E MINOR REVIEW

By Pat McBride
 Q. In your last two columns, I've seen that you have been talking about the word or music called "soul". Let's see if I can put you on the spot; what is soul?

A. Well, like a friend of mine recently told me, "If you must ask what soul is, you just ain't got it, brother."

Q. What record has eight standing nominations for the Grammy Awards?

A. "Theme from Shaft," by Isaac Hayes.

Q. What song and artist do you feel will win the Grammy Award for song of the year?

A. Humm, that's hard to say, but I'll pick George Harrison's, "My Sweet Lord".

Q. Prior to Carol King's Tapestry album, which artist had a No. 1 album and No. 1 single at the same time?

A. The Singing Nuns; Very uncommon!

THANK YOU, SPARTANS!

February 4th, 1972, is a day that shall live in infamy! It was my mother's birthday, the radio station was off the air, and THE FORKS SPARTANS WON A BASKETBALL GAME.

The first two are hardly significant, but the latter lends itself to celebration. And those in attendance didn't even wait for the final horn before starting the festivities. Judging from the shouting and screaming, one would have figured Forks had captured the Super Bowl, World Series, Stanley Cup, Grand Prix, the Masters, and the Triple Crown. Almost. Today, North Mason. Tomorrow, who knows?

Harrison Davis's 12' jump shot provided the necessary points for a thrilling, come-from-behind upset overtime win over the Bulldogs, 62-61.

A first this season. After 14 previous failing opportunities, it has to be great. The Spartans have been close before, and on occasion have deserved better. This time, fate decided different, and different it was to be.

It was a knock-down, drag-out dogfight, and in spite of all, the Spartan quintet at times performed with such harmony as to bring tears of jealousy to Henry Mancini or possibly Beethoven.

But more than victory, the Spartans were rewarded with something else. The knowledge that they can win. And win they did.

One word for the ball game must be "transitional." Substitutes who have labored in the shadow of starters delivered first installments of stardom. Yet the others performed nothing short of super.

In short, several of the Spartans gave efforts of 150%, the rest a mere 110%. They lacked glamour, but played superb.

Individual performances outstanding. Team performance superb.

KEN OLSEN--21 points (13 in first half), 2 steals, 2 assists, 7 clutch rebounds. Held the club in the game in the first half, consistently coming up with the big play.

HARRISON DAVIS--14 points, 2 assists, 2 steals. Hit the bucket that counted.

MIKE BRANDEBERRY--8 points, 3 steals, 5 rebounds. On the floor for several "loose" balls. Great, defensive inside.

JIM JAIME--7 points, 3 assists, several steals. Clutch free-throw shooting, as he hit 3-3 in the pressure-packed extra stanza.

CYRUS THORNTON--7 points, 1 assist. Tenacious defense.

JOHN DAHLGREN--5 points, 1 assist, 1 steal. Heck of a job in reserve role.

Even with "super" performances, the Spartans needed a gym full of luck. Throw in several Bulldog miscues, turn-

SCRAPPY SQUAD WINS AGAIN

For a person with a weak heart, JV basketball is hardly what the doctor ordered!

The scrappy Spartans notched number ten on their guns as they shot down North Mason, 57-46. And they did it in the classic style of the Old West.

With scopes aimed at the bottom of the mesh, Forks broke open a tight ball game with a seven-point burst, unanswered, midway through the fourth period. Until the "blitzkrieg" spree, the lead had see-sawed back and forth, with neither team being able to get much of an upper hand.

With five minutes to go, the Spartans managed to open up a big three-point lead. Working the ball around beautifully against a tough 2-3 zone defense, and armed with the long-range artillery of Mark Hitchcock, Randy Cabe, and Larry Woody, the Spartans led 47-41, with 3:35 to go.

They had increased it to nine, 51-42, with 2:10 left. Inability to hit free throws by the "Dogs down the stretch hurt, but the Spartans' hot shooting inflicted the fatal wounds.

North Mason did climb to within a half dozen with 1:00 to play, but a free throw by Mitch Hutt, and Hitchcock's 18' jumper restored the nine-point spread.

Hitchcock finished with 20 points, while Woody added 15.

If you have failed to see the scrappy squad, with their thrill-a-minute show, yet, make it a point to do so soon. Oh, and by the way, bring along the digitalis. The games usually get a little exciting.

Sorting yard nears finish

The first phase of construction on ITT Rayonier's new sorting yard located nearby is almost completed. The sorting yard is being built by the Northwest Timber Division.

When completed the 37 acre yard will cost $1.2 million. Besides the yard itself a large two story office building has been finished in the first phase of the project. In the next two years the shop complex will be completed.

The sorting yard will phase out Sekdu booming facilities. Before the yard went into operation, logs were sorted at the landing where they first came out of the woods. From there they went to Sekdu where they were rafted then towed to Port Angeles pulp mill or sold to Puget Sound customers.

At present logs come into the yard by rail car or truck, directly from the woods. At the yard the logs are sorted by species, scaled and graded. Here a determination is made as to the highest and best use of each individual log.

HOHS PERFORM AT CONCERT

The Seattle Symphony Orchestra presented a concert February 3 at Forks High School under the direction of Mr. Joseph Levine.

The title of the concert was "Show" and the 57 members orchestra played selections which ranged from Bach to the Beatles.

Patrick Duffy, a young actor traveling with the orchestra, added a vital and entertaining element with his presentation of basic information regarding the orchestra and his circus pantomime.

Proceeding the concert, children from the Lower Hoh cultural class presented a special program.

Presenting the colors were Douglas George, Gene Sampson and Frankie Saitto.

Five Indian dances were then performed: Welcome, Paddle, Snipe, Black Face and Round Dance.

Beautiful beaded ties were presented to Mr. Levine, conductor, and Mr. Eugene Coate, principal, by Herbert Fisher, Jr.

Narrator was Mrs. Phillip Riebe.

Dancers included: Verna, Jackie, and Nellie Williams; Judy, Marie, Dixie and Margorie Riebe; Donna, Douglas, Allen and Gail George; Frank and Lenette Saitto; Lisa and Jonette Leitka; Melissa Sherriff; and Maxine Black.

Also dancing with the group were 3 great-grandchildren of the Iron Man of the Hoh, John Huelsdonk, CICI and Mark Huelsdonk, and Cathy Fletcher.

Accompanying the dancers with drums were Mrs. Pansy Hudson, Herbert Fisher, Sr., and Elmer George. Singer was Mrs. Herbert Fisher.

Dancing instructors for the cultural class are Mrs. Pansy Hudson and Mrs. Herbert Fisher. Other classes held at the Hoh Community Center include beading, costume sewing, wood carving, and the Indian language.

The Low Hoh cultural class has invited the cultural class from Neah Bay to a dinner the night of February 12 to exchange ideas.

In March, the group will be performing at the Three Feathers Fair to be held in Aberdeen.

ADULTS LEARN

An organizational meeting of the Laubach Literacy Program will be held Monday, February 14, at 8 p. m. at the home of Lawrence Soderlund.

 overs, technical fouls and it spells Forks by one.

Several, including the North Mason coaching staff, felt the men in striped shirts also provided Spartan luck.

Dazed Bulldog head coach Lance Thurston offered no post-game comments, but assistant Harland Olson was quick to criticize the officiating.

"The turning point of the ball game was the assignment of that pair... the officiating was the most pathetic job I've seen in eight years of coaching. ... the referees couldn't seem to make up their minds."

I, for one disagree. Officiating is tough at best. When the game is close, and the excitement builds, the calls become loaded with monumental importance. The breaks always even out at both ends. George Olsen and Ned Adams had some extremely tough decisions. Count me, as one vote, for a job well done.

That, of course, is the way it is in sports. The winners never seem to mind adverse conditions. The losers unfortunately must grin and bear it.

Never do officials win or lose basketball games. Neither do sportswriters or sportscasters.

The response to people who remark, "well, you, (meaning me), finally got them (bleap!)-- off enough to win," is a simple no, Not I.

Six kids played the ball game. Six kids, not officials, not sportscasters, not the "Gods of Basketball" deserve the credit for the outcome. It is they who must share the glory. It would have been they who bore the agony of defeat.

And defeat, it could very well have been.

After trailing throughout most of the final quarter, the Bulldogs gained 59-55 overtime lead, on the strength of a pair of Bruce Landram field goals, the second with 2:06 to play.

John Dahlgren cut the margin in half with a reverse lay-up, but Glenn Landram tested the four-point spread, at 1:18 to play, with two free throws.

Then the fun began. Following a missed Forks field goal attempt, North Mason's Don Havens drew an offensive foul. Not enough, he decided to voice his disapproval to the officials, and received a technical for his efforts.

Since the ball was hot in personal possession, free throws were awarded, and Jim Jaime was nothing short of perfect on all three--including the technical which brought the Spartans to within one. They also got the ball with :42 left.

Excitement over. No. Ken Olsen, brilliant all night, muffed a pass out of bounds, and the Bulldogs, still a point to the good, recaptured possession.

Still not through. A dozen seconds later, North Mason was called for traveling. A "gutsy" call for the officials-- great call!

With the ball, and 19 clicks on the clock, the Spartans went to work, and this time, Harrison Davis made no mistake on a 12' jumper to the left of the foul line. It hit the bottom of the twine with :05 left.

Excitement over. Not yet. Jim Jaime, slightly over-anxious, committed a foul in back court, that sent Glenn Landram, North Mason's best free thrower, to the foul line for one-and-one. One to tie, two to win. He missed the first one.

Aided by a ragged Forks' man-to-man defense, the Bulldogs raced to seven-point first quarter lead, the last-time at 17-10. But the Spartans scored ten of the next 12 points, and the contest was played within a span of five points the rest of the way. In all, the lead changed hands 19 times, and was tied five.

The Spartans did enjoy a 5-point lead, 51-46, with 5:30 to go in regulation time, but Cyrus Thornton fouled out a little over a minute later, and North Mason eventually tied the game at 55, on a tip-in by Terry Peterson with :44 left.

The Spartans had the last opportunity to win it in regulation time, but due largely to great Bulldog defense, they did not get a good shot. Davis' 25' desperation "bomb" bounced off the back rim.

Peterson and Al Baselt were especially impressive for the Bulldogs. Peterson pulled down eight rebounds and blocked four Spartan shots. Baselt led the North Mason scoring with 15 points and pulled down a career high 22 rebounds.

Bruce Landram added 14 to the Bulldog cause, while brother Glenn clipped in 10.

North Mason enjoyed wide margins in two vital categories, as they out-rebounded the Spartans 49-21. But they were also guilty of 28 turnovers, while Forks committed only 13.

But the big difference was on the scoreboard, and that's where the difference counts.

It can take a spell to get all the bugs out of a computer, but Head Programmer Jerry Cash has finally got his Forks Spartans printing out to perfection.

Well, at least winning. Let's celebrate.

Darrell really went all out in leading his Darigold team to a 3055 as the Sunset League bowled the BPAA team event. A 267-681 isn't too shabby, is it? Gordon McCoy's 241 didn't hurt the team any. Dick Streeter had a 231 for Vagabond.

Jane Olson and Wilma Engeseth both had 185 in Wednesday Powder Puffs, Sally Nagel and Betty Blattner hit 175, and Faye Fuhs had 479.

Hoot Owls: Pat Russell 189, Ellen Mackey 188, Norma Pennypacker 180, and Jean Dickinson 475. H'mmmmm. Some new names in the column.

Darrell showing no sign of letting up as he hit a big 258-641 in Friday Nite Mixed. Jess Parris banged out a 235. Mother clobbered the old man, hitting a 193; Esther Parris came up with a 185, and Paula Lyda had 491.

CAT SURVEY
Jim Aggergaard, Forks area game protector, would like a survey of the cougar which have been taken by hunters in this area. If you have killed one or more of these cats here on the Peninsula, the Washington State Department of Game would like to hear from you. You may call Jim Aggergaard at 374-6232.

SALMON TAKEN
Young chinook, or better known as blackmouth, are now in the Strait of Juan 'd Fuca awaiting the kicker boat fishermen. These are nice size fish, as many are running in the 10 to 15 pound bracket. February and March will continue to yield these tasty salmon.

BIGHORN SHEEP
Pend Oreille County, in the northwest corner of the Evergreen State, will receive 10 head of bighorn sheep early this spring. The Washington State Game Department will bring in the trophy animals from Alberta, Canada. These sheep are much more durable than the California sheep we now have and will adapt to a higher, colder, and rougher range.

IT'S BEEN GREAT
That's the comment one gets from local steelheaders when asking, "How's the fishing been?" The Hoh, Bogachiel, Calawah, and Saleduck rivers have all yielded nice fish this season. Larger fish are now beginning to show, as many anglers have taken steelies in the 17 to 24-pound bracket these last two weeks. Even fly fishermen are limiting on these shilny specimens.

DID YOU KNOW?
Did you know that the weekly catch limit for steelhead is four fish? The game regulation booklet for 1972 states "weekly catch limit-steelhead only, the weekly catch limit shall not exceed two days' bag limit." The term "week" as used herein shall begin on Sunday morning and end on Saturday at midnight.

Stevens grabs 2 from Spartan Jr. High

by Mike Westman
Forks 9th-graders managed to throttle Stevens high-scoring Jess Sullivan in the first half, but Jess broke loose for 28 points in the second half, and added five in overtime, as Stevens squeaked out a 60-50 extra session victory.

In the preliminary battle of seventh and eighth grade squads, Forks remained unbeaten, 7-0, and handed its seventh-grade counterparts a 45-35 setback but Stevens, led by the 16 points of David Wickersham, came back to win the eighth-grade battle, 48-26.

The freshman battle locked horns in a real donny-brook, that saw the score tied 7-7 at the end of the first period. Stevens managed to squeeze out a 19-17 halftime lead, and moved to a five-point margin, 38-33, following the third stanza. But Forks came charging back to tie the game at 55, and necessitate the extra action. Sullivan was the clear difference, and wound up the contest

In and Around Town "THIS IS YOUR HIGH SCHOOL"

Most of the snow is gone except for a few sad looking snowmen with their heads hanging low.

When driving around Forks and surrounding areas, I noticed there is still lots of construction work going on. In Danfelson's Addition, a shop for logging trucks is underway, another new house in Mansfield's Third Addition, and one in the back of the radio station is being built. On Calawah Way, a remodeling job is underway, and on the Lower Hoh Indian Reservation two new houses are being built.

Kenneth Garbrick is recuperating after undergoing surgery January 24 at Olympic Memorial Hospital in Port Angeles. Hurry and get well.

Mr. and Mrs. Del Hansen and family drove to Sand Point, Idaho, over the weekend of January 16 to celebrate Del's parents', Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hansen, 50th anniversary. Close to 80 relatives attended the family reunion.

Mr. and Mrs. Verlan Sackett and Mr. and Mrs. Wes DePew went to Seattle over the January 23 weekend. They attended the market, bought merchandise for the store, and also enjoyed dinner at the Captain's Table.

Wade Chaney celebrated his 6th birthday January 25 with a gathering of friends for a party. Ice cream and a rocket cake were served, and the little guests played games with prizes going to Paul Erickson and Scotty Holt. Others attending were: Eric Warren, Billy James, Jerry Russell, Karla and Kaci King, Janie Perkins, Tina and Leslie Ulin, Sherrie Sandstrom and Wade's sister, Gina.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. John Hage in LaPush for a few days were Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Nelson from Marysville, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Baldwin from Seattle and the Hage's granddaughter, Robin Ann.

Mr. and Mrs. Dec Warner (former Forks residents) are vacationing in Spain, and ended up riding camels in Morocco on their wedding anniversary January 30.

Many of us in this day and age of change are wondering about discipline in our schools. Many point to the "good old days", and the "stern" discipline that we knew when we were in high school. Yet, if we are really truthful with ourselves we can remember many discipline problems--even in the "good old days." And, we remember how we plotted against the teachers and the administrators. We remember how "mean and unreasonable" our teachers were to us--or, so it seemed. But as we are now able to reflect with more mature and wiser judgements, the teachers whom we thought were unreasonable and unfair were the ones (for the most part) who really cared about us and were the ones who taught us the most. Perhaps the most important thing we learned was how to work. And, remember those spankings we used to get--just a bout twice as hard as the teacher gave us--when our parents found out that we had disobeyed a teacher?

Speaking of school discipline, there are those who say that schools are being operated on a semi-military basis with very little freedom for students. And, it is a fact that if all students who cause discipline problems were expelled from school we would eventually end up with only those students who were able to adjust quickly to "gestapo-like" justice. Those who really need our help would be out.

I am wondering how many taxpayers realize that we spend about $15,000.00 tax dollars to maintain a boy or girl committed to the Youth Authority or Department of Correction and about $35,000.00 to maintain an individual committed to penal institutions as convicted criminals.

Is there not a lesson to be learned from these statistics? Suppose dropouts and expellees were contributing to the economy and the tax structure--instead of draining our resources through welfare and penal costs.

In contrast, the taxpayers of the Quillayute School District spend about $900.00 per year per student. What would happen if we here at school and the people of the community REALLY COOPERATED to break this expensive syndrome?

RIDES, RAPES & RESCUES

During the era of silent movies, a pianist applying for a job improvising music to describe the action on the screen, was told, "Never mind the 3 R's (Bach, Beethoven, and Brahms), how are your 3 R's (Rides, Rapes, and Rescues)?" That was yesterday.

As the 20th Century curtain goes up, enter stage left our modern day "Pauline", still faced with perils, but thanks to Women's Lib and the taxpayer's dollar, a bit more able to cope with the situation.

Check your programs, ladies and gents. You'll find a Clallam County voucher dated December 27, 1971, and signed by the secretary of the Clallam County Disability Board, to the tune of $18.89. And for what? Three prescriptions: 2 for birth control pills and one for a diaphragm,all for one "Pauline".

This act takes place in the Clallam County Sheriff's Department where most taxpayers expect to foot the bill for officers' uniforms. The fashion-conscious taxpayer even provides new suits for the fellow who doesn't wear a uniform.

Enter stage right the County the proverbial handsome prince on proverbial white horse, to the old proverbial rescue. This describes their generous decision to pay for anything above and beyond the coverage of regular medical insurance, i.e., "Pauline's" birth control pills and diaphragm.

As the curtain falls, the taxpayer realizes that yesterday's 3 R's weren't too unlike today's. The taxpayer is still being taken for a ride; the rape of his tax dollar continues.

The rest of the play is continued. Watch for Act 2, 1972. Will the taxpayer come to his own rescue, or will he sit contentedly while the house lights dim on this one?

Many Federal laws that provide "grants-in-aid" require a regional governmental body before Federal funding and Federal terms must be met, and they are mostly complete control.

These legislative reports give some exact wordings and explanations of the bill, so go use them while you still have a voice in your elected officials. They are voting themselves out of jobs and you out of any voice you may have left in your government.

Arriving at 6:02 to wait in line for Toklat, one would think that is early enough. It should have been. The line was crowded on the stairs and by the alley. We had to go wait on the corner in front of the Variety Store doors. At that time, it was a pretty orderly line.

From 6:02 on, the line went to as far as we could see. But in front of the theater, boys and girls big and small began crowding in. There was no respect for the others first in line.

Our little girls saw the advertisements and wanted to see Toklat as much as any other. They were invited to crowd in twice up front, but they and we knew better.

We waited in line for 71 minutes until the doors closed, in 31 degree weather, missing getting in by about 35 people. They also had waited properly.

For you parents who dropped your children off in front of the theater instead of the end

My thoughts; are the so-called goodies of federal "help" enough to offset the evils of control of our state by a federal bureaucracy of appointed commissions and committees which these bills set up, and, of course, additional taxes to pay the wages of such? Senate Bill 92, House Bill 183 sets up a Regional Economic Development Authority of eleven members appointed by the governor, and only the governor can remove a member and only by a specific written charge. They set up their own code of ethics.

Where federal money is gotten, all agreements have to meet the federal requirements of any federal agency. It seems we are going to be taxed to pay the costs of the government telling us how, when, where, and who can do anything.

There has been introduced a bill Senate 423 providing that non-profit corporations may be created to handle the business of the governmental units for performing the governmental services. We do not need any more "non-profit" agencies. Too many of them have helped get us into the mess our government is now.

Go to the library and read Legislative report #5 and #4. House Bill 229 is another "federal grant-in-aid" sleeper to start urban renewal projects in unincorporated areas that by condemnation of your house and property if they decide to.

of the line, you deserve part of the blame for not telling them where to wait.

For you that saw the movie from crowding, you were wrong. If you are old enough to attend the movie, you are old enough to know better.

Our one daughter went home with tears, and all in line who had small, school age children were very unhappy because the second show was much too late for a school night.

In all fairness, we and the people in line far behind us should have been able to get in. The theater has 350 seats. At 6:02 there weren't more than 150 in line in front of us.

Stamp club to meet

The Forks Stamp Club will meet February 8, 1972, at 7:30 p. m. at the home of Ed Malmsen.

Pen. Tel. to invest in new equipment

Maurice R. Hull, president of Peninsula Telephone and Telegraph Company, Forks, has announced the corporation plans to invest $335,000 in new equipment during 1972. The company operates exchanges in Forks, Beaver, Neah Bay, Clallam Bay and Clearwater, serving 3,300 telephones. Hull estimates that in 1972 the company will add approximately 320 new telephones. Included in the company's 1972 construction program is the addition of $173,500 in ce.

entral office equipment, $62,000 in aerial and buried cable, $45,000 in station apparatus and connections, and $50,000 in vehicles, work equipment and miscellaneous equipment. The largest single addition will be the construction of a new microwave radio system between Neah Bay and Clallam Bay. The new microwave system will require an investment in excess of $40,000. Other new equipment additions will bolster existing plant to keep pace with normal subscriber growth and enable the company to continue service improvement projects.

"In 1971," said Hull, "we installed a net of 265 new telephones in our five exchange areas. This represents an increase of 8.31% compared with a 8.9% in 1970 and 9.5% in 1969."

The exchange areas and their station increase in 1971 are as follows: Forks, 160; Beaver, 8; Neah Bay 26; Clallam Bay 50; and Clearwater 21. In 1971 over $230,000 was expended for new plant facilities. Largest projects in 1971 were additions to central office switching equipment, toll facilities and cable plant. If present growth projections prove valid, the company expects to invest in excess of $1,000,000 during the 1972-1973-1974 time frame on new equipment to serve its customers.

FORT WARDEN TRANSFERRED

The use of private funds for development and operation of campgrounds within state parks was approved by the Washington State Parks and Recreation Commission at their meeting Everett. The Commission authorized the Director to take the necessary steps to seek bids for privately financed park projects. Specifically identified for such projects were Riverside State Park in Spokane, where expansion of camping facilities is needed in preparation for the anticipated influx of Expo '74 visitors; and Fort Worden State Park, where the recent acquisition of residential buildings and 128 acres of land provides a complex of structures ideally suited for development of a convention center.
