AN HARMONIOUS AFFAIR,

Out of Which, However, the Ring Will Not be Able to Extract Much Satisfaction.

THE WORK OF THE PRIMARY,

Held in Port Crescent Precinct on Saturday—An Assemblage of Republicans at Which Was Manifested a Disposition That Augurs Well for the Success of Republicanism This Fall—A Precinct Committee That is Organized for Business—A Partial List of the Delegates Elected to the County Convention.

THE first business gathering of the Republicans of the Port Crescent precinct, this year, was held at the LEADER office Saturday afternoon; and as an initial assemblage, it was a notable affair, presaging a lively and effective interest in the work of the approaching campaign.

Saturday's primary meeting was held for the purpose of electing two delegates to the County Convention to be held at Angeles, Saturday next; and the selection of a Precinct Committee. The attendance was large; the interest manifested most gratifying, and the fact was not long in developing that the Republicans of this precinct are unitedly and enthusiastically in favor of securing an honest and economical administration of the affairs of the county, by Republican officials, and radically opposed to the scandalous methods of the Court House Ring.

An organization was effected by the election of M. J. Carrigan as Chairman and A. E. Tower as Secretary, and a resolution was adopted to the effect that only such candidates as were regularly placed in nomination should be eligible to election as delegates. Nominations were than made, and the polls were kept open for one hour, that every one entitled to vote might have a fair opportunity for doing so. The result was that Messrs. A. E. Tower and M. J. Carrigan were chosen as delegates, to represent this precinct at the Convention at Angeles, Saturday.

A Precinct Committee, composed of the following gentlemen, was then elected: Messrs. Al Miller, George D. Raney, A. E. Tower, John Udd, O. B. Hart, August Petterson and M. J. Carrigan. This Committee organized for business by electing M. J. Carrigan, President, and A. E. Tower, Secretary.

A resolution was unanimously carried, instructing the delegation from this precinct to present the name of Mr. J. F. Raney at the County Convention, as the choice of the Republicans of the precinct for County Central Committeeman.

Mr. John W. Everett has been elected as delegate from the Eden precinct; Mr. Joseph Shepherd from Gettysburg precinct; Capt. G. W. Hill from the Clallam Bay precinct; and Mr. John Hennessy from the Shuwah precinct. No reports have as yet been received from the other precincts in the western portion of the county.

At Angeles, the following gentlemen were elected as delegates;

Precinct No. 1.—A. A. Smith, George C. Hatch and Cliff L. Babcock.

Precinct No. 2.—Wm. Peterson and E. H. Foster.

Precinct No. 3.—G. V. Smith and J. L. Worthley.

Geraghty Precinct—Joseph Fenn and Mr. Sterritt.

Carver Precinct—C. D. Ulmer, sr., and W. E. Burnside.

Messrs. A. U. Davis and H. J. Lipsett were elected as delegates from Dungeness precinct. Sequim and Blynn have not yet been heard from.

The County Convention will convene at Angeles at 10 o'clock on Saturday, to elect two delegates to the State Convention to be held at Seattle on April 14th, and to select the County Central Committee, for the ensuing two years.

The Aberdeen & Victoria R. R.

Said the Seattle Telegraph, recently:

"The Aberdeen & Victoria Railway Company, which proposes to build a line from Gray's Harbor to Port Crescent, Port Angeles, or some other point on the Strait of San de Fuca, and to make a connection by ferry with Victoria, B. C., has parties out looking over the proposed route. Most flattering reports have been received from the country lying between the Olympic mountains and the Pacific coast, where there is a fertile belt of country of about sixty miles in width and extending the whole length of the Olympic peninsula. The timber is, of course, of great value. The mineral wealth is, as yet unknown, but there are indications of a most favorable nature. Beyond any doubt there is a fine future to be realized by this great peninsula. It would be judicious for Seattle to bestir herself so as to have a hand in the coming development of that region, and to make herself the headquarters of its trade."

They Had a Royal Time.

The opening of the Hotel Getty at Gettysburg, Friday night, was an altogether delightful affair and one participated in by fully one hundred happy guests.

Every portion of the surrounding country, as well as all the towns within reaching distance, were represented at Friday night's assemblage, and what a royal time they did have!

The host, Mr. Robert N. Getty, left absolutely nothing undone that would contribute to the enjoyment of his guests, and his efforts in their behalf were memorably successful. There was an abundance of good music, and the dancers made merry until Saturday was several hours old. A splendid supper, lavishly bountiful and beautifully served, was a feature of the evening that everyone enjoyed.

A number of Democrats from Port Angeles were expected to be present, to participate in the evening's delightful programme, but through some misunderstanding as to dates, they failed to put in an appearance.

They reached Port Crescent, the next day, however, having ridden through from Angeles, horseback.

They had a weird and sloppy struggle with the new county road, and dragged themselves into town in a wonderfully muddy, bedraggled and bespattered state, glad that they had escaped alive. This party—and it was a merry delegation—was composed of Sheriff Billy Gould, Ex-Mayor Brumfield, John W. Troy and W. W. Dedman of the Democrat, R. A. Grimes, Wm. Ritchie and J. H. Myers, of the Democratic faith, and Mr. Ken Church, Republican, who came along to keep tab on his misguided companions. Mr. Dedman's horse mired on the road, and that versatile journalist had to jump into a sea of mud and enter a tug-of-war struggle to save his gallant animal's life. Every member of the party had his full share of exciting adventures with that monstrosity called a road, and had many a tale of hair-breadth escapes to tell.

After refreshing themselves at the Hotel Markham, the party went from here to Gettysburg by boat.

Saturday evening was spent at Gettysburg, in a thoroughly enjoyable way, and a return was made to Port Crescent, Sunday morning, the party being escorted thus far by Secretary Frank Mackintosh of the Democratic Club of Gettysburg, and Mr. Joe Bolton, one of its active member. Then came the necessity of again facing that terrible road; and bidding the LEADER a tearful adieu, the visitors sadly rode forth to their long mud bath.

The Market for Puget Sound Lumber.

Minneapolis Lumberman: Puget Sound lumber will not long hence find an outlet nearer home than Chicago or Buffalo. There is the great wheat country in Eastern Washington and Oregon to be supplied. Such towns as Spokane, Helena, Boise City and others in Oregon, Montana and Idaho, will grow to be great consuming centers. Then there are the Dakotas, Wyoming and Colorado, as well as Nebraska, that are naturally tributary to Puget Sound. The building of railroads will open up the entire mountain region between the Missouri valley and the coast, so that its vast mineral, grazing and agricultural resources will be developed. Irrigation, both by the reservoir and artesian systems, will make the now barren plains and valleys fruitful with soil products. There is to be a vast population on the plains and in the mountain regions, which will support millions of people, and numerous cities and villages will be built up. The time is not far off when there will be no need of shipping Coast lumber east of the Missouri river, unless in portions of Dakota east of that stream. There is no more promising field for lumber distribution on the continent than that which Puget Sound operators are now overlooking in their zeal to capture some of the demand east of the Mississippi river. The trouble is, that operators are not willing to wait five or six years, but are eager to build mills and mass products for which there is no adequate market. If they would let the timber stand and moderate their immediate production to a growing demand, and not crowd it beyond that, they would be on the safe side and make continuously fair profits, while their stumpage would be increasing in value.

MR. A. A. SMITH, the capable editor of that bright and entertaining newspaper, the Port Angeles Times, came down to Port Crescent, Monday afternoon, to get a breath of metropolitan air and to arrange for the advent of a large party of anglers for trout and pleasure, that he intends taking out to Lake Crescent in the capacity of guide, philosopher and friend, after the season is a little older.

MR. A. L. YAKEY made final proof, Tuesday, before Commissioner Harry E. Lutz, on his pre-emption claim in Twin Rivers township. His witnesses were Messrs. W. A. Langley and Will O. Hawkins.

THANK HEAVEN

And Surveyor General Cavanaugh, for This—A Letter That Will be Read With Delight by Settlers in the Lake Township.

The LEADER takes infinite pleasure in giving publicity to the appended letter from U. S. Surveyor-General Cavanaugh—a letter the contents of which will give joy to scores of settlers in Lake Crescent township, and one which may be submitted without further introduction. Its full import will be apparent to those who have been keeping track of the matter to which it refers, through the LEADER:

OFFICE OF U. S. SURVEYOR GENERAL,
STATE OF WASHINGTON,
OLYMPIA, March 14th, 1892.

Mr. M. J. Carrigan, Port Crescent, Washington:

DEAR SIR:—I am in receipt of your letter of the 4th instant, enclosing a letter from E. D. Warbass of Friday Harbor, Washington, in regard to the condition of Deputy James T. Sheets. The same letter, substantially, was also sent to this office by Mr. Warbass, stating that on account of the impaired health of Deputy Sheets he is unable now, and probably will be for some months to come, to prepare his returns of the survey of Township 30 North, Range 9 West.

I have therefore notified the sureties on his bond of the state of affairs, and that if Deputy Sheets is not able to prepare his returns of survey, some competent person must be procured by them to do the work for him.

Both of the sureties on the bond accompanying Deputy Sheets' contract are residents of Olympia. They are reliable men and I have their personal assurance that the matter will receive their prompt attention.

Very respectfully,
THOS. H. CAVANAUGH,
U. S. Surveyor General, Washington.

Looking Straight Across to Port Crescent.

"It is a three hours' sail by fast steamboat from Port Townsend to Victoria, the capital city of British Columbia, around Wilson's Point, out of Admiralty Inlet and across the Strait of Juan de Fuca, here thirty miles wide," writes E. V. Smalley, in the Northwest Magazine. "Nowhere in the world, as I believe, is there a more delightful and inspiring voyage of the same length—provided the wind from the Pacific does not toss the blue waters of the Strait enough to make you sea-sick; and I am sure that nowhere in the world is there as magnificent a combination of marine and mountain scenery as the view of the Olympic range across the Strait from the Victoria shore—no, not even on the Norway fiords. The mountains are sublime in their altitude—their savage summits glitter with glaciers and snow-pinnacles, and on their lower slopes there comes at evening and morning the most beautiful coloring of blue and purple; and as to the broad Strait, why, not even the Mediterranean has a lovelier hue when you look across it to the island of Elba. The view from Victoria, best enjoyed from Beacon Hill Park, is one of the great views of the world, and the tourist who has not seen it has missed what is worth a journey across the continent to gaze upon."

THE American girl is not slow to grasp a chance. Some time ago the Ladies' Home Journal organized a free education system for girls, and that magazine is now educating some forty odd girls at Vassar and Wellesley Colleges, and at the Boston Conservatory of Music, all the expenses of the girls being paid by the Journal.

A VERY merry time was enjoyed by all those who attended the social hop, given at the home of Mr. Chester McFarland of Freshwater Bay, Saturday evening—and the company that assembled there was a large one, in which Port Crescent was numerously represented.

THROUGH the energetic efforts of Manager McDonnell of the Hotel Markham, a great deal of effective work is being done toward the improvement of the wagon road to Lake Crescent.

MRS. GLADSTONE'S first article in the series of "Hints from a Mother's Life," which she has written for the Ladies' Home Journal, will be printed in the April issue of that periodical.

MR. B. F. SCHWARTZ, the energetic President of the Bank of Port Angeles, was here, briefly, Friday, on his way to Clallam Bay.

MRS. FITCH J. HART is critically ill at Port Angeles, suffering from an attack of pneumonia. Her recovery is still in grave doubt.

MR. A. L. YAKEY of Twin Rivers township, has returned to Sidney, where he is profitably employed at the pottery at that place.

MRS. DANIEL PULLEN of La Push returned home, Monday, from a visit to up-Sound points.

MR. JOSEPH SHEPHERD of Gettysburg was a visitor to Port Angeles, the present week.

MRS. J. F. Raney returned to-day from a pleasant visit with friends at Gettysburg.

Washington as a Mining Country.

"F. W. Wilmans, who might be classed as one of the oldest mining men in this comparatively new mineral district, and who is largely interested in the Monte Cristo mines, was asked this morning what he thought of Washington and its vicinity as a mining country," says the Seattle Press-Times.

"'I think it one of the best ever yet discovered,' he replied. 'It is one of the hardest, if not the hardest, in the world to prospect, and a man without more or less capital cannot hope to do much at it. It is really wonderful that we have such rich mineral belts so close to the water and yet encounter so many difficulties in reaching them. Take the most unexplored regions of the Olympics, and you will find that prospectors of small means have been unable to prospect them. If you leave a trail and strike out into the woods you cannot take a pack horse with you on account of the masses of fallen trees, debris and underbrush. The consequences are that the men have to pack their provisions, and after one has gone ten miles he will have to go back to get a fresh supply. It is a case where you have to hire men to pack your food and whatever you need.'

"'What do you think of the class of ore found?' was asked.

"'Many good bodies of ore have been discovered and there are many more which have not yet been located,' was the reply. 'In the Kaslo-Slocan district there are mines worth a mint of money and many good galena-silver ledges have been found. One of the oldest miners of my acquaintance told me that the district produced some of the richest galena ore he had ever seen, and I predict that there will be a great rush there during the spring and summer. Of course, there is a vast quantity of the lower grade ore found and some of this it will not pay to work. This, however, is the history of every mining district.'

"'The Okanogan district, I am satisfied, has many good mines in it, which are yet to be developed, and the same may be said of the Monte Cristo district, the Silver creek, Boundary creek, and in fact dozens of other districts having good mines, to say nothing of the vast area of unexplored land in British Columbia and Alaska. We have no refractory ores in the state, and nearly every one can be smelted very readily. The art of smelting has now been reduced to a science and ore is handled rapidly and at a small cost. Other ores are free milling and can be easily crushed under the stamps and at a small expense.

"'Washington can hardly be compared to California, although I think it will prove to be a greater mining district. In California the mining was gold quartz and placer, while here it is nearly all ledge work. In the next year or two there will be a great amount of development in the mines of Washington and the public at large will be surprised at the result. Thousands of men are now waiting for the snow to melt, and the majority will be out for the entire season. The snow, I think, will be pretty well out of the hills by the latter part of April, so that by May 1st, a start may be made."

Governor Gilpin's Pet Scheme.

Ex-Governor Gilpin of Denver, is at the Palmer House, says a Chicago dispatch. Mr. Gilpin is a wealthy Westerner, whose pet scheme is to build a railroad to Alaska and across Bering Straits to Siberia, and thence to St. Petersburg. In regard to the scheme Mr. Gilpin said:

"When I first proposed it every one laughed, but now all concede that it is a feasible project. I have caused several surveys to be made, and although it would not be like building a railroad over an Illinois prairie, yet it is not a bad country to build across. A railroad to Alaska is not such a wild scheme as would be supposed by those who have not studied the country it will traverse or the route intended for the line. Along the Pacific side of the range of mountains there is a wide plateau, which will be used for the roadbed. The line will certainly be built, although possibly I will not live to see it in operation. The day it commences operations will mark the beginning of great development in the future in the Northern part of both the old and new worlds. It will be found, I believe, that Alaska and British America have immense deposits of valuable minerals, and with a railroad the fisheries and fur enterprises will have a great boom. The great California fever will be as nothing compared with the great revival of interest in Alaska, and the intermediate country that will be opened when it is shown how great is the yet undiscovered wealth of North America. The same will be true in Northern Asia, but as the Americans, with their enterprise, will at once begin developing the territory on our own side, which will be made approachable by the new railway, there will be a tendency to retard the development of the comparatively new country on the other side."

THE SENATOR'S SCHEME

For Simplifying and Perfecting the Handling of Real Property.

THE MERITS OF THE NEW SYSTEM

That Has Given Excellent Satisfaction in Australia, Where it Has Been Thoroughly Tested—A Simple Process of Transferring Land, Title to Which is Guaranteed by the Government—A Subject to Which Senator Claypool Invites Attention and Discussion.

STATE Senator Claypool of Tacoma will introduce at the next session of the Legislature a "Real Property Act," which, if it becomes a law, will establish in this state what is known as the "Torrens" or "Australian system" of registering titles to land, says the Tacoma Sunday Herald. As the change proposed is a very radical one, he has thought best to call the attention of the press of the state to the subject in order that the people may know of the contemplated action, and give it attention and discussion.

The system which the Pierce county Senator desires to see enacted into law in this state is the same which Governor Russell recommended for adoption to the Massachusetts Legislature, by a special message to that body last year. It is already in use in eight British colonies, in part of Ireland, and in England a government bill has been introduced in parliament by which it will be made applicable in Great Britain. Wherever the system has been tried it is said to have proved a blessing.

The system is one of registration of titles instead of registration of deeds, and does away altogether with the use of deeds. An official examination of title is substituted for an unofficial one, and when an owner's title is found to be good, a certificate to that effect is issued in duplicate, and this certificate is thereafter indefeasible, good against the whole world, the government undertaking to defend it and to satisfy all claims that may be established against it, without expense or trouble to the owner, out of a fund from fees. So far as the holder is concerned, he is free of all contingency of loss or lien on account of any past transaction affecting the land that is not recorded in the certificate.

The process is simple. The owner of a piece of land applies to have his title registered. The title is investigated by proper officials, all parties in interest are notified, and heard if they desire to be heard. Advertisement is made, as is the custom here with regard to probate proceedings. If the title is found to be good, duplicate certificates of the fact are made, containing also memoranda of all existing incumbrances, as mortgages, liens, leases, etc. One copy is given to the owner; one is reserved by the government to be bound with others in a book. Such certificate is, as has been said, an indefeasible title. No further searches into past records are ever necessary. The expense of obtaining such registration varies from $10 to $100. The process of mortgaging land or transferring it under this system is extremely simple and easy, requiring no intervention of lawyers. Blank forms for these and for other transactions affecting the title, can be had at the office or at the stationer's, which any intelligent person can fill out. One of these being filled out, signed and witnessed, it is taken or sent with the owner's certificate to the office of registry. In case of a mortgage, the fact is briefly recorded on the two certificates, and the one belonging to the owner is returned to him. In case of a sale a new certificate is made out in duplicate and the old ones are cancelled. The fee is always a fixed percentage of the sum involved, commonly, we believe, one-fifth of one per cent., and such fees constitute a fund reserved to secure the government for guaranteeing the title. In all the colonies this fund has accumulated to a large amount, it being seldom drawn upon.

It is impossible in a brief article to set forth all the adaptations of the system—the best available detailed description of which is contained in an article published in the February number of the Century magazine, written by Edward Atkinson—to the various transactions in land, as in probate proceedings, in the formation of trust estates, in the establishment of entails, etc., but all are provided for.

Some of the advantages claimed for this system are the following: The absolute security of title is one of the most important. The facility and cheapness of all transactions are hardly less so. Under this system real estate becomes nearly as available for prompt raising of money on mortgage as stocks and bonds. The fee for all transactions being a fixed percentage of the sum involved, makes the expense to small holders much less than by the present system. This fact, with the security of title, has everywhere operated to encourage investment in real estate. Two large classes are especially benefitted by this system—the small owners and the borrowers upon mortgages. The facility of transaction tends to increase the demand for, and to enhance the value of real estate. It diminishes the chances of fraud and the chances of litigation. Experience where the system has been in full operation for twenty or thirty years appears to demonstrate the reasonableness of these claims.

In British Columbia, the most progressive of the dominion provinces, the Torrens system has been adopted with certain modifications, the grant of an indefeasible title not being made until seven years after the first application. The British Columbia testimony is entirely in favor of the new system. It does away with the mistakes of ignorant or careless conveyancers and greatly cheapens and simplifies the transfers of land. Titles are thoroughly sifted as they come in, and when once established all litigation is barred; the registry is final. The fees charged for registration are comparatively small. In each registration there is a fixed fee of $2.25, and in the case of the indefeasible title, one-fifth of 1 per cent. of the declared value of the land up to $5,000, and one-tenth of 1 per cent. of the value above that point is paid. Thus in a registration of a title to property of the declared value of $7,500, the fees are (fixed) $2.25; one-fifth of 1 per cent. of $5,000, $10; one-tenth of 1 per cent. of $2,500, $2.50; total, $14.75.

Points on Business and Politics.

Mr. Charles S. Smith, President of the New York Chamber of Commerce, and a member of the Andrew Carnegie party, was interviewed at length by the Post-Intelligencer, while in Seattle a few days ago, and among other things, he said:

"What you people on the coast ought to do is to bend all your energies to securing the completion of the Nicaragua canal. It will do more for you than anything else. It will put you nearer New York than Kansas is. You could ship your lumber to New York in competition with Maine and send all your perishable products to the Atlantic coast, while you cannot send them around the Horn. You could ship wheat in bulk instead of sending it in sacks around the Horn. Mr. Warner Miller, the president of the company, is spending about $25,000 a month on it. He is placing the stock gradually among his friends in the East. Mr. Carnegie subscribed $30,000 to it, the other day, and is deeply interested in its success."

"Is there any prospect that Congress will pass the bill to guarantee the bonds?"

"None at all from this Congress. The Democrats are following a cheese-paring policy all through. They even rejected an appropriation of $5,000 for drainage at West Point Academy, made necessary by sickness. We must wait till the new Congress; there will be a change this fall."

"What do you think of the silver agitation?"

"Both the Democrats and Republicans are divided on the question, but the Democrats are afraid to do anything. Even if the bill does pass both houses, the President will veto it, and they cannot pass it over his veto. An international monetary conference would only end in talk. Germany would not remonetize silver, and nobody in England favors it, except the comparatively few people who are interested in India."

"What do you think of the presidential outlook?"

"President Harrison will be re-nominated and re-elected. His tour through the country strengthened him. Blaine would not run, although he could certainly sweep the country; he is a sick man and his family would not consent to it.

Neither Hill nor Cleveland can be nominated by the Democrats. Hill's conduct of affairs and his early convention have disgusted the people, and the Republicans will certainly carry New York state this fall. Hill is a thorough demagogue. Why, even his district of Elmira went against him and the Republicans have gained immensely in the town elections. The Cleveland men will send a contesting delegation to Chicago, and half of each delegation will probably be admitted; there is a precedent for it. With New York divided between them, Hill and Cleveland are out of the question. Whitney is not popular with his party, and would not be a strong candidate. To nominate Flower would be the same thing as nominating Hill. He is a man of putty, a good-natured fellow, whom Hill put forward because he is a liberal contributor to campaign funds, but he has no strength. He might have a chance if he asserted his independence of Hill. The Democratic nomination will come West and Palmer seems to be the most likely man."

REPUBLICAN State Convention.

A CONVENTION of the Republican party of the state of Washington is hereby called to meet at the city of Seattle, in King county, on Thursday, April 14th, 1892,

at 10 o'clock, a. m., for the purpose of electing eight (8) delegates and eight (8) alternates to the National Republican Convention to be held in the city of Minneapolis, in the state of Minnesota, on the seventh (7th) day of June, 1892, for the purpose of nominating candidates for president and vice-president and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before it.

The basis of representation to the state convention hereby called shall be as follows, to-wit: One delegate at large from each county; one delegate from each county for every two hundred (200) votes, and one delegate from each county for each fraction of thirty-three (33) votes or more over two hundred (200); the same to be calculated from the number of votes cast in each county for the Republican candidate for governor in 1889.

Upon the foregoing basis the several counties in the state are entitled to representation as follows:

COUNTY.	DELEGATE.	VOTE
Adams	3	261
Asotin	1	171
Chehalis	6	897
Clallam	2	222
Clarke	7	1,216

It is hereby further recommended that the Republican County Central Committees call the primaries in their respective counties to be held on Saturday, the 12th day of March, and that Republican County Conventions be held on Saturday, the 19th day of March, 1892, for the election of delegates as hereby apportioned.

It is further recommended that at said primaries and county conventions, the precinct and county committees be chosen in accordance with the "rules" of the party.

Done at headquarters by order of the Republican State Committee, this 1st day of February, 1892.

EUGENE T. WILSON, Chairman.
RALPH K. NICHOLS, Secretary.

CALL FOR Republican County Convention.

A DELEGATE convention of the Republican party of Clallam county is hereby called to meet in Port Angeles on Saturday, March 19th, 1892, at 10 o'clock a. m., for the purpose of electing two delegates and two alternates to the Republican State Convention to be held in Seattle on April 14th, 1892, to elect delegates to the Republican National Convention; also to select a County Central Committee for the ensuing two years, and to transact such other business as may come before said convention.

The basis for the election of delegates to said County Convention is one delegate for every 20 votes cast for John L. Wilson for Congressman in 1890, and the number of delegates for each precinct is as follows:

PRECINCTS.	DELEGATES.
Angeles Precinct, No. 1	3
" " No. 2	4

Total	30

Dated at Port Angeles, Washington, February 23d, 1892.

By order of the Republican County Central Committee.

T. H. BRADSHAW, Chairman.
A. H. HOWELLS, Secretary.

The suggestion made by the Port Angeles Times that the primary election law be adopted by the new County Central Committee, and put in force this fall, is one that will rapidly grow in favor. The LEADER, in a future issue, will give a comprehensive summary of the provisions of this admirable law, that the Republicans of the county may familiarize themselves with its good points.

There seems to be no reason for doubting that the County Convention at Angeles, Saturday, will be a very interesting affair.

It seems to be a settled fact, now, that the eloquent and energetic Col. James Hamilton Lewis of Seattle will be the Democratic nominee for Governor. His cause is being enthusiastically and effectively championed in Clallam county by the Port Angeles Democrat—which, however, doesn't alter the fact that Col. Jim will run up against a large adverse vote in Clallam county, this fall.

President T. H. Cavanaugh, of the State League of Republican Clubs, has called a meeting of the executive committee of the League, to be held in Seattle on April 14th, the date of the Republican State Convention. It has also been decided to have a mass meeting of all the clubs in the Exposition building at Tacoma, on July 4th, which may possibly be addressed by Governor McKinley, Senator Sherman and other eminent orators, to open the campaign and organize for effective work.

The Washington State Land Commission, consisting of W. F. Forest, Commissioner of Public Lands; Allen Weir, Secretary of State, and T. M. Reed, State Auditor, whose duty it is to select, for educational and other purposes, the 660,000 acres of public lands, have issued a circular letter to Senator Squire and the other state representatives at Washington City, asking for a relief bill. The communication states that the Commission has found itself greatly hampered in selecting lands, owing to the avidity with which claims are taken by private settlers by squatters' right before the survey of the lands and the filing of township plats. It has been the experience of the Commission that the best land included in every plat filed has been taken before their opportunity of selection arrives. Under the decision of the Secretary of the Interior, it is not permitted to set lands aside which will not be open to public entry to be reserved for selection by the Commission. Such a fruitless attempt was made. In the minds of the members of the Commission and Governor Ferry, the question has a serious aspect for the state. Having to select what settlers refuse to take when new surveys are made, must make, in the end, a difference of several million dollars to the funds for which the lands will eventually be sold. In order to obviate the difficulty, a bill is to be introduced into Congress, at the instance of the Commission, authorizing the Secretary of the Interior to establish reservations from which selections shall be made.

Speaking of the Bering sea controversy, Senator Sherman said to an Associated Press reporter, Saturday: "I regard the treaty now pending with the highest favor. It is honorable to both nations, an example of arbitration which ought to be adopted in every controversy with two countries bound by so many ties as Great Britain and the United States. War, or even contention between them on a cause so trivial as one year's fishing for seals, will be a crime against civilization. It is manifest that it is the interest and desire of each to preserve the Alaskan seal fisheries from destruction by Canadian poachers. The cupidity of a few vessel owners, pending arbitration, threatens to disturb the peace and amity of two great nations. Diplomacy ought to be able to provide some modus vivendi during the present season.

"It may be unpleasant and ungracious for Great Britain to resist, by her ships and sailors, the reckless acts of a few of her subjects, for whose conduct Lord Salisbury disclaims all responsibility; but we are under no such restraint, and are able to prevent such poaching on rights that we purchased from Russia, and which Russia and the United States have openly asserted and enjoyed 100 years. It is now claimed that by the law of nations our title is not good; that seals born and bred on our soil may be slaughtered in the high seas when, by the laws of their nature, they are taking their annual pilgrimage. We are willing, for the sake of peace, to submit this question to arbitration. We only ask that seals may not be destroyed by pelagic fishing while arbitrators are sitting. We would gladly share with Great Britain the expense and trouble of maintaining the status in quo pending arbitration, and will faithfully and honorably abide by its result; but it is asking too much for us, at the same time, to allow irresponsible, unfriendly neighbors to destroy every subject of the matter of controversy, especially when we have at our command the means to prevent it. I do sincerely hope and trust the executive authorities of the two countries will find a way to bridge this diplomatic difficulty."

The Seals' Crystal Palace.

Once it happened that one of the polar icebergs was so ingeniously shaped by the warm waves that, when it snapped in the middle and fell over on its side, one portion of it rose with the honeycombed part toward the water, thus making the iceberg an ice palace filled with many a crystal grotto which, rising story upon story, stage upon stage, converted the translucent mountain into a floating crystal palace with transparent walls, says John R. Coryell in his charming paper, "The Seals' Crystal Palace," in St. Nicholas for March.

It would have been a pity if such a gorgeous palace had passed away, with never an inhabitant to profit by its existence, and so it was fortunate that it was discovered by a troop of seals migrating southward.

The seals might just as well have swarmed over the outside of the iceberg, as they had often done in previous cases; but possibly they recognized the advantages of having a roof over their heads, and consequently dived down and came up inside of the crystal palace. Anyhow, whatever their reasons, that is what they did.

By hundreds and by thousands they clambered up the irregular inner walls, occupying the grottoes and ledges till the palace was crowded to its full capacity with the noisy, active creature.

They might easily have been uncomfortable in their splendid palace, had not accident come to their relief. The warm air from their bodies and their warm breath rose to the top of the iceberg and fortunately found thin spots in the roof and melted holes, so that places of escape for the bad air was made.

Of course this air, being warm, no sooner reached the colder atmosphere outside than it condensed like steam and rose, a white column, above the palace, looking very much like smoke.

Indeed, a sailing vessel passing that way thought it was smoke, and the captain changed his course to go nearer the iceberg, hoping to save the lives of some shipwrecked sailors, who, he supposed, had built a fire on the berg.

Fancy your own astonishment at coming upon a crystal palace in mid-ocean, inhabited by thousands of seals, and you may then understand how the captain and his crew felt when, looking through the clear walls of the stately structure, they saw the countless animals in conscious security, playing or sleeping in the fairy-like chambers.

The captain bewailed his lot that there were twenty thousand dollars' worth of sealskins in sight, but out of reach!

It was disappointing for the captain, but it was tolerably comfortable for the seals, who take more interest in sealskins when they wear them than when human beings make coats of them.

Scribner's Magazine.

An Exceptional Year.

THE YEAR 1891 has been marked by a greater advance than any similar period since the Magazine was established. Not only has the literary and artistic excellence been maintained and increased, but a corresponding gain has been made in the sale and influence of the Magazine. At the end of 1891 the circulation has risen to more than 140,000. It may justly be promised that the further improvements for the coming year will be proportionate to these largely increased opportunities.

For Next Year.

It is not possible to give, in a brief space, an account of all the features in preparation, but the material is deficient in neither importance nor range of subject. Among the subjects treated:

The Poor in the World's Great Cities.

It is proposed to publish a series of articles, upon a scale not before attempted, giving the results of special study and work among the poor of the great cities. The plan will include an account of the conditions of life in those cities (in many lands) where the results of research will be helpful for purposes of comparison as well as for their own intrinsic interest. While, from a scientific point of view, the articles will be a contribution of great importance, the treatment will be thoroughly popular, and the elaborate illustrations will serve to make the presentation of the subject vivid as well as picturesque.

Washington Allston.

UNPUBLISHED REMINISCENCES AND LETTERS of this foremost among early American painters. A number of illustrations will lend additional interest to the articles.

Important Moments.

The aim of this series of very short articles is to describe the signal occasions when some decisive event took place, or when some great experiment was first shown to be successful—such moments as that of the first use of the Atlantic cable, the first use of the telegraph and telephone, the first successful experiment with ether, the night of the Chicago fire, the scene at the moment of the vote on the impeachment of Andrew Johnson, etc., etc.

Out of Door Papers.

In the early spring will be begun a number of seasonable articles, among them being:
SMALL COUNTRY PLACES, how to lay out and beautify them, by SAMUEL PARSONS, JR.
FISHING LORE FROM AN ANGLER'S NOTE-BOOK, by DR. LEROY M. YALE.
MOUNTAIN STATION LIFE IN NEW ZEALAND, by SIDNEY DICKINSON.
RACING IN AUSTRALIA, by SIDNEY DICKINSON, with illustrations by BIRGE HARRISON.

The illustrations are made from original material.

THE BEST OF

CHILDREN'S MAGAZINES.

THE publishers of St. Nicholas, that famous young-folks magazine, are offering to send a sample copy, free of charge, to any father or mother who would like to consider the question of taking a children's magazine during the year to come.

Certainly if that question is up for discussion in any household St. Nicholas will be the magazine selected. From its first number, in 1873, the pens of the greatest writers of the English world, and the pencils of the most famous illustrators, have been at its service. Tennyson, Longfellow, Bryant, Thomas Hughes, Whittier, Bret Harte, Bayard Taylor, Mrs. Burnett, Miss Alcott, Donald G. Mitchell, George Macdonald, Mrs. Oliphant, Professor Proctor are a few of the many great names which have been upon its list of contributors. Mrs. Mary Mapes Dodge is the editor. Everything in it is illustrated.

there are to be serial stories by Brander Matthews, Lieutenant Robert H. Fletcher (the author of that charming book, "Marjorie and Her Papa,"), Laura E. Richards, William O. Stoddard, Charles E. Carryl (author of Davy and the Goblin"), and Frances Courtenay Baylor. There will be short stories by Thomas Nelson Page, Mary E. Wilkins, Mary Hallock Foote, Richard Malcolm Johnston, Octave Thanet, General O. O. Howard and many others, with papers of travel and adventure by J. T. Trowbridge and Lieutenant Schwatka, and useful articles on "How Columbus Reckoned," 'William the Conquerer,' "Volcanoes and Earthquakes," Straight Lines and Circles," etc. In "Strange Corners of Our Country," the Great American Dessert, the Cliff-Dwellings of Arizona, and other interesting places, will be described, and in "Honors to the Flag" and "Boys and the National Guard" the patriotism of the young readers will be aroused and stimulated. Julian Ralph is to describe "The Making of a Great Newspaper," and the arc and incandescent electric lights are to be clearly explained.

APPLIED CHRISTIANITY

is what St. Nicholas teaches;—unselfishness, faithfulness, courage, truthfulness—these things are taught is a hundred ways by stories, poems and pictures. Do you need such an assistant in your work with your boys and girls? If so, and if you are not already familiar with St. Nicholas, send a postal card to The Century Co., Union Square, New York, N. Y., and ask to see a sample copy. A year's subscription to St. Nicholas makes a splendid Christmas present, for it brings Christmas twelve times a year.

BABYLAND.

Baby's delight and mother's relief.

Gay jingles, sweet little stories, dainty pictures will make BABYLAND for 1892 a charming magazine for the little ones. Among the many good things will be NURSE KAREN'S NORWAY TALES—stories told by a Norwegion nurse to little Americans—by EMILIE POULSSON, whose "Finger Plays" and "Toy Closet Stories" have made her our fairy godmother.

THE SWEETHEART STORIES by BELLA D. CLARK, a new friend, but one who knows all about baby folks.

THE TIPTOE TWINS, and their doings, will be described by MARGARET JOHNSON, whose "Toddlekins" and "Boofer Kitten" have never been forgotten.

Only 50 cents a year.

D. LOTHROP CO., BOSTON.

A GREAT MAGAZINE.

The Century's Programme in 1892—A New "Life of Columbus" — Articles for Farmers, etc.

THAT great American periodical, THE CENTURY, is going to outdo its own unrivaled record in its programme for 1892, and as many of its new features begin with the November number, new readers should commence with that issue.

In this number are the opening chapters of a novel by Rudyard Kipling, the famous author of "Plain Tales from the Hills," written in collaboration with an American writer, Wolcott Balestier. It is the story of a young man and a young woman from a "booming" Colorado town, who go to India, he in search of a wonderful jeweled necklace, called "the Naulahka" (from which the story takes its name), and she as a physician to women. The novel describes their remarkable adventures at the court of an Indian maharajah. Besides this, the Century will print three other novels during the year, and a great number of short stories by the best American story-writers.

The well-known humorist, Edgar W. Nye ("Bill Nye"), is to write a series of amusing sketches which he calls his "autobiographies," the first one of which, "The Autobiography of a Justice of the Peace," is in November. This number also contains a valuable and suggestive article on "The Food Supply of the Future," which every farmer should read, to be followed by a number of others treating especially of the relations of the Government to the farmer, what it is doing and what it should do. This series will include contributions from officers of the Department of Agriculture, and other well-known men will discuss "The Farmer's Discontent," "Co-operation," etc., etc.

A celebrated Spanish writer is to furnish a "Life of Columbus," which will be brilliantly illustrated, and the publishers of the Century have arranged with the managers of the World's Fair to print articles on the buildings, etc.

One of the novels to appear in 1892 is

A STORY OF NEW YORK LIFE

by the author of "The Anglomaniacs," and the magazine will contain a great deal about the metropolis during the year—among other things a series of illustrated articles on "The Jews in New York." In November is an illustrated description of "The Players' Club," founded by Edwin Booth, and one of the features of the splendidly illustrated Christmas (December) number is an article on "The Bowery."

To get the Century send the yearly subscription price ($4.00) to The Century Co., Union Square, New York, N. Y.

LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE.

Twenty-Fifth Annual Prospectus.

A QUARTER OF A CENTURY has elapsed since LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE was first presented to the reading public. By adding new and original features it has kept in advance of the times and now occupies a unique position among magazines. It was the first to abandon serial stories, and by publishing a complete novel in each number, the magazine has wonderfully increased its popularity. This popular feature will be continued, and leading American and English authors have been engaged to contribute novels for the ensuing year. The January number will contain a remarkable novel dealing with newspaper life, entitled, "The Passing of Major Kilgore," by YOUNG E. ALLISON, late Managing Editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal. This number will fitly inaugurate The Journalist's Series, which will consist of a number of contributions from prominent newspaper men who will tell their personal experiences, and give glimpses of the editorial sanctums and inner workings of various leading newspapers throughout the country. An insight into the lives of newspaper men at work and at play will be given, and the methods of getting out the great dailies will be illustrated. A series of articles on Athletics will also be commenced in the January number, the initial article being one on "Boxing," by DANIEL L. DAWSON. The articles will be prepared by experts in such sports and exercises as rowing, fencing, base-ball, cricket, walking, swimming, archery, tennis, foot-ball, riding, sailing, golf, la crosse, polo, etc., as well as articles on Physical Training and In-Door Exercises. New Talent will be heartily encouraged as heretofore, and writers from every section of the country will be represented in the pages of Lippincott's during 1892. A series of articles dealing with reminiscences of men famous in our political history, and giving hitherto-unpublished correspondence, will form a feature. Among such articles may be mentioned "Personal Recollections of Abraham Lincoln, Andrew Johnson, John C. Calhoun," etc., the Clay-Randolph Correspondence and Duel, Social Life in Philadelphia during the Administration of John Adams, etc.

MRS. M. E. W. SHERWOOD will contribute a series of papers entitled Collections and Recollections. These will include reminiscences of many famous people in "society," also recollections of the Brook Farm Community, and other interesting data. Leading Actors have been engaged to contribute articles on the modern stage, and an initial paper by E. S. WILLARD, the English actor, will be published in and early forthcoming number. It would be impossible to mention in detail the wealth of material that has been secured for 1892, in the shape of Short Stories, Essays, Sketches, Poems, etc., by well-known writers.

—AND READY—

To Fill Your Orders At Living Prices.

I HAVEN'T much to say to my old patrons and the public, this whirl, (meaning to see you later), but I want to say that little plainly:

I am Again in the Grocery Business,

AND I AM IN IT to sell you your Groceries and Provisions, Boots and Shoes, and all the staples that you ordinarily look for at a General Store, AT THE LOWEST PRICES at which goods can be sold to afford me a living profit. A nice line of well-selected new goods will soon be here to supplement my present stock. I want your trade, and will do my level best to sell you the kind of goods you want at prices that you will say are right.

J. F. RANEY,

PROPRIETOR - - - - - FARMERS' STORE.

TO THE PUBLIC.

I TAKE PLEASURE IN ANNOUNCING TO THE PUBLIC, THAT I HAVE OPENED AT

LAKE VIEW, LAKE CRESCENT,

A WELL-STOCKED

General - Store - and - Comfortable - Hotel,

AND HOPE to make both establishments conveniences that residents at the Lake and the Traveling Public will appreciate.

THE STORE

HAS BEEN STOCKED with a full line of General merchandise—Groceries, Provisions, Boots and Shoes, Wearing Apparel, etc., and an excellent line of Fishing Tackle of every description.

THE HOTEL

WILL AFFORD entertainment to travelers, or to pleasure parties at the Lake, of a character that I will strive to make wholly satisfactory. Patrons may always rely upon a good, well-served table, and clean and comfortable beds, and reasonable charges. The steam launch, "THE LADY OF THE LAKE," has its landing directly in front of the hotel, where small boats may also be procured. I will try to merit the patronage of the public.

"THE KING OF NINETEENTH-CENTURY REVIEWS."

THE ARENA FOR 1892.

"The boldest, ablest, and most original magazine in America."—Jewish Times and Observer.

Subscription price . . .	$5.00
Arena Art Portfolio . . .	4.00
	$9.00
We send The Arena and Portfolio, postpaid for	$5.20

THE ARENA for 1892 will eclipse its previous brilliant record in the strength and ability of its contributions. As in the past, it will continue to be the most aggressive, fearless, and outspoken review of the age. All great living issues will be fully, freely and impartially discussed by the foremost thinkers of our day. Great wrongs and growing evils will be unmasked without fear or favor, while the root problems underlying civilization will be more fully discussed than in the pages of any other review.

Some Special Features for 1892.

I. "A Spoil of Office," by Hamlin Garland, which opens in the January ARENA. This is, without question, one of the greatest novels ever written by an American author. It deals with the social, economic and political condition of the modern West, and is characterized by beauty and strength. A golden thread of love runs through the woof and web of this great story, which opens in Iowa, shifts its scenes to Kansas, and closes in the National Capitol. "A SPOIL OF OFFICE" will be the most talked-of story of 1892 and YOU should read it.

II. Popular Social and Economic Problems. It will be an encyclopædia of social, economic and political information, giving its readers a masterly exposition of the true conditions and needs of the present, depicting the evils of the hour, and suggesting remedies calculated to secure a wider meed of justice and liberty for the great toiling millions of our land. From its inception THE ARENA has been THE STEADFAST CHAMPION OF THE PEOPLE, absolutely fearless in its denunciation of plutocracy, monopoly and all means and measures which wrong the multitude or infringe upon the liberty of the humblest citizen.

III. Psychical Science. During 1892, THE ARENA will have the ablest, most authoritative, and brilliant series of papers ever published on psychical science, by leading thinkers of the new world and the old.

IV. The Condition of Woman Throughout the World. Recognizing the fact that the present is the cycle of woman, THE ARENA for 1892 will contain a brilliant and powerful series of papers on the condition of woman throughout the world. The opening paper appears in the January number, by Professor A. N. Jannaris, Ph. D., of the National University of Greece. It is on "Women in Mohammedan Lands."

V. Scientific Papers. Popular papers on scientific subjects by the most profound thinkers of the age will also be a feature of THE ARENA for 1892. The first paper of this series appears in the December ARENA, by the eminent French astronomer, Camille Flammarion, on "Recent Discoveries in the Heavens." The second is by the great English scientist, Alfred Russel Wallace, on "Human Progress, Past and Future."

VI. Religious and Educational Problems and Social Conditions will be fully and freely presented by the master spirits in each department of thought.

VII. Short Stories and Biographies. Each issue will contain, in addition to Mr. Garland's great novel, a brilliant short story or a biography of some eminent person; thus every member of the family will hail the arrival of THE ARENA with delight.

VIII. Full-page Portraits and Illustrations. Each issue will contain superb full-page portraits of distinguished personages, with autographs, printed on heavy plate paper.

A Few Contributors to the Arena.

In order to indicate the breadth, scope and authoritative character of the contributions to THE ARENA, we mention a few recent contributors: President Chas. W. Eliot, of Harvard, Alfred Russel Wallace, D. C. L., Camille Flammarion, Emilio Castelar, Rev. Lyman Abbott, D.D., Mary A. Livermore, Rev. Minot J. Savage, Count Leo Tolstoi, Prof. N. S. PORT CRESCENT.

THE POINT at which the American Continent most nearly approaches Vancouver Island, the distance being LESS THAN TEN MILES. The most favorable point for

DIRECT - INTERNATIONAL - COMMUNICATION

Between the two countries.

The Harbor is already, to a large degree, protected by natural headlands, but

Breakwaters which will Encircle it and Double its Capacity are Being Provided,

At a cost of $350,000. The more important one is in full progress and partly completed.

PORT CRESCENT is the extreme western port of Puget Sound, and THE FIRST DEEP-WATER HARBOR north of San Francisco, without a bar, a shoal or a sandbank. It will accommodate 120 ships at cable length, besides 100 more alongside wharves. A short and clear waterway of 43 miles to the ocean, enables ships to dispense with the heavy charges necessarily incurred for tugs and pilots on the Columbia river and the upper ports of Puget Sound.

Its unique geographical position secured for it the attention of the officials of the Northern Pacific R. R. Co.,

And in view of its capacities, it has been selected as an Ocean Terminus, in preference to any other point.

THE PRESIDENT of that corporation, Mr. Thomas F. Oakes, of New York, and other influential officers of the Northern Pacific, are Trustees of the Victoria, Port Crescent & Chehalis Railroad Company, with a Capital of $4,000,000.

This Line Will Run from Port Crescent

WESTWARD of the Olympic Mountains and connect with the existing Northern Pacific system on Gray's Harbor. It will traverse a series of river valleys of the richest agricultural character, INTO WHICH SETTLERS ARE FLOCKING IN GREAT NUMBERS; lands especially fitted for Hops and Fruit Culture, with a climate, induced by the genial warmth of the Japan current, equal to that of California, without its aridity. The timber is unexcelled, inexhaustible and very accessible. The clearing of the first section of the Right-of-way from Port Crescent is completed; the preliminary surveys of the whole line made, and its early completion is now assured.

An essential feature of the project now being developed at Port Crescent is the

Ferrying of Solid Northern Pacific Trains

Over to Port Beecher, on Vancouver Island, and thence

Into the City of Victoria, B. C.,

Conveying freight without breaking bulk and passengers without change of vehicle.

Immediately adjoining Port Crescent, and connected with it by a good road, is

LAKE CRESCENT,

TEN MILES in length, from two to three miles in width, and of surpassing beauty. This Lake, with its wonderful coloring and magnificent surrounding scenery, was visited by hundreds of delighted pleasure seekers, the past summer, and is destined to become one of the most famous resorts in the Pacific Northwest. It is without a rival in Western Washington. Its waters abound in trout, and it is an ideal rendezvous for fishermen and sportsmen.

A Mail Route has been recently established between Port Crescent and the west end of Lake Crescent, for the accommodation of residents of the rich valley of the Solduck—which valley, now conveniently reached by way of Port Crescent, is being rapidly filled up with a fine class of settlers. In addition to thousands of acres of choice Agricultural and Timber Lands, the valley possesses

HOT - MINERAL - SPRINGS - OF - GREAT - VALUE.

A LUMBER MILL has been established at Port Crescent, and stores, hotels, warehouses and residences built, and all indications go to show that a city of the very first rank must arise here—and one backed by one of the largest and richest agricultural regions in Washington. No point in the State offers Sounder Opportunities for Safe Investment on the part of the most conservative, and further particulars, with plans, prices of City Lots and Desirable Acreage, will gladly be afforded on application.
