VOL 2. PORT ANGELES, WASHINGTON, FRIDAY, JUNE 10, 1892. NO 18

PEERLESS CLALLAM.

Port Angeles the Inland Sea's Destined Commercial Port—Her Advantages.

THE GATEWAY OF THE PACIFIC MEDITERRANEAN.

Natures Chosen Spot for a Manufacturing Center---Its Superb Harbor, Commanding Situation---The Mariner's Delight.

Unequaled In Natural Resources, Unsurpassed in Scenic Grandeur --- The Admiration of the Capitalist and the Home-Seeker---Some of Its Local Industries---Its Wonderful Growth---Its Water Power Unsurpassed --- The Future Radiant With Brilliant Prospects.

Take a map and study Western Washington—particularly the great Sound country. At a glance it will be observed that the head of Puget Sound is Tacoma—the "City of Destiny." Here fabulous fortunes have been made through real estate. To the northwest—on down the Sound is Seattle — the "Queen City." Here, again, millions upon millions have been made by dealings in dirt. On to the northwest is Port Townsend—the"Key City." Here again many have grown opulent because they bought lots and blocks. At this point we find the Straits of Fuca leading westward to the mighty Pacific ocean—more than one hundred miles in length. Along these straits on the American side is some of the most productive land—rich, fertile and marvelous—the greatest forests of mighty firs cedars, pines and hemlocks; the most delightful climate; the most picturesque scenery, and withal the grandest country upon the face of the earth. Rich in minerals, rich in agricultural and grazing land; hop lands, fruit lands—lands of all kinds; timber inexhaustible, in fact a mighty empire in extent and in natural resources. All this is practically undeveloped—all unknown to the civilized world until but yesterday.

On the Straits of Fuca on the American side, opposite Victoria, the capital city and principal mart of British Columbia, is Port Angeles—"The GateCity"—forty miles west of Port Townsend, and sixty miles east of the Pacific ocean. Port Angeles is situated upon the only harbor on the American side of these Straits—and such a harbor as she has, always safe, always easy of access, without a shoal, without an obstruction and without a single objection. Port Angeles is at the mouth of navigation of the Western American continent as is Tacoma at the head of navigation on Puget Sound. We have that which belongs to us absolutely, the trade of a country over one hundred miles in extent. All the shipping of the Orient,of Alaska,the Islands of the Pacific and of the Pacific ocean coast, must come to our door. This is why we are called "The Gate City"—because we are at the gateway to the great Northwest.

There has never been a single individual in Port Angeles, or elsewhere, who carefully studied the situation, but who predicted that right here will be builded a magnificent city in the very near future. Nothing can prevent it. Nothing can stop it. It is one of the things which the great laws of necessity will govern. It has only been within the past year or a little more that any effort has been made to have Port Angeles and her resources known and during that time this place has grown from a little hamlet into a city of from four to five thousand souls, and still they come every day in great steamer loads!

During the past year we have built wharves, graded many miles of beautiful streets, erected water works, built an electric light plant, new hotels, become a port of entry, raised a $300,000 bonus for which and which ensures the building of the Port Angeles Southern railroad. We have organized and a franchise has been granted for a new street railway, two ship yards, a first-class salmon cannery and other things, such as mills and the like, too numerous to mention. We now have magnificent stores and public buildings and trade commerce which would be the envy of many an Eastern city of twice our size.

Such is Port Angeles, but while this can be said to-day, it will not be her history to-morrow. Tomorrow much more must be added, as indeed can truthfully be done today. Look out for us—we give warning—we are on the high-road to prosperity and bound for the verdict—the Great Metropolis of the Northwest. We can't be derailed or turned from the track, but are bound to accomplish our end in the highest sense.

We have agricultural, timber, grazing lands, coal, iron, silver, gold, granite, commerce by water and commerce by land. All this most undeveloped, inviting the cunning hand of man, guided by Anglo Saxon energetic brain to develop. To those who come, who labor and who wait, and not for long, either, there awaits the richest of rewards. We extend the invitation. Come and see us—and you will always remain.

OUR FREE HOMES.

The Reservation Offers Them to All--3,000 Acres Free.

Port Angeles is almost entirely surrounded by a reservation set apart by the United States government as a townsite reserve. Much of this reservation has been settled upon by squatters, who have improved and are living upon it. To protect the interests of these settlers,an amendment was attached to the sundry civil bill at the last Congress providing for the survey of this reservation and providing for the protection of the interests of those who had already settled upon the reservation by permitting them to prove residence and purchase at an appraised value, before the date of the regular sale at auction.

Last fall this reservation was surveyed and the notes and plat of it prepared during this last winter and submitted to Surveyor General Cavanaugh. For some unaccountable reason the surveyor general has but just approved and submitted the notes and plat to the commissioner of lands for his final approval.

In the meantime many more squatters settled upon the reservation after the date of the passage of the first bill, March 4, 1892. To protect these and for other purposes Col. J. S. Coolican, Mayor N. R. Smith and Chas. S. Young, all interested in this city, went to Washington to secure the passage of another bill, if possible, extending the time. The Squatters' Association passed a resolution authorizing Mr. C. S. Young to act for them in all matters.

The delagation had hardly arrived at the national capital on its mission of love until it was at work. Our state delegation in the Senate and House were at once enlisted in the cause.

The result is the adoption by the House of an amendment to the sundry civil bill extending the time for settlement on these lots until after the approval of the appraisement of the lots on this reservation. This bill has passed the House and is now pending in the Senate.

There is no doubt as to its passage by that body. This will give to anyone who will settle at Port Angeles a home free of cost, and right in the city.

Port Angeles is the only city in America that offers so much for so little. These lots are being taken up now at a rapid rate. There is no time to lose if one wants to get in before the approval. The best lots are now being taken, but there is still room for all who apply.

The reservation is several miles in length, and averages nearly a mile in width, and contains about 3000 acres of sightly and beautiful property as ever graced the shores of the sea.

SHIP BUILDING.

Port Angeles Has Two Lively Yards that Promise Much for the Future.

Ship building is rapidly coming to the front on Puget Sound. In this particular Port Angeles is not behind. We have located at the east end of our town a ship builder of renown, who is now building a magnificent vessel which can either be fitted as a schooner or a steamer. It will cost $9,000 or $10,000 if completed as a steamer and something less if as a schooner.

Messrs. Hanson & Co., will at once, if they can sell this vessel, commence the construction of one of larger proportions, and will so enlarge their yard that it will give employment to a larger force of men.

With proper encouragement, we have in this, the commencement of an industry that cannot fail to become one of large proportions. It will not be long until floating emblems of Port Angeles' industry and natural advantages will swing at anchor in all the great harbors of the world.

Captain England and son have just launched the beautiful little schooner Matilda, also built at the east end of our city. She is a trim and neat little craft, and will be used for the sealing industry, which is largely tributary to Port Angeles.

OUR FISHERIES.

Great Inducement Offered by the Natural Resorces of Our Waters.

Time will shortly be when the shores of Clallam county will be dotted from the eastern extremity to Cape Flattery with fishing stations. The best waters of the Pacific for halibut, cod and salmon are the straits of Juan de Fuca. Already numerous fishing crafts are kept employed in this industry, even though the fish are at present taken up the Sound for packing and shipment.

The establishment of the first salmon cannery in Clallam county at Port Angeles this spring is but the commencement of what is bound to be one of our leading industries.

Fish abound in great quantities in our straits and the Pacific immediately adjoining. The Elwah, the Dungeness, the Morse, the Lyre, the Pysht, the Clallam, the Quillayute and other rivers are at times filled to overflowing with shining silver salmon.

Only last Sunday morning Mr. Hartley Goodwin brought into town a wagon load of immense salmon caught by Dr. Poyneer and Silas Goodwin at the mouth of the Elwha. Fifteen of these shining beauties were caught, the weight of which went from twenty-eight pounds to a little over sixty pounds.

This great natural resource needs but the application of steel and steam to become a source of employment and remuneration for thousands of our toiling multitudes.

SAUTER & ZERRENNER.

Fashionable Merchant Tailors, Corner of First and Laurel Streets.

The fashionable merchant tailor fills a very important place in the list of the commercial houses of a city, and an edition such as this would be incomplete without mention of this enterprising tailoring establishment, and it gives us great pleasure in making mention of these gentlemen in the columns of THE DEMOCRATS' special edition. Their entire stock is attractive, extensive and reasonable in price, and they are the most expert and skilled work men in the county.

Messrs. Sauter & Zerrenner, are accomplished cutters.

Their varied stock of goods consists of French, English, and Scotch fabrics, and are among the finest in Port Angeles.

The gentlemen personally superntendend the mechanical department of their establishment and receive all orders. Being practical cutters themselves they are in a position to observe at a glance any fault to which the most fastidious might take exception.

PORT ANGELES TRANSFER CO.

Keep The Finest Rigs in the County—W. T. Dyke Proprietor.

A reporter for THE DEMOCRAT'S special edition paid a recent visit to the large and commodious stables of Mr. Walter Dyke, and gained information which cannot fail to be of interest to our thousands of readers. The spacious stables centrally located opposite the Postoffice, are well ventilated and every care and attention is given to horses by competent grooms. Teaming and transfer work this gentlemen makes a specialty. For the livery department of the establishment, Mr. Dyke has a most excellent stock of animals, many of them "pacers"! also quiet and gentle horses for ladies and family purposes, and a number of stylish turn-outs, such as carriages, buggies, road-carts, etc. This popular gentleman also pays attention to boarding horses, as well as buying and selling, and is doing a large business in this line. Mr. Dyke is fully up to the times, being sagacious and far-seeing, and has business ability of the first order. He is a gentleman pleasant and attentive to all, and deserves commendation for conducting one of the best livery stables in the state of Washington.

MR. LEW. SMITH.

Leading Dealer in Stoves, Ranges, House Furnishing Goods and Etc.

In a comprehensive review of the leading commercial interests of the Gate City, we take pride in stating that the prominent business house of Mr. Lew. Smith is entitled to a most creditable notice. This large salesroom is centrally and advantageously located in the imposing brick block on Front Street. This extensive and promising trade, has from this earliest business inception,met with the most encouraging success, and he now transacts a business of large and increasing magnitude, which is due in a meaaure, to the enterprise and excellent business capacity of the proprietor. This popular gentleman is the leading dealer in stoves, ranges, shelf hardware, lamps, gas, hot water and steam fittings, artistic mantles, grates, tiles, tinware and house furnishing utensials in general. Having a large and complete stock in all departments, including the celebrated "Jubilee Range" of which he is sole agent. Apart from the excellent line above mentioned, Mr. Smith attends to sanitary plumbing, steam and gas fitting, and has a large stock of supplies and material always on hand. An important adjunct to his establishment is the sheet iron, tin and copper works which is thoroughly equipped and provided with tools, implements etc., etc. They attend promptly to all orders for spouting, guttering, roofing, tin, coppor and sheet iron work; also general jobbing and repairing. Mr. Smith has had a vast business experience, and the energy and enterprise which characterize his business transactions fully entitles him to the first rank among the progressive business men of our great State.

C. F. MERRITT.

The Leading Tonsorial Artist—Hot and Cold Water Baths.

The gentleman whose name appears above this article, has long since gained the name of being the most expert tonsorial artist in Port Angeles. His neat and attractive establishment is supplied with all the necessary coveniences of a first class shop, a special feature is made of honing and sharpening razors and they are always up to propriety, an important adjunct to this barber shop is the bathing department: The bath rooms are provided with hot and cold, fresh and salt water and shower baths, the best of toilet soap brushes and all modern conveniences, a first class porter is always in attendance. Mr. Merritt is a master of the tonsorial art and is a knight of cold steel, he stands preeminently high in the profession, and his patrons number among the wealthiest and most distinguished citizens of this city.

PORT ANGELES STEAM LAUNDRY.

This is one of the enterprises that deserves special mention, the proprietor of which has spared no pains or capital to secure one of the most complete and thoroughly equipped laundries on the coast; putting up the latest improved machinery and giving employment to skilled labor only. One of the special features is the employment of White Labor exclusively. By so doing the money paid out for wages is spent in Port Angeles and not in China; this fact ought to be sufficient to secure the patronage of every true citizen. A special feature is made of white shirts, collars, flannels, lace curtains, ladies' and gents' underwear, hotel, restaurant and family linens—all of which are called for and delivered promptly. The superior work turned out by the Port Angeles Steam Laundry is acknowledged by its numerous patrons to be unequalled anywhere along the coast. The works are open for inspection at all times, and those having laundry work to do will find it not only interesting, but beneficial to visit this laundry, where the proprietor will take the greatest pleasure in showing the various processes of first-class laundry work.

Who covers our napkins over with spit,
And shrinks our clothes that they never fit?
And makes them smell of the Bottomless Pit?
John Chinaman.

Who makes our clothes streaked with blue,
And leaves them such a dirty hue,
And wears them out in a time or two?
John Chinaman.

Who ruins the labor at every place,
Spends his money among his own race,
Laughs in the tax collector's face?
John Chinaman.

Where can I escape this terrible plight,
Have my shirts and clothes washed white,
At a price that's fair, and just and right?
Why! at the Port Angeles Steam Laundry.

MR. ALBERT GOLDWATER.

Leading Merchant Tailor—For a Fine Fit Call on Him.

This prominent tailoring establishment is admirably and conveniently arranged for an excellent display of the large and elegant summer stock of judiciously selected foreign and domestic fabrics, imported suitings of French and English manufacture and the greatest variety of suitings ever exhibited in Port Angeles thus giving a customer an infinite variety of shades and patterns from which to select. Elegant and fashionable suits in all the latest summer styles are here made to order, at very moderate prices. Mr. Goldwater takes pride in the fact that his books register the names of those who make it a point to be dressed in the latest fashion. Mr. Goldwater is ever in the van of progression and alive to the best interests of his numerous customers and he never fails to give entire satisfaction.

C. J. PETERS.

Contractor and Builder, Shop on Front Street Between Oak and Cherry.

Next to the architect and equal to him certainly in importance stands the builder. Among our prominent leading contractors and builders we take a good deal of pride in calling the public's attention to this gentleman. Mr. Peters can point to work in all parts of this city as conclusive evidence of his understanding his business in all its multifarious details. He is at all times prepared to enter into contracts for the construction of all kinds of buildings, frame, brick or stone. Mr. Peters also makes a specialty of jobbing and all kinds of carpenter and cabinet work, general house, sign and interior painting and decorating and will always cheerfully furnish estimates on all classes of work. Personally Mr. Peters is a thorough and practical mechanic, expert builder, reliable contractor and a pleasant and agreeable gentleman to do business with.

THE OAK SALOON.

The Popular and Congenial S. G. Morse Proprietor.

The well-known and popular gentleman above mentioned is the proprietor of one of the neatest and most commodious resorts in the Gate City, and his model house is free from objectionable features occasionally met with in such establishments. Mr. Morse keeps in stock all kinds of choice foreign and domestic liquors, wine, beer and cigars. The bar and fixtures are tastefully arranged and add materially to the attractions of the "Oak." All goods carried by this popular gentleman are absolutely of the purest distillation, and none but polite and painstaking decoction disseminators are employed, and every courtesy is extended to habitues of this establishment. The genial manager, Mr. J. Quinn, will be always found there, so that visitors and friends receive a cordial welcome on calling. Mr. Morse has recently renovated his place and a neater and more attractive resort cannot be found in the Gate City.

LEWIS LEVY.

The Leader in Clothing and Gents' Fine Furnishings.

In reviewing the many branches of trade and commerce this special edition of the DEMOCRAT takes just pride in calling their readers' attention to the old, reliable clothing, hat and furnishing house of Mr. L. Levy, centrally located on Front and Laurel streets. A visit by our representative to this large and commodious store finds it carrying an immense stock, comprising the finest line of mens', youths', boys' and childrens' clothing, hats and caps in all the latest summer styles and fasionable shapes. Notwithstanding the low prices which have made this favorite and reliable clothing establishment popular with all classes of the community, Mr. Levy has marked his entire stock down to figures that other dealers cannot touch. The public at large and also visitors from abroad will find this highly popular gentleman of the strictest integrity in all all his business transactions.

THE COLONY STORE.

General Merchandise — Robert Shields Manager.

With the leading establishments most actively engaged in the grocery trade in Port Angeles is the Colony store presided over by its popular manager Mr. Robert Shields. This store carries a large and well assorted stock of the very finest groceries and provisions, best grades of sugar, syrups, canned goods, hermetically sealed glass goods, condiments, spices, best Dungeness and California butter, creamery cheese, foreign and domestic fruits, teas, coffees and cocoa, rich confectionary, luscious hams, bacon, lard, table delicacies, condiments aromatic spices, fresh eggs, dairy butter, flour, feed, garden and orchard produce and country produce generally. Shields has had a vast business experience, and the energy and enterprise which characterize his business transactions fully entitles him to the front rank among the progressive business men of the Gate City.

THE MISSES DRAPER.

Fancy and Millinery Goods—The Latest Styles—Front Street.

The ladies' emporium for all that is dear to the feminine heart and fancy is that of the Misses Draper whose neat establishment is advantageously located on Front street. This accomplished and talented ladies' knowledge of the millinery art and her acquaintance with the prevailing spring styles and fashions enables her to present for the benefit of their hosts of lady patrons an elegant array of the very latest and most exquisite styles and novelties in spring hats, as well as silks, satins, laces, velvets, ribbons and ornaments, plumes, tips, feathers, flowers, and all the beautiful things that taste can suggest or fancy dictate. Miss Draper is an accomplished and fashionable mitliner, fully cognizant of the wants of her customers and stands today without a peer. She is a lady of rare good judgment, and her aim to supply all that is good and tasteful in stylish headgear is duly appreciated by Port Angeles' fair set.

GEORGE MEAGHER.

Dry Goods Establishment—Corner Laurel Street.

One of the most enterprising and popular mercantile houses of the Gate City is the one over which Mr. George Meagher, leader in imported, staple and fancy dress goods, presides. In his large and elegantly furnished salesroom is carried a large and well selected stock of the latest styles and novelties of the finest imported dress fabrics, comprising all-wool French custom cloths in stripes, checks, marls, and fancy patterns, weaves and shades, cheviots, nattee cloths, navy serges, plain and figured, satteens, yosemites, parasols, umbrellas, capes, ribbons, laces, muslins, cambrics, etc. Mr. Meagher also carries an exquisite line of silks, satins, plushes, velvets, trimmings, embroidery, laces, hosiery, elegant novelties in fancy goods and notions. This gentleman's facilities for transacting business are of a strictly first class character, enabling him to execute all orders in the promptest and most satisfactory manner, and a visitor to this popular ladies' rendezvous cannot fail to observe the system, order and regularity that prevails throughout.

P. J. WILLIAMS.

Practical Watchmaker and Jeweler Front Street.

A scribe in one of his wanderings being attracted by the beautiful appearance of the jewelry establishment of P. J. Williams, stepped inside, and gained much information which will be of great interest to the citizens of the Gate City and to her host of visitors. The elegant display of watches, clocks, rings, precious stones, beautiful jewelry and ornaments in new and novel designs, together with assortments of glittering silverware, table cutlery and etc., presents a scene well worth one's time to visit. In his handsome crystalized show cases and cabinets are displayed beautiful watches of the most celebrated makers, diamond, gem, wedding and plain rings of the highest grades, etc. This popular gentleman is a thorough and practical watchmaker and jeweler, and understands his business in all its minute details. Mr. Williams, during his five years business relations in this city, has gained an enviable reputation as a fair and reliable dealer and thorong workman, and the public place entire confidence in him.

JOHN F. CHURCH.

General Grocer and Provision Merchant, Front Street.

It is gratifying at all times to make mention of successful houses in the various branches of wholesale and retail trade, and we take just pride in stating that the establishment over which Mr. Church presides is entitled to a foremost place in the DEMOCRATS' special columns. The gentleman is widely known and respected by all Gate City citizens for the friendly and liberal manner in which he conducts his business. His stock of groceries and provisions are as pure and fresh as those of the largest establishment in America. There will be found the purest maple syrups, foreign and domestic dried fruits; imported teas and coffees, rich aromatic spices, condiments, table delicacies, Dungeness butter, the finest hams and breakfast bacon, cheese, ranch and city eggs, flour, feed, oats, fresh vegetables, potted meats and all the delicacies in and out of season. Mr. Church also carries a large stock of glass and crockeryware, the finest brands of cigars, tobacco, candies and etc. All kinds of canned goods, potatoes, meats etc., and in fact everything to make a picnic a success and life worth the living for are carried here, as Mr. Church makes that a specialty. A visit to the gentleman's grocery and provision store will convince the most sceptical of the truth of our remarks. He has the true spirit of push and enterprise, and is meeting with well deserved success.

W. M. BURCH'S BAZAAR.

One of the Leading Establishments of the City—Opera House Block.

A most important and attractive branch in the Gate City's leading industries is the above named business, of which Mr. Burch is the proprietor. This gentleman imports and deals in curios from the Orient and is one of the largest and most thoroughly representative concern in this line of business in the state, and since its inception has enjoyed a very prosperous career. The premises occupied are commodious, well arranged and stocked with a full and complete assortment of curios of all descriptions, including silk handkerchiefs, dressing gowns, picnic baskets, paper napkins, paper lanterns, cups and saucers, crockery, glassware, queensware, stationery, wall paper, dishes, fans, gloves, bric-a-bric-whatnots, paints oils, fishing tackle, lamps, books, cutlery, wall brackets, vases, glass, shades, porcelain figures, fire screens, etc. These goods are displayed in endless profusion and at prices to suit the times. Mr. Burches' 10 cents, 25 cents and 50 cent counters contain some of the prettiest curios to be met with in this state The facilities of this establishment for doing business are of an unusually complete character, enabling it to offer special advantages to strangers, who here find a complete stock of goods direct from the Orient. Mr. Burch is a courteous gentleman, liberal and fair in all transactions and well deserving of the success he has achieved.

THE BANK OF PORT ANGELES.

Incorporated—Capital $50,000, Front Street.

In giving a careful delineation of Port Angeles' representative institutions, the DEMOCRATS' special takes pride in calling the publics' attention to this sound and prosperous monetary concern—"The Bank of Port Angeles". The bank has from its earliest inception forged its way into public favor, and is now one of the most reliable financial institutions in this State. The officers of the bank are friends to, and encourage every industry calculated to increase or advance the growth and developement of the Gate City. The officers of the Bank of Port Angeles are:— Mr. B. F. Schwartz, President; J. Jerome Smith, Vice-President; G. B. Craick, Assistant Cashier. A general banking business is transacted, and the accounts of farmers and laboringmen are specially solicited, sight and telegraghic exchanges and drafts on all parts of the United States, Great Britain, Norway, Sweden and other European countries are bought and sold. In their savings department highest interest is allowed. Collections made promptly and every branch which banking has taken advantage of is here put into execution. Mr. Schwartz was the originator and founder of the First National Bank of this county, and was the first President. He gave this County the only banking system it ever had. He is and has been interested in all the public enterprises of this city, and has been the formost in many of them.

C. E. BELL & CO.

Extensive Grocers, and Hardware Dealers.

The business prosperity, enterprise and solidity of a city are undoubtedly indicated by the extent and character of her commercial houses, and we feel justified in stating that one of the greatest factors in the progress and improvenent of the Gate City has been her grocery interests. Representative among the number is the widely known house of C. E. Bell & Co. The premises occupied are spacious and commodious. Here is headquarters for the choicest refined syrups, foreign and domestic dried fruits, canned, goods in every variety, etc., teas, coffees (purest and finest flavored,) butter, cheese, lard, ham, eggs, bacon, flour, feed, fresh vegetables, and all kinds of country produce, anchovies, bloater paste, deviled ham, etc., also willow, woodenware, glass and crockeryware. Mr. Bell makes a specialty of all kinds of hardware and carries a complete stock of heavy and shelf hardware, stoves, ranges, household utensils, cutlery of the celebrated makes and tinware, carpenters' and builders' tools, woodmen's outfits, and saws and axes manufactured by the most celebrated makers in the world. In trade circles generally and among his numerous customers in particular this gentleman is regarded as the most reliable representative in this line in Western Washington.

CITY MEAT MARKET.

E. Metcalfe & Co., Proprietors — Front Street.

By the strictest attention to business, coupled with a straightforward system of honorable dealing, E. Metcalfe & Co., of the City Market, have won their way into the front of our most substantial merchants. This popular market is located on Front street directly opposite the City Hotel and are the leading dealers in all kinds of fresh and cured meats, lards, poultry and game in season. This firm makes a specialty of their bologna and pork sausages. Their transactions embrace an immense family trade while they also supply the leading hotels and restaurants in town with the choicest of fresh and cured meats. Messrs. Metcalfe & Co., have ever maintained an excellent reputation for selling only the best qualities of meat, and always at honest prices. They have always given a liberal and public spirited support to all measures having for their object the wellfare and prosperity of the Gate City—the city of their choice.

J. M. GRANT.

Florist, Nursery & Seedsman—Make Him a Visit—Front Street.

There is no sentiment in life or death that is more sweetly or beautifully typified than by flowers and their language, they are welcome in our homes at the marriage altar and at the tomb, always in sympathy with the occasion they are called upon to grace. The cultivation of flowers is one of our most laudible enterprises. In the green house of Mr. Grant's the most delicate exotics can thrive even in the depth of winter, and in his spacious and commodious greenhouse may be found bedding and house plants and choice flower seeds, also carnations, rose-bushes, bouquets, corsage and floral designs, thus enabling him to furnish funerals, burials and weddings with the rarest of flowers. The visitor can here see a large collection of rare and beautiful plants and flowers from every chime under the sun. Mr. Grant is also a practical nurseryman and gives his personal attention to the duties of the business. There is nothing in the line of nursery stock that his catalogue does not contain and his nursery grow. As a florist, botanist and nurseryman Mr. Grant stands at the head of the profession and his trade is large and extended.

YOUNG AMERICA.

Most Popular Saloon in the City—Frank Meerwaldt, Proprietor.

Young America is a modern and orderly resort for pleasure and pastime. It is one of the neatest furnished sample rooms in the county and is ably presided over by Mr. Frank Meerwaldt dealer in choice wines liquors and cigars. Purity is the essential quality as adulterated food or drink of any kind is hurtful even if only partaken of or imbibed in small quantities. Those in search of a pure article can do no better than call on Mr. Meerwaldt — the genial and gentlemanly proprietor of Young America. Large and flowing schooners are served at the bar of Young America in a most tempting manner. The establishment is most elegantly fitted up, the bar and fixtures being highly polished and nicely ornamented thus presenting a most attractive appearance. Mr. Meerwaldt has the reputation of being one of the most affable and courteous saloon men in the state and to many it is at all times a pleasure to drop into Young America if only for a few moments' chat.

D. G. HARVEY.

Dealer in Staple and Fancy Groceries—Between Albert and Vine Streets.

The staple and fancy grocery merchants have been an important factor in our mercantile growth, and among our leading houses most actively and extensively engaged in the grocery trade is that of Mr. G. D. Harvey, who keeps a complete line of choice staple and fancy groceries, the best grades of sugar, imported teas and coffees, syrups, molasses, canned goods, table delicacies, spices, creamery cheese, fresh eggs, Iowa fancy creamery butter, flour, feed, garden and orchard production and country produce generally. Apart from this immense stock Mr. Harvey carries a full stock of garden seeds, glassware, crockery, tinware and all kinds of smoking and chewing tobaccos and the finest brands of cigars, candies, etc. This establishment has become one of the best known and most extensively patronized in the Gate City, and Mr. Harvey's facilities are of a first-class character, enabling him to execute all orders in the the promptest manner coupled with the very lowest possible prices. He is widely known and highly esteemed. Goods delivered free of charge.

J. I. KIRSCHBERG & CO.

The Only Exclusive Boot and Shoes House in Town.

One of the leading business establishments of the town is the exclusive boot and shoe store of Messrs. J. I. Kirschberg & Co. This business was established by the elder Kirschberg, who later on resigned the business to his sons, Joseph I. and Julius I. These young men brought youth, vigor, keen business knowledge and unquestioned integrity into the undertaking, and have materially increased the large and profitable business to which they succeeded.

As competition is the life of trade to successfully met one's competitors, a business man must of necessity purchase his goods in the trade centers of the country. In this direction these gentlemen have decided advantage over their competitors, as they have not only established business connections with the leading wholesale boot and shoe manufacturers of San Francisco, but of New York and Boston as well, thus enabling them to purchase at first cost saving thereby no insignificant amount to their customers, but affording as well the opportunity to select from a large assortment, more complete and unbroken than is possible to obtain from Western houses. The citizens of Port Angeles have reason to be proud of the creditable and representative business house, and the sterling, active business management under which it is directed. It will be advantageous to intending purchasers to visit this establishment before making their selections elsewhere.

WILLIAM M'IVER.

Leading Blacksmith and Horseshoer—Laurel Street.

Mr. McIver makes a decided specialty of horseshoeing, not being excelled on this coast. Horses that have become lame from improper shoeing or natural diseases can be here set to rights and put in a fair way of becoming serviceable to their owners. Mr. McIver has had special instructions regarding the delicate anatomy of horse's feet, which is of paramount importance to him, as it is brought into action daily a specialty is made of horseshoeing horses afflicted with ulcers, corns, quarter cracks, contraction, over-reaching, interfering or forging and nothing but the best of shoes and nails are used, and as an expert horseshoer he stands to-day without a peer. This gentleman also attends to repairing buggies, road-carts, wagons and in fact conducts a general blacksmithing business. As might be expected, his trade is extensive, the uniform satisfaction rendered being the chief element contributing to the large measure of prosperity he now enjoys. Mr. McIver, the leading blacksmith, has through his honorable dealings gained the respect and confidence of his fellow citizens and the entire community.

PHIL A. DOLAN.

Real Estate Dealer—Secretary of the Washington Abstract Company.

In measuring a citys' prosperity it is only necessary to glance at the extent of her real estate transfers, and at the same time there is no more unerring index as to the certainty of her future development. Much of the material growth of the city and its environs in the past few years is, in a measure, due to the persistency with which this gentleman has advertised and shown up the superior advantages this city possesses Mr. Dolan makes a specialty of and controls some very fine acreage tracts, especially adapted to fruit culture, and he also offers for sale some of the very choicest city property. This gentleman knowing so many who have good acreage property for sale and who find it impossible to dispose of the same; parties desiring that class of property should certainly pay his office a visit. He also is prepared to make small advances on any property left in his hands at reasonable figures. This gentleman entertains no wildcat prices and for upright and square dealing his record is unquestioned. He is also secretary and treasurer of the Washington Abstract company with Thomas Penniman as manager. Mr. Penniman having thirty years experience in the business his books are kept accurate and neat, the same being a pleasure to look upon. Any business intrusted to this company will be promptly attended to and one can rest assured after a title is passed upon to be absolutely correct.

GEORGE E. FISHER.

The Model Proprietor of the "Old Crow" Saloon.

Fisher's "Old Crow" is one of the favorite resorts for all those who enjoy a quiet and social time in the northwest. George E. Fisher, the genial and gentlemanly proprietor, is a model host. He always gives his guests a good time. Mr. Fisher is one of those earnest and practical individuals who conducts everything in a businesslike manner, consequently to hold the patronage his popularity brings him, he always serves the best article money can buy. His liquors and cigars are of the best quality. If you want to spend an evening well, you cannot do better than to call at the quiet, orderly "Old Crow."

THE CITY HOTEL.

L. F. Person Proprietor—The Leading Hostlery in Our City.

A first-class, well conducted hotel always contributes to the growth and development of a city as well as to its citizen's comfort and happiness. Port Angeles, always in the fore rank in everything, is not outdone in this respect. The City hotel at the corner of Lincoln and Front streets, just opposite the new postoffice, is one of the best conducted hotels in the state of Washington. It is a neat three story building, well arranged with nicely furnished rooms and parlors. Mr. L. F. Person, the proprietor, always affable and agreeable, has made a special feature of the dining-room, where the best meals in the city are served by caterers and waiters of long experience. The sample-room is cosy and attractive and is always supplied with the best of wines, liquors and cigars. Mr. Person is his own importer. His whiskies are of the best Kentucky brand and purchased by him directly from the blue grass state. When you visit Port Angeles on business or pleasure you will not miss it by registering at this model hotel. Among the recent arrivals at the City hotel were:

A. A. Smith, City; W. H. H. Grant, Portland, C. C. Babcod, Seattle; D. McCroy, Portland, Or.; H. D, Left, San Francisco; R. G. Wallace, San Francisco; S. S. Carlisle, Seattle; W. G. Jack, Seattle; E. J. M. MARTIN.

Leading Dealer and Manufacturer of Sash, Door and Window Shades.

Most prominent among our leading business men stands J. M. Martin, Port Angeles' leading dealer in and manufacturer of doors blinds, sash, mouldings, etc., in addition to the above stock, he carries a full and complete line of window glass, putty and builders supplies in general. He also does a general jobbing business, and his ample premises are thoroughly equipped with all the tools and necessary material for manufacturing to order all kinds of office, bank and store fittings, church furniture of every description, sideboards, cupboards, kitchen equipments, etc. The work turned out by this gentleman is of a superior order, and every piece of furniture bears the traces of his skill and workmanship. It will be to the advantage of those who contemplate starting in business to give this gentleman a call and get estimates on all kinds of office and stores fixtures and fittings. All furniture is repaired so as to make it look equal to new after leaving the hands of this skilled workman. He is ever up to the times in everything pertaining to his business, and the public will find him a pleasant and agreeable gentleman to do business with. He also carries a full line of coffins, casket robes and everything connected with the undertaking department. All calls are promptly attended to day and night.

D. W. MORSE.

Hardware and Groceries—Corner Front and Lincoln Streets.

In making mention of successful houses in the various branches of wholesale and retail trades the success of which is not only beneficial to the parties immediately concerned, but has a wide influence, and tends greatly to advance the material interest and prosperity of the locality in which it is achieved. Among our most successful and extensive establishments there are none which possesses within themselves more push or energy, or whose record in the general merchandise has been more triumphant than the concern of Mr. M. D. Morse. His commodious salesrooms are amnog the largest and best stocked in this state, and comprise the best grades of syrups, foreign and domestic dried fruits, and canned luxuries, hermetically sealed goods in tin and glass, directly imported teas and coffees, aromatic spices, condiments, shelf goods, wooden and willow ware, hams bacon, lard and everything to suit the taste of the epicure. This gentleman also carries an immense stock of hardware and general merchandise, boots and shoes, clothing, hats and caps, and he has also the exclusive sale of the celebrated "patent Gussett shoes" in Port Angeles. The stock in this establishment is large and of the very best quality, at prices that cannot be touched elsewhere. During the many years Mr. Morse has been doing business in this city his efforts to please the public and trade generally have secured for him the confidence and esteem of his fellow citizens throughout this section of the country. Mr. Morse is also Vice President ane one of the Directors of the Port Angeles First National Bank, where his solid worth as a financier is highly appreciated.

JOHNSON & BORK.

House, Sign and Decorative Painters—Call and See Them.

A visit by our representative to the large and spacious establishment occupied by Messrs. Johnson & Bork, Front street, finds it carrying the largest stock of wall paper, and paints in Clallam county. The immense stock comprises the very latest designs in wall paper, which is selected by the proprietors, gentlemen of thorough artistic taste and superb judgment, thus enabling them to fill the growing demands of their extended trade. In addition to the rich and handsome designs in wall paper, exquisite ceiling decorations, freizes, etc., Messrs. Johnson & Bork handle a complete stock of paints, oils, varnishes, brushes, ready mixed paints and painters' supplies in general. These gentlemen are also prepared to take orders in any part of Clallam county for artistic sign writing, house and fine interior painting, marbling, graining, frescoing, decorating and artistic paper hanging, and in their particular line the DEMOCRAT has no hesitancy in stating that they certainly excel and stand without peers in the northwest and deserve the patronage of all who like good work coupled with moderate charges.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK.

Paid up Capital $50,000 W. W. Gray President.

Probably no banking house in Washington enjoys a wider measure of confidence and good will among the people at large and in the immediate vicinity than does the First National Bank of Port Angeles. This flourishing financial institution is controlled by a body of men whose names are synonimous with integrity, honesty, financial skill and foresight. Mr. W. W. Gray is president; D. W. Morse, vice-president C. P. Brown, cashier. The directors are F. M. Morse, W. W. Gray, David Gilmore, Lewis Levy and Frank Chambers. These gentlemen are widely known and highly esteemed, and enjoy an enviable measure of popularity, trust and patronage. This is the only National Bank organized in the county; they do a general banking buisness, collections made and money loaned on personal security and improved real estate on most favorable terms, and the highest rate of interest allowed on all time deposits. The business of patrons is carefully guarded and faithfully attended to. The bank also buys and sells exchanges on all points in the United States, Europe and Hong Kong.

The standing and reputation of the First National bank of Port Angeles ensures for it at all times a generous share of the public patronage.

A NEW SHINGLE MILL.

Citizens of Port Angeles Organize a Mill Company.

Thomas Malony is working up a company to put in a shingle mill in connection with the old colony saw mill at this place.

The capital stock of the company is to be $50,000 divided into 2,000 shares and its objects "to purchase, sell, lease, erect, own and operate mills and factories; to purchase, sell, lease, construct, own and by steam, or other power, operate tramroads, railroad, and other ways and roads; to purchase and sell timber and logs; to manufacture, purchase and sell lumber, shingles, sash, doors and other wooden articles and to do all other things necessary or proper in and about the carrying on of the business herein mentioned."

If the promoters of this scheme are successful in raising the money required they will build an addition to the Colony sawmill and put in a shingle mill, having a capacity of 100,000 shingles per day. The estimated cost of this, besides what is invested in the sawmill, is $14,650. This includes cast for three miles of tramway, locamotive and six cars.

Mr. Malony has already made arrngements for the purchase of the necessary cedar timbers.

When completed this mill will give employment to at least forty men, and will add several hundred dollars per day to the income of Port Angeles. The citizens of Port Angeles should assist all that is possible in the advancement of this industry.

CLALLAM COUNTY.

Some of Its Natural Resources — The Grand Olympics.

There are few counties in the state of Washington whose resources are as varied and abundant as those which exist in Clallam and yet, their full measure and quality are unknown. save the agricultural and timber industries, all others are untried and undeveloped.

The farmers of Clallam have by no means used an experimental policy in conducting their farms, being contented with sowing year after year only such seed as precidents have proven could be raised successfully, and these crops always giving such large returns, that it has seemed to the farmer, folly to introduce a change, and so, for years the rich soil has produced the same crops.

Since the tide of immigration has commenced pouring into this country its new engeries and ideas some remarkable results have been obtained. Those who have lived twenty years or more on Puget Sound would think the idea ridiculous, of raising a crop of corn anywhere along this coast, believing the seasons too cold. Yet, a farmer in the Dungeness district raised a small patch by way of experiment with results most gratifying, having had the satisfaction of measuring stalks which attained a height of ten feet, bearing three and four large, perfectly formed, and well-filled ears to the stalk.

The old settlers of the Quillayutte, and adjacent country while being impressed with the fertility of the soil and its general adaptability to hop culture, concluded that that section experienced too great a fall of rain for success with this crop, and with one accord, declined making a trial until a new idea in the shape of an experimenting farmer took up his abode among them and in three years made one of the best, and most productive hop ranches in the state. Others immediately followed his lead and today there are dozens of ranchmen putting in hops instead of the old crop of potatoes or hay.

There is no vegetable belonging to this latitude which yields not here an abundant crop, and with less labor in its cultivation than is met with in almost any known country.

Clallam county is known to have within its borders the very best body of timber in the state, with possibly a single exception, and yet, there are not over a dozen logging camps in operation from one end of the county to the other and only five saw mills. The capacity of these camps range from 300,000 to one million feet of timber per month each, and are cutting only the timber that is best in quality and most convenient to the beach, leaving as they are, finer bodies of fir, cedar, and spruce two and three miles back, than they have ever logged, for others who may come after them when the timber which now makes a fringe along the straits shall have been cut away. All forests north of the Olympian range can be logged from the beach, as the fall of surface is gradual and will require but a greater length of skidway.

Of the untried and undeveloped resources little can be said in strict regard for truth, and only those possibilities may be descanted upon, which are presented by indications of the most favorable. If one is interested in mining he can see specimens of ore taken from the Olympic mountains, which call up in the mind visions of wealth in comparison with which the Count of Monte Christo would be pauper. The mineral contained in the specimens is not only copper, galena and iron, but silver and gold specimens are too numerous to mention the localities from which they were taken.

From recent explorations made in the Olympic mountains, it is conceded in every report, that the baser metals evist in those mounains in inexhaustable quantities, and that this peninsula is underlayed with immense coal measures is a fact admitted not only by the spectacled geologist but by the harder working, and better English speaking prospector who has found coal cropping out of the ledges, but who lacks the money for development. There are many places along the coast from Dungeness to Cape Flattery where favorable indications of oil exist, which if found in Pennsylvania or West Virginia would command an unlimited amount of capital for its development.

There is certainly no locality in Washington which can compare with Clallam in the inducements extended to capital for investment; to the farmer, to the logger, the saw mill man, or the prospector. The The field for the latter existing in all its virgin purity, and the others almost in like condition.

For years to come, the Olympic mountains will be an attraction to the hunter and the tourist which cannot be resisted, and for which public appreciation will grow and grow as its resources and grandeur become more generally known. This is a country where the beauties of nature, undefiled by any art of man, or indication of his existence upon the earth, may be seen, and it is the only section of Uncle Sam's domain—Alaska excepted—of which the above assertion may made with truth. Here exists game whose quiet browsing has never been interrupted by the hunter's rifle, who have never yet made the acquaintance of its most relentless foe. The sportsman can imagine no field so like unto that which he would call his paradise as the Olympic mountains, and Port Angeles is the gateway to the Olympics.

THE STATE OF WASHINGTON.

A Glowing Eulogy by a Conservative New York Weekly.

The New York Independent of a recent date contained the following editorial article upon the state of Washington:

No one of our newer states has better prospects before it than the state of Washington. Having exceptional geographical and physical advantages it is only a question of time when it will become a leading state, sustaining a large population who will find easy support from the diversified industries sure to be established and prosperous. An eastern reader cannot easily know what Puget Sound means as a commercial force in the business of Washington. This inland sea has a shore line of 1900 miles with deep tidewater almost everywhere up to the very shores, so that the largest ships have ocean access to a great land-locked harbor, for that is what Puget Sound really is. The cities on its shores have now an important see commerce which will gradually extend with the growth of the inland country tributary to them, until it covers all Pacific trade, favored as Puget Sound is by the trade winds of that ocean. Already the ship rates for wheat from Sound ports to Europe are but a quarter of the charges prevailing a few years ago. The grain growers of Washington are thus now as near to the great market of Liverpool as are those of the Eastern States.

Not only is Puget Sound beautiful for situation, but nature has given it other great advantages. The timber along its shores is one of the finest forest sections known, embracing 20,000,000 acres of cedar and other valuable woods, besides trees especially adapted for shipbuilding, while hemlock will some day support a large tanning industry, Just back from the Sound lies great mineral wealth. The most important deposit of coal on the Pacific coast is here; the city of San Francisco depends largely upon this coal. Iron is here also, though not yet utilized; but before long iron manufacturers will have plants in Washington. The choicest hop fields of the world lie near the Sound, whose product is conceded to be the equal of any, and superior to most of the older hop grounds, and which finds a market largely in Europe. The fishing industry, though not so important, yet, having just begun, will in time increase greatly. Salmon, cod and halibut are plenty. It has just become demonstrated that the pecular and moist climate of Western Washington (between the Cascade mountains and the Pacific) is most avorable to fine fruits. The Nothern Pacific has announced its intention to distribute this fine fruit as far east as the production will allow, extending the same with the extension of the gardening. The fruits are equal to those of Southern California.

The Cascade Mountains divide the state into two parts with very different characteristics, yet both are favorable in their respective lines. The Columbia river, tracing it back from the ocean, turns northward and bend again so as to include as its valley, a large tract of Eastern Washington which was once an inland sea and which has a rich alluvial soil. Besides this bottom land are millions of acres of grain-producing farms, whose productiveness can be studied in the statements of average crops made by the United States department of agriculture, where Washington exceeds the average number of bushels per acre by 50 and sometimes 100 per cent. There are also in this state great areas of desert plains, destitute of vegetation, but of such a soil that by irrigation it becomes even more fertile than land now cultivated. The substantiated stories of productiveness of these desert lands, when watered, read like fairy tales. Fortunately water is plenty in rivers and mountain streams, so that capital will surely undertake the rescue of lands where large profits are assured.

The cities of Washington show a very great growth. Tacoma, Seattle, Whatcom, Anacortes, Port Angeles and other towns in Western Washington, with Spokane and other similarly situated smaller places in the eastern part of the State, are all flourishing cities whose appearance gives the traveler the impression of stability and progress, because built upon the geographical and physical advantages of their state and assured future. The Baring collapse in London checked for a time the rapidity of the growth of the industries and wealth of Washington; for a curtailment of credits in the money capital of the Old World would naturally effect new enterprises first—and Washington is a new state. Yet it is equally true that such new enterprises are first to recover. This is particlarly so in Washington, whose future greatness and wealth is apparent to the superficial observer. It is, of course, absurd to refuse investments in Washington because the Argentine Republic is in financial straits, yet for a time that was the effect of the South America trouble upon the British mind, affecting the investment of capital throughout the United States. Even this queer and curious working of the laws of opinion has one good side, in that it enables those who know what they are doing to invest their money in great enterprises at great profit, before the tide turns and all values again advance.

From Forks.

FORKS, Wash., June 4—[Special]—Mr. J. E. Crawford sometime ago received his commission as postmaster. Mr. J. P. Austin also received his commission as postmaster and the office has accordingly been moved from Shuwah to Austin's Crossing; people in the Shuwah country now get their mail at Solduck, as the new office is called.

The site for the new bridge across the Colour has been selected, it will be about south of the Solduck bridge which is now building.

Mr. Peter Nelson, of this place, has returned from a trip to Angeles, where he went to consult a physician. During his stay in Angeles Mr. Nelson was the guest of the Democrat club and received such courtesies at the hands of its members that he feels constrained to publicly acknowledge them; such has been the case with every visitor from this part of the country; the club is doing much to advertise Angeles as a hospitable place, long may it flourish.

The weather has not been favorable for outdoor work for the past two weeks, but the hops are growing rapidly.

There is a total area of fifty acres in hops on this prairie at the present writing and ground broken up for more; expect to see this acreage doubled within the year.

Political matters are very quiet. nothing doing yet.

Mrs. Ingard Nelson, widow of the late O. P. Nelson, has gone to Angeles to attend to probate matters in the estate of her husband.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

IN THE Superior conrt of the State of Washington, for the county of Clallam.

PORT ANGELES.

A casual glance at the columns of THE DEMOCRAT to-day will at once impress upon the reader that Port Angeles is a city, not only of present importance, but of bright and brilliant prospects.

But little over a yearling, in age, it has already gained a position that other ambitious cities have failed to achieve, though a decade of earnest and fruitful strife has been spent in the attempt. Port Angeles has more advantages than most cities of twice its size.

Its streets are either well graded or are rapidly being graded. It has, and controls itself, one of the best electric light plants in the northwest, giving the city a well lighted appearance.

It is well supplied with water. Besides the numerous streams that run through the city, the Port Angeles Water company, under the able management of C. E. Mallette, owns a water system that gives the city a good service. It has a sufficient head to force water to the top of a six story building.

Port Angeles has a fire company well organized and ably managed by Chief C. F. Merritt.

Nearly all the secret and benevolent societies have good organizations at this place. The Masons, Odd Fellows, Knights of Pythias, Red Men, G. A. R., Sons of Veterans, Women's Relief Corps, Carpenter's Union, Calidonian Club, and Good Templars are represented with active lodges.

The public schools are in good healthy condition and engage the attention of nine teachers. Five churches are represented, the Congregationalists, Catholics, Baptists, Methodists and Episcopalians. None need hunger for the truth or want of a place to worship.

Numerous social organizations assist to keep social life in the city.

A careful perusal of the columns of this paper this week will give the reader an idea of the quantity and quality of Port Angeles business men.

Port Angeles is fortunate, indeed, in having for citizens an active, earnest and progressive people. They are a people who can grasp a situation and make the most of it. They are intelligent and wide awake.

Port Angeles lacks but one thing yet necessary before she can take the position in the world which nature intended she should occupy—capital to work her raw material, to connect her by rail with the great east, to establish factories and canneries, to start ship yards and dry docks. A golden opportunity offers to those who first apply in any of these lines.

Connected with the inland sections of our great country, Port Angeles, with her matchless harbor, beautiful site, her unlimited resources, will at once assume her proper station, as the leading city of the northwest.

CLALLAM COUNTY.

Considerable space in THE DEMOCRAT this week is devoted to Clallam county. Much more could be given and many of the wonderous advantages and resouces of this great county go untold.

Clallam County has kept abreast of the advancement of this great northwestern state of ours during the last few years.

The population of Clallam county as returned in 1889 was 1664, in 1890 this had increased to 2771, at the last election 1033 votes were polled, thus indicating a population of nearly 5000. The increase since then has been steady. Two years ago only one manufacturing industry of importance was situate within our borders — the Puget Sound Co operative Colony saw mill. There are now sáw mills at Dungeness, Wenomah, Port Crescent and Clallam Bay. Clallam Bay has also an extract works, for the purpose of removing the extract from Hemlock bark for tanning purposes. Wenomah, also, has a large shingle mill with an output of 100,000 shingles per day.

Two years ago Port Angeles was the only town in this great county of any importance and it was but a straggling village of less than 1000 population. Now, Port Angeles has grown to a thriving city of at least 3500 people, and the town of Clallam Bay in the neighborhood of 500 people, and a busy population it is. Dungeness, as a town, has but just commenced. Many are the proposed institutions for that place, some, at least, of which will shortly be running full blast.

The assessed valuation of this county in two years has increased from little over two million dollars to over four millions.

The people all over the county are active and energetic. School houses are being built, roads made and post offices established in every quarter of our great and growing county.

All that is needed to apply the torch to Clallam's latent resources, that this county might at once spring into prominence as the richest portion of the richest state in our great union, is connections with the iron horse.

Then may we look to see these great forests, these rich alluvial bottoms, these magnificent leads of ore, these teeming myriads of fishes, giving employment to thousands upon thousands of American bread earners, reflecting in the diamond-studded canopy of heaven, the countless millions of their wealth.

FOR ridiculousness it is always safe to risk your money on the Tribune. That paper says:

"If the Democrats really desire to get on the right side of one question, and to perform a popular act, let them follow the Republican policy in dealing with the sugar duties. Why not bring in a bill to repeal the duties on refined sugar?"

This is funny. And the funniest part of it is that it was evidently not meant as a joke; but was written in all seriousness. Just as if the present tariff on sugar was not itself the result of the Republican policy. It is purely and simply the Republican trust "protecting" tariff that the Tribune attacks. Just give the Democrats time, Mr. Tribune Hon. W. J. Bryan has already attacked this trust. The ways and means committee is already considering a bill, repealing not only the duty on refined sugar, but also repealing the sugar bounty.

GEORGE HAZZARD stirred up a veritable hornet's nest in the Democracy of Washington. Democrats think it hard enough to withstand Republican lies, but when one who pretends to be one of them turns to lying on the United Democracy, and proves himself treacherous besides, then they do draw the line, indeed. Hazzard evidently wishes he hadn't.

M. J. CARRIGAN'S Leader made its appearance as a Port Angeles paper Saturday. It is not necessary to say that the high standard of Mr. Carrigan's journalism is being ably maintained in his new field. THE DEMOCRAT extends its new neighbor a hearty welcome and good will.

THE Clallam Bay Republican has gone into eternal "pi," and well it might. The bright, newsy and reliable little Record, fills the Clallam Bay field in a manner satisfactory to all. It deserves all the patronage that a well edited newspaper always earns.

THE Republicans of Port Angeles are going to ratify any how. Most of them are for Blaine, but they don't care much, so long as the candidate is a Republican.

THE Port Crescent Leader with Harry E. Lutz as editor and manager has made its appearance. It has a bright and newsy appearance that foretells success.

R. C. Wilson of this city has purchased the plant of the defunct Clallam Bay Republican. It will be used at Dungeness.

THE Democrats of Washington have two duties to perform; to bury Hazzard, and to nominate Lewis.

TURN out, Democrats, and assist the Republicans at their ratification meeting to morrow night. They have done well. Their weakest man is named. Let us rejoice.

HARRISON ON THE FIRST

The Republicans Nominate Harrison on the First Ballot—Blaine Not In It.

The Republicans met in National Convention Tuesday last at Minneapolis. At once it was recognized that a fight to the bitter end was on between the Blaine and Harrison faction. This was intensified by the resignation of Blaine as secretary of state a few days before the convention met.

J. Sloat Fassett was elected chairman pro-tem and Governor McKinley was chosen permanent president of the convention.

The fight for the nomination is still progressing. Delays have been made, and it was not until today that the candidates were placed in nomination. Senator Walcott placed Blaine in nomination and Harrison was nominated by Richard Thompson. Dispatches at noon today state that there is no possible doubt of Harrison's nomination.

LATER

Harrison was nominated on the first ballot. The Blaine men tried to make a stampede for McKinley but failed.

LOCAL PARAGRAPHS.

The council met Wednesday and audited a few bills, and approved the bond submitted by THE DEMOCRAT Publishing Co. as city printers.

The establishment of the shingle mill means employment for a large number of men, and a good sized payroll, which means general prosperity. You should generously aid any proposition of this nature.

Every patriotic citizen should encourage the shingle mill enterprise.

The Angeles Club will give a dance at the Opera house to-night.

The steamer Garland is taxed to her utmost capacity to accommodate passengers and freight traffic on this route. This route certainly deserves better service.

These waters are teeming with salmon, which indicates the June run of that excellent food fish has fairly begun.

The Clallam Bay Republican has suspended after a short and eventful career.

Interest in taking up lots on the Government Reservation continues unabated.

The initial number of the Port Crescent Leader, has made its appearance. It is a six-column patent outside folio. In typographical appearance it is in many respects fac-simile of the late Leader published at that point and recently removed to this city. Its editor and manager Mr. Harry E. Lutz, evinces unmistakable evidence of force and journalistic ability. The Leader will doubtless serve its purpose and materially aid in the developement of the lower Clallam region.

The withdrawal of the steamer Hermosa is sincerely to be regretted by the traveling public. While her schedule was very inconveniently arranged, the accommodations and the appointments of the steamer were excellent.

What will result in financial advantage to the settlers on the reservation is the fact that they will be able to prove up on their lots either before County Clerk Clark or U. S. Court Commissioner W. R. Gay. The fact of this wise provision having been made will doubtless be appreciated by the squatters.

The establishment of one industry paves way for another, and the first step taken in that direction will certainly result materially in advancing the manufaturing interests of Port Angeles.

There will be a social dance at the Squatters' hall Thursday.

The Mastick building is being renovated throughout by the new owners. A window has been put in the show-room fronting on Laurel street.

Joseph Bolton of Gettysburgh, was a guest of the Democrat Club of this city this week.

J. M. Metzgar, is visiting this city and renewing old acquaintances.

A Reward.

A reward of twenty-five dollars ($25) will be paid by the Democratic Central Club, for the apprehension and conviction of the party or parties, who set fire to the Republican wood pile on the night of the 9th inst.

A Reception.

The squatters met at their hall last night and appointed a committee to make arrangements for a reception to be given Mayor Smith and Col. Coolican on the arrival in this city. The following were appointed a committee to take charge of the matter: Perry Willey, John Henson, Wm. Sterritt, Otto Zimmerman, Henry Gencke, Wm. Smith, Geo. Jackson, H. J. McGregor, Chas. R. Brewster, C. D. Ulmer, Mr. VanLehn, W. L. Ketchum, Jas. D. Fenn and Louis Williams.

Saved By Democrats!

Some miscreant set fire to the large pile of cord wood on Second street last night, which had been secured for an immense bonfire at the Republican ratification, that will be held as soon as the presidential nomination shall have been determined.

Democrats have been accused with the mischief, the untruthfulness, however, of which ill-founded accusation is most unquestionably verified when the fact is known that the Republicans owe it to the Democrats that the entire pile of wood was not consumed by fire.

An Imported Tarantula.

An imported tarantula is the latest novelty at Vasilato's fruit store. This poisonous insect arrived here in a bunch of bananas from Honolula in an excellent state of preservation. When discovered Wednesday morning it was clinging tenaciously to an egg, in a nest which was concealed from view next to the stalk of the bananas. Mr. Vasilatos was engaged in removing some of the loose husks from the bunch of bananas when Mrs. Vasilatos, who was standing near by, espied the venomous insect, and quickly warned her husband of the danger, which doubtless saved him from a sting from the deadly tarantula. The tarantula was caught and secured in a glass jar and was observed by hundreds of curious observers during the day.

They All Love Him.

The tremendous applause which greeted Colonel Lewis at Vancouver shows plainly what a warm spot he has in the hearts of the people of the whole state. A ticket headed, 'For Governor: James Hamilton Lewis,' would go a long way toward securing a victory next fall."—Waterville Democrat.

Sheriff and Mrs. Gould at Home.

Sheriff and Mrs. W B. Gould entertained a number of their friends at their attractive and commodious resident on Caroline street last night.

Dancing and cards was the program for the evening. The carpet was removed from the floor of their large double parlors, and the floor and music excellent. A nice luncheon was served at midnight, after which the guests departed, feeling that Mr. and Mrs. Gould were, indeed, royal entertainers.

Those personally responding were:

Misses Stewart, Lewis, Voldo, Ferguson, Crockett, Nailor, and Shields, Messrs. Horace White, W. W. Dedman, J. Langdon Bell, John Brown, Jr., Harry Holden, B. T. Smith, F. G. Jones, Andrew Cosser, and J. W. Troy.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

In the Superior court of State of Washington for the county of Clallam:

Alonzo U. Davis, Plaintiff,
vs. No. 221.
Nathaniel Tudor, Fanny Tudor and William Payne, Defendants.
Cyrus F. Clapp, Intervenor,

Under and by virtue of a decree of judgment rendered in favor of plaintiff and intervenor, and an order of sale issued out of the above named court, in the above entitled cause, and to me directed and delivered, I have duly leveid upon as the property of the said defendant, the following described real estate, situate in the county of Clallam and State of Washington, described as follows, to-wit:

The north half of the southwest quarter and the west half of the northwest quarter of section fifteen (15), township thirty (30), north of range four [4] west, containing 160 acres more or less.

Together with all and singular the tenements, appurtenances and hereditaments thereunto belonging or in anyway appurtaining: Therefore notice is hereby given, that on Saturday the 25th day of June, 1892, at the hour of 10 o'clock in the forenoon of said day, at the north front door of the court house in the city of Port Angeles, Washington. I will sell the above described property, or so much thereof as maybe necessary to satisfy the judgment in said case, with interest, cost and attorney's fees as stated in said execution, at public auction for cash, to the highest bidder.

Dated the 24th day of May, 1892.

In the Justice court of Port Angeles, Precinct No. 1. W. E. Burnside, Justice of the Peace.

To W. J. S. Lawson:

In the name of the State of Washington, you are hereby notified that The Puget Sound Co-Operative Colony has filed a complaint against you in said court, which will come on to be heard at my office in Port Angeles in Clallam county, State of Washington, on the 25th day of June, 1892, at the hour of 10 o'clock, a. m., and then and there answer, or the same will be taken as confessed, and the demand of the plaintiff granted. The object and demand of said complaint is that you are indebted to plaintiff in the sum of $27.25 for merchandise and lumber, sold and delivered, and the further sum of $8 for rent.

Therefore plaintiff demands judgment against you for $35.25 and costs.

Complaint filed May 23, 1892.

Summons for Publication.

IN the Superior Court of Clallam county. State of Washington.

Emma E. Barthrop, Plaintiff
vs.
William G. Tucker, George W. Palmer, The Puget Sound Co-Operative Colony, T. J. Nolton, E. C. Adams and A. H. Adams, partners as Nolton & Adams Hardware Co., and August Albert Mitchell, Defendants.

The State of Washington to the above named defendants: William G. Tucker and George W. Palmer.

You are hereby notified that Emma E. Barthrop, plaintiff, has filed a complaint against you in the Superior Court of the State of Washington, for the County of Clallam, holding terms at Port Angeles, which will come on to be heard sixty days after the first publication of this Summons, to-wit: Sixty days after the 27th day of May, A. D., 1892, and you are required to appear and answer said complaint within sixty days from said 27th day of May, 1892, and unless you so appear and answer the same on or before the 26th day of July, 1892, the same will be taken as confessed and the plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief demanded in said complaint, and the same will be granted.

The nature and object of the action is to recover judgment against the said George W. Palmer for the sum of $622.77, being the balance due on materials sold and delivered to said Palmer by the DeLion Barthrop Company, and used by said Palmer in the construction of the building known as the City Hotel, situated upon lands described as follows to-wit: A portion of lots numbered four, five and six, in block numbered sixteen of Norman R. Smith's subdivision of the townsite of Port Angeles, more particularly described as commencing at a point 155 feet east of the northwest corner of suburban lot number one of the townsite of Port Angeles, said point being on the south line of Front street in the city of Port Angeles, and thence running easterly along the south line of said Front street 150 feet; thence southerly at right angles to said south line of Front street 160 feet; thence westerly parallel to said south line of Front street 150 feet, and thence northerly to the place of beginning, situate in Clallam county State of Washington, which sidingsaid was so constructed by said Palmer for said defendant William G. Tucker, the owner of said lands, under a contract with said Tucker therefore, and to foreclose a certain lien perfected by said DeLion Barthrop company upon said premises for the said balance so due on said materials, by filing for record with the County Auditor of said Clallam county, on the 25th day of July, 1891, being less than ninety days after the last of said materials was so furnished, a claim and notice of lien upon said premises for said balance so due for said materials, which said claim and notice of lien are now of record at page 126 of volume 1 of the records of liens in the office of said county auditor of said Clallam county, and which said claim and lien and all the right and interest of the said The DeLion Barthrop company have been duly assigned to plaintiff.

Plaintiff prays that said lien may be foreclosed; that said premises may be sold and that from the proceeds thereof there be paid to her the said sum of $622.77, together with $1.60, the cost of recording said notice of lien, $60 as and for attorney's fees in this action, and her costs and disbursements in said action.

Witness my hand and the Seal of said Superior court, affixed this 20th day of May, A. D. 1892. { SEAL }

Road Notice.

To James R. Dickinson:

Take notice that at the session o the board of county commissioners of Clallam county, Washington, commencing on the 2d day of May, 1892, the undersigned and others presented to said board their petition praying for the laying out and establishment of a county road as follows: Commencing at the northeast corner of the New Dungeness public cemetery, in the county road at that point, and running thence east sixteen rods and thence southwest to the north boundary line of the Barrows Donation claim, the whole of said proposed road lying in the southeast quarter o section 35 in township 31, north of range 4 west, in said Clallam county, and within lands owned by you, and the whole length of said proposed road being about 38 rods:

That on the third day of May, 1892, said board, upon the hearing of said petition, duly made an order appointing Thomas Clark, Andrew Abernethy and Joseph Henderson, viewers to view said road, and Warriner Smith surveyor to survey the same and specified in said order a time and place of meeting of said viewers and surveyor.

That said viewers and surveyor will meet at the house of the undersigned near New Dungeness in said county at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, on Monday the 13th day of June, 1892, as specified in said order, and then proceed to view and survey said road.

That claims for compensation or damages on account of the laying out of said road must be presented to the said viewers at or before the said meeting.

Dated this 9th day of May, 1892.

STATE OF WASHINGTON. } ss. Cause, No. 261.
CLALLAM COUNTY.

Charles St. John, Plaintiff,
vs.
Emma St. John, Defendant

The State of Washington to the above named Defendant.

You are hereby notified that Charles St. John, plaintiff, has filed a complaint against you in the Superior court of the State of Washington for the county of Clallam, holding terms at Port Angeles, which will come on to be heard sixty days after the first publication of this summons, to wit; sixty days after the eighth day of April, 1892, and unless you appear and answer the same on or before the 10th day of June, 1892, the same will be taken as confessed and the plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief demanded in the complaint herein.

The object and nature of said action is for a divorce from the said defendent and a complete dissolution of the marriage now and heretofore existing between the plaintiff and defendant on the ground of desertion and abandonment by the defendant of the plaintiff without cause more than one year before the commencement of this action.

Plaintiff prays for general relief and the custody of two minor children.

Witness my hand and the seal of said Superior court, affixed this 7th day of April, A. D. 1892. { SEAL }
