the writer. If not signed, they will not be accepted.

Editor,

This letter is a plea to the people who help themselves to the Sunday P.L. out of the paper boys' bundles at the post office. It causes a lot of problems for the paper boys. Not only are they out of 30 cents for each paper taken, but they also have to buy another paper for their regular customer, and that is sometimes impossible, especially if the bundles have been "broken" into on such days as Christmas Day or New Year's Day when the stores are closed. So if you need a paper, please get one at the stores, or if the stores are closed call one of the paper boys. He might have an extra one.

Sincerely,
Ingrid Lingvall

New ITT Rayonier timber manager

The retirement of L. L. Forrest, ITT Rayonier Inc. vice president and general manager of the company's Northwest Timber Division, was announced by Charles E. Anderson, president. Forrest's retirement was effective January 1.

While still a student at Washington State University, Forrest began work in forestry with Polson Logging Company in 1932. He worked his way up through several operating jobs and was elected an officer of the Polson Company. When Rayonier acquired Polson in 1948, Forrest was active in consolidation of the two companies.

He became head of Rayonier's Northwest Timber Division in 1958. In 1961 he was elected a vice president of the company.

Long active in industry associations, Forrest is past president of the Association of Washington Business and the Industrial Forestry Association.

Forrest and his wife, Charibel, have two children. The Forrest's live at 547 Fairway Drive in Aberdeen.

The promotion of George V. Lonngren to the position of manager of the Northwest Timber Division of ITT Rayonier Inc. was announced by Charles E. Anderson, president.

Lonngren, 54, began his career with Rayonier in 1947 as an axe-man, he held a number of responsible positions in land management and logging operations in the Northwest Timber Division before being named assistant manager in 1970. Lonngren's appointment was effective January 1, when he replaced L. J. Forrest who retired after 39 years service with the company.

Lonngren attended Grays Harbor College and is a graduate in forest management from the College of Forestry at the University of Washington. He is a member of the Society of American Foresters.

Lonngren and his wife, Millie, live in Hoquiam. They have a son, Wayne. Lonngren was born in Aberdeen, Washington. He is a graduate of Aberdeen High School.

SCARLETT-FLEMING WED

Roberta Jean Scarlett and Lee Bud Fleming were married December 25th at 7 p.m. in the Congregational Church in Forks. The Rev. Ted Ringsmuth performed the double ring ceremony before close friends and relatives.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Scarlett of Sappho. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Andrew Sabo of Columbus, Georgia, and the late George Fleming of Phenix City, Alabama.

The church was beautifully decorated for the Christmas season with sprays, wreaths, flower arrangements and poinsettia plants.

Organist for the ceremony, Mrs. Fred Rosmond, played Christmas music before and after the ceremony as well as traditional wedding music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full-length, white lace gown with full sleeves and fitted cuffs. The dress featured an empire waist and a scoop neckline outlined in seed pearls. Her bou-

C.C.A. PRESENTS CONCERT

The Community Concert Association of Port Angeles will present its second concert of the season, Monday, January 17, at 8:15 p.m. in the Port Angeles High School Auditorium.

It will feature the Berkshire Chamber Players: Herbert Tichman, clarinet and flute; his wife, Ruth Tichman, piano; Daniel Steinetz, cellist, and Irving Becker, violin and viola.

They will perform from a repertoire including compositions for Trio and Quartet by Bach, Brahms, Beethoven, Mozart, Stravinsky and Von Weber.

Herbert Tichman, known internationally for his work as soloist and in chamber music, has appeared extensively in the United States, Europe and the Middle East. With his wife, he founded the highly successful Tichman Trio and is on the faculty of the Juilliard School of New York.

Ruth Tichman, a soloist in her own right, has been appearing in chamber music ensembles with her husband since their marriage twenty years ago. Born in Manchuria of Russian parents, she studied piano with Nadia Reisenberg and Edward Steuermann.

Irving Becker has concertized extensively in New York City and in a variety of European cities including Rome and Salzburg. Formerly first violinist with the Pittsburgh Symphony, he is currently on the faculties of Cazenovia College and Colgate University.

THE PRIMARY CORNER

From Mrs. Ellefson's First Grade.
Beginning a new year means making exciting plans that involve and reach each child in classroom. By now, the first graders know the basic fundamentals that have been introduced since September. The six and seven year olds are able to work quietly at a task for many minutes, depending on the activity. They are able to follow one and two step directions correctly. The first graders can write their letters, say the sound of most letters, and many are able to copy and read a sentence or two from the chalk board.

The most important conquest for many is that they are able to "read". Even now, great variation is noticeable in the reading levels of the children. The range goes from first primer level to high primer. With these achievements apparent, the teacher must continually be searching for new and exciting ways to make learning fun for the children. Reading one story a day from their basic readers can become boring. So sometimes we spice it up by having a group act out a story or perhaps create a new story based on the plot of a familiar one. "Book clubs" increase the enjoyment of books, while expanding the vocabulary and fluency of the children's reading. New endings for old stories can be discussed. And the audio-visual equipment livens up reading and language arts.

In social studies, Mrs. Ellefson's first graders plan to finish up their discussion and study of the family, which began the first day of school when the children brought pictures of their families. We are now discussing how the family works together as a unit. Art activities, films, pictures and creative story writing keep this study interesting.

Soon Mrs. Ellefson's class will launch a unit of study about living things. We all know how tremendously interested this age group is in mammals, insects, birds, fish, and reptiles. Likenesses and differences among living things will be emphasized. During this unit plans are being made to hatch chicks in a homemade incubator in our classroom. A thrilling experience like this will stimulate activities in language arts, reading, creative writing, spelling, arithmetic, and science.

Eventhough the excitement of the holidays is behind us, many interesting things will be happening in all the classrooms at the Primary School.

ter room was decorated with a Christmas tree and holly. The worthy matron opened the meeting with a welcome and a poem entitled "Wishes for the New Year".
A memorial was given for Leonard A. Leach, Kelso Chapter 198, Past Grand Patron of the Grand Chapter of Washington, O. E. S.
Mrs. Albert Nagel gave the Sunshine report, and Mrs. Sidney Udd gave the Rainbow report. Mrs. Udd said the assembly recently initiated 3 new members, and the affair was followed by a Christmas party. Members are reminded to save all old stamps for the Cancer Fund.
Refreshments were served by Mrs. Shirley Meisner and Mrs. Sander Swalling.

On Sunday, January 16, a family potluck dinner will be held in the Fellowship hall at 6 p.m. Meat, baked stuffed steelhead and ham, will be provided for the dinner. Coffee and punch will also be provided. Families are to bring a choice of vegetable, baked beans, salads, non-meat casseroles, cake, pie or other dessert. Please bring your own table service. A one hour program will follow after dinner. This will include musical entertainment, election of officers, distribution of annual reports and the final budget will be approved.
The Women's Fellowship general meeting will have a dessert luncheon at the home of Mrs. Bert Madsen on Thursday, January 13, at 11:00 p.m.

Congregational Church news

EASTERN STAR NEWS
Mrs. Harvey Hoffman, Worthy Matron, presided over the meeting of Mt. Olympus Chapter 259 on Monday, December 20, 1971. The Chap-

COUPLE WED

The passage of the Forks Congregational Church was decorated in a Christmas theme when Shirley Ann Earley became the bride of Darel Eugene Maxfield December 21. The Rev. Ted Ringsmuth performed the double ring ceremony in the presence of 20 guests.
She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Thrall. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Maxfield.
The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a street-length dress and coat ensemble in beige with matching accessories. Her flower was a corsage of pink roses.
Mrs. Harvey Hoffman was her attendant. She wore a street-length dress in a floral print and a white carnation corsage. Best man was Harvey Hoffman.
Mrs. Thrall wore a wine colored suit for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Maxfield wore a black and white dress-coat ensemble. Both mothers wore a corsage of white carnations.
The new Mrs. Maxfield is a graduate of Forks High School and works at Riverside Gardens as a waitress. The bridegroom is also a graduate from Forks High School and from a business school in Port Angeles. He is half owner of the Riverside Gardens Restaurant.
A reception will be held at a later date.

After a wedding trip around the loop, the newlyweds are now at home at Star Route 2, Box 10, Forks.

Ever heard of "Conserve de Violettes?" I never had, but here is a recipe on how to make it, taken from the United States Regional Cook Book by Ruth Berolzheimer.

Two ounces freshly gathered violet petals, 1/2 cup boiling water, 3 cups sugar. Steep violet petals in distilled water for 10 minutes. Pound violet petals to a paste. Then add sugar and cook until thick. Pour into clean jar. Makes 1 (6-ounce) jar.

Kevin Miller is quite busy these days down on the farm. On Christmas Day one of Miller's cows had a calf. The cow died, so Kevin took over feeding the calf with a baby bottle. Both are doing just fine. Tammi Pruefert is recuperating at the Children's Orthopedic Hospital. She is doing fine. Her address is Room 109, Children's Orthopedic Hospital, Sand Point Way, Seattle, so do drop her a card.

We have more new neighbors in our neighborhood. Sandy and Terry Pedersen and family moved into their new home last week. Welcome to the neighborhood. Don & Earlene Anderson and family have packed their belongings and moved into their new home which they bought from the Cliff Heddells.

In the January issue of "FOREST INDUSTRIES" is an article by Wm. E. Davis about the expansion of the logging operation into veneer, stud and chip manufacturing at Allen Logging and Veneer Co. in Forks. Also featured in the article is a sawyer by the name of Paul Lingvall.

Heard about two eager police officers who jumped out of their patrol car to stop a fight in progress. The fight stopped, but their car kept rolling. Minor damage was done to a car belonging to Sherman Danielson of Quinalt and no damage to the patrol car.

Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Echols had her parents with them during the holidays. Mr. and Mrs. Chester Richards are former Forks residents and are now living in McCleary where Mrs. Richards has her own barber appointment shop. Also spending the Christmas weekend with the Echols was Betty's brother, Bobbi, from Elma.

Mr. and Mrs. Phil Jaspers and family returned January 3 after spending Christmas and New Year's visiting friends and relatives. In Spokane the Jaspers stayed with Phil's grandmother, Mrs. Helen Helstumen. Also there were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Jaspers, and in Grand Coulee they spent some time with Kate's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Mahaney.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Lukes spent Christmas in Oak Harbor with their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kennedy.

Mrs. Doris Henke and children traveled to Sedro Woolley to spend Christmas with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sharp. Accompanying them was Doris' brother, Bud McMillen of Port Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Penny-packer had company from Petersburg, Alaska, recently. Tom's folks, Mr. and Mrs. Chuck Pennyacker, came for a visit. Also visiting them were Mr. and Mrs. Byron Weed Jr., of Olympia, Dennis Ketchum of Yakima, and other friends and relatives. Christmas Eve the Pennypackers spent in Snohomish with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Sikel and returned to spend Christmas Day with his sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Armstrong, in Beaver. The following Monday they left to go back to Snohomish to see the New Year in together with friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Ron Pedersen and children had New Year's Day dinner in Port Angeles with Diane's mother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Don Bakker.

James Lucken of Renton came to be with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Lucken over the Christmas holiday and also for a visit with his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Halverson and family.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Duke Streeter over the holidays were their son, Mr. and Mrs. Walt Streeter and family from Sequim.

Visiting their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George Fraker and family over the Christmas holidays and to be present of the baptismal act of their grandson, James Clark, were Judy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Clark of Yakima. Also here were her brother, Charlie, from the Whidby Island Naval Air station and her grandmother, Mrs. Phil Strickland of Seattle.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Caudill of Harley's Resort in LaPush had his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hink from Renton here over Christmas. Also enjoying the dinner at the Caudills were Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Johnson of Forks.

Jim, Steve and Shelly Trimble of Port Angeles spent the New Year's weekend with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Trimble.

Spending the Christmas vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jarvis, was Mrs. Judy Hrasaka and daughter Christine of Seattle and the Jarvis' son, Doug, his wife, Sonja, and their son, Brian, of Nebraska.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Dimmel and family spent Christmas in California where they visited Disneyland and Marineland.

The Bill Harrison family had several friends and relatives from in and around Forks visiting them during the Christmas season. Out-of-town relatives were Bill's mother, Mrs. Eric Harrison of Salem, Oregon, and Mary-Lou's mother, Mrs. Vreta Leish and brother, Doug, of Oakridge and the Harrison's daughter, Sherry, from Seattle. Also enjoying the Christmas holiday with them was a friend of the Harrisons, Jerry Shambeck of Oakridge.

Fev. and Mrs. Art Morlin had a houseful of relatives over the Christmas weekend. JoAnn's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C.A. Bayby of Federal Way, and her sisters and their families, Rev. and Mrs. Call Ott and children Sally and Andy of Seattle, Mr. Valine Johnson and son Tim, from Lathabra, California, Reverend and Mrs. Don Duncan and children, Sue and Doug, from Medical Lake were all there for the family gathering. For New Year's dinner the Morlins had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. Vern Burke from Seattle.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Echinson flew to California to spend Christmas at the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Epps, and 2 grandchildren.

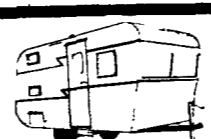

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gustafson returned New Year's Eve after spending Christmas in Lebanon, Oregon, at the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Gustafson. The day after Christmas they left for Wallport, Oregon, where they spent the rest of the week with their other son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Don Taggart.

Visiting Paul and Ingrid Lingvall over the weekend of January 9 were his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Nels Lingvall, and daughter, Peti. The Lingvalls came to help Paul celebrate his "50th" birthday for the second time. Do come back next year!!!

The Lawrence brothers had their daughters and their families, Dr. and Mrs. Alan Kitzel and children, and Mr. and Mrs. Art McSchery, of Seattle, visiting them during the Christmas holidays.

Chaperoned George and Bernie on the trip to Poulsbo Sunday where the Olympic Travel League was holding its semi-monthly contest. The kids behaved themselves not too bad. (Due to my vigilance of course).

Real hot bowling this last week, especially by the gals. Kathy Decker hit a whopper on Tuesday noon, 212-583, Jeanette Gilmore 196, and Betty Jacobson 183.

Darrell is coming back, whacking out a 245-629 in the Sunser League. Dick Stroupe also shooting big, a 239-629. Lou Suchodolski led the Powder Puffs with a 212-621, while Mary Kennedy had a 204 and Mary Henson a 180.

Billie Crist at 187-492 for the Fleet Owls, and Harriet Tryon with a 179.

Thursday Afternoon had Cheryl McCoy with a big 232-495, Colleen Gagnon 197, and Jean Baumgartner 195-520.

Thursday Nite Women: Jean Streeter 198, and Woody Hambley 197-500, her first ever.

Willis Bryan a 219 for the West End bunch, Dick Suchodolski 212, and Darrell 211-589.

Friday Nite Nite: Jean Streeter (again) 192-492, Billie Crist 197, George Richardson 204-582.

Chris Mini Squad: Sandy Parris 194-297, Debbie Moore 183, Tracy Allen 119-205.

Boys Bantams: Daren Bonds 12-211, Red Swerin 127-202, Eddie Bishop 129-212.

Mike Roening and Louis Lato had a try at the Jackpot shots in Saturday Nite Monte Carlo, no luck, and Duke hit a 247-611 to capture most of our sidepot. Managed to sneak one game away from him.

Women's Travel League: Kathy Decker 224-558, Gladys Allen 194, Men's Travelling: Darrell Thomas 240-609, Fred Jarvis 233-617, Dick Suchodolski 216, Willis Bryan 595.

Sunday Nite Mixed: Darrell 210, Gene Newman 210, Woody Hamby 184, Leta Roudan 181-522.

Monday Doubles: Kathy Decker 233-577, Margaret Windle 202-580, and Sally Nagel 193, Holy Smokes: Niece shooting, Forks Prairie: George Richardson 211-584, Willis Bryan 223-589, Jerry Winn 217-553, and Duke hit a 246-589.

Bowlers of the week: Duke Streeter 240; Darrell Thomas, Dick Stroupe 629; Kathy Decker 233; and Margaret Windle 580.

OUTDOOR LORE

By Lonnie Archibald

A TIME TO BEACHCOMB WHAT?

Glass and plastic fishing floats along with various bottles, cartons, etc., are those which the beachcomber will search for along the beaches of the Pacific Ocean. The most popular, of course, being the Japanese glass floats. These Oriental treasures vary in size from approximately 3 to 60 inches in circumference. Of these various sizes, about 50 percent of all floats found measure about 12 inches in circumference. Though floats of various colors are used off the Japanese coast, local beachcombers will find that their collections are composed mostly of light green and blue-green glass. Other colors which are not as common are clear, pink, brown, red, blue, gold, wine, amber and purple. The larger percentage of all glass floats found here along Washington's coastline were made in Japan. Others found include those of the United States, Korea, Russia, and China.

WHERE? All local beaches will at one time or another hold these treasures of the sea. Rialto, Second and Third beaches are the most accessible and therefore the most popular. More remote beaches which bear these collectors' items are Mosquito Creek, Goodman Creek, Tolteak Point, Strawberry Bay, Taylor's Point, Cape Johnson, and Yellow Banks.

WINTER? Winter storms which generally occur during the period from November to March will bring floatsem from the Japanese current to the beaches along the Olympic National Parks' ocean strip. The high winds, however, must blow from the west, southwest or northwest in order to remove the floatsem from the current. The light breezes of April will also bring glass balls to local beaches. This is a great month for beachcombing as the weather is more favorable.

Floats will wash upon the beach with the high tide. A tide book will assist in two ways. It will not only give the time in which the floats will wash upon the beach but more importantly, the time span in which the beachcomber may or may not round a headland or rocky point which may be very dangerous if precaution is not taken.

Packsacks are the most popular carrying devices as one may carry rain gear, lunch, survival gear, and glass floats while leaving the arms and hands free. A gunny sack may also be carried to accommodate any extra or extremely large floats. Survival gear may consist of only matches, paper, candle, knife and compass. While hiking the coast, one often must climb and cross headlands using elk trails or no trails at all. Strong winds may cover the sounds of the ocean and with clouds veiling the sun, one may find himself lost in the wilderness. Also, during a hard winter storm the surf may stay high, not receding with the tide. This may block one's passage forcing him to go inland. The wise beachcomber is always prepared for the unexpected.

WHY? Why beachcomb? Well, why do we steelhead? Why hike the high country. Why hunt elk? The great outdoors is why. The thrill of finding a glass float which has found its way across the wide Pacific is compared by some outdoorsmen to taking a steelhead. And also like steelheading, when one has found his first treasure he must return another day in hopes of repeating his previous success. And if he fails? One does not fail completely when he enjoys nature and the outdoors, for he has heard waves break against a headland, seen eagles soar, watched seals as they fed near an inlet, and breathed the freshness of the sea.

Beachcombing has much to offer, and we here in the Forks area have the opportunity to take advantage of all the enjoyment, thrills and relaxation which it offers.

SPARTANS SPANKED 65-33

By Mike Westman

All of life is transitory and thus, too, its problems.

That is by way of saying that any Spartan needs not fret over the infancy of the new season, need not stay worried. Success could still be sought.

However and meanwhile, a paradoxical problem exists; paradoxical for the Forks basketball team. It is not hush-hush that the team needs some grafting up the middle, some sagacity at center.

The paradox is that the Spartans also need help in the backcourt, help on the bench; someone who can rebound, someone who can score. And above all someone who could lead, and will take charge. There are other pressing problems but the solution to those mentioned above could at least provide the provisions necessary to win at least ONE.

I'm told that this wasn't always so; a basketball team did, in fact, once reside in the friendly confines of Forks High School. That might be so. That I'm afraid, was a case of abundance, even superfluity. Now, the Spartans seem to be impoverished at every important position: center, guard, and forward.

A basketball team, like any other sports unit, had to play in concert. Individuals may shine but it is the team which wins, with contributions from all directions.

foolish mistakes gave it away. At the same time you cannot fault Vashon. No one, anymore, looks a gift horse in the mouth, and they capitalized heavily on Forks miscues.

In fact, the entire story of the game might be summed up that Vashon took advantage of the breaks and the Spartans did not. Kevin Cooper turned in an excellent effort for the Pirates, and was without question the game's outstanding performer. He dropped in 23 points, including 17 in the decisive first half, pulled down 16 rebounds and blocked three shots.

However, Vashon received better than adequate supporting roles from Chris Ivins, John Niles, Billy Browning, and Jay Mathews. Even when the starters retired with the game safely in hand, the reserves pushed the outcome far out of reach.

Spartan Kenny Olson turned in another fine performance, sling-shooting 16 points, but his other teammates could muster little offensive thrust.

In fact, at times the Spartans also reminded one of the man who had had his deodorant swiped--defenseless.

Thus the Spartans are beset with the inherent problems, heretofore mentioned. These problems need not endure, but will they?

There's an old adage in sports--it's not how you start, it's how you finish.

The Spartans start has been horrendous. Any more defeats like the one administered by Vashon could make the prospects for the finish even bleak-er.

SPARTANS--- Maxwell 7, Dimmel 0, Brandebery 4, Olson 16, Davis 0, Soderlund 3, Jaime 0, Dahlgren 3, Paul 0, Thornton 0, Hitchcock 0. VASHON---Agneson 2,

Browning 4, Cooper 23, Ivins 3, Lister 0, J. Mathews 6, T. Mathews 4, Nicholson 6, Niles 7, Plancich 2, Stuckey 4, Van Devanter 4. Forks--6 16 6 5 = 33 Vashon 16 20 11 18 = 65

Field goal percentage--Forks .283, Vashon .410. Free throw percentage--Forks .500, Vashon .625. Rebounds--Forks 48, Vashon 20.

Drive extra carefully on cold winter mornings. Frost covered roads are very slippery and dangerous. Take your time even if you are late. At least you will get there.

The Way The Ball Bounces

By Mike Westman

In case it isn't in your program, the guy wearing No. 1 on the Whitman College football team should be listed as:

NIXON, RICHARD... 6-0, 175 pounds.

Political science major... good speed, great reactions... named to Demo Party all opponent team '68, '69... transfer from Whittier College where he also lettered in debate... coaching staff gives him high grades on hustle, determination... nickname: "Dick."

The jersey was presented to Nixon last October by three Whitman football players, during the President's visit to this state. Before accepting the jersey, he undoubtedly consulted hurriedly with press secretary Ronald Ziegler, who probably advised:

"Well, it's a small college team, but what offer have we had from the Huskies? Whitman could use some beef in the defensive front four. But what the hay? These guys knocked off Eastern Oregon and Northern Montana, which is impressive when you realize they are all over 18 and eligible to vote."

The President was probably also impressed by the team's nickname, "Missionaries." If he'd accepted a jersey from Eastern Washington or Whitworth he'd either be an honorary Savage or a political Pirate.

It's possible, though, that the President may be setting a political trend. Pursuing the equal time doctrine, some other political figures may demand their own football teams. Come to think about it, it's really not a bad idea, and I can even offer a few suggestions.

Turning to the President's own political family, for instance, I might suggest that Spiro Agnew adopt Franklin and Marshall. Since the vice president gives wide berth to controversy and always has a flattering word for everybody, he'd be accepted as one of the "Diplomats."

See how it works? You can probably come up with some suggestions of your own.

Martha Mitchell? That's easy. Give her the Wichita "Shockers." Because of the economic crisis, Treasury Secretary Connally could serve as the honorary mascot for either Cornell (Big Red) or Alabama (Crimson Tide).

Collectively, the Democratic presidential hopefuls could adopt

Marshall College (Thundering Herd), or North Carolina State (The Wolfpack). Individually, I assign them the following schools:

HENRY JACKSON--His supporters would argue for Baptist Bible College (The Defenders), but his detractors could make a case for Calhoun College (Warhawks).

HUBERT HUMPHREY--Without implying that he is now a political lightweight, we might assign him the Trinity "Bantans."

GEORGE MCGOVERN--Again, you'll find divided opinions. Physically he bears some resemblance to one of Lock Haven's "Bald Eagles." But some of the Senate Hawks (Hunter College) would probably rather see him as a supporter of either the Sonoma College "Cossacks" or the Henderson State "Reddies."

EDMUND MUSKIE--That's too easy. The "Fighting Muskies" of Muskingum College.

JOHN LINDBSEY--Another natural, in the University of Mississippi (Rebels).

EUGENE MCCARTHY--One of the Wheaton (Crusaders).

TED KENNEDY--A natural for Arkansas Tech (Wonder-boys).

RALPH NADER--Well, some of the college kids think he'd make a great president. So how about Heidelberg University (Student Princes).

GEORGE WALLACE--All right, call it perversity, if you will. But somehow I can't resist assigning George Wallace to be honorary mascot of Little Middlebury College.

They call their team "The Black Panthers."

A DEVILISH TRICK

By Mike Westman

They say, "Good Guys Don't Win."

Well, this old sports adage certainly must be true as the Forks Spartans suffered their eighth consecutive setback last Saturday night, 60-57 to the Neah Bay Red Devils, and gift-wrapped in the process.

Spartan head coach Jerry Cash probably summed it up best in a post-game comment, "We always seem to find some way to blow it."

The contest bore considerable resemblance to a Halloween party.

The Devils' pep staff showed up in outfits destined for "One Step Beyond," red and black capes complete with pointed ears which resembled giant black cats.

The lights flickered on several occasions, turning the Forks gymnasium into a haunted house.

And, the Red Devils played a game of "treat or trick," and the Spartans were only too glad to oblige.

It appeared the Spartans might have collectively taken some "greenies" as they broke on top quickly 12-5, behind the outside shooting of Ron Diimmel and Mike Brandeberry.

However, the illusions of a "laughter" quickly dissolved, when the Devils ran off a 13-12 lead at the end of the quarter; then continued their momentum into the second period as they built up a six-point advantage, and the crowd slowly prepared for a long evening.

But wait! Back came the Spartans. A couple of outside jumpers by Maxwell and Diimmel; a one-hander from the side and a lay-in off the fast break by Johnny Dahlgren and suddenly the Spartans are right back in the ball game. A Maxwell 20-footer knots the score at the half, 32-32.

After trading free throws to start the second half, the Spartans strung together a five point burst. Outscoring the Red Devils 8-3 in one stretch, Forks was available to maintain a 3-5 point spread throughout the third quarter.

In fact, without the play of 6'4" pivotman Bob Buckingham, Neah Bay might have left the party early. He got ten points in the third quarter, and finished with 26 for the game. He also pulled off 17 rebounds, many off the offensive boards, and blocked three Spartan pops to the hoop.

The Spartan lead saw-sawed between three and five points, until midway through the fourth quarter when UP JUMPED THE DEVIL.

The Spartans, through a series of turnovers, bad passes, and a couple of mental mistakes snatched defeat from the hands of victory.

Two outside jumpers by Jim Jarrett, a pair of foul shots and a tip-in by Buckingham went unanswered at the Spartan basket, and suddenly the Devils led for the first time in the second half.

Though the blame must be placed on the Spartan players, several of the kids played extremely well, and a couple of breaks could have turned the game the other way.

A travelling call on a step-around move against Ken Olson, while the Spartans enjoyed a five-point lead, who followed on through and made the bucket was tragic.

There is no reason to describe the officiating the way (Oklahoma City Colleges) Abe Lemons described the officials who worked his last game. He said, "You could put them in striped shirts, give them whistles, put them on 'What's My Line' and nobody would be able to guess what they were."

The officials didn't win or lose the game--the Spartans did.

Even though they waited until the final eight seconds to finally throw the game away, Diimmel and Dahlgren tied for high point honors with 14, while Jim Jarrett tossed in 13 for Neah Bay.

Well, back to the drawing board, as the streak, (uh!) continues.

EASTERN STAR TO HOLD AUCTION

Mt. Olympus Chapter #258, O.E.S., held its first meeting of the New Year on January 3, 1972, with Mrs. Harvey Hoffman, worthy matron, and Art Maxfield, worthy patron, presiding. The East was decorated with a big "Happy New Year" sign.

Mrs. Al Nagel gave the Sunshine report.

The next meeting on January 17, 1972, will honor the "Past Matrons and Patrons". There will also be an auction, so members are urged to bring all their white elephants or whatever.

On February 7, 1972, there will be a mock initiation.

Refreshments were served by Frances Nagel and Signey Udd.

CARDS BY CANDLELIGHT

The Pirochle Country Club met Saturday evening, January 8, at the Rollie Ronish home, and most of the games were played by candlelight, due to a power outage. High prize was won by Art Anderson and low prize by Mrs. Joe McReynolds. The pinochle prize went to Mrs. George Blattner and the rines prize was won by Ivan Burr.

MAXWELL-LEIBOLD WED

Patricia Mary Leibold, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Edwin F. Leibold of Clallam Bay, and John Wilfred Maxwell, son of Dr. and Mrs. Wilfred James Maxwell of Seattle, were wed at 12 noon, December 18, 1971, in Saint Patrick's Catholic Church at 1122 North I Street, Tacoma, Washington. Father Michael Batterberry performed the ceremony, and music for the nuptial folk mass was provided by a folk group from St. Patrick's.

The church was decorated with baskets of holly with red bows and streamers.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a white brocade floor length gown with white satin braid and carried a muff of the same fabric which was made by her grandmother. The bride wore red rosebuds and white satin ribbons braided into her hair, and a cascade of red roses trimmed the muff that she carried.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Wil-

Ham Engle, sister of the bride, and bridesmaids were Miss Mona Benesh and Miss Mary Fijalka. The bride's attendants were attired in long gowns of Cerise velvet. They carried white velvet muffs trimmed with red roses and moss green velvet streamers, and had red roses in their hair.

Junior bridesmaids were Miss Jayne Hansen and Miss Michelle Maxwell. They were attired in long white velvet gowns, carried white muffs and had red roses in their hair.

Flower girl was Shauna Leibold, niece of the bride. Ring bearer was Thomas Maxwell, the groom's nephew.

Best man was Thomas E. Maxwell, Ushers were John Collins, Maruce Clark, Ed Leibold, Gene Godderis, William Engle and Donald Herron.

A reception followed at the Top of the Ocean in Tacoma, which was decorated with holly. Special guests were the bride's grandparents of Shalookepe, Minnesota, Mr. and Mrs. E.G. Leibold. Many people from the Forks and Clallam Bay area were present at both the wedding and reception to share in the happiness of the occasion.

The couple's wedding trip took them to southern California and Mexico. They are now at home at 5314 Marine View Drive, Tacoma, Washington.

Mr. Maxwell is a deputy prosecuting attorney for Pierce County, and Mrs. Maxwell is a special education teacher for Tacoma schools.

ORTHOPEDIC AUX

The Forks Orthopedic Auxiliary met December 14, at which time a Christmas bazaar was held. Proceeds of $41.50 and gifts were sent to the Children's Orthopedic Hospital in Seattle.

A pinochle party is planned for March. The next meeting will be held at the Congregational Church at 1 p.m., February 18. Babysitting will be available.

PEN-PLY IMPROVING BOILERS

The regular meeting of the Olympic Air Pollution Control Authority Board of Directors took place on Wednesday, January 5, in Olympia, Washington.

Two major industries in the OAPCA territory, Harrel Plywood in Olympia, and Pen-Ply in Port Angeles, are stepping forward with new construction to improve their plant boilers, and thereby comply with smoke reduction to lawful standards. Pen-Ply had announced their intentions in November, 1971, and at the Wednesday Board Meeting a progress report from this industry revealed major steps toward facility construction.
