PT. ANGELES SHIP YARD

Angeles to the Front With a Prominent Industry.

ANOTHER DAILY BOAT.

Superintendent Dorsey's School Report.

Seattle Capitalists Interested in Building a Storage Battery System of Street Railway—Opening of the New Opera House—Other Events.

Some time since two shipbuilders, father and son, combining the wisdom of age and experience, and the energy of young blood, came into Port Angeles from Wisconsin, looked it over, then ordered a band saw, hoister and all the machinery necessary to build a ship. Their plant is located just east of the colony mill yard. About ready to launch is a small steamer, with a 65-foot keel, 11-foot beam and 9 feet depth of hole; cost about $5,000. She is a beauty and is a credit to Port Angeles. She will be possibly used on the Whatcom route, but the prominent merchants of Dungeness and Port Townsend are trying to secure the control of her to run daily between Port Townsend, Dungeness and Port Angeles, and probably as far west as Clallam bay.

She is built for speed and will be best fitted for the passenger traffic. Her owners, Messrs. Stevens & Co., of Victoria, are enthusiastic over her appearance.

Another One.

A schooner with a 95-foot keel, 16-foot beam and 12 feet in depth of hole, is being constructed by Messrs. Hansen & Son, at a cost of $9,000, and will be owned by them and the Puget Sound Co-operative Colony. She is built so that she can be run by steam if found advisable. She will be used on the Alaska trade if not sold. Messrs. Hansen & Son propose to increase their plant as rapidly as possible.

PORT ANGELES STREET RAILWAY

Prominent Seattle Capitalists Want a Street Railway in Port Angeles.

Seattle capitalists will present a proposition to the people of Port Angeles, to put in the Storage Battery system for street electric railways. That system does away with the poles and over-head wires, and is the most desirable system in existence. New York was the first, Chicago the second and if Port Angeles accepts the proposition she will be the third city in the world to adopt the Storage Battery system.

The contemplated route is east on Front street to Morse's creek, and the length of Front street to Valley street and out Valley as far as practical.

THE SPY OF ALANTA.

The Opening of the New Opera House Proves a Success.

Pacific Post, No. 48, G. A. R. rendered a very difficult play at the new Opera House last Saturday to the satisfaction of a large audience.

THE CAST.

Edwin Dalton, the Spy of Atlanta - W. Crockett
Edward St. Clair, a Southerner and a villian L. H. Smith
Parke St Clair, Edward's father - C. Armbrust
Charles Dalton, son of Farmer Dalton and brother of Edward - - - - Ben Crockett
Farmer Dalton, a Northern and Union man E. Gragg
Jake Schneider, a fat Dutchman, true blue William Vail
Pete, a colored gemmen - - George Meagher
General McPherson, U.S. army - S. M. Cramer
Captain Mason, " - - H. M. Doty
General Sherman, " - P. W. Gallup
Major Wilkes, " C. Zimmerman, sr
Colonel Harrison, " - J. M. Dennis
Corporal Ogden, " - H. M. Guptill
Sergeant Bates, " - - - Guptill
Maud Dalton, wife of Edwin - Miss Clara Chase
Carrie Dalton, sister of Edwin, Miss Lillie Hitch
Mrs. Dalton, wife of Farmer Dalton, Mrs. Chase
Little Willie, the drummer boy, Geo. Meagher, jr

Every one of the participants deserved and received a goodly share of applause while on the stage.

Louis Smith as a villian performed his part so well that many of the audience will shudder when they meet him on the streets hereafter; and George Meagher as a Southern darkey was perfect.

The only criticism justifiable is the selection of the play. It is a difficult one, but when well executed has a tendancy to arouse the smouldering flames of sectional feelings.

CLALLAM COUNTY SCHOOLS.

The Superintendent's Report—The County Is Making Rapid Advancement.

The annual report of the county school superintendant for 1890-91 has been forwarded to the state superintendent of public instruction. By comparing it with that of last year, it will be seen that Clallam county is making rapid advancement in educational affairs as well as in population and wealth. We are indebted to County School Superintendent A. B. Dorsey for the following gleanings from the reports above referred to.

Summary of statistics for 1890-91 compared with 1889-1890.

	1890	1891	Inc.
Number of children - - - - - -	582	892	400
Number of pupils enroled - -	379	685	306
Average daily attendance - -	314	407	83
Number of teachers employed -	17	32	15
Number of districts in county -	14	18	4
Number of school houses - - -	10	16	6
Teachers' certificates issued- -	4	17	13

The financial exhibit for the year 1891 shows that the superintendent has apportioned to the several districts during the year $8,370.33 against $3,210.81 for the year previous; also that $5,343.90 were paid to teachers as wages, against $2,281.40 last year; that $1,492.40 were paid for furniture and apparatus, against $445.59 in 1890; $1,480 paid for school house sites, while none were purchased last year; $4,372.50 were paid for buildings against $1,153.74 for last year.

There has been received this year $17,010 on bonds and $269.53 from other sources. There is now in the treasury a balance of $11,287.91 school funds.

The Woods are Full of Them.

The mountains south of Port Angeles are alive with prospectors endeavoring to locate the main ledge of mineral which is now known to exist. Only a few miles from the city some surface ore taken from one of the claims shows traces of pure copper, and the indications are that deep down in the ledge is good paying ore. It is probable that this part of the banner county will be the Lake Superior of the world.

M'KINLEY BUNCO.

The Facts Give the Lie to McKinley's Little Game.

Foreign wool is not graded as ours. The average foreign price of grease clothing wool imported in ordinary condition ranged last year from 22 to 38 cents. The washed wool imported cost abroad 36 to 46 cents. Good grease was worth abroad more than poor scoured; and it was worth more at home. The foreign price of grease wool ranges from 4 to 40 cents; of washed from 8 to 60 cents; of scoured from 20 cents to $1.50, according to quality and kind. Where is there any price in the foreign market to compare with ours, without "fooling the farmer?" The only foreign wool that enters into competition with ours, that is of the same grade and kind as ours, is the wool that is imported—and the price of that wool we know. It is sold in the New York, Boston and Philadelphia markets, and its quoted American price is its foreign cost with the duty and freight added. We may honestly compare the American market price of foreign and domestic wool in the greasy, washed and scoured grades, or we may honestly compare the invoice (foreign) price of the foreign imported, which the Treasury Department furnished, with domestic market rates. But to compare the lowest price of dirty grease wool abroad with the highest price of clean grease wool here, as Mr. McKinley does, is to bunco the listener. Mr. McKinley is a swindler, cheating people out of their money, and while he may not take his share of the theft in dollars, preferring that his pals should use his share to purchase his political honors, that will not save him when the farmers once "collar on" his little bunco game. Nothing he could say that should open their eyes to his true character as a conscienceless demagogue is more to the purpose than his insistance upon discussing the price of wool in Canada, Cape Town and Constantinople, and his refusal to discuss the American price of the few pounds of wool that are only imported into this country to make up the deficiency in our own wool crop and not in "competition"—for they cost abroad more than the American farmer gets here, as the protectionists testify and the Treasury Department will take oath. There is no foreign over-valuation.

The campaign in Ohio has begun early enough to make clear to every man this trick of Mr. McKinley to deceive and delude the people who listen to him. That it is a "bunco-steer" is plain to everyone with any intelligence who stops for a moment to think it over. You cannot show a fool his error or win the bunco steerer over to repentance in this campaign.

Why then should the democratic editor and worker pay any attention to Mr. McKinley's quotations, or wish to deny that grease wool can be brought in Chinese Tartary for one cent per pound? Why should they not point out that Mr. McKinley runs away from the true issue—the comparative price in this country of domestic and foreign wool—and endeavor to bunco the farmer with fairy tales of the prices of wool in foreign countries, which may be any kind of wool and may be true or false; but in no case can have any interest to the American wool grower unless he exports his wool to that market for sale. Is it not wiser to point out the bunco Mr. McKinley is playing than to fall into Mr. McKinley's trap and waste the time between now and election in getting the proof to dispute what has no point or application and will not make or unmake a vote?

Toronto will have a regiment uniformed in Scotch kilts.

COAL FOR ANGELES.

What a British Columbia Expert Has to Say.

BIG SYNDICATE FORMED.

An Able and Experienced Miner to Take Charge.

The Mine Is Located at the Intersection of Sixth and Tumwater Streets—The Enterprise Backed by Prominent Citizens.

A syndicate of prominent citizen was formed a short while since to develop a coal mine at the corner of Sixth and Tumwater Streets. L. F. Person was made president and L. H. Jenns secretary and treasurer and Charles Hibbard general manager. Mr. Hibbard is an old miner of experience and business standing. They have been actively at work for a week now, and have gotten down one hundred feet. Lumps of loose coal have been taken out at various times, and now they have struck sandstone. Mr. Hibbard says when he gets through this coal will follow in paying quantity.

Dunsmuir's expert from the Wellington mines was in our city last week to investigate the prospects. This gentlemen located the famous Union mines at Comox, B. C., and is considered high authority on mining. He says General Manager Hibbard knows what he is talking about when he says he will strike a rich vein of coal, as there never were better prospects.

The stockholders in this enterprising movement are S. N. Greenleaf, Chas. Hibbard, L. F. Person, Richard Eacrett, George Meagher, Louis Smith, Malcolm McGill, Warren R. Dodge, John Bell, Garrison, Crockett, Elma Fisher, Andrew Gillis, T. Waggener, Frank Fisher, Phil A. Dolan and L. H. Jenns.

DEATH OF A PIONEER.

John J. Calhoun, a Prominent Citizen of Port Townsend, Passes Away.

The death of John J. Calhoun, at his home in Port Townsend, on last Friday is announced:

John James Calhoun was born October 14, 1860, at Smelling, Cal., coming to Port Townsend shortly afterward with his parants, where he grew to manhood, lived his shot career and died. He was educated in the public schools of Port Townsend and the state university at Seattle. After graduating from the state university he taught school at Port Ludlow, Jefferson county, reading law in the meantime. After acting the part of the country school master for three years he entered the law office of Chas. M. Bradshaw. He was also at this time appointed city clerk. There the bright student, by his industry, ability and gentlemanly bearing, earned for himself such a reputation and so many friends that when he was admitted to the bar in 1884, he at once entered into a large practice that increased till the time of his death.

In September 1884 he was unanimously nominated by the republicans of Clallam, Jefferson, Kitsap, San Juan and Island counties for prosecuting attorney, and at the election in November of that year, although the democrats were generally successful, he was, on account of his personal popularity, elected by a large majority. In the great democratic year of 1886 he was re-nominated and re-elected by an increased majority, being the only republican to carry the district. In 1888 he was again re-elected without opposition.

In 1889 he formed a co-partnership with A. R. Coleman, the firm name being Calhoun & Coleman. The firm had the leading practice of Port Townsend. In 1889, owing to illness Calhoun was compelled to quit his practice and go in search of health. Since that time he has travelled through California, the Hawaiian islands and other places, being in Port Townsend but six months in 1890, until July of this year, when he returned home to die with his family and numerous friends.

The cause of death was consumption. He left a wife and child, father, mother, sister and three brothers besides friends without number to mourn his sad departure to the unknown.

The last sad rites were performed Sunday afternoon at Port Townsend, under the auspices of the Knights of Pythias. Gate City Lodge, K. of P. of this city were invited to participate, but were unable to get conveyance to Townsend, receiving the invitation late Saturday.

A deer which frequents the outskirts of Easton, Me., is so tame that he will allow people to walk up to him and pat him. The animal was probably some one's pet in his youthful days.

In three years a single pair of herrings will produce 154,000,000.

Every Year.

Life is a count of losses,
Every year;
For the weak are heavier crosses,
Every year;
Lost springs with sobs replying.
Unto weary autumns, sighing,
While those we love are dying.
Every year.

The days have less of gladness,
Every year;
The nights more weight of sadness,
Every year;
Fair springs no longer charm us,
The wind and weather harm us,
The threats of death alarm us,
Every year.

There come new cares and sorrows,
Every year;
Dark days and darker morrows.
Every year;
The ghosts of dead loves haunt us,
The ghosts of changed friends taunt us,
And disappointments daunt us,
Every year.

To the past go more dead faces,
Every year;
As the loved leave vacant places,
Every year;
Everywhere their sad eyes met us,
In the evening's dusk they met us,
And to come to them entreat us,
Every year.

"You are growing old" they tell us,
Every year;
"You can win no new affection,
"You have only recollection,
"Deeper sorrow and dejection,
"Every year."

Too true!—life's shores are shifting,
Every year:
And we are seaward drifting,
Every year;
Old places, changing, fret us,
The living more forget us,
There are fewer to regret us,
Every year.

But the truer life draws nigher,
Every year;
And its morning-star climbs higher.
Every year;
Earth's hold on us grows slighter,
And the heavy burdens lighter,
And the dawn immortal brighter,
Every year.

The Xerobates Agassizii, the grass eating turtle of the Mojave desert, is said to be the only one of the turtle species which lives by grazing like a horse or an ox. Xerobates digs a hole in the sand to escape the intense heat, and is about ten inches in length when full grown.

With the introduction of smokeless powders for rapid fire guns changes will result in a decrease in the size of the powder chamber and a strengthening of the walls of the chase. Smokeless powder charges, even when smaller than charges of ordinary powders, give the same chamber pressure, but higher pressure all along the bore.

The Electoral College in 1892.

Here is a table which the whole country will soon begin to study with great interest. It shows the make up by states of the electoral college in 1892. The total membership under the new apportionment is increased from 401 to 444. To be elected president a man must receive 223 votes, a full majority of the total. If no one receives that number, the election is thrown into the present house of representatives:

THE DEMOCRAT.

ON the first day of October the plant, subscription books, all accounts, franchises and the good will of the old Herald past into the control of the writers.

Today, with the old facilities, we commence the publication of a new paper—THE DEMOCRAT.

As its name indicates the paper will endeavor to be democratic in all things, but not by any means a blind adherent to the great and good old political party of that name, however sincerely its editors may love the grand underlying principles of that party of the people and of the constitution, preferring instead, to hold itself free and independent—free to criticise, independent in its expressions.

Other than this the writers make no promises, except that their best efforts will be given to make THE DEMOCRAT what they conceive to be a newspaper.

Our position on the issues of the day can best be understood by a careful perusal of these columns.

We only ask that THE DEMOCRAT be judged on its merits.

JOHN W. TROY.

THE CAMPAIGN OF EDUCATION.

"Those whom the Gods would destroy, they first make mad."

THE bitter editorial slurs of some of the Republican organs at the personnel of the Democratic orators and statesmen who have been making a tour of the Western states and territories, under the auspices of the National Association of Democratic clubs taken together with the unblemished record, great popularity and acknowledged ability of each of these national characters, confesses not only the littleness but the weakness of their own position.

It is aggravating to these organs to see the wool they have so laboriously pulled over the eyes of the people these many years, removed by the reasoning in this great campaign of education, being conducted by the Democrats of this country.

But however disagreeable anything in the line of education is to the organs of the protected barons, who always prefer darkness to light, the great tariff-reform campaign, inaugerated by Grover Cleveland in his famous message to congress in 1887, will go on.

The effect of tariff education is already evidenced by the political somersaults of the great Mississippi valley states. All these north of Kentucky and Missouri, Indiana alone excepted, have been heretofore set down as safely Republican. Now, all is changed. Indiana is considered doubtful no longer. Wisconsin and Iowa are almost surely Democratic. Michigan has a Democratic governor and legislature and a Democratic delegation to the National House of Representatives. Minnesota, Ohio and Illinois are doubtful. The farmers of the agricultural west are awakening. Washington must fall in line.

THE citizens are just awakening to the wonderful resources of Angeles and environs since prospectors have covered the mountains and reported rich finds and foreign capital has become interested. In addition to the Hurricane silver mins, two coal mines have been discovered, one is being developed by home capital, the other, a Portland syndicate is formed to develop. The enterprise and foresight of the citizens in seeing and taking hold is to be commended. Without doubt the ship building industry will also be encouraged.

THE Chamber of Commerce should be reorganized. Give it life, young blood and energy. One dozen energetic, pushing young business men, well organized, can do more to build up a city than a city full of people working without an organization.

WHO IS TO BLAME?

THERE is much growling over the county roads construction, and the growling is all at the constructor. No one disputes the facts that Burlingame, unless there is strong influence brought to bear upon him. will do any more than twist his moustach, say "darn the luck," and go round a tree he happens to run across on the line of the road without regard for the crookedness of the highway. He is not building the road for beauty or for his health. His bid was the lowest, so the contract was awarded him to build it according to plans and specifications, drawn by the county officials. If the road is not built accordingly, the responsibility rests with the county cummissioners. They have to accept the work and upon their order the money is disbursed. They have had plenty of warning. They should investigate the charges. County commissioners, if this road is not what the tax payers voted for and entrusted to your care, the fault is inexcusably yours.

TO WORK.

NATURE has done all that she can do for Angeles and maintain her popularity with the rest of the world. Indeed she might well be accused of having been unduly partial. But think! A harbor won't building a city. It is a help, is of use, is an ornament. But in these days of push and enterprise you can not stand, and with a graceful swoop of hand, say "presto change," and have a great city spring up around you immediately.

One thousand dollars put into the hands of some men would never grow. Its earning capacity is limited by the ability of its possessor. In another man's possession the $1,000 will grow to two, three, four, yes twenty times as much. Are we doing justice to our advantages? Is not their earning capacity limited by our energy?

Mineral won't build a city.

Develop the mines. Men have to dig to raise a dollar in hard times. Instead of subscribing large sums of money to furnish wind to create a speculative value to our property, give to manufactories. Make work for the laborer. Make an intrinsic value to our property. Make shipping. Make use for our harbor and let the wild waves of the Pacific carry our products and fame over the world.

JUST why W. W. Gray, president of the bank and chairman of the board of county commissioners; Warren Dodge, county treasurer; Geo. V. Smith, prosecuting attorneyr, should think another Republican newspaper necessary, or conducive to the welfare or happiness of their party is one of those anigmatical subjects irrational equatious in which a fraction of unknown magnitude always remains that in no way admit of solution.

READ the mining news in THE DEMOCRAT. Do you know what coal means for Angeles? Think! Manufacturing center; big population; headquarters for tugs; headquarters for shipping; plenty of money; good times forever. Fall in rank, work! Fight for our rights. Have these mines developed. Don't wait for too much outside capital. It is ours. Let's claim it.

THAT the Democracy of Washington is for Cleveland for president in 1892, seems quite evident. At the recent convention of clubs at Spokane and at the great mass meetings held at Seattle and Tacoma every mention of the great tariff reformer's name was the occasion for wild bursts of applause and cheers.

THE Post-Intelligencer refers to the People's party as "that conglomerate lump of lunacies, social, political and financial." We would call the attention of the adherents of the People's party to the fact that the Post-Intelligencer poses as the republican organ of the state

IT is with feelings of sadness that we are called upon this week to chronicle the untimely death of John J. Calhoun. Young in years, brilliant in ability, fortunate in circumstances and connection, the future of this brilliant lawyer seemed bright indeed.

THE last issue of the People was full of thunder. You may be hitting wrong Brother Powers in some things, but hit hard.

BRETHEREN lets stop this quarrelling and dwell together in peace and harmony. Dave Morse move back your building. Burlingame stop going round the trees, leave your road clear that those who follow in your footsteps may not fall.

HON. W. E. RUSSELL, Massachusett's young, popular and scholarly govenor has been renominated by the Democrats of the bay state. That he has the enthusiastic support of the alumni of Harvard University goes without saying.

THE PRESS.

The appointment of Wasson as collector of customs at Port Townsend, in place of Bradshaw, seems to have stirred up a lot of political bile. Our republican brethren can not agree upon a division of spoils.—Mason County Journal.

Minister Egan is as offensive to the average Chilean as the odor of onions is to a Port Townsend belle. His presence is said to have the same effect upon the unforgiving enemies of Balmaceda that a red rag has upon a mad bull, and the sooner Uncle Sam calls Paddy home the sooner will the Chileans become pacified.—Port Townsend Leader.

The efforts of Editor Lane, of the News, to bring the next Democratic national convention to Tacoma, are to be commended. It is proposed that special trains, to start from Portland Me., New York, Washington, D. C., and some point in Florida, shall pick up delegates in the tract of country through which it passes. Should the programme be carried out, the longest trip which any man will have to take will be four days. Representative democrats of the Northwest are enthusiastic over the proposition and will pay, it is stated, all the traveling expenses and hotel bills at Tacoma, and deposit, as guarantee of good faith a certified check for $20,000, that this programme will be faithfully carried out.—West Coast Trade.

County Finances.

The treasurer's balance sheet for October 1st, showed $78,873.44 to be in the treasury, credited as follows:

State fund	$ 185 71
County fund	88 75
Road fund	2,202 56
School fund, (general)	3,103 63
Salary fund	626 74

District No. 14	277 03
District No. 15	50 80

An Expensive Case.

County Clerk Clark has prepared a cost-bill in the famous Wood murder case, which has been approved by Judge McClinton and the prosecuting attorney and forwarded to the state auditor, to be credited to Clallam county. The following is the total cost with items:

Witnesses before petit jury	$ 759 00
Witnesses before grand jury	24 00
Fees of jurors and talesmen	613 30
Board of prisoner, witnessess and miscellaneous	1,458 30
Sheriff's fees	273 30
Total	$3,127 90

THE INDIANS ON TOP.

An Interesting Game of Baseball at Sequim—A Horse Race.

SEQUIM, OCT. 6.—(Special.)—An interesting game of baseball was played at this place yesterday, between the Indians and the Sequim team. The game was played for a purse of $50 and was won by the Indians, the score being 10 to 9 in their favor.

The Sequim team has challanged the dusky natives of the forest to play another game, which will probably be accepted and shortly played.

A match race has been arranged between Alf. Cays and Jas. McKissick colts to be run next Sunday at this place, for $50 a side. The distance will be one-third of a mile.

AN ACCIDENT NEAR DUNGENESS.

Thomas Downie Thrown From a Wagon and Seriously Hurt.

DUNGENESS, Oct. 5.—(Special.)—While hauling a load of brick from Port Williams to his ranch near this place, yesterday, Thomas Downie got the rope with which he was driving a yoke of oxen wound several times around his hand and was thrown from the wagon and draged under the wheel which run over his fore arm, breaking both bones. Rev. Slack happened along, and assisted the suffering man home. Dr. J. R. Thompson was called and set the broken limb. Downie will recover.

Bury the Mossback.

Go burry the Mossback in a beautiful hole way down deep in the ground where the wood-pecker pecks and the bumble bee hums and the straddle bug straddles around. He is no good to himself or the town. So impractical, stingy and dead. Then hustle him off and bury deep and make room for a man that is sound.—Exchange.

WESTERN WASHINGTON
INDUSTRIAL EXPOSITION
—AT—
TACOMA,
Sept. 10 to Oct. 10, 1891.

This enterprise is intended to advance the interests of the entire state. Every county is earnestly requested to send an exhibit of its products, especialy such as may form a part of a permanent exhibit, accessable at all times to visitors. Individual exhibits of agricultural products of every sort, whether of the mill, the dairy or the home, will be made room for and due credit given.

The management has already arranged for the finest display of electrical machinery ever brought to the coast, and the applications for space for general machinery exhibit are already numerous. A complete display of coal, timber, iron ores and precious minerals is in course of preparation. There will be a fine art department, a home department and a fish exhibit. A complete display of all agricultural, horticultural and dairy pro lucts is hoped for and special efforts will be made to get them.

The building will be lighted by 150 arc and 1000 incandescent lamps, and a grand band from New York City will furnish the music.

For space or information of any kind address.

HENRY BUCEY, Manager.

Hops.

In reviewing the outlook for hops, the West Coast Trade says:

The situation remains practically unchanged since the conclusion of picking, and general advices do not vary much from last week. As to the crop in this state, though it is probable that the estimate of but half a crop will be found to have been somewhat too low, as, in various portions of the state, whole localities harvested above the average yield, which will go far toward making amends for the districts where the louse got in his work with telling effect. There is still no market, though E. Meeker & Co., the big Puyallup growers and dealers, started a trainload east from that point last week. From present indication, 12½ cents is nominally the prevailing price.

LOCAL.

C. W. Kent, secretary of the Port Angeles Traffic & Transfer company, had a runaway last Saturday. He had driven down on Dolan's wharf with a horse and buggy belonging to the company, and had temporarily left the horse standing, when it got frightened at something and started down the wharf, when trying to make the turn at the corner of Front street the headway was too great, and the horse and buggy went into the bay. The tide was in and the water broke the fall to some extent. A frightened horse, a broken whipple tree and a very damp rescuer were the results.

L. R. Cole, secretary of the Hurricane Mining company, whose mine is located 6 miles south of Port Angeles was in town, this week. Mr. Cole gives encouraging news from the mines, the deeper they go the better. The silver ore, Mr. Cames, the expert miner sent to investigate the mine by Portland capitalists, says the ore now on the dump will pay well. The expert says the mine is not extravagantly rich, but is unquestionably of the lasting and paying sort.

Dr. I. R. Herrick was called late Friday night to the house of Mr. McCain, near Dry Creek, to attend Mr. McCain who in carrying home a wounded deer fell over a log and dislocated his shoulder. The doctor says his patient is in no danger unless information should set in, which is not likely.

Michael Geraghty had two crow-bars stolen from his house on the reserve. Sympathy is with the thief for having such dead weight to carry.

ANOTHER FIND OF COAL

Employe of the Citizen's Association the Lucky Man.

BEST IN THE STATE.

The Whole Region Surrounding the Find Said to Be Rich With the Finest of Coal.

Sometime since, as was announced by the papers of Port Angeles, Messrs. Chandler and Coolican, of the Citizens Association, employed an old and experienced prospector and miner in the person of John Cain, to prospect the lands in the neighborhood of Port Angeles for coal and other minerals.

Mr. Cain went to work at once with a vim and energy that ever increased as the prospects and developments became more satisfactory. His labors have been abundantly rewarded.

A DEMOCRAT reporter, getting an inkling of the prospector's succes, called on Mr. Cain yesterday and obtained the facts from him. The most favorable indications have been found on Seibret's creek. He there found in exceeding promising quantities very fine samples of Anthracite coal, some splendid specimens of which were exhibited to the reporter.

Mr. Cain believes the whole region in the neighborhood of Seibret's creek to contain any amount of the finest coal, surpassing in quality anything yet found in this state. He is now awaiting orders from Messrs. Chandler and Coolican, to whom he has made a full report. If these gentlemen do not proceed at once to develop the mines, he will himself at once organize a company and commence operations, believing that the prospects will justify such a move.

Mr. Cain has a reputation as an expert, and can easily get unlimited capital invested on his judgment

Mr. Cain is sanguine and in fact enthusiastic over the outlook.

E. R. Fraser, of Clallam Bay, manager of the Clallam Lumber company, was in Port Angeles Monday.

S. R. Hadock, of Port Crescent, spent Friday in Angeles. All the county boys like to come to the city occasionally.

B. H. Burgess, one of the solid men of Clallam Bay, was in this city several days during the forepart of the week.

Frank Link, of Port Townsend, was in the city Monday looking out for property interests. He subscribed for the DEMOCRAT before leaving.

John Bushell, a prominent state temperance worker, was in Angeles Monday. Mr. Bushell was editor of the I. O. G. T. state organ, the Leader, until it suspended on account of poor patronage.

H. B. Crockett, one of the rip-roaring democratic delegates to the convention at Spokane, returned last week filled with good old democratic enthusiasm. He says every indication points toward Washington going democratic next year.

Geo. P. Moore, of Clallam Bay, passed by the city on the Hermosa Wednesday, returning home from Seattle, where he had gone to see his father, L. W. Moore, off to San Francisco. L. W. Moore is one of the proprictors of the Pacific Tanning Extract Co.'s works at Clallam Bay.

The Bank of Port Angeles, Front street, opposite the Opera House, pays interest on deposits.

LOCAL.

Now is the time for Dave Morse to get a move on and have his building set back.

Mrs. Cooper has had her building on Front street moved back. She has set a good example.

The small boys who occupied the gallery at the opening of the opera house should have their whistles plucked.

Drennan & Person have opened a dining room in connection with the City Hotel and all who eat there grow fat.

Dr. I. R. Herrick has fitted up offices in Rockman's Front street store where he may be found both day and night.

E. C. Burlingame has purchased 62½ feet of water front property and will erect thereon immediately a large barn and office building for the E. C. Burlingame company.

Dr. George, the handsome, polite and efficient dentist has moved his office into the two front rooms over Hall's drug store, in the Foss building. He is fitting up his rooms elegantly.

Mr. E. A. Fitzhenry, one of the engineers of the Port Angeles Southern road, walked into town Sunday for his mail. He reports the survey as being rapidly pushed. The line is located as far as the Shumer place.

Mrs. Stockton, the popular kindergarden teacher, and Miss Cooke, from San Francisco, who has come here to make her home, were the first ladies to visit the office of THE DEMOCRAT. Newspaper life is not all thorns.

The steamer Emma Hayward was brought here and her wheel taken off to be repaired at this place. Then the U. P. management concluded to take her to Portland and make a tow boat out of her. Escort No. 2 started with her last Sunday for Portland.

The friends and patrons of the flourishing kindergarden school are cordially invited to attend the exercises at the school house in the Norman Smith building next Friday at 10 a. m. Mrs. Stockton says the children are wonderful and she will guarrantee entertainment to all who come.

Sam Hall has just returned from Portland, where he has been to buy a stock of drugs, and reports that he will soon open a first-class store in the Foss building on Front street. Sam is an accomodating and thoroughly reliable druggist, popular with the boys, and not disliked by the women and we predict for him success.

COMMITTEE.

SPECIAL FERTILIZERS.

Unlike Effects of Manures on Different Kinds of Soil.

We have attempted for many years to point out the unlike effects of special fertilizers on different and unlike soils. Superphosphates, for instance, which produce a great increase of crop on some soils, have afforded no sensible effect in other places. We have known the wheat crop to be doubled by its use in one locality, and in others not ten miles away, the slightest improvement in the crop was not produced. Yet even at the present time, some agricultural writers do not appear to have understood this difference; and directions are repeatedly given for promoting the increased growth of crops by the use of superphosphate or potash, evidently taking it for granted that all soils and all crops are alike benefited. Fertilizers specially fitted for certain crops are largely advertised for sale, and we have "potato manures," and "corn manures" offered for these respective crops, as if they would operate alike on all soils.

But scientific men have not all fallen into this error, and we quote a few as a matter of caution to those who use commercial fertilizers without first proving on a limited scale their fitness and utility when employed, and without first determining by trial whether the benefit produced, where they do not fail, will pay cost.

Dr. Voelcker stated: "On some soils, more especially on poor, light pastures, the effect of bone-dust has been truly marvelous; while in other localities they do not show any marked effect. I would advise making field trials on a limited scale before heavy expense is incurred. Bone meal is often wasted on cold clay soils." Again: "Soils vary much in composition, and hence the same manures which effect a radical improvement in one locality, are often found of little use in another." A writer in the Journal of the Royal Agricultural Society says: "I have seen bones applied and produce no good whatever; and on the other hand I have seen them used with immense advantage. I have seen guano produce a splendid crop; while the year following the crop was worse than before the guano was applied."

Hence the mistake sometimes made at experiment stations, in reporting tests of fertilizers on the circumscribed localities belonging to the stations, and which are often quite unlike the soils of other parts of the country, the owners of which they are intended to instruct.

Dr. Voelker said: "Where good farm-yard manure can be obtained at a reasonable price, I believe it will be found the most efficacious and economical manure." Another writer in the Journal of the Royal Agricultural Society said: "It is impossible to give any definite rules without knowing the kind of land to be manured."

The preceding remarks and quotations are not mere theory on our part; but we have made for many years similar tests in several instances, and witnessed like results from the experience of others.—Country Gentleman.
