4 dead in OAS fight

ALGIERS (AP)—Four Moslems were slain and five wounded today in a new upsurge of terror by European Secret Army Organization gunmen.

The Secret Army organization is known as the OAS.

The shootings followed a night of plastic bombings, in which six persons were injured and heavy property damage was caused.

Today's terrorism began with shooting of a Moslem. Then a car sped by a group of Moslem passers-by in the suburb of Maison Carree and three were slain by gun fire. A few minutes later another carload of gunmen opened fire on a group of Moslem workers, wounding five, four seriously.

MORTAR SHELLS

Thursday night 10 mortar shells exploded in the vast gardens of the Palais D'Ete, former residence of French administrators in Algeria. No one was injured.

The violence during the night was directed mainly at Moslems. Five were wounded in an attack on a Moslem housing development. Railway switches were blasted near a suburban station and other charges burst in a downtown intersection.

Government officials disclosed that most of the secret army commandos escaped with their arms last week before barricades were thrown around the working-class suburb of Bab el Oued.

The secret army stronghold in Algeria had been sealed off by 20,000 troops for six days while soldiers searched for suspected terrorists and arms.

HARD CORE

A hard core of right-wing fanatics from the suburb—an estimated 500 to 600 armed men—is believed still in hiding in the capital.

Under strict security precautions, Abderrahmane Fares, Algerian president of the new provincial executive regime flew from Paris in a French military plane.

Fares heads the Algerian-dominated 12-man board that will run the North African territory under the French commissioner until the vote for independence is held.

Road is clear

The Heart o' the Hills National Park road to the Hurricane Ridge ski area opens for traffic Saturday morning and remains open until late Sunday afternoon. All facilities in the area will be operating. As of this forenoon the road is clear of snow and ice. the area has 129 inches of wet snow as compared to 136 inches Thursday. Temperature this forenoon was 41 degrees.

SURPRISE FLIGHT

LONDON (AP)—Soviet spaceman Yuri Gagarin said today that the next Soviet space flight will surprise the world.

Moscow Radio said Gagarin told a conference of Komsomol, the young Communist league, Soviet cosmic flights for the future will be strictly scientific and "the whole world will be surprised and will again warmly applaud the achievements of the Soviet people."

WORSE THAN SEATTLE

WASHINGTON (AP) — If you think you have a tough landlord, consider the plight of the State Department in Romania.

Without advance notice, its rents on legation offices and residences in Bucharest were hiked as high as 700 per cent last Jan. 1, the average being about 300 per cent.

Seen around the clock

Painters busy brightening-up Olympic State Bank — Swallows swooping and diving over Lake Dawn up at Heart o' the Hills this morning — City crews again excavating the sidewalk area at Front and Laurel — Cranes, trucks, workmen swarming all over the southwest corner of 1st and Race Sts. on site of recently moved apartment house — Seagulls fighting over perch on top of power pole — More Centennial hats beginning to show up around Port Angeles.

Dean objects
Must have blueprint

By PATRICK MASSEY

GENEVA (AP) —The United States objected today in the 17-nation disarmament conference—which is still far from an accord on fundamental issues—to Soviet efforts to steam-roller a Soviet draft treaty through to adopion.

"You can't build a house before you've drawn up a blueprint," U.S. Ambassador Arthur H. Dean told the gathering.

Dean said it is useless to discuss proposals for a treaty line by line until at least some measure of agreement has been reached on the real issues of disarmament.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin contended that the draft forms a satisfactory basis for discussion of those issues.

Indian and Brazilian delegations urged that Dean and Zorin, as conference cochairmen, get together to try to agree how the discussion should proceed.

Dean maintained that no form of treaty can be discussed before an understanding has been achieved on several important aspects.

Examples, he said, are the problem of eliminating nuclear stockpiles, elimination of nuclear delivery vericles, measures of inspection and verification that disarmament rules are being obeyed, and the shape of a future international disarmament organization.

The Soviet draft calls for complete disarmament within four years. The West does not accept this time limit and demands a detailed understanding on each step in the process.

Gouge is on

SEATTLE (AP) — Hundreds of Seattle residents have been complaining to the City Council, demanding action against increased rent, evictions and mounting prices brought on by the coming World's Fair.

But the city can't do anything about it.

"There's nothing we can do legally," Floyd C. Miller, president-elect of the council, said Thursday.

He said the city has no authority to control rent or prices without obtaining enabling legislation from the legislature.

A new organization, called the Seattle Renter Association and headed by Frederick J. Jenkins, an apartment dweller, is trying to take care of that problem.

350 MEMBERS

The 350 members of the association are circulating petitions demanding that Gov. Rosellini call a special session of the legislature "for the purpose of controlling prices, evictions, and prevent further gouging during the World's Fair."

The petition says the evictions and rent increases "are creating a state of emergency."

There were some evictions during a short time the council permitted apartment house operators to convert to hotel-hotel type operations. That permission was quickly withdrawn after complaints started.

A situation still exists, however, under which hotels can switch from a monthly to a daily rate basis, and it has led to some changes from monthly rates of $60 to $95 to daily rates of $10. Miller said in some places which catered to older persons, big rate increases have forced them to move.

CAN'T FORCE

Expo-Lodging, the housing division for the fair, has pleaded to hotel and motel operators to hold prices down, but it cannot force them to.

Miller said, "Everyone has condemned the situation. It is hurting the whole city. I think some of these people could sit tight and take it to court."

PUBLIC RECORD

WASHINGTON (AP) — Except for two items listed as "undisclosed materials," the cost, value and quantity of each of 76 materials in the nation's $7.7-billion strategic stockpile were a matter of public record today.

Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., removed the secret labels from 62 war-essential materials Wednesday at a hearing of his Armed Services subcommittee on stockpiling, which is investigating the costly hoard by request of President Kennedy. A dozen materials were declassified last week.

Trans-Atlantic tele-casts to start this spring

NEW YORK (AP)—The first live television broadcasts across the Atlantic Ocean are scheduled this spring for viewers in the United States and Europe, The New York Times says.

Programs of 10 to 20 minutes will be exchanged by means of a communications satellite, the Telstar scheduled for launching in late May or June.

The Telstar, financed by the American Telephone & Telegraph Co., will be put aloft in cooperation with the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

The programs are expected to consist of live scenes of landmarks on both continents.

Members of the European Broadcasting Union, embracing television systtms throughout Europe, will meet next Thursday in Seville, Spain, to work out their part in the exchange, it was said.

SYSTEM LINK

The union normally has a technical working relationship with Intervision, which consists of television systems in the Soviet Union and Communist-bloc nations.

These systems can be linked to Eurovision, a European network, but whether the Soviet Union would have a direct voice in the transatlantic exchange was not known.

Edward R. Murrow, director of the United States Information Agency, discussed the television satellite program recently with representatives of American Broadcasting Co., Columbia Broadcasting System and National Broadcasting Co.

The networks have named a committee to cooperate with Murrow and will be represented at the Seville meeting.

When Telstar is orbiting over the Atlantic, television signals will be sent to the satellite from the Bell System's station at Andover, Maine.

TELSTAR

Telsar will forward the signals to the British post office installation at Goonhillydowns in Cornwall. The British broadcasting system will relay the signals to European homes.

The circuit will be reversed for the sending of European images from Europe to the United States.

Still to be worked out are such questions as whether the pictures will be ransmitted on European or United States prime evening time. There will be a six hour time difference in June between New York and London.

NO CREDIT

PORTLAND (AP) — A U.S. District Court jury convicted Harvy Barack, Seattle, Thursday on a charge of forging credit card slips.

Barack was charged with forging the credit cards for some $285 worth of merchandise and services in the Portland area last year.

He was turned over to the U.S. Marshal pending a pre-sentence investigation.

Tot rescued after night on bank of Niagara

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (AP)—A 3-year-old girl was rescued today after 11 hours on a rocky ledge to which she had fallen while playing on the bank of the lower Niagara River.

April Hubbard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hubbard, was cold and hungry but apparently suffered only scratches and bruises in the 75-foot fall. She landed in a bush.

The child fell to the ledge Thursday afternoon while playing with three other children. The search for her began when the children returned home without her, but the tots were too young to give police accurate information of April's whereabouts.

The search was called off after night fell but about midnight a policeman, Russell Sanderson, and three others decided to resume it. They saw the child in the bush and brought her to the top of the river gorge in a fire department rescue basket about 3:15 a.m.

Richard Goram, one of her rescuers, gave her a sandwich soon after she was pulled out. Taken to a hospital for observation, she was soon busy eating a second sandwich.

Dairy support at minimum

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman cut dairy price supports today to the minimum level permitted by law. This could mean price cuts for consumers of dairy products but losses for dairymen.

Acting under what he said was a requirement of the farm price support program, the secretary set supports for milk sold for manufacturing purposes at $3.11 a hundred pounds or 75 per cent of the parity price goal of farm programs, effective April 1. The rate has been $3.40 or 83 per cent of parity.

Freeman also reduced supports for butterfat from 60.4 cents to 57.2 cents a pound, or from 83 to 75 per cent of parity.

The secretary, saying his action was painful to him, estimated the lower price props would cut dairy farmers' income between $200 and $250 million this year.

Freeman said he hoped that these reductions would be reflected in lower retail prices of dairy products such as butter, cheese, non-fat dry milk and eventually fluid milk.

In carrying out the support program, the Agriculture Department buys butter, cheese and non-fat dry milk at prices designed to enable processors to pay the support price for milk and butterfat.

The department's buying price of butter will be reduced 2.5 cents a pound, cheese, 1.9 cents a pound and non-fat dry milk 2 cents a pound.

Freeman said he hoped that the bulk of this reduction would be passed on to consumers.

Togetherness runs aground

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy has scuttled its plan to rank "togetherness"—a venture on the sea of matrimony that ran aground before leaving port.

The plan had been to rate officers and their wives as a team—did they measure up as effective "representatives of the Navy and the nation on foreign stations?"

It quickly ran into a volley of fire from wives and some congressmen. The Navy retreated to take another look at the plan.

Secretary of Navy Fred Korth tossed the idea overboard Thursday.

"I have concluded that the proposed report will not produce the information needed and may unnecessarily hurt the promotion chances of some officers who are exceptionally well qualified for sea and other duties not requiring special attention to the suitability of dependents for such assignments," he said.

NEW FISH AREAS

OLYMPIA (AP) — Possible acquisition of three new public fishing access areas will be discussed by the State Game Commission at its meeting here April 2-3.

Argentine president installed

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ

BUENOS AIRES, Argentine (AP)—Jose Maria Guido formally assumed the office of president today under the watchful eye and guiding hand of Argentina's military leaders—and amid a few shouts of "Viva Frondizi!"

The oath-taking ceremony was the second for the former Senate president.

The military chiefs were not happy that he took the oath before the Supreme Court Thursday without informing them. For a time it appeared some officers might not recognize the military's own first choice for a constitutional successor to Arturo Frondizi, deposed Thursday and flown to a prison island.

The second ceremony was decided upon after Guido was reported to have agreed to a set of military demands including outlawing of Peronistas, Communists and Castroites and placing all Argentina under federal control.

The president's office already was being used by the military to issue its communiques when Guido, staring solemnly through his hornrimmed glasses, went through the six-minute ceremony.

FEW PRESENT

Shouts for Frondizi were heard from a few persons present at the ceremony in the pink-walled palace.

The act of succession was first signed, with all ministers of Frondizi's last government also affixing their signatures. The military members of the Cabinet were the last to sign.

The act declared that, in view of the facts known by the public which have produced the vacancy of executive power, Guido had assumed the office.

The military signers were Gen. Raul Poggi of the army, who masterminded the bloodless coup which ended Frondizi's stormy rule; Brig. Cayo Antonio Alsina of the air force and Rear Adm. Agustin Penas of the navy.

For hours there was uncertainty and the prospect of a new crisis over whether Guido actually would become chief executive of this nervous nation, ridden by political and economic crisis, even though the military, in a communique, had finally announced that Guido would be installed at today's ceremony.

DEMANDS

Although the communique did not say so, it implied that Guido had agreed to six military demands for a virtual veto over his administration and sharp curbs on the Peronists, Communists and the labor unions.

Guido had been the military's original choice for the presidency, since as Senate president he was next in line of succession under the constitution. But for nine hours after the arrest of Frondizi, his close political ally, Guido balked at assuming the presidency as a figurehead for the military.

Then, apparently without bowing to the military's demands, Guido went before the Supreme Court and was sworn in as president. His sudden action touched off a wave of anger among the military.

The air ministry messaged all its bases that Guido had acted without the knowledge of the commanders in chief. Reports swept the capital that the miliary might forcibly vacate the presidency for the second time in 24 hours and completely take over the country.

Guido reportedly was called before the military chiefs to explain and told them he decided to act under pressure from his political party, Frondizi's Intransigent Radicals.

LONG CONFERENCES

Conferences continued late into the night. Guido, a picture of cool confidence, declared he expected to take office on schedule. He personally squelched rumors that Gen. Raul Poggi, army commander in chief and a leader of the bloodless coup that ended Frondizi's four-year regime, had taken over the presidency.

"At no moment did Gen. Poggi assume the presidency," Guido told reporters. "At no moment were there two presidents."

Peace was made at a conference that broke up after midnight.

Authoritative sources said the three armed service chiefs demanded that the new government, by April 15:

Outlaw all organized political activity by Peronist, Communist and Castroite forces. The Peronists' sweeping election victories March 18 touched off the crisis that finally brought Frondizi down. The military drove the Peronists underground after it ousted Dictator Juan D. Peron in 1955. It blamed Frondizi for allowing them to run again. Communists, banned for office themselves, threw their support to the Peronists March 18.

MILITARY COMMAND

GA L2 ARGENTINE BJT

Give the military command a veto over all cabinet appointments.

Purge the government ranks of all Peronist, Communist and "Frigerist" officials, the latter a reference to Frondizi's intimate adviser, multimillionaire Rogelio Frigero. Long a military target, Frigerio was accused of advising Frondizi to take a go-slow approach toward Fidel Castro's Cuban regime.

Take over the provincial government in all provinces to completely annul the March 18 election results. Frondizi, at the military's insistence, had ordered such a takeover in five provinces where the Peronists had scored victories but allowed Peronist election gains in five other provinces to stand.

Give assurances that Frondizi will not be given any function in the government.

Abrogate the country's present law covering the status of the nation's labor unions, many of them Peronist. The military has long claimed that laws adopted under Frondizi favored Peronist control of the unions. The military wants the closed shop—compulsory union membership—done away with.

PROTESTS

The military's demands, if implemented, were certain to draw angry and possibly violent protests from wide sectors of the population. Strong reaction was expected particularly from the Peronists, who drew more than 2.5 million votes—35 per cent of the total—in the March 18 election, and from the powerful General Confederation of Labor which has more than 3 million members.

Mass trial for Cuban invaders

By GEORGE ARFELD

HAVANA (AP)—Havana's three morning papers said today all of the more than 1,100 prisoners on trial for participating in the crushed Cuban invasion last April have admitted their guilt.

The press accounts said the president of the tribunal, Commander Augusto Martinez Sanchez, told the prisoners Thursday, the first day of the trial, they could state their case.

The paper Hoy said all admitted "having invaded their fatherland, having participated in an invasion prepared, organized, trained and financed by Yankee imperialists, and said they did not want to make any further declarations."

The press accounts said the prisoners faced a court tribunal whose members sat on long benches in a basketball court within a prison compound.

Western newsmen, barred from the trial, had been told it was being held in a courtroom.

The three Havana morning papers carried a long letter they said was a confession of Capt. Jose A. Perez San Roman, identified as a leader of the invasion forces. The letter said the invasion prisoners were naive and foolish if they thought they were coming ashore to save Cuba. The letter was dated May 10, 1961, and the papers said it was delivered to Prime Minister Fidel Castro the next day.

WU Choir to present concerts Sunday

The University Choir of Willamette University, Salem, Ore. will appear in concert in the high school auditorium Sunday at 3 p.m. On its annual tour, will be heard in cities of the Olympic Peninsula, Vancouver Island, mainland British Columbia and Washington. Sixty singers from the school's college of music and liberal arts make up the ensemble, directed by Don M. Gleckler, associate professor of music.

The program will be principally sacred selections including works by composers from the 17th and 18th century through contemporary writers. Adding variety will be soloists and a brass quartet.

The Sequim Ministerial Association is sponsoring the concert. The public is invited and a free-will offering will be taken.

WINS AWARD — Trudi Ann Gault, 11, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Gault of Sequim, has received an award "for work published on the contributor's page of Jack and Jill." Trudi, a fifth grader, wrote a letter about a fish farm near her home. Her contribution appeared in the April issue of the national magazine.

MISHAPS GAIN

CHICAGO (AP)— The National Safety Council reported Thursday that traffic mishaps claimed 2,440 lives in the United States in February, an increase of 7 per cent over February, 1961.

PTA to back parade; buy certificates

Celeste Kardonsky, Marie Budfoot and Kathy Baumunk of Mrs. Walter Kardonsky's Girl Scout Troop, led the flag salute at the Sequim PTA meeting March 21 in the multipurpose room. Mrs. Russell Adams gave the invocation.

Dr. Jay J. Sherman reported on recommendations of the legislative committee. Mrs. Leonard Gizinski announced approximately 500 were served at the PTA spaghetti dinner March 17 and was given a vote of thanks for her work as chairman.

The group voted to again sponsor the Kiddies Parade in the Irrigation Festival.

President Mrs. Donald Swanson suggested parents of seniors meet following the April PTA meeting to discuss plans for a senior party.

Mrs. Gizinski, Miss Lyda Rich and Mrs. John Cox were unanimously elected a nominating committee to present a double slate of officers to be voted on at the next meeting. Nominations will also be accepted from the floor.

Supt. M. C. Strauss announced spring vacation starts at 2 p.m. the Thursday before Good Friday and continues until Tuesday after Easter. He said if arrangements are made with school principals in advance, students will be excused to attend the World Fair in Seattle.

Principal Leonard Beil announced parent-teacher conferences will be held April 2 through April 5.

Mrs. Swanson announced April 13 is the date set for registration of kindergarten children and those starting in the first grade next year. Plans are being made for a registration program that afternoon.

Members voted to buy safety certificates to be presented to elementary students for learning safety rules.

Mrs. Dora Frick won the attendance prize.

NIXON ACCUSED

LOS ANGELES (AP) -- Gov. Edmund G. Brown says that Richard M. Nixon hopes "to double park outside the state capitol while he checks the road map to Washington."

Brown told a $100-a-plate Democratic fund-raising dinner Thursday night that the former vice president, now seeking the Republican gubernatorial nomination, wants to convert the governor's office "into Nixon-for-president national headquarter."

Soroptimists hold Tri-City dinner and program Monday

Soroptimist Clubs of Port Angeles, Port Townsend and Sequim held a tri-city meeting Monday night at Isa's Cafe.

A "South of the Border" theme was carried out with colorful Mexican handcraft used in decoration. Dining tables held mounds of fruit flanked by brass candelabra.

Aina Hubbard, vice-president of Sequim Soroptimists, welcomed the guests. Myrtle Walkling and Elizabeth Ammeter, presidents of the Port Angeles and Port Townsend clubs, presented their members.

Ethel Clark, first president of the Sequim club, presented a program, "Down Memory Lane" assisted by Ruby Hamilton, Marge Olts, Esther Wagner and Kay Stevens.

Sequim and Port Townsend clubs were organized 15 years ago by the Port Angeles club. Vera McDonald was introduced as a members who assisted with the initiation ceremonies in 1947.

A table held 15 candles and figurines representing the tri-city banquets of the past 15 years. Mrs. Clark read in rhyme the highlights of each meeting while a candle was lighted by one of her assistants in costume.

Helen Haller presented the second half of the program, giving a travelogue and showing color slides taken on a vacation trip to Central America.

IN PROGRAM—Esther Wagner in Centennial costume, took part in the candlelighting ceremony at the Soroptimist banquet.

Mrs. C. H. Bell was hostess to the WOMAN'S SOCIETY OF CHRISTIAN SERVICE March 22 with Mrs. George Rupp as cohostess. Mmes. Richard Reed, Boyd Grant, and J. G. Bell were re-elected president, secretary and treasurer for the coming year. Mrs. D. C. Showman was elected vice president. The program "The Great Physician Is Still Healing" was given by Mrs. Showman assisted by Mmes. C. A. Olsen, Carl Hamilton and Reed. There will be no meeting April 12. The sacrificial luncheon will be held at the church on April 18, with Mrs. W. J. Siemens and Mrs. R. M. Parker as co-chairmen.

WOMAN'S CLUB OF SEQUIM met March 19 with Mrs. B. L. Walden. Mrs. Fred Evans presided at the business meeting where roll call was answered by members relating interesting events. Mrs. Iris Marshall reviewed a magazine article, "The Haunted City" by Peter Feibleman. The April meeting will be at the home of Mrs. John Stevens with election of officers.

Mrs. Charles Payne entertained Sequim ROYAL NEIGHBORS Monday afternoon with Mrs. Joe Eberle as co-hostess. There were three tables of pinochle with high prize going to Mrs. Jack Hopkins and consolation prize to Mrs. Ray Marx.

FFA boys plan group trip to fair

Bob Stipe is the Sequim chapter delegate to the State FFA convention at Washington State University in Pullman this week.

Merle Herrett will receive the State Farmer degree and is a candidate for a state FFA office. He is also co-chairman of the public relations and information committee. Bob Stipe is on the ways and means committee.

Sequim Chapter had a special meeting March 12 in the high school agriculture room at 7:30 p.m. The chapter decided to purchase a quantity of World's Fair tickets and go as a group two days. Each member will pay for half his ticket and the chapter will pay half.

The boys agreed to mortgage their tractor to get money for the tickets which had to be purchased at once in order to get a discount. The chapter has money raising plans made to pay off the mortgage.

Approximately 22 boys plan to go to the Fair. Eugene Teesdale, faculty advisor, furnished refreshments following the meeting.

Keeps check on SS records

If you are self-employed you are responsible for the correctness of your own social security account, explained Reid Callicoat, district manager of the Bremerton office of the Social Security Administration.

Filing complete and correct tax returns will assure you of receiving correct social security benefits.

Callicoat emphasized four easy steps for a self-employed individual to take in order to keep his social security account straight. He should make sure his social security number is shown in item 4 of Form SE (attachment to Schedule C or Schedule F). He should file his tax returns on time. He should keep accurate records of his business income and expenses. He should check his social security account once every three years.

Callicoat stated that any social security office will furnish a postal card to be mailed to their accounting office in Baltimore. A statement of the earnings credited to the individual's account will be sent. If it is not correct, the individual should notify the social security office immediately.

OLD 90

Rayonier to mark rail change with ceremony

HOQUIAM — The completion of a $4 million railroad rehabilitation program will be observed by Rayonier at a public ceremony to be held on Saturday, starting at 11:00 a.m. on Axford Prairie eighteen miles north of the city on Highway 101.

According to L. J. Forrest, Rayonier vice president and manager for the company's Northwest Timber Division, the present railroad rebuilding program was started in 1955 and will be completed by the March 31 dedication date. Light rail throughout the railroad's 43-mile length has been completely replaced with heavy rail; over eighteen miles of new right-of-way has been constructed, three timber trestles, four all-steel bridges built. Now, to culminate the project, two 1600-horsepower Baldwin-Lima-Hamilton diesel locomotives have been secured to handle log traffic on the completely revitalized line.

JAMES T. SHEEHY, executive vice president of the company, and Bert Cole, commissioner of public lands for the State of Washington, will head up a list of company and public officials who will appear at the ceremony. However, before the actual dedication begins, railroad enthusiasts and others will be given an opportunity to photograph and admire, for perhaps the last time, two of Rayonier's colorful steam locomotives on their last run.

One of the locomotives, the No. 90, will leave the Humptulips Bridge at 10:35 a.m. followed by the No. 38, another long time favorite of railroad buffs. Those who wish to photograph or record the sound of these locomotives under a full head of steam will have an excellent opportunity to do so anywhere along the company mainline where it parallels Highway 101 along the last run route.

THOSE WHO WILL watch the No. 90 in her last performance as the star of Rayonier's steam locomotive fleet are in for an added treat; at her throttle will be Cole, who, as honorary engineer, will bring the venerable steam pot in on her last run.

At the dedication site, the old steam No. 90 will give up her load of logs to a newer and more powerful locomotive, this time a diesel. The old No. 38 will surrender her load to a similar diesel. After this ceremony, the public is invited to an open house at nearby railroad camp where coffee and doughnuts will be serve. Here the company's eight remaining steam locomotives will be set out for inspection and photographing from noon until 4:00 p.m.

Then the fires that have burned under the boilers of eight steam locomotives for many years will die out, this time for good!

Spicy words make sentence

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Florence Aadland politely asked a judicial favor: Permission to go to New York to look for work.

Mrs. Aadland, 54, is on three years' probation for contributing to the delinquency of her daughter, Beverly, who, as a teen-ager, was Errol Flynn's last girlfriend.

Superior Court Judge Lewis Drucker said the request seemed in order. But first he wanted to hear testimony from a court bailiff who had taken telephone calls from Mrs. Aadland.

The bailiff recited colorful and unprintable comments Mrs. Aadland had made about the court, its bailiffs and attaches in calls prior to Thursday's hearing.

Judge Drucker gave Mrs. Aadland permission to go to New York but said she must first serve 10 days in jail.

GERMAN YOUTH HONORED — From left to right are George W. Christiansen, Holger Hofman of Hamburg, Germany, and Mrs. Christiansen. The young senior at Port Angeles Senior High School, who was honored as Rotary Boy of the month, lives at the Christiansen home. The Christiansens and the young man were guests at the Wednesday Rotary Club meeting.

German youth honored by Rotary Club here

Honored as Rotary Boy of the month at the Wednesday noon club meeting was Holger Hofmann, of Hamburg, Germany, a senior at Port Angeles Senior High School.

Also present at the meeting and honored were Mr. and Mrs. George W. Christensen at whose home young man lives and who are acting as foster parents for him.

The young man enrolled in the high school here at the start of the present school term and will graduate next June and return to his home at Hamburg.

The youth explained that his parents had a farm in an area of Germany taken over by Communists. His family would not conform to the Communistic doctrine and lost their farm and all their belongings. They left their home and went to Hamburg in west Germany where he attended school for five years.

DR. MARTIN BOCK, a west German exchange teacher at the high school last year negotiated the enrollment of the young man and his sponsorship by Mr. and Mrs. Christensen.

Pres. E. John Maier of Peninsula College introduced young Hofmann and said he is doing well in his studies and participates in many school activities.

President Howard Ruddell introduced Mr. and Mrs. Christensen and praised them for their sponsorship of the young German boy. Christensen said the youth is a member of their household and is a fine boy with ambition to receive an education. Russell presented a rotary plaque to Hofmann.

The youngster said he has found the people of this area very cordial and he likes the Olympic Peninsula for its natural attractions.

CHAIRMAN HAROLD Widsteen of the club scholorship committee introduced Roger Oakes, Stanford University sophomore and Brooke Taylor, freshmen at that school, both of whom were honored as Rotary Boys of the month in past years. The young men are visiting at their homes here during a school vacation. Widsteen noted that Taylor is president of the Stanford freshman class.

CHAIRMAN BOB GREEN announced that committees are named for the Country Store that will be conducted here May 17, 18 and 19. He explained the event is designed to raise money for the club funds to sponsor youth activities in the community.

Robert Chamberlain, chairman of the procurement committee for the country store, revealed plans for securing goods to be put on sale at the country store. He and Green scheduled meeting of various committees to make arrangements for the event.

A moving picture was shown explaining title insurance. The history of title insurance and its usefulness was explained.

Chairman Perry Brackett of the March program committee presented the film.

Dignified Supreme Court has its battles

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court has an Olympian air about it: nine justices, dressed in black, sitting in a row behind a high bench in a marble palace, dispensing wisdom.

What makes them human is what made Zeus look human: it's the scrapes they get into. They not only get attacked from the outside but from inside by one another.

The court has just emerged from a decade of major decisions and tremendous criticism. And now, because of a ruling this week, new criticism is beginning.

MONDAY DECISION

This was last Monday's decision that federal courts have a right to step in if states refuse to give their citizens fair representation is state legislatures.

This will affect politicians and, to no one's surprise, politicians are already screaming.

The criticism may chill the court a while, as criticism in the past seems to have done, but this won't deter the court from getting into new controversy later.

PRESIDENT JACKSON

President Jackson got into a dispute with the court in 1833 when it told Georgia not to try to take over Cherokee Indian land. Georgia defied the court. Jackson, sympathetic to Georgia, told the court to try to carry out its decree itself.

And the court brought the House down on its head in 1957 when it said, in the Dred Scott case, Congress couldn't outlaw slavery in the territories.

But the biggest head-on clash came in the 1930s when the highly conservative court, which President Franklin D. Roosevelt said was living in the horse and buggy days, ruled against one piece of New Deal legislation after another.

SELF CONSCIOUS

Roosevelt focused so much national attention on the justices, particularly when he tried to add new ones o the court, that the nine men may have been rendered self-conscious. A any rate, thereafter they began approving Roosevelt's legislation.

The South is still denouncing the court for its 1954 decision outlawing segregation in public schools. But all these events involved criticism of the court from the outside.

Disputes among the justices themselves on their decisions — and biting criticism of one another because of them—has been going on a long time.

SCATHING ATTACK

None of them was more scathing than Justice Felix Frankfurter who disagreed with the majority this week on the legislative representation case. He didn't think the court should get this deeply into political problems.

But Frankfurter has a long record of sounding off when he disagrees with his fellow justices, even though, like a phonograph record someone forgot to turn off, he repeats himself even to using the same words.

SAME THING

Last week, for instance, he accused the majority with which he disagreed of "asserting a destructively novel judicial power." Back on Feb. 7, 1944, in another disagreement, he accused the justices with whom he disagreed of "resorting gratuitously" to a "wholly novel doctrine of constitutional law."

Frankfurter was used here as an example of in-court fighting not because he's the only one who does it but only because he consistently seems to be the shrillest. Yet he has been through some of the most far-reaching moments in the history of the court.

It was in the 1950s that criticism really piled up on the justices, not only for their desegregation order on public schools, but for their decisions on Communist activities.

Watch the blocks on income forms

It's there for a reason. District Director, Neal S. Warren, said today that for a 1961 Federal income tax return to be complete and accurate all appropriate blocks must be properly checked. Yet many taxpayers overlook them or consider them unimportant.

Our most frequent errors are those dealing with exemptions. The "over 65" blocks are not checked and in some cases are erroneously checked.

Remember, check all the blocks that apply to you. By doing this you will be filing an accurate return. Best of all you will get all the benefits to which you are entitled.

NEHRU SAYS SENATOR 'ODD'

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—India does not attach any importance to what odd senators in the United States say or do not say, Prime Minister Nehru told Parliament today.

He was answering questions about criticism of him by Sen. Richard B. Russell. The Georgia Democrat said the prime minister was "a demagogue and a hypocrite."

Albert W. Hendricks

Peninsula Profile

Timber needs always pushing Hendricks

By ESTHER WEBSTER

The world abounds in recipes for keeping young. Judging from his appearance Al Hendricks has inadvertently discovered one of the best.

He has a project in which he is so absorbed that ideas tumble out in bewildering profusion. This concerns constantly improved methods of harvesting and processing the Clallam County timber crop.

When Hendricks gets on the subject of timber, its growth and marketing, he's in a field he's known all his life.

He believes, "Once in timber it gets in your blood — you don't leave."

HENDRICKS' INSATIABLE desire for new and better methods has taken him to our universities, industrial foresters, the U.S. Forest Service, the State Department of Natural Resources and the State Department of Economic Development.

About two years ago Hendricks was one of a group of local timbermen who organized the State Timber and Utilization Development Committee, otherwise known as STUD. Hendricks served as the first president.

Now this year's president, Gus Haley, has made him chairman of a committee to probe the possibilities of a plant in the West End of Clallam County to process small evergreen timber and alder.

"The Olympic National Forest has better than 45,000 acres in second growth and alder. Clallam County has 95,000 acres of which a large portion is second growth and alder."

Hendricks believes because alder is such a fast growing and dependable crop in this county, there should be an economic way of processing it.

But to be profitable alder and second growth timber must be processed without hauling costs. This means a plant in the West End close to the supply.

HENDRICKS HOPES through the State Timber and Utilization Development Committee to see some research done on processing alder.

He says European markets are already eager to buy timber fiber from this state. Processing for efficient shipment is the problem. He thinks it may take two years for a reliable solution, but our universities are working on it.

To Hendricks one of STUD's most profitable programs is getting industrial foresters, state and federal foresters and local timbermen together for two-day field trips.

HE SAYS, "Clallam County has 100,000 acres of timberland, repossessed for non-payment of taxes. We inspect this timber, discuss methods of production and harvesting. We all learn a great dal from each other."

Hendricks has been learning about timber since he was 12 years old. "I started piling lumber in a sawmill before I was 12."

Although born in Pittsburg, Kan., July 7, 1892, Albert Wesley Hendricks grew up in Cle Elum, Wash., where he was the first high school graduate.

HE RECALLS with pride, "I started logging when they used horses." Now he is timber buyer for the Straits Timber Co. and also supervises four or five contract loggers with the most modern equipment.

Hendricks' son Bert is owner and operator of the Hendricks Lumber Co. at Laird's Corner west of Port Angeles.

Mrs. Hendricks' daughter by a previous marriage is married to a mill operator in Portland.

With the depressed lumber market and Canada taking over eastern markets you might expect Hendricks to be discouraged. Not so, this timberman!

HE BELIEVES lumbermen working with our researchers are working with our researchers are capable of solving current problems, of handling others as they arise.

With convincing confidence and enthusiasm born of his contacts with advancements being made in the field today, Al Hendricks is here to help bring progress to the growth and processing of Clallam County's vast timber crop.

KEEPING PACE with his love for timbering, is his profound feeling for the Northwest and his dedication to Port Angeles as the best of all places to live.

"I've never found a community I like as well as I do Port Angeles." And he means it. He's even tried California!

WCA to cut one flight

Two Port Angeles air links with Seattle pass from the scene next month.

District Sales Manager Guy R. Strassner of West Coast Airlines said today the air carried is cutting its flights to the city to one per day as of April 29.

Strassner pointed to the loading record out of Port Angeles in explaining the cut. In 1960 the airline's average load out of here was 19 passengers. In 1961 the figure dropped to 13 passengers.

The one flight will arrive here at 3 p.m. and depart at 3:05 for Bellingham. It leaves there and arrives in Seattle at 4:18 p.m.

Strassner said this gives local residents a better chance to connect with flights leaving Seattle.

Along with the schedule change is a switch in equipment. The DC-3, which has flown here for years gives way to one of WCA's new Fairchild 40-passenger turbo-jet airliners.

In the early construction stages of the Hood Canal Bridge, a WCA official noted completion and use of the bridge would result in smaller passenger loads out of Port Angeles.

The service cut also dashes hopes of local tourist facility operators. Because of the tight housing situation in Seattle during the coming fair, they figured some people might stay here and commute by air to and from Seattle for the fair.

Mill to be rebuilt

Manager Charles McGuire, Howard Lumber Mill, announced Monday plans to rebuild the lumber mill on the port fill that was seriously damaged by fire early Saturday morning.

McGuire said he was going to Seattle yesterday to conclude arrangements to buy a band saw to replace the circular saw in the mill. He said the new saw will give the mill a larger capacity and there is a possibility they will require a larger crew. Original plans called for a crew of 25 to 50 men.

Firemen worked four and a half hours fighting the blaze that destroyed the mill's electrical system.

Mrs. Dustman, early day resident, dies

Mrs. Nettie Mabel Dustman, 79, of 1103 Caroline St., Clallam County resident 65 years, died Wednesday after an extended illness.

Funeral services will be held at the Harper Funeral Home Saturday at 1 p.m. with the Rev. Lloyd F. Holloway officiating. Burial will be in Ocean View Cemetery.

She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Ware, born June 20, 1882 at Patmos, Ohio. She came here with her parents in 1897 and lived on a farm in the Dry Creek area until she married Frank Dustman in 1900.

Mr. Dustman, now deceased, was one of the early day city marshals here and later was one of the city's first electricians.

Mrs. Dustman was a pioneer member of the First Methodist Church and was active in church affairs until becoming ill. She was a member for 60 years of the Woman's Relief Corps and one of the local organization's oldest members.

Mrs. Dustman took a prominent part in many early day community activities.

Surviving relatives include her son, Sam Dustman, Port Angeles; a sister, Mrs. Daisy Sturdevant, Roseburg, Ore.; two brothers George Ware, Beloit, Ohio and Emory Ware, Mayor, Ariz.; three grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

County's planning project moving; mapping well along

Work on the Clallam County 701 Planning Project has been going on quietly and is finally beginning to show signs of accomplishment.

County planner M. G. "Bud" Poole said yesterday, "We are in the third month of the 12 month program and have completed approximately 55 per cent of our base maps and 20 per cent of our land use surveys."

Poole explained that although his men have been working very few people in the community are aware of it and this preliminary work must be done in order to set up a comprehensive planning program.

"WHEN BUD'S crews have completed their base maps and inventory surveys he'll submit his maps surveys and analyses of data revealed by these studies to city planning commission and council, county planning commission and board of commissioners, and to the managers and boards of the School Dist. 21, PUD and port district," said County Commissioner E. L. Critchfield.

"This is where the coordinated planning of Clallam County can begin," said Critchfield.

"WE HOPE THE two planning commissions will hold joint meetings to discuss overlapping land problems and plans," said Critchfield.

"We also hope the boards and management of all five governmental agencies participating in this regional planning program will hold meetings at frequent intervals," he said.

Clallam County

Economic study points to needed improvements

(Editor's Note: The following is the summary and recommendations section of an economic base study prepared for local government agencies by Boni, Watkins, Jason & Co. of New York. This is only the final section of the study and not the complete report).

IV. CLALLAM COUNTY'S PROBLEMS

The following is a list of the problems which confront Clallam County:

1. Irregularity of employment and income stemming from dependence on forest products industries.

2. There are no exploitable natural resources other than timber and fish.

3. Geographic location which prohibits attracting mass distributing industries.

4. Absence of competitive (equal to East Puget Sound cities) rail freight rates to California markets.

5. Inability to land green dimension lumber on the U. S. east coast at competitive prices because of high ocean freight rates.

6. Pollution control regulations enforced (and proposed) by the State of Washington pose problems to members of Clallam County's industrial community.

In addition, the lack of the following have been barriers to economic development in the past:

a. venture capital,
b. entrepreneurial initiative,
c. control over the development of National Park facilities,
d. communication between park officials and community leaders.
e. common understanding of the problem of economic development and lack of agreement as to what to do and how to do it,
f. large areas of fertile farm land, and
g. links to appropriate marketing organizations.

V. SUMMARY AND RECOMMENDATIONS

This report describes first the natural and man-made physical resources at the disposal of Clallam County. It then analyses the population and labor force of the County and describes the pattern of its economic activity.

The dependence of the county on forest products industries is apparent throughout the analysis. Standing timber is the only available natural resource capable of large-scale industrial development. There is definitely a scarcity of possibilities for new production industry, based on local resources.

NEW INDUSTRIES

The possibility of attracting new industries into the area, ones which could bring with them their own working materials, should not be overlooked. To aid in accomplishing this, Clallam County should examine the experience of communities which have been successful in this respect and be prepared to make the necessary concessions to the newcomer.

It is nevertheless virtually inevitable that the Clallam County industrial scene will continue to be dominated by the forest products industries and that the community will continue to suffer from the irregularity of employment associated with a logging economy.

There is no simple direct answer to the question as to whether Clallam County will remain an area of continuing unemployment. A sufficient number of permanent jobs could doubtlessly be created to ease the situation for those chronically unemployed in Clallam County. However, the opportunities now within the County are so limited that should migration from the County decline or the labor force participation rate increase, substantial unemployment would recur.

A. PROBLEMS AND POSSIBLE SOLUTIONS

The solution to a number of Clallam County's problems lies clearly beyond the control of the community. It appears that a subsidy plan for solving the ocean freight problem is currently being contemplated by the Federal Government. If something materializes from this, it would help local lumber producers greatly. The problem of freight rates will have to be corrected by influences brought to bear by the County outside the sphere of its own authority.

The speed and direction of development of facilities within Olympic National Park is also beyond community control. This is crucially important, however, to the expansion of tourism in the area. The tourist industry has increased rapidly in recent years and expansion in the future will surely be speeded up if more of the Park is made available and larger facilities are provided within it.

As indicated earlier, a solution to the water supply problems in the northwest area of the County would help the tourist industry there. This cannot be accomplished by the County without outside help.

The establishment of a naval base at Port Angeles would provide an immediate and permanent stimulus to the local economy and, indeed, to the hard pressed Olympic Peninsula as a whole.

Finally there are a number of ways, through the development of an adequate long-range plan, by which jobs could be created within the framework of the County's present economy. The feasibility of each of the following projects should be made the subject of special studies.

1. A new tourist facility on the west coast of Clallam County.
2. New trailer parks in fishing areas, on the west coast and within Olympic National Park.
3. The further development of facilities at the hot springs.
4. A small hotel, rather than motel in the vacation area.
5. Further processing of lumber within the county: milling, furniture parts, prefabrication, and the promotion of Western Red Cedar as a decorative construction material.
6. Manufacturing processes involving the further use of pulp, paper and lumber such as boxes, molded pulp goods, veneer and plywood containers, fibre cans, tubes, drums, etc.
7. Manufacturing processes involving the further processing of fish such as fresh freezing, smoking, canning, etc. and cat food.
8. Manufacturing processes involving the further processing of specialized agriculture products such as fruit and vegetable freezing.
9. Development of harvesting and distributing floral brush such as fern, huckleberry and salal.
10. Development of gravel deposits.

SEARCH CONTINUES

VANCOUVER, Wash. (AP) — Skin divers and residents of the Salmon Creek area near Vancouver have been trying to find Robert McFadden, 9, for five days.

Searchers found the body Monday of his 10-year-old companion, Harold Hermanson, west of the Highway 99 bridge in Salmon Creek.

Authorities said the two boys went for a walk in the woods Sunday morning when nearby Salmon Creek was swift and muddy because of heavy rains.

Skin divers were stymied Thursday by the fast, dirty water and found no trace of the missing boy.

Economic study shows county's weak spots

It looks like Clallam County is going to have to overcome some difficult problems in order to improve its oconomic plight.

A preliminary draft of an economic base study prepared for local government agencies by Boni, Watkins, Jason & Co. of New York describes these problems and some of the possible solutions.

The text of the final portion of this study is printed on page 3 of today's Evening News.

SOME OF THE difficulties the report cites are dependence on forest products, lack of natural resources other than timber and fish, and disadvantageous freight rates.

Other difficulties mentioned are lack of business initiative, lack of control over development of Olympic National Park facilities, and lack of understanding of the problems of economic development.

The economic study suggests that solutions to some of our problems are beyond the control of the community.

THE REPORT recommends establishment of a tax-supported planning organization, with a part-time paid director.

Long range planning, the report states, can help create jobs within the framework of our present economy. These would come from such projects as improved tourist facilities, processing of lumber, and manufacturing products from pulp, paper and lumber.

Area employment on upswing after halt

Snow during late February caused a temporary halt in the employment upswing in Clallam and Jefferson counties but most of the workers were returning to their jobs by March 10 a report by state unemployment security department said.

The report issued today showed a decrease in unemployment compensation payments of 25.2 per cent in Port Angeles from February.

The report shows a drop of 31.6 per cent for February of this year compared with the same month last year. Payments for February were $109,195 and $145,927 for January.

Only two communities in the county showed larger reductions percentage wise. Forks had a decrease of 51.2 per cent from January to February and 57.9 per cent from last year. Payments in this area only totaled $11,045 in February and $23,764 in January.

Neah Bay, Sekiu and Clallam Bay had a decrease of 48.4 per cent between January and February an increase of 2.8 per cent in February over last year. Payments there totaled $7,517 in February and $14,574 in January.

State wildlife officer addresses chamber meet

The Chamber of Commerce recognized National Wildlife Week at its Monday noon meeting with a talk by Russell Hupe of the Washington State Game Department.

Hupe, from Olympia, spoke on the value of wildlife, and on the work his department is doing to preserve and develop it.

He showed a film depicting how the game department imported the chukar partridge from Asia, and introduced it in Eastern Washington.

The Olympic Outdoor Sportsmen's Association arranged Hupe's appearance.

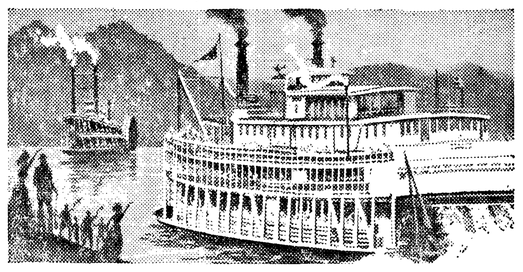
INITIAL DRILL

SEATTLE (AP)—There's probably going to be a little drill in the governor's office on middle initials.

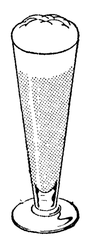
Kenneth E. Paulson, Kent, received a letter Wednesday informing him he had been appointed to the State Real Estate Commission. With it was a certificate with a large seal, signed by the governor.

It happened 100 YEARS ago

The oldest incorporated trade association in the country, the United States Brewers Association, was organized in 1862 . . . the same year that



IN WASHINGTON, every available steamboat was churning up the Columbia River, carrying prospectors to the gold rushes in the Oregon Territory. But whether they found gold or just plain dust, Washington's rugged pioneers knew they could always find delicious refreshment in a foaming glass of beer.



For then as now, beer was Washington's traditional beverage of moderation—light, sparkling refreshment that adds a touch of Northwestern hospitality to any occasion. Folks in Washington have always enjoyed the good fellowship that goes with every glass.

TODAY, in its centennial year, the United States Brewers Association still works constantly to assure maintenance of high standards of quality and propriety wherever beer and ale are served.

Toggery top in Industrial

The Toggery Haberdashers and the Jaycee Cagers met last Wednesday night in a rubber match with the championship of the Industrial League on the line in the winner take all game. Toggery won 74-69.

In the beginning of the game the crowds expectations were filled as Bob Klock and Dick Brown began to hit for the Jaycee's and Jim Doherty and Bob Partridge kept the hopes of the Haberdashers running high. The first quarter ended with neither team showing enough strength for a predicated win.

Second quarter the Toggery began to hit from all over the floor end the half with a 13 point lead.

Third quarter it looked as though the Toggery had the game in the bag, but the J. C. five held the lead to the same 13 and control the back boards to points when the third quarter ended.

Fourth quarter the J. C. Team began to work the ball for the ones that counted and whittled the lead to a threating 5 points. In the final minute of the game the Toggery decided to stall out the remaining time, forcing the J. C. club to foul to gain possession.

A pair of foul shots by Ken McLennon brought the Habbadashers lead back to 7. In the final 20 seconds a driving layin by Kenny Bourm cut the lead back to 5 when the buzzer went off. Final score Toggery 74, Jaycee's 69. High point men for the evening Jim Doherty (Toggery) 30 and Bob Klock (Jaycees) 27.

Paret's mother to go to NY

NEW YORK (AP) — Former welterweight champion Benny (Kid) Paret remained in a moderate coma, his condition still critical, today while his mother prepared to fly here from Cuba to be at his bedside.

Arrangements were completed Thursday night in Havana for Paret's mother, Mrs. Maxima Crespo, to fly to Miami sometime today. Mrs. Crespo, who speaks no English, said she had no funds to continue on to New York but was confident she would get here.

"My place is beside my son," she said, after bitterly denouncing boxing as "a question of animals" and complaining that Paret's manager, Manny Alfaro, did not notify her of her son's condition until Monday — two days after he was savagely beaten in a title bout with Emile Griffith.

Mrs. Crespo said she believed her son would recover. "I have delivered (my hopes) to the great power of God," she said.

Thursday night's hospital bulletin said, "There has been no change in the condition of Paret throughout the day. He continues in moderate coma. He is being maintained under hypotermia. His general systemnic condition remains good."

Frisco out of playoff

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Spokane Comets eliminated San Francisco from the Western Hockey League playoffs Thursday night and Calgary's Stampeders gave notice they planned to do the same to Seattle.

Yves Locas, who came to Spokane from San Francisco in midseason, scored three goals as the Comets downed the Seals 7-3 for their second straight win in the best-of-three series.

Calgary overcame Seattle's home rink advantage to edge the Totems 2-1. The Stampeders have the advantage now with the second and, if necessary, the third game to be played in Calgary, starting Saturday.

PORTLAND

Spokane's next opponent is Portland, the defending champion. Their best-of-seven series starts Saturday in Spokane with the next three games to be played in Portland April 3-5-7. The Comets are the only team in the league to hold the season's edge over Portland. They beat the Buckaroos six times, tied twice and lost four.

Locas scored the only goal of the first period, opened the second with another and completed the hat trick with his third in the final period. The Seals were outplayed throughout, their goalie, Bev Bentley, stopping 29 attempts while Spokane's Ed Johnston had only 16 saves. Max Mekilok, who scored 97 points to lead the league in the regular season, added three more with a pair of goals and an assist.

Calgary and Seattle wound up the regular season tied in points and in records but the Stampeders won second place in the Northern Division because they scored more goals. That power showed again last night. After a scoreless first period, Calgary found Seattle short-handed and put together a power play for one goal. Sid Finney's unassisted goal before the end of the second period was all the Stampeders needed.

ONE GOAL

Only a goal by Bill MacFarland, the league's leading goal scorer, saved the Totems from being blanked. Rookie netminder Ed Babiuk had been considered Calgary's weakest link. He made 13 saves in the third period alone and had 26 for the game.

COACH SUCCUMBS

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Funeral services were scheduled today for Gen. Robert P. Neyland, University of Tennessee athletic director and retired Tennessee football coach. Burial will be in National Cemetery.

The famed single-wing coach died Wednesday in a New Orleans hospital of a liver and kidney ailment. He was 70.

Survivors include Mrs. Neyland and their two sons, Robert R. Jr., Bristol banker, and Lewis, Baltimore insurance agent.

Some old time basketball

Tonight the old timers up at senior high try to recapture their lost youth and harken back to the days of peach baskets or barrel hoops nailed to barn wall.

In double feature basketball starting a 6:30 p.m. the faculty and coaches take on senior high lettermen's club and last year's varsity basketball team.

First game starting at 6:30 p.m. will pit the "A" Club five against the best of the faculty. Second game, feature game on the bill, will see the varsity try to lead their coaches down rough and rocky path.

The joust is sponsored by the "A" Club.

Baseball season off tomorrow

Organized baseball for 1962 gets underway in Port Angeles at 1 p.m. tomorrow when the Roughriders meet the Black Knights of East Bremerton.

Coach Jack Crook has his fingers crossed. Although he knows nothing about East he feels they should be able to field a good squad. Crook will probably field six returning lettermen on his starting squad.

The starting pitcher will be Jon Scott, a returning letterman. Rounding out the battery will be Ron Nevaril, who is a two year letterman.

Other returning lettermen who'll start are Mike O'Connor at second base, Tom Hainstock at short stop, Rick Ranta in left field and Gary Kidd in center.

First year men completing the starting squad will be Frank Feeley at first base, Mike Wells at third and Dale Secor in right field.

Crook said he might use Ray Berg or Dave Gronning as relief pitchers. If there is any pinch hitting to be done Crook probably will call on Gene Jonas, Alan Womac, Jim Bottgenbach or Bob Hagerty.

Oregon wins 3-1

SALEM (AP) — University of Oregon pitchers held Willamette to hits Thursday as the Ducks took a 3-1 baseball victory.

John Swanson and Dick Brede were the pitchers that held the Bearcats to their meager hit output. Swanson got credit for the win.

Eric Hardin, leadoff hitter for the Ducks, singled to start the ball game, took third on a single by Cal Dean, and went home on a wild pitch by Willamette starter Tommy Lee.

Dean went to third on another single and came home on a fielder's choice, to give Oregon a two-run lead, enough for the eventual victory.

Willamette scored its only run in the sixth on a walk, a stolen base and a single.

PLAYER DIES IN FALL

NEW YORK (AP) — Funeral services were being arranged today for Otto Miller, twice a World Series catcher for the Brooklyn Dodgers, who plunged to his death Thursday from the window of a hospital.

The body of Miller, 72, was found on the sidewalk beneath the fourth floor window of the Brooklyn Ear and Eye Hospital, where he had undergone eye surgery Tuesday.

Washington 'Y' league champions

Play offs in the YMCA grade school basketball league were held this week to determine the city champions.

First place was won by Washington of the Eastern Division. They topped Jefferson No. 2 of the Western division 8 to 6 in a hard fought game. Jefferson No. 1 of the West defeated Monroe of the East 17 to 3 for second spot. Another team from the western division, Lincoln No. 1, copped third place with an 8 to 6 win over Franklin No. 1 in a sudden death overtime. The three winning teams will receive trophies for the city playoffs.

SATURDAY MORNING Roosevelt gym will be invaded by six teams in the league for the All City Tournament. Teams taking part in the tourney are Lincoln No. 2, Monroe, Franklin No. 1, Franklin No. 2, Jefferson No. 3 and Jefferson No. 2. First round play in the tournament begins at 10:30 a.m. at noon a break for lunch; then play begins again at 1:15 p.m.

At the conclusion of the tournament, trophies will be awarded to the first three finishers. Trophies will also be awarded at this time to the top three teams in the league. Parents and friends are invited to view the tournament and the presentation of trophies.

THERE WILL BE no admission charge. The public is encouraged to attend.

The YMCA School league was organized four years ago in an effort to give those boys who did not make their school teams a chance to play basketball.

KIDS CROSSING

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Miss Vivian Weedon, a staff representative of the National Safety Council, says children should be taught to use their own intelligence when crossing streets, and not to depend mechanically on red or green signals.

Miss Weedon addressed the closing session of the Western Pennsylvania Safety Engineering Conference Thursday.

She said that many vehicles such as fire engines and police cars are permitted to pass stop signals, and that "drunken or inept drivers do it illegally."

WANDERING Scribe

A group of very busy bumble bees . . . were working hard . . . to make a living on flowering shrubs . . . on the south side of Scribe's home Thursday . . . The bees are very welcome . . . as they are one of the best signs of spring . . . and help pollinate plants . . . Mountains south of town . . . were unusually beautiful early this morning . . . as the sun rose and shone on snow-tipped moutnain peaks . . . Saturday is last day of March . . . Then we will have April . . . usually a fine spring month here . . . and the month in which trout fishing starts in lowland lakes . . . Seems like we are almost totally surrounded by Centennial beards . . . When Scribe was a kid here . . . it was unusual to see a shaven face . . . among adult men . . . Beards, some of them very long . . . were common . . . and if there was not a beard . . . there was a mustache . . . Remember also . . . when some men wore long hair . . . that was curled . . . and these men also usually wore earrings . . . and of course . . . either beard or mustache or both . . . This was a frontier style . . . As a very young boy . . . Scribe visited a bearded and curly headed man with earrings . . .up south of present site of the National Park Museum . . . He lived in a log house . . . and showed young Scribe loopholes in the log walls . . . through which he said he repelled invaders . . . with his long rifle . . . Sets lumber hearings in Senate group

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Commerce Committee opens hearings April 16 on depressed conditions in the lumber industry of the Pacific Northwest.

Sen. Warren Magnuson, D-Wash., said the hearings will begin in Washington, D.C., and shift to Seattle April 24.

Witnesses will be from the lumber industry, the departments of state, commerce, agriculture and interior and the Interstate Commerce Commission and Maritime Commission.

The senator said he expected the hearings to show why Canadian lumbermen have taken over many Pacific Northwest markets and lead to a solution of the depressed condition of the U.S. lumber industry in the Pacific Northwest.

Parr quits

Sleepers get back nighttime

By ROBERT HOLTON

NEW YORK (AP)— Jack Paar has abdicated the "Tonight" show —a nocturnal television kingdom over which he reigned for almost five years.

Paar bowed out Thursday night as master of ceremonies of the National Broadcasting Co. late night show in a 90-minute appearance that brought tears to his eyes three times.

The comedian, 43, left the show with words of praise from Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, luminaries of the entertainment world.

Both Kennedy and Nixon had appeared on earlier Paar shows.

Paar said he was leaving the show because the pressure of putting together the one hour and 45-minute program nightly was wearing him down.

HOUR SHOW

He is scheduled to appear in a weekly, one-hour, early evening series on the same network starting in the fall.

The final show, almost like a capsule of all his shows over the years, contained ample doses of humor, and an attack on two newspaper columnists and a national magazine.

Sandwiched in between were runs of taped interviews of a score of personalities bidding him farewell.

It was to the news media controversies and hassles with even Congress that many attribute Paar's phenomenal rise from a little-known entertainer to a re-reported $200,000-a-year star.

TONIGHT

Paar, who had failures and moderate successes in other radio and television shows, took over the faltering "Tonight" program in July 1957. He built the show to what some reports said was an annual advertising gross income of $15.5 million.

Two years ago Paar left the show in a huff because some of the material had been deleted from his taped show before it was presented on the network.

He returned a few weeks later, and began dropping hints that he was planning to quit.

Johnny Carson, who now runs a daytime show for the American Broadcasting Co., has been assigned to take Paar's place starting Oct. 8. Until that time, guest performers will take turns running the show.

REMARKS

In addition to remarks about columnists Dorothy Kilgallen and Walter Winchell, long targets of his criticism, Paar complained in his finale about an article about him appearing in the April 2 issue of Newsweek.

Five minutes before the close of the show, Paar rose from behind his desk. He waved his arms above his head and almost whispered: "I bid you goodbye."

Jack Paar had returned the nighttime to the sleepers.

Editorial

Overrate dropout cause

Rating high ranking on any list of factors contributing to American high living standards is the availability of a good education. Public education may have faults, but these are overwhelmingly shadowed by the ease with which every child can obtain at least a high school education.

Free education is of course not free. It is supported by every taxpayer, every consumer and every employer and employe. But the cost to the student is zero. Or is it?

A study by Ripon College of Ripon, Wis., reveals the disturbing fact that 788 high school principals in whose schools 535,000 students are enrolled list the cost of school frills number two on a list of reasons for students abandoning formal education before high school graduation.

Such extracurricular costs as yearbooks, class rings, proms, rental of formal evening wear, photographs, field trips and caps and gowns are among the items which require a cash outlay by the student. Principals questioned in the survey estimated the annual cost of these extras at from $1 to $30.

It is not conceivable that education is held in such low esteem by parents that an expenditure of a few dollars for such items is excuse enough for a pupil leaving school. More likely, the total cost of equipping a child for school—clothing, transportation (an increasing expense in many suburban communities) and dates—might weigh heavily in financial considerations.

If financial obstacles do exist, there are alternatives more desirable than dropping out of school. It is not unusual for school classes to sponsor various fund-raising activities to underwrite extracurricular costs that loom large. The student who holds a weekend job will find himself enriched by more than money when he receives his diploma and enters the world of business in which he is already partially experienced.

The value of a high school education in today's world has escaped parents who weigh it unfavorably against the cost of a class ring.

REFLECTIONS ROY
FORTY YEARS AGO MARCH 30

The concrete piers for the foundation of the gymnasium at the Roosevelt school have been completed and by Monday will have set long enough so that work can start on the foundation for the building immediately. The high school boys themselves have done all the work so far under the supervision of Mr. Hodge and Mr. Senz and the greater part of the construction will also be done by them.

The Olympic Peninsula man hurt has developed into a tame affair the past few days, and from the attitude of the officials, it is believed the men are not on the peninsula.
