Elderly people, especially, should be extremely careful when walking on ice or snow. A misstep on a slippery piece of ice could have a very painful ending.

PALM SUNDAY CELEBRATION
The second annual COMMUNITY PALM SUNDAY CELEBRATION will be presented Sunday, March 26 at 4:00 o'clock in the Forks High School Gym. Weather permitting, the procession will begin at the Assembly of God Church at 3:45 and will move down the main street of the city to the High School. A colorful procession of about 100 in authentic Biblical costumes will acclaim the Christ on the humble donkey. The musical program will include a Community Choir, the Rainbeats and selections by the Handbell Ringers of the Congregational Church. This program is sponsored by the Forks Ministerial Association and cooperating churches. Radio Station KVAC will broadcast this presentation. Dress rehearsal will be held Saturday, March 25, 9:00 p. m. in the High School Gym.

TOWN COUNCIL
By Al Clarke
The Forks Town Council met in the council chambers on Monday, March 13, 1972. The meeting convened promptly at 7:30 p. m. Believe it or not, the first order of business was the dog problem. The subject arose from a complaint from a citizen that his dog, though licensed, had been picked up several times, and the fee of ten dollars was a little too high. The citizen also stated that he thought it unfair since he lived in the same block as the dog catcher, John Simons. John Simons was on hand, and let it be known that there was nothing personal in his actions. Mr. Simons also stated that he was hired by the city to pick up stray or unleashed dogs. John Simons stated once again, loud and clear, just because a dog is licensed, it cannot legally run loose, and that's the truth. To this date, 82 licenses have been issued, and two-thirds of the dogs picked up have been unlicensed. Mr. Simons went on to say that it's not the dogs that are at fault, it's their owners. Could it be that man's best friend is wasting his or her time? I hope not. An application for a building permit for a structure on "B" Street S. W. is $500.00 to be completed in 120 days. The owner and builder, E. F. Sageser. The approval was delayed pending investigation into the setback of the building on the lot. For those of you who will be traveling east of the mountains on the 20th of this month, the governor's conference on travel will be held at the Holiday Inn in Yakima on the 21st. The next regular Town Council meeting will be held in the council chambers on March 27, 1972. If you haven't attended, why not try it; you'll like it.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

A message to the people of Forks from Dr. Steenblock: Hello, Many rumors are going around town to the effect that I do not take insurance of any type. This message is to clarify this misunderstanding and to explain what the procedures will be for billing, preparing insurance claims forms and payment for services.

I would like to suggest to the community that if anyone has a question in regard to medical fees, insurance matters or medical matters in general, to either write a brief note or call my office for clarification.

The following is a copy of the written position of the State Highway Department relative to the Lake Crescent By-pass: Department of Interior Office of the Secretary Washington, D. C. 20240 Attention: Mrs. Rogers C. B. Morton Dear Mrs. Morton:

Mr. Bulley advised me of his very pleasant meeting last Tuesday with you, Mrs. Goss, State Senator Ellicker, Representative Conner, and representatives of the National Park Service to discuss the possibility of relocating SR 101 to a new location outside the boundaries of the Olympic National Park.

In accordance with the mandate of the 1971 Legislature, the Department has been working closely with the National Park Service to review and attempt to determine if a full scale study should be conducted to determine the feasibility of relocation of the highway.

To reiterate, this means that I will accept any and all patients who have other types of insurance will be able to receive insurance reimbursement for services rendered by myself.

The only group of people that are affected by the Washington Physicians Service ruling are those people who do hold the Washington Physicians Service contracts, the main groups of which in Forks and surrounding community are the people who work for the Nelson Trust, Timber Operators Council and The Shingle Weavers.

All other insurance even those being administered by Clallam County Physicians Service can have and will have billing fees reimbursed to them when they provide the appropriate insurance company with an insurance form.

Those groups who have insurance with Clallam County Physicians Service and can be reimbursed for their doctor bills are: Cape Flattery School District, Forks Prairie Grange, Forks School District #402, J. E.

Jarett Distributors, Norwest Fish Company, Timber Operators Association, Ullins Inc., Union Oil of Forks and Washburn's General Store.

Other insurance companies that will pay the majority of the doctor bills include: Welfare, Blue Cross, Medicare, New York Life, Travelers, Business Men's Assurance, John Hancock, State Indemnity, Bankers Life & Casualty and many others.

I would like to suggest to the community that if anyone has a question in regard to medical fees, insurance matters or medical matters in general, to either write a brief note or call my office for clarification.

tential problems which very likely will increase in years to come as the volume of traffic increases.

The only route which appears at this time to be feasible as a relocation of SR 101 would lie north of Lake Crescent and would involve about 16 miles of new construction at the westerly end and about 16 miles of improvement of existing SR 112 from the vicinity of Murdock Creek to the Elwha River. The very preliminary cost estimates of more than $20 million for relocation of the highway far exceed any capability of funding from State or Federal highway funds.

The Department presently has included in its six-year construction program for expenditure on SR 101 in the vicinity of Lake Crescent approximately $2.5 million. The improvements would involve curve revisions and roadway surface improvements along the existing highway. Our program also provides for an expenditure of about $1/2 million for improvement of SR 112 within the above defined limits. We would plan that the work would be accomplished within about the next ten-year period.

If a commitment of direct federal funds can be obtained for construction of the westerly 16 miles of highway (which is estimated to cost $18 million), the Highway Department will be pleased to participate in the improvement of the 16 miles of SR 112 to the extent of the $3 million of funds presently programmed for SR 101 and SR 112. Every effort would be made to accomplish the work on SR 112 on or before completion of the easterly new construction. It is our opinion that such participation would be in full accordance with the Priority Programming Law since the relocated highway

PRIMARY CORNER

The team teachers thought we would tell readers about our reading program since so many people do not know what takes place in the first grade at Forks Primary School. The school reaches the Scott Foresman Reading Series. Before introducing the child to words, there is a readiness program. This starts in kindergarten and continues in first grade. The child must be ready to read to be successful. He must be able to see differences, likeness, be able to know and remember order of things, and know his right from his left. There are many more abilities a child should develop in this reading readiness period. Some children need more help in this area than others.

At first children learn words the way they recognize cereal boxes at the store. They know where the Captain Crunch is by its size, color, and shape. Children remember "Go", "Help", "Come", by shape, and by the beginning letter sound, and by the picture contained in the story. Children vary in their ability to distinguish forms - words.

To help them we play vocabulary games, use workbooks, and have individual reading usually in reading groups of four to eight. Many audio-visual aids are used to reinforce the learning. The language master is a very helpful machine. It sounds the words on a tape as the children see the written word. The children may tape their own voice very easily, saying the words as the card goes through the machine. We have a listening center manned by voluntary aides. The children listen through earphones and are guided through reading activities. Films, filmstrips, and supplementary books are used to reinforce the reading process. The teachers last year voted to use money they would have received in raises to buy equipment for the school children. The Primary School had $2,500.00 to spend. Many more materials for the AV equipment have been purchased with this money.

The first grade teachers' main effort is to make the children want to read. They need a healthy desire to read, a curiosity to discover what words mean. In many children this is already present. In some children it needs to be developed. We strive to help the children understand what they have read - to comprehend.

At present we have 69 children, all of whom are reading. Their reading scope ranges from the second pre-primer to the primer level. The vocabulary ranges from 40 vocabulary words to 175 words at the present time. The children are able to read more words than are presented in the Scott Foresman Reading Series because, in addition, we have an extensive phonics program. The first day of school the children were introduced to Andy, the alligator, a hand puppet who taught them the 'short a' sound. They learned to put consonants together with this 'short a' sound to make words. After much practice, Andy the Indian was introduced for 'short i', Ellie the elephant for 'short e', Ollie the octopus for 'short o', and Uncle Joe for 'short u'. Learning these vowels enabled them to read immediately by sounding out many words. We use workbooks and extra help from aides to learn sounds. We have a phonics period every day. Each child is drilled on the names of the letters of the alphabet and their sounds throughout the whole year. Reading is an individual thing and the hardest task a child has to learn. We teachers strive to develop each child as far as his present capacity permits. The child matures greatly during the first grade year. It is a very important year in his life. Reading is the most important happening in first grade.

LDS LECTURE

and advance subscriber obligations. This historically-packed 630 page volume, written by local authors and descendants of Clallam County pioneers, includes more than 100 photographs, maps and listing of pioneer families. In six chapters "Jimmy Come Lately" covers the country from the east end irrigation country to the Pacific Ocean. The price is $15.00 post paid. The book may be obtained at the Clallam County Historical office at 4th and Lincoln Streets in the former Sandison Bakery Building in Port Angeles, Washington 98362.

FISHERMAN SAYS "THANKS"

Earnest Johnson from Issaquah, Wash., was one happy fisherman last week. After fishing on the Hoh, he left $50.00 worth of rod and reel on top of his car and drove off, with all predictable results. Johnson advertised and the lost fishing gear was found and turned to him by Roy Robinson of Forks and his father-in-law, Cline Sampo, from Seattle. Neither would accept a reward and Mr. Johnson thought their efforts deserved a big thank you -- so orchids, hats off, and a pat on the back to a couple of helpful citizens!

TYEE-SAPPHO-BEAVER NEWS

MRS. J. E. MERRITT

It's a boy! Grandma and Grandpa Loushin are receiving congratulations on the birth of their first grandson, Warren J. Loushin, who was born Wednesday, March 8, to Clementina and Jack Warren Loushin in Olympic Memorial Hospital, Port Angeles.

The senior Loushins are especially happy over the baby boy's arrival as they had practically given up hope of having a grandson. They have eight granddaughters: Deena, Traci, Darcy, Denise and Paula, the daughters of Fred and Beverly Loushin, and Debbie, Brenda and Pamela, the daughters of Richard and Laurie Loushin.

The many friends of Miss Hazel Elder, who was secretary and bookkeeper for M. R. Smith Mill at tyee for many years, will be interested to read this item of news about her. She fell and broke her hip last November in her home in Redfield, Kansas, shortly after her 83rd birthday, October 25. She was alone at the time, but was able to get to the phone to call for help. She was taken to the Fort Scott Hospital, where a pin was put in the bone, and she was later taken to the Fort Scott Nursing Home for convalescence, and is now at home. Although still in a wheelchair she is able to do her own house work and can even stand up to reach for things in her cupboard.

Ted Davis, nephew of Ben Leavitt of Tyee, arrived on Monday of last week and went to work on Tuesday for ITT Rayonier. He had returned two weeks previously from a tour of duty in Vietnam.

Mr. and Mrs. Matt Zoffel moved on Tuesday to the Five-Mile area near Auburn, where they will make their future home.

Mr. Zoffel came to Sappho in the summer of 1960, when he took the place of Duke Walken as assistant superintendent of ITT Rayonier who had retired and moved to Bainbridge. Mrs. Zoffel was ill at the time and did not arrive until the summer of 1961. They have made many friends during the time they have lived at Sappho, and will be greatly missed.

Tuesday night's Sunset League was my time to howl. Hit a 230-217-247-694. John Nagel rapped out a 227 and Al Nagel had a 131 triplicate. Dick Streeter picked off the 4-6-10 split.
Powder Puffs: Lou Suchodolski 190, Wilma Angese 188, Billie Crist 187-509.
Hoot Owls: Betty Jacobson 183-507, her first 500 series.

30s-Kitchie 1:49, Whitehead-West 1233, Rondeau-Rondeau 1237, Brager Bros. Blackshirts captured the team event with a 2963. Spoelstra Bros. 2910, G & L Shake 2909, and Cauldins Log 2885, Vern Rondeau won both all-events trophies with a 1705 and 1900. Vern also won scratch series money with a 642 and split Hi 10 with Fred Jarvis at 233. George Richardson also rolled a 233.
Monday Doubles: Lou Suchodolski 190, Kathy Decker 182-513.

ed answering service in a single ten-inch square unit. An answering message can be pre-recorded by the subscriber and the caller's reply and message recorded for playback at the subscriber's convenience.

Designed especially for the home, the office at home, or small business, MEMORY PHONE provides a full-time answering service when the user is away, and eliminates the necessity for answering the telephone if the subscriber doesn't wish to be disturbed. With the "memory" device switched off, the MEMORY PHONE operates exclusively as a telephone.

The unit stores fifteen messages up to thirty seconds long, with full telephone fidelity, and counts the number of messages recorded.

"One reason we're so enthusiastic about the MEMORY PHONE is its attractive design while offering complete versatility in both home and office situations," Mr. Erickson said. "Busy families can keep track of their community projects, their friends, and each other. It's so simple to operate that anyone in the family can use it as a message center. And of course the person with a one-man business office is free to come and go while his MEMORY PHONE receives his messages."

The new unit is available in three colors: white, beige and green. Complete details may be obtained from the Peninsula Telephone and Telegraph Company business office at (203) 374-6212.

SEATTLE OPERA TO APPEAR

A behind the scenes evening with Seattle Opera will be presented to the public Tuesday, March 21, at 8 p. m. at the Congregational Church Fellowship Hall.

Richard Krueger, a veteran musician and director, and 3 Seattle Opera singers will demonstrate how an opera production is prepared for the stage including a working rehearsal in English of various scenes of Puccini's beloved opera "Madam Butterfly" as well as the finished presentation of the scenes. The major roles of Cio Cio San, the opera's ill-fated heroine, Lt. Pinkerton, the American consul Sharpless and the marriage broker Goro will be enacted with piano accompaniment.

The presentation is being made possible in part by the support of the Washington State Arts Commission and the National Endowment for the Arts, a federal agency.

Commuting costs not deductible

Seattle, Washington--In answer to taxpayer inquiries, District Director of Internal Revenue for the Seattle District, Mr. Neal Warren, stated that transportation expenses to remote area work sites will not be allowed on 1971 Federal income tax returns.

In recent decisions, the courts have held that no matter how remote the job site, how hazardous the occupation, how far the employee must travel or how necessary the travel, commuting costs are nondeductible personal expenses rather than ordinary and necessary business expenses.

The Memory Phone.™

Forget it.

Leave the house and forget the phone. Because now you can have a telephone that answers calls and records messages for you.

The Memory Phone. It works like any telephone. Until you switch on the "memory" part. Then it answers calls automatically. In your own voice. And remembers every word your callers leave. Later it plays back everything that's gone on since you've gone out.

Use the Memory Phone to monitor and record calls when you're home--but too busy to answer.

We can install one for just a few dollars on your monthly statement. So whenever you can't answer the telephone, turn on the Memory Phone. And forget it.

Koch, Assistant Director for Driver Services of the Department of Motor Vehicles, said the new licenses are being issued now to those whose present ones are expiring. He said that while the new licenses are not as thick as the old ones, they are more durable, being pretty well impervious to water, manhandling, etc.

As part of the curriculum study authorized by the Board of Education for the local junior-senior high school, eight motion picture films have been scheduled which present exemplary junior-senior high school programs now in operation throughout the nation. Films will be shown at 3:40 p. m. on the dates scheduled. Night screenings of all films will also be available for interested groups and community members. School spokesmen announced that any group or individual or group of individuals interested in viewing one three concepts. They are-- "Knowledge For Its Own Sake" "The New Shape of Learning Space", and "Learning As a Joyful Experience." Most of this film concentrates on the efforts of a dozen or so school systems which have taken up front line positions squarely astride what is termed "the knowledge explosion". Each of the schools pictured in the film has developed its own version of Bruner's axiom that, "any subject can be taught to any child at any age. In some intellectually honest form." If excellence is our goal--school faculty members point out--we must make a mighty reach.

"Learning Through Inquiry" depicts more complex learning situations and explains each staff member's position and specific duties. It becomes apparent that each student must become actively involved in the learning process by evaluating himself as an individual and a team member. Each student is constantly challenging and questioning his teammates. After the teams analyze their data and evaluate their findings, they must defend their conclusions before the entire class.

"Hi School". This film presents a positive answer to all the negative reports, films, and television specials that have portrayed the typical American high school as a rather bland, quasi-prison environment, completely cut off from the real world. There are no actors in this film--only the students and teachers who are living their education as they learn it.

"The Improbable Form of Master Sturm" presents the concept of nongraded schools. It permits the student to learn at his best rate and advance without limitation. Thus, education becomes discovery and challenge rather than repetition and drudgery. While this sounds ideal, does nongradedness actually work? The film was produced in a high school which has been operating under the nongraded system for ten years. The film places emphasis on young people as individuals with programs tailor made for them.

"The Strategies of Small Group Learning" describes a new kind of action in the classroom. It offers a fast-paced look at an exciting instructional mode that is enjoying rapid and widespread adoption by educators. It is relevant. It is involvement. It is now. At a time when young people are clamoring about insensitive and callous classroom procedure, this production documents one means of reordering the arrangement of students that puts the teacher in a position of manager rather than disciplinarian.

PRINCE OF PEACE

The Senior High Youth Group is planning to go to Bremerton March 19 for a meeting and celebration with other youth groups in the Peninsula area. The Junior High Youth Group, fresh from an exciting outing at Hurricane Ridge last Saturday, will meet at 5 p. m. Sunday.

The Men's Group will meet at 7:30 p. m. in the school play room for volleyball and fellowship.

Many of the churches in Forks are working together again this year towards the annual Palm Sunday Celebration to be held at 4 p. m. March 26 at the school gym. The mass choir scheduled to perform will hold rehearsals March 17 and 21 at 7:30 p. m. in the school band room. All singers are encouraged to join in this endeavor. The title for Pastor Stockman's Sermon for Sunday is "God's Glory Revealed in Love" taken from John 13:31-35.

Two will go to Girls State

Two high school juniors, as yet not selected, will be going to the American Legion Auxiliary Evergreen Girls State. Reservations have been confirmed for girls from Forks High School and Clallam Bay High School. The girls will go to Central Washington State College in Ellensburg on June 11th for a week of participation in a specially planned program of citizenship training--a program in which they learn to do by doing.

They will be living on campus, in college dorms, with girls selected from most of the high schools in the state. They will be come members of political parties, campaign, vote, elect, and install those elected. Enacting laws for their miniature state will follow. The girls will have the fascinating experience of proving that representatives selected from different parts of Washington, with differences of opinions, can work together in the best interest of all.

From each Girls State of the fifty held in the United States, two representatives will be selected to represent their Girls State at Girls Nation to be held this year on the campus of the American University in Washington, D. C., July 22 to 29. Here they will continue with practice of running a national government.

The Girls State program has been placed on the approved list of National Contests and Activities by the National Association of Secondary School Principals. This year, for the first time, college credits can be earned by the girls attending the entire week.

The American Legion Auxiliary feels that in these days when the leadership potential of youth is being stressed throughout the world, this program speaks boldly to all the world of our faith in youth and our faith in their leadership of the future.

TRAIL RIDERS

by Barbara King
Sunday, February 2 th, A.M.: The phone rings. It's Harold Turtle. The stork has struck! It is a filly, to be registered as Surf Song Falha, in the Arabian Horse Club Registry. Proud mama is Farreda; sire Mirfeiy. The Turtles have also recently purchased a yearling Arabian filly, Brookalia. The Turtles are really getting some fine Arabians, with excellent bloodlines for their Surf Song Arabian Ranch. Farreda and daughter will be leaving for a month to see the Egyptian import El Hlal. Little Falha and her mother are a sight well worth seeing; the kind so lovely that they take your breath away. Congratulations to all of Surf Song Monday, February 28th, A.M.: The phone rings. It's Jeanette Gilmore. The stork has struck again! It is a filly. She is a cutie! The Gilmores are undecided as to a name yet. Her name, Penny, is unregistered, but her sire is R-Dukan, a registered Arabian. That makes the filly registerable in the International Half Arabian Registry. More congratulations to all!

Thursday, March 2nd, P.M.: Sad news, a confirmation of a rumor. Harry Lefler's buckskin AQHA mare Melody Mount, has aborted, about three months early. Good news from the Leflers, too, Tax Time, their two-year-old running Quarter-horse colt, finished second in a race. Congratulations!

Friday, March 3rd, 3:30 P.M.: The phone rings. It's Tex Newton. Dollars! Dandy-bob's inspector! (I wish it had been the stork!) He is coming right up to give Dandy his inspection. (For anyone that hasn't read about Dandy in Sharon Clarke's column, he is a two-year-old Paint stud colt. The American Paint Horse Registry is quite strict on what they allow to become a stallion in their registry. At the age of two, all studs are given a rigid inspection and if they fail to qualify, they are gelded. Last year in our state 17 were inspected and only 3 passed. So this is really a big thing for A1 and Sharon, and a big test for Dandy. Kind of a one horse show, where you have a winner or a loser.) We have all been on pins and needles waiting for this. Dandy has been show clipped and trimmed, bathed and pampered all week, trying to keep him clean and beautiful for the inspection. Now the big moment is here... Mr. Newton and I wade through the mud to our new barn. I open the big sliding door... and behold... I'm staring Dandy in the eye. I close the door, almost on his nose. He is not supposed to be loose in the barn! I leave the inspector standing outside and slip in the barn.

Dandy is romping all over the place; the nut thinks he has a new playpen. The worst thing is he has been in the grain and has slopped around in the mud inside the barn. He is filthy; happy, but filthy. His "twanging wire" on his door is ripped off and as a matter of fact, the whole door is off! I catch hold of him and halter him. I yell to Mr. Newton to come on in. He decides we should take him out to our driveway where the ground is more level, so he can get an accurate measurement of Dandy's height. (I think he wanted a drier place, too.) Dandy was like something possessed as he lead me out through the mud to the driveway. When Mr. Newton asked me to walk him, so he could check his legs, Dandy decided to be extra loving and nestled up to me, almost shoving me into the fence. When I was asked to trot Dandy.. He didn't trot... he pounced like a playful kitten. But bless his heart, he did stand like the gentleman he usually is to have his teeth inspected, and his measurements taken. Mr. Mr. Newton was quite nice and very understanding. I felt like I had just let The Clarkes down. I hope not. Mainly all the man was judging was Dandy's conformation and that is pretty good. Now all we have to do is wait four or six weeks to find out if he passed. The inspector is not allowed to tell the owner, he just sends in his report and recommendation to the APHA and they will notify the Clarkes. Everyone keep their fingers crossed for Dandy and the Clarkes. I will follow up on this as soon as we hear the word.

TOURNAMENT RETURNS

The fourth annual Forks Invitational Basketball Tournament returns to the Forks High School Gym on Friday, March 17th. A total of 15 games are on the agenda, along with the 3 previous champions.

In 1969, the inaugural year of the tournament, Forks Vagabond Skychiefs took all the marbles, only to be beaten out by Bellingham in 1970. Last year Port Angeles' Trailors squeaked out a win against Pay & Save and went on to take the championship.

According to Mr. Ralph Hilt of the Tournament Committee, the returning Champion, Bellingham, is the team to beat in this year's tournament. In Bellingham's first game they are pitted against Tacoma in the tourney's 33rd game.

This is the schedule for the tournament to be played in entirety at the Forks High School Gym.

We do have several area teams playing in the tournament that are all to be considered a possible threat to the pre-tourney favorite, Bellingham. Pay & Save, the West End League Champion, in this reporter's eyes is the team that Bellingham has to watch the closest of all the teams in the tournament, although you can not count out Peninsula Tel. and Tel. This team is more commonly known to us in the Forks area as the Town Team. They were able to pick up this new sponsor before the tournament, and will carry the name of Peninsula Tel and Tel. into the battles for the championship. But getting back to Peninsula Tel. and Tel., they gave Pay & Save a real battle right down to the wire in the League Championships several weeks ago, and in the worst way would like to see the table turned in the Forks Tourney.
