LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Editor

Dear people of Forks' Shame, shame, shame on you! We can hardly believe our ears. Dr. Steenblock is on the radio again defending his position. When are we going to wake up? He and his family owe us nothing. Are you going to let a few stupid, uneducated, mis-informed, rude people represent you? We hope not.

Let us share with you our thoughts and opinions on this matter.

A group of people (we don't know who but they have gone un-thanked) have worked very hard to get Dr. Steenblock here. We went after him, he didn't ask us. Why not trust these people and their judgement? You can't do everything yourself.

Look--really look at his qualifications, --excellent! So you don't understand why he's not an MD. I can't clearly define Osteopathic but I can tell you this' he has very nicely told you that if having an MD document hanging in his office would impress you--he could send through the mail for it! What he is so very politely trying to tell you is he is a specialist, not just a general practitioner. Aren't we lucky?

We hope we are not wrong and if so we apologize. But aren't his qualifications far, far greater than those Dr. Leibold had when he first came?

Now Doc Leibold, there's a subject. Ormyer ol' cuss' can't help but love him to death. And that is just about what we are doing. He's done his bit to a very ungrateful town. He's tired-- shouldn't we respect his wishes and allow him to limit his practice?

Oh, dear - Dr. Steenblock just committed a sin - expects to make over $600.00 a month. What do you make a month? How would you like to have paid for this man's college education and on the job training? Setting up a practice must be very expensive. It will take years for him to break even, and he doesn't have a 9-5 job either' no doctor does.

Let's look at the insurance issue. My, my, somebody has finally taken a stand against insurance. Congratulations for your courage. When you have insurance like WPS, Blue Cross, etc., what your "higher than necessary" premium covers is office calls and women having babies. This is good if you're raising a family, but the minute you have the number of children you want, you begin paying for other people's children. It took time and a thump on the head from Mr. Gronseth to get that through my skull. We now have major medical coverage. It covers anything over $50.00 (no office calls.) I hate to admit it but we do go to the doctor less now, and whatever expenses we do have is taken off at income tax time.

We've never met Dr. Steenblock personally, although friends have. We've heard nothing but favorable comments. I did have the pleasure of meeting Mrs. Steenblock last week. I was really impressed. She's lovely, intelligent, and down to earth. I do hope the fact that she's blond and pretty won't cause any waves--but in this town one never knows.

Just heard Dr. Steenblock has long hair. What is long? Past the shoulders, down to the waist, and all frizzed out? Let's make a deal! If you won't look at my husband's dirty work clothes, we won't look at your hair!

We do so hope the Hospital Board, townspeople and the doctors and staff will work together. We have a right to expect this.

Note to Dr. Steenblock: Sir, you have conducted yourself in a most gentlemanly manner. Thank you. You have taken enough time from your work to defend yourself. Give the people a chance to speak up in your behalf.

Please don't judge the whole town by a few. Most of us are too busy to take time to voice our opinion (and when you do, you are criticized for being radical). Here's hoping you and your family will stay.

Note to People against Dr. Steenblock: You certainly have a right to your opinion' nobody agrees with everybody, that's human nature. We do so hope you will make an effort to be fair. And if your findings are the same, there are still doctors in Port Angeles, and, of course, you're welcome to bring in another doctor.

Note to People of Forks: Are you willing to give Dr. Steenblock a real chance, one where his hands aren't tied? After six months or a year if we're unhappy with "his" way, get rid of him

But what about now, right now? Dr. Steenblock and his family are discouraged and feel unwanted. You can do something about it. Phone the office, sign a petition, a personal note would mean a lot to them, or call Action Line next Saturday and publicly let them know how you feel.

Let them know you want them to stay. If they leave, you'll have no one to blame but yourself.

Most Sincerely
Bob and Mary Swanson

Our hats are off to Dr. Leibold for his many years of faithful service to our community. We've been here 25 years, and he has been our family doctor all this time. Lots of sleepless nights have been donated to the members of our community in all his years of service here. "Keep it up, Doc." Remember, our good health depends on our doctor.

George and Kate Campbell

The new Arms Control document, announced by the Nixon Administration as official government policy says, "Since 1959 the agreed ultimate goal of all the negotiations has been general and complete disarmament, i.e. the total elimination of all armed forces and armaments except those needed to maintain internal order within states and to furnish the United Nations with peace forces. . . . While the reductions were taking place, a U.N. peace force would be established and developed and, by the time the plan was completed, it would be so strong that no nation could challenge it."

This is from the 1970 United States Arms Control and Disarmament Agency. In plain English doesn't this say that we would be under a United Nations control that "no nation could challenge"?

Secretary of Defense Laird has issued a stern warning that we are in actual danger from lack of defense, that Russia has forged ahead of us in every field. But while they spend for defense and disregard nuclear test ban treaties (as they will the SALT talk treaties if they ever get through wasting time on them) we appropriate more money to the Department of Health, Education and Welfare than we do to the Defense Department.

Where are we going? Parents should take care of the education and health of their children and could do it better than the government if they had money. If we used the money we give to nations that hate us, building up our depleted army, navy and air force people would be working and have money. There would be less people on welfare.

Do we have any reason to trust the United Nations with our very existence?

Mrs. J. L. Bunker

After 14 years of faithful work as a librarian at Forks Memorial Library, Mrs. Inez Miller retired recently to be a housewife. "I really like it," she said. "There are so many nice T.V. programs to watch and I keep myself busy, but naturally I miss the work and the many people I met there."

She started working as a librarian in 1958 when she replaced Mrs. Jay Sander. The library has come a long way since then. The hours are longer, but with the machine system the filing is easier and more accurate. "We have so many books now and with more books, more bookcases," says Mrs. Miller, "There's never a dull moment with so many school classes coming over."

Mrs. Miller was born in Velva, North Dakota and moved from there to Calgary, Alberta. In 1919 she came to Seattle and it was there she met John. They eloped and were married in Montesano in 1928. Their first home was north of Sappho by the "old mill". In 1934 they moved to Forks. Mrs. Miller has raised three children: Richard, married to Jean Diimmel; Anina Lehman; Bob, married to Cheryl La Chapelle. She also raised Claude Clark from the age of 6. The Millers also have 4 grandchildren: Don, Kevin, Karen and Suzanne.

She was secretary for the library board for 15 years and active in the missionary society of the "old" Forks Congregational Church, and the Forks Hospital Guild. She belongs to the Ni Wauna Home Ec. Club, a Christmas club and the Rebekahs.

DATES SET FOR HUNTING SEASON: The Washington State Game Commission met in Olympia Monday to set dates for the coming hunting season. The high Cascade hunt was set for September 16 while the general buck season, statewide, will open October 14. The one which will no doubt bring controversy, as it did last season, is that of the general bull elk season. Would you believe another Monday opener? That's right, elk hunters must once again sit out the weekend awaiting the Monday opener on October 30, statewide. Perhaps if it had not been for the elk massacre by poachers during the opening of the 1970 season we would still be enjoying the weekend openers. A good number of the sportsmen's losses can be attributed to the poacher.

Mountain sheep season will open September 23 for permit holders only. Mountain goat hunters must also draw a permit for the season which will open September 16. Pigeon season will open September 1, while grouse will become lawful on September 9. Pheasant, ducks, snipe, geese, and quail open on the 14th of October.

LAKES TO OPEN: Beaver, Pleasant, Wentworth, Dicky, and Undt are a few of the lakes which will open this coming Sunday April 23. Opening also on this date will be Mill Creek. This stream will once again be open for those under 14 years of age only.

HERE AND THERE: Clams were plentiful over the weekend as local sportsmen ventured to their favorite beaches in search of the ever popular razors. Not only were these tasty shellfish plentiful but they were large and firm. The next tides will run April 27 through May 3.

Local game department wildlife agent, Jim Aggergaard, announces that the steelhead planting program is now in progress. Approximately a quarter million young steelhead were reared this season at the Bogachiel rearing pond and are now ready for release in peninsula waters.

TIMBER SALES APPROVED

"At its regular monthly meeting, the Board of Natural Resources approved the sale of 37 parcels of state-owned timber," Bert L. Cole, Commissioner of Public Lands, announced today. The timber has a total value in excess of $6.2 million.

The largest sale is located 39 miles southeast of Forks and contains old-growth hemlock, cedar and white fir, totaling 23,200,000 board feet.

The most valuable parcel of timber being offered for sale is located 16 miles northeast of Welcome in Whatcom County. It is worth $567,230. Of this total, $295,092 will go to Whatcom County and $272,138 will go to the permanent school fund of the State of Washington.

Specialized logging techniques designed to minimize site damage and reduce or eliminate the construction of roads on steep slopes or on unstable soils will be used on this proposed sale and several others also approved today.

Timber sales will be conducted at local district offices May 22 & 23 in the following counties: Clallam, Ferry, Jefferson, King, Kittitas, Klickitat, Lewis, Mason, Pend Oreille, Skagit, Skamania, Snohomish, Stevens, Yakima and Whatcom.

Rain can make driving more risky than snow. The changes that occur during snow are apparent to most drivers, but the hazards of rain, such as reduced visibility and traction, are not generally recognized as dangerous.

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to extend our thanks to all our friends and relatives who sent the many cards, letters, plants and especially for the prayers, during the long hospital stay in Seattle for our father and husband.

John will be coming home soon but will need much rest and quiet for a long period of time. It would be greatly appreciated if friends would respect this long recovery period by limiting visits in the beginning. Our many thanks for your thoughtfulness.

We wish to welcome Mr. and Mrs. Alex Hudekof to our community. We hope they will enjoy living here. Alex and Ada will be managing the Fairholm Restaurant. They moved here from Tacoma where Alex was employed at the Cliff House for the past three years.

While in Palm Springs we toured the new Eisenhower Medical Center which was dedicated last fall by President Nixon. Afterwards we enjoyed lunch in the cafeteria there.

Before we left our desert home, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. MacDonald of Beaver joined us for a week of relaxation in the sun.

In San Gabriel we were guests of the Willis Storms and visited my brother-in-law Elmer Geiger and nephew John Geiger. While there they took us to Long Beach where we toured the Queen Mary.

On the way home we stayed overnight in Fresno and visited Ed's aunt Rose Lewis and found her in much better health than when we went down.

While in San Francisco we were guests at the home of our son Dr. Ronald Konopaski and family, and stayed there until after Easter.

We came home by way of Seattle where Ed had a Dr.'s appointment and got a good report, so the vacation must have payed off.

NEW BANK PLANNED

The first meeting to form a community oriented and locally owned bank, to which the public had been invited, was held April 14 at Alder Grove Recreation Hall.

Ken Laymon presided as chairman, and the minutes from previous meetings were read to bring first-time visitors up-to-date. A copy of the preliminary application blank together with a letter from the banking commissioner in Olympia was read, to explain the procedure to start a bank. It was suggested to proceed with the application which must be sent to Olympia with a filing fee of $1500. By September or October application will be approved or declared dead. The shares are sold at $20 per share. Up to date $238,000.00 in pledges have been pledged for a stock purchase. No more than 10% of the stock can be purchased by a stockowner. This is a long-term investment. No dividends will be paid by the bank for 4 or 5 years to protect the depositor. Bank earnings must go into surplus.

The directors of the bank will be elected by the stockholders, selected from the logging, milling and businesses in the Forks area.

The next meeting will be April 21 at Alder Grove Recreation hall at which time Mr. Ripley from People's Bank will be present to answer questions.

BUY ALL YOUR OFFICE SUPPLIES AT THE FORKS FORUM, IN THE KVAC BUILDING.

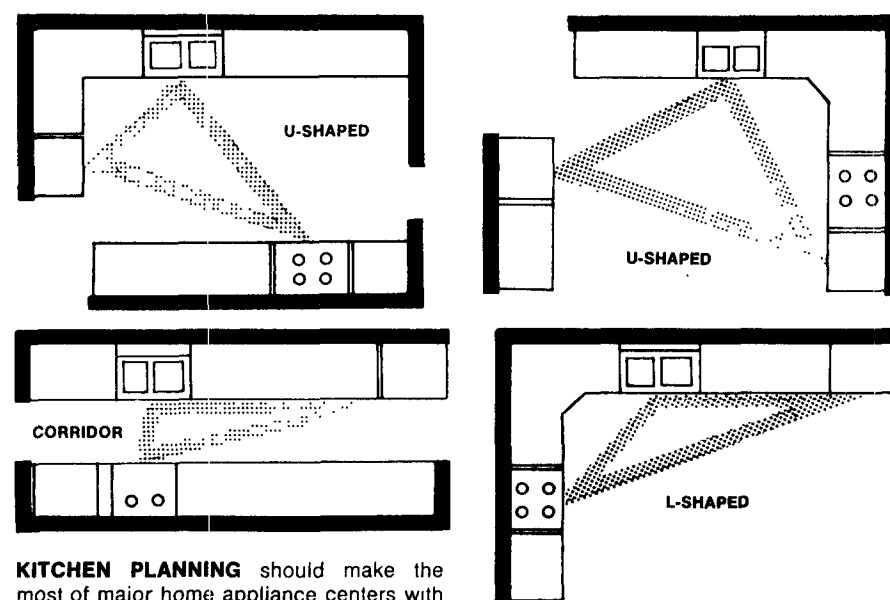

make your dream kitchen come true!

Careful planning is the key to an efficient kitchen. The basic idea of planning a modern kitchen is to save steps. Everything in your kitchen should be carefully placed to provide convenience with the fewest steps possible. The four basic plans that do this are shown below.

Your kitchen should also be pleasant and well lighted. It should contain storage space for food and utensils.

Make sure that the wiring is adequate to service all major appliances, such as an electric range, refrigerator-freezer, dishwasher, food disposal and the many small appliances that modern homemaking requires. Adequate wiring should include plenty of electrical outlets, properly placed where small appliances will be used.

Before you build or remodel, plan your kitchen for convenience and efficiency.

KITCHEN PLANNING should make the most of major home appliance centers with sink, refrigerator and stove arranged to form points of a triangle, according to kitchen planners. Two variations of the U-shaped plan join the work centers with counters along three walls. The appliance centers in the corridor plan line up along opposite walls for maximum efficiency in a long, narrow kitchen. The L-shaped plan, primarily for larger kitchens, places the appliance centers along two adjoining walls to allow an eating area.

THE PRIMARY CORNER

Mrs. Ellefson's first graders are very carefully holding up their eggs. They have been waiting for them to hatch. The incubator is in the background.

Two chicks hatched last Monday in Mrs. Ellefson's first grade class. The chicks are still in the incubator.

Kindergarten is a time of discovery and many of these discoveries, observations, or solutions prove to be very entertaining. This week's Primary Corner is dedicated to the Kindergarten children that have proven "Kids do say the funniest things."

Part of every Kindergarten day is spent in a group situation. The children are expected to sit on the floor and listen to stories and participate in discussions. In the fall of the year it is very difficult for the children to remember that only one child can talk at a time and it takes considerable reminding to get this point across. One day, while trying to have a discussion, all the children were trying to talk to teacher at the same time. They were told that they were much too noisy and that I couldn't hear what one child was saying. One little boy suggested that if I got my hair cut I would be able to hear better.

One of the favorite activities in the Kindergarten classroom is the painting easel and most children are eager to paint when offered a turn. One child's reply to a chance to paint was: "I'm never going to paint again. My mother throws them all away!"

Snow is very fascinating to most children, but surprisingly enough, many Kindergarten children don't know what it is made out of or why it snows. When asked, one child was sure the devil did it. Another thought for sure it was made out of little pieces of paper. During the heavy rains in January the far end of the Primary School's parking lot and playground became flooded. The water practically reached the end door of the Kindergarten classes. Watching the water rise became one of the activities during work period (free choice time.) As a car tried to drive through causing waves, one little boy yelled: "Teacher, teacher! Come see the tide come in!"

One of the skills that every Kindergarten child will hopefully have by the end of the year is to be able to explain how to get to his house just in case he gets lost. When asked how to get to his house, one little boy told me to follow the school bus he gets on, and when he gets off that's where he lives, in the pink and white house.

March 17 was a day for children to stay home from school, but it was a day that teachers "went to school". While trying to explain what I did over the vacation I told the children that I went to school, but I wasn't a teacher, I was a student instead. One little girl then asked if I was in high school. When I told her I wasn't, she very confusedly asked: "Are you a drop-out?"

Hal George, his children, grandchildren and nieces performed during halftime at the play-off games at the Community Center in La Push Suncay night. The group opened with the welcome dance, followed by the swan dance, a spiritual dance and the farewell dance. Taking part in the dancing were: Dianne Ward, Gloria Russel, Roxie Ward, Joann and Deena Fryberg, Vicki Penn and Jenny Williams.

WHAT'S COOKING IN BOBBY POTEET'S KITCHEN

How about trying an Australian boiled fruit cake? It's different and sounds delicious.

12 ounces of diced mixed fruit.
3 ounces of candied fruit mix.

1 tsp. allspice
1 cup sugar
1 stick margarine
1 tsp. baking soda
1 cup water

Put it all together in a saucepan and bring to a boil. Boil for one minute only. Leave to cool. Then add 1 cup flour, 1 tsp. baking soda and two eggs. Stir gently. Bake in moderate oven for 1 1/2 hours. It is best to leave for a few days before cutting.

Bobby Poteet is fairly new to Forks. She is the vice president of the Fellowship Circle of the Forks Congregational Church and the Treasurer of the recently formed Children's Orthopedic Audiology. Gardening, sewing, cooking and refinishing furniture are some of her hobbies. The mother of two girls, Sally and Lisa, she also has time to work with macramé, which she will soon start giving classes in. She is quite artistic with a brush on canvas and is taking lessons in oil painting. Starting in June, Bobby, together with Mary Evans, will turn the barn into a "classroom" in arts and crafts for children and teenagers.

Bobby was born in Sheffield, England. She is married to Sandy Poteet and has also lived in Australia. "We lived on steaks and fresh fruit, because it was so cheap," says Bobby in her cute English accent.

In 1970 she moved with her family to San Diego, California, where they stayed for about 10 months before moving to Forks.

LIBRARY TEA

In spite of rain, snow and hail, approximately 50 people attended the annual library tea April 16. This year's guests of honor were Mrs. Inez Miller, recently retired librarian, and Mrs. Grace Fraker, the oldest person born on the prairie.

Mrs. Kate Campbell presented Mrs. Miller with a "THIS IS YOUR LIFE" type book made from several memory-filled events in her life. The book "JIMMY COME LATELY" was also given to her from all her library friends as a token for the 14 years she worked as a librarian.

Boyd Rupp, master of ceremonies, introduced County Commissioner D. J. Caulkins and out-of-town guests, Miss Hope Hodges, Miss Primrose Bredl, Mrs. Walter Krattli (former teacher in Forks) and Mr. and Mrs. Jay Sander. He gave a short report on the history of the library and mentioned that due to the growth of Forks (more businesses and an increase in the population), future plans for the library are necessary.

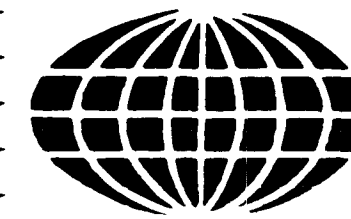

Mrs. E. L. Stanley presented some valuable books to the library in memory of A. W. Smith (pioneer at Mora) and W. O. Richwine.

Displays at the library included antique clocks by Darrell Tiller and handmade jewelry by Kathy Gunningham.

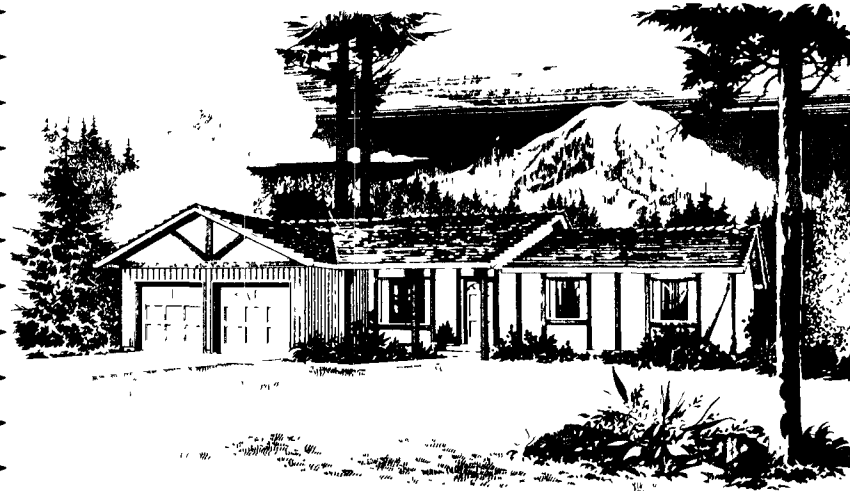

Boyd Rupp then introduced the "grandest lady in the country community", Mrs. Grace Fraker, who shared some very interesting memories from the early days on the "prairie". Among the pictures she showed was one of the first sawmill run by waterpower and located by Mill Creek' Forks first hotel, located in the back of the Antlers' post office where Jack's barbershop is now located and where the drugstore is, the first school house used to stand.

Mrs. Louise Gaydesk recalled an old-fashioned 4th of July when the biggest thrill for the children was to get a nickel from their parents to buy a banana. Times sure have changed.

The table arrangement was made by Mrs. Warren Paul of the Bogachiel Garden Club. A beautiful black tablecloth embroidered in bright colors covered the table. It was one of the souvenirs the Boyd Rupp brought back from their trip to Guatemala. Mrs. Fern Wittenborn and Miss Hope Hodges poured. Mrs. Floyd Thompson served the punch, and Mrs. LeRoy Malmsten was in charge of the guest-book. Mrs. Miller's corsage was made by Mrs. Joe Morrison and Joanna. Chairman for the tea was Mrs. Boyd Rupp.
