SOME MORE FACTS

Of the Deplorable State of County Finances.

USELESS EXPENDITURES

Under the Present Republican Regime—Facts Gathered From the County Records—Ponder Over These Figures Taxpayers.

"By their fruits ye shall know them." Empty charges invariably reflect upon the accuser. The intelligent reader must be provided with abundant and absolute proof of official mismanagement before he will accept charges made against public officials of wrong doing and corruption.

An attack against an administration charging excessive expenditures, squandering of public funds, would, indeed, be ill-advised, and would most seriously, most disastrously reflect upon the persons making the charges if they were not warranted by such condition existing in fact.

The county records are open books. They reveal the financial condition of the county. There you obtain the actual expenses and income of the county. If the officials intrusted with the affairs of the county have been extravagant, have handled the finances of the county in a reckless, profligate manner, the records unfold any such evidence of wastefulness.

THE DEMOCRAT has, from time to time, attempted to place before the taxpayers of the county a truthful condition of county finances. These statistical disclosures have shown a degree of extravagance in the expenditure of county funds that admits either of absolute incapacity or utter abandonment of any sense of regard for the interests of taxpapers.

You are again appealed to, taxpayer, to endorse the party responsible for these evidences of criminal negligence of the people's interests. Will you do it?

The following statistics of county finances have been very carefully compiled:

The gross debt of Clallam county on January 12th, 1891, when the present county administration took charge, was $23,754.88 There was then cash in the treasury and cash held for redemption of county warrants (a call for which was made five days later) to the amount of $13,726.26, which left the net debt of the county $10,028.62.

Of the $23,754.88 gross debt, $18,081.20 had been incurred for work done on the Dungeness-Angeles road by Contractor W. C. Williams and by Anthony O'Brien and W. H. Carey, and not for ordinary running expenses of the county.

On the 11th day of August, 1892, nineteen months after the present administration began, the indebtedness of the county was as follows:

|---|---|
| Road bond debt..... | $ 90,000.00 |
| Accured interest on same.... | 6,690.00 |
| Total road debt..... | 96,690.00 |
| General county fund warrant outstanding..... | 53,485.00 |
| Accrued interest on same.... | 5,314.84 |
| Total general fund.... ... | 58,799.84 |
| Indebtedness Middle division as per Aditor's statement of May 1st, 1892..... ..... | 3,021.22 |
| Estimated accrued interest on same.... ..... | 100.00 |
| Total debt Middle division.. | 3,021.22 |
| General road, warrants outstanding..... | 5 910.03 |
| Estimate of interest on same.. | 162.00 |
| Total road warrants. ..... | 6,072.03 |
| Bridge fund warrants outstanding..... | 923.00 |
| Estimated interest on same.. | 1,30 |
| Total bridge warrants..... | 924.30 |
| Giving a grand total debt of.. | 165,607.39 |

On August 11th, 1892, there was cash in hand as follows:

| | |
|---|---|
| General county fund..... | $1,082.12 |
| Salary fund ..... | 701.85 |
| Road fund..... | 1,557.80 |
| Total..... ..... | 3,341.77 |

Which, deducted from the gross debt on that date leaves the net debt of the county, August 11th, 1892, $162,265.62. Deducting from this amount the net debt on January 17th, 1891, which was $10,028.62, shows the increased indebtedness during nineteen months to be $152,237.00.

During the present administration and up to August 11th, 1892, there was collected from all sources and paid into the county and road funds the sum of $38,392.91, which added to the present net indebtedness gives the sum of $200,658.53. Deducted from this sum the amount of warrants redeemed, which was $7,940.56, and the net debt January 12th, 1891, $10,028.62, we have the expenses of the county for the nineteen months $182,689.35, deduct from this the road bond debt, $96,690.00, which leaves $85,999.35. Deduct from this sum the amount issued by the present administration out of the road and bridge funds which was with interest $19,766.88, and it leaves $66,232.47, which less the accrued interest added above leaves $60,918.23, the amount expended during the period from January 12th, 1891, to August 11th, 1892, for the ordinary running expenses of the county.

The amount expended for the same purpose during the entire two years of the former administration was less than $16,000.00.

To arrive at this conclusion in another way we take the amount of warrants issued by the present board, without considering the road bonds, which is as follows:

| | |
|---|---|
| County fund..... | $39,394.31 |
| Bridge fund..... | 5.506.03 |
| Road fund..... | 13,997.55 |
| Salary fund..... | 22.267.60 |
| Total..... ..... | $81,165.49 |

Deducting from this the $19,503 58 on the road and bridge funds we have $61,661.91 as the ordinary running expenses of the county to Oct. 12, 1892 under the present management.

In order to make the comparison entirely fair, we deduct the amount of fees collected by the present county offices, $10,391.65, which leaves $51,270.26 expended by the present board against less than $16,000 expended by the last board during the entire term.

Interesting Paragraphs From the County Press.

Port Crescent Leader.

Postmaster James B. Davis, of Twin, has made a summary disposition of his postoffice. Some time since he resigned but no one could be found in that neighborhood who would take the appointment. Tired of waiting to be relieved, Postmaster Davis this week packed up the postoffice effects and sent them to the postoffice department. People who have hitherto received their mail at Twin will hereafter receive it at Gettysburgh. Mr. and Mrs. Davis have moved to Port Angeles.

The election of Mr. Mallette to the legislature will mean a step toward clean, honest politics; it will mean that Clallam county wants a clean and economical administration of affairs and that her people do not countenance the scandals and atrocious legislation that is laid at the door of the last legislature; it means that the people prefer to be represented by a square, honest, honorable business man than by one whose chief recommendation is that he is a sick politician; in other words, as we will be judged to a great extent by the men who represent us, we would rather be looked upon as good, steady, solid citizens than as sharpers who by hook or crook will get doubtful advantages.

FROM THE STANDPOINT

Of Three Different Political Parties.

ANGELES THE MECCA

Of Political Orators—Speakers Discuss Issues of the Day From Different Standpoints—A Continual Political Feast.

Port Angeles appears to be a veritable political Mecca. The three great political parties have apparently directed the footsteps of their great political expounders to where "rolls the Clallam," that the people of this enchanted spot might not dwell in blissful ignorance of the issues at present agitating one of the grandest nations of this civilization.

Last Friday evening was the event of a scholarly address by Mr. Fishback, of Seattle. Mr. Fishback is a Republican. And from the standpoint of that party he discussed in a most delightful, and entertaining manner the issues of the present campaign. As those sweet, meaningless morsels fell from the honeyed lips of the truly interesting speaker, the listener wondered if, perchance, he had not thoughtlessly drifted from all earthly moorings into the realms of Paradise, as he is carried along under the spell, the magnetic influence of this oratorical phenomenon.

Mr. Fishback skillfully directed his remarks through the rocks and shoals of Republicanism without encountering any of the reefs so numerous in that dangerous and intricate channel. Imagine, please, a public speaker pouring out a volley of words at the rate of 200 per minute for two whole hours, and not seriously discussing any of the political issues. Mr. Fishback came to please, to charm, to fascinate, to tickle the sensibilities rather than to instruct, to educate, to enlighten the people upon those grave, serious questions confronting them.

Seriously, as a political speaker, he is a decided failure. As an entertaining talker, confining himself chiefly to meaningless pleasantries, Mr. Fishback proved himself a marvel, a prodigy.

One of the most able, instructive, lucid, penetrating discussions of the political issues of the day, was delivered Saturday evening in the opera house by the Rev. Clark Braden, of Seattle.

Mr Braden is a man possessed of excellent reasoning powers. He believes that a party should no longer be tolerated when it has reached its limit of usefulness. The party that tenaciously clings to dead issues has no place in modern politics. The people will have nothing with a condition that in no way concerns them—and the Republican party in stirring up past issues that were settled absolutely in the minds of the American people, over a quarter of a century ago, only proves that party long since passed from a sphere of usefulness. The war is over. It is not the past but the present we have to deal with. The party that can adjust itself to the demands of the present is the one that will dominate the affairs of government. For several hours Mr. Braden spoke in a fervent, earnest manner. His criticism of the Republican party was only of its mistakes, misdeeds, flagrant omissions and shortcomings. He admitted that it had served a noble purpose, had accomplished a grand object, but had drifted from the grand record it had achieved in the past to purely the party of unprincipled, unworthy leaders.

Mr. Braden delivered three addresses in the city, that were listened to by attentive audiences.

Monday evening last was the event of an enthusiastic Democratic meeting at the opera house. The meeting was addressed by Hon. Thos. Carroll, candidate for congress, and Mr. R. W. Star, candidate for attorney-general.

Mr. Thos. Malony acted as chairman. Mr. Starr was the first speaker introduced and confined his remarks chiefly to state affairs. From statistics prepared from an authentic source the speaker clearly showed the glaring extravagance, needless expenditures in the state offices.

During his address he paid a high tribute to the real personal worth of H. J. Snively, Democratic candidate for governer. Mr. Snively had made a record as prosecuting attorney and as a member of the legislature, that would live in the memory of the people of the state, as a brave, courageous defense of the interests of good government. The speaker said that the people of Eastern Washington knew Mr. Snively, they had the utmost faith, confidence in his integrity, honor, manhood, and would evidence their belief by giving him the largest majority ever given a man in the state.

Then the speaker in a vivid manner reviewed the Republican scandals of the last legislature. The disgraceful proceedings enacted in the election of United States Senator Squire, in which John H. McGraw was one of the principal actors, was also recalled, and it is needless to say the Republicans present did not relish the recital.

The iniquitous tax law was then taken up, and its vicious, oppressive features were clearly shown. For relief from this obnoxious piece of Republican legislation, the people must look to the Democratic party.

Throughout Mr. Starr's remarks were attentively listened to, a fact furnishing abundant proof that the people are seeking for truth.

Mr. Carroll was then introduced, and was most enthusiastically applauded.

He stated that this was the second time he had appeared before the citizens of Port Angeles asking for their suffrage. He said that he would certainly endeavor, if elected to redeem the promises of his party's platform.

He had heard of late that Thomas Jefferson was a protectionist, and for that matter a Republican. The speaker was willing to admit that Thomas Jefferson believed in incidental protection. The rate of duty at that time wes only eight and a half per cent, and that was deemed sufficient protection to home industries. Was the Republican party willing to accept the Jeffersonian tariff? Democrats believe as Jefferson did in incidental protection. The present rate of import duties is far from that. Rather on the contrary it is a prohibitive tariff, unreasonably and unnecessarily high, affording only protection to the few while it discriminates against the many.

Mr. Carroll pointed out the many iniquities of the present tariff. Particularly ar far as the farmers are concerned. Buying everything they consume in a high protected market and selling what they produce in a free trade market in competition with the serf-paid labor of India. The speaker was anxious to know if any one had heard of an increase in wages since the McKinley bill went into effect? He had failed to discover any such increase, although Republican party speakers had promised the wage earners as much. He referred at considerable length to the unrest, dissatisfaction, discontent of the laboring people. There certainly was a cause for this. The government was not affording equal protection to all classes. A change must come.

The tin mine bumbug was exposed, showing what a sham that boasted industry had been proved to be.

His allusions to the People's party were tempered with most friendly feeling and interest in the struggle of that party to right the many wrongs of Republicanism. Referred to the bills introduced by the recent Democratic congress for the relief of the laboring classes, as positive evidence of its faithfulness to the people's cause.

Spoke of the waning American merchants marine. The American government appears to have erected a high barrier, and absolutely crushed this mighty agency of national greatness.

Closed his remarks amidst great applause. Both Mr Carroll and Mr. Star made many warm friends in Port Angeles. They conveyed the impression that they are sincere, earnest and honest in their convictions.

Mr. Snively will address the citizens of Port Angeles, on the issues of the campaign, on Monday evening, Oct. 24th.

THE DEMOCRAT is one of the few journals of the state that has unreservedly and unequivocally condemned the present iniquitous tax law. It was passed by a Republican legislature. It must be repealed by a Democratic legislature.

Our brother Republicans should not lose hope, says the Spokane Chronicle. The following states are reasonably "sure" yet:

Maine.
Vermont.
Pennsylvania,
Ohio,
Part of Michigan.

The Record Still the Same.

Let us put a plain question: If an election for state officers and a legislature had been held a year ago last spring, after the adjournment of the last legislature, or even last fall, while it's and Laughton's acts were yet fresh in memory, would there have been any chance for Republican success? No one believes there would have been. This is simply because the acts of that legislature and the governor were then fresh in the memory of the people. But they have not changed. The record is still the same. The leopard has not changed his spots. Voters, refresh your memories.—Spokane Chronicle.

Don't fail to hear "Snively" Democratic candidate for Governor, at the opera house Monday, Oct. 24, 1892.

For County Commissioners,
1st District, JAMES B. DICK.
2nd District, ROBERT N. WILSON.
3rd District, HANS HANSEN.

RE-ELECT Billy Gould sheriff.

A VOTE for Judge Lane is a vote for a competent official.

VOTE for the Democratic candidate for auditor and save Clallam county $1800 per year.

A. A. RICHARDSON will make a good successor to one of the best county officials Clallam county has ever had.

Go and hear Snively at the opera house Monday night. He is representative of the better thought in politics.

W. M. REDWINE will make a competent county assessor. He will also take a correct census, when it becomes his duty.

A COUNTY road will have to be completed according to specifications before it will be accepted by our next county surveyor—E. A. Fitz Henry.

THE Republicans say expenses can not be reduced. The Democrats are pledged to make a reduction all along the line. Voters, make your choice.

IN glancing over the membership roll of the board of trade, you are convinced that it is a representative business organization. This is as it should be.

REPUBLICANS say we have had an economical administration of public affairs. Citizens, examine their record and determine whether or not you want another such.

M. J. CLUMP will make a splendid county treasurer. He is competent to attend to all the duties of the office. His election will save the county more than $1000 per year in deputy hire.

UNJUST AND UNFAIR.

An attack has been made on Robert N. Wilson, Democratic candidate for County Commissioner for the second district. None doubts Mr. Wilson's ability, but his methods are questioned. It is alleged that Mr. Wilsen hired men to work on a road to the lakes last spring and failed to pay them.

In justice to Mr. Wilson, these allegations have been hunted down by THE DEMOCRAT. They have been found to have but slight foundation.

It is true Mr. Wilson engaged men to work on that road and superintended the work, building a good road at a cost of less than $300 per mile. It is true that some of the men have not been paid in full, but the fault is not Mr. Wilson's. The road was built on funds raised by private subscriptions, as it was a benefit to all Port Angeles. Some of those who subscribed have thus far been unable to pay their subscriptions. Mr. Wilson is not a rich man, but paid bills until some $330 had been advanced by himself out of his own pocket. This was besides the personal time and attention given by Mr. Wilson. Being a poor man Mr. Wilson had to draw the line.

Mr. Wilson came to Washington, bringing the best of recommendations from those with whom he did business.

GET TO WORK.

The facts and figures—the undeniable facts and figures—the record of waste and extravagance, of favoritism and greed, of corruption laid bare by THE DEMOCRAT, and by the Democratic campaign has resulted in the opening of the eyes of the people, who are becoming aware of the fact that the county's good name and the protection of liberty and prosperity—of home and comfort—demands the election of the Democratic county ticket.

The Democratic party is the only party that offers the people anything.

The Democrats have unearthed and exposed to the people of the county the true condition of county affairs. They have pledged themselves to a correction. They have nominated a ticket comprised of men who are, everyone of them, men of honor and integrity. Everyone knows that the word of any of the Democratic candidates is as good as a bond. There is no question about this. There is no question in any man's mind but that the election of the Democratic county ticket means an emphatic rebuke to the misuse of public trust. That if a party ever misused a public trust, that party is the Republican party in Clallam county is believed by the majority of Clallam county's voters. There is not much doubt but that this will be done. The signs of to-day are that the entire Democratic ticket will be elected by a tremendous majority. There remains but one caution to all lovers of good government regardless of party—"eternal viligence is the price of liberty." Get to work, good citizens, in every community look out for and hunt down false rumors. See to it that the people are fully informed. Let every man make it a point to see that his neighbors are fully aware as to the conditions confronting the people.

The result cannot but be a victory and the victory will be the people's.

The Democratic county ticket must be elected.

HE IS ELIGIBLE.

The Silly Plea of the Demoralized Gang.

Failing to enlist the people in the interest of Mr. Hoole's candidacy—to even budge them from their determined position on the proposition to turn down all who are in the way of a clean, economic government of county and state affairs, the personal organ of Mr. Hoole in its special Hoole issue of last week, in a very labored article, endeavors to spring the question of eligibility against the Democratic candidate—C. E. Mallette. We say labored because the editor of this Hoole organ well knows that what he says on the question of eligibility, is as far from the truth, as it is possible for him to get. He well knows that the citizen himself is entitled to say where his home shall be. He well knows that C. E. Mallette was born in the state of Illinois thirty-one years ago next November; that he resided in the state of California from 1864 until 1887, when he located in Victoria; that from his first visit to Port Angeles in 1889, to the present time no other place has engrossed his attention so much as Port Angeles; that from the day he made that visit he became a property owner in this county, down to the present time Port Angeles HAS BEEN AND IS HIS HOME; that he registered as a voter on April 14th, 1891, and VOTED AT THE MUNICIPAL ELECTION OF THAT YEAR; that as rapidly as it was possible for him to do so, every property interest held elsewhere by him has been sold out, and the proceeds thereof invested in Clallam county. Of course the editor of the Hoole organ knew that because it is a matter of record, and if it wishes in its flounderings to save its candidate from an overwhelming defeat, to wiltully misreprssent so clean a record, that is a matter for the editor and his conscience to settle.

"A drowning man will grasp at a straw." so will a deserted candidate, but that Mr Hoole, who has been assured 300 majority by this organ of his, would desert the straw and go rain-bow chasing after such manner as this "ineligibility" shadow, shows a meakness in him which up to this time we have not credited him with. If Mr. Hoole knew that C. E. Mallette is ineligible to hold the office of Representative in the state legislature of the state of Washington, does any sensible man think for a moment that this willy politician, W. R. Hoole, would be the man to spring that question on his opponent? No, by no means,. His plan would be to keep quiet, lay low, mum's the word on the question of eligibility of C. E. Mallette; permit the people to have their say as they will have in electing C. E. Mallette, but at the proper time present himself to the proper officer and demand a certificate of election, because his opponent was ineligible. This would be the politician's program, and it must be remembered that Mr. Hoole is somewhat of a politician himself.

Failing on his own merits, failing in his schemes of cunning and political trickery, he has his personal organ spring the question of eligibility so as to have people talk about that instead of talking of deputies in the auditor's office, their salaries and why the office should not be more than self-supporting. Why this vast expenditure of county money, why did Republicans come to the convention with banners flying, declaring that the "gang would be downed," that Mr. Hoole and everyone connected with the present administration must have no voice in arranging for the affairs of the future, why in spite of all this Mr. Hoole got the nomination?

But the voters of Clallam county are not to be hoodwinked this time, they will not repeat their mistake of two years ago. This time they are determined that not only Mr. Hoole but every candidate on the Republican ticket that can in any way be influenced by him, or any one else employing his methods, will be set aside and the candidate independent and free from such influence elected to fill the various offices. Friends and supporters of Mr. C. E. Mallette, do not allow this question of ineligibility to move you from the honorable stand you have taken on all the questions at issue, and so well represented by Mr. Mallette's candidacy. Today a vast majority of the voters of Clallam county are with you. You have won in your noble fight for honest methods in the discharge of official duties and an economic expenditure of public money. But do not rest here. Remember that Mr. Hoole and Mr. Hoole's chief supporters will resort to any means to defeat you at the polls. So it is absolutely necessary that you shall be on the alert, keep voters informed as to the aims and designs of your opponent, and continue your fight until the polls are closed on election day. Not even then should your united vigilance cease. Your outposts should be manned with tried and true men continuously. Be true to yourselves, to your county to your state and to your country—not only on election day, but at all times, and your homes will be in safe hands so long as this shall be your rule.

In voting make an X after the name of C. E. Mallette, to express your choice of a man capable, qualified and deserving.

HE IS ELIGIBLE.

The Opinion Expressed by Prominent Attorneys.

Mr. Mallette submits the question of eligibility to prominent attorneys, in the following language and with the result as given in the foregoing answer:

In March 1891, I sold out all my interests and business in Victoria, and came to Port Angeles with the intention of investing my means all in Port Angeles and vicinity. I voted here at the city election in December, 1891, and before that I voted at the bond election, and have been registered here for over a year. I have not exercised the right of sufferage at any time in Victoria. I did not move my family here until July, 1892. I did not move them here before for the reason that my wife's health was poor and she was being treated by a physician in Victoria, and I thought it best for her to remain there. Under these facts am I an elector of the state of Washington and competent to hold an office therein?

CHARLES E. MALLETTE.

ANSWER—Assuming the statement of facts to be true, you are a legal elector of the state of Washington without doubt

Our supreme court in vol. 1. Wash. Ter. Reports, page 69, holds that residence is largely a question of intention, and in that case the party had left this state and resided in California, for two years, and even voted there for president. The party swore that it was his intention to return to Washington and make it his home, and the court held that he never lost his residence here.

In vol. 14 American Decisions, page 345, the supreme court holds that where a person leaves a country and goes to another and establishes a business there, intending to reside there, and who then gives the business his personal supervision and control become a resident even though his wife and child remains behind.

I have examined all of the authorities and all hold that the fact of a man's family not remaining with him raises no presumption of law against his change of residence. GEO. C. HATCH.

I concur in the foregoing opinion.
L. M. LANE.

THE CONQUERING MARCH

Of Democracy Abroad in the Land—Candidates well Received.

Hon. Charles E. Mallette, W. B. Gould, M. J. Clump and John W. Troy returned home from the Quillayute country Monday on horseback. They were followed Tuesday morning by Hon. L. M. Lane and A. A. Richardson on the steamer Garland. These candidates had just completed a two weeks campaign in the quiet, fertile Quillayute country, all were very enthusiastic over that splendid region.

This great valley, or rather series of valleys, is probably the largest tract of agricultural lands lying in one body in Western Washington.

The best part of this great section is that it is settled by a people unsurpassed for genuine hospitality and good fellowship.

The Democratic candidates were everywhere received by an open armed people ready to extend every courtesy known to perfect good heartedness. Republicans and People's Party men vied with Democrats in making the great horseback tournament a pleasant one. They, taken together, succeeded in making the trip one never to be forgotten by the participants.

Good and enthusiastic meetings were held at Quillayute, Forks, Shuwah and Beaver, Ozette, Norman and La Push were visited besides.

At Quillayute the literary society kindly hurried their regular meeting over to the Democrats. Committeeman J. W. Hagadorne presided at the meeting, which was addressed by A. A. Richardson, Chas. E. Mallette, L. M. Lane and John W. Troy in the order mentioned.

The same speakers, with Mr. Hans Hansen held forth at Forks Thursday night. At this meeting Mr. Peter Nilson presided. All speeches were enthusiastically applauded.

At Shuwah Mr. J. E. Higgins presided. Committeeman Jacob Fassel, being absent at the opening of the meeting. A good crowd was present.

Saturday night the meeting closed with a large one at Beaver. Where all spoke. At this place as at the others everybody gave the speakers a hearty welcome. Genial Sam B. Laughlin presided. Taken altogether, the tour was a highly successful one.

All bodes well for the election of the entire county ticket.

THE Democrats of Port Angeles did well in nominating their precinct officers. Judge S. P. Carusi and Charles O'Neil the candidates for the justices of peace, and Thos. McDonnell and J. B. Spears, the candidate for constables, are all men of honor and integrity.

Judge Carusi is our present efficient police justice. Charles O'Neil has been a resident of Port Angeles for over two years, and has proven himself to be a citizen of public spirit and a man of honesty.

J. B. Spears is our competent city assessor. Thomas McDonnell has proven his competency by two years faithful service as a constable.

Do not neglect to register.

Tell the Truth.

The Forks correspondent of the Tribune-Times has an especial dislike for Mr. Hans Hansen, the Democratic candidate for county commissioner from the 3rd district. This unfair correspondent makes but a feeble attempt at concealing his malice and prejudices.

First he discusses at length the Quillayute harbor in a manner that only shows his ignorance of the facts and condition involved in such an undertaking.

Then in his write-up of the Democratic meeting at that place, where Mr. Hansen at length answered his letter, the correspondent attempts to show to anyone who ever saw that point.

THE DEMOCRAT would advise that this new confusion into the profession of journalism, first learn that the first principle of a successful correspondent should be "tell the truth."

This matter will be fully handled in THE DEMOCRAT next week by those capable of writing about this harbor improvement.

It is rumored that Mr. W. Brumfield has purchased the handsome home of Mr. Jas. H. Young, on the corner of Fifth and Race streets.

Democratic candidate for governor, H. J. Snively, will address the citizens of Port Angeles, on the political issues of the day, on Monday evening, October 24th.

At a meeting held last Saturday in the council room, for the purpose of nominating an independent candidate for county commissioner of this district, Mr. Frank Chambers was selected as the choice of those present.

After a number of futile attempts to reach the Columbia river with the steamer Bailey Gatzert, Capt. Gilmore returned to Port Angeles the early part of the week. The waves were running mountain high off the cape and it would have been sure destruction to have ventured out. The Bailey Gatzert has been taken up Sound, and it is not likely another attempt will be made this season to make the trip.

The Ladies' World's Fair club desire to thank the citizens who contributed so liberally to the success of the presentation ball given in the opera house Thursday evening October 13th. The proceeds amounted to $91. The incidental expenses were $28.20. This leaves a balance in the fund of $63.30.

"Getting Back to the Christianity of Christ" will be the subject of the sermon in the Congregational church Sunday night. Services at usual hours morning and evening.

The members of the Ladies' World's Fair club deserve great credit for the gracious manner with which they entertain their guests at the justly popular evening parties they have given in this city. They have contributed from their private purse for the refreshments served, and by their labor and untiring efforts have proved themselves unselfish workers for the ultimate success of the laudable cause in which they are engaged.

Go and hear the fearless Snively at the opera house, Monday evening next. An able speaker, a man of fine character, whose heart is right, and attuned to the cause of the people. Go and hear him, and be convinced that he represents the better interests of good government.

Snively at the opera house Monday evening

Messrs. McInnes, Mallette, Lamroeuv and R. N. Wilson returned from East Clallam, Thursday morning. They addressed a large, intelligent audience on the political issues of the day. Citizens of that thrifty, growing little city, are thoroughly awake to the political conditions before them, and realize the grave necessity for a radical change in the management of county affairs.

Mr. G. Klaffert, the electrician of the city electric light works, has opened an electric supply depot in the McInnes building, at Front street extension.

AT THE COUNCIL.

Council met in regular session Wednesday evening. Mayor Smith and Councilman McInnes and Lewis were absent.

Ordinance granting to John Cain and others a franchise for wharf at foot of Tumwater street, for a period of 25 years was granted.

Councilman Peterson resigned from the council as he intends being absent in Chicago for several months. A unanimous vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Peterson, for the able and intelligent manner in which he had fulfilled the duties of his office, and regrets were expressed at his resignation.

The Ferrier Reception.

The Rev. Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Ferrier, of the Congregational church, were tendered a reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Stewart last Saturday evening.

The guests were most graciously received by Mrs. Stewart, assisted by Miss Stewart, in her usual solititious and pleasing manner.

During the evening vocal and instrumental selections were produced and contributed not a little to the entertainment of the guests.

Vocal solos well rendered in a very acceptable manner by Messrs. Keller and Bickford. A duet by Misses Ware and Stewart was received in a most appreciable manner and very warmly encored. Miss Stewart and Mr. F. Lamoreux sang a duet in a pleasing manner and with excellent effect. An instrumental duet was rendered by Mrs. Bickford and Miss Stewart in a skillful manner.

Luncheon was served during the evening in the dining room, where the floral decorations were quite profuse, and the arrangement evidenced artistic taste and skill of high order. The delicious luncheon was of itself sufficiently tempting, but to this add the beautiful floral display, and the scene was simply irresistible.

With others the following guests were present:

Messrs. and Mesdames W. W. Ferrier, A. A. Tiffney, J. McClinton, H. K. Bickford G. Sherman, A. H. Howells, J. L. Worthley, W. W. Shearer, E. A. Fitz Henry. Mesdames Foster, Ballou, Haynes, Miller, Bell, Brewster, Shields, Mallette, Griswold, Grubb, L. Raymond. Misses Ware, Fitzsimmons, Shearer. Messrs. Harvey, Stewart, Brown, Cole, Kirschberg, Lamoreux, White, Keller, Taylor and Bell.

AT THE BOARD OF TRADE.

Important Matters Discussed and Satisfactorily Adjusted.

Two meetings of the board of trade were held since the last issuance of THE DEMOCRAT one Friday afternoon and the other Monday afternoon.

At the meeting of Monday a committee consisting of three persons, two of which were Messrs. Coolican and Carrigan and another member to be appointed by the president, was provided for the purpose of preparing a resolution to be forwarded to Secretary Noble, to the effect that the secretary of the interior be requested to make a ruling authorizing the appraisers to appraise the lots actually settled upon, first, and that their appraisal of these lots be approved as sent in. That on the approval of such appraisal by the department, the settlers residing on such lots be entitled to make proof thereon at once. That such appraisal be begun at the eastern limits of the townsite reservation and be prosecuted westward until the entire reservation shall have been appraised, in accordance with the foregoing.

In a short address Col. Coolican stated that political and religious lines should be entirely eschewed from the board. The board was strickly a business organization; it must be representative, otherwise it would not be a success. The sole object was the material advancement of Port Angeles—therefore politics and religion must be illuminated from the board.

Mr. W. R. Gay then offered a resolution, that was unanimously adopted, to the effect that the board be conducted on a strictly non-partisan, non-religious basis, and that all entanglements with side issues be eschewed.

The resignation of Mr. B. F. Schwartz as treasurer, and that he would be relieved from all committees was received and accepted.

The following persons have been declared honorary members of the board: Hon. John W. Noble, secretary of the interior; Hon. Charles Foster, secretary of the treasury; Senator John B. Allen, Hon. James Hamilton Lewis, Capt. Wilken, of ship Mylomene; Capt. Thos. Young, of bark Kooringa; Capt. Kolb, of ship Malrose.

A committee was appointed, comprising Messrs. Gore, Coolican and Carrigan, and instructed to engage the services of a first-class photographer to take the best possible view of the harbor and city. This view will be adjusted in a certificate exclusively for the honorary members. These certificates will be presented to captains of sea-going vessels, public men, and other non-residents who prove true and trusted freinds of Port Angeles.

Mr. Frank Chambers suggested that the advisability of establishing a large warehouse in this city, for the purpose of receiving wheat, and other cereals and loaning money to producers be looked into.

The following new members were elected to the board at the meetings of the 14th and 17th insts: P. J. Williams, W. W. Gray, D. W. Morse, Donald McInnes, C. D. Ulmer, C. W. Garfield, M. Gough, H. B. Cockett, G C. Hatch, Robt. Shields, S. G. Morse, Frank Chambers, C. P. Brown, R. W. Wilson, Laura E. Peters, W. R. Hoole, S. N. Greenleaf, G. M. Laurisen, Lou Smith, John Cain.

PERSONAL.

Hon. Thos. Carroll and Hon. R. W. Starr were driven over the city Monday afternoon last. They were agreeably surprised and pleased at the unmistakable evidences of advancement, of growth on every side.

Warriner E. Smith went to Olympia Tuesday on a business trip.

Messrs. Charles E. Mallette, Jno. W. Troy, M. J. Clump, A. A. Richardson, W. B. Gould, Hans Hansen and L. M. Lane returned Monday from a two week's canvass of the Quillayute country.

Miss Ella M. Pierce, a relative of Mr. Silas Goodwin, will start for her home in Bangor, Maine to-morrow morning.

Messrs. Chas. E. Mallette, Fred Lamoreux and Donald McInnes went to Clallam Bay Wednesday, where an enthusiastic Democratic meeting was held in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Mastick, Jr., and family have returned from their Junction City farm near Port Townsend.

Messrs. J. C. Burk, Chas. Jones, Albert Whittier, Will Fend, Ben Crockett and Will Crockett, comprising the Quinault surveying party, having finished their work returned home last Sunday.

Mr. Edward Hoare, organizer of the A. O. U. W., is in Port Angeles for the purpose of instituting a lodge of that order. He is required to secure thirty charter members before he can organize the lodge. There is a beneficiary connected with this organization giving $2,000 to the family or legal heir of a member at his death.

Yesterday afternoon Mont. Gay had a warrant sworn out for the arrest of Mr. B. F. Schwartz on the charge of grand larceny. Mr. Schwartz was taken custody by Deputy Sheriff Dedman, and providing a sufficient bond, was released.

Big Potatoes.

Mr. Lafayette Henderson exhibited to a DEMOCRAT reporter Tuesday two hills of potatoes raised on his reserve lot on Valley street, that would make a "tender-foot's" eyes bulge. There were twenty-one potatoes in the two hills, and they weighed twenty-one and a half pounds. Estimating two hills to the square yard, this would be 1,613⅓ bushels of potatoes per acre.

The potatoes were of the "late rose" and "white star" varieties and were cultivated in the usual manner without fertilization.

THREE OLD VETERANS MEET

After Years of Separations and Talk of the Stormy Rebellion.

On Monday evening last there occurred one of the happy meetings between old comrades in arms that add so much to the genuine pleasures of life. Hon Thos. Carroll, Democratic candidate for congress, was a member of the "old eagle" or 8th Wisconsin, during the war. So was Mr. D. G. Harvey, the popular grocer on the hill, and Mr. J. Randall, of the Soldiers' Colony Association, who recently arrived from Michigan. There was a hearty, brotherly handshaking all round, and three of the happiest men in the whole state were in close communion until the hour for speaking. The events which made the "old eagle" one of the famous regiments of the terrible and eventful period were gone over by this trio of veterans, and the escapades of each individual was exposed by the others and many was the hearty laugh over the innumerable tricks that each had performed at the expense of other members of that regiment.

But when Mr. Harvey referred to the ups and downs of the siege of Vicksburg each knew that a review of those awful charges and counter charges, the blowing up of mines, the advances and repulses and the final victory, would bring to their memories one of the sad events of the great war. This was when Thos. Carroll had his right arm and shoulder shattered and broken, and when found by his comrades was more dead than alive from the loss of blood. Before becoming wholly helpless he managed to drag himself to a pool of dirty stagnant water, "which to my lips," said Mr. Carroll "was the sweetest that ever quenched thirst before or since." After the meeting had closed the brothers got together again and the politicians who were not acquainted with the facts, wondered what kind of a "deal" was going on between henest "Tom" and D. G. Harvey. When the latter was jovially twitted about their close relations, he replied, "boys, you can do a lots worse than elect 'Tom" your congressman this time." And those who were anxious to chat with Mr. Carroll, now know why he was not seen by the public generally after falling in with Mr. Randall and Mr. Harvey, and their only regret is that they did not know the happy relation existing between them sooner, so that their interruptions might have been less frequent. But it was a happy meeting between three happy souls and recalled to memory the glorious as well as awful times of the great civil war.

Only 25 cents for a ride to any part of the hill in Harkeom's hack.

From An Artist's Point of View

A trip west and southwest of Port Angeles along the Elwah river and lakes Southerland and Crescent, is very pleasant, indeed. Some parts of the lower Elwah river, eclipses Royal Park in Europe. The lively mixing of the light green vine maple, the dark green elders, the golden yellow and red maples, and grayish green alders, overshadowed by the giant like cedars, has a charming effect to the uttermost. It is an invitation to rest upon natural lounges made of ancient cedars, upholstered with moss of velvet like softness. It is the parlor of the forest queen. Lake Southerland with its green and lake Crescent with its blue water, these ancient craters filled with water, as clear as crystal flowing from numerous creeks surrounded with deciduous and evergreen trees, and towering in the background with peaks crowned in eternal snow, are the grand old Olympics — withal a scene wonderful to behold.

Near lake Southerland on Mr. H. Fisher's country home, is the Elephant rock, which is 75 feet long, 30 feet high. On the south shore is a little fall or cataract, where the trout are always sure to bite, and on the north is a high mountain, easy to ascend, where a cave was discovered a few weeks ago. The scenery beheld from the mountains is sublime. Here is an opportunity for some enterprising individual to build a summer hotel. On Mrs. Barnes homestead on lake Crescent is a fall, 150 feet high—on the east shore is the "Storm King," a high mountain with many peaks of a rusty color that present a beautiful appearance at sunset. About one mile from the south shore is an unexplored cataract or falls, little less than 400 feet high, judging from the lake. It is called the "Fairy's Dance."

The beautiful scenery around Port Angeles will doubtless attract thousands of tourists and summer visitors here every year.

Better means of transportation must be provided, however, and material improvement made upon the thoroughfare between the lakes and this city, as the means of reaching these resorts cause great inconvenience at present. SKETCHER.

Another Opinion.

ANGELES, WASH., Oct. 20th, 1892.

To Wm. K. Clark, Esq:

You ask my opinion as to the eligibility of one Charles E. Mallette for the legislature, giving me rhe facts regarding the same as follows:

In 1887 Mr. Mallette, being then a citizen of the United States, removed from California to Victoria, British Columbia, with his family. He engaged in business at Victoria but never became a subject of the sovereign of that country or renounced his allegiance to the United States. In 1889 he invested in lands in and about this place, Port Angeles and Clallam county, and established a business office here. In March, 1891, he disposed of his property and business interests at Victoria, closed his office and place of business at that place, and came to Port Angeles, with the purpose of making this his permanent and exclusive residence and place of business, and ever since has been engaged extensively in business here. Since that time he has always declared himself to be a resident of Port Angeles, and, traveling considerably, has always registered at hotels as from this place. In April, 1891, he procured himself to be registered in Port Angeles as a voter, and voted at general and special elections in the city, and he is now registered here as a voter. He was assessed for and paid personal property tax in this county for the year 1891. When Mr. Mallette came to Port Angeles in March, 1891, his wife and family remained at Victoria on account of the educational advantages there enjoyed for their child, and to secure the continued attendance of their family physician upon Mrs. Mallette, whose health required such attention, but they joined Mr. Mallette at Port Angeles in July, 1892.

To be eligible Mr. Mallette must be a citizen of the United States and a qualified voter of Clallam county. (Article II. Sec. 7, Constitution of Washington). To be a qualified voter he must have "lived" in the state one year; in the county ninety days, and in the city thirty days. (Article I, Sec. 6. Constitution of Washington).

As Mr. Mallette has not renounced his allegiance to the United States, his qualification as a citizen of the United States will not be questioned.

Assuming that Mr. Mallette is over the age of twenty-one years, the only question to be decided is "Has he lived in the state one year?" This is a mixed question of law and fact. Residence depends upon the intention of Mr. Mallette. If he intended when he came here, or if one year ago he determined to make this his permanent residence, he is a qualfied voter, and eligible. This intention may be shown either by declaration of the party or by his acts. You state that Mr. Mallette intended at the time he came here to make this his permanent place of abode, and assuming this to be true, there is no question in my mind but that he is a qualified elector and eligible.

But the acts of the party are the stronger evidence of his intention. The acts of Mr. Mallette as set forth above are entirely consistent with his own declaration of intention. Courts have held that doing business for a long time in a state creates the presumption that the party is a resident of that state; and that exercising the right of suffrage is conclusive proof of the intention of the party. Giving him out to be a resident of this place, and registering at hotels as from Port Angeles are strong proofs, and the payment of personal property taxes is always relied upon to establish the intention to make permanent residence. The fact that his wife did not accompany him when he first came here does not tend to disprove his declaration to remain permanently. A man's residence does not depend upon where his wife is. Rather does the wife's legal residence follow the husband. The woods of Western Washington are full of men who have left their wives back in eastern states while they prepare fit homes for them here, or who have come without their lawful wives for less worthy reasons. No question is made as to the right of these men to vote here, they are qualified to hold office. Without any hesitation I give it as my opinion that Mr. Mallette is eligible for the office named.

Yours Truly,
R. C. WILSON.

THE END OF THE DAY.

I hear the bells at eventide
Peal softly one by one,
Near and far off they break and glide,
Across the stream float faintly beautiful
The antiphonal bells of Hull;
The day is done, done, done,
The day is done.

The dew has gathered in the flowers
Like tears from some unconscious deep;
The swallows whirl around the towers,
The light runs out beyond the long cloud bars
And leaves the single stars;
'Tis time for sleep, sleep, sleep,
'Tis time for sleep.

The hermit thrush begins again,
Timorous cremite,
That song of risen tears and pain,
As if the one he loved was far away:
"Alas! another day—
And now good night, good night,
Good night!"

—Duncan Campbell Scott in Youth's Companion.

A Mine Under the Sea.

There are in England several coal and metalliferous mines which extend and are worked at a considerable distance out to sea. But perhaps the most remarkable submarine coal mine is that at Nanaimo, on Departure bay, beyond Victoria, B. C. This mine is known as the Wellington, and its galleries are situated 600 feet below the surface of the ocean, which here incloses an archipelago of islands very similar to the Thousand islands at the head of the St. Lawrence river. The galleries of this pit, which are continually developing, extend at present a length of six miles under the bottom of the waters of the Pacific ocean.

Nearly the whole population of the town of Nanaimo, amounting to nearly 1,000, is engaged in the mines of the place, the average daily wages per head being from twelve to twenty-three shillings. Liberal as this payment appears to be the cost of living in that inhospitable region is so high that the miners can after all only just make both ends meet.—Iron.

Natural Sand Blasts.

The idea of cutting designs on glass by forcing sand against the surface of plates and vessels of that material was first suggested by one of nature's freaks, just as hundreds of other inventions have been. An observing young man who was summering on the coast of New England noticed that the windstorms in that section frequently gathered up large loads of sand and hurled it with much force against exposed window panes, and that these within a very short time were worn through and had to be replaced. In places where they were protected by leaves, vines, mosquito netting, etc., the glistening surface was left intact. He set about utilizing old nature's hint at once, the result being a machine which does work that cannot even be imitated in any other way.—St. Louis Republic.

His Memory Was Weak.

An elderly widower was so dull and stupid that it was very difficult to marry him. When told to give his right hand, he gave his left; when the minister said "Say this after me," he immediately remarked "Say this after me." But when the words he was to repeat were given, he was stolidly silent.

"At last," says the narrator, "he saw that I was somewhat bothered by his extreme stupidity, so in the middle of the service he upset my gravity by volunteering the following apology, 'You see, sir, it's so long since I was married afore that you must excuse my forgetting of these things.'"—Cornhill Magazine.

Chinese Long Lived.

From the following figures in a report submitted by the gentry of Kaoyao Hsien, Kuangtung, to their magistrate, of the number of old people in that district, we cannot help being convinced of the fact that the Chinese are a long lived race. In that single district there are three persons over 100 years of age, 180 about the age of 90, and as many as 3,000 who have reached the mature age of fourscore.—North China Herald.

Old Saws.

Some of the old forms of our commonest saws are pleasant enough: "That which cleuid by the bone myght not out of the flesshe." "A pot may goo so long to water that at the laste it cometh to-broken hoom." "Ther is none that stondeth so surely, but otherwhyle he falleth or slydeth." "Murdre abydeth not hyd; it shal come out."—London Saturday Review.

A Real Train.

Uncle George—I hear you have been traveling.

Little Pet—Yeth, thir; I went in a weal wailwoad twain of cars.

"A real train of cars, was it?"

"Yeth, thir. It went wifout a stwing."—Good News.

Of 1,000 school children more than 300 were found to be more or less nearsighted. Scarcely any of these were under nine years of age, and the percentage of myopia increased regularly from grade to grade.

Omitting a few Eskimo exceptions, all other spear throwers appear to be ambidexterous. The development of a purely right handed implement points to a southern origin for the original inventor.

The gay feathers of the parrot are particularly valuable to many Indian tribes, and some dances cannot be held without them, though the Indians have to travel hundreds of miles into Mexico to get them.

W. J. Florence, the comedian, once offered $5,000 for a catch phrase about which an American comedy could be written. Nobody supplied the demand.

The chief cause of the decline of population in France is the vast standing army, it being impracticable for the soldiers to marry.

The largest stone statue in the world is situated at Banian, on the road between Balk and Cabul. It is 173 feet high.

International Boat Racing.

It is possible that there will be an international rowing match arranged before the close of the rowing season of 1892. For some time past an informal correspondence has been carried on between the president of the Oxford University Boatclub and the rowing men of both Harvard and Yale colleges in the United States. The medium of communication was Mr. Chase Mellin, an old Brasenose oar, who is at present residing in the states. The idea was to bring Oxford against the winners of the Harvard-Yale match. Harvard has always expressed a willingness to ratify an international match if such a thing was possible, and the only hitches likely to occur were the locale and the time. In an interview with R. C. Lehmann, the coach of the Oxford crew, that gentleman says:

"The Oxford University Boatclub is very anxious to arrange a match with the winner of the Yale-Harvard match this year. Informal communications have, I believe, come from the other side of the Atlantic, and have been answered by Mr. Fletcher, who is now president of the O. U. B. C."

Mr. Lehmann thought that a race might be arranged on the river Thames, between Putney and Mortlake, in the month of September, and that Mr. Fletcher and his companions expect to get a favorable reply is an open secret. It is a well known fact that a joint committee of Harvard and Yale has favored this project for some years, and it was the intention of the Americans to invite a representative crew of English college rowers to Chicago next season to take part in the national regatta there. It is more than probable that the winners of the Harvard-Yale race will meet the English rowers on the river Thames this year, and then ask for a return contest next year at Chicago.—London Sporting Life.

Worth Twenty Thousand Dollars to Him.

I. N. Locke, of Wayne county, Ind., was formerly an active trader. In May, 1872, he was in Chicago and bought a lot for a small sum. He put the deed in an envelope and placed it in his pocket with other papers. A few days afterward he lost the envelope and all its contents. He advertised for it, but really cared only for the notes, thinking the lot of little value. John Ritchey, a victim of softening of the brain, was wandering aimlessly on the street the day Locke lost his papers. He found them and laid them away, and even after his death no notice was taken of the supposed worthless papers. A short time ago John Ritchey found the package and gave it to Mr. Locke, and through his attorney his claim has been established. Had the deed remained concealed a few days longer the twenty years would have expired and no claim allowable. It is a lot in the boulevard addition, and the parties occupying it have given Mr. Locke $20,000 for a quit claim.—Chicago Letter.

Money in Trust for a Cat.

In Paris there is a cat whose future welfare has become quite a question of public interest. The animal belonged to a Mme. Dubrai, and his mistress was so fond of him that she left a sum of money in trust to the mayor of the third arrondisement, in which she resided, for the use of the scholastic fnad (Caisse des Ecoles) on condition that a certain amount shall go toward pussy's maintenance. A trusty person is to be nominated by the mayor, who will undertake to house the lucky cat and give him three meals a day, consisting of such delicacies as lights, liver and heart. It is estimated that after this charge has been met there will only be about 200 francs a year left for the fund, and the question now agitating public functionaries is whether that sum is worth the responsibility to be incurred.—Paris Letter.

Queer Antics of Clouds.

Tuesday afternoon, during the rain and hailstorm, a cloud was observed a few miles south of this place that acted very strangely, to say the least. It was quite near the ground and seemed to be violently agitated. Suddenly the cloud seemed to burst asunder, one part going to the northwest and only forty or fifty feet from the earth. One of the sections passed over or through the tops of some tall poplar trees and shaved them off as if a gigantic mowing machine had passed that way. A heavy hailstorm also passed over a narrow strip of country near there, and at Sand Slough there were piles of them still remaining in spots late Wednesday morning. Very little hail fell here, and it was so small as to be scarcely noticeable.—Lemoore (Cal.) Leader.

A Church Shed for Bicycles.

The Center church committee is going to set aside one of the horse sheds as a bicycle shed. Not a few persons who attend the Sunday and week night meetings ride to and from the church on bicycles. Now they have to leave their bicycles outside, where the small boys tamper with them and where, in case of a sudden shower, the machines would be injured. The shed will be inclosed and conveniently arranged for the storage of bicycles. So far as we can learn the Center church is the first in the country to provide a bicycle shed.—Manchester (Conn.) Herald.

Trouble in the St. Clair Tunnel.

Great trouble is being experienced in ventilating the St. Clair tunnel, which was opened last year. Owing to the steep grades very heavy engines are used for working the tunnel section, and such quantities of smoke come from these engines that it is difficult to get men who are willing to run them. It is now proposed fitting smoke consumers to the engines with a view of mitigating the nuisance.—New York Times.

Mummy Paint.

Mummies taken from the Egyptian tombs, beaten into a fine powder and mixed with oil for paint is one of the latest industries of Cairo. The color of this human dust paint is a rich brown of lively tone.—St. Louis Republic.

A Lively Well.

A Bellaire, O., dispatch says: "There is much excitement in this section over a wonderful well on Pawpaw creek, near Salem, a village on the Cleveland and Marietta railroad, fifteen miles south of Summerfield, Noble county. A well was drilled to the depth of 1,400 feet about nineteen years ago. Oil or gas not being found it was abandoned. Several years later water and gas commenced coming from the hole in great force, which threw the tubing out. That gave it a chance and it washed out a large cavity, forty feet in diameter. Six or seven years ago it ceased to flow. Jacob Maritz, about two years ago, filled the hole with logs, stone and earth and built a large barn on stone pillars, one of which stood in the center of the cavity.

"Recently gas burst up alongside the pillar with a report like that of thunder, a large flow of oil and water followed, and before a half hour passed around the pillar began to sink and was soon out of sight. In twenty-eight hours a basin some thirty-five feet in diameter and no one can tell how deep was formed and was filled with water, which is constantly in motion, and the earth for several feet around it also moves up and down. It is believed that the well is an outlet for a subterranean sea of oil, gas and salt water, and that it is in the Maxburg oil and coal fields. Thousands of people visited it and are afraid to make an investigation. The oil, when separated from the gas and water, is of first class quality. The roar of escaping gas and the underground grumbling can be heard for miles around."

Mars Approaching the Earth.

The month of August next is expected to bring important, if not wonderful and sensational, developments in the study of our mysterious heavenly little kinswoman. Aug. 5 next Mars will arrive at a point directly opposite this earth, which it reaches but once in fifteen years, when the distance between the two planets will be reduced from 141,000,000 to 35,000,000 miles. Upon that night a thousand telescopes will be leveled at the planet, which will repose in refulgent beauty in the southern skies, and a thousand eyes will seek to pierce the veil of distance that conceals the knowledge for which science thirsts.

Wonderful results are expected by reason of the marvelous improvements that have been made in astronomical instruments within fifteen years and since the last most favorable observation was made. With the powerful lenses and the photographic appliances of today it will be as if the far away visitor, tempted by curiosity, had drawn nearer to the earth than ever. Although Mars will be 35,000,000 miles away, the powerful Lick telescope will magnify her to a size as if viewed at a distance of but 17,500 miles.—Washington Star.

Count Herbert Bismarck and the Italian.

I met at a recent entertainment a gentleman who had just arrived from Italy, and who had gone much into Italian society during a prolonged stay in Rome. He told me that Count Herbert von Bismarck, when he lately visited that city, contrived to make himself very unpopular by his arrogant and aggressive manners. On one occasion he pushed so rudely against an Italian officer of high rank that the personage thus assailed gave vent to his indignation in very forcible terms. Without a word of apology the insolent Prussian retorted angrily:

"I am Count Herbert von Bismarck!"

"That, sir, is an explanation of your conduct, but it is no excuse," was the response.—Paris Cor. Philadelphia Telegraph.

The Soda Water Season Open.

Soda water fountains are blossoming out all over the east side for the summer season. There seems to be more soda water drank there than anywhere else in the city. Prices are one, two and three cents a glass. The highest price is for a new flavor which seems to be fashionable on the east side, though it has not yet apparently become known elsewhere. It is spelled in different ways, but the usual spelling seems to be Aramatariene rose. This is the costliest flavor that there is. Another popular flavor, which sells for only two cents, is rosberry, according to the soda water spelling.—New York Sun.

A Seventy-Five Foot Dive.

At Arctic Springs Floyd Williams, a twelve-year-old boy, climbed a tower seventy-five feet high and, reaching the last turret, dived off into the river. The descent was made in safety, and the boy after coming to the surface swam around for several minutes. It is regarded as a marvellous act. The tower was built expressly for Professor Leuvenmark, the famous diver, who gave an exhibition on Sunday by diving from the top, and who was said to be considered the only man in the United States able to dive safely from such a distance.—Cor. Indianapolis Journal.

Teacher of One School Forty Years.

Mr. Carlos Slafter, who for forty years past has been the principal of the Dedham High school, will tender his resignation. There is much regret that he is to leave the school. The Dedham High school was founded in 1851 and in 1852 Mr. Slafter became its principal. From early manhood Mr. Slafter has been an educational instructor. He was born in Thetford, Vt., July 21, 1825. He was graduated from Dartmouth in 1849.—Boston Herald.

The Fish Caught the Man.

While capturing a large gar in the river Monday, a fisherman became entangled in his line, was dragged from his skiff by the fish and nearly drowned. Help arriving, he was rescued and the gar landed. It weighed 152 pounds.—Velasco Cor. Galveston News.

Snow and Apple Blossoms.

When the apple trees in Franklin county, Me., were in blossom on a recent Sunday, snow claimed to be from six to nine inches deep covered the Rangeley district, and a man rode in his sleigh through the streets of Phillips.

Casualties for Six Months.

Since Jan. 1 there have been four destructive windstorms, killing nearly 200 persons, viz., April 1, Missouri and Kansas, 75; May 16, Texas, 15; May 27, Wellington, Kan., 53; June 16, southern Minnesota, 50. In the same period there have been four great floods, viz., April 11, Tombigbee river, 250; May 18, Sioux City, Ia., 35; May 20, lower Mississippi, 36; June 5, fire and flood, Oil Creek, Pa., 196. There also have been four mining disasters, viz., Jan. 7, McAllister, I. T., 65; April 20, Minersville, Pa., 12; May 10, Roslyn, Wash., 44; May 14, Butte, Mon., 11. Three fires have been unusually disastrous to life, viz., Jan. 21, Indianapolis Surgical institute, 19; Feb. 7, Hotel Royal, New York, 30; April 28, theater, Philadelphia, 12.

Besides these there were on March 21 an explosion at Jordan, Mich., by which 10 lives were lost; June 13, the explosion at the Mare Island navy yard, which killed 13, and June 15, the fall of the bridge over Licking river, by which 32 lives were sacrificed. These are the principal disasters of the year thus far, and they involve an aggregate of 960 lives. Adding to this total the sum of losses by minor accidents we have the following sad and unusual record: By fire, 876; by drowning, 1,361; by explosions, 313; by falling structures of various kinds, 267; by mine disasters, 308; by windstorms, 340, and by lightning, 120. Grand total, 3,588.

The total loss of life by these causes during the whole of last year—and 1891 was one of the most destructive years on record—was 5,762.—Chicago Tribune.

A Nine-year-old Hero.

In a ward of one of the city hospitals lies a little boy who is slowly recovering from a surgical operation. He is only nine years old. A wagon wheel rolled over him about three weeks ago, and then the surgeons amputated one little leg. But the owner is a brave chap and patient, and his bravery has won for him a passport into the heart of every attendant who has seen him. He has been very greatly interested in the invalid's shoe the good nurse has been knitting for him out of bright worsted. She finished the shoe last week, and he asked to keep it by his pillow where he could see it. He gazed at the bright bit of footgear with infinite satisfaction, and then asked:

"When are you going to make the other one?"

"The other one, dear? What other one?"

He glanced down at the one foot without a mate.

"Yes—I—know. I—don't—need—but—just—only—one, do I?"

Then there came a half smothered sob, the brave little face turned toward the wall and not even the nurse saw the big round tear that rolled down to the pillow. The sorrow of a man had come to the nine-year-old boy.—New York Recorder.

Counterfeit Fives Afloat.

Business men in East Baltimore are agitated over counterfeit five dollar notes. Nearly every day one or more of these notes turn up at the bank counters. The notes are imitations of treasury notes of the series of 1880. The paper is of a poor quality and lighter in color than the genuine note. Especially noticeable is the poor engraving. It seems to be the work of an amateur or of a very nervous person. The picture of Jackson looks like the impression of a wood cut. But one feature is anywhere near perfection, and that is the signatures of Registrar Rosecrans and Treasurer Huston. These are excellently counterfeited and would baffle any one but an expert. Bank officials think a number of these counterfeits have been put into circulation within the past week or two in that section of the city, and but few have yet gotten out of that vicinity.—Baltimore American.

A Bad Year for Railroad Building.

From the returns now received at this office, collected with unusual care and thoroughness, we find that during the six months from Jan. 1 to July 1 there have been laid in the United States 1,366 miles of new main track on 115 lines in thirty-five of the states and territories. Last year at this time we found that 1,728 miles of track had been laid, so that it would appear that there has thus far been a falling off of over 25 per cent. compared with the same period of 1891. But a review of the work in progress throughout the country does not warrant the belief that the falling off for the entire year will be in any such proportion. Last year showed the smallest aggregate of track laying, 4,200 miles, that has been reported in this country since 1885.—Chicago Railway Age.

Idols Not Less Than 600 Years Old.

It is reported from Santa Fe, N. M., that in excavating some Aztec ruins near Chaco canyon Governor Prince has unearthed twenty stone idols of a different type from any before discovered. They are circular in shape, forming disks varying from six to fifteen inches in diameter, the upper half containing a deeply carved face and the lower half rudimentary arms in relief. The idols are believed to be at least 600 years old.

Salmon Packers Discouraged.

There is no improvement in the salmon outlook. Packers generally are inclined to take a gloomy view of the situation, and are of opinion that the pack will be 50,000 to 75,000 cases short of that of last year. Some of the packers have ceased taking orders for fish, having already disposed of as many cases as they are likely to put up unless the fishing takes a change for the better.—Portland Oregonian.

Fire from Birds' Nests.

On taking off the roof of a house near Cambridge, which had been on fire, it was found that a quantity of straw had been carried by birds between the roof and the ceiling, and this had been ignited from a hole in the chimney. Altogether the birds had taken up three or four sacks of rubbish.—Boston Letter.

A Curious Salvage Case.

Perhaps the most curious salvage case on record is that of the ship Two Friends, which stranded on the coast of Cuba and was abandoned by her crew. Another ship, the John Blake, met a similar fate, and her crew, in attempting to find a landing place, came across the Two Friends, which they managed to get off and to navigate to England without further mishap. The judge who tried the case decided that salvage services had been rendered, but of only ordinary difficulty and merit, inasmuch as the crew of the John Blake salved the Two Friends in order to save their own lives. The owners of the John Blake of course got nothing, but the salving crew received £350 out of the total value of £1,237.—New Orleans Picayune.
